Can General Ike Save the GOP? See Editorial

Florida Flambeau

Budget Committee Checks Activity Fee See Lead Story

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 23 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Tuesday, January 6, 1953

Senate Vetoes Parking Motion

The University Senate in its last meeting of 1951 passed a resolution aimed at demonstrating the administration and refused to pass acceptance of restricted parking.

Introduced by Senators Vernon Peeples, Phil Springer, and Ignacio Ford, a resolution entitled "In favor of a standing Senate policy" admittedly was a planned legislative action against the previous week's filibuster by three administration officials.

ADMINISTRATION officials were namely, vice-president, A. B. Hamilton; Dean of student welfare, Dr. J. Broward Culpepper and Dean of men, Dr. Otis McBride.

It provided, as amended, that upon the objection of even one senator, a majority vote of the senate is required before a visitor may speak and that the visitor has not spoken until the matter with which he is directly concerned is on the floor for discussion.

DEAN OF women, Katherine Warren, said she felt the rule would prove unnecessary. If an administrator takes time from his work to attend the Senate when arrived, it would be discourteous to make him wait or possibly not give a silver bullet to speak at all.

Senator Vernon Peeples, chairman of the special committee on traffic, retorted, "I think we all deplore the situation that transpired last week, but I think the rule would rarely be used."

LEGISLATIVE action, with amendments, was passed 11-9.

Speaking for the majority of his committee, Peeples further suggested that the time-parking bill be withdrawn and that the provision for reserved parking be incorporated in the Traffic Safety code.

Sophomore Senator Roy Staton introduced a bill to give more authority to the Student Traffic court in enforcing its decisions. Senator Sigerman moved that rules be suspended so that the bill could be passed immediately. The motion and the bill were passed unanimously.

STATON' THEN introduced a bill containing 24 specific traffic violations. Senator David Kennedy moved that the bill again be suspended for immediate vote. His motion was passed.

An amendment to add parking areas reserved for the faculty and staff as a 25th violation was proposed by Senator Milton Carnberg. Senator Sigerer offered a substitute motion that the Senate vote on the original 24-point bill.

After much discussion and two extensions of the deadline, Carnberg's motion and Staton's bill were passed.

Senator Gene Turano, Peeples, Sigerer and Carnberg were appointed by chairman pro tem, Jere Belvin, to confer with the Faculty Committee on Traffic to discuss reserved parking.

Annual Week To Emphasize Honor Planned

A tentative scheduling is still in progress for the annual Honor Emphasis week program to begin March 15 and lasting through the 18th. More permanent plans will be ready for publication in the next edition of the Flambeau, Zoe Rentz, committee chairman stated.

The tentative schedule as it has been announced is recorded below.

ON SUNDAY, the 15th, the churches will again co-operate with the honor committee in presenting sermons emphasizing honor. On Monday, a movie called "Honesty Is the Best Policy" is expected to be featured.

Sororities and fraternities will bring out the importance of the week and its theme in their regular Monday night chapter meetings.

STUDENTS have been publicized and emphasized honor already this semester in assigned groups, speaking before students in classrooms, sorority and dormitories.

A meeting was also held before the holidays for all freshmen men on the orientation system in the Student union auditorium.

CONTINUING her Honor Emphasis week schedule, Zoe noted that all dormitories would emphasize the honor system of its purpose at their Wednesday teas. Boys from the West campus barbecue will be invited. On Wednesday, the faculty of the Florida State honor system will be discussed and suggestions as to what can be done.

On Thursday, a radio program will be presented.

A mass meeting of faculty and students will be held on Friday.

AFTER HONOR Emphasis week is over, plans for students to present the honor system set-up to high schools will be worked up. Students may possibly be contacted before they leave for their internships and reported to work on this project.

A faculty committee was appointed before the holidays by President Doak S. Campbell to work with Zoe Rentz on procedures based on the honor system.

Senior Activity Slips

"Tally-Ho activity slips for seniors will be due in the Union Friday, Jan. 11, at noon. Seniors who have not filled out their slips may secure them at the Tally-Ho office of the information desk in the Alumni building.

Eminent American Violinist To Give Concerts at FSU

Albert Spalding, eminent American violinist, will appear in three musical programs during his visiting professor here during January and February.

He will be featured in a Sonata Program with Prof. Ernst von Dohnanyi, also on the FSU faculty, on Thursday, Jan. 11 in the Music auditorium.

ACCOMPANIED BY Prof. John Boda Feb. 15 he will present a program of solos.

His final concert, Feb. 16, will conclude the Florida State University Concert Series.

The program Jan. 11 will include the Sonata in C sharp Minor by Beethoven and the Sonata in A, Opus 47; and the so-called Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven.

Spalding and Dohnanyi will also work with the faculty for the String Clinic which will meet at FSU, Feb. 14-16, and is open to all high school and teachers of violin, viola, cello, and string bass.

SPALDING WAS the first American artist to win fame in Europe. He studied violin in Bologna, Paris and New York, making his concert debut in Paris at the age of 17.

He was the first American to play in the concerts presented by the Paris Conservatory

NEW FRAT HOUSE—Pictured above is one of the eight new fraternity houses now being completed. Fraternity men will live in style now, after having had to "make-do" in the frat "hotels" of West campus and other temporary dwellings.

Local Greek Houses Begin Opening Doors to Members

Three out of the eight fraternity houses under construction for the past year as a part of the fifty-year plan are open for housing today with the promise that three additional houses by chapters may move in the first of next week.

The remaining two chapters will not be able to move into their houses until at least February. They are Delta Tau Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha, the two frats nearest the Doak S. Campbell stadium.

FURTHER construction of the fifty-year plan will find in completion this year the student service center and the eight-story women's dormitory next to Landis hall.

The three fraternity houses opening today are the Theta Chi, Phi Delta Theta and the Phi Kappa Tau on four year Campbell stadium, George E. Heilman, counselor of the fraternities said yesterday. The three opening next week are the Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities located near Senior hall.

THE FRATERNITIES were scheduled to move in the first part of the fall, Heilman stated, but several difficulties held up the completion of the construction.

The fraternities will house 320 men with 40 men in each residence.

THE STUDENT union center is due to open in April, business manager, Rod E. Shaw said over the phone yesterday. The women's dorm is expected to be completed this summer and the center will move in next fall.

The 11-story dormitory for men has had its foundation completed for eight months but is still being held up because of the allocation of steel. "We may possibly get it in two or three months," Shaw said. The 11-story building is costing approximately $1,400,000.

The student service center was formerly announced to be completed early in 1953. The building houses the post office, book store and cafeteria. It costs $400,000.

THE POST OFFICE will have 12 call street. It will contain 4 000 boxes, 1,500 more than the campus now has.

(Continued on Page 3)

SIGN OF PROGRESS—Another view building rises on the campus of Florida State. The new women's dormitory pictured above is rapidly changing from a skeleton of framework to an attractive building with the "new look" of the future FSU campus. The dorm will be ready for occupancy in fall of '52.

Memorial Gift Scholarship Established By Jack Culpepper

A memorial educational scholarship has been established at Florida State University by Jack Culpepper, Tallahassee contractor. Doak S. Campbell has announced.

The scholarship, to take effect with the fall term of 1952, is in honor of Mr. Culpepper's late wife, Mrs. Varina Bower Culpepper. Valued at $5,000, it will be known as the Varina Bower Culpepper Memorial Gift Scholarship in the FSU School of Nursing.

"IT IS a pleasure and a privilege for me to recognize the great work of the University and to be of some help in this worthy direction," Culpepper said.

The scholarship will be made available to graduates of Leon high school first and preference will be given in students from homes of working members of the building industry. It will also be awarded on the basis of academic promise and financial need.

MR. CULPEPPER has pledged that a sum of not less than $400 will be made available for the scholarship in the February term.

Mrs. Culpepper became a resident of Tallahassee when only 10 years old, moving here from Bainbridge, Ga. She was an honor graduate of Leon high school. She died last October after a long illness.

Deferments Given ROTC Freshmen

Two hundred and three freshmen students enrolled in the Air Force and Army Ordnance ROTC units here have been granted draft deferments, Lt. Col. Quentin D. Booth and Col. Bernice B Barr have announced

Additional deferments will be given freshmen cadets by both ROTC units where they demonstrate their ability to raise the academic grades up the end of the current semester.

The two officers said the deferments are designed to permit the Air Force and Ordnance units of the nation's armed forces to obtain college educated men, who for measure up to the qualifications required of officers

In the sophomore courses all students who maintain a "C" average or above are given deferments.

Applications To Be Taken by Gold Key For Membership

First semester junior men students or above, may submit applications for consideration by Gold Key, Florida State University men's service leadership honorary, Stan Gould, president, has announced.

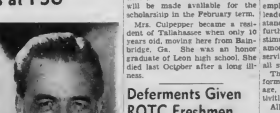
Deadline for all applications is 12 noon Monday, Jan. 14.

Application blanks may be secured at the information desk in the Alumni building and must be deposited in a box at the desk.

The purpose of Gold Key is to honor men students who have exemplified the ideals of service, leadership, and high scholastic standards; and to aide as a unit for further service to the University; stimulate continued leadership among students; and to foster good service as a worthwhile goal for all students.

The application will contain information on overall point average, date of graduation and activities in college.

All Gold Key members will meet Monday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 5 p.m. on the fourth floor, Alumni building. Pressed members must attend, Gould stated.



Final Exam Planned For Junior English

Final Junior English examination this semester will be given Thursday at 4:30 to 8 p.m. in the Augusta Conradi Theatre.

Students who have already completed 45 semester hours of work are eligible for the examination.

Students who were eligible to take the examination in Sept. are required to pay the fee on or before Jan. 10 and present the receipts for entrance to the examination on Jan. 10.

Registration of the latter students for next semester's work is continuent upon their complying with the above regulations

THE VIOLINIST'S presence on the campus will mark an additional association in a long-standing friendship with Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi, professor of piano at FSU.

Spalding played the premiere performance of Dohnanyi's First Concerto for Violin and Orchestra and was soloist several times with the Budapest Philharmonic during the 30 years Dr. Dohnanyi served as conductor.

Student Treasurers Discuss Allocations

Student Budget Committee Receives Financial Suggestions

Student organizations suffering from financial pressures due to inflation and drop in student enrollment may gain more money from student activity fees as a result of action taken yesterday afternoon.

Pat Caro, chairman of the University Government Association student budget committee, called for recommendations from student business managers and treasurers of organizations receiving money from student activity fees.

IN A SPEECH questionnaire, organizations' treasurers were asked to submit information concerning their present allocation from the student activity fee.

An questionnaires with suggestions must be returned to the Dean of Student Welfare office, second floor of Westco.i not later than 5 p. m. Monday.

DR. J. BROWARD Culpepper, Dean of Student Welfare, explained the purpose of the questionnaire and the type of information needed before the UGA council, President Dick B. Campbell or State Board of Control could take any action.

The questionnaire asked if all of the present funds alloted were needed and if the organization could carry on with a reduced allocation.

Organizations needing extra money were asked to justify their reasons and the amount of additional revenue needed.

THE STUDENT budget committee stated Culpepper will make a recommendation regarding the student activity fee to the UGA executive council. This recommendation, which suggested amendments, must be sent to President Campbell not later than January 16. The final destination will be the state board of control of the state which can enact the suggested amendment.

"In view of the inflationary situation, action must be taken at once," Caro stated. The student activities must be cut or certain organizations must receive

(Continued on Page 3)

FSU Price-Cut Is Still Pending Town Action

Chamber of Commerce Fears Citizen Demand For Same Discounts

Gracen Smith reported at the Friday University Council meeting that merchants were "unenthusiastic but saw the possibilities" of the proposed price-slashing service for students sponsored by the University Government Association.

However Chester Stafford, head of the Merchant's division of the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce, agreed to call a meeting to present the proposed plan to his associates.

STAFFORD SET a tentative date for the confab as "shortly after Jan. 24." This postponement was necessary, he said, of the approaching Chamber of Commerce election," he explained.

Chief objections expressed by Stafford was that townspeople would demand the same privileges and local merchants would suffer losses from pared-down prices.

Council member Jack Powell named Betty Rich, Jimmy Barnes, Graxen Smith and Dick Bradley to assist him in presenting concrete arguments for the proposed discount service at the meeting with local merchants.

"IT WOULD MEAN a lot to many students," Powell said. "Some kids carry on education on a shoestring; price reductions would leave them the meals they've been going without," he concluded.

Another relief may be applied to tight budgets when student government representatives confer with officials of the City Transit Company next month.

Chief objection of Superintendent Carter at the last meeting was the shortage of business that prevents a cut in transit rates to accommodate University students.

HOWEVER rerouting of the bus will include riders from Senior hall and the new fraternity and sorority houses. Chairman Pennington expressed optimism in relation to the renewed price talks with Carter.

Dick Bradley, "Who's Who" chairman, reported the selection of 20 seniors to be tapped at a future date.

THREE PER CENT of the senior class is eligible for listing in Who's Who, as a result of a recent resolution passed by the University Council.

Jim Lohmeyer, forum chairman, was appointed to confer with WFSU to begin arrangements for organization of a public service program for the University Government Association.

'La Parisienne' Opens Tonight

Department of Speech Presents Bergese Play

The department of speech's second production in its experimental series, La Parisienne by Henri Becque, opens tonight for two performances, at 6:30 and 8:45.

The play will be presented in the Art Gallery of the University Museum through Thursday with the two performances each night.

LA PARISIENNE has been given an "arena" style production under the direction of Roger Bradfield, instructor in speech.

A limited number of seats are available to the general public for the six performances. There is no charge. Reservations may be made by calling the Theatre box office, 2-4191, Ext. 201, between 2 and 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

BECAUSE of the type of staging there will be positively no admission after the performance begins.

In conjunction with the experimental play there will be a special showing by the department of art entitled "Reproductions of Masterpieces of Late 18th and 20th Century Paintings." Lothar Willeborg, Curator of the University Museum, also announced a display of Indonesian weapons will be on exhibit.

Southern Council To Be Speech Topic

The work of the Southern Regional Council will be discussed by George B. Mitchell, executive director of the Council, tonight at 8 in the Methodist Student house.

The discussion is sponsored by Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology honorary, according to Brad Mackey, president.

The Southern Regional Council is a non-profit, non-denominational, non-political organization set up to study the problems of the South and promote its welfare.

It conducts surveys to get at the root of the South's economic and social ailments and works to create better understanding between the races.

Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Coffee To Be Tonight

Home economics students and faculty members will be guests at a coffee tonight.

The coffee, being given by the Four-H club, will start at 8 p.m. It will be held in the lower lounge of the Alumni building.

Geneticist to Lecture Tomorrow On 'Heredity And Modern Life'

Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, internationally known geneticist, will lecture on "Heredity and Modern Life" at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Science Lecture room.

Dr. Snyder is the author of four books and more than 100 articles on various phases of human heredity. He is now dean of the Graduate College of the University of Oklahoma.

THE EMINENT geneticist was instrumental in developing the modern statistical method for the study of the human inheritance

Dr. Snyder has published numerous research projects. Among the most important were projects he has also worked on the inheritance of various human characteristics, diseases and the linkage relations of human genes

THE DOCTOR has lectured widely all over the United States and in foreign countries on human and medical genetics. He developed and revealed the first course in medical genetics to be required in a medical school in the United States at the Ohio State University and he has been called upon to inaugurate similar courses in other medical schools.

DR. SNYDER is a special advisor to the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service and consultant to the Surgeon General of the United States Army.

He has served as president of the Genetics Society of America and as president of the American Society of Human Genetics He is also a member of the Council of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and has served as chairman of the committee on Medical Problems.

Seniors Must Sign Up For Placement Talk

Students expecting to receive a degree in Feb., June or Aug. will be interviewed Jan. 14, 15, 16 and 17 in the Office of the Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement, Glover E. Tully, director, has announced.

All graduating seniors must register for placement. Interviews before Christmas are urged to sign up this week. A schedule is posted on the bulletin board of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, first floor Westcott.

'Frosh Class to Give Play, 'Stage Door' January 15 and 16

The freshman class will present the play, "Stage Door" in Augusta Conradi auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday nights, January 15 and 16. This will be the second annual play presented by the freshmen.

"Stage Door," a comedy by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman, features a girls' rooming boarding house for actresses.

FLORIDA State University students will be admitted to the play on presentation of I. D. cards. Tickets may be reserved any time by the play furnishing activities. Clothing or furniture to be added to the properties may be donated.

Bob Marsh, working on his doctorate here is directing the play. He received his degree from San Diego State College and his MS from the University at Oregon.

ASSISTING Marsh is Vivian Lew, senior transfer from Tampa University. Marsh and his assistant both agree that the play is progressing very well.

The cast of 21 girls and 11 men includes Jane Rene Vorea, Ray Kirshner, Delano Drews, John Dunphy, Jane Rogers, Joann Rae and Beverly Bennett.

Also in the cast are Joann Dodd, Gene Hamilton, Nancy Daniel, Nancy Dickinson, Juliet Perez, Julie Harris, Sue Hornsbuys, Nell Jopling Mary Ann McFarland, Libby Mauch Joan Monihan, Natalie Reeve, Sybil Snell, Ruth Ward, Frances Wise, Dorothy Womble, Carl Prett, Byron Hopkins, Jack Hooker, John Howard, Hush Marse Ronald Marsh, and Danny Mirvis.

Caniff Selects Campus Beauty

Milton Caniff, famous cartoonist of the nationally circulated c o m i c strip Steve Canyon, will select the most appealing Florida State University campus beauty for the Tally-Ho beauty section. The date for the selection has not yet been announced.

Tally-Ho editor, Gail Kelley Albritton, announced that a contest in which girls are sponsored by social, fraternity sororities and individuals is now open.

CAMPUS GROUPS are asked to limit their entries to one contestant to the Tally-Ho office, fourth floor Alumni Building, not later than Saturday, Jan. 12.

The print does not have to be a story or standard size, but snap shots will not be accepted.

All pictures will be judged by a committee composed of Tally-Ho senior staff, faculty and student leaders.

THE TOP 20 beauties, as selected by the judges committee will have their pictures taken by Prime Beaudoin, who won first place last year for his photography of women in the Florida Photographers Association annual contest.

Caniff, who also drew the GI acclaimed Male Call during the last war, and formerly Terry and the Pirates, will make his choice from the 20 pictures.

THE WINNING coed will be officially crowned Miss FSU and will be the honored guest on the 1953 year's Tally-Ho. The top 20 beauties will also be featured in the publication.

The submitted photo must be accompanied by the candidates name, class and address, and the name of the group sponsoring her.

Students Must Sign Kuder List Tomorrow

Students must sign the bulletin board in Old Westcott today if they wish to take the Kuder pref- [illegible] tomorrow at 7:30 [illegible] Jan. 15 in the Education building. This announcement was made by Miss Margaret C. Flair, counselor in the vocational guidance office

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

student newspaper

1952

Florida State University

Tallahassee, Florida

1971

This filming - THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU - is directed by Mrs. Gertrude Mozley Roche, Head, Micro-Materials, Florida State University Library from the originals in the Library Archives. Through the efforts of Student Senator Jeffrey Jones and SOLTAS, student organization, funds were provided in Bill 76, 23rd Senate, Student Government, FSU, 1971.

Religious Activities Planned by Groups

The religious spotlight focuses this week on Christmas plays and parties which are being planned by the different faiths.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Members of Hillel Foundation, Jewish student group, will hold their annual Chanukah Party tomorrow at 6 p.m. at Temple Israel. The Chanukah celebrates the liberation of Palestine from Greece during the Maccabean period.

Florence Schwartz and David Chalfin are planning the program.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Catholic student organization, Newman club, has scheduled its Christmas party Sunday night following the regular weekly meeting of the group.

LUTHERAN

Gamma Delta, Lutheran religious group, plans a Christmas caroling and party Sunday. Students will meet in front of the Music building at 8:45 p.m.

METHODIST

Wesley Players, thespians of Wesley Foundation, will present Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol" Sunday evening.

Cast of the play includes John Crody, Willis Tyrell, Dick Moorer, Neil Stanell, Wallace Dynes, Ruth Ward, Margaret Powers, Peggy Pelas, Connie Taylor, Betty Jo Jenkins and Julie Hawes.

Also included in the case are: Helen Waxes, Kitten Morrow, Patty Ann Pafford, Jane Barber Ralph Hicks and Nancy Day.

BAPTIST

Baptist students are having a Christmas party at the Student House tomorrow night at 7:30. Each student is to bring a small toy for the children they are entertaining.

A Student Night Christmas program will be presented Sunday night at 6:18 at the First Baptist Church. Pam de Boer, Promotional Director, is in charge.

"Christmas Carol" will be presented at Christmas Vespers December 18 by the Baptist Players.

Merry Christmas

Classical Club Has Christmas Meeting

The Classical Club held its Christmas meeting at Russ Hall on December 11 with a program consisting of a series of talks on the state of the world at the time of the first Christmas.

Dr. William Kirk, professor in the classics department, spoke on "The Roman World At the Time of Christ"; Mr. Henry Kmen, math instructor, discussed "The Hebrew World at the Coming of the Messiah"; Miss Edith Potter, senior, reported on "Virell as the Prophet of Christ"; and Mr. Robin Wolverton, graduate instructor, spoke on religious and secular Latin music during the middle ages and afterwards.

After the program, Russian tea was served during a social meeting. The next meeting of the classical club will be held on January 19 at the home of Miss Olivia Dorman, head of the classics department.

Flory Will Speak At Temple Meeting

Dr. Claude Flory, professor of English, will be the principal speaker at a B'Nai B'Rith of Temple Israel meeting, Wednesday in Tallahassee. He will speak on "Eins of the Times."

Dr. Flory will also read a Christmas story at the December meeting of the Tallahassee Women's Club and read a Christmas story over the Florida State University radio station, WFSU, on December 18.

Dr. Meyer Elected

Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, head of the Florida State University library, any department, has been elected a member of the board of trustees of the Highlands Biological station, Highlands, North Carolina.

WELL, THEY'RE ALMOST AS GOOD AS WE ARE. Florida State troopers of the campus circus, "Flying High," take a look at some experts in the profession on a recent visit to a circus in Tampa, Florida.

Museum Curator to Describe Chinese Porcelains in Lecture

Madame Aza-Ogilu, curator of the Division of the Orient, Museum of Anthropology at the University of Michigan will give a free, public lecture on "Chinese Porcelains" at 3 p. m. today in the Science Lecture Hall.

An outstanding authority in the field of ceramics, having studied at the University of Vienna and the Universities of Berlin and Jena, Madame Aza-Ogilu will describe how Chinese porcelains were brought into this country hundreds of years ago and how they were used by the Franciscan monks and the Indians.

IN A RECENT ARTICLE written by Madame Aza-Ogilu and Professor Hale G Smith, head of the department of archaeology and anthropology at FSU, and published by the Royal Ceramic Society of London the definite relationship between the Indians and the Chinese porcelains in Tallahassee and other Florida areas is explained.

In this article it is described how the Spanish by 1580 A. D. were bringing Chinese porcelains into Mexico from the Philippines. From Mexico the porcelains were reshipped to Spain an dthe Spanish possessions in the New World.

WHEN THE mission chains were established in North Florida in 1633, the Franciscan monks brought in Chinese porcelain for their own use. Some of this material was also traded to the Indians, who were happy to get even the broken pieces of porcelain since they colud chip them like flint and make tools.

In their excavations in the Tallahassee area, the department of archaeology and anthropology have found fragments of the porcelains brought here with the advent of the Spanish forts and missions.

Dr. Golden Elected Chapter President

Elected president of the Leon County chapter of the Florida Federation of Social workers in the December meeting was Dr. Joseph Golden, assistant professor of social work.

The results of the election, which was held Monday at the Trinity Methodist Church, were announced Tuesday. Other officers for 1952 are Mr. W. C. Hoffman of the State Comptroller's Office as vice-president and Mrs. Mary Hartsfield of the District Department of Public Welfare, as secretary and treasurer.

Dr. Golden formerly taught sociology and social work at Temple University in Philadelphia. Previously, he had worked in various fields of social work, including family case work, juvenile delinquency, and economic research. During World War II he served as a classification specialist in the United States Army Infantry.

J-School to Hold Specialized Course

The School of Journalism has announced that non-journalism students may enroll in a specialized writing course on news stories and articles in the spring semester.

Professor Paul Scalera, formerly of Time news magazine and the Philadelphia Record will teach the three-semester hour course which is open to students in physical education, home economics, science, business, and other fields.

Sophomores may enroll in basic reporting and typography in addition to general education courses. These courses carry a dual listing in the School of Library Training and Service and are recommended for industrial arts students in the School of Education.

Merry Christmas

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Christmas Spirit Comes to Campus As Greeks Plan Various Parties

By MARCIA MORRIS

Alpha Gamma Deltas were guests of the Sigma Nu's at a party Thursday night. Saturday there will be a hayride for Alpha Gam's and their dates. The annual Christmas party for actives, pledges, and alumni will be held Sunday at the house. Alpha Gam pledges made "promotion of Christmas spirit" their project by suggesting to other pledge classes that they decorate the doors of sorority houses this year.

Friday night is the date set aside for the Chi Omega Christmas party, when pledges will sing their original songs. Dr. Harold Richards will be guest speaker and deliver presents that will later be given to some needy family.

Delta Delta Delta pledges are treating the actives every Sunday morning by serving breakfast. Next week will begin a series of Sunday night suppers for Tri Delta, the proceeds of which will go into the scholarship fund. Tri Delta began celebrating Christmas with a tree decorating party Sunday night. On Tuesday the alumni gave a party for the pledges, and Monday will be the annual chapter Christmas party.

Two parties were planned this week for the Delta Gamma house. Wednesday was the Christmas party and Sunday afternoon at 4:00 is the Christmas party Gamma Delts are attending thanks to the ATO's for returning their anchor in time for Christmas.

Pledges of Kappa Delta are in charge of the tree trimming party to be held Friday night at the house. K. D.'s will exchange toys, which will be sent to The Crippled Children's Home in Richmond, Virginia, at the Christmas party Monday night. Pledge songs and refreshments are included in plans for the party, for which Eleanor Green is chairman.

A culture hour and coffee was held Monday night by Phi Mu. Dean Warren was the honored guest. Next Monday the pledges will entertain with their "Christmas Time" pledge party. The chapter Christmas party will be Monday night, and pledges are presenting a skit for entertainment.

A reception was held at the Pi Beta Phi House on Sunday honoring their Grand Secretary, Mrs. Carson. Pledges are in charge of the chapter Christmas party which will be Monday night. Toys will be exchanged at the party and later given to needy children. Judy Ellis, representing Pi Phi, is one of the finalists in the Smoke Signals cover girl contest.

Sigma Kappa's entertained the ATO's with an informal party at the house Thursday night. Wednesday night, President and Mrs. Campbell were guests of the Sigma Kappa's for dinner.

Alpha Xi Delta is holding its Christmas party Monday night at the house. Santa Claus, Chuck Bends, will preside over the festivities which include an original poem written about each member by the chapter, and the exchange of gifts to go to a Florida orphanage. Saturday afternoon the Alpha Xi's and Delta Tau Delta are giving a Christmas party for some of Tallahassee's underprivileged children.

Alpha Tau Omega was winner of the basketball intramurals with an undefeated team. A group of ATO's from Florida State inspected the Alpha Tau Alpha petitioning colony at the University of Miami. Mike Sellers, Curtis Campbell, Nelson Italiano, and Steve Kalenich are nominees from Epsilon Sigma chapter for the All American-All ATO football team.

Kappa Sigma members met their pledges in a football game on Landis Green last Sunday, and won by a score of 18-0. Receiving into Kappa Sigma were Bob Rowlett, Clyde Stanaland and Fred Hodges. Pledged was Kent Baylor, and Jim Hardy. The annual Founder's Day banquet of Kappa Sigma was held at the Cherokee Hotel last Tuesday. Christian A. Nativig, national treasurer, was speaker. Friday night a Christmas party is being held at the house for members and their dates. An informal day party will be held Saturday at the Rogers' home in Quincy.

Sigma Chi held pledging Tuesday night for Jerry Ellerwood. Wednesday they attended a tree decorating party given for them by the Kappa Alpha Thetas. A hamburger fry at Silver Lake is planned for Saturday night. Entertainment will consist of singing, dancing, and Christmas caroling at the Silver Lake house.

Sigma Alpha Epsilons are having their Christmas party Friday night. The gifts will be given to the Crippled Children's Home. Dr. Robertson, sponsored by SAE was one of the finalists in the Smoke Signals contest.

Sigma Phi Epsilon celebrated Mother's day, Nov. 18, with a banquet at the Silver Slipper. Saturday night there will be a reception party at the house for members and their dates. Each member is bringing a gift to be given later to needy children. Three new pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon are Harry Rich, Ted Olson, and Les Prewaid.

All seniors who have not filled out senior activity sheets for Tally-Ho are asked to pick them up at the information booth in the Lotzmbre building. A box will be placed there to which students will have to return them by Tuesday.

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU SNEEZE? 50? 100? 200?

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . . 200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Tuesday Evening over NBC
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

LISTEN IN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Attention Students and Faculty
We have a complete line of Christmas Cards
Christmas Stationery and Wrapping Accessories
SEE THEM NOW

When you stop by . . . ask to see our line of costume jewelry and other jewelry items.

Give a Very Practical Gift
- Sheaffer Pens
- Easterbrook Sets and Pens
- Ink Sets
- Desk Calendar

OUR VARIED ASSORTMENT OF CARDS INCLUDE SOME LIKE THESE . . . 10 FOR 29c
. . . . By Hallmark

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
SCHOOL SUPPLIES — BOOKS
NOVELTIES — STATIONERY

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 23 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, January 8, 1952

Can General Ike Save the GOP? See Editorial

Budget Committee Checks Activity Fee See Lead Story

Senate Vetoes Parking Motion

The University Senate in its last meeting of 1951 passed a resolution aimed at remonstrating the administration and refused to pass acceptance of restricted parking.

Introduced by Senators Vernon Barnes, Phil Sprinkle, and Ignacio Perez, a resolution entitled "To provide for a standing Senate body" admittedly was a planned retaliation against the previous week's filibuster by three administration officials.

ADMINISTRATION officials were namely, Vice-president, A. B. Martin; Dean of student welfare, J. Howard Culpepper and Dean of men, Dr. Otis McBride.

It provided, as amended, that upon the objection of even one senator, a majority vote of the senate is required before a visitor may speak on the floor. The visitor can not speak until the business with which he is directly concerned is on the floor for discussion.

DEAN OF women, Katherine Warren, said she felt the rule would prove embarrassing. If an administrative official came to work to advise the Senate, she stated, it would be incumbrance to make him wait or possibly not even allow him to speak at all.

Senator Vernon Barnes, chairman of the special committee on traffic, reiterated, "I think it will explore the situation that transpired last week." He felt, though, the rule would rarely be used.

THE RESOLUTION, with amendments, was passed 11-9.

Speaking for the minority of his committee, Senator Peeples suggested that the time-parking bill be withdrawn and that the provision for reserved parking be incorporated in the Traffic Safety code.

Sophomore Senator Roy Staton introduced a bill to give more authority to the Student Traffic court in enforcing its decisions. Senator Sprinkle moved that rules be suspended so that the bill could be passed immediately. The motion and the bill were passed unanimously.

STATON THEN introduced a bill containing 24 specific traffic violations. Senator Perez Sentry moved the rules again be suspended for immediate vote. His motion was passed.

An amendment to add parking in areas reserved for the faculty and staff as a 25th violation was proposed by Senator Milton Chambers. Senator Springer offered a substitute motion that the Senate vote on the original Senate bill.

After much discussion and two intrusions of time, Springer's motion and Staton's bill were passed.

Senator Culpepper, Senator Springer and Davidson were appointed by chairman pro tem, Jere Brown, to serve on the Traffic Committee on Traffic to discuss reserved parking.

Frosh Class to Give Play, 'Stage Door' January 15 and 16

The freshman class will present the play "Stage Door" in the Tallahassee auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday nights, January 15 and 16. This will be the second annual play presented by the freshmen.

"Stage Door," a comedy by Moss Hecter and George Kaufman, features as its setting a boarding house for actresses.

FLORIDA State University students will be admitted to the play on presentation of their ID cards. Tallahassee residents may see the play by furnishing articles of clothing or other items to be sold to the property and costume room.

Bob Marsh, working on his doctorate here is directing the play. He received his degree from San Diego State College and his MS from the University of Oregon.

ASSISTING MARSH is Vivian Lay, senior transfer from Tampa University. Marsh and his assistant both agreed that the play was interesting very well.

The cast of the play will include Colodes Lou Rene Vores, Ray Dickinson, Dorothy Johns, Darlene Judy Ash, Barbara Ann Bayer and Beverly Bennett.

Also in the play are Joann Perl, Carol Brannan, Nancy Dickinson, Juliet Persel, Julie Harris, Sue Humphreys, Nell Jopling Mary Ann McFarland, Libby Mauvis Joan Minshan, Natalie Reeve, Sylvia Reid, Ruth Ward, Preston Wise, Dorothy Womble, Carl Pretz, Byron Hopkins, Jack Hoskins, John Howard, Hugh Morris, Ronald Marvin, and Danny Mirvis.

Annual Week To Emphasize Honor Planned

A tentative scheduling is still in progress for the annual Honor Emphasis week program to begin Jan. 13 and lasting through the 19th. More permanent plans will be ready for publication in the next edition of the Flambeau, Zoe Rentz, committee chairman stated.

The tentative schedule as it has been announced is recorded below.

ON SUNDAY, the 13th, the Honor Emphasis week program with the honor committee in presenting sermons emphasizing honor. On Monday, a movie called "Honesty Is the Best Policy" is expected to be featured.

Sororities and fraternities will bring out the importance of the week on that day. Tuesday, a similar Monday night charter meeting.

STUDENTS have been publicizing and emphasizing honor already this semester in assigned groups, speaking before students in fraternities, sororities and dormitories.

A meeting was also held before the holidays for all freshmen men on the orientation system in the West campus student union.

CONTINUING her Honor Emphasis week schedule, Zoe noted that all dormitories would organize the honor system and its purpose at their Wednesday teas. Boys from the West campus barracks will be invited. On Wednesday, the finals of the Florida State honor system will be discussed and suggestions as to what can be done.

On Thursday, a radio program will be presented.

A mass meeting of faculty and students will be held on Friday.

AFTER HONOR Emphasis week is over, plans for students to present the honor system set-up to high schools will be drawn up. Interns may possibly be contacted before they leave for their internship period to assist in this project.

A faculty committee was appointed before the holidays by President Doak S. Campbell to formulate definite clearing procedures based on the honor system.

Senior Activity Slips

Tally-Ho activity slips for seniors will be due not later than Friday, Jan. 11, at noon. Seniors who have not filled out their slips may secure blanks from the Tally-Ho office of the information desk in the Alumni building.

Eminent American Violinist To Give Concerts at FSU

Albert Spalding, eminent American violinist, will appear in three musical programs as artist and visiting professor here during January and February.

He will be featured in a Sonata Program with Prof. Ernst von Dohnanyi, pianist and faculty member, on Jan. 11 in the Music auditorium.

ACCOMPANIED BY Prof. John Boda Feb. 15 he will present a program of soloes.

His final concert, Feb. 16, will conclude the Florida State University Spring Clinic.

The program Jan. 11 will include the Sonata in C sharp Minor by Dohnanyi and the Sonata in A. Opus 47; and the so-called Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven.

Spalding and Dohnanyi will also head the faculty for the Spring Clinic which will meet at FSU, Feb. 14-16, and be open to all students and teachers of violin, viola, cello and string bass.

SPALDING WAS the first American artist to win fame in Europe. He studied violin in Bologna, Paris and New York, making his concert debut in Paris at the age of 17.

He was the first American to play in the concerts presented by the Paris Conservatory.

NEW FRAT HOUSE—Pictured above is one of the eight new fraternity houses now being completed. Fraternity men will live in style now, after having had to "make-do" in the frat "hotels" of War campus and other temporary dwellings.

Local Greek Houses Begin Opening Doors to Members

Three out of the eight fraternity houses under construction for the past year as a part of the fifty-year plan are open for housing today with the promise that three additional Greek chapters may move in the first of next week.

The remaining two chapters will soon be able to move into their houses until at least February.

They are Delta Tau Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha, the two fraternities nearest the Doak S. Campbell stadium.

FURTHER construction of the fifty-year plan will find in completion this year the student service center and the eight-story women's dormitory next to Landis Hall.

The three fraternity houses opening today are the Theta Chi, Phi Delta Theta and the Kappa Psi Tau also near Campbell stadium, George E. Heilman, counselor of the fraternities, said yesterday. The three opening next week are the Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities located near Sentell hall.

THE FRATERNITIES were scheduled to move in the first part of the fall, Heilman stated, but general difficulties held up the completion of the construction.

The fraternities will house 320 men with 40 men in each residence.

THE STUDENT union center is due to open in April, Inman Page, manager, Rod K. Shaw said over the phone yesterday. The women's dormitory is not expected to be completed this summer and the coeds will move in next fall.

The 11-story dormitory for men has had its foundation completed for eight months but is still being held up because of the allocation of steel. "We may possibly get it in two or three months," Shaw said. The 11-story building is costing approximately $1,400,000.

The student service center was formerly announced to be completed early in 1953. The building houses the post office, book store and cafeteria. It costs $400,000.

THE POST OFFICE will face Call street. It will contain 4,000 boxes, 1,500 more than the campus now has.

(Continued on Page 3)

SIGN OF PROGRESS—Another new building rises on the campus of Florida State. The new women's dormitory pictured above is rapidly changing from a skeleton of cold iron to what is an attractive building with the "new look" of the future FSU campus. The dorm will be ready for occupancy in fall of '52.

Memorial Gift Scholarship Established By Jack Culpepper

A memorial educational scholarship has been established at Florida State University by Jack Culpepper, Tallahassee contractor, Dr. Doak S. Campbell has announced.

The scholarship, to take effect with the fall term of 1952, is in honor of Mr. Culpepper's late wife, Mrs. Varina Bower Culpepper, valued at $5,000, it will be known as the Varina Bower Culpepper Memorial Gift Scholarship in the FSU School of Nursing.

"IT IS a pleasure and a privilege for me to recognize the great work of the University and to be of some help in this worthy direction," Culpepper said.

The scholarship will be made available to graduates of Leon high school first and preference will be given to students from homes of working members of the building industry. It will also be awarded on the basis of academic promise and financial need.

MR. CULPEPPER has pledged that a sum of not less than $400 will be made available for the scholarship in the February term.

Mrs. Culpepper became a resident of Tallahassee when only 10 years old, moving here from Baxley, Georgia. She was the only honor graduate of Leon high school. She died last October after a long illness.

Applications To Be Taken by Gold Key For Membership

First semester junior men students or above, may submit applications for consideration by Gold Key, Florida State University's men's service leadership honorary, Stan Gould, president, has announced.

Deadline for all applications is 12 noon Monday, Jan. 14.

Application blanks may be secured at the information desk in the Alumni building and must be deposited in a box at the desk.

The purpose of Gold Key is to honor men students who have exemplified the ideals of service, leadership, and high scholastic standards; create as a unit for further service to the University; encourage continued leadership among its members and foster service as a worthwhile goal for all students.

The application will contain information on scoring, activities, age, date of graduation and activities in college.

All Gold Key members will meet Monday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 5 p.m. in the Alumni building. Present members must attend, Gould stated.

Deferments Given ROTC Freshmen

Two hundred and three freshmen students enrolled in the Air Force and Army Ordnance ROTC units here have been granted draft deferments, Lt. Col. Cornell D. Booth and Col Bernice S Barr have announced.

Additional deferments will be given freshmen cadets by both ROTC units where they demonstrate their ability to raise academic grades by the end of the current semester.

The two officers said the deferments are designed to permit the Air Force and Ordnance units of the nation's armed forces to obtain college educated men, who measure up to the qualifications required of officers.

In the sophomore courses all students who maintain a "C" average or above are given deferments.

Final Exam Planned For Junior English

Final Junior English examination this semester will be given Thursday at 6 to 8 p.m. in the Auxuria Conradi Theatre.

Students who have already completed 42 semester hours of work are eligible for the examination.

Students who were eligible to take the examination in Sept. are required to pay the fee on or before Jan. 10 and present the receipts for entrance to the examination on Jan. 10.

Registration of the latter students for next semester's work is concurrent upon their complying with the above regulations

Student Treasurers Discuss Allocations

FSU Price-Cut Is Still Pending Town Action

Chamber of Commerce Fears Citizen Demand For Same Discounts

Gracen Smith reported at the Friday University Council meeting that merchants were "unenthusiastic but saw the possibilities" of the proposed price-slashing service for students sponsored by the University Government Association.

However Chester Stafford, head of the Chamber of Commerce of Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce, agreed to call a meeting to present the proposed plan to his associates.

STAFFORD SET a tentative date for the confab as "shortly after Jan. 1." Employment is necessary because of the approaching Champer of Commerce election," he explained.

Chief objections expressed by Stafford was that townspeople would demand a similar privilege and local merchants would suffer losses from price reductions.

Council chairman Will Pennell named Betty Rich, Jimmy Barnes, Gracen Smith and Dick Bradley to assist him in presenting concrete arguments for the proposed discount service at the meeting with local merchants.

"IT WOULD mean a lot to many students," said Pennell. "Some kids carry on education on a shoestring. They could really leave money for the meals they're now going without," he concluded.

Another relief may be applied to tight budgets when student government representatives meet with officials of the City Transit Company next semester.

Chief objection of Superintendent Carver at the last meeting was the shortage of business that prevents a cut in transit rates to accommodate student budgets.

HOWEVER rerouting of the bus will include riders from Senior Hall and the newly-completed fraternity houses. Chairman Pennell expressed optimism in reply to the renewed price talks with Carver.

Dick Bradley, "Who's Who" chairman, reported the selection of 20 names to be tapped at a future date.

THREE PER CENT of the senior class is eligible for listing in Who's Who, as a result of a recent resolution passed by the University Council.

Jim Lohmeyer, forum chairman, is planning to consult with FSU to begin arrangements for organization of a public service forum program to further the work of the University Government Association.

'La Parisienne' Opens Tonight

Department of Speech Presents Becque Play

The department of speech's second production in its experimental series, La Parisienne by Henri Becque, opens tonight for two performances, at 6:30 and 8:45.

The play will be presented in the Art Gallery of the University Museum through Thursday with the two performances each night.

LA PARISIENNE has been given an "arena" style production under the direction of Roger Busfield, instructor in speech.

A limited number of seats are available to the general public for the late performances. Tickets is no charge. Reservations may be made by calling the Theatre box office, 3-6041, Ext. 261, between 2 and 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

BECAUSE of the type of stage unit there will be positively no admittance after the performance begins.

In conjunction with the experimental play there will be a special showing of the department of art entitled "Productions of Masterpieces of Late 19th and 20th Century Paintings." Lothar Wilkeson, director of the University Museum, also has announced a special Impressionism weapons will be on exhibit.

Southern Council To Be Speech Topic

The work of the Southern Regional Council will be discussed by George S. Mitchell, executive director of the Council, tonight at 8 in the Methodist Student house.

The discussion is sponsored by Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology honorary, according to Brad MacCrimon, president.

The Southern Regional Council is a non-profit, non-denominational, non-partisan organization set up to study the problems of the South and what to do about them.

It conducts surveys to get at the root of the South's economic and social problems and work to create better understanding between the races.

Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Coffee To Be Tonight

Home economics students and faculty members will be guests at a coffee tonight.

The coffee, being given by the Home Ec Club, will start at 8 p.m. It will be held in the lower lounge of the Alumni building.

Student Budget Committee Receives Financial Suggestions

Student organizations suffering from financial pressures due to inflation and drop in student enrollment may gain more money from student activity fees as a result of action taken yesterday afternoon.

Pat Cone, chairman of the University Government Association student budget committee, called for recommendations from student business managers and treasurers of organizations receiving money from student activity fees.

IN A SPEECH questionnaire, organization treasurers were asked to submit information concerning their present allocation from the student activity fee.

All questionnaires with suggestions must be returned to the Dean of Student Welfare office, second floor of Westcott, not later than 5 p. m. today.

DR. J. BROWARD Culpepper, Dean of Student Welfare, explained the purpose of the questionnaire and the type of information needed before the UGA council, President Doak S. Campbell or the Board of Control could take any action.

The questionnaire asked if all of the groups funds allowed were needed and if their organizations could carry on with a reduced allocation.

Organizations needing extra money were asked to justify their claims and the amount of additional revenue needed.

THE SETTING up the test committee, stated Culpepper will make a recommendation regarding the amendments to the UGA executive council. This recommendation, or the suggested amendments, must be sent to President Campbell not later than January 10. The final destination will be the state board of control of the state which can enact the proposed changes.

"In view of the bi-fiscal situation, action must be taken in one of two lights. The student activities must be cut or certain organizations must receive

(Continued on Page 3)

Geneticist to Lecture Tomorrow On 'Heredity And Modern Life'

Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, internationally known geneticist, will lecture tomorrow at 8 on "Heredity Life" at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Science Lecture room.

Dr. Snyder is the author of four books and more than 100 articles concerning the field of human heredity. He is now dean of the Graduate College of the University of Oklahoma.

THE EMINENT gentleman was instrumental in developing the modern statistical method for the study of the human inheritance.

Dr. Snyder has participated in many research projects. Among the most important were projects on the genetics and the racial distribution of the blood groups and the fingerprint patterns of Indians. He also worked on the inheritance of various human anomalies and diseases and the linkage relations of human genes.

THE DOCTOR has lectured widely all over the United States and in foreign countries on human and medical genetics. He developed and presented the first course in medical genetics to be required in a medical school in the United States at the Ohio State University and he has been called upon to inaugurate similar courses in other medical schools.

DR. SNYDER is a special advisor to the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service and consultant to the Surgeon General of the United States Army.

He has served as president of the Genetics Society of America and as president of the American Society of Human Genetics. He is also a member of The Cosmos of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and has served as chairman of its committee on Medical Problems.

Seniors Must Sign Up For Placement Talk

Students expecting to receive a degree in Feb., June or Aug. will be interviewed January 14, 15, 16 and 17 in the Office of the Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement, Glover E. Tully, director, has announced.

All seniors interested in placement interviews during these days are urged to sign up this week. A schedule is placed on the bulletin board of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, first floor Westcott.

'Caniff Selects Campus Beauty

Milton Caniff, famous cartoonist of the nationally circulated comic strip Steve Canyon, will select the most appealing Florida State University campus beauty for the Tally-Ho beauty section. The date for the selection has not yet been announced.

Tally-Ho editor, Gail Kelley Albritton, announced that a contest in which girls are sponsored by clubs, fraternities, sororities and individuals is underway.

CAMPUS GROUPS are asked to submit one picture of a contest to the Tally-Ho office, fourth floor Alumni building, not later than Jan. 15, Miss Albritton said.

The print does not have to be a studio standard and full length snap shots will not be accepted.

All pictures will be judged by a committee composed of Tally-Ho senior staff, faculty and student leaders.

THE TOP 20 beauties, as selected by the judging committee will have their pictures taken by Prine Beaudoin, who won first place last year for his photography of women in the Florida Photographers Association annual contest.

Caniff, who also drew the GI acclaimed Male Call during the last war, and formerly Terry and the Pirates, will make his choice from the 20 pictures.

THE WINNING coed will be officially crowned Miss FSU and will lead the beauty section of this year's Tally-Ho. The top 20 beauties will also be featured in the beauty section.

The submitted photo must be accompanied by the candidates name, class and address, and the name of the group sponsoring her.

Students Must Sign Kuder List Tomorrow

Students must sign the bulletin board in 203 Westcott today if they wish to take the Kuder [illegible] tomorrow at 7:30 [illegible] in 214 of the Education building.

This information was relayed by [illegible] Counselor C. Pfaff, [illegible] in the vocational guidance office.

How Long Will Hokus-Pokus Dupe Mr. John Q. Teacher?

An article on teacher education was recently printed by the Flambeau. Because of the widespread interest which this subject enjoys, particularly here at Florida State University because of the large number of students who are currently engaged in education courses, the Flambeau has again decided to delve into this controversial subject.

It is the contention of many that the professional field of Education is, in the language of the common man, a racket. An inner circle of superprofessionals has, in the last few years, gained a strangle hold on the whole educational system of the United States.

They have devised a system whereby they can control the livelihood of the entire teaching profession by "bribing them with public funds in pay raises to return as paying customers for endless redoings of indoctrination," according to Albert Lynd in a recent article in the Atlantic.

To advance in his profession, a teacher in our public schools must obtain especially to schools of Education. During these refresher periods the teacher is subjected to high sounding courses which consist mainly of more hokus-pokus in teaching techniques.

If he has some time left, the teacher may dive into any one of many thirty day courses which attempt such magnanimous objectives as a survey of world literature consisting of "a consideration of the outstanding writings of the world, from ancient times to the beginning of the twentieth century, as well as sketches of the lives and times of the writers." This last quote is an excerpt from a course description in the catalog of the Bridgewater State Teachers College. One could assume that such thin drippings of cultural information are administered because the main concern of these colleges are the so called "professional courses."

Here in these "professional courses" one is confronted with a complete turn-about from the aforementioned qwerly ambitious cultural courses. The professional courses take a thimble-full of the simplest teaching procedures and drag them out into long lists on empty offerings, throwing in the many-more-than-empty courses of the administration of these procedures.

Mr. Lynd contends that the super-pedagogues of our schools of Education are filling their already fat purses on the gullibility of John Q. They have made it imperative for public school teachers to return and take these worthless courses, after which the taxpayers must further invest in this round robin quackery by contributing to salary increases for the misguided, overworked, pseudo-educated teachers.

Every time an attack is made on the Education profession, however, someone is quick to arise with an argument for the existing system. Most of these defenders will honestly admit that there are defects in the system, that some colleges are at fault in the type of courses offered. But they will defend ardently the fundamental principles behind the system.

They excuse the existing faults by pointing out the growing complexity of our environment and our schools which has forced complexity and confusion into the field of Education, and by pointing out the youngness of this profession in the academic circle. But they refuse to recognize any element of quackery or racheteering in the profession, perhaps because there is none.

Because of the complexity and size to which the educational process has grown, it is contended that many kinds of specially prepared professional personnel are needed and that to assume otherwise is to be unrealistic in the extreme.

It is further argued that "in many areas, the highly specialized courses offered in most university graduate schools have little application to the kind of service properly expected of public school teachers," as one prominent educator, Gilbert F. Case, said recently.

Perhaps pros and cons fly back and forth but in the meantime one only has to listen to the moans and groans and sighs of boredom coming from the vast multitude of "Education Majors" as they are already engaged in making teaching their life's work, to recognize that a problem does exist. Only when the public and the teaching profession are not yet agreed upon, is the American public getting duped? It's worth looking into.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

NEW YEAR FACES UNFINISHED BUSINESS

By ROBERT GRIFFIN JR.

Men, but, not better than it oughta be in!

The ever controversial National Student Association has been the hot topic of debate with Gator heads for the past month.

The student Executive Council voted before the Christmas holiday whether or not the U. of Florida student government would join NSA, the nation-wide organization of student governments.

We have not heard the outcome. The president of the Council, Woody Liles, said that action would be final for his term of office.

The question has been before the Florida State University student council since before. Last spring NSA was discussed to considerable extent. Dick Bradley, senior class president, and member of the FSU student council, was selected to attend the annual NSA conference this past summer. Dick was to report his observations to the council and they would weigh his report in their decisions.

Well, as everybody knows, when time came for Dick to travel, appropriations were suddenly found

SEMINOLE SCENES

SAY, WHO HAS THE CRAZY ROOMMATE?

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

"Well, it's back to the old grind."

"Yeah . . ."

Conversations like this say that the students are not happy to be back at Florida State, but the big wide grins on their faces say differently.

To many of us, the campus has grown to be home, and maybe just a little bit more than home—how much we miss home cooking, dating, going noon and partying. Children always hate to go back to school. (Did I say we miss partying at FSU?)

After all, who have you got at home who looks like that crazy roommate of yours? Who's nobody, and you're kind of used to having that face around. Can Mom make as good fudge? Not collect, but it just doesn't quite have that "Seminole" touch. And what's a life if you don't have anything to complain about. The chances are pretty high that getting up when the 4-n is still —not available. Alas, the blow.

It was claimed that the proper forms were not submitted and the proper authorities had not been notified of the NSA trip. Remember, the debate had ranged in committee meetings for several weeks and results had been printed in the Flambeau.

It has been suggested, after Dick reported that he had not attended the conference, that certain persons at FSU, students and administration alike, were afraid of the liberalism and progressiveness of NSA. They claimed that just the travel fund in hopes that talk about this "radical" organization would die down.

It has.

Student government has not mentioned NSA this term.

As it stands, a half-finished examination of the principles and projects of NSA, remains. I feel that it must be completed in, at least, satisfy the many that dislike half-finished jobs.

Will Woodward has stated that we do not need NSA. I think a whole slough of the youths need. Will expressed his opinion as an individual by stating that nothing is to be gained from NSA. I say let's look into the organization and find out. In other words, I want positive proof. The proof can come only after much detailed examination.

Sometimes this student government is selfish. They want to get, get, get. Either NSA gives us something to get, or it is helpful to give sometimes and in the long run you profit. I think not. FSU students profit in the long run from a powerful national organization of students.

I urge the FSU student executive council to appoint the Edition and rumor from the facts by a detailed and close examination of the NSA constitution and association. This is the only fair way.

• • •

Who said an editor gets only gripes? Here's another something like a pitiable and wretched 19 cents an hour, the penniless student editors do receive warm gifts.

Jerry Grey, nationally famous orchestra leader, sent his newest album of his records to Bill Bumgarner, happy editor for free.

All we need now is a photograph player. Any bids, RCA?

BUSINESS

from NSA. I say let's look into the organization and find out. In other words, I want positive proof. The proof can come only after much detailed examination.

Sometimes this student government is selfish. They want to get, get, get. Either NSA gives us something to get, or it is helpful to give sometimes and in the long run you profit. I think not. FSU students profit in the long run from a powerful national organization of students.

I urge the FSU student executive council to appoint the Edition and rumor from the facts by a detailed and close examination of the NSA constitution and association. This is the only fair way.

• • •

Who said an editor gets only gripes? Here's another something like a pitiable and wretched 19 cents an hour, the penniless student editors do receive warm gifts.

Jerry Grey, nationally famous orchestra leader, sent his newest album of his records to Bill Bumgarner, happy editor for free.

All we need now is a photograph player. Any bids, RCA?

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Jane Atchley, Frances Cawthon, Babs Ferry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Feature Editor ..... Gerry
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beise
Assistant News Editors ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Rosemary Helmich
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Hanley.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 5-205, Ext. 6423 ..... second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

MOVIE REVIEW

Romantic Comedy Heads Movie List This Week

BY GERRY HOFF

Beginning tomorrow at the Florida Van Johnson and June Allyson, the romantic-ist team of the year, can be seen in "Too Young to Kiss."

This light comedy has June as an aspiring pianist who disguises herself as a child prodigy in order to get an audition before Van's concert master and wife as the engaging young concert manager who stakes his career on a child prodigy. Finds herself stuck with the rose of the Junior miss and Van berths to ask himself, "What in the dilemma that literally convulse the audience.

The new production is full of against a background of New York and the hectic exciting life of a concert manager who thinks he has discovered a veritable gold mine in his protege. Of course I was taking half his checkbook with me, but I don't reference to think that was the reason . . .

• • •

The Count of Monte Cristo lives again in the film entitled "Mask of the Avenger" showing at the Florida Sunday through Tuesday.

Starring John Derek as Monte Cristo, supported by a star cast including Anthony Quinn, Jory Lawrence, and Arnold Moss, the swashbuckling adventure story concerns a young captain in the Italian army who returns home to find his father dead and his land sed as a traitor, and swears to take violent revenge on the enemies of his father.

John Derek rides, fights, and loves his way through the story in Douglas Fairbanks tradition to provide an enjoyable two hours of entertainment.

• • •

Showing at the State Sunday and Monday will be "Force of Arms" a love story . . . a young lieutenant and a WAC corporal, the activities of the 36th Texas Infantry Division and its combination in the war-torn Italy of the big World War II.

William Holden play the part of the lieutenant and Nancy Olson the Wac.

Positions Are Open In U.S. Navy Bureau

Positions as typists and stenographers with the Navy Headquarters Bureau in Washington, D. C., are open for girls who can type 40 words a minute or take dictation at 80 words per minute.

Martin gasalaries in these positions range from $2,960 to $3,177 a year and include over two weeks paid vacation and thirteen days sick leave, according to Mrs. Ruth Winters, Navy Civilian Representative today.

All those interested are asked to contact Miss Winters at the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office.

Regular interviewing hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. However, evening and Saturday appointms may be made by calling 2-4223.

Taizo Miake to Talk On 'Myths In Art'

Taizo Miake, graduate assistant in the art department, will lecture on, "Myths in Art," Thursday, Jan 10 at 8 p.m. on the second floor lounes of the Alumni building.

Second in a series of four lectures on "Mythological Themes and Cultural Myths on the Arts," the program is being sponsored by the Eta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical honorary.

Mr. Miake, born in Japan and from Honolulu, is a graduate of the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. At present while employed as an assistant, he is doing his graduate work in painting.

Newly-initiated members of Eta Sigma Phi are Carolina Everett, Sharon Lane and Robert Williams.

Sigma Delta to Hear Talk by Dr. Haffmon

Dr. Dorothy L. Hoffman, professor of modern languages, will speak to Sigma Delta Pi Thursday at 8 p.m.

Dr. Hoffman also will show color slides of a recent trip to Europe. The honorary Spanish fraternity will meet in the chiroom of Alumni building

Will Eisenhower Save GOP?

The following editorial is reprinted from Harper's Magazine, January 1952 issue. It is written by Gordon Harrison, author of the recently published "Cross-Channel Attack."

Indications are that General Eisenhower is waiting only to be chosen, first by the Republican convention and then by the electorate; and furthermore that even if he says no, the pressure upon him to run will continue to be heavy.

It is time to consider, before campaign tensions make consideration too difficult, what such a choice would mean. Above all we need to consider what it would mean to install Eisenhower in the White House as the head of a Republican administration.

The hard reality behind the hero's glamour and the great man's charm is this: in a democracy even a general cannot stand above or outside of the normal political machinery by which lesser men rule. The leader of the nation is first of all the leader of his party and ever since the rise of political parties no man has succeeded at the larger task who failed at the smaller.

For many people one of Eisenhower's greatest virtues is that he is an apolitical Republican that Democrats can seriously talk of nominating him.

These people dream of a nonpartisan administration, take the politics out of politics—of pure leadership in a political vacuum. For others, both party professionals hungry for patronage and Truman-haters so anxious for a housecleaning that they don't care what soap is used, Eisenhower has the pre-eminent virtue of being the one Republican almost sure to capture the bulk of the independent vote.

Support from these groups both sentimental and selfish is strong and important. But the primary drive to nominate the General comes from another source.

The leaders of the Eisenhower movement want Eisenhower first of all because they do not want Robert Taft. This is a fact of such importance that it should never be dropped from view. Eisenhower backing comes in large part from the Republican groups, chiefly on the east and west coasts, who have been anti-Taft since 1940. To call these groups a wing of the party is to exaggerate their coherence. They agree only on being generally internationalist in foreign policy and in disliking the ultraconservative, old guard, Midwest isolationist faction that forms the articulate center of the Taft support.

They agree, moreover, only at election time.

Although they have controlled every party convention since 1940, when the elections were over they stopped spinning like a harmony top and separated into their individual colors.

They have no pre-eminent leaders now that Dewey is on the shelf.

They include a dozen obstinate individualists and they are torn by personal jealousies.

Look, for instance at Pennsylvania where Hugh Scott, Dewey's lieutenant, and Senator Duff, who repudiates Dewey's leadership, are both campaigning for Eisenhower and where Harold Stassen, a somewhat flirtatious Eisenhower backer, has ties with the anti-Duff, pro-Taft Grandy faction and has made a bid for Duff's worthy support.

Such confused political alliances are typical, and they underline the fact that if Eisenhower is nominated he will find himself not the leader of a party, not even the leader of a wing of the party, but an individual, faced with the problem of creating at the same time an administration and a party base for it.

● DRAFT UP!

The New Year is here—and the Big Worry still prevails among campus men—Will I get drafted? Where will I have to stop school and go to war?

This is what the magazine U. S. News and World Report had to say last week. "Draft is going to be a rising trend. Universal training is unlikely to offer an escape from the draft. Drafted men will serve two years.

Best advice for youths is to get as much education as possible prior to service, to get into ROTC, to aim at officer status.

"Draft, so far as anyone can foresee, seems to be here to stay."

In this year alone the armed services wants one million one hundred sixty thousand young men. The U. S. News goes on to say: "Draft is to take 50,000 youths a month in '52 . . . War or no war, military services are to go on expanding."

HOT COLD; BUT '51 NEWS MOSTLY HOT; REVIEW OF YEAR SHOWS MUCH PROGRESS

By BILL DUNN

Once again we are starting a new year, 1951 has come and gone and will hence forth live only in history books. This column would like to help the historians compile their data for posterity by presenting the highlights of the 1951 at Florida State University":

JANUARY

The University Council approved the adoption of a one year trial basis for a student Campus Chest to run from morning of '51.

The first Student Book Exchange, sponsored by the Junior class, was opened on Jan. 29.

A Senate committee was set up to investigate the Who's Who selection move.

FEBRUARY

The new dormitories for women became effective on Feb. 9.

What's That Between American Colleges and Russia? was tapped 12 people eight things and six unclassifiables.

MARCH

UGA President Rube Askew asked the University Senate to set up a Student Board of Publications to control the actions of all student publications.

The Dean of Women announced that women students would be allowed to smoke in dormitory rooms beginning March 5.

Will Woodward was elected president in the UGA elections.

The present Flambeau is a shining example of what can happen when an irresponsible person is no where to be found. Chairman Senator Bob Wodrich during a discussion of the proposed Student Publications Board set a benchmark.

Men's dormitory 840 celebrated its "Go National Week"

The Interfraternity Council published the results of a month of bans denied the use of the Suwannee Room for its annual dance.

APRIL

Florida State's gymnastics team won the National Collegiate Athletic Association's gymnastics title at the annual meet.

Westcott Auditorium was conferred upon the School of Commerce after 40 years of use.

MAY

Dick Bradley, Jimmie Barnes and June Conyers were elected class presidents in the class elections.

Gene Burnett, editor of a mimeographed publication, Youth-Time, was asked to resign from the university by the administration. He published two issues of this paper which the latter of dismissal termed "publication of false and untrue statements."

Jerry Thomas was elected Chief Judge of the Honor Court. Not a write-in ballot.

The results of the Who's Who question, 134 students voted for Who's Who to join national, 23 voted for a Book Who's Who, and 61 ballots were cast no ahbuilt it.

376 Florida State University students contributed to their college education, took the first Selective Service college-eligibility test.

JUNE

625 seniors graduated, representing the first graduating class to receive degrees under the co-education law as enacted by the 1947 legislature.

Representative R. B. Patton of the House of Representatives made reference to a report of an investigating committee on "Preparation for Marriage" courses at Florida State. The committee said it had "found widespread objection." The committee claimed to have received from Florida schools "an increasing departure from traditions accepted as sound by so long as to constitute society."

It was announced that a new 11-story men's dormitory was then under construction.

JULY

It was announced that Dr. A. B. Martin would continue his duties as Florida State's first vice-president on August 1.

AUGUST

A five-day Civil Defense Conference on campus.

Among the speakers was Millard Caldwell, Federal Civil Defense administrator.

SEPTEMBER

Over 1,000 students began their college careers at FSU.

Warpath Club, university pep club, was formed on campus.

The new fraternity houses were ready for occupancy at the beginning of the semester. Fraternities were then informed that it would be several more weeks before they opened.

OCTOBER

FSU's football game of the season was played against the University of Miami at the Orange Bowl Florida State was defeated 35-13.

It was announced that for the first time since the university grants were installed at Florida State that the enrollment of men was larger than that of women.

Alice Jackson was elected Chief Justice of the University Court after the spring election of Jerry Thomas was declared void.

The organizational extension of Florida education in Florida was the theme of the 1951 Homecoming celebration. Homecoming also featured Homecoming Queen.

The eight fraternity houses being built on the campus were still uncompleted. The fraternities were still being told that it would be "several weeks more."

NOVEMBER

In an unprecedented election victory, Democrats swept into office freshman presidency with a three-vote majority in the primary election.

Margaret Truman was the featured soloist in the second concert of the 1951-52 season of the Florida State Symphony

The Seminoles closed out their 1951 season with a 14-6 loss to the Chicago U Spartans in the Citrus Bowl.

The Faculty Reviewing Board in their Recommendations passed the "spend-the-night-in-town" bill as presented by the Women's senate.

The fraternities were still being told that the houses would be finished in another couple of weeks.

DECEMBER

FSU donated 577 pints of blood in the "Blood for Korea" drive, topping UGA's 500 pints. Florida's donation by 25 pints.

As the climax to a Traffic Court case involving the university Senate was warned by the administration that they had no right to pass any regulations on restricted parking.

The greatest election of the year in Tallahassee was the widely discussed Democratic primary on Dec. 18. The drys won the victory by a total of 406 votes.

The fraternity houses were told that they could move into their houses by the first week in January, returned from the Christmas holidays

Short Course Planned For Professional Men

A short course for professional newspapermen will be held at Florida State University beginning January 25, Dr. Laurence Kinsinger, head of the School of Journalism, announced this week.

The course being presented for the second straight year, numbers among its speakers Leslie G. Moeller, director of School of Journalism at Iowa University and Dr. Royal H. Ray president of the advertising and sales club, Syracuse, N. Y.

Members of the staff of the FSU School of Journalism will also participate in the program.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

I'll never mix Rye and Scotch again (99E)
I'll never mix Rye . . . .

Just back from the fleshpots of Manhattan—functioned as a field marshal for the Dry cause—just lapping from the not so distant drums in my pore head I saved at least 9000 wrestlers from the curse of mash by the simple expedient of lapping it up before they could lay stained fingers on it.

All hears . . . .

A few big-city reactions to the Tally drought . . . .

"Dey ain't no rents in dere heads" . . . "axes to grind" . . . "Tallahassee?????"

Between vacation lies the characters are yakking about . . . .

The tough jump from social lion to social leper, and how said leap is not exactly helped by the great gaping lack of after-class activities at FSU.

The increase of four-wheel personalities where the home folks had a good year . . . .

The equal number of rings and shafts doled out by the man in red . . . .

The Sandpour play foulups which have George Carey and Bill Backus about to take gas . . . .

Pete Beiznish's switch from bombthrower to conservative after his in-laws put him in the hag car class . . . .

Emory Kine-Pranes Fresuon pre-holiday kickups winding up in her third-fingering the rock of Gibraltar . . . .

Indiana U. Alumni At FSU Tonight, 7:30

Alumni of Indiana University will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Florida State University Alumni Building, announced George Hellyer, head counselor and counselor of social fraternities.

Honor guest will be Claude T. Bissell, secretary of the Indiana Alumni Association.

An informal discussion period will be followed with a preview of

NOW IN PROGRESS

Mayeron's After Christmas

CLEARANCE SALE

Girls here's your chance to save for months ahead or even for next year.

- DRESSES
- SKIRTS
- JACKETS
- SLIPS
- PETTICOATS
- A small group of cotton blouses and wool sweaters

Drastically Reduced

MAYERON'S

Corner College at Adams

Playmakers to Meet

The Tallahassee Playmakers will have a planning meeting tonight, Jan. 16, at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Clubroom of the Alumni building.

The Playmakers is a drama organization composed of members of the university staff and faculty. All members and persons actively interested in participating are invited to attend the meeting.

The showing of a sound-color movie of the Indiana University campus.

Marriage Counseling Service Offered to F.S.U. Students

Unique to Florida State University is an excusive marriage counseling service.

This marriage counseling service has developed gradually from the educational program in marriage and family relations that the University has offered for many years. A consultation service has been offered in connection with these courses since their inception in 1930.

Faculty members of the division of marriage and family living offer counseling in their own offices by appointment, and professional standards of privacy and confidentiality are strictly maintained. The scope of problems brought in for counseling includes the relationships of students to their parents; dating, courtship, mate-selection, and engagement problems; pre-marital considerations; and in the case of married students, marriage adjustment.

The marriage counseling service maintains a close working relationship with other counseling resources in the university, and in the community. Whenever the student can best be helped by some other professional person or agency, proper procedures of consultation and referral are instituted. Most of these inter-professional relationships are with the university psychiatrist, the university health service, the Human Relations Institute of Tallahassee and practicing physicians in Tallahassee.

Though many of the clients who make use of the marriage counseling service are students in the marriage and family living courses of the School of Social Welfare, the service is being used increasingly by students who are not in these courses, by faculty and staff of the university, and by citizens of Tallahassee, and other areas of the state. It is open to all these groups and since it is a university service there is no fee charged for the counseling.

The marriage counseling service provides experience in counseling for some of the candidates for the Ph.D. degree in the Division of Marriage and Family Living of the School of Social Welfare. Those candidates specializing in marriage counseling receive two semesters of internship, one semester in the marriage counseling service, and another in the Human Relations Institute of Tallahassee. They are assigned less difficult cases and are supervised by a member of the faculty.

Though undergraduate courses in marriage and family living are numerous, there are relatively few graduate programs in this field being offered at universities. According to a recent study, only five universities in the United States offer an internship in marriage counseling such as the one here.

The supervision of these doctoral students is directed by Edwin C. Hamblin, assistant professor, and the entire program is under the administration of Dr. Coye E. Moore, Dean of the School of Social Welfare.

Plans Told About Commencement For February Grads

Commencement exercises for first semester graduates of Florida State University will be held Saturday afternoon, February 2, in the Music Hall auditorium. The program is scheduled for 4 p.m.

To be eligible for a degree, first semester candidates must clear all delinquent accounts and pay a $5 diploma fee to the University Business office. Deadline for settling accounts is Jan. 15.

Today is deadline for ordering caps and gowns and announcements for the ceremony. Arrangements for these items should be made in University bookstore.

Graduation rehearsal has been set for Friday afternoon on February 1 at 4:30.

Any candidate planning to be graduated in absentia must secure permission from his academic dean and notify the registrar by Jan 19.

Student's planning to continue work at FSU for advanced degrees should apply for admission to the graduate school immediately. Applications are handled by the registrar's office.

Alpha Lamb Taps Sophomore Co-Ed

Betty Shrigley, sophomore home economics major, was tapped and pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary, in December.

Miss Shrigley is the only sophomore to be honored this year.

Freshmen pledges will be tapped in the spring. They must have a 2.5 average for the first quarter of their freshman year. Those not making their average will be tapped next fall.

Miss Shrigley was pledged Dec. 17 in the Longmire building with Miss Katherine Warren, a national officer of this honorary, and Frankie Clark, senior student advisor, as guests. She will be initiated in the near future.

Student Treasurer

(Continued from Page 1)

more money," stated UOA president Will Pennell.

"I HAVE taken all measures to economize and employ strict budget control in the various areas, but still certain groups need more money."

Pennell stated that he thought the student budget committee's recommendations would be the first step to solve the financial problem.

The State Board of Control has given the University of Florida permission to increase student fees $25 a semester, a 5% percent increase over the present fee.

THE $25 hike is broken down into $2.50 for the student activity fee, $2.50 for the infirmary fee and $20 to the contingent fee.

This raises the present student activity fee at the University of Florida from $12 to $14.50. Passage of this portion of the fee approves the assessment voted by the student body over three to one in the campus-wide election last month.

COMMENTING on the reasons for the increase, Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the university, said, "In view of the economic situation of the country, particularly of the uncertainty of enrollment of 1953; in view of the fact that the state universities have raised their fees an average of 52 percent to the last decade, and the university has had to raise during that same period, and in view of the increased cost of operation which obviously pay relatively a small percentage, it was considered the judgment of the Board and Administration that the student fees should be revised upward."

Members of the FSU student budget committee working on the recommendations are Jan Arbogast, Carolyn Moore, Margaret Bradley, Tommy Bevers, Eddie James, UOA treasurer Sue Saxon, and committee chairman, Pat Caro.

Local Greek

(Continued from Page 1)

has now including the West campus office.

The new University bookstore will be modeled after the one at the University of Florida in Gainesville. There will be an entire section of the building used for the bookstore.

The cost of the frai dorms averaged $100,000 each. The dorms are self-liquidating, being paid for by the frai rent, $17 monthly for each student. That is the same rate that is charged for any other men's dorm on campus.

ALL OF the houses are similar in arrangement and conveniences. They will contain a dining room, lounge, foyer, irrecreation room, powder room, house mother's suite and rooms with built-in wardrobe dresser combinations. They are extremely modern and attractive.

Several of the buildings are built of brick and express siding with flat, built-up roofs, interiors of plaster and wood paneling and asphalt tile floors. The Theta, Phi Delta Theta, and Phi Kappa Tau have terrazzo floors in the living rooms and dining rooms. The rooms have built-in study desks.

Some of the other buildings are a combination of red brick and gray concrete block with flat built-up roofs. The interior is of plaster and wood paneling. The last group is construction of brick and stucco with plaster throughout on the inside.

Two Graduates Are In Concert at Mobile

Two graduate students in the School of Music participated in a concert in Mobile, Ala., during the Christmas holidays, honoring the 250th anniversary of the founding of Mobile.

Vernon Raines conducted the Mobile Symphony Orchestra, with Joanne Byrd as piano soloist. Both are graduate students of Prof. Ernest von Dohnanyi.

Miss Byrd was soloist with the orchestra, playing the Cesar Franck "Symphonic Variations for piano and orchestra." Miss Byrd has played recitals in Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando and other Florida cities. She was 1950 winner of the International Recording Competition sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

Mr. Raines, who conducted the orchestra for the entire program, has been permanent conductor of the Mobile Symphony since its founding five years ago. The orchestra was originally founded as Mobile Chamber Symphony, and has grown until it now consists of 50 players and presents three concerts each season.

Blood Type Cards To Be Made Available

Students who gave blood for the recent ODK sponsored "Blood for Korea" drive may receive their blood type cards in the near future through the Florida Flambeau office.

All cards will be sent to Robert Griffin, Flambeau editor, and must be obtained from him. A later notice in the Flambeau will announce when the cards arrive.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT- Single and double rooms. And apartment now, also rooms for transients. Opposite college library. Register immediately for second semester. 643 W. Jefferson. Phone 8-9026.

MODERN 2-bedroom duplex apt., near F.S.U., suitable for Faculty or Graduate students. Ph. 5-1718, L'Vant Studios.

WANTED—Receptionist and typist for afternoons. Apply in person at L'Vant Studios. Ph. 5-1718.

WHY STUDENTS CHEAT?

Why Finals? . . .

A faculty committee at Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, N. Y., recommends a new approach to final exams.

What the committee wants are fewer exams, exams which test a student's judgment and intellectual power rather than his ability to remember facts, exams which would stress "correlation and assimilation" of subject matter.

THE QUESTION:

The dismissal of five students from Washington University, St. Louis, for breaking into a professor's office and stealing examinations has not brought to any end discussion of the problem.

On the contrary, Student Life, the campus newspaper, is still filled with news, editorials and letters concerned with cheating.

"While cheating has been on the increase here and in other universities," says a Student Life editorial, " . . . by the looks of things it will no doubt remain with us for some time longer."

"In dismissing these men, the University was, in part, attempting to set an example. It felt justified in perhaps disrupting lives lives if such actions would deter others from cheating.

"Legally, the expulsion was justified . . . Morally, we are not so sure there is justification . . . The administration must ask itself two questions:

"Had it created an atmosphere that would cause students not to cheat? . . . Did a tradition exist on this campus so that students would not want or need to cheat?"

Student Life suggested abolishing "cheating checks." They included, an adequate number of proctors; abolishing of "hell" where exams are passed out; roomy classrooms, so students can sit in alternate seats; and the students' "own sense of values."

Students writing in letters to the paper has somewhat different views of the problem. Said one student: "As long as competition said to remain the essence of a student's existence, as long as a student's worth must find its expression in quizes, monthly tests, quarterly exams, semi-finals and what-have-you — so long will cheating be a temptation on this campus."

Said another student: "A course of study must be made meaningful to the student . . . Students who feel benefits derived from a course will wish to evaluation these benefits accurately. And the desire for accurate evaluation will eliminate the desire to cheat."

Faculty members interviewed seemed to feel that the blame for cheating should be placed on students' desire good grades rather than a good education. An assistant dean, according to Student Life, blamed the "students desire to get away with as much as possible."

But a professor of botany believed dishonesty could be traced in part the commercial attitude of universities—"the selling of grade points for dollars," as much as a marketable commodity is sold.

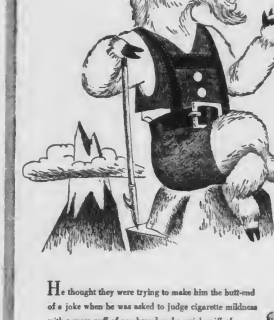
Education Honorary Initiates Tomorrow

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will meet tomorrow night for an initiation and symposium.

The initiation will be held at 7:30 in the Sowena Longmire lounge, second floor Conrad, and all members are invited to attend.

The symposium, open to the public will be held at 8 p. m. in the Alumni auditorium to discuss "What's Right With Our Schools."

Leading the discussion will be Dr. D. Lincoln Canfield, professor of modern languages; Dr. H. A. Curtis, education professor; Mr. Don Tate, assistant professor of business; and Miss Blanche Trevenant, acting assistant professor of education.



Key Meet Scheduled

Gold Key members who have received notice concerning absence from Gold Key meetings, as explained in the Gold Key constitution, must attend the next meeting Jan. 14, at 5 p.m. on the 4th floor of the Alumni building.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 31...THE MOUNTAIN GOAT

He thought they were trying to make him the butt-end of a joke when he was asked to judge cigarette mildness with a mere puff of one brand and a quick sniff of another. The fancy foot-work didn't dazzle him! He knew that the pinnacle of pleasure comes from steady smoking . . . and that there is only one test that gives you enough time to permit conclusive proof. Smokers throughout America have made the same decision!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA

WED. THRU SAT.

Jan 9 and 10

Too Young To Kiss

With Van Johnson and June Allyson

STATE

TUES. and WEDS.

Lovers of Verona

With Ameah Ameo and Serge Reggiani

French Dialog with English Subtitles

THURS. and FRI.

Slaughter Trail

With Erlan Donlevy

RITZ

TUES. and WED.

Angels In The Outfield

With Paul Douglas and Janet Leigh

DRIVE-IN

TUES. and WEDS.

Show Boat

With Kathryn Grayson and Ava Gardner

Color by Technicolor

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT

SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

Even though they've dropped eleven straight games, Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminole cagers salvaged something when they played the University of Florida in the recent Gator Bowl basketball tournament.

The Indians put on a performance that should move full time athletic relations between FSU and the Gators closer. By full time we mean football, basketball, track and baseball.

When they went into the contest the locals had felt the axe nine times while the Gators enjoying their best season ever under new coach John Mauer, had won eight consecutive tilts. Yet at halftime Kennedy's charges, to everyone's surprise including the Gators, were leading 33-29.

Even die-hard Florida fans admitted that if the Seminoles had not lost the services of Tom Maclaughlin, Irv Quinn and Jerry Westhafer the outcome of the contest would probably been a horse of a different color.

Maciaughlin ..incidentally, went out with only six minutes of the second quarter gone. Tom, however, put on a show that the Tournament fans will remember for a long time. Maclaughlin made 14 points in the 18 minutes that he played for almost a point per minute. Westhafer fouled out in the third period and Quinn left at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

At the same time Maclaughlin was knocking Coach Wes Casares and Curt Cunkle each had four personals, yet both managed to go the route.

The Seminoles proved one thing. They showed that they have the stuff that playing the Gainesville crew on their same level.

The Indian five gained another consolation when Captain Bob Whitmer was named to the All-Tournament first team.

One of the main troubles that the cagers are faced with seems to be the fact that they don't have a consistent scorer to fall back on when the going gets rough.

Last year Kennedy had talented Bob Hartman who scored over 400 points for a new State collegiate scoring record. Hartman was good for anywhere from 15 to 20 points per game. While Maclaughlin, Whitmer, Fischer, Westhafer and Quinn have all come through with good performances at one time or another not any have been hot the same night.

Should the Indians lose their next two games they will tie the school record for consecutive losses in a single season, set by the 1947-48 incarnation which dropped 13 in a row.

What with the war cry of football de-emphasis being shouted through the college ranks, Coach Bud "Bear" Wilkinson of Oklahoma's Cotton Bowl champs has come up with the latest and probably best brainstorm. The Bear, who also doubles as Kentucky's athletic director, announced that starting next year the Wildcats would put a limit on scholarships to out of state boys. Bryant's "limit" would give only five scholarships to prospective students from Oklahoma.

A review of the 1951 Florida State grid roster showed that 15 of the gridders are from Florida. Twelve are from Georgia, and quite a few are from Georgia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and one from California.

Tournament first team.

Whether or not the Indians take the 1952 cage season is to win or lose, Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminole cagers have already accomplished something that will be remembered for a long time.

Seminoles Losing Streak at Eleven

Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminole cagers were unanimous in their choice of a resolution for the new year. The squad agreed that their first goal of the 1952 cage season is to win a game.

In spite of the resolution however the Indians went down to their eleventh straight defeat last Saturday night losing to Loyola in New Orleans 74-52.

Ironically enough Loyola also went into the contest riding a ten game losing streak.

The Wolfpack who had all the way shot ahead 14-7 at the end of the first quarter and by halftime had built up a 30-18 margin. At the three quarter mark Loyola was out in front 58-37.

Quinky Lou Fischer veteran guard, paced the Seminoles attack with 19 points. Quinn had eight while Capt Bob Whitmer and Tom Maclaughlin chipped in with 7 markers.

Friday the Indians journey to Miami still hoping to crack the win column. Coach Charbonneau of the Hurricanes once last season coming out on the short end of a 53-52 decision.

FSU students will be admitted to the home basketball games on a first come first serve basis until further notice The plan was set by the 1947-48 incarnation which dropped 13 in a row.

Through the eleven games his Tom Maclaughlin is easily the Seminoles offensive efforts with 120 points. Captain Bob Whitmer is second with 74 and Jerry Westhafer is next with 66

Following the top three are Lou Fischer 54, Ken Sharpe 51, Rick Benson 34, Jim Hardesty 24, Jerry Ellenwood 13, Bob Pence 11, Irv Quinn 8, and Orville Fischer 4.

After the Semlnoles play Miami they will have four more out of town dates with Tampa and Florida Southern next week before returning to Tallahassee January 12 to meet Georgia Teacher- College.

The box score

FSU	G	F	Pts	LOYOLA	G	F	P
Whitmer	3	1	7	Bonnecaze	2	1	5
Quinn	4	0	8	Wenzler	3	0	6
Maclaughlin	4	6	14	Schneider	4	3	11
Fischer	3	3	9	Carollo	3	1	7
Westhafer	3	1	7	Cassidy	4	1	9
Pence	0	0	0	Bonnecaze	0	0	0
Hardesty	0	0	0	Gordon	2	3	7
Sharpe	0	0	0	Hennig	0	0	0
Gordon	2	0	4	Kennedy	0	0	0
				Bonnecaze	0	0	0
Totals	20	12	52	Totals	18	9	74

Score by quarters:
Florida State 14 16 28 52
Loyola (New Orleans) 7 30 58 74

Officials: Referee, Bill Chambers, Georgia Tech; Umpire, Ed Hickman, Bay, Tuscaloosa.

FSU Gymnasts Leave Today On Long Trip

The National Champion Florida State University Gymnastics team left this morning on the first leg of a four meet trip that will send them against North Carolina, Army, Navy and Duke University.

The Seminoles who last year copped the N.C.A.A., A.A.U. and several lesser titles face the Tarheels in the Initial outing Thursday then travel to West Point, N. Y., for the match with Army on Saturday.

The following Monday Coach Hartley Price sends his charges against Navy at Annapolis and on the return trip south the Seminoles meet Duke.

Last year the FSU gymnasts' only two dual meet losses came at the hands of Army and Navy. The Future Generals topped the Seminoles 53-43 while the Middies won a 51-45 decision.

Last year Navy did not meet Duke and North Carolina in dual meets last season.

Captain Jack Sharpe and National champion Jack Miles are expected to provide the Indians' top point winners. Veterans Carmine and Joe Regna can also be expected to furnish plenty of points.

Dr. Price named the following men to make the trip: Sharpe, Miles, Joe Regna, Carmine Regna, Paul Bacchus, Don Holder, Dick Gutting, Larry Weston, Al Ruda and Dick Ireland.

Dr. Price indicated that he would enter the following men in the events:

Side Horse—Joe Regna, Pat Signorelli and Don Holder.

Rush Bar—Jack Miles, Carmine Regna and Don Holder.

Parallel Bars—Joe Regna, Carmine Regna and Don Holder.

Flying Rings—Jack Miles, Jack Sharpe and Joe Regna.

Tumbling—Dick Gutting, Larry Weston and Al Ruda.

Trimpoline—Carmine Regna and Jack Sharpe.

Trimpoline Duke and N. C. meets only?—Dick Gutting, Larry Weston and Dick Ireland.

'52 Grid Card Takes Shape FSU Looks for Tenth Game

The Seminoles' 1952 football schedule finally seems to be straightened out. Athletic Director Howard Danford announced Saturday that FSU would meet North Carolina State in Raleigh on October 25 instead of October 4 as originally scheduled.

VERSATILE BILL DAWKINS capped a brilliant 4 year career with Don Vellers Seminole backfield and played on the record all Veteran's Bowl football game in Mobile, Ala. Dawkins, who captained the 1951 FSU team also played on the North-South All Star game in Miami Christmas night, and was praised by coaches for his play on both ends. Bill, along with teammate Mike Sellers was named to the all State Collegiate eleven by Florida sportswriters. Dawkins was awarded a offensive guard and Mike Sellers was named as a linebacker on the two platoon team. Both players were repeaters from the 1950 squad.

Danford also said that the Seminoles would try to fill one of two open dates on the '52 card giving the Indians 10 games next fall. October 4 and 18 are the open weekends.

At the same time Danford announced that Florida State will continue football relations with the University of Miami in 1953.

THE SEMINOLES played Miami for the first time this year season, losing to the Hurricanes 35-13 before the largest opening day crowd in Miami history. In the second half Veller's charges outscored Miami two touchdowns to one.

The Seminoles will then start their fifth season under Veller next fall. will tackle the toughest schedule in the brief history of the school.

BESIDES N. C. STATE Pitchfaces powerful Georgia Tech, champs of the rugged Southeastern conference, and winner over Baylor in the Orange Bowl; the co-champions of the Southern conference and Florida annual member of the Southern.

WOFFORD, TAMPA, SYRACUSE, (Georgia) Southern and Louisiana Tech round out the schedule. Tampa handed the Seminoles their only defeat last year the 1951 campaign—a 14-6 setback in the final game of the season.

The 1952 Schedule:

Sept. 27—Louisian Tech (here).
Oct. 4—Open.
Oct. 11—Virginia Military Institute (here).
Oct. 18—Open.
Oct. 25—North Carolina State at Raleigh, N. C.
Nov. 1—Stetson University at DeLand.
Nov. 8—Mississippi Southern (here).
Nov. 15—Furman University (here).
Nov. 22—Georgia Tech at Atlanta, Ga.
Nov. 29—Wofford College at Spartanburg, S. C.
Dec. 6—Tampa University (here)

Women Bowlers In Practice Rounds

The first practice for the odd bowlers was held Friday January 4 in the bowling alleys with twenty-one girls out for the team.

High scorers were N.ncy Croll 187, Frankie Brownlee 185, Betty Gilbert 137, Gwen Loy 119 Marilon Meide 116, Joan Pinson 123, Pat Turney 141 and Mitzie Smith 96.

The other girls out were K. J. Simpson, Elizabeth Pacher, Sara Whitehead, Martha Staley Janet Woolbright, Jean Rhome Mary Dougherty, Barbara Meadows Helen Hamilton, Martha Garrett, Pat Crider, Gail Baker and Norma Bolton.

EVEN DANCE

The Even dance team members were chosen by Nancy Smith their leader will eleven members composing the team.

Nancy Smith chose the following girls: Jean Porhas, Barbara Coleman, Joyce Cox Pat Hampton, Sally Kniloch, Shirley Kriel, Joan Dewey, Sally Brender Ann Mize and Florence Schwartz.

This year's Odd-Even dances will be performed on the program presented by the Theater Dance group on Wednesday January 16, at 8:15. They will be tuned on the program as Odd-Even dances

Traffic Court to Hold First Meeting in 1952

The first 1952 meeting of the University Traffic Court will be held Wednesday at 9 p.m. in the University Government Association room, second floor, Alumni building.

The traffic court is composed of Junuces Arden Eubanks and Charles Milford and Chief Justice George Gnann. Court clerk and assistant clerk are Betty Johnson and Ola Hayes respectively

Writers Meet Today

There will be a meeting of all Flambeau feature writers this afternoon at 5 in the Flambeau office. All students who are interested in writing are invited to attend.

Hardee Schedules Meetings For Those Without Majors

Students undecided about their major will have a chance to explore the fields of their interests during the special series of vocational guidance meetings scheduled by Dr. Melvene Hardee, Coordinator of Counseling.

THE SERIES of programs will culminate with the Career Planning Conference March 11-13 under the joint auspices of the Office of Vocational Guidance and the various schools and departments.

The programs are produced by the Council of Deans in cooperation with the Office of Coordination and are a follow-up of those introductory meetings held during orientation week.

High School Teaching Child Development, Psychology, and Personnel Work are the topics of the program sponsored Jan. 10 at 4:30 p.m. in 307 Science by the College of Arts and Science.

TEACHING, elementary, secondary, art, health, physical education and industrial arts are the topics of the program scheduled for Jan. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in 203 Education by the School of Education.

Law, foreign service, economics, political science, sociology, geography, and history are the topics of the Jan. 15 program, 4:30 p.m. in 307 Science sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Additional meetings will be announced in a later edition of the Flambeau.

Classical Club Meets

The monthly meeting of the Classical club will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Dr. Olivia Dorman, head of the classics department.

Discussion for the meeting will be centered on the calender and how it has attained its present day form. All students are invited.

Les Jongleurs Has Initiation For Two

Les Jongleurs, dramatics honorary initiated Rose Biancaroza and Bill Yeho at an informal ceremony recently.

A group of thespian sand members of the faculty of the speech departments attended a Christmas dinner at the Floridan Hotel, following this ceremony.

Speakers of the evening included Dr. Clarence Edney, head of the speech department, and Dr. George McCalmon, head of the drama area.

Les Jongleurs, in its second year of existence, is composed of theater students who have accumulated the required number of points in theater work stipulated by the honorary

Professor Writes Meteorology Paper

Dr. Seymour I. Hess of the meteorology department was coauthor of the article "The Atmospheres of the Other Planets" which appeared recently in the Compendium of Meteorology.

The magazine is published by American Meteorological Society, under the sponsorship of Geophysics Research Division of Air Force Cambridge Research Center.

His collaborator on the article was Dr. Hans Panofsky, professor at Pennsylvania State College.

The article is concerned with our knowledge of atmospheric conditions on Mars and Jupiter.

Miss Salisbury Gets Selective Service Post

The director of Florida State University's graduate nursing program will represents the nursing profession on the State Advisory Committee to Selective Service.

Miss Agnes E Salisbury was notified this week by the Office of Defense Mobilization of her appointment. She will attend a meeting of the committee to be held in Jacksonville starting Jan. 13.

In her new position, Miss Salisbury will determine the availability and essentiality of reserve officers in the Nurse Corps who are called for active duty.

First Round In Girls' Meet Held

The first round of the intramural basketball tournament between sorority and dormitory was played Monday December 31 as AOP defeated Chi O, ann Gilchrist overpowered Jennie Murphree.

The second round found Alpha Chi O the victor over PO Pi Phi beating Alpha Gam, and Landis defeating Gilchrist.

Thursday December 13 saw Sigma Kappa defeat A D Pi, Chi O beat Pi Phi and Jessie Murphree whiped Bryan.

In the fourth round Delta Zeta beat ADP, AO defeated Pi Phi Gamma Phi walloped Alpha Xi, and Gilchrist overpowered Bryan.

The outstanding players of the games were Patsy Gates, Barbara Gates, Mary Whitlur, Joe Carol Campbell, and Alberta Large for Sigma Kappa Martha Williamon Mary Boynton, Dolly Hargrove, M. D Richardson and Mary Council for the A D Pi. Pat Turney, Pat Peden, Marie Fields, Judy Simpkins, Peter Thatcher Shirley Gaskin for Phi Beta Phi Jean Weinhold Susan Bates, Dadie Platte, Sue Scott, Lynda Lang, Jink Norther, for Chi Omega.

The officials on the games were Betty Holland, Jean Rivell, and Anne Thrope, Joanne Young, Del Peters and Sally Ellis

An archery tournament will be played Monday and Tuesday January 7 and 8 on the archery range.

Ping pong practice started on Monday for the sorority and dorm competition.

TRACK AND VOLLEYBALL

Track Coach Ken Miller requests that all candidates for the Seminole cinder team report to the West campus field house at 4:00 this afternoon. Equipment will be issued Candidates for manager are also requested to report.

Volleyball coach Bo Odneal announces that the time of volleyball practice has been changed. Practice will now be held on Monday, Wednesdays and Thursday at 6 p. m.

Geology Club Meeting

There will be a business meeting of the Geology club tonight at 7:30 in room 4 of the geology department. All members are requested to attend.

Who's Who Is No Honor
See Lead Editorial

Florida Flambeau

Honor Emphasis Week
To Begin Sunday
See Front Page

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 24 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, January 11, 1952

Discussions Begin Honor Emphasis

Forums, Teas and Speeches Center On Making FSU's Honor Code Work

The annual Honor Emphasis week will begin Sunday with the discussion of "honor" in the churches and student houses here.

Continuing through January 18, the honor week will be celebrated by forums, discussions, and special programs climaxing Friday with a meeting of students and faculty to pledge support to the honor system.

JOE RENTZ, committee chairman has announced the schedule of activities for the week.

"Honor" at 8 p.m. a Faculty-Student forum will be held in the reference auditorium to discuss "The Part that Faculty and Student Play in Our Honor System."

The women's dormitory tea Wednesday from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. will emphasize the system and its purposes and members of the honor committee will speak.

THURSDAY night a group of student leaders will speak on "What is Wrong With Our Honor System and What Can Be Done About It" at 8 p.m. in Longmire.

Thursday a meeting is scheduled at 7 p.m. for members of dorms in the University Government Association room in Longmire at 8 p.m.

Thursday at 7 p.m. Bi-Y is sponsoring a forum on "Can Honor Be Defined in Our Long-Range Plan."

AT 9:45 Thursday, WFSU is presenting a radio program telling about the honor system.

Friday night the mass meeting will be held at 8 in the Longmire auditorium.

The program Friday night will begin with Honor Committee Chairman Rentz who will introduce the introduction.

Following the introduction the new code affirmation ceremony will be presented. President Doak S. Campbell will give a Faculty address. Graduate University Government Association President Wilford Bevis will present the student affirmations.

THEN the entire gathering will join in an affirmation of honor.

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 8)

Who's Who'ers Are Revealed

President Doak S. Campbell will formally recognize 30 out of 900 Florida State University seniors selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" today at noon.

ONLY AFTER careful consideration of every student in the class, the senior representative were chosen by the Executive Council of the University Student Association. "The fairest honor and most coveted positions were difficult but unanimous," Chairman Dick Bradley said.

FSU "Who's Who" members for this year are Gail Kelly Albertson, James Bell, Richard Bradley, William Dawkins, Max Geisler, Shirley Deen, Eleanor Graves, Shirley Gregory, Robert Griffin, Cathy Hadley, William Hayes, Allen Head and Shirley Hurlbert.

ALSO members are Alice Jackson, Nell Jacobs, Myra Kisling, Kirk, Marjorie Meckstroth, Charles Paul Mims, Jerry Monroe, Will Pennell, Catherine Rich, William Roettgen, Lucille Rogers, Robert Schmeltz, Doris Jean Smith, Joel Smith, Nandy Warren Smith, Jerry Thomas and Eunice Thompson.

J. C. Book Is Topic Of Women's Senate

Women's Senate met Wednesday in dinner for Junior Counselors concerning their problems and behavior, Mary Ruth Summers, Margret Krasnansky and Mary Helen Speed were appointed on a committee to consider the suggestion and report on it next week.

Copies of the Spend-The-Night-In-Town were to be mimeographed Wednesday and distributed to dormitories by senators who explained the rules at house meetings last night.

Chairman Betty Rich asked Mary Ruth Summers to have copies of the revised Sophomore Council constitution made to be given to each senator next week.

Senate Studies Representation Student Plan

Described as "the biggest jump in many moons" in student government, a plan is underway to put a student government representative on every Faculty Senate committee dealing directly with student welfare.

Senator Gene Turano, who reported the move to enthusiastic ovation by the student Senate last Tuesday, said he received the information from Vice-President J. B. Martin, acting for President Doak S. Campbell, who was in Washington.

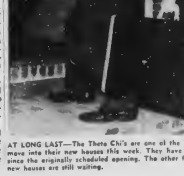
TURANO was chairman of a Senate committee which was supposed to meet with the administration's traffic committee last Monday on the report of his group. Senators Vernon Peeples, Phil Springer and Alice Davidson, were not present. Turano met with Martin in private.

The sophomore senator reported Martin as saying the present restricted parking was by no means solid and might still be changed. The vice-president suggested Turano attend meetings of the Faculty Traffic committee and told him that the student senator requested UGA representation on other Faculty Senate committees.

TURANO SAID after the Senate meeting he hoped that if the plan were adopted it would do much to relieve the strain between students and the administration.

Actual details of the arrangement, such as voting power and method of selection, are still undecided. Neither is it yet clear which committees deal directly with student welfare.

In other business the Senate heard a report from Senators Pancho Syed and Mary Ruth Summers on last month's Florida Student Government association convention in Lakeland.



Women's Honorary Taps Seven Coeds

Seven women students were tapped Tuesday night for Garnet Key, women's honorary, in a surprise ceremony.

Seniors chosen were Barbara Ann Eddy, Lizelle Rogers, Nancy Smith, Eunice Thompson, Martha Watkins; juniors include Nancy Ory and Mary Helen Speed.

The new tans were chosen on the basis of service, leadership and spirit, the three qualifications for membership in Garnet Key.

Tau's will entertain members of Garnet Key with a party this week.

AT LONG LAST—The Theta Chi's are one of the lucky three fraternities to move into their new houses this week. They have had to wait four months since the originally scheduled opening. The other five fraternities to receive new houses are still waiting.

OPPORTUNITIES GALORE—This group of high school seniors, part of more than 300 from 18 Florida and Georgia high schools, are welcomed with rat caps and all by Dr. Clarence Edney, speech department head, and Dr. Mode L. Stone, dean of the School of Education. The students were attending the second FSU "Career Day" program.

Six Counties are Represented During FSU's 'Career Day'

Opportunities offered at Florida State University in preparation for careers were shown seniors from 18 high schools in one Georgia and five Florida counties in a "Career Day" program Wednesday.

The more than 300 seniors were told in a message of greeting by Dr. A. B. Martin, vice president, that the university has a permanent policy of doing everything possible to develop the individual abilities of its students.

STUDENTS WERE from Liberty, Calhoun, Gulf, Franklin and Wakulla counties in Florida and Decatur county, Georgia.

Dr. Martin told them that although FSU had grown into a large state university in a comparatively few years it has upheld the tradition of this university in preparing students for their life's vocation.

Dr. Mode L. Stone, dean of the School of Education and "Career Day" chairman, joined in the welcome. He explained how each visiting senior could obtain information of the career in which he was most interested.

FRANCES INMERSON, freshman, spoke briefly to the assembly on "It's Time To Decide." She pointed out how confused high school graduates were assisted through the counselors in choosing the career of their choice.

Miss Immerson said that the university curriculum was so flexible the students could change their choice of a career even after they had enrolled.

Admission requirements, costs, counseling services, housing, health service, health services, religious experience, work opportunities and other information was given by Dr. J. Broward Culpepper, dean of students affairs.

THE ADVANTAGE of enrolling in either the Air Force ROTC or Ordnance units at the university was explained to the boys in the group by Col. Bernice S. Bowden, head of Air Force and Tactics, and Lt. Col. Cornell D. Booth, professor of Military Science and Tactics.

During this period the girls

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 1)

Dance Group Plans Program

The Theatre Dance Group will present an "Evening of Dance" Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 8:15 in the Music hall.

Highlighting the evening's performance will be "Theme and Variations," a dance choreographed by Nelle-Bond Dickinson and danced by Nancy Warren Smith, Jean Forhan and Nelle-Bond Dickinson.

Music for this dance was composed by Carlisle Floyd, piano instructor in School of Music.

ALSO INCLUDED in the program will be various contemporary dances including the Odd-Even dances of 1952 and group dances of 1951. New members of the group will make their initial appearance in a group waltz composed by Ernst von Dohnanyi. School graduates were assisted through the counselors in choosing the career of their choice.

Miss Immerson said that the university curriculum was so flexible the students could change their choice of a career even after they had enrolled.

Admission requirements, costs, counseling services, housing, health service, health services, religious experience, work opportunities and other information was given by Dr. J. Broward Culpepper, dean of students affairs.

THE ADVANTAGE of enrolling in either the Air Force ROTC or Ordnance units at the university was explained to the boys in the group by Col. Bernice S. Bowden, head of Air Force and Tactics, and Lt. Col. Cornell D. Booth, professor of Military Science and Tactics.

During this period the girls

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 1)

Deadlines Told By Registrar

Registrar Charles H. Walker has announced dates for entrance applications of new students, graduate oral examinations, February commencement, transfer and entering students counseling and registration and graduate and upperclass registration.

Newly entering students must make application for admission to the university before noon, Saturday, Jan. 19. Students entering after that date may do so only with special permission.

DEADLINE for first semester graduate oral examinations is Thursday, Jan. 24.

Commencement for February graduates will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 16 in the Music hall. Graduation rehearsal will be held Friday, Feb. 15, at 3:30 p.m. in the Music hall. Arrangements for a Commencement speaker are now under way.

Transfer and entering students will receive a concentrated counseling period from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 8. At this time placement tests will be given, and tentative schedules arranged by counselors.

REGISTRATION for transfer students and entering freshmen will also be held Friday, Feb. 8. Scheduling of classes will take place from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

All graduate students and upperclassmen are required to register for the second semester in the East campus gymnasium from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 9. Registration for the first semester will be individual class examinations scheduled from 8 a.m. Monday, Jan. 28, through 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 2. Official end of semester classes is 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26.

Tenor Nye to Give Certificate Recital 8:15 Monday Night

Raymond Nye, tenor, will present his certificate recital in the Music hall auditorium Monday at 8:15 p.m. Mr. Nye, a student of Prof. Mary Helen Warner, will be accompanied at piano by Vernon Raines, graduate student in piano.

Joyce M. Bryant, flutist, will assist in the program by playing two compositions for flute alone, and several works for flute and piano. She will be accompanied by Joanne Byrd.

The program will be divided into five parts. Part one will include O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me, from "Semele" by Handel, and Native Worth from the "Creation," by Haydn. Pastoral by Hue and Donnelle Fuggle, by Cavalli.

The second part will include Concerto in E K 314 by Mozart and the Suite in B Minor by Bach.

The third part will be Le Rve by Des Grieux, from "Manon" by Massenet. Night Soliloquy by Kennan. Syrinx for flute alone by Debussy, "Danse de la Chevre by Honegger, and Nocturne et Allegro Scherzande by Gaubert will make up part four.

Part five will consist of Plaisir D'Amour by Martini, Rencontre by Faure and Bonjour, Suson by Delibes.

Committee Gives Increase Proposal

Dr. Campbell Receives Report On Student Activity Budget

A proposal by the student-faculty budget committee to increase allocations to certain student activities was presented to president Doak S. Campbell yesterday.

If the proposal passes it will increase activity fees $2 a semester for $6 a year. This will increase the total student activity fee from $18 a semester to $20, or a total of $40 for the academic year.

APPROVED unanimously by the University Council last Tuesday, the recommendations need the approval by the president and the state board of control to become effective.

Dean J. Howard Culpepper, chairman of the faculty budget committee, stated "that because of inadequate finances, either the number of student activities would have to be curtailed or the student activity fee would have to be raised."

FIRST ACTION came from a mass meeting of business managers and treasurers of organizations receiving money from the student activity fee.

Questionnaires, passed out to the group, were returned last week and made it clear many organizations justified their reasons for asking for more money.

All requests and information was discussed at a joint meeting of the faculty and student budget committee. The faculty committee is composed of Chairman Miss Luella Richey, accounting professor, and Benjamin Beyer, assistant professor in business.

STUDENT committee is: Jan Rentz, Carolyn Moore, Margaret Hoadley, Tommy Bowen, Eddie James, UGA treasurer Sue Bacon, and committee chairman, Pat Caro.

The student - faculty budget committee concluded that the following activities should be given additional allocations:

The Smoke Signals wants a 15% increase. This would make total amount received from the student $1 a year. The budget of Smoke Signals was cut two years ago from $1 to 85c and is returning to original amount.

The Flambeau which met to

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 5)

Booster Club Organized By Businessmen

Bob Bannerman Heads Group of 64 Citizens Joined to Help FSU

The same spirit among Tallahassee citizens that helped build Doak S. Campbell Stadium two years ago has led 64 local businessmen to organize a new club to assist Florida State University.

Headed by Bob Lee Bannerman, employee of a Tallahassee petroleum products firm, the men will promote the university athletically, financially, educationally and politically.

THE 64 men met for dinner Tuesday night at the home of Syde Deeb, local contractor, and organized the club. Albert Martin, FSU vice-president who was present, hailed the movement as a "wonderful idea."

"We're for it 100 per cent," Dr. Martin told the men. "We welcome anything that will help build an active group of men's alumni. We need desperately as FSU, for our progress by bridging the gap between the people in the state and the university."

THE BOOSTERS' organization drew quick praise, too, from Martin. Dr. Doyle Carlton, state school chairman, Rod Shaw, business manager, Dr. Laurence Campbell, dean of the College of Commerce, Miss Luella Richey, accounting professor, and Benjamin Beyer, assistant professor in business.

STUDENT committee is: Jan Rentz, Carolyn Moore, Margaret Hoadley, Tommy Bowen, Eddie James, UGA treasurer Sue Bacon, and committee chairman, Pat Caro.

The student - faculty budget committee concluded that the following activities should be given additional allocations:

The Smoke Signals wants a 15% increase. This would make total amount received from the student $1 a year. The budget of Smoke Signals was cut two years ago from $1 to 85c and is returning to original amount.

The Flambeau which met to

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 5)

Registrar Lists Deans' Reasons

Academic Deans Veto Registration Change

Disadvantageous reasons for registering before the second semester were presented by secretary of the University Government Association, Jo Nell Proctor, at the regular University Council meeting Tuesday.

Registrar Charles H. Walker had given her his list of disadvantageous reasons offered by the Council of Academic deans.

THE REPORT said that students would have to register over the period of a week before or during exams. This would be a bad time for both students and professors and would tie up too many people needed elsewhere.

The counseling system would be disrupted and counseling professors would not be able to be at the gym during exam week.

The report continued and said the school is required to have a student pay his fee and get his registers. Because of this, students would have to pay before they get home which might be a problem to some.

REGISTRAR'S list also noted that there are many students who fall in one or more sequence courses in which case they would have to register over again after receiving their grades. Some students decide not to return after they go home meaning a lot of work for the Registrar office and the registrar if the change occurred.

Registration for new students has to be held after the second semester courses have started. It is easier to do it all at the same time.

IN GENERAL too many procedures would have to be changed.

(Continued on Page 3 Col. 8)

Noted Geneticist Speaks at FSU During Sigma Xi Lecture Series

Dr. Lawrence H. Snyder, one of the foremost authorities in genetics, presented intriguing applications of medical genetics to modern living at the Sigma Xi lecture Wednesday night.

Building his lecture around the theme "Heredity and Modern Life," Dr. Snyder discussed the major sub-topics of prevention, diagnosis, promotion and blood groups.

THE PROFESSOR of medical genetics at the University of Oklahoma opened with a general picture of medical genetics, recounted some of its history and then gave specific examples from personal experience.

The geneticist has had a background of over 20 years experience in the genetics filed. He is also author of four books and more than 100 articles on various phases of human heredity.

DISEASES due to maternal causes, but certain other diseases and conditions are directly traced to hereditary causes. It is the duty of geneticists to trace the families of people with those maladies.

Very often such conditions may be corrected if caught soon enough.

Medical genetics is becoming increasingly important, also, in diagnostic sciences which otherwise would take days and months weeks of ordinary medical study.

PERHAPS one of the points people are most interested in is the probability of a parent's genetic disorder or an early child's defects appearing in later children. There are yet many problems to the geneticist on which, but research proves he able to predict results with accuracy.

Finally, Dr. Snyder discussed the applications of blood groups to legal study. At the time of the survey, only four types of blood were known, but with the discovery of new bodies mathematical probability has increased these to some 17 combinations.

BLOOD typing is becoming increasingly important in crime detection. Saliva on cigarette butts or on sealed envelopes sometimes leads to a guilty party in a crime. Paternity suits and cases "switched babies" in hospitals are often decided by blood experts.

Dr. Snyder concluded that much is being done by the geneticist today, but that the field is wide open for expansion.

All Play — 'No Stay'

More Studying Will Help Men At FSU to 'Beat the Draft'

"Students should stop worrying and start hurrying to get their marks up." This is in order to beat the draft, according to announcements just issued by the Selective Service System to cover all college students.

In a recent release to the Flambeau, Major John S. Hershey, director of Selective Service, explains the meaning of the new 1951 special student deferments issued by the department.

THE SELECTIVE SERVICE Act of 1948 provided that students pursuing a full-time course and attaining satisfactory grades would have their induction postponed until the end of his academic year. At the end of the year, the student became liable for immediate induction.

The 1951 amendments changed this by providing that any student pursuing a full-time course who was ordered for induction would, if he had never before been deferred as a student, be deferred in class I-S until the end of his academic year. However, he could receive only one such deferment after which he would be eligible for a classification that will ultimately induction.

MANY STUDENTS have been confused in differentiations between the I-S and II-S deferments. The II-S deferment is granted on the basis of the individual's class standing or the results of the College Qualification Tests. And is entirely up to the student's local board. It may be given to him in one year or successive year, enabling students who meet the qualifications to complete their education.

The I-S deferment, on the other hand, is a "one-shot" proposition designed only to allow those students who do not have eligibility for consideration for II-S deferments and who have never before received a student deferment or postponement to complete their current academic year.

WHETHER A MAN is classified as I-S or II-S, it is a deferred classification and not a postponement of induction, the release points out. At the end of the academic year the student must reopen the student's classification to determine whether he qualifies for any classification other than I-A.

Following the period the local board is reconsidering his case, the student has the right to enlist in the service of his choice and this right continues until he is ordered to report for induction. As the law stands now, any student desiring to enlist in the service of his choice in Jan. may do so and it appears probable that those students completing their academic year in June will also have ample opportunity to enlist in the service of their choice.

It can be implied that the student has a good chance of being allowed to finish his college education if he is diligent in his studies and keeps within the upper male percentage of his class as prescribed by the Selective Service Act.

FSU Student Hall of Fame Preferred Over Who's Who

"Did somebody mention Who's Who?"

"Yes, you must remember that muddy issue we disposed of two years ago on our campus."

"Our students wised up last year after we investigated the financial structure of the organization."

"Student's will never vote Who's Who back on our campus!"

These are just a few of the comments picked up at the annual ACP convention of college editors held this past year in Pittsburgh.

At a discussion of the organization, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, the general opinion was that the "honorary" did not offer the honor it was supposed to.

Here are a few facts about the organization that have been revealed.

The majority of large colleges have disposed of Who's Who. Its membership is largely in small colleges with enrollment under 1,500.

The organization was created and is run for a pure profit motive. More power to the person who created the brainstorm but it is not an honorary.

In 1950 Who's Who was kicked off this campus. The action was the result of much discussion about the method of selection.

Who's Who has no national selection standards. A standard procedure for choosing candidates has been suggested many times to the national organization but no changes have been made.

The organization has no ideals. The selection committee on each campus is to pick a certain percentage of the seniors for the Who's Who book.

The value of being in the Who's Who directory, so they say, is to get a job. Because some 33 persons want a job you have to waste the time, space and valuable effort of all concerned by putting their names in a book.

How does it get a person a job? Do employers rush out immediately and look in Who's Who when you apply for a job? The employer wouldn't find one in a library. The book is not standard reference material.

It is not an honorary. No grade requirement other than a 1. average is needed. What other honorary is there that has no scholastic requirement?

Who's Who is nothing but a torn and muddy issue causing worn out argument between a few glory seekers who must add one more honorary, in this case a false one, to their name. The issue is not a sensational one. Why give glory and importance to an organization that offends a person's basic honesty?

The suggestion and solution of the problem is to establish a hall of fame at Florida State University. Many universities, especially those that have expelled Who's Who, have made similar steps. It could be done here.

Wise Ben Franklin once said that there is neither reward nor honor got in dealing with a villain.

Who's Who has become the villain of honoraries in American Colleges and Universities.

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the first of a series of editorials appearing in the Flambeau introducing the University Government Association committees and explaining their policies.

The next editorial will be on the honor committee.

• • •

Any request to raise funds on the Florida State University campus must come through the fund committee of the University Council. Organizations which do not receive money from student activity fees, are allowed to sponsor during the academic year one project to make money. The money must be used only for rendering a service to the university.

All requests must be submitted in writing, together with a budget to the student funds committee. One month is the time requirement before actual work on the project begins.

The budget will indicate amount of money needed and amount the group will charge for project to meet expenses. After the project is complete a financial statement with itemized receipts and expenditures is presented to the funds committee.

If money is made on the project it will be applied to a project the following year; however, the project must make money or permission is denied for anybody attempt to raise money. The reserve of disbanded organizations is given to the social recreation fund.

National groups, such as Red Cross, March of Dimes, must have the funds committee's permission to solicit donations on campus. Each new solicitation requires new permission.

There can be no door-to-door soliciting except in the case of the Campus Chest. Exceptions will be approved by the funds committee.

There can be no solicitation on campus for the benefit of an individual. The funds committee also prevents door-to-door soliciting in the university residence halls and sorority and fraternity house by any organization.

Violations of the funds committee's policies make organizations liable for probation which is the restriction of not having a funds project for one year.

● A BETTER WORLD

The cause of higher education has been aided by the generosity of a local businessman, Mr. Jack Culpepper.

Mr. Culpepper has established a memorial gift scholarship valued at $8,000 to be used in the Florida State School of Nursing in remembrance of his late wife, Mrs. Varina Bower Culpepper.

This scholarship will not only be a great financial aid to some deserving student, but will also give the FSU School of Nursing still a figurative babe-in-arms. a chance to grow up a little.

With the financial support of people interested in higher education, many young men and women have been able to continue their studies. To Mr. Culpepper and all such people as he, we just want to say thanks. They are buying an investment in a mighty great thing—knowledge to help make this a better world.

● CAN-CAN DANCERS

It's life in Texas or it is Texas in Life, whichever way you want to look at it.

University of Texas got the spread in Life magazine for the most colossal, abundant and massive display of "whoop it up" during their campus blood drive.

Complete with can-can dancers the glorious Texans held parades, shows, and parties for Blood pledges. Although the University of Idaho still holds the official record for percentage of pints given, a short nod of respect to the bloody Texans.

Any can-can dancers for FSU's spring Blood drive may sign up now. Inspection will be necessary before approval.

● WELCOME REPLY

At the request of a great number of persons on campus, the Flambeau will carry a reply in the near future to the editorial on education that appeared in last Tuesday's paper.

Any letters defending or reputing the stand are welcome.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

POLL SHOWS PEACE OPTIMISM ABSENT

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

How long will the war tension the last?

The "cold war" is keeping the world split in two camps but war tension seems to be easing as the U. S. and its allies gather strength.

In an ACP poll taken by the Flambeau, students at Florida State are less optimistic or only a poor chance of the United States and Russia peacefully settling their differences. Optimism for a final and complete decision was absent.

Now that General Eisenhower has agreed to run, if nominated, with the condition that he not make an active campaign, the presidential race some of the tension has been released.

At Florida State 61 per cent of the students polled picked Gen. Dwight Eisenhower over a list of nine other leading candidates for the presidency.

California's Gov. Earl Warren ranked a poor second followed closely by Paul Douglas, President Truman and Robert Taft.

In individual matches, students would vote for Truman over Taft as the presidential favorite by 20 per cent of those questioned stated that they hoped they would never have to make the choice between the two.

In a test between the vote getting power of Eisenhower and Truman, "Ike" received 61 votes, Truman got 23, and seven voted no opinion.

The results of this ACP poll on a national scale will be published in the Flambeau in the near future. The students were also questioned drop on their support of de-emphasis of college football, their personal ideas of the value of their education, and their feeling on professors taking an oath stating that they are not a member of the Communist party.

Arthur S. Flemming, manpower chairman in the United States defense program, was recently asked this question:

"You're a college president. What is the draft going to do to the quality of education in this country? You take a boy at the age of 18. He gets out of prep school at 17½. He doesn't know whether he should wait a year before he goes to college. Shall he go to college? What's happening? What are the bulk of them doing?"

ANSWER, "The bulk of them who would ordinarily go to college are moving right on into college. Our enrollments this year are not down very sharply. The total over-all statistics haven't been put out yet, but some statistics that I've seen indicate a drop of approximately 12 per cent overall, which includes night work and day work. This was less than we had expected. We had expected some drop in enrollment at this particular time even though we had been involved in a defense-mobilization program, because we felt that the draft would be in a period where the number of people of college age was smaller by reason of the low birth rate in the 30's."

We hope, in relation to this "class day" that is scheduled on campus, the many students will be impressed with the need and will take advantage of ROTC by enrolling in college. FSU of course, next year.

• • •

Some of the high school seniors were asked what feature of Florida State impressed them the most. Each person answered, "girls." The girls answered, "boys." Ah, sex!

FSU is the only campus that if you kick the bushes, the bushes kick you back

SEMINOLE SCENES

FROTH AND FROWN--EXAMS HERE AGAIN

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Now is the time for all young men (and women) to come to the aid of exams. It's the time for people are going to hate me for mentioning it, but, too boo . . . exam time is here again!

Already some of us are having to think that in order to develop a formula of what spirit a semester's work in two weeks. What if nobody has the insight of how it is done, phone me immediately. Choice rates paid.

The only thing I can figure out to do is arm yourself with determination, grit your teeth, frown, and just do it. That's the trouble is how it is done:

After having done the afore mentioned things, t. e. grit your teeth, frown, and determination, you go into your room, and there all the work you've neglected at the first of the semester. After you get over the initial shock of seeing it all, you discovered, and even more, your surprise that that pretty book was supposed to go along with Political Science 221. you begin the great adventure. Anybody who have a one-track conception of the word "absorption."

Your roommate is in the room, too. But roommates never feel like studying when you do and vice versa. He, she or it has the radio on. "Hush, I'm not a studyin' . . ." You turn it off, and go back to your desk. Of course, before performing this chore, the little needles boring into your back.

Erasmus was a Dutch humanist . . . "Shrimp boats is a-comin'. The song I can't figure out. . . . So you're yourself with determination, grit your teeth, frown, and just do it. That's the trouble is how it is done:

Finally, in order to maintain a Christian attitude toward your friends, you party a while. Then, cleverly pack your books, and down on all fours and crawl to bed.

On in the Library, you settle down to peace and quiet. Erasmus . . . you . . . scratch, scratch . . . So he uses a pencil with eraser head; you do not. Time to another table. There two gals have got to whisper a blow-by-blow account of the date one of them had last night.

You just get past the fact that he has shoulder ears and they are struck by the delicious thought that you have company. The room is empty. You decide to chance it.

But when you arrive at your room and open the door, things are going strong. The gang is just warming up. Throwing your books on the floor and receiving yourself to fate and an Erasmus, you join in the hideous chorus of "Shrimp Boats Is A'Comin'! . . ."

SELECTION METHODS

AVOIDING THE HOT FIRE OF CRITICISM

(Editor's Note: The following comments by Dean Bond, chairman of the selection committee for the Florida Blue Key Outstanding Men and Universities. It will, Dick believes, help in the future to make the selection more chosen will not feel hurt, and not selected may not feel that a boast in a fire of criticism as it did, justly, last year.)

This article is to clarify the position of the Executive Council in regard to the selection of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

In the past it has been batted around from every angle and finally settled down this year for another time.

Many attempts to throw it out have failed. The general opinion is the only alternative was to fulfill the requirements in the fair est method. To do this, the Executive Council as a committee of one whole eliminated every name individually on a list of seniors with fifty-nine hundredths, according to the registrar.

Those shaved by sixty-five and their activities were obtained as best they could be. The committee then spent three solid hours eliminating down to this thirty names selected.

This was a hard task by a long shot and became increasingly difficult near the end. The decisions were unanimous.

Those selected have been asked to be present for luncheon today at noon. Presence indicates acceptance.

Accepting the honor is an individual decision and in no way is the person selected obligated to

ACP ROUND-UP

WHAT IS THIS SPECIES CALLED FROSH?

Arthur G. Phillips, associate professor of English at University of Miami, Fla., recently wrote a guest editorial for the Miami Hurricane. In which he made the following observations about the species Freshman and Sophomore:

1. Freshmen believe that all of their professors are smart. Sophomores believe that one or two of their professors are smart—the ones that flunk them.

2. Freshmen are in college to get an education. Sophomores are in college because their fathers refuse to give them their car to drive.

3. Freshmen aren't dry behind the ears; sophomores are always wet.

4. A freshman will take a woodmen nickle. A sophomore, to study a wooden nickel too, and five minutes later put it in the slot machine.

5. Freshmen write home once a week; sophomores write whenever they're broke.

6. A male freshman is looking for a girl like his mother; this is also true of the sophomore, if his mother happens to be Jane Russell.

7. A freshman believes the way to get good grades is to study hard; the sophomore has decided that a better way is to sit next to someone who studies hard.

8. A freshmen's ambition is to get into "Who's Who"; a sophomore most just wants to get called before the Kefauver committee.

9. Freshmen suspect that professors aren't human; sophomores know it.

10. Freshmen kiss their dates goodbye; sophomores kiss them hello.

Concludes the professor: "Everybody loves a freshman. What makes life so disillusioning to a sophomore is the realization that next year's freshmen will be next year's sophomores. Be truant officer mundi."

Men of Decision . . .

The Drake Time-Delphic, Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, and the Missouri Valley conference's handling of the "Bright" incident: John Bright, a Drake football player back, had been assaulted on the Kappa Sig lawn by a player for Oklahoma A. & M.

Said the Times-Delphic: "It took the conference 41 days to decide this three intentional attacks on a player (recorded for history by photographers) is but one of those unavoidable things."

• • •

Feminine Quirks . . .

What do girls look for in boys? This was the question asked of

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Mayo
Feature Editor ..... Gerry Holt
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beaux
Assistant News Editors ..... June Morgan, Judy Simkins

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Rosemary Helmich
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Harley.

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-200, Ext. 481; second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Religious Groups Will Hold Parties

CHRISTIAN

Christian Youth Fellowship will hold installation service for new officers Sunday evening at 8 at the Christian Church. Incoming officers are Frank Prance Nelson, president; Jean Kahler, vice-president, and Carol Henderson, secretary-treasurer.

A party will follow at the T. A. Cortell residence honoring the past officers who are Louetta Riley, president; Wilma Dynes, vice-president; Jetta Cato, secretary and Carol Henderson, treasurer.

BAPTIST

Leaving today for the State Baptist Student Union meeting in Gainesville are Mary Elizabeth Ashworth, student secretary; Norma Crane, president; and other student members of the State Council Gene Nabi and Joanne Leroy.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 there will be a "Record Party" at the student house. Each person is to bring a record or money for the record fund.

President Doak Campbell will lead during the opening exercises at Sunday School on Honor Emphasis week. Mr. Charles Walker will speak at Training Union meeting. His topic will be "On My Honor."

CATHOLIC

Newman Club Annual weekend will start tomorrow at the Newman House with a meeting of the Executive Council of the Southeastern Province of Newman Club federations. Plans will be made for the meeting and mention that will be held on this campus April 25-27.

Tomorrow night there will be a "Suppressed Desire" party beginning at 8 at the Newman house. Members of the committee are Eleanor Gola, Delores Bates, and Peg Bloom.

Sunday at 1 p.m. there will be a picnic at Lake Ella. Jeanne Wilkie is in charge and asks that everyone planning to go sign the list in the post office.

PRESBYTERIAN

A "Landscape Party" will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 at the student house.

A report of the Student Volunteer Conference will be given Sunday evening at 6:30 at the Westminster Fellowship meeting. Those participating are Barbara Swarts, Ellen Avis, Carolyn Moore, Ann Cronover, and Wallace Dynes.

Following church Sunday night the Westminster group will entertain the Methodist students at the Westminster Fellowship House.

EPISCOPAL

The Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Florida, makes his annual visit to the Florida State University Sunday.

Following a discussion hour with students at 9:30 Sunday morning, the bishop will lead a confirmation and preaching service at 11 in Bogg Hall. Episcopal student center.

The Rev. Juhan, who has served in the Florida diocese since 1924, is an Episcopal youth leader.

Dorm Doings

Reynolds Hall Plans 'Starlight Dance'

Reynolds is making plans for their formal dance which will take place next week. Jerry Kohler will play at this annual Starlight Dance.

Reynolds had a tea last Wednesday afternoon.

Jeanie Murphree girls are glad to see Miss Christine Flinn, residence counsellor, back after her absence.

Landis is planning an honor tea for the men from Senior Hall next week. The entertainment, after a house meeting, the Hall says a party for the interns. Refreshments were served and attendance was good.

Broward Hall will have their annual formal reception for the faculty next Thursday night.

Mrs. Peacock stays with Innes Senior Hall as her accompanist at Broward. Miss Innes was elected to the Graduate Club meeting night in the Broward lounge.

The February initiations of North Cawthon were honored with a party after house meeting last night. Jackie Thomas is a give a talk on "Our Honor System as F.S.U." Guests will be the men from Magnolia Hall.

Dr. Nigro Has Book Published in N. Y.

Dr. Felix A. Nigro, associate professor in the School of Public Administration, has written a book "Public Administration—Readings and Documents," published by Rinehart & Company of New York

The book brings together materials from a variety of sources, including the actual practice of administration. It is the result of his long and practical experience both in teaching and administrative work.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

The Experimental Theater has the serious-minded smiling this week following their successful jaunt into Theater in the Round. With the accompanying cheering sea of eyes you might expect the actors to be an uneasy lot—they were anything but uneasy.

The smiling Dorothy Silver is the role of the butterfly Flutery French coquette of many boudoirs earned most of the coffee-talk superlatives.

In a ballet-dance part Ken Martin didn't miss a trick—while an eyebrow athlete named Doug Russell did some fine posturing as a French dandy.

• • •

Bill Dawkins, back from the Senior Bowl game this week—$500 and a few bruises to show for his fast competition—50 of the country's greatest ball players.

What bout that little girl school in Tallahassee???

Congrats to Senior Prexy Dick Bradley for hitting the warpath on the lack of informal dances this year.

Dick's talking up the obvious hookup between the lack of activities and the increasing number deserting Tally for socially greener fields.

Hear tell State's newest dance band, the Regents have cut some cool records over at Longhairville. . .

About records—Have you heard any of the sexual cooing of one Mr. William Daniels, who knocks out mad, fringe stuff like Black Magic, I Concentrate On You, and that wild I Get a Kick Out of You?

Mary Distelhurst Is One of Main Cogs In Wheel of Social Events

irector of Social Recreation, one of the main cogs in the ocial events on Florida State University campus is Mrs. Mary Distelhurst.

A native of Berwick, Pa., she graduated from National Park Jr., ollege in Washington, D. C. As Miss Distelhurst explained, her job "all directly under the of- ice of the Dean of men and the Dean of women.

O ASSIST student committees n campus-wide social activities nd charity planning. These include Homecoming dance, Sandspur ance, Sophomore hop, the senior ecital Jr-Sr Prom, Military Ball May day, the senior graduation ball and other student activity dance.

Also included are tea dances, day residence halls' social affairs and all social affairs given by student organizations.

With certain fraternity affairs and all departmental social affairs, I give assistance, too", said the very busy social director.

Her phone rings constantly with questions, problems, and last-minute instructions from those connected with the groups she plans with, she noted.

IN ADDITION to the social affairs, Mrs. Distelhurst works on compilation of the social calendar, writes to all chaperones required for the parties, letting them responsibilities involved. She also aids committees with budget problems and making necessary purchases.

A chaperone for every campus-wide affair is the director. Mrs. Distelhurst is in her office Monday through Friday from 8:30 until 5, exclusive of her lunch "which I take whenever I can squeeze it in", she said.

ON SATURDAY she is usually busy planning and working on the events for that night. There are always innumerable details involved with arranging each party.

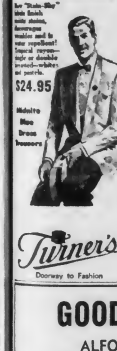
As Mrs Distelhurst says "In order for women students to sign out for parties, counselors or society mothers of women's residence halls must have approval from the Dean of women's office signifying that all necessary plans have been made. Permission is then issued for all parties which have been "cleared" through my office. Clearing means that I have checked thoroughly with all students for these social affairs to see that necessary planning has been made and that required chaperones have been obtained.

BECAUSE OF the fact that it required 24 notices to go forward from Miss Warren's office, located in Dodd Hall, to Cawthon South, there must be two deadlines of clearance—Wednesday at 4 p. m. for all parties planned for Friday, Saturday or Sunday and the previous Friday at 4 p. m., for all those planned for Monday through Thursday.

This may explain why so many complications may arise with the giving of each social event, unless planned with extreme care and all details attended to far enough in advance to be effective.

Six Counties

(Continued from Page 1)



ning the visitors heard several talk on "What I Like About Florida".

During group sessions the high ool seniors met with deans and department heads of the univer- ty for information pertaining to special courses in which they ight be interested.

A PROGRAM of special entertainment arranged by Dan Clar- ence Emery, head of the depart- ent of speech, was provided at the closing assembly in the after- oon.

The program included the campus movie, "Opportunity Is Here" written and directed by Roy Firm, director of radio and communications; presentation of speech department skits, sports events and several acts from the famed Gymkana show.

Students, principals and other school officials attended the "Career Day" program from Liberty, Hamilton, Frank Kinard, Alachua, Port St. Joe, Wewahitchka, Marianna, Chapman, Crawfordville, Sopchoppy, Bainbridge, West Gadsden, Climax, Paceville, Fort Pleasant, Attapulgus and Quincy high schools.

Officials Should Handle Duties Fairly, Efficiently and Honestly

Florida attorney general Richard Ervin told a public administration class today that elected officials are placed in office with the presumption that they will carry out their duties fairly, efficiently and honestly.

The attorney general said that an essential part of preservation of democracy required public officials to place upon them the duty of their official acts to fully merit public confidence.

EXPLAINING his own office, the speaker listed among his duties the preparation of 1500 legislative bills at the last session of the state legislature.

The attorney general also noted that his office requires him to serve as a member of certain boards.

THE GUEST speaker informed the class his office deals only with subjects pertaining to public laws. The constitutionality of the law, however is left up to the courts to pass.

During state legislative sessions, the attorney general's department is busy from 8 a.m. into a legislative bill drafting and consultation service, he said. This service provides for the preparation of more than half of the bills passed at the last session.

Registrar Lists

(Continued from Page 1)

and the disadvantages of the plan do not justify such a move, the report concluded.

An amendment of Section 19 of the Traffic Safety control bill was approved by Council Tuesday. Section 13 of the Traffic Safety control bill was also approved by Council with one dissenting vote.

The final report on Who Who was given by Dick Bradley, chairman. He reported the arrangements were being made for tapping ceremonies for the nominees. The nominees were notified by letters yesterday.

BRADLEY LATER made a motion that the project of a local Hall of Fame be continued. The motion was approved by the council and Bradley was asked to investigate the matter and make a preliminary report to the council.

UOA President Will Pennell said that the superintendent of the Cities Transit Company had been invited to the next council meeting.

Jim Lohmeyer, forums chairman, reported that a radio program for UOA was being planned with WFSU. This will be held on Wednesday or Thursday evening, a 15 minute program which could be expanded to half an hour.

PENNELL ALSO announced that he was trying to make some arrangement with Business Manager Red K. Shaw whereby the laundry could be picked up from and delivered to fraternity and sorority houses. A further report will be made to council later.

Bradley then brought up the matter of having certain types of organization on campus arrange their meetings to be held on the same nights for the convenience of members and for investigation of the aims and activities of various campus organizations. The matter will be taken up later. Bradley also made a motion that the forums chairman investigate the possibility of making up a weekly throw sheet of student activities. This was approved by Council.

Graduate Student Wins First Prize In State-Wide Show

Guy Johnson, graduate student in art, was awarded first prize of $75 in the state-wide Experimental Show being held at the Sarasota Art Association Galleries through January 16.

Five Florida art schools and colleges contributed experimental work by their students. Three students won awards.

The prize winning painting is non-objective, in oils.

Johnson has had paintings exhibited in the Southeastern Art Conference in Atlanta, Ga., the Indiana Art exhibition and the Florida Federation of Art Convention held here recently. His painting, "Wind in the Alley," won first prize in the art exhibition sponsored in Tallahassee by the American Association in 1950.

Jurors were Stuart R. Purser, art department head of the University of Florida, and Willis F. Woods director of the Norton Gallery and School of Art.

SNAKES ALIVE! A six foot Central American boa constrictor terrifies four members of the Flambeau staff before it is bagged. Showing horror left to right are: An unidentified male who some say is the editor, Rosemary Heimlich, exchange editor, Al Pierce, reporter, and Erma Galphin, assistant news editor.

Committee Gives

(Continued from Page 1)

put out one edition at $2.35 a week, and now puts out a semi-weekly newspaper for $2.20 per student from activity fees will get a 30c increase. This will make a total of $2.50.

THE UNIVERSITY camp will receive an increase of 30c to make a total of $2.50.

The band will receive an increase of 50c making a total of 80c from each student.

Athletics, which went into the "red" last year by $8,000, will receive a $1 increase from each student.

"It cost us $25,000 minimum if we bring Georgia Tech here next year," stated Culpepper, answering an inquiry on this increase. Until a national name is built up for FSU the cost will have to be met.

THE STUDENT Alumni building, which is entirely supported by student activity fees, will receive an increase of 50c per student. This will make student activity appropriation total 94.

Student debators will receive 25c per student more to make a total of 50c.

The final $1 increase will be used for the reserve fund to appropriation to organizations that have not requested increase and to meet emergencies.

"THESE figures are not allocations but anticipated increase in the student budget," emphasized UOA president Will Pennell.

The student activity fee will be $1 less than the University of Florida whose request for a $5 increase was approved by the board of control at their last meeting.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT: Single and double rooms for graduate students. Also rooms for undergrads. Opposite college library. Reyster immediately for second semester. 642 W. Jefferson. Phone 3-4924.

FSU Greeks Party, Nominate Queens Honor Nationals and Start Charity

B YMARCIA MORRIS

The Alpha Delta Pi chapter will have as a guest this week Miss Helen Glenn, national secretary of ADPi. A coffee will be given at the house Wednesday night in her honor.

Pledges of Alpha Xi Delta entertained all the sorority pledges at their annual "shipwreck" party on Wednesday afternoon. Dot Cooke is President of the Alpha Xi pledge class.

Chi Omega is planning an open house for Sunday night. Sponsored by Chi O for the Miss FSU contest in the Tally Ho is Jean Griffin. Dora Ann Godwin has been chosen Pi KA dream girl of the South.

The Delta Delta Delta house was the scene of a dessert party Thursday night for the Delta Phi Epsilon's. The alumni held a meeting at the house Tuesday night and refilled plates of Cookies, the proceeds of which went into the scholarship fund.

Delta Gamma pledges have begun work on the project of refinishing their armor. Candidate for the Tally Ho beauty section will be Nancy Munt.

The Natinal treasurer of Kappa Delta, Margaret Riddle from Bloomington, Illinois, will visit the chapter this week. A semi-formal reception will be held in honor Wednesday night.

Alpha Omicron Pi KD's played the Chi O's in a non scheduled basketball game.

Members of Phi Mu have volunteered to work at one of the local theatres for the March of Dimes. The Phi Mu's have begun serving meals at the house Monday nights before chapter meetings. Marjorie Mecutcheh will be a candidate in the Tally Ho contest.

Kappa Alpha Theta is giving an informal reception at 7:00 Monday night for Miss Fransican, their faculty advisor. Bobbie Pettit will be entered in the Tally Ho contest.

Recently elected pledge officers of Kappa Alpha are Tommy Brewo, president; J. T. Williams, vice president; and Donnie Rollis, secretary. Bill Whaley, Tommy Sands, and George Kirby are flew pledges of KA.

Before Christmas the Alpha Xi Deltas were guests of Sigma Phi Epsilon at an eas tea party given at the S P E house.

Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha were entertained by the Pi Kappa Phi pledges Thursday night. Ann Yates will represent Zeta in the Miss FSU contest.

Pi Kappa Alpha sponsored Doro Godwin of Jacksonville was chosen "Dreamgirl of the Southern Fraternities." The contest was held by fraternity chapters located below the Mason-Dixon line.

Science Exhibit Is Held on Campus

A photography-in-science salon exhibit will continue through Tuesday in Room 310, History building.

The exhibit will be open without charge from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 8-10 p.m., except Saturday and Sunday.

Sponsored by Scientific Monthly and presented here by the department of botany, the exhibit came here yesterday from Philadelphia.

The photographs in the salon were brought together through an annual contest sponsored by the magazine in co-operation with Smithsonian Institution.

All of the photographs included in the exhibit were taken for scientific purposes and were judged a panel.

Scientific Monthly started the annual contest in 1947 to encourage and extend the use of photography as a tool of scientific research.

Honor Emphasis

(Continued from Page 1)

or code as follows: "I pledge myself to uphold the highest standards of honesty in every phase of my university life, and I refuse to tolerate dishonesty on the part of another.

The program will be closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

CHAIRMAN RENTZ has announced that the University of North Carolina has been contacted for a speaker to appear Friday night.

Students have been publishing and emphasizing honor this semester in groups which have spoken before students in fraternities, sororities and dormitories.

Beetle Bailey

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

It takes fine tobacco to give you a better-tasting cigarette. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. But it takes something else, too—superior workmanship. You get fine, light, mild, good-tasting tobacco in the better-made cigarette. That's why Luckies taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
NOW SHOWING
"Too Young to Kiss"
With Van Johnson and June Allyson

STATE
Friday and Saturday
"Slaughter Trail"
with Brian Donlevy and Gig Young Cinecolor

RITZ
Friday and Saturday
"Forlorn River" with Larry (Buster) Crabbe
also
'Leave It to the Marines' with Sid Melton & Mary Lyon

DRIVE-IN
Friday and Saturday
'They Got Me Covered'
With Dorothy Lamour and Bob Hope
also Arizona Manhunt
With Michael Chapin

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

GOOD NEWS! BIG NEWS!
ALFORD'S BIG REMODELING SALE
IS NOW UNDER WAY...
Big Reductions on Men's Suits, Sport Coats, Slacks, Topcoats, Pajamas, Neckwear, Shoes and Sportswear.
VISIT ALFORD'S!
BIG CLEARANCE SALE TODAY
FOR VALUES YOU HAVEN'T SEEN IN YEARS
Alterations Free — No Approvals — No Refunds
Alford Brothers
212 So. Monroe St.

Seminole Cagers Play in Miami Tonight

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

THE RUMBLE GROWS. Pete Norton, likeable sports editor of the Tampa Tribune is the latest scribe to sound off for better athletic relations between state schools.

Here's what brother Norton had to say about the situation in a recent column. "We do not intend to get in the middle of a Florida-Florida State sports feud, but have always believed that the best way to promote college sports in any state is for ALL colleges to maintain close relations.

"By that we mean it is healthy for Florida, Miami, Tampa, Florida State, Rollins, Stetson and Southern to play each other in sports where the competition is reasonably even.

"Everyone realizes that Florida and Miami have a big head start in football, but there is no reason why colleges in this state cannot meet in basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, ect, and we don't believe any one school holds too much of an edge in any of these sports.

"In football, as FSU, Tampa, and Stetson continue building they'll be able to give the Gators better games than they can get from Citadel, Washington and Lee and other lesser lights. And there's no reason to play out of state teams when the same or better class of competition can be met within Florida."

Well said, Pete, especially on the latter point.

Last year for example, the Gators journeyed clear out to the West coast for a game with Loyola of Los Angeles which Florida blasted 40-7. Less than a dozen Floridians accompanied the team on the trip and because of time difference only a handful of fans here in the state heard the tilt on the radio.

* * *

About the most heartening piece of news we've heard in a long time is the organizing of a local FSU boosters group by Tallahassee citizens. Local business and professional men who were largely responsible for the erection of the Doak S. Campbell stadium, met the other night to form the boosters club.

Included in the groups aims for the school is support of the Seminole grid team. FSU Sports Publicity Director, Ned West, suggests that the local club be called IGFAY club. "I sire five hundred a year." West's plan is to divide the members into five classes—A B C and D.

Group A would pledge $500 a year towards support of athletic scholarships, B $50, C $15 and D $5. This is similar to the IPTAY (I pay ten a year) club of Clemson.

Patronize Our Advertisers

JACK SHARPE, captain of the Seminole gymnastic team, is pictured completing a "flying pirouette" on the Parallel bars. An all around performer will lead the team against Army tomorrow at West Point.

FSU Swimmers To Meet Georgia

The Florida State University swimming team will take on the powerful University of Georgia tank team here next Thursday in what promises to be the closest and toughest meet the Seminoles will be in all year.

Florida State will lay on the line a consecutive dual meet win record of nine, which stretches as far back as February of 1950. The Seminoles, who have taken the measure of the Georgia natators in the last three meets, will be hard put to do it again.

HEAVILY FAVORED for the first time in two years, Georgia has reputedly the most powerful team in the school's history. Last years Southeastern conference champions have all of their star lettermen back plus the addition of two sophomores, Steve Mitakis and Ray Patterson, both of whom scored high in the Southern Regional AAU last year.

The loss of Ed Archer and Buddy Browning from the Seminole squad leaves no one to face the Bulldogs' Charley Guyer, National Collegiate 6th place title holder in the 100 yds. breaststroke.

FLORIDA STATE suffered another setback when ace freestyler Dick Wells had to miss a month's practice due to a death in his family. State had hoped to counter George's Charley Cooper with Wells in the sprints but will probably have to rely upon All American high school swimming selection, John Baruch.

Swimming mentor "Bum" Stults will try to pile up points in the distance events with seniors Pete Dunn-Rankin and Walt Jardine.

JACK BURNETT has looked exceptionally well in the backstroke and may give Ray Patterson of Georgia a run for his money in the Individual Medley.

Tom Conway and Pat Farrell have quickly rounded into shape after the Christmas holidays and the Bulldogs' Southern conference diving champion, Steve Mitakis will have his hands full. We've got a chance to win," Stults commented. "But we will have to fight hard all the way."

Kennedy's Five Seeks to End Eleven Game Losing Streak

The Florida State University cagers hope to end their eleven game losing streak when they meet the University of Miami Hurricanes in Miami tonight.

In order to halt the losing skein, coach Bud Kennedy promoted two reserves to the varsity this week. They are guard Chuck Miller of Anniston, Alabama, and forward Jimioon Richardson of Jacksonville.

Richardson, was a regular on the Jacksonville Junior College five last year while Miller was an outstanding player for Smead (Ala.) Junior college team last season.

KENNEDY whose changes dropped a 74-58 decision to Loyola of New Orleans in their last outing, also indicated that he may make changes in his starting lineup for tonight's contest.

Captain Bob Whitmer, Tom MacLaughlin, Jerry Westhafer, Irv Quinn and Lou Fischer have started most of the Seminoles tilts to date, but Kennedy said that he may make anywhere from one to three changes to snap his squad out of the slump.

LAST YEAR in their only outing against the Hurricanes, the Indians were downed by a 80-61 count. The Miamians are reported to have another strong team this year but have experienced difficulty in their opening games.

In their last outing, Miami set an all-time school record when they rolled over a helpless Florida Southern quintet, 106-43. Hurricane star, captain Sy Chadroff personally outscored the opposition by pouring in an amazing 44 points. Chadroff made 13 field goals in the second half.

THE WIN upped the Hurricanes season record to 9-3 and was their first victory in State competition this year.

Kennedy took a ten-man traveling squad to the South Florida city that included Miller, Richardson, Whitmer, MacLaughlin, Westhafer, Quinn, Fischer, Bob Pence, Duane Gordon and Rick Benson.

Three Fellowships In Fashion School Offered Seniors

Three fashion fellowships for a one-year course at Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers will be awarded this year in a nation-wide contest among college seniors.

Registration blanks for the fellowship competition may be obtained from the office of Vocational Guidance and Placement in 203 Westcott. The blanks must be mailed before Jan. 31.

Tobe-Coburn School is located at 851 Madison Ave., New York 21, New York. This is the 14th competition conducted by the New York school.

The fellowships are valued at $950 each and are being offered to senior women graduating before Aug. 31 of this year. Tuition will be covered by the school for the course.

The year course provides actual contact with the fashion industry. Part-time store experience is also offered with pay in stores and other fashion organizations. days and 8:30 to 12 on Saturday

Meteorology Article Is Written by Professor

Dr. Thomas Gleason, assistant professor of meteorology, wrote an article which appeared in the current issue of the Journal of Meteorology.

The title of Dr. Gleason's article was "On the Theory of Cross-Valley Winds Arising from Differential Heating of the Slopes." Journal of Meteorology is published by the American Meteorological Society.

APO Book Exchange To Open Exam Week

The Alpha Phi Omega Text Book Exchange will be open all during exam week for the purchase of books, Tommy Bowen chairman, has announced.

Bowen urges students to bring their books to the Alumni recreation room for sale at the beginning of the spring semester.

Hours are 8:30 to 4:30 week

Renowned Artists Play Piano, Violin In Joint Concert

Albert Spalding, eminent American violinist, appeared in recital with Ernst von Dohnanyi, pianist, in the Musie hall last evening. The program was offered as a part of the faculty recital series.

The program provided a unique musical occasion, presenting as it did two master musicians who have achieved international renown during a lifetime devoted to the art of music.

SPALDING was the first native American artist artist to gain widespread recognition in Europe. Since his concert debut in Paris nearly 50 years ago, he has been acclaimed as one of the great violinists of our time.

Ernst von Dohnanyi, known to local music lovers as pianist and composer himself, has appearances with the State Symphony of Florida and the Florida State University Artist Series, made his first appearance in joint recital on the campus.

DOHNANYI and Spalding have appeared on the concert stage together many times.

The two artists made several recordings last year of piano and violin sonatas, several of the works have recently been released, among them Dohnanyi's own sonata, which they played last evening. Two other sonatas were played on the program, the Sonata in B flat by Mozart, and the Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven.

Alpha Phi Omega Collects Magazines For FCI Inmates

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity voted to collect old magazines and distribute them to inmates at the Federal Correctional Institution in Tallahassee. This proposal at their last meeting Wednesday.

The project will be undertaken Saturday afternoon shortly after 12 noon, Jim Lehmeyer, organization president said.

It was brought to the attention of the president by the chaplain of the Institution, that there were only limited subscriptions to magazines for the inmates.

At the pledge meeting following, John Adams was named pledge class president. Each pledge before he is elitible for initiation, must accumulate at least 25 service hours. The present pledge class should be ready for initiation shortly after the beginning of the new semester.

Alpha Phi Omega used book exchange will reopen during exam week. It has been noted. Books will be taken in be sold at the beginning of next semester.

Positions Are Open In Washington, D. C.

Stenographers interested in employment in Washington, D. C., will be interviewed by Miss Frances Stokes, recruiting representative at the local employment service office, 129 N. Monroe St. today.

Miss Stokes will give on-the-spot tests to those who are interested. Requirements include the ability to take shorthand at 80 words a minute and typing at approximately 40 words a minute. Positions pay $2400 and $3,175 a year for a 40-hour week and no experience is required.

The Veterans Administration will assist recruits in finding temporary housing in Washington.

Miss Stoke has stated that opportunities for rapid promotion are excellent since more than 75 per cens of the stenographers and secretaries employed in the Washington headquarters of the agency receive $3,175 or more a year.

WFSU Invites Use

Student organizations and clubs are invited to use the facilities of WFSU for announcements. Announcements may be left at the information desk in the Alumni building, or sent to WFSU through the campus mail.

Businessman to Speak To Florida State Class

William Stiefel Tallahassee business man prominent in civic affairs, will speak to a class in public administration Tuesday evening at 7:15 on the operations of I.B.M. machine, used by the state government.

The class, taught by Professor N. B. Parsons, is composed mostly of state employees taking their public administration courses in the evening.

Senior Confeds Meet

Senior members of the Confederacy will meet at 9:30 p.m. on Sunday in the Landis recreation room.

HUGHES
COOPERATIVE PLAN
for
MASTER of SCIENCE DEGREES

PURPOSE

To assist outstanding BS graduates in obtaining their Master of Science Degrees while employed in industry and making a significant contribution to important military work.

ELIGIBILITY

June 1952 graduates receiving BS Degrees in the following fields:
Electrical Engineering
Electronic Engineering
Physics
Mechanical Engineering
Aeronautical Engineering

Those chosen to participate in this plan will be from the upper portion of their graduating classes or will have evidenced unusual technical ability. They must also have evidenced imaginative ability and possess personality traits enabling them to work well with others.

CITIZENSHIP

Applicants must be United States citizens who can be cleared for "Secret," due to their work at Hughes Research and Development Laboratories being of a classified nature.

PARTICIPATING UNIVERSITIES

The University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California will participate in this program, and candidates for Master of Science Degrees must meet entrance requirements for advanced study at these schools.

PROGRAM

Under this Cooperative Plan, starting June 1952, the following schedule of employment at Hughes is arranged:

Full time—from June 1952 to Sept. 1952
Half time—from Sept. 1952 to June 1953

Full time—from June 1953 to Sept. 1953
Half time—from Sept. 1953 to June 1954

Under this arrangement it is possible for a recipient to receive ¾th of a normal year's salary each year and to attend a university half time during regular sessions working on his Master's Degree.

SALARIES

Salaries will be commensurate with the individual's ability and experience and reflect the average in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as full-time members of the engineering staff. In addition, the individuals will be eligible for health, accident, and life insurance benefits, as well as other benefits accruing to full-time members.

TRAVEL AND MOVING EXPENSES

For those residing outside of the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses will be allowed up to 10% of the full starting annual salary.

TUITION

Tuition at either UCLA or USC, covering the required number of units necessary to obtain a Master's Degree, will be paid by Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

NUMBER OF AWARDS

Approximately one hundred Cooperative Awards shall be made each year, if sufficient qualified candidates present themselves.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES

Candidates will be selected by a committee of representation composed of two each from the University of California at Los Angles, the University of Southern California, and the Hughes Research and Development Laboratories

DATES FOR APPLYING

Informal applications should be mailed prior to January 30, 1952. The Laboratories will then forward formal applications, which should be returned, accompanied by up-to-date grade transcripts, by February 15, 1952. Selections will be made during the month of March.

ADDRESS CORRESPONDENCE TO
Hughes Research and Development Laboratories
Engineering Personnel Department
Culver City, California

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Malone's Co-op Bookstore
Everything for the Student
"We Buy Used Books"
107 SOUTH COPELAND

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU SAY NO?
50? 100? 200?
IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . .
200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!
PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Florida State University Honor System Is Based on Integrity and Trustworthiness

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 25 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, January 15, 1952

The following articles, known collectively as the Honor System of Florida State University, are based on the assumption that every individual in this University should be capable of maintaining in all his actions the highest standards of integrity and trustworthiness; that in so doing he finds his college experiences more valuable and his family and community life more rewarding.

The pledge which expresses the application of the Honor Code to the individual and upon which the Honor System is based is as follows:

"I pledge myself to uphold the highest standards of honesty in every phase of my college life and I refuse to tolerate dishonesty on the part of another."

In order to maintain an atmosphere of trust and understanding in this University, each individual is primarily responsible for living honestly throughout all phases of his campus life, and for refusing to tolerate dishonesty in others.

INFRACTIONS OF THE HONOR CODE

1. Lying: Lying, which includes deliberate acts of deception, as applied to this code, is defined in terms of situations concerning student regulations, and this comes under the court system of the University Government Association. Lying is a falsification of the facts either in giving out false information or in withholding the truth, whether for self-interest or to wilfully cause harm.

2. Cheating: Cheating is the giving or receiving of aid whether written, oral or otherwise, in order that a student may receive undeserved credit for work that is his own responsibility.

3. Stealing: Stealing is the appropriation of money or other property belonging to another, and borrowing of money or articles without the knowledge of the owner.

REPORTING OF HONOR CODE INFRACTIONS

Each individual shall accept as a part of his responsibility the reporting of Honor Code infractions.

1. Stealing: Any thefts and circumstances related thereto should be reported to the Chief Justice immediately.

2. Cheating: In case of cheating, if a student submits as his own product written work (quiz, theme, report, research paper) in whole or in part that is not his own, the instructor shall report the case to the Honor Court and turn over to the Court the documentary evidence. A student who permits another student to copy his written work knowing that the copier intends to submit it as his own is equally guilty with the student who copies and is subject to court action.

3. Dishonesty in other campus activities: If an individual believes that there has been an infraction of the Honor Code, he should inquire immediately. If there are others who witnessed the situation they should take part in the inquiry. If upon explanation, the inquirer is satisfied that no infraction of the Code has been no infraction of the Honor Code, the matter is dropped. If, after hearing the explanations those questioning him are still convinced that an infraction of the Honor Code has occurred, the same shall be reported to the Chief Justice of the Honor Court. If he admits his guilt, the infraction is still reported. However, the student should always be urged to report himself.

4. Responsibility: Students shall take the responsibility for the reporting of infractions. However, when a member of the faculty or staff is convinced that an infraction has occurred and is reasonably sure that no students are aware of the infraction, upon him falls the responsibility of seeing that the infraction is reported to the Chief Justice.

5. Time: All reporting of infractions should follow immediately upon discovery of the alleged infraction, but in no case should more than six school days elapse.

UNIVERSITY HONOR COURT

1. Composition: The University Honor Court shall be composed of one Chief Justice and eight members to be elected in the regular UGA elections. The composition shall be as follows: Four men students (two juniors, two seniors); four women students (two juniors, two seniors); the Chief Justice shall be a senior.

2. Eligibility for office: Representatives shall have a 1.6 average for the previous semester or a 1.0 overall average; the Chief Justice shall have a 1.3 average for the previous semester or a 1.2 overall average. The Chief Justice shall have served as a representative to Judiciary or Honor Court prior to election.

3. Powers: The University Honor Court will try students for infractions of the Honor Code. The Chief Justice of the Court will order to summon the accused person (or persons) and witnesses to conduct investigations.

4. Penalties: If the Court finds the student guilty of violating the Honor Code it may recommend an appropriate penalty which may include: (1) failure in the course, (2) probation, (3) restrictions, (4) suspension, (5) withdrawal from the University.

5. Procedure: Six members constitute a quorum of the Court. Except in a case dealing by the Chief Justice as an accuser.) The accused person shall be entitled to a speedy and fair hearing. He should be summoned before the Court not later than six school days after the case has been brought to the attention of the Chief Justice. When a student appears before the Honor Court, he shall be aware of the infraction for which he is being tried. He shall be liable for any infraction revealed during the course of the trial which may be related to the case in question.

The Court may recommend other than the reported to appear before the Court if it considers than directly involved.

In the case of cheating, the Chief Justice as an attorney the instructor of the student involved at his own discretion. If the student is found guilty, the instructor shall always be notified of the violation.

UNIVERSITY HONOR COMMITTEE

There is a standing committee of the University Government Association Executive Council known as Honor Committee. The establishment of this committee shall be the joint responsibility of the UGA and the Chief Justice of the UGA Honor Court. The Chief Justice shall serve as an ex-officio member of the Honor Committee.

The responsibilities of the committee shall be to:

1. Sponsor an effective and continuous educational campaign for the perpetuation and development of the Honor System at Florida State University.

2. To orient new students and faculty to an understanding of the Honor System.

3. Recommend changes in the Honor System when deemed appropriate.

4. See that a thorough explanation of the Honor System shall be placed in the University hand book, the Pow Wow.

5. See that each new student officer and each new administrative officer shall be presented with an explanation of the Honor System.

AMENDMENTS

1. Amendments to the Honor System may be proposed by: recommendation of the Honor Committee (amendments may be suggested at open meetings of the Honor Committee). All Senate legislation proposing a change in the Honor System must be immediately referred to the Honor Committee for their consideration and recommendation; the Honor Committee must have legal sensele legislation on the Honor System longer than three weeks from the time that they received it. If approved by the University Council. It must be ratified in a general or special election by the percentage of the student body necessary to ratify an amendment to the UGA constitution.

Annual Frosh Play Opens Tonight In Augusta Conradi

Honor Emphasis Week Is In Full Swing See Front Page

Frosh Play Opens At 8:15 Tonight

The second annual freshman play will open tonight at 8:15 with Lou Rene Voges carrying the dominating role of Terry in the Edna Ferber and George Kaufman comedy, "Stage Door."

Students will be admitted in the Conradi theater performance on presentation of their I. D. cards. Tallahassee residents will be admitted by furnishing articles of clothing, furniture, or properties for the theater costume and property room.

THIS WILL be the first college performance for Lou Rene, one of the several "would - be" actresses in the play, graduated from Orlando High school last year where she was outstanding in roles in "Mollie O'Shaughnessy" and "We Shook the Family Tree."

The five feet two brunette was a member of the high school Thespians club and was also editor of annual, Thando. Thus far at Florida State, the would-be speech major is a member of Freshman Flunkers, a script typist for WFSU, has pledged Delta Zeta.

THE PLAY tonight is being directed by doctoral student in speech, Bob Marsh. Assisting Marsh is Vivian Law, Tampa University transfer.

The freshman cast includes Lou Rene Voges, Mary Kelliher, Delano Driver, John Danahy, Patsy Ash, Bettye Ann Ray and Beverly Bennett.

CAST MEMBERS also include Jo Ann Avril, Carol Brannon, Mary Bunnell, Nancy Bridgwood, Jules Ferrel, Julie Harris, Sue Hamaberry, Neil Hopkins, Jack Hopkins, John Howard, Hush Hirne, Ronald Martin and Dan Morrison.

Alumni Invite Srs. To Informal Party

An informal coffee for seniors will be held Wednesday afternoon of Jan. 30, Mildred Parrish, Alumni secretary-treasurer has announced.

The Alumni sponsored coffee will be held in the recreation room of the Longmire building.

"The coffee, principally a get-acquainted affair for the seniors and the Alumni association," the Alumni secretary said, "is designed that the party was a "come as you are" affair.

The recreation room will be open to seniors between 1:30 and 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Seniors will be eligible for membership to the Alumni association after graduation.

ODK To Have Dinner

All members of Omicron Delta Kappa will hold a dinner meeting tomorrow night at the White Kitchen, President Doak S. Campbell will attend.

Student and faculty members will meet in the Longmire lounge at 6 p. m. for rides.

Annual pledging for ODK will be taken at 9 p. m. Wednesday night after the dinner meeting.

Band Mentors Meet At FSU For Convention

Florida State University will be host to the outstanding collegiate band directors of the South Thursday through Saturday when the Southern Division of the College Band Directors National Association convenes for its annual convention.

Forty band directors, leaders of marching and symphonic bands in all over the South, will meet on the campus for discussion of problems and review of accomplishments of college bands.

ROBERT T. Brumagel, director of FSU "Marching Chiefs" and Harold Bachman, director of the University of Florida Gator Band, are in charge of conference arrangements and program.

Other Florida band directors at the conference will include Richard Peasal of Stetson University and Fred McCall of the University of Miami.

THE CONFERENCE events will include programs by the FSU Woodwind Quintet, the FSU Brass Quartet and a public concert by the FSU Symphonic Band under the direction of Prof. Brumagel. The concert will be presented in the FSU Music hall Friday evening, January 18, at 8:15 p. m.

Discussion sessions will be pre

(Continued on Page 2)

Dance Group To Perform Tomorrow Nite

Dohnanyi, Floyd Work With Dickinson to Give FSU 'Something New'

Members of the Theatre Dance group will make their debut at 8:15 tomorrow night in the Music hall where they will present a series of modern and interpretive numbers directed by Nellie Bond Dickinson, advisor and professor of physical education.

The performance Wednesday will be the first full-length program of the group. All of the dances have been composed on this campus. Several are repeat performances of the group dances of 1951 and the routines created for "Roberta" by Miss Dickinson.

OUTSTANDING numbers will be those created especially for the performance by the members of the group under the guidance of advisor, Nellie Bond Dickinson. They are "Son Worshipers," "Concerto" and "I Can Laugh at Myself."

The group of interpretative dances are based on the poems of Amy Lowell, Edith Sitwell and the sonnets of William Shakespeare.

One of the highlights of the program is "Landler," the first of a suite of three dances choreographed by Jean Forhan to the composition by Ernest von Dohnanyi of the School of Music.

CLIMAXING and culminating the "Evening of Dance" will be "Theme and Variations" danced by Nancy Warren Smith, Jean Forhan, and Nelle-Bond Dickinson to the music of Carlisle Floyd.

The Theater Dance group was organized last spring and has been active in the productions of "Ro-

(Continued on Page 2)

Series Of Meetings Are Held At FSU To Assist Frosh

Discussions on foreign service, economics, education, science, geology, seography and history will be held today at 4:30 p.m. in 207 of the science building.

The series of special meetings to assist freshmen in choosing a career will continue through March 6 under arrangement of the dean of women's school and Dr. Melvine Harder, coordinator of counseling.

TOMORROW talks will be heard on mathematics, geology, physics, engineering and aeronautics at 4:30 p.m. in 307 Science.

Thursday at 4 p.m. discussions on public administration opportunities in public service of the state and federal government will be held for students interested in the kind of work these offices offers. This will be in 207 Westcott.

MEETINGS on medicine, dentistry, medical technology, botany, zoology, physiology, bacteriology and marine biology will be held Jan. 21 at 4:30 p.m. in 307 Science.

Jan. 22 talks on speech, drama, radio, art ,archaeology, anthropology, English, modern languages, classics, philosophy and religion will be held at 4:30 p.m. asain in 307 Science.

NURSING opportunities for men and worm in the 75 different phases of nursing will be discussed Jan. 23 at 4 p.m., fourth floor of the infirmary.

The discussions are being sponsored by the Schools of Arts and Science, Public Administration and Nursing.

Discussions on careers in library, music, business, journalism and social welfare will be held in Feb. and March.

Honor Emphasis Week To Open At 8 With Faculty-Student Forum

Speeches, Forums, Mock Trial To Be Held All During Week

Honor Emphasis week begins tonight at 8 p.m. with a Faculty-Student forum in Longmire auditorium on the subject "The Part that Faculty and Students Play in Our Honor System."

Participating in tonight's forum will be Alice Jackson as moderator, Ted Messerer, Jan Kleiner, Nancy Day, Dr. Ruth Breen of botany, Dr. Lincoln Canfield, head of the modern languages department, and Miss Daisy Parker, professor of political science.

WEDNESDAY'S agenda includes honor committee speeches at women's dormitory teas from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. and a student forum in Longmire at 8 p.m. on "What Is Wrong with Our Honor System and What Can Be Done About It."

With Allan Head as moderator, Dick Bradley, Eunice Thompson, June Tate, Bob Tippens, and Will Pennell will thrash out the problem.

BI-Y is sponsoring a mock trial, "Can Honor Be Defend Itself?" from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

Acting as judge will be Dr. Gorrye Pfifer, assistant professor of speech. Jan Eichinger is to be defendant; Frances Innerman, her

(Continued on Page 2)

Board To See Fee Proposal

Fee Increase Given To Board Of Control

President Doak S. Campbell will present the proposed student activity fee increase before the State Board of Control at 9:30 Thursday in the Board's meeting room in the basement of the Education building.

The proposals, which were presented to Campbell last Thursday by the student-faculty budget committee, would increase the student activity fee from its present $18 per semester to $20.

TREASURERS and business managers of various student organizations which receive money from the university had previously been issued questionnaires to determine how much money they thought they needed.

The general conclusion reached by the survey was summed up by J. Broward Culpepper, dean of student Welfare.

HE FOUND that, "because of inadequate finances, either the student activities would have to have to be curtailed or the student activity fee would have to be raised."

The measure was approved unanimously by the University Council a week ago, and the board now needs only the approval of the Board of Control.

Warpath Club Holds Meeting in Alum

The weekly meeting of the Warpath club will be held tonight at 7 p. m. in the Longmire building.

The Tally-Ho picture will be taken at this time, Bill Nelson, president has announced. Members are asked to meet at the first floor lounge for the picture.

All organizations are asked to be sure their delegate attends the meeting, said Frank.

Pennell Announces Events Calendar

A bulletin called a Calendar of Events of campus activities will come out Friday, Will Pennell, University Government Association president announced.

Organizations wishing to have their meetings listed in the bulletin are asked to have their announcements turned in on Friday's at 4 p. m. for the next week's issue.

REMINDING THE CAMPUS: Four co-ed members of the UGA honor committee plan Campus Honor Emphasis Week. Left to right are: Margaret Nash, Jane McMillan, Betty Whitmire and Betty Sue Fryer.

Sigma Chi Derby Hits Campus Sat.

Small black derbies dotted the campus yesterday in announcement of the forthcoming second annual Sigma Chi Fraternity Derby.

THE DERBY is patterned after the Kentucky Derby, classic horse meet. It normally takes the form of a comic track meet. The main purpose is entertainment for both the participants and audience. Admission is free.

This year's Derby will include Sigma Chi pledges and actives and girls from each sorority, a hat race, a potato sack race, a change clothes race, a bow legged man race, a saddle shoe race and a surprise event.

FLORIDA STATE University's sixteen sororities will compete this year. A trophy will be awarded the winner of each individual event. Three additional trophies will be given to the runners-up.

The Derby, which climaxes the Sigma Chi weekend, will be preceded by the annual Sweetheart Ball Friday night. The ball features the presentation of this year's Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. It will be held in the Duval Hotel.

INITIATED 18 years ago at the University of Georgia, the Derby has spread to almost every coeducational school where there is a chapter of Sigma Chi.

Last year Kappa Alpha Theta took first place in the Derby and won three gold trophies with a total of seven points. Delta Zeta accumulated six points for second place. In third place were Pi Beta Phi and Delta Gamma with five points each.

Last year's secret race had sixteen sorority representatives trying to capture a white hen with her sorority colors around its neck. Alpha Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi and Phi Mu captured honors in that event.

Graduate Student One Man Show To Begin Today

A one man show of paintings and etchings by Miss Nancy Stone Summers, graduate student in art, will begin today in the Art Gallery continuing through Jan. 31.

Miss Summers' exhibition in which is one of the requirements for a Master's degree in art, will open with an informal reception at the Gallery today from 4 to 6 p.m.

DR. ELDRED Lawrence, chairman of the art department, in charge of Miss Summers' paintings, invites all persons interested in art to attend the opening of this exhibition.

Other exhibitions in which Miss Summers has previously shown work are The Contemporary Gallery, the Rochester Finger Lakes Show and the 1951 Florida Federation of Art Show where she received honorable mention. Having grown up in the environment of an artist's family, Miss Summers says she has stimulated her interest and enjoyment in drawing and painting.

A NATIVE of Woodstock, New York, and a graduate of Syracuse University, Miss Summers came to the department of art with a background of considerable commercial experience in and around New York City.

She has specialized in the study of painting as a creative expression and her exhibition will present the record of her growth in that field.

On the basis of her unusual

(Continued on Page 3)

Audience Awed By Concert Duo

An overcrowded but attentive audience of music enthusiasts sat in awed appreciation of the music of American violinist, Albert Spalding, and Prof. Ernst von Dohnanyi, pianist, last Friday night in the Music Hall auditorium.

The performance was on Friday, not Thursday, as stated in the last Flambeau edition.

SPALDING, visiting professor, and Dohnanyi, professor of composition and piano, were featured as a part of the faculty recital series.

Their program included the Sonata in C sharp Minor by Dohnanyi and the Sonata in A, Opus 47, and the Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven.

The two professors will head the faculty for the String Clinic which will meet at Florida State, Feb. 14 through 16. It is open to all students and teachers of violin, viola, cello and string bass.

THE VIOLINIST'S presence on campus will mark an additional association in a longstanding friendship with Dohnanyi.

Spalding, the first American artist to win fame in Europe studied in Boiorna, Paris and New York. He made his concert debut at 17 in Paris.

Spalding played the premiere performance of Dohnanyi's First Concerto for Violin and Orchestra and was soloist several times with the Budapest Philharmonic during the 30 years, Dr. Dohnanyi served as conductor.

The two artists made several recordings last year of piano and violin sonatas. Several of the works have recently been released. Among them Dohnanyi's composition which they played Friday evening.

TWO SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTS: Three members of the cast of "La Parisienne" adjust costumes before the final act. Shown above are Ken Morton, Doug Russell and Dorothy Ellen

Individual Honesty Binds High Ideals of Democracy

The two following editorials written by a student and a faculty member are spirited by the Honor Emphasis Week on campus. The editorial, by Miss Daisy Parker, is reprinted from the January 16 issue of the Flambeau.

Tonight the faculty-student forum will discuss the part that faculty and students play in our honor system.

TEACHER AND HONOR

By Daisy Parker
Political Science Teacher

It is difficult—if not impossihle—for me to see how one can believe in the ideal of American democracy without believing in the Honor System. If we believe in our democracy, we believe that the individual is its center, that he is usually capahle of understanding what it is to be a person of honor and a person worthy of trust.

We believe that individuals can learn to act honorahly in all phases and relations of life—in obeying traffic regulations, in filing income tax returns, in assuming responsihilities in our system of government, in respecting the property of another — whether it be a real estate, an automohile, a term paper, or an examination answer.

I would see no reason for teaching a course in United States government if I did not believe that individuals can learn and act on the basic principals of democracy and the honor system—respect for the individual his rights and his property, and the responsihility each individual to every other individual and the group

Naturally, I have found those students who have not comprehended the way of honor, hut they have been in the minority.

I have found that most students more than willing to accept the responsihility to try to achieve a system of student government "which will be most likely to nourish in our youths the comhined spirit of order and self-respect so congenial with our political institutions and so important to be woven into the American character."

REMOVE THE COVERING

By Alice Jackson
Chairman of the University Court

In the year 1513 A.D., one of our outstanding artist-philosophers, Fra Giovanni, gave to the world some thoughts for living. These thoughts are just as valuable today as they were then: "Life is so generous a river, hut we, judging its gifts by their covering, cast them away as ugly or heavy or hard. Remove the covering and you will find beneath it a loving splendor, woven of love, hy wisdom, with power"

The present day application of this excerpt could well fit into our campus spirit, or atmosphere of trustworthiness which we are trying so much to create. This would be a simple atmosphere to estahlish if we, as students, would accept a few definite responsihilities and be honest and straightforward with each other.

For the past two years, committees, groups, and individuals have been working constantly and diligently to make this campus aware of the importance of upholding high standards at our university. Yet, it is not a committee matter alone, a group matter altogether, nor an indlvidual matter entirely. It is a consideration for all of us.

It is my belief that too many times we have looked at the covering of the campus and found cheating in the classroom, stealing in the dorms, and little white lies here and there from some of our fellow students. And we have cast these things away as ugly, or heavy, or hard. Because of this, we have been reluctant to "remove the covering" of life, and reveal the true meaning and purpose of a worthwhile, high-minded society.

Let us, then, remove this covering. Let us have courage to claim what is right and recent and the knowledge that we are wending our way through four years of molding character and fitting ourselves for citizenship. Beneath this covering is the possihility of creating thls atmosphere of trust "woven of love, hy wisdom, with power." Within our grasp is an effective honor system.

● ABOUT REVERSALS!

The most recent case of adminiatration interference in student government has brought about a further rise in the anti-administration feeling currently running high among the FSU student body. Is this resentment justified or is it a case of many well meaning students jumping to a hasty conclusion based upon an incomplete knowledge of the facts?

The case referred to is the recent reversal of a student court decision upon the "advice" of that wise old sage, the administration.

An undergraduate couple were duly apprehended, charged with drinking, tried, and sentenced hy Judiciary. With the strain and worry of the trial over, they settled down to the normal husiness of life once more, only to be rudely jerked back to despair when the court notified them of a change in the sentence, a quite definite change for the worse.

For the sake of clearing up a few widespread misconceptions: The administration did not reverse the decision themselves. Neither did they demand that the court reverse its decision. What they did do was call a conference with the members of the court, discuss the case with them, point out its long term aspects, and recommend that a stiffer penalty be delivered.

The court reconsidered, reversed its previous decision, called for a stronger penalty for the unaware couple, and shortly thereafter notified the unfortunate pair of their new fate.

In justifying their action before indignant fellow students, members of the court said that they realized after talking to representatives of the administration that their first action had been carelessly taken. They said it would have had a bad effect on the university it it had been allowed to stand. They denied that they were coerced or overawed hy the administration. They contended that their first action had been a mistake and that their reversal was merely an admission of this mistake and an attempt to rectify this error in judgment.

For the record, let it be said that at least one of the court members was violently opposed to reversing the decision. This young men seems to he of the opinion that the student courts, having been set up for the purpose of judging, should do the judging and not the administration. He feels, as do many students, that the administration is using student government as a pawn, giving it the reins only so long as it goes in the direction the administration desires.

It is a growing feeling that student government on this campus has no meaning, no real power, that it governs only in its own imagination. Is this true? If so, is lt anything to get upset about? Many colleges and universities in the United States have no student government whatsoever. And of those who do, few can boast of any true sovereignty within their university.

The suhject is worthy of careful consideration. Is the administration our enemy or our friend? Are we, in the eagerness of youth, too apt to jump at rule of any sort?

One fact remains. No one should have to be suhjected to an experience such as these two students were forced to undergo. No account can possibly have been made in this case of the personal feelings and rights of this boy and girl. They thought that their fate had been decided and that all that remained was to serve out the sentence which had been issued thm. It was a cruel thing to do, to reopen the case.

Under our United States judicial system, no person can be tried twice for the same identical offense. Why shouldn't it be the same here at FSU? This was not the first time such a thing has happened here at our school. Would that it were the last. . . .

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the second in a series of editorials explaining University Government Association committees.

The next editorial will be on the social standards committee.

Behind the door of the UGA room every Wednesday night the Honor Committee, headed by able Zoe Rentz, meets for the purpose of promoting the Honor Code on the Florida State University campus.

Their work starts before undergraduates return from their summer vacation. The honor committee carries out an extensive program during Freshman Orientation week. They believe that all freshmen should be informed of the honor code the minute they arrive at FSU.

The spirit of honor is also promoted hy pre-orientation for high school seniors during FSU "career days" and hy the annual Honor Emphasis week on campus.

The Faculty-Student Committee is headed hy June Tate. This sub-committee is concerned with suiting the Honor System to the needs of faculty and student alike.

The most recent accomplishment of this committee is the setting up of a classroom procedure for giving examinations. The new procedure is open for student approval.

Nancy Day is chairman of the education sub-committee. Speakers from this committee are sent to all of the women's residences, many of the men's residences, sororities and fraternity houses for the purpose of acquainting students with the Honor System, its purposes and standards.

Letters received hy each student before entering FSU came from the orientation sub-committee headed hy Sue Saxon. It helps the incoming freshman to better adjust himself to the idea of an honor system.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

INDOCTRINATE FACULTY ON HONOR SYSTEM

By ROBERT GRIFFIN JR.

This is Honor Emphasis Week. At this time the students should try and reflect what honor means. It is a time to stress honor not only between students themselves but between students and faculty.

Here is an example of disregard to the honor system we are trying hard to build. In account, it is just a portion of the distrust that can result in failure of the honor system if not checked. It concerns the position of some faculty members during the recent "Blood for Korea" drive.

Because it was impossible to schedule students individually the majority of scheduling was done through residence halls, sororities and fraternities. This "block" scheduling resulted in many students missing one or two classes.

The Council of Deans informed me that students would not be counted as absent from class if they were giving blood. The students and faculty were informed of this fact.

But when some students returned to the next class period, after they had given a pint of blood, they were marked absent. Many instructors wanted written excuses, even when the student had a handaid on his arm.

The teachers in mind (I'm sure they know who they are) have violated the honor system just as much as a student who cheats.

This example illustrates that something must be dane to "indoctrinate" the faculty on the honor system as well as the students.

Zoe Rentz, assisted by her able honor committee, has taken a step with this aim in mind. Each member of the faculty will receive a copy of the honor system and a mimeographed letter explaining activities and goals during this week.

We must realize, however, that true honor is formed in the heart and not hy the opinion and pamphlets of honor committees and Honor Emphasis weeks.

• • •

For a treat, don't miss the student forum tomorrow night in the Longmire auditorium. It will be an excellent time to air all gripes and work out some of the problems that confront our honor system.

• • •

The Flambeau urged, in its editorial policy at the beginning of the school year, that students strive to make Florida State the "South's Friendliest Campus."

How can this be dane? The amicable girls af Bryan Hall are entertaining service men in their recreation room Saturday nights. The men in service, many of whom come to our campus as complete strangers, have given warm praise to the neighborliness af Florida State.

Other dormitory and sorority houses should take time to plan some activity for the many soldiers and sailors that visit FSU. If you see a man in service walking by, give him a cheerful "hello" and ask him if you can help him.

Goodness knows, we will probably all be in the service soon excluding, of course, a few GI bill stringers left on campus.

Give the boys a hreak Show a smile when you meet him.

Who knows . . .

GAINESVILLE SPECIAL

COMPETITIVE SPIRIT HELPS U OF F, FSU

By JACK DETWEILER
Associate Editor, Florida Alligator

A revolutionary new etep towards better UF-FSU relations appeared in last Friday's Florida Alligator when a Gator columnist (me, in fact) reversed his previous stand and wrote five paragraphs of unqualified praise for FSU's competitive spirit.

Since the nature of these comments should be of equal interest to you readers of the Flambeau, I am taking the liberty of quoting myself in full:

"I believe in giving credit when credit is due, and I'm inclined to think that our brothers and sisters at FSU deserve a word of praise. First, for their inspired play against our basketball team in the Gator Bowl tournament. And second, for their over-all competitive attitude concerning the University of Florida.

"When they found out that we netted 552 pints in our recent blood drive, they knocked themselves out in an effort to 'beat Gainesville' and came up with a total af 577 pints.

"Although they have recently been chafed by Florida's, and especially the Alligator's, attitude of refusing to take notice of their efforts to obtain equal status, they are still willing to put 'pistols down now' and develop a really beneficial, friendly rivalry between the two schools.

"The rivalry is there; it is up to us to make use of it. It worked for FSU in basketball and a blood drive; it can be used to push over many other worthwhile activities of the two schools.

"Whether it be in football or in fund raising, there is a natural tendency for each af these twa schools to want to autda the other. And it is sheer wastefulness an our part not to want to put some af this unharnessed energy to work in any way we can."

• • •

Vaughn Monroe was finally signed to give two concerts here after almost two months of deliberations. The Monroe show touched off a dispute on gym priorities that is still raging on campus.

Monroe's offer to play a dance here was at first ruled out because of a gym policy that limited the gym's use for only three dances in the academic year. A second attempt to get Monroe here for a concert in the gym was blocked when the student Intramural Board refused to release the gym on one of their reserved nights.

Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity, finally scheduled Monroe for two concerts in the University Auditorium. This move skirted the gym problem, but it also cut down on the number af students who can see the Monroe show.

• • •

Florida'e etudent Executive Council voted down a proposal to join the National Student Association just before the holidays. A majority of the council members voted in favor of joining, but the vote fell far short of the two-thirds required.

The chief reason given for the council's defeating the NSA proposal was the cost involved. However, the Alligator had previously discussed its anti-segregation policies which were contrary to the existing policies of the State of Florida.

• • •

Florida's March of Dimes was kicked off last week with a "One Night Stand" faculty variety show. The show collected nearly $500 in voluntary contributions.

The students here are taking a special interest in the drive since Ruth Ellis, the National Callege Student Chairman of the drive, is a student here. "Ruthie" is a polio victim herself, and maneuvers about the University on crutches.

SEMINOLE SCENES

NOW, WHEN BLACK BOTTOM WAS THE RAGE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Charleston, Charleston . . .

I hear that the girls of Cawthon (whether the one below or above the Mason-Dixon Line, I don't kwnow) had a real gone treat the other night after their compulsory house meeting.

The girls threw a little party and were entertained by some real talent. Miss Pope stepped out of the dignity of her position as counselor long enough to assume the role of a good, good sport and show these here coeds a thing or two.

Costumed to get the effect of the era when the Charleston and the Black Bottom were in the rage, "Flapper" Pape really gave the present-day jitterbuggers something to talk about. They say she can cut a wicked rug. Afterwards, she taught some of the girls a few new steps.

The point is, incidents like this when a member of the administration, faculty or staff "loosens up" and tries to be one of the gang, are greatly appreciated by the students. We want this one big happy family, and that includes the wheels, too.

Point Number Two: Contrary to what some students think, people of the faculty, administration and staff are human!

• • •

Few people seem to be satisfied in this day and time if they don't have something about which to complain. On a milder sense, I think I will join the parade of gloom. After reading the latest ACP Round-up, I felt a little disgusted. It is nothing earth-shaking, and yet I am growing a little tired of one little trait everybody says the female part of the race posseses. That is, and I quote, "Has he got a car?"

hhEingrofes f- Mp- RF RF R

Wimmin, we don't help ourselves out any, I guess. Everybody goes around saying, "And he's got a canary-lellow convertible! Sigh . . ." I think, in all fairness, however, that all girls are interested in nice, shiny automobiles—or even nice, beat-prerequisites and the such, that matter. But as far as cars being prerequesites and the such, that is all ant. The girl wha still holds a car so near and dear isn't the type a person would want to date anyway.

Cars are mighty snazzy, convenient thinge to have around. But when it comes down to brass tacks and the truth, a gal likes e fella for what he is, not for what he has. After all, as someone put it, "It's much nicer to hold hands than to hold steering wheels."

• • •

Unsung Hero Department: Some people just alwaye slave and slave and slave behind the scenes and never get any credit for it at all. We have someone on the staff like that. Our photographer, Bill (Poor Thing) Frank goes around chasing sunrays and things all day to get good pictures for our publications. But does he get a byline? No. He just goes on in oblivion at the drudgery of posing cute girls for the camera.

BEHIND THE IVY

VEHICLE FOR FRUSTRATED FELINES?

By BOB TIPPINS

(Editor's Nate: If a feeling of distrust between close friends has evolved from the Honor System at FSU, it is only due to a mistinterpretation of the code itself. This code includes na regulations whatsoever which cause a student to feel constantly "covered." It has jurisdiction aver nothing but cases involving lying, cheating, or stealing.)

Our emaciated Honor Syetem seems to have regretably degenerated into a pitiful vindictive vehicle for frustrated felines.

This is due, I believe, to the general tendency to read more into the Code than legally required.

From a duty to merely report such "honorable" infractions as lying, cheating, and stealing, has evolved the belief that every student is honor-bound to report all infractions of University regulations

This situation, af enlarging the number and types of reportable affenses to a point far greater than originally intended, has had a two-fold demoralizing effect.

First, it causes the students to be distrustful of one another, afraid that even the slightest detected or confided act of wavering from the straight-and-narrow will be promptly reported by even their closest friends.

The second effect is that this system has become overburdened and unwieldy. Respect for the entire code disappears and is replaced with indifference. As a consequence, not only are the superfluous statutes disregarded but also are the imperative rules.

I heve attempted to emphasize that the main problem confronting us is one of gaining student confidence and faculty-staff confidence in our honor system. Among other things, we must instill in the students a desire to righteously inform on their fellow students when they openly flaunt their misconduct in front of or boast of their misdeeds to their constituents, compatriots or confidants.

To indoctrinate such an attitude will entail convincing the skeptical that what they da is for their awn welfare, and for the general welfare af the entire student body. Ta do this, we must reduce the number af abligations imposed upon the "stoolies." Also, we must reduce the types of offenses reportable.

We have been taught since early childhood that informing on our neighbor, violation of a trust, of a confidence, is dishonorable. Therefore, we cannot expect to change such ingrained attitudes overnight. . . . Nor should we!

We must, then, put the "system" on a basis ather than that of "honor."

My suggestion is: The reportable offenses concern only CHEATING ON EXAMINATIONS and STEALING.

This suggestion I shall make at the forum scheduled for tomorrow night in Longmire Auditorium. This suggestion I would have presented at the last meeting to which I was invited, but only a minority of the Honor Court appeared for the meeting and it was cancelled.

Let it be known that I am for honor and for honesty. I shall immediately report a student, once this proposed change is accepted, for either stealing or cheating because I shall accept his openly doing such things in my presence as a challenge to my integrity. I shall consider such actions as definitely jeopardizing my reputation as a graduate of Florida State.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn .... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison .... News Editor
Associata Editors .... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor .... Tom Sands
Sports Reportars .... Pate Dunn-Rankin, Barbara Collinsworth, Vic Rusgaitis
Society Editor .... Marcis Morris
Festure Editor .... Gerry Hoff
Rewrite Editor .... Carol Besse
Assistant News Editor .... June Morgan
Assistant Sociaty Editor .... Judy Simkins
Flambeau Photographer .... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager .... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor .... Rosemary Helmlich
Staff .... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Harley.

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiata Press Association

Telephone 2-800, Ext. 4821 second Floor, Alumni Building

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

The Flambeau will not accept letters over 200 words. All letters to the editor must be double spaced typewritten.

Let's Have A Party

Dear Editor:

This letter deals with what, according to a song, makes the world go round, but it's a particular kind, namely political.

Right around election time the question of political parties has always come up hut there was either no leadership in forming them or else no need for them.

From the apathetic response of the student body to its student government there come again some possible conclusions: either the student gavernment is daing a good job and few students feel any need for taking an active part in it, or students don't see any need for it, or students are discouraged about their power as represented by their government.

As Senior Senator it would please me very much if the conclusion that student government is doing a satisfactory job were the reason for so much student apathy to it, but I feel that although it has don emuch, it has not made the etudent body realize what value there is in it and what an integral part it has in student life.

If through political parties definite programs and goals can be undertaken so that they bring the students closer to their government they would be worth having.

My apinion is that political parties would have a beneficial effect and I hope to get a representativa group of students to look into the possibilities of forming a political party.

Until more definite plans are made, I hope this letter is received as a planted seed to be watered by the students in their bull seasions. As always, for stronger student government.

PANCHO SVED.

Speech Play Auditions To Be Held Jan. 17, 18

General auditions for the spring plays to be presented by the speech department will be held Thuraday and Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Conradi theater.

All students are invited to try out; however, those already on the department's casting files are not expected to attend general auditions.

Meterials for the euditions will be furnished all participants.

The speech department tentatively plans to present such plays as Biography by S. N. Behrman, Mistress af the Inn by Goldoni, end several experimentals yet to be chosen.

Adams Club Meets

The Alto Adams for Governor club will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the second floor Longmire lounge, co-chairman Jerry Thomas has reported. Jerry asked that all members make a special effort to be present and encouraged other intereeted students to ettend.

Graduate Is Featured In Magazine Article

Claire St. John, graduate of Florida State University now teaching at the Parrish School in Barranquilla, Columbia, is one of several teachers feetured in a current magazine article in "Mademoiselle," entitled "Good Teachers Make Good Neighbors."

The article expiains how American teachers working in Latin America combine their teaching with learning a new life and language south of the border.

Nye Presents Recital In FSU Music Hall

Raymond Nye, student of voice instructor Helen Warner, presented his certificate recital in the Music hall last night.

Nye was accompanied by Vernon Raines, graduate student in piano.

Joyce M. Bryant, flutist, assisted in the program presenting two compositions for the flute alone and several works for flute and piano. She was accompanied by Joanne Byrd.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

And so it may be that the cloistered, conventlike attitude here toward the thing which makes tomorrow's generations has turned the most dangerous game into dishwater. If there's no possibility of 1st degree burns—where's the fire? . . .

Who dug up the scroungy skeleton of Who's Who? This pointless parade of ego which sells frantically to families of the "chosen" and assorted Chinese laundrymen was given the indecent burial it deserved by Brother Dobert. . . .

• • •

Force of Arms kinda missed the boat.

Some of the cracks were sharp—but the plot (minus the artillery) might have been copped directly from Tom Corbett—Space Cadet.

Yet, most of the worthwhile Histronics of the last ten has come straight from the hig broil.

Is the only thing worth writing about life the possibility of losing it? . . .

Feel sorry for those po' Greek lads who are forced to live in the Oriental opulence of these new coops. . . .

Friends of Phil Springer hoping his new pet boa constrictor grows up and digests its owner.

Watch for Betty Henkel's acid comparison of Smoke Signals with the Raiford Prison mag.

My, that gal has a nasty pen. . . .

Bill Falconer's advice to shafted young men: nice girls hang from every palm—the trick is in shaking the tree . . . and the harvest thereof. . . .

Think I'll start reading the Flambeau—seems Skinny Campbell (97 lbs. in his stocking cap) has bowed to popular demand. Maybe he'll show us dubs how to make East Campus pussyfooting pay off in lack of frustration. . . .

In answer to the Best Dressed man squabble the other P. M. Here are some candidates from this corner. . . . Dave Graham . . . Frank Vrenna . . . Len Mellon . . . Johnny Knapp . . . Rudy Susege . . . Jimmy Cowan . . . George Cary . . . Stan Gould . . . (and of course all the military men on Tuesdays and Thursdays).

Winless Seminoles to Try Again Tonight

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

TAMPA ROUGH—The Seminoles' chances of ending their story drought tonight against Tampa look pretty slim.

The Spartans, defending State champs, own a impressive 7-4 ord which has been compiled ne some top flight competi- Already this season Tampa ocked Yale, Nebraska and ginians and before the sea- ost will have met Auburn and Western Kentucky, out- that powerful Kentucky ench performers such as ge Morris and Harry Bryan, All Staters, are the backbone Spartans attack. Morris and are currently rank 1, 2 in the ig scoring race with 211 and ints respectively. Ev Chad- the Miami ace is first with ints and Chadwell, incident- the nation's top scorer for ughreame thus far with 44 ints against Florida Southern. Since the local cagers can pull on out of the bag tonight they ld be the sizzling school record 9 consecutive losses set by the 1948 aggregation.

* * *

We would have thought a year ago that when the 1952 basketball nars rolled around that its two ost stars would be missing. Then Joe DiMaggio announced during that the 1951 campaign ld be his last. Next observers gured it off with the explana- that the Clipper was having ouble rounding into shape and ld forget ever having made the ark once the season started. Joe didn't forget and on De- er 3 announced that he had ded his last game.

Then last week came the start- announcement that the great ner of the Boston Red Sox, Williams was going to be aded to active duty with the ine corps. Ted, who served Marines in the Marine Air Corps ring the last war and holds nk of captain in the reserve ps is to depart around the first May.

Ted who at 33 couldn't have ny more seasons left in the Big tle will have to serve 17 ths. That means he will have ss the 53 campaign as well he would make the Beantown k a not to cry. 23 when he ranks and after a two year lay- s expected that Williams ld call it quits rather than a comeback.

He who pulled down a $89,000 ball paycheck plus a steable ch will be taking a slight cut Army. As a Marine flyer he receive only $7200 per year. Ironically enough both Di- gio and Williams stepped the while they still had a few re seasons left.

Thus the baseball mad Ameri- public has probably seen the of two of the greatest stars ry to grace the game. And both the time too—it hurts!

* * *

Williams isn't the only major ague to be called however ro Sain already has Curt Sim- The ex Phillie pitching star under contract and last week pointed his finger at Big Don Newcombe, the Brooklyn ace.

* * *

While we're on the subject of baseball, here's an item that will probably be of interest to local diamond enthusiasts.

The Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies who were in the thick of the National League pennant race last season are scheduled to play an exhibition contest here thrifist week in April. This is the first time a major league club has appeared in Tallahassee since before World War II.

G. Tyrell Is Elected Rifle Club President

The Rifle club held an election of officers at a recent practice firing session at the Federal Correctional Institute.

Newly-elected officers are Gordon Tyrell, president; Zola Camus, vice-president. Dorothy Shannon, secretary-treasurer, and Stewart Keene, executive officer.

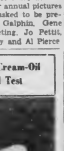
The club has announced the use of an indoor range at the Federal Correctional Institute where they will continue to have practice matches every Thursday night.

Pres. Gordon Tyrell announced that the club is open to both men and women. Any one interested in learning to shoot or to exhibit their skill is invited to meet the group on Thursday evenins at 8:30 in front of the women's dorm.

The club has its own shooting equipment but a new member must pay for ammunition which will be sold to him at the range.

Future Teachers To Be Organized

Employment for college graduates may be available by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company this year, the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement recently announced.



Men who are seniors or graduate students in the fields of business administration, accounting, marketing, statistics, mathematics, or physics will have a chance at Southern Bell's training program.

Applications must be in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement before Friday, Jan. 18. This internship program leads to key positions with the company which has headquarters in nine southeastern states.

Flambeau Annual Pix

Flambeau news reporters listed below are asked to be present in the Flambeau office today at 4:30 p. m. to have their annual pictures made. Reporters asked to be present are Bruce Galphin, Genie Lawler, Phil Wieting, Jo Petit, Jo Ann McCartney and Al Perez.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

some of the girls were wild about this Wildcat. His hair looked a lot something the cat dragged in! "I'm fellow mighty low," he said ha Pan." Every Tuesday, Dick and Harry on campus has ben bet me!" Yes, Sam swore of that, son. You need Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. All the cats are using it because it's a non-Alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves annoying dryness, removes loose, ugly dandruff. Help you pass—I mean pass the Finger-Nail Test. So Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he's the most popular Person at school. Part-boys it's what you need! Take some small change out of your kitty and pinny-foot it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask fat professional applicators to your favorite barber shop. Hurry — snow is the time!

*(1)1 So. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N.Y.

FSU Gymnasts Lose to Cadets Swamp Tarheel

The Seminole Gymnastics team after swamping North Carolina and losing a 49-46 thriller to Army meet Duke University tomorrow in the last phase of a four meet road trip.

Yesterday the symnasts went against Navy at Annapolis but the results were not in as the Flambeau went to press.

DR. HARTLY PRICE'S well oiled squad swept all events except the rope climb and trampoline as they romped over the Tarheels 53-39.

Tumbling ace Dick Gutting had two firsts, one in the Trampoline and the other in Tumbling. Don Holder copped the High bar event, captain, Jack Sharpe, the flying rings and Jack Miles the high bar, while Joe Regna took the side horse contest.

IF THE TRAMPOLINE event had not been eliminated and the rope climb added, the outcome of the Army contest may have been different. The trampoline is not used in the Eastern Intercollegiate conference while the rope climb is featured in Southeastern competition.

Army performers finished 1-2-3 in the latter event. It was the 17th straight dual meet win for the powerful Cadets.

The Summaries:

ARMY MEET

Side horse: 1—Wheeler (Army) 262; 2—Holder (FSU) 2; 3—Sibley (Army) 241; 4—Joe Regna, 5—Signorelli.

Parallel bars: 1—Carmine Regna 269; 2—Hubbard (Army) 240; 3—Sullivan (Army) 245; 4—Holder Score: Army 7, FSU 9.

Parallel bars: 1—Carmine Regna 262; 2—Holder 261; 3—(tie) Regna 253, Colvin (Army) 253; 5—Jeffen (Army). Score: Army 5½, FSU 12½.

Flying rings: 1—Miles; 2—Kleburg (Army); 3—Sharp. Score: Army 5½, FSU, 10½.

Tumbling: 1—Wheeler (Army); 2—Haas; 3—Gutting; 4—Wenson (FSU) and Creighton (Army) tied. Score: FSU 4½, Army 11½.

Rope climb: 1— Brenntzer (Army) 4.0; 2 — Claybrook (Army); 3—Renner (Army); 4— Sharp. (Ireland was disqualified).

NORTH CAROLINA MEET

Rope Climb—Holder-2, Sharpe-3, C. Regna-4.

Side Horse—J. Regna, first; Signorelli, second; C. Regna, third.

High Bar—Miles first, J. Regna, second; Holder, third.

Parallel Bars—Holder, first; J. Regna, second; Miles, third.

Rings—Sharp, first; J. Regna, second.

Tumbling—Gutting, first; Ruda, second; Wenson, third.

Trampoline—Gutting, first; Aeson, second; Ireland, fifth.

AAUW Board Holds All-Doy Conference

An all-day conference of the State Executive Board of the American Association of University Women was held Saturday in the Alumni building.

Approximately 100 delegates from AAUM chapters throughout the state met to plan for the state convention to be held in Gainesville in April.

Mrs. Melanie Roxborough, Southern Atlantic vice-president of AAUW and a member of the national board, was the key speaker.

JACK KERZAN (white shirt) of Lambda Chi and an unidentified Phi Kappa Tau jump for the ball during the recent intramural basketball tournament.

Women's Sports Pick Up Speed

The women's sports program is rapidly picking up in tempo as basketball, archery and ping pong are taking the spotlight.

ADPi was the overall winner in the archery meet, defeating Gilchrist, the dorm runner up and ZTA the sorority runner up.

BASKETBALL

Monday January 7, the second round began as the KD defeated Sigma Kappa; Theta beat Chi O; Pi Phi (team 1) overpowered Delta Gam; and Lanzlis trounced Jessie Murphree.

TUESDAY, January 8, Alpha Chi O defeated Delta Zeta; A O Pi overpowered Zeta; Alpha Xi beat Gilchrist (team 2) in the third round of the tournament.

The fourth round of play got under way on Wednesday 9, as Alpha Chi O defeatd A D Pi, Zeta beat Phi Phi (team 2); Alpha Gam was eth top in the game they played against Gamma Phi; and Gilchrist team 1) defeated Bryan.

Thursday 10, the fifth round begin as KD beat Delta Zeta; and AO Pi defeated Theta.

The ping pong tournament is slated to get underway Wednesday. Cynthia Mink asks that all participation cards be in tonight.

ODD-EVEN

Friday, January 11, the Odd-Even volleyball teams were chosen from a total of seventy-five girls with only twenty-four being picked.

The teams were chosen on a basis of team work, play, and spirit by all the girls out for this sport.

THE EVEN TEAM will look like this: Jane Kirk, leader, Cynthia Mink, Charlotte West, Pat Crum, Doozie Mickler, Myrt Herndon, Lucy Hargraves June McGill, Doris Partin, Pat Folson, Carolyn Henry, and Nancy Lee.

The Odds are composed of Elaine Chapman, Cynthia Brown, Betty Anne Haynes, Joan Guard, Sadie Presnell, Judy Johnson, Joanne Young, Joanne Thorpe, Anna Athanason, Pat Gerdeman, Sally Ellis, leader, Barabara Collinsworth.

The tournament games will be played on January 23, 24, and 30, in the women's gymnasium.

Girl's Sports Day To Be Held Here

Wednesday night, Jan. 9, at the WRA meeting, the annual Sports Day was discussed and it was decided that it would be held April 5 at Florida State University.

The colleges and universities that will be represented are Berry, Stetson, Webber, Rollins, Southern. University of Tampa, and the University of Florida.

All women students here at Florida State are eligible to participate in the exciting event.

Sociology Honorary Elects New Officers

Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity, has elected new officers for the academic year, Francis R. Allen, FSU associate professor of sociology, announces.

Bradford L. MacGowan is the newly-elected president of the honorary. Other officers are Ruth Lucille Rogers, vice-president; Sarah Frances Anders, secretary; and W. Richard Wynn, treasurer.

Professor Allen is the national representative for the fraternity.

4-H Honors Home Ec.

The University 4-H club honored members of the Home Economics club with an informal coffee in the Longmire Lounge last Tuesday evening.

During the coffee hour Bronna Mae Elkins, president of the 4-H club, welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Anna Mae Sikes, state home demonstration agent, who spoke on "Careers in Home Demonstration Work in Florida."

FSU Swimmers Meet Bulldogs Here Thursday

The Florida State University tank team lifts the lid on its 1952 swimming season Thursday night, when they meet the powerful University of Georgia Bulldogs in the East Campus Pool at 8:00.

State, which will be gunning for its 10th consecutive dual meet win, a record stretching as far back as February of 1950, will be hard put to preserve their victory skein, as Georgia will bring the most powerful squad in their school's history to do battle against FSU's swimmers.

LANY EARLY of Southeastern Conference champions showed surprising strength in winning the North Carolina Thanksgiving Invitational Meet earlier this season and will be rated as heavy favorites in Thursday's meet.

In Charley Guyer, the Bulldogs have one of the nation's top breaststrokers. Last year he placed sixth in the National Collegiates and is reputed to be showing even more promise this year.

FSU WILL have Southerners Dick Wells, Pete Dunn-Rankin, Scott Ramsay, Jim Holmes, Jack Burnett, Tom Conway, Pat Farrell, Wilton Jardine, Walter Jardine, Mitch Sutherland, and Owen Boone back from last year's team which won several meets while losing none, wen the Florida AAU championship, and tied for the Southern Regional AAU.

"We're counting on these men to come through," Coach Stubbs commented. "But we'll have to fight all the way."

Due to the limited seating capacity of the East Campus Pool, seats will be on a first come, first serve basis.

Play Tough Spartans In Tampa; Downed 93-56 by Hurricanes

By TOMMY SANDS

The victory hungry FSU cagers who dropped their twelfth straight decision to the Miami Hurricanes last Saturday 93-56 take on the University of Tampa tonight down in Tampa.

The winless Seminoles who need only one more defeat to tie the school record for consecutive losses, are experiencing their roughest campaign in history, while the Tampans are enjoying a comparatively successful season.

COACH SAM BARLY'S Spartans, who have downed such teams as Yale and Nebraska, edged Rollins in their last outing 87-85. The Tampa team also holds a victory over Culver Stockton who downed the Seminoles in the opening game of the season.

George Morris, who once owned the State scoring record now held by ex-Seminole Bob Hartman, Harry Bryan and Holland Aplin are the men to watch in the Spartan lineup. Morris and Bryan are both holdovers from the All-State college team last year.

THE INDIANS never had a chance against the smooth Miami quint. A deadly set shot artist named Dick Hoffman was a thorn in the locals' side all night as he hit on 11 of 19 tries from way out to register 25 points.

At the halfway mark Miami held a 51-30 lead.

For the Seminoles, Captain Bob Whitmer scored 14 in 11 markers and Rick Benson 16, while Duane Gordon, returning to action following an injury, and Tom Mac-laughlin had eight apiece.

AFTER THE TAMPA tilt Coach Bud Kennedy's charges travel on to Lakeland for a game with the Florida Southern Moccasins Wednesday night. Last year the Seminoles blasted the Moccasins twice, 86-55 and 44-41.

FSU	G	F	P	MIAMI	G	F	P
Whitmer,f	4	3	11	Arnold,f	3	1	7
Benson,f	6	4	16	Hoffman,f	11	3	25
Pesce,f	1	0	2	Rivera,f	2	0	4
Milne,f	3	0	6	Schneider,f	3	0	6
Maclaughlin,c	3	2	8	Hall,c	2	0	4
Gordon,g	3	2	8	Kirkland,g	3	0	6
Bennett,g	0	0	0	Mitchell,g	2	0	4
Quirk,g	0	0	0	Wheeler,g	0	0	0
Gordon,g	1	0	2	Hoffman,g	11	3	25
Rich-Wood,g	1	0	2
Totals	22	10	56	Totals	36	21	93

Score at half time 51-30, Miami. Officials, Eastland and Swigler.

Baseball Meeting

Head Baseball Coach Ralph Matheny has announced that all candidates for the FSU baseball team meet him at 4 p.m. tomorrow afternoon in the West Campus field house. Managerial candidates are also asked to attend.

Table Tennis Meet To Be Held Soon

Intramural Sports Director Bill Watkinson has announced that all male students wishing to enter the table tennis tournament must sign up in the Intramural office by 5 p.m. this Friday.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 32...THE YAK

He's far too sophisticated to be amused by slap-stick comedy! From the minute the curtain went up, he knew that you just can't judge cigarette mildness by one fast puff or a single, swift sniff. Those capers may fool a frosh — but he's been around and he knows! From coast-to-coast, millions of smokers agree: There's but one true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camels leads all other brands by billions

HAVE YOU LOST ANYTHING?

Try to find it by using the Classified Section of the FLAMBEAU.

The Flambeau is the place to advertise.

- BOOKS
- RIDES HOME
- ROOMS
- TYPEWRITERS
- AND MOST ANYTHING FOR THE STUDENTS

EXTENSION 4821

FLAMBEAU CLASSIFIED

Education Branch Organizes At FSU

The Leon County branch of the Association for Childhood Education is organizing a student branch at Florida State University.

First meeting of the new campus organization was only recently held.

Sarah Hamlin, director of kindergarten, led a panel discussion explaining the duties of ACE.

She emphasized that the new organization is entirely separate from Future Teachers of America and not in competition with it.

Members of ACE were requested to sign up on various committees.

The organization is open to any person interested in childhood education, according to Kathrine Austin, publicity chairman.

Date of the February meeting will be released later.

Dave Dreis Writes Prize Winning Script

Florida State freshman David Dreis won one of the four first prizes in the first annual Miami Daily News radio script writing contest recently.

His script was an adventure story of a juvenile delinquent who commits a murder. It was enacted over NBC affiliate WIOD by "The Youth Roundup" radio dramatic class.

McCarty Club Meets

An organization meeting for all students interested in meeting Dan McCarty and joining Florida State's student Dan McCarty club are asked to meet in the main lounge of the first floor of the Longmire building at 7 p. m. tomorrow. At this time, Dan McCarty will speak informally.

FIRST SEMESTER EXAM SCHEDULE

The first semester 1951-52 examination schedule will begin 8 a.m. Monday, Jan. 28 and last through Saturday, Feb. 2, 1952.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the same time, and they will be held at the place announced by the instructor.

Courses with 350 or more students
Biological Science 101,102	Tuesday P.M. 3:30-5:30
Course	Time of Examination
English 100,101,102	Monday A.M. 8:00-10:00
History 101,102,165	Monday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Humanities 101,103,103	Monday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Mathematics 105	Tuesday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Modern Language 1st and 2nd Years	Tuesday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Physical Education, Women 115,115Y,1*5Z,116,215,315Y, 215Z,216,216Y,216Z	Monday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Physical Science 101,102	Monday P.M. 3:30-5:30
R.O.T.C. Air 101,201	Monday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Courses with more than 100, less than 350 students
Accounting 201	Saturday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Business Law 321,323	Thursday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Chemistry 101,103,103	Saturday A.M. 8:00-10:00
Economics 201,202	Friday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Food and Nutrition 105	Friday P.M. 3:30-5:30
Geography 101,103,301 *	Friday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Library Service 315	Friday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Personal Development 109,106	Friday A.M. 8:00-10:00
Political Science 221	Thursday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Social Science 101,103	Thursday P.M. 3:30-5:30

Examinations for courses not appearing above are listed below, and they will be held in the class room where the sections of the courses are.

EXAMPLE: If you have a 8:00 or 8:30 class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and if that course is not listed above, you will take the examination in your regular class room from 1:00-3:00 P.M. on Tuesday, January 29, 1952.

Course	Time of Examination
8:00 or 8:30 M. W. F.
8:00 or 8:30 Four or five times per week	Tues. P.M. 1:30-3.00
8:00 or 8:30 T. Th. S.
8:00 or 6:30 Four or five times per week	Tues. A.M. 8:00-10:00
9:00 or 9:30 W. F.
9:00 or 9:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. A.M. 8:00-10:00
9:00 or 9:30 T. Th. S.
9:00 or 9:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. A.M. 10:30-13:30
10:00 or 10:30 M. W. F.
10:00 or 10:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 1:00-3:00
10:00 or 10:30 T. Th. S.
10:00 or 10:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 3:30-5:30
11:00 or 11:30 M. W. F.
11:00 or 11:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 7:00-8:00
11:00 or 11:30 T. Th. S.
11:00 or 11:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. A.M. 8:00-10:00
12:00 or 13:30 M. W. F.
12:00 or 13:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. P.M. 1:00-3:00
13:00 or 13:30 T. Th. S.
12:00 or 13:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. P.M. 3:30-5 30
1:00 or 1:30 M. W. F.
1:00 or 1:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. P.M. 7:00-9:00
1:00 or 1:30 T. Th.	Fri. A.M. 8:00-10:00
2:00 or 2:30 M. W. F.
2:00 or 2:30 Four or five times per week	Fri. A.M. 10:30-12:30
2:00 or 3:30 T. Th.	Fri. P.M. 1:00-3:00
3:00 or 3:30 M. W. F.
3:00 or 3:30 Four or five times per week	Fri. P.M. 3:30-5.30
3:00 or 3:30 T. Th.	Fri. P.M. 7:00-9:00
4:00 or 4:30 M. W. F.
4:00 or 4:30 Four or five times per week	Sat. A.M. 10:30-12.30
4:00 or 4:30 T. Th.	Sat. A.M. 8:00-10:00

Courses meeting one hour per week will have the examination Monday, January 28, 8:00-10:00 A.M.

Courses meeting two hours per week will take the same schedule as the three-hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

Examinations in courses with laboratories meet at the time that the lecture appears in the Schedule of Classes.

In cases of conflict, go to the examination which appears first on this Schedule of Examinations, and arrange with the instructor to take the other examination Thursday, January 31, 10:30-12:30 A.M.

Students are not permitted to change sections for examinations.

Night classes will have their examinations at first regular class meeting during the examination week.

A STEP IN CULTURE—Pictured above are some of the dancers in the newly organized Theatre Dance Group, which will present its initial performance Wednesday night. Hallie-Band Dickinson is in charge of the production.

FMCA Veep Outlines Motor Court Growth

The growth and development of the motor court industry in Florida was outlined in Florida State University students in Restaurant and Hotel Management by Gilbert Chandler, Tallahassee motor court operator and vice president of the Florida Motor Court Association Wednesday.

Throughout his lecture Chandler emphasized the importance of keeping pace with the mimes. He told how he has demolished three complete motor courts and rebuilt them to provide the public with the most modern accommodations.

Problem of Obesity Discussed by Experts

Miss Marjorie Morrison, chief nutritionist connected with the Florida State Board of Health, and Miss Jane Bricker, director of the bureau of home economics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in New York City, met with the state home demonstration staff on their campus last week to discuss the problem of obesity in Florida.

Miss Bricker presented for preview a new film, "Losing to Win," which showed the results of obesity.

Mayor Cotes Speaks To Public Ad Class

Mayor W. R. Cates spoke on a wide range of city problems before a public administration class here Thursday.

The mayor said the rapid growth of Tallahassee has resulted in increased demands for city services which the city has managed to maintain within its income limitations.

Cates also declared that the city is free of much of the lawless element found in many cities. The majority of its population is interested in the growth and development of the city, he said.

Graduate Students

(Continued from Page 1)

background and proven ability Miss Summers has been awarded part-time graduate assistantships in each semester of her course of study. While Miss Summers training equips her to fill almost any position in the teaching or supervision of art activities, her preference is to teach painting and design courses on the college level.

Future Teachers To Hold Meeting

The Future Teachers of America organization here will hold a charter meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Longmire auditorium.

All education students are invited to attend and to become members.

The agenda for the meeting will include adopting of the national charter, election of officers, reports of the interim committees and election of a faculty advisor.

The club is being assisted by Dr. Malvina Trussell, professor of education; William Tate, associate professor of physical education; Mrs. Dora Skipper, associate professor of education; and James Dickson, instructor in English.

Kiwanis Circle Holds Organizational Meet

Circle K. Kiwanis sponsored service organization, held an organizational meeting recently and elected Jim Hamrick temporary chairman.

Plans were made to petition Kiwanis international for a permanent charter.

Kent Hall, Dr. Mode L. Stone, dean of the School of Education, and Dr. Don Veller, professor of physical education, have been appointed Kiwanis representatives to help with the organization of the club.

Honor Emphasis

(Continued from Page 1)

lawyer; Kendall Lorch, prosecuting attorney. The audience will serve as the jury.

Radio station WFSU will continue Thursday's program at 9:45 p.m. with a discussion and explanation of the Honor Code by Margaret Nash, Jacki Penman, Lou Harrison, and Mary Louthan.

THE MAIN speaker for Friday night's climaxing meeting will be a student from the University of the South at Sewannee, Tenn., Chairman Zoe Rentz revealed.

The Friday night conclave will cap the activities of Honor Week. Chairman Rentz will introduce the program, and Pres. Doak S. Campbell will give a faculty affirmation of the code. University Government Association Pres. Will Pennell will follow with the student affirmation. The whole congregation will then be asked to repeat the honor code as recorded below.

"I PLEDGE myself to uphold the highest standards of honesty in every phase of my university life, and I refuse to tolerate dishonesty on the part of another."

"We do have a working Honor System," said Miss Rentz, "but due to its comparative newness, it is not yet a complete working unit. To achieve our goal all of us who firmly believe in sincerity, honor, and an honor system here at Florida State University need your help, your co-operation and your interest and support. The Honor System, to be wholly successful, needs you."

All students, she said, are invited to attend the regular meetings of the honor committee at 7 p.m. every Wednesday in the UGA room in Longmire.

$100 Prize To Be Open To Florida Art Student

One art student in the state of Florida will be given an opportunity to win a special $100 prize for this work in the 1952 International Art Exhibition premiere at Florida Southern College in Lakeland.

The competition, from Feb. 15 to March 15 will present a comprehensive showing of the best contemporary work in all media, regardless of school, style and technique.

Band Mentors

(Continued from Page 1)

sided over by Harold Bachman of the University of Florida, Fred McCall of the University of Miami, Henry E. Wamsley of Mississippi State College and Frank Prindl of the University of Kentucky.

Conventions Planned By FBLA Members

The Future Business Leaders of America will have a short meeting tonight at 7 p. m. in 408 Longmire building, announced Betty Carlile, president.

All business education and economic majors are invited to attend. The meeting will concern the planning of the forthcoming convention of FBLA clubs to be held here second semester.

Key Members Meet

Members of the Gold Key Executive council will meet Thursday at 4:00 preceding the Gold Key meeting at 5:00 to discuss applications for membership into the campus honorary.

The final voting will be held Monday at 3:00 in the UGA room, second floor Alumni building.

Dance Group

(Continued from Page 1)

berte" and she Tarpon club's Thousand and One Nights."

OFFICERS are Nancy Ware Smith, president and Jean Ford, vice president.

The production crew includes Pat Hampton and Joyce Cox, costumes; Marion Palloon, wardrobe mistress; Barbara Coleman, production manager; Shirley Hilburt, make-up; Charles Reinlights; and Pegs Rigg, program designer.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

STUDENTS and FACULTY
SALE
AT TURNER'S
MENS SUITS — TOPCOATS
SPORT COATS — SLACKS
A Wonderful Opportunity to Save on Quality Clothes
SALE CONTINUES ALL WEEK
Turner's

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
LAST DAY TODAY
Mask of the Avenger
With John Derek
Weds. thru Saturday
STARLIFT
With All Star Cast
Doris Day
STATE
TODAY and WEDS.
When the Redskins Rode
With Jon Hall and Mary Castle
THURSDAY onest SAT.
OLIVER TWIST
With Robert Newton
RITZ
TUESDAY and WEDS.
Day the Earth Stood Still With Michael Rennie and Pat Neal GUN FIRE
With Don Barry
Also Bring 'Em Back Alive
DRIVE-IN People Will Talk
With Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain
THURSDAY - SAT.
Cyclone Fury
In Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette
Also FRENCHIE
With Joel McCrea and Shalley Winters
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Let Us Service Your
Pride and Joy
Moat's Trailway Service Station
566 W. TENNESSEE
DIAL 3-0619

Valentine Cards and Valentine Candy
COME IN AND SEE OUR ASSORTMENT OF VALENTINE CARDS AND CANDIES.
Malone's Co-op Bookstore
"WE . . . BUY . . . USED . . . BOOKS"

HUGHES
COOPERATIVE PLAN
for
MASTER of SCIENCE DEGREES

PURPOSE
To assist outstanding BS graduates in obtaining their Master of Science Degrees while employed in industry and making a significant contribution to important military work.

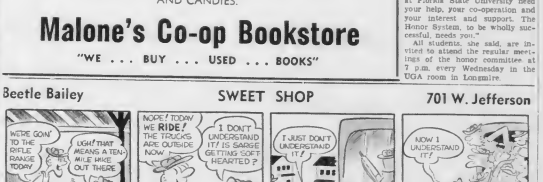
ELIGIBILITY
June 1952 graduates receiving BS Degrees in the following fields:
Electrical Engineering
Electronic Engineering
Physics
Mechanical Engineering
Aeronautical Engineering
Those chosen to participate in this plan will be from the upper portion of their graduating classes or will have evidenced unusual technical ability. They must also have evidenced imaginative ability and possess personality traits enabling them to work well with others.

CITIZENSHIP
Applicants must be United States citizens who can be cleared for "Secret," due to their work at Hughes Research and Development Laboratories being of a classified nature.

NUMBER OF AWARDS
Approximately one hundred Cooperative Awards shall be made each year, if sufficient qualified candidates present themselves.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES
Candidates will be selected by a committee of representation composed of two each from the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Southern California, and the Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

DATES FOR APPLYING
Informal applications should be mailed prior to January 30, 1952. The Laboratories will then forward formal applications, which should be returned, accompanied by up-to-date grade transcripts, by February 15, 1952. Selections will be made during the month of March.



ADDRESS CORRESPONDENCE TO
Hughes Research and Development Laboratories
Engineering Personnel Department
Culver City, California

a university half time during regular sessions working on his Master's Degree.

SALARIES
Salaries will be commensurate with the individual's ability and experience and reflect the average in the electronics industry. Salary growth will be on the same basis as full-time members of the engineering staff. In addition, the individuals will be eligible for health, accident, and life insurance benefits, as well as other benefits accruing to full-time members.

TRAVEL AND MOVING EXPENSES
For those residing outside of the Southern California area, actual travel and moving expenses will be allowed up to 10% of the full starting annual salary.

TUITION
Tuition at either UCLA or USC, covering the required number of units necessary to obtain a Master's Degree, will be paid by Hughes Research and Development Laboratories.

Florida Flambeau

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 26 — Friday, January 18, 1952

Seminole Cagers Win First Game in Tampa See Sports Page

Vaughn Monroe Show Changes Networks See Lead Story

Sewanee Student Speaks on Honor

Honor Emphasis Week Is Climaxed By Meeting In Alum Tonight At 8

The annual Honor Emphasis Week will be climaxed tonight with a meeting in Longmire at 8 with Jerome Wade Stallings, a student at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, as guest speaker.

Stallings, senior and member of Phi Gamma Delta and the Honor Team, will speak on Sewanee's honor system.

The program tonight will be opened by Zoe Rentz, honor committee chairman. She will introduce the speaker.

FOLLOWING THE speech there will be an Honor System Affirmation ceremony in which Doak S. Campbell, president of the Florida State University will represent faculty cooperation and Will Pennell, president of the University Government Association will represent student cooperation.

The pledge will join in a statement of the Honor Code which reads:

I pledge myself to uphold the highest standards of honesty in every phase of my college work and I refuse to tolerate dishonesty on the part of another.

The meeting will close with the singing of the Alma Mater.

HONOR EMPHASIS WEEK began Sunday with Honor the topic in the churches and student houses there.

The program ant officially opened with a talk by Dr. Campbell on "The Part That Faculty and Students Play in Our Honor System" Tuesday night.

Alice Jackson served as moderator with Mrs. Marjorie Irvin, Spence Nancy Day, Dr. Ruth Byers, botany department, Dr. Alvin Duerfeldt, and Dr. Ralph Beazley, languages department, as Miss Jackson's panel of political science as speakers.

WEDNESDAY THE women's honor committee met with the men's honor committee speak at their weekly meeting.

A student forum, "What Is Our Honor System and How Can Be Done About It?" was held Wednesday night.

The forum agreed that there should be more cooperation of the faculty and administration in their stand be on faculty cases of cases but a right to speak to the administration, and a right to appeal. Further discussions on what is covered and what is not covered by the Honor System.

Participating were Allen Head, moderator; Bob Bentley, Sunday Morgan, Richard Bradley and Jane Tate.

BY SPONSORED a mock trial Thursday on "Can Honor Solve Every Problem?" Allen, student professor of speech, acted as judge. Jan Eichinger was the defendant. Prosecuting attorney was Kendall Lorch the Investigator.

Witnesses Nash, Jacki Penman, Jo Harrison and Mary Louthan. Present at the meeting for Honor Code over WFSU last night was a special program.

Sigma Chi Issues Call to The Post

Sorority girls all over the campus are busily practicing for the Rama Chi Derby which takes place tomorrow afternoon at Cromwell stadium.

Entries are piling up for all five of the races, which include a log-legged nag race with four girls riding a seemingly passive pony. There will be a champion-ship race with two entrants. Phantom and Ghost will be the first race and a hat box relay. A derby will be awarded each individual event and three additional trophies will be given to the winners.

The purpose of this comic track day is entertainment for both audience and participants, with no admission free.

The log race will be a complete surprise even to the entrants. One girl from each sorority is entered in the race.

The Phi Delta chimera Sigma Chi entered.

Study Habits Viewed

Merlar Board led a discussion on "How To Improve Study Habits" before junior counselors last Monday night. Members of the Scholastic-service honorary approached individual counselors on the problems of study and offered suggestions.

Plans are being made for a Mortar Board study hall.

FLORIDA STATE ROYALTY

Two Co-Eds Start Year in Style

New Year's day of 1952! An homecoming lovelies stepped out once more to take part in football festivities.

TWO FSU BEAUTIES. Ruthie Garst and Sally Kennedy, were chosen to reign over New Year's day festivities in two major bowls. Ruthie was chosen queen of the Orange Bowl; while Sally represented FSU in the Gator Bowl court.

Ruthie and Sally have been the annual bowl games, two F.S.U. homecoming lovelies stepped out once more to take part in football festivities.

Sally Kennedy, P.S.U. Homecoming Queen, was chosen an attendant for the Gator Bowl court in Jacksonville, and Ruthie Garst, member of the Homecoming court, reined as Queen of the Orange Bowl in Miami. This latest success is but another added to long lists won by the two girls since they've been at Tallahassee.

RUTHIE AND SALLY have other things in common besides being candidates for "Bowl Title" for both are juniors, members of the circus, and both are outstanding in the activities of their respective sororities, Sigma Kappa and Pi Beta Phi.

Ruthie is secretarial science major from Bradenton, wants to be a government secretary in Germany after graduation. Her other laurels include winning the "Miss Campus Doll" title from Hall Jenn's Smoke Signals contest, the "Miss Tallahassee" title and "Miss Dixie" contest at the fourth of July celebration in Daytona, and the title of attendant at Daytona's Labor Day celebration.

Sally, a native of Pensacola, majors in child development and plans to enter the kindergarten nursery school. A member of Vilage Vamps and last year's Homecoming Court at Broward Hall, Sally was chosen Queen of the Ariola Club. She is also active in sports and in the Fiesta of Five Flags, and a princess in the 1950 Homecoming court.

THE TWO GIRLS spend an exciting weekend in Jacksonville and Miami attending luncheons, dances and dinner parties in their honor. Interviews over radio and television shows in connection with the bowl games and festivities. High lights of their visits were appearances on the Queens' Court of Honor at the bowl parades and pep rallies. Ruthie presented trophies at the two bowl basketball tournaments in Miami; and Sally was introduced during the halftime ceremonies at the Gator Bowl game.

Prizes for the winners included a loving cup, gift certificates, and Ruthie was presented with a Kodak —a $300 scholarship at any state college, and a $500 cash and complete wardrobe. Among Ruthie's other gifts were three plane trips to Miami for herself and her attendees and pep rallies. Ruthie presented trophies at the two bowl basketball tournaments in Miami; and Sally was introduced during the halftime ceremonies at the Gator Bowl game.

Beauty Contest Is Still Open

Deadline for the Tally-Ho campus beauty contest has been extended, Gail Albritton, editor, announced yesterday. All campus groups are asked to turn in one print of their entrant to the Tally-Ho office, fourth floor, Longmire building, immediately.

The print does not have to be a closer or standard size snap shots will not be accepted.

MILTON CANIFF, famous cartoonist, will select the most appealing co-ed for the Tally-Ho beauty section.

Twenty girls will be chosen from the pictures by a judging committee composed of Tally-Ho senior staff, faculty and student leaders. These top 20 girls will have their pictures taken by Prime Beaudoin, who won first place last year for his photography of women in the Florida Photographers Association annual contest.

Milton Caniff, famous cartoonist of the nationally circulated comic strip Steve Canyon, will

(Continued on Page 4)

Dance Group Presents FSU With 'Surpassing' Performance

BY JUNE MORGAN

Without benefit of expensive scenery or intricate musical effects, the Theatre Dance Group presented a series of interpretative dances Wednesday night, that surpassed many professional productions of the theater world.

To a capacity Music hall audience the group directed by Nellie-Bond Dickinson, physical education faculty adviser, excelled in the subtle rhythms of Spiritual, Landler, Concerto and Themes and Variations.

NOT AS outstanding were the dances based on the poem Ranasenee by John H. Vincent Millay, and Patterns by Amy Lowell. Here the narration took the spotlight from the dance routine.

One of the highlights of the program was the Odd Dance of 1951 Spiritual, choreographed by Mary Browder. In the filmy veil and flowing colors of the Sheiks, Mary Browder, Anice Spencer, and Frankie Clark recaptured the mysterious mood of religion in the fervent spiritualism of early tribes. To the heavy repeated beat, they moved in expressive rythmic patterns.

THE DANCES also FOR audience acclaim for their repeat performance of Nellie-Bond Dickinson's interpretation of Negro dans from Jerome Kern's Roberta, Negro spiritual Were Jean Forham, Nancy Warren Smith, Barbara Coleman, Jo Ann Norcliet and Betty Anderson.

Two treats of the "Evening of Dance" were the interpretations of Dohnanyi's Landler and Floyd's Theme and Variations.

The First was a short composite of graceful pirouettes and bows.

(Continued on Page 4)

Symphonic Band To Present First Concert Of Year

The Florida State University Symphonic Band is presenting its first concert of the year tonight at 8 in the Music Hall.

The concert is open to the public. It will include novelties and marches by well known contemporary composers and will feature a recent composition by Prof. Bertil Boer of the School of Music.

The concert is being given in honor of Col. Thomas Williams of the College Band Directors National Association which is meeting in Tallahassee through Saturday.

The program for this evening will include "Overture to Romeo and Troyle by Alexander, Short Classics arranged by Cremeans Gillette and Transfiguration by Straube, March: Brass Peasantry by Osching and George Washington Bridge by Schuman.

The second half of the program will be March: March Winds by Moore, Nordic Salite by Bott Trumpet and Green by Holst, Blue Fairy Polka by List, Prairie Legend by Seigmeister and Lift of the Latin by Bennett.

Speech Dept. Holds Play Auditions at 7

The department of speech will hold play auditions at 7:30 tonight in Longmire not tired out tonight from 7 to 9 in the Conrad theater.

Audition materials will be furnished to all eligible participants which include all students, graduate or undergraduate.

Any students interested in technical and promotional work in the theater program should register their preferences at this time.

UGA Discusses An Amendment On Constitution

The possibility of graduate students taking part in University Government in the election was a major item of discussion at the University Senate's regular meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The subject came up when Senator Mary Ruth Summers, chairman of the committee on constitutional revision, reported that one of the main issues in revising the present constitution was whether graduate students should be included under UGA. The present document includes only undergraduates as members.

ART GUYANANTAUS, vice-president of the graduate student club, spoke to the Senate in favor of full legal status for graduate students to participate in UGA and to run for office on the same basis as undergraduates."

After considerable discussion, the Senate voted 9-3 to refer the matter back to a committee for further investigation.

ANOTHER controversial matter was brought up when Senator Bill Springer moved that a three person document includes only undergraduates as members.

ART GUYANANTAUS, vice-president of the graduate student club, spoke to the Senate in favor of full legal status for graduate students to participate in UGA and to run for office on the same basis as undergraduates."

After considerable discussion, the Senate voted 9-3 to refer the matter back to a committee for further investigation.

ANOTHER controversial matter was brought up when Senator Bill Springer moved that a three person committee composed of three senators be set up to study the advisability of Florida State University changing from the Student Government Association. Springer's motion passed, 8-7, and Senator Springer, Summers, Myers, Myra, Summers, and Vice-President Allen Head were appointed. Head and Springer acting as co-chairmen.

ON A MOTION of Senator Renick, the Senate voted to abandon Longmire auditorium and reserve the Club room for Senate meetings, because of sparse student attendance since the addition of the auditorium for meetings.

At the final item of business, the Senate accepted the recommendation of Senator Reed that the Student Welfare committee study the possibility of a university-wide faculty evaluation program.

Show Speaks to Class

B. G. Shaw, manager of Lovett's Grocery on Tennessee, spoke to the Florida State University School of Business Marketing class on "Produce" Monday.

Mr. Shaw discussed information on storage, preparation, display and pricing of vegetables.

PRISON LITERATURE BETTER THAN UNIVERSITY'S

"Editor Should be Sent to Raiford"

BY BETTY HENKEL

The editor of Smoke Signals should be sent to Raiford for the crimes committed, but to learn to publish a paper.

Strange as it may seem the Raiford Record, published by the inmates of the penitentiary prison, far superior to Smoke Signals. The Record has, by scientific measurements, a readability figure slightly above the Readers Digest. This means that the average person understands "thoughts" per pase than does the Digest. Smoke Signals also has a readability figure of somebody only slightly lower than that of a comic book.

ORDINARILY one would expect to find the intellectual level of a college magazine much higher than that of a prison. For the mental cream of the crop is to be found in institutions while every one knows what sort of persons are in prisons. Clearly there is something wrong when prisoners turn out better literature than college students.

The Raiford Record and Smoke Signals are vastly different in appearance. The cover of Smoke Signals featured a black and white photograph of the Homecoming Queen and the Captain of the football team. The Record has an art type cover of a harvest scene in shades of gold, brown, and green. This cover was done by the silk screen process which makes an embossed effect. It is both, more artistic and technically difficult to produce.

THE LAYOUT of the Raiford Record is as professional in appearance as the cover and reflects the tone of the articles. For purpose of comparison, two articles titles are reproduced here. The first is from Smoke Signals!

The Boundary Bay Cattine Strikes Like a Bird an the "Tramp"

The following is from the Raiford Record:

It's the PERFORMANCE That Counts

The contents of the two magazines also vary greatly. Smoke Signals features picture articles on such subjects of wide reader interest, as an acrobat clowning on the trampoline, and a co-ed shopping for the holidays.

THE TWO FICTION stories which appear in Signals, are worthy of note due to the lack of originality of their themes. One, called "The Jonesss and the Doctor," deals with the immoral sex life of the Negro, and the other with the adventures of a man through the horrors of war.

There are also many pages devoted to cartoons and jokes. So many in fact, that there is little room left for any real literary material. This doubtless is a time saver for the "average student."

HALF OF THE Raiford Record's literary articles are of an editorial or factual nature. On topics of current world interest. There is an article dealing with the communism vs. Capitalism question, and another entitled "Korea and China Collapse." A reprint from the U. S. appears editorial changes television is brinung about in American living habits. Another article is of current interest in a prison, there is an interview with a "Hanging Judge in the Parole Chain." Record says the "missing link" to be rehabilitation of the prisoner in order to prepare him for release.

The Raiford Record has six fiction stories, perhaps the best of which is "Ali Baba and the 40 Blind Beggars." This is an old favorite, sharpened up of course, "Ali, Ali, Do Not Jar Jarod." The following quotation is from this story. "Ali waited as long as curiosity would permit him, then he opened his eyes. Darkness and stone cliff and bleated out, Open, Sesame!' The stone stone door swung open right on cue and Ali, darting inside murmured, "What a find. Gold by the sack full."

FOR PURPOSE of comparison I now quote from a story in Smoke Signals entitled, "Friendship."

Jim was in love with Mary but didn't feel that it was wise to marry before going overseas. She had been known indeed, but did be because of his positive nature."

An examination of the editorial policies of the two magazines may provide a partial explanation of the difference. The Smoke Signals says, "we are sincerely trying to publish a magazine that will interest you, the call the average student . . . You won't find great works of poetry or high brow reading material in this issue . . . a co-educational university needs a magazine which reflects the lighter side of university life."

THE RECORD with its high readability figures, is roughly, appropriate for educational levels comparable since the recorded

(Continued on Page 4)

Monroe 'Caravan' Changes Networks

Show to Start at 10 O'Clock While Dance Is in Progress

Vaughn Monroe's radio broadcast, which is a climax to the fourth annual Sandspur weekend Feb. 23, has changed broadcasting networks.

Originally scheduled at 7:30 p.m. over the Columbia Broadcasting Company network, the half-hour show will now be presented at 10 p.m. EST over National Broadcasting Company. Vaughn Monroe and his Camel Caravan have changed networks since the original agreement was made.

THE SHOW and dance, which is underwritten by the FSU Artist Series, will be broadcast over 15 stations in Florida and over 170 stations across the United States.

Student admission to the dance will be $2 a person or $4 a couple. Ruby of NBC demand that all doors to the Suwanee room, where the broadcast will originate, be closed 15 minutes before the show starts.

VAUGHN MONROE, nationally known star of radio, television and motion pictures, will feature his FSU Alma Mater and Fight Song.

Previous controversy over the Artist Series' presentation of the Sandspur dance has been explained by Len Mellon, dance committee chairman.

"The underwriting is more or less a bond for support for a projected recipia," stated Len, "If 2,000 students are admitted to the dance at $2 a piece, this will cover the expense."

MONROE HAS been signed for the dance and nation-wide broadcast for $4,000. This includes his 16-piece orchestra, the Modernaids, the Moonmen, Comedian Zinny Talent and probably a special singer.

The broadcast had been previously scheduled for the tenth anniversary which was 600 students. Students were to be admitted free with a "first-come-first" basis and the broadcast was to be part of the Artist Series entertainment.

SANDSPUR HAS transferred $500 to the Artist Series fund to absorb any loss that may result from sale of tickets. Betty Rich and Dell Rhodes, Sandspur editor-representatives on the Artist Series committee, have asked that the Artist Series underwriting the dance and broadcast and have Betty Rich's request is granted in a loss.

Arrangements are being worked on whereby the broadcast may be admitted free to the show who do not attend the dance. Chancellor Council has asked Betty Rich to turn in a report concerning the broadcast.

ROD SHAW, business manager of the university, said that arrangements have been made with audio-visual to have loud speakers where the show outside the building hall.

Jim Dras, business manager of Sandspur, signed the contract with Monroe.

Vaughn Monroe will play at the University of Florida the preceding Monday. His show at FSU is in connection with a tour of Florida. He will play at the University of Miami the weekend of the 16th.

UGA Initiates Radio Program

Weekly Show Planned For Spot On WFSU

Jim Lohmeyer, forums chairman of the University Government Association, has revealed that U.G.A. will go on the air once a week.

Radio station WFSU has set 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays as beginning time for the programs and has allowed U. G. A. the option of using either 15 or 30 minutes each time.

THE BROADCASTS, according to Lohmeyer, are planned to integrate the student with student government. They are to let him know what U. G. A. is doing for him."

As yet, it is not known just what kind of programs will be presented, though presumably they will be of reportorial or discussion type.

The first broadcast will go into more detail as to the structure of the coming programs and will include an interview with U. G. A. president Will Pennell.

THE FORUMS chairman nominally is in charge of scheduling for the weekly airing, but Lohmeyer announced that anyone who wishes to further the interests of student government will be welcome to use the UGA facilities.

This is the first in this type of program to be presented on campus. It is hoped that programs of a similar type which will bring affairs on campus closer to the student body as a whole can be planned later.

Court To Meet On Honor Code

The University Court will convene Monday through Thursday from 6:45 to 7:45 p. m. in the courtroom, second floor, Longmire, for the reporting and investigating of honor code violations.

At this time information shall be given and received concerning cases, the court system and the honor code.

THE CHIEF justice and one member of the court will preside. Any committee will be in the courtroom for these regular hearings.

Publications Board will meet in the University Court are Bob Schmelz, Tom Cobbett, Martha Watkins and Lola Ray.

Junior Representatives are Bill Bloch, Bill Reed, Frankie Brownlee and June Tate.

Students Are Asked To See Counselors

Students are asked to consult their counselors about their programs between now and January 28, Charles H. Walker, registrar, has announced.

The Council of Deans decided last December to set aside the two weeks prior to examinations as a counseling period to aid students in planning their programs for the spring semester.

If students lack information about the name and location of their designated counselor, they may call the office of Co-ordinator of Counseling, extension 5321 or 5331. A record of cumulative counseling of all students is being kept there.

Bills Must Be Paid, Says Business Office

"No student will be permitted to register until all unpaid University accounts, if any, have been satisfied" according to a recent bulletin from the business office.

Students and parents are not reminded of delinquent bills but must be responsible for seeing they are paid.

Anyone desiring a statement of delinquent fees may obtain one from the Student Accounts office, 109 Westcott.

All University residence hall rent, matriculation fees, delinquent loans, library fees, hospital fees and miscellaneous charges must be paid on or before registration day, Feb. 5 or 9.

Frosh Class to Meet

The Freshman class will meet in the Longmire auditorium on Wednesday, Jan. 23 at 7 p.m.

"This meeting is important as plans will be made and committees set up for the freshman Carnival to be held on March 29," Gracen Smith, freshman class president, announced.

Honor System Corrupts? Forum Isolates Problems

Wednesday's forum on "How Can We Improve Our Honor System?" brought out some much needed changes in this vital area of student life. It also clarified a number of misconceptions concerning the Honor System and isolated many of the problems it faces.

Under the chairmanship of Allan Head, the panel struggled through the complex subject, trying to isolate what were the problems of the Honor System, and how they could be met. Some of the problems were found to be:

(1) Lack of 100% cooperation by administration, faculty and student body. The panel generally agreed, however, that on the whole the situation was continually improving in this area and was moving in the direction of increasing trust rather than in the direction of increasing suspicion.

(2) Lack of knowledge by the student body as to what areas were included in the Honor System, and which areas were not. It was pointed out that many students thought they were obligated to follow Honor System procedures even in connection with such rules as "no smoking," "signing out," "no drinking," "off limits," etc. It was pointed out by Zoe Rentz, Chairman of the Honor Committee, that the Honor System covered only Lying, Cheating and Stealing. In any other case, the procedure to be followed by the individual was strictly up to himself. "Lying" is an offense under the Honor System only if it is in connection with some offense specifically listed in the system itself. To date, this only includes Cheating and Stealing.

(3) Varying punishments have in the past been given for the same offense, depending on the "attitude" of the student who was being tried. This was felt to be unfair and to lead to distrust of the justice of the University Honor Court.

The panel waded into these problems and came out with the following suggestions:

(1) The administration should handle Honor Court cases only on an appellate basis. It was strongly felt by the panel, as well as members of the audience, that students could never develop full trust in their court so long as they believed it to be nothing more than a "tool" of the administration. Increased faculty cooperation, according to Zoe, was being sought in a pending vote of the entire faculty on adopting classroom procedures to be used during tests. The panel agreed that when this passes the faculty it will be a big step forward in increasing student support.

(2) It was felt by most members of the panel that the Honor Committee should make clear the distinction between areas covered by the Honor System and those which are not. This would automatically take care of a great many objections.

(3) The panel never came to a decision on varying penalties but it was suggested a number of times that the court be limited in its discretion by having maximum and minimum penalties set for each definite offense.

The Flambeau feels that each of these suggestions is a good one. The Flambeau pledges itself to back the panel's suggestions in its editorial columns and to give space for an article on clarifying the areas covered and not covered by the Honor System.

It now seems to be up to the Honor Committee to work for concrete results based on the suggestions made in its panel forum.

Do not attempt too many kinds of activities. Make an honest attempt to reach them.

Start studying the minute you sit down to study. If your mind wanders, analyze the difficulty and overcome the distraction if possible. Warming up mentally is not necessary. Get the "begin at once" habit, and apply it to all your studying.

Begin with a positive "I can" and "I will" attitude. Mental discipline is essential for effective concentration.

Focus all your mental energy upon the material with which you are dealing.

(The second in this series of study tips will appear in next Tuesday's Flambeau. Watch for it. Exams are just around the corner.)

● MISERABLE MISFITS

A miserable few disgusting misfits are adopting various important books from the Florida State University library. The squawk is that their method of adoption is illegal.

These selfish misfits have been visiting the stacks during the afternoon volumes and vanishing into contemptious oblivion.

There seems to be an increase in the number of books that have been missing. Many books from the reserve room, where students have to sign out for books without show of ID cards or birthmarks, have disappeared.

Students at FSU are fortunate in that they may browse in the stacks with complete freedom. Our honor system at work! Many universities have closed stacks and students must request their books from the library assistants. Of course, this system has great disadvantage. Open stacks allow a student to examine the whole number section before he makes his selection.

When the last library inventory was taken two years ago many valuable and important books were found missing. If, when the new check is made, a great many library books are found 'unaccountable for' then closed stacks will be justified.

How can students avoid this?

Librarians have requested that all library books that are discarded about campus be returned to the library.

Student Life poke the hioke in the nose that stole the MAIN book in that 'deadline' term paper.

● FLUNKING OUT?

Editor's Note: It has been the Flambeau's policy in the past to run a series of articles of study tips. This is the first of a series of three to be run. The suggestions are being offered by Mortar Board as an aid for study and as an effort to promote scholarship, one of the three ideals of the honorary.

Your study schedule is important. Make yourself an efficient study schedule and stick to it. Record assignments adequately and precisely.

Your study environment is important. Do your studying at the same times and in the same places. Keep distraction off your desk and from your place of study. Make an agreement with your roommate from the beginning about studying and stick to it.

Your personal "Goal" rush is important.

Graves to be Visiting Prof

Dr. W. Brooke Graves, noted authority on both federal and domestic state government legislation and eminent in the administration, will be at Florida State University for the second by Congressional committees in semester, as a visiting professor, information and consultation. Dr. Doak S. Campbell announced recently.

Dr. Graves is the author of numerous textbooks on government, including Public Administration in the United States, Federal and American State Government, now in use in many universities and colleges, according to Dr. Wilson Pk. D. degrees from the Univer- Compton, head of the School of Social Sciences and Public Administration.

Dr. Graves has served as an

(Continued on Page 4)

the publishers in editorial assistance and consultation. He was recently requested by the Thomas G. Crowell Publishing Company to serve as their chief editor in the editorial preparation of a series of 48 books on government.

Along with his career in the federal service, Dr. Graves has an extensive educational background, having received his A. B. degree from Cornell and his A. M. and sity of Pennsylvania.

DR. GRAVES has served as an

THE INERT SPARK, BUT STILL A FIZZLE

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

Honor Emphasis week was a fizzle.

This is not stated to hurt the hard working honor committee or the honorable group of students who have turned out for the well planned programs.

The week was there, granted, but it failed to ignite and burst the dreadful bubble of student apathy. It failed to do the job that it failed to explode the campus into a spotlight awareness of the possibilities and short comings of the honor system.

Reflecting back on the proposed failings of our honor system draw these conclusions: No one person knows exactly how to interpret the honor system and no one person can agree on the effectiveness (or ineffectiveness) of the system. Complete confusion seems to command all discussion.

Progress has been made in certain areas. A number of teachers' trust students as mature, honest individuals. They place faith in the honor system by giving examinations that are not monitored. However, a few teachers remain still lift eyebrows at this faulty-student trust.

The paper last Tuesday was a honor, honor, honor. The dictionary defines honor 'in the way the honor committee is using it' as that which rightfully attracts esteem, especially excellence of character, integrity.

A severe sore spot is the small minority thriving on the deception and mockery of our honor system. All students should show a willingness to help. Show us how an effective honor system can be achieved.

* * *

About 40 persons contributed much food, noise and money to the Flambeau office last Tuesday. For once and I believe the only time this semester the entire crew of future newspaper editors and business managers assembled to have some of the glory of the job rather than to the Tally-Ho.

The four page spread is just one reward for Flambeau journalism.

I believe that we do have a little more intellectual curiosity than the average college, but but for many of us the drawback is time, time, time.

We are put on the earth to live not exist. To live you can't eat and sleep. Both are a part of life but in order to cram more precious knowledge into other things. Much of us don't play enough much, though I'm sorry to say sometimes the Flambeau office is the co-ed that reputation.

It is true, Dr. Jones, that we are all looking for security, but then name me one human being who does not seek security of some sort. Why, of course, we want our marriage to be lasting and void of strife. We want also intellectual enough to really believe we have found that "perfect" love we want it bad enough.

* * *

One sorority member told me the other day that 9 girls out of Sports Extra Staff of 40 were transferring to another school next semester. Reason, so she said, was a social program in Florida State.

A percentage is expected to leave the college at which they start. But a 20% loss from one group seems too high. I questionnaired four groups. Of three reasons listed: Boys just won't date—they go to movies in their own group. There is no place you can just go and meet boys- Boys are timid when it comes to asking for a date but then . . .

The woods aren't as crowded as they were two years ago. There seems to be a migration to more favorable groups. Or perhaps with a larger male population.

I want to warn the smug men who believe that enough satisfaction for one long year of slavery on the student newspaper- A delicious meal (the last two were awful) isn't either but I'm an Pyknick, the jolly endomorph personality that loves to eat, drink and have a party.

* * *

One sorority member told me the other day that 9 girls out of Sports Extra Staff of 40 were transferring to another school next semester. Reason, so she said, was a social program in Florida State.

A percentage is expected to leave the college at which they start. But a 20% loss from one group seems too high. I questionnaired four groups. Of three reasons listed: Boys just won't date—they go to movies in their own group. There is no place you can just go and meet boys- Boys are timid when it comes to asking for a date but then . . .

The woods aren't as crowded as they were two years ago. There seems to be a migration to more favorable groups. Or perhaps with a larger male population.

I want to warn the smug men who believe that enough satisfaction for one long year of slavery on the student newspaper- A

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Mary Ann Morris
Feature Editor ..... Gerry Holt
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beus
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Sally Smith
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robertson
Exchange Editor ..... Rosemary Hemilon
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Harley, MEAHER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-291, Ext. 421 ..... second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

The Flambeau will not accept letters over 400 words. All letters to the editor must be double spaced typewritten.

More Dynamic Terms

Dear Editor:

If you run something under the title of an editorial, I'm sure you let it be an editorial! I am referring to your recent ridiculous policy of showing both sides of a question (usually by editorial writer) and then commenting in the third person.

I believe many, many college girls, not only at FSU but at several other universities, I have known just about as many who have been forced to sheepskins and others who are just donning rat caps. I do not find that these people are dumb. Maybe I know the wrong people, but no one I know of is afraid that the Atomic bombs are going to destroy the world. They are sick with present world conditions, but then does not mean they give up. Take that remark: They have faith in the future, faith in their country, in a God and in themselves.

Whether or not we have let the world down remains to be seen. But I don't think we have because the world has let us down. We are told to be happy, most of us are going to try to do the best we can with life while we have got it.

I would suggest that there is a difference between a news story, a feature article, and an editorial. If you are trying to achieve honest, professional journalism, it would be better to keep that distinction in mind.

Perhaps we could to get Dobell back to teach the Flambeau staff how to take a stand on an issue, with dynamic terms. We feel that if we could have ended an editorial on such a potent issue in such a stupid way and without saying why as "This is not the first time such a thing has happened here as our About Reversals!" It was a well school. Would that it were the written news story, but any editorial was chilly slipped. Yours for a better Flambeau,

ALLAN F. HEAD.

Dear Editor...

The Flambeau will not accept letters over 400 words. All letters to the editor must be double spaced typewritten.

More Dynamic Terms

Dear Editor:

If you run something under the title of an editorial, I'm sure you let it be an editorial! I am referring to your recent ridiculous policy of showing both sides of a question (usually by editorial writer) and then commenting in the third person.

I believe many, many college girls, not only at FSU but at several other universities. I have known just about as many who have been forced to sheepskins and others who are just donning rat caps. I do not find that these people are dumb. Maybe I know the wrong people, but no one I know of is afraid that the Atomic bombs are going to destroy the world. They are sick with present world conditions, but then does not mean they give up. Take that remark: They have faith in the future, faith in their country, in a God and in themselves.

Whether or not we have let the world down remains to be seen. But I don't think we have because the world has let us down. We are told to be happy, most of us are going to try to do the best we can with life while we have got it.

I would suggest that there is a difference between a news story, a feature article, and an editorial. If you are trying to achieve honest, professional journalism, it would be better to keep that distinction in mind.

Perhaps we could to get Dobell back to teach the Flambeau staff how to take a stand on an issue, with dynamic terms. We feel that if we could have ended an editorial on such a potent issue in such a stupid way and without saying why as "This is not the first time such a thing has happened here as our About Reversals!" It was a well school. Would that it were the written news story, but any editorial was chilly slipped. Yours for a better Flambeau,

ALLAN F. HEAD.

SEMINOLE SCENES

QUERY: COLLEGE WOMEN LET US DOWN?

By FRANCES CAWTHON

A professor, Dr. Hamilton Jones, in the recent issue of Mademoiselle, asks the question, "Have Educated Women Let Us Down?" The professor, in his quiet scholarly style, says that the modern co-ed possesses political apathy, a desire for a job but not a career, and a general lack of intellectual enterprise.

The professor goes on to say a lot more, worth reading, but which, due to space limitations, won't be printed here. I should like to be able to say to him, "Listen here, bub, we are not at all like you picture us!" But the truth is, I believe, we are a great deal like the picture he has drawn.

In answer, however, I should like to present my own views on the subject. Far too many of us do possess political apathy, listlessness about public issues. The why to this I can't answer. Another thing the professor has right about is that there is little or no intellectual enterprise in college girls of the different universities. Maybe the mellins pot is at last, and also probably don't know.

The author of the article said something about the undergraduate of today being partly a product of the depression era which has left her family. If that is true, then we are also a product of 1951 and 1952. When things are finally all over, seem to run so smoothly, when few things seem lasting, and everything is geared to the tick-tags of a mechanism we call a job.

I believe that we do have a little more intellectual curiosity than the average college, but but for many of us the drawback is time, time, time.

We are put on the earth to live not exist. To live you can't eat and sleep. Both are a part of life but in order to cram more precious knowledge into other things. Much of us don't play enough much, though I'm sorry to say sometimes the Flambeau office is the co-ed that reputation.

It is true, Dr. Jones, that we are all looking for security, but then name me one human being who does not seek security of some sort. Why, of course, we want our marriage to be lasting and void of strife. We want also intellectual enough to really believe we have found that "perfect" love we want it bad enough.

* * *

One sorority member told me the other day that 9 girls out of Sports Extra Staff of 40 were transferring to another school next semester. Reason, so she said, was a social program in Florida State.

A percentage is expected to leave the college at which they start. But a 20% loss from one group seems too high. I questionnaired four groups. Of three reasons listed: Boys just won't date—they go to movies in their own group. There is no place you can just go and meet boys- Boys are timid when it comes to asking for a date but then . . .

The woods aren't as crowded as they were two years ago. There seems to be a migration to more favorable groups. Or perhaps with a larger male population.

I want to warn the smug men who believe that enough satisfaction for one long year of slavery on the student newspaper- A

GENUINE REGRET FOR ANY ILL-FEELING

By PATTY MIMS

Chairman Judiciary

I would like to reply to a few of the ideas expressed in the editorials "Actions Not Words" and "Frustrated Felines" of Tuesday's Flambeau. I am glad to see these editorials, for it is only by viewing all sides of an issue that the student body can form a true and intelligent attitude toward it; it is in this belief that I submit this opinion.

I believe that I speak for the entire council of the WAA when I genuinely regret any injustice or ill-feeling which has been caused by the recent election of officers. However speaking for a majority of the council I feel that nothing would have been done, to the entire student body as well as those concerned, that is not very previous and subsequent similar case, had the original decision been left. It was a letting down of a widely respected standard of the university. Perhaps the second decision was, in part, a result of discussion with the administration. Isn't it possible that, just as we know more about a few things than they do, so do they know more about many others? We are glad to help us out, especially when the WAA has been run as it is for several years, and we for only one semester?

We found the fact that the administration has delegated to us the power with which to run it as we see fit; if they have given it to us, can they not also take it back? We feel that they have done sincerly dislike to do. For every rule and regulation, I assure you, there are dozens where they don't—you just don't hear about them. But when a student body or individual rests with them, they feel obligated to live up to their duties and personal feelings but the standards and ideals expected of our university. As a personality, I am speaking neither on the side of administration nor students, for I feel that I am a part of both and the same side.

The meeting between administration and court shows a spirit of cooperation for which we are and should be grateful.

Unless I misunderstood Mr. Thomas, it is the faculty's opinion that the honor code. Honesty is not a thing which can be limited and pigeon-holed; it must be observed or disobeyed in every relationship of life. Each person is privileged it and then choose where we wish to uphold it. When we don't we become hypocrites. We cannot possibly enumerate all its applications—we can only believe in it-

ACP ROUND-UP

PROCEED, OH VALIANT, PROCEED, HEY!

CHORDS TO THE UTMOST . . . voted unofficially to disband. It has been under pressure from the national office because it had refused to pledge a Jewish student.

Sigma Chi alumni had threatened to sell the fraternity house if the Jewish student was pledged. Then "minimum" of the chapter on probation for failing to submit its pledge list to an alumni group.

The student government and the Inter-Fraternity council at the University of Georgia supported the chapter's action. And Robert Strozier, dean of students, declared, "The University will not sit on the sidelines if this proves to be a matter of discrimination."

* * *

READ . . .

GRIT YOUR TEETH AND READ . . .

The University of Chicago chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity has that textbooks should be read for purpose, rather than for enjoyment.

Textbooks, he says, are not novels, but rather encyclopedias. But the Ohio State Lantern promptly disagreed.

"Why can't we read textbooks for enjoyment? It asked. . . .

There is always joy in adding one more piece to the jigsaw puzzle picture of the world."

The Lantern decided that textbook authors demand too much from the students. Too many of them, it said, "detract from the value of their ideas by submerging them in a fog of drab and circuitous writing. They apparently know what they're talking about, but their literary techniques discourage the reader's realizing the same level of comprehension."

tion as is used by Time magazine.

I would suggest that there is a difference between a news story, a feature article, and an editorial. If you are trying to achieve honest, professional journalism, it would be better to keep that distinction in mind.

Perhaps we could to get Dobell back to teach the Flambeau staff how to take a stand on an issue, with dynamic terms. We feel that if we could have ended an editorial on such a potent issue in such a stupid way and without saying why as "This is not the first time such a thing has happened here as our About Reversals!" It was a well school. Would that it were the written news story, but any editorial was chilly slipped. Yours for a better Flambeau,

ALLAN F. HEAD.

Publishers Undervalue Product States FSU Journalism Study

A short study of Florida newspaper subscription rates indicates that many state newspaper publishers under-value their product. If the rate per copy were raised 1% a week for the next 52 weeks and not make up the loss in circulation.

"Any publisher of a good weekly newspaper certainly is justified in considering an increase from five cents to ten cents a copy and increase by at least $3 a year," the journalism dean concluded.

Grads Complete 1st Training Phase

LAWRENCE W. PATTERSON, 1950 graduate, has completed the first phase of an administrative training program in the Department of the Army.

Patterson was chosen after passing the Junior Management Assistant examination to join a select group being trained for responsible administrative duties in the Department.

The former student received his B.S. degree in the College of Arts and Sciences here and holds membership in Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Kappa Delta. He is now stationed at the Atlanta Field Inspection Office of the Civilian Personnel Division, office of the Secretary of the Army.

Dr. M. Hay Is Speaker

Dr. Marion Hay, education professor, spoke to the Philosophy Club meeting last night.

Dr. Hay's topic was "Classifying the Meaning of Democracy" and did not report.

DEAN CAMPBELL said the study showed nine of the 33 weekly publishers believe they will lose

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Three of the sharpest eliths around got the heave this week in a shuffle that was slightly quicker than the iris. Must be hell to be an atom-age girl in stone hatchet surroundings. . . .

World War 4 is going to be fought with bazi-pull judging by the increasing lack of maleness in the U. S. Bet if you compared the Freshies of '52 and '32 you'd find a few more astounding little darlings among the pre-Kinsey beatnikettes. . . .

There are those who suppose some profs use a perfect command of the language to say nothing. . . .

Roger Sellers (the oldest collegian in captivity) having trouble stain with his verlcose veins. . . . The Legion porch calls.

Earl O'Neal and Jo Clare no dombt discussing intellectual matters on that bench they're homesteading. . . .

ATO new digin's rocking with the jungle beats of 'Pope' Kleinhofer after hour "concerts."

Wild ones yellins about the A and M. Music Prof who sings, plays and philoosphizes in several languages nightly at the C. P.—General Education???

Can't feature a couple of sharp young men who warn Honor Court seats being "persuaded" they acted hastily. . . .

Coach Kennedy heard singing something which sounded like "Bring back Hartman to me. . . ."

* * *

Honor is being inwardly what you are outwardly.

FSU Cagers Finally Break Win Column

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

N.C.A.A. MEANS BUSINESS—The N.C.A.A. rules committee meeting up in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia has made it clear that they intend to purge football to stop.

The rulemakers drew up a new set of rules which they hope will purge some of the "rough stuff" that occurred during the past season.

Under the new setup, a player may be banned from a game and his team penalized 15 yards for throwing his forearm, elbows and locked hands. The old rule allowed for only the penalty.

The committee also made some important changes in the clipping and piling on rules. They say that to the old clipping rule holding a clip is defined as hitting a player anywhere on the body since 1949 it has been illegal to block behind only from the waist down.

Piling on will become illegal as soon as the ball becomes dead.

Another change that was made creates the defensive holding penalty. The old penalty called for only five yards, but come on Pall the offenders will be given 15 yards.

Another rule change that the NCAA approved, which probably will probably have a great effect on the punting game. Any team sending in substitutes while the clock is still running will be penalized with a time out, plus the five yard penalty reference to the ball sending for play.

This ruling should discourage teams from relying too heavily on specialists especially punters. Other rules allow a team five players per ball or ten during a game.

The Seminoles lose to the Florida Teachers tomorrow night, but break the school record for losses in a single season. The old mark, which dropped 13 games in a row—hold the record for the ninth flying Professors from Tampa have a personal reason for trying to help the FSU cagers get that record. Remember, it was the Seminoles who upset them so that the final of the Dixie 25 NIAB tourney last year. Ramsey's fire edged the Georgia 46-45 and went on the Semifinals of the National Tourney in Kansas City.

The dead eye Teachers who won 19 of 23 this last season have a field goal average through 10 that 11 games of the current season. This does not include the Prefs laid Mercer last Monday Mercer, Florida's ace, is run over the University of Georgia's.

* * *

BUY GOOD SPORT

Dietrich To Speak About Gerontology

Dr. T. Stanton Dietrich, Florida State University assistant professor of Sociology will be one of the speakers during the second annual conference on Gerontology January 28 through 29 at the University of Florida.

Dr. Dietrich will discuss the number and distribution of old people as indicated by the 1950 census with particular emphasis on such problems as the need for better information on the extent migration of elderly people to Florida and to other Gulf Coast states as compared with seasonal migration.

As a specialist in the field of population, having devoted much research to this work, Dr. Dietrich recently reported on one phase of his research at meetings of the Southern Sociological Society in Tampa, where he presented a paper. "The Old Veteran—A Human Resource of Florida."

Professor Is Edito.

Dean Mode L. Stone of the School of Education announced recently that Dr. Malvina Trussell of the school faculty has been chosen editor of the American Nature Study Society's official News Letter publication.

DUANE GORDON who was injured in the opener against Parris Island paced the Seminoles in their win over Tampa. The lanky forward sunk 20 points against the Spartans and hit for 11 more against Florida Southern.

Hand Weapons Are Displayed In University Science Museum

A collection of Indonesian hand weapons is now on temporary display in the University Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology through the courtesy of the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology.

Included in the display of more than 50 pieces, are vicious looking beheading blades, used by the Indonesian head hunters on their enemies, the Kris, a short sword, with a curved, wavy blade, head axes, sheaths, shields and others.

MANY OF the weapons were passed down by the natives thru the generations and the blades have retained their sharp edges and points. The weapons were made by Indonesian craftsmen and the Philippines Constabulary during the Indonesian uprisings in the Philippines years ago.

Even more than a century ago the Indonesians showed an amazing knowledge of making hard iron and fine tempered steel for their weapons which was evidence of good craftsmanship. Some of the blades show etched patterns as well as the sheaths which have intricately carved designs. The shields also show unusually good workmanship.

CURATOR WITTEBORG, who has done considerable research on the Indonesians, says many weapons similar to those in the FSU display are still being used by the Indonesians today.

The head hunters, he says, were particularly adept in the use of sharp, hard steel blades, waylaying their enemies in the jungles and then displaying the captured heads outside their huts as evidence of their skill, power and prestige among their fellow tribe members.

To make the display more complete and give it added local interest the Museum curator has obtained the loan of a Balanese votive stone figure, about 4½ feet tall, for display with the weapons. The eighteenth century figure, obtained from Frank B. Shaw of the Meridian Plantation, shows a fine degree of artistic talent in its sculpture work.

March of Dimes Receives Volunteer Greek Assistance

Members of Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Mu, and Alpha Lambda Delta have volunteered to aid the Leon County March of Dimes by collecting money in the lobbies of the Florida and State Theaters next week.

The girls will be in the theaters from Monday January 14 through Friday the 18 from 7 to 11 p. m.

THE SORORITY collecting the most money will be awarded two blooms of their choice from Thomasville's Music Store.

The runner-up sorority will receive one album.

The plan to assist in the drive originated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. "This activity will be dedicated to one of our sister's from Miami who contacted polio and died last year," said Jo Ann Gross, sorority president.

ARRAGEMENTS for having the girls solicit funds were made through Ed Rothwell, special events chairman of the Leon County March of Dimes Campaign and Mary Meehan, chairman of theater events.

"These girls will work in the theaters so that little children may walk," says Dr. Judd Chastain, county March of Dimes chairman.

Frosh Recloim Photos

All freshmen who were candidates in the freshman election may pick up their pictures at the Information desk in the Alumni building.

Pictures that aren't claimed during the week will be destroyed

Scores

SOUTHERN					FLA. STATE
	fg	ft	pf	tp		fg	ft	tp
Lapper, f	7	5	4	19	Fincher, f	1	3	5
Pellegrino f	1	0	2	2	Gordon, f	7	6	20
Buck, f	0	0	1	0	Pence, f	0	0	0
Hunter, c	2	1	3	5	Hyatt, c	0	0	0
Mutt, c	6	2	3	14	Albertson, g	2	0	4
Zuber, g	3	5	3	11	Benson, c	0	0	4
Sanders, g	1	0	3	2	Edson, g	0	0	0
Forrest, g	0	0	1	0	Nordstrom, g	2	1	5
					Wilkinson, g	0	0	0
					Wuthrich, g	0	0	0
					Richardson, g	0	0	0
Totals	20	14	20	Totals		21	8	51
Score by periods.
Southern					16	12	13	13—54
Florida State					12	11	6	12—41

Free throws missed—Lapper 2, Fincher, 2, Forrest 2, Hunt, Albertson, Pellegrino, Whitford, Mutt, McLaughlin, Gordon, Benson, Wuthrich, Richardson, Gordon, Benson, Wetheaver, Quinn.

FSU	G	F	PTAMPA	G	F	P
Whitmer, f	4	0	1	Brooks, f	0	0
McLaulin, f	7	0	1	Harrod, f	7	1
Weatherford f	0	0	0	Wilson, f	0	0
Bennett, f	0	0	0	Zaffo, f	0	0
Fincher, a	8	1	1	Grynaski, c	0	1
Quinn, c	1	0	1	Jones, c	0	0
Fincher, g	7	1	1	Monts, g	6	0
Gordon, g	4	0	0	Brown, g	0	0
Totals	32	6	71	Totals	34	13
Score by periods
FSU					14	24
Tampa					20	28

Foul throws missed—Whitmer, Bennett, Benson 2, Fincher, Gordon 2, Tampa: Brooks, Jaroszynski, Monts, Jones, Brown 2.
Officials: Bolden and Crannell.

Series of Seminors On Science to Be Held

A series of seminars, sponsored by the department of chemistry, have been scheduled during January, Dr. Karl Dittmer, department head, has announced.

On Monday, Jan. 21, Raymond A. Lynch, a graduate student in chemistry, will be speaker in a seminar on the subject of "The Biochemical Properties of Avidin," which is a substance contained in the whites of eggs.

RETAILING needs college-trained young people like YOU

as FUTURE EXECUTIVES

Retail is a dynamic profession. It offers as many career possibilities as there are personal interests—merchandising, advertising, fashion, management, personnel, or teaching. One-year graduate program leading to Master's degree combines practical instruction, market contacts, and supervised work experience—with pay—in top New York stores. Programs for Bachelor's degree candidates and non-degree students also.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF RETAILING
100 Washington Square New York 3, N. Y.

Meet Georgia Teachers Five In Local Gym Tomorrow Night

The erratic Florida State University cagers who snapped their twelve game losing streak against Tampa last Tuesday but were edged by Florida Southern 54-51 Wednesday, take on a real toughie here tomorrow night when they meet powerful Georgia Teachers College.

The Professors who have lost only two of 14 starts this year blasted Mercer 101-83 in their last outing.

Coach J. B. Searce's squad is built around three lettermen.—Capt. Frank Clements, Ralph Parsons, and Jim Duncan. Towering Randy Whaley, a 6-foot nine inch center gives the Georgia team plenty of strength under the boards.

THE WIN over Tampa and loar to Florida Southern brought the Seminoles record for the season to one victory against 14 defeats.

A disastrous third period in which Florida scored only six points spelled defeat for the locals in their tilt with Florida Southern.

At the end of the firs quarter Southern was riding an uncomfortable 16-15 lead and in a nip and tuck second canto the Mocs were still on top 28-26.

THEN IN THE fateful third quarter the Southern five tossed in 13 markers while holding the Seminoles to 6. Kennedy's charges tried hard in the final canto however as they added 19 points in a futile attempt to close the gap.

Duane Gordon and veteran Tom McLaughlin had 11 points apiece for the Indians. While Ivy Quinn and Jerry Weatherford had 8 and 7 markers respectively.

Against Tampa the Seminoles had to stave off a determined last period rally by the Spartans to gain their first win of the season.

AT THE END of the first period it appeared as if the FSN cagers were headed for another defeat as the Tampan moved out in front, 19-14.

But by halftime, however, the Indians began to hit from all angles and held a 28-26 lead over the Spartans at the intermission.

In the third period the Tampans caught fire and had pulled up to within two points of the Seminoles by the end of the quarter. The final stanza was nip and tuck all the way. Tampa was a point behind with four minutes left but the Seminoles rallied to win going away.

FOR THE LOCALS, big Duane Gordon who was thrown in the opener against Parris Island and only returned to the lineup last week, jumped in 20 points, while guard Lou Fischer had 17.

Gordon also played a fine game under the backboards along with McLaughlin and Capt. Bob Whitmer.

APO Book Exchonge To Open Exam Week

The Alpha Phi Omega used book exchange will go into operation exam week in Longmire basement to provide a means for the re-sale of used books.

Tommy Bowen will serve as over-all chairman with John Adams, publicity chairman. Jim Turrsville and Jay Ladd, slacks; Jim Lohmeyer, schedule; and Jim Ivy Evans in charge of arrangements.

Patronize Our Advertisers

FSU Gymnasts Even Record With Duke Win

The FSU gymnastics team ended their week long road trip around the East last Wednesday with a 75½-59½ win over the Duke Blue Devils.

The Seminoles who had swamped North Carolina and lost to Army and Navy, upped their season record to 2-2 by virtue of the victory.

Pat Signorelli, who had two firsts and two third places, was the Indians top point man. Signorelli won the side horse and parallel bar events and took third in the high bar and tumbling.

Against the powerful Navy team, the Seminoles were able to gain only one first place—Joe Regnas victory in the side horse.

Again the charges of Dr. Hartley Price were hampered by loss of the Trampoline event. The Trampoline is not used in Eastern Intercollegiate competition.

The summaries:

DUKE MEET

Side horse: 1—Signorelli, 2—Miles, 3—C. Regna.

High bar: 1—J. Regna, 2—Miles, 3—Signorelli.

Parallel bar—Signorelli, 2—Sharp, 4—Miles. FSU 12, Duke 4.

Flying rings: 1—C. Regna, 2—Signorelli, 4—Holder.

Tumbling: 1—Weston, 2—Rubin, 3—Signorelli.

Trampoline: 1—Ireland, 2—Weston.

Rope climb: 1—Sharp, 3—Holder, Duke 9. FSU 7.

NAVY MEET

Side Horse: 1, J. Regna, 3—Signorelli, FSU 2—Navy 7.

High Bar: 1.—Lewis Navy 2—C. Regna, 3—Holder. Navy 9, FSU 7.

Parallel Bars: 1—Lewis Navy 2—C. Regna, 4—J. Regna Navy 11, FSU 8.

Flying Rings: 1—Lewis Navy, 2, Miles, 4—Sharp, 5, Regna. Navy 9, FSU 7.

Tumbling: 1—Graf Navy 2, Outling, Dick, 3. Weslon, Larry 4, Rubin.

Rope Climb. 1—(tie), Wiseman and Crater Navy; 4, Sharp 5—Miles.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT—2-bedroom apt. Electric kitchen. Two blocks from P.S.U. See Phone 2-1580 between 8:30 and 5:30.

PRIVATE ROOM with board. Single or double. 520 Wildwood drive. Phone 2-5-line nights. Ext. 360 during day.

Army ROTC Cadets Receive Promotions

A number of Florida State University cadets enrolled in the Army ROTC basic course have been promoted to private first class, Lt. Col. Cornell D. Booth, Ordnance Officer in charge of the training program, announced.

Those promoted include Robert H. Brown, William H. Brown, David Lanz Jr., Eugene L. Lawler and Harry J. Raymond. William Mahaffey, Guy Argo, Bell Plaine, James W. Berry, Earl R. Chandler Jr., Charles B. Clark, Jerry L. Cook, and William A. Graham.

Also Benny Hamilton, Warmon L. Jones, Jr., Danny E. Morris, H. Tucker, Sherman Schnitzer, Marvin Solomon, Arthur M. Stephens, Mathew J. Sullivan III, and Frank J. Wilson.

Dr. Micks Is Author Of French Textbook

Dr. Wilson Micks, associate professor of French, is the author of a textbook on oral French, Le Francais Tel Qu'on Le Parle, written in collaboration with Jean Mouzat, professor of English at the Lycee Janson de Sailly in Paris.

The book will be published this month in New Directions. It applies to the teaching of spoken French in a new method which has been widely adopted in the French schools for the teaching of English.

Dr. Micks Is Author Of French Textbook

Dr. Wilson Micks, associate professor of French, is the author of a textbook on oral French, Le Francais Tel Qu'on Le Parle, written in collaboration with Jean Mouzat, professor of English at the Lycee Janson de Sailly in Paris.

The book will be published this month in New Directions. It applies to the teaching of spoken French in a new method which has been widely adopted in the French schools for the teaching of English.

CAPTAIN JACK SHARPE (standing) and Jack Miles (on rings) were two of the outstanding performers for the gymnastics team during their record road trips. Miles is National Rings champion while Sharpe is a valuable all around man.

Marine Representative Visits FSU To Enlist Leathernecks

Captain J. W. Donnell of the United States Marine Corps will be at Florida State University Jan. 21 through 23 to enlist men and women students in the Marine platoon leaders class and officers training class.

Freshmen, sophomores and junior men who enroll in the platoon leaders class will attend two summer training periods of six weeks each. Upon graduation from college, they will receive commissions. Until this time they are draft deferred.

COLLEGE seniors and graduates may enlist in the officer candidate course which involves a ten week training period after which they will be commissioned. They will then receive five months of officer schooling.

Undergraduate women can enter the women officers training course. After two summer training periods of six weeks each and graduation from college, they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps and the Marine Corps Reserve.

IN ORDER to enter any of these programs, students must have a photostatic copy of their birth certificate under seal of the office of issue, a statement from college authorities as to academic standing or evidence of graduation from college, two photographs and three letters of recommendation from responsible citizens.

Women under 21 years of age must have a letter of permission from their guardian. Enrollment may be fostered by obtaining these documents.

Interested students may contact Captain Donnell who will be at 403 Longmire during his stay here.

Pre-Doctoral Students Receive Fellowships

Two Florida State University pre-doctoral students have been awarded Atomic Energy Commission fellowships for the 1951-1952 school year.

Boris Gutheznh and Ernest Grunwald, both of New York, received the fellowships awarded to those deemed unusually promising for atomic energy work.

Let Us Service Your Pride and Joy

Moat's Trailway Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-8619

GET THE FACTS ABOUT Diamonds BY ASKING YOUR Registered Jeweler

Why take chances when you step out to buy her diamond. Instead of trying to guess the quality and value of diamonds by comparing size and price, we suggest that you accept this invitation to come in for a talk about diamonds.

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY OF GARNETS—JANUARY BIRTHSTONE

Our Terms Will Please You

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
Hampton Duo Diary

TALLAHASSEE QUINCY

Justin McCarty

JUSTIN McCARTY sculptures a travel-into-Fall suit to merge with your coat a little later . . . emerge for Spring in happy fashion, with the jacket curved and carved of a clean, clear woven stripe (the puch line, we might add!) The skirt of Coronet rayon gabardine sword-slim, with trouser tucks in front, is ready to "double in brass" at a moment's notice . . . with your favorite blouse or sweater. Black, brown

P. W. WILSON & CO.

Journalism Class Has Interview With Circuit Court Judge

A new program for advertising majors has been announced by Deans J. Frank Dame of the School of Business and Laurence R. Campbell, dean of the School of Journalism.

The program is designed to meet the needs of students planning a career in journalism who are working for bachelor's degrees in either the School of Business or the School of Journalism. Students in each school will continue to meet specific requirements of the school, including the basic core of courses.

Basic professional requirements in the School of Business include courses in accounting, business law, economics, management, marketing, statistics and typewriting.

Journalism students take 11 semester hours of work in these courses. These are basic reporting, editing for press and radio, press and public opinion, end history o' press and radio in the United States.

Students in both schools will take a minimum of 18 semester hours in approved marketing or journalism courses dealing specifically with advertising.

Treasurer Addresses Administration Class

J. Edwin Larson, state treasurer of Florida since 1941, spoke to a class in public administration recently on the operations and responsibilities of his state office.

Dance Group

(Continued from Page 1)

The second consumed of eight dances showing the dramatic relationship between the music and the dancer.

SPECIAL praise goes to Charles Reimer for his excellent lighting effects that enhanced and did not take away from the simple expressiveness of the dances.

Also, Pat Hampton and Joyce Cox must be praised for their costume designs that were so perfectly suited to the mood and movement of each dance.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Greeks Are Busy With Nominations For Tally-Ho's 'Miss F. S. U.'

By MARCIA MORRIS
Society Editor

Alpha Delta Pi activities and pledges held a coke party at the house Thursday afternoon. An open house will be held Sunday night for all fraternities. Ann Warren represented A D Pi in the "Miss" P.S.U. contest sponsored by Tally Ho.

Guest speaker at the Alpha Gamma Delta house last Monday night was Mr. David Skipper, Counselor for Rehabilitation Projects. Tallahassee alumni also attended the meeting, and afterwards served refreshments. The Alpha Gams are in charge of collecting money for the March of Dimes this week at the Florida Theatre.

The Alpha Omicrnen Pi's will hold their annual Rose Ball on January 19 at the Tallahassee Country Club, in celebration of A. O. Pi weekend. The Theme of the dance is "A O Pi Life A Melody". At this time senior members will be honored at senior presentation. Friday night a costume party will be given at the house. Members and their dates will dress to represent different song titles.

Newly elected officers of Alpha Omicron Pi are Peggy Moore, president; Rosemary Smith, vice president; Kay Harding, corresponding secretary; Peggy Tyler, treasurer; and Kitty Putman, recording secretary. Edyth Skipper was the A O Pi entry in the "Miss F.S.U. contest.

Kappa Delta actives and pledges spent last weekend at Camp Flacawa, leaving Saturday afternoon and returning on Sunday.

A spaghetti supper was held at the Phi Mu house Monday night, after which singing was enjoyed by all.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Pearl, patrons of the sorority, and Miss P'Simmer, Kappa Advisor.

Pi Beta Phi pledges were given a surprise party by actives at the house Friday night. At this time a skit entitled "Member For A Day," depicting the trials and tribulations of pledge life, was presented, after which refreshments were served.

Chi Omegans were serenaded by the Phi Kappa Alpha's Wednesday night when Dora Ann Godwin, Pi K A "Dream Girl" of the South was presented a sweetheart pin.

New officers of Kappa Sigma fraternity are John Latzner, Grand Master; George Bowers, Grand Procurator; Bill Henson, Grand Treasurer; Paul Knepper and Dick Lapp, Guards; Garland Stokes, IFC representative; Fred Hodges, Jr. IPT representative, and Bob Rowlett, social chairman. On Friday the Kappa Sigs entertained their dates and rushees with a party and square dance at Silver Lake Lodge. This past Thursday Kappa Sigs were given an informal party at the Tri Delta House.

Phi Delta Thetas, who have recently moved into their ne'w house, are entertaining with a sweater dance at the house Saturday night. Paul C. Beam, Executive Secretary of the fraternity will visit the chapter January 24 and 25. Beth Melson was sponsored by Phi Delt for the Tally Ho beauty contest.

Friday night, members of the Delta Delta Delta will entertain 34 boys from Turner Air Base in Albany, Georgia. Kappa Sigs were guests of the Tri Delts at the house Thursday night, Diane Van Dusen is a candidate for the Tally Ho contest.

Alpha Xi Deltas held a Mother-Daughter party on Sunday afternoon. Saturday night the pledges took over the house for a spend the night party.

Graves to be

(Continued from Page 3)

instructor in political science at both the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University and was department head at the latter. He has also taught at Duke University, University of Texas, Pennsylvania State College, and Alabama and Cornell Universities.

His career includes service as a consultant to the Board of State Governments, Academic Advisory Group, Joint State Government Commission; civilian member of the United States Naval Manpower Survey; member of the Commission on the Delaware River Basin, and state law secretary, senior specialist of the Legislative Reference Service in the Library of Congress.

Smoke Signals

(Continued from Page 1)

need to look up in order to protect itself.

those persons society has found average prison I.Q. The editor points out that he soon learned to "steer clear of prison averages —average I. Q.'s, average length of sentence, average amount of mail received.—as having no bearing on any individual." He says further, "so long as we are so readable comprehensively as Readers Digest, we'll settle for that segment of our circulation who are able to follow us. Being noncommercial we can afford to do this . . ."

There are those who may argue that since Smoke Signals carries paid advertising, this will account for the difference in magazines as Signals must worry about the feelings of their advertisers—I can hardly imagine businesses such as the Mecca and the Laundromat insisting on controlling the editorial policies of Smoke Signals.

THE REASON why prisoners are turning out a better magazine than college students is not because they have better material from which to draw contributions or more money to spend, it is because their aims are higher. Raiford's inmates are actively interested in supporting and turning out a good magazine.

The blame for Smoke Signals is not entirely with its editors. They are probably honestly tryine to please the students who have indicated that they want a humor magazine.

The fault is basically with the students who have failed to support, and refused to contribute anything better than what has been printed. It is a sad thing when the "intellectual best" of young America is put to shame by make his choice from the 20 pictures.

Beauty Contest

(Continued from Page 1)

THE WINNING coed will be officially crowned Miss FSU and will lead the beauty section of the year's Tally-Ho. The top 20 beauties will also be featured in the beauty section.

The submitted photo must be accompanied by the candidate's name class and address, and the name of the group sponsoring her.

Up to this date, only 25 entrants have been submitted. They are Marjorie Mecklstroth, Phi Mu; Marilyn Linzo, Delta Zeta; Carolyn Johnson, Wesley Foundation; Kathleen Toole, Kappa Delta; Carolyn Hadden, Gyrnkana; Edythe Skipper, Alpha Omicron Pi; Bobbie Pettit, Kappa Alpha Theta; and June Conyers, Cavaliers.

ALSO ENTERED are Juliet Peacock, Alpha Gamma Delta; Jean Laffitte, Chi Omega; Charlotte Oldham, Pi Beta Phi; Ruthie Garst, Sigma Kappa; Diane Van Dusen, Delta Delta Delta; Kay DeHaven, North Cawthon; Dorothy Robertson, Alpha Chi Omega; Evie Carter, Gamma Phi Beta; Nancy Munt, DGelta Gamma; Anne Yates, Zeta Tau Alpha; June Morgan, Flambeau; Marianne Gillen, Village Vamps; Doris Ann Kittrell, FSU Circus; Judy Sills, Delta Tau Delta; Elizabeth Cooke.

Judging will take place in the near future.

DORM DOINGS

Honor Week Teas Head Activity List

North and South Cawthon combined forces last Wednesday for an Honor Emphasis Week tea. They had as their guests the men from Manning Hall, Jackie Putnam and Betty Sue Fryer were the two guest speakers. Later on during the tea, Alice Peacock, accompanied by Imogene McHall, sang for the guests.

Saturday night in Landis Hall, there will be a dance, with music by Jerry Melvin and his orchestra. Guest speaker at the Honor Tea last Wednesday was June Tale.

The Graduate Club met last night in Broward Hall. Wednesday was the scene of their last regular tea for this semester.

Gilchrist Hall entertained the faculty with a formal reception last night. Penny Dame has been elected new vice-president of the dorm.

Tomorrow night Reynolds will present its annual Starlight Dance in the Alumni Building. Mary Ann Morgan is the chairman for this event.

Byron had as guest speaker at their Honor Tea, Joan McMillan.

Nancy Day spoke on the Honor System at the tea in Jennie Murphree last Wednesday.

All the dormitory members are invited to attend the refresher teas to be held in their respective dorms at "light-fiash" during exam week.

Chain Manager Gives Grocery Background

An historic background of grocery chain stores in their policies to meet changing conditions was given students in business educa- tion recently by M. R. Self, Sr., district manager of Winn-Le- ett chain grocery stores.

ALL THE FLATTERY . . .
ALL THE COMFORT
ALL THE RICH COLORS

To Make These Low Heel Sandals the Sensations They Are, Black

Purple
Red
Brown
Multicolor

$8.95

Fox

Turner's

Pennell Will Head

Leading a campus-wide campaign for Dan McCarty is Will Pennell, newly elected chairman of the Dan McCarty for Governor Club.

Pennell, along with vice-chairmen Bob Ryals and Georgy Gnann, was elected at the organizational meeting of the club, Wednesday night in Longmire Lounge.

Valentine Cards and Valentine Candy

COME IN AND SEE OUR ASSORTMENT OF VALENTINE CARDS AND CANDIES.

Malone's Co-op Bookstore

"WE . . . BUY . . . USED . . . BOOKS"

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU INHALE?

50? 100? 200?

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . . 200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

LISTEN IN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
103 S. Monroe

Stetson President To Address February Graduates

Florida Flambeau

Registration Fees To Be Raised 25 Dollars

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 27 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, January 22, 1952

Ollie Edmunds Will Speak At Graduation Exercises

232 Candidates to Receive Degrees In Music Hall Auditorium on Feb. 2

Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson University in DeLand, will be commencement speaker at Florida State University Feb. 2.

President Doak S. Campbell has announced that 232 candidates will receive degrees at the exercises set for 4:30 p.m. in the Music Hall auditorium. Rehearsal for the exercise will be Feb. 1 at 3:30 p.m.

THE COMMENCEMENT speaker has been president of John B. Stetson University since 1948. He had received his A. B. and LLB and LLD degrees

Dr. Edmunds was admitted to the Florida Bar in 1927 and practiced in DeLand from 1927 until 1944, from 1931 until 1944, he served as Judge of the Duval County Court in Jacksonville and in a private practice there from 1944 until he accepted the presidency at Stetson.

THE STETSON president holds membership in the National Education Association, American Library Society, National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Florida and Jacksonville Bar associations. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity and Delta Sigma Phi honorary.

To be eligible for graduation, one must be present.

All students graduating in February may be allotted three invitations to the mid-winter formals to the music hall instead of the two originally distributed. Tickets will be given out during the dress rehearsal Saturday at 4:30. Students attending the rehearsal will receive tickets.

Autumn theme in mind. Members of the honor committee were also speakers at this time.

Of much skill, "Can Honor Be Legislated?" was sponsored by Bill Hornaday. Ginger Fuchs, assistant professor of speech edited the

The Honor Code was explained in a special program over WFSU, a local radio station. Thursday night.

Collegians" Plan Campus Serenade Thursday at 11 P.M.

The Collegians, Florida state university's Glee Club, will serenade the campus dormitories and sororities Thursday at 11 p. m.

The serenade will follow a program they are presenting before the Tallahassee Woman's club.

Last Sunday the Collegians sang the afternoon program of old favorites, popular hit tunes and spirituals at the Federal correctional Institute. Arrangements were made through George Bunn, music director of the institution, for inmates in group singing.

The Collegians will perform Friday night at the banquet of press persons attending the second annual newspaper conference. A variety of music will be presented.

Men students interested in joining the Men's Glee club second quarter are invited to attend an rehearsals this week, director Dorlon Smith has announced. Open rehearsals will be held at 7 in Wednesday and Friday in 73 Music building.

Membership next semester is limited and is tentative 50 members.

Blood Type Cards To Be Mailed Soon

Blood cards for students who are a type of blood in the campus-wide drive last December will be mailed the first of next week, Cliff Gridley, chairman, has been informed.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith, director of the Jacksonville Blood bank, which procured the blood, stated the cards would be delivered to the Flambeau office. In care of the Flambeau editor.

Benches Received

One hundred new stone benches are being placed at points on campus from "Senior hall to Doak Campbell Stadium," business manager said. Director of the campus radio station WFSU are shown at work remodeling All the park benches should be in place within the next week or two, the business manager said. their broadcasting studios located on the top floor of the Alumni building. (Flambeau photo)

Contest Entries Due Friday

Caniff Will Choose 20 For Tally-Ho Beauties

"Friday at noon will be the last deadline for campus organizations to enter their queen in the Tally-Ho contest," Tally-Ho Editor Gail Albritton has announced.

The twenty top beauties will be selected Saturday morning by the judges.

ALL CAMPUS groups may turn in a print of their entrant to the information desk Alumni building or the Tally-Ho office, fourth floor claim building.

The print does not have to be glossy or standard size but snap shots will not be accepted.

Milton Caniff, famous cartoonist, will select the most appealing model for the Tally-Ho beauty section. The top twenty will have their picture taken by Prime Beaudoin, who won first place last year for his photography of women in the Florida Photographers Association annual contest.

THE WINNING coed will be officially crowned Miss FSU and will lead the beauty section of this year's Tally-Ho. The top twenty beauties will also be featured in the beauty section.

The submitted photo must be accompanied by the candidate's name, class, end address, and the name of the group sponsoring her.

THERE HAVE been 31 entrants to date.

They are Marjorie Meckstroth, Phi Mu; Marilyn Lingo, Delta Zeta; Carolyn Johnson, Wesley Foundation; Kathleen Toole, Kappa Delta; Carolyn Hadden, Gymkana; Edythe Skipper, Alpha Omicron Pi; Bobbie Pettit, Kappe Alpha Theta; and June Conyers, Cavaliers.

ALSO ENTERED are Juliet Pocock, Alpha Gamma Delta; Jean Laffite, Chi Omega; Charlotte Oldham, Pi Beta Phi; Ruthie Grant, Sigma Kappa; Diane Vaudoen, Delta Delta Delta; Kay Davidson, North Carolina Club; Betty Robertson, Alpha Chi Omega; Evie Carter, Gamma Phi Beta; Nancy Mutz, Delta Delta Delta; Anne Yates, Zeta Tau Alpha; Anne Moran, Flambeau; Marianne Gillen, Village Vamps; Doris Ann Kittrell, FSU Circus; Judy Ellis, Zeta Tau Delta; Elizabeth Cooke, Judy Bond, Joyce Smith, Patsy Gates, Phoebe Kopus; Donna Lou Harper, Kappa Sigma. Ann Werren, Alpha Delta Pi; and Dora Ann Godwin, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Monroe Show Climaxes Slate For Sandspur

No comment has been received on the possibility of students attending the Vaughn Monroe broadcast which is scheduled as a climax to the fourth annual Sandspur dance Feb. 23.

Tickets for the dance and the show will go on sale around Feb 10, Glenn Bentley, business manager of Sandspur has announced.

BETTY RICH and Ted Steinmeyer are student representatives to the Artist Series committee. The Artist Series is underwriting the half-hour salute to Florida State over the Camel Caravan Monroe's show.

Student admission to the dance will be $2 a person or $3 a couple.

Originally scheduled at 7:30 p. m. over the Columbia Broadcasting program the radio broadcast will now be presented at 10 p. m. EST over National Broadcasting Company.

THE RADIO show was originally scheduled in the Music auditorium but after campus in the works hes resulted in a change in location.

Students will be admitted to the show only if they buy a ticket to the dance. Rules of NBC demand that all those in the Suwannee room where the broadcast will originate be cleared 15 minutes before the show starts.

THE SHOW end dance will be broadcast over 10 stations in Florida and over 170 stations across the United States.

Vaughn Monroe, nationally known star of radio, television and motion pictures, will feature the FSU Alme Mater and Fight Song.

Previous controversy over the Artist Series underwriting of the Sandspur dance has been explained by Len Mellon, dance committee chairman.

"THE UNDERWRITING is more or less a bond to support the season receipts," stated Len "If 2,000 students are admitted to the dance at $3 a person, this will cover the expense."

Monroe has been signed for the one and one-half hour broadcast for $4,000. This includes his 28-piece orchestra, the Moon-Dreamers, the Mooney Comedy Team, Zinny Yelen and probably a special singer.

SANDSPUR HAS transferred $500 to the Artist Series fund to help underwrite the show, they reminded. Some sale of tickets, Betty Rich and Ted Steinmeyer, student representatives on the Artist Series committee, have stated they are in favor of the Artist Series underwriting the dance and broadcast even if slow ticket sales result in a loss.

English Dept. To Move East Over Holidays

Lambda Chi House Is New Department Site According to Board

The English department will move to East campus between semesters because of an approval by the Board of Control last week.

This decision was made after the Board of Control approved the release of the Andrews house on Cat street for their use. The Andrews house is the former Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house.

THIS MOVE was made for "the greater efficiency of the staff and students" Dr. W. T. Cash, head of the English department, stated yesterday.

Advance courses will all be held on East campus next semester if possible. Sophomore literature may be continued to be held on the West campus and all freshman courses will remain on the West campus.

NEW SCHEDULES will be mimeographed and distributed to students before registration, Dean Edwin R. Walker of the College of Arts and Sciences stated today.

The new English department will have 18 rooms for office space for the 41 faculty members.

The advanced courses will be held throughout East campus.

THE ENGLISH department moved to the main campus in the spring of 1949, the deanf of the College of Arts and Sciences said.

When asked if this move would not be a great inconvenience to the English students and staff members replied that they thought it no more an inconvenience for them to move back than for students to have to ride to and from campus as they do now.

Students who have formerly found difficulty in scheduling English courses on the half hour will find this difficulty removed, he explained.

Orchestra Concert Scheduled At 8 Thursday Night

The Florida State University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Robert N. Sedore, will present their first concert of the season Thursday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Music hall. The public is invited to attend.

The University Symphony is celebrating its twenty-fifth year. This season, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sedore, has planned several special concerts in honor of this event.

SINCE ITS formation in 1926, the orchestra has grown from a small instrumental group to a full symphonic organization with complete instrumentation, a genuine feature among college symphonies.

Robert Sedore conductor of the symphony, has violin in amateur and professional orchestras throughout the country, and has conducted choral and instrumental groups for many years. During World War II he was orchestra and band director of the Navy Training School at Hartford University, native of Kenosha, he taught at Baker University and at the University of Idaho before coming to FSU.

AN UNUSUAL feature of the program will be the performance of two musical works based on Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." They will be the Overture-Fantasia by Tchaikosky, which is a musical depiction of the famous love story, and the Suite from Serge Prokofiev's ballet "Romeo and Juliet."

The concert will also include the Carnaval overture of Dvorak, a work depicting the gaiety of the festive season in Europe which culminates in Mardi Gras; and Matinees Musicales, e suite of five movements by Benjamin Britten, arranged from tunes by Rossini.

Dead Week Abolished

In last week's University council meeting. the council voted to abolish dead week before final exams.

However, they added to this motion the vote that organizations be asked not to make attendance at any function or meeting compulsory the week before exams.

Board of Control Issues Important Statements

Priority Clears For New Dorm

Florida State University has cleared its priority for steel to be used in the proposed 11-story dormitory, President Doak S. Campbell reported before a meeting of the State Board of Control.

As a result, the university will receive the long-awaited construction metal sometime during the next three months, probably in February. The Virginia Bridge company has been contracted to supply the steel, which will be railed in on the university track.

CONSTRUCTION will continue on the proposed 11-story dormitory as soon as the steel arrives. A cluster of re-enforced piles have already been driven 50 or 60 feet beneath the ground, and foundations have been laid.

The new president also announced that the new Demonstration school end Geology building will be started in the spring of the next future.

THE BOARD approved releasing the Andrews house on Cat street for use of the FSU English department. The former fraternity house will be transformed into offices for the English staff.

The Jacob Dewey Werner building has been approved as the new home for the Werner who was for many years the assistant director of the station.

Music Hall Offers 3 Student Recitals

Three public recitals by students of the School of Music will be offered in the Music hall this week Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. Richard Jacobs will present a graduate recital in piano. Mrs. Gerry Silva will accompany Mrs. Jacobs. A student of Francisek Zachara, associate professor in piano.

Lorraine Noiiage, and Hilde Hamilton, contralto, will present a joint recital Friday evening at 8:15 p. m. Miss Noiiage is a student of Mary Winslow, associate professor of piano. Mrs. Gerry Silva will accompany Miss Hamilton. A student of Ella Hamilton is a student of Prof. Herman Zander, Jr., assistant professor of voice.

The recital on Saturday at 8:15 p. m. will feature Gene Parris, soprano, and Viola Mendese, pianist. Miss Parris is a student of Prof Gunter, will be accompanied by Eugenia Williams. Miss Mendese is a piano student of Prof Zachara.

VOICE FOR GRADUATES?

Graduates Should Have Little or No Voice In UGA, According to Poll

Should graduate students be allowed to take an active part in FSU's student government?

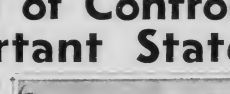
A poll of this and more campuses throughout the United States operating their doors of government to graduate students, interest in this issue has been steadily increasing at FSU.

When asked for their opinions on the matter, several campus leaders picked at random had the following to say:

Margaret Krasemann: I am opposed to having graduate students take an active part in the government, mainly because I don't believe they would have the necessary time to devote. I do think they would have the interest, however.

Patti Mims: If there were a large number interested, the superiority of their years and experience might give them an edge over the undergraduate. thus taking a student government away from the undergraduate. For this reason, I am not in favor of letting graduate take part.

Mary Ruth Summers: I believe that graduate students should be allowed to vote, but I do not believe that they should be allowed to hold major offices.



Eunice Thompson: No! Because of great experience they would tend to dominate the government.

Will Pennell: I do not think it would be fair to the undergraduates to allow graduate students to take an active part in the student government. Even though an undergraduate obtaining a high office would be very small, and since most students never get to graduate school, they would be deprived of the opportunity of serving in high government capacities.

Jo Nell Proctor: I believe that by letting graduate students take an active part in our student government, we would raise the quality of the government. We must decide which is more important, that the undergraduate be given a chance to take part in student government or that we achieve a stronger government.

Ed Black (graduate student): Although personally I am not in favor of graduates holding key positions, I do not believe that the opportunity to participate should be denied them if they are interested and can spare the time. I would estimate, however, that only a very small per cent would be interested in taking part in student government. I definitely think that graduates should be given a voice on matters affecting spending activities since we invest so much money into the school. As it is now, we have no say as to how our money is spent.

Marion Dora (graduate student): Graduates should be allowed to participate, yes; but only in cases wherein they are effected. We are entirely unrepresented at present. I am opposed to graduates holding general student offices. Government as such belongs to the undergraduate students.

PROGRESS AT LAST—Building materials are beginning to pile up for the research laboratory addition to the already-busy main dormitory. Progress was held up because of difficulty with steel priorities.

Tennessee Student Terminates FSU Honor Week With Speech

Honor week culminated last Friday with a speech on the honor system of the University of the South by Jerome Wade Stallings from the Tennessee campus.

Approximately 100 students were present to hear his outline of a workable system involving an extensive orientation program and student enthusiasm for its success.

THE FINAL meeting closed with a reformation ceremony. President Doak S. Campbell represented the faculty, end University Government president, Will Pennell, vouched for student cooperation.

The assembly then joined in the statement of the Florida State University Honor Code.

Highlight of the all-day observation was the panel led by Allan Head. Wednesday in the Alumni building auditorium.

THE PANEL succeeded in isolating the major problem of the honor system which they hasted to say: lack of student cooperation, knowledge deficiencies concerning the examination laws and machinery, and inequalities of punishments.

They suggested that the administration handle Honor Court cases only on an appelete basis, distinction be made as to the courts jurisdiction, and that court discretion as to penalties be limited.

ZOE RENTZ, chairman of the Honor Committee, led the planning committee that arranged the extensive schedule of honor observance activities last week.

TY WEAR was prefaced by a series of preliminary talks at girls' dorm and sorority house meetings.

Honor Emphasis week began Sunday Jan. 13 when the local churches cooperated by emphasizing honor in their sermons.

Tuesday night was the first of official meeting scheduled. Topic for discussion was "The Part That Faculty and Students Play in Our Honor System."

WEEKLY Wednesday dormitory

Continued on Page Three

Book Exchange To be Opened

Alpha Phi Omega book exchange will reopen Jan. 28-Feb. 1 in the Longmire basement for the sale of used books.

The book exchange hours will be from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

SET UP last year by the junior class, the exchange progressed under the efforts of present senior class vice-president, Shirley Gregory, who founded the exchange into operation.

The used book exchange will require mainly for the listening of books next week. Students will be more interested in the selection of the books after registration in Feb. when the exchange will be open again.

STUDENTS WILL be able to sell and procure old texts at reasonably reduced rates. The president will set the price for his book. For every book exceeding one dollar, the buyer and seller will contribute a 10-cent fee. For books under one dollar a 5-cent fee will be paid by each.

Students will be given receipts or certificates with each book. They will present this certificate at the end of the operation of before. If the book is sold, they will receive their money, if not, the book will be returned to the owner.

THE ALPHA PHI Omega service fraternity took over the exchenge this year after backing the junior class project last year. Committee chairman is Tommy

Continued on Page Three

$25 Fee Hike Gets Approval

Student registration fees will be raised $25 per semester next fall and most university personnel will receive salary increases effective Feb. 1, following action by the State Board of Control on Friday.

The student fee boost is not entirely for activity funds as was recommended by local paper Friday, but represents $2 extra for activities and $23 for other charges. The official breakdown on these latter fees is as yet not available at this business meagen's office.

PRESIDENT Doak S. Campbell, who pieced the fee hike proposal before the Board, listed three reasons for the increase.

The Faculty Budget committee the Student Budget committee and the Student Executive Council had approved it unanimously. The fee had been kept low with rising costs in the past few years and it is necessary to keep fees approximately the same as those of the University of Florida.

The pay increase comes at a time which Dr. Campbell called "almost critical." Many of the faculty has left the university already for higher paying jobs with the government and in civil enterprises.

THE NEW WAGES represent an over-all increase of about 5 per cent, but it is not a blanket one. Individual adjustments will be taken into consideration and administrative heads where necessary. Board Secretary William F. Powers said this would include "the smallest of the economists."

It will take about $78,810 to pay for the increase for the remainder of the academic year but Campbell pointed out that no money can be transferred from funds already released by the budget committee.

The student-faculty budget committee's suggested increase changes in the salaries were as recorded below.

SMOKE SIGNALS wants a 15c increase. This would make total amount received from the students $3 a year. The budget of Smoke Signals was cut two years ago from $1 to 85c and is returning to former status.

The Flambeau, which used to put out one issue a week, 25 a week, and now puts out a semi-weekly newspaper for $2.20 per student from the fees, will get a 30c increase. This will make a total of $2.50.

THE UNIVERSITY camp will receive an increase of 50c to make a total of $2.50.

The band will receive an increase of 50c per student a total of 80c from each student.

Athletics, which went into the red" last year will also receive a $1 increase from each student.

"It cost us $25,000 minimum if we bring Georgia Tech here next year," said Culpepper, announcing a inquiry on this increase.

THE STUDENT Alumni building, which is entirely supported by student activity fees, will receive an increase of 50c per student. This will make student activity appropriation total $4.

Student Senators will receive 25c per student more to make a total of 50c.

The final $1 increase will be used for the reserve fund to augment appreciation to emphasize that have not requested increase and to meet emergencies.

The student activity fee will be $1 less than the University of Florida whose request for a $5 increase was approved by the board of control at their last meeting.

Library Rooks Due During Next Week

Students, including graduate students, must return library books on or before Wednesday Jan. 30, assistant librarian Florence Bethea has announced.

An additional charge of 25c per book will be made for each book not returned by this date since library records must be cleared at the close of the semester.

During the week between semesters the library will be open part-time. Hours of opening are posted in the library.

Does Paper Sensationalize Teacher Education Debate?

The following guest editorial, written by a graduate student in education, is in answer to two editorials appearing in recent issues of the Flambeau.

I am an "education major" and regard the editor of this paper as a friend. I have never had an occasion to question his sincerity or honesty, either as a friend or as an editor. Nor am I doing so now. I shall regret having written this only if the readers misconstrue what I have to say or conclude that my faith in the integrity of our editor has been destroyed by a recent editorial.

I, and those "education majors" with whom I have discussed the "JOHN Q TEACHER" editorial (Flambeau, Tuesday, Jan. 8), fail to recognize in it anything of merit other than somewhat skillful handling of a "device" known as journalistic sensationalism.

As "education majors" we are not nearly as concerned about WHAT our editor has stated as we are about how he stated it. In our editor's use of this journalistic sensationalism, we do recognize the possible danger of an error of this type by instilling in the mind of even one of our readers a false concept of an integral part of the American system of education, namely, Teacher Training. And, if there is anything good prospect to the teaching profession is lost because an editor for his own practical reasons makes use of a journalistic device which can reasonably convey a meaning the editor is misusing a precious freedom. He fails to recognize and carry out a corresponding responsibility: that of printing the whole truth. We sound serious—we are serious.

In a comparatively short period of time, young democratic America has traveled a long, long road in the realm of education. It has met and successfully solved seemingly insurmountable internal and external problems which would have crushed older and wiser nations. Young America stands on the horizon of a new era with courage and confidence and faces newer and more terrifying problems with unflinching determination. Surely our editor would not deny that the American system of education, although it may not be sole cause of this MIRACLE OF AMERICA, it must necessarily have played an important role in bringing it about, since the people responsible for it are the products of this system. And our editor would have us junk our present system and blindly embrace a new and untried system called the "Arkansas Experiment." Why? Because, like all professions, (including journalism), the system in use today has its racketeers, quacks, pseudos and money-lovers. Don't we need a better reason than that?

Perhaps it is a blessing that all of us do not possess the ability to penetrate too deeply beneath the social structure of the society in which we live. Those who do are often permitted to see things as they are in relation to past, present and future. The potential danger of such an ability does not necessarily rest in what these individuals see, but in their interpretation of what they see. The fullness of reality is doubtfully a beautiful thing! But if some of its aspects are considered isolated from the whole, reality can and often does have a frightful effect upon the observer.

Each of us seems to possess this tendency, and for some mysterious reason, we in a university are more apt to yield without malice to this propensity—interpreting and judging the whole in terms of one aspect which we have observed. This is not a thing to become alarmed over.

This working of a "two-bit" jigsaw puzzle from a five-cent store, by which to fit and arrange a piece of information into its proper place, requires self-restraint and patience, and a certain amount of trial and error.

If the pieces fail to fit as we think it should we do not demand a refund, or request a prism term for the manufacturer. As a rule, we toss the whole picture on the cover and try again.

What action is demanded in the Flambeau editorial? It says in effect, "The present educational system is wrong. Here is my opinion?) because of the insincerity and dishonesty of an extremely small percentage of its professional members. Throw it out! Replace the present system with the bold ARKANSAS EXPERIMENT."

committee are responsible for conducting and supervising the polls and counting of ballots.

They proof-read all ballots for mistakes and see that names appear on the ballots as they are turned in for qualification of candidacy.

The Election Committee provides for as many precincts as they deem necessary. This includes a major precinct in Westcott, the Dining Hall, and West Campus.

The committee decides all policy on campaigning on campus. All students distributing literature or posting campaign signs must follow the rules of the Election Committee.

The general election dates are designated by the Committee for publication in the Fow Wow.

Publicity on approaching elections and rules governing the elections and conduct of candidates is distributed by the members of the Election Committee.

● THE GUIDE

The student governments of many universities throughout the United States are dominated by graduate students. Law students at the University of Florida are widely recognized as the guiding force behind Gator politics. The situation is repeated at many other institutions of higher learning.

It is the opinion of some that FSU is depriving itself of a stronger and more efficient government by denying its graduate students the right to participate therein.

In this issue, the Flambeau has printed the opinions of some of FSU's campus leaders on this subject.

● AN "HONOR" YEAR!

Honor Emphasis Week is over. But honor is not something a person can pull out and wear only for a week. Despite the fact that there are a number of days especially set aside to think about it, honor has to be a year-round quality, or there is no honor.

The Honor Code which we have set up at Florida State University must be remembered throughout all our university life. It is important that we adhere to honest, truthful living in all we do here.

For man is responsible not so much to an Honor Code as he is to himself. He should think high enough of the gift of life to give it is due respect.

● FLUNKING OUT?

(Editor's Note: The following editorial is the second in a series of three articles of study tips to be printed in the Flambeau. The suggestions are being offered by Mortar Board as an aid for study and as an effort to promote scholarship, one of the three ideals of the honorary. Clip the series for reference).

YOUR READING SKILL IS IMPORTANT. There are numerous ways of improving reading skill. Try to train yourself to read more rapidly—at least 200 words per minute. Grasp the thought of the material with concentrated attention. Stop frequently to recall essential ideas read. Acquire the habit of looking for essentials.

Test your reading ability at intervals. Learn words of how to spell them. In doing this, pronounce the words correctly, recall them with eyes closed and verify the recall of the word. Often write, speak, and use new words. Acquire yourself the dictionary habit for all unknown meanings and spellings.

ASSOCIATIONS ARE IMPORTANT IN STUDYING. Associate ideas in the new lessons with things you already know. Used learned ideas in conversation and thought. Make a preliminary survey of the main points, reading, introductory paragraphs and summary before reading a chapter in detail. Write down in your own words the main idea in each paragraph or page.

Begin taking notes in ink and reciting to yourself to see how much you have learned. Recall the learned material to your mind frequently. Pay strict attention in class and to fifty-fifty proportioning. Learn to assume your share of responsibility for making a worthwhile class. It is stimulating for the teacher as well as students.

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the fourth in a series of editorials explaining the University Executive Council standing committees.

The next article will be on the student budget sub committee, of the finance Committee. The series will be resumed second semester.

The function of the Election Committee is to handle all elections under the jurisdiction of the University Government Association.

Headed by Harriet Paul, members of this

BEHIND THE IVY

MORE SUGGESTIONS NEEDED IN FORUM

By BOB TIPPINS

The student forum could well accomplish something toward gaining student confidence in the Honor Code if its suggestions are adopted. The main trouble is that there were not enough suggestions.

The idea of allowing the student to appeal to the administration and of restricting any interest group from serving long overdue. Adoption of this proposal would do away with the skeptical (or which I am one) that the Honor Court is a student dictatorship. The (students would be protected against unfair decisions and unfair punishments.

Yes, I am trying to live within the letter, not the spirit, of the law. As long as we persist in calling our system of preventing dishonesty one of honor, I plan to live with the letter—if at all. I contend that no honor code can exist if honor cannot be legislated. Morals, ethics and standards of integrity are individual matters varying from one person to the other. In fact, they vary persons whose standards of honor, whose moral philosophies are the same.

Turning our police system into an obligation of honor in the name changes the essential fact that we are merely trying to protect ourselves against dishonest and dishonorable persons, nor does it increase the moral responsibility placed upon the student. It is not kept by any other name smells as sweet."

As for punishment, the person who would injure us either through stealing or his sub-heading cheating, we have paid policemen. When those policemen, the administration, faculty, and campus police, place the responsibility of detecting and reporting dishonest actions on the students, by deputizing us, in effect, then, as a student, shall I consider it my duty to take positive action. I shall then turn the matter over to the proper authorities and shall leave to them the task of correcting the situation. I shall not defender. Until then, I consider it dishonorable to inform on my fellowmen.

It seems to me that our present honor system is little more than an attempt of a few, those who legislate and administer the regulations, to impose upon the masses their collective interpretations of virtue, honor and integrity.

Since everyone has a different conception of what is honorable and what isn't, in varying degrees, it follows that honor, as such, cannot be legislated, legislated and superviced.

One young female proponent of the Honor Code asserted that she would not hesitate to report her roommate for any infraction of the University regulations (after first discussing the offense with the roommate, of course). However, when confronted as to whether she would report said roommate for violation of a regulation of which she disapproved, she hedged, but said, "No! That isn't a fair rule and shouldn't be in the regulations anyway." Seems that it's all relative.

This I humbly submit as the basis for the Honor System Honor System trick. Yours for a more effective honesty system and considerable more individuals.

SEMINOLE SCENES

REMEMBER: NO POOL HALLS IN HEAVEN!

By FRANCES CAWTHON

You are standing on the corner waiting for a sarnet and gold excuse me . . . a car comes bounding up to the curb and stops.

"Wanna ride to the other side?" the guy behind the wheel asks.

The thought of sitting on that beautiful leather seat is having to bang by your teeth from the chilling is overpowering.

"Sure."

"Hop in."

You "hop" in and gloating over the fact that you are saved from the rattly vehicle which has just pulled up to the store, you proceed you smilingly begin to settle down.

WHAM! Your head has been taken off. Thanking the automobile manufacturers that there are no seat belts, you climb back into the front seat.

Harry, who has lead in his right foot, is hitting an all time high for speed, and while he is mechanically dodging irate pedestrians, you are trying to make up with his conversation about the coming. You are also trying to keep down inexplicable urges you have to latch on to the steering wheel.

"You are just approaching the finish line—I mean, the land of barracks, and suddenly Harry spots a familiar ear ahead of him.

"Well, if it ain't ole Tom Jones! Bet I can beat him to class." The speedometer needle is pegged.

"You know ole Tom, don't you?"

"Seventy-five . . . Er, I mean, yes." The front car is now edging up, puts on the speed and you're neck and neck and "ole Tom" is going to live to be.

"Oh-hoh! (78- so (77) he's (78) up to (79) his old tricks (80) and don't feel much like playing. You look at Harry and find your daring really in front of the window, and between alternately wondering if your pals are keeping up your accident insurance and why the dern thing keeps smiling, you are pounding your fist and yelling "race to the finish." Despite your unpopularity, Harry wins by a nose. It doesn't make you feel so comfy.

Harry passes ole Tom, laughing victoriously, and he shoots from the other car. But by that time you don't dare look at the speedometer needle.

He screeches to a halt by any of the many "No Parking" signs near back out of the windshield.

"Well, we're here," he says.

"Yeah?" you ask in amazement as you pull yourself together. Well, at least you're not related by getting so close on time. You muster a bubble of enthusiasm by

"Think I'll cut Accounting today and go shoot some pool." The pounding line might be worth it after (they lose to Miami!)

Beating conversation—"Florida will once again tangle with FSU. Again the messing will be under slightly different circumstances. The swim squads of the two schools will match strokes Mar. 15 when they take to the pool in the AAU swimming crown in Hollywood."

After class, you fight your way into an overcrowded bus, and as you pound line after line of feet you hang on to the rhythm of the creaks and groans of the overworked motor. You have ever ridden in such style.

MORAL: If you like to play pool, respect your nerves, or pool halls in heaven.

MISS HENKEL, OLD GIRL, YOU ARE GOOD

By TOM KESSER

I had decided to write a column writing for this paper in favor of perfect books of course), among other things, The Battle of the Natural Bridge", but I want to pause a moment to laud Miss Betty Henkel how much I appreciated her fine article on the publication of Seminole Scenes by Mary Jo Hall, issue of the Flambeau. It was really good, and I think I know those who think I wasn't are the same ones who think Mickey Spillane is a literary critic of the first water.

I will make only two reservations: first, in Shakespeare's play, Mr. William Faulkner says, you have to have had written something before you can be accused of spitballing (and I trust that you have appreciated my allusion there to fleece in Smoke Signals), and second, your juxtaposition of Faulkner and Smoke Signals literature is both wrong and unfair: there are many intelligent men today who read both—(and too, even those trying to become intelligent; I saw this visiting the State Prison at Michigan City, Indiana with a South Bend baseball team my brother played centerfield for; I saw a review in his cell, holding a book in his hand, and when asked the address of a short story publisher to the convict in the next cell who was then to write the publisher for the book he also.

When it came out, Lady, I too thought briefly of writing somebody think I wasn't Sam Spade, especially about those fiction books. Then I thought it just wasn't to say, I can and have written better fiction than that) and those jokes. But I decided that at that time another matter of pressing importance had to be dealt with—and satisfactorily, if belatedly, was, (by the way) by the time I got to it, I had lost the courage of the Flambeau editor to write it. Now, I have, and it is done well, Lady. You really slam-bonked them.

I suppose that you and I would agree with Fred Allen when he calls this age the Age of Mediocrity (the Smoke Signals staff to the contrary). But he's right: look at Arthur Godfrey (when he dies, 20,000,000 American families will mourn the passing of their favorite author, Godfrey & Lewis; Quick Magazine; white bucks; that time you don't dare look at the

ACP ROUND-UP

WHAT QUIZZES EVALUATE KNOWLEDGE?

ANIMAL VEGETABLE OR MINERAL

From the Daily Kansan, University of Kansas.

Is the multiple-choice quiz a fair way to evaluate a student's knowledge?

Multiple - choice quizzes have their advantages and disadvantages from point of both teacher and student. Undoubtedly, they are easier to grade. It is even possible to absorb off this tedious job on a machine.

Most students will agree, we think, that such an examination usually covers knowledge of facts but less correlation of them. And where verse and prose can be extracted from the final score, guesswork is often the decisive factor.

In this class of quizzes, there is perhaps pass a quiz or a course on guesswork, but after graduation nobody is going to stand around with three alternatives for him to pick from.

Essay quizzes are criticized for giving a break to the student with virtuoc ability who can "sling the bull." But multiple-choice quizzes seem just as partial to the student who has a good memory for isolated facts, although he often has no idea how these facts fit together.

It looks as if the essay quiz, while not ideal, still gives the teacher a better idea of what the student is getting out of his education—if he can read it, and not put the facts bumping around in his head to some use.

Perhaps there should be more than filling in little circles with a black pencil.

HOLLOW DRUMS

The Iowa State Daily has told its administration to forget about up and make sororities and fraternities on campus get rid of their discrimination clauses.

The paper declared, "Iowa state has set itself up as one of the hollow drums for tolerance, and consequently has lost the confidence of foreign students and minority groups. It's time . . . to make some positive democratic realization."

BREAKDOWN IN MORAL VALUES . . .

A student ring at Washington University has been breaking into campus buildings and offices with a master key to get examination data. All locks have now been changed.

Five students have been dismissed and the University is guarding its papers with renewed vigor. A student agency indicates that cheating has been widespread in all classes.

Chancellor Chancellor Arthur H. Compton: "Discussion in university circles throughout the country has revealed widespread anxiety over the draft and world conditions which may indicate some breakdown in student behavior and has increased cheating."

Washington University was spotlighted a few weeks ago when it refused admission to a Negro girl. The University, officials say denies, did not want to risk placing a female outside a community." But WU's Student Life pointed out that St. Louis University has refused to admit Negroes, thus breaking community prestige.

In an editorial on Washington University's action, Student commented, "A University that will not admit qualified students to all departments . . . is hardly in a position to lecture students on a breakdown' in moral values.

"As long as the university locks out Negroes, it has little reason to complain if a few students appropriate the master key which unlocks the answers to examination questions."

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Hamrick
Feature Editor ..... Tom Kesser
Society Editor ..... Marcia Mann
Sports Editor ..... Gerry Hoag
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Bess
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Smiley
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Circulation Manager ..... Rosemary Hanson
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Landon, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Harley

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephones 3-203, Ext. 431
Published each Tuesday and Friday except during holidays and vacations by the Florida Flambeau, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Seminole, Gator Relations Improve

By JACK DETWEILER
Associate Editor
Florida Alligator

In the University of Florida becoming more FSU conscious? It would certainly seem that way judging from the pages of the Florida Alligator. For the second straight week FSU has received treatment from a Gator columnist.

Last week it was a column by Bob Basaine, the Gator Sports Editor. Previously accused of pounding nine innings of baseball after (they lose to Miami!)

Basaine commented—"Florida will once again tangle with FSU. Again the messing will be under slightly different circumstances. The swim squads of the two schools will match strokes Mar. 15 when they take to the pool in the AAU swimming crown in Hollywood."

"Little by little, the taboo against sports clashes between the two state schools is being broken down. Spirited competition between the two institutions will eventually lead to regularly slated contests.

"Next year, the people who do should do one of two things. They should either schedule the Seminoles outright in the Spring or work out of tournaments that will entangle the two schools if Florida wants to meet the FSU team. It's up to all of."

In a surprise economy move Florida's student Executive Council voted to abolish the keys for all student government positions. The budget slash would make $313 available for other purposes.

There seemed to be no apparent reason for this sudden economy move; in fact, the ease with which it got through council indicated many political observers ashtray.

The subject of abolishing keys was first brought up in the recent discussions on whether or not the University was going to join the National Student Association.

A Gator columnist commented that the NSA application was abandoned when it was learned that one mentioned that the expense of joining might be made up by simply abolishing government keys.

Florida has come up with a sequel to the "finish-fire swears" Eight students have been treated for burns after they were doused by exploding books of "Florida Matches" which they found in the university emblem on their cover.

Florida's "March of Dimes" drive neared the end with approximately $1,385 already collected. The drive received state-wide publicity and was the subject of a television show in Jacksonville

Students have had one more bright spot before they started cramming for this week's finals. The University's three largest colleges announced an experimental plan to cut down on the number of Saturday classes.

The plan will go into effect next semester. The normal Tuesday - Thursday - Saturday classes will be changed so that they have only two hour classes on Tuesday or Thursday.

The plan is designed to increase class attendance. If the results of the experiment are favorable, it may be extended next fall.

Dear Editor...

"Cons" Outside?

The following letter to the editor was unsigned. Perhaps Florida's self will make a name in print in the reason. The Flambeau will withhold a name at the author's request.

Dear Editor:

Attention Miss Betty Henkel:

Miss Henkel, what are you doing to organize all your followers for a Transfer to Raiford next semester? I hear that the entrance requirements are quite simple to meet. Then you could attain the benefits of better literature that is published there.

There is nothing like stereotyped harvest scenes for covers of magazine. Down with originality and interest. "Of course, the still screen process should be exercised to begin with, and later, the "Ah" process."

Let us hope that the Raiford a prison wall?

magazine is professional in appearance. After all, I imagine the University is getting some knowledge with prisons (my father has been employed in a supervisor's capacity of a state prison for 21 years) that the Journalism profession is well represented.

It's the performance that counts, written by a convict who has performed a great service to society for coming to a small minded students money to be in Raiford.

Nothing like television interest in prison—nothing like good satire on how to get out.

There is a bad idea to think that what may be of interest to "cons" may not be of interest to us on the "outside." Shall we give them the all collegiate loving cup for the best paper published inside?

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

He patted his Sears Roebuck confidently as he walked under the awning and into the almost empty shop where a frenzied young lifted cokes while chorusing . . . "we're loyal to you, Woody boy . . ."

He next tried the Amber House . . .

A girl in a cashmere sweater and socks hoisted herself up on his lapels, peered myopically at his 4-H button and yelled, "Gamecock!"

Before he could protest—she falsetto'ed, "Come see us at the House" at which 50 similar looking cashmere clad coeds chanted breathlessly—"Yes, Yes—at the House," and one non-conformist shouted and pounded on the bar with her bracelet.

She showed 72 of the whitest teeth he'd ever seen and explained . . . "My Sorority sisters, darn swell girls and loads of fun" . . .

At the Sweet Shop . . .

They laid aside racing forms and "Photography" magazines as he entered.

One half sang, "He's a Greek," to which the other half responded—"He's a Geek".

A smiling young man was kind enough to sell him a half-eaten doorhunt and a dog-eared copy of What the Butler Saw.

He smiled gratefully and was immediately showered with onion rings and invitations to a Landis Formal . . .

...econd Annual Short Course ...n Journalism Opens Friday

Problems of the press will be ...ussed by prominent news...er men of the South this week...t as the second annual South... Newspapermen's Short Course ...s Friday.

The Short Course will open with ...stration at 8:30 a.m. Friday. ...e opening session will begin at ...and close shortly before 12:15. ...rnoon sessions will run from ...ntil 4:30 and dinner will be ...d at 6:15.

SATURDAY'S session will begin ...and close at 12 noon.

The two day meeting will fea...re such speakers as Professor ...e G. Moeller, director of the ...ool of Journalism at the State ...versity of Iowa, and Dr. Royal ...Ray, president of the Adver...ing and Sales club of Syracuse, N. Y.

Professor Moeller's first address ... be "The Challenge to the ...ass Media in a Time of Crisis." ...e second address will be "Meth...s of Analyzing and Cutting Your ...ewspaper Operating Costs."

PROFESSOR Moeller went to ...e university from the Bremer ...unty Independent and Waverly Democrat at Waverly, Iowa where ...e spent 18 years as managing ...itor and as publisher.

Dr. Ray will discuss newspaper advertising problems. He has ...rked also as research associate ...n advertising in New York City. At present he is professor of ad...rtising and chairman of the de...artment of advertising at Syra...se University.

THE COURSE will include dis...ssions of various phases of newspaper work and several panel discussions. The panels will con...der Florida's new election laws, ...al editorials, feature ideas, im...roving the newspaper and simi...r topics, according to Dean Laurence R. Campbell, School of Journalism.

Stanford Smith, Secretary-Man...ger of the Georgia Press Associ...ation who will discuss "Public Re...ations for the Newspaper Indus...try."

Formerly a reporter on the Au...usta Ga., Chronicle, Mr. Smith ...ter was associate editor of the Cairo, Ga., Messenger and an as...sistant director of public relations ...t the University of Georgia of ...hich he is a graduate. He served ...s head of the University News Bureau.

MR. SMITH is vice-president of ...e Newspaper Association Managers, national trade organization of publishers' association executives. He was national chairman of the industry observance of National Newspaper Week in 1950 and 1951.

As an undergraduate, Mr. Smith was editor of his university newspaper. He has taken graduate work at Emory University. From 1941 to 1945, he served in the U. S. Army.

Glenn McNeil, manager of the Tennessee Press Association will speak on "How to Get More Circulation."

Louis C. Wadsworth, publisher of the Suwannee Echo in Live Oak, will discuss "Profitable Job Printing." Edwin B. Hundley, manager of the American Type Founders in Atlanta, will speak on "Care and Repair of Printing Equipment."

New Club Planned By FSU Students

Plans for a J. Brailey Odham for Governor club on the campus are under consideration, it was announced today by Phil Springer and Emory King.

Springer, freshman senator, and King, former associate editor and columnist for the Flambeau, said that they had been contacting Odham by letter for some time

Odham's campaign manager wrote recently, " . . . with the help of people like you and the students of FSU who desire economy and deceney in government, which we so vitally need in these critical times, we will win."

Odham, who is running on a platform of reform and economy of state government, is expected to come to Tallahassee and FSU in the near future.

Profs Participate In Press Workshop

Five Florida State University professors and instructors participated in the Second Annual Florida A & M College Interscholastic Press Workshop held last Friday and Saturday .

The workshop, sponsored by the A. & M. Division of humanities, is planned to provide high school journalists in attendance an opportunity to he ardiscussions by some of the nation's top journalists and journalist-editors on important phases of journalism.

The workshop also emphasizes student development in such broad aspects of education as group loyalty, democratic action, self expression and leadership development.

FSU teachers attending were: Dr. Sdiney Kobre, professor of journalism; R. E. Schaefer, instructor of advertising; William Ross Slaughter, visiting professor of journalism; Zeil Mabee, professor of journalism; and Paul Scalera, assistant professor of journalism.

Educational Director To Address Class

Dr. J. Leroy Thompson, director of educational service of the Wall Street Journal, will speak to a class studying introduction to business and management in the School of Business at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The speaker's discussion will center around the gathering and dissemination of business and economic issues.

Dr H. B. Cooley, associate professor of management, said Dr Thompson, holds degrees from Washington College in Ohio and Columbia. He is a former school principal and assistant superintendent of schools.

Tennessee Student

Continued From Page One

...ns were arranged with the Honor ...andidates must have cleared all ...inquent accounts and paid ...eir $5 diploma fee to the Uni...versity Business office.

CANDIDATES who wanted to graduate in absentia were to have secured permission from his academic dean and notify the registrar by Jan. 18.

The examination schedule at FSU will get underway on Jan. 28. Candidates for graduate and undergraduate levels will participate.

Mr Chrales H. Walker, registrar said that graduating seniors would be exempt from their final exams if they have a "B" average and at the discretion of the individual teacher.

Book Exchange

Continued From Page One

Bowen Publicity chairman is John Adams, in charge of the racks are Jim Turvaville and Jay Ladd in charge of schedules is Jim Lohmeyer, and Jimmy Evans is in charge of arrangements.

The exchange project was modeled after two successful exchanges in operation at New York University

BRYAN HALL, women's freshmen dormitory, held an informal dance recently to which they invited servicemen. Part of the group is shown above dancing and enjoying refreshments.

Former Wrestler Writes MA Thesis on 'Mullet Psychology'

Mr. Pete Spanovick, graduate assistant in the psychology department at Florida State University, was once a professional wrestler.

A graduate of Michigan State, Mr. Spanovick has been at FSU for a year and a half. He will receive his Master of Arts degree in February. The title of Pete's thesis is: "The Capacity of the Striped Mullet to Form a Conditioned Response to Audial and Visual Stimuli."

MUCH OF his work was done in connection with the Marine Biological Laboratory at Alligator Point. He says, "The information should be a definite aid to the fishing industry."

Pete plans to stay at FSU until he gets his doctorate. In the meantime he is teaching several Psychology 205 sections.

He was born in Detroit and lived most of his life in Michigan. He spent four years in the U. S. Navy during World War II. While in the service he wrestled in the Pacific Islands and Honolulu, and on the U.S.S. Yorktown before it was sunk.

HE HAS wrestled professionally in Jacksonville; which is part of the Florida-Georgia-Alabama circuit. "The name I wrestled under," he said, "was 'Young Sandau,' who was a famous English strong-man of the 1890's."

"I am keeping in practice with my weight-lifting," said he. "I can lift 320 pounds overhead, and 650 pounds to the knees." About wrestling he commented, "Wrestling is the oldest sport known to man. It seems to me that wrestling would be an interesting part of a college's sport life.

IT BUILDS self-confidence, in that the responsibility rests on the individual. It's different, psychologically, in team sports. There's not so much pressure exerted on one player."

"Also, professional wrestling is especially good for the fans—it forms a tremendous outlet for emotions. For instance, a hostile wife identifies herself with the winner of a wrestling match. She sees the other wrestler taking a terrific beating and enjoys it as if she were inflicting the blows on the loser, whom she identifies with her husband!"

Students Enter Into Seminar After Department Store Work

A group of Florida State University students who have been working in some of Florida's outstanding department stores for four weeks are now participating in a seminar to discuss and evaluate their experiences.

Of the group of 12 students combining their actual work experience with their classroom study, nine of them are from the FSU School of Home Economics and the others are enrolled in the School of Business.

THEY WORKED in selling, stock care and arrangement, and in supervisory positions learning the various aspects of the retail business. These students, with their field experience director, Richard Baker, are now holding daily seminars to exchange information gained in retailing over the state and to evaluate their experiences. Baker is an instructor in clothing and textiles.

Although a retailing curriculum has been offered in the department of clothing and textiles for many years, Mr. Baker, who joined the faculty two years ago, has been working to develop and expand the program.

HE CAME to the University from an executive position in a large department store in Akron, O., and prior to this had had specialized training in retailing in the University of Pittsburgh.

As the curriculum is ootlined in retailing in the School of Home Economics, students take courses in textiles, clothing, ready-to-wear, retail personnel management, merchandising, mathematics of merchandising, and other allied courses in the department of clothing and textiles, and take courses in accounting, marketing, and salesmanship in the School of Business before going into the stores for the retail internship.

Classified Ads

FURNISHED apartment for between FSU and town for faculty or graduate student; call 3-1716 L'Avant Studios.

Navy ROC Program Open To Students

Lt. George Avant, Commanding Officer of Naval Aviation Reserve Unit 6-21, announced that the Reserve Officer Candidate Program is now open.

Candidates must be now enrolled in some College or University. Male candidates must be at least 17 and women 18 years of age; and must not be a member of the U. S. Army, U. S. Air Force, U. S. Navy, U. S. Marine Corp., Coast Guard, or ROTC.

Applicants must be a member of the Naval Reserve, or join the Naval Reserva for purposes of application. If selected a Navy six weeks training school will be attended during each of two summers. Upon successful completion of the summer courses and receipt of an academic degree, a commission in the Naval Reserve will be granted followed by two years of active duty.

Applications must reach Charleston not later than Feb. 22. Interested persons mall call George Avant at 3-1716 or stop by 207 W. Park Ave. to arrange an interview.

Women May Apply For Scholarship

The 1952 Tri Delta general scholarship competition is now open to all women and will be held through Feb. 15.

Women students in colleges where there are chapters of the fraternity may apply. They may or may not be fraternity members.

Application blanks are now available at the office of the Dean of Women, Katherine Warren. Additional applications may be secured from Mrs. Charles C. Perrin, Box 717, Paoli, Pa.

The amount of the award on any one of the 94 campuses included in the competition will not exceed $200.

The Delta Delta Delta committee on awards shall be the sole judge of the respective merits of the applicants.

The successful candidates will be notified by May 1 and the scholarships will be forwarded to them at the beginning of the term for which the awards are granted.

FORMAL DANCES rated high on the social calendar for the past weekend. The Reynolds 'Starlight' dance was one of many held.

Harvard Professor Challenges The Modern College Woman

In a feature in the Jan. issue of Mademoiselle magazine, Howard Mumford Jones challenges modern college women with the phrase "Have college women let us down?"

Mr. Jones, Harvard English professor and president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, says that he finds a "withering away of the sense of intellectual adventure, of individual inquiry among American college women." The Campus, once a bastion of causes and movements, has become a seat of security-seeking.

Mr. Jones says that the modern college woman wants a job but not a career. Not satisfied with the home of a white collar worker husband, she also wants a ranch house, "interesting" neighbors and an income of $10,000 a year.

She studies without applying her mind. She is not interested in current events, in art, literature or philosophy.

JONES believes that she is afraid—because of the apprehension dominant in the Atomic Age. He says "The world, for the college girl, is teetering on the brink of change, it is going to teeter there for the next few decades, and that's that."

He also said, " suppose this mood will pass . . . quite possibly the listlessness now evident among college girls in America may be scattered overnight by some dramatic turn in history. Meanwhile the colleges are playing it safe and so are the girls.

The editors of Mademoiselle invite reactions to Mr. Jones' opinion, particularly from college women.

Education Department Plans Intern Banquet

Fall semester interns and education department faculty members will attend a banquet at Wakulla Lodge Thursday. This is to be the first of a series of semi-annual banquets.

The time of the event may be found by calling the School of Education and asking for Miss Blanche Trezevant, assistant professor of education.

Fortune In Jewels Illustrates Lecture To Business Class

Edward Dillon, certified gemologist and member of the American Gem Society, brought $10,000 worth of jewelry to a Florida State University marketing class last Friday to illustrate his talk on the protective measures developed for the public in purchasing gems.

Mr. Dillon, who works at a local firm, said in previous years the public had to rely completely on the reputation and honesty of the jewelry salesman.

TODAY, he said, through such instruments as the diamond scope as well as charts put out by the American Gem Society which illustrate ways to evaluate gems, the public is able to tell genuine stones from synthetic types.

Mr. Dillon told the students to beware of color in gems. "You can't tell a gem by its color," he said. He added that the public could now tell whether a gem is a topaz or a similar stone through modern instruments and parallel charts of the American Gem Society.

MR. DILLON added that even though the public could now judge stones to some extent by these instruments, they still must depend largely upon the reputation of old, established jewelry dealers in buying gems and silver.

The marketing class, taught by Dr. W. G. Shover, is studying the fundamentals of advertising, salesmanship, and marketing.

Two Plays Scheduled By Speech Department

Second semester productions of the speech department have scheduled "Biography" and "The Mistress of the Inn" and two other unannounced plays.

Details for try-outs and crew organizations will be posted on Feb. 8 and 8, the days of registration.

An explanatory reading of "Biography" will be held Thursday at 7:30 in the Conradi theater.

Persons interested in particular in the above productions either as technicians or actors will be given chances to try out.

$ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $

CASH

For ALL Your

USED BOOKS

Whether Used on This Campus or Not

"CASH TODAY for books that are out dated TOMORROW"

UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE

"In The Dining Hall"

$ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $ $

LOWEST PRICED IN ITS FIELD!

This great new Styleline De Luxe 4-Door Sedan lists for less than any comparable model in its field! (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

It's Big... Bright and Beautiful!

Come, see the finest of all Chevrolets . . . brilliantly new for '52 in all these exciting ways:

Vivid New Royal-Tone Styling . . . with Bodies by Fisher that set the standard for beauty.

Radiant New Exterior Colors . . . widest and most wonderful array of colors in its field.

Alluring New Interior Colors . . . with two-tone upholstery and trim harmonizing with body colors, in all De Luxe sedan and coupe models.

New Centerpoise Power . . . engine is cushioned in rubber to bring amazing new smoothness of operation and freedom from vibration to low-cost motoring.

New, smoother, softer ride for all passengers.

All these and many other advantages are yours in the '52 Chevrolets at lowest prices and with outstanding economy of operation. They're the only fine cars priced so low. See them now!

Extra-Smooth POWER Glide

with New Automatic Choke, gives finest no-shift driving at lowest cost. (Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.)

CHEVROLET

The Only Fine Cars PRICED SO LOW!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

SEE IT AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

PERSONALS HURT—If you don't believe personal fouls can damage a basketball team just ask Bud Kennedy or any of his Seminole cagers.

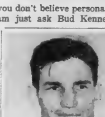
Take last Saturday night for example when the Seminoles played the Georgia Teachers. Three FSU players, Rich Benson, Bob Whitmer and Lou Fischer left the tilt via the foul route and two others, Tom Maclaughlin and Irv Quinn, each had four.

In all the Seminoles made 29 miscues, far too many for a team in a single ball game. The Teachers put the gift shots to good use unfortunately for the Seminoles as they sunk 21, while the locals were limited to 11 one pointers.

One bright spot in the Indians' recent performances has been the play of big Rich Benson. A 6-foot 7-inch freshman, Benson had considerable difficulty at first in putting his height to work but on the Seminoles' recent road trip seemed to have found himself.

Against the Professors, Benson before fouling who has developed an uncanny hook shot fouled out shortly after the second half started but before leaving he gathered in 12 points and had big down the visitors giant contender a workmanlike job in holder Randy Whaley.

* * *



For an independent outfit the 1951 Seminole gridders are receiving their share of honors as far as post season all star teams are concerned.

The latest to be honored is lanky Curt Campbell, 1952 co captain elect, who was awarded a first team berth on the Williamson Middle Group All-American eleven.

Campbell is the second player in the history of the school to be named to the Middle Group team—a sort of compromise between brother Williamson's actual All-American and Little All American.

Guard Jerry Morical who was named in 1949 is the other.

Bill Dawkins who was named to a first string guard post on the Associated Press Little All American squad, was given a second team spot by Williamson. In addition Dawkins was named on two other major all-star aggregations and of course played in the North-South and Senior Bowl tilts, making him Chief Honor Grabber amongst the Seminoles

CURT CAMPBELL, co captain elect of the 1952 Seminole grid team has been named to a first string end post on the Williamson Middle group All American football team.

Campus Chest Sets $1 A Student Goal

One dollar per student has been set as the goal of the Campus Chest, which will hold its drive during the first week of March.

The Campus Chest was formed by students on campus to create a general charity fund to facilitate collections for worthy causes. The Chest makes it possible for students to contribute to all major charities at one time.

Groups which benefit from the Campus Chest funds are those fighting cancer, and polio, the World Student Service fund, and many others.

Several events are being planned to boost the drive. The annual Faculty Auction will lead the events, under the sponsorship of the Sophomore council.

Sororities and fraternities will sponsor projects throughout the week. Lambda Chi, for instance is having an apple sale.

A dance will be held to close the drive, and at that time the groups that raised the most money will be announced.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Three Teams Win Games In Girls Cage Play

As the final basketball tournament between sorority and dormitory drawn to a close, AXO, AOPI and Pi Phi are leading in the three leagues.

Monday, January 13, KD beat ADPI 36-20 as Whidden and Bunker racked up 14 points for KD and Whitehurst scored 12. Officials for the game were Batchelor and Herndon, Theta defeated Pi Phi 38-6 with Meredith and McKneely high scorers for Theta. Officials for the game were Rigell and Albury.

PI PHI outlasted Gamma Phi 28-25 with Angel scoring 16 points for Pi Phi and Peters high man Officials for the game were Maxson and Mink, Bryan forfeited for Gamma Phi with 12 points to Landis by a score of 2-0.

Wednesday January 12, Delta Zeta beat Sigma Kappa 18-8 with Hinson and Godfrey high men for both teams. Official for the game was Herndon. Zeta defeated Theta 37-24 as high men for Zeta were Caruthers (13), and Brown ing (10), for Theta's high man was Meredith with 13 points. Officials were Holland and Brewer

DELTA GAM beat Alpha Xi 23-6 with Blalock racking 17 points for DG and Cooke scoring 11 for Alpha Xi. Officials were official for this game. Gilchrist (team 2) outlasted Landis 20-24 as Rainwinkle scored 16 points for Gilchrist and Rizell scored 14 for Landis. Finley was the official for the game.

Pi Phi (team 1) beat Alpha Xi 27-14 as Angel scored 21 for Pi Phi and Cooke scored 10 for Alpha Xi. Alpha Gam defeated Sigma Kappa 25-9 as Pat Temple racked up 17 points for the winning team.

Delta Gam overpowered Gamma Phi 44-24 as Blalock scored 30 points for DG and Peters scored 20 for GPhi.

Chi O forfeited to Zeta 2-0. Officials for these games played on Thursday, January 17, were Ahnasen, Pulley, Holland, Thorpe, Albury, and M. Browder.

Wednesday the sorority doubles were played in ping pong with Wade and Burroughs, ZTA, defeating Lembeck and Van Kleek ADPI; Dolly Hargroves and Burr ADPI, defeated Hopkins and Richmond, AOPI. Tutia forfeited to the Tri Delts and Delta Zeta forfeited to AOPI.

In singles, Zingler, ADPI, defeated Parker, AOPI, Morrison, Zeta, beat Absher, Delta Zeta.

President to Speak

President Doak S. Campbell will deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of the Arcadew Jackson High school in Jacksonville at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the George Washington Hotel auditorium.

PETE DUNN-RANKIN prepares "to hit the water" during the recent FSU-Georgia swimming meet. Mitch Sutherland is the swimmer preparing to leave the pool. The meet ended in a 42-42 tie.

Swimming Meet Thrills Spectators

BY PETE DUNN-RANKIN

FSU's swimming team tied favored Georgia 42-42 Thursday night in a meet that thrilled the capacity crowd at the East campus pool.

State's Mitchell Sutherland got his team out in front at the start by outracing the Bulldog's Bobby Cooper in the last leg of the medley relay in a sparkling 54.5.

Georgia's ace freestyler Charley Cooper, could do no better than third in the 50 yard freestyle as freshman John Baruch and ailing Dick Wells both broke the pool record.

Then, with the exception of Walt Jardine's easy victory in the distance, Georgia's Cooper, Ouzer, and Patterson moved to first place in every other event setting new pool marks in the individual medley, the 200 yard backstroke, and 400 yard freestyle relay.

However, State's overall team strength combined to match the Bulldog's stars down to the wire, putting the first tie in fix history in the meet.

Individual results:

200-yard medley relay: 1—Florida State (Ramsey, Witt Jardine, Sutherland) 2—Georgia.

220-yard free style: 1—Patterson (G) 2—Pete Dunn-Rankin (FSU) 3—Walter Jardine (FSU) 3—Wayne Pardine (FSU). 2:36.8

50-yard free style: 1—John Baruch (FSU) 2—Dick Wells (FSU) 3—Charles Cooper (G). :34.6 (new pool record).

100-yard individual medley: 1—Charles Guyer (G) 2—Don Van Hise (FSU) 3—Tom Barnett (FSU). 1:02.3 (new pool record).

Diving: 1—Steve Mihalic (G) 107.8 points; 2—Joel Fogel (FSU), 100.1; 3—Tom Conway (FSU), 102.4.

200-yard free style: 1—Charles Cooper (G); 2—Bob Wells (FSU); 3—Mitch Sutherland (FSU). 2:16.4.

200-yard back stroke: 1—Patterson (G); 2—John Barnett (FSU); 3—Bob Absher (FSU). 2:36.4 (new pool record).

400-yard breast stroke: 1—Charles Cooper (G); 2—Ralph Hennigar (G); 3—Don Van Hise (FSU). 5:32.2.

400-yard free style relay: 1—Walter Jardine (FSU); 2—Bobby Carter (FSU); 3—Georgia. 4:34.5.

200-yard free style relay: 1—Georgia (Guyer, Cooper, Ouzer, C. Cooper).

ALONG WITH two others, Arnold Smith, cage captain at City College of New York, has been barred from participation in intercollegiate basketball games at C.C.N.Y. following a board announcement that there "appears to be conclusive evidence" of tampering with the admission records of Smith and the other players. (International)

FSU Cagers Break Record; Play Mocs Tomorrow Night

The Florida State University cagers who dropped their 14th game of the season last Saturday to the Georgia Teachers, will try for their second win here tomorrow night when they take on an old foe—Florida Southern.

Southern owns one win over the Seminoles this year. The Mocs topped the FSU quint 54-51 in Lakeland last week.

THE INDIANS set a new school record in losing to the Georgia Teachers outfit here Saturday night in a high scoring battle 93-78. It was the 14th loss of the season for coach Bud Kennedy's charges who have won but one game all season, a 72-68 upset over Tampa.

The Seminoles were in the ball game right until the final minutes, however, despite the score. In the first period the locals battled the Professors on even terms, and at one point held a 17-16 lead, but in the second quarter the visitors caught fire and pulled away to a 42-31 lead over the Seminoles.

IN THE THIRD stanza, the In-

The box score:

FSU	G	F	P	Ga Teachers	G	F	P
Whitmer	2	3	8	Pritchard	7	5	19
Benson	3	4	10	Bedford	9	3	21
Maclaughlin	13	4	30	Bentley	1	1	3
Pence	1	0	2	Short	8	0	16
Fischer	3	0	6	Bryant	11	3	25
Richardson	0	0	0	Wynne	1	0	2
Burst	0	0	0	Parsons	3	3	15
Quinn	2	0	4	Clements	2	2	6
Whitaker	1	1	3
Totals	32	11	72	Totals	36	21	93

Halftime score: FSU 31, Georgia 42.
Referee: Pronthuti; umpire, Whitaker; timekeeper, Flory.

diana gained a point on the Profs but were still on the short end of the score after Capt. Bob Whitmer and Lou Fischer left via the foul route.

Early in the final period the Seminoles faltered and the Georgians poured it on in the last four minutes paced by their hure center Randy Whaley who tallied 28 points during the contest.

Big Tom Maclaughlin was right behind Whaley with 27 markers. Maclaughlin's total was the highest recorded by a Seminole this far. Lou Fischer had 16, and freshman Rick Benson gathered in 12 before fouling out early in the third quarter.

Odd-Evens To Meet Today

The Odds will clash with the Evens today in volleyball, boxing, and dance in the best two of three games in the second Odd-Even tournament of the year.

The bowling teams, composed of 24 girls will bowl in the women's gymnasium. The Odd team will look like this: Frankie Brownlee, leader, Gwenn Loy, Mac MacWilliams, Norma Bolton, Pat Lermer, Betty Gilbert, Joan Fessler, Pat Comer, Jean Rohme, Pat Carter, Nancy Croll, and Janet Wright.

The Evens are: Eunice Thompson, leader, Eleanor Marei, Dolores Bates, Sunny Livingston, Martha Blackley, Jo Rooney, Hazel Ready, Dee Stevens, Dot Brant, Carol Gertz, Mimi Welch and Mary Jo Battle.

The Odd dance team is made up of nine girls: Mary Brown, leader, Jackie Marr, Ann Hazel, Clarice Jones, Alice Spencer, Elizabeth Garwood, Jo Anne Seiser, Juanita Deberry and Frankie Clark.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Trained Personnel Emphasized To Public Administration Class

The importance of trained personnel in state government, particularly in those positions calling for a high degree of technical skill, was emphasized to a public administration class by Bryan Wills, veteran state auditor.

Mr. Wills, in discussing the functions of his office and integration of the state's fiscal agencies, told the class Friday the concept of training for public administration personnel is getting greater emphasis.

HE POINTED to the FSU School of Public Administration as an example of such training to properly qualify those who plan to make a career in public service.

The state auditor explained the functions of his office to the students and told how all fiscal business of the state government is closely related to afford the necessary checks and balances.

He said those in state administrative positions carried out the respective duties as provided by the State Legislature and operated their fiscal policies as set up by the legislature.

WHILE PRIVATE business is operated on a highly competitive basis with a direct profit motive as the force in providing sound business policies, the state auditor said such profit motive might be a detriable thing.

He said for example if some public service agency in one state felt it could operate as efficiently and economically as a similar agency in another state of the same size, the competition between such agencies would be beneficial to the public.

Professors Praised For Hometown Mural

Prof. Edmund Lewandowski, acting head of the department of art and Prof. Rudolph Jenett, art department professor of design, have received much praise for their work on murals done in a new office building of the Miller Company in their native home town of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

They completed their work on the murals during their Christmas holiday period away from the FSU campus. The new Miller Company building is near discussions by Brooks Stevens, of Milwaukee, internationally known industrial designer, who was one of the principal speakers of the FSU sponsored art seminar in the Ringling Museum of Art in Sarasota last year.

Women Hear Marine

Captain Virginia Hamlen United Marine Corps, will be in Broward Parlors at 3 p.m. today to discuss with interested students the opportunities for service for women in the Marine Corps. All women students are invited to attend.

USE THE CLASSIFIED FOR YOUR PROFIT

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU SMOKE?

50? 100? 200?

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . . 200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

LISTEN IN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Blind Woman Tells of Life at the University

By BEA DAVID

As told to Theo Sommerkamp

Editor's Note: Bea David, graduate student in the School of Social Welfare, plans to do social work among her own people, blind people. She graduated from Stetson University, DeLand, last year. (Let she tells her own story.)

A blind person's life is full of difficulties.

When I eat alone, I get a thrill; for I can't see to feed myself and accompanist. I have a real advantage, and when I learn to navigate to a new place alone I have a sense of achievement.

Many people don't realize that a blind person likes to do things for. If I go to meals with some friends, I am with them all the time. If so alone, I meet new ones.

THERE ARE other times when I like to be escorted. It's just a matter of preference when I can be free-lance and when I need assistance.

If I must ask to help me and don't wish help at that time, I enjoy the warmth of their offer and express appreciation that I need to be on my own. Most people understand.

Time don't, too. One of the happiest moments of my life came when a woman wanted to treat me like a baby, not just help me like bit.

LOOK FORWARD to new things. Like the time I came to Florida for the first time. I had left the Stetson School for the Blind at St. Augustine for 12 years. Then I went back home to Jacksonville.

I had always been afraid of machines when assignments were due; I had always been scared of thinking about going to college, too. So I stayed home for 12 years. Then, one day I overheard my sister talking to a friend. She said my other sister might have to stay at home to care for me instead of getting her master's degree.

I DIDN'T want to stand in the way, so I asked dad to help me through college. He said he would.

I decided to go to Stetson, because they had recommended it while I was at St. Augustine. But I wondered: Would I get my work fast enough? What would I do in college where other people could see? At St. Augustine, all my classmates were blind.

I decided there that I wanted to go into social work with my own kind of people.

WHEN I WAS finishing there, I applied for enurance to the school of social welfare at FSU. When I heard my application had been accepted I was thrilled. I was glad to come here and listen again to the hurried rush of students after a class and what they said, like, "If that old so and so expects me to spend two hours in the library ——." That was music to me.

I do most of my work now alone. At the start of the semester, with no experience behind me, I had readers about six hours a day. Now, they come about two hours. I think my coaches are a superior race. They can find such ingenious ways of settling me about my studies, or of directing me to some building on the campus.

I LEARNED to type while I was at St. Augustine and I do all my tests and written assignments on a portable typewriter. I usually write them out first in Braille.

For reading other books than my texts, I get Talking Book Service, which is available to the blind. Books are read and recorded on long-playing records and loaned out to blind persons.

What other students learn through a visit or a smile at people, I learn in their tone of voice.

ONE OF EEA DAVID'S favorite pastimes is playing the piano, a talent she developed while studying at State School for the Blind, St. Augustine. She enjoys her music very much because it gives her time alone. Unlike people with sight, the blind like to be alone many times because they are so often dependant on others.

WHEN I NEED counsel, I lean on Christianity and the Bible. I can feel that the Lord will stand by me in an emergency and help me solve problems.

I am more fortunate than some blind people in that I can tell colors a little, or see objects dimly. I can tell the weather and make out big obstacles. But I learn my way around by counting steps, learning them in the same way you would memorize telephone numbers.

At the close of this semester, I am starting on a new adventure. I am going to Tampa doing field work. I will work at the Lighthouse for the Blind there. I'm a little bit scared, but one of my friends at St. Augustine is director and I think that I will make out all right.

Freshmen To Meet At 7 P.M. Tonight No Traffic Meeting

A freshman class meeting will be held tomorrow night at 7 in the Longmire auditorium for the election of faculty sponsors and a discussion of the freshman carnival.

Mrs. Mary P. Dutilheuri, director of social recreation, will talk to the class about the carnival. Committees will be set up and students asked to help on the various committees.

"This is going to be a very important meeting not only in making plans for the carnival but also in the selection of our co-sponsors who will follow the class of 1955 through college", Mimi Patterson, vice-president said.

Class officers are Gracen Smith, president; Dot Wells, secretary; Dan Van Hise, treasurer; Jackie Price, social chairman; and Mary Grace Shoemaker, parliamentarian.

Mr. I's Picture Causes Confusion

Does your last name begin with "I"?

It took an air mail letter, much frowning and a frantic Tally-Ho staff to find out the importance of the ego letter, "I".

One graduating senior's last name begins with this important letter. Mr. "I" got lost in the Tally-Ho office and was found missing only at the last minute.

The air mail letter with 8 297 picture (Mr. "I") was hurried to the Alabama Engraving Company to make the senior section.

"I say, all is running smooth now," Tally-Ho editor, Gail Albritton commented.

Holidays Close Court

George Gnann, traffic court chairman, announced that there will be no more meetings of the traffic court until after the holidays.

'GALLOP POLE

Tuesday, January 22, 1952 FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Girls Give Opinion of Men

BY JIM COUCH

Dr. Robert Pasquale Gallop, famous poll taker of fashional popularity and opinions, strode unexpectedly onto the campus last Saturday and proceeded to delve into the minds of our own FSU coeds, with his famous 'Gallop Pole."

With no particular aim in mind, except to get candid opinion on a few topics of eternal interest, he persuaded 171 campus coeds to annic their opinions on ten questions.

THE FIRST question was, "Who is your favorite movie actor? This was followed by "What quality in FSU males appeals to you most? Number three asked, "Why do you think men whistle when you pass? Number four, "Which of the following types do you find most attractive on campus? The sweet innocent June Allyson type or the sultry sexy Jane Russell type? Number five, "What do you think of FSU men? "Are they all right, handsome, left-out or drips. Number six, "Do you think FSU men are too bold? Number seven, "Do you drink"? Number eight, "Do you smoke?" Number nine, "What is the biggest thing on campus? The tenth and final question was "What is the biggest joke at FSU?

The poll produced an alarming amount of information, especially on questions three, seven and ten.

IN ANSWER to number three the girls came up with such answers as "I'm glad to see if there is a dog following me", "It's the nature in him", "Because maybe they think they're birds", "The way I'm stacked up", "They're head up", "Because they've lost their front teeth.", "Shape", "Figure", and "I don't think I'm that thankful."

When it came to the biggest thing on campus the coeds dug down deep for "Self centered, conceited men", "Homecoming", "Panhellenic rushing", "Westcott", "Stadium", "Football", "Library", and Confederacy."

THE LAST question needed no encouragement from Dr. Gallop, for here the girls poured out their pet peeves and joys ranging from "No Drinking rules", "Music Majors", "Administration", "Girlish Boys", "Honor System" ell the way to "Flambeau", "Dean Warren", "Dusk Campbell", "Prep For Marriage", "Social Program", and the prevailing glory "California losing money."

Number two brought about "Manners and money", "Girls appeal", "They're men aren't they", "They have quality?", "Masculinity" and "Their simple-mindedness."

Their favorite movie actor turned out to be Esther Williams, Van Johnson and Dale Robertson, who tied for the top place. They were followed in order by Farley Granger, Robert Mitchum, Gary Cooper, John Derek, Gregory Peck, Clark Gable, John Wayne and Marlon Brando.

IN ANSWER to number six, the coeds decided that FSU men were, in far from too bold. Sixty-four per cent said no, 31 per cent answered yes and 15 per cent had other comments to make. Votes of "Lord No!", "No-darn it!", and "Land Sakes no" gave emphasis to the negative majority.

The "Do you drink" question found 39 per cent undaunted in favor of alcoholic beverages while the remaining 61 per cent stuck to the straight H2O story.

The "smokes" question unovvered that 55 per cent of the coeds indulged and the rest either none or only occasionally.

QUESTION FOUR found that most FSU males will be going out with the June Allyson type, while the remaining 20 per cent will either wind up with a Russell, combination, or one that changes to suit the date. As one coed put it, "It's all according to what you're after."

On the only other question number five, FSU men were found to be "all right" by 72 per cent, while the rest landed in the "drips" class, with a few individuals lying in the "handsome" and "lefsul classes." Choice remarks were "they'll do", "Combination-handsome drips", and "They've got a lot to learn."

This poll will be followed by a similar one in which FSU males will have their opinions put before the student body.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

IFC Obtains Use Of Suwannee Room

The Interfraternity council has obtained the use of the Suwannee room of the University dining halls for its annual dance, to be held May 23 and 24

Doak S. Campbell stadium has also been promoted the group for an afternoon concert.

Several name bands are now being contacted for the dance. According to fraternity representative, the most likely prospects are Woody Herman, Johnny Long and Ralph Flanegan.

Actions of the IFC week-end will be open to all students, it was announced, but a definite number of tickets will be held for each night.

Floyd Pogle has been named chairman of the over-all committee handling the dance arrangements.

FIRST SEMESTER EXAM SCHEDULE

The first semester 1951-52 examination schedule will begin 8 a.m. Monday, Jan. 29 and last through Saturday, Feb. 2, 1952.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the same time, and they will be held at the place announced by the instructor.

Courses with 3SE or more students
Biological Science 101,102	Tuesday P.M. 3:30-5:30
Course	Time of Examination
English 100,101,102	Monday A.M. 8:00-10:00
History 101,102,105	Monday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Mathematics 101,102,103	Monday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Mathematics 105	Tuesday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Modern Language 1st and 2nd Years	Tuesday P.M. 7:00-8:00
Physical Education, Women 115,115Y,115Z,116,215,215Y, 215Z,216,216Y,216Z	Monday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Physical Science 101,102	Monday P.M. 3:30-5:30
R.O.T.C. Air 101	Monday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Courses with more than 100, less than 3SE students
Accounting 201	Saturday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Business Law 321,322	Thursday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Chemistry 101,102,103	Saturday A.M. 8:00-10:00
Economics 201,202	Friday P.M. 3:30-5:30
Food and Nutrition 105	Friday P.M. 3:30-5:30
Geography 101,102,301	Friday P.M. 1:00-3:00
Library Service 101	Friday A.M. 10:30-12:30
Personal Development 105,106	Friday A.M. 8:00-10:00
Political Science 201	Thursday P.M. 7:00-9:00
Social Science 101,102	Thursday P.M. 3:30-5:30

Examinations for courses not appearing above are listed below, and they will be held in the class room where the sections of the courses meet.

EXAMPLE: If you have a 8:00 or 9:30 class on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and if that course is not listed above, you will take the examination in your regular class room from 1:00-3:00 P.M. on Tuesday, January 29, 1952.

Course	Time of Examination
8:00 or 9:30 M. W. F.
9:00 or 9:30 Four or five times per week	Tues. P.M. 1:30-3:00
8:00 or 6:30 T. Th. S.
8:00 or 8:30 Four or five times per week	Tues. A.M. 9:00-10:00
9:00 or 9:30 M. W. F.
9:00 or 9:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. A.M. 9:00-10:00
9:00 or 9:30 T. Th. S.
9:00 or 9:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. A.M. 10:30-12:30
10:00 or 10:30 M. W. F.
10:00 or 10:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 1:00-3:00
10:00 or 10:30 T. Th. S.
10:00 or 10:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 3:30-5:30
11:00 or 11:30 M. W. F.
11:00 or 11:30 Four or five times per week	Wed. P.M. 7:00-9:00
11:00 or 11:30 T. Th. S.
11:00 or 11:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. A.M. 9:00-10:00
12:00 or 12:30 M. W. F.
12:00 or 12:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs P.M. 1:00-3:00
12:00 or 12:30 T. Th. S.
12:00 or 12:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs. P.M. 3:30-5:30
1:00 or 1:30 M. W. F.
1:00 or 1:30 Four or five times per week	Thurs P.M. 7:00-9:00
1:00 or 1:30 T. Th.	Fri. A.M. 8:00-10:00
2:00 or 2:30 M. W. F.
2:00 or 2:30 Four or five times per week	Fri. A.M. 10:30-12:30
2:00 or 2:30 T. Th.	Fri. P.M. 1:00-3:00
3:00 or 3:30 M. W. F.
3:00 or 3:30 Four or five times per week	Fri. P.M. 3:30-5:30
3:00 or 3:30 T. Th.	Fri. P.M. 7:00-9:00
4:00 or 4:30 M. W. F.
4:00 or 4:30 Four or five times per week	Sat. A.M. 10:30-12:30
4:00 or 4:30 T. Th.	Sat. A.M. 8:00-10:00

Courses meeting one hour per week will have the examination Monday, January 28, 8:00-10:00 A.M.

Courses meeting two hours per week will take the same schedule as the three-hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

Examinations in courses with laboratories meet at the time that the lecture appears in the Schedule of Classes.

In cases of conflict, as to the examination which appears first on this Schedule of Examinations and arrange with the instructor to take the other examination Thursday, January 31, 10:30-12:30 A.M.

Students are not permitted to change sections for examinations.

Night classes will have their examinations at first regular class meeting during the examination week.

SIGN UP NOW TO WORK ON The FLAMBEAU
NEXT SEMESTER

NAME .....

Classification .....

Box No. ..... Interest .....

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA
LAST DAY TODAY
Tanks Are Coming
With Sowa Cochran and Philip Carey
WEDS. THRU SATURDAY
Callaway Went That-away
With Fred MacMurray And Dorothy McGuire

STATE
LAST DAY TODAY
Come Fill The Cup
With James Cagnel
WEDS. THRU MONDAY
ELOPEMENT
With Clifton Webb and Ann Francis

RITZ
TUESDAY and WEDS.
Spencer Tracy in The People Against O'Hara
THURSDAY thru SAT.
Random Scan in Man of the Forest
Also
G I JANE
With Tom Neal

DRIVE-IN
TUESDAY and WEDS.
The Barefoot Mailman
With Robert Cummings
THURSDAY thru SAT.
Flying Leatherneckw
With John Wayne
Also Wanted Dead or Alive
With Whip Wilson

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Announcing The Grand Opening Of .....

All Stainless Steel Equipment
IN THE NEW
AMBER HOUSE
105 COPELAND STREET
Custom Built by Southern Designed and Installed by
WM. H. MORGAN CO.
Hotel and Restaurant Supplies
610 Bay Street JACKSONVILLE, FLA. Phone 4-5504

Compliments of FLEXLUME SOUTHERN Inc.
1138 Houston St., Jacksonville, Fla.
NEON SIGNS

THE AMBER HOUSE

For Fine Food
Say FSU Students

Congratulations To
J. J. DeLOACH & SONS

Royal Sandwich Co.
DALE MABRY FIELD
2-0699

Today Cafateria Restaurant

Owned
and Operated by
J. J. DeLoach
and Sons

We cordially invite you to enjoy a short order or full course meal in our beautifully modern Amber House

Specializing In HOMEMADE PIES
Short Order Snacks

Say . . Have You Heard What's Cooking
AT THE AMBER HOUSE?

FINE FOOD

FINE FOOD

Holsum Bakeries
1442 SOUTH ADAMS
Phone 2-3364

Congratulations . . . . from Swatt's Poultry and Eggs
Old Quincy Highway Phone 2-7800

✓ Check This
AMBER HOUSE HAS FORMAL OPENING

✓ Check This
AMBER HOUSE HAS FINE FOOD

Daffin Mercantile Co.
608 R. R. AVENUE
Phone 2-0008

THE AMBER HOUSE
All Lit' Up for their Grand Opening
. . .
We Wish You Much Success in '52.

LEON ELECTRIC SUPPLY COMPANY
1510 SOUTH MONROE
Phone 3-1019

"For Food That's Fine"

THE AMBER HOUSE

TUESDAY
for BREAKFAST, LUNCH
SNACK OR DINNER

for the OPENING,
FREE DRINK
(Tea, Milk or Coffee)
with
Evening Meal

Mr. J. J. DeLoach is proud to serve fine foods prepared under the supervision of

JIMMY PLANT
Specializing in
OUR OWN BLEND OF COFFEE
Full Course Meals

ALL
FORMICA COUNTER WORK
IN
J. J. DeLoach's New
Amber House
105 COPELAND
BY

HAMON
FIXTURE AND EQUIPMENT COMPANY
1518 E. 8th Jacksonville, Fla.

Foremost Dairies Invites You to Enjoy Triple Goodness Dairy Products
at
The Soda Fountain
IN
THE AMBER HOUSE

FOREMOST DAIRIES

Eli Witt says:

Hurry over to the Amber House for fine food and . . .

your favorite cigarettes and tobaccos.

ELI WITT TOBACCO COMPANY
131 NORTH MONROE
Phone 3-0674

Best of Luck!

J. J. DeLOACH & SONS
IN THEIR NEW
AMBER HOUSE

LANGSTON'S MARKET
217 SOUTH ADAMS
Phone 2-8450

Much Success in '52
from

The Middle Florida Ice Co.
1010 MICHAEL ST.
Phone 2-3230

"Another Step Forward for F.S.U. and Tallahassee"
Welcome Amber House

GENE'S LINEN SERVICE
119 NORTH MONROE
Phone 2-1758

The Camellia Bakery
Welcomes the Amber House
to Tallahassee

ROLLS

and

DONUTS

Camellia Bakery
442 South Adams
Phone 2-4560

ACP Opinion Poll Indicates Football Is Overemphasized

Amber Open House Offers Free Drinks

Students, faculty and staff members of FSU are welcomed today to an open house of the Amber House, newest restaurant near the campus.

Free coffee, milk and tea will be served to all students with their evening meal.

The Amber House, which was rebuilt in the spot where the University Grill burned down last year is owned and operated by Mr. J. J. De Loach and sons of Jacksonville.

The Amber House is equipped with the most modern of restaurant equipments and chairs, with booths upholstered in matching leatherette. Other Amber Houses owned by Mr. DeLoach are located in Jacksonville.

AMBER HOUSE OWNERS—Introducing Mr. and Mrs. J. J. DeLoach, owners of The Amber House, who will hold their formal opening today for FSU students.

(ACP) Most College students feel that college football is overemphasized. This was indicated last month by results of the Associated Collegiate Press poll of student opinion.

More than 3,000 students from 53 colleges and universities in all parts of the country were asked: Do you feel that football at most colleges is overemphasized, underemphasized or just about right?

THE RESULTS were, overemphasized, 53 per cent; underemphasized, 9 per cent; just about right, 38 percent; no opinion, 4 per cent.

The farther along a student was in his college career, the more he tended to feel that football was overemphasized. Seventy - three per cent of the graduate students interviewed said there was too much stress put on football, while 43 per cent of the freshmen voiced this opinion.

THE FIGURES went up according to classes in a steady progression: Sophomores, 53 per cent; juniors, 57 per cent; seniors 61 per cent.

There were no important differences of opinion between men and women.

Several of the students interviewed blamed overemphasis on sports writers who "put too much stress on the game." Others said it was the fault of the public which "rates colleges according to sports prestige."

STUDENTS WERE also asked: Do you feel that organized football is as necessary to a college as a history department; less necessary; more necessary? The results were, as necessary, 36 per cent; less necessary, 53 per cent; more necessary, 6 per cent; no opinion, 5 per cent.

A follow-up question asked students to rate football with a zoology department. Results differ only slightly from those of the preceding question. They are, as necessary, 39 per cent; less necessary, 53 per cent; more necessary, 8 per cent; no opinion, 9 per cent.

IN BOTH questions the attitudes of graduate students differed markedly from the opinion pattern. Only 12 per cent of the graduate students considered football "as necessary" as a history department; 77 per cent thought is "less necessary." Figures for the zoology question were almost identical.

There were practically no differences of opinion among the other classes; and there were none between men and women.

Several students who voiced "no opinion" declared that football has "the more popular" at their school. A male senior from an eastern college when asked to rate football and a history department declared, "Neither are necessary." His opinion was shared by six others.

The majority of those who commented seemed to express either one or both of the following attitudes: (1) "There is a place in college for a sound athletic program, one which develops sportsmanship and fair play." (2) "College football, in many instances, has "gone commercial."

Patronize Our Advertisers

Members of F.T.A. Organize Chapter

The Walker-Westcott Chapter of Future Teachers of America at Florida State University was a going organization today, more than 200 members joining following adoption of a constitution and election of officers Thursday night.

The group elected Pat Russell as president; John Bowery, vice-president; Margaret Ann Nash, secretary; Louis Thomas, treasurer. All are majors in the FSU School of Education. W. J. Tait, FSU associate professor of education, was elected faculty sponsor. J. D. Sykes, student chairman, presided.

THE NEW university chapter of FTA, affiliated with both the Florida Education Association and National Education Association, was named for Davis S. Walker and John Westcott, Florida pioneers in public education for all persons regardless of their station in life.

A. L. Vergason, supervisor of public instruction in Hillsborough County and president of the Florida Education Association, spoke briefly during the organizational meeting.

HE SAID THAT by joining the some 14,000 teachers in Florida in the FEA and the more than one million in the teaching profession in the NEA the group was making their contribution toward raising the standards of their profession. The Florida educator commended the new FTA members that the teaching profession with its respondibility for education of the nation's children should embrace the highest possible standards of quality and service.

Mrs. Dora Sykes Skipper, associate professor of education and general chairman of the organizing group, introduced the various committee and also a student interim committee in formation of the new chapter. Each student committee included Gordon Darby, first chairman; J. D. Sykes, second chairman; Mary Hargrave, Cally Economon, Jane Williams, and Mary Ann Nash.

ALL CHARTER members signed the scroll prepared by Porter Bostick, art education major. This scroll will be presented to Dr. Mode Stone, acting dean of the School of Education to be framed and hung in his office.

The FSU faculty committee working with Mrs Skipper to help organize the group included Dr. Malvina Trussell, James Dickson, W. J. Tait and others

Patronize Our Advertisers

Patronize Our Advertisers

Let Us Service Your Pride and Joy

Moat's Trailway Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

NEW Wildroot LIQUID CREAM SHAMPOO

More than just a liquid, more than just a cream . . . new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.

Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleamingly clean, manageable, curl-inviting without robbing hair of its natural oils.

THREE SIZES 25¢ 59¢ 98¢

Soapless Sudsy . . . Lasslie Lovely!

P. S. To keep hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing.

Theta Wins Again

Kappa Alpha Theta took top honors in the Sigma Chi derby for the second straight year, Coppins two first prizes out of the seven contests, the Thetas placed fifteen other competna sororities in the mock track meet held in Doak S. Campbell stadium last Saturday afternoon.

Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Kappa took second and third runner-up positions, respectively.

THE DERBY included the Bow-legged nag and Change Clothes races, won by the Thetas; the Saddle Shoe win by Alpha Xi; the Hasbea, by Sigma Kappa; and the Potato Back race, the String-eating and the Surprise, won by the Tri-Delts. Alpha Chi Omega and Phi Mu, respectively.

Kappa Alpha Theta took first last year by winning three gold trophies and accumulating six points. Delta Zeta came in second with six and Pi Beta Phi and Delta Gamma tied for third place with five points each.

THE DERBY, which originated the Sigma Chi week-end, originated as the University of Georgia 18 years and has spread to almost every co-educational institution in the country where there is a Sigma Chi chapter.

It is patterned after the Kentucky Derby, the famous horse race, and has for its main purpose the entertainment of the contestants and audience.

Sophomore Baby Jane Schuchart was chosen sweetheart of Sigma Chi at the annual sweetheart ball Friday night in the Hotel Duval.

Frat Plans Award For Male Senior

The Beta Psi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity at Florida State University, is making plans for presenting a scholarship award to the outstanding male senior student in the School of Business.

The award will be presented in the School of Business male senior, who makes the highest scholastic average during a three-year period of work at the university. The award will be presented annually and membership in the fraternity will not be a requirement for receiving the award.

Newly elected officers of Alpha Kappa Psi are Tom Sherry, president; Bill McDonald, vice-president; Herb Jones, secretary; Bill Moore, treasurer; and Frank Kerr master of rituals.

Bi-Y Plans Coffees For Student-Faculty

Bi-Y will sponsor a series of coffees next semester for the purpose of improving student-faculty relations.

The coffees, which will be held once or twice a month, will start with one on Feb 10 at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Dr. Howard Bisbinger, assistant professor of social work, 1638 Fernando drive.

Meetings at the homes of other faculty members will follow. Transportation is to be furnished from the Longmire building. Students need only sign a sheet on the Bi-Y bulletin board in the post office to attend.

Patronize Our Advertisers

TUX RENTAL SERVICE

Nic's Joggery

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

THERE'S $20.00 IN THIS NAME IF YOU SUGGEST THE RIGHT ONE!

A New Restaurant or Grill Is Opening Soon in the new Trailways Bus Station on North Monroe St., and is in need of an appropriate name.

"Do Not Start Your Suggested Name With Trailways"

SEND ALL ENTRIES TO EMANUEL JOANOS P. O. BOX 1142, TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

BAND CONFERENCE—Shown are a group of music faculty members chatting with visiting conductors after the band concert last Friday night.

'Significant Growth' Is Shown In FSU Band, Says Reviewer

By C. M. CARROLL

The Florida State University Symphonic Band, under the able direction of Robert T. Braunagel, appeared in concert for its first time this season Friday evening.

The concert was played in honor of the Southern Division Conference of the College Band Directors National Association, which convened on campus Jan. 17-19.

THE CONCERT provided a highlight, not only of the band directors' campus conference session, but of the FSU band's significant growth under Director Braunagel. Braunagel is an assistant professor in the School of Music. The organization is truly "symphonic" in the literal sense of the word, for the instrumental choirs and their consituents play together with a keen sense of rhythmic and melodic balance and several musical intelligence.

The program offered several works which brought in play all the pageantry and power within the band's capacity. The spectacular finale to Richard Strauss' tone-poem Death and Transfiguration and William Schuman's musical depiction of the George Washington Bridge gave ample proof of the band's musical acuity.

THE LATTER piece, subtitled An Impression for Band, gave the definite impression that Mr. Schuman was at a loss for a musical idea, but the band successfully executed its contentious cross-rhythm and somehow motivated its static musical nature.

A Nordic Suite by Prof. Bertil Boer of the School of Music was among several compositions on the program written expressly for band by contemporary composers. Composed of five characteristic pieces, the suite proved to be not particularly nordic in quality, but was pleasant listening nonetheless.

SOLOISTS for the program were Jack Scarborough, trumpeter, and Kenneth Day, drummer, who gave a lively and witty rendition of a number called, quite appropriately, Trumpet and Drum. Just prior to the last number on the program, Col. Harold Bachman, chairman of the Southeastern Division, introduced the 20 band directors representing leading colleges and universities in the Southeast who attended the conference.

Conference sessions included a general discussion of problems and ideas of college band administration, a clinic on adjudication with Col. Bachman presiding, and a marching band clinic featuring sound films, presided over by Fred McCall of the University of Miami.

Oleson To Be Head Of Hotel Program

Ralph Oleson, majoring in the School of Business, has been elected aeneral chairman of the annual "Hotel For A Day" program sponsored by the Seminole Club, student organization of the FSU department of restaurant and hotel management.

Reid Gillis will serve as assistant manager and Dick Foster, executive chef for the annual event scheduled for next May 2 at Wakulla Lodge. Other committee chairmen have been appointed and have started to work on their arranaements in cooperation with the lodge management.

The club officers are Jim Brady president; Merrill Moore, vice president; Ronald Pickett, secretary, and Bob Stewart, treasurer.

The committee in charge says the program this year will be centered around the theme of "Old Unlanitation," and will be carried out in that manner.

Charles Hornsworth, executive president of the American Hotel Association from New York will be speaker.

Alumni Secretaries Attend District Meet

Miss Mildred Parrish, alumni secretary and Ralph Hagin, assistant secretary, are now attending the American Alumni Council District III meeting in Biloxi, Miss.

Included on the agenda of the three-day meeting which began Sunday was a work shop session on "Public Relations with Alumni and Students". This was conducted by Miss Parrish.

Representatives from colleges and universities in nine southeastern states are attending the meeting. Eighty-one schools are members of AAC in District III.

SCARED CHEEK AND HONOR ROLL . . .

The United Press reports that duelling on German Campuses is again being practiced. The scarred cheek is a mark of honor.

Fraternity men have been ordered by their alumni officers to practice duelling secretly once a week in case of possible challenges. In two cases, where fraternities have disobeyed this edicts, students have been hauled before the university administration, a clinic on adjudication with Col. Bachman presiding, and a marching band clinic featuring sound films, presided over by Fred McCall of the University of Miami.

Be Happy- GO LUCKY!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

It takes fine tobacco to give you a better-tasting cigarette. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. But it takes something else, too—superior workmanship. You get fine, light, mild, good-tasting tobacco in the better-made cigarette. That's why Luckies are better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today!

"It's good to smoke a Lucky Strike! It's pleasure without fear. Cause Luckies always are so free and easy on the draw!"
George A. Taylor
Northwestern University

L.S./M.F.T.- Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

"I'm quite an athlete in school, And many I have raced. And many I have won, But there's just one thing that can't be beat— It's Luckies' better taste!"
Harris Freedman
La Salle College

"I always smoke those Lucky Strikes— Their better taste is grand; I buy 'em by the carton, So they'll always be on hand."
Lois Jarel
Santa Barbara College

LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.
PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company

Campus Honoraries
Tap and Initiate
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

Cram, Cram, Cram . . .
Examinations Begin
Next Monday

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 28
PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA
Friday, January 25, 1952

GARNET KEY INITIATES—Seven undergraduates and two honorary members were initiated into the women's leadership honorary last Tuesday night. Left to right they are Lucille Rogers, Nancy Smith and Martha Watkins. Second row, Barbara Goleman, Mary Helen Speed, Louise Thompson and Nancy Day. Third row, Mrs. Rod K. Shaw and Sue Blakney Adams.

Gold Key Taps Eight Men; Garnet Key Initiates Seven

Eight juniors and seniors were tapped Wednesday night for Gold Key, campus service honorary for men, while their sister honorary organization initiated their seven taps on Tuesday night.

Gold Key taps were selected on qualities of leadership, scholarship and service as were the Garnet Key members.

TAPPED FOR Gold Key were Dave Boda, Bill Dunn, Wallace Dunn, Jimmy Evans, Bill Evans, Bill Heil, Allan MacCall, Bill Skipper and Robert Tully.

Garnet Key initiates were Barbara Coleman, Lucille Rogers, Nancy Smith, Louise Thompson, Martha Watkins, Nancy Day and Mary Helen Speed.

INITIATED AS honorary members were Mrs. Rod K. Shaw, wife of a business manager, Rod K. Shaw, and Mrs. Dabney Adams, English instructor.

State Senator LeRoy Collins, who was given honorary membership in Gold Key during the annual Gold Key-Garnet Key homecoming tapping fall, spoke to the actives and taps on the qualities of leadership.

The new taps will be recognized today by a gold key hung around their neck on a gold ribbon. Each will carry out a project assigned by Gold Key during the year six weeks.

ALSO PRESENT during the ceremony were Dr. Claude Flory, Gold Key sponsor, Vice-President A. B. Martin, and Dean Otis McBride.

At the members of Gold Key include Bradley Bell, Bill Davidson, John Fortune, Robert Griffin, Bill Hayes, Allan Head, Neil Jones, Walt Jardine, Jim Kirk, John Newland, Bob Smoak, Dick Bradley, Jerry Thomas and President Stan Gould.

PRESIDENT Gould announced that the next meeting of active members and taps will be held Thursday, February 14, at 8 p. m. on the fourth floor of the Alumni building.

Members of Garnet Key are Alice Jackson, president; Ellen Hall, secretary; Barbara Graves, treasurer; Mary Ruth Summers, vice-president; Marianne Gillen, publicity chairman; Mary Stuart Smith, historian; Peggy Moore, social chairman; Patty Mims, Betty Hamby, Gail Kelly Abraham, Jeri Monroe, Frances Clark, Elizabeth Rose.

ALSO MEMBERS are Jo Neil Proctor, Myra Kisht, Virginia Lee, Marjorie Wentworth, Jane Tait, Mary Ellen Tavel, Til Loflaisten, Shirley Gregory, Betty Rich, Margaret Krasseman, Mac Grailler, Sue Saxon, and faculty sponsor is Dr. Lincoln Canfield, modern language professor.

"Garnet Key is to promote those activities which foster the progress of the University," stated Alice Jackson, the president.

GOLD KEY TAPS—Eight men from the Junior and Senior classes were tapped for Gold Key, men's leadership honorary, last Wednesday. Left to right they are Dan Beda, Wallace Dynes and Bob Tully. Second row, Jimmy Evans, Allan MacCall and Bill Dunn. Third row, Bill Hess and Bill Skipper.

Smith Tells Freshman Class That 'Spirit Is Sadly Lagging'

"The freshman class spirit is sadly lagging," reported class president Graeen Smith at the class meeting Wednesday night.

He held March 19 in the East campus gymnasium.

It was brought out in the discussion that the freshmen have an additional only $175 instead of the usual $200 which was given by the class the past year.

HOWEVER, $100 for expenses of carnival will be alloted out of special allocation by the council that is used will have to be approved by Dean of Student Welfare, J. Broward Culpepper.

Committee heads are Ann Williams, invitations; Lillian Avis, food and refreshments; Don Van Hoe, tickets; Helen Hamilton, and Dra Clarke, publicity; Charlotte Hardy, kiss and queen; Nell Elland and Peggy Schinhart, prizes and David Dreis, entertainment.

THE CLASS elected Dr. Richard L. D Morse professor in family relations and Dr. Grace I. Fox professor in physical education to class sponsors who will serve for three years through their four years at Florida State.

The freshman carnival consists of a cake baking contest, and a King and Queen contest, besides the things which were presented last year.

All those interested in working on the committees are asked to come up for serving in lunch with any of the committee heads.

Students Must Pay To See Broadcast

Students will not be admitted free to the Sandspur Vaughn Monroe radio broadcast unless they buy a ticket to the Sandspur dance, Betsy Rich reported to Executive Council yesterday.

The information was released by members of the Sandspur dance committee.

Student tickets, which will go on sale around Feb. 10, will cost $2 each or $4 a couple. Two thousand tickets will be sold to the dance and the show.

The half-hour radio salute to Florida State will start at 10 p.m. Saturday night, Feb. 23. It will be broadcast over 10 Florida stations and 170 stations across the United States.

A state-wide publicity campaign has been planned by Mac McCall publicity director for the Sandspur production and dance.

Students Get Materials for Registration

Former FSU Students To Begin Registering On Saturday Morning

University students received registration materials in their post office boxes Wednesday afternoon.

Students enrolling at Florida State University for the first time will have to pick IBM cards at the registrar's office, according to Willie Caldwell, assistant registrar.

REGISTRATION for new transfers, entering freshmen and graduate students will begin February 8 at the time designated on appointment cards.

Former students of FSU will register beginning at 8 Saturday morning, February 9.

All blanks except number three must be filled out in ink before students may enter the Women's gymnasium for registration.

THE REGISTRATION process will be facilitated if students fill out their registration cards before hand. There alds may be used as a ready reference by attendants and instructors at the various tables

Students are reminded that their individual academic deans will be in their offices during the whole procedure to give advice and assistance and to issue underload permits.

Those students who have not as yet, picked up the schedule book set containing the registration procedure are asked to do so now. All information pertaining to registration can be found here.

IN COMMENTING on pre-registration matters, Mr. Caldwell stated that around 200 new students are expected for the same as it did at second semester registration last year.

Besides handing out student registration material, the registrar's office will distribute the duplicate appointment card for each student. This measure was taken in case the student loses his registration materia; or doesn't receive it before registration.

Because the English department moved to East campus, advance English courses will be held on East campus next semester. Students are asked to disregard the schedule for these courses appearing in the booklet. A new set of courses will be mimeographed and distributed before registration.

Plans Underway For Free Movies Next Semester

Plans are being completed this week to bring 16 free, feature-length movies to the Florida State University campus next semester.

The films, which will be recent Chile productions, will be shown on a weekly schedule, they will be held at least twice a week in the men's and women's dormitories, and one night in a central location, probably Conradi theater, the Music auditorium or the Music amphitheater.

SPONSORING the film is a combination of funds from the junior and senior classes, the Florida International association, and men's and women's residence, the shows are free but there will be some complaints of too little entertainment on campus," according to Jimmy Evans, Bill Heil, and Jeanne Holland, members of the student entertainment committee.

The committee plans to present the initial program the first week after the first semester holiday. It will print a schedule every four weeks.

PROFESSOR Myles H. Ritchie associate professor in the audio-visual department is in charge of ordering the pictures and procurring student assistants to run the projectors.

Student admission fees are a part of the committee's activity fee.

School of Education Hos Wakulla Banquet

The School of Education, faculty and students, held a banquet at Wakulla Springs Lodge last night. The dinner, a student-faculty planned affair, was the first of its kind to be given.

A pioneer theme was carried out and a skit by the students was presented. The purpose of the banquet was to acquaint the students with faculty members in the school and bring secondary and elementary field teachers together.

224 to Receive Degrees In Music Auditorium Sat.

Second Annual Short Course Begins Today

The second annual newspapermen's shortcourse will get under way with an address by President Doak S. Campbell at a lunch today in the Lafayette room.

Panels and discussions have been set up by the newspapermen from all sections of the South representing many dailies as well as the weekly papers.

PRESIDING at today's luncheon is Dr. A. B. Martin, Florida State University vice-president. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Walter K. Mosley, chaplain of the Episcopal student center. Music will be provided by the School of Music and will feature Gerry Silva, Hilda Hamilton, Joan Fargis and Joan Anderson.

This afternoon's session has scheduled a discussion on profitable job printing led by Louie Wadsworth, publisher of the Suwannee Democrat.

PAUL SCALERA, assistant professor of journalism at FSU, will be moderator for the panel discussion on "Pictures I Would Like to Write" this afternoon. Participating in the discussion are Dr. G. Smith, associate professor of anthropology and archaeology at FSU; Harold Hanson, director of the PSU Oceanographic Institute; Dr. Mode Stone, Acting Dean of the School of Education; T. Stanton Dietrich, assistant professor of sociology; and Hazel T. Stevens, chairman of the department of clothing and textiles.

Another panel discussion will be held at 3:30 p. m. today on "Does the New Election Code Imperil Freedom of the Press" with J. Kenneth Ballinger, Tallahassee lawyer, as moderator. Participating in the group discussion will be Malcolm B. Johnson, Bureau Chief, the Associated Press; Marty Friedman, Political Editor, the St. Petersburg Times; Wallace B. Finlay, publisher, County Record, Blountstown; and James L. Graham, assistant attorney-general.

Highlighting the annual banquet to be held at 6:15 p. m. in the Lafayette room will be an address by Leslie G. Moeller, director of the School of Journalism at the State University of Iowa. Professor Moeller will discuss "The Challenge to the Mass Media in Time of Crisis." Presiding will be William Ross Blaushier, FSU graduate in journalism. Howard J. Busching, assistant professor of social work, will deliver the invocation. Music will be furnished by the FSU Collegians, directed by Dayton Smith.

SATURDAY morning addresses will be made by Glenn McNeil, secretary-manager of the Tennessee Press Association; Stanford Smith, secretary-treasurer, Georgia Press Association and Leslie G. Moeller, director of the State University of Iowa School of Journalism.

A review and preview of the short course will be given Saturday noon by Dr. Laurence R. Campbell, dean of the FSU School of Journalism.

Book Exchange Opens Monday

Exchange to Operate Before - After Holiday

The Used book exchange will open at 8:30 Monday morning on the ground floor of the Longmire building for a week run.

Operated by the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity the exchange has been set up for the benefit of students to resale their used books and buy used books at reasonably reduced prices.

THE EXCHANGE will stay open until 4:30 each day and will operate on a non-profit basis, receiving primarily the use furnishing of books next week. The sale operation will begin after registration in Friday.

Students will set the price desired for their individual books. For every book exceeding one dollar, the buyer and seller will contribute a 10-cent fee, for books under one dollar a five-cent fee will be paid by each.

STUDENTS WILL be given receipts or certificates with each book. They will present this certificate at the end of the operation or before. If the book is sold, they will receive their money, if not the book will be redeemed to the owner.

Chairman of the student exchange this year is Tommy Bowen. Assisting him in the fraternity service are John Adams, Jim Turvaville, Jay Ladd, Jim Lohmeyer and Jimmy Evans.

The Florida State University exchange was set up under the direction and efforts of Shirley Gregory, last year's chairman, under the junior class project.

Edmunds, Stetson President, To Speak at Commencement

President of Stetson University J. Ollie Edmunds, will address 224 candidates for degrees at the Florida State University fall semester commencement, Feb. 2, with 27 degrees granted In Absentia.

President Doak S. Campbell has announced that the graduation ceremonies will take place in the Music hall auditorium at 4:30 Saturday.

DRESS REHEARSALS will be held Friday, Feb. 1, at 4:30 in the Music hall. All students graduating in Feb. may be alloted three graduation admission tickets to the Music hall instead of the two previously allotted.

The tickets will be given out during the dress rehearsal. Only those attending the rehearsal will receive tickets.

The academic regalia has been explained by Dr. Venila Lovins Shores, head of the history department and chairman committee on convictions. Candidates for baccalaureate degrees will wear white dresses, formal collars and black aloes for the women, and dark trousers, white shirts, black shoes for the men.

CANDIDATES for master's degrees will wear white dresses with long sleeves, no visible collars and black shoes for the women and dark trousers, white shirts and black shoes for the men.

Colored tassels designating the school from which degree is being granted are to be worn at graduation. Tassels can be obtained in the university bookstore.

THE COMMENCEMENT speaker, Dr. Ollie Edmunds is the president of John B. Stetson University since 1944 where he had received his A. B., A. M. LLB and LLD degrees.

Admitted to the Florida Bar in 1927, and practicing in Deland from 1927 until 1936, Dr. Edmunds has served as Judge of the Duval County Court in Jacksonville and had a private practice there from 1931 to 1944. In 1944 he accepted the presidency of Stetson.

THE STETSON president holds a membership in the National Education Association, American Judicary Society, National Coun-

(Continued on Page 4)

Bi. Sci. Examination Is Planned Under System of Honor

The Honor System in operation!

Students will have an opportunity to exercise their honor system during the coming examination week.

Through the work of the FSU Honor committee, which has just been organized in the Honor Emphasis week, the previously faculty-proctored examination in the biological science examination will be given without proctors.

In section of the Bi Sci. examination given in the Conradi theatre, teachers will be present only for academic details. This is the first time large scale general education course has been given unsupervised by faculty members.

Many other examinations given during the year are not monitored by instructors.

The Honor Committee chairman, Zoe Rentz, stated that the committee hopes the students will be willing to accept the responsibility the new change demands.

Two Students Are 'Columbia Bound'

Two Florida State University students majoring in petroleum geology, will soon be leaving FSU for South America, where they plan to put their "book-learning" into practice.

William Dempsey Meyers, graduate student, and Donald Love, who is a candidate for his BS degree in February, have been offered and have accepted jobs in Colombia, South America, with the International Petroleum Corporation.

Love is from Miami and Meyers, from Jacksonville. Both served in the Armed Forces during the last war. They plan to make South America will be as assistant petroleum geologists, and they will spend much time in the field, mapping and making geological surveys.

Senate Hears First Proposed Amendment

The University Senate, at the last meeting of the current semester, heard the first UGA constitutional amendment proposed by the constitutional revision committee.

The proposed amendment, which received its first reading, provides for two major changes in the first article of the UGA constitution; the changing of the name of UGA itself and the granting of the franchise to graduate students.

MARY RUTH Summers, chairman of the revision committee, stated that the name "Student Body" would cause less confusion to outsiders than "University Government association," and that the committee had voted to let all students paying the activity fee, vote.

The student welfare committee reported that progress was being made on the teacher-evaluation project, but that it must consult further with the administration.

THE COMMITTEE agreed to investigate the higher cap and gown rental fee for summer school graduates, and to investigate the possibility of UGA presenting a program to high school "Career Day" visitors.

Vernon Peeples, senior men's senator, himself appointed to fill a Senate vacancy created another when he announced his resignation. He said, "When I was appointed to the Senate, I believed that I would be able to serve the full year, but I have now decided to graduate this February."

Absent from the meeting were Jim Kirk, Jo Nell Proctor, Joe Bunnell, Margaret Krasemann, Jim Landry, Gene Turano, Charlie Coulter and Joan Dozier.

Registrar's Office Does Not Limit Semester Absence

There is no set deduction of credit for absences during the semester with the exception of before and after a holiday, Charles H. Walker, registrar, has announced.

All semester absences are placed on a student-teacher relationship, Walker said in inquiry from the University Executive Council Walker states that the registrar does not limit the number of cuts a student may take. It is up to the teacher to decide what affect absences have upon a student's grade.

If teachers are expected, however, to report absences from class regularly to the offices of the Dean of Women and Dean of Men.

The deans have the authority to act as a student who cuts excessively on required attendance in one or more classes if circumstances seem to warrant it.

WALKER POINTED out that one person may be absent from school and fail a course while another student may miss a great deal and still pass the course.

The infirmary does not issue excuses for illness except upon request.

All students are required to attend all classes on the day preceding a holiday and the first day following a holiday. He loses one-sixth credit for each. The course if unexcused absences occur during this period.

Two Music Dramas Presented Tonight

The Florida State University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Robert N. Reeves, presented the first concert of the evening last night.

Two musical dramas based upon Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" were highly applauded. The Overture Fantasy to the play and Serge Prokofiev's Suite No. 2 was the two musical works.

Robert Erdos, conductor of the symphony has played the violin in amateur and professional orchestras throughout the country, and has conducted both choral and instrumental groups. During the last world war he was orchestral and choral director of the Navy Training School at Harvard University.

GREEK SPIRITS soared at the Sigma Chi derby last weekend. Excited spectators are shown above cheering their favorite sororities on to victory. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority won the annual event.

Campus Political Parties Would Spark Student Govt.

How about campus political parties at Florida State?

What are the Pros? The Cons?

For the positive approach first, the good points of having political parties can be examined.

It certainly would provide continuity in student government. Political parties could establish a platform that could continue year after year. As it is now, students try to promote certain reforms which are not easily accomplished in one year.

The Mortor Board annual training conference has helped greatly to provide this continuity. If uniformity of action is needed, certainly political parties can mold student action. The whole party would vote on measures they are promoting in all the areas of student government and there would be less room for minor personality snags for important reforms.

The political party would be responsible to the students. Students could hold the 'party' responsible even after seniors holding office graduated.

It would simplify the choice for the voter. Each party would screen those with leadership ability long before the election. Issues would be boiled down into set sides. It wouldn't be a million conflicting side-issues and opinions.

The political parties would tend to make campaign issues instead of personalities.

They would offer practical training to student government by the more realistic approach to politics.

If a party was elected to office it's members would have the power to get their platform planks completed. If they have the power they could be held responsible.

Political parties would certainly stimulate interest in student government, at present dead from the disease of student apathy. Imagine the fish fries and parades and hot rallies that might result from a spirited campaign. It can't happen now unless something drastic is done.

But this presentation is idealistic. What would be the disadvantages of political parties?

First the question is asked: What would the lines of division be? On issues? Hardly, because the line between conservative and liberal at Florida State is too thinly drawn.

The split would likely be between Greeks and Independents or a Fraternity split calling for support of the independent vote.

It would raise an almost dominant antagonism between the Greeks and Independents on campus. It would increase the prejudice and distrust between the two factions that is, in most forms, a regrettable feeling.

This Greek vs barbarian, as some campus call the political party allegiance, could prove into a dangerous thing. Or whatever which way the election swung, the Independents would get slim pickings.

Fraternity and sorority members might also prove a hindrance to their fellow social group instead of student government and the entire student body.

* * *

There is most certainly this problem of creating more interest in student government. If political parties can work in the ideal way, then let's have them. If they would become a tool of the 'special interest' groups instead of the democratic entirety, the student body, then we say let's forget it.

● LAST CHANCE

(Editor's note: The following article is the last in a series of three articles of study tips to be printed in the Flambeau. The suggestions are being offered by Mortar Board as an aid for study and as an effort to promote scholarship, one of its three ideals.)

Good Study Habits Include the Inevitable Review.—Your review should be often. Try setting aside an hour each week for each subject for review.

Above all, don't substitute memory for thinking. You should remember that several short frequent periods of studying give better results than one long period.

Your Study Schedule Should Give Some Consideration for the Essential Physical Fitness.—(Our Last Parting Word.) You can keep physically fit for studying by proper exercise, care of eyes, bodily intake and outgo, and play. It is important that you assume the proper physical and bodily attitude. Remember to sit straight when studying. Sleep and eat regularly during exams.

One important point to keep in mind is that mental efficiency changes very slightly during the school day. Interest application, and willingness to work are the main elements.

For good study habits, here's a hint that you try developing these suggestions.

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the fifth in a series of editorials explaining University Government executive council committees.

The series will be resumed the second semester with an explanation of the organizations committee of UGA.

The recent increase of $4 a year for student activity fees was the result of action by the student budget committee. It is the duty of this committee to request increases or allocations for student activities.

All organizations receiving money from student activity fees must have their budget approved by the student budget committee, now under the chairmanship of Pat Caro.

Two weeks after student government elections each spring each organization treasurer or business manager submits their proposed budget.

The budget is reviewed, usually in a joint student-faculty budget meeting.

Appointed by the president of UGA, the budget committee revises bookkeeping methods and procedure for securing money when it deems necessary.

The committee can restrict money spent on awards, gifts keys and banquets if the funds are derived from the Student Activity Fee. The amount allowed per student for awards, keys, and banquets is set by the student-faculty budget committee.

English Schedule Changes

The following schedule is reprinted in the Flambeau because of the complete change in class rooms for all English classes above 102. The schedule of classes for freshmen level will remain the same.

En 118-1	Approach to Literature	M.W.F.	8:30	10 Eh
	-2	M.W.F.	10:00	10 Eh
	-3	M.W.F.	3:00	307 H
	-4	M.W.F.	2:00	209 H
En 206	Writing the Narrative	M.W.F.	11:00	4 DH
En 207	Writing the Play	T.Th.	8:00-9:30	111 SW
En 215	Introduction to En Literature	T.Th.S.	2:00	222 H
En 216-1	Introduction to En Literature	M.W.F.	8:00	303 H
	-2	M.W.F.	9:30	11 En
	-3	M.W.F.	10:30	11 En
	-4	M.W.F.	1:00	235 H
	-5	M.W.F.	2:00	209 H
	-6	M.W.F.	2:00	112B En
	-7	T.Th.	8:00-9:30	307 H
	-8	T.Th.	9:30-11:00	307 H
	-9	T.Th.	2:30-3:30	308 W
	-10	T.Th.	2:00-3:30	308 H
		M.W.F.	3:00	305 W
En 305	Approach to Poetry	T.Th.	2:30-3:30	308 W
En 313	Techniques of Teaching Eng	M.W.F.	2:00	309 B
En 316	Shakespeare's Comedies	M.W.	3:00	309 B
En 335-1	American Literature	M.W.	9:00-10:30	201 B
	-2	M.W.F.	2:00	302 W
En 336-1	American Literature	M.W.F.	10:00	303 H
	-2	M.W.F.	9:00	303 H
En 347	Literary Criticism	M.W.F.	12:00	307 H
En 405	Gmr Grammar	M.W.F.	10:00	101 S
En 410	Chaucer	M.W.F.	9:00	303 H
En 415	Engl Poetry in the 18th Century	T. 9:00	Th 9:00-10:30	235 H
En 419	Eng Literature in the 17th Century	M.W.F.	12:00	225 H
En 427	The Age of Pope	T.Th.	9:00-10:30	402 En
En 436	American Drama	M.W.F.	11:00	303 H
En 437	Literature of the South	S.	9:00-12:00	225 H
En 440	World Novel	M.W.F.	12:00	313 En
En 445	Victorian Poets	M.W.F.	10:00	303 H
En 491-2-3-4	Directed Individual Study	To be arranged
En 505	Eng Composition	To be arranged
En 506	History of the Eng Language	T.Th.S.	10:00	122 H
En 517	Studies in Renaissance Prose	Th.	3:00-6:00	206 H
En 536	Pope, Swift and Johnson	W.	3:00-6:00	101 W
En 550	Modern Eng Literature	T.Th.	9:00-10:30	101 H
En 556	American Romanticism	T.	1:00-4:00	206 H
En 590	Directed Individual Study	To be arranged
En 599	Thesis	To be arranged

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

BITTER BUT TRUE CHUCKLE, AND LAMENT

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

With a bitter but true chuckle, a lament and a lament.

This university once had an outstanding reputation for the finest liberal arts curriculum, a reputation gained by fine colleges as a college for women.

Alas, came the male, with his money, and the lasting money, not getting married.

With the male came vocational training, teacher training, and such courses as rubber band procurement 245 and stapling methods 311.

And the whole curriculum has been revamped. New 'sciences' have appeared to teach baking and driver training.

Then there are millions of courses to train teachers.

Freshmen have this outlook:

Ed. 201 Effective methods.

Ed. 301. Theory of Education methods.

Ed. 401. Teaching the theory of Education methods.

Ed. 501. Graduate seminar on teaching the theory of teaching education methods.

Ed. 600. Testing the teaching of methodology of theory of teaching the methods of theory of teaching education methods.

Whew!

SEMINOLE SCENES

GOODBYE WITH A LACE HANDKERCHIEF

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Half the time I've been sitting at a typewriter to fill this three-column it seems as though I am hearing myself say, "Goodbye, sweetheart, hurry back" or "Hello, students, good to have you back." Sometimes I wish we had a column in one place so I could put up the handkerchief and the red carpet.

I would make a belated New Year's resolution to say my goodbye or hello more than once a year each but . . . I get so thinking about it that I never whole leave us in February for good. Think of all the faces we will never see again . . . the old gals, the old pests. The more I think, the more I'm sure I will lend YOU the lace handkerchief and go buy myself a box of Kleenex, dear sis.

So, we're up against the same old story. It's "so long" again. Hope you guys and gals will keep in touch with us.

* * *

Before we we have a brand new semester, I'd like to say a new semester always brings comments of "I'm going to study . . . and his singing Men's Glee Club will be in for a lot of serenading next semester.

Many students on this campus say that NSA has red tints. The validity of these charges is currently being investigated by a special student-faculty committee.

They may find that since NSA was organized in December, 1948 the opinion and control in the organization has ranged from rank radical to send conservative. A large mid-west Catholic bloc got control in '48, tamed down the radicalism and left NSA with only a sweet liberalism.

Now they are radical because of the times . . . that all students should receive an education regardless of their color or religion.

Cloud our minds with confusion of world peace but don't stamp out our ideals.

Florida would be like unstained, unspoiled stars, to lead us through dark nights showered by unpolluted light of truth and prejudice.

Under many tattered sets of scruples in the University executive council.

Still the business of freedom gave way to fear of censure at Florida State University in 1952.

* * *

Freedom of expression of knowledge is still seeing its light somewhere along the line . . .

* * *

I passed a little kindergarten fellow the other day on campus just as classes were letting out. He gave such a great big unhappy sigh that I asked him what was wrong. "Well," he said, as he watched all the cute co-eds hurrying to class, "I'm not sure, you know, I'm just crazy about girls. But", he continued seriously as a boy passed him, "I guess I like it. I don't care a thing about boys, but there isn't a good one in the whole pass with a problem." Who said anything about the younger generation?

* * *

Hmm. Was there something in this mass of type said about a crip course? I can find no such animal in Webster's or the Encyclopedia Britannica, much less on the campus. As near as I can find, a Crip Course is and I quote: "A line of study which will be certain to get an A and during which one does not have to exercise one's mental capacities. Similar to the unicorn."

ACP ROUNDUP

MINNESOTA STUDENT PROTEST FIRING

Students and faculty at the University of Minnesota are doing a lot of talking about the firing of Forrest O. Wiginia, instructor of philosophy.

Wiginia, who has taught at the University for five years, was notified last March that he would not be rehired next year. Thirty-seven other instructors received identical notices at the same time in accordance with tenure regulations.

Wiginia protested immediately, claiming he was dismissed because of his political views and because of pressure from the state legislature. Some of his backers claim that Wiginia was dismissed because he is a Negro.

A Student Action committee was quickly organized. It submitted a petition signed by more than 2,000 students to President J. L. Morrill asking him to clarify the administration's stand.

Morrill replied that Wiginia was simply not competent. He added that he had "documentary evidence" in support of the claim. He categorically denied that he dismissed had anything to do with Wiginia' race or his politics. He said the administration had decided no to pressure from the legislature.

The chairman of the philosophy department, backed by all the philosophy staff, said that Wiginia' popularity with the students.

Out of the general confusion on the University of Minnesota campus the Wiginia muddle, two fairly clear-cut, opposing views have emerged.

One is the administration's. It says, in effect, that academic freedom is not involved in the Wiginia case." Wiginia, says the administration, was dismissed because "serious doubts" had been raised about his competence. The administration says it decided to no outside pressure in making the decision.

The other side is represented by the Student Action committee. It claims the administration has failed to support its charge that Wiginia is incompetent. The issue, it says, is one of academic freedom. It has petitioned the Board of Regents to reinstate Dr. Wiginia

Commented the Minnesota Daily. "The student petition makes it clear that the University's judgment is being questioned. Yet the University's decision is a purely good little paper, but let's not kid anyone about it, being a student action. It's an experiment of the journalism department. Let's look at that."

Commented the editors. "Please it's a school."

* * *

STATUTORY

Three students at Ohio State University are under disciplinary from Chi Phi fraternity for being involved in the theft of a church statue.

A chapter spokesman said, "The fraternity has suspended the members involved in the theft, and feels it has nothing more to do with the incident. We would like to clear our names."

* * *

THE MINUTE WOMEN

A 57-year-old freshman at the University of Connecticut, whose wife is national chairman of the Minute Women of America, has been indicted on charges of failing to file a loyalty oath.

Colonel Edward Stevenson countered with "I enrolled at the University only for the sake of intellectual enjoyment." His wife said he was joining the university to acquaint my husband of being a spy for a group."

* * *

ORGANIZED THUMBING

At Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, Michigan, hitchhikers have been doing a little trouble with the police. There's a law against thumbing in that town, and offenders must pay a $10 fine and costs.

As a solution the Women's League has provided "ride depots," set up on various corners throughout the town. Students may legally pick up rides at these designated spots.

The chief of police added that hitchhiking "apparently is legal if the student stays on the curb or back of it."

* * *

RECORD?

The Daily Princetonian, Princeton University, claims it may have the best blood donation record in the nation. Ninety-nine per cent of the students pledged a pint of blood each.

Violinist Sedore Presents Recital Monday Night at 8

Robert N. Sedore, violinist, will present a recital in the Music hall next Monday evening at 8:15 p.m. He will be accompanied by Robert Olmbach at the piano.

The recital will mark his second public appearance in concert within a week, since Prof Sedore conducted the University of Florida symphony in the Music hall Sunday.

A pupil of the noted violin teachers Leon Sametini and Michel Penha, Sedore has had extensive professional experience as a member and conductor of amateur and professional orchestras throughout the country. He was also a pupil for a time at one of the famous Harvard Glee club.

During World War II he was orchestra leader and assistant at the Navy Training School at Harvard University. Previously he received his musical training at the University of Kansas, Chicago Musical College and Harvard University. He taught at the University of Idaho and at Baker University before coming to FSU.

THE PROGRAM next Monday evening will include Sonata No 5 in G Major, Op. 30, No. 3, by Beethoven for Piano and Violin, Allegro assai, Tempo di Minuetto, and Allegro vivace.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sapp
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Feature Editor ..... Gerry Hoyt
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beas
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Bennett
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Rosemary Hamrick
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Lasnder, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fa Pittman, Ann Harley.

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 5-306, Ext. 481 ..... second Floor, Ahmet Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly during the school year except holidays and examination periods.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

FARCE, FARCE!

Dear Mr. Keiser:

Your last column, like unto a previous untimely blast, made me ill to the extremi. That I had to obtain a cleaner copy in order to finish your highly ignorant effort of the embittered Miss Henkel's farcical script.

Your rate of hearty approval was similar to prasing an idiot because he babbles in a pretty tone.

Furthermore, your column just as clearly was lacking in support your boast of literary ability, and I hope you will be able to extract the terminal portion of your leg from your over gaping and peculiar social cavity in sufficient preparation for any future would-be-recommendation.

Your decision to cease clutterring the already cluttered editorial page with your illogical and egotistic prattling is your initial gift to the students at Florida State, and for this worthy contribution to better journalism, I say "God Bless you for it."

JIM COUCH

THE COMPLEX MIND

Dear Editor:

Aw Tom, old bor, you are good! You can quote Joyce, Tolstoy, Hemmingway and Faulkner! It takes a complex mind to boor we hend those boys! Tom reads the dictionary for fun, that's how we know he's so complex. It takes twice or three times as long depending on the mood, to decipher Tom's lit as it does to do so to Browning's. Tom, you have us! We have when we finish' And Tom can pronounce half those words too!

I'm glad you have announced to the public what literary prowess, Tom: now perhaps one of Joe's cruciffers will come through with something original and less complex medience to help his mediocre readers. Perhaps Joe will publish one of his well written triestes to amuse little IQ 140 who is reading another of his many contributions to literature.

Perhaps Joe will explain what he meant by "Arms", Trolling Bells" and "Passion With a Polk."

* * *

Yes Tom—you are good, but why not climb the course in the cheek only half as far—this way sir, you mumble.

DOT DEAN, Wearer of the Arm, admirer of pretty clothes and shedder of a tear in "THE BLUE VEIL".

SUPPORTS?

Dear Editor:

There are approximalye 900 students that are Freshmen in FSU, yet only fifty appeared for the first official class meeting of the year.

Why don't the Fresh support their ushers own class? Are they all too busy or is it just too lazy?

The Freshman Carnival is coming soon ,too soon and with just a few Freshmen participating it can't possibly be a success. The class is depending on this carnival to support their activities as they progress through the mase of education but from the looks of it, there won't be any activities outside of the classroom. I must confess that the Freshmen class and its officers are a pretty unconcern for the state of their carnival. Maybe a meeting would seem that the Freshmen are not concerned whether or not the jellyfish would be ashamed of.

In spite of the evidence against them, they still have a chance to prove themselves innocent if this student council committees are in dire need of both men and women. New ideas for games, booths and entertainment are necessary. If we are to have our own Freshmen Carnival, although it is true that we can copy the other class's ventures, it would be a LOT better if we could hold up our heads and say: "That Was My idea for a carnival."

This is no more than a "call to arms." Only Freshmen can support and whether you know it or not, YOU NEED THE CARNIVAL. Many Freshmen can supply you with any information.

Day O Dora.

Masculine Play To Be Sponsored For Charity Drive

All indications are that a full house will be on hand tonight in the Leon High School auditorium as the Tallahassee Wedding" sponsored by the county March of Dimes committee.

Ed McCloskey, local passenger representative of Eastern Air lines, chairman of the event, and Mrs. Harry Wood, publicaitsm announced today several additional performers have agreed to take part to help in the fuld against polio

No admission charge will be made, but the committee in the charge hopes to raise a substantial sum for the March of Dimes through donations to be collected at the door.

Among Tallahassee's leading citizens taking part are John Sullivan, county commissioner, being the "bride," and Syde Dew, building contractor, as the "groom," along with Major Bill Cates as "maid of honor" and many dressed in women's clothing. The Leon High School Band and Chorus members will serve as

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Pressure from the Olympian heights of Dormitory authority is rapidly converting a loose masculine system of control over Men's Dormitories into a pseudo-feminine scheme of government. Tom Rovver-ish and yet dictatorial ideals of conduct.

Gone is the system of choosing Monitors which picked guys like Dub Kendrick, whom men couldn't help respecting—and yet who practiced a prime rule of men having authority over men—Mind your own business.

The average Monitor of 1952 couldn't get the respect of men with a sub-mashington at each hip. The trend is away from guys with minds of their own and more like people and away from basically unimportant stuff from Counselors—and toward wishy-washy little guys with complexes who are embralled with their right to suck on a pipe and play Captain of better men's souls.

Some of the Veterans of previous Dorm campaigns are planning to give up Monitor jobs and loot they need because the new "get tough" policy provides "pussyfooling" and tatting to the Lord High Counselor.

Letting chicken won't work.

Men don't like it—don't stand for it. As for the boys—it pushes them a couple of steps along the regressive road to mother.

* * *

Fightin Phil Spitzer, Talmadge quoting, Freshman Senator played demonstrator at the Senate meeting the other day over the new 2¢ buck lift in next year's fees.

Two more familiar faces gone as Fearless Foodick's unerring nose pays off axain in tickets home. . . .

Cagers Face Marines Here Tomorrow

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

When chunky Lou Fischer tossed in his 23 points against Florida Southern the other night, he tied Tom Maclaughlin for single game point honors.

Maclaughlin registered his 23 points in the tilt with Georgia Teachers college.

Fischer, incidentally, is showing signs of becoming the Semoles most consistent performer, something Coach Rod Kennedy needs badly.

Through the Indians last four tilts the five foot, ten inch bundle has averaged 15 points per game despite a four-point total in the first game with Southern.

Fischer bagged 17 against Stetson, and 16 versus Georgia Teachers.

. . .

The Seminoles still haven't lost the art of committing personal fouls. Two of the starters in Saturday's contest— Maclaughlin and Irv Quinn, weren't around when it was over.

Maclaughlin left before the end of the first half while Quinn followed suite in the last half. For Quinn who has scored in 13 games, it marked the first time he has been banished via the foul route.

. . .

Here's an item that should interest Seminoles football fans. The 1951 grid team finished 6th in the Nation for pass defense in the small college group, holding their eight opponents to 961 yards per game in the air and allowing only one TD to be scored on passes.

. . .

Tuesday Coach Donald Loucks is doing arrangements for the University of Michigan Netters to play here as part of the Wolverines "spring practice" trip in April.

Initial plans call for Coach Bill Murphy's Michigan team to tour here April 4 and practice until the following Tuesday when they meet the Seminoles in a regular match.

The Wolverines who are scheduled to return to Ann Arbor on the 12th, may meet the Florida Tennis team in Gainesville

. . .

The FSU coaching staff received some good news last week in the form of a letter from Don Gladden, ex-Seminole gridder from Jacksonville.

Gladden, now in the Marine Corps, said that he would receive his discharge in May and would enter school here next fall.

In 1950, as a Freshman, Gladden held down the first string quarterback post, backed the line on defense and played a vital role in the Indians drive to the Dixie Conference title that year.

. . .

Word has it that Fred Lapper, who performed here with the Florida Southern cagers, is planning to enter FSU next fall.

Lapper, a six-two 175-pounder, was an all-city selection at Miami Senior High in his prep days and played with Red Weatherington and Pete Sillas stars of the current Florida and Georgia Tech clubs.

A sophomore, Lapper is a deadly set shot artist and handles the ball with plenty of authority.

Vollyball Team In Tournament

The Florida State University volleyball squad left this morning for Knoxville, Tennessee where they will enter the Smoky Mountain Open Volleyball tournament tomorrow.

This will be the second tournament of the year for the Seminoles who placed third in the St. Petersburg Open in December.

The Volleyball team has won one and lost one in dual match competition, winning over Albany YMCA and losing to Pensacola Pre-Flight.

Coach Bill Odenwal expressed concern over the lack of defense which the Seminole team has displayed throughout the year.

It was stated that the Seminoles will definitely be underdogs in the tournament that will have teams from Knoxville, Nashville, Terre Haute (Ind.), Cincinnati, Columbus (Ohio), Covington (Ky.), Atlanta and Jacksonville Navy. Terra Haute and Knoxville were rated fourth and fifth in the nation last year.

Those who are making the weekend trip are Ronnie Hamilton, Howie Gould, Harry Bibee, Jim Clark, James MacPatter, Jim Leach, Matthew Sullivan and Dick Lapp.

The Seminoles will make their first home appearance of the season on Saturday February 9th, when they take on the Albany YMCA in a rematch of their earlier meeting. The match will be held in the West Campus gym, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Second in Series Offered Tonight

The second in a series of three student recitals will be given tonight in the Music hall.

Lorraine Bennett and Hilda Hamilton will be giving a joint recital starting at 8:15 p.m. Miss McKaye is a student of Mary Winslow, associate professor of piano. Miss Hamilton is a student of Prof. Herman Ginster, Jr., assistant professor of voice.

Another recital is to be held tomorrow evening when Joan Fargis, soprano, and Violet Mandese, pianist, will be featured. Miss Fargis, who is a student of Professor Gunter, will be accompanied by Eunenia Williams, pianist. Miss Mandese is a student of Prof. Frantisek Zachara.

Collegians To Sing

Sporting new gold satin shirts the Collegians will present a 29 minute program before the evening banquet of delegates attending the newspapermen's short course tonight.

The men will sing a program of spirituals, barber shop numbers and popular hit tunes at 7.

FSU Tank Team To Meet Emory Saturday Night

Florida State University's swimming team travels to Atlanta, Georgia, today to take on the perennially strong Emory University tankmen tomorrow afternoon.

Blake's diving mates, Georgia, which ended in a 42-42 tie, has made the Seminoles favorites to add number 14 to their consecutive list of victories without a loss—a record that stretches as far back as February, of 1950.

In 1951 the Seminoles took Emory by the score of 44-31 here in Tallahassee This year Emory is an unknown quality as this will be their first meet of the season and will mark the first time that Emory has been able to field freshmen.

Although his team is favored, Coach Stults is taking no chances and plans on traveling with a 23 man squad, including seven swimmers so that he can swim as many freshman as possible in order to give his new men seasoning.

The Seminole tankmen have been participating in dual meets every week ending in the schedule ahead which includes Emory, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Clemson, Davidson, Texas A&M and Rollins.

In addition FSU will take part in the Florida AAU, the Southern Regional AAU, the NCAA and National AAU Championships

Deans Must Grant Graduation Excuses

Seniors may be excused from graduation exercises next June only by securing permission from their dean.

Any student planning to graduate in June who does not have "in absentia" permission or has not arranged for postponement, must be present at graduation exercises.

Degrees and diplomas will be withheld and can then be secured only with special permission.

Jo Nell Proctor, secretary of the University Government association, in a special committee reported stated that seniors must have a good reason for securing either "in absentia" excuse or a postponement.

The report was made before UGA executive council Tuesday afternoon.

Seminoles Whip Mocs, 72-53 For Second Win of Season

Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminole cagers who topped Florida Southern 72-53 Wednesday night for their second win, take on the strong Parris Island Marines tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the West campus gymnasium.

The Indians who were blasted by the Marines in the season opener will be out for their third win against 14 defeats.

The powerful leatherneck five, which has dropped only one game

KOY THOMPSON, Host halfback on the Seminole football team, was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the recent professional draft. Thompson, a junior, has another year of eligibility remaining.

boasts one of the finest records in the country and were last year's National Marine champs.

Included in the Parris Island lineup are several former college players from Bowling Green and Lasalle colleges.

THE FLORIDA SOUTHERN contest was a loosely played affair from start to finish, with both teams making bad passes.

Bob Whitmer and Dunne Gordon put the Seminoles out in front in the first period with two free throws and the locals were never headed. Gordon added a field goal and Lou Fischer, the game's outstanding player, drove in with a layup before the visitors could find themselves.

BY THE END of the quarter, which was marked by poor shooting on both sides, the Mocs had pulled to within two points of the Indians who led 17-15.

In the second stanza the tempo picked up and the Seminoles, paced by the play of Fischer, went ahead 37-30 at the halfway mark. Big Tom Maclaughlin, the Seminoles leading scorer in previous tilts gathered only 2 points before fouling out with two minutes left in the period.

GORDON AND FISCHER hit a hot streak in the third stanza and combined to run the score to 54-41 at the three quarter mark.

Fischer, veteran guard, registered 23 points to pace the FSU scorers while Gordon was runner-up with 12. Bob Whitmer and Dick Benson had 8 and 7 respectively.

Fred Lapper gathered 15 markers to spark the Southern attack. Drammus Forrest was next with 10.

The Box Score:
Fla. State	fg	ft	tp	Fla. Sou.	fg	ft	tp
Whitmer, f	3	2	8	Bowden, f	2	2	6
Dunne, f	3	1	7	Benson, f	3	1	7
Gordon, f	5	1	11	Lapper, f	4	7	15
Weatherbee	2	0	4	Sills	1	2	4
Fischer, c	9	5	23	Forrest, c	3	3	9
Quinn, g	1	0	2	Hall, g	2	1	5
Robinson, g	2	0	4	Hackman, g	1	1	3
McLendon	1	0	2	Gregory, g	2	0	4
Lapp	0	0	0	Beverly, g	0	0	0
Fisher, g	15	3	33	Hackman, g	0	0	0
Quinn, g	0	0	0
Totals	21	10	72	Totals	17	19	53

Halftime score: Florida State 37, Florida Southern 30. Officials: Fromhart and Gwinn.

Drama Tryouts Held For 2nd Semester

Tryouts for the next semester dramatic productions will be given the Sunday after registration, announced Dr. George McCalmon today.

Next semester's plays consist of "Biography" and "Woman of the Inn." The others have not been chosen.

"All those interested in working in our productions whether it be on stage or back stage should be present at the try-outs," continued Dr. McCalmon.

Frosh Need Workers

All persons interested in working on the freshman Carnival are asked to get in touch with Mimi Patterson, vice-president of the Freshman class, at Reynolds Hall.

Girl's Volleyball Meet Underway

The Even volleyball team defeated the Odd's 23-18 in the first tournament game in the women's gymnasium January 22.

The Odd line up looked like this: Barbara Collinsworth, Sally Ellis, Joanne Thorpe, Anna Athanasco, Elsie Chapman, Pat Gerdemen, Joanne Young, and Betty Anne Hayes. Substitutes were Sadie Presnell, Joan Guard, Judy Johnson, and Cynnie Brown.

The Even's starting lineup was June McGill, Cynthia Mink, Pat Folsom, Dorrie Mickler, Charlotte West, Nancy Lane, Lucy Hargraves, and Carolyn Henry. Substitutes were Doris Parlin, Merl Bulletin

Alpha Phi's (Women Pi Phi's to Meet Alpha Phi's Tonight)

Alpha Phi's (women Pi Phi's) tapped the Pi Phi's yesterday afternoon as the FLAMBEAU was going to press by a score of 23 to 16, making them winners of the sorority league.

The undefeated Alpha Pi's will face the winning dormitory team, Gilchrist, at 5 p.m. today.

The Odd's took an early lead in the game and displayed outstanding team work but the Even's battled the Odds who were ahead by a score of 11-8.

The Even's came from behind to go ahead in the next half as Carolyn Henry's outstanding serve stopped the Odd team. At the end of the game the Even's had won by a score 23-18.

BOWLING

The Odd's swept a straight two game series from the Even's in bowling, by scores of 112-94 on Monday, and 116-105 on Tuesday.

High scorer for the Odd's were Betsy Gilbert 154, Phaelis Bernelle 144, Norma Bolton 135, and Janet Woolgist 134, Joan Pinson 159. Pat Lormier 151, and Gwen Loc 144. The Even team included Jo Roberts 154, Eunice Thompson 117, Elley Merritt 127, and Sunny Livineston 130.

Classified Ads

WANTED—Desire Apartment with FSU Professor or Graduate Student. Interested Person Call W. E. Rumer 3-5975.

FOR RENT—ROOMS CLOSE TO COLLEGE. Call 3-4009 after 5 p.m.

Rooms Close to Campus For Rent. Call 2-4009 After 5 P. M.

-Week-End-
SPECIAL
FRIDAY, SATURDAY, SUNDAY
HOT FUDGE SUNDAE 14¢
With Whipped Cream
CHOCOLATE MILK 10¢
With Ice Cream and Whipped Cream
MECCA

Majoring in FRENCH?

Mais oui, Mam'selle, you'll be tres chic in a jolie Judy Bond! These blouses combine Paris inspired styling with wonderful American value...terrific in any language!

Judy Bond BLOUSES
AT BETTER STORES EVERYWHERE
SEE THEM AT MAYERON'S
Judy Bond, Inc., 1372 Broadway, New York 18, N. Y.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
103 S. Monroe

Valentine Day is Thursday, February 14

. . . and we have just the card to make HER (or HIM) happy . . .

Stop by . . . Look them over, and pick one out!

UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE
"In the Dining Hall"

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

It takes fine tobacco to give you a better-tasting cigarette. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. But it takes something else, too—superior workmanship. You get fine, light, mild, good-tasting tobacco in the better-made cigarette. That's why Luckies taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky! Get a carton today!

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Callaway Went Thataway
with Fred MacMurray and Dorothy McGuire
Sunday and Tuesday
I'll Never Forget You
with Tyrone Power and Ann Blyth
STATE
Today thru Friday
Elopement
Clifton Webb
TUESDAY
Grand Ole Opry
and Stage Show
Wed Thru Sat
I'll See You In My Dreams
RITZ
Today and Sat.
Man of the Forest
with Randolph Scott
plus
G. I. Jane
with Tom Neal
Sun. and Mon.
Capt. Horatio Hornblower
with Gregory Peck
Tues. and Wed.
Let's Make It Legal with Claudette Colbert
DRIVE-IN
Today and Sat
Flying Leathernecks
John Wayne
plus
Haunted Dead Are Alive
Sun. and Mon
As Young as You Feel
David Wayne and Jean Peters
Tuesday and Wed.
Fort Worth
with Randolph Scott
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Prof's Invention Gains Interest of Many, Even Paris

Even Paris is interested, in a Florida State University professor's invention.

Rudolph Jegart, associate professor in the Department of Art, has been asked by "Formes Utiles," a branch of the French Union of Modern Artists," to submit information concerning his Contour Delineator for its 1952 Exhibition in Paris.

The Contour Delineator is two large screens of expanded steel which are set opposite and parallel to each other on a rigid steel framework. By the insertion of removable steel rods chair forms can be set up in a few minutes and fired out for use. If the proportions or angles of the proposed shape are not entirely comfortable, changes can be quickly made by moving the steel rods to other positions.

Professor Jegart's "chair," one which would cut down costs of specially built designs now used in furniture manufacturing, has found a more short-range use on NBC and was also featured on John Cameron Swayze's television Camel Caravan last year. The product has also appeared in magazines, Friends, Parade, Interiors, and in Modern Photography.

Review Is Planned

A review session for general sociology classes 107 and 207 will be sponsored by the FSU chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociological society.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Sororities and Fraternities Elect Their Members to Chapter Office

By MARCA MORRIS

Alpha Xi Delta's have chosen for their new officers Carolyn Nord, president; Sue Skaton, vice-president; Jan Arborsat, treasurer; Liz Cooke, recording secretary; and Mary Lou Kamm, corresponding secretary. Alpha Xi's placed second in the Sigma Chi Derby last Saturday.

Delta Gamma's have already begun plans for their weekend, which will be sometime in March. Last Sunday the entire chapter met and attended church together.

New officers of the Phi Mu pledge class are Anne Tucker, president; Pat Nesper, vice president; Maudsley Jordan, secretary; and Selma Morgon, social chairman. Pat Nesper was awarded the cup for the outstanding pledge. A presentation which is made every two weeks. Actives and pledges enjoyed a supper at the house Monday night, at which time pledge mothers presented their daughters with gifts.

Recently elected officers of Phi Mu Phi are Elisabeth Hill, president; Boutle Kennedy, vice president; Kay Upson, corresponding secretary; Jean Nvdresser, recording secretary; Babs Henry, treasurer; and Jo Nell Proctor, pledge supervisor.

Lambda Chi Alpha officers installed last Tuesday nights were Jim Landry, president; Jack Kerman, vice president; Bill Asper, treasurer; Willie Wesley, secretary; Joe Bunnell, rush chairman; and Bob Ryals, ritual chairman. New pledges of Lambda Chi include Bob Davis, Pensacola; Dave Donnelly, Winter Park; and Tom Cundy, Bellevue. The actives defeated the pledges 7-6 in a touch football game.

Thursday night the Phi Delta Theta's entertained with an informal reception for Paul C. Bean, Executive Secretary of the fraternity, and his wife, Mrs. Bean. Eight of the Phi Delts formed a double quartet and sang fraternity songs for the group. Serving at the coffee table was Mrs. Karl Kuerstiner, wife of Dean K. O. Kuerstiner, Phi Delt faculty advisor. Newly elected officers of Phi Delt are Dick Turk, president; Walter Jardine vice president; David Lane, secretary; Dick Wells, house manager; Steve Bailey, Jr., I. F. C. representative; Don Cooper, chancier; Tom Cumble, warden; and Lamar Powell, librarian.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon officers for the coming year are John Morris, Eminent Archon; Tom Ramp, Eminent Deputy; Jack Kasnass, Eminent Recorder; Pelham Corry, Eminent Corresponden; Gene Cavanough, Eminent Chronicler; Eddie Gray, Eminent Warden; Buddy White, Herald; Bobby Drake, Pledge Trainer, and Jerry Parker, Treasurer.

The Sigma Chi's held their annual Sweetheart Ball last Friday night, as a prelude to their weekend. Saturday afternoon the Sigma Chi Derby was the big event, with Kappa Alpha Theta winning first place; Alpha Xi Delta second; and Sigma Kappa, third. Elections were held last week. Officers for the spring semester are Harry Pennywitt, president; Jimmy Ayers, vice president; Bayter Weeks, secretary; Bob Dobry, correspondent secretary; Bill Cornelius, treasurer; Bob Ducker, pledge trainer; Kenneth McPike, associate editor; Earl McPherson, historian; and Milton Carothers, I. F. C. representative.

Sigma Phi Epsilon entertained Phi Mu chapter with a party on Tuesday night. Gary Thompson and Frank Young recently pledged Sigma Phi Epsilon.

224 Degrees

(Continued From Page 1)

cil of the Boy Scouts of America and the Florida and Jacksonville Bar Associations. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, Theta Alpha Phi and Delta Sigma Phi honoraries.

Only Academic Deans and faculty members of executive council will take part in the graduation ceremonies. The size in the Music auditorium has resulted in a limitation and faculty members are not expected to attend.

ACP STUDENT OPINION POLL

Students Disaprove of Loyalty Oaths

ACP- College students tend to disapprove of loyalty oaths, and college graduate students are overwhelmingly opposed to them, according to results of the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students in 63 colleges and universities were asked: In general, do you approve or disapprove of having college professors take an oath stating that they are not members of the Communist party. The results revealed that 39 per cent approved, 47 percent disapproved, 12 per cent had no opinion and two per cent listed other than he above.

SEVENTY-THREE per cent of the graduate students oppose such Communist oath, while 20 per cent are in favor of it. Results by classes show that 47 per cent of the freshmen approve, 40 per cent of the sophomores, 32 per cent of the juniors, 32 per cent of the seniors, and 20 per cent of the graduates.

Disapproving were 42 per cent of the freshmen, 46 percent of the sophomores, 58 per cent of the juniors, 58 per cent of the seniors, and 73 per cent of the graduate students.

COMMENTS RANGE from cryptic retorts to fairly lengthly explanations. A sophomore from a west coast university, who disapproves, asks, "Is this a democracy?"

A junior coed in Education says she approves because loyalty oaths "protect the students" from harmful influence and propaganda. Another coed in education, who opposes the oath, feels that "college students should be able to discriminate between education and propaganda."

Many students think the oath is impractical. A Business senior puts it this way:

"The oath itself is a farce. The Communists would sign it anyway." But he added. Communists should be kept off campus by other means."

Here are a cross-section of further comments:

A LAW FRESHMAN from an eastern college: "I think that professors who are Communists should not teach American students."

A Liberal Arts junior from a small, midwest school: "Approve wholeheartedly."

A senior coed in Medicine: "Disapprove unless it is a church affiliated college."

A junior in Speech Education: "If Communism is present it will show up in the class room without a loyalty oath."

A Liberal Arts junior: Disapprove violently."

A freshman coed from the deep south: "Disapprove . . . not democratic."

A SOPHOMORE girl in Liberal Arts: "Is this a free country or what? The United States is supposed to be opposed to thought control."

A west coast graduate student: "Teachers should be free to teach what they believe."

A junior in Sociology: "We shouldn't need an oath, but it seems necessary."

A few of the schools polled do not fit into the general opinion pattern. A small military college in the south, for example, is 82 per cent in favor of the loyalty oath.

On the other hand, a university recently involved in a violent fight over the loyalty oath is 83 per cent against it.

In general, students at large tend to be more opposed to an oath than students at small schools. This partially explains why graduate students, most of whom attend larger universities are shown by the survey to be overwhelmingly against the oath.

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Religious Houses Plan Exam Teas

Religious houses will remain open during examination week, and will serve coffee or tea to students.

Wesley Foundation house, Ruge Hall, Westminster House, and the Baptist Student house are planning the hot drink refreshers during the afternoons for their members, while Newman club will remain open to its members.

LUTHERAN student religious organization, Gamma Delta, has elected Fred Darkow, senior education major from Canal Fulton, Ohio, its new president.

Other officers selected by Gamma Delta include Ruth Boda, vice-president; Marsie Potts, secretary; Stanley Tipplin, treasurer; Joan van Dohlin, program chairman; Ed Kuera, visitation chairman and Barbara Peddern, publicity director.

THREE members of Canterbury club, Episcopal organization—Ann Crowley, Ellen Ava and Loretta Large—are attending sessions of the North Florida diocese in Gainesville. They accompanied Rev. Mr. Walter Morley, Ruge Hall chaplin.

Canterbury club also plans a smorgasbord supper Sunday afternoon, starting at 5 45, followed by the election of freshmen to the vestry. Supper will cost 50 cents.

FSU Album On Sale

Students may still purchase the record album, "Music From Florida State University," Mildred Parrish, secretary to the Alumni Association has announced.

The album sells for $3 and may be obtained in the Alumni office, Lonamore building.

Tickets Now on Sale
RUBINOFF and his VIOLIN
Leon High Auditorium Jan. 31st
Get Your Tickets From UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
"IN THE DINING HALL"

ENGINEERS & PHYSICISTS
HUGHE'S
COOPERATIVE PLAN
For Master of Science Degrees
January 30th is the closing date for indicating your interest. See your Placement Office for details. A formal application will be forwarded to you at your request.
Address Correspondence to
Hughes Research and Development Laboratories
Engineering Personnel Department
Culver City, California
(When the University finds it necessary to use a February 15th closing date to assure full student participations, this will be permissable.

"all you could wish for...in DEB pumps" says copywriting JO HOPPE, selected Nine Fourteen Deb by the Fourteen Club, Chicago.

All the flattery . . . all the comfort . . . all the rich colors and imaginative little touches that make these lovable, low heel pumps the go-everywhere sensations that they are.
7.95
AAAA to B
4 to 9
Banana Pimple
Black
Lilac Red
Yellow Green
Turner's

CHESTERFIELD—LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES AT MINNESOTA
Campus Food Market
We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 2 to 1
SIGNED Morton R. Burris
PROPRIETOR

2 TO 1 because of MILDNESS plus NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*
*FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION
...AND ONLY CHESTERFIELD HAS IT!
SAVE MONEY!
Chesterfield CIGARETTES
CHESTERFIELD
Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tob. Co.

"Need Some Cash . . . ."

MALONE'S CO-OP BOOKSTORE offers cash for your used Books, whether used on this Campus or not.
Go Today and Sell Malone's Your Used Books
Malone's Co-op Bookstore

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 29 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, February 12, 1952

Controversial UMT Discussed Pro and Con See Editorial

Where Are The FSU West Campus Busses? Look Below!

Book Exchange Offers 1300 Texts for Sale

Owners Urged to Call for Refunds Or Unsold Books Left in Exchange

An estimated 1300 texts are for sale in the used book exchange with a $500 balance taken in from book fees as the exchange reopened yesterday.

"Owners of books put in the exchange at the end of 1950 fall semester and the beginning of the 1951 spring semester should come to the exchange in the Longcare building ground floor for a refund on their books or for their unsold texts," Tommy Bowen, Alpha Phi Omega Used book exchange chairman stated, "if the systems do not do this or fail to have their booked renewed, their books or money will be forfeited to the service fraternity."

STUDENTS WHOSE books are in danger of being forfeited will be given notice again in the Friday Flambeau.

John Adams, publicity chairman, said that the funds not picked up by students will be put into the service fraternity projects. Exchange funds are already being used in the operation of the Exchange.

New exchange hours are 9 a.m. through 12 noon and 2 p.m. through 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. through 12 noon Saturday, Tommy said.

TEXTBOOKS WHICH are being sold for the second time semester humanities books, education 305 and 306 books, and Nimitt's economics 201 and 202 texts.

The Alpha Phi Omega sponsored exchange will be open for the remaining yesterday. It will close Saturday, Feb. 23.

Tommy and the APO members may sign up for work in the exchange on the APO bulletin board in Westcott.

STUDENTS ALREADY on the exchange staff include Bowen, chairman; John Adams, publicity chairman, with other assistants, Jay Ladd, John Buckley, Dick Yeager, Tom Simmons, Will Pennell, Bob Dunkerly, Bill Hamm, John Sandfirer, Jimmy Evans and Thomas Rogero.

Students set the price for their books. For books exceeding one dollar, the buyer and seller will contribute a 10 cent fee for books under one dollar a five-cent fee is said by each.

STUDENTS ARE given receipts or certificates with each book They present the certificate at the end of the operation or before. If the book is sold, they receive their money if not the book will be redeemed to the owner.

The Book exchange was modeled last year after the successful book exchanges at New York University.

The Florida State University exchange now under the direction of the service fraternity was first set up by Shirley Gregory, chairman under the junior class project.

FSU Debate Team Wins Tournament

Two Florida State University debaters walked off with a first place at the fifth annual University of Miami Debate contest last week.

Miss Arlene Katherine Amend and Miss Katherine Skogstad, 1950 speech majors, were adjudged best affirmative speakers on the question;

Resolved: that the federal government should adopt a permanent system of wage and price controls.

The contest was no push-over. The girls had to face opposition from debate teams representing the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, the United States Military Academy, the University of Florida, Wake Forest University and the University of Texas.

The FSU Debate team is coached by Dr. Gregory Phifer, assistant professor of speech.

Gould Calls Meeting Of All Gold Key Men

All members of Gold Key, men's local scholastic-service honorary, Herculaw council will meet on Monday at 7 p.m. on the fourth floor Longmire building, Stan Gould, president has announced.

A meeting of all members and Dips of Gold Key will be held Thursday at 5 p.m. on the Longfore fourth floor also. Requests for membership can be submitted at tha time. Dick Bradley, secretary, stated

Religious Week Starts Feb. 24

Eleven Top Speakers Featured in Program

Intelligent Faith Week will be sponsored on the Florida State University campus by the University Religious Council starting Sunday, Feb. 24.

Rev. Edward H. Jonnson, general secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will be director of the "II" week program.

ELEVEN SPEAKERS, most of them furnished by the non-denominational Florida Chain of Missions, will hold seminars, dormitory sessions and discussions on the campus.

A special meeting will be held in the music auditorium on Tuesday night, Feb. 26, and the week will close on Wednesday. The guest speakers will fill pulpits in Tallahassee churches on Sunday.

MARY ELIZABETH Ainsworth, director of Baptist Student House and president of the University Religious Council, heads the executive committee making plans for the week. Patty Mims, president of the Interfaith Fellowship, is vice-chairman of the committee.

Student committees will be named and the work of these committees will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday night at 9 o'clock in Baptist Student house by religious educator; Dr. George Howard, evangelical lecturer; Rev. Daniel Seamonds, Methodist minicla.

DR. JOHN SMITH missionary to Japan; Mrs. I. C. Vass, former missionary of Belgian Congo; Dr. Reuben Hahn, Lutheran pastor and Miss Mabel Head, national YWCA worker.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Niemoeller are tentatively listed as speakers. The Rev. Niemoeller was a Nazi political prisoner for eight years and recently completed a short tour of churches in the U. He is a German Lutheran minister.

Men Are Urged To Ask of Draft

Men students are urged to contact the office of personnel records for information on their selective service or draft status, John T. Flournoy, director, has announced.

Flournoy asked that each man between the ages of 18½ and 26 contact his draft board for a written statement. He should take his draft card and draft correspondence with him to the personnel records office and will be given help there in determining his average for deferment.

The averages for selective service form 109 will not be available until the completion of this school year, Flournoy announced.

Flournoy advised to make students seeking deferment is to carry a full load of courses and "study, study, study."

Museum Starts Art Exhibitions For University

The University Museum is now inaugurating its exhibition of "Northwest Coast Indian Art" in a two-fold exhibition with the Art Gallery's presentation of "Paintings from the Museum of Non-Objective Art."

The exhibition opened at 8 p. m. last Friday with an informal reception.

THE DEPARTMENT of anthropology and archaeology is sponsoring the Indian exhibit in conjunction with an exhibit of nonobjective painting, which was prepared by the Florida State University department of art.

Colorful and carved ceremonial masks and dance attires, woven and blanketa, hats and baskets, and carved spoons, bowls, boxes and totem poles are included in the collection.

The specimens, many of which are irreplaceable, are being guarded against beckgrounds designed to communicate the spirit of the Northwest coast culture.

NON-OBJECTIVE art is that in which only abstract shapes and forms are used, art in which no "natural" objects are recognizable. Hence, it is "non-objective."

This exhibition of a kind of art which has often been under fire by uncomprehending critics and critics is brought to Tallahassee by the University Gallery in conformance with its avowed policy to bring art of all periods and methods of thought to this community.

Edmund Lewandowski, acting head of the FSU department of art, pointed out that an art gallery which brought only long approved and accepted art to its patrons would be doing less than half its job.

"THE CLASSIC and accepted art of tomorrow has often been the questioned and ridiculed work of today." said Dr. Lewandowski. "We know that from past experience. I should also like to say that dead artists do not have to be dead before one does all of two refuse to make use of the art of our time, there may be rather few years separating the artist of today and those of the 18th century. We look forward to the opening of this show with a good deal of pleasure." said Dr. Lewandowski.

THE NINETEEN paintings exhibited are a loan exhibition made possible by the Museum of Non-Objective Art in New York City. The paintings were brought to the Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation.

Among the artists represented are Vasily Kandinsky, Rudolf Bauer, and the Baroness Hila Rebbay, who has long been the director of the destinies of the Museum of Non-Objective Painting.

Materials are on loan from the National Museum of Canada at Ottawa for the Indian display.

Ticket Sale For Sandspur Dance Is On

2000 Limit Is Set For Dance Admittance; Tickets Are $2 Each

A limit of 2,000 tickets went on sale Monday in the Sweet Shop, Amber House, University Book Store and Mecca for the fourth annual Sandspur dance Feb. 23 in the Suwannee room.

Tickets are being sold on a "first come first serve" basis. This is the first time a no holiday ticket policy has been used, Jim Dras, Sandspur business manager said.

TICKETS at $2 per person or $4 per couple include the dance and Camel Caravan broadcast. The dance is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. with the nation wide broadcast at 10. Students may enter through only one door although they may exit through others.

The Vaughn Monroe broadcast will climax the Sandspur week-end. It will be presented over the National Broadcasting Company through 10 stations in Florida and 170 stations throughout the United States.

Rules of NBC demand that all doors to the broadcasting room be closed 15 minutes before the show starts.

MONROE, nationally known star of radio, television and motion pictures will feature the Florida State University Alma Mater and Fight Song during the broadcast. He will have with him his 28-piece orchestra, the Moonmaids, the Moonmaid Chorale and Zuzy Talent and probably a special singer.

Dras will have late permission until 1:30 for the dance. Corsages are definitely banned. Arrangements have been made for a checking service through the facilities of the APO service fraternity.

Monroe was signed for the dance at $4,000. The Artist Series has underwritten the dance and Sandspur has transferred $500 to the Artist Series to insure any loss that may result from the sale of tickets.

"THE UNDERWRITING is more or less a bond to support the expected receipts," Dr. Lewandowski, dance committee chairman said. "If 2,000 students are admitted to the dance at $2 per person, this will cover the expense."

Rod K. Shaw, business manager of the university, stated that arrangements have been made to have loud speakers carry the radio show outside the dining hall.

Monroe is an ex-man of Florida and will be at the University of Florida the preceding Monday night and the University of Miami the weekend of the 18th.

Calendar of Events To Be Run Fridays

A calendar of events for students and faculty members will be compiled and distributed by the University Government Association.

Jim Lohmeyer, UGA forum chairman and Ruth Hoering, secretary for president Will Pennell have asked all organizations sponsoring an event to please notify them at the UGA office

The Flambeau will carry the calendar of events every Friday for the students' benefit.

SONGS OF FSU—This group of Florida State University students and Mrs. Dosk S. Campbell gather around the monograph in President and Mrs. Campbell's living room to listen to the newly recorded FSU songs. Left to right are: Bob Jenkins, Mrs. Campbell, Harry Pennywitt, senior of Jacksonville; Cecil Gatlin, Tallahassee freshman; George Carr, graduate from Tampcell Gatlin, George Carr, and Betty Ann Pierce.

Faculty-Staff Dance Reservations Due

Reservations for the faculty-staff formal dance March 7 at the Student Union should be in by Friday Mrs. Harold Cottingham, chairman, stated.

Reservations at one dollar per couple may be mailed to Mrs. Rex Kidd, 315 Roosevelt Drive or to Mrs. Clyde Carswell, business office. Florida State University.

Blood Cards Available

Students who gave blood during the Phi Sigma Epsilon Delta Kappa sponsored Blood for Korea may now pick up their cards in the Flambeau office.

The blood cards will be given out Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons only.

House Meetings Set

Compulsory House meetings will be held in all women's dormitories this Thursday night at 9:45 as listed in the Pow Wow. Miss Anne Pope, head counselor of women, confirmed yesterday.

Total Registration Drops; 5,100 Sign For Classes

AS COFFEES SWELL—Another co-ed signs her parents money away at the final station during second semester registration. Girls outnumber the men students again!

Violinist Spalding to Appear In Recitals This Weekend

Albert Spalding, visiting professor of music at Florida State University, will appear in two recitals in the newly named Opperman Music Hall Friday and Saturday nights.

Professor Spalding will appear Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the weekly Faculty Recital Series, accompanied by Ross Bolleo, professor of piano and composition. The recital is open to the public.

SATURDAY AT 8:15 p.m. Spalding will be guest soloist with the Clinic String Orchestra under the baton of Ernest Williams, conductor, in the Opperman Music Hall. This will be the second joint appearance by Spalding and Von Dohnanyi who appeared in a recital here in January.

Professor Spalding, a native of Chicago, has long been considered one of the famous violinists of our time. He was the first American artist to gain widespread recognition in Europe and was especially invited by the French government to tour Europe as soloist with the New York Symphony in 1930.

FRIDAY'S PROGRAM will include Sonata in D Major by Corelli, Sonata in G Major by Tartini, Chaconne by Bach, Poeme, Opus 25, by Chausson, Spanish Dances by de Falla, and Malaguena by Albeniz.

The Saturday concert will include Orchestra Quartet in F Major, Opus 4, by Stamitz, Concerto No. 4 in D Major by Mozart, Minuet and Two Trios from Schubert, and Waltz, from Ser-

(Continued on Page 3)

A High Degree of Graduates Are Employed, Says Tully

A high percentage of Florida State University graduates seeking employment after receiving degrees as either graduate or undergraduate students in 1951 were employed, a statement report by O. E. Tully, director of Vocational Guidance and placement, says.

The report shows a total of 1,144 graduates from FSU in 1951, including 191 who received their master's degree. Director Tully points out that placement services are offered on a voluntary basis. While FSU graduates are not required to register for placement, an effort is made throughout the year to stimulate placement registration.

OF THE 1,144 total of graduates from FSU in 1951, 732 included candidates for teaching positions were registered with the FSU Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Some graduates, he pointed out, seek immediate employment, while others enter the graduate school and still others enter the nation's Armed Forces.

While the FSU office does not take credit for a graduate obtaining employment where no registration has been made it does carry the graduate as having been placed in comparing the percentages of those graduates who are available for employment and obtained jobs.

BASED UPON such tabulation Director Tully reports that more than 90 per cent of the available graduates for employment were placed during 1951. As to the remaining 10 per cent, the FSU graduates, who were offered positions but declined for various reasons such as work locations, salaries and other things. Also it includes some graduates who have accepted jobs but have not informed his office.

Director Tully says that although most employers continued to report their available jobs by letter or telephone, a large number than ever before visited the campus during 1951 to report openings and to interview candidates, including many representatives from business firms and 118 school officials.

As to the number of jobs made available to FSU graduates during 1951 it is difficult to give an exact tabulation since the civil service federal agencies list only the type of positions open and not the number as does the state and other agencies. It is estimated, however, durnng the year 1951 there was a 67 per cent increase over the employment reported during the previous year.

Enrollment Decreased By 908 Over Last Semester's Number

Registration decreased with approximately 5,100 students enrolled as of Saturday noon. This is a 908 drop from last semester's 6,008 students.

H. Hoyt Price, assistant registrar, estimated that the total over-all enrollment for the spring semester will reach 5,500 by Friday.

Saturday's figure included the air fields bootstrap program. It was estimated that 250 or 300 more students would be enrolled at the air field and 200 more in regular registration.

STUDENTS MAY drop and add courses until Saturday. During this week IBM drop and add slips may be used. After Saturday students wishing to drop or add courses must see the dean of their school and go to the Registrar's office.

As of Saturday approximately 250 new students had registered with more women than men entering the University campus. The men registering are expected to outnumber the women when registration has been completed.

EVENING registration, John T. Flournoy, director, personnel records, said students should bring their ID cards. They should carry their new cards at all times. Cards for change of transferrals and any violation of this rule will be handled by the Dean's office.

Flournoy, also announced that celloidd cases are given free with grads for the price of the material. Anyone who loses his case can secure material at the personnel records office free.

The cards may be used for receipts for fees, Activities Series, athletic events, University Government Association elections, the Tally-Ho, cashing checks and in the library and local stores.

A FEE of $2.50 will be charged for a duplicate ID card in case of loss. New cards may be secured at the office of personnel records, 204 Westcott.

The present type of card, inaugurated last year, saved the University approximately $1,000 and cut in the waiting period for students. Previously they had waited a month and a half for receipt of cards.

RUBE ANSLOW, last year's president of the University Government Association, praised Flournoy and his staff for the new student identification cards. He called the new ID cards one of the best improvements he has made. The new type cards eliminate the use of student activities books and the exchange of tickets for all athletic events.

"The new card is for the student. It is a big improvement and an honor to use as intended and not to abuse," Anslow said.

The registrar's office has also announced this week that Feb. 25 is the deadline for applications for a degree at the end of the second semester.

Campus Movie Schedule Set

The schedule for the first run of sixteen movies to be shown at Florida State University this semester has been announced.

DR. HARRY "Tex Adventures of Martin Eden," "The Man Who Lost Himself," and "The Miracle on 34th Street" lead the bill.

"SNAKE PIT" begins tonight, and the next time the movies begin ning Feb. 18, 26, and March 4.

Sponsored jointly by the junior and senior classes, Women's Recreation association and men's and women's residence halls, the pictures will be presented Thursday through Saturday of each week in vocational school the bill.

All the films in the series will be recent productions from 20th Century Fox, and they are brought to the campus in hopes of alleviating the situation of too little entertainment.

PROF. MYLES H. RITCHIE, associate professor of audio-visual education, is in charge of ordering the pictures and procuring student assistants to run the projectors.

On Tuesdays, the movies will be shown in Union hall, Wednesday, South Cawthon; Thursday, Landis auditorium. Friday, Alumnia hall; and Saturday, Landis recreation room.

On Tuesdays through Thursdays, the programs will begin at 7:30 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays, they will start at 8 p.m.

Bus Route Change Due to Increased Traffic Hazards

The West campus bus route has been altered so serve more people and and to reduce accident hazards.

Because of increasingly heavy traffic on West Jefferson Street and the narrow gap at the south entrance of the campus, university officials have considered the possibility of accidents too great to continue the old schedule.

Busses entering the west campus from West campus will run north on Woodward Street to Call, east on Call to Jefferson Street, south to Gilchrist, east to Bryan, north to the Administration School, west on Cril to Woodward, and south on Woodward to return to West campus.

Essentially the same parts of the campus will be served by the new route but busses will remain where they are now except that there will be no stop at the south gate.

Those wishing to go to the new fraternity chapter, Sexton hall or to the new student service center will find that the new busses will take them close to their destinations. Other rescheduling will follow if it appears advisable.

Instructors Needed In Naval Reserve

The Bureau of Naval Personnel is accepting applications from officers and enlisted men of the Naval Reserve for eight weeks duty beginning June 28.

The announcement was made by Lt. George Avant, commanding officer of the Naval Reserve Aviation unit 6-31 in Tallahassee.

Location of the school will be at some west coast naval activity, Paul points out. It is here at Treasure Island, San Francisco, Eight weeks pay and allowances plus travel will be paid.

Instructors are needed in navigation, gunnery, administration, naval orientation, seamanship, and related naval subjects.

A small number of administrative personnel in supply, personnel, public relations, physical training, disbursing, and administrators are needed. Officer billets from lieutenant (jg) to commander are open. Interested regulars should call George Avant at 3-1716.

Is UMT The Answer?

Will Universal Military Training be a campaign issue in the coming presidential election? In Washington, D. C., the House committee has approved a bill of UMT and it will be presented before the House. The Senate Armed Services Committee is expected to approve a stricter UMT bill than that voted on by the Senate.

There is a direct relationship between UMT and American higher education. As the do-it-cost for heavier mobilization the UMT thinking will end its state of "suspended animation" and flare into open debate. What will the issues be? How will colleges be affected?

UMT YES!

Universal Military Training seems to fit into the pattern for a strong and protected America.

An effort to enact universal military training after World War I met a most in favor of drastic disarmament. The failure resulted ir this nation being unprepared for World War II. As a consequence, strategic points were lost at the outset of hostilities which later took hitter fighting to regain.

The United States can go far toward keeping peace and avoiding aggression if the country is properly prepared. One way to accomplish this end is to maintain a large standing army and navy. Another is to maintain a relatively small regular armed force, supported by a citizen soldiery. Traditionally, Americans have regarded the former alternative as too militaristic to be consistent with the American way of life. They have always believed that the latter was the preferable alternative.

Universal military training seems to be merely a logical step to insure American democracy.

We must realize that UMT is not actual service in the regular armed forces, as proposed in the House bill. It is not a supplement or a substitute for established systems of peace education.

A comprehensive survey made by the President's Advisory Commission on Universal Training reveal the following unanimous decisions:

1. That a system of universal military training is an essential element in an integrated program of national security.

2. That such a system must be considered only a part—though a vital one—of the overall military program.

3. That it should provide for a minimum dislocation of both the national economy and lives of the individual young man.

General Eisenhower's testimony before the commission emphasized that our success in any future conflict would be determined largely by our ability to act and react within the first 60 days—not in 12, 18 or 24 months, as has been our relatively good fortune in past years.

Universal military training would help ward off the fluctuations of our domestic markets in securities, grain, livestock, cotton, wools, materials, and manpower. These markets today are closely attuned to the Korean war and the United States defense effort.

Raymond Moley has stated that it was his conviction after 30 years of college teaching, that most freshmen are too immature to be in college. Such a plan is the most democratic way of doing things, since it takes all men at the same age and educational level, and, by taking the same length of time from each, leaves them afterward in the same relative position, carerwise.

Instead of a tremendous effort in the periods when safety of America seems threatened the United States would always be ready with a trained army, fully equipped.

There is no reason to suppose that the United States will not be attacked in a lightning-like war. There is no reason to suppose that war is inevitable.

But irregardless of which way the die is cast, the United States would help insure its future through UMT.

It is a logical concept in an era of aggression where the end of aggressive action is not foreseeable.

UMT NO!

An examination was made of the President's Commission on Universal Training and an expression of disagreement was submitted by a group of outstanding American citizens.

The main argument came, of course, from the educators across the country, just as now the educators object openly to UMT.

They called for a critical examination of the Commission's Report by the American people. In the counter-report they said:

"An armaments race destroys security. That called the belief that weakness causes war trite and unbelievable childish oversimplification of history. In other words, a nation can survive only if it is huge and militarily powerful and prepared. If prepared it will go on indefinitely in security and peace.

"Weakness is not a matter of failure to display military strength. Weakness is much more likely to be inherent in the wrong kind of preparation and in the false security that comes from apparent strength. University military training is an outmoded form of military preparation in the atomic age and gives a nation a feeling of power without the reality of power."

What are the falacies of UMT?

UMT would not solve the replacement program in the Armed Forces.

UMT would be inadequate for atomic disasters.

The nation's talent would be claimed by the military.

The cost would be staggering.

UMT would not reduce the size or cost of the Army.

What solution was presented in the Analysis of the Commission's report?

1. There should be a frank recognition and implementation of the truth in the Commission's own statement that "the only real security" for this country or any country lies in the abolition of war.

2. There should be a program of universal disarmament carried out by an effective United Nations committee. It is obvious that the American emphasis on military armaments far outweighs our government's emphasis on disarmament.

3. The United Nations itself, including the World Court, should be strengthened as the agency through which all disputes should be channeled for decision.

4. All efforts to disarmament and extention of public health facilities, and the general lifting of the standard of living of the lower economic classes will do more than any military program to prevent the growth of fifth column groups.

5. Continue the volunteer, selective service and ROTC programs until the United States and other nations accept world organization and disarmament as a solution to war.

Students might ask themselves two questions:

First: Is another war so inevitable, or today's world so unstable, that a far-reaching program of preparedness is necessary. We say yes!

Second: Is Universal Military Training an essential part of such a program. We say no!

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the sixth in a series of editorials explaining University Government executive council committees.

The series will be completed with a discussion of the Athletics and Recreation committee.

All new organizations to be recognized on this council must first be approved by the UGA executive council. The organization committee of the executive council reviews all constitutions of organizations petitioning for recognition on the campus.

The present membership of Barbara Henry and Margaret Earnest the committee makes suggestions for changes in constitutions to the executive council.

If the proposed organization is approved by the organization committee and the University council, provided it involves only extracurricular activities, it is recognized as an approved organization on campus. It may then proceed with the purpoces for which it was organized.

If the proposed organization is an honorary fraternity or some other type organization having membership based on academic attainment it must also be referred to the faculty committee on student affairs for final approval.

● GETTING BETTER

This semester registration was minus the usual red tape and snags. Some students were through with the whole proceedure (we won't say ordeal anymore) in less than an hour.

Registrar Charles Walker stated that suggestions are welcome to further improve the semester registrations. If you have a legitimate gripe, pass it on.

● DISAPPOINTMENT!

The Flambeau and a great majority of students on campus are still waiting for the Inter-Fraternity Council to outlaw hazing at Florida State.

The move was expected at the end of last semester but a statement hasn't been released as yet.

We understand that a small minority is holding up unanimous approval by the IFC.

We're waiting!

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

DISCRIMINATION SEEN IN NEW BULLETIN

BL ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

There are reasons why this University is behind and will stay behind the times unless something is changed. Liberalism cannot be introduced into all phases of university life.

A new and smart looking bulletin sesss will be sent to all the seniors in Florida high schools. The booklet is full of attractive pictures and description of the advantages of this university.

The bulletin will not contain a picture of a teacher illustrating a lecture in Bl Sci class with the prints of the embryonic stages of certain mammals. The picture was marked out because "It may offend certain parents of prospective students."

The bulletin will not contain a picture of a Puerto Rican in the a chemistry lab session because his skin was light brown. This picture was withdrawn because "it might offend some of the parents of the future FSU students."

The snatching out of those two pictures, when the book let is ready for the printer, is just an overall indication of the false set of values upon which this university is grown. It is time for a liberal-real plant but not in student enthusiasm.

Is the appeal being made to the group of parents and students who still think that Adam was the first man and Husy Long was a savior in Louisiana??

Churchill was getting a progress report on the Anglo-American military discussions from his friend and military observer, Field Marshal Sir William Slim. Referring to the dispute as to whether NATO should adopt British's new automatic rifle or the new American Garand rifle, Field Marshal Slim reported:

"So far we haven't made much progress. Both guns are good and it's difficult to decide which we to adopt."

Churchill listened patiently, nodding his head in agreement.

"It's my guess," Field Marshal Slim continued, "That we'll finally adopt a rifle that contains the best features of both models."

"I'll be a bastard rifle—half American, half British."

Churchill's eyebrows shot up. With an air of solemn gravity he said:

"My dear marshal, aren't you being a trifle careless with your words? Have you forgotten that I, too, am half American, half British?"

SEMINOLE SCENES

THE RATTLE OF CHAINS AND IBM CARDS

By FRANCES CAWTHON

"Make your grades? What didn't get in Speech?"

"Aw, knock it off. Top military science."

The above remarks are typical of the most frequent topic of conversation heard when we all returned to our alma mammy-maw. How many secrets on a report hold two billion, in fact, for about a couple of days anyway? Who cares whether that twice yearly ordeal to edge out even the gripes of why So-and-So got married or why he got a C when he knew good and well he deserved an A+ for Registration Time again. (Here we have diabolical laughter and the rattle of chains.)

Registration, it seems, has always been the victim—or should it be not. We've heard the remarks, and much agitation, especially in the wee hours at night and are besieged by horrifying nightmares of all the Bio. Sci. Profs hurriedly running up and down behind their stacks of IBM cards, and shouting, "No, no no! You can't have it at this hour. All closed up. You must enroll in the 5 to 6 class."

Until recently, this semester

THE REACTIONARY VAIRE

REGISTRATION BECOMES LESS PAINFUL

BY FRED MEYERS

It seems to be fashionable for us to criticize the University more or less indiscriminately.

We admit readily the fact that we are getting a raw deal, hat the system is the worst possible that can be imposed on us, and that we can do nothing about it but wail loudly and long.

On the whole, it is a good thing, and an open-minded attitude should prevail. (Will all ways bring forth criticism. To continually tear down, however, is to be as destructive as those criticizing at all. To be perfectly fair, we should point out some good points of the University and weigh them against the imperfections. What is improving the school, we don't see how anyone can find fault with.

One of the most common complaints we hears is the idea that registration is a form of torture, a kind of corporal punishment, striking the innocent (that is, all of us) harder of all. The cry is "why can't they get an efficient system in registering? Why all the gruesome tales of days spent wandering in the bowels of the fifth of built-in confusion for every schedule, and the perch. Psalty in attendance to register students, but to take care of those that crack under the strain.

A little defective work will usually bring out that the author of these stories spent thirty-five minutes in the gym and his conflict resulted from not being able to get fifteen hours of sociology, psychology, social work, cyto-genetics and general education in between ten and twelve Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

At the risk of being ostracized, I say that we have a workable and efficient system of registration and if you will study it what one needs for the semester, registration is nothing to be afraid of. The carefully-guarded secret of registering is to see your counselor before hand to work out a schedule. Sometimes a student has a report in a course that the counselor appointed, and then the counselor is carey about requirements saying, "Check it with the department," or 'See the head," or in extreme cases, like President Campbell' Again the counselor might be hazy about requirements, having memorized the 1946 Bulletin. Usually, though, the counselor can offer a few helpful hints and gives you the advantage of deciding your future away from the frenetic hysteria of the gym floor.

By way of comparison, I once registered in a college which I can't won't name, but is not too far from Tallahassee.

I don't know exactly what their coordination was, but class enrollment was checked at the first station, and invariably I would find one or two of my classes filled.

Then I was back to the registration desks and sign up for some other classes, occasionally getting the one I wanted at first to be opened (they seemed to have a habit of closing schedule during registration, thus saving on the man-hours) and then rush down to the building to close over sections filled. This usually went on until about 4:30 in the afternoon this had a type of efficiency; it weeded out the weaker students, for those of us who stayed in line for two hours to get into the building to begin with, but if only the weak-kneed knew that they could go to sch school, why did they ever go to college.

Anyway, with the great confution, the hidden departments and machine checking of cards I find that our system is almost unrated and efficiency after that initial confusion of registration. While there are some things about the system which I do not like, I understand that this is the case; we shouldn't lose sight of the fact that the school has done alot for advancements that have been made. It's not all black.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Edna Henry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Young Society Editor ..... Marcia Mc...
Feature Editor ..... Gerry Hoit
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beus
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Sm...
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Advertising Editor ..... Rosemary Helmick
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Lawter, Ann Davis, Nancy Micklefield, Fe Pittman, Ann Harley

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiata Press Association

Telephone 3-4183 ..... Upper Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

WFSU Program Schedule

WFSU extends a cordial invitation to all students, freshman or upper classmen, if they are interested, to audition for work with the station in the script, engineering, announcing, production or ann- department in the organization.

The studios will be open for audition appointments Tuesday-Friday of this week between 4-6. Anybody who has had radio broadcasting is urged to apply. Anyone who is not interested is invited to visit the studios and become acquainted with the staff and the organisations procedures.

SCHEDULE FOR TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, AND THURSDAY

This schedule is fairly constant, however, it is necessary that it be subject to change without notice.

TUESDAY, FEB. 12

7 a.m -9 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
5 p.m.-7 p.m	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Com by Cobb
7:15	Lincoln Memorial Program
7:30	Sammy Kaye
7:45	Out of the Past
7:55	Flambeau Campus News
8:00	Records at Random
8:30	Number Please Girls
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Kenton Presents
9:45	Musical Reveries
10:00	Late Date Requests
10:55	Late News
11:00	Off the Air

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 13

7 a.m.-9 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
5 p.m.-7 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Sketches in Ivory—piano
7:15	National Guard Show
7:30	Hits of Tomorrow
7:55	Flambeau Campus News
8:00	An Evening with Music
8:30	U.G.A. Forum
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage; Freedom
9:15	Quest Star (trans.)
9:30	Stone Talks—poetry
10:00	Late Date—requests
10:55	News
11:00	Off

THURSDAY, FEB. 14

7 a.m.-9 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
5 p.m.-7 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Stand By
7:15	Sports Digest
7:30	Capital Spotlights
7:55	Flambeau Campus News
8:00	Show Time FSU (trans.)
8:15	Mood Music
8:30	Report from Europe (trans.)
8:45	A Little Night Music
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage; Freedom
9:15	Stories to Remember
9:30	F.S.U. Concert Hall
10:00	Late Date—requests
10:55	Late News
11:00	Off

Cavaliers to Open Semester With Initiation of Members

First in a series of Cavalier activities for the spring semester, will be the initiation of taps, Friday afternoon, at the Confederate Cemetery on Call Street.

Dave Pinson is in charge of the new tap class.

ELEVEN were chosen at the last tryout on the basis of their dancing ability, appearance and character according to Cardone.

New taps are Frank Pucile, Charlie Pont, Jerry Hoit, Bill Woodrich, Ed Sheppard, Neil Liner, Don Miller, Charlie Heitner, Jimmy Lee, Dick Slade and Bob Wilcox.

Newly-elected vice-president of the Cavaliers is Dave Smith.

DAVE PINSON and Rudy Spoto were appointed to the Board of Governors.

At the last meeting, members voted to sponsor June Conyers as the Tau Chi Sweetheart Contest.

Plans were also begun on the Vaudeville Show slated for Thursday, March 13, and directed by Nick Pappas, social chairman.

THIS SEMESTER the dance group will also co-sponsor with Cotillion in a series of dance classes to be held weekly at the West campus Student Union building.

The annual Cavalier convention will be held here in May it was recently announced. Local chapter members will play host to several hundred delegates from other states.

Also on the agenda for this semester is the second meeting of every month will be a dinner meeting to be held at a local restaurant. Date and date will be announced later.

Secretary Sawyer to Open Public Administration Course

A new course in "Administration and Management of the Federal Government," began here yesterday and will be formally opened Feb. 25 by Charles Sawyer, United States Secretary of Commerce.

The federal course is designed to bring to the students an actual case study of a federal department at work. Federal officials from the United States Department of Commerce will serve as "visiting professors" through the Spring Semester.

"THROUGH THIS case study, Dr. William D. Doyle dean of the School of Public Administration, said, "Florida State University will provide a close-up view of the organizations, procedures and personnel of one of the largest departments of the federal government as presented by the department officials themselves."

This is one of the first courses of this type to be offered by any college or university in connection with the study.

ON FEB. 26 through 29, Thomas W. S. Davis, assistant secretary for domestic affairs, will speak on "Over-all Operations and the Functions of the Department of Commerce."

Other speakers to appear at FSU from the Department of Commerce include Clarence H. Gethagen, assistant secretary for administration; William H. Shaw director, office of program and planning; William E. Fowler, chief, division of statistical coordination, office of budget and management; and Oliver S. Short, director, office of personnel administration.

ALSO SPEAKING will be General Ryan, director, administrative services; Francis R. Cawley, director, office of budget and management; John T. Moore, chief, accounting installations; Carlen Hayward, office of field services; and Roy Y. Peel, director, bureau of the census.

The course will close May 13 through 16 with a "Program of a Week Operating Bureau of the Department of Commerce." It will include discussions of either Civil Aeronautics Administration or the Maritime Administration.

Johnny Morris Visits Campus Last Semester

Students were surprised to hear a Call for Philip Morris from Johnny Morris, Jr., the Philip Morris good will representative on the campus just before the holidays.

Johnny, who has visited every college campus in the United States, made his initial familiar to millions of Americans over the radio. He has been with the Philip Morris company for 17 years.

This was his second visit to the FSU campus. He first visited Tallahassee when this was FSCW

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

AMERICANA

Every noxious male variety has its female counterpart, and the flannneled, high type, aquilite-to-the prestigious Jaycee has a hi-fi.

She's a terrific social climber.

And almost succeeds in dimming the perpetual smile on Hubby's face with a glaring elitistic attack of their means. When they store enough loot to afford a Chevy—they simply must have a Pontiac—when Pontiac type loot rests in the coughing fund—a shiny new Cadillac is the driveway. About this time Mrs. Rotarian develope a penchant for driving Smiley (now working on his third ulcer) to the Grist Mill—so she can show off to Mary Lou.

Her daughter lives the life of a draftee.

Mrs. Smiley uses bullying, social pressure and even the tearful "After all I've done for you" routine to whip her recalcitrant offspring into miserable submission. Though our friend, Mrs. R., started the ratrace as a sharecropper, site won't let daughter settle for less than an Indian Maharaja, and the wreckage of dozens of her kid's fondest affairs and illusions.

So this whining, perfumed, corseted sero is allowed to hound her emasculated spouse into early Grindstonitis, her overprotected son into quasi-womanhood and her daughter into a selfish, whining carbon copy administered by lack of talent and intelligence for her herculean role in tomorrow's battle.

Oh, for retroactive birth control. . . .

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Diocese Allots Money For Student Chapel

Approximately $80,000 was allocated recently for a new Episcopalian student chapel.

Funds for the new building will come from the diocese endowment, it was decided at the annual meeting of the Florida diocese in Gainesville.

Plans for the structure will be discussed when Rev. Mr. Walter Morley, Rugs Hall chaplain, and Rt. Rev. Hamilton West, bishop coadjutor of the diocese, meet in Jacksonville Feb. 14.

The new student building will probably be built on Jefferson street, Rev. Mr. Morley said.

Diamonds were apparently brought south to the Great Lakes region by glaciers.

Corps Will Discuss Careers for Women

Representatives of the Women's Marine Corps and Women's Army Corps will be on campus this week to discuss career opportunities in their branches of the Armed Forces with interested students.

Sgt. Rachel Scott, Women's Marine Corps, will meet with interested students Thursday at 7 p.m. in the reception room of Jennie Murphree hall to discuss "Career Opportunities in the Women's Marine Corps."

Although this meeting is primarily for those who will serve as enlisted personnel, those interested in offiors' training will also have an opportunity to discuss their questions. Everyone interested is invried to attend.

Eleanor P. Hutchins, second lieutenant, Women's Army Corps, will be in the Longmire auditorium tomorrow at 5 p.m. to speak to all senior women students interested in a career in the Women's Army Corps.

Lieutenant Hutchins, who graduated from FSU in 1950, received a direct commission as a second lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps section of the organized Reserve Corps in August, 1951.

Education Course Developing Skills Added in Catalog

A course to be identified in the Florida State University catalog as "Education 486" for developing command of the basic skills has been added to the university curriculum, Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU president, announced.

Offered in the FSU School of Education on both an undergraduate and graduate level, the new course is designed to deal with teaching the fundamental skills, particularly reading and arithmetic.

THE COURSE has been worked out by Dora Skipper, FSU associate professor of education.

Dr. Mode L. Stone, acting dean of the School of Education, explained that the general aims of the new course are to examine the major issues and problems related to the teaching of basic skills and to develop ways and means to bring about better results in the elementary and secondary schools.

THE SUBJECT content of the basic skills offered through the new course are reading, spelling, handwriting, grammar and composition, oral communication, and mathematics.

Under each of these subjects, Mrs. Skipper has developed an analysis of the most effective means of teaching each of the subjects involved, showing the proper procedure for obtaining the best results.

Frat Meeting Called

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, will have a special roll call and short meeting Thursday at 7:30 in the Longmire building, 403. All members are asked to attend.

The Angel Falls in Eastern Venezuela has a total drop of 2,313 feet.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

SAVE!
Trade the Books You no Longer Need on the Books You Need This Semester.
BOOKS - SUPPLIES - SUNDRIES
STATIONERY
VALENTINE CANDY
Malone's Co-op Bookstore
We Buy Used Books
Next Door to Amber House

the Key to Her
A VALENTINE GIFT!
from MAYERON'S
MAYERON'S SUGGESTS THESE GIFTS FOR YOUR BEST GAL—YOUNG OR OLD.
• Van Raalte Lingerie
• TOMMIE SLEEPWEAR
• Princess Gardner Billfolds
• Ship 'n Shore Blouses
• Van Raalte Hosiery
• Coro Jewelry
• Trifaki Jewelry
• Judy Bond Blouses
• Alumesh Handbags
• Jantzen Sportswear
A GIFT FROM College Corner
Corner College and Adams
MAYERON'S
MEANS MORE

Sheppard to Speak At Science Seminar

Dr. C. W. Sheppard will speak at 4 p.m. today before the biological science seminar on "The Role of Potassium in Cell Physiology". Dr. Sheppard is a physicist of the biology division at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

The physicist holds degrees from California Institute of Technology and is a former faculty member of the South Dakota School of Mines, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Vanderbilt University School of Medicine.

Council Appoints Hess New Associate Editor

Dr. Seymour L. Hess, associate professor of meteorology at Florida State University, is now an associate editor of the Journal of Meteorology, American Meteorological Society publication.

Dr. Hess was appointed by the society council to join in a group of 19 meteorologists in the United States and Canada.

Head of the FSU meteorology department, Dr. Werner A. Baum is the journal editor-in-chief.

Violinist Spalding

(Continued From Page 1)

made for String Orchestra, Opus 48, by Tchaikowsky.

ALSO ON the program are Heartwounds by Grieg, Five Pieces for String Orchestra, Opus 44, by Hindemith, Spielerei by Six-Ormandy, and Fiddle-Faddle by Anderson.

Other concerts now scheduled include an appearance by the State Symphony of Florida with Ernst von Dohnanyi, guest conductor, and Francisco Zachara, piano soloist, in the Leon High auditorium Feb. 25.

On Feb. 29, Walter James, tenor, will be presented in the Faculty Recital Series in the Opperman Music Hall.

Harry Schmidt, clarinetist, will appear in a Faculty Recital March 7 in the Opperman Music Hall.

Classified Ads

FOR SALE: Alma House Trailer, 27 ft. room attached, electric refrigerator, Butane stove, water heater, Duo-Therm oil heater. Priced to sell. R. E. Fowler, Box 4305, West Campus.

Beetle Bailey
SWEET SHOP
701 W. Jefferson

For Valentine's Day—
Or Any Day
ARROWS for Her Beau

If she's hinting for Valentine gift tips, steer her here for Arrows. Arrow white shirts in campus favorite collar styles. "Sanforized" fabrics, of course, and every shirt Mitoga-tailored for body-tapered fit.
ARROW PAR, widespread soft collar
GORDON DOVER, oxford button-down
ARROW VALENTINE RED TIES
Mendelson's
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

OBJETS d' ART for her

ARROW WHITE SHIRTS and ARROW VALENTINE RED TIES
ARROW PAR, widespread soft collar
GORDON DOVER, oxford button-down
ARROW VALENTINE RED TIES
ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

"Be Happy" is our motto now—
"Go Lucky" is our creed;
And L.S./M.F.T. fulfills
Our every smoking need!
Roland D. Frazier
University of Kansas City

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

NAIB CHANCES SLIM—Any hopes that Bud Kennedy's Seminole cagers had of winning the District NAIB tourney next month probably went down the drain with the Indians losses to Stetson and Rollins last week.

Only four teams from the District's seven members are selected to play in the tournament. The District includes Miami, Tampa, Georgia Teachers, Stetson, Rollins, Florida Southern and FSU.

Since the selections are made on the basis of season records, and all of the other six teams hold wins over Kennedy's charges and boast better records, the Seminoles appear to be left out in the cold, with the possible exception of Florida Southern.

However, since the Seminoles are defending champions, they are permitted to enter the tourney if they choose to do so. But considering their poor season record, chances are they may pull out in favor of one of the other teams.

The Indians could have some consolation should they trip Tampa and Stetson in their two remaining tilts. Wins over these old foes would up the Seminoles' record inside State circles and recover some of the prestige they have lost in this their worst season in history.

Big Tow Maclaughlin, winding up a brilliant four career with the Indian cagers, needs only 73 points to hit the coveted 1,000 point mark. Through last Friday's tilt with Rollins, MacLaughlin had buckeried 927 points over the four seasons that he has performed for the Seminoles.

But with only two games remaining on the schedule, Mac would have to hit a red-hot streak to crash the 1 000 club.

A first stringer since he was a freshman, Maclaughlin is already well over the 200 mark this season and his per game average tops all the Seminole regulars.

With an eye on that tutored 1932 football schedule, Coach Don Veller and his aides have been plenty busy signing grid talent under the new scholarship plan. Last week three fullbacks and a tackle were awarded grant-in-aids.

The new recruits are Tommy Priest of Miami Edison, Lou Leonhardt of Louisville, Ky., Stanley Dobosz of East Chicago, Indiana, and Tackle Jim Dean of Montgomery, Ala.

Priest, and Dobosz both scale 180 pounds. Leonhardt 185, and Dean the only six footer in the group, weighs in at 195.

The signing of the four brought to 23 the number of scholarships awarded the prospective high school and junior college candidates. Included in the total is Don Gladden, a quarterback on the 1950 squad, who plans to re-enter school next fall.

Of the 24 already signed, 15 are linemen and 9 are backs. Veller who likes his linemen "big and fast" indicates that from now on, the search for talent will center around linemen.

Two members of the FSU coaching staff, track coach Ken Miller and Gymnastics coach Hartley Price, have recently had articles published in Nationally known athletic magazines.

Coach Miller had an article in the January issue of the Athletic Journal entitled "The Small Weight Man" that was illustrated by pictures of Albert Bradford and Tom Bowman, former Seminole cinder stars.

Dr. Price's article appeared in the January Southern Coach and Athlete and was titled "Gymkana at FSU." Pictures of the National Champion FSU gymnastics team and scenes from the Gymkana show illustrated the article.

Cage Season Nearing End

Seminoles to Close Schedule With Tampa and Stetson Fives

The Florida State University Volleyball team won a three team match over Albany YMCA and Pensacola here last Saturday night.

The local six downed the Albany team by scores of 13-10 and 14-9, before splitting with Pensacola. After losing 11-14 the visiting Fliers took the Seminoles into camp with a 15-12 win.

Coach Odenzal was far from pleased with the team's showing, as he stated that the total errors by the Seminoles was the greatest the team had committed as compared to the total of kills for the same match.

He added that the team's chances of winning the State AAU for the fourth year in a row depends on their ability to lessen the number of errors.

Howard Gould, playing with an injured knee, was the leading spiker for the evening with 14. He was followed in turn by Ronnie Hambrick and Jim Clark with 12 and 1 irrespectively.

Gould also led in total points with eight while Jim MacPatter was close behind with six.

The Seminoles journey to Pensacola Friday to play the Pre-Flight team in a final warmup for the State AAU in March.

Torpon Club to Hold Tryouts Next Week

The Torpon club synchronized swimming organization, will hold tryouts Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 20, at 6:30 p. m. and Friday, Feb. 22, at 8:30 p. m.

Practice sessions to teach girls the standards of swimming strokes and stunts will be given this Thursday and Friday at 6:30 p. m. and Tuesday, Friday, Feb 19, at 6:30 p. m.

There will be a meeting of all Torpon club members tonight at 6:30 at the Women's gymnasium.

Musical Compositions Played in New York

Two musical compositions by Jaime Gunn, composer and faculty member of Florida State University, will be featured in a program presented in New York city next Saturday.

The compositions Piano Sonata No. 1 and Suite for String Quartet, will be performed by Prof Joseph M. Running of the FSU School of Music and the Zeitlin String Quartet of New York.

FSU Swimmers Have 19 Wins

Florida State University's swimming team is enjoying one of the finest victory streaks of any athletic team at the university. The tank teams record of 19 dual meet victories without a loss is particularly impressive in that it includes victories over such powerful foes as the U. of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Miami and Pensacola Navy.

This record stretches as far back as February of 1930 and is a tribute to the coaching of "Bing" Stults, and to the spirit and team strength of the swimming squad.

THE SEMINOLES have only one tie to mar their record, this being the powerful U. of Georgia earlier in this year. Since that time State has posted victories over Emory 47-37, Georgia Tech 54-30, Clemson 52-32, and Jacksonville Navy 62-22.

Freshman divers Larry Besty and Dan Blackshear, breaststroker Don Van Hise along with veterans Wilton Jardine, Pete Dunn-Rankin, and Jack Burnett have played prominent roles in the swimming teams early success this season.

STAR FREESTYLERS Walt Jardine and Dick Wells have been a sow sounding into but Coach Stults feels that these men will be ready to go in the second and roughest half of the swimming schedule.

Stults has good reason to call what's left of the season rough since the remaining schedule includes Georgia, a team that will be much better in their home pool. Texas A&M runnerups in the Southern Conference Championships last year; and Miami twice a team which is perennially powerful, plus the Florida AAU championships.

The squad is slated to travel to Georgia Saturday night and the next home meet will be with the U of Miami on the 23.

Volleyball Team Wins Home Match

The Florida State University cagers who last week lost to Stetson and Rollins for their 16th and 17th defeats of the season have only two more games in which to salvage something in this their worst campaign in history.

Next Friday the Seminoles take on the University of Tampa and the following weekend they entertain the Stetson Hatters with both games being played here in the West campus gymnasium.

LAST NIGHT the Indians played host to the tough University of Miami five, but the results were not in as the Flambeau went to press.

Tampa, one of the Seminoles' three victims this year, and defending state champions, have been up and down most of the season. The Spartans, however, play one of the roughest schedules in the state and have turned in some top flight performances.

STETSON, who downed the Indians last Thursday, can field a starting lineup that averages nearly 6 feet 4 inches. In their last outing the Hatters dropped a close 80-74 decision to the Miami cagers.

Coach Bud Kennedy's charges who pad beaten Rollins here two weeks ago, nearly pulled the contest out of the fire in the last half.

ROLLINS held leads of 17-12 and 39-23 at the quarter and half, but the Seminoles came back after the intermission and outscored the Tars 21-15 in the third period.

But in the last quarter the Indians' attack stalled and the Rollins cagers coasted behind big Frank Barker who tallied 25 points for scoring honors.

FOR FSU veteran forward Tom Maclaughlin flipped in 5 field goals and 6 free tosses for 16 points. Captain Bob Whitmer was next with 14, while Duane Gordon had 12 markers.

FSU (58)	fg	ft	to	Rollins (69)	fg	ft	to
Whitmer, f	6	2	14	MacHardy, f	7	5	19
McLellan, f	3	3	9	Williams, f	3	3	9
Maclaughlin, c	5	6	16	Barker, c	10	5	25
Parson, g	1	0	2	Barker, g	3	4	10
Gordon, g	5	2	12	Butler, g	1	1	3
Jones, g	0	1	1	Reap, g	1	1	3
Bovet, g	1	1	3	Cwell, g	0	2	2
Hutchinson, g	1	0	2	Sawyer, g	0	0	0
Totals	22	15	58	Totals	25	22	69
Florida State				12	21	21	14—58
Rollins				17	22	15	15—69

Free throws missed: Fla State—McLaughlin 2, Gordon, Whitmer, Rollins—Barker 4, Reap 3.

Tennis Drills Get Underway Next Monday

Coach Donald Loucks has set next Monday, 4 p. m., as the date of the opening practice session for this year's varsity tennis team. Six recently completed varsity courts located west of the new Student Union Building will be available for the first time.

Coach Loucks expects several veterans to form the nucleus of his squad. Among the returning lettermen are: Dan Boda, Dick Bradley, George Martin, Jim Berry, Jack Rand, and Robinbone. A fine crop of freshmen players should add considerable strength to this year's team.

DESPITE the returning lettermen and such freshmen prospects as David Kennedy, Tampa; Tom Cundy, 1951 Kentucky State high school champion of Kentucky; and Joe Garris, promising Memphis, Tenn., netter, Coach Loucks expresses considerable gloom when asked about this coming year's final won and lost record. Reason: By far the most ambitious tennis schedule ever attempted by an FSU tennis team.

A NEARLY COMPLETE schedule lists such opponents as the University of Michigan, 1951 Big Ten tennis runnerup; Indiana at University, Rollins, Miami, University of Georgia, Loyola, and Rutgers University.

"I doubt if our victory total will exceed three for the season," said Coach Loucks. "With freshmen comprising a good part of the team we'll be primarily concerned with building for the future.

"HOWEVER, we should have some interesting tennis for our followers this Spring. Some of the outstanding collegiate tennis players in the country will appear on our courts during the next three months."

Any students wanting to try out for the team is invited to drop by Coach Loucks' office in the Department of Physical Education for Men and leave his name or to appear at the varsity courts next Monday.

'F' Club Meeting

There will be an important meeting of the men's "F" Club Thursday night at 7:30 in the lounge of the East Campus Gym. The meeting is being called to elect a new president to fill the vacancy left by Jim Arnold, who was recently called into service. All letter winners are urged to attend.

UP AND OVER!—Pictured above, left to right, are two of Florida State volleyball players, Howard Gould and Ranald Handrock blocking the ball in the nets in the tournament.

Illinois Professor To Work at FSU

Dr. Leland Shanor, professor of botany and curator of the Mycological herbarium at the University of Illinois will spend part of this semester workins in the Florida State University laboratories of the botany department.

Dr. Shanor is on leave this year as a Guggenheim Fellow. He is investigating the Laboulbeniales, a group of fungus.

The botany professor did his undergraduate work at Maryville College in Tennessee and took both his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of North Carolina. He is secretary-treasurer of the Mycological Society of America.

From FSU, Dr. Shanor will go to Panama where he will continue his studies at the Barro Colorado Island Laboratory.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
TODAY and WEDS.
Reunion In Reno
with Mark Stevens and Peggy Dow
WEDS. THRU SAT.
Pandora And The Flying Dutchman
With James Mason and Ava Gardner
STATE
WEDS. and SATURDAY
Room For One More
With Cary Grant and Betsy Drake
RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
No Highway In The Sky
With James Stewart
THURS. THRU SAT.
Rodeo King
With Rex Allen
Also Counterpunch
With Jon Kirkwood Jr.
DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
Only The Valiant
With Gregory Peck
THRU SAT.
Home In Oklahoma
With Roy Rogers
Also Little Giant
With Abbot and Costello
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

WHY PAY MORE?
LONG PLAYING RECORDS
(33 1/3 R. P. M.)
30% off
Factory Mint Every Record Guaranteed!
For FREE Complete Catalogue and Price List, write to:
RECORD HAVEN STORES (Dept. C)
520 W. 48th St., New York 19, N. Y. (Enclose 10c to cover postage and handling.)
If in NYC visit our Midtown stores: 1125 6th Ave, 1145 6th Ave, 1211 6th Ave.

CHESTERFIELD—LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES
AT ALABAMA 2-to-1 because of MILDNESS Plus NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*
* FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION
. . and only Chesterfield has it!
Bama Drug Co.
We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 2 . . to 1
SIGNED ..... PROPRIETOR
Chesterfield CIGARETTES
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
Copyright 1952, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test
POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Even his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she from me no?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stuff-old bird," because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil! hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does two things. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. (Even holds-on up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test-er, Test)" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's a bowling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's no talon how the chick'll go for you.
*of 133 So. Harris Hill Rd. Williamsville, N. Y.
Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

State AAU Gym Meet
Set for Tomorrow—
See Sports Page.

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 30 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, February 15, 1952

Over 2,000 Co-eds
Express "Brotherhood"
See Editor's Spotlight.

"IF Week" Boasts Five Missionaries

Four continents will be represented among speakers here for Intelligent Faith Week starting Feb. 24.

Five missionaries, three from Asia, one from South America and one from Africa are included in the 11 members of the "IF" team. Rev. and Mrs. Martin Boeseller, of Germany, are tentatively listed.

Almost 94 students are working on committees planning activities for the week, which starts on Sunday and winds up on Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the faculty and staff of Florida State University are serving these committees in an advisory role.

In addition to the seminars being planned after school hours in both classrooms and dormitories many of the speakers will be guests of faculty members during regular class periods.

Patty Mims, president of the Student Religious Council, is the student representative on the executive committee for "IF" week. This committee is headed by Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth, Baptist Student Union director who is coordinating the work of the student committees.

Breakfasts where the students may meet the speakers will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings at 7 in Westminster Fellowship Room. Luncheon and supper meetings are also planned.

The speakers are coming here from Florida Southern College, Lakeland, where they have been making a similar program.

Included in the list of missionaries are Rev. Richard Johnston, formerly in Manchuria; Miss Inalette Coleman, China; Rev. David of St. Augustine; Dr. John Smith, Japan, and Mrs. L. C. Vass Jr., Brazil Cruzeiro.

Dr. George P. Howard, an historical lecturer, has conducted "IF" programs in several South American countries.

SPEAKER—Dr. George P. Howard is one of 11 speakers who will be on the Florida State University campus for Intelligent Faith Week which starts Feb. 24. Dr. Howard was born in Argentina where his parents were missionaries. He is sponsored here by the University Religious Council and Florida Chain of Missions.

Theater Artist Appears Here

Comedy, "Biography", To Feature Actress

Doris Dalton, star of stage, screen and radio will appear at Florida State University March 14-25 in a production of S. N. Behrman's comedy "Biography", sponsored by the department of speech in cooperation with the Artist Series committee.

"It is our hope that Miss Dalton's appearance will give the University and community an opportunity to see a theater artist at work," Dr. C. W. Edney, speech department head, said in announcing the production with ASC Chairman John Beckett.

MISS DALTON recently had a featured role in "The Thief" on the Theater Guild on the Air, one of radio's top dramatic programs. She has also appeared with Katherine Hepburn and Raymond Massey in the Broadway Comedy Harriett, Clifton Webb, Lee C. Carroll and Dennis King.

The actress is considered by many critics to be one of the most skilled comedienes in New York society. She has appeared in such well known plays as "The Fabulous Invalid," "Petticoat Fever," "The Big Girl" and "Present Laughter," which had 6 highly successful New York seasons.

THE GUEST star will be available for professional advice and consultation to vocational opportunities in radio, television and the theater while she is on campus.

"Her cooperation with student actors in instructing and assisting them will provide them with a valuable educational experience. The actress will be available for informal discussions and classroom demonstration," Edney stated.

"BIOGRAPHY" will have 5 twelve performance run at the Augusta Conradi theater on East campus. The first four evening performances, March 14, 15, 17 and 18, are required Community Concert series productions of the department of speech and admission is by season ticket.

"Residents of Tallahassee and the surrounding territory should not miss any of the productions on these four nights," Edney said.

The remaining eight performances are Artist Series events. Students will be admitted free on presentation of their ID cards. Any space not used by students will be sold to the general public.

Campus Chest Plans Begin

Groups on campus are already beginning projects this week for the second annual Campus Chest drive for March 2 through 8, Shirley Hurlbert, drive chairman announced.

This year's goal has been set at $1 for every student and faculty member on campus.

Quotas for drive week are being tallied by sorority, fraternity, dormitories, the P Club and sophmore class thus far. The drive all climaxes on Saturday Friday night from 9 to 12.

CHI OMEGA and Phi Mu will have a "Sunday" party in the back yard. Delta Zeta will sponsor shoe "Shi- Kabob" supper and Lambda Chi Alpha will have spider cures.

Delta Delta Delta will sponsor a fashion show in the Uppercman Music Hall with clothes from Maxcey's.

A "Joe College" contest is being sponsored by Delt Gamma. Nominations for this honor may be turned in to Delta Gamma by mail or phone before February 27. Nominations should be accompanied by pictures.

OTHER ACTIVITIES will include an F Club box supper, to be given sponsored by the sophomore class, a Pi Beta Phi-Theta Chi football game Saturday afternoon and a dormitory silver tea.

The Campus Chest includes the Florida Students Service Fund, Junior Fund, Polio fund and a general fund. Last year the drive's goal was set at $1,500 but $1,200 was collected.

Committee members include Nelle Riesil, publicity chairman; Marvene Hyde, quota chairman; Beatrice Smith, dormitory chairman; Evelyn Alexander, dance chairman, and Mervyn Harter, associate professor of business, faculty advisor.

Language Professor Obtoins Doctorote

Dr. Albert Leduc has returned to the Florida State University Department of modern languages After a leave of absence spent at the University of Wisconsin obtaining a doctor of philosophy degree.

Dr. Leduc prepared his dissertation for the Ph. D on "Etude et Presentation in Les Homes de bonne volonte of Jules Romains."

Spalding to Give Recital In Music Hall Tonight

In his second recital for this year, Albert Spalding, violinist, will present a solo recital in the Opperman Music hall tonight at 8:15. He will be assisted at the piano by Prof. John Boda.

Prof. Spalding will also appear tomorrow evening in the Music hall as soloist with the String Clinic Orchestra.

THE VIOLINIST'S program tonight will include two sonatas by Corelli and Tartini, respectively, and the renowned Chaconne in D Minor for unaccompanied violin by J. S. Bach. He will also play the Poeme by Ernest Chausson, two Spanish dances by Manuel De Falla and Malaguena by Isaac Albeniz.

Prof. Spalding, long considered the leading American violinist, is now retired from active concert work. He joined the faculty of the School of Music as visiting professor for two short periods this year.

During his concert career, Prof. Spalding was regarded as one of the world's leading violinists. He was the first native American artist to win widespread recognition in Europe. Before World War II, he toured Europe annually, and in 1939 made his 20th crossing of the Atlantic.

HE HOLDS decorations from several foreign governments, not only for his musical achievements but for his work with the Allies during the War. Assigned to the Mediterranean theater of the psychological Warfare Branch of the U. S. army, he rose from Major to Command spokesman to the Italian underground.

He made daily broadcasts to the Italian partisans, regulating the underground's activities with the Allied Armies. He was selected for this work not only because of his unparalleled linguist, but because of the respect in which he is held throughout Europe.

Convo to Be March 5

A compulsory women's convocation is slated for March 5 in the Music auditorium. Any person or group desiring to place an announcement at this meeting is asked to contact Betty Rich, box 327 or phone extension 4511.

VV Taps Hold Party For L'Apoche, VV's

Last night the taps of Village Vamps held a party in the Theta house honoring their members and the members of L'Apache. A skit was presented by Mary Ann Adams, Betty Yates and Charis Coulter.

Chairmen were Ann Adams, over-all chairman; Joann Hutto, decorations; Charis Coulter, invitations; Dana Brown, invitations.

Officers of the V V taps are Ann Adams, president; Ann Yates, vice-president; and Dot Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Kirk Reveals Resignation As Vice-President

"Pressure of Studies Is Cause" States Veep Of 'Unofficial' Drop

Jim Kirk, vice-president in charge of legislative affairs, announced yesterday to a Flambeau staff member that he has unofficially resigned from his position.

Kirk will resign officially at next Tuesday's meeting of the University Council.

IN THE INTERVIEW, Kirk said the pressure of studies and family life make it impossible for him to carry on his duties as well as he should.

"I hate to resign," he said, "but under the circumstances I think it is best." I feel though that I have taken more out of my job personally than the Senate has gotten from me."

Last spring Kirk ran on a program of "What the students come to me and ask for, that's what I'll do." He had had no previous experience in University government but has interested students of all fairs. He says he has found that interest makes up for lack of experience.

KIRK URGES freshmen to develop an active interest in their student government.

"The fallacy in student government is that the students don't take enough interest in it. To me, extra-curricular activities are as important as studies," Kirk said.

The resigning vice - president added that in comparison to other colleges the students and administration here get along extremely well.

"There are lots of things to be ironed out due to the transition from a girl's school to a co-educational school, however," Kirk added.

IN REFERENCE to his experience this year, Kirk said the greatest soul for the Senate was setting up governing rules. The Senate has hoped to make constructive changes in time for them to be considered by the Student Review Board and voted on by the student body as a whole in March.

"It doesn't look as though they're going to be approved by the summer term, though parts of it will be ready and Mary Ruth Summers is doing a fine job on that," Kirk said.

KIRK SAID he felt there were more conscientious people in the Senate than ever before.

Graduates Win UGA Vote In Proposed Amendment

Senate's Unanimous Consent Is Climax to Campus Question

In a unanimous vote last Tuesday the University Senate passed a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow graduate students to vote in UGA elections.

The controversial question of whether graduate students should vote and hold office has raged in and out of governmental circles for more than three months. The proposed amendment will allow graduates to vote but not hold office.

THE AMENDMENT came to the floor of the senate from the constitutional committee headed by Senator Mary Ruth Summers. Proponents of full recognition of graduate students as voters and office holders believe that with this amendment it is only one step to full office holding power for graduates.

BULLETIN

The Senate's constitution committee, headed by Mary Ruth Summers, yesterday passed an unanimous approved constitutional amendment that would dissolve the University Council and set up a cabinet form of executive branch.

However, one senator described the amendments as a compromise. "We are giving them only part of what they want, in hopes that it will satisfy them for a while."

IN A FLAMBEAU poll of three weeks ago, Editor of the Student Government officers interviewed indicated that they believed the Senate to send a recommendation to the University Council concerning the early hours for West campus.

She said that usually nine buses were running in the morning to West campus. Now only five are running and many students are being left every day.

The motion passed unanimously.

THE SIX MONTHS old traffic court problem of Student Court floor of the Senate last Tuesday. George Gannon, court officer pro tem, reported that he thought the administration was working on the traffic court cases and not giving them to his court.

Senator Salyers volunteered to look into the situation. Yesterday morning, however, Gannon was presented all the cases by the assistant business manager.

Senator Salyers, head of the Student Welfare committee, reported that no action studies decided that teacher grading was unnecessary at this time as two other groups were already grading the teachers here.

Book Exchange Sells Most Of Books Handled

Eighty-two per cent of the books handled by the Alpha Phi Omega book exchange have been sold. 1,150 books had been sold or exchanged up until yesterday morning, according to Tommy Bowen, book exchange chairman.

Approximately 100 students have not yet collected for their books. They are urged to claim their money on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, John Adams, publicity chairman stated.

EXCHANGE HOURS are from 9 a. m. through 12 noon and 2 p. m. through 5 p. m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a. m. through 12 noon on Saturday.

Almost 250 students have not yet claimed their unsold books from last year. Students are asked to get these books immediately, as all uncalled for books will be given to the Alpha Fund to the book exchange. A list of the students having books there from last year will be posted in the exchange Tuesday.

CHAIRMAN BOWEN reports that the exchange has cleared approximately forty-two dollars. Plans for the use of this money have not yet been made, but Bowen stated that it would be used for the benefit of the student body in some other Alpha Phi Omega project.

The APO helpers are having a party at 9 p.m. Sunday to get the names of the book owners in order. The book exchange helpers are asked that following books are still needed: Literature of England II, Individual Sports for Men, Real Estate Principles and Practices, Advertising Procedure, Public Relations, 161 Shakespeare, Syllabus, and Ariel by Rodo in Spanish Book.

The Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, which took charge of the book exchange previously handled by the junior class, has recognized certain needs in order to make the exchange function more efficiently.

KEEP OUT—These signs have been on the balcony entrance to Westcott since the building was condemned last March. The building's future is being considered by the state board of control.

State Board of Control Faced With Auditorium Problems

A pending question in the minds of the State Board of Control members, University engineers and the architects for the university is what is going to happen to Westcott.

The auditorium section of Westcott has been closed since March, 1951" when the University engineer, H. D. Mendenhall, declared the west end of the building unsafe.

SINCE 1909, according to the experts, W a s t c o t t foundations have been slowly "sliding downhill" because it is built upon a vein of fuller's earth which runs through the campus.

The north part of the ancient structure had to be rebuilt a few years ago, and new foundations were put under the Education Building in 1935 for the same reason.

Three possibilities are under consideration by the state architect as to what is to be done about Westcott. Under consideration is the reinforcing of the present foundations, or the tearing down of the present structure and complete rebuilding of it. In the same spot or last of all, to build a completely new auditorium somewhere else on campus.

THE STATE legislation appropriated $475,000 to repair the 40-year old building last year.

The doomed auditorium has been nailed shut since the condemnation was issued.

University engineer H. D. Mendenhall has stated that all new buildings under the fifty year plan will be built with steel reinforced foundations. Every office explained after the building was condemned that when Westcott was first constructed no one knew about the section of clay which lay a few feet below the surface.

The foundations were laid right on top of this elastic clay-like soil and since then, whenever there has been a very dry spell followed by a very wet spell the structure has "skidded" a little. This was first noticed fifteen years ago, but year a gradual installation.

A wide crack now separates the auditorium and the back rooms, formerly used as practice rooms for the students in the school of music. In some places the crack measures over two feet.

Editor Requests Staff Changes

Gail Albritton, Tally - Ho editor, petitioned the University Council at their meeting Tuesday, to make changes in the university's annual staff.

The Council will decide who will complete Gail's term as editor-in-chief of the year book. Gail has dropped her last semester of college to quit her husband, Dal Albritton, who is in the Army Air Forces, stationed in Ohio.

Before leaving, Gail reported that she annual was three fourths completed.

NEWEST PROJECT on the UGA slate is the possible erection of a slim, advertising Florida State University, at the Tallahassee city limits. Acting chairman Lyle Dempsey appointed June Conyers to investigate plans for the project.

In reports of special committees, Dick Bradley, senior class president, announced that he had received several replies from other schools in answer to the letter asking for information on setting up a Hall of Fame.

THE PROPOSED recognition of merit was conceived last year during the "Who's Who" controversy, and would be d signed to honor outstanding memoers of the graduating class.

Information is being compiled by members of the committee and will be discussed at a future council meeting.

Jim Lohmeyer, forum chairman, reported that the calendar of campus events, Fun and Funtions, was distributed for the first time, February 9. The calendar will be compiled periodically and will be printed in the Flambeau as well as distributed regularly.

A LETTER of appreciation from Bill Hess, UGA Funds committee chairman, was read, and Pat Brenard was unanimously named to replace him.

Ronald Holloway was suggested to replace senior Vernon Peeples who recently graduated. Other nominations were called for and the matter tabled for further discussion.

Absent members at the meeting, Tuesday were Betty Rich and Jim Kirk.

AAUW Holds Coffee For Foreign Students

Foreign students were guests at a coffee yesterday given by the international committee of the American Association of University Women.

The coffee was given to acquaint the students and the association with each other, according to Mrs. Gorlie Williams, chairman of the AAUW committee.

MUSICAL STARTS TUESDAY

Tickets to 'Sandspur' Now on Sale

Two hundred and fifty Sandspur dance tickets had been sold up until 9 a. m. today, when sale for the production "This is the Life" going fast for Fiji week's performance.

The $2 dance tickets and 75c Series productions of the department of speech and admission is by season ticket.

"Residents of Tallahassee and the surrounding territory should not miss any of the productions on these four nights," Edney said.

The remaining eight performances are Artist Series events. Students will be admitted free on presentation of their ID cards. Any space not used by students will be sold to the general public.

Income Tax Returns Dance Sites Changed

The Internal Revenue Department will have its deputy collector at the entrance to Auditorium Thursday, Feb. 21, to help faculty, staff and students prepare their income tax returns, stated Rol K Shaw, FSU business Manager.

DANCE SITES

The University tea dances, now sponsored by Collilion club, have been switched to the East campus gym. Terry Sheppard, Collilion publicity chairman has announced that the next dance will be March 11 from 3 to 5 p. m. Refreshments will be served and a band will play for dancing.

BEAUTIful LEGS—26 beautiful legs for the Sandspur chorus line will be "appreciated" by the men students when the Sixth annual student musical production opens Tuesday night. Tickets for the all-student show are now on sale.

plans were for pictures to be made with the various comedian and fraternities.

"The nationally known star of radio, television and motion pictures will be interviewed over the local radio while here," Adams said.

"We are having a 'dutch treat' policy on tickets this year and very few if any complimentary tickets will go to the student body. There will be no hold-back policy for students."

IT WOULD like all students who want to, to be able to go to the dance; however, it may be necessary to open tickets next to the townspeople in order to insure a complete sell-out," Adams noted.

No one will be admitted to the dance and Caravan performance without a ticket. Girls will have late permission until 1:30 for the dance. Corsages are definitely banned.

Checkpas at the doors will be absolutely unknown to the student body. This is to prevent students from getting into the dance because they had a good friend at the door, Adams said.

Monroe will feature the FSU Fight Song and the Alma Mater during his broadcast.

State wide publicity is being given the Florida State show and the local radio stations will broadcast the dance. The Tampa Sunday Tribune ran pages on it January 27 and the Sundepur publicity chairman said the Jacksonville Times, The Tallahassee Democrat, the Orlando Morning Sentinel, and the Miami Daily News will run pages soon.

Do College Students Need More Economic Education?

The following editorial is reprinted from the Florida Times-Union. The omission in education is one to be rectified.

Many students were completely ignorant of the economic implications of the recent student fee increase. Many students seem to be completely blank on matters of inflation and rising costs in living. Does this omission hold true at FSU?

* * *

Despite increasing emphasis by public schools on vocational courses, practically no effort is apparently made to teach broad economic principles and laws. This is a serious omission that educators should seek to rectify.

The U. S. Office of Education reports that subjects like homemaking and industrial arts have made the greatest advances in recent years, mainly at the expense of classical studies. Yet, the Brookings Institution says that less than 5 per cent of all high school students take the equivalent of a semester course in economics.

In other words, public schools are striving to show youths how to earn a living, while neglecting to help them gain an understanding of the system that makes their way of life possible. They learn the minor mechanics of a trade, while remaining ignorant of the basic factors that produce higher standards of living.

It profits a student little to learn the rudiments of banking or metal-working or salesmanship, if he later falls victim to fallacious ideologies that would destroy his fruitful economic system. He needs to know the virtues and weaknesses of Capitalism, Socialism and Communism to make intelligent decisions on matters that can vitally affect his welfare.

Unfortunately, public schools do not supply this knowledge except in rare cases. The Brookings Institution made a survey that revealed dismaying facts. Even in those few schools that listed courses in economics, the textbooks were held inadequate and the teachers insufficiently trained.

Of the six most widely used texts, the Institution found none that attempted a real appraisal of the merits of the several types of economic systems. None dealt directly with the factors responsible for economic growth and rising living standards. They presented static, rather than dynamic, conceptions of economics.

It was also found that professional preparatio · demanded of economics teachers in U. S. secondary schools seem incredibly low. While there are some qualified instructors, the great majority are inadequately trained.

Summing up, the Institution found that only a tiny percentage of high school students are afforded any opportunity to get a real grasp of fundamental economic forces and factors. As comparatively few go on to college, this situation means that most Amer·can students never formally study a subject of vital importance.

The world today is at dagger-point over conflicting economic views. It is more essential than ever that all citizens thoroughly understand the various systems so that accurate comparisons and evaluations can be made.

Inclusion of elementary economics as a compulsory course in high schools would require little changes in curricula, but it would have beneficial effects on millions of youths.

● UGA COMMITTEES

This is the final installment in a series of editorials explaining University Government Association standing committees. The Flambeau will run a series explaining Senate committees in the near future.

* * *

The Athletics and Recreation Committee of the UGA has been organized to coordinate athletics and recreational events on campus.

Working in conjunction with the Faculty Athletic Committee, the student committee gives students voice in the planning of athletic events. Two student committee members meet with the Faculty Athletic Committee.

On the recreational side, the committee publicizes the many activities and events on campus and considers and sponsors projects for recreational doings for the benefit of students.

The committee is under the chairmanship of Mike Sellers and the chairman of the Recreation Subcommittee is Margie Parker.

Starting slowly at the beginning of the year, the committee is planning a full program of student activities for the spring semester.

LONG-RANGE GENEROSITY BY PAN-HELLENIC

By ROBERT GRIFFIN

Next week is National Brotherhood week. Too many times it is classified along with National Potato Week or Eat Your Pickles Week.

It should be the time when each American stops and reflects on his behavior and attitude to his fellow citizens, not only in the United States but in the world.

It is fitting that I tell this story of some mighty hearty-warming long range generosity. It will restore your faith in the goodness and spirit of brotherhood.

Antonie Joyeux is a happy and pretty blue-eyed girl. Her home is Belgium and she is fifteen years old. She has found certainty and a sense of being loved in the hearts of over 2,000 co-eds at Florida State University.

In 1945, immediately after the destructive second World War, Europe was flooded with countless thousands of war orphans, homeless, hungry and starving. Many of these pitiful creatures were maimed. Not only were their bodies torn by a cruel war but their memory was stained with thoughts of their parents being shot or their friends being killed.

Many of these little victims of Nazi agression have now received food, shelter and loving care through the Foster Parents' plan.

Little Antonie, or Toni as she is called, was the eldest of four daughters of Ulysse, a Belgian collaborator. A set of circumstances in which her husband and father were killed, Toni's mother, Jeanne Van Erveide Joyeux, was left in support of four young children. The children came under Foster Parents' plan care.

Pan-Hellenic, in 1945, wanted to add one more 'project' to their year's activity. They decided to adopt little Toni.

It has not been a money exchange only. Along with provid· ing food for the children through the Foster Parents' plan, Pan-Hellenic, speaking for the membership of all campus sororities, began corresponding with Toni.

Each Christmas a package has been mailed overseas. Each month one sorority writes Toni the news of her second home, America.

Toni, of course, writes regularly to her 'parents.' The letters are on file in the Pan-Hellenic office. You can trace her development from a nervous girl, ill with tuberculosis, into an active and happy teen-ager.

All the pert co-eds can know they have truly experienced the feeling of brotherhood in Toni's adoption. Their part in the Foster Parent's plan is a daily demonstration of this spirit.

* * *

A double-barrel publicity treatment was effected recently in the March of Dimes Drive.

John Newton Baker, public relations director, and also publicity director for the drive, plugged Florida State University at every turn. Newspaper and radio drive with pictures using the campus as a background.

He is to be commended for the double service.

BEHIND THE IVY

SANDSPUR PRODUCTION IS MAJOR ASSET

By BOB TIFFINS

New Idea in amateur production has again captured the spotlight. I'm afforded an excellent opportunity for relieving my chest of a burden it has carried since last year.

That is—to suggest, once again, that Sandspur be given the notice and credit it is due. That it be allowed to realize its full potential as a production organization, as diversion, experience, and, most important, advertisement.

I have previously suggested that the Sandspur production, like the other campus student activities such as the Circus, Gymkana, the football, baseball, track and basketball teams, be given a definite appropriation each year—an appropriation sufficient to cover the expenses required to make Sandspur a worthwhile project.

Seems reasonable that since FSU has one major asset in our Music school that excells locally, in any other southern university, we should capitalize on that asset and advertise it.

We profess a desire to both increase the student enrollment on the campus and to expand even more our already well-known name. Why not kill two birds with one stone and advertise our University with products of our music school?

Last year FSU presented its first full-length musical comedy. All the tunes in the show were written by students. Doug Alley, the author of the production Gypsy Holiday received a $25 prize for his efforts. Other contributions received while attending, that is, but the experience, and the talent displayed by them. And the $25 Alley received was slightly more than the cost of his manuscript paper.

But the show was well received by all who attended. Some critics commented that the plot was lousy, weak or only fair, but generally speaking the whole heartedly enjoyed it. The acting was atrocious. Others commented. But—everyone was in complete accord in that the music and settings were excellent and well worth the time and effort expended.

And the music was good. And the orchestra, composed of FSU music school students, was excellent. But a lot went on behind the scenes to make it so.

Instructor George Boldt, composer of most of the show's tunes, worked from the beginning of Summer school until the night the show was actually presented writing the music and copying the arrangements. With 24 men to arrange for a 14-piece orchestra, it became quite a job for one man to handle—even on the almost 24-hour-a-day basis George worked for the last three months of preparation.

George direly needed outside help in arranging the music, but the funds necessary to get it were not a ·ailable. Consequently, George's grades fell drastically. And he doesn't feel that he can devote the time necessary to produce a suitable production. Neither does Sandy Horton, former chairman and dance director. Even the numerous student director who volunteered his services can't be beguiled into forming a full Bill Shakespeare "Chief" remain true—and they are faithful.

* * *

Senator Collins, Press-Secretary Lloyd Compton and Governor Warren Green are only a few many who have expressed an interest in the plan to make Sandspur an all-student theater productions a touring advertisement of Florida State University and its speech and music departments. But they need student, faculty and staff interest from the University itself. If the whole job of petitioning the Board of Control, the legislators, and other important persons, plus the time-consuming detail work such as budget planning is left entirely to the students alone, it most certainly will of necessity fall through again.

Third Annual FSU Debate Tournament March 14 and 15

The third annual Invitational Debate Tournament will be held at FSU Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15.

Any regularly enrolled undergraduate student is eligible to compete. Every entry in the debate will consist of two two-person teams, one prepared to debate the affirmative and the other the negative side of the proposition; Resolved that the Federal government should adopt a permanent system of wage and price control.

Each participating school must furnish one qualified faculty member to assist in judging.

Featured in the debate will be oratory, discussion and extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking and oral interpretation.

The principal award will be a sweepstakes trophy, awarded to that school amassing the greatest number of points in all events. Individual medals will be given in all events.

Inquiries should be referred to Dr. Gregg Phifer, department of speech, FSU.

A student at the University of North Carolina was sitting in class working a crossword puzzle when a professor called on him to answer a question. Immediately the students' friends sitting on either side of him began coaching him.

SCA Bi-Y Luncheon Plans New Projects

The Advisory Board of the Student Christian Association, "Bi-Y", met for luncheon in the Suwanee Room on Feb. 2 to discuss its program of fostering campus activities.

Mrs. Coyle Moore, chairman of the Advisory Board, directed reports of the activities of the Bi-Y group as given by Prof. Howard Bisching, major advisor to the group, and Miss Ruth Warrell Hall, retiring senior, who works closest with the group.

In anticipation of the growing need of the student group, the advisors formed study groups on purpose, finance, and working relations with students to help strengthen these areas. The discussion emphasized the needs of the large number of students on campus who are not affiliated with any particular denomination. All groups and the meeting of these needs by social and religious opportunities sponsored by Bi-Y.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor ..... Tom Tarala
Society Editor ..... Marcia Mann
Feature Editor ..... Gerry Hall
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Bense
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Rosemary Hamlen
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fa Pittman, Ann Harley

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-2191 Ext. 354 Florida Union, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

War, Marriage, Bible Highlight Movie Scene

By DAVID DREIS

The key hills of Korea are the locale of "Fixed Bayonets," the latest war epic to be released by Twentieth Century Fox. With an all-male cast consisting of Richard Basehart, Gene Evans, Mitchael O'Shea, Richard Hylton and Skip Homeier, the plot concerns the exploits of a small American unit of UN troops and the men who lead it. The film opens Sunday and Monday at the Florida theater.

* * *

Cary Grant and Betsy Drake who in real life go under the title of Mr. and Mrs. Grant, team up in the new Warner Brothers comedy, "Room For One More." The story concerns the raising of kids who overcrowded the facilities of a happy homelife for Cary Grant. See it Sunday through Tuesday at the State theater.

* * *

Five stars team up in the marriage business when they perform in "The Model and the Marriage Broker." For those who don't know it, a marriage broker is a person whose job it is to get a husband or wife for a customer and that's what Thelma Ritter does for Jeanne Crain and Scott Brady. Others in the cast are Michael O'Shea and P.S.C.W. graduate, Nancy Kulp. It follows "The Lady from Texas" at the Florida next Thursday and Friday.

* * *

All those who missed "Painting the Clouds with Sunshine" can catch it Sunday and Monday at the Ritz with "The Red Badge of Courage" following it on Tuesday and Wednesday. Two adventure films, "Desert Gold" and "Fury of the Congo" double on Thursday to run until Saturday.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.!

FLORIDA

Today and Wed.
The Lady from Texas
with Mona Freemas and Howard Duff

Thurs. Thru Sat.
The Model and the Marriage Broker
with Thelma Ritter and Jeanie Crain

STATE

TODAY ONLY
Room for One More
with Cary Grant and Betsy Drake

Wed. thru Sat.
David and Bathsheba
with Gregory Peck and Susan Hayward

RITZ

Today and Wed
Red Badge of Courage
with Audie Murphy

Thurs. thru Sat.
Desert Gold
ALSO Fury of the Congo
with Johnny Weismuller

DRIVE-IN

Today and Wed.
Meet Me After the Show
with Betty Grable

Thurs. thru Sat.
Fort Dodge Stampede
with Rocky Lane
also
Crazy Over Horses
With the Bowery Boys

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

METAMORPHOSIS . . .

". . . and I'm tellin' you Charlie that rah-rah stuff is strictly not for me—Yes, it's big time stuff in kids but when you're a man. . . . What's that?—er, I well, I'm not! I'll but I've always traveled with an older, faster crowd. Hell, they practice with paddles, make you shine shoes, how 'bout scrape. Such garbage leaves me cold, besides I got a brother . . ."

Oh, her? I'M making out like . . .

Several handshakes, ego paddings, hand-on-the-shoulder talks and thoughts later . . .

". . . and you ought to think it over, Chuck. It's good livin over in that new house and what a bunch of characters! . . . You know "Iron Ike," "Drink a quart o' Yankee blood a day" O'Dea, "Bet a fin" O'Connell and even the Editor of Campus Scuttle, J. T. Filthyfingers. . . . Seneeilli bunch of guys . . . You know that pledging . . . IT'S all in the way ya' take it . . . builds character. . . . We'd really be glad ta have you Charlie. think it over. . . ."

* * *

Olive oil to Johnny Knapp who broke Administration hearts with his decision to romp once gain and probably set fire to the lush fields of Indiana. . . .

Bob Adams—for the serenading season with his accordion and manic adenoids.

Could it be Bombinrower Owen has forgotten Liberty. Equality and gone you-know-what??

Week-End Special

BY POPULAR DEMAND
WE RETURN

BANANA SPLIT 24c
With Whipped Cream and Cherries

LARGE LIME FREEZE 9c

MECCA

Gene Blunt is no longer connected with me in the management of the MECCA. I will appreciate your continued patronage.
WOODY WILSON

new Parker "21" pen

only $5.00

It's precision-built by the makers of world-famous New Parker "51". Offers the smart style . . . smart features . . . of pens selling at twice the price.

It's the low-cost pen that will never let you down! No scratching! No skips! No blobs!
New "21" has the smooth-gliding Octanium point . . . a patented ink control . . . new fast-action filler. The ink supply is stellar . . . and you get real protection against leaking.
Ask your favorite pen dealer now to show you the New Parker "21"—the most popular $5.00 pen. It's the "what's new in look." Lustraloy cap. Choice of points. Colors: blue, green, red, black. Set—pen with matching pencil—$8.75. You'll do better this time by buying a New Parker "21"!
NOTE: Prices subject to F. E. Tax.

And—when it's time to hint for a gift—hint for the finest of all: New Parker "51".

New Parker "51" and "21" Pens "write dry" with Superchrome Ink. No blotters needed! (They also use any other fountain pen ink.)

Since 1923 the Parker Pen Company

"Shoot your fifties are few and far between. It's like my new '21' Pen."

"You've got a grip like that new '21' clip!"

"He's got such a smooth feel!"

"For a smooth line, I'll take the new '21' any day."

"He's as easy to see through as the 21's Pic-glass reservoir."

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!

Where at the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!

$6.50

Nic's Toggery

F. S. U. Host to State A. A. U. Gym Meet

Seminoles Face Tampa Tomorrow

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

GYMNASTICS MEET TOPS—Gymnastics coach Hartzer, one of the top in his profession, urges that anyone wanting to see the top gymnasts in the nation take the State A. A. U. gymnastics championships tomorrow ...take up some of the slack in the Seminole attack.

...Price, whose Seminoles was the first Southern team ...ve with the national champ... describes tomorrow's ...s "about the best thats ...ged up some of the outstanding talent in the Southeast ...to meet.

People in this area will have a chance to see such gifted performers as Bill Roethenbaugh, Rabbitt and Jack Miles, ...mby their talents. Roethein this country's top gym... candidate for the Olym... next summer has been ...med to the All American ...and three times while Rabbitt ...ds the national side horse championship with Roethelheim, ...his is the cverrend national ...ne class champ.

Another Seminole that should ...e watching is Don Holder ...ho prior rules as the top Olym... prospect next to Roethelhm. ...Galactic man"—Jack Gutting ...ne and Joe Regna and Cap... Jack Sharp are sure to be ...ong near the top in their re... events.

The likeable FSU coach won't ...en and say that the Seminoles will win the Nationals again this year but says they should ...sh in the top six.

In answer to the many inquiries ...ut new player" who performed ...e Seminole cagers against ...am Monday night was Ham ...ossie a 6-1 freshman from ...ersville Indiana.

Hoskie who enrolled here this ...mester, displayed some nifty ...ds and some alert floor work ...inst the Hurricanes and may ...e a dynamic profession ...ortunities are there are personal ...in merchandising, advertising, fashion, management, personnel ...or teaching. One-year graduate program leading to Master's ...legree combines practical instruction, market contacts and su...ervised work experience—with one-year Job New York stores ...rograms for Bachelor's degree candidates and non-degree st... ...so also

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF RETAILING
100 Washington Square New York 3, N. Y.

RETAILING needs college-trained young people like YOU

35 FUTURE EXECUTIVES

It offers as many career po... aptitudes, interests, personality ...

75¢ SPECIAL PLATE 75¢

Fresh Chicken Salad
Breaded Pork Chops, Brown Gravy
Fried Trout, tarter sauce
Roast Pork and Dressing
Fried Chicken, steamed rice
Fried Oysters, tarter sauce
and
BROILED FILET MIGNON $1.00
Choice of One Veg., Coffee or Tea Salad, Dessert

at the NEW

Tallahassee Cafe

119 South Adams

Under the new management of Christ A. Cummings

For a fellow who was entering the event for the first time, Pete Dunn-Rankin did all right for himself in the 150 yard individual medley race at the Jacksonville Navy swimming meet.

Dunn-Rankin, co-captain of Coach Bim Stills's squad covered the distance in 1 minute and 44.9 seconds for a new school record.

Should the Indian tankmen top powerful Georgia in Athens, they are going to be mighty rough to handle by the time the Southeastern A.A.U. rolls around. Stulit's team, unbeaten in 18 consecutive dual meets, scored something of a mild upset by holding the Bulldogs to a 42-42 deadlock here last month.

Here's a note that should interest any trainer that has aspirations of someday becoming a coach. Dave Wike whose Miami Hurricane downed the Seminoles last Monday, is actually the team's trainer.

Wike took the reins when Hurricane coach Hart Morris became ill before the start of the season and has guided them to a successful year, winning 11 of 18 tilts. Wike, incidentally, became a terrier played basketball, but was a football player at the Miami school.

A professor at the University of Oklahoma has come up with a reliable test of student boredom. It's called the "Wiggle Meter." Wires are strung along on the backs of chairs, and every time a student twists, stretches or wiggles, the impulse is recorded on a graph.

BOB WHITMER drives in for a layup shot during the recent FSU-Miami tilt. Another Seminole, Jerry Westfaller (43) can be seen in the background. The Miami players are Dave Nichols (19), Jack Schneider (18) and Roger Wrench (10).

Swimming Team To Meet Georgia

FSU's swimming team, undefeated in 18 dual meets travels to Athens, Georgia, today where they will meet the University of Georgia Bulldogs, in what appears to be the crucial meet of the season.

The Seminole tankmen tied the Bulldog's 42-42 here in January for the only mark on an otherwise spotless record. Chances appear slim, however, that FSU will be able to preserve their record streak of dual meet victories without a loss in Athens Saturday, for Coach Bim Stills is a stranger in their home pool and times indicate that the bulldog's squad has been improving steadily.

COACH "BIM" STULTS team received a setback when it was learned that back strokers Jack Burnette and Jack Holmes have both come down with colds. Burnett, who showed surprisingly against Jacksonville's crack when he turned the 200 yds. in 2.23.4, will be a real loss unless he can get off the ailing list.

Stulits is also looking for distance men to replace Walt Jardine who will be will be ready for the sprints. Coach Stulits has been putting Bob Stranuff, Owen Boone and Bob Richardson through the 400 yds. in the hope of coming up with a replacement.

FRESHMAN JOHN BARUCH and Dick "Phil-" Wells have looked better than at anytime this season and hope for a Seminole victory may lie with these two sprint stars.

Stulits will switch Pete Dunn-Rankin from the 200 freestyle to the individual medley and put freshman Bob Carter in the middle distance in an effort to build more team strength.

FSU's tankmen have been working doubly hard this week pointins not only to this meet with Georgia but to the meets ahead which include Miami on the 23, and Texas A&M on the 28 of this month. Stulits will take a 17 man squad to Athens Friday morning and will return Saturday night.

Professor Elected

Dr. Carmen Rogers, English department, was elected secretary of the English Section of the South Atlantic Modern Languages Association during their recent meeting in Atlanta.

Dr. Rogers gave a paper before the Comparative Literature Division of the SAMLA meeting on "Plutarch and the Early English Renaissance Humanists."

Third Sports Slate Now Underway

Jane Kirk, president of the Women's Recreation Association, announced that the third sports season started last Monday, February 11, and will continue through April 12.

The intramural sports offered are softball, bridge and swimming. Odd-Even sports and their leaders are, badminton—Joe Ann Thorpe and Myra Riehl, basketball—Anna Athanason and Pat Crum, golf—Marylin Cobb and Mary Ellen Tavel. The Odds will practice Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 and the Evens practice Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 5.

Other events in the third sports season are the Tarpon tryouts on February 20, 21 and 23, and the all Florida College Sports Day to be held in April.

Girl's Cage Title Won by AOPi's

The AOPi's shooting stars defeated the Gulchrist basketball team by a score of 42-21 on Monday, February 10, in the final game between sorority and dormitory for this year's championship.

This is the second straight year that the AOPi's have won the cup and if they win next year they may keep the cup.

This semester will bring softball and swimming to the intramural side of sports between the sororities and dormitories. Practice for the girls is now underway.

The third Odd-Even sport season will feature golf, badminton, and basketball. The Odd's will practice on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while The Even's will meet on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

Cagers to Seek Fourth Win At Expense of Spartan Five

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the small West campus gym tomorrow night when Coach Bud Kennedy's cagers renew their basketball rivalry with the University of Tampa Spartans.

Originally scheduled for tonight, the tilt was moved back to Saturday night due to a mix up in the schedule.

Tomorrow night's meeting will be the second game of the season between the two teams, the Seminoles upsetting the Spartan five earlier in the season, 72-66 in Tampa.

The Indians who dropped a 73-56 decision to the Miami cagers here last Monday night for their 18th loss of the year, will have their hands full in trying to control Tampa's Harry Bryan and George Montz.

Bryan and Montz, well over the 200 mark for points scored this season, can hit from any position on the court and with uncanny accuracy. Both players are holdovers from the All-State college team last season.

Against Miami, Captain Bob Whitmer set a new individual scoring mark for the season by bucketing 26 points, mostly on long set shots. Besides his offensive efforts, Whitmer held Hurricane ace Cy Chadroff to seven points. Chadroff, the State's leading scorer and one of the top in the nation, was riding along on a 19-point average per game until Monday's contest.

Whitmer, who turned in by far his best performance of the season, also moored ahead of Tom MacLaughlin as the Seminole's top scorer for the year. MacLaughlin, who was held to five points in the Miami contest, now has scored 934 points during his four campaigns as an FSU varsity player.

After tomorrow night's game, the Indians will have only one regular season tilt scheduled—a battle with the Stetson Hatters here next Friday.

Lou Fischer, who has missed the last three games because of an ankle injury, may see action tomorrow night.

Volleyball Six Favored in AAU

The Florida A.A.U. volleyball tournament will be held at Lakeland on Saturday, March 1, according to an announcement by FSU Athletic Director Howard G. Danford who is state chairman of the event.

The tourney, which will be a double elimination affair will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and will continue through the day and evening, Danford said.

Coach Bill Odenea's FSU squad which has topped the meet the last three years in a row are heavy favorites to walk away with top honors again.

The chief competition for the Seminoles will probably come from the Pensacola Navy Pre-Flight squad which is made up of several University of California stars.

Other teams that can be expected to give the Indians plenty of trouble are the Jacksonville Naval Air Station, the Miami Y.M.C.A., the Miami Fire Department, and the host school, Florida Southern.

$5000 Prize Money Offered To Writers

Writer's Service is sponsoring the first annual thesis contest this year with 16 awards to be given for the most interesting theses written.

December 31, 1952, is the closing date of the contest. There is no entry, registration or reading fee. Rules and full details may be obtained by writing Writer's Service, 7 East 42nd St., New York 17, N. Y.

Prizes in the contest include a $1000 first prize and 17 other prizes totaling $4000.

Spring Football Scheduled For Next Month

Spring practice for the FSU gridders is scheduled to get underway Monday afternoon, March 3, according to head coach Don Veller.

Veller, who guided the Seminoles through another successful season last fall, will be starting his fifth year as head man of the Indians.

Commenting on the outlook for 1952 Veller declared, "With that tough schedule we have lined up for next year, this is the most important spring practice in the history of Florida State University. We have lots of work to do and quite a hope to get much accomplished this spring," he said.

UNDER NCAA RULES, the Seminoles will be limited to 20 days of actual practice in the 30-day period the collegiate governing body allotted for drills. Veller's plans call for the Indians to practice Monday through Friday with Saturdays off, but if weather forces the cancellation of some drill sessions he indicated that they would be made up on Saturdays.

Co-Captains Curt Campbell and Vic Szczepanik head the list of 18 letterman returning from the 1951 team that won six of eight games.

CAMPBELL, an end, who was also used at defensive halfback was named to a first string flank position on the Williamson Middle-Group All-American team this past season.

Szczepanik, a valuable all-around performer was used mainly at offensive tackle this past season.

Other returning lettermen include tackles Bob Wodrich and John Karlewicz; guards Earl O'Neal, Bob Tully, Charlie Booth, Charlie Brown and Preston Bradley; center Steve Kalenich; halfbacks Nelson Italiano, Bobby Fiveash, Ray Thompson and Harry Bringuer; defensive end Jimmy Lee Taylor and quarterback Mac Hury.

Price's Squads Are Favored To Cop Meet

BY TOMMY SANDS

The Florida State University national championship gymnastics team will play host to the state A. A. U. gymnastics meet which is scheduled to get underway in the East campus gymnasium tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Dr Hartley Price, FSU coach and general chairman of the event, said that he expects eight teams besides his own Seminoles to be on hand for the meet.

THEY INCLUDE Stetson, University of Florida, Georgia Military Academy, the Orlando Gymnastics club, Jenks Junior High of Orlando, the Atlanta Y.M.C.A., Northside High of Atlanta, and Druid Hills Public School, also of Atlanta.

COACH PRICE plans to divide his squad into two evenly balanced teams for the meet. Captain Jack Sharp will lead the gold team while alternate captain Joe Regna will lead the Garnet squad.

Three FSU entries, Bill Roethelheim, Jack Miles and Gene Rabbitt hold National championships. Roethelhem National All Around high bar and side horse champion and Rabbitt who holds the side horse title with Roethelhm, are both graduate students but are eligible for AAU competition, Miles is the current National Flying rings champion.

THE LINEUP of Sharp's Gold team includes Sharp, Carmine Regna, Joe Gustc, Don Holder, Rabbitt, Larry Weston, Al Ruda, Eddie Evans, Dirk Ireland, Bill Hicks, Gene Abrahamson and Bee Beck.

Members of the Garnet squad, captained by Joe Regna are Roethelhm, Bob Martin, Pat Signorelli, Jim McCauley, Dick Gutting, Ben Walther, Tony Fiscarali, Bob Marcus, Tommy Thompson, and Frank Marcus.

The meet will open with the Girl's competition and will be followed by the Over 18 and Under 18 Novice at 2:30. Doubles and Triples balancing at 7:30 and will end with the AAU open championship at 8 p. m.

SANDSPUR SPECIAL for STUDENTS

This Advertisement Worth $2 on All Formals and Worth 50c on All $5 Blouses at MAYERON'S

Just Clip Out This Ad and Present It at MAYERON'S for a $2 Value on Formals or a 50c Value on $5 Blouses

COME IN AND SEE OUR SELECTION OF DREAMY GOWNS FOR THE BIG DANCE

MAYERON'S

Corner College at Adams

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

evening menu
smothered steak
grilled chops
turkey & dressing vegetables and buns

we specialize in hamburgers homemade pies
waffles

The Greeks Hold Movies, Parties Project Planning at Florida State

By MARCIA MORRIS

Members of Alpha Chi Omega are making plans for the undertaking of an altruistic project in relation to their observance of Hera Day, a special Alpha Chi day observed every year on March 1. New chapter officers for this semester are Jo Stewart, president, and Norma Jean Prater, chaplain. The Alpha Chi's will entertain rushees Wednesday night with an "Angel Party." Rush parties have also been planned for Friday and Sunday nights.

Alpha Delta Pi's are making plans for two parties to be held during the present rush season. Sally Schnachars was recently elected president of Sigma Chi.

Alpha Gamma Delta's are celebrating their annual weekend by dinning with a formal dance at the Duval Hotel Friday night. Saturday night the Alpha Gam's are holding a party at the house for members and their dates.

Both members and pledges of Delta Gamma are working on a Campus Chest project, the sorority, as chairman for group projects, is sponsoring a "Joe College" contest. All organized clubs are being asked to sponsor at least one candidate. Pictures of the contestants will be posted in Westcott and all votes will cost a penny, with proceeds going to the Campus Chest.

The pledge class of Gamma Phi Beta entertained other sorority pledges at a Mint Julep party Monday afternoon at 5. Ghost pledges dressed in costume for the fashion show contest.

Kappa Alpha Theta's are working hard on the plans for Theta weekend which begins Friday night with a party at Silver Lake. Food and dancing will be features of the informal get-together. Saturday night the formal dance of "Mardi Gras" theme will be held at the Theta house. At this time the pledges will be presented and a queen crowned by Doctor Dusk Campbell. Sunday afternoon the weekend will be climaxed with a swimming party at the coast.

This past week has been an active one for members of Phi Mu. Rushees were entertained Wednesday night with a Valentine party and Saturday night with a weiner roast. Sunday night a coffee was held for members and their friends. On Monday night, Joanne Byrd, a graduate student in music, was the guest as a culture hour and coffee.

Recently elected officers of Sigma Kappa are Anne Barber, president; Joan Wilson, first vice president; Terry Stein, second vice president; Anne Dalton, recording secretary; Jo Ann Grubb, corresponding secretary; and Anne Marie Crane, treasurer. Rushees and members enjoyed a weiner roast at the home of Ann Dalton in Tallahassee.

Delta Delta Delta's held a rush party Thursday night from 7:30 till 9:30 with a skit and other entertainment. Sunday night there will be a supper for Tri Delts and rushees.

New officers of Pi Kappa Phi are Carlos Taylor, president; Frank Bean, treasurer; William Myers, secretary; Alan Sundberg, historian; Cliff Wells, chaplain; and Fred Bailey, warden. Plans are already under way for the Pi Kap weekend to be held at the Tallahassee Country Club during February. Ruthie Garst is the Pi Kappa Phi representative for the Tally Ho beauty contest.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity will hold an open house Sunday evening from 6-8 for all non fraternity freshmen and transfer men.

Lambda Chi pledge officers for the second semester are Bill Sutclemeyer, president; Bob Davis, vice president; Howard Chambers, secretary; Bob Wyatt, treasurer; and Dave Bennett, parliamentarian. The Lambda Chi's have started showing feature length movies in their new house on alternate Sunday nights.

Draft Test Forms Due by March 10

All eligible Florida State University students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at the Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Professor Presents Unique Questionnaire

Dr. Laurence J. Lafleur, associate professor of philosophy at Florida State University has a questionnaire contained in an article he wrote for Scientific Monthly now being circulated among its readers by the Science Service.

The questionnaire enables scientists and newspaper editors to determine whether letters they receive containing revolutionary new scientific hypothesis are written by cranks or scientists.

Girls, want to be an officer? The WACs are offering the opportunity for commissions to a limited number of college girls.

49 Failed to Come To Traffic Trial Last Semester

Forty-nine offenders who failed to appear for trial in the University Traffic Court last semester will receive final notification sometime this week.

George Gnann, chairman of the court, announced that according to court law, students who have been sent two notices and do not appear are automatically fined $1.

IF THE STUDENT does not appear and pay this fine within two days he is held in "contempt of court" and the fine is doubled, up to $5. This procedure is followed until the fine is paid.

If the fine is not paid by the time it reaches $5, it is recommended to the administration that the fee be placed on the student's record. If this is done, the student's grades will not be placed on his record. He will not receive his grades or be allowed to register for the next semester until the fine is paid.

Gnann also said 102 cases were tried last semester and $16.50 collected in fines.

FINES WERE imposed for failure to come through streets, failure to stop for bus signals negligence in attending court and second offenses. Commonest violation last semester was improper parking, according to Gnann. No cases of double parking or drunken driving were heard.

The jurisdiction of the court includes all student violations of the 24-point Traffic Control Code enacted by the Board of Control.

The ratio of men to women at the University of Oregon is 2 to 1. There are 5 per cent less women than last year, 17 per cent less men.

Classified Ads

WANTED: A third party to share nice apartment with two university men. Opposite college Library, 643 West Jefferson. Phone 2-4024.

FOR RENT—One room for one or two university men. Opposite College Library, 643 West Jefferson.

WANTED: A male pianist for Gospel quartet. Attractive proposition for qualified person. For particulars and audition appointment, Phone 2-4761.

FOR SALE—Philco Radio. Table model. $15. Contact Lodge, 741 Gordon Bond.

RELGIOUS NEWS

Methodists Begin Week-Long Rally

By THEO SOMMERKAMP

The District Methodist Youth Rally begins tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Trinity Methodist Church with Rev. John B. Tate of LaGrange, Georgia, speaking.

Continuing through the week Mr. Charles F. Schnitzler from the University Church in Havana Cuba, will speak every evening at Trinity Methodist Church while Edwin R. Hartz, professor. School of Social Welfare, will speak at Tallahassee Heights Methodist Church.

Baptist students are holding a special program tomorrow at Camp Flastacowo from 1 to 10 p.m. climaxing Enlistment Week.

String Music Clinic To Draw 75 People

Seventy-five students and teachers of string music from different parts of the State convene here today and tomorrow for the first Florida State University String Music Clinic.

The clinic is sponsored by the School of Music to encourage better instruction for string instruments, the violin, the viola, the cello and the string bass.

J. DAYTON SMITH, of the music faculty, is in charge of arrangements for the two-day clinic.

Albert Spalding and Ernst von Dohnanyi will head the Clinic faculty. They will lusten to students and play for them in several master class sessions. Participants will also have frequent rehearsal periods during today and tomorrow in preparation for the concert which will culminate the clinic.

THE CLINIC concert, to be presented in the Opperman Music hall tomorrow evening at 8:15 will feature a string orchestra of about 100 players. Professor Spalding will be guest soloist playing the Mozart Concerto in D Major, with Professor Dohnanyi conducting the orchestra.

Dean Karl Kuersteiner and Prof. Robert Sedore of the School of Music will also conduct several numbers during the program.

During the retreat, Mr. Ray Koonce, state student secretary will lead a discussion period. A social will conclude the evening program.

Wesley Foundation members will also hold a retreat tomorrow at St. Marks With the theme, "Being a Christian in Our Contemporary Times." The outing will begin at 10 a.m. and end in time to be back for the Youth Rally.

Gulf states region of Gamma Delta Lutheran Student League is holding a rally in Auburn, Alabama this weekend. Students planning to attend the convention are Barbara Pedersen, Carol Trimmer and Fred Darkow.

Hillel Foundation, Jewish student organization, is holding a special meeting Monday night at 8 at Temple Israel. There will be a short planning session for the semester and a social hour following.

The Presbyterian students are holding a planning meeting of the council Tuesday night at 8 at Westminster house.

Sunday evening at 8:30 Westminster Fellowship will present a special dramatic program on missions in which Varian Helms Tommy Simmons and Bud Allen will participate.

The Rev. John Golden, ad interim minister of the Disciples of Christ, is now with the Capital Christian Church.

Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian student organization will be led by Eddie Nelon Sunday evening at 6:30 in a discussion of "The Role of the Conqueror and the Conquered."

Members of the Canterbury Club, Episcopal organization, will have a Hayseed Party tomorrow night at 8 at Ruge Hall.

FAIVER'S
THE SOUTH'S LARGEST PAVED DRIVE-IN BAR-B-Q CHICKEN
BAR-B-Q RIBS
Hickory Smoked — Charcoal Cooked FAMOUS FOR FRIED CHICKEN
OYSTERS – SHRIMP
DEVILED CRAB
GIZZARDS – LIVERS
FOOT LONG Hot Dogs THE WORLD'S LONGEST
JUMBO Hamburgers THE WORLD'S LARGEST
8:00 A. M. FREE MUSIC DELIVERY SUNDAYS 12:00 P. M.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Special at the University Bookstore
10 Day Free Trial* of the New Parker "21"
Never before so fine a precision writing instrument at such a low price! Beautiful New Parker "21"—by the makers of the world's most wanted pen—is a perfect writing companion. Get yours on free trial today.
NEW Parker "21" $5.00
$1.00 DOWN $1.00 A WEEK
NAME ENGRAVED FREE IN 14K GOLD
- SUPER-SMOOTH POINT—of especially blended metals for extra-resilience and durability.
- SLIP-ON METAL CAP—no twist, no turn, no threads to wear out.
- SPECIAL INK REGULATOR—assures a steady, no-skip line.
- CONCEALED FILLER—faster, easier . . . cleans as it fills.
- VISIBLE INK SUPPLY
- USES DRY-WRITING SUPER-BRILLIANT SUPER-CHROME INK (can use any ink)
*If you are not completely satisfied with the new Parker "21" —simply return pen to us for refund within 10 days.
UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

ATTENTION MEN!
They're Here For Your Selection . . . .
TISSUE WEIGHT
GUARANTEED SPORT RESISTANT SLACKS
at Popular Prices!
$9.50 Pair
2 PAIR $18.50
- Sheen Gabardines
- Continuous Waistline
- Saddle Stitch Seams
- 85% Effective Even After 30 Dry Cleanings
- Permanently Wrinkle Resistant
- Durably Water Repellent
Choice of Colors:
- MIST GREEN
- POWDER BLUE
- NAVY
- TAN
- GREY
- Sizes 28 Up
SEE THEM TODAY AT
Nic's Toggery
322 S. MONROE PHONE 2-8374

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU INHALE?
50? 100? 200?
IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!
Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . .
200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!
PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.
EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition
LISTEN IN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

U. S. Swings Toward World Government
See Lead Editorial—

Florida Flambeau

Sandspur Musical Opens Tuesday Night
See Lead Story—

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 31 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Tuesday, February 19, 1952

Qualifying Dates Set for Elections

Feb. 25-29 Is Qualification Week For March 4th UGA Elections

Qualifying dates for the forthcoming University Government Association elections have been set from Monday, Feb. 25 at 3 p.m. to Friday, Feb. 29 at 6 p.m., according to Will Pennell, UGA president.

Qualifying blanks should be secured in at the UGA office, said Pat Epperman, new elections chairman. Epperman succeeds Harriet Paul, who resigned because of lack of time.

ALL UGA offices will be filled in the March 4 election. The top officers who will not be chosen at that time will be house governor and class officers.

Since senators are a part of UGA, they will be selected in this election, said Epperman. Voters will be given separate ballots for the bi-sectional election according to their class standings.

CLASS STANDINGS. Pennell explained, will be figured on the basis of the student's standing at the fall.

All candidates for major offices must have 1.3 averages or better for the semester preceding their election, or an over-all average of at least 1.5.

The following are the major offices:

Carl Epperman, newly appointed elections chairman for the University Government association, has announced a brief but important meeting at 6 o'clock this afternoon in the Union to serve on the elections committee, to be held in the Senate room of the Administration building at 5 p.m. next Thursday.

offices and the required class standings.

THE PRESIDENT of the University Government association must be a member of the senior class, presidents juniors or seniors.

The secretary and treasurer would be juniors, the forums chairman a junior or senior.

The chief justice of the university court must be a senior, the chairman of judiciary a junior or senior. Social chairman and historian should be a junior or senior.

THE THREE publications editors are major officers, but are not limited by class standing.

All other offices are considered to be minor offices and require a 1.0 average.

Prospective candidates should consult the Pow-Wow for further information on the qualifications. The policies for the coming elections will be released by Epperman soon and printed in the Flambeau.

Soph Council Is Discussed

Women's Senate Views Vacancies, Revisions

Revisions for the constitution of the Sophomore Council were discussed at the last meeting of the Women's Senate. The Senate is also checking with the registrar's office for a list of freshmen with one-point averages for membership in the council.

This list, when compiled, will be placed in the three freshmen dormitories, so that freshmen may see their own personal checking as to its accuracy. From this list the ballot will be made. Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women, pointed out at that time that first care should be taken in compiling the names, as the Mortar Board list had proved to be incomplete.

ELEANOR GRAVES, chairman of the off-campus court, told the Senate that she would be interning this semester and asked how the vacancy would be filled. It was decided to let the court elect their own substitute.

The senators were asked to tell Miss Lynn of any persons particularly qualified to become good junior counselors. Senate members were also asked to consider people for membership to the Freshman Orientation committee. These students will be appointed at the next Senate meeting.

THE SUMMER elections procedure was referred to the Legislative Codifying committee for revision. The question was also raised of students going to other student houses for parties. This will be investigated.

A woman's convocation is being planned for March 5. Plans for the compulsory meeting were discussed.

Much Comment Evoked by UF Signing Stetson

Sports Columnist Says 'No Pats' For U of F For Taking on Hatters

Florida State officials and students registered varying degrees of disappointment and angor at the University of Florida's announcement that they had signed Stetson to play their opening football game next season.

Stetson will replace Loyola on the U. of F. schedule.

WILL PENNELL, president of the student body, in commenting on the announcement said, "I'd like to have my top about Gainesville signing up Stetson. I'm tired of having us referred to as a girls' school."

Other students on the campus registered similar opinion on the question. Most students wanted to know why the University of Florida didn't sign up FSU.

ARNOLD Pinnefock, sports columnist of the Florida Times-Union of Jacksonville, said in his Sunday column, "Woodcat can expect no pats on the back from old guard Florida alumni for scheduling Stetson. When Josh Cody started playing the Hatters and other drag college rosterings in the late 1930's, they didn't like it at all.

"And Woodruff is bound to draw further criticism from the friends of Florida State University, who for years, trying to get the Seminoles on Gator schedules. They can argue with some justification that FSU-Florida game would attract a larger crowd than the Florida-Stetson affair.

WHEN ASKED if the University of Florida had contracted us for other sports, FSU athletic director Howard Danford emphatically said, "None whatever."

FSU will also play Stetson in the coming season, and many students and FSU sports followers say that a favorable comparison of scores could so far in getting the U. of F. to consider FSU as an opponent.

Faith Speakers Begin IF Week At State Sunday

Bulletins carrying schedules of events for Intelligent Faith week will be passed out to students Thursday and the week will get under way Sunday morning.

The speakers for "IF" week arrive here Saturday and Sunday from Lakeland where they are participating in a student religious week at Florida Southern College.

SEVERAL WILL fill pulpits in Tallahassee churches or speak at student religious houses Sunday morning and Sunday night to kick-off campus activities begin Monday morning.

"IF" week is sponsored by the University Religious Council, which is composed of representatives from all faiths having student work at Florida State University. Speakers are furnished by Florida Chain of Missions.

SINCE MANY students belong to denominations that have no active work at FSU, or belong to no religious group at all, the Council is extending an open invitation to these groups to take part in "IF" week.

A skeptics' hour has been scheduled Monday and Tuesday afternoon, from 2-3:30. For students who have questions about religion.

THE SKEPTICS' hour is one of several seminars which will be conducted after class hours Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Led by visiting speakers, topics of discussion include personal religion, the arts, Bible-choices of vocations and missions studies.

Discussions in sorority and fraternity houses will replace regular Monday night meetings of these organizations. On Tuesday night, The Rev. Martin Nieman will speak in Opperman Music Auditorium at 7:30.

FOLLOWING THIS meeting forums will be held in university dormitories.

Terry Belin, director of publicity, announced that posters will be put up on the campus this week and that a book display is planned for the library and book store.

Final plans will be outlined at the meeting of student committee chairmen Wednesday night at Baptist Student house.

Sandspur Dance Tickets Go On Public Sale to Insure Sell-Out

Only Half of Tickets Sold Reports Business Manager

Tickets for the Sandspur dance will go on sale to the public tomorrow in order to assure a complete sell-out by Saturday night, Jim Drae, Sandspur business manager announced yesterday, noting that only half of the tickets have been sold.

The $2 dance tickets are still being sold in the Amber House, Sweet Shop, Mecca, University Book Store, Jenkins' Music Store, Mayeron's and the Leon High School Key club. Cashiers at the campus locations will be handling the ticket sales.

"EVERYTHING is being done to have a complete sell-out and I would advise students to buy their tickets as soon as possible," the business manager stated. There is a 2,000 ticket limit.

Drae is recommending that there is a last "round" policy this year and very few if any complimentary tickets will go to the student body. There will be no hold-back policy for students.

NO ONE will be admitted to the dance and Vaughn Monroe Caravan performance without a ticket. Mac MacCall, co-chairman of Sandspur publicity mentioned that there is a misconception on campus that the Caravan show will be broadcast from the Music Hall auditorium. The Caravan show will originate only from the dance floor at 10 p.m. Saturday, MacCall said.

Door checkers will be absolutely unknown to the student body. "This is to prevent students from getting into the dance because they have a good friend at the door," co-chairman John Adams has stated.

"NO SMOKING" whatsoever will be allowed on the dance floor, MacCall noted also.

Girls will be given late permission in accordance with permission slips from their Dean of Women. Late permission extends until 1:30. Corsages are banned.

A Cadillac convertible caravan will meet radio star Vaughn Monroe, his 28 piece orchestra, the Moonmaids, the Moonmen and comedian Ziggy Talent upon their arrival in Tallahassee.

Monroe will arrive in this time, Monroe will be the various sorority houses while the Moonmaids will be guests on fraternity row at the same time. Plans for pictures to be made with the two groups are also being made.

The dance and Caravan broadcast Saturday night will be the highlighting event of the Sandspur weekend. Featuring the FSU Alma Mater and the Fight Song, Monroe's Caravan show will be presented over the National Broadcasting Company through 10 stations in the Mutual and 170 stations in the National hook-up.

RULES OF NBC demand that all doors to the Suwannee room be closed 15 minutes before the show starts.

Contracts were signed for the dance at $4,000. The Artist Series has underwritten the dance and Sandspur has transferred $500 to the Artist Series fund to help pay that result from the sale of tickets.

"The underwriting is more or less a bond to support the expected receipts," Jack Mellon, dance committee chairman said, "If 2,000 students are admitted to the dance at $2 a person, this will cover the expenses."

Monroe is on a tour of Florida, and will play at the University of Florida and the University of Miami the weekend of the 10th.

THE BIG CHIEF—Bill Eackus, Sandspur musical director and producer takes a free breath as he watches members of his crew put finishing touches on the set.

U of F Cheating Shocks the State

By BRUCE GALPHIN

Considerable speculation has arisen on this campus following the announcement of honor court prosecutions in the University of Florida of thirty students for whether or similar action is not going on at Florida State.

Since the general conditions of national moral decadence upon which University of Florida student leaders lay most of the blame for cheating exist here as well as at Gainesville, and since rumors of stolen exam keys are quite widespread, many students have been asking whether the story might be duplicated at FSU.

LOCAL HONOR court chairman Alex Jernigan stated the following statement yesterday concerning the cheating scandals: "I hope it doesn't happen here. I am very disturbed about the Gainesville situation.

"Of course it would happen here and it would be a massive affair. Our honor court is very similar to the University of Florida's in that it is secret. There are so many things going on that you can't touch.

"THERE ARE a lot of things that go on in the FSU Honor Court that students don't realize."

News of widespread cheating on machine-graded exams at Gainesville hit most of the state like a bomb-shell last Friday. The story broke after Bill Henry, an Ocala student, wrote a column on the matter for the Florida Alligator, "last spring," Verle Hertz, "a group of students discovered a weak link in the university's examiner's office, and obtained copies or partial copies of exams for seven courses.

"THOUGH THIS group threatened to ostracize anyone who let a co-ordinator have a copy, they found their way to fraternity brothers and girl friends, to other fraternities, and some were sold to persons willing to pay cash for another date.

"Altogether more than 200 students used these exam copies to make grades that they could not land spring. In one case the key worked for one exam via no poor that all units it flunked the course."

EVIDENCE of the cheating was discovered during the first few of the semester when machine graders reported certain similarities in exam papers. A report was made to university President J. Wills Buller, who turned the matter over to the student council.

By then it was summer and the matter was not really taken up again until last fall, when the faculty named Dean John Sherrick, a law student, began investigations.

Since then, the court has been meeting almost continually, gathering evidence, making queries and taking confessions.

UNTIL LAST week, the scandal had been almost completely shut up. Part of the reason for this silence has been that Un

(Continued on Page 2

'Career Day' Held For Fourth Time

More than 600 high school seniors will be welcomed by President Doak S. Campbell Thursday in the fourth "Career Day" program at Florida State University this year.

Dr. Campbell will speak to them on "The Challenge of Our Day" in the School of Education's sponsored program.

Dr. Mode L. Stone, acting dean of the FSU School of Education, will serve as general chairman of the program and will introduce the visiting seniors and their principals by groups.

THESE SCHOOLS include Live Oak, Wellborn and Branford High Schools in Suwannee County; Trenton and Bell High Schools in Gilchrist County; and Williston, Cedar Key, Chiefland, and Bronson High Schools in Levy County, Florida; and Coolidge, Meiga, Cehlockonee, Pavo, Boston, and MacIntyre Park High Schools in Georgia.

The sponsorship of the "Career Day" programs by FSU gives high school seniors a chance to see a large university in action and help them reach some decision on their future careers. These programs have created widespread interest in educational circles throughout Florida.

THE PATTERN of the program Thursday will follow those of the previous programs. After a morning assembly, the students will be divided according to their special field of interest and meet with the various FSU deans and department heads for career talks and open advantages of a college education.

At a final assembly period during the afternoon, a film, "Opportunity In Here," will be shown. A program of entertainment, with students taken from the FSU department of speech, physical education, and music and drama, will be offered under the direction of Dr. Clarence Edney, FSU speech department head.

Ase Elected Head Of Cotillion Group

New officers for Cotillion club dance honorary were elected last Tuesday night with Donald Ase president.

Other officers are Barbara Thomas, vice-president; Pat Costello, secretary; Betty Cordell, treasurer; Shirley Knight, dance chairman, and Dolores Bates, publicity chairman.

The publicity chairman said that projects for the club would be discussed at the next meeting on Thursday.

Two FSU Composers Will be Featured In Winter Symphony

Two Florida State musicians, both composers of both instruments using their own compositions. Will be featured in the concert of the State Symphony orchestra in Leon High auditorium on Monday, Feb. 25, at 8:15 p.m.

The concert will be open to season ticket holders, plus a limited number of general admission will be sold at the door shortly before the concert begins.

ERNEST VON Dohnanyi, making his first appearance with the State Symphony orchestra, will direct the orchestra in the first local performance of one of his famous compositions. Entitled Ruralia Hungarica, the work is a suite of five movements depicting rural scenes in the composer's native Hungarian countryside.

The Ruralia is one of the most favourite pieces of the old conductor's compositions. Recent presentations of the piece have been made by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony and by the Rochester Symphony Orchestra.

FRANCISZEK Zacharo will appear on the program as both composer and pianist, performing his own Concerto in E Major. This will be his first appearance in the Concerto in the United States.

Robert Sedore who has been concertmaster of the orchestra during the four seasons of its existence, will appear on the program as assisting conductor, leading the orchestra in the selections, the Overture in D by Handel and the Patinaie-Overture Romeo and Juliet by Tchaikowski.

Warpath Club Meets

Warpath club members will meet at 7 tonight in the Longmire building for a work party, Frank Nelson, president has announced.

Show Offers Help With Income Tax

Rod K. Shaw, Florida State business manager has offered a worthwhile service to the students who have income tax return queries.

Students would do well to take advantage of the deputy collector's help Thursday when he visits this campus at the request of Mr. Shaw. He will be stationed in the front of Westcott auditorium.

Thanks again to Mr. Shaw!

THEIR HEART'S IN IT—Village Vamps will act as usherettes for all Sandspur performances. Pictured above, from the top clockwise, are Marcia Mabry, Ann Collins, Suzi Jones, Ann McKay, Ann Yates, Jo Ann Owens, Marianne Gilbee and Mary Ann Fields.

Sandspur Musical Opens Tuesday Night

See Lead Story—

FSU Songs Recorded By Student Singers

Recordings of Florida State University songs will be done on sale at the University Book Store.

The songs, which were sung by School of Music students, were recorded on a single 10 RPM disc by the Decca Record Company.

On one side are the "Fight Song," sung by the male chorus, and the "Hymn to the Garnet and Gold" and the "Alma Mater" sung by the University Singers.

"With Spirits Bright," the song of the College of Arts and Sciences is the reverse side of the record. It is sung by the Women's Glee Club.

All of the songs were written by FSU students or faculty members

Unclaimed Books In APO Exchange To Be Forfeited

Books left with Alpha Phi Omega book exchange will be sold and still unsold, will be forfeited if students fail to claim them by Saturday noon when the book exchange closes.

Approximately 250 students stand to lose their books if they forget to claim them by Saturday, the closing date. Their names will be posted sometime today in the basement of the Alumni building.

ALL UNCLAIMED books that last year will be turned over to the service fraternity.

Nearly 100 students have not collected for their books. They are urged to pick up their fees from the exchange also this week.

APO helpers are working for the remainder of the week from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 12 thru 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Saturday they open at 9 a.m. and the final closing is noon.

CLEARING OVER forty-two dollars this session, the book exchange has surpassed its past records, according to chairman Tommy Bowen.

The APO took over the book exchange, a former junior class project, and improved the efficiency by recognizing the students' needs.

Profits from the venture will be used for one of the fraternity service projects in the interest of the student body.

Carlile Heads FBLA

Betty Carlile, president of the Future Business Leaders of America, has announced a meeting for tonight at 7:15 in 406 Westcott for discussion of final convention plans.

Florida State Gives Gainesville Hardy Run For Her Money

"Florida State University has outgrown its "stepchild" status among Florida institutions of higher learning and is giving sister University of Florida a run for her money" according to Mike Beaudoin, St. Petersburgh Times Correspondent.

Regional English Group Discusses Literature's Part

Literature as General Education will be the theme of the Southeastern English Association Conference when it opens its regional meeting here Friday.

Sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m in Longmire building as a preliminary to spending Saturday in the Union building for group discussion of the issues facing them in their literature.

THE FLORIDA State University English department will serve as host to the members' colleges in Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida.

Those papers presented in the teaching of literature and the humanities are invited to attend the meeting.

The schedule for Saturday begins at 9 a.m. with registration, second floor, Longmire building; 9 to 9:40 is a conference of discussion groups, Longmire; and 9:45 to 11 the first session of discussion groups, auditorium and rooms 403, 405 and 406, Longmire.

SECOND SESSION of discussion groups are 11:15 to 12:15.

Reports and evaluation in the Longmire auditorium are scheduled from 2:45 to 3:30 p.m. with 3:30 to 4:30, special interest groups.

Pick Up Blood Cards

All students who gave blood in the Dec. 'Blood for Korea" drive are asked to pick up their type cards this afternoon in the Flambeau office.

No cards will be destroyed but Bob Orffin, drive chairman, has asked the owners to pick up the few remaining cards. The cards contain information about blood type and RH fac'

Only Half of Tickets Sold Reports Business Manager

Tickets for the Sandspur dance will go on sale to the public tomorrow in order to assure a complete sell-out by Saturday night, Jim Drae, Sandspur business manager announced yesterday, noting that only half of the tickets have been sold.

The $2 dance tickets are still being sold in the Amber House, Sweet Shop, Mecca, University Book Store, Jenkins' Music Store, Mayeron's and the Leon High School Key club. Cashiers at the campus locations will be handling the ticket sales.

"EVERYTHING is being done to have a complete sell-out and I would advise students to buy their tickets as soon as possible," the business manager stated. There is a 2,000 ticket limit.

Drae is recommending that there is a last "round" policy this year and very few if any complimentary tickets will go to the student body. There will be no hold-back policy for students.

NO ONE will be admitted to the dance and Vaughn Monroe Caravan performance without a ticket. Mac MacCall, co-chairman of Sandspur publicity mentioned that there is a misconception on campus that the Caravan show will be broadcast from the Music Hall auditorium. The Caravan show will originate only from the dance floor at 10 p.m. Saturday, MacCall said.

Door checkers will be absolutely unknown to the student body. "This is to prevent students from getting into the dance because they have a good friend at the door," co-chairman John Adams has stated.

"NO SMOKING" whatsoever will be allowed on the dance floor, MacCall noted also.

Girls will be given late permission in accordance with permission slips from their Dean of Women. Late permission extends until 1:30. Corsages are banned.

A Cadillac convertible caravan will meet radio star Vaughn Monroe, his 28 piece orchestra, the Moonmaids, the Moonmen and comedian Ziggy Talent upon their arrival in Tallahassee.

Monroe will arrive in this time, Monroe will be the various sorority houses while the Moonmaids will be guests on fraternity row at the same time. Plans for pictures to be made with the two groups are also being made.

The dance and Caravan broadcast Saturday night will be the highlighting event of the Sandspur weekend. Featuring the FSU Alma Mater and the Fight Song, Monroe's Caravan show will be presented over the National Broadcasting Company through 10 stations in the Mutual and 170 stations in the National hook-up.

RULES OF NBC demand that all doors to the Suwannee room be closed 15 minutes before the show starts.

Contracts were signed for the dance at $4,000. The Artist Series has underwritten the dance and Sandspur has transferred $500 to the Artist Series fund to help pay that result from the sale of tickets.

"The underwriting is more or less a bond to support the expected receipts," Jack Mellon, dance committee chairman said, "If 2,000 students are admitted to the dance at $2 a person, this will cover the expenses."

Monroe is on a tour of Florida, and will play at the University of Florida and the University of Miami the weekend of the 10th.

Regional English Group Discusses Literature's Part

Literature as General Education will be the theme of the Southeastern English Association Conference when it opens its regional meeting here Friday.

Sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m in Longmire building as a preliminary to spending Saturday in the Union building for group discussion of the issues facing them in their literature.

THE FLORIDA State University English department will serve as host to the members' colleges in Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida.

Those papers presented in the teaching of literature and the humanities are invited to attend the meeting.

The schedule for Saturday begins at 9 a.m. with registration, second floor, Longmire building; 9 to 9:40 is a conference of discussion groups, Longmire; and 9:45 to 11 the first session of discussion groups, auditorium and rooms 403, 405 and 406, Longmire.

SECOND SESSION of discussion groups are 11:15 to 12:15.

Reports and evaluation in the Longmire auditorium are scheduled from 2:45 to 3:30 p.m. with 3:30 to 4:30, special interest groups.

Plea For World Government Is Gaining Strength In US

The movement for world government is growing stronger with each successive day. By the latter part of 1949, 22 states had expressed their desire for some form of world government, either in formal votes through the ballot or in formal action by their legislatures. Out of the 24 states that had at that time considered the matter, only two had positively rejected the idea, and this by legislative action.

More than 51 of the nation's 132 million inhabitants (1940 census) were included in the 22 states which approved the proposal whereas the two states that rejected it—New Mexico and Vermont—contained less than 900,000 citizens.

In 1949, the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives opened hearings on a resolution which recommended Nation into a world federation. This resolution was supported by a total of 91 Members coming from 32 different states.

A similar resolution was introduced into the Senate by Senator Tobey of New Hampshire with 16 other Senators as co-sponsors. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations which set up a subcommittee to consider this question.

Many people are of the opinion that the world government movement is all talk with little or nothing to back it up and with the support of only a small group of radicals. Such is not the case, to which the above facts will testify. Definite plans have been made and powerful groups organized for the purpose of promoting this plan. The time has now come when the citizens of the world must face this issue squarely and intelligently instead of either ignoring it in hopes that it will go away or conceiving it as only an idle dream, pleasant but impossible to achieve.

Two principal plans for world government have been widely publicized. One is the Federal Union Plan which calls for a constitutional convention at which the Atlantic Pact democracies would prepare articles of federation modeled generally on the United States constitution. It would set up a federation having its own legislature, executive and court system, its own capital district, its own citizenship, currency, unified foreign policy, and single defense force. The federation would have only those powers expressly given it, just as the United States has only those delegated by the states. All other powers would be retained by the member nations, just as our states reserve powers not specially given to Washington.

The second major plan is that of the United World Federalists, who want to have a convention called under Article 109 of the United Nations charter to revise that character. They propose that a strong UN become the world government, that the great power veto be abolished, and that the United Nations be given a code of international law with power to enforce that law with its own police force against either state or individuals.

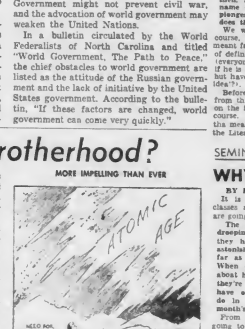
The chief job of any government is to maintain and promote law and order. It has been stated that human beings, whether considered as individuals, small groups, or large groups, go through the following stages; isolation, contacts, disputes, fights or war, and finally, law and government. This cycle has been repeated continuously throughout human history. From many thousands of independent warring groups or states, the world has come to sixty odd so-called "independent" nations, with but a handful of these actually able to claim the title of independent in the true sense of the word. If history can be relied upon to repeat itself, then these sixty may very well be "one" someday in the future.

The following objections to world government are commonly raised: each nation, including the United States, would have to surrender some of its independence, world government is impractical and cannot be obtained at present if at all, Federal World Government might not prevent civil war, and the advocates of world government may weaken the United Nations.

In a bulletin circulated by the World Federalists of North Carolina and titled "World Government, The Path to Peace," the chief obstacles to world government are listed as the attitude of the Russian government and the lack of initiative by the United States government. According to the bulletin, "If these factors are removed, world government can come very quickly."

What Price Brotherhood?

As the National Conference of Christians and Jews centers on its annual Brotherhood Week campaign, the world presents a sorry negation of all for which the campaign stands.



There is everywhere ill will between peoples; racial animosities and rival ideologies are staining the world with blood, and half of civilization lives in monstrous fear of all that the other half may intend.

Tolerance has come to mean tolerance of abnormal conditions, of high prices and high taxes, disorganized lives, young men torn from the pursuits of peaceful living to buttress precarious peace, governments government wrested from concern for human welfare to designs for human destruction.

It has come to mean tolerance of suspicion, of hasty accusation and reckless assassination of character, of the reversal of the time-honored national policy of the open door.

Brotherhood week, which is being observed this week, focuses the continuing effort directly for the public but the real effort itself is every week and every day throughout the year.

Brotherhood can never with us be an abstraction. It is the sum total of student understanding student, neighbor understanding neighbor in individual day-by-day meeting. The world can be conquered for brotherhood when each individual makes a rite in his own conduct of its great ideals.

Brotherhood, in these modern times, goes far beyond the acceptance of a passive, equalitarian principle. It ignores distinction of race, of creed, of color, of nationality, of political point of view. It is harmony, not discord. It is togetherness, not separation.

Brotherhood is also the word of hope, the pat on the back, the open door, the friendly greeting, the active principle of service to one another of all of us—one under God.

F. S. U. Fun and Functions Published by your UGA.

Tuesday, Feb. 19
4:00—U.G.A. Council Meeting in Lonsmire Bldg.
8:15—U.G.A. Senate Meeting in Longmire Bldg.
8:15—Seminar: Is the Life of Jesus Credible—Music Hall
7:30—Free movies, "Adventures of Martin Eden" Senior Hall

Wednesday, Feb. 20
8.00—"Some Biological Interests of U. S. Atomic Energy Commission" — Lecture by Dr. C. S. Shoup in New Science Lecture Hall
8:15—Sandspur Production
7:30—Free Movies in South Cawthon, "Adventures of Martin Eden"
8:30—U.G.A. in Action over WFSU

Thursday, Feb. 21—Career Day
7:30—Free Movies, "Adventures of Martin Eden" —Landis Hall.
8:15—Sandspur Production

Friday, Feb. 22
8:00—Free Movies, "Adventures of Martin Eden" —Magnolia
7:00—Sandspur Production
9:00—Sandspur Production

Saturday, Feb. 23
8:00—Intrasquad gymnast meet—E. Campus Gym
All Day—Southern College English Association —Longmire Bldg.

TRIAL UMT PROVED AN EXPENSIVE FAILURE!

(Editor's Note: The following column is written by Ralph Hagney, FSU graduate student. He was one of the "guinea pigs" during the first trial Universal Training experiment. His expression is in response to the Flambeau editorial on UMT in last Tuesday's Flambeau.

* * *

By RALPH HAGNEY

During 1947 and the first half of 1948 the United States Army fostered an experimental unit at Fort Knox, Kentucky, to demonstrate to the public just what Universal Military Training would be like if it was ever put in force.

This year and one half of the experiment was known as Project No. 1 to three training periods of approximately 16 weeks, totaling 2500 enlistees serving as "guinea pigs" in each period.

The trainees lived in painted barracks with such items about them as, ate food in the mess halls family style; were not allowed to enter the service clubs of the post; were not allowed to drink and, if alcoholic beverages, to attend church for the purpose of drinking; were compelled to attend educational classes on citizenship; participated in and had all the conveniences of a service club, including swimming pool, four gymnasiums, a sports center a pool, entertainment (minus beer), and several other recreational facilities.

To run this compact little unit were more than 200 officers and officers. The special service officers included musicians for a dance band for the trainees, personnel to operate a hobby shop, and several officers to plan entertainment such as musical and dramatic programs, fights, and tours. The Public Relations Office was staffed by five officers, with a lieutenant colonel on down, and about six enlisted men. There were two chaplains for the unit—a Catholic and a Protestant—and two assistant chaplains. Another officer at this unit was a brigadier general.

Taking these facts in the light of the training methods that is the way the UMT Experimental Unit at Ft. Knox, Ky., was stacked up.

The classes were only about one-third to one-fourth as many as are usually found in training battalions. The superficial care given to the barracks, such as painting, waxing floors, lawns, and painted rocks lining walkways, was considered necessary by the regular army since they were used to impress a short time and will be allowed to go home to civilian life where such improvements are not made.

On the average, more and better food served the trainees of the unit than is usually found in training areas. The "extra" menus method of serving food received the use of more than 50 per cent of the time, and in general more work for the K.P.'s. (The later reason is enough to ban UMT!)

The 200 plus enlisteen and officers would be enough to take care of an outfit four times as large as the unit under regular army conditions. The unit's large special services and public relations divisions were much too large.

The chaplains and chapels were also much too large at times as many trainees in the regular army. Moreover, each officer would never have been allowed to have such an army conditions since some entire camps like to have a general as a commanding officer.

In view of these factors and the fact that the army has terminated UMT would result in a huge saving to the taxpayers. To operate any such program in the same manner in which the UMTEU was conducted at Fort Knox would bankrupt the United States inside of two years.

UMT was given a trial and it proved a complete failure and it has taken the Congress four years to forget the terrific expense of the small unit, it would be well for the leaders of our nation to review the Army's pet project before putting into action such a program as UMT.

The UNITED failed despite the Army's careful planning and hand to make it succeed. What would fair result Universal Military Training do?

THE REACTIONARY VOICE

ARE COLLEGES TURNING OUT MACHINES?

By FRED MYERS

I received a nasty shock the other day. It was the first day of classes, and, as all good shocks and surprises of all types, this shock was one I was totally unprepared for.

In one class, the professor asked, first of all, what is the name of this course?" This is a more or less standard, run of the mart classes; its idea being, let's have a look at the book, start scratch with these idiots." But then, when he told us the name of the course, the prof. always does it with, "What does that mean?"

We were forced to define the course, to explain what the words meant facing all of the difficulties and difficulties of definition that words everyone can define pragmatist. If he is acquainted with the word, but have you ever tried to define "drag"?

Before we had berun to recover from this, we received, like blows on the face, facts about the rest of course. We were to understand the meanings and relations of all the Literature encountered in the course. In other words, in The Literature we are expected to think and reason, instead of just memorizing a set of rules or a list of facts. Then that more in the class were shocked indicates a lack of thought that more goes to the points that students expect to be "facts" to memorize, and so that they don't have to subsist to the pain of reasoning anywhere in life.

I think the fundamental difference between a college and a "trade school" is this; the latter is concerned with the arriving at ideas through a reasoning process, the former, thinking.

Most colleges today follow the trade-school tradition of dogmatic teaching, and they have a good reason for doing so. The high mechanization and specialization of industrial capitalism calls for a large amount of specialized training, and proficiency in some small job; it is made to order.

The trouble is that one has to be more than a machine to be a responsible citizen of a democracy, since democracy is an expression of the individual.

Education has been recognized in education. The theory of education as formulated by Hutchins was to some extent, a reaction to the widespread acceptance of general education. The nation indicates that the educational system is aware of the problem. If general education is the answer, we are in fine shape. Coming back to Mr. Mix's statement, though, everyone in the class was guilty of the same lack of reasoning. They had had it all through high school, but after two years in college, and yet were still shocked that they were expected to think.

I think that general education could bear some critical investigation to see if it really meets the problem. If teaching people to think, and I hope to work on this problem, is the aim of this column. In passing, I would like to thank my Monday morning professor for his analysis of what reactionary attitude towards teaching.

SEMINOLE SCENES

WHY NOT A FORTY-EIGHT HOUR DAY?

By FRANCES CAWTHON

It is only the first week of classes and already many of us are going down for the third time.

The campus is haunted by dropping figures whose only claim they have classes that would ostensibly fill an hour—maximum—far as work in amount goes. When one of them is asked about his classes, he said, "Oh, they're just fine. Let's see. I have a three-page report to do on one, and only a six-months book to read in another."

From the looks of things, it is going to take more than a periscope for some of us to see over those six dollar books this semester. Some of us will be those who planned to study—and maybe are having difficulties in spread-ing their interests.

"I've got it!" yelled one gal as she came rushing up with a piece of paper in her hand. When asked what "it" was she explained that somebody that she had flard out a "scheduling schedule" for the Spring semester. "I'm sure she said cagerly, "I can't lose. It took hours to figure out, but now I have it down to where" —and her eyes gleamed — "I can waste two minutes a week, even!"

Absurb? Maybe not.

Another comment heard was: Do we, do we, do we have to—we are supposed to, huh? Well, lemme tell you. We all be cases for the psycho ward."

Whether all the arguments are justified, there is a research work for some purpose, that's for sure. All are rare, looking over the semester's requirements, it is going to be a long, hard year for many students. The optimist who thinks, "Some of all the education you are getting" had best not get too close to some of my acquaintances in both former and latter will be sorry. The same goes for twelve-hour-semester Sam, whose weekly doom are in the greener pastures as far as study is concerned.

Another sad refain in Beginning Semester Blues is the cost of books this semester. It is easy nowadays just to spend a quarter of a hundred on books for five classes, in many of which you have to have a couple of texts to really cover the material. More than one face of Jefferson must have gotten thoroughly washed as students handed over the greenery to the cashier in exchange for the books.

After looking at the depleted pocketbook, one student remarked, "Well, I don't know how I'm going to like it, but I'll be cheering up my psychology book for a month over the shock to my hand," he said, eyeing another shiny text, "maybe this public aid would help me."

An enterprising business student—and, my, do we have some!—came up with a brilliant idea for journalism students the other night. Now that the Florida Real Estate have to do, according to the J. P. Morgan sapbrant, is write up of textbooks, the six dollar kind, and then we can spend the rest of our lives touring the Caribbean.

Those busy typewriters in the Flambeau office are busily getting out letters to the Havana Chamber of Commerce.

ACP ROUNDUP

THE NEW SOUTH, A SHIFT IN ATTITUDE!

A survey indicates that students at Southern Methodist University, Texas, are about evenly divided on the question of whether Negro students be admitted to classes at SMU?"

Forty-five per cent said they would be in favor of such a move, while 51 per cent were against. The rest were undecided.

A poll taken in 1948 showed that only 18 per cent of the SMU students were in favor of dropping the racial bar.

Commented the SMU Campus in an editorial: "Negroes are trying to get into undergraduate work here at the present time, and all signs indicate that the action will prevail for another decade or more.

"Certainly not until student sentiment allowing such a step reaches as high as it is now will it be contemplated. Any attempt to force it sooner would almost certainly result in more evil than good."

THE RIGHT RETORT . . .

The NEA Journal has come up with suggestions for "what to say" in a number of academic occasions. Here's the agenda.

When you're given an objective test: "It doesn't let you express yourself."

When you are given an essay test: "It's so vague. You don't know what's expected."

When you get your many minor tests: "Why not have a few big ones? This keeps you on edge all the time."

When you are given no tests: "We just find out how we're possibly judge what we know?"

When every part of the subject is taken up in class: "What follows the book?"

When you are asked to study a part of the subject by yourself: "Why, he never even discussed it!"

When the course is in lecture form: "I never get a chance to say anything."

When the course consists of informal discussion: "I don't know. "He just sits there. Who wants to hear him anyway? They don't know how to teach the course"

When detailed material is presented: "What did we learn? We knew all that before we took the course."

WHAT YOUR LANGUAGE . . .

The Tennessee Tech Oracle decided recently to give its readers a lesson in sportsmanship. It declared in an editorial:

. . . We would like to mention an incident that unfortunately occurred at the Tech - Evansville basketball game. Of course, Evansville is a Northern team—a team that is due just as much respect as any other and other team whether from the North, South, East or West.

We noticed that the Evansville coach must have felt when something would turn, "Everything's down—you yankee." It is perfectly all right to boo the officials when you think they're wrong or doesn't on one occasion or another—but to boo the visiting team for failure to make any degrading remarks to an individual.

THE SALE . . .

The Sketch, literary magazine of the University of North Dakota, Main reason: didn't sell. Commented the Iowa State Daily:

"Most assuredly the student deserves and reserves the right to say where his two-bits goes. If he doesn't want a copy of Sketch, it's his business. Therefore we must conclude it was the magazine. Perhaps the material presented, which was considered decent was too much like Freshman English themes. . ."

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Betty Hand
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marion Lee
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Rose
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Smith
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager
National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fa Pittman, Ann Haley

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-201, Ext. 403 ..... second Floor, Ahmad Building
It is Florida State University's official publication and is published semi-weekly during the school year.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

UF Campus Reflects On Mass Cheating

By JACK DETWEILER

American Editor, Prairie Schooner

That segment of the University of Florida student body "in the know" was seething with excitement this week over recent action taken by Florida's Honor Court.

The Honor Court began secret trials this week of over 200 students accused of cheating on examinations from the University Examiner's office last spring.

In this week's Florida Columnist Bill Henry, apparently one of the "in the know," offered good food for thought to those campus and state figures anxious to develop the finest possible type of class scandal.

Henry wrote: "This is no West Point situation. In the first place, no one other than students are involved. An elected jury of the peers will receive such punishment as they merit—no more and those persons was elected justices to the court who will this year serve a great many embarrassed and distasteful hours maintaining a high standard in our student Honor System, let's forget this matter—and remember only the lesson."

* * *

Bob Bassler, ex-Flambeau quoted Alligator sports editor, wrote his final column this week in which he commented on the anti-activated Naval Reservist.

* * *

Florida is planning its second blood drive of the year for Feb. 25-28. This entire campaign will have a week's more advance notice than last December's, and its sponsors are confident that the university will fill its three-day quota.

Florida's March of Dimes drive . . . . and gives it a "FIGHT CHANCE."

Final receipts showed that the drive collected $1,803.95. This drive was highlighted by an all-faculty "One Night Stand" variety show which netted $500 and collections at the Kentucky basketball game totaling another $250.

* * *

Vaughn Monroe concert tickets are going berring as only about 800 students have purchased tickets for two Monroe concerts ahead and delivered.

next week. It was originally promised that the 2,400 tickets available for the concerts would last far below the demand.

* * *

Special measures are now being taken to halt excessive noise radiating from dormitories at the university property in the freshman women dormitories.

Dorm repair bills soared to a near-record high last semester, and fines are being levied on offenders in some instances.

Each night freshmen have been placed in the dorms to guard against fires in the trash chutes. Overzealous pranksters set fire to these chutes 16 different times last semester. The Men's Residence Hall Association collected over $100 in $1 fines for noise violations during exam week this semester.

HONEST TIPPIN

Dear Editor,

Several times during the fall semester I complimented you on your editorial writings. I did that because I thought them superior to the bulk of the material you print in the paper. They still are.

I have recently learned however, that you have on your staff a man who seems to be better qualified than yourself. His name is Bob Tippins. His sumerized, all-inclusive style will receive such punishment as they merit—no more—and those persons was elected justices to the court who will this year serve a great many embarrassed and distasteful hours maintaining a high standard in our student Honor System, let's forget this matter—and remember only the lesson."

* * *

Bob Bassler, ex-Flambeau quoted Alligator sports editor, wrote his final column this week in which he commented on the anti-activated Naval Reservist.

* * *

Florida is planning its second blood drive of the year for Feb. 25-28. This entire campaign will have a week's more advance notice than last December's, and its sponsors are confident that the university will fill its three-day quota.

Florida's March of Dimes drive . . . . and gives it a "FIGHT CHANCE."

Final receipts showed that the drive collected $1,803.95. This drive was highlighted by an all-faculty "One Night Stand" variety show which netted $500 and collections at the Kentucky basketball game totaling another $250.

* * *

Vaughn Monroe concert tickets are going berring as only about 800 students have purchased tickets for two Monroe concerts ahead and delivered.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Humph . . . Editor's Note:

In modest response to thousands of requests . . . . a few questions . . . one chuckle? Anyway, these notes columns are a reprint of some tasteffs on characters for sure: male, female and homosexual, category defies description?.

The exhaustive research for this series was quite a task—cold evening behind Bush No. 13 . . . . Fooled ya', Feerless.' . . . This all goes under the heading of Characters Can Be Fun.

Besides, always did want to write an Editor's Note. . . .

SOPHISTICATE BY SUNLIGHT . . . Plays sexy siren by day . . . but becomes the All-American girl after dark. Uses the old mouse and cheese routine till it hurts. Gets very familiar about 10:59 under the flashing lights.

THE LISTENER . . . Reasuringly sweet, she's never said a word about wouldn't be proud of. She has a good word to say about everybody, so her opinion doesn't count.

EMANCIPATED WOMAN . . . Gives the hot eye and fast talk to the cute ones. Bent on getting her share of the vanishing male.

OLD FASHIONED GIRL . . . Courtship must be practiced vintage 1890. Would sing iodine rather than admit she read a book featurdew night.

ABSTRACT ANNIE . . . No such thing as reality. lives in a world where all is ethereal, idealistic and things like dirty hands don't exist.

'LEAVE US ALONE'

The Idaho Argonaut, University of Idaho, has instituted a "Leave Us Alone Week" in honor of mid-semester exams. What the Argonaut wants is a little quiet for a week in which we can be free of private gimme campaigns . . . . solicitors . . . . declarations . . . . and queen contests . . .

Two students at Washington University, St. Louis have started a new service? Here's how it works:

Parents of out-of-town students who want to remember their son's birthday order a cake from the two students. The cake is delivered right to the son's dormitory door by a small extra charge. other hint—there will be purchases.

...of F. Cheating

(Continued From Page 1)

...ssible honor court conducts ...eedings in secret, but there ...considerable evidence that pres... was brought to bear from ...ool directions.

...dent Miller has taken a ...ff attitude, and said: "You ...ember that, so far as the ...ents is concerned, politics ...not be allowed to interfere ...ificantly mentioned the ...e of a prominent state sen... however when questioned ...ecede pressure.

...ers members of student ...rnment forthcoming, indicat... that they had even been ...ulted in the matter.

...ICH CONTROVERSY has ...n on the University of Florida ...ds as to the extent to which ...football team is involved in ...scandal. One university of... who wished his remarks ...s claimed that "there ...y few football players in... but their pay is a minor part ...e total group."

...ically, this might be true ...r a majority of the team ...ceived as other unnamed ...s claimed.

...e penalty for such a cheat... scheme at the University of ...ida is fumbling the course and ...ing to make up 18 additional ...hours.

...e graduate student who ob... the keys for students was ...moved from the university ...ystem.

...uey Is President

...e Alpha Phi Club meeting last ...ek, Mac Huey was elected ...ident. Vic Bezepanik, vice-...ident; Curt Campbell, secre... and Fred Hoover, treasurer. ...ext meeting will be Thurs... night at 7:30 in the Women's ...asium.

Patronize Our Advertisers

School Seniors Here Thursday

Florida State University will be the setting Thursday for some 600 high school seniors from 18 high schools to take a look at college life and the fields open for vocations.

The "Career Day" will be the fourth in a series sponsored by the School of Education, with the other University schools and the College of Arts and Sciences participating. The high school students will come from four Florida counties and one Georgia county.

President Doak S. Campbell will speak to them on "The Challenge of Our Day." The students will also be shown the film of campus life called "Opportunity Is Here," and entertained by a variety program of student talent from the department of speech, musical education and School of Music.

Dr. Mode L. Rose, dean of the School of Education, is chairman of the "Career Day" program.

Second Lieutenant Commissions Open

Because of shortages in certain technical specialties, qualified personnel may apply for direct commission as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve with entrance into active service.

This information was released by Col. B. S. Barr, professor of air science and tactics.

The Air Force is particularly interested in majors in engineering, mathematics, physics or chemistry who have completed at least three and one-half years of courses leading to a degree in one of the above fields.

Qualified students may contact the Air Force ROTC, building 428, West campus, to obtain applications blanks.

VALENTINE SWEETHEART—Stepping from the box-t is Joanna Cwens, reigning queen at Jennie Murphree's annual Valentine dance. Pictured with the Pensacola freshman are the members of the court and their escorts.

Famous Chemist Speaks At Seminar

Dr. Waldo E. Cohn, biochemist at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, spoke on "Some Recent Developments in the Chemistry of Ncleic Acid" yesterday at the chemistry seminar.

Dr. Cohn was responsible for setting up the technical end of the radioisotope production and distribution program at Oak Ridge. He led the group which produced radioisotopes first for project use and subsequently for civilian use.

Movie Talk Thursday

A program on "David and Bathsheba" currently running in local theater will be presented Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Social Work building "B-Y" is sponsoring the program.

SMILES FROM CHAMPS—Arlene Amend and Katherine Shepstad, FSU juniors, are rightfully pleased with the trophy they won recently in Miami. The girls took first place for affirmative teams at the Fifth Annual University of Miami Debate Tournament.

WFSU Program Schedule

WFSU extends a cordial invitation to all students, freshman or upper classmen, if they are interested, to audition for work with the station in the script, engineering, announcing, production or any department in the organization.

The studios will be open for audition appointments Tuesday-Friday of this week, between 4-6. Anybody interested in radio broadcasting is urged to apply. Anyone who is not interested is invited to visit the studios and become acquainted with the staff and the organizations procedures.

SCHEDULE FOR TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, AND MONDAY

(This schedule is fairly constant, however, it is necessary that it be subject to change without notice.)

TUESDAY, FEB. 19

7 a.m.-8 a.m. Town Patrol
8 a.m.-9 a.m. Musical Serenade
7:00 Corn by Cobb
7:15 Florida Memorial Program
7:30 Skinny Says
7:45 Let's Eat Out
8:00 Southern Campus News
8:00 Records at Random
8:30 Number Please Quiz
8:59 World News
9:00 Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15 Yvonne Presents
9:45 Musical Souvenirs
10:00 Late Date Requests
10:55 Late News
11:00 Off

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 20

7 a.m.-8 a.m. Town Patrol
8 a.m.-9 a.m. Musical Serenade
7:00 Stretch in Print—Gloss
7:15 Morning Melodies
7:30 Sweet Dreams
7:45 Flambeau Campus News
8:00 An Evening with Mozart
8:30 U.O.A. Forum
8:59 World News
9:00 Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15 Guest Star (trans.)
9:45 Sourwill—poetry
10:00 Late Date—requests
10:55 Late News
11:00 Off

THURSDAY, FEB. 21

7 a.m.-8 a.m. Town Patrol
8 a.m.-9 a.m. Musical Serenade
7:00 Sweet Dreams
7:15 Sports Digest
7:30 Let's Eat Tonight
7:45 Flambeau Campus News
8:00 Show Time FSU (trans.)
8:30 Mood Music
8:59 Report from Europe (trans.)
9:00 A Little Night Music
9:30 World News
9:45 Our Heritage: Freedom
10:00 Stories to Remember
10:30 F.S.U. Concert Hall
11:00 Late Date—requests
11:55 Late News
12:00 Off

FRIDAY, FEB. 22

7 a.m.-8 a.m. Town Patrol
8 a.m.-9 a.m. Musical Serenade
7:00 Serenade for Penny
7:15 Flambeau Campus News
7:30 Business in Jazz
7:45 Let's Eat Out a Bore
8:00 Stories Every (trans.)
8:30 World News
8:45 Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15 Requests
10:55 Late News
11:00 Off

NO BROADCASTING SATURDAYS

SUNDAY, FEB. 24

10:00 Mass. (Catholic Students)
7:30 p.m. Off the Air

MONDAY, FEB. 25

7 a.m.-8 a.m. Town Patrol
8 a.m.-9 a.m. Musical Serenade
7:00 Sweet Dreams
7:15 Here's to Vets (trans.)
7:30 Musical Scrapbook
8:00 Flambeau Campus News
8:15 Study in Style
8:30 Naval Air Reserve Show (trans.)
8:45 Curtain Call
9:00 Sports Digest
9:30 Our Heritage: Freedom
9:45 Stars Shine at Midnight
10:00 Words and Music
10:30 Late Date
10:55 Late News
11:00 Off the Air

Chance for Peace?—Poor

(ACP) Can the United States and Russia settle their differences peacefully? Three-fourths of the nation's college students say "there is still a chance," but not a good one.

Results of the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion indicate that seven per cent of the students feel that chances for peace are good, while 18 per cent think there is no chance.

Many feel that "chances would be improved by more 'give and take'." as a sophomore at an eastern engineering college put it.

Students were asked: "How do you feel about chances for a peaceful settlement of differences between Russia and the United States? The answers:

1. Chances are good 7 per cent
2. Chances are fair 21 per cent
3. Chances are poor 46 per cent
4. No chances — 18 per cent
5. No chances — 13 per cent

Students who foresee little chance blame the situation on Russia, human nature and United States diplomacy. Says a senior in Alabama, "I don't think differences can be settled now because of the Russian government. I look for a revolt in Russia."

"If people want peace, they have it," says a business sophomore. But a senior in liberal arts feels that "It's human nature to be warlike."

Here's a sample or other comments:

A freshman coed in journalism: "Chances are poor—I don't know too much about it, but Russia will have to be shown how powerful we are."

A sophomore: "Chances are fair—Birds will continue till—I hope—Joe finds out we'll fight and have a chance of winning."

A senior from the midwest: "Chances are poor—There must be a meeting at the halfway mark. Neither side is yet willing to truly compromise."

A coed in fine arts: "The only way peace can be obtained is through war."

A girl taking business: "With two great nations one will have to give in."

A senior in liberal arts: "Chances are poor—At the present time we lack qualified international leaders who understand both political aspects."

A senior in education: "Chances are fair . . . with proper leadership . . ."

A freshman in medical school: "Chances are good—but for these chances to come about we need diplomats and not politicians."

AAUW Are Hostesses

Members of the International Relations Committee of the Tallahassee branch of the American Association of University Women were hostesses to the foreign students of Florida State University last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Margie Burks.

We Want You!

- Reporter
- Business Staff
- Feature Writer
- Sports Writer

Clip This And Place In Campus Mail

Care of Florida Flambeau

NAME .....

BOX NO. .....

Reporter ☐ Feature ☐
Business ☐ Sports ☐

Hay Tells Progress Of FSU to Alumni

Dr. Marion Hay, professor of education spoke last week at the annual banquet of the Putnam County FSU Alumni association in Palatka. Dr. Hay, whose topic was "The Old and the New at FSU," told of the growth of the university in recent years.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Jantzen

Beach Bouquet

Mighty fetching, this, with its new Jantzen petal-cup bra, magically cut to uplift and mold . . . self-lined, softly draped. Vertically shirred reverse grain panels slim your silhouette, provide extra hip-control fore and aft. Snug back zipper, auxiliary strap for active swimming. Beautifully made of All-Nylon Taffeta woven with potent laton . . . dries pronto, feels wonderful on the body. 11 superb colors. 32-40. 16.95.

Steyerman's

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

I smoke the world's best cigarette—You ought to smoke 'em too! They're round and firm and fully packed! Here's Lucky Strike to you!

Sue Trocosa
Texas State College for Women

If you and she have had a spat, And you two now are parted— To patch things up, give her a gift Of Luckies by the carton!

Selwyn Steinberg
City College of New York

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

King Midas sat upon his throne And uttered this decree, "The golden touch you've heard about Is L.S./M.F.T."

Mark Simpson
Appalachian State Teachers

©A.T.Co.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURERS OF CIGARETTES

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

'This Is The Life' Is Comedy Featuring Lady Lawyer and Starving Actor

TEN GALS AND A GUY—Members of the Sandspur chorus line are shown above getting in shape for this year's production entitled "This is the Life."

"Relax, Just relax and enjoy it." So goes some good advice from the Sandspur script, "This Is The Life," and that's what Bill Backus, producer of the sixth annual musical comedy, suggests you do when the curtain goes up tonight at 8:15 in the Music Auditorium.

This year's all-student Sandspur production is a hilarious three-act musical comedy, but some of the sultry songs, such as "I get Lonesome," will haunt you long after the final curtain falls. Composer Renny Warner has done wonders with the music to back up the script which was written by Dan Dearing.

DEARING, a former FSU student who transferred to Suwanee, will return to the University to see his script come to life when the curtain rises Friday night for the final performance of "This Is The Life" Dan's script will be sparked by the origins songs and background music and the numerous sets that have been under construction for weeks in the West campus Sandspur Playhouse.

"This Is The Life" features three acts and five scenes. It is the story of three boys living in relative scalar until one of them inherits a finishing school for young ladies under the stipulation that he must attend the school for one year. The news of the inheritance is brought by a lovely young lady lawyer.

CLAIRE KENYON, plays the feminine lead of the young lady lawyer, and the male lead for Jack Watkins, who plays the role of a starving actor who inherits the finishing school for girls.

Other leading parts are played by Bill Backus, Jean Meadie, Mari-an Miller, Jean Pair, Barbara E. L. Allen, John Bastello, Al Parre and Ronald Martin.

George Cone is responsible for the directing of the cast. His wide range of experience as director and actor in numerous dramatic productions on campus has proven invaluable in staging the production.

EVERY PHASE of the production is handled by the students on a voluntary try-out basis. Hank Warner, composer of the music is also the director of the 25 piece Sandspur orchestra which was organized to provide the musical background and accompaniment throughout the show.

Producer Backus and director Cary, along with Cosmo Cardone, assistant producer, have been working with the cast and staff since early November in preparation for the annual production.

Pat Inman is responsible for the elaborate costumes which will be highlighted by special lighting effects in the numerous dance routines. Inman designed the costumes and worked with a staff of seamstresses to give the production the color that is typical of Sandspur. Dick Farmer designed and directed the construction of the numerous sets that are required for the background.

FRANCES STOKES is the choreographer for the dance routines. A group of 30 dancers will perform modern dancing during the production, and all of the dancers will combine to give background for a featured dance called "Atlantis" in which Nick Pappas and Marion Mattair stage a duet.

Some of the original songs featured in the musical comedy are "With Your Hand In Mine," sung by Jack Watkins; Claire Kenyon sings, "Why Did I Say No," and "I Get Lonesome," and "With Out a Guy."

THIS YEAR'S edition of Sandspur is pacing Florida State on the college world map. FSU is one of the five colleges in the United States which produces an original musical each year. The script is written on a competitive basis by the producer, who is chosen by the Sandspur body each spring. Every detail of writing and all of the aspects of production is taken care of by some 200 students engaged in the production and working behind the scenes.

Sandspur has grown to be a big business in student extra-curricular activities and a business manager and publicity staff have grown to be literal positions in the production of the show. Jim Shaw has served as business manager for two years.

Mac McCall is chairman of the publicity staff for Sandspur.

Stories and picture features about the production have been printed in the Tampa, Jacksonville, Orlando, Tallahassee, and Miami papers. Numerous news releases also appeared in virtually all of the daily and weekly newspapers of the state publicizing the show.

ALL SMILES—Members of the Sandspur cast rumage the favorite director's suitcase during dress rehearsal. George Cary, extreme right, is director of the musical.

Cost of a College Education Will be Found in FSU Survey

A survey to find out more precisely the cost of a college education for the average student is now under way at Florida State University.

Mr. Glover E. Tully, director of vocational guidance and placement, says his study involves several hundred students at FSU who have been selected at random. The students were not selected on a classification basis, a grade basis or employment basis, he assured.

THE VOCATIONAL guidance director said his interest developed in part from the fact that the cost of going to college has gone up sharply. The placement director also said that the survey was designed to find out what the student's source of income is for meeting these costs.

In his concern for student financial status, Mr. Tully said that he was conducting the survey from the standpoint of those students who do work in college. those who don't work and those who are seeking scholarships. "This is because of the assumption that they do not have the same source of income," he explained.

THE SURVEY is an experimentally designed study and the information gathering process will continue through this semester, Mr. Tully noted.

The data will not be completely assembled until the end of this semester and a report will then be made on the survey at the end of the summer.

"I do appreciate the cooperativeness shown by the students thus far," the conductor of the study stated. Approximately 250 of the distributed questionnaires have been returned since the beginning of the survey in early January.

Mr. Tully said that he felt the information compiled would be especially beneficial in his capacity as chairman of the student help committee. This statement was made in a reply concerning his reason for beginning the study.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 33...THE SHEEP

They tried to fool him with the "quick-trick" cigarette mildness tests—but he wouldn't go astray! We know as well as he there's only one fair way to test cigarette mildness. And millions of smokers agree!

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel

Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Central Americans Enroll In Classes

Three government employees from San Salvador, Central America, have enrolled in the Florida State University School of Public Administration so graduate students.

They come to FSU through arrangements with their government and will return to their native country when their work here is completed.

WHILE ATTENDING FSU the trio, Lubo E. Platero, Ricardo Walsh and Antonio Azucena Fuentes, will live in Senior hall. Since they were sent here upon orders of Colonel Oscar Osorio, president of San Salvador, they will have the same diplomatic status as other representatives of their country in America on official business.

Dr. Felix Nigro, associate professor of public administration and Dr. Herberto Lecaro, associate professor of modern languages, will be principal instructors of the Latin-American students along with other faculty members.

DR. WILSON K. DOYLE, dean of the FSU School of Public Administration, said enrollment of the three was part of the school program to provide public administration education for outstanding students of other nations.

"We feel that the strategic location of the FSU School of Public Administration in the state capital of Florida and its versatile education program offers unusual advantages for training students of other countries. Also we believe that such training programs will help in development of closer understanding and good will between this country and other friendly nations."

WHEN THEY BEGIN their studies at FSU the San Salvador students will find their work schedule very different from what they have experienced during the last five years. They have been working in their government jobs six hours daily and attend school four hours a night to complete their college courses at the University of El Salvador in the capital city of their country.

They have been outstanding students in El Salvador, making straight A's in their college work. They were much impressed to learn that they will have the advantage here of hearing state, federal and local government officials lecture in their FSU classrooms.

Two of the Latin-American men, Fuentes and Platero, are married. However, they plan to remain in Tallahassee without their families until their FSU graduate work is completed.

Seniors Must Apply

Candidates for degrees in June or August 1952 who have not filed applications for degrees should do so immediately in the office of the registrar. A release from assistant registrar, Willie Carlton, says that applications will not be accepted after Feb. 23 for graduation in June.

FSU, Eglin Field Cooperate In an Educational Operation

Hundreds of Air Force personnel at Eglin Field are getting an "educational lift" through "Operation Bootstrap," sponsored jointly by the Air Force and the College of Arts and Sciences at Florida State University.

Maj. Gen. Edward L. Bosiner, Eglin Field commanding officer, and Dr. Doak S. Campbell, FSU dean of faculties, have praised the cooperative education program, which is helping the Air Base personnel to literally lift themselves up by their bootstraps in obtaining a college education.

SO SUCCESSFUL has the first "Operation Bootstrap" at Eglin been that FSU now has a similar program at Tyndall Field, near Panama City, and Turner Field, near Albany, Ga.

General Boatner and President Campbell explained the primary purpose of "Operation Bootstrap" is to give the Air Force officers, airmen and their dependents, along with civil service employees at Eglin, an opportunity of gaining residence college credits towards their college degree.

IN COMMENTING on the Bootstrap program, General Boatner said "Our modern Air Force requires increasingly higher educational levels among its members. It is most heartening to see Air Force men and women spending their off-duty time taking advantage of Operation Bootstrap."

THE EGLIN "Operation Bootstrap" is conducted through the Information and Education section, headed by Maj. Roland W. Myers, assisted by 1st Lt. John P. Armistead.

Both officers have been quick to give much credit for the success of the education program to Tech. Sgt. Charles V. Sleeth. Sergeant Sleeth has been termed by his superior officers as the "spark-plug" of the program.

Since the Eglin educational undertaking was first begun last September, President Campbell has taken much interest in its progress, pointing out that "Operation Bootstrap" enables a man or woman at Eglin to serve his country's armed forces and also continue his work toward higher education.

DR. CHARLES S. DAVIS, associate dean of the FSU College of Arts and Science in charge of the university administration of the program, designated Joe Plant Jr. as faculty liaison member between the Air Base and FSU.

Among the some 20 courses offered in the curriculum and other courses where there is sufficient demand are physics, elementary German, math, personnel administration, French, Russian, and English. These courses are taught by several FSU faculty members in residence at Eglin Field and others who travel to Eglin once a week to teach the three-hour class periods.

Many takine advantage of "Operation Bootstrap" began their classroom studies with only a few hours of college credits. They are now working to accumulate enough hours of credit so that by their final semester of work they can obtain permission for residence status on the FSU campus necessary durrin their final semester for a college degree.

From its modest beginning as an auxiliary gunnery practice base for Maxwell Field (Ferry the mid-1930's, Eglin Air Force Base has expanded into a major testing and development facility for the U. S. Air Force. The base was named in 1937 for Lt. Col. Frederick I. Eglin, veteran Air Corps pilot killed during a training flight in the area.

College Grads Fill Air Line Positions

Personnel officials of the United Air Lines report that 1 600 vacancies will be filled this year, many of them possibly by college graduates.

MANY of the openings require at least two years of college. College graduates are eligible for stewardess training and can qualify as sales, clerical and passenger agents. The latter posts are also open to men, ages 21 to 26.

Co-pilot training, with salaries of persons paid, is offered at United's flight training center in Denver. A commercial pilot license from the Civil Aeronautics Administration and a physical examination are prerequisites. Positions are also open for those having mechanical skill, radio and telephone operation.

Details may be obtained by writing the United's personnel office in New York, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles San Francisco or Seattle.

Expert Watch Repair

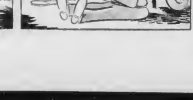
PAUL TURNER

JEWELER

102 S. Monroe

Dine with us ... in the ... Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"



Roast Pork Ham Apple Sauce
Breaded Veal Cutlet
Tomato Sauce
Roast Turkey Dressing

We Specialize in Delicious Home Made Waffles

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

Capt. Pchelkin Teaches Eglin Field Of Russians in Operation Bootstrap

ROTC Capt. Pchelkin, U. S. Air Force Intelligence officer, and assistant professor of air science and tactics, is orienting Air Force personnel at Eglin to the workings of the Russian mind.

Known as the "Flying Russian," Capt. Pchelkin knows from personal experience the dangers of Communism.

THAT IS why he considers it a privilege to fly to Eglin Field each Friday afternoon after his day's work at FSU and spend three hours at night teaching the Air Force personnel there how the Russians speak, act and think.

The teaching program by FSU faculty members to the Eglin Field personnel is in the "Operations Bootstrap," which enables those at the field who volunteer to attend the evening classes an opportunity to continue their education after their regular work at the field.

CAPT. PCHELKIN was born in Tomsk, Russia. He attended grade school there until 13 years of age when he had reached the eighth grade. There his education was abruptly halted by the Communists, because his father, a physician, had been an officer of the Czarist Army. The Pchelkin family therefore was considered "unreliable" by the Communist Party.

As the family began to feel the hatred and Communist oppression in Russia more and more they left their native country and went to Siberia. It was there that Pchelkin resumed his education in the Shanghai-American High School.

UPON BEING admitted to this country under the visa system, he obtained his higher education here and then enlisted for the Army Signal Corps in 1942. He later transferred to the U. S. Air Force and received training in the Officers Candidate School at Miami Beach.

During his regular duty hours at FSU, he teaches "World Political Geography." To the FSU Air Force ROTC cadets, pointing out to them how much of the world's area and how many people the Communists now have in their control.

Then on Friday afternoons he usually travels by plane 170 miles to Eglin Field to teach his evening Russian class. He returns to Tallahassee by auto about 3 a. m. the following morning.

The Air Force Captain is convinced that the more we know of the Russians, their language, the way they think and act and their weaknesses, the better able we are to combat Communism and show the Russian people the truth.

Student Veterans Are Told By VA To Resume Studies

Former GI Bill veteran-trainees who returned to active military duty were reminded recently by the Veterans Administration that they have little time to lose, in case they want to resume their GI studies after discharge.

Under VA regulations, they must resume their training within a reasonable period after they release from active duty. That "reasonable period," VA said, will be based on the circumstances of each veteran's case, and will depend on the kind of training he is taking and a number of other factors.

These regulations apply to veterans affected by the July 25, 1951, cut-off date for entering training, who had previously been in training under the GI Bill, but who were unable to be enrolled at that time because of re-entrance into military service.

Veterans were advised to make their training plans now rather than wait for the last minute. This way, VA said, they may avoid the disappointment of being shut out altogether.

VA also reminded veterans of three requirements that must be met in order to take post-cut-off date training after military service: conduct and progress of their previous GI Bill courses must have been satisfactory; the amount of training they may get after discharge is limited to the remaining GI Bill entitlement, and their courses may not extend beyond the wind-up of the GI Bill program on uly 25, 1956.

According to the law, the July 1951, cut-off date applied to World War II veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. For those few discharged afterwards, the cut-off date is four years from their date of discharge.

Study In France Offered Students

Florida State University students have the opportunity to spend a year in France, the Institute of International Education announced today.

Approximately 60 grants for study on teaching in France are open to college students graduating in June.

FORTY OF the grants are for young Americans interested in teaching conversational English for one year in a French school. These "assistants d'anglais" work as the lycees or ecoles normales d'instituteurs to which they are assigned, etaching about 12 hours a week.

Given by the French government, the grants provide from 22,000 ot 27,000 francs e month during the academic year. To be eligible for an assistantship, American applicants must be unmarried, have a good knowledge of French, and by this summer have a bachelor's degree from an American college.

THE FRENCH government also is offering approximately 35 fellowships to Americans for graduate study in France. The fellowships open to students in all fields of study, provide tuition and 30,000 francs e month. Eligibility requirements are the same as for the assistantships.

In addition special scholarships for study of art and music in Paris are also offered through the Institute by the Woolley Foundation.

tate Officials Are rolled At FSU ny gener learn all there is to

w. Even so-called experts in ar field realize that, and as a general chief subordinate of-in the state government, as ny other officers, are attend-
Florida State University as

The class in which the officials enrolled is "Tools of Govern-Management", taught by
M. R. Parsons, assistant pror in the School of Public Adnistration. It meets every nday night in the History
ilding. The students learn gov-ment administration from lec-
s, case studies and their own ersonal experience problems. To s ss Mrs. Dr. Parsons, is con-ted similar to a law class.
There is no lack of pertinent ex-mples from which to study as ere is also closely related in-rests in their jobs.

Annual Exhibition Accepts Student Art

Miss Artemise Skevakis, graduate assistant in the department of art, has been informed by the Exhibition committee of the Sarasota Art Association that her water color, "Cypress Growth" has been accepted for the Members' Annual Exhibition.

Miss Skevakis completed her graduate work in the art department in recent years and then returned to this campus as a graduate assistant after a year's commercial experience in Atlanta, Ga., and a trip to Europe in 1951.

Students come from the state comptroller's office, department of agriculture, road department, budget commissioner, industrial commission, department of education, Federal Correctional Institute, and the Veteran Service center, as well as some graduate and undergraduate students.

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

MAKE A HIT AT SANDSPUR
no summer formals are as impressive as

NOW WITH Stain-Shy
Handsome and so practical, too! The new "Stain Shy" fabric finish resists stains, discourages wrinkles, and is water repellent! Liquids "roll off" without staining! ONLY AT TOP SIX has it! Choose from single and double breasted shawl collar models. White, pastels.
$24.95
MIDNITE BLUE DRESS TROUSERS
as advertised in Esquire
$11.50 Up
Turner's

Commerce Fraternity Offers $500 Loans

Loans up to $500 are being offered to junior, senior and graduate members of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional commerce fraternity, Fred P. Brinkmeyer, secretary, has announced.

The loans are made available through the AKP memorial loan fund for students who need financial assistance to graduate or to work for advanced degrees.

New AKP members, initiated yesterday, are Professor Edward D. Trembly, head of the accounting department of the School of Business, and students W. A Eaton, Rufus Horne, Jerry Leonard, and Bob Trowbridge.

NEW Wildroot
LIQUID CREAM SHAMPOO
More than just a liquid, more than just a cream ... new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.
Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleaming clean, manageable, curl-inviting without robbing hair of its natural oils.
Soapless Sudsy ... Lengths Lovely!
THREE SIZES: 25¢ 50¢ 98¢
P.S. To keep hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing.

PAINTING AND HAILING—Four members of the set construction crew for the sixth annual Sandspur Production. The set is in a modernistic design and will hold a gigantic surprise for the audience.

Government Study By College Students Urged By Sawyer

Charles Sawyer, United States Secretary of Commerce, strongly believes that college students should know more about the operation of federal government.

The federal cabinet officer, highly respected among the nation's business and industrial leaders as a "level-headed business man," will visit FSU on Monday, Feb. 25.

The purpose of Secretary Sawyer's visit is to formally open the new course in "Administration and Management of the Federal Government" being offered this semester by the FSU School of Public Administration. His speech is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. in the Opperman Music hall.

The course offers FSU public administration students the opportunity to gain practical knowledge of operations of one of the largest federal departments through the medium of guest lectures. During the presentation of the course Feb. 25 through May 9, other top administrators will visit the school as guest lecturers.

Dr. Wilson K. Doyle, Dean of the School of Public Administration, says students enrolled in the course will study the Department of Commerce as a case study in view of the department at work, its organization, procedures, programs, and problems.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Fashion PREVIEW
Sandspur 1952
For Women.
In a weekend whirl—and loving every minute of it in our floating dream gowns.
For Men.
All decked out in a handsome formal wear from P. W. Wilson.
P. W. WILSON & CO.
Tallahassee's Best Dept. Store
—SINCE 1837—

Hardee Announces Interest Meetings

Special interest meetings will be held this week for students interested in music and library training, Dr. Melvene Hardee, coordinator of counseling, has announced. The meetings are primarily for those students still undecided about e vocation.

The School of Library Science and Training will hold their meeting Feb. 20, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Longmire clubroom. Opportunities in the teacher-librarian field, public college, and special libraries will be discussed.

Mr. Robert Clapp will act as chairman with Mrs. Sarah Strozier and Miss Agnes Gregory assisting.

Opportunities in music education, both choral and instrumental, applied music, composition, theory and music literature will be some of the topics discussed at the dean's office of the Music building Thursday at 4 p.m.

The meeting on music interest will be lead by Dean Karl Kuersteiner, Mr. Owen Sellers will also assist him.

FSU Music Student Plays With Symphony

A senior music student from Florida State University has been soloist recently with the Florida West Coast Symphony.

Nancy Hill appeared in programs with the symphony in Sarasota and Bradenton, playing Rachmaninov's Concerto in C Minor.

A music critic for the Sarasota Herald praised the performance of Miss Hill.

James J. Nehez, a graduate student in the School of Music, played viola in the symphony orchestra at the both concerts.

NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery

Sam Praises Counseling After 5 Semester AB!

Phenomenal! After five semesters at Florida State, Sam Bagdasarian graduated Feb. 3 with an AB degree and is now doing graduate work in psychology.

Sam attributes his success to the counseling program of Dr. Melvene Hardee, FSU coordinator of guidance.

MODEST SAM says, "I owe all I have earned to my instructors and principally to the terrific counseling service and Dr. Hardee for setting me on the right track."

Perhaps you know Sam if you have been around the local psychology circles. However, most students probably have never met this typically family man whose extracurricular activities are limited to a few short evenings with his wife and two children.

BEFORE COMING to Florida State in 1940, Sam had seen service as a lieutenant and full fledged naval aviator in World War II. He had taken part in bomber missions in the Pacific around Saipan and Iwo Jima and flew his plane in to finish the job of destroying enemy shipping and subs in the waters off these strategic islands.

Upon enrollment at FSU, Sam found that he could claim several hours credit because of a general education test offered to service personnel which he passed while in the navy.

DR. HARDEE set the gears in motion for Sam who also introduced him to Professor Hugh Weakon in the psychology department. Sam took the tests and questionnaires offered by the counseling department to determine his aptitude and interest along the lines of psychology.

In view of favorable reports, Dr. Hardee urged the former naval pilot to continue in psychology.

In concluding Sam advises other students, "Counseling should be one of the most important phases of the early life of a college student. Without a good, sound foundation to start with, it seems all will crumble into dust and ruin. The same thing can happen to a human life if, in the beginning, life is not started on something concrete."

Students to Intern With Correspondent At State Capitol

Students at the School of Journalism are serving an "internship" with capital correspondents this spring.

To give student-reporters practical experience in reporting state affairs, Dr. Sidney Kobre, associate professor, has arranged an intern program with press and newsroom representing press associations and newspapers throughout the state.

The student-reporters will cover Florida cabinet sessions as well as report the meetings of state boards and commissions and departments. Each student will take a department or commission as his "beat" and be responsible for sunday news-features as well as timely news stories originating there.

Since the F.S.U. School of Journalism is in the city of the state capitol, Dean Laurence R. Campbell of that school and Professor Kobre believed this presented a unique opportunity for the students to study the work of the capital correspondent and the operation of state departments.

Students taking part in the internship program are Mary Brown, Frances Cawthon, William Criswell, Dennis DeLaCure, Charles Gorsuch, Alta Mae Horton, Horace Loflin, Hazel Merriman, Betty Blount Smith, Stan Schmidt, Theo Sommerkamp and Maxwell York.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
Today and Wed.
he Lady from Tenae
with Mona Freeman and Howard Duff
Thurs. Thru Sat.
The Model and the Marriage Broken
with Thelma Ritter and Jeanie Crain
STATE
TODAY ONLY
Room for One More
with Cary Grant and Betsy Drake
Wed. thru Sat.
David and Bathsheba
with Gregory Peck and Susan Hayward
RITZ
Today and Wed.
Red Badge of Courage
with Audie Murphy
Thurs. thru Sat.
Desert Gold
ALSO Fury of the Congo
with Johnny Weismuller
DRIVE-IN
Today and Wed.
Meet Me After the Show
with Betty Grable
Thurs. thru Sat.
Fort Dodge Stampede
with Rocky Lane
also
Crazy Over Horses
With the Bowery Boys
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Indians to Close Season Play

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

STANDING ON THE OUTSIDE---As far as football relations with the University of Florida is concerned, "us pore ole Seminoles" as the popular song title suggests, are still "on the outside looking in."

What makes it worse is that last Sunday Florida officials announced that they would open their 1952 slate with Stetson on September 20.

While taking no credit away from Hatter coach Joe McMullen and his Stetson gridders, this corner for one just doesn't understand Gainesville's motives for passing up a tilt with the Seminoles in favor of the Hatters.

Florida officials aren't receiving any pats on the back for the move and two of the State's better known sportswriters have already voiced their opinions on the matter. Even Gator fans and alumni aren't sold on the idea, and the latter group is liable to raise quite a howl.

While the decision to play Stetson may be more favorable than a Gator contest with Loyola and the sort, it will hardly be a howling success at the box office, and after all, that seems to be the policy of most of the larger teams these days.

Stetson, under the youthful McMullen, has been climbing out of the football wilderness for the last two years. This past season, the hatters won seven, lost two and tied two, going on to defeat Arkansas State in the Tangerine Bowl. The lone loss, of course came at the hands of the Seminoles, 13-10 here in Campbell stadium.

This Florida-Stetson relationship is nothing new, however. Prior to World War II the Gators and Hatters met regularly, starting with a 6-5 Florida win in 1906 and ending with a 21-7 Gainesville victory in 1939. Of the 17 games that were played, Stetson won only one, Florida 14, and two ended in ties.

If the Florida-Stetson clash does nothing else it may actually help bring a FSU tilt with the Gators a little closer, since the current game only calls for a one year contract, and a year from now the pressure on Florida officials will probably be so great they will have to schedule the Seminoles.

Anyway, since this idea of a FSU-Florida game has been hashed, rehashed, and stomped on so much that it can be seen through, Gainesville officials will probably be sad to do it by then.

* * *

While the decision of Tampa's coach Frankie Sinkwich to step down came as a surprise to most Tampa fans, it's been rumored since the end of the past season that the ex-Georgia fireball was planning to pull up stakes.

Sinkwich had been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the backfield coaching post at the University of Pennsylvania, but nothing ever came of it.

Last Spring Sinkwich resigned, but reconsidered at the insistence of Tampa fans and alumni; but this time he says it's for good.

During his two year stay at Tampa, the former Georgia All-American guided the Spartans to 11 wins against 7 losses. Probably the highlight of Sinkwich's tenure, something Seminole fans would like to forget, is the 14-6 win over the Indians this fall.

* * *

After being held to only 7 points by Bob Whitmer in the recent FSU-Miami contest, Hurricane ace Cy Chadroff made up for it the following Thursday when he poured through 47 points against Rollins.

Chadroff, who has previously scored 45 points in a single game this season, was ejected from the contest along with the Tars' Dick Seyler after the two swapped punches late in the game.

Cagers Blast Tampa 79-60

The Florida State University cagers will close out their regular season schedule here this Saturday when they meet the Stetson Hatters in what promises to be the top home game of the year.

Coach Bud Kennedy's Seminoles who blasted the University of Tampa 79-60 Saturday night in the west campus gym for their fourth win of the season have shown a considerable improvement since their last meeting with the hatters and should be in top shape for the tilt.

GERARD LOU' FISCHER, who missed the games with Rollins, Stetson and Miami saw only limited action against the Spartans but should be able to go full steam in Friday's contest if needed.

The Seminoles who now own a 4-18 record, lost to the Stetson five in their first meeting this year by a score.

Kennedy's five starters, Captain Bob Whitmer, Tom MacLaughlin, Jerry Wetsbarger, Duane Gordon and newcomer Ham Wernke were the big guns in the win over Tampa.

WESTHAFER, playing his best game of the season paced the Indian scorers with 18 points while MacLaughlin, Wernke, Whitmer and Gordon contributed 16, 15, 14, and 12 respectively.

Whitmer who is rounding into his 1951 form played a heads up floor game along with Wernke who was starting his second game for the Seminoles.

At the end of the first period, the Seminoles held a margin, but the Spartans came back strong in the second quarter and by half-time had narrowed the Indians' lead to 33-31.

AFTER THE intermission, Kennedy's charges hit a hot streak and upped their lead to 47-33 at the close of the quarter, but a quick spurt by the Tampans early in the final quarter put them back in the ball game.

Holding only a 58-51 lead with six minutes to go the Seminoles, paced by MacLaughlin's consistency won going away.

The box score:

F. S. U.	fg	ft	TAMPA	fg	ft	tp
McLaughlin, f	7	2	Hollingsworth, f	1	4	6
Quinn	2	0	Harrell	3	0	6
Westbafer, f	6	6	Thrift	3	0	6
Gordon	4	4	Allen, f	4	0	8
Miller	1	0	Bryan	4	0	8
Whitmer, g	3	8	Christopher, g	3	0	6
Wernke, g	6	3	Dillon, g	0	0	0
			Oberg	1	0	2
			Bryan	1	0	2
Totals	31	17	79	Totals	26	8	60

NEW HEAD COACH—Ralph Matherly is the head coach of the FSU baseball team this year. The new coach will also act as Athletic Business Manager.

Baseball Team Slates 24 Tilts This Season

The Florida State baseball team will play a rugged 24-game schedule this Spring, according to an announcement Saturday by Athletic Director Howard G. Danford. Eighteen of the games will be played at home, Danford said.

Included in the 24-game slate are such well-known teams as Furman College of Greenbor, G., Georgia Tech, the University of Georgia, Miami, Amherst (Mass.) College, and Loyola of New Orleans.

Rounding out the schedule are games with state rivals Florida Southern, Tampa, Stetson, and Rollins College. Ten of the tilts will be played at night and the other 14, including the road games, will be daytime affairs.

Danford said that all the home games would be played in Tallahassee's Centennial Field with the exception of the Loyola game which will be played at the West Campus field.

March 17—Kenson, here	2:30
March 18—Kenson, here	2:30
March 21—Georgia, here	2:45
March 22—Georgia, here	2:45
March 24—Georgia Tech, here	2:45
March 25—Furman, here	2:45
March 26—Loyola, here	2:45
March 28—Loyola, here	2:45
April 1—Miami, here	2:45
April 2—Miami, here	2:45
April 11—Stetson, there	2:30
April 12—Stetson, there	2:30
April 14—Tampa, there	2:30
April 15—Tamp, there	2:30
April 18—Tampa, here	2:45
April 19—Tampa, here	2:45
April 25—Fla. Southern, there	2:30
April 26—Fla. Southern, there	2:30
May 2—Rollins, here	2:30
May 3—Fla. Southern, here	2:30
May 7—Stetson, here	2:30
May 9—Rollins, there	2:30
May 16—Stetson, here	2:30
May 17—Stetson, here	2:30

Note: March 31 game with Loyola will be played in New Orleans. All other home games at Centennial Field.

Golds Win Over Garnets In State A.A.U. Gym Meet

The Florida State University Gold team outscored the FSU Garnets 123½ to 102 t o win the State AAU open GymnasticsChampionship here Saturday night.

Noble Enzes, competing as a one man team for the University of Florida, scored 13 points to take third place.

FSU COACH, Hartley Price, who divided his Seminoles into two teams for the meet, said that "working against each other, they were more nervous than if they had been competing against outside teams."

Coach Price praised Jack Miles and Joe Regna for their performances and added that "Bill Roetzheim was as reliable as ever to-day." Price said also, he believed all three would have made the Olympic team Saturday night.

ROETZHEIM, National all around champion and this country's top candidate for the Olympics, captured the All-Around had firsts in the Horizontal Bar and Calisthenics and was second in the Side Horse and Parallel Bars.

Miles finished second in the all-around followed by Don Holder, Joe Perina, Carmine Regna and Pat Signorelli. Tumbling and Trampoline artist Dick Plasencia, Gymnastic and Tra Specialties handily.

Georgia Military Academy won the Junior Division title with 58 points followed by Enzes of Florida with 32 and the Orlando gymnastics club was third with 9.

In the Under 16 Novice, Druid Hills Panthers scored their first—scoring 98½ points. G.M.A. was second with 46 and Decatur High, also of Atlanta, finished in third place with 46 points.

Druid Hills also took first in the 16 Novice running up 80 points, followed by the Atlanta YMCA. G.M.A. and the Orlando entry.

Coach Price estimated that between 700 and 800 persons attended the all day meet.

Results:

1—Dick Wells (FSU); 3—John Barsch (FSU), 52.6.

100-yards back stroke: 1—Patterson (Ga.); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Jack Burnett (Ga.). Time 1:21.

200-yards Breast stroke: 1—Gorst (Ga.); 2—Hensinger (Ga.); 3—Wilson Gardner (FSU). 2:23.5.

440-yards free style: 1—Jack Burnett (Ga.); 2—Bob Bryan (Ga.); 3—Don Hoad (FSU). 5:21.

400-yards free style relay: 1—Georgia (Hitch, Jordan, Patterson, Cooper) 3:30.1.

UP THE ROPE—Hand over hand goes Jack Sharp of Hartley Price's champion-ship gym team. This picture was snapped in the FSU gymnasium during the recent Florida AAU gym meet.

Georgia Breaks FSU Tank Streak

FSU's tank squad suffered its first loss in over two years of dual meet competition last Saturday when the strong U of Georgia, Bulldogs overpowered the Seminoles 55-29.

The Seminoles had tied Georgia 42-42 here earlier in the season. The Bulldogs, however, were not to be denied in their home pool and State, leading after the second event, fell behind in the 50 yd. sprint and never regained winning form.

After the Seminoles loss to Georgia, Coach "Bim" Stults was not optimistic on the team's chances against Miami here this Saturday. "We're going to have to work twice as hard this week," Stults stated. So State will run all over us."

Miami is said to have their strongest team since the days of Dick Fetterman as All-American backstroker.

Individual results:

100-yard free style relay: 1—Georgia (Patterson, Hensinger, Stigle) 1:03.2.

200-yard free style: 1—Walt Jordan (FSU); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Breckman (Ga.). Time 2:24.

50-yards free style: 1—Cooper (Ga.); 2—Harris (Ga.); 3—John Barsch (FSU). :26.

100-yards individual medley: 1—Gower (Ga.); 2—Pat Dunn-Rankin (FSU); 3—Don Kanase (FSU). 1:18.5

Diving: 1—Witalis (Ga.) 117.2 points; 2—Harris (Ga.) 41.7; 3—Pat Farrell (FSU) 109.15.

400-yards free style: 1—Cooper (Ga.); 2—Dick Wells (FSU); 3—John Barsch (FSU). 5:24.

440-yards back stroke: 1—Patterson (Ga.); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Jack Burnett (Ga.). 5:57.

200-yards Breast stroke: 1—Gorst (Ga.); 2—Hensinger (Ga.); 3—Wilson Gardner (FSU). 2:23.5.

440-yards free style: 1—Jack Burnett (Ga.); 2—Bob Bryan (Ga.); 3—Don Hoad (FSU). 5:21.

400-yards free style relay: 1—Georgia (Hitch, Jordan, Patterson, Cooper) 3:30.1.

Undergraduates' Train For Marines

Many Florida State undergraduates are eligible for U. S. Marine Corps officer training.

All students are pursuing a course of instruction leading to a degree in Medicine or Theology may apply for the Officer Candidate course for seniors, the Platoon Leaders Class for all other male students or the Women Officers Training Class for women graduates in Journalism. Male students are draft deferred during their four-year college career.

Those particularly concerning U. S. Marine Corps commissions contact the office of Personnel Records, 204 Westcott or write Captain J. W. Donnell, U. S. M. C. Officers Procurement, U. S. Naval Base, Atlanta, Georgia.

'Martin Eden' Is Second Free Film

The second in a series of free movie sponsored by The University Recreation Association will be Jack London's "The Adventures of Martin Eden," starring Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor, and Evelyn Keyes.

The movie will be shown at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Thirty-day at Senior hall, South Cawthon and Wall Halls on Thursday and respectively. It will be shown at 8 p.m. in Magnolia Friday night and at the same time in the Lambda recreation room on Saturday night.

The story is one of London's tales of the sea and the men who tried to sail her. Serving under the grim, cold tyranny of Captain Hazan, Martin Eden seeks reforms and violently fights for a fellow seaman charged with mutiny. The publication of a novel, "The Death Wason," is his way of getting the light of publicity to eliminate an intolerable situation.

Tennis Squad Facing Tough 1952 Schedule

The FSU tennis squad will play the toughest schedule in the history of the school this spring.

Athletic Director Howard G. Danford released a partial slate Saturday that includes such well known teams as Indiana University, Rollins College, the University of Michigan, Georgia Rutgers University, Miami, the University of Dayton and Loyola of New Orleans.

Rounding out the schedule are Emory University, Mercer and Florida Southern College. Danford said that four or five more matches would be added to the already announced.

Nine of the matches will be played on the newly completed varsity courts located east of the gymnasium building according to coach Donald Loucks.

"We will be lucky to win three matches on that schedule," Loucks said, but added, "It will be fine competition for our squad," which is made up largely of Freshmen and Sophomores."

The schedule:

March 25—Rutgers, here	2:30
March 27—Open, here	2:30
March 28—Open, here	2:30
March 29—Concord, here	2:30
March 31—Concord, here	2:30
April 2—Mercer, there	2:30
April 3—Georgia, there	2:30
April 4—Emory, there	2:30
April 5—Georgia, there	2:30
April 7—Miami, here	2:30
April 10—Dayton, here	2:30
April 11—Dayton, here	2:30
April 26—Miami, here	2:30
May 2—Rollins, there	2:30
May 3—Rollins, there	2:30

Touch Football Now Underway

Intramural touch football went into full swing yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with four games scheduled in the dormitory league. Four more contests are scheduled for tomorrow.

Regular football rules will govern the games and a few excerpts will be found in the Intramural Handbook.

All games will start at 5. Teams reporting more than 10 minutes late will forfeit the contest. The games will consist of two half-time 15 minutes each.

Field 1 west of the football practice field, Field 4 is south of Field 3 Field 3 is east of the track and Field 6 is south of the Engineering Building.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

4 P.M.—Jen	Sch — NC
4 P.M.—Jen	Sch — Sch

TUESDAY'S SCHEDULE

5 P.M.—Jen	Mag. A — Sch
5 P.M.—Jen	Mag. A — Sch

Scientist to Lecture On Gulf of Mexico

Dr. Francis P. Shepard of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography La Jolla, Calif., will speak on "Recent Sediments of the Gulf of Mexico" in the science lecture hall next Thursday at 8 p.m.

The talk is sponsored by the Geology club of the Oceanographic Institute and Southeastern Geological Society and is open to students and the general public.

Brilliantly NEW for '52!

CHEVROLET

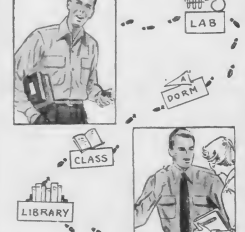
LOWEST PRICED IN ITS FIELD!

This big, beautiful Chevrolet Bel Air—like so many other Chevrolet body types—has far more than any comparable model in its field!

(Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

Finest Features in Its Field!

The Only Fine Cars PRICED SO LOW!



Check them over, one by one, all the things you want in your next car. Then come in, examine and drive this big, bright, beautiful Chevrolet for '52! We believe you'll agree you've found your car; and we know that you'll discover that Chevrolet offers the most fine car features at the lowest cost. For here are the only fine cars priced so low. Brilliantly new in styling . . . outstandingly fine in quality . . . and lowest-priced line in their field! Come in—now!

More people buy Chevrolets than any other car!

*Combinations of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!

Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

A fellow sure gets around in an ARROW GABANARO!

America's favorite sports shirt—with the sensational Arafold collar you can wear open or closed—Gabanaro sees you through in style and in comfort!

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

most versatile shirt you can own...

Arrow Gabanaro

with sensational, extra-comfortable Arafold collar!

Man, what a shirt! Tailored to a "T" of hand washable rayon gabardine, it looks right anywhere. Available in your exact sleeve length and collar size. It feels right any time. Wear it with or without a tie, thanks to that Arafold collar. In all the smartest solid shades. Stop in and see Gabanaro today!

Mendelson's

Intelligent Faith Week To Begin Sunday
See Page One

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 32

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Election Qualifying Begins Monday
See Page One

Friday, February 22, 1952

F Week Begins Sunday With Speakers Introduced

Tallahassee Churches Hold Services To Inaugurate Religious Gatherings

Intelligent Faith Week begins Sunday with services in Tallahassee churches and a "Meet the Speakers" session Sunday afternoon at 3 in the Green speakers, provided by Florida Chain of Missions, to lead seminars, classroom discussions and dormitory sessions during the week, which ends Wednesday.

THE SPEAKERS will also appear at faculty luncheons Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Lafayette room. The Rev. Martin Niemoeller, German Lutheran pastor, will speak at Monday and Tuesday luncheons, with a forum added Wednesday.

Monday night, speakers will meet with students in sorority and fraternity houses. These sessions were planned by Shirley Jones.

TUESDAY NIGHT a general session, open to all students and faculty, will be held in Opperman Music auditorium, followed by discussions with speakers in dormitories.

Seminars will be held Monday and Tuesday afternoons on a variety of topics. Schedules of the seminars will be found in the IF Week bulletin distributed yesterday.

Students desiring personal interviews with speakers can arrange times at booths set up in the lobbies of buildings and in the Seminole club. Ruth Warrell, who heads the arrangements committee, will be booth be open Sunday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday.

SPEAKERS WILL be housed in student religious houses and guest rooms in the Tallahassee area.

Five speakers are missionaries in foreign countries, representing Uruguay, the Orient, India, Belgian Congo and European countries.

Speakers will also fill a number of classes during the week and will meet students at breakfasts each morning in the commuter

(Continued on Page 4)

DIRECTOR—The Rev. Edward H. Johnson, general secretary of the Student Christian Movement, will direct "IF" week activities which start Sunday.

Court Chairman Resigns Office

Jim Ball announced today his resignation as Chairman of Men's and Judicial Courts, both U. G. A. offices.

Jim joins a line of Student Government officials who have resigned their offices since the beginning of the year. Among those is a fraternity brother, Jim Clark, who recently resigned his position as Vice-President of the University Government.

PRESSING STUDIES and doctors orders are the reasons Jim offers for his decision to surrender one of the UGA's most important and responsible positions.

Confronted with rumors that he might be resigning because of reported dissension between the court members and certain administration officials, Jim clearly emphasized that there was no animosity on his part whatsoever. "While there have been frequent differences of opinion between the court members and the administration," he stated, "there has never been any serious conflict as far as I know, and no ill-feeling on the part of anyone."

JIM STATED that the Men's and Judicial Courts have shown marked improvement since the beginning of the school year, and that although there is still much room for criticism, problems are being constantly studied and solved.

In his letter of resignation to Will Pennell, UGA President, dated Feb. 13, Jim said, ". . . I wish to express my feeling with the courts this past semester and I am pleased with the progress that has been made in strengthening the courts to the position they should attain.

"I HAVE BEEN disturbed by the amount of bitterness that the courts' work has been carried over from past years by so many students. The courts can undoubtedly made mistakes this year, but I say students, the mistakes were honest ones and unintentional.

"I suppose," he continued, "that it would be fashionable to blast the administration, but I do not see any benefit being derived from such action and I do not plan to do so.

". . . It students would only understand that what is frequently termed as 'administration interference' is actually the administration exercising their prerogative of supervision, since the administration has all of the responsibility for the decisions we make."

Patty Mims, Chairman of Women's Judiciary, will assume the vacated office as Chief Justice Pro-Tem until a new Chairman can be elected.

Art Professor Has Painting Exhibited

Professor William Boughton, of the art department, will have his painting, "Spongers Landing," exhibited by the Watercolor Society of Alabama in the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts during its Twelfth Jury Exhibition, Feb. 2-28.

Women's Gov't Fills Vacancies

Mary Helen Speed and Judy Simpkins were elected Wednesday to serve as Vice-President in Charge of Women's Affairs and senate clerk, respectively, in the absence of Betty Rich and Mae Gaubert later in the afternoon.

Both the summers was formally elected to fill the position of Vice-President in Charge of Women's Affairs, resigned the position after accepting an office of senior pin in University senate.

THE FRESHMAN orientation committee was also elected. Ellen Terry Stein, alternate from Brian, Margaret Summers from Thomas alternate, from Reynolds; Mary Helen Speed, alternate from Jennie Murphree; Arlene Avice, Joan Webb, alternate from the dorms at large.

Training the new Junior Counselors and choosing the new counselors for the next year will be the job of the newly elected girls," announced Mae Gaubert, former council member.

The women's senate voted the addition of a new clarification office to the senior automobile ruling that automobiles may not be taken when returning from out of town trips on Sunday night.

WHETHER WOMEN senators for summer school would be elected at the end of the regular school year or at the beginning of a summer school was also discussed.

Betty Rich, the vice president, said the women to attend the nominations committee meeting to better understand the cabinet offices being presented in council next week.

Lorson Will Speak To Business Class

Edwin Larson, State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner, will speak before School of Business students Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the West Campus Student Union.

He will speak to students in the insurance and real estate department on the duties and powers of the state in the regulation of insurance.

Senate Hears Bill Proposing Cabinet System

A bill abolishing the University Council and setting up a cabinet system of government in the University Government Association was read for the first time in the University Senate last Tuesday.

Introduced as an amendment by Senator Mary Ruth Summers to Constitution Review Committee, the bill defined the executive branch of government, listed the the duties and powers of the president and other executive officers and named the cabinet posts.

CABINET OFFICERS which would be included are Attorney General, Secretary of Elections, Secretary of Labor, Secretary of Finance, Secretary of Organizations, Secretary of Recreational Affairs, Pornona Chairman and Chairman of the Honor Committee.

The part of the proposed law which received greatest attention in Senate Tuesday was the section describing UGA duties as Attorney General. The office was proposed in large part because of dissatisfaction with the present court system.

UNDER THE present system the court prosecutes the defendant" said Summers, "and then the court investigates him and he has to prove his innocence before he can be found guilty.

"In other words the court is prejudiced. This system is unfair and definitely un-American. The court should pass judgment only on evidence presented at the trial."

THE SENATE found it necessary to amend the bill before it could reading "The Attorney General shall be in charge of all prosecutions of students accused of violating the laws of the Student Body."

Ted Steinmerer, Vice-President in charge of Men's Affairs, felt that the duties would be impossible if "Put it in concrete words you can understand 10 years from now," he said.

THE SECTION was amended "The Attorney General shall be in charge of gathering and presenting the University Government's evidence in case against students accused of violating the laws of the UGA."

In other business, the Senate received a report by Jere Salyers that the council had not met whether the university is still making traffic tickets in cases of restricted parking.

THE MATTER of zonins has been handing fire since last fall. The last time the Senate took much action on it was when it set up the Student Traffic Court to handle most cases but to leave it in the administration's hands for delicate zoning violations.

Salyers reported that the Student Court is still functioning but that no cases of students being sent to the Tallahassee court for staff.

(Continued on Page 4)

Thursday Set As Last Day For Qualifying

New Qualifying Dates Mean Candidates Have One Less Day to File

A change in qualifying dates of the University Government association elections came about through the action of the University Council Tuesday so that candidates' names may appear in the Friday Flambeau, Feb. 28. This will leave one day less for qualifying.

The University Council also unanimously voted to defer Senator elections until the class elections. The reason for the change was that some defeated candidates in the UGA elections made competent candidates for the Senate positions.

STUDENTS MAY turn in qualification blanks to the U.G.A. office from Monday at 3 p.m. until Thursday, Feb. 28, at 5 p.m. Blanks may be obtained from the Student Welfare office in room 202 in Westcott.

Carl Epperson, newly appointed elections chairman, stated that campaigning may not commence nor posters put up until the qualifying blanks have been turned in.

ALL CANDIDATES may use the facilities of WFSU for campaign speeches. It has also been announced that the Omicron Delta Kappa men's honorary will hold rallies for the campaigners.

No campaign literature of any kind shall be permitted within the buildings on the campus where the ballot boxes are located. Epperson said yesterday afternoon. He also said that no posters will be allowed to be posted on the trees.

GRADE AVERAGE qualifications are that a student maintain a 1.5 grade average in all major offices.

Expenditures of the president this year shall not exceed $25; the vice-president, $27.50; editors, $20; secretary, $17.50; treasurer, $17.50 and all others $10.

The president of the U.G.A. must be a senior, the three vice-presidents juniors or seniors.

THE SECRETARY and treasurer should be juniors, the forums chairman a junior or senior.

The chief justice and University court must be a senior, the chairman of judicial a junior or senior. Chairman of Sandspur shall be a junior or senior.

The three publications editors are not limited by class standing.

All other offices considered to be minor offices require only a one point average.

Flambeau Court Chief

Justice must have had one year experience as honor court or judiciary. Judiciary chairman must have had one year experience on the honor court, judiciary or traffic court.

Sandspur chairman is required to have experience on two productions.

The Department of Commerce covers a wide range of governmental offices. Included among these under the overall direction of Secretary Sawyer and his departments are the Maritime Administration, National Production Authority Bureau of Public Roads, Civil Aeronautics Administration and National Bureau of Standards.

Final Curtain Falls Tonight On Sandspur Performance

Tomorrow's Dance Features Vaughn Monroe's Orchestra

The final showing of the annual Sandspur production will go on tonight with Florida State University in the national spotlight tomorrow night when radio star Vaughn Monroe plays for the annual dance and presents his radio show over NBC.

JIM DEAS, business manager, predicted a sell-out for tonight's curtain show. There will be two shows tonight, one at 7 and one at 9:30.

Tickets for the dance went on sale to the public earlier this week to insure a complete sell out, Deas said.

The $2 dance tickets are still being sold in the Amber House, Seed Shop, Herve's Jewelry, Book Store, Jenkins' Music Store, Maycrest and the Leon High School Key Club. Cashiers at the campus locations will be handling the ticket sales.

A Cadillac convertible caravan will meet radio star Vaughn Monroe at the Tallahassee airport. Upon his arrival in Tallahassee,

DURING HIS free time, Monroe will visit the various sorority houses while the Moonmaids will be guests on fraternity row at the same time. Plans for pictures to be made with the two groups are slated for later this afternoon.

The dance and Caravan broadcast Saturday night will be the last appearance of the Sandspur week program. Featuring the FSU Alma Mater and the Pat Boone Song, Monroe's Caravan show will be presented over the National Broadcasting Company through 10 stations in Florida and 170 stations throughout the United States.

RULES OF NBC demand that all doors to the Suwannee room be closed 15 minutes before the show starts.

Monroe was signed for the dance at $4 000. The Artist Series broadcasting company and the Sandspur has transferred $500 to the Artist Series to absorb any loss that may result from the sale of tickets.

Ticket underwriting is more or less a bond to support the expected receipts," said Mellon. Opperman Music hall is determine the winning pair, Bass said.

IN ADDITION the winners will receive a pass to the State Theater for a month. The girl will receive a nylon blouse, from the Vogue and $5.00 in merchandise from Paul Turner's

The male winner will receive a Van Heusen Sport Shirt from Turner's and a Marlboro sport shirt from Rick's Toggery and many others.

The preliminary contest will be Thursday, Feb. 28th and the location will be announced in the Tuesday edition of the Flambeau. Finals will be Thursday, Feb. 28th in the Music Hall. Music will be furnished by a combo made up of FSU students.

TWO FACULTY members and one member of the student body will judge the contest. The selection will consider voice quality, stage presence and interpretation.

WFSU will broadcast the finals on Thursday evening in both local and area groups. Everyone is invited to attend the finals.

EVELYNE WHO is interested in this contest is urged to submit an application at once. Her name "Tommy Tucker Time" in care of WFSU in the Longmire building.

Permission to broadcast the recitals with the Tucker Band also has been received and the winner will be presented with a recording of the event. Tucker is a famous recording star of Columbia and MGM records.

"It will be an honor for any FSU student to sing with this fine orchestra," Bass stated, "and we sincerely urge all students with singing ability to join in the contests."

Charles Sawyer Speaks Monday

Commerce Secretary To Address Students

Governor Fuller Warren, his cabinet, Dr. Doak S. Campbell, President of FSU and school officials and officers of the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce will be at the local airport Monday, Feb. 25 to greet Charles Sawyer, United States Secretary of Commerce.

The group will be conducted by a police escort to Opperman Music hall where Mr. Sawyer will speak at 10 a.m. to the students marking the formal opening of a new course at FSU, "A Case Study of a Federal Department."

ALL ADMITTANCES to the Opperman hall are to be before 9:50 a.m. Monday. Students will be in the ballot boxes are located. Expenses and excuses to do so will be given according to the discretion of the individual instructors. It has been announced by Charles Mayo, registrar.

It is hoped that as many Social Science students will attend the lecture as possible.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Wilson K. Doyle, Dean of the School of Public Administration, he will deal with the duties of public officials and their place in the Federal government. The two-week period following Mr. Sawyer's address will be devoted to a series of lectures from key officials of that department. During this time a selected display of publications of the department will be made available to the students of the University.

Background lectures in preparation for this event have been given the students in the School of Public Administration. Dr. Doyle announced.

FOLLOWING HIS address, Sawyer will hold a press conference in his parlor room at the Duval Hotel at 11. At 1 p.m. he will be a guest of honor and speaker at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the ballroom of the Duval. The FSU Collegians will provide the music for the luncheon.

SANDSPUR CO-STARS—Claire Kenyon and Jack Watkins are shown above in a scene from "This Is The Life" which is playing tonight at 7 and 9:30 p.m. for the last times.

Vaughn Monroe Began Career at Age Eleven

Bandleader star of radio and screen, Vaughn Monroe, who will appear at the Sandspur dance Saturday night in the Suwannee Room began his musical career in Kent, Ohio at the age of 11.

Climaxing Sandspur weekend, he will entertain Florida State University on his Camel show, Saturday at 10 p. m. over 170 stations in the nation including those in Florida.

HIS APPEARANCE here will include his twenty-eight piece orchestra and two vocal groups, the Moonmaids and Moonmen.

When most boys are collecting sling shots and snakes, Vaughn came home one day with a battered trumpet, won in a merchandise trade with "the kid down the street."

He took up the instrument seriously and eventually became proficient enough to win a statewide championship and a contest in Wisconsin when he was fourteen.

DURING HIS high school years he saved for college by playing with local bands. One such assignation was called Gibby Lockard's Jazz Orgnatra, who appeared onstage wearing white knickers and blazers with the monogram GLJ on them.

His interest in the trumpet then gave way to voice culture. At Carnegie Tech's School of Music he embarked on a course of study aimed at a career in the opera but he was forced to leave school and return to his planful.

VAUGHN TOOK his "boot-trainin'" in a series of one-night stands from Boston to Texas. First step in the long climb to fame came when he joined Jack Marshard's band and began his "crooning" career.

Marshard started the idea developing Vaughn into a singing bandleader personality. The Monroe band made its debut in 1940.

BY 1945 his recordings of "There I've Said It Again" and "Run and Coca Cola" sold 1,200,000 copies.

The bandleader, one of the celebrities for his collection of hobbies, possesses valuable model trains, pipe collecting, diving and motorcycling. He is a licensed flyer and owns his own Luscombe 15 plane, which he uses all the time when he is on the road.

Vocal Contest Is Being Held

The two top vocalists of Florida State University will have an opportunity to sing with the nationally famous Tommy Tucker orchestra at the State Theater next March 3, it was announced yesterday by Bill Bass, assistant program director of WFSU.

A contest will be held next week in Opperman music hall to determine the winning pair, Bass said.

IN ADDITION the winners will receive a pass to the State Theater for a month. The girl will receive a nylon blouse, from the Vogue and $5.00 in merchandise from Paul Turner's

The male winner will receive a Van Heusen Sport Shirt from Turner's and a Marlboro sport shirt from Rick's Toggery and many others.

The preliminary contest will be Thursday, Feb. 28th and the location will be announced in the Tuesday edition of the Flambeau. Finals will be Thursday, Feb. 28th in the Music Hall. Music will be furnished by a combo made up of FSU students.

TWO FACULTY members and one member of the student body will judge the contest. The selection will consider voice quality, stage presence and interpretation.

WFSU will broadcast the finals on Thursday evening in both local and area groups. Everyone is invited to attend the finals.

EVELYNE WHO is interested in this contest is urged to submit an application at once. Her name "Tommy Tucker Time" in care of WFSU in the Longmire building.

Permission to broadcast the recitals with the Tucker Band also has been received and the winner will be presented with a recording of the event. Tucker is a famous recording star of Columbia and MGM records.

"It will be an honor for any FSU student to sing with this fine orchestra," Bass stated, "and we sincerely urge all students with singing ability to join in the contests."

Thomas New Editor

The University Choral Society will accept former Editor Gus Thomas as conductor, replacing Dr. Claude Thomas appointed as acting editor.

Classes will act with the full authority of editor.

Appointed as managing editor to replace Claudia's former position was Rebecca Brown Rebeca

SANDSPUR MOOPERS—Members of the Sandspur dance troupe are shown getting into shape for the final two performances of the production. The show has been playing in the Opperman Music Hall since Wednesday.

SANDSPUR REVIEWED

Excellent Parts Inaccurately Fused

BY JUNE MORGAN

The 1952 Sandspur "This Is the Life" involved many professional productions in lighting technique, music, scenery effects and comedy routines when it opened Wednesday night in the Music hall. The previously scheduled, Tuesday evening performance was postponed so a special rehearsal could be held, according to producer Bill Backus.

The show Wednesday was a perfect example of many excellent parts incompletely inaccurately fused. Dance routines, songs and comedians were spaced but the breaks between scenes were so long that its effect was dulled.

HIGH POINT of "This Is the Life" as audience reaction hit a peak, was Betie Mullen's enchanting physical education ma-ho's rendition. "This Is Love" From that point the show took an upswing for a perfect third act. Jack Watkins displayed an excellent voice and characterization in the leading role of Danny.

Support from his leading lady Claire Kenyon was questionable.

(Continued on Page 4)

President Pennell Reviews Ten Steps of UGA Progress

The student government officers have completed one semester of service to the students. They are not paid for their jobs. They work out of a willingness to work. How much have they done?

The Flambeau has asked Will Pennell, president of University Government Association, to give a resume of the accomplishments of your student government during the past semester.

In our minds, we usually think of this time of the school year as a "dead duck" period, where student government processinates and does little work, but I assure you that it is not the aim of your student government to take a lackadaisical attitude for many things are in the process of becoming a reality in an effort to meet the needs of the student body.

During the past year, your student government, with its able leaders and competent committee chairmen, has much time and energy to carrying on the regular routine duties of student government.

One of the first moves of student government during the past year was to interweave a cross-representation of the student body into all of its various committees.

Secondly, form letters were sent out to the active organizations on each campus in a sincere effort to find out what is needed at FSU and if possible to add constructive criticism. This proved to be of tremendous help, for many seemingly trivial things were brought to the attention of your student government and whenever possible, positive action was taken to meet these needs.

Third, students now have a definite voice in the student activity fee with six voting members (as compared to five voting members the administration) on the yearly Budget Committee. This committee economized all of the budgets before raising the student activity fee and has a tremendous job trying in allocating the funds. Also, any student desiring to see a breakdown of the student activity fee may do so at any time.

Fourth, the students have the privilege of using athletic and recreational equipment on our East Campus. This was brought about by Dr. Dan Danford's untiring effor such equipment for the men from the West Campus gymnasium.

Fifth, an organized pep squad has been created under the able guidance of the cheerleaders and the elected chairman of the pep squad.

Six, your student government has worked hard in trying to get FSU in a higher berth in its athletic relationships. It is now a matter of getting some of the larger schools to schedule FSU, but recognition is needed from the state newspapers. This can be brought about by efforts of the individual students in requesting their hometown newspapers to give more recognition to an up and coming state university.

Seven, we are initiating a discount buying service for the students. A meeting with the local merchants' association will be held soon and it is hoped that positive action will be taken in this direction.

Eight, student government has started planning a calendar of events for the purpose of publicizing various activities on our campus and also to create more social activities at appropriate times.

Nine, in an effort to publicize student government, the Flambeau has cooperated wholeheartedly in its news coverage and also WFSU has afforded us air time for a forum each week.

Ten, we have been successful in our request to the administration to have two voting student members on the Athletic Committee, the Concert Committee, the Recitals, Plays, Lectures and Art Exhibits Committee, and Longmire Building Committee and the West Campus Student Union Committee.

Your student government representatives have done a semester of hard work and are prepared to continue the active job of putting to use their platforms and policies. This year our student council has conscientious and sincere workers who have done their best to organize and coordinate the activities of our school. We feel that a compact, unified group acting as a policy-making and administrative body to make over all plans to be carried out by the student body.

But student government is a farce unless the school as a whole is solidly behind the student council. Through no stretch of the imagination can we hope to carry out all the plans made by this group of eleven leaders. So therefore, the mere implication of the name student government and its functions shall not be able to meet the needs unless it has the continued support and cooperation of the student body.

As far as the activities of the student body is concerned, the solution is a unified student body—a student body interested in student activities and energetic towards putting them over.

Cooperation is the keynote to success of this year's student council as well as those in the future, but more important, it is the keynote for a successful school year.

● ON STAGE!

From all opinion, Sandspur has produced a good, enjoyable musical. It is not professional and certainly not the best a college campus can produce.

If every situation were ideal, and students were to see the show and found fault, then they could complain rightly. But when a small percentage of the students slave like beavers to produce a laughable, melodyfilled musical, they merit recognition.

Sandspur 1952, the sixth annual production, met many difficulties. They were cramped for space to rehearse. They had the music to be scheduled for several practice sessions only to have the permission withdrawn, always at the last moment. They were limited financially.

These were affected by the student apathy, as is every organization.

But, only by some students sacrificing free time and spending much effort on the production has show been produced.

Here's a special nod to Sandspur 1952, the members of the cast, orchestra, and stage crew who worked so hard to help keep these difficulties at a MINIMUM.

Best of luck on your final night!

● AN EXAMPLE

Today we celebrate the birthday of George Washington, statesman, soldier, philosopher.

The banks will close, elementary school children will trace his picture in crayon or hear the story of the cherry tree, but little reflection will be given to his effect upon American democracy.

Someone certainly needs to remember the experiment in democracy in which Washington took part.

With mink coats and ship scandals galore, corruption, and political self-pushing the news, the potential candidates might well take an example at the character that makes a MAN, symbolized in George Washington, America's great statesman.

● SHORT OF CASH!

Short of cash!

A question from an IQ of -3, but the solution to the problem won't require brains, just a few minutes.

If you are due a refund from your income tax 1951 be sure and claim it.

Any student who earned a salary in 1951 totaling less than $600 is not due to pay any income tax.

If you worked part time or in the summer, and if your employer withheld income from your pay check (which he surely did) you are due a refund. To obtain your tidy return fill out Form 1040.

The accounting department of the School of Business or the representative in Westcott will be glad to assist all students with their forms.

● IN TROUBLED TIMES

No one doubts that two plus two equals four. Wa learned that long ago. Most of us have forgotten just when. We know that the equation works because we have proved it every day.

We believe in that equation, then, and we're going to call the wagon for anyone who insists on telling us that two plus two equals five. It just isn't so.

Most of us believe in a lot more things than this bit of first-grade knowledge, things that are a lot deeper and more complex, but which do not stand up to proof.

Next week is Intelligent Faith Week. Faith is something closely akin to belief, but usually denotes belief in something we cannot put down on paper. We can take two apples and put two more apples with them and see four apples, but we can't see physically or put on paper democracy, which we all believe in and have faith in.

So it is with man's spiritual faith, which is the emphasis of Intelligent Faith Week. It defies scientific analysis, but anyone who experiences spiritual faith usually puts more value on it than on a simple equation.

Like the arithmetic equation, this spiritual faith has found itself in life every day. And like the arithmetic equation, the right numbers have to be added. Faith has no absolute answer that includes every person, but there is a correct answer for every person.

Our problem is to find that answer, and finding a correct answer for spiritual faith requires intelligent study. The purpose of the programs of Intelligent Faith Week is to help us, through an Intelligent study, to add the numbers that will produce correct answers in our lives.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

ELECTION FEVER, FREE BEER AND EGOS

BY ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

Election fever has the campus speculating on which students will run for what offices and what the odds will be.

Three persons have announced unofficially that they are candidates for the highest student political office, president of University Government Association. They are Jere Sykes, Ted Steinmeyer and Mary Ruth Simmers. Other students claim Bill Hess, Bill Sandspur and John Lohmeyer are dark-horse candidates in the president's race.

Jere Sykes, who has risen from a senator to UGA Vice-President in one short year, is said to be expected to pull a large male vote plus the sorority block votes. Jere was vice-president pro-tem of the UGA and received the seat when Jim Kirk resigned.

Ted Steinmeyer, an active participant in student government since his freshman year is, at present, vice-president in charge of men's affairs and a member of executive council. Ted is expected to appeal to a large fraternity block vote and the independent men's vote.

Mary Ruth Simmers, one of the more active senators, has been on student government her entire three years. The only girl in the race so far, rumors say Mary Ruth has received a confidence vote from the independent women students.

However, many men students have pledged support of the able junior senator.

Jim Fleischer is going to poll all students running for the top office. The poll will contain questions on matters affecting all the students. In the past, candidates have received the confidences of the students in a majority vote then failed to live up to their campaigns.

The poll will ask specific questions. The results will be published in the Flambeau and will show how the candidates stand on the various issues.

What is this? Overheard this

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Bace Hare, Tom Sands
Sports Editor ..... Jim Sands
Rewrite Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... Carol Bass
Assistant Sports Editor ..... June Morgan
Photographer ..... Judy Sorrell

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Staff ..... Mary Jo Hall, Wallace Dynes, Kay Leander, Ann Davis, Nancy Wakefield, Fa Pittman, Ann Harlan

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-300, Ext. 6401 second Floor, Aloumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

SEMINOLE SCENES

KILGORE MISSED THE GOV'RNOR'S TALK

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

"Serve" is fledgling Tallahassean —and I use a quote from Governor Fuller Warren—went down the drain Tuesday night in the state building where all good tax money goes so as to how candidates for budget commission meetings, etc. etc. in this state of ours are elected.

Dr. Sidney Kobre, Journalism School, was invited to attend our little adventure into state government. We were well received by Mrs. Ruth Kelly, aide and Secretary of State R. A. Gray and had to wait a long time off during and before the meetings to explain procedures and backround that we could "sink" and usually didn't—understand.

Warren told the group that: "Next to the ballot box, I think that of the most important instruments for the intelligent voter to carry out all the plans made by this group of eleven leaders. So therefore, the mere implication of the name student government and its functions shall not be able to meet the needs unless it has the continued support and cooperation of the student body.

As far as the activities of the student body is concerned, the solution is a unified student body—a student body interested in student activities and energetic towards putting them over."

Warren told the group that: "Next to the ballot box, I think that of the most important instruments for the intelligent voter to carry out course we think that, too, or we would have at that time been planning a game of cards with the gang instead of sitting in big leather chairs off which you kept sliding.

The head clerk-snobbing "yellow" Kilgore College that only clans and lawyers don't fall themselves "gentlemen"—and gave us a little lecture on accuracy in the press, which I hope we will follow. Sorry, Mr. Kilgore, fortunately or unfortunately, arrived a bit late to see the Governor's pep talk to the group.

The officials who sat around the table took up business on everything from an archaeological mound to the approval of some appropriations to the tune of $27,020.-12. I have been wondering ever since what the twelve cents was.

Once or twice a most unpleasant thought would happen. The University of Florida was brought up for discussion about a proposed bill. Mrs. Kelly, like ladies and gentlemen, like future journalists of the world, or trying to, we listened unbiased, clear - headed and refrained from the boos, hisses and cheers at "Down with the Gators!" After all the ribbing Warren got, I don't think that takes will power, you're crazy.

Most of us had begun taking notes as fast as we could after the governor said, "Are you in session - all - in - favor - say - aye - aye - opposed - no - AP-PROVED!" Pencils produced and eyes flew open. Most of us didn't get the things were rosed to in that mad - dash - a - hurry much less that a man could say that much without stuttering. Of course by the time anybody did it breathe it was on the next item in the agenda. A case of say "aye" and "nay" is all it takes to hold your peace, justified by the fact that so much is routine and clear-cut matter of decision.

Once the conversation ran something like this:

"Sah, we have a bout $100,-000 for expenditures in such-and-such a matter."

"Well, it's gone over. Say, $110,000."

Wave of the hand. "Hmm . . . well, approximately $100,-000."

It was great fun for us hungry-eyed, pencil-chewing journalism students to watch them bat about mere $100,000 in casual conversations. I overheard one wistful remark: "Why, I'd like to have some of that over here where we are toasting it about."

After many of the other business was cleared away, a small auction of land was held. We were darling after the auctioning a bid, but after an hour or two of talk about thousands of dollars and watching the clerk in the corner just to go on peacefully.

State government must be a great life, but "uneasy lies the head that wears the crown," even if its just doling out the sales tax revenue.

BEHIND THE IVY

SANDSPUR NEEDS A REQUISITION

BY BOB TIPPINS

Continuing with the modest proposal that our Sandspur production be given a definite, generous allocation, and left with which to produce bigger, better and more glorious shows . . .

I haven't yet seen this year's production as the Tuesday night performance was unavoidably postponed. However, I understand that it may surpass last Feb-ruary's production. If it doesn't I'm told, 'twill partially be because of the poor co-ordination between the cast and orchestra. Thus far this year there have been only three rehearsals with the orchestra as compared with the two weeks of combined rehearsals before opening night last year.

The task of getting a competent group of musicians together for other problem, along with those mentioned in last week's column, Richard Cook, is in charge of many musical numbers is exceedingly difficult to accomplish. Many of the available musicians work in campus bands or are otherwise engaged in remunerative musical activities and cannot afford to spend the necessary loss of income, required in assisting the Sandspur orchestra.

Still another factor is the red-tape existing in making production purchases. The Sandspur business manager is required to obtain three bids on anything for everything from a nail to costume material. These requisitions are then submitted to the faculty advisor for approval or disapproval. After the considerations has been given these requests by the advisor, the requisition is filed. The business manager may then purchase the needed articles. This apparently unnecessary delaying procedure is combined with the rarely permitted fact that many items be purchased from specified dealers, rather than frequently established dealers who otherwise comparing prices.

My suggestion, then, is this: That a specific annual appropriation be appropriated for the sole use and benefit of the Sandspur production. That this appropriation be judicially used toward making necessary material purchases, remunerating necessary students and musicians, and defraying ensuing possible losses incurred during road trips.

Further, that a Sandspur committee, such as that presently existing be appointed by the student body or appointed by the administration, and this committee be given the authority and responsibility of the appropriated funds, with the faculty advisor acting in a strictly advisory capacity.

With a show such a well-run, financially-free organization as the aforesaid we now have could produce, bookings for road shows throughout this state and neighboring states could be easily obtained. Within two years at most, it would be conceivable to assume, the road shows would pay for themselves.

This advertising medium, then, would certainly be much less expensive, and more wholesomely and more effective, than such advertising schemes as the $4,000 per minute Kate Smith hour, not to mention the interest, spirit and enthusiasm it would provide and receive from the students.

As mentioned, a number of points have been touched on and been approached with this suggestion, but the whole-hearted-only or at least partially endorsed it.

The final remains is for an unknown someone with plenty of time, energy and ego to take administrative department to contact universities already capitalizing on such a program and inquire as to the investment. Then present the information gleaned along with a detailed outline of a program and a good line of bull to the Board of Control, legislators and other controlling personages.

'GALLOP POLL'

Men Give Their Opinion of Girls

By JIM COUCH

After the alarming results of last week's poll, Professor Robert Tuskegee Gallop, third cousin to the famous George, has decided to enlist the opinions of the male of the species.

He discovered that the men on campus place Ava Garner at the top of more than one preference list with Doris Day, Jane Russell, Virginia Mayo, June Allyson, Rhonda Fleming, Marilyn Monroe, Elizabeth Taylor, Betty Grable, Ruth Roman, and Janet Leigh next in that order. Also receiving honorable mention were Sophie Tucker, Mae West, Marjorie Main, and Lassie.

IN REPLY to "What is the biggest joke on campus?" the male populace uncovered "Cut system," "Honor system," "Cafeteria," "Dean McBride," "Basketball team," "School spirit," "Weak student government," "Flambeau," and "Women who say they don't go to the woods."

The answers to "Why do you whistle when women pass you?" were "What's in their sweaters," "Tight skirts," "To make out," "To show my appreciation," "Sex," and "Who whistles? I just grab."

QUALITIES which appealed most to the males were "Sexy haircuts," "Friendly," "Way they wear clothes," "Good looks," "Personality," "Shape," "Curves," "Stupidity," and "Their absence."

IT SEEMS that dating males prefer the "suave and sophisticated" Peter Lawford type over the "rough and ready" Gable and Cagney type" by a ratio of more than two to one. Some had other technicques while others relied solely on as his type.

In response to "What do you think of FSU women," the poll uncovered that 86 percent said the women were "all right," 15 percent said they were "dripe," 14 percent said "sexy," 8 percent said "left out," and 7 percent had no comment to print.

FIFTY-TWO per cent stated that FSU women are too hesitant, fifty-five per cent said they drank and fifty-eight per cent said they smoked.

Thailand Educator Compares Schools

Co-education is still novel in insight into FSU teacher training Thailand, the world, according program, including the internship program in which he expressed great interest.

Mr. Lochanya said the people of Thailand are very friendly toward the American people and are grateful for the help being given his country in education and material assistance. His country, he said, is primarily an agricultural one with rice as the principle product.

THE EDUCATOR was amazed at the equipment available in the public schools of this country. He said that there is a need for more school equipment and buildings in Thailand.

"There is a teacher shortage in Thailand," Mr. Lochanya stated. "Even though the law provides that there shall not be overcrowded classrooms, this has become necessary until we can obtain more teachers at all levels of education."

Move to Halt Student Apathy Object of Gold Key's Poll

A move to combat growing student apathy will be initiated soon by Gold Key, men's scholastic service fraternity.

Under the chairmanship of Allen Head, a campus-wide poll will be taken interviewing students on the questions of academic standards and the extra-curricular program at Florida State.

A SAMPLE designed to be an aid to the committee in the university will be drawn up by a special committee, the committee, under the chairmanship of Will Pennell, will determine who is to be polled, that the questions will be worded, and what personal information is necessary.

"I feel that students do you think the cut regulations are fair? Do you believe teachers are fairly graded? How do you believe the social program can be improved? will be included in the survey of opinion.

Jim Kirk to be assisted by James Prothro, assistant professor of political science, will be in charge of the extra-curricular questions. The questions will be broken into three categories. Organization, social activities, and recreational and cultural programs.

IN CHARGE of selecting questions along the academic line will be Ed Steinmeyer assisted by Dr. Laurence Campbell, dean of the school of journalism.

The poll will center around what students like and dislike about FSU. "We plan to take a picture of student opinion," stated Allan Head, chairman.

"We as Gold Key feel the project is basic to finding out what the problems actually are in combating student apathy on campus," announced Stan Gould, president of Gold Key.

CHAIRMAN ALLAN Head said that the members of Gold Key are conducting the poll as a service to the student body.

"We feel it is necessary to have a full knowledge of the facts as possible and we feel it will be," informed Head.

Dr. Steinmeyer, assistant professor of sociology, will assist Will Pennell on the sampling committee.

Contemporary Art Is Discussed by Karl

Prof. Adolph Carl of the art department, addressed the Fine Arts Society of Dothan, Alabama. His subject was "Contemporary American Painting, a Statement of Artistic Principles."

He narrowed his topic to the painters in whatis living American painters show the characteristics of human maturity as artists.

The lecture artist is aware of social issues, of international relationships, as well as of the chief problem of artistic form," declared Karl.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

PART TWO

Recognize anybody . . .

BIG FRAT MAN . . . Strictly yours in the bond man. Non Fratters are lumped with Wasserman positives. Wears his frat pin on his pajamas.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER . . . Always ready with some capsule philosophy when you need it. "That's life" and "that's the way it goes" are favorites.

HARD GUY . . . Profoundly affected by Alan Ladd pictures. Not the type one after following Bogart to Casablanca. Looks right through you.

BIG DRINKER . . . Has to tell you all the gory details of last night's brawl. Aspires to DT's and ulcers which will really give him something to talk about.

NOBLE NED . . . Never does a thing for himself. Always doing things for others but remembers to tell you about it.

BACKSLAPPERS . . . Greets you like a subsistence check. After the first sentence he's looking for his next victim; a budding table hopper.

BIG MAN ON CAMPUS . . . Practices his charming smile on impressionable young clinging vines. Makes a point of speaking to everyone.

CYNIC . . . Nothing is worth a damn. Liking constantly for the axe you're grinding.

FSU to Meet Stetson Tomorrow Night

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

RIGHT COMBINATION?—It appears that Bud Kenney has finally found the right combination for his Seminole cagers. If their performance against Tampa here last Saturday night was any indication, then members of the district 25 NAIB had better sit up and take notice.

Feeling that fifth man seemed to be the problem that was keeping the FSU mentor all alone and he seems to have found it in Freshman Hans Wernike, a 6-1 newcomer from Batesville, Ind.

Wernike only enrolled here at the beginning of the new semester, and the Tampa game was only his second appearance with the squad. He fitted in at the very start and although he was getting his first taste of college competition, performed as if he had been in the game all year.

On the Miami tilt, Wernike had trouble with his shots, but his ball handling and floor play made up for it. In his second start however, Wernike hit his peak. The newcomer played a fine floor game, sparkled in his defensive work and pushed in 15 points for good measure.

Another bright spot in the Seminole attack of late has been the play of sophomore forward Jerry Westhafer. Westhafer has for 18 points against the Tampa outfit with his fingertip push shot and also rebounded well.

Dayton Bob Whitmer while far behind his 1951 pace, is another man for the Indian upstairs. Whitmer who had trouble shaking basketball out of his legs at first, is looking more like the Whitmer who hooked 362 points for Kennedy's 1951 NAIB quarter finalists. The versatile Indian leader who is chasing Maclaughlin for the team scoring crown, now has 251 markers.

Maclaughlin, the "old pro" of the squad, is on the other hand, far ahead of his 1951 pace. Last season, Maclaughlin who had a slatting his fourth year as a regular, scored 178 points, good for fifth place in the scoring column. Thus far, he has 256 points and if he maintains his present pace through the rest of the games, has an excellent chance to hit the 300 mark as does Whitmer.

* * *

The eight point program that the Ivy League presidents drew up to emphasize football should get off to a good start with the especially Princeton's Charley Caldwell. Dartmouth's Tuss McLaughry and Yale's Herman Hickman.

One of the main points of the program includes a ban on post season contests and participation in coaching clinics by both teams and coaches, which means that the members won't be able to coach in the various charity and All Star games as well as bowl tilts.

Hickman coached the North antry in the recent North-South charity game in Miami this Christmas and Maclaughry was one of the coaches for the East team in the East-West Shrine game. Caldwell is already committed to head a coaching clinic in Atlanta, Ga. this next August.

The non-bowl rule, however, shouldn't affect the loop too much since an Ivy League entry hasn't participated in a post-season bowl game in several years.

The part of the plan that hurts most is the ban on Spring practice. The presidents voted to ban Spring drills entirely and provided for regular Fall practice to start until after Sept. 1.

Other provisions in the plan specify that each school must play every other institution in the loop at least once every five years, the number of athletics to be decided by academic authorities, the number of games scheduled be reduced and the tightening up on the eligibility requirements.

APPLICATION
FLORIDA STATE SPORTS DAY
Tallahassee, Florida—April 5, 1952

Name _____ Class _____
Dormitory _____ Box No. _____

I will-Even or Intramural sports you have participated in and star those for which you would like to be considered:

_____

_____

_____

I will be at the meeting March 11th at 8 in room 403 S.A.B. Return this blank (it an envelope if by mail) to Jo Anne Young. Box 448 or 314 Reynolds by Feb. 20th.

75¢ SPECIAL PLATE 75¢

Fried Shrimp, Tartar Sauce
Broiled Calf Liver, Smothered Onions
Roast Pork, Dressing, Brown Gravy
Fried Chicken, Southern Style
Fried Sea Trout, Tartar Sauce
Breaded Veal Cutlet, Brown Gravy
Fried Oysters, Tartar Sauce
Choice of One Vegetable — Coffee or Tea — Salad

BROILED FILET MIGNON $1.00

at the NEW

Tallahassee Cafe

119 South Adams

Under the new management of Christ A. Cummings

Miami Swimmers Expected To Give FSU Tough Battle

FSU'S swimming squad will take on the U. of Miami Hurricanes tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 at the East Campus pool in what may prove to be the most exciting meet of the season.

SWIMMING LETTERMEN—These are the letterman swimmers that coach Tim Sachs will count on against Miami tomorrow afternoon. Letterman, front row—left to right: Wilton Jardine, Mitch Sutherland, Scot Ramsey, Tom Sachs. 2nd row—Walter Jardine, Co-Captain, Pete Dunn-Rankin, Jack Holmes-Captain, Dick Wells, Jack Barnett, Co-Capt., Pete Dunn-Rankin, Jack Holmes. These lettermen have helped FSU rack/score to 19 straight dual meets without a loss.

Recent times turned in by both teams indicate that this will be the closest meet, event for event, of any State has been in all year. Comparative scores against Jacksonville Navy, a team which Miami walloped 76-8 a week ago and which fell before the Seminole mermen by a score of 62-22, indicate that this meet may be very close.

MIAMI'S TEAM appears loaded with outstanding freshman and transfer students as their squad boasts National AAU diving champion Al Gottlieb, sprint star Hoagy Stohl, an outstanding distance swimmer, Gauther Rosser, and Ory Kang, a backstroker who placed fourth nationally in 1950. Coach "Jim" Stults will try to have his swimmers in top form for this meet as he will put Co-Caps. Dick "Fish" Wells, school record holder in the 100 and 30 yd sprints and John Barnett, an All-American high school selection last year, against Miami's ace Hoagy Stohl in the sprints. Baruch holds the pool record in the 50 yd. freestyle in the time of 24.4. Stohl turned turned the two laps against the Navy recently in 24.5.

Holds SOUTHEASTERN AAU 440-yd. freestyle champion Wilton Jardine will swim the distance against Miami's ace Gaither Rosser, while Co-Capt. Pete Dunn-Rankin, recently switched to the individual medley in which he set a new school record a week ago of 1:44.9, will be slated to go again in the 150-yd. event.

Backstroker Jack "Pops" Burnett, who showed well in the first leg of the medley relay against Georgia last week, has been improving all year, and the big backstroker may break the pool and school records in the 200-yd. event tomorrow. Burnett has done 2:23 for the 200 yds. already this year and the pool record is 2:20.

WALTER JARDINE, whose steady performances in the breastroke this year has won the scarce praise and approval of Coach Stults, will again swim his specialty along with freshman Mitch Sutherland. Both also have consistent point winner Bob Carter and Mitch Sutherland on hand to balance his teams strength.

Gymkana Troupe Busy This Week

GYMKANA has three performances between now and Saturday as well as an intra-squad meet with the gymnastic team in preparation for the big Gymkana show at Winter Haven. The Winter Haven show is expected to draw 5,000 people to the football stadium where the show will be held.

The Gymkana Troupe performs at Crawfordville on Thursday morning in the school assembly program. Those on the trip include Mary Cummins, Barbara Lewis, Karel Ann Kursteiner, Nancy Lamb, Linda Carswell, Carol Edmiston, Jack Carswell, Brent Pichard, Dick Kurstelner, Barbara Beasley, Jimmie Sue Williams, Scot Stanton, Al Zuras, Frances Cobb, Ann Tucker, Mary McNatt and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Price.

Gymkana will perform for the fourth time at Career Day in the Music Building Gymnasts Don Holder, Joe Regna, and Pat Mc-norrell, will perform on the side horse and will do the calisthenics routine required in the national AAU meet.

The varsity gymnasts will perform in between halves at the Stetson basketball game. They will perform on the parallel bars or the side horse.

Practice Starts For Women

The Even practice for basketball, badminton and golf has gotten under way with 30 girls out for the three teams.

The girls out for badminton are: Jo Powell, Pat Temple, Mary Ann Baldwin, Janet Brougha, Pat Martin, Mert Herdon, Mary Ann Reed, Shirley Knight, Mary Agnes Hanso and Mrs. Williams is advisor.

The golf team will be chosen from Hazel Beady, Doris Patlin, Varian Hines, Jean Flinn, Avery Lembeck and Mrs. Thomas is advisor.

The basketball team will be chosen from the following girls: Pat Crum, June McGill, Charlotte West, Pat Folsom, Doogie Mickler, Sunny Livingstone, Lucy Hargraves, Frankie Cobb, Margaret Erickson, Polly Lassiter, Jo Anne McCary, Jackie Morrison, Mary Jo Battle, Rose Alverse, Carol Geerts, Pete Morgan, Maxine Sutherland and Miss Hall, the basketball advisor.

Applications Due For 1952 Interns

First semester interns for next year must complete their applications and turn them in to the Internship office in 204 of the Education building by Feb. 29

The statement of intent is not sufficient. A release from the School of Education noted that it takes several days of part-time work to complete the application. It says that it is very important that these applications be made ahead of time since it is a tremendous task to contact superintendents, supervisors, principals and teachers for placement which has to be done during the second semester of this year.

Interns will come nearer getting suitable places during the first semester than during the second semester. "Because of the large number of persons interning by all means attempt to intern during the first semester."

It is necessary to have a C average before the application will be processed.

Illustrated Lecture Featured at Exhibition

The opening of the Plant Portraits Exhibition Sunday in the Art Gallery will feature an illustrated lecture by Joe Jones, internationally recognized botanical artist.

Mr. Adams' lecture is scheduled for 3 p.m. The exhibition is open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday and from 12:30 to 5 p.m. Monday.

He studied water color painting under Dr. David Fairchild, eminent plant explorer, and is a former student of Rollins College and the University of North Carolina.

A superlative note from the Annapolis Log. "They marked the exam so strictly, they flunked him for having a perfect upside down."

Volleyball Six To Compete In Albany Meet

The Florida State volleyball team will leave tomorrow morning for Albany, Georgia, where they will participate in a four-team round-robin match.

Other teams in the tournament are Albany, Atlanta, and Columbus YMCA's. Albany has gone down to defeat at the hands of the Seminoles twice this year and will be out for revenge.

THE SEMINOLES meanwhile will be using this tournament as a final tuneup for the Florida AAU meet in Tallahassi next weekend.

Coach Bill Odeneal is again taking only a skeleton crew on the road, with the same combination that performed at the Smoky Mountain Open last month.

The starting lineup will probably be composed of Ronnie Hamrick, Bill Gunn, Jack Clark, Jim Couch, Harry Bibee, and James MacPatter. Others making the trip are Stan Humphries Charlie Wyman, and Matt Stetson.

"THE SEMINOLES' chances of winning this tourney are fair, but will rest on their ability to defend against the powerful attacks the Georgians will send at them," Odeneal said today. He added that the team is having difficulty handling serves and may lose valuable points should they fail to improve on this essential part of the game.

So far this season the volleyball team has placed third in both the St. Petersburg Open and Smoky Mountain Tournament. Last weekend a match meet here in Tallahassee on February 9 when they bested Albany Y and Pensacola Navy.

THE OVERALL won-loss record this nine matches men as compared to three lost and two tied.

The main part of the season is the post beginning for the Seminoles as they have the State AAU, which they have won three years in a row, Mid-South Open (defending champions), Southern Intercollegiate Invitational, and the National Intercollegiate.

The Southern Intercollegiate will be held here in Tallahassee late next month and will be the only opportunity that students will have to see the Seminoles in action against other colleges.

Women's "F" Club Eleven New Girls

The Women's "F" club tapped eleven new girls Wednesday Feb. 12, at a surprise tea in the Longaire building.

The girls named "goats" during a trial period of 3-7 weeks are Jo Ann Young, Elaine Chapman, Betty Ann Haynes, and Cynnie Brown, freshmans; Dora Partin, Delores Bates, Dot Stripier, Carol Geertz, sophomore; Frankie Brownlee, Mari Williams junior; Laura Smith, senior.

At Ridge College, N. J., chances for fielding a football team next year are very slim. The reason: No home field.

Seminoles to Seek Revenge For Earlier Loss to Hatters

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

Florida State University cage fans may well get a preview of the coming District N. A. I. B. tournament when the FSU cagers meet the Stetson Hatters tomorrow night in the West campus gym.

JERRY WESTHAFER, sophomore forward-center on the Seminole cage squad, will be in the starting lineup here tomorrow night when FSU tangles with Stetson.

Stetson considered by many the "team to beat" for the District 25 crown, holds a earlier 58-48 win over the Seminoles this season. Since that meeting, however, coach Bud Kennedy's Seminoles have shown considerable improvement and are expected to give the Hatters a tough battle.

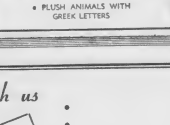
DUE TO their poor season record, the Indians had earlier decided to pull out of the NAIB in favor of one of the other teams in the District but when the Georgia Teachers and Rollins backed out reconsidered and agreed to defend the Championship which they won in Jacksonville last year.

Under N A I B regulations, the defending champion is permitted to enter the tournament regardless of their record.

In their last outing, the Seminoles turned back the Tampa Spartans 79-60 in impressive fashion for their fourth win of the campaign against 18 losses.

TOMORROW NIGHT'S contest will mark the eleventh time the Seminoles and Stetson have met since FSU became co-educational in the Spring of 1947. Since then, both teams have broken even in 10 meetings, with each squad boasting five triumphs.

The first three years, the Indians dominated the rivalry—winning three games to the Hatters one. Last season the DeLand school trimmed the Seminoles twice, by scores of 67-86 and 71-53, but lost to FSU five in the NAIB tourney 65-58.



STETSON, boasting the best record of any small school, has rolled up 12 wins against only three losses this season. Included in the Hatters list of victims are such widely known teams as Bowling Green and Yale University.

Kennedy will probably use the same five that performed for him so well in the tilt with Tampa. That means he will start Tom McLaughlin and Jerry Westhafer at the forwards, Duane Gordon at center and Captain Bob Whitmer and newcomer Ham Wernike at the guards.

Whitmer and MacLaughlin, may decide season scoring laurels tomorrow night. The veteran MacLaughlin, starting his fourth year as a varsity regular, now has 256 points while Whitmer, who is playing his second year, has 251.

Student election officials at the University of California are stopping at nothing in efforts to shock students into voting. They hope to burn the campus in a fight to banish the "Get-the-hell-out-and-vote-" sign.

What's New at the Co-op

- Stationery with Engraved Sorority Initials
- Everything for the Student
- 1-Day Film Service

"WE BUY USED BOOKS"

PLUS ANIMALS WITH GREEK LETTERS

Malones Co-op Bookstore

Expert Watch Repair

PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Girl's Eligible For Program

Former participants in Intramural or Odd-Even sports are eligible to take part in the Florida Sports Day Program to be held at Florida State University April 5.

Students who wish to represent FSU in the events are asked to fill out their blanks and return them to JoAnn Young, Box 448 or 314 Reynolds as soon as possible.

The sports program will include archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, golf, swimming, softball, tennis, volleyball, and ping pong.

The committees for the sports day are: Coordinator, Jane Kirk; correspondence, Sally Ellis; chairmen, Anna Athanason; program of activities, Pete Morgan; hostesses, June McGill and Becky Brannon; social, Mary Browder; registration, Rose Alvarez; food and residence, Betty Holland.

Decorations, Margaret Erickson; FSU units, JoAnne Young; officials, Pat Folsom; equipment, Doris Partin; fiel aid, Sally Browder; program, JoAnne Thorpe; clean up, Charlotte West and Lucy Hargraves; publicity, Jo Wade and Frankie Brownlee.

Beetle Bailey — SWEET SHOP — 701 W. Jefferson

Dine with us in the Amber House

Pork Tenderloin
Smothered Steak
Meat Loaf, Spanish Sauce
Fish

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

We Specialize in Banquets for Home Parties Weddings

High School Rushees, Open Houses Highlight Greek 'Sandspur' Week

By MARCIA MORRIS
Society Editor

Twenty-one high school rushees will be arriving throughout today as week-end guests of Alpha Omicron Pi. Week-end entertainment includes the first performance of the Sandspur production tonight, a picnic tomorrow at Camp Flaccavoro and arrangements for rushees and dates to attend the Winthin Monroe dance and show tonight.

The Alpha Xi Deltas held a valentine party Thursday night, Feb. 14 for the members and rushees. Sunday night supper was served for chapter members and rushees.

Mrs. Nuemoeller will be honor guest and speaker Monday night when the Delta Gamma's and Sigma Phi Epsilon's have a joint meeting at the Delta Gam house.

An open house will be held at the Delta Zeta house Saturday night, during the intermission of the Sandspur dance. The pledges will entertain Sunday evening with a spaghetti supper for the actives.

Members of Lambda Chi Alpha Mrs. C. E. Keve, province director, held a rush party at Allasator Point last Saturday.

Pledging ceremonies took place Monday night.

Tuesday night was the scene of a rush party at the Sigma Chi house. Highlight of the party was an amusing game on radio detective plays. Recently pledging Sigma Chi was Johnny Shepard of Tallahassee.

Thursday night the Delta Delta Delta's entertainment members at ATO with a dessert party. Saturday morning high school seniors visiting for Sandspur weekend will be guests at a cake party. Alice Davidson is chairman of the Campus Chest Fashion Show being sponsored by the Tri Delts.

Pi Beta Phi's have begun football practice for their annual "Powder Bowl" football game with the Kappa Alpha Theta's scheduled for March 8 this year. The pledge class is busy making plans for their pledge party to be held March 7.

GAMMA Phi Beta pledges Mary Ann Robinson, Barbara Beers, Susan Finley, Delores Gillian, Jean Imirzes, Charlotte Neighbors, Ann Hudson, Joan Pearson and Jane Wardlaw.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledges initiated Sunday night for members, Helen Hamilton, and Ann Robichaux. Special guests were Joan Mynihan, Shirley Daniel, and Joan Cunningham. Pledges for Phi Mu included Sara Bullock, Ann Spencer, Ruth Ann Miles, Phyllis Jordan and Joyce Haag.

ALPHA Tau Omega are John Poston, president; Bob Tully, vice president; Jeff Davis, secretary; Jim Dailey, treasurer; Raulle Raulerson, historian; Charles Mosby, sergeant at arms and Charlie Booth house manager. Last Saturday the ATO's entertained with an open house for their alumni and wives. Wednesday night an informal rush party was held at the house. Tonight an informal party will be given after Sandspur.

George Washington Special
CHERRY SUNDAY .19
MALT-A-PLENTY .14
EXTRA THICK SHAKE
MECCA

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU SMOKE?
50? 100? 200?
IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!
Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation . . .
200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!
PROVED definitely milder . . . PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand . . . PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition
LISTEN IN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Rush Week Ends As Girls Pledge Eleven Sororities

Eleven sororities began their second semester pledging this week at Florida State University. Following is a list of the pledges as released by the Pan Hellenic office.

Alpha Chi Omega pledged June McMillian this week. Pledged to Alpha Delta Pi were Ann Blake and Nancy Wakefield. Alpha Gamma Delta pledged Beverly Bennett, Mary Dougherty, Delores Rays, Jo Ann Setzer and Jean Stevenson.

PLEDGES OF Alpha Omicron Pi are Betty Holland, Frances Cawthon, Emily Inaram, Shirley Houston, Betty Ann Chris and Donna Aase. Alpha Xi Delta pledged Della Albert.

Pledges for Delta Gamma are Gail West, Jo Anne Witter, Patricia McCall, Jo Ann McGill, and Gay Hamrick. Delta Zeta pledged their class in busy making plans for their pledge party to be held March 7.

GAMMA Phi Beta pledges are Ann Robinson, Barbara Beers, Susan Finley, Delores Gillian, Jean Imirzes, Charlotte Neighbors, Ann Hudson, Joan Pearson and Jane Wardlaw.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledges initiated Sunday night for members, Helen Hamilton, and Ann Robichaux. Special guests were Joan Mynihan, Shirley Daniel, and Joan Cunningham. Pledges for Phi Mu included Sara Bullock, Ann Spencer, Ruth Ann Miles, Phyllis Jordan and Joyce Haag.

ALPHA Tau Omega are John Poston, president; Bob Tully, vice president; Jeff Davis, secretary; Jim Dailey, treasurer; Raulle Raulerson, historian; Charles Mosby, sergeant at arms and Charlie Booth house manager. Last Saturday the ATO's entertained with an open house for their alumni and wives. Wednesday night an informal rush party was held at the house. Tonight an informal party will be given after Sandspur.

Dormitory Teas Honor Washington's Birth

This past Wednesday the women's dormitories on campus commemorated George Washington's birthday with a series of "George Washington teas."

Highlight of the Reynolds tea was a skit depicting scenes from Washington's life. Dr. Howard Hill be Reynolds guest speaker for "Faith Week".

On February 29, the "Graduate Ball" will hold a leap year party in the parlor of Broward Hall. March 12 is the date for Brownard's annual faculty reception.

Several of the dorms will continue scheduling the free movies which have been so successful for the past week.

Delta Kappa Gamma Regional Meeting Starts Tomorrow

The annual regional meeting of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society will be held on the Florida State University campus Feb. 23 at the Conradi Little Theatre.

Hostess for the meeting will be the Iota Chapter of Tallahassee. Registration will begin at 10 a. m. and the program at 10 a. m. during the morning session committee reports will be given. Discussions will be held under the following topics: Don Dupont, chairman of state legislation, and Mrs. Mary Bourelle, foreign scholarship chairman.

Highlight of the meeting will be address by Dr. Ruth Cavin-field, head of the modern languages department, on "International Appreciation." Ritual will be given during the luncheon at 12:15 in the Florida Union Room.

Further discussion will be held during the afternoon session by the state president and Mrs. Dora Phillips, state parliamentarian, assisted by the local chapter presidents.

Mrs. J. J. Spencer, regional director, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Miss Mary Witt, program chairman of Iota Chapter, and Mrs. Anne Nicholson, president of the Iota chapter, are in charge of local arrangements.

FS Professors Are Authors of Articles

Several members of the chemistry department have recently published recently in scientific journals, or received fellowships or appointments. Dr. Ernest Grunwald, associate professor; Dr. Earl Frieden, assistant professor; Jack Ben Hes, student; Dr. Karl Dittner, head, chemistry department; Dr. Werner Kauzmann, assistant professor; Grunwald and Benjamin Berkowitz; Hers and John L. Rogers, student, and John E. Leffler, assistant professor, and Aksel A. Bothner-By.

Film Will Be Shown On Post-War Germany

A post war film called "While Germany Waits" will be shown in the Longmire auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. with no admission charged.

Advance publicity describes the 30 minute film as showing the major damage problems of reconstruction and the difficulties caused by the separation of Germany into zones of occupation.

This is a British filming with special attention given to problems of the British zone.

Final Curtain

(Continued from Page 1)

show will originate only from the dance floor at 10 p.m. Saturday, MacCall said.

Door checkers will be absolutely unknown to the student body. "This is to prevent Mrs. Average from getting into the dance because they have a good friend at the door," co-chairman John Adams has stated.

"NO SMOKING" whatsoever will be allowed on the dance floor MacCall noted also.

Girls will be given late permission in accordance with permission from the Dean of Women. Late permission extends until 1:30. Corsages are banned.

Thursday Set

(Continued from Page 1)

work on Tally-Ho is required and the two candidates are nominated by the staff.

Voting precincts will be in lower Westcott, the hall between the Seminole club and bookstore in front of Byran dormitory, the east side of the education building and the West campus post office building.

PRECINCTS WILL open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. March 4.

Sophomore counselors will be on duty at each precinct and a member of the UGA Elections committee under the supervision of the chairman.

The elections committee's policy for determining run-off candidates is that the top two candidates will be in the run-off election, unless one candidate receives 51 per cent of the votes cast for that office in which case that candidate is automatically elected.

'IF' Week

(Continued from Page 1)

house. Time for the breakfasts is 7.

INCLUDED in the list of speakers are Mrs. Jessie Kubanks, a religious educator; Dr. O. P. Howard, former missionary to South America; and the Rev. David Seamands, missionary to India.

Also on the week's program are Mrs. L. C. Vass Jr., former missionary to India; Miss Miss Mabel Head, from the National Council of Churches; Dr. John Smith, former missionary to the Orient; and Rev. Edward H. Johnson, also formerly in the Orient.

THE REV. and Mrs. Martin Niemoeller, from the Lutheran Synod in Germany; Dr. Reuben Hahn, secretary of Lutheran student work, and Miss Inabelle Coleman, former missionary to China, complete the list.

University Religious Council is sponsoring "IF" week with Mary Elizabeth Anaworth, Baptist Student director, as chairman and University President Donk S. Campbell as honorary chairman.

Missionaries Slated for Talk

The Presbyterian students are suppers at the Capital Christ having breakfast at the Westminster Fellowship House Monday through Wednesday mornings at 7 to be followed by morning worship at 7:30. Plans are being made to charter a bus to the Westminster Fellowship Retreat at Deer Lake near Ocala March 14 through 16. Students are also making plans for the arrival of the new Presbyterian minister, Dr. William T. Martin, on March 2.

WESLEYAN MEMBERS have scheduled an after dinner coffee tonight at the Methodist Student house before attending the closing services of Evangelistic Mission Week at 7:30 at both Trinity and Tallahassee Heights Methodist Churches.

Dr. George P. Howard, missionary to Uruguay, will be guest speaker at fellowship Sunday evening at 6:15 at the Methodist Student house.

NEWMAN CLUB, Catholic student organization, will hold an open house Saturday night beginning at 8 at the Newman house. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the Newman house on Sunday morning after the 10:30 mass.

In observance of Founders Day the Catholic group will have breakfast at 5 p.m. at the Blessed Sacrament auditorium.

FOUR TRAINING unions of the Baptist Student Union, are the house parties tomorrow afternoon at 1 at Camp Flaticocwo. Baptist students are holding open house during the evenings of the coming week at the Baptist Student House.

Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian student organization, are again serving "Din-a-mite" her portrayal was satisfactory, many times she broke character and her gestures were jerky.

Sandspur Reviewed

(Continued from Page 1)

SHOW-STOPPERS were comedians David Dreis and Nick Pappas, Dave's scene was a play on words in conversation about his vocation as lingerie salesman. The only thing wrong was that he didn't appear on stage more often, for the audience consistently favored him with hearty heartiest laughs.

Rita Pappas in the brusque informal manner of a second Bill Bendix, also won the audience's attention from performances of other members of the cast.

SPECIAL PRAISE is due Bettie Mullins and Joan Meador for their comedy roles. Miss Meador appeared as the old-maid, manchasing, dean of women. Her singing voice was one of the best of the female players.

Other excellent character portrayals were by Ron Mallard, Jim Pierce, and John Buckley, the three thugs.

"This Is the Life" is the story of a young man who inherits a girls' school, only on the condition that he enrolls there for a year. Complications set in when his three buddies accompany him and be later falls in love with his lady lawyer.

CLIMAX of the plot is the appearance of Murgatroyd, a convict and another heir. With the help of three criminal friends, he attempts to take the school. The situation becomes more involved, but finally straightens out to a "boy-girl-love" ending.

Most interesting effects were achieved in the dance number.

A background of red lights silhouetted dancers Frances Stokes, Cosmo Cardone and Pat Cooper. The chorus and tap dancer, David Harmon, were outstanding and Miss Stokes should win special praise for her striking choreography.

ON HAND for the show was 1950 and '51 producer, Herb Reinhard, now on leave from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Jacksonville.

"This Is the Life' is one of the best productions yet," said Herb. "It's not until you get away from this sort of thing that you really miss it."

He selected the Atlanta dance number as his favorite and said it surpassed many routines of professional companies.

ANOTHER highlight of the production were Dan Dearing's plot and song lyrics. Most outstanding songs were "Without a Guy to Love," "Grew Up to be a Lady-Like" and "This Is Love." Henry Lee Warner's melody for "I Get Lonesome" was his best composition.

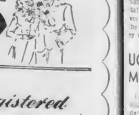
Final curtain fell on a special round of applause for members of the orchestra.

Now that the first night jitters have disappeared, the '52 Sandspur production promises to be one of the high points of the 1951-52 year.

Senate Hears

(Continued from Page 1)

parking in reserved areas is known of.



DEAN J. BROWARD Culpepper of Student Welfare has promised to give a satisfactory answer to the request.

The Senate approved the University Council's nomination of Ronald Holleray to fill the vacancy created by the graduation of Vernon Peeples. The vacancy caused by Salyers' moving up to the position of vice-president has not yet been filled. The University Council recommended Jimmy Evans, but the Senate vetoed him 9-3.

Senator Mary Ruth Summers was elected chairman pro-tem of the Senate to fill Salyers' position. Under the Universite constitution, she will become vice-president in charge of Legislative Affairs if Salyers leaves that position.

We Want You!
● Reporter ● Business Staff
● Feature Writer ● Sports Writer
Clip This And Place In Campus Mail Care of Florida Flambeau
NAME .....
BOX NO. .....
Reporter ☐ Feature ☐
Business ☐ Sports ☐

The TALLAHASSEE THEATRES Present the MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Thurs. Thru Sat.
The Model and the Marriage Broker
with Thelma Ritter and Jeanie Crain
STATE
TODAY-TUESDAY
David and Bathsheba
with Gregory Peck and Susan Heyward
RITZ
TODAY and SATURDAY
Desert Gold
ALSO Fury of the Congo
with Johnny Weismuller
DRIVE-IN
TODAY and SATURDAY
Fort Dodge Stampede
with Rocky Lane
also
Crazy Over Horses
With the Bowery Boys
NEED FORMAL WEAR? RENT IT!
Whatever the formal occasion—wear fashionably correct clothes, at reasonable rental prices!
$6.50
Nic's Toggery
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT. SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Registered Jeweler is a mark of character!
The title "Registered jeweler" is not one that is conferred lightly. The highest standards of business ethics are required as well as special study of gems and jewelry. The American Gem Society conducts yearly examinations to assure that these standards are maintained.
Moon's REGISTERED JEWELERS American Gem Society

Florida Flambeau

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Tuesday, February 26, 1952

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 33

Reverend Niemoeller To Speak Tonight On Intelligent Faith

UGA Elections Qualifying Ends Thursday at 5:00

Only 8 Qualify For U G Elections

Only eight persons, as of 4:30 p. m. yesterday, had qualified for the coming University Government association elections according to Ruth Hoernig, secretary of the board of UGA. Three p. m. yesterday was the earliest date to qualify.

Comparisons thus far for present officers of UGA at the time of application: Mary Ruth Summers, Joe Steinmeyer and Jere Salmon.

MILTON CAROTHERS, Bob Dyas and Jimmie Evans have declared their intentions to run for the office of Vice-President in charge of Legislative Affairs. Joe Conners and Jo Nell Proctor will run for Vice-President in charge of Women's Affairs.

STUDENTS MAY file qualification banks which must be obtained from the office of the Dean of Students' Welfare, at the UGA office until 5 p.m. Thursday.

The first primary will be held March 4 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Hoernig said. Date announced for the next issue of the Florida Flambeau.

Dr. Emerson newly appointed elections chairman, stated that campaigning may not commence in the quarters or on until the qualification blanks have been turned in.

ALL CANDIDATES will have the option of WFSU for campaign speeches it has also been announced by Clarence Culpepper. Kopp men's honorary will hold rallies for the campaigners.

No campaign literature of any kind shall be permitted within the buildings on the victory of the polls for which is located. Emerson said yesterday afternoon. Signs will be permitted only as allowed to be posted on the trees.

GRADE AVERAGE qualifications are that a student maintain a 1.0 (grade) average for major courses.

Expenditures of the president and vice will not exceed $25, the party platform $17.50, treasurer, $7.50 and officers $5.00.

The president of the UGA must be a senior, the three vice-presidents, three or seniors.

THE SECRETARY and treasurers must be juniors, the forums may run a second or junior.

The chief justice of the University court must be a senior, the associate justices, Chairman of Sandspur and Chairman of a junior or senior.

The publications editors are to be selected by class standing.

All other offices considered to be fully open require only a 65 point average.

THE HONOR COURT Chief Justice must be a senior, the associate on honor court or student judiciary chairman must have had one year experience on the honor court, judiciary or traffic court.

Sandspur chairman is required to have experience on two publications.

Flambeau editor must have more than one semester's experience on the Flambeau with two candidates nominated by the [illegible]

MORE THAN one semester's experience is required for Seminole editor with one semester's experience. Mor than one semester's experience is required for Seminole business manager. Also is required for two candidates are nominated by the staff.

UGA Candidates May Use Flambeau

Candidates for UGA positions on the again be allowed to run a campaign in the Flambeau in the May 20 issue announces Robert Griffin, Flambeau editor. Statements must not exceed 250 words and must be typewritten on one inch paper and double spaced, said Griffin.

"Any not meeting these requirements will be filed in the nearest waste basket," he added.

Deadline for all materials will be 12:00 noon Wednesday. Letters may be campus mailed, in care of the Flambeau, or in the editor's box in the Alumni building.

In addition the Flambeau will allow candidates to buy advertising space in the Flambeau if they so desire. "This is one sure way to reach the students and we hope this service will be properly used and candidates will avail themselves of this opportunity," Griffin stated.

Advertising rates will be supplied upon request.

Tryouts To Be Tonight For Tucker Contest

Tryouts for the Tommy Tucker program will be held in room 212 of the Opperman Music building tonight, announced Bill Bass, assistant program manager for station WFSU.

A boy and a girl will be selected to appear at the 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. performances of Tommy Tucker at the State Theater next March 9.

PROFESSOR of music education, Dr. W. L. Housewright will judge vocal quality; Roy Flynn director of radio, and creative and stage appearance. Will Pennell, president of the University Government association, will be Student advisor.

To the list of additional prizes previously announced, the Seven Seas restaurant had added two free dinners the nights following the stage appearance.

RADIO STATION WFSU, which is broadcasting the Tucker program, has revealed that the winners will present a half-hour program next Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. which will originate from Opperman Music Hall and be broadcast over WFSU.

Prospective contestants should visit with three by five cards stating their names and intentions to compete and leave them at the information desk on the main floor of the Longmire building before 4:30 tonight. They should bring their music with them or state what is provided them at the layout.

IN ADDITION to appearing on the Tommy Tucker program and receiving free dinners, prizes listed below have been announced.

Winners will receive free passes to the Ritz theater for a month. The girl will receive a carbon blouse from the Vogue and a $5 in merchandise from Paul Turner's

The boy will get a Van Heusen sport shirt from Turner's and a Marlboro sport shirt from Nic's Toggery.

Many other prizes are being added from time to time.

IFC Holds Contest To Name Weekend

The Interfraternity council will sponsor a contest to rename IFC-weekend, it was announced by Floyd Poole, president of the council. Students should submit proposed names to the information desk on the main floor of the Longmire before Wednesday, March 5.

The winner will receive two tickets to the IFC dance, which will be held in the East Dining Hall on March 8.

At the dance, which is open to the entire university, fraternity trophies for intramural athletics and scholarship will be awarded.

The fraternities will be announced at the afternoon of May 24.

Besides General Chairman Poole, Budge Phillips and Bill Questions, Bill Rettger on concert and Jimmy Carter on publicity.

Brian Aherne Stars In 3rd Free Movie

The free movie being presented this week is "The Man Who Lost Himself" starring Brian Aherne, Kay Francis, and Henry Stephenson.

One of the most original and unusual movies in several years, the story involves a case of mistaken identities in which even the wife couldn't be sure who was her husband.

Tonight the movie will be shown in Senior hall, tomorrow in South Cavalcade, Thursday in Landis, Friday in Magnolia and Saturday in Longmire auditorium. Starting times will be 7:30 p.m. today through Thursday and 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY — Three FSU co-eds welcomed Charles Sawyer, United States Secretary of Commerce, with open arms and a Tallahassee camellia. Mr. Sawyer spoke in Opperman Hall yesterday morning. Left to right are Evelyn Carter, Katrina Austin, Mr. Sawyer and Fay Miller.

Sawyer Outlines Commerce Dept.

In a general survey of his office as Secretary of the United States Department of Commerce, Charles Sawyer, spoke yesterday before a capacity audience of political science classes and public administration students.

Sawyer feel extremely honored to have a member of the President's Cabinet with us today realizing he has more to do than to go around talking to students and feel especially honored that he is willing to talk to us on the Federal Government today," stated President Dixon S. Campbell in the welcoming address.

IN HIS SURVEY of the Department of Commerce as a whole, Sawyer listed the Census Bureau and the Patent Bureau as the most diversified of the many Federal departments. Other bureaus included in his talk were the Weather Bureau, foreign and domestic commerce, bureau of standards, coast survey, Bureau of Public Roads, maritime administration, and national production.

In preliminary comments, the amiable secretary noted that in his past he had been a teacher, and once was "fascinated by the power of the press." "I wanted to be a newspaper publisher but lost my opportunity at that time to a man customer," he wittingly commented.

SAWYER THEN entered the Cincinnati Law School on a scholarship and taught for three years at night school in a high school.

He also added humor to his address when he said, "I know little about politics, only those who write columns know that."

During his talk, he commented that "We'll never have an administration representing everybody's opinion."

"WE HAVEN'T achieved what we should to get rid of incompe-

(Continued on Page 3)

Dohnanyi Makes First Appearance As FSU Conductor

Ernst Von Dohnanyi, instructor and composer, made his premier performance as conductor of the State symphony Monday in a performance of his Ruralia Hungarica.

Other highlight of the program was the presentation of the first United States performance of the Concerto in E Major by Franciszek Zachara, with the composer as soloist.

ALTHOUGH Dohnanyi is known primarily in this country as a composer and pianist he is equally famous in Europe as a conductor. He was conductor of the Budapest Philharmonic Orchestra for 30 years.

The concerto he appeared with the State Symphony on two occasions as piano soloist, but this is his first appearance as conductor.

The Ruralia Hungarica suite consisted of five sections depicting rural scenes in the composer's native Hungary. Similar to Rachmaninoff, Tchaikovsky, and Sibelius, the suite is perhaps folk lore as the fabric of his melodies.

DONNANYI'S piano concerto is a brilliant display piece for the pianist, involving prodigious piano technique.

Robert Sedore, concertmaster of the orchestra, appeared as assistant conductor of the Handel Overture in D and the Rameau and Ballet Overture in D Major.

Missionaries and German Are Scheduled to Talk Here

Several classroom discussions throughout today and tomorrow will be led by the Intelligent Faith Week 11-man team featuring the Rev. Martin Niemoeller in a special open session this morning at 11 and one at 7:30 tonight.

Rev. Niemoeller, German Lutheran pastor, will speak in the Longmire auditorium this morning and the Opperman Music hall tonight.

ALOIG WITH his wife, who accompanied him to the United States from Germany last week, and nine other team members, he is filling in seminars after class hours as well as classroom periods.

Rev. David Seamands, former missionary to India is the youngest team member. He is holding a classroom discussion today at 10 in room 103. History building.

AT 11, Rev. Edward Johnson will speak to a class in room 202 of the Women's Gymnasium. At 1 p.m. Mrs Leland Vaus, missionary to the Congo speaks in room 211 of the Opperman Music Hall. Tomorrow's classroom discussions start at 8 a.m. with Miss Mabel Head, national Y. W. C. A. worker, talking in 202 of the Women's Gymnasium.

OTHER CLASSROOM appointments tomorrow include Dr. Howard P. Howard, Uruguayan missionary, speaking at 11 a.m. in 207 History building and Rev. Alejandro Ala at 12 in the same room.

At 1 p.m. tomorrow, Rev. Seamands will again speak in the History building. At 2 p.m. Dr. John C. Smith, missionary to the Orient, will address students in 320 History building, and will talk again at 3 p.m. in room 103.

PERSONAL conferences are still being arranged for students wishing to consult team members.

The Rev. Niemoeller will be guest of the Baptist Student Union today for luncheon in the Lafayette room. He will speak briefly. A forum will be held after noon's luncheon.

MISSION THEMES have been among those most popular in talks and discussions by team members, since several Japanese students, India, South America and Belgian Congo are represented.

Members of the "If" Week team come from four denominations: Lutheran, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian.

UGA Approval Is Necessary For CC Drive

One Project Allowed Applications Due For Each Organization

All organizations planning money raising projects for the Campus Chest drive starting Sunday must have the approval of the University Government association, Bob Dyas announced. The committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 in the U. G. A. office.

Applications for which no request a planned budget may be obtained from Pat Weigand, fund committee chairman or Shirley Hurlbert Campus Chest chairman. No organization may have more than one fund raising project during the school year, Pat noted.

LATEST GROUPS to announce its plans for the combined charities campaign are Kappa Delta sorority, which has a silver tea, Alpha Chi Omega, planning a bridge sale; the junior class which may sponsor a talent show; and Garnet Key, which has already sold most of the Sandspur production.

Campus Chest began last year as a sampling of an experiment, for previous to that time drives for the various charities were conducted all through the year.

LAST YEAR the first combined campaign netted $3,200 for the World Service Fund, the Cancer fund, the Heart Fund, the World Student Service Fund, the Cancer fund, the Red Cross and the Infantile Paralysis fund.

CHAIRMAN HURLBERT requests students that the amount they give will be greatly manipulated according to international exchange rates and the economies of bulk buying.

One student in a foreign country, for instance, can be supported by $120 per year or $10 per month, $10 buys a carton of books for a library; $15 pays for a TB sanatorium for one month; and For $3500 a student hospital could be built in Egypt.

Many student groups have already announced plans for the drive next week.

CHI OMEGA and Phi Mu will have a "Sunday" party in the Phi Mu yard. Delta Zeta will sponsor aboe skine stands on campus and Lambda Chi Alpha will have apple earls.

Tri-Delta will sponsor a fashion show in the Opperman Music hall with clothes from Mayeron's.

The Phi Delta Theta house is being sponsored by Delta Gamma. Nominations for this honor may be turned in to Delta Gamma by

(Continued on Page 3)

Bradley Calls Class Meeting

Graduation Planning Fills Senior Agenda

A senior class meeting has been called for tomorrow at 6:45 p. m. by President Dick Bradley who notes the importance need that all seniors be present for the discussion of second semester graduation plans.

On the program of events for tomorrow are the discussion of class invitations, class day, the Junior-senior prom and the annual graduation dance.

COMMITTEES will be set up concerning each of these, the senior class president informed the members.

Bradley said that he also wanted to make an appeal to class members to vote in the election next week. This is one of the many attempts to break student apathy.

Interns for this semester will have to file applications with Dr. Bradley for March 8. This is to assure that applications will get in and is paid because the deadline is 30 days before graduation and interns will be sent to their posts.

DEGREES WERE already supposed to have been applied for. The deadline was March 23. Bradley said that he was going to confer with the registrar to see if any stipulations have been made concerning those seniors who failed to observe the deadline but he had doubts as to wether anything could be done about it.

The senior class will discuss the question of whether they want to have some several informal socials which has been requested by the Alumni office and the Public relations office. Bradley said that a representative of all members will have to be decided upon.

BRADLEY ALSO noted yesterday that he wanted to set up a committee to be responsible for the mailing of Flambeaus to the graduating seniors so that they can keep up with the senior activities.

The remainder of the senior regalia will be distributed. A possible use of the money suggested has been the donation of a phone to the Student Union.

RINGS WILL be ordered from the University Book Store as usual. This is the last year that seniors will be offered the privilege of the class rings, Bradley commented.

Final committee appointments for senior class news consist, of radio news, newspaper releases, a feature sheet of the University Government Association and through the class officers.

Officers of the senior class are president, Dick Bradley; vice-president, Shirley Gregory; secretary Eunice Barnes; treasurer, Bill Corbin; Sandspur editor, Jimmy Cooper; and social chairman, Karolyn Bardin.

Editorial Prejudice Overcome By Women

"Women have overcome nearly all editorial prejudice against their sex," Dr. Sidney Kobre reports in the Feb.-March issue of Public Opinion Quarterly. Kobre is an associate professor in the School of Journalism.

Women have been active in American journalism for more than two centuries. They have held almost all desk jobs, from city editor to society, from interviewer to political columnist to local reporter."

Dr. Kobre's article is based on an address given at the first meeting of the Florida Women's Press Club last Spring.

Russian Attitude on Religion Is Told

CHURCHES TOLERATED

By THEO SOMMERKAMP

The Russian government doesn't like churches but it does tolerate them, and people in Moscow can attend any one of 60 churches any day in the week.

This "latest word" on religion behind the Iron Curtain was brought to Florida State University by The Rev. Martin Niemoeller, a German Lutheran clergyman. He speaks tonight at 7:30 in Opperman Music Auditorium on this trip.

THE REV. Niemoeller made his trip to Moscow, incidentally his first journey into Russia in Jan. 1952, as president of the Russian Orthodox Church. He was there for six days.

At FSU, Pastor Noemoeller is accompanied by his wife and is one of a team of 11 speakers conducting Intelligent Faith Week on the campus. Mrs. Noemoeller is also on the team.

THE GERMAN Lutheran's trip to Moscow was primarily religious and he spoke to congregations of both the Russian Orthodox Church and the Russian Catholic Church.

He did, however, talk with members of the Russian government officials, and spoke of American aggression.

"I told them," says Pastor Niemoeller, "that there was not one American politician who wouldn't give away his fortune if it would insure world peace.

HE SAID, TOO, that I was coming to the United States in a few weeks and would like to know why Russia doesn't want a third world war.

At Lakeland last week, Pastor Niemoeller was reportedly criticized by students for his attitude on Communism and Nazism.

Such criticism is not new to Niemoeller, for the American press has been generally unfavorable to him. Most of the criticism, however, has arisen over his political stands.

THE NATIONAL Council of Churches and Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam have been supporters of his, and The Rev. Niemoeller is sometimes introduced as the "No. One Christian in the U. S."

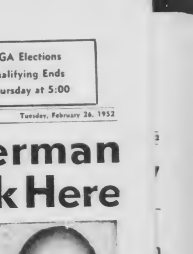
During the past war, he was a Nazi political prisoner for eight years, during which time his name became almost mythical among religious groups.

THE REV. Niemoeller today is a month past his 60th birthday, with black, slightly greying hair, and alert brown eyes. A thin line of furrows on his forehead is all that will reveal the strain that has been on him.

Niemoeller's defiance of Hitler after he began attacking churches. For a few years after Nazism started The Rev. Niemoeller looked to it to restore German unity.

But he switched when Nazism's full implications became known.

EXCEPT FOR his stout defiance of the Nazis, the minister today reveals little to his hearers of The Niemoeller of 25 years ago.



At that time, he was a submarine commander in the Kaiser's Navy that successfully blockaded the British coast. He was a Prussian born for several weeks.

About his stay in Russia last month, Niemoeller says, "I had been for some time interested in the talk about the Iron Curtain.

"I WANTED to know just what the status of religion actually is so I let it be known that I would go if invited.

Patriarch Alexei of the Orthodox Church sent the invitation and Niemoeller appeared there during the Russian Christmas season, which falls shortly after the Western world's.

"Twenty-four years ago," he says, "there were only 20 open churches in Moscow today, there are more than 60." But the churches limited their scope to strictly religious matters, omitting socio-economic and political matters.

IF SPEAKER—The Rev. Martin Niemoeller will speak tonight at 7:30 in Opperman Hall in connection with Intelligent Faith week.

Book Exchange Open Thursday

The Alpha Phi Omega book exchange will reopen Thursday and Friday in the basement of the Longmire basement.

Tommy Bisen, chairman, stated that this was due to the large number of unclaimed books and dollars left with the exchange last year which would be forfeited if students fail to pick them up.

HOURS OF the exchange are 8 a.m. until 12 noon and 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Students who have failed to pick up their books or money this semester are also requested to consult the attendants in the exchange these two remaining days, Bowen said.

Hundreds of dollars and a few of the books were returned last week.

BOOKS NOT claimed this week will be forfeited to the exchange if they were not in a year ago.

Bowen commented that the exchange had cleared more money per session than in the past. Profits will be used for a service project.

The Alpha Phi Omega exchange is in its second year's run and was modeled after two such exchanges at New York University. The Florida State University exchange originated as a project of the junior class last year with Shirley Gregory as its chairman. Shirley is the present vice-president of the senior class

"We do urge the students to pick up their books," Tommy Bisen said in a last appeal to the students.

Tenor to Present Recital of Hymns

Walter James, tenor, accompanied by John Bosh, will present a recital in the Opperman Music hall Friday evening, Feb. 29, at 8.

Beginning the concert will be Ecce Sacerdos Magnus, Psalm 22 by Walter James From the Holy Sonnets of John Donne by Hermann Reutter will be "Later my heart." "O might those sighs and tears," and "Thou hast made me."

Next on the program will be John Cage's Five Songs and two selections from Samson by Handel.

The third part of the program will consist of the music of Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, Schubert and Franz. "Love of one's neighbor" and "Death" from Six Sacred Songs by Beilert, and two selections from Engedi will be sung.

The program will be concluded with Four Hymns by Williams, Every one that loveth a wife," What is this fair one?, Come Love, come Lord, and Evening Hymn.

Gold Key Meeting

A regular meeting of Gold Key will be held at 5 Wednesday afternoon on the fourth floor of the Longmire building. All members and tags are urged to attend.

Plans for the Gold Key student poll will be discussed and formulated at the meeting

Club Meets Tonight

The Adapted Physical Education club will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Women's Annex of the East campus Gymnasium.

Liberal Education Is Needed In Man vs. Machine Battle

Sound the call to arms! Tootle the fifes and beat the drums!

Even as France in 1789 was inspired by the example of the American Revolution, so should we as FSU be inspired and rededicated by the example of the University of Chicago and the Arkansas Plan.

The battle is Liberal Education vs. Vocational Education, a the difference between educating citizens or training them. It is the difference between turning out graduates capable of intelligent, constructive thinking, or robotized machines, with soldered-in memory tapes full of unchallenged and half-understood facts and theories.

It seems that we are on our way to accepting as inevitable Huxley's Brave New World, where specialization had progressed to the extent that citizens were prepared, before they were born, to take a certain job and class position. There were five classes, ranging from the Alpha's (who did all the leading) to the Epsilons (who were destined even before birth to submerge mentality and the most menial of tasks). Only the Alpha's were capable of intelligent, constructive thinking-the rest were prepared to take their work and like it.

Or maybe Orwell's 1984 is what we want. In this book the people of the future are regimentee, by THE PARTY, headed by a Statuesque figure, BIG BROTHER. There was no chance of revolt,very little chance of even thinking up the ides, for the PARTY did all publishing and continuously changed the record of past history to the way the PARTY always right. And the language.Newspeak, was consdueted so that it was impossible to express anything thought. Where a subversive thought appeared on the distant horizon, loiay party members rigorously applied the "logical process" of double-thinking. This allowed them to accept mutually contidicting facts and theories as being personally reasonable!

But sound the call to arms! Those who act as though Democracy were dead or dying are lying. It is a sound a system of government as it was when It was first proposed many centuries ago. Democracy is a technique for expressing the will of the people through the government. So long as the government exists to serve the citizens, and not the citizen to serve the government, it will be a dead worth laying down our lives to preserve.

But how can we have intelligent and workable democracy in a country of specilaists? How can citizens be expected to make wise decisions on the problems of the day when they have been trained instead of educated? Democracy could not work in a Brave New World or in VTRD. The larger and more complex the US and Western Civilization become, the more necessary it is to have a solid foundation of citizens educated in the finest sense of the word. They must be capable of creative, critical thought. They must have a broad enough view to pierce through the trivialities of life to the basic and essential principles upon which the progress of civilization is based.

We cannot achieve continued progress by moulding students to particular jobs in an unchanging civilization; we must educate them so that they can mould the civilization as they think right and best.

Who a master, Man or Civilization? Who is master, Man or Machine? Who is master, The People or BIG BROTHER? To keep Man the master, we must not train-we must educate through a Liberal Education.

● RISING FEVER

Campus election fever has been steadily rising the past two weeks with varied speculations as to who is going to run for what and the chances of the various candidates. Yesterday was the first day for candidates to file their qualification blanks preparatory to running in the coming UGA elections the first week in March. The deadline for qualifying is this Thursday, February 28.

Every student who feels qualified and who has ever had the desire to serve the student office should consider this question seriously while there is still time to qualify. FSU's student government will benefit greatly if a large number of candidates can be presented to the voters on election day. Democracy is based on the largest participation possible. This includes not only voters but also candidates. Only by having a wide range of choice can the voted make a valid selection.

Furthermore, now is the time for as yet untried politicians to test their wings and get into the swing of student government. Inexperience is a necessary prerequisite to winning, and experience often gets his name before the eyes of the voters thereby providing a better chance in the next election.

● BE FRIENDLY

The pre-fall rushing of the high school seniors held by the Greeks this week is a top idea in more than one way.

Many Florida State University's sororities invited high school senior girls to Tallahassee for the Sandspur weekend, as a sort of rush period before the girls actually become freshmen.

These girls were found places to stay and given meals at the various Greek houses. They had a chance to get the feel and were taker by the members of the Sandspur production, "This is the Life." In some instances Uey were even provided with dates for the production and dance. Parties were held for them.

This type of rushing is not only good for the sorority and fraternity girls, who have a chance to look each other over, but also, for the University. It is one of the Flambeau's aims to make this a friendly campus. The girls who are invited this weekend are students who will be chosing their college next year. If they are shown a good time in a friendly atmosphere, when Fall rolls around and they begin to shop around for a college, FSU is going to have a strong selling point.

● BAN HELL-WEEK

A resolution whbich is never too late to present is a request that Inter-Fraternity council han completely all idea of a Hell-Week.

We are still waiting on a motion to come unanimously from the council.

The fraternities are doing much good work. FU is working on sending members to various high schools to plug FSU to graduating seniors. The council has passed a Help-Week. A committee is working out final details.

Complete the agenda and ban, forever this idea of Hell-Week.

● TRUST UP

The faculty has given the students some of their trust in honesty and decency.

We are referring to the Bi Sci examination that will NOT be proctored.

Live up to this trust!

F.S.U. Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U.G.A.

Tuesday—Feb. 26

UGA Council meeting at 4:00—UGA Senate meeting at 5:15 (2nd floor Alumni Bldg.)

F Semina:—"Christianity India," Dr. David Seamands: "There's a Job for Everybody in Missions." Rev. E. H. Johnson: "What Is Our Job in Japan" Dr. John C. Smith. (All in Alumni Bldg.—3:00 to 4:00.)

Also, "Understanding Our Latin American Neighbors," Dr. Geo. P. Howard: "Faith, in an Age of Turmoil." Rev. David Seamands. "What Can We Hope from China?" Miss Isabelle Coleman. (All in Alumni Bldg.—4:00 to 5:00

Special Interest Meeting—School of Business, Dean Frank Dame and staff (4:00, Student Union).

Botany Departmental Seminar (4:30 in Rm. 310, History).

Zoology Journal Club—Speakers Wm. J. Hargis and Charles Yentsch (4:15 in Rm. 305 History).

Swim Meet—FSU vs. Texas A. & M. (East Campus pool at 8:00).

Wednesday—Feb. 27

Senior Class meeting (5:45 in Alumni Bldg. Auditorium).

Mathematics Club Meeting (Rm. 208 History at 7:30).

UGA on the Air—WFSU (8:30).

"The Lion's Necklace"—color film on NW coast masks with talk by Dr. Robt. Anderson (8:00 and 9:00 in Museum Lobby).

Friday—Feb. 29

Faculty Recital—Walter James (8:15 in the Music Hall).

Future Business Leaders of America—Registration

Any organization sponsoring an event which they may wish to have published in Fun and Functions should notify Jim Lohmeyer, UGA Forums Chairman, or Ruth Hoernig, UGA Secretary, Ext. 4581.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

INTELLECTUAL HORIZON BRIGHTENS

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.
Things are pickin up!
The intellectual horizon is looking brighter this week.

Yesterday, certainly not a blue, but an active Monday, saw a variety of events that commanded the attendance of every conscientious student in some intellectual outlet.

Charles Slonaker, Secretary of Commerce, spoke to students Monday morning as part of the new course in American Ideals "A Case Study of a Federal Department."

Did you miss the talk?

Frank Dobie, America's foremost authority on Southwestern folklore and a clever and humorous speaker, was sponsored by the Phi Beta Kappa Society.

Intelligent Faith Week was sparked by seven interesting and enlightening speakers. If you have missed some of the afternoon meetings you can hear Dr. Martain Niemoeller's talk tonight in Opperman Music Auditorium at 7:35.

All in all, the academic program is picking up.

For the "fun and functions" during the week, be sure and watch the calendar of events in the Flambeau. Prepared by Jim Louhmeyer and Ruth Hoernig, the calendar is being distributed to all students living on campus through the dorms and it will be published each Tuesday in the lower ifs hand corner of this page.

Clip it out for reference. If you have an event and want a stable audience, be sure and notify either Jim or Ruth to have your event listed in the weekly calendar.

Interfraternity council still hasn't outlawed campus hazing. It is true they want to to be the last stronghold of the stupid and medieval form of human torture.

Also understand that only a few fraternities are holding up a unanimous vote to outlaw hazing. They want this attitude published?

THE REACTIONARY VOICE

HAS PSYCHOLOGY REPLACED RELIGION?

By FRED MYERS

Suppose there were no toys to psychoanalyze psychology. How would you go about it?

First of all, there is a basic desire to think of himself as more important than animals. This is just a desire, though, and he has a deep-seated suspicion that realism is the truth about himself. You can see that there are a great many things that are beyond his knowledge.

His created the idea of God as a controller, but that still left him with the problem of what set man apart was the idea of Soul. Souls and God-like traits are given to man alone. This warked fine until man, with his ever-working mind, classified himself out of the ideas of Soul and Heaven. This left him with nothing, of course to fill his mind—he was the "thinking animal." And, he was left with somethere he was aware that he could not really control his thoughts. This left him with a less creative brain around by the senseless forces of nature.

He was even worse off than animals, because he was aware of his helplessness.

Then came psychology.

Psychology decided in the last century that there was a basic urge in man. Psychology has been hard deducted a series of predictable responses that man might make to any circumstances. Not satisfied versing this, was able to control the predictions of the animalism it still be stimulated.

In other words, if a man wanted to for secure in the world he end was unable to do so, he might sublimate his desire by putting himself a feeling of being able to take care of himself in any situation.

Psychology showed that this was a logical derivative of his frustrated desire for security, and could be prevented by following his urge in the world way. The importance of this is that man is demonstrated to feel accepted by a logical system and can therefore control himself completely. He is again king of the universe. The only thing he has to fear is his faith in psychology instead of faith in an afterlife.

This faith has to be a more or less blind faith because psychology is a logical structure and is based on assumptions that are not derived from logic. One of these assumptions is that the human mind, which created logic in the first place manner that it created God, acts and thinks always acted logically. If you believe in the Christian religion this thing is all right if you don't, you are a hopeless iconoclast, and will be burned at the stake. Psychology has its Inquisition.

Notes on the modern age: The other day I saw in the newspaper a picture entitled "Modern trash in a scene. The ancient scene was a dunkey and a woman walking on a dusty road. The woman was carrying a jar of water on her head. The modern trash in the foreground was a machine gun.

SEMINOLE SCENES

SANDSPUR DRAWS AUDIENCE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Despite rainy weather and ten million other problems, the Sandspur weekend was a success. The weary, exhausted-looking members of the cast and staff who handled the production, "This is the Life." In some instances they were even provided with dates for the production and dance. Parties were held for them.

This type of rushing is not only good for the sorority and fraternity girls, who have a chance to look each other over, but also, for the University. It is one of the Flambeau's aims to make this a friendly campus. The girls who are invited this weekend are students who will be chosing their college next year. If they are shown a good time in a friendly atmosphere, when Fall rolls around and they begin to shop around for a college, FSU is going to have a strong selling point.

● BAN HELL-WEEK

A resolution whbich is never too late to present is a request that Inter-Fraternity council han completely all idea of a Hell-Week.

We are still waiting on a motion to come unanimously from the council.

The fraternities are doing much good work. FU is working on sending members to various high schools to plug FSU to graduating seniors. The council has passed a Help-Week. A committee is working out final details.

Complete the agenda and ban, forever this idea of Hell-Week.

● TRUST UP

The faculty has given the students some of their trust in honesty and decency.

We are referring to the Bi Sci examination that will NOT be proctored.

Live up to this trust!

Sawyer Praises Department

By JERRY THOMAS

"Opportunities for collegiate graduates and any young person for that matter, are as good as they have ever been," stated Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer yesterday afternoon while entertaining Flambeau, Democrat, Sandspur, Tallahassee and local radio commentators in the Duval Hotel.

The U. S. Department of Commerce chief, who was appointed to his Cabinet post in May of 1948 by President Truman further stated that a new area in education was being advanced by with others."

the School of Public Administration.

DR. DOYLE, said the Secretary, "is doing it successfully. Ever since the Period of officials gone out and sought students as they are now doing at this University."

When asked if "youthfulness" was a hindrance in first obtaining a good business position, the Cabinet chief, who at the age of 24 had become the youngest councilman in the history of the Cincinnati City Council, said that "being young will help you in most any business."

MR. SAWYER assured Flambeau Editor Griffin and his fellow news editor, Hazel Morrison, that the Florida State University would receive the necessary material, that is now on the vital list, to bring the dormitories under the 50 year plan.

In reply to whether or not he was pleased with the success, as recipient of the Freedom Foundations Award for his part in public service, stated that the only secret to success that he knew of "is hard work by me and a willingness to get along

SECRETARY SAWYER, who received his B.A. from Oberlin College and his LL.B from the Cincinnati Law School, promptly replied to one reporter's question concerning the value of a college education by stating that "Education is a step stone to all opportunities."

He also stated that he was "very much in favor of the Hoover Commission Reports and present recommendations to reorganize the Department of Internal Revenue."

In conclusion, Mr. Secretary, who in 1944, was appointed Ambassador to Belgium and Minister to Luxembourg by President Roosevelt, said that "many universities in the United States are in the case study on the Department of Commerce and offered by the School of Public Administration, Florida State is becoming a model . . . other Universities will soon follow."

Reports Prepared For Women's Convo

Included in the compulsory women's convocation March 5 will be reports on women's senate, honor system, and women's council.

Students living in scholl houses and freshmen dormitories will attend at 7 p.m. and the upperclassmen dormitories at 8 p.m.

Betty Rich will give a report from women's senate, whereas Patti Mims, chairman of judiciary will give a judiciary report. Other reports will be given on honor court, by Alice Jackson, chairman; campus chest, by Shirley Hurlbert, sophomore council, by Jean Weiterel, chairman; scholarship cup by Barbara Board; president, Myra Kight, and women's senior ball by Cathy Hamby chairman.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Sparks, Editor
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Mary Virginia Wilson
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Bevis
Assistant News Editor ..... June Hoover
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Smith
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Ford

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Harris
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Calderon, Fe Formoso

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-991, Ext. 481 ..... Second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly during the school year at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
Flambeau Photographer is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

CHRISTIANITY

Dear Editor:

As a Christian, I looked forward to Intelligent Faith Week. I had read about the eight speakers who were touring the state under sponsorship of the Florida Baptist Convention.

Eight speakers, did I say? There were right back at Florida Southern College. but there are only seven with us at FSU this week. Dr. Morgan is missing. The eighth one boarded a plane at Lakeland Saturday and headed for home, since she was not invited to take part in Intelligent Faith Week at FSU.

The eighth member was Mrs. Ross Pape Welch, a great Christian worker with a beautiful voice. Her singing has been an inspiration to all who have heard her. Unfortunately, Mrs. Welch is also a little darker than ours; consequently, she was not welcomed on this campus.

This is supposed to be Intelligent Faith Week. It seems to me that the persons responsible for excluding Ross Pape Welch from IF Week activities at FSU are singularly lacking in intelligence. Furthermore, they are lacking in the basic teachings of Christianity. Such a short sighted attitude can be greeted with delight by Communists.

On Saturday we welcomed with open arms a man whose vocal ability is questionable and who has him four thousand dollars to sing the praises of our glorious institution of higher learning. And on Wednesday we welcomed with open arms a man whose vocal ability is questionable and who has had the courage of her convictions.

I've heard many criticisms of the review of Intelligent Faith Week on the Florida State Collegiate University campus.

Jim Smith, member of Westminster Foundation, and Dick Yeager of Canterbury Club will be the chief speakers. Lilian Rachlen, member of the Foundation, is the moderator.

Topic of the meeting will be "What Brotherhood Means to Me."

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

PART 3—FACULTY FAVORITES . . .

CLASSROOM CARNIVORE . . . Stomps up and down classroom aisles like small quest has run from the amorous passion salesman. Hears every sound in the room but is tin-eared when the bell sounds. To sum up for his course is to give up your other hour. For him, a weaker will and a stronger wife.

THE POLITICIAN . . . Everybody's friend, he gives you the same bland smile when an F comes out of the blue. Secretly sticks pins in miniatures of students in his study.

OLD STONE FACE . . . To say hello to a student would obligate him. Operates on the "divine right" theory that all MA makes you God's right hand man. Detests students with untouchables.

THE ABSENTMEMBER . . . Breaks off in the middle of sentences with that faraway look in his eye. He's supposed to be thinking of deathless prose. Like students', his dreams are probably Freudian.

CONDESCENDING CHARLIE . . . Has abiding faith in the basic stupidity of students. Acts like he's teaching people fresh off the banana boat.

THE EXCEPTION . . . Knows his subject and how to put it over. Has a personality and doesn't get a kick out of watching fellow humans squirm. About as common as pickled lemon nuts . . .

Dear Editor...

TRASHY

Dear Editor:

I have noticed recently that the campus is becoming cluttered up with trash. Students don't mind helping keep the campus clean but there is no place to put trash.

If the school would buy a few containers and put them at various spots on the campus I am sure that it would help to alleviate the situation.

This would be a good project for the services fraternity.

Thank,
Cuyler McMillian.

(Editor's note: We believe the campus is rather lacking not cluttered up with garbage cans and containers. We have seen students use campus to collect the trash but that type of trash are you speaking?).

Hillel to Hold Meeting On Brotherhood Topic

Hillel Foundation, Jewish student religious group, will hold a Brotherhood meeting Friday night at Temple Israel.

Three students will speak at the meeting, two of them representing the three religious groups on the campus. Dick Yeager, president of the Canterbury Club, will be one of the speakers. Lilian Rachlen, member of the Foundation, is the moderator.

Miss Morgan's review revealed that she is essentially a drama critic. She has a appreciation "What Brotherhood Means to" for music but carefully avoided Me."

COURAGEOUS CRITIC

Dear Editor:

Congratulations editor. for printing the first college-level criticism on a student production. I was surprised and delighted to at last read something that expressed the opinion that a lot of us had the courage of her convictions.

I don know, the FSU laundry is going to suffer from this weekend

As the show is open, the Sandspur dance is still a thing to come, and so far from all the looks of things, But "when a good crowd gets together, it's always fair weather."

ENTHUSIASM

tion, as made in modest amounts by the Greek houses, would be a take him somewhere. Where, I don't know.

Seeing all the people here this weekend from points east, south, north, west and Gainesville, I've come to the conclusion we have on hand "Mr. Sandspur" himself. Herb Reichman, who produced the 1950 and 1951 shows was here on leave from the Navy, and is the excellent producer, for Sandspur, used to the old Alum building rocking with his three performances in the Flambeau office Wednesday. He was very modest about it. Also glad to see Jack Hall, Sandspur director and now the Alligator and our Gainesville correspondent. A very pleasant surprise to see him.

When describing the cast of characters in "This is the Life." you could notice a decided shiver run through the audience when action turned to "Roach," listed on the program as a "depraved killer." Herb Reichman will tell you he does not always go around walking at odd angles, talking in odd tones. At, except for the fact that he is a Flambeau writer, is entirely normal. Furthermore I predict a great future for him in the theatre in connection with the Wolf Man, Frankenstein and Dracula. If not in those categories, some of his other imita-

...pting Is Called Women Journalists

...women's Press Club will ...Wednesday, tomorrow, at 8 ...m. Room 403 of the Long- ...ilding.

...ns for working toward a ...mma Phi charter and pro- ...ive coming few months ...ussed. All those women ...some of Journalism have ...ed overall average and a ...rnalism are urged to at-

Insurance Students Hear State Treasurer

J. Edwin Larson, state treasurer and insurance commissioner, spoke to the students in the department of insurance and real estate yesterday at the Student Union.

Larson told them of the duties and powers of the state in regulation of insurance. He also conducted a short question and answer period after his talk.

2 Social Events Honor Members Of Graduate Club

Two events slated for graduate women include a leap year ship wreck party on Feb. 29 and a tea given by Mrs. Milton Carothers on March 2. Mrs. Carothers is wife of Dr. Milton Carothers, dean of the graduate school.

The ship wreck party under the sponsorship of the graduate club will be held in Broward at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Albert Anthony, club corresponding secretary, has added that any graduates who have wives are asked to remind them to call 3-0603 if able to attend the tea at Mrs. Carothers.

The newly organized graduate club was set up with two objectives in mind. They are to foster social relationships and to bring programs of interest before the club members.

Officers are Ed Black, president; Laimie Kavanaugh, vice-president; Zenia Davis, secretary; and Marion Dove, treasurer. Corresponding secretary is Mrs. Albert Anthony and publicity chairman is Mrs. Jack Millar with Miss Roberta Brown as social chairman

7 Teaching Positions Available In Nassau

Seven teaching fields are open in Nassau county in elementary education, business education, mathematics, social studies, Spanish, English and co social studies and home economics.

Prospective teachers are asked to contact the Office of the Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement in 305 Westcott.

J. Paul Sheedy * Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

...soot soiree was in the soup with a turtle named Myrtle. "It is a mystery," he wailed, "what shell I do?" "Well, ...ur sweet money have that parts you from all the girls," his roommate said. "Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil!" Non-alcoholic Cremine soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Post got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's out tussle-ing all the time! So don't stick your neck out...get some scrapin-money and hurry to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Get set for it on your have et your favorite barber shop. Then you'll really be in the swim.

...ed by Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N.Y.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

OUR VOICES SWELL—Vaughn Monroe and the moon-maids are shown practicing the FSU Alma Mater and Fight song. Those songs were sung by them over a nationwide hook-up when the Camel Caravan was broadcast from the Sandspur Dance last Saturday night.

FSU Scene of Social Studies Conferences

The third in a series of social studies conferences held throughout the state will take place at Florida State University March 1.

Schools in north central, north-ern and western Florida will be represented at the conference, being sponsored by the FSU School of Education in cooperation with the Social Studies Section of the FEA and certain local social studies councils.

THE TALLAHASSEE Conference, following two others in central and southern Florida, will be highlighted by the same speaker, Merrill F. Hartshorn, executive has served the National Council for the Social Studies in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Hartshorn has taught at Harvard and the University of Wisconsin. He has directed workshops at American University and the University of Toronto and has been a special advisor to the U. S. Government in Germany on social studies curriculum. He has been a member of a number of important UNESCO committees and has served the National Council for nine years as its executive secretary.

AT FSU, Mr. Hartshorn will discuss the possibilities existant in a state-wide social studies organization and will address the luncheon meeting in the FSU LaFayette Room on the "Prerequisites for an Effective Citizenship Program."

The conference will open in the FSU Science auditorium, in the Science building registration period from 10 a. m. until 10:15 a. m.

A morning symposium will be held with Dr. Henry Becker, of the department of Geography, and Dr. Ivan Steiner of the department of sociology, reviewing the contributions of their subjects to the total social studies curriculum.

Ruge Lenten Services To Begin Tomorrow

A special series of Lenten services will begin tomorrow night at Ruge Hall with Henry Kmen, instructor in mathematics, speaking.

The service will begin at 7. Subsequent Lenten services will be held tomorrow evenings.

Kmen's topic will be "The Relation Between Religion and Secular Life."

Sawyer Outline

(Continued From Page 1)

tent people but we are trying in the Department of Commerce."

In regards to the United States road department, Sawyer said that we have the finest system of highways in the world.

Sawyer is a graduate of Oberlin College Oberlin, Ohio. Fascinated by the power of the press, he wanted to become a newspaper publisher but his plans fell through and he entered Cincinnati Law School. He studied on the money he earned teaching high school night classes, and his scholarship.

Since the organization of our Federal Government the Department of Commerce has been one of its most vital agencies, according to Sawyer.

UGA Approval

(Continued From Page 1)

mail or phone before Feb. 27 Nominations should be accompanied by pictures.

WOMEN'S F CLUB has announced it will sponsor a box supper, the sophmore class an auction, and Pi Beta Phi and Theta Chi a football game and dormitory silver tea.

Committees for this year's Campus Chest drive include Jean Rigell, publicity; Nancene Price, faculty; Beatrice Smith, dormitory; Evelyn Alexander, dance; and Dr. Wesley Harter, associate professor of business, faculty advisor.

Freshman Flunkies are to be in charge of campus advertising Committee Meets

All members of the Organizations Committee, University Government Association, are asked to attend a meeting tomorrow at 8 in Room 402 of the Alumni building.

The announcement was made by Margaret Earnest and Barbara Henry, co-chairmen of the committee.

Classified Ads

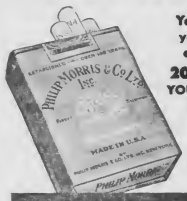
LOST—Due to blurry in check slots at Student Union, one red and white zipper with name Hinkle was taken by mistake. The name Nelda Fielding is on the name tag back of collar. A white bead evening purse containing makeup and money was in the purse. Contact Nelda Fielding, 306 Gilchrist.

LOST—Army Field Jacket and Gloves. Left in Education Bldg Fri 11. $5 reward for return. Dr. Stone's office, Education Bldg.

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

"DAISY DARLING"... DAISY STRIPES FORM V ON BODICE TINY PLEATS ON SKIRT. STARK WHITE PIQUE WINGED COLLAR AND CUFFS.



$10.75

P. W. Wilson and Co.
SINCE 1835

HOW MANY TIMES A DAY DO YOU INHALE?

50? 100? 200?

IF YOU'RE AN AVERAGE SMOKER THE RIGHT ANSWER IS OVER 200!

Yes, 200 times every day your nose and throat are exposed to irritation...

200 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU'RE BETTER OFF SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

PROVED definitely milder... PROVED definitely less irritating than any other leading brand... PROVED by outstanding nose and throat specialists.

EXTRA! ATTENTION ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS
Every Sunday Evening over CBS
THE PHILIP MORRIS PLAYHOUSE
Presents an Outstanding College Student
Featured with Famous Hollywood Stars
in the PHILIP MORRIS Intercollegiate Acting Competition

LISTEN IN CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Dine with us ... in the ... Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Do you feel tired and sluggish —try one of our thick shakes for pep and energy

We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

WEST CHANGES DRUMS—The Seminoles are losing their number one plugger and supporter in Ned West, popular Sports Publicity Director who resigns effective June 1 to take the same position at Georgia Tech.

West, who came to Tallahassee in 1943 from St. Petersburg, served as assistant Western Union manager, City Recreation Superintendent and Sports Editor of the Tallahassee Democrat before taking the reins as Sports Publicity Director here.

Ned took over at a time when FSU was practically unknown and since that time has been one of the big reasons why the school's fame has spread.

In announcing his resignation, West said, "I hate to leave Tallahassee and FSU, but I feel that I just cannot turn this opportunity down." While we hate to see Ned go, we wish him every success in his new job. Our loss is Tech's gain.

Tom Mclaughlin's chances of reaching the coveted 1000 point mark for his four year career with the Seminole cagers were again lessened Saturday night when the veteran slipped in 18 markers against Stetson.

His efforts against the Hatters roomed his total for four seasons to 974 points and with at least one more game to go the lanky forward-center from Madison, Ind. has a fair chance to make it.

The Seminoles who closed their regular season slate with the Hatters, will play one and possibly two tilts in the forthcoming District N.A.I.B. tournament.

The sunning of George Boyer, a 240 pound tackle prospect from Fletcher High School in Jacksonville, brings to 29 the number of players rounded up in the current football recruiting drive headed by Coach Don Veller.

The Seminole coaching staff which has been conducting tryouts for the past several weeks is high in their praise of Boyer who is labeled by Veller as one of the finest prospects to enter here since Hank Minisi and Tex Hankins.

Other linemen that have been signed since Veller said two weeks ago that the search would concentrate on his tackles and guards, include Jerry Cooke Johnson of Charleston, W. Va., and George Kalich of Mph Springs, and Fred Green of Thomaston, Ga, and halfback Leo Brooks of Bainbridge, Ga.

The 29 players break down into five halfbacks, three fullbacks, two quarterbacks, two centers, five guards, seven tackles and five ends.

Bob Hartman, who set more car records than you can shake a stick at during his brief tenure here, was born yesterday, on leave from his present memior—Uncle Sam.

Bob was a member of a group of all-stars that captured the Pacific Theater championship this winter and Hartman incidentally captured the Pacific scoring crown.

Last year Hartman set a new state scoring record when he buckeited 183 points—a mark that seems safe for another season at least. Blond Bob also holds seven Seminole team records.

Besides his season scoring laurels, Hartman has the best per game average, 18.2, most free throws in a sason and game, 107 and 11; most field goals for a single game, 12; most field goals in a season, 193; best field goal percentage, 38.8 and most points for a single game, 29.

Hartman is scheduled to enter the army O.C.S. school, and if he's anywhere near as successful in that as he is on the basketball court, it should be "General Hartman" before long.

MEMBERS of the FSU volleyball squad that will defend their State A.A.U. crown in Lakeland Friday are from left to right, Jim Couch, James McFatter, Dick Trapp, Jim Clark, Joe Geier, Harry Ribes, Howard Gould, Ronnie Hambrock, Matt Sullivan, Danny Hobbs and Coach Bill Odenstal. The Seminoles have won the State title three years in a row.

Tank Squad To Meet Aggies Here Tomorrow Night at 8

The Florida State University Swimmers, fresh from their 46-38 win over Miami here Saturday afternoon, face another stiff test tomorrow night when they meet the strong Texas Aggies in the west campus pool at 8 p. m.

The Aggies, currently on a tour of the Southeast, that included a meet with the University of Florida as well as FSU, are rated one of the top teams in the rugged Southwest conference despite getting off to a slow start this spring.

COACHED by former Aggie star Art Adamson, A. & M. in their two meets this year, finished third in the Southwestern Relays carnival and were edged by strong Southern Methodist in their other outing.

Three Seniors—Van Adamson, son of the coach, Bill Sargent and Ralph Ellis form the nucleus of the Texas squad. Adamson won the conference individual medley last spring and is also an excellent breast stroke specialist. Sargent is the free style while Ellis excells in the backstroke and freestyle.

THE VICTORY over Miami boosted the Seminole record for the year to four wins against a single loss and a tie. The loss came at the hands of the powerful Georgia squad last week in Atlanta, while the Indians had tied here a week before.

FSU's swimming team forged ahead in the last relay here Saturday to sink Miami 46-38 and snap the Hurricanes three meet win streak.

Previously unbeaten Miami couldn't match Sears, Wells, Sutherland, Dunn-Rankin, and Jardine in the final event, as the mermen set the fastest time this year for the relay, a sharp 3:42.6.

REAL CREDIT for FSU's victory, however, went to the overall team strength of the Seminole squad, as freshman John Baruch, Bob Carter, and Don Van Hise came through in sparkling fashion. Baruch captured the 50 yd. sprint in near record time and Van Hise was just two seconds off the school record as he turned the 200 yd. breaststroke in 2:39.3.

Bob Carter whose second in the 220 freestyle was one of the key notes of the Seminoles victory was unofficially clocked at 2:23.7, fastest time turned in this year for the distance.

MIAMI'S FRESHMAN Gaither Rosser, allowed championship style in setting a new pool mark in the 220 freestyle and in so doing the pool record for the 100 yds. Rosser then took his third first of the afternoon as he moved easily to a 5:05.6 in the quarter mile.

State's Jack Burnett and Pat Farrell took other firsts in Saturday's meet. Burnett bested Miami's nationally ranked backstroker Ony Kanz in the 200 yd. event, while Farrell showed signs of really topflight form in winning the diving.

Results.

200-yards Medley Relay: 1 — Miami (Ben Bullock, Ony Kanz, Henry Hull) 2 — FSU.

100-yards Free Style: 1—Gus Rosser (Miami) 2—Bob Carter (Seminoles) 3—Jay Buckley (Miami) 4 New Mexico.

50-Yards Free Style: 1—Don Barnett (Miami) 2—Jack Burnett (FSU) 3—Bob Sears (Miami) 4—Bill Wells (FSU).

100-Yard Free Style: 1—Gaither Rosser (Miami) 2—Bob Carter (FSU) 3—Bill Sutherland (Miami) 4—Bob Dunn-Rankin (Miami).

200-Yard Breast Stroke: 1—Don Van Hise (FSU) 2—Ony Kanz (Miami) 3—Dick Wells (FSU) 4—Bill Jardine (Miami).

Diving: 1—Pat Farrell (FSU) 2—Bob Sears (Miami) 3—Dick Wells (FSU) 4—Bill Jardine (Miami).

200-Yards Back Stroke: 1—Jack Burnett (FSU) 2—Bob Kotz (Miami) 3—Jack Simmons (FSU) 4—Jay Buckley (Miami).

440-Yard Free Style Relay: 1—Don Van Hise (FSU) 2—Jay Buckley (Miami) 3—Charles Nugent (Miami) 4—Bob Carter (FSU). Time: 4:06.1.

160-Yards Free Style Relay: 1—Fort Myers (Miami) 2—Pete Buckley (Miami) 3—Bob Carter (FSU) 4 FSU.

300-Yards Free Style Relay: 1—FSU (Bob Carter, Don Van Hise, Pete Buckley, Bob Kotz) 2—Miami. Time: 3:42.6.

Majors Club Hears Miller

A small but interested group of men physical education majors and majors heard an informative talk by Dr. Kenneth Miller, Professor of Physical Education, last evening concerning what to see, do, and expect as a physical education convention.

His remarks dealt primarily with the Southern District Convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation to be held at Atlanta, February 28-29, and to which approximately 35 men and women physical education majors are planning to attend.

Dr. Donald Loucks, faculty advisor of the Majors Club, presided President Bob Schmela with a Charter received from the national physical education organization which affiliates the local club with over 25 other university majors clubs.

FSU Cagers To Play Miami In N.A.I.B. Tourney Opener

The Florida State University cagers have a week of rest before they take on the Miami Hurricanes in the lid lifter of the District 25 N.A.I.B. tournament which gets underway in DeLand this Friday.

There's a chance that the Seminoles, who closed their regular season slate with a narrow 66-64 loss to Stetson here Saturday night, will be without the services of Captain Bob Whitmer.

WHITMER SUFFERED a recurrence of an old ankle injury in practice last Friday and it was not known yesterday whether or not the Indian leader would be available for the tournament. Whitmer also sat out the Stetson contest.

The Indians go against Miami at 7:30 Friday night with Stetson and Tampa taking the spotlight at 9 30. The winners will meet for the championship and the right to enter the National tourney Saturday night.

AGAINST STETSON, inability to hit from the free throw line and the loss of starters Ham Wernke, Lou Fischer and Dunse Gordon via the foul route, actually spelled doom for the Seminoles. Gordon left before the end of the first half while Wernke and Fischer followed suit in the final period.

The Indians led until the final six minutes save for a brief re-

FSU	fg	ft	tp	Stetson	fg	ft	tp
Whitmer f	1	3	5	Thompson f	1	0	2
Hartman f	5	1	11	Hall	3	3	9
Fischer c	2	1	5	Long, f	5	2	12
Gordon	2	0	4	Hilliard	2	0	4
Pimmel g	4	3	9	Vincent	2	2	6
Wernke g	2	0	4	Andrews g	4	0	8
Mosher g	0	0	0	Bishop g	0	0	0
Totals	16	8	38	Totals	17	7	41
Halftime score Florida State 28-26.

spite in the first quarter. Quick baskets by Jerry Westhafer, Wernke and Tom Maclaughlin sent Kennedy's charges into a 6-0 lead before the Hatters realized what had happened.

THE SEMINOLES continued to hit, and by the end of the period they held a 15-13 lead, but by halftime they had worked it to 33-26.

After the intermission, the FSU cagers turned it on, and held their widest margin of the night at the three quarter mark. Midway through the final canto, however, the Hatters, sparked by Jim Tavenier and John Imgrund, pulled within two points of the Seminoles.

Tavenier then hit from way out and Imgrund added a free toss to send the visitors ahead 53-54. A lead they never gave up.

ALBERT WESTHAFER, sophomore forward, topped the Indian scorers and tied with Tavenier for scoring honors with 20 points. Maclaughlin had 18 and Wernke 11. For the Seminoles while Imgrund slipped in 17.

Women Majors At FSU Camp

Thirty-one women physical education majors enjoyed the past week-end at Camp Flastacowo as the rain continued to fall on Tallahassee's Florida State University.

The girls present were Elaine Chapman, Betty Ann Theobald, Betty Ann Hayden, Betty Cooper, Betty Lou Olds, Shirley Simpson, Elsie Combs, Joan Guard, Sadie Presnell, Boots Paris, Cinne Brown, Dora Partin, June McGill, Mac McWilliams, Dottie Templeton, Sally Maynard, Anna Alhanan, Cynthia Mink, Alice Jackson, Becky Anderson, JoAnne Young, JoAnne Thorpe, Nancy Albury, Pete Morgan, Charlotte West, Myrt Herndon, Betty Luppk; Joanne Austin, Pat Gredenhoff, Doose Mickler, Mary Ann Batchelder.

The teachers present were: Miss Moore, Miss Stapp, Miss Palloon, Miss Dickenson, Miss Hall, Miss Danborn, Miss Williams, Miss Anderson and Dr. Cole.

CHESTERFIELD —LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES

AT YALE 3 to 1 because of Yale Co-op

We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 3 to 1

SIGNED John Desmond DEPT. MANAGER

MILDNESS plus NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*

*FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION

...AND ONLY CHESTERFIELD HAS IT!

College Men! CHOOSE A CAREER in the U.S. Air Force

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Aircraft Observer in America's awfully-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, senior and juco students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good; especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base or Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and another for non-rated only.

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting May 27, July 19, August 19 and October 2, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer—for $1,040 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate and win your wings! Commissioned as a second lieutenant, you begin earning $10,000 a year. In addition to base pay, receive $250 uniform allowance and a 30-day leave with pay.

WHERE To Get More Details

Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

U.S. AIR FORCE

Volleyball Six Places Second In Albany Meet

The Florida State University volleyball team placed second last Saturday's four team meet in Albany, Ga., losing to Columbus YMCA 16-14 in a playoff game after the regular play had ended in a tie.

The Seminoles started out with a double win over Atlanta YMCA winning 17-15 and 15-7. The first six shot split with Albany YMCA losing the first 15-9 before winning the second by a 13-13 count.

In the final match of the meet Columbus, stunned by the FSU team with a 15-12 win. The Seminole alumnae rush back over their best play of the tournament as they tied the regular play with a stunning 15-0 whitewash of the Columbus team.

The Seminoles faltered at the beginning of the playoff game but with the score at 14-5 in favor of Columbus, started a rally that brought the score to 14-14 before they stalled and the Columbus team went on to win the game and the tournament with a 16-14 win.

Coach Bill Odenstal and the rest of the Seminole team would have to work hard and display better teamwork if they hope to make a good showing at the State AAU meet this weekend at Lakeland.

He said that this would be the toughest year yet in the State meet. The Seminoles have won the meet three years in a row.

Fsu Servers	Ace	P Ace
Hambrock	16	12
McPhail	8	7
Ribes	15	5
Trapp	12	3
Couch	13	2
	64	29

*50—aidout. P—point.

ALBERT WESTHAFER, sophomore forward, topped the Indian scorers and tied with Tavenier for scoring honors with 20 points. Maclaughlin had 18 and Wernke 11. For the Seminoles while Imgrund slipped in 17.

Qualification Deadline Extended Till Monday. Candidates Are Shy

Florida Flambeau

"Are You Asleep?" Campus Chest Drive Opens Here Sunday

VOL. XXXIII, No. 34 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, February 29, 1952

Campaign Begins On Campus Chest

Special Meetings Start Sunday Night; Money Raising Drive Ends March 10

The second annual Campus Chest drive will get under way Sunday with special meetings in student religious houses from 7:30 until 8:30 p. m. The charity drive will run through March 10.

Dave chairman, Shirley Hurlbert, noted that 80 per cent of the total allocations in the dollar-per-student drive will go to the World Student Service Fund which helps students and universities.

EARLIER on Sunday afternoon, the first of the organizational enterprising projects will take place on the Phi Mu lawn with a "Sunday" party. Phi Mu and Chi Omega will both be in charge of the fun party from 3 until 5 p.m.

A Delta Delta Delta Fashion Show in the Opperman Music hall, Tuesday from 5 to 8 p.m. will feature clothes from Maxcy's, Jane Gourdie Bee and his orchestra are to furnish the music for the show.

WEDNESDAY at 7:15 a.l dorm teas and the Kappa Delta Silver Tea will be held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Also on Wednesday, the "P" Club is sponsoring a box supper at Landis "green" from 5-7 p.m.

The all-sing and Sing-song version has been scheduled for Thursday at 7 p.m. It has become one of the highlights of Campus Chest week, as it features the singing of the various sororities and fraternities.

THE CAMPUS Chest committee is sponsoring a street dance, Friday at 8 p.m.

Culminations of the week will be the Powder Puff Bowl Game sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Theta, Saturday at 2:15 p.m.

All during the week the sororities and fraternities are planning special money-making events. Delta Zeta will have shoe shine stands all campus. Delta Gamma is planning a "Joe College" contest, to choose the most typical boy of the campus. Anyone

(Continued on Page 2)

Exhibition Opens About Art Schools In FSU Museum

Tomorrow will mark the opening of a new exhibition "Art Schools U. S. A." in the Museum Gallery.

This exhibition is annually prepared by the Addison Gallery, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. Made up of 200 drawings selected from the work of 25 professional art schools in this country, the entire exhibit comes to this campus as an Artists Series event.

Each year a different group of professional art schools and colleges are chosen to send a limited number of pictures. The institutions invited to contribute, are those which have a definite creative work and are selected by the head of each school, in consultation with his staff.

The FSU art department has been asked to participate in the 1952 exhibition, and paintings from this campus will join the exhibit next year under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

Some of the institutions participating in this year's exhibit are Drake University, Honolulu Academy of Arts, Michigan State College, Scripps College, Stanford University and Notre Dame.

Last Day Today To Pick Up Books

Today is the last day the APO book exchange will be open this semester.

Students who have not picked up their books or money this semester are asked to consult the attendants in the exchange during the hours of 9 a. m. until 12 noon and 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Books not claimed will be returned to the exchange if they were put in a year ago.

The Alpha aPhi Omega book exchange is in its second year and the Alpha Phi fraternity is in charge of New York University.

The exchange started as a project of the junior class and had Shirley Gregory, now vice-president of the senior class, in charge.

Tommy Bowen, chairman of the APO project asks that all students come by and pick up their books or money immediately. Last week hundreds of dollars and a few books were returned.

Seniors Given Important Data On Graduation

Senior Class president Dick Bradley informed classmates Wednesday of pertinent information and data and emphasized that those students who have not filled degrees for graduation do so at once.

The deadline for the degree filing was Feb. 23.

"THIS CANT go on much longer," Bradley said to this writer afterward. The degrees have to be evaluated and checked thoroughly.

The senior president also noted that interns do not have to pay their diploma fee. The application for internship as originally announced: "This applies only to interns however," Bradley stated.

THE PRESIDENT said that the class did hope to have the group picture taken as the Alumni office and Public Relations office requested.

Senior class rings may be ordered at any time from the Florida University Book Store, he said. Bradley has formerly made the announcement, but this is the last year a senior class will be offered the same ring for quick cheap prices.

CLASS INVITATIONS will be on display in the Book Store when they have returned. There will be a selection and cards may also be ordered at the same time, Feb. graduates did not have a selection.

Among other suggestions brought up by class members Wednesday was the reiterated one that the Westcott chimes be fixed so that new ones be bought. Bradley said that the class had also mentioned putting a permanent bulletin board in the new Student Union building. Already on the slate of suggestions is a lounge case donation.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN for Class Day, the Junior-Senior prom, and the graduation dance will be announced when definite plans are yet to be appointed. They will be selected by the senior class officers later, Bradley said.

The Junior Senior prom is set for May 10, the week-end that interns return.

Bradley said he did make an announcement the fellow 150 classmates present to vote.

CAMERA will not be sent to the interns, he reassured if a chairman can be found dependable for the job. This is to keep seniors informed of activities.

Final Deadline Today On Intern Applications

Today is the last day to turn in applications for internships for the first semester of next year, Applications should be taken to the Internship Office, 205 Education building.

Because of the large number of persons expected to intern next year, applicants have been urged to plan their internship during the first semester.

It is necessary for an intern to have a C average before the application will be processed.

REVIEWING ACTIVITIES—A group at the people responsible for the success of Intelligence Faith Week are shown discussing the week's activities. Seated from left to right are Mr. Ted Johnson, Betty Barnes, Ruth Worrell, Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth, Betty Yancey and Ellen Avis. Standing from left to right are Rev. David Seamands, Barbara Schwartz, Mary Ruth Summers and Miss Alpharetta Leeper.

If Week Results Called Encouraging

Results of Intelligent Faith Week at Florida State University are encouraging, according to Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth, chairman of the executive committee directing the program.

"If" Week closed Wednesday afternoon after three days of meetings and discussion groups on campus and in local religious houses and churches.

MAIN EVENT of the week was the address Tuesday by the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, well-known German Lutheran minister, who reported on his recent trip into Russia.

According to Pastor Niemoeller churches are growing behind the Iron Curtain, although limited to strictly religious activity. He said that as far as he could tell the churches were not fronts for Soviet state.

MEMBERS OF an 11-man team directed by the Rev. Edward Johnson spoke in classrooms, Greek letter houses, and several Tallahassee churches while in FSU.

Most of the student and faculty

(Continued on Page 2)

Contest Result Known Today

Final eliminations of the six contestants in the W. F. S. U. sponsored Tommy Tucker Talent Hunt program were held last night at the home of the Flambeau deadline yesterday.

The six finalists selected Tuesday from the 32 entrants, however, were Helen Bell, Bennie White, Rosemary Smith, Blair Hennessey, Stan Rabin, and David Lowe. One boy and one girl were to be chosen last night from the six.

AMONG JUDGES in last night's final decision were Dr. Willie Houseworth of the School of Music who selected on vocal ability; while Will Pennell, University Government Association president acted as student arbiter. Also on the judging committee were Dr. William Slaughter, professor in the School of Journalism and Thomas Wright, assistant professor in the School of Music.

The Talent Hunt winners will appear as the 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. broadcasts of the Tommy Tucker show in the State theater on March 5.

RADIO STATION WFSU said that the contest winners will present a half-hour program on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. It will originate from the Opperman Music hall and be broadcast over WFSU.

Stan Gould, manager of the campus radio station, says that the main reason behind the Talent Hunt is to encourage talented singers and to discover talent to be featured in live musical shows over WFSU.

"The campus station plans to devote as much time as possible to live music in the future," he concluded.

PRIZES OF the contest consist of two free dinners at the Seven Seas restaurant the night following the stage appearances.

Winners will also receive free passes to the State theater for a month. The station will receive a nylon blouse from the Vogue and $5 in merchandise from Paul Turner's.

The boy will get a Van Heusen sport shirt from Turner's and a Marlboro sport shirt from Nick Tomney.

Music Professor To Present Recital Of Sacred Songs

A recital of sacred songs will be presented by Fred Waller James, tenor, in the Opperman Music hall Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. Mr. James will be assisted by Prof. John Boda as accompanist.

The program, offered as part of this season's Faculty Recital Series, will be open to the public.

This will be Mr. James's first recital since returning to the campus this year after a leave of absence. He spent last year in New York City doing advanced study in voice, conducting and sacred music.

Prof. James has sung many opera and oratorio roles, and will include two arias from famous oratorios in his program this evening. These will be the aria "Why the Gods of Israel Sleep" from Handel's Samson, and the aria "On my heart" from The Messiah" from Engedi by Beethoven.

Selections from several songcycles will be sung, including three songs from The Holy Sonnets of John Donne as set to music by Benjamin Britten, three of the six Sacred Songs by Gerald Tyrwhitt, set to poems by Beethoven, and Four Hymns by Ralph Vaughan Williams.

Mr. James will also sing his own musical setting of Psalm 22, Resurrection, by Dr. Houseworth, and Job's Curse by Henry Purcell.

ROTC Units Plan Banquet and Dance

Arrangements for a formal ball sponsored jointly by the Air and Ordnance ROTC units on campus are well under way.

The dance will be held in the Suwannee room of the Florida State University dining hall March 8 from 8 to 12 p.m. The Reventa dance band will be featured.

A queen selected by ROTC students will be crowned at the ball. Last year Barbara Braxton was selected the ROTC royalty.

Though sponsored by the ROTC, the dance will be free and open to the entire student body.

A military banquet preceding the dance will be held in the Lafayette Dining hall. The dinner bells from 6 to 7 p.m. for ROTC students and their dates.

THE NORTH IS HOT! North Carolina, that is. A flaming wastepaper basket rang a one alarm fire early Wednesday night. Three pumpers, a ladder truck and a huge crowd were attracted by the alarm. The fire was extinguished by three co-eds on the second floor

Qualifying Deadline Reset To Gain More Candidates

3rd Annual ODK-Sponsored Political Rally To Be Held Monday in Music Amphitheatre

A shortage of persons qualifying for student offices has caused Will Pennell, president of the University Government Association, acting with the advice and consent of student leaders, to extend the time during which students may state their intentions to run to Monday afternoon at 4 p. m.

Monday evening at 7 p. m. the third annual Omicron Delta Kappa political rally will be held in the amphitheater. Jerry Thomas, chairman of the rally, has announced that candidates who wish to speak should arrive about 15 minutes early.

CANDIDATES for major offices will be given about five minutes to speak; others will be given a shorter time.

In an official statement referring to the time extension, Pennell said, "Because of the small number of people qualifying for UGA offices, I have, by executive order, extended the qualification date to 4 p.m. Monday afternoon.

"THIS MAY seem a little impartial to those who qualified on time, but they have had advantages of extra campaigning time.

"I feel it only fair to the student body to be given that of few have qualified and to give them more time to do so.

"Students should urge qualified people to run for these offices, for they are very important."

THE EXTENSION of time ems by executive order, but Pennell stressed in signing that he was assisted in reaching a decision by Dick Bradley, president of the senior class; Betty Rich, Vice-president in charge of Women's Affairs; and Bob Griffin, editor of the Florida Flambeau.

Particular cause for concern was the low number of positions where only one person has qualified.

Only Marcia Morris has qualified for secretary of the UGA, only Mayor Moore for chairman of Judiciary, Cosme Cardoso for Sandspur chairman.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT of the University Recreation Association, Lou Pollock has qualified; for secretary of URA, Joan Guardi; for Flambeau business manager, Leon Shriver; for Smoke Signals business manager, Nancy Moore.

Only Claudia Thomas had qualified for Tally-Ho editor, only Betty Moore for Tally-Ho business manager.

Others who had qualified by the

(Continued on Page 2)

Cabinet System Hangs on Snag In UGA Senate

Amendments, Objection From Bradley Keep Proceedings at Standstill

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The proposed constitutional amendment to set up a cabinet system in the executive branch of the University Government Association hit another snag in the student Senate last Tuesday.

Last minute amendments and major objections from senior class president Dick Bradley stalled the proceedings to a standstill even after it was extended to facilitate passage of the proposal.

SENIOR SENATOR Horacio Sved's minor rewordings and amendments were rather rapidly put through the Senate, but it was Bradley's proposal of drastic amendments that brought the Senate into a turmoil and forced the constitutional amendment back to committee.

Bradley did not make it clear when he would like to see the cabinet from of government as opposed to the existing executive council of which he is a member. He did say, however, that various Republican women, in his opinion, necessary.

"I ADMIT that the executive council is ineffective," he said, and "I don't think this should be."

He added that he felt the proposed amendment might destroy the "democratic" nature of government and that Senators should think more before abolishing a system because of "a few faults."

Senator Sved took the opposite view. He replied to Bradley's points and tried to get the amendment through then, but the lack of time the proposal was returned to committee.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the Senate confirmed the executive committee's nomination of Bob Ryals to fill the vacancy created by Senator Jere Salyers' moving up to the position of Senate Clerk in Charge of Legislative Affairs after the resignation of Jim Bay.

Patty Mims, chairman of Judiciary, complained to the Senate that the dorm hours were too severe on Women's Judiciary, was the least ever on last week. She felt the dorm house mothers were needed in view of the fact that Women's Judiciary was up for debate over either the Men's or the Combined Judiciary.

Senator Mary Helen Speed noted that the number of unexcused absences permitted per class for certain Senators and wanted to know the procedure necessary to bring up for impeachment. She was informed that the impeachment proceedings was up for adoption ratification in the March 4 UGA elections.

Campaign Over WFSU

Candidates may give brief campaign speeches over radio station, Monday from 7:30 to 9:00, Sign up in WFSU office, campus.

Hamby Reviews Hall's Projects

Women's Senior Hall Aims For Service

A presentation of women's senior hall activities and projects were reviewed by senior hall president, Cathy Hamby, in Women's Senate Wednesday.

Cathy listed the privileges of senior hall women and noted that no senior room will be denied and no senior hall could complain that she could not obtain a room because of those on senior hall because any senior woman is able to apply for a room on senior hall.

THE PRESIDENT of the Landis senior hall said that the group this year has chosen to take upon themselves a service project of "Service to the Student Body." Miss former residence counselor at Jennie Murphree Hall, explained. She said the project was proving both interesting and successful.

Miss Hamby also reported up at the senate meeting was the election of Barbara Thomas to replace Mary Helen Speed as senator. Mary Helen is taking over Rich's Men's Line president in charge of Women's Affairs.

THE ELECTED SENATOR by women's senate will have to be passed by the Executive council and then the Senate. Betsy Rich said yesterday.

The matter of visitors in the dormitories recently brought repercussions, it was revealed. The present women did not observe the rules of the dorm or at least did not know them. Only one guest may be in a room with a hostess, it was noted. A proposal was made that the rules of the dorm be listed in a conspicuous place for the benefit of visitors hereafter. Senator Mary Ellen Speed's administrative codifying committee will investigate the situation further.

SENATOR LOIS STROUP brought up the fact that freshmen women were being permitted to be out of their rooms until 11:30 on week-end nights. Betsy Rich did not know where the list would be posted but assumed that Westcott would be the designated spot.

Hanarary Plans Dance

Members of Kappa Delta Pi, Education honorary, will give a square dancing party on Thursday, March 6 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the Student Union at West campus.

FBLA Meeting Starts Today

The second state convention of the Florida Business Leaders of America is being held on campus today and tomorrow, with delegates attending from chapters from all over the state.

Registration of the delegates, who come from high school chapters of FBLA, will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. today in the Lonnie auditorium. Miss Frances Brooks is in charge.

DR. FRANK S. CAMPBELL, Florida State University president, and Dr. J. Frank Dame, Dean of the School of Business, will welcome the incoming students at the first general session tonight at 7:30 p.m. Helen Hiers, FSU student body president, will preside and serve as chairman of the meeting.

A picnic will be held Friday night at 5:30 p.m. at Camp Flaccawoo with Sarah Hargrove and Betty Harrell in charge. Dr. Thomas Sanderson, FSU men mentors of the fraternity business department, will give a demonstration. She has been responsible for the production of many training films used in Yeoman's Schools in the Navy Training Center.

Betty Carlile is president of the Florida State chapter of the future Business Leaders of America. William A. Richards, of the School of Business, is faculty advisor and Miss Inez Frink and Binford Peeples, also of the School of Business, are serving as faculty coordinators for the state convention.

Civil Examinations Now Being Offered

Examinations this week end by Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant to the Dean of Women. Betty Rich did not know where the list would be posted but assumed that Westcott would be the designated spot.

STORYBOOK SOPRANO

Musical 'Cinderella' To Come

"A Cinderella of Music" without a fairy godmother is Lily Windsor's description of the Artist Series program next Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Music hall auditorium.

All of the opera star's dreams have come true in the last of 24 she received the first regular contract awarded to an American vocal teacher's seven lumes during one year.

In her first European concert, the vocalist gained wild applause in Amsterdam, Holland in 1947 at the end of her first sons. Mozart's "Alleluja."

MANY OFFERS followed, but her manager was anxious that she go to Italy for first hand operatic experience. Upon her arrival in Milan, Miss Windsor had an audition with Maestro Tullio Serafin, artistic director of La Scala.

The artistic director immediately took the young soprano as his own protege in fascination of her voice which soars over three octaves, reaching F above high C.

Miss Lily Windsor

MISS WINDSOR later deserted her practice under the Maestro to visit Rome and the home of Conductor Vincenzo Bellezza of the Rome Royal Opera Company.

"You must not leave Rome without singing for the Board of Directors," Bellezza insisted.

Although she flatly refused at first, Miss Windsor reluctantly condescended to appear in Milan and there again was a surprising success.

TWO DAYS later, she made her fascinating contract for the Rome 1947-1948 season. This was the contract awarded the first American since Edward Johnson, former General Manager of the Metropolitan.

Miss Windsor made her debut on Feb. 26, 1948 and she gave five performances of "Faust," to capacity house. "Today Lily Windsor is receiving the acclaim of many critics, while she is winning the hearts of ever-increasing audiences."

University Council Decides to Send NSA Observer

If funds are available, an observer from Florida State University will be sent to the summer convention of National Students Association, national organization of college student governments.

The action came in University Council meeting Tuesday afternoon on a motion by Jere Salyers, vice-president of legislative affairs, of the senate. Other members of the executive council absented, but the motion was passed 3-0.

FUNDS FOR the trip are being investigated by Dick Bradley, UGA treasurer. The new UGA president will be in charge.

Bob Ryals will fill a junior men's senate vacancy, Bob received 147 votes to Dave Jim Dye by a 3-1 vote.

The council announced that the March of Dimes organization must make a formal request to receive consideration for the annual Campus Chest money. Bob Griffin, Flambeau editor, informed the council that the polio drive organization was interested in receiving part of the Campus Chest funds.

DICK BRADLEY, senior class president, was voted last spring to attend the 1951 NSA convention as an observer. The action came after strong debate in the council. Dick did not attend because of fund procurement difficulty.

This year, th emotion came from the senate to send a delegate to NSA's convention.

March 5 Is Deadline

Floyd Fotle, chairman of Interfraternity Council's IPC Weekend, reminded students that the deadline for the contest to choose the name of the weekend is Wednesday, March 5. Students should submit names at the information desk on the main floor of Longmire.

Pi Phi's Receive 500 Guests During Open House Wednesday

Pi Beta Phi members and alumni officially opened their newly remodeled and redecorated house Wednesday night from 7 to 9 with a reception attended by 500 campus guests and townspeople. After passing through the receiving line, guests were shown through the rooms of the house by Pi Phi actives.

Serving coffee and sandwiches in the dining room were members of the alumni club assisted by the pledges.

Construction on the Pi Phi house was begun in July, with the interior decorations and yard landscaping only recently being completed. The new addition, which is larger than the original wing, contains a reception room, dining room, kitchen, five bedrooms, and basement with washing machine and dryer.

The old section of the house containing the living room, music and play rooms, study, guest bedroom, and sleeping porches, has been completely redecorated and newly furnished in semi-modern style.

At present there are thirty-eight girls living in the house, under direction of their chaperone, Mrs. Helen Palmer.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

OPEN HOUSE—Members of Pi Beta Phi are shown above entertaining the guests at the Pi Phi open house Wednesday night. From left to right they are Shirley Gaskin, Phoebe Jackson, Nancy Sweatman, Judy Blinch, Betty Lou Herron and Nancy Sansaman. Approximately 500 alumnae, students, faculty members and townspeople attended the reception.

Let Us Service Your
Pride and Joy
Moat's Trailway Service Station
546 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

BOB RYALS
Your Candidate for University Government Association
Vice President. A Progressive, Sincere Student Leader.
Whose Only Campaign Promise Is . . . .
I'LL DO MY BEST !!

AA ANNOUNCING AA
A NEW SERVICE
BY AN ESTABLISHED, RELIABLE FIRM
WEST PENSACOLA AT JEFFERSON OPENS TOMORROW
TALLAHASSEE'S FIRST AND ONLY
DRIVE-IN CLEANING SERVICE
JUST DRIVE IN, YOU DON'T HAVE TO GET OUT OF YOUR CAR---IT'S THE QUICKEST, MOST CONVENIENT WAY OF ENJOYING DISTINCTIVE DRY CLEANING & LAUNDRY SERVICE WITH THE LEAST EFFORT, BOTHER & WORRY.
FREE BALLOONS FOR THE CHILDREN BOTH FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT BOTH OF THESE NEW PLACES. THERE WILL BE A CLOWN ALL DAY SATURDAY AT THE NEW DRIVE-IN, WEST PENSACOLA & JEFFERSON ST.
DIAL 3-0467
MAIN PLANT
1233 N. MONROE
For Prompt Pick-Up and Delivery
AA CLEANERS
DISTINCTIVE DRY CLEANING
CONSCIENTIOUS LAUNDRY SERVICE
DIAL 3-0695
HEART-OF-TOWN BRANCH
Prompt Pick-up & Delivery Service or Just Stop In

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Greeks Elect New Officers, Hear IF Week Speakers, Hold Parties

By MARCIA MORRIS
Society Editor

The Alpha Delta Pi's were guests at the A. O. Pi house Monday night, where they heard Reverend David A. Seamands speak. New pledges of ADPi are Anne Blake and Nancy Wakefield.

Newly elected officers of Alpha Gamma Delta are Jan Swanson, president; Ernestine Hunt, 1st vice president; Becky Branan, 2nd vice president; Nancy Mayhew, corresponding secretary; Betty Mosley, recording secretary; Helen Prince, rush chairman; Carole Crabb, social chairman; and Nancy Ann Jones, editor. Monday night, the Alpha Gams and Pi Kappa Phi's were honored by having as their guest Dr. Howard, speaker for Intelligent Faith week. On Tuesday night the Alpha Gams entertained their house mother Mrs. Gilliland, with a surprise birthday party. Thursday night initiation was held for the pledges. Following initiation members honored the new initiates with the annual Rose Banquet.

Last Sunday night, the Alpha Xi Delta's served the second of a series of suppers to be held from now on. Monday night the members and their guests, the Delta Tau Delta's, enjoyed a talk on "The United States and Its Accomplishments in the Last Six Years," given by Miss Mabel Head.

New chapter officers for Chi Omega are Barbara Brewton, president; Sara Margaret Davis, vice-president; Ara Andrews, secretary; Jean Wetherell, treasurer; and Mary Leslie Keen, pledge trainer. Nineteen pledges will be initiated by the Chi O's this weekend. On Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00 the Chi O's and Phi Mu's are having a "Sundae" party for all dormitory, sororities and fraternities. The proceeds will go to the Campus Chest.

Tuesday night the Delta Delta Delta's held a culture meeting with Mrs. Eubanks, a Baptist Na-tional Officer as guest speaker. Tri Deli officers for the coming year are: Mimi Tubbs, president; Ann Babel, vice president; Carolyn Boschen, treasurer; Marilyn Rhodes, corresponding secretary Sandra Chance, recording secretary, Becky Mercer, rush chairman; June McKinney, social chairman; and Nancy Smith, house chairman. Initiation will be held Friday and Saturday for Tri Deli pledges.

Wednesday night the Delta Zeta's had a supper party followed by an informal coffee honoring Mrs. C. E. Kree, province director who is visiting the chapter. Pledges will spend the night in the house tonight in observance of the annual actives night out. Recently elected officers of Delta Zeta are Claudia Thomas, president; Annie Claire Irvine, 1st vice-president; Marilyn Linton 2nd vice president; Shirley McLain, recording secretary; Carol Trimmer, corresponding secretary; Kay Davis, treasurer; Lamp editor, Harriet Knight. The D Z's are sponsoring a shoe shine concession on campus, March 5, in connection with the Campus Circus.

Kappa Delta's will begin their annual weekend with an Arabian party tonight. Saturday morning a party will be held at the coast, followed by a formal banquet and dance at Wakulla Lodge Officers for Gamma Phi Beta are Evie Carter, president; Ann McCurdy, vice president; Martha Watkins, recording secretary; Joyce Eichson, corresponding secretary; Doc Douglas, pledge trainer; Faye Miller, treasurer; and Mary Ann Thomas, house manager. This Friday night the Gamma Phi's are beginning their annual weekend with a Sadie Hawkins Day costume party at the house. Saturday their formal dance will be held at the American Legion Hall. This past Sunday the Gamma Phi's ended their grade average contest with the Mu average girls in the chapter, treating their high average friends to steak dinner at the Silver Slipper.

Chapter officers for Phi Mu elected last Monday night are Carol Gray, president; Frankie Clark, vice president; Kitty Oliver, secretary; Barbara Michaels, treasurer; Edna Page, rush chairman; Polly Lassiter, pledge trainer, Phyllis Bayley, house manager; and Shirley Tatuer, social chairman. The actives recently surprised the old pledges with a party in their honor. Mrs. Polly Freas, National President of Phi Mu was a guest of the chapter this week. An open house was be held in her honor Wednesday night. A coffee was held Monday night at which time the Phi Mu's and SAE's had speeches on Intelligent Faith Week by Dr. Hartz and Dr. Bushing.

Sigma Kappa entertained both school seniors and dates with an informal party Sandspur weekend. At a joint meeting with Kappa Sigma Mrs. Lachan C. Van, Jr. spoke on the need for missionaries, and her own missionary experiences in South Africa. Tuesday night Dean Warren was guest speaker at the Sigma Kappa house.

New Lambda Chi Alpha pledges are Mike Kish, Ed Crain, Bob Byrd, Bert Jackson, and Jack Kalisi. The Lambda Chi's were hosts to the Zeta Tau Alpha's last night. Monday night the chapter noted the beginning of "IF" week at a joint meeting with the Alpha Chi Omegas. President Campbell was the featured speaker.

'IF' Week Results

(Continued from Page 1)

committees who helped steer the "IF" Week program to its successful functioning, except for the following committees, which is analyzing the week.

THIS COMMITTEE will make its report at the next meeting and written recommendations will be made to use in planning next year's religious emphasis week here.

Members of the follow-up committee include chairmen of all student and faculty committees which operated during "IF" Week.

Speakers and leaders for "IF" Week were provided by non-denominational Florida Chain of Missions and the week was sponsored by the University Religious Council, composed of representatives from all faiths have student work at FSU.

DORM DOINGS

'IF' Week Holds Dormitory Spotlight

By JUDY SIMKINS
Asst. Society Editor

The Graduate Club is holding a "Leap Year" party in BROWARD Hall tonight. Plans are being made for the formal faculty reception to be held March 12.

LANDES will be the scene of a kitchen party sometime next week. Each floor will at that time present an original skit.

The alternate officers for the interns in SENIOR HALL in Landes are Hazel Reedy, chairman; Shirley Atwell, secretary; Margaret Erickson, social chairman; Betty Lippke, Patti Mims, Margie Lou Harden, Elias Ribas, floor chairmen.

DENNIE MURPHREE, last Tuesday, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell led a discussion group in connection with "IF week. Dr. J. Cowper Emith spoke about Korea last Wednesday at the bi-weekly tea.

Dr. Seamonds, missionary from India, was the guest speaker at REYNOLDS' "IF" week tea.

NORTH CAWTHON has sent out invitations for their "Leap Year" party to be held tonight. Chairmen of the committees are Kisten Morrow, entertainment; Jean Hobbs, refreshment; Ginny Lundy, decorations, with House Council serving as the steering committee, headed by Edna Faber.

Dr. Gene Howard, "IF" week speaker, was head of the last Wednesday in SOUTH CAWTHON.

Last Monday, DORM 390 held a meeting for the purpose of electing new officers. The results are as follows: Don Van Hise, president; Rook Bishop, vice-governor; Huh Kinsey, social chairman; George Matter, athletic director, and Bob Baker, reporter. More participation in sports and activities was stressed.

APO to Sponsor Lost and Found Auction This Year

The annual Lost and Found Auction is being held Wednesday, March 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the Longmire auditorium under the supervision by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. This is the first time APO has sponsored the auction.

Auctioneer for the evening will be Otis McBride, Dean of Men. He will put on the auction block the collection of articles accumulated by the lost and found department for several years.

ITEMS WILL BE sold to the highest bidder on a cash and carry basis. Proceeds allocated will go to the Longmire building fund for the betterment of the campus and direct benefit of the students

Other arrangements for the auction are being handled by Miss Jane Adams, director of the Longmire building where the department is located.

"Only articles unclaimed for a year will be put up for auction. Students may find it worth their while to check the department for misplaced possessions before March 5," said Miss Adams.

SNU ALSO encourages students to attend the auction Wednesday night. "Many bargains will be found in the second-hand merchandise which includes earring, ID bracelets, fountain pens, jackets, rimet, umbrellas, boots, raincoats and other valuable items," she commended.

The Lost and Found Auction has been an annual affair for approximately six years.

Willis Tyrrell is chairman for APO. Members will also handle publicity.

Graduates Plan Shipwreck Party

Highlight of the graduate social agenda this weekend will be a Leap Year Shipwreck Party tonight at 8:30 in Broward hall.

Graduate students' wives will be honored at a tea given Sunday, March 2 at 4 p.m. by Dean and Mrs. Milton Carothers, 945 Mcconnere Rd. Dr. Carothers is the head of the graduate school.

Those attending must contact Mrs. A. W. Anthony, phone number 2-0625.

PLAY BITS

Doris Dalton Arrives For Week of Rehearsal

By JEAN FLYNN

Miss Doris Dalton, Broadway star and movie actress, arrives tomorrow to rehearse with the cast of S. N. Behrman's comedy Biography. She will have a week to work with the rest of the actors before opening nite, March 14. With a broad range of experience behind her, Miss Dalton will undoubtedly give a professionally interesting performance.

Reuben Silver is directing two medieval plays in theatre-in-the-round style, to be presented in the art museum, as La Parisienne was. One is a farce; Patelin and the other a serious story, Noah.

The acting class, under the direction of Dr. George McCalmon, has been touring nearby towns in Georgia and Florida with several one-act shows. Demands for Florida State University talents are on the increase.

Les Jongleurs, the drama honorary, will initiate three "apprentices", within the next two weeks they are: Lee Hildman, Carolyn Brites, and Sunny Banks.

Try-outs for "Mistress of the Inn", by Goldoni, will be held within the next few weeks.

Cast and crew will journey to Sarasota to present the show at the annual arts seminar in that city, in April. It will be the third FSU production to be staged there. The set, an authentic 18-century Italian stage, was the original one used for Goldoni's comedy, and the famous actress Eleanora Duse, once played the title role on it.

'Biography' Cast Rehearsing For March Comedy

Rehearsals are in full swing for the forthcoming production of S. N. Behrman's comedy Biography, March 14 through 18, a joint presentation of the department of speech and the Artist Series.

The play will bring to this campus Miss Doris Dalton, star of stage, radio, and television, who will appear in the role of Marion Froude.

MISS DALTON will join the cast March 8. Meanwhile, the cast is now putting their paces under Dr. George McCalmon, chairman of the drama area of the speech department.

Student members of the cast include Beatrice Lacoste, junior speech major, as Miss Dalton's understudy; Robert Birane, sophomore, as Richard Curt; William Upshaw, graduate student, as Leander Nolan; Jean Flynn, senior, as Minnie; Hoyt Bowen, graduate student, as Orrin Kinnicot; and Ann Gressette, freshman, and Bert Hollander, sophomore, alternate as Skip Kinnicot.

THE SERIES of the evening performances of Biography, on March 14, 15, 17, and 18, are open to the public. Evening performances of the department of speech are Artist Series events also. These Performances are primarily for the general public.

The two matinee performances on March 15 and 22 and the evening performance on March 19, 20, 21, 22, 24 and 25 are Artist Series events at which students are admitted free on presentation of their identification card.

ANY SPACE not used by students at these Artist Series performances will be sold to the general public.

Qualifying Deadline

(Continued from Page 1)

5 p.m. deadline yesterday were Ted Bonnemyer, Mary Ruth Summers and Jere Salyers for presidents of UGA. Milton Carothers, Bon Ryals, Jimmie Ann Gray, Gene Turano and Bobby Drake for Vice-president in charge of Leaislative Affairs. Jim Dye and Jim Dye and Tom Scott for Vice-president in charge of Men's Affairs.

JUNE CONYERS and Jo Nell Peace are running for Vice-president in charge of Women's Affairs. Tom Perkins and Jean Wetherell for Treasurer of UGA. John E. McCrary and Jan Arbogast for Secretary. Jimmy Jones, Tate and John Buckley for Chief Justice of the University Court.

Seeking the office of president of the URA are Betty Holland and Robert P. O'Connell; editor of the Flambeau, Barbara Henry and Bill Dunn; editor of Smoke Signals, Bill Mills and Boots Harvin.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. O. K. Bateman, acting director of the Student Union on West campus, the only places at the Union where campaign posters may be displayed are the three bulletin boards.

Students wanting further information about qualifications for office and election procedure should consult the Pow-Wow and earlier issues of the Florida Flambeau.

Campaign Begins

(Continued from Page 1)

may nominate candidates. The windsor will be the boy who has received the most penny votes.

OTHER SORORITIES participating are Alpha Omega Delta, selling cokes at the Saturday game; Alpha Chi Omega, cokes sale; and Zeta Tau Alpha, jewelry cleaning stand.

The Gamma Phi Betas will be selling chances on their jar full of pennies.

Alpha Xi Delta has had special pencils made to read "Campus Chest—FSU" which they will have on sale during the week.

LAMBDA CHI Alpha, representing the fraternities, will sell fruit from an apple cart.

Last year the Campus Chest was begun as an experiment to consolidate all the drives formerly held throughout the year. It has grown to include support of the Heart Fund, World Student Service Fund, Cancer Fund and Polio fund.

The drive last year had a $1500 goal. Final totals were $1200 but the drive was still considered enough of a success to repeat this year.

Elect
BILL
D
U
N
N FLAMBEAU
EDITOR
• Reporter
• Asst. News Editor
• Asst. Managing Editor
• Associate Editor
• Managing Editor
• Columnist

Beetle Bailey
SWEET SHOP
701 W. Jefferson

If Elected, I Promise .

President UGA

...r campus, as on most pre-...ware college campuses, student ...ernment has taken a back seat ...e world situation in student ...nterest. This is a result of ...g strife, and no one is to ...e. The uncertainties of the ...ure seem to push the realizes ...ernon life into relative unimi-...ance.

...ving served as President of ...Sophomore Class and Vice-...sident in charge of Men's Af-...s, the lack of interest in stu-...government has been very ...ceptible to me. The healthy at-...ture of student body interest ...dent body problems has al-...ys been cited. Yet none of us would feel that student problems are unimportant.

Perhaps, then, our University Government Association has the new responsibility of bringing student government to the men and women of our campus.

As a candidate for the office of President of UGA I am perhaps one of the few foolish enough to believe these student affairs ARE important, despite the world uncertainty we face. I see a need to help bring student government problems and activities TO the student body in order to gain the needed interest. This is the underlying theme of my platform.

Without claims to do the impossible or speculation for future possibilities, my platform is simply to genuinely work as President of UGA, if elected, to make the University Government Association in actuality what it must be to succeed—a function actively participated in by our student body.

Your vote is needed to help me in the effort to bring student government TO the student body.

Yours for a more active student government

TED STEINMEYER

President UGA

Dear Students,

1. The University Government Association must be put in the Constitution of Florida State University, for as it stands now student government could be abolished at any time.

2. Form an hospitality committee to greet all visitors and help all members of the student body get acquainted.

3. Work to be able to have outstanding Negro leaders and entertainers visit this campus.

4. Establish a student-court system for the entire university.

5. Create more interest in student government with all students.

6. Form a Cabinet System in the Executive part of University Government Association.

7. Have no Faculty or Administration supervision over Flambeau, Radio Station - WFSU, Smoke Signals and Tally Ho.

8. Urge more support to all athletic teams and have a Go. Tech weekend free from all classes

9. Try to get a better Artist Series with a wider variety of entertainment.

10. Urge speed in the building of men's dorms and classrooms.

11. Try to get more places on the approved list for girls and do away with having to get permission to ride in a car after midnight -12:00-.

12. Work on co-ed visiting in the infirmary.

12. Have a Student Government Week and have open house all year to everyone.

14. Election Laws and have a voting place in every dorm. Westcott, Seminole and West Campus.

I would like to serve you as your President and the above points are a few of the things I would like to do. There are many capable people running for office so please use your precious right to vote which our boys in Korea are fighting and dying to preserve for us.

Remember—Summers is the best all year round as President of the University Government Association.

Very sincerely yours,
MARY KATH SUMMERS

President UGA

Dear Students ,

I am a candidate for your student body president.

I feel that I am well qualified for president because I have been affiliated with student government since my early freshman days.

During this time I have held the following major offices:

1. Freshman class treasurer
2.Sophomore class senator
3. Junior class senator.

Now I am vice-president of your student body due to the recent resignation of Jim Kirk.

The student senate elected me to this position after being selected as vice presidential nominee by the same body.

Moreover, I will be acting president of the student body when Will Pennell is interning this semester. which will give me valuable experience in that position.

My platform is as follows:

1. To set up definite powers for the U.G.A. by securing a charter from the university, and to let the U.G.A. have full freedom in functioning of said powers.

2. To form an organizations council so that every organization will have an active part in student government.

3 Definite planning of a U.G.A. week on campus to promote student interest and backing of the U.G.A

4. Further relaxation of rules concerning women students.

5. Improvement of student working conditions for FSU's student employees.

6. To construct a rules booklet of all U.G.A. and other pertinent rules, regulations, violations, and Vote next Tuesday for the one better informed student body.

7.To inform the student thoroughly in regards to student finances. That is, to publish the exact details of where student money goes and how it is spent.

8. To sponsor a better recreational system for the campus. This includes fore and varied activities that the university now offers.

With your vote and support I plan to carry out this platform thoroughly as I have carried out others in the past.

If elected, I plan to build student government to a higher level in the minds of the administration and students. With student interest the UGA can have complete student backing to achieve any goals that the student body so desires. I will try to my utmost to make the UGA the "students voice."

oVte next Tuesday for the one whom you think will be the most representative of the students, not whatever you do be sure and vote.

Thank you,
Jere Salyers

Vice-President

Dear Students:

In announcing my candidacy for Vice-President in charge of Women's Affairs I am also announcing my sincere wish to serve everyone of you to the best of my ability.

During my three years as a student at FSU I have worked in all phases of student government—both class and University Government. The duties of UGA Secretary this past year have, in particular, given me an insight into student government work which I believe will be an asset to my future responsibility I may have and qualifies me to hold the position of Vice-President in charge of Women's Affairs.

In general the following principles will serve as my guide if I am elected to this office:

1. All of my energies shall be devoted to changing the student apathy toward student government into a vital interest.

2. My position as Chairman of Women's Senate will be used to make this body extremely sensitive to the needs of women students and to the campus at large.

3. The progress which has been made in revising and eliminating unnecessary rules and regulations will be continued.

4 As a representative of the student body I shall strive to work harmoniously with all branches of student government.

The coming elections are important to you as students of FSU. Be sure to vote and be sure to remember that I will place my responsibility to you above anything else if elected.

Thank you for your support.
JO NELL PROCTOR.

Vice-President

Fellow Students:

Many of you may have seen some of my posters and noticed my slogan: "The Man With The Practical Plan."

Here is that Plan:

1. To set the University to grant a charter to the University Government Association, clearly defining their powers, rights and benefits, and to allow them sovereignty within these bounds.

2. To conduct an investigation and make a complete report as to the possibility of giving junior counsellors some sort of remuneration—at least their room free.

2. To get the senate to either enact or repeal the "taken for granted" laws which are prosecuted by the courts. but which have never been passed by the senate.

4. To arranga for a conference for the presidents of as many campus organizations as possible to arrange schedules of meetings so that they may avoid as many conflicts as possible.

5. To enact a set of definite and specific election laws.

6. To appoint a commission to work with the University Recreation Association and the Recreation Committee to establish an annual festival week-end such as 'Sadie Hawkins Day."

7. To create public voting records for each senator while he is in the senate so that the class will know how their senator is voting.

8. To make periodic reports to the students through the newspaper as to progres on this platform.

Sincerely,
Jimmie Evans

Vice-President

Fellow Students:

I am a candidate for the office of Vice-President in charge of Legislative Affairs. After serving in the University Senate I believe I know the work and the responsibility that this job demands.

If elected I promise two things:

(1) I shall work at all times to make our Student Government a stronger Student Government.

(2) I shall work always to serve the interests of the entire Student Body.

I sincerely hope to have this opportunity to serve you in this capacity. Your support shall be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Milton Carothers

Vice-President

To the Student Body:

Your vote, your support, your confidence are needed in the coming UGA elections. My platform is a strong student government that will give you positive action and not double talk. We need student government officers who have more than a selfish motive in seeking an office. My only motive is to serve you.

If elected I will give you these three things:

(1) Competent service.

(2) A sincere effort to find out what you want done.

(3) To have it done in the best possible way.

The only reason that I am not outlining a detailed platform is simply because your wishes and unforseen problems will be determined and met when they arise, I am familiar with the existing problems on campus and promise you that I will do all within my power to meet and solve them.

But more important, I will give you a strong and progressive student government.

Bob Ryals

Vice-President

Dear Editor:

On Tuesday, March 4, the students of F.S.U. will go to the polls to select their choices for U.G.A.

Among the names there, you will find mine. I feel that I am capable, and I will do my utmost to incorporate into the student government such things that will insure participation by the students. If elected, I shall keep a close contact with the student body in order to give just consideration to student opinion.

In this I am a great believer, as I look forward to a better student government.

Jim Dye.

Secretary

Dear Fellow Students:

I am a candidate for the office of Secretary of UGA, an office which I believe is important because it carries with it among other things the privileges of vote on university council.

It is difficult to prevent any platform for UGA Secretary, for rather than being a "policy forming" office, its duties consist mainly of keeping the minutes for University Senate meetings. In the way of qualifications, other than familiarity with the regular duties of secretary, I have acquired some experience in my two years on campus by holding several dormitory and class offices.

Although your support would be greatly appreciated, when Tuesday comes, I urge you to remember carefully all candidates running for office, and above all I urge you to vote!

UGA is our governing body.

Yours sincerely,
MARCIA MORRIS.

Journalism Forum Planned Next Week

Vocational posibilities for students in journalism and social work will be presented March 4 and 5 respectively, Dr. Melvena Hardee, Coordinator of Counselors has announced.

Dean Laurence R. Campbell of the School of Journalism is in charge of the journalism program in 102 of the Journalism building at 4 p. m.

Opportunities in social work, religious education, pre-seminary, law and social work, and social work and teaching, will be discussed at 4 p. m. on March 4 in room 111 of the Social Work building. Dean Coyle E. Moore of the Social Welfare School is in charge of the program. Assisting him will be Dr. Lester Pearl and Dr. William Leap.

Assisting Dean Campbell in the journalism opportunities talk will be Professor WiWilliam R. Slaughter and Professor Paul Sculers.

When good fellows get together they wear Sportshirts by Manhattan

Indoors or out, when you see a crowd of campus hipsters relaxing, you're sure to notice that the really smart boys are wearing Manhattan Sportshirts. The reason is as simple as a snap course. Manhattan Sportshirts are styleright, handsomely tailored, and so darned comfortable you just hate to take 'em off. Manhattan has them in long and short sleeves . . . in a wide variety of colors and patterns all in the finest fabrics. All are the sportiest you could put on your back when you want to take it easy!

Manhattan

Shirts, Sportshirts, Knitwear, Underwear, Pajamas, Beachwear, Handkerchiefs

Cover Girl
DRESS FLATS BY PRIMA
NEW
3 IN 1 CONVERTABLE
7.95
free button hook with each pair

1. as a smart one-strap shoe! flat . . . matching strap

★ Navy Kid
★ Red Kid
★ White Kid
★ Golden Kid
★ Light Yellow Kid
★ Light Gray Kid
★ Lilac Kid
★ Guava Kid
★ Tamarind Kid
★ Aqua Kid
★ Chalk Pink Kid
★ Ming Green Kid
★ Black Suede
7.95

2. Turn the Strap over, It's a smart two-tone

3. Take the strap off It's a smooth plummer pump.

BAGS TO MATCH
Sizes 4 to 10 S-N-M

Dine with us in the Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
Do you feel tired and sluggish — try one of our thick shakes for pep and energy!
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Born Yesterday
With Judy Holliday and William Holden
STATE
TODAY-TUESDAY
Lone Star
with Clark Gable and Ava Gardner
RITZ
Today and Saturday
Ray Rogers and Dale Evans
"Pals of the Golden West"
ALSO Let's Go Navy
with
THE BOWERY BOYS and LEO GORCEY
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
Bride of the Gorilla with Barbara Payton
plus
Colorado Sundown
with Rex Allen and Mary Ellen Kay
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

J. C. SMITH
GRADUATE WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS
ORIE GARRETT
Cordially Invite You to Visit Their New Jewelry Store and Up-to-Date Repair Department
SPECIAL
Ladies' and Men's Gold Filled Expansion
WATCH BANDS $2.95
FREE! CLEANING AND INSPECTION OF COSTUME JEWELRY AND RINGS
TALLAHASSEE JEWELRY CO.
221 SOUTH ADAMS PHONE 2-5187

Apathy Slows Campaining For UGA Student Position

Campus political campaigning is now in full swing. "Vote for me" posters are everywhere. With election day only four days off it is not too early to urge the voters to begin making up their minds as to their choice of candidates. Neither is it too early to urge them to get out and vote.

Every year when election time rolls around, the pereonial problem of getting out the student voters arises anew. It is obvious that a lack of interest prevails on this campus. The usual small turnout in elections is evidence enough of student apathy. No one can justifiably criticize their government leaders or their government if they refuse to take advantage of the opportunity of helping choose these officers.

This year the bugaboo apathy has apparently spread to the candidates themselves. Only ten of them submitted campaign letters to the Flambeau when that opportunity was extended to them. Posters alone are not a sufficient guide to the voters. However they are often the only guide offered and therefore the determining factor in campus elections. Could it be that this year's candidates have no platforms to offer their constituents? Have they so little time or interest in their own campaigns that they couldn't spare the time and trouble to write a campaign letter?

The political rally planned by ODK is one of the best offered the students for picking their favorite candidates. It is also perhaps the best opportunity which the candidates have for presenting their platforms and statements of policy to the voters. A big turnout Monday night of both voters and candidates would give FSU's student government a much needed shot in the arm. It is hard to believe that the students here have no interest in the outcome of the elections. Monday's rally should tell the tale.

Not only do we need a larger election day turnout, but we also need a more intelligent vote. This can be realized only when the voters take it upon themselves to inform themselves in every way possible of the qualifications and platforms of the candidates. Before the voters can do this, however, it is necessary for the candidates to campaign in a more positive and constructive manner. As was mentioned above the sole determining factor in many or most elections of the past has been the quantity of posters displayed by each candidate. Perhaps it is time that FSU revise its pattern of political campaigning. If the time and effort put into these meaningless posters could be put into reaching the voters through rallies and the campus newspaper and radio station, the balloting procedure would not be so meaningless and futile to the voters.

It is imperative that the voters participate, however, even though this fallacy in campaign procedure exists. On Tuesday, vote intelligently if posible, but VOTE!

● ARE YOU ASLEEP?

Well, wake up!

YOU—the students of Florida State University!

You who have been lamenting the apathy of FSU students, and you the apathetic—this is your chance to prove yourselves wide awake, alert to situations and needs beyond your own. This is your chance to give something to others—through your Campus Chest.

What is Campus Chest?

Campus Chest is an organization of funds derived from your donations which is divided to include four major charitable organizations—Heart, Cancer, Polio, and the World Student Service Fund, and several smaller charities. Campus Chest is designed for your convenience. Through this organization, solicitations are made only once a year for all charities. This means your gift must include your donations to several groups. In other words this is not an excuse to give simply your usual gift to polio, or cancer, or heart, and consider it as your donation to all three. Rather, it is simply your opportunity to bring all your gifts together and give them conveniently all at once.

And surely there is some one or more of these charities close to each of us—some drive which benefits a friend or relative. Perhaps one of the largest and neediest of these organizations is the World Student Service Fund—an organization benefiting students like ourselves throughout the world. It is this fund which provides books, paper, and other necessary equipment for schools in war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia. It may provide laboratory equipment for a budding biologist in Germany or paper for the brain-child of a philosopher in Greece, where professors have donated all their texts to be mimeographed by student volunteers. It might provide food and medicine for a boy in Japan, or just an opportunity to go to school—to escape the binding customs of culture—for a girl in India. All these and more are included in the projects of W.S.S.F.

The benefits of the Polio, Heart, and Cancer Funds are probably better known to those of us here in America. These drives which ordinarily occur throughout the year are here brought together under the united Campus Chest Drive. Therefore, this is your opportunity to give to one and all of these worthy charities.

ARE YOU ASLEEP?

Let us not be caught napping.

Give to Campus Chest!

● REPERCUSSIONS

Intelligent Faith Week, which is another name for religious emphasis week, aroused much discussion during the three-days it was on campus this week, largely due to the presence of Rev. Martin Niemoeller.

The 11-member "If" week team came to Florida State University from Tampa and Lakeland where it had held meetings.

Lakeland was still feeling repercussions of the meetings there while the speakers were at FSU.

Students at Florida Southern College took issue with Rev. Niemoeller and broadly hinted that the Lutheran minister was a Communist today and a Nazi yesterday.

Yet, at FSU Mary Elizabeth Ainsworth, chairman of the executive committee directing the week, reported results of the week encouraging and it is unlikely that repercussions similar to those at FSC will be felt here.

One principal cause for the difference stands out. Pastor Niemoeller spoke at Florida Southern during an International Relations Congress, and spoke at FSU under strictly religious auspices.

The Rev. Niemoeller apparently referred to the furore following his visit to FSC when he spoke Tuesday night. He carefully qualified his statements about churches in Russia and said that he had been misunderstood elsewhere.

He stated emphatically that he does not feel that Bolshevism is good for Russia but said that despite its evil, it had in some ways actually helped religion in Rusia.

In appraising Pastor Niemoeller's remarks, it is important to remember three things: 1. The Rev. Niemoeller is not a politician, but a minister, 2. That as a German citizen, and not an American, he will not have the nationalistic views that we have, and 3. That he came here to report what was going on in Russia actually, not to restate what we in America might think is going on there.

The Rev. Niemoeller and his wife were received pleasantly at FSU, which is a credit to the college. Too, it doubtless helped make Intelligent Faith Week have good results.

● IN THE BUD

Can the recent stealing of textbooks be stopped?

A few students have been picking up books and reselling these books to the University Book store and Malone's Co-Op book store.

Something can be done to stop the thievery.

Thievery of books is prevented at Louisiana State University by book plate in all new books. The plate has information about purchases and when each book is bought or resold this information is recorded in the plate. The plate also has the official honor court rules.

This system has been called practically fool proof by the bookstore manager.

Would it work here? Obviously it would cost to have the plates printed and involve red tape.

The stealing may be nipped in the bud at Florida State if students will do two things: 1. Be a bit more careful with their books. Many books are lost, not stolen. 2. Report, immediately, any student suspected of stealing and reselling books.

The extra cost of printing the book plates will not be necessary then.

● APO REQUESTS

In order to serve the student body more efficiently the APO book exchange will need more space. They are crammed into a small closet which is hard on the books, filing system and the APO workers.

They need a list of all the books used in all the classes including the books which are no longer in use and those books which are used for the first time.

The book exchange is an excellent service to the students. Can this service be improved by providing the requests listed above?

● COFFEE TIME!

Coffee time at Florida State is that time between the hour you arrive for work and the time you leave for home.

Many staff members have clipped a cartoon in one of the national magazines. It shows two lassies drinking coffee. Laments one, "I hate to go back to work; it's almost time for lunch."

Is coffee habit forming? There is a limit to empty offices, say some busy persons.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

WILL 'APATHY' PROJECTS HELP?

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

We have been talking recently about apathy?

The word is giving me a pain. It seems like the word rolls around nicely in the mouth or looks artistic on paper.

We, as students must stop kidding ourselves, this campus is lacking something and only a few are trying to find out what.

Gold Key, for instance, is conducting a poll to question an accurate sample of the Student Body on all phases of university life. Will it answer the question?

University Executive council has prepared the Fun and Functions. It boils down the important events so student's don't have to work to find what's happening. It is printed in the Flambeau each Tuesday's issue. It is combatting student apathy?

Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board will conduct jointly the second annual Leadership conference after the UGA elections. Will it help overcome the sinking school spirit?

Such a small number of student qualified to run for the UGA major offices the qualifying date had to be extended. Is the talent in this university growing thin?

The Flambeau will conduct a special reporters meeting next Tuesday afternoon to round up next year's reporting crew and business staff members. Posters have been placed in every campus dormitory, letters mailed to every sorority and fraternity president, and a general plea to all writing talent issued.

What response will there be? Just whose fault is this lack of spirit? Is publicity weak? Wrong approach?

I hate to be a fatalist because I believe the apathy can be overcome. It is the majority of the students' fault. That great mass of do-nothings that are always too busy 'doing exactly nothing' are ruining the campus and their education along with it.

The small group of student leaders can only carry the burden for so long!

* * *

Some deep fear of criticism is growing in this university. The National Student Association, for instance, drew only two 'yea' votes in the executive council meeting Tuesday. Seven abstained. This is just one sign, and a warning.

* * *

Fraternities and Sororities should postpone their Monday night meetings to attend the mass ODK political rally in the Amphitheatre.

Bring along the signs, signals, and spirit. This election is going to need it!

SEMINOLE SCENES

SHORT SWIM TO HISTORY BUILDING

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

"Hasn't it been damp out lately?"

"Are you getting wet?"

"Is it really raining?"

It is getting rather difficult, to use an understatement, to reply to the maladjusted authors of such remarks as these. Of course the first couple of days it rained I thought it was funny. But having stopped of at a first aid station for artificial respiration three times this week as I made my way across campus, the humor in it all has worn threadbare thin.

Why doesn't it stop raining?

Vaughn Monroe over his NBC hookup with Camel Caravan, spoke to the nation of the sunny, balmy weather here in Florida. Of course at that moment his tenor saxaphone player was standing on his chair, holding his horn high above his head to keep the rain water seeping in the door from clogging it all up. Several students turned blue in the face trying to choke back the laughter, amused or bitter I'm not sure which.

I passed a couple of guys the other day who were singing "Please, Mr. Sun" at the tops of their little baritone voices. I wonder many times whether it was just because Johnny Ray has put it on the Hit Parade, or if it were a real earnest, imploring prayer.

Yes, this rain has really gotten the campus into a state. Nobody counts sheep anymore when they go to bed. They count the pitter-pats of nice, wet raindrops on their windowpanes, or the floor if the roof leaks. Nobody rushes to their eight o'clock classes anymore. They just dive out of their dormitory windows and swim across to the History building. Nobody sits on the park benches anymore. They sit sedately in the parlors—darn it! as one fellow put it—so they can keep out of the rain.

Why doesn't it stop raining?

The students wandering—or should it be said, sloshing—around campus are beginning to look like the meat and cheese packages in a self-service grocery store in their plastic raincoats. Most of the females resemble the Girl's Corps of a Hitler Youth movement in raincoats. This weather is dangerous, too. About fifty people have almost gotten run over already from crossing the street while wearing one of those hoods which covers all your face except the nose, down which most little raindrops run gaily.

In the rainy season the buses never come until you have ordered a cab, the day of the public picnic your committee planned coincides with the biggest thunderstorm in a month, and the friend you have has a car and rides you to the other campus doesn't go west this moist morning because he has a pain in his right big toe.

It also manages to happen that the rain sets in just as you are ridding yourself of a three weeks' old cold. You have a relapse and catch the flu. But does it stop raining? No. Just as you are going into your triple pneumonia the sun shines for twenty-five minutes. Ah, those guys must have added a tenor.

Then there is the mud. Everywhere there is mud. I was standing in some of this nice, slimy, oozing mud the other day when an old pal of mine waded up. This old pal is a Meteorology student and for the last two years, every time I saw him he would rub his hands together and predict rain. And it never, never did. But the other day when he squinted at the gray sky, his face streaming with H2O and told me, "It's going to rain tomorrow!" I somehow had faith in him. It did.

Why doesn't it stop raining?...

BEHIND THE IVY

PARTIES, PROJECTS AND FUNDS

By BOB TIPPINS

In keeping with my practice to tell people how to better do things which I make no atempt to do myself I shall once again criticize that obscure component called "school spirit."

Yesterday, the final qualifying date for UGA offices, passed with absolutely no outstanding candidates registering. Those well-publicized, elaborate plans to organize at least one party on the campus died at 5 p.m. yesterday. This may be considered their obituary.

It seems very obvious that nothing whatsoever can possibly be accomplished by the students without a solid, party organization. Any legislation enacted favoring the students has been and will continue to be altruistic charities from the administration. We must continue to trust to providence alone during student-administration conflicts.

Our own "sister" university, the Gators, have shown us the way. And they've also shown us the consequences of laxity. Their once powerful student government is reportedly rapidly degenerating into little more than an "honor court" because of the dissention among the students. The ever-alert administration was quick to take full advantage of this unfortunate schism.

Campaign platforms in the main are running true to form. Most candidates seem to concern themselves with ways and means of perfecting student government consolidation and duties, a trivial matter which should have been reasonably perfected long ago . . . or at least by those who, in the last UGA campaign, solemnly promised to do the same things.

There seems to be a general student apathy toward accomplishing and worthwhile measures on this campus. Those who do manage to initiate an organization evidently begin to feel that their duty is finished there, so they rest on their laurels the remainder of their college careers . . . or perhaps they organize subsidiary groups, just to keep them in touch.

At any rate, there are no notable incidents of campus organizations really putting forth time, energy and sacrifices to accomplish their professed aims. Omicron Delta Kappa might serve as the sole exception which proves the generalization.

One wonders, for instance, why an organization such as the Arnold Air Fraternity didn't handle the "Blood for Korea" drive, as it is reported they were requested to do. Certainly those boys whose own blood will soon stain the battlefields of the world would have had a much more zealous, personal interest in building the supply of that life-saving commodity than did the girls who ultimately figured so prominently in the collection.

As for the Sandspur question . . . Will Pennell announced that funds are available to offset any loss that might be incurred during a Sandspur road trip for the production "This is the Life." The Sandspur committee must first, however, petition the Student Council (which meets next Tuesday) to grant the proposed trip. The Council if it approves will in turn make a formal appeal to the administration to grant the petition. If the administration approves, the council will then appropriate the necessary funds and Sandspur's on its way.

STUDENT SLAMS 'ARTS EDITORIAL

By DAN ALTHOFF

I would like to protest the editorial of Tuesday, February 26.

This editorial went overboard in condemning vocational education—democracy is threatened, we are on the verge of totalitarianism, "sound the call to arms", we are doomed to slavery! Wow! All because of vocational education? This sounds like a bigger threat than communism. Without liberal education we cannot have "intelligent and workable democracy."

Well, of course, it isn't as bad as all that. Liberal education does not make anyone "capable of creative, critical thought." The ability to think is not taught in any form of education. That is something which cannot be taught, that is, it comes with the merchandise.

The author whoever he or she may be is living in a dream world. This is the age of specialization and it is becoming more specialized all the time. The world is run by specialists.

I believe in giving a man credit for having enough sense to know what he wants to major in without encumbering him with humanities and the like.

The primary purpose of college is to prepare the student to make a living in the vocation of his choice. A large percentage of the people who come to college are not well off financially and enduring 2 more years of college than is necessary works an undue hardship upon them.

If a man wants to be a baker, why prolong his stay in college an extra 2 years? When he is stamping out donuts in the oven room, what good are his informal gatherings with Rembrandt, Shakespeare, and maple leaves going to be for him? Will they make a better baker of him? Will they make a better thinker or citizen of him? Does it mean he will be an iconoclast and abominater of the arts, and all the other things, not strictly utilitarian, which we cherish? I don't see how, but in the violent terms of the editorial it will.

I don't believe in abolishing liberal education. The student who is undecided can take this and that and perhaps be aided in choosing his field providing he has the time and money to spare. But for the student who wants to specialize let him specialize.

The author wants to know who is master—man or civilization, man or machine, the people or BIG BROTHER. Civilization is the product of mankind. They are not opposing factors, they are inseparable. We have been in the machine age for a number of years, and man is not definitely the master. This is truly a philosophical question, but I doubt if the author intended it as such. The people or "BIG BROTHER" question really isn't worth answering.

The whole thing was rather comical, with its school girl idealism and school girl alarm. And the boogie man will get you if you don't watch out.

FSU Student Reports On YMCA Meeting

Richard Schoenberger gave a report on the recent Young Men's Christian Association conference in Atlanta at a Bi-Y meeting in the Social Work building last night.

The YMCA conference was held Feb. 22 and 23.

NO CLASSROOM CONVERSATION . . .

Students at the University of North Dakota decided in a poll recently that most students "shy away" from classroom discussions.

Said one coed: "The system of education that most of us went through in high school did not provide opportunity for training in free expression of opinion."

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ... News Editor
Associate Editors ... Francas Cawthon, Babs Henry
Sports Editor ... Tom Sands
Society Editor ... Marcia Merr
Rewrite Editor ... Carol Besu
Assistant News Editor ... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ... Judy Simms
Flambeau Photographer ... Bi Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ... Ann Hare
Assistants ... Jo Hall, Louis Calderon, Fa Pittman

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-500 Ext. 4821 Second Floor Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor . . .

Humiliation!

Dear Editor

We would like to bring to your attention an incident which we feel affects every student here as a representative member of the FSU student.

On Tuesday night at one of the off-campus eating places a certain fraternity was displaying its pledges' program as a part of hell week. During the course of the performance two pledges made their contributions, one telling shady little jokes, the other giving a dissertation on "Free Love and Nickel Beer."

We experienced at first an insult to our sense of humor. Is this humor considered typical of the university student? By the lack of response on the part of the audience, we feel that the answer is "no" for a cross-section of our university. We like to think that most of the students have minds and wits which operate on a little higher level.

Our disinterest became humiliation, we turned to see several speakers and guests for Intelligent Faith Week standing in line for dinner. Most of these speakers are of international renown. They have also visited cities and college campuses all over our nation. As they leave Florida State University, what kind of impressions will they take with them?

We realize that these displays are not uncommon. We are not crusading for abolition or restriction of anyone's right to be funny. Our objection is that this kind of performance has to be made in a public place which serves not only the students but guests and visitors. Would it not contribute to the maurity of our university if fraternities would adopt a constructive pledge program similar to what is becoming the trend throughout the nation?

LUCY McGEACHY
PAM DE BOER,
LOIS RAY.

Flambeau Editor

Fellow Student:

I am running for the office of Flambeau Editor. Why? Because I am interested in bringing you, the students, a better, more well-rounded newspaper. I promise to work for a more readable paper of more general interest.

I do not promise to please everyone as that is an impossible task. I do not intend to entirely divorce my own personality and beliefs from the contents of the Flambeau in an attempt to let the student body dictate the policies of the paper as that too would be impossible. But if elected editor, I do promise to lend an ear to everything you, the students have to say about the Flambeau whether criticism or suggestions, to weigh your feelings carefully, and to try as nearly as possible, in as far as I deem wise and expedient to grant your wishes.

There must be a happy medium between a conservative ... newspaper and a sensational ... called "radical" newspaper. I hope to find this happy medium.

I stand on a platform of constructive journalism. If elected editor I will steer away from personal criticisms and instead aim my editorial guns at situations, principals, and organizations. If an individual comes under criticism it will never be in a malicous manner or with intent to harm but only to remedy an existing fault at FSU.

As to qualifications, I have worked for two years on the Flambeau. I went from reporter to assistant managing editor to my present position of associate editor. In high school I was editor of the school newspaper and also did some work for the Miami Daily News.

Your support will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely
Babs Henry

Flambeau Editor

Dear Students,

In electing any official experience is one of the most important things to be taken into consideration. The office of the Editor of the Flambeau is certainly no exception.

Therefore, I would like to outline for you for consideration my experience on the Flambeau staff:

- Reporter
- Assistant News Editor
- Assistant Managing Editor
- Associate Editor
- Managing Editor
- Columnist

Since I believe that the paper should not reflect the opinion of one person, I can make no campaign promises about my editorial policy. If I am elected ... Staff will decide on the editorial policy of the paper not the editor alone.

My only wish is to see students proud of their student newspaper.

Sincerely
Bill Dunn

Treasurer

Dear Editor

I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for Treasurer of U.G.A. I recognize the importance of the job, and feel that my experience in accounting and managing a private business concern for the past two years will serve to qualify me. I sincerely hope that you will give me the opportunity to serve the student body in this capacity.

TOM PERKINS

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

INTELLIGENT FAITH . . .

Some sigh for the paradise to come
Ah, take the cash and let the credit go—
Nor heed the rumble of distant drum

Kinship with Khayam is supposedly a stage adolescents leave behind. Pardon me while I don my saddle shoes . . .

Maybe if they showed something but faith and platitudes . . .

Revelry in retrospect

The kids whose lovers were lacking loot must have felt great hitting the sack promptly at twelve and having the croaking of Mr. Commercial and magnified good-time sounds belling the middle car till closing time.

Since Sandspur lost money on the deal—this qualifies as a double shafting.

Biggest joke of the weekend was the "big wheel" show put on by ye olde Sandspur Business Manager . . .

* * *

Those cute little posters sponsored by the Social Standards Committee beside being incorrect in definition of Semi-Formal are being interpreted by many as a slam at the individuals who sport business suits at Formal Dances. Remember way back when poor boys went to college too?

Frats have their new houses and increased social life therein to offset the crying need for Campus Dances that don't drain already wilted money belts. Next year's motto might be, "Go Greek or stay in your garret." . . .

FSU Cagers Open Defense of N.A.I.B. Title Tonight

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

TOURNAMENT TIME—When tournament time rolls around it usually catches some of the more ballyhooed teams with their pants down, while some of their weaker opponents sometimes slip in and bring home the bacon.

While we're not trying to predict anything sensational for Coach Kennedy and his Seminoles who go against Miami tonight in NAIB suurney opener, they could, with a little luck so all the

Of course drawing the Hurricanes as a first round opponent will help their chances ery, especially since the Magic City five has owned over a fine University of Florida team last week. The Miami boys also had two regular season wins over the FSU five in impressive fashion.

But considering that Kennedy will have his charges at full strength for the first time this season should make tonight's tilt more interesting. The injury bug started in the Indians' first outing against Parris Island back in December when Bud Nance and Duana Gordon were both sidelined.

Nance was counted on to be one of the Seminoles' chief harmers suffered a recurrence of an old back injury and was lost indefinitely, while Gordon came out of the affair with a shoulder injury and didn't see action until ten games later.

The jinx continued right up until last Friday when Bob Whitmer reinjured his fragile right ankle five minutes before the end of the final practice session before the tilt with Stetson. Fortunately for Indian captain's ankle responded to treatment this week and Coach Kennedy informs us that he will be in the starting lineup tonight.

Finding that "fifth man" a problem which was bothering the Seminole mentor for most of the season was apparently solved with the addition of Freshman guard Ham Wernke, a local semester enrollee from Indiana.

The man that the Seminoles will have to stop in the Miami lineup, of course is their sshit leader, Capt. Sy Chadroff.

Chadroff, who could pass for Groucho Marx's twin brother, is one of the nation's leading scorers and when he's hot there's no keeping him on his overhand hook shot. Chadroff can burn you up with goals one night and then be held to 7 as he was here Whitmer the next.

When Chadroff is off, Coach Dave Wike can depend on Pete Gilman and Howard Keene a couple of experienced performers on the floor.

Gilman and Tampa who meet in the other first round engagement through what might be called a preview the other night as Harlers taking a 73-63 decision. The game almost ended in the after-to-all, incidentally, as fans and players rushed in a mingled Stetson started a freeze with 45 seconds left.

The players, one from Tampa and the other from Stetson were the brave before the tilt resumed five minutes later.

The Seminoles will take a 59-4 team scoring average into the game that was compiled on 1344 points. Their 23 opponents have made 1393 markers and a 59.3 average per tilt for more than ten point bulge.

The Indians have hit on 276 of 665 free throws for a 38.4 percentage while their opponents have made 247 of 664 for a 37.2. Coach Kennedy's five has made 30% of their field goal attempts while 30% for their opponents and have committed 530 personal fouls to 441.

RIP'S BAD BOYS—Ralph Beard, Alex Groza and Dale Barnhorst who went to trial this week in connection with the recent basketball fixing if the court drures, draw up to three years in the penitentiary.

Rupp, however, isn't too likely since the trio was exceptionally cooperative with authorities in the investigation of the case and he needed guilty to the charges.

The store combine with Wah-Wah Jones and Cliff Barker to form one of the greatest fives ever turned out by coach Adolph Rupp at his Bluegrass cage factory.

Who will be the next publicity hasn't hurt Rupp's current Wildcat edition since they have rode at the top of the collegiate race heap all season and the central figure to make plenty of noise in the Midwestern N.C.A.A. meet.

Big Bad Man River they just keep on rolling along.

Face Miami in Deland Opener

BY TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

Coach Bud Kennedy's unpredictable FSU cagers will meet the Miami Hurricanes in the opening game of the District N.A.I.B. tournament which is scheduled to get underway in DeLand tonight. Game time is 7:30.

Stetson and the University of Tampa square off at 9:30 in the other first round game with the winners meeting tomorrow night at 8 for the championship and the right to enter the National Tournament in Kansas City next month.

THE SEMINOLES, defending district champs, advanced to the quarter-finals of the National tourney last year, before being eliminated by James Mullen college who later went to the finals.

Kennedy's charges who have won four of 23 games, have never beaten Miami. The seven losses to the Magic City Hurricanes posting a 60-61 win and continued this season with the Magic City five gaining a decisive 96-53 win in Miami and a 76-63 verdict here.

KENNEDY TOOK a ten man traveling squad to DeLand that includes Capt. Bob Whitmer, Tom Maclaughlin, Jerry Weishafer, Dallas Cox, Lou Fraser, Ham Wernke, Bob Pence, Ivy Quinn, Rick Benson and Tom Byrd.

The Indian mentor will probably start the same lineup that has comprised his first starts in recent outings. That means that Whitmer and Wernke will be at guards, Gordon at center and Maclaughlin and Weishafer will handle the forward posts.

WHITNER'S STATUS was something of a question mark until late this week. The Seminole captain suffered a recurrence of an old ankle injury last week but practiced Friday and had to sit out the Stetson affair, but after Ivy responded to treatment and Whitmer was pronounced ready to go by Kennedy prior to departing.

The Seminoles received some unexpected help this week in the form of ex-Indians Bob Harrison, Bud Marsee, Ronnie Nelson and Wayne Weishafer will be on hand to help the Indians.

THE FSU CAGERS face a stiff test tonight when they go against Miami in the NAIB tournament. Members of the Florida State squad are, left to right above: Standing—Lou Fischer, Bob Albertson, Tom Sarni, Brent Bishop, Jim Hendricks. Kneeling, middle row—Jack Oakley and Bob Wilcox. Kneeling, front row—Bob Avanti, graduate manager, Coach J. R. (Bud) Kennedy and Bill Wisner. Ham Wernke and Bud Marsee were not present when the picture was taken.

Four Other Gymnasts Eye Olympics Besides Roetzheim

By TOM CONKLING

Florida State University may have more than one representative in the World Olympics in Stuttgart in Helsinki, Finland.

Besides the incomparable Bill Roetzheim, the nation's number one gymnast at least four other members of the Seminoles National Champion Gymnastic squad have sights on the coveted positions.

Jack Miles, Don Holder, Joe Regna and Carmine Regna are all outstanding prospects according to Dr. Hartley Price, the Indian's top gymnastic mentor.

The continual progress of Jack Miles is truly amazing. After notching the National AAU flying rings last year, Jack set forth to strengthen his all-around gymnastic standing. The results speak for themselves. Miles placed second to Roetzheim in the all-around points at the recent State AAU meet here.

DON HOLDER is a newcomer to the Seminole squad this year and, as Price puts it, is the most promising all-around performer since the coming of Roetzheim in 1949. Don is a lover of strength and has exceptionally well coordinated athlete.

The twins, Joe and Carmine are two of the best young gymnasts in the nation and both have two years of national championship competition under their belts. In last year's AAU nationals they finished nine and tenth respectively in the all-around competition. Since the United States' Olympic squad consists of the top eight all-around finishers in the coming AAU nationals the Regnas are definite threats in anyone's book.

JOE REGNA is the mainstay of the varsity attack—the old reliable in far as consistency is concerned. Joe tied teammate Jack Sharp for third place on the flying rings last year and is currently the Seminoles number one performer on the still rings.

Carmine Reena ranks with the top five horizontal bar men in the country and he trained Roetzheim to finish third in the nationals in last year's AAU nationals. Carmine must be considered as an outstanding candidate for the nation's cream of the crop squad.

BILL "MR GYMNASTICS" Roetzheim needs no introduction. The three-time national champion is currently striving to make it four straight national all-around crown and with it the Olympic captaincy.

Bill was a member of the 1948 U. S. Olympic team. He has also competed against Czechoslovakia and Japan. Last year he represented the United States in the Pan-American games, from which he walked off with the all-around and horizontal bar titles.

"All five are tremendous athletes", says Price, "of which Florida State University can be proud."

At the present, however, it seems certain that the garnet and gold will be represented with the Red, White and Blue in the coming World Olympics.

Baseball Game

The Florida State University baseball team will stage an intrasquad tilt on the west campus diamond at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon, weather permitting.

Indian Scoreboard

O	PLAYER	FG	PT	TP	Av.
21—T	Maclaughlin	108	98	274	11.9
7—Bob	Whitmer	82	87	251	11.0
23—Jerry	Weishafer	78	75	181	8.0
11—Dallas	Cox	76	73	171	8.0
10—Duane	Gordon	58	33	149	6.8
8—Rick	Benson	34	29	97	4.8
14—Ham	Wernke	34	5	77	4.8
17—Bob	Pence	30	17	77	3.8
7—Bob	Perks	16	7	21	1.6

DICK WELLS paced the Seminole swim team to their 50-24 win over the Texas Aggies here last Tuesday. Wells was the 100-yard freestyle event and took second in the 50-yard freestyle.

FSU Swimmers Swamp Aggies For Fifth Win

FSU's swimming team trounced the Texas Aggies here Tuesday night before a capacity crowd 50-34 as five seniors swam for the last time in their home pool.

Seniors Will Jardine, Pete Dunn-Rankin, Walt Jardine, Owen Boone, and Mitch Sutherland did well for themselves as the Seminoles came from behind in the late stages of the meet and then poured it on to win going away.

Dick Walls showed flashes of the power he displayed last year when he set two school records as he notched a first in the 100 yard freestyle and second in the 50 fifty.

Outstanding performers for the Seminoles were John Baruch who laid his own pool record in the 50-yard freestyle event and Pat Farrell who scored a 114.4 points to win the diving.

Other feats for Florida State were recorded up by Jack Burnett in the backstroke and an all senior 400-yard relay team composed of Co-Capt. Pete Dunn-Rankin, Walt Jardine, Mitch Sutherland, and Owen Boone.

The only double winner of the evening was the Aggies' Van Adamson who scored firsts in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle.

Individual results:

300 yards Medley Relay: 1—Texas A&M (Carl Maynard, Tom Gilmore, Ralph Ellis) 3:07.0.

50 yards Free Style: 1—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU) 23.6.

50 yards Free Style: 1—John Baruch (FSU); 2—Dick Wells (FSU); 3—Don Gilmore (Texas A&M); 34.4. Pool record.

150 yards Individual Medley: 1—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 2—Owen Boone (FSU); 3—Pete Dunn-Rankin (FSU).

Diving: Pat Farrell (FSU), 114.4 points; 2—Tom Conway (FSU), 97.2; 3—Bob Johnson (Texas A&M), 96.3.

100 yards Free Style: 1—Dick Wells (FSU); 2—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU).

200 yards Back Stroke: 1—Jack Burnett (FSU); 2—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 3—Jack Holmes (FSU) 2:34.6.

220 yards Breast Stroke: 1—Tommy Gilmore (Texas A&M); 2—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU) 2:48.

440 yards Free Style: 1—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M) 5:40.

400 yards Free Style Relay: 1—FSU (Owen Boone, Mitch Sutherland, Pete Dunn-Rankin, Walt Jardine) 3:45.6.

Landis Open House

An open house will be held in the recreation room of Landis hall Saturday night at 7 under the direction of Laverne Jenkinas, social chairman of Gilchrist hall.

All students and visiting service men are invited to attend. Girls from each of the women's dormitories will serve as hostesses.

Miller Takes Six Cindermen To Chapel Hill

Track Coach Ken Miller and six cindermen left Wednesday for Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where they will enter the Southern Conference indoor games tomorrow afternoon.

Making the trip for the Seminoles who are getting their first taste of competition this year were Captain John Foster, Dick Milne, Woody Patten, Wally Wagoner, Carlos Fraundorfer and Dick Slade.

Veterans Foster, Milne and Parker will team with Slade, freshman, to enter the mile relay conference and non-conference schools. Fraundorfer and Wagoner also freshmen, will compete in the Freshman shot put and 8/4 mile run events respectively.

Asked as to their chances, Miller had little to say, but did comment: "Foster, Milne, Parker and Slade will be running as a team for the first time at Chapel Hill. Fraundorfer and Wagoner will be competing in their first college meet. They are all in fine condition and I'm hoping for the best."

The Seminoles will also participate in the Florida Relays at Gainesville March 28, in tri-state relay meets with Davidson, and South Carolina, and Georgia and Georgia Tech, and in dual meets with the University of Miami, Mississippi College, Loyola of New Orleans and Spencer.

Adamson who scored firsts in the 220 and 440 yard freestyle.

Individual results:

300 yards Medley Relay: 1—Texas A&M (Carl Maynard, Tom Gilmore, Ralph Ellis) 3:07.0.

50 yards Free Style: 1—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU) 23.6.

50 yards Free Style: 1—John Baruch (FSU); 2—Dick Wells (FSU); 3—Don Gilmore (Texas A&M); 34.4. Pool record.

150 yards Individual Medley: 1—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 2—Owen Boone (FSU); 3—Pete Dunn-Rankin (FSU).

Diving: Pat Farrell (FSU), 114.4 points; 2—Tom Conway (FSU), 97.2; 3—Bob Johnson (Texas A&M), 96.3.

100 yards Free Style: 1—Dick Wells (FSU); 2—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU).

200 yards Back Stroke: 1—Jack Burnett (FSU); 2—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 3—Jack Holmes (FSU) 2:34.6.

220 yards Breast Stroke: 1—Tommy Gilmore (Texas A&M); 2—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M); 3—Walter Jardine (FSU) 2:48.

440 yards Free Style: 1—Van Adamson (Texas A&M); 2—Bob Carter (FSU); 3—Bill Beasley (Texas A&M) 5:40.

400 yards Free Style Relay: 1—FSU (Owen Boone, Mitch Sutherland, Pete Dunn-Rankin, Walt Jardine) 3:45.6.

Volleyball Team In A.A.U. Meet

The Florida State University volleyball team left this morning for Lakeland, where they will defend their State AAU championship against eight contenders in a double elimination tournament starting at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The Seminoles, under the direction of Coach Bill Odenal, have won the title three years in a row, but will have to go all out to win over the strong opposition composed of Florida Southern College, Miami Fire Department, St. Petersburg YMCA, Cecil Field, West Palm Beach YMCA, Whiting Field and Jacksonville Navy.

The Indians won over Jacksonville Navy for the championship last year. Four FSU players were listed on the All-State team. They were Cecros Edmiston, Charlie Ford, Bill Cook, and Emerson Krismer. None of these will be present, as all have graduated.

The Seminole lineup will be made up of Spikers Jim Clark, Ronnie Hamilton, Howard Cook and James McFatter, and setup men Harry Bitter and Jim Couch.

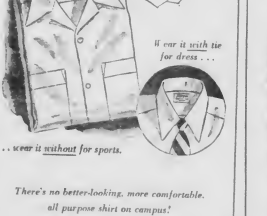
The Seminoles have drawn a first round bye and will play the winner of the Florida Southern-Cecil Field game at 10:30. Other teams in the meet include Tampa-Jacksonville Navy, Miami Fire Department-St. Petersburg YMCA, West Palm Beach YMCA-Whiting Field.

FSU Netters Slated to Hold Squad Match

The 1952 edition of the varsity tennis squad will be unveiled Saturday afternoon, March 1, at 2 in an intra-squad match on the new Varsity Courts, Coach Donald Loucks has announced this week.

When asked about the progress of individual members of his squad, Coach Loucks said, "Several of our players have the ability to win many of their matches this season. Whether they will or not depends on the determination of each individual. As yet several of the new men are quite inconsistent in their play. An inconsistent player with superior ability often loses to an inferior player who is more intense for a little success. Our boys must disabuse their mind of the idea that they will accuse the net should result in a winner if they expect to win matches."

One squad will consist of the following players: Berry, Boots, Kennedy, Malone, Martin and Sobry. The other, Egan, Harris, Bradley, Kennedy, Wyly and Swiger. Each squad will elect a captain who will determine the playing order and doubles combinations. The student body is cordially invited



75¢ COLLEGE SPECIAL 75¢

Fried Shrimp, Tartar Sauce
Broiled Calf Liver, Smothered Onions
Roast Pork, Dressing, Brown Gravy
Fried Chicken, Southern Style
Fried Sea Trout, Tartar Sauce
Breaded Veal Cutlet, Brown Gravy
Fried Oysters, Tartar Sauce
Choice of One Vegetable Coffee or Tea Salad

BROILED FILET MIGNON $1.00
at the NEW
Tallahassee Cafe
119 South Adams
Under the new management of Chris A. Cummings

Patronize Our Advertisers

What's New at the Co-op
Here's What Every Student Wants CAMPUS MOCS
These soft sole campus moccasins are just right for campus wear, for the classroom or the coast they're restful to your feet.
• RAINCOATS
• STATIONERY
• SUNDRIES
•PLUSH ANIMALS
• 1-DAY FILM SERVICE
"We Buy Used Books"
Malones Co-op Bookstore

Tie this one, if you can!

It ear it with tie for dress . . .
. . . wear it without for sports.
There's no better-looking, more comfortable, all purpose shirt on campus!
ARROW BI-WAY
Collar open, it assures you a trim look—closed, and with a tie, you still enjoy sports-shirt comfort!
ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

so easy on the neck

Arrow Bi-Way
with the amazing Arafold collar—complete comfort and perfect appearance . . . collar open . . . or closed and worn with a tie
Pat on a tie for dress, go without for casual wear. Either way you'll have the absolute tops in comfort, plus the last word in style — combined in one great shirt, the Bi-Way. Like all Arrow shirts, Bi-Way is Mitogarized for fit, "Sanforized"-labeled for permanent good looks.
Mendelson's
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY

Students Want Eisenhower

(ACP) Dwight Eisenhower is the most popular Presidential candidate with college students, having more than twice as many backers as his closest opponent.

He is strongest in the east and southwest, weakest on the Pacific coast. Earl Warren, his nearest rival for the college vote, has good support in his home state of California and in other parts of the far west.

Students all over the nation were asked by the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion: Which of the 10 candidates listed below would you prefer to win? Here are the answers:

1. Dwight Eisenhower	38 percent
2. Earl Warren	17 percent
3. Harold Stassen	10 percent
4. Robert Taft	10 percent
5. Harry Truman	7 percent
6. Paul Douglas	6 percent
7. Douglas MArthur	6 percent
8.Estes Kefauver	4 percent
9. Fred Vinson	2 percent
10. Paul Hoffman	1 percent
11. No opinion	1 percent

Paul Douglas gains most of his strength from the large unaffiliates, but he is practically unnoticed in the smaller colleges. Harold Stassen, on the other hand, is in the opposite situation, having most of his support from small colleges in the midwest.

* * *

THE DRAFT . . .

In the same poll students were asked about the draft. Should students be deferred? If so, which ones? The results:

1. All students should be deferred ..... 22 percent
2. Only the better students deferred ..... 14 percent
3. No student should be deferred ..... 12 percent
4. No opinion ..... 6 percent
5. Other ..... 6 percent

Graduate students differ from the rest. Twenty-six per cent of them feel no student should be deferred, while they are 15 per cent in favor of total student deferments.

Some feel deferments should be given only those taking technical courses .Says a senior in liberal arts, "Only students training for special and needed social positions in the professional field should be deferred—to guarantee a fair supply in the future."

But others think the basis should be scholastic sincerity. "If he's trying, let him stay," says a sophmore in engineering. And a New York coed taking costume design feels that "Those most interested in their work should be deferred."

A midwest student majoring in conservation takes the long view. He comments, "America's future will soon be in the hands of us students. Sadly enough, we will sooner or later get our share of the fighting, but let us get an education first."

A coed in music considers it a matter of principle: "Since I don't feel that universal military training has any constitutional or moral basis, I cannot suggest that one small group of people be spared from an unconstitutional and immoral law."

Cavaliers to Hold Tryouts March 5 For Talent Show

Tryouts for the forthcoming Cavalier Talent show will be held Wednesday, March 5 at 7 p.m. in Conperman Music hall, announced Nick Pappas, club social chairman.

All varieties of acts are eligible for the March 12 show. At tryouts, the contestants must bring their own music and an accompanist will be furnished.

The Cavalier Talent show will feature the music of Georgie Bee and his orchestra. Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of first, second and third prize awards to the three top acts.

Names of the judges will be revealed in Tuesday's Flambeau.

The Talent show has become an annual project of the Cavaliers, and as in the past, admission is free.

New Cavalier taps were initiated at the meeting of the dance group yesterday, Pappas also noted.

Other projects on the club agenda is the rescheduling of dancing lessons as the student union beginning 7 p.m. Tuesday. In cooperation with Collidge these classes are scheduled every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m.

Florida Industry's Chief Problems Stressed In Thesis

The chief problems of the Florida phosphate industry are the need for closer power and a reduction in cost distribution. This point was stressed by graduate student Bill Beaton in his master's thesis last semester.

A graduate student in the School of Business, Beaton stated that production has steadily increased in recent years. He predicted a record total of 18 million tons of merchantable high grade phosphate by 1955.

PHOSPHATE has been mined in Florida since 1888 and early production from low grade river river pebble reached a maximum of 1,200,830 long tons in 1892, the management major noted from his research.

A study of the Florida phosphate rock in 1949 estimated that Florida has 19 per cens of the world's supply of phosphate.

THE PENINSULAR state has enough hush grade phosphate to last for 300 years at the present rate of production, Beaton noted.

MOVIE REVIEW

Famed 'Born Yesterday' Now Playing at Florida

By DAVID DREIS

The Academy Award winner, Judy Holiday, appears in the film that gave it to her, "Born Yesterday," at the Florida today. Broderick Crawford and William Holden, also academy award winners, appear in this picture which, when a play, broke many of the Broadway box-office records. Today and tomorrow is the last time you will be able to catch this howler.

A picture which should have been done in technicolor is the opinion which many Seminoles share about "Lone Star," the MGM western now at the State theater. Contradicting its name, "Lone Star" has FIVE stars in Clark Gable, who proved his ability as a cowboy in "Across the Wide Missouri, "Broderick Crawford, who played in Westerns before "All The Kings Men," Ava Gardner, Lionel Barrymore and Beulah Bondi.

* * *

The East Side Kids have another one of their series of pictures in town today at the Ritz. Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall are not on the East Side of New York in this one. In fact Uncle Sam gets 'em in "Let's Go Navy." Their gang is in it with them. Letting you get your money's worth, the Ritz management has thrown in another picture. "Pals of the Golden West," starring Roy Rogers and a cartoon, news and serial. That ought to make it worth 35 cents.

Frank Dobie Takes Audience Back to Early Days of West

American local colorist J. Frank Dobie took a Florida State University student and faculty audience back into the colorful pages of the early days of the Southwest in an Artist Series sponsored lecture Monday night in the University Music building.

Keeping his native Texas in the main background, Dobie told tale after tale of the early West and his keen observation in the study of nature.

ON-LOOKERS Monday were thoroughly entertained as they listened and observed the speaker's humorous techniques of storytelling.

Not only were Dobie's tales amusing, but also they contained elements of wisdom in the true nature of such animals as the coyote or the famous Texas horses.

Time and again the author recalled numerous incidents proving the intelligence of the Texas wildlife.

OF PARTICULAR interest was Dobie's technique in story telling. The colorful speaker led his audience on to the final stages of a tale and would then slide humorously into another. At times observing his style in telling his numerous experiences and bit of wisdom on nature was more entertaining than the actual content of the tale.

Injected a slight bit of seriousness to his lecture, the Texas writer told his audience he sometimes believes that "it takes more intelligence to meet change than it does to make changes." As an example of this he cited Eli Whitney's cotton gin as an invention that "made changes." But what, he asked, did the inventor do to meet these changes? He cited Franklin D. Roosevelt as an outstanding figure who "tried to meet changes."

Dobie's lecture Monday was in character with his style of writing and stories of his experience. His manner of speaking as well as his manner of writing makes evident this kinship to all nature and all men."

National President Of Phi Mu Here

The Phi Mu chapter has been honored this week by a visit from the National President of Phi Mu, Mrs. Polly Frerar. A reception for Mrs. Frerar was held at the house, Wednesday night.

While stopping in Tallahassee during her tour of southern chapters, Mrs. Frerar spoke of the plans for the Phi Mu Centennial celebration which will be held this summer at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia.

Mrs. Frerar, who arrived Tuesday, is leaving Tallahassee, in continuation of her tour, this morning.

Discussion Held On Children's Problems

A discussion of children's problems in the home and school will be conducted by the Inter-devotional Child Development Forum in cooperation with the Florida Children's Commission.

The discussion will be presented in Longmire auditorium Tuesday, Mar. 4, at 7:30 and will utilize sociodramatic techniques in the discussion.

An informal tea will follow the discussion. The meeting is open to all parents, teachers and students interested in children.

In a Big Six basketball game recently the referee did the unheard of: He admitted he had made a mistake and actually apologized to the players . . .

Just Received . . .
NEW EVENING DRESSES
for the
MILITARY BALL
MARCH 8th
Turner's

HOLLAND'S Restaurant
WHERE GOOD FOOD IS SERVED BETTER
WEEK-END SPECIAL
CHOICE OF EITHER
Half "Real Southern Fried Chicken" or Delicated Steak of Choice Western Beef
with
French Fried Potatoes, Chopped Green Salad, Home-made Hot Rolls and Drink
$1.00
AIR-CONDITIONED FOR YOUR COMFORT
ON PENSACOLA ACROSS FROM CAPITOL

Socrates preached:
"THE BEST SEASON FOR FOOD IS HUNGER. FOR DRINK, THIRST."
Cicero
Score one for Soc. He's absolutely right . . . thirst knows no season. That's why anytime is the right time for Coke.
DRINK Coca-Cola 5¢
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark.
© 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

COLLEGE WOMEN
Step Forward...
AS AN OFFICER
IN THE WAC!
. . . and step up to a promising career . . . of stimulating work . . . excellent pay . . . action-fun . . . travel! A career that will mean escape from humdrum, ordinary jobs!
To those of you who are about to graduate, or, who are planning to leave school (with two years of college credits) —think of what this opportunity means to you! Remember, too, that as an Officer in the Women's Army Corps, you enjoy equal pay, allowances, and benefits with men of identical rank in the U. S. Army . . . plus free medical and dental care!
And how wonderful and deeply satisfying to have the chance of earning a fine living while serving your country.
Don't Miss Your Opportunity!
Don't delay! Contact your nearest Recruiting Station or Army installation for further details . . . and for application.
OFFICER PROGRAMS:
1. Women college graduates, ages 21 to 27, may apply for appointments as 2nd Lieutenant in the Reserve and upon satisfactory completion of training may qualify for commission in the Regular Army.
2. Reserve commissions in grades of 2nd Lieutenant to Captain are granted to women with a college degree who fall within the age group of 21 to 39 with qualifying experience in teaching, business, recreation, personnel administration, advertising or other fields requiring leadership and supervision of personnel.
3. With a minimum of two years of college, women may enlist as WAC Officer Candidate Applicants.
Should you wish to WRITE for details, just fill out and mail this coupon —
ADJUTANT GENERAL, Dept. of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.
Attention: AGSN
I would like to receive more information about the opportunities of being an officer in the WAC
NAME.....
ADDRESS.....
CITY..... ZONE..... STATE.....
WAC WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS
UNITED STATES ARMY

Be Happy-
GO LUCKY!
LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!
The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!
In my art class there is one thing I do without a flaw, And that's to sketch a Lucky Strike— They're easy on the draw!
Hilary Solomon
Univ. of California at Berkeley
No pain, no strain when smokes are low. No rush to buy a pack— I keep a Lucky carton near— And smokes I never lack!
Hunter S. Seabright
University of North Carolina
I have to study hard each day; I'm not a brain you see— But something that I quickly learned Was L.S./M.F.T.
Ruth Wolff
Smith College
LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.
L.S./M.F.T.- Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

ELECT HENRY
EDITOR of FLAMBEAU

VOTE TODAY!

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOTE TODAY!

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 35 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, March 4, 1952

39 Seek UGA Offices In Primary Today

Charity Drive Has Eye-Opener Chart

Two Sororities Net $46 For Chest As Campaign Goes Into High Gear

The "Are You Asleep?" charity drive continues today with a Delta Delta Delta social sorority Fashion Show in the Music hall from 5 until 6 p.m. while two sororities have already banked up $46 into the Campus Chest project.

A sullen board of closed eyes will be posted on campus today, Shirley Hurlburt, chairman of the dollar a person drive said yesterday. For each $20 one closed eye will open. Right now two eyes are open.

ALPHA OMICRON PI soaked up $1 Friday night in a carnival while the Phi Mu-Chi Omega combined "Sunday" party Sunday afternoon raked up $25.

Tonight chances will be offered for $25 which will be sold on three prizes of $5, $10 and $25 in the form of gift certificates from Haverna's. The clothes will be modeled by 31 co-eds of various sororities and will be shown through the courtesy of Mayeron's. The shoes will be loaned by Miller's Bootery.

GEORGE BOLDT more commonly known as George Bee will present the show.

Dormitory teas and a Kappa Sigma Silver Tea will be featured tomorrow from 4:30 until 5:30.

Tickets for the Women's "F" club beat supper tonight at 5:30 on Landis Green at 50c per box. Tickets can be bought from any "F" club member. The box supper for Campus Chest is the annual project of the Women's "F" club.

SCHEDULED FOR Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Music auditorium is student auction in the Music Administration sponsored by Alpha Sigma Omicron. The auction is open to student bidders for beauty parlor appointments and 12 past years has been a crowd pleasing event.

The campus Chest committee is sponsoring a street dance Friday at 8 p.m.

KICK-OFF TIME for the campus Powder Puff football game has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the Kappa Alpha Theta and Phi Beta Phi practice field in preparation for the event. Proceeds from the game on the Delta campus hocker field will be donated to the National Cancer Fund through the campus chest.

The two teams have been practicing under the coaching of Marion Italiano, C. M. Booth, and Walt Miller for the Thetas and Bob Schmidt, Dick Tomlin, Brown and Bob Whitmer for the Phi Psis.

WRITER CAMPUS projects this week include Delta Zeta Shoe Store sales and Kappa Alpha Delta Gamma's are planning

Continued on Page 3

Funds Committee Rules on Projects For Campus Chest

Campus Chest money raising projects will not be counted as the campaign money raising event this year it was ruled in the University Government meeting at a committee meeting Wednesday.

This reversal of opinion came through the reasoning that the raising of money for the Campus Chest was one united project by the combined organizations.

PAT WEIGAND, funds committee chairman, said that a strict interpretation of the policies of the fund's committee might prevent the a group for sponsoring a Campus Chest project in preventing them from having another one.

This ruling is subject to the approval of the Executive Council.

The organizations affected by this reversal have been notified. The next meeting will be Wednesday at 4 a.m. in the UGA room.

AT THE LAST meeting, 17 groups were given permission to raise money. They were Phi Mu and Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, "F" club, Sophomore Council, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Xi Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha and South Cawthon. "All of these were for Campus Chest projects," Mr. Weigand said.

Auction Offers Rare Bargains

Faculty Funfest Set For Thursday At 7

Bargains in clothing and dinners with a favorite faculty member at the Campus Chest Faculty auction sponsored by the Sophomore Council Thursday in the amphitheatre at 7 p.m.

Chairman Pat Corry urges faculty members to bring other contributions to the amphitheatre between 9 p.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday.

LAST YEAR'S Faculty Auction featured everything from a mummy case to a photograph of Santa for wall decoration and donated $100 to the Chest.

Lorene Bates and Dal Albritton were auctioneers and secured as much as $5.50 for a single merchandise.

EITHER BEST SELLERS were a coffee at Dean Katherine Warnes house, $5.75; a gold ID bracelet, $5.50 and a collection of circus pictures donated by Coach Jack Haskin.

The Sophomore Council member modeled a faculty member's dress that later sold for $5.

Other featured purchases of the auction were dinners at the Seven Seas a trip to Wakulla, an Odd cap with a spire gra emblem and blue ribbon.

POLLY LASSITER, auctioneer for the '52 Faculty Auction, expects an even greater array of merchandise this year.

She is assisted by Yvonne McCarthy, publication chairman; Peggy Campbell, Marcia Morris and Lorraine Bates, publicity; Betty Sue Fryer, organization chairman and Jean Whitwell, chairman of the Sophomore Council.

Second Drive For Blood Starts

The second "Blood for Korea" drive will be held on the same campus during the last week in April, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, supervisor of the Jacksonville Blood Bank, the procuring agency for the drive, announced today.

Organizations have been contacted to sponsor the spring drive and Mac Hoyt, president of the men's "F" club, said that the club group is interested.

The fall drive, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa national leadership fraternity honorary and his a high peak for state blood drives by drawing 476 pints of blood.

The University of Florida drive, which has just finished the second half of their program, has been ordered by President Dr. Glenn McCall, co-chairman of the drive on the Gainesville campus.

Florida State's FTA Receives Charter in Official Installation

Florida State University's first chapter of the Future Teachers of America received its charter in an investiture ceremony Thursday night.

Installation of the officers of the group, officially known as the Walker-Westcott chapter, also took place.

JAMES D. DICKSON, education professor, presented the speakers.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell enumerated highlights of his first day of teaching. He told the chapter it had been a privilege since to devote all his time to education. "It doesn't matter," said Dr. Campbell, "whether you are teaching in a school of 24 pupils or in a school with an enrollment like Florida State. It is the spirit that counts."

The president stressed that the teacher must have this spirit, as learning is not enough. It is what the person is, "I am a part of all that I have met," he quoted.

DR. MODE L. STONE, dean of the School of Education, said the installation of the Walker-Westcott chapter on the FSU campus was "indeed a happy occasion." He pointed out that it was a result of four years work at the university. He repeated to the group of future teachers the time teaching ideals of Horace Mann, sometimes called the father of the American public school system.

The charter of the chapter was presented to the President Pelicia Russell by Mitchell Perryson, director of certification for the State Board of Education.

HELEN HAMRICK, chapter historian of the 177 members, gave a bourgeoisie1 sketch of David S. Walker and John Westcott, after whom the FSU chapter is named.

Officers of the new FTA chapter are Patricia Russell, president; John Rooney, vice-president; Marianne Nix, secretary; and Lewis Thomas, treasurer.

FOR CHARITY—Pledging their support of the campus chest are members of the Chi Omega and Phi Mu sorority. Left to right are Joan Rakestraw, Carol Gray, Lucinda Carson, Patsy Sisson, Kitty Oliver, and Jean Hawthorne.

FAMED SOPRANO

Lilly Windsor to Appear Thursday at Florida State

Musical Cinderella of modern times, soprano star Lilly Windsor, will appear in an Artist Series concert Thursday at 8:15 p. m. in the Music Hall auditorium.

White, Lowe Sing at State

Bennie Frances White and David Lowe, juniors and music students at Florida State University, were announced last Thursday as winners in radio station WFSU's Tommy Tucker contest.

Besides copping several prizes offered by local merchants, the pair will have an opportunity to star with the Tommy Tucker orchestra.

THE SHOW will be presented on stage at the State theater tomorrow night at 7 and 9:10 p. m.

White and Lowe were selected from the six semi-finalists who tried out a week ago in the Music auditorium. Others were Helen Bell, Rosamay Smith, Blair Hennessey and Stan Rabin.

JUDGES FOR the event were Dr. Wylie Housewright, professor of music education, who graded vocal quality; Will Pennell, president of the University Government Association, who acted as student advisor; Dr. William Slaughter, of the School Journalism, and Thomas Wright, assistant professor of music.

The winners appeared on a radio program originating from Opperman Music hall last Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. Others appearing on the WFSU broadcast were Mr. Gordon Pfeiff of the FSU School of Music faculty, who presented special piano numbers; and the quartet-tones, a quartet of FSU coeds.

Twenty-Two Get Invitations To Join Phi Beta Kappa

A number of Florida State University seniors can now claim the distinction of being members of the Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, composed of outstanding scholars throughout the nation.

The seniors and Clara L. Comfort, a member of the 1951 junior class, were chosen to Phi Beta Kappa membership at an annual election held on the FSU campus.

The seniors elected are Mary Jo Burr, Mary Anne Cone, Mary Z. Cawthon, Patricia S. Crum, Shirley Ann Drake, Barbara Ann Goldman, Jean Ellen Hall, Mrs. Winfred Johnson, Sharon Marie Love, Ralph David McWilliams, Susan Cameron Miller and Elizabeth Patricia Mims.

Also elected were Edith Grace Potter, Marrery Kay Reeder, Nancy Warren Smith, Willis W. Tyrell, William Francis Upshaw, Luarnee A Wallace, Martha Curtis Warner, Nina Patricia A. Weigand, Clara L. Williams.

Roving Poll Offered To Facilitate Voting

A "roving" precinct on a jeep will emphasize student elections today, announced Will Pennell, president of the University Government association, yesterday.

Carl Experman, elections chairman, explained that the portable precinct will cruise around campus today to round up the "stragglers" who might not get around to voting otherwise.

REGULAR PRECINCTS are in lower Westcott, in the Seminole Dining hall, in front of Bryan, at the east side of the Education building and in the West campus post office. The Seminole precinct will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and the one on West campus from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. All others will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Since the time was extended from last Thursday afternoon to yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m., five additional persons have qualified to run. Pennell ordered the time extended last Thursday because of a shortage of candidates. Only one person was running for each of 9 of the 18 offices to be filled.

THOSE WHO responded over the week-end to Pennell's plea for more candidates were Bryant L. Boatland, running for chairman of Judiciary; Daphne Southard, for secretary of Men's Affairs; Jean Thomas, forum's chairman; Joyce Walden, treasurer, and Bill Backus, chairman of Sandspur.

Others running today are Ted Wilson, Jimmie Summers and Jere Salyers, president of UGA, Milton Carothers, Bob Ryan, Jimmie Evans, Gene Turrano and Bobby Drake, vice-president in Charge of Legislative Affairs.

RUNNING for Vice-president in Charge of Men's Affairs are John Lantz, Jim Dye and Tom Scott; seeking Vice-president in Charge of Women's Affairs are Jane Conyers and Jo Nell Proctor.

Tom Perkins and Jean Wetherell are campaigning for treasurer of UGA; John E. McCarey and Jim Alvarado seek the office of Forum's chairman.

June Tate and John Buckley have qualified for the Student Court of the University Court; Betty Holland and Robert P. O'Connell are running for president of the University Recreation association.

Saturday Henry and Bill Dunn seek the editorship of the Florida Flambeau. Bill Mills and Bonnie Warren will try for editor of Smoke Signals.

MARCIA MORRIS has qualified for secretary of UGA. Percy Moore for chairman of judiciary and Jeanne Cardone for Sandspur chairman.

Running for vice-president of the University Recreation association is Pat Folsom; for secretary of URA, Joan Guard; for chairman of Judiciary, Jean Ellen Partridge; for Smoke Signals business manager Nancy McDonald.

CLAUDIA THOMAS is unopposed for the office of Tally-Ho editor and Tom Bryan for Tally-Ho business manager.

Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary, sponsored the pre-election rally last night in the amphitheater of the Music building, where all candidates who so wished had a chance to give campaign speeches.

ROTC Cadets Vote on Queen For Annual Ball

Voting for the queen of the third annual R. O. T. C. military ball will take place today and tomorrow in the Student campus R. O. T. C. building. Only R. O. T. C. students may vote

The queen will be selected from pictures submitted, John Poetig, publicity chairman stated yesterday. The names of the girls will not be provided with their pictures. It will be a selection merely from the judgement of the pictures.

THE WINNING CANDDATE will be crowned queen by Col. B. S. Barr, professor of Air Science and Tactics, at the ball Saturday night from 8 until 12 midnight in the Suwannee dining hall. The two runners-up to the queen will make up the queen's court.

Major General Bryant L. Boatner from the Air Force Proving Ground at Eglin Field will address the ROTC students and their dates at the banquet preceding the ball in the Lafayette room. The banquet will take place from 6 until 7 p.m.

THOUGH SPONSORED by the ROTC, the dance will be open to the entire student body according to the publicity chairman. Positive that all corsages were definitely banned and that no smoking would be allowed on the dance floor.

Arrangements for this year's formal ball are being sponsored jointly by the Air and Ordinance ROTC units on campus.

BRIG. GENERAL Thomas K. Vinsent, one of the nation's top military ordinance men and chief of the Ordnance Training Command, has expressed himself as well pleased with the training progress of the Florida State University Ordinance ROTC.

Floor committee in charge of arrangements for the annual ball include Student Cadets Charles S. Brown, Donald P. Linnen, Danny McMillan and George L. Kramer.

The refreshment committee includes William A. Tartt, Walter B. Stoenburg, Bob C. White and Herbert Wiles.

Seven 400 members of the University military corps and their dates are expected Saturday night. The ball is one of the highlights of the university social activities.

Talent Show Tryouts Scheduled Tomorrow

Tryouts for the Cavalier Talent show will be held tomorrow night at 7 in the Opperman Music hall, Nick Pappas, social chairman, has announced.

All varities of acts are eligible for the March 12 show. Contestants tomorrow night must bring their own music but an accompanist will be furnished.

THE BEST CANDIDATE?—Left to right are Beth Mclson and Clare Brown discussing who will be the next UGA president. The usual posters decked the campus colorful "vote for me" requests this past week.

Actress Arrives Here Tomorrow

Miss Doris Dalton, actress of stage, radio and television who will play the leading role of Marion Froude in the forthcoming production of N. Behrman's comedy "Biography," produced by the department of speech at Florida State University, will arrive in Tallahassee tomorrow.

THE PLAY is scheduled for the Conradi Theater on March 14, 15, 17 and 18.

Rehearsals have been under way now for two weeks under the direction of Dr. George McCalmon, chairman of the drama area of the department of speech. Miss Beatrice Lambert, junior speech major is acting as Miss Dalton's understudy during the rehearsal period.

"THE STUDENT MEMBERS of the cast," comments Dr. McCalmon, "are all looking forward to the experience of working with a professional actress. During Miss Dalton's appearance here she will be available for conferences with the members of the cast."

Robert Strane, sophomore, plays Richard Kurt, the young and idealistic publisher. William Shaw, graduate student will be seen as Leander Nolan, "an old flame of Marion's."

JEAN FLYNN, senior appears as the impressionable Minnie "maid companion to Marion." Host Bowen, graduate student, has the role of Ortis Kinnicot, the stuffy Tennessee publisher "who is backing Leander for Senator." Kinnicot's daughter Slade, is doubleast, with Ann Gregoire, freshman, and Bert Mellander, sophomore, alternating.

"Biography," Mr. Behrman's fifth play was first produced on Broadway in 1933 by the Theater Guild with Ina Claire in the lead and was an immediate success.

CRITICAL REVIEWS of that time include those from the New York Times, the New York Daily News and The Nation. The New Yorker's Alexander Woollcott, a pleasantly amartly written, beautifully played adult comedy of character."

The Nation says, "Not, I think, since his first work have any of Mr. Behrman's plays exhibited his characteristic qualities so satisfactorily as they are exhibited in Biography. The three leading figures represent the contemporary embodiment of three possible attitudes toward the world—it is firm and sinewy, intelligent and sincere."

The New York Times says, "One of Behrman's maturest revelations of people. He has a delight and depth, to say nothing of his skill, in all of his colleagues can enjoy compeiace."

Senate Passes Cabinet System Unanimously

Special Session Called To Discuss Amendment As Slightly Changed

Meeting in special session last Friday, the Student Senate unanimously passed a slightly amended cabinet system proposal.

The meeting was called by Jers Salyers, Vice-president in Charge of Legislative Affairs, for the sole purpose of discussing the proposed constitutional amendment.

THE REASON FOR acting on the bill before the regular session this afternoon, explained Freshman Senator Phil Springer, was that the Senate wanted to give the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs at least a week to study the proposal, which Monday to consider the measure.

The proposed amendment, voted in section by section, differs but in minor respects from the version presented a week ago. Last Tuesday's vote the Senate passed measure. Senior Class President Bill Mills raised enough objections to its form to stall the bill and send it back to committee. The Senate meeting held Friday takes into consideration only one or two of Bradley's proposals.

NEWLY ADDED parts of section 1, article II, reads, "The President of the University Government Association shall remove all appointed officers at his own discretion." Bradley had pointed out that the value of a cabinet system was destroyed if the executive branch and that the president should thus be able to remove as well as appoint officers.

Another amendment stated that all cabinet members should have at least a 1.0 average. The Forums chairman was specified also as the information officer to the University Government association.

Amendment TO change Ignacio Seed's amendment as proposed in last week's meeting, the name University Senate is changed to University Government association to avoid confusion between it and the faculty Senate.

The part of the constitutional amendment which previously had caused the hottest debate, the setting up of an attorney general, was passed as proposed two weeks ago.

Flambeau Starts 'Drive For Talent' For Staff Members

A call for writing talent has been issued by the Florida Flambeau in a second attempt to drive for new reporters and business staff members.

A special meeting will be held this afternoon at 5 in the Longhorn staff room for all students interested in working on the newspaper.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER University Government Association elections, present staff members will advance in position. Many will hold down paying jobs. The move for new reporters is also a formula to fill the beginning positions.

A letter requesting participation in the publications has been mailed to each fraternity and sorority.

"STUDENTS NEED not have experience because a short training course on the Flambeau writing style will be conducted," Hazel Morrison, editor, said today.

A move is in process to get more members of the business staff on a per paper paid. Due to low student activity fee the majority of income is from advertising solicited by students for the newspaper.

At present, the editor, managing editor, news editor, sports editor, and business manager are paid.

"Now is the time for every student interested in journalism to try out for the new reporters class, I can only urge each student, attendance is required," stated Bob Griffin, Flambeau editor.

CHECK NAMES TODAY

All prospective sophomore counselors are asked to check the bulletin boards in their halls today to check if their names. Anyone with a 1.0 points average is eligible for consideration, Betty Lou Stevenson, president in charge of women's affairs, said yesterday.

How to Fit Technical Skill Into Complex World Is Aim

Guest Editorial
By Andrew Kerstein

As a recent graduate of the University of Chicago's "Hutchins Plan" I would like to clear up some misconceptions about the nature and significance of "general education."

A general education program is not necessarily one which permits or requires students to get a "cafeteria education"—where the student enrolls in 3 hours of this, that, and the other thing in a wide variety of fields, including the humanities. This haphazard des of general education is far worse than the so-called vocational education because it leaves the graduate with the sad illusion that he has received a broad liberal education, whereas he has done nothing but take a few unorganized, uninteg rated nibbles at meteorology, psychology, speech, and etiquette 301.

In the past ten years much thought has been given to the problem of providing college students with a truly liberal education. The College of the University of Chicago has made a general classification of undergraduate (college) and graduate (divisional) work into four broad fields: physical sciences, biological sciences, social sciences, and humanities. It is believed that a graduate must have a good, integrated series of courses in each of the above fields in which he can not show proficiency in an external placement tests given to each entering student.

In other words, the U. of C. feels that there must be a certain minimum knowledge in each field before a student gets his diploma; it holds, however, that there is no need in teaching the student things he already knows—hence the extensive testing program in all areas of knowledge, so that the student will not waste any time by enrolling in courses whose principles he already knows and whose methods he can handle.

Perhaps the main reason for the absurd failure of the many poor imitations of the general education program as worked out at Chicago and elsewhere is that many other colleges have no good idea at what a college education should offer, and this lack of clear goals is strikingly shown by the opinions and statements of their students, alumni, and staff.

I greatly regret to see the stand taken by Dan Althoff in last Friday's Flambeau, even conceding that the editorial to which he referred was rather idealistic and unreal, Mr. Althoff's underlying assumption, which I simply will not buy, is that a student goes to college so that he can be molded into his civilization, and will become a competent, orthodox, strictly standardized donut baker, with standard politics, standard amusements, and standard morals. What Mr. Althoff forgets is that our donut baker does not bake donuts in all his waking hours, and also will not be able to pass judgment on anything except donuts and baseball.

In my opinion, the purpose of college training is twofold: first and foremost, to teach students to think and to like to think, and to like to think about goals, and bigger issues than those demanded by specialties; secondly, to provide a basic framework of knowledge, more in terms of principles than facts—this applies also to the student's own major. The problem, as Mr. Althoff believes, to prepare the student to make a living in his own vocation.

A truly liberal education will permit our baker to grasp and weigh the issues behind the decisions which will shape his world and mine. Because it is based on a few principles, and not on hundreds of descriptive facts, he will be able to assimilate new knowledge instead of parroting old. Because he is on speaking terms with the theatre, music, economics, or atomic energy, he will have an active mind and personality, with respect for truth and not slogans. And, best of all, he will be able to judge not to do with his technical skill, since he will know how he fits in with his society and his world.

● GIVE NOW!

The provocative "Are You Asleep?" signs around campus represent the theme of this year's Campus Chest drive which began Sunday. Campus Chest workers hope to awaken the FSU students and faculty to the ideas and ideals behind the campaign.

The idea of a consolidated charity drive was realized last year and is still on a trial basis. The Campus Chest will receive final approval by the University Government Association only if the students and University officials give their whole hearted support, according to Shirley Hurlburt, chairman of the drive. This means that all individual drives must be kept off campus, said Shirley. If other groups are invited to bring their campaigns to this campus, the drive will fail in its fundamental purpose.

Funds collected by the Campus Chest this year will be distributed as follows: World Student Service Fund, 60%; Cancer Fund, 8%; Heart Fund, 8%; Polio Fund, 8%, and General fund, 16%. This breakdown is subject to future change with other groups invited to submit requests for being included in the Chest.

The idea of not just giving to be giving but giving because other students around the world need help and need it badly, should be stressed. We have so many more material benefits here at FSU than do the students of other nations that we are mor-

F. S. U Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U.G.A.

Tuesday, March 4

4:00—U.G.A. Executive Council Meeting.
8:15—U.G.A. Senate Meeting.
5:00-8:00—Delta Delta Delta Fashion Show for all sororities.—Music Hall.
5:00—Special Flambeau meeting in Lonsmure Auditorium—All students invited.
4:00—Special Interest Meeting—School of Journalism—Rm. 102 Journalism Bldg.—Dean Campbell, Chairman.
7:00—Warpath Club Meeting in Longmire.
All Day—U.G.A ELECTIONS.

Wednesday, March 5

5:30 to 8:30—Kappa Delta Silver Tea for the Campus Chest—open to the public.
5:00 to 7:00—The F Club Box Supper for the Campus Chest on Landis Green—4Sc.
8:00—Sigma Xi Lecture—"Science Education and the Future of Man"—Dr. Anton J. Carlson —Science Auditorium.
8:30—U.G.A. on the Air over WFSU.

Thursday, March 6

4:00—Psychology Departmental Seminar — "The Conditioning of Salt Water Fish" — Peter Shumovich—Annex Bldg.
4:00—Special Interest Meeting—School of Social Welfare—Room 111, Social Work Bldg.—Dean Cyple Moore, Chairman.
7:00—Sophomore Council Auction for the Campus Chest—Amphitheatre.
8:00—Geography Club Meeting—Room 103, History Bldg.
8:15—Artist Series—Lilly Winsdor, Soprano of the

Any organization sponsoring an event which they may wish to have published in Fun and Functions should notify Jim Lohmeyer, UGA Forums Chairman, or Ruth Hoernig, UGA Secretary, Ext. 4861.

Rome Opera Co.—Music Hall.

Friday, March 7

Campus Chest Dance—see the Flambeau for details.
8:00—A.C.E. Lecture—Miss Mary Leeper—Alumni Auditorium.
8:15—Faculty Recital—Harry Schmidt, clarinetist —Music Hall.

Saturday, March 8

2:15—Powder Puff Foothall Game for the Campus Chest—Doak Campbell.
3:00—Intramural Gym Meet in East Campus gym.
12:30—A.C.E. Luncheon—Hotel Duval.
9:30—A.C.E. Meeting—Alumni Bldg.
Mississippi Barques and Military Ball in the Buwanee.

Special This Week

U.G.A. ELECTIONS.
CAMPUS CHEST WEEK.
Now through March 22—"Art Schools, USA" in the Gym.

FSU Regulars

Free Campus Movie—"Miracle on 34th Street"—7:30 Tuesday (Senior Hall), Wednesday (South Cawhon), Thursday (Landis) and 8:00 Friday (Magnolia), Saturday (Longmire).
Monday through Friday—Plunge period in East Campus gym (7:30-8:30).
Monday through Friday—Bowling in East Campus gym (4:30-8:45).
Every night—Plunge in East Campus gym (8:00-10:00).

WHAT THE FUTURE HOLDS FOR FSU

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

No more sitting on the fence.

Many of the platforms presented by candidates for UGA offices were nothing but glowing and empty "sounding" words requesting a vote but promising only "sunny Americans" at the position in question.

There are enough issues around the University to which to base campaigns. The Flambeau, therefore, compiled a questionaire for the three candidates for UGA office of president.

Here are the questions and answers:

How do you feel about a student board of publication for you believe it is necessary at FSU? Do you believe the newspaper should be under the school of journalism?

Stainmeyer: Not necessary with our impeachment act. The paper should remain under the school of Journalism.

Sulyers: I feel no need for the board, but for publication for one should be left in the constitution. The newspaper should not be under the school of journalism because it would tend to be biased and a true representation should be entirely free and run by the students for the students.

Stainmeyer: Depending upon the powers delegated to the board I think it is the best plan for one of the finest schools in the country.

Do you feel that student interest in any candidate whatsoever grew about with four-inch grins and a back slap from one governament. And by the way, the GUM IS HERE!!!!!! Fifty million people have informed me it is not still raining.)

I can think of no time of the year or no temperature quite so united in some nice energetic campaigning with the like course by the time this is in print and being read there will probably be a new administration—

In Belgium, freed from wartime
Nazi totalitarianism 90; er cent
In the crucial Italian election in which rebuffed communism 89 per cent
In the British election which returned Churchill to power 82 per cent
In France, after nearly four years of Nazism 75 per cent
In Japan, with its new "made-in-America" democracy 70 per cent
In the United States, in the Truman-Dewey election of 1948 51 per cent
Florida State University ? ? ? ? per cent
It takes ten minutes. Find ten and Vote!

Stainmeyer: I think an observer should be set up to ISSA; however I don't believe our student government is ready to join NSA yet. I believe we should have a closer student government before joining the national organization.

Question No. 3 How do you feel about athletic scholarships?

Summers: I feel the boys should get something for all their hard work. All sports need more student support. Scholarships for the athletic teams are good to create spirit and interest.

Sulyers: I definitely believe that we should offer football scholarships in line with other leading Southeastern colleges. We must expect to lose some games to the big teams but we can win only through the experience gained through losing.

Steinmeyer: Big time football has a definite place at FSU until it can get on its own feet. There is no precedent over the academic discipline of the athletes. I believe we should offer scholarships under the guidance of the NCAA rulings Question No. 4 How do you feel about student relations are improving with the University of Florida?

Summers: Yes, but friendly rivalry is a good thing.

Sulyers: Yes, the exchange column is a big help!

Steinmeyer: Yes, the more we

SEMINOLE SCENES

ELECTION TIME—EVERYBODY IS A PAL

By FRANCES CAWTHON

It is surprising how time time brings Christmasy, outdated —as far as practice—"good will toward men" to politicians.

Suddenly everybody and their brother are your bosom pals. Anybody who has the slightest interest in any candidate whatsoever grew about with four-inch grins and a back slap from one governament. And by the way, the GUM IS HERE!!!!!! Fifty million people have informed me it is not still raining.)

I can think of no time of the year or no temperature quite so united in some nice energetic campaigning with the like course by the time this is in print and being read there will probably be a new administration—

THE REACTIONARY VOICE

IS NIEMOELLER THE TRUE CRISTIAN?

By FRED MYERS

Religious Emphasis Week came and went with the usual emphasis on religion but on certain political and sociological questions.

Pastor Niemoeller has been accused of being a Communist and a Nazi, which is like saying he is being a man of at the same time beating and starving his children and spoiling them with everything.

I suppose the argument runs something like this: He was a submarine commander in the First War I, which proves he is an extreme German nationalist, ergo a Nazi.

When the Nazis came to power in Germany he ran for and was elected supporter of them.

Now, due to his opposition to Nazis were the Communists ergo anyone who did not fanatically support Hitler is like saying, a man of at the same time beating and starving his children and spoiling them with everything.

also helped along by Nazi propaganda. If you are unable to believe both American and Nazi propaganda at the same time (which is a good trick, but it

ACP ROUNDUP

THE DEPRESSION SLUMP HITS COLLEGES

The Daily Kansan, University of Kansas, recently published some figures which may be considered fairly typical of the enrollment history of American universities.

University of Kansas got started in 1866, with 55 students. It hit 5,000 in 1924, then slumped to about 3,700 during the war. The post-war boom skyrocketed the enrollment to almost 11 000.

Now there is a new slump; the figure is back to 8,000. Other universities are in similar shape. At the University of Kansas 527 men have dropped out for second semester. That means a financial loss of about $100,000.

COLLEGE ANIMALS

The Interfraternity Council at Valparaiso, Indiana, has slightened its drinking rules. There are any problems which might arise.

The rules pronounce serving of any alcoholic beverages, "either directly or indirectly," at any mixed fraternity function. Punishments for violations can go as high as a $500 fine.

Commented the Valparaiso Torch: At present there is no problem of alcohol on campus since per- haps but has been and we hope

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr —Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Horn,
Sports Editor ..... Jack Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Chin
Rewrite Editor ..... Carol Beise
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Schaul
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bill Frank

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Ecclesiastical Editor ..... Jane Bridges
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Calderon, Fe Pittman

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter, June 8, 1927, at the Post Office at Tallahassee, Florida, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Telephone 3-90, Ext. 46
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

Fine Coverage

Dear Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to praise the fine sports coverage of the Florida Flambeau. Ever since Jack Sands took over the post of Sports Coverage Editor last fall, the quality of the sports write-ups has been of such caliber as to enhance student interest in the athletic contests.

The impartial coverage of all the sports has increased the campus spirit and is a fine progressive step that the students appreciate.

I have heard many students comment on the efficient manner in which Jack commands his writing here and the excellent results of his hard work.

I believe that, in Tom's success lies in the fact that he has undertaken to give fair, impartial coverage of sports and to help build FSU's athletic program.

Congratulations to Mr. Sands for his fine work and to the Flambeau for having him on the staff.

Yours truly,
Mickey Brown.

Men House Coeds At U. of F. Dorm?

By JACK DETWEILER
Associate Editor, Florida Alligator

Campus housing was the other topic of interest at the University of Florida last week, especially the University's decision to move coeds into Weaver Hall next year.

Weaver Hall is now serving as a freshman dormitory for men. It is situated with three other male dorms. Formerly, all men and women housing was located on the opposite ends of the campus.

Bids will be sent next month on a new 630-capacity dormitory, and construction is slated to begin in early April. The dorm, to be used by both men and women, will be built in the shape of an H with the center representing the lobby, auditorium, small dining room and administrative facilities of the dorm.

Rep. McKinley and his band have been scheduled for next year's Spring Frolics. The Prom was weekend has been set for April 4 and 26 with Friday night being the first appearance on the Florida campus. Tony Pecora, director who is playing for the Military Ball on March 22 and 23.

The old problem of time for the use of the Florida Gym was revamped this week in an effort to make this facility more flexible. The revamping represented a compromise of a group tried to schedule a Vaughn Monroe dance here and was blocked by an basketball practice.

The new system provides for a student-faculty standing committee which will conduct hearings on all disputes arising out of the use of the gym. The revisions were worked out by a special student-faculty committee and was approved by the Executive Council.

Mrs. Miami, reported that their fraternities were a hindrance rather than an aid to community

Forces Blood Drive was a dismal flop. The drive netted only 238 pints and a little more. Principal reasons given for the failure have been poor administration, poor publicity, the short time between the two blood drives, and general disinterest by students.

Comedian Joe E. Brown was the principal speaker at the annual football banquet last Friday. The banquet was also attended by the members of the 1951 varsity and JV squad and is deserted to banner those players who have completed their collegiate eligibility. An award given to the senior who has contributed the most to Florida athletics is also presented.

State police is sharing the apartment with campus police this spring. Student Government hope to project 3,000 students for state and national elections.

Two gubernatorial candidates have clubs on campus; the Dan McCarty and Alto Adams clubs have been formed recently for the two weeks. Other political clubs on campus are the Young Democrats Young Republicans, and the "Billy Matthews for Congress Club."

Florida's fraternities have been hailed as a "definite asset to the Gainesville community," according to a survey conducted in a recent issue of the Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council publication.

The survey polled city editors in 39 cities and towns in which colleges play a major role in the community life Gainesville and on all disputed points reported that the fraternities as a whole are worthy of a special study-set. Eleven communities, including Miami, reported that their fraternities were a hindrance rather than an aid to community

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

We tender, cherubic, applecheeked seekers of knowledge ean sleep another hour, assured mothers (all beaming strikingly resemblances to Sprine Byington) looking through their assorted picture windows of assorted white houses, can stop worrying about their darlings' whoosh.

The willing weights has been removed from mothers' shoulders by the mysterious group which decides what books shall be hidden from the sex-crazed irises of University students.

This doubtless scholarly assemblage has decided that the works of certain perverts unsquerading as geniuses in Psychology are to be forced to read by men for that hazy old Psych. Department (beyond salvation anyway).

This group has also decided in favor of lock and keyed books which actually discuss such terrible topics as sex and marriage. This, of course goes a long way toward saving a generation which grew up in the shadow of servitude and prevents more lurid explanations of the same phenomena for only a quarter.

This little "thank you" note will serve also as an application to serve on this committee.

I'm egomaniac enough to think I can dictate right and wrong to my fellow man. I want to retain to the "cleanup, more wholesome past," when we wore tons of clothes and tons of taboos. And my friends tell me I'm none too bright—all of which should admirably suit me for the job. Contact Box 1026. . . .

Simms Elected Prexy

Elected president of the 1952-53 Future Business Leaders of America, Florida Chapter is Joan Simms. Florida State junior business major.

8 Girls To Be elected As New unior Counselors

Eight new Junior Counselors be selected from the list of names posted on the Student Government bulletin board in Lower Westcott.

The proposed candidates were given last week to state their names to the Assistant Dean Women Elizabeth Lynn by yesday.

BEFORE REPLYING, Miss Lynn wants to consider the ties and responsibility that go with a Junior Counselor.

It has been said by many former members and students that Junior Counselors are perhaps of the most influential groups campus in moulding student views and in stimulating school spirit, she explained.

The form to be filled out includes questions about the time one might allot to counseling, whether they wished to work with the Freman day students, transfer students, or dormitory freshmen, and their willingness to attend the final preliminary meetings.

COUNSELORS will be chosen from outstanding traits of leadership, character and service. All must have a "C" average on scholastic work for the time spent at Florida State University.

A Junior Counselor has a wonderful opportunity to serve her sister and to express her love and loyalty to FSU in a very special way" concluded Miss Lynn.

ON COVER—Mary Ruth Summerlin, junior Senator and candidate for president of the University Government association, will appear on the cover of the next issue of Smoke Signals.

Lilly Windsor

Continued From Page 1

her Canadian debut last summer. As she walked to the center of the stage to acknowledge the audience applause, the heavy iron-weighted roll curtain dropped, striking her on the head.

THOUGH GREATLY shaken, the courageous star, insisted on going on with the concert. Her reviewers acclaimed her for her artistry and composure.

The Windsor personality can best be described by quoting the Washington Post's press remark: "Attractive and vivacious Lilly Windsor regaled an audience at the Carlton Hotel with amusing incidents of her career and expressions of wonder as to how a gromerryman's daughter, who first sang at funerals and weddings, could win acclaim. In rapid-fire patter, interspersed with jokes, Italian phrases and an infectious laugh, it took her less than an hour to complete her entertaining life history. She's the most unusual diva, for although few have achieved such acclaim at tender age, Lilly doesn't take herself seriously, kids everyone, including the press, with wicked skill."

Science Lecturer Speaks Tomorrow

Dr. A. J. Carlson, internationally famous physiologist, will be guest speaker for the Sigma Xi, national science honorary, meeting, 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Science Lecture hall.

Dr. Carlson, who is a Frank P. Hixon Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus of Physiology at the University of Chicago, will speak on "Science Versus Life."

He has been a member of Sigma Xi for 50 years, and holds an A.B. and A.M. degree from Augustana College and a doctorate degree from Stanford University.

Also among his laurels are honorary degrees from seven universities and colleges in the United States and Europe, and the Distinguished Service Medal and Citation of the American Medical Association.

He has served as president of numerous scientific societies and is the author of two books, "Control of Hunger in Health and Disease" and "The Machinery of the Body."

Frosh Carnival Workers Needed

Freshmen students who wish to work on the Freshman Carnival are asked to sign up on the Lower Westcott bulletin board today and Wednesday, announced Mimi Patterson, freshman vice-president.

A meeting of the carnival workers will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the recreation room of Reynolds hall. "All interested persons should try to attend this important meeting," said Vice-President Patterson, who is in charge of the carnival to be held on March 29 in the East campus gymnasium.

Committee chairmen for the carnival are Elaine Lewis, concessions; Mimi Patterson, clean-up; Ann Williams, invitation; Don van Blan, tickets; David Dreis and Charis Coulter, entertainment; Charlotte Hardy, King and Queen; Graeen Smith, booth building; Lillian Avis, food; Martha Garrett and Helen Hamilton, publicity; Nell Evans and Peggy Schuchart, prizes.

THEY'LL SING FOR SUPPER—Sending Ezonia White and David Lowe, winners of WFSU's Tommy Tucker contest, pose on either side of Bill Ezell, assistant program manager, in Opperman Music hall last Thursday night.

Career-Planning Conference Plans Completed

Preliminary plans for the first Career-Planning Conference on a large scale have been completed, Mrs. Margaret Blair of the department of vocational guidance and placement, has announced.

A student-faculty advisory committee met last week to complete the schedule for the three-day program. The conference will be held March 11, 12, 13 and will offer information and outline opportunities in all phases of university study.

A. J. L. HUME, industrial relations manager for the Pan-American Airways, has been scheduled as keynote speaker for the conference. He will speak Tuesday, March 11, at 7:00 in the Music hall.

The purpose of the conference is to bring information to all students at one time. Meetings have been arranged during the three nights to allow students to attend talks in all related fields.

MOVIES WILL be used in many of the meetings and speakers from Tallahassee have been engaged for the meetings on accounting, dentistry, insurance and real estate, law, medical technology, medicine, religious work, and secretarial work.

Career forums have been sponsored for many years on campus but this is the first time students have taken much of the initiative for planning the program and outlining the speakers. Mrs. Blair, in charge of the over-all program, stated.

Chest Drive

Continued From Page 1

a "Joe College" contest to choose the most typical boy of the student body. Anyone may nominate candidates. The winner will be the boy who has received the most penny votes.

Other sororities participating are Alpha Gamma Delta selling cokes at Saturday game; Alpha Chi Omega, fudge sale; and a Zeta Tau Alpha jewelry cleaning stand.

GAMMA PHI BETAS will be selling chances on their jar full of pennies.

Alpha Xi Delta has had special pencils made to read "Campus Chest—P. S. U." which they will have on sale during the week.

Lambda Chi Alpha representing the fraternities will sell fruit from an apple cart.

CONCERNING ALL of these money making projects in this week's campaign, Pat Weigand, funds committee chairman has announced that the committee has ruled that the Campus Chest projects will not be counted as the organization's project for the year as originally reported.

Pat said the raising of money for the charity drive was one unified project by all combined organizations and a restriction on this drive might prevent the drive from being a success.

Last year the Campus Chest was begun as an experiment to consolidate all drives formerly held through the year. It has grown to include support of the Heart Fund, World Student Service Fund, Cancer Fund and Polio Fund.

The drive last year had a $1,500 goal with final totals only coming to $1200.

'Lost And Found' Auction To Be Held

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will supervise the annual Lost and Found Auction to be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Longmire auditorium.

Otis McBride, dean of men, will be auctioneer block articles that have accumulated in the department for the past two years.

Items will be sold to the highest bidder on a cash and carry basis, and include everything from raincoats to fountain pens.

Miss Jane Adams, director of the Longmire building, explained that only the articles unclaimed for two years will be forfeited. She also urges students to check the lost and found department for misplaced articles before Wednesday.

Proceeds from the auction will be allocated to the Longmire building procurement fund.

Key Party Postponed

A' Gold Key party to honor members of the sister honorary, Garnet Key, has been postponed, Stan Gould, president has announced.

The party originally scheduled for tonight, has been rescheduled for Tuesday March 12 at 8:30 in the Longmire lounge.

Wives to Become Grad Club Members

Approximately 70 graduate students' wives were entertained in the home of Dean and Mrs. Milton Carothers Sunday afternoon where plans were formulated for graduate students' wives to become a part of the Graduate club.

Among other guests at the Sunday afternoon tea were Mrs. Dosh B. Campbell, wife of President Campbell; Mrs. A. B. Martin, wife of Vice-President Martin; and wives of the deans of the various schools.

Special treatment of sawdust has been developed to make it useful as food for cattle.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.
FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
"Decision Before Dawn"
With
Richard Basehart and Gary Merrill
WEDS. THRU SAT.
"Red Skies of Montana"
With
Richard Widmark

STATE
LAST TIMES TODA
"Lone Star"
With Clark Gable and Ava Gardner
WEDS. ONLY
ON STAGE ! ! !
Tommy Tucker"
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
On the Screen Highly Dangerous"

RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
"The Law and the Lady"
With
Greer Garson
THURSDAY thru SAT.
"Elephant Stampede"
Also
Rough Riders of Durango"

DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
"Baby of Broadway"
With Dorris Day and Gene Nelson
THURS. THRU SAT.
"Fighting Seabees"
With John Wayne
Also
"Valley of Fire"
With Gene Autry
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

ELECT
Bob DRAKE
VICE-PRESIDENT
U. G. A.
• Experienced • Capable • Dependable
ELECT DRAKE

They're Here
ARROW HEAD HAND SEWN MOCCASIN
JUST RIGHT FOR CAMPUS WEAR
See Them At
Malone's Co-op Bookstore
We Buy Used Books

gleams as it cleans
cleans as it gleams
NEW Wildroot
LIQUID CREAM SHAMPOO
More than just a liquid, more than just a cream . . . new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.
Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleaming clean, manageable, curl-inviting without robbing hair of its natural oils.
Soapless Sudsy . . . Lanolin Lovely!
THREE SIZES 29¢ 59¢ $2¢
P. S. To keep hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing.

meet your fashion future at the fashion show, March 4th
OPPERMAN HALL 5:30
• NO ADMISSION
• SPONSORED BY TRI DELTS
• BENEFIT CAMPUS CHEST
• MUSIC BY GEORGIE BEE Clothes By College Corner
College at Adams
MAYERON'S

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 34...THE FERRET
Let's dig a little deeper
Descended from a long lin. of distinguished researchers, this studious scholar has burned too many gallons of midnight oil to gloss over a subject lightly. Especially such an important item as cigarette mildness. He burrowed into the matter with his usual resolution and concluded that a "quick puff" or a "last sniff" doesn't offer much evidence. Millions of smokers agree there's but one true test of cigarette mildness.
It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-a-ter-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...
CAMEL
After all the Mildness Tests...
Camel leads all other brands by billions

Beetle Bailey
SWEET SHOP
701 W. Jefferson

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

The District N.A.I.B. tourney just serves another reminder thst past performances should be thrown in the nearest wastebasket when tournament time rolls around.

As far as season records were concerned, the two day meet worked in reverse with the supposedly "weaker sisters" meeting in the finals

Miami took a record of 14 wins and only 7 losses into the tourney and Stetson who was knocked out by Tampa in the other semi-final contest ,had an even more impressive record, while Tampa and the Seminoles together could boast only 14 wins.

What makes it even more ironical is tbat Stetson had blasted the Tampans an twa occasions, the last caming only three days befare tbe tournament. On the ather hand the Hurricanes had also humbled the Indians twice this season. Then to cap it all ,the Seminales had beaten Tampa twice to add further to the mixnp.

• • •

Apparently the University of Kentucky's Athletic Board took a dim view of former Wildcat cager Bill Spivey's statement that he had never been implicated in any of the basketball fixea that nearly wrecked the sport last winter.

Sunday the board came out with the statement that the seven foot center's eligibility had been suspended for good.

Only last week Spivey went to New Yark and appeared before tbe grand jury to testify in the now year-old scandals.

Then to add to the confusion, upon his retnrn, the Kentucky All-American said that he expected to rejain the squad and finish aut the season.

At the beginning of the season, Spivey suddenly quit the squad and said that he was going to clear his name concerning the fixings and volunteered that he be suspended.

Since then, conflicting stories have come out of the Bluegrass atate regularly as to Spivey's atatus, some implicating him with the scandal and others freeing him When the scandals first broke, Spivey along with several other members of the wildcat team were called on the carpet by the school's authorities and questioned.

One of his teammates said that tbe giant pivotman had been connected with the "point shavers" but later changed his story and claimed that he had "given the wrong impression."

At any rate, the whole case to our notion was poorly handled in relation to Spivey and now the Senior star is worse off than ever.

• • •

Gymnastics coach, Hartly Price, informs us that the Olympic gymnastics team will be chosen at the national A.A.U. gymnastic championships in Boulder, Colorado the first week in April.

According to Coach Price, a committee of around 60 college presidents from all sections of the country will decide what gymnasts will represent the United States in Finland next Summer.

Besides Bill Roetzheim who is certain to land a spot, the Seminoles have four others who have excellent chances of claiming berths, in Joe and Carmine Regna, Jack Miles and Don Holder.

This Olympic business will be nothing new to Roetzheim, however, since he was a member of the 1948 American team.

Spring Practice Opens For Seminole Gridders

Spring football drills are expected to pick up in tempo this week with possibly a scrimmage slated for this afternoon or tomorrow.

Coach Don Veller who issued the call to between fifty and sixty candidates Monday, indicated that he would waste no time in putting the Seminoles through their paces, since they will be limited to only 20 practice sessions in a 30-day period.

VELLER said that his plans were not complete for this first week of practice but said that things would start off full blast with maybe a scrimmage" Wednesday or Thursday or maybe sooner."

18 Lettermen, reserves from the 1951 squad, plus transfers not eligible last season and several newly enrolled Freshmen made up the large group of candidates which reported to Veller yesterday.

THE INDIANS who are embarking on the toughest schedule in the history of the school next fall, will practice daily Monday thru Friday until the 20 practice sessions are used up.

Among the players reporting yesterday were co-captain Curt Campbell, Jerry Ellenwood, Manuel Moshonas, Joe Robinson, Ted Morill, Bo Averitt and Bob Averitt and Bob Kimminger, ends;

CO-CAPTAIN Vic Szczepanik, Bob Wodrich, Don Linton, Tom Nadrich, Chuck Sanders, Jack Swike, and Gene Arcamonte at tackles; Earl O'Neal, Charley Brown, Bobby Tully, John Karlowicz, Preston Bradley, Charley Booth, Roger Slabaugh and George Kirby, guards;

Steve Kalenich, Tommy Owens, Earl Brown, Bill Whaley, Buddy Bryant, and Wayne Hodgea, centers; Joe Martinez, Mae Huey, Jimmy Lee Taylor, Tom Sebring, Gerald Smith and George Carnes, quarterbacks.

Bobby Fiveash, Nelson Italiano, Al Woodham, Bill David, Mac Henley, and Tom Dellahan, left halfbacks; Harry Bringger, Roy Thompson, Eddie Gray, George Graham, Jim Eary, Dave Stinson and Lou Leonhardt, right halfbacks Dick Turk, Ronald King, Bob Hudson, Gerald Cigarran and Stan Dobosz, fullbacks.

Varsity Golf Meeting

Coach Bob Harbison has announced that all candidates for the Varsity Golf squad meet with him tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m. at the Tallahassee Country Club.

Coach Harbison said that the meeting was very important and that plans for the coming golf season would be discussed.

Seniors Order Invites

Graduating seniors are urged to order invitations as soon as possible, Mr. Gordon Wheeler, bookstore manager stated today.

Students interning are asked to place orders before they intern.

Tarpon Club Taps 11 New Members

The Tarpon Club of Florida State University tapped 10 new minnows in the final tryouts Friday, Feb. 29, in the swimming pool in the gymnasium.

Betty Lou Wharton, president, announced that Betty Ann Theobald, Mary Lyn Brown, Bev Bunker, Lydia Helms, Charlotte Hartwell, Mary Ann Council, Jan Eichamger, Nancy Black, K. J. Simpson, and Nancy Wehner were passed on their ability in synchronized swimming.

New officers elected between semesters were: Betty Lou Wharton, president; Sandra Chance, vice-president; Pat Vines, secretary; Pat Lorimore, treasurer; and Hopie Fuller, publicity chairman.

Gymkana Show Goes on Road

Florida State University's famed Gymkana show went on the road again last Friday to a Winter Haven exhibition.

Director of the show was Dr. Hartley Price of the FSU physical education department, and master of ceremonies was Dick Gutting.

A full program including all types of tumbling acts, balancing numbers and flying ring feats were executed by the Gymkana teams.

Tallahassee Tumbling Tots that were starred on the Winter Haven program were Nancy Lamb, Mary Cummins, Gayle Hamilton, Karol Ann Kuersteiner, Dee Ann Dedge, Evelyn Laing, Donna Duke, Carol Laing, Barbara Beasley, Carol Edminston, and Barbara Cummins.

Among others appearing on the show were Bill Roetzheim, national all-around gymnastic champion; Jack Miles, national flying rings champion; and Gene Rabbitt, national side horse champion.

Gymkana also performed in the FSU Career Day at DeFuniak Springs yesterday FSU Gymkana team students making the trip were Dick Gutting, Dick Ireland, Bob Martin, Benny Wallace, Ann Tucker, and Pat Payne.

Volleyball Six Places Second

The Florida State University volleyball team lost their title as State AAU champions, as the Fliera from Whiting Field ended their three-year reign.

The Seminoles put the Whiting Field six in the loser's bracket of the double-elimination in the first match of the day, only to have them come back and take three straight games for the title.

The FSU All-Staters were Ronald Hambrock and Howard Gould. Dr. Howard G. Danford, regional chairman, made the trophy awards, stating "I believe this is the best volleyball tournament ever conducted in the state of Florida, and is indicative of the progress the sport is making in the state."

FSU Trackmen Score in N. C.

The Florida State University trackmen took three places in the Southern Conference Indoor Games held in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, this past weekend.

Freshman Bill Wagoner turned in a fast 3:15.4 to capture the three-quarter mile run for Freshman while Carlos Fraundorfer took second in the Frosh Shot to give FSU a third place tie in Freshman competition.

The crack Seminole mile relay team of Captain John Poston, Dick Mize, Woody Parker and Dick Slade finished a close second to Alabama in the non-conference class mile relay.

Fraundorfer's second place shot put mark was 40 feet 4½ inches while Alabama's winning time for the mile relay was 3:29.0.

F.S.U. Cagers End Worst Campaign

The Florida State University cagers closed their 19[illegible] basketball slate—their worst in history—with the N.A.I.B. tourney in DeLand last weekend.

After scoring a stunning 73-70 upset win over Miami in the opening round, the Florida State cagers ran out of gas Saturday night in the finals and dropped a 78-57 decision to the Tampa Spartans.

The Seminoles, who had whipped the Tampa five in the two regular season games, battled the winners on even terms for most of the first period but fell behind in the second stanza and never caught up.

AT THE end of the first quarter, the Spartans edged ahead 19-17, widened it to 42-31 at the half, and were out in front 59-44 at the three-quarter mark.

Five Seminoles were represented in one capacity or another in balloting for the tournament all-star team. Capt. Bob Whitmer and Jerry Westhafer were named to a first team berth along with Sy Chadroff af Miami and Tampa's Harry Bryan and George Montz.

Tom Maclaughlin, who fell only seven points shy of the cove[ted] 1,000 mark with 14 points in the final tilt, was selected for a sec[ond] team position, while Ha[rold] Wernke and Duane Gordon, [the] other two FSU starters, were ac[corded] honorable mention.

IN THE unprecedented win o[ver] Miami Friday night, forw[ard] Westhafer was the Indians' [big] gun. The sharp-eyed sophomo[re] who finished the season wit[h a] rush, tossed in 19 big points [and] sparkled with his work under [the] boards.

The Seminoles had never beat[en] the Hurricanes prior to Frid[ay's] contest, had lost to the Miami f[ive] twice in regular season play [by] scores of 73-55 and 93-55.

Coach Bud Kennedy's charg[es], trailing most of the way, put [on] a determined drive in the f[inal] four minutes to wrap up the v[ictory].

At the end of the first stan[za] the Huricanes held a narrow [illegible]-14 lead but the Seminoles ma[n]aged to stay within shouting d[is]tance and at the halfway ma[rk] trailed by 11 points, 33-22.

In the third period the India[ns] picked up steam and pulled [to] within six points of the Hu[rri]canes, who were having tro[uble] under the boards. Then with le[ss] than four minutes remaining [in] the final quarter, the Semino[les] moved out in front 66-65 a[nd] were never headed — outsco[ring] the Miamians 7-5 from that po[int] on.

Following Westhafer in [the] scoring column were Whitm[er] with 15, Wernke with 12 [and] Maclaughlin and Gordon with [illegible] apiece.

FSU	G	F	P	Tampa	G	F	P
Whitmer,f	6	[illegible]	12	Bryan,f	7	[illegible]	[illegible]
Peterson,f	0	1	1	Thrift,f	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Maclaughlin,f	6	2	14	Aplin,f	4	[illegible]	[illegible]
Quinn,f	0	0	0	Harrod,f	1	[illegible]	[illegible]
Westhafer,c	2	1	5	Jerczynski,c	2	[illegible]	[illegible]
Benson,c	2	1	5	McNa[illegible],c	0	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wernke,g	3	5	11	M[illegible],g	5	[illegible]	[illegible]
Burst,g	1	0	2	A[illegible],g	2	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fischer,g	1	1	3	Brooks,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Gordon,g	2	0	4	O'Neal	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Totals	23	11	57	Totals	28	[illegible]	[illegible]

FSU	G	F	P	Miami	G	F	P
Gordon,f	4	3	11	Schawitz,f	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Whitmer,f	7	1	15	Schneider,f	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Quinn,f	1	1	3	Chadroff,c	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Westhafer,c	7	5	19	Dunn,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mclaughlin,g	5	1	11	Keene,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wernke,g	4	4	12	Nicholas,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fischer,g	1	0	2	Yanuck,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
				Wrench,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
				Hoffman,g	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Totals	29	15	73	Totals	[illegible]	[illegible]	70

FSU 14 18 19 22—73
Miami 15 28 14 [illegible]

Free throws missed: FSU—Maclaughlin 3, Wernke 3, Fischer; Miami—Schawitz, Chadroff, Keene, Nicholas, Yanuck, Hoffman 2.

Marsee Captures Annual Tournament

Slender Bud Marsee came back from a nine-stroke deficit to win the sixth annual George Washington Birthday golf tournament st the Tallahassee Country Club Sunday afternoon with a four round total of 292, nosing out defending champion Sonny Tinney who had a 293.

Marsee who trailed halfway leader Billy "Dynamite" Goodloe by nine big strokes going into Sunday's final round, fired a even par 72 to edge Tinney, former FSU links captain who turned in a one over par 73.

Actually Marsee won the tourney on the rough 16th hole, when he banked a 40-footer for a birdie two that put him even with par Then Tinney missed a 16-foot putt on the 18th that wrapped the victory up for Marsee.

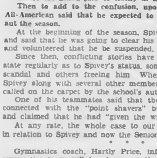
Dick Montney, another former FSU golfer, now stationed with the Air Force in Tampa finished third with a respectable 74-73-73-80—298. Jimmy James also a former Seminole linkster, finished well up in the championship flight with an four round total of 307.

Marsee turned in a 77 in the first round, a 74 in the second, and came back with a blistering 69 in the third round to add to his final 72.

BUD MARSEE (left) won the recent George Washington Birthday Golf Tournament with a four round score of 292. Marsee is being congratulated by Sonny Tinney, the defending champion and runnerup.

F.S.U. Women Need Sport Life Also

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH



In this day and age when women need sport life just as badly as the men, it seems that we, the women of Florida State University, are content to sit by on the sidelines waiting for the men to take the spot light in the field of sports.

The competition between the odd-even games which have lasted on this campus for the past 37 years, has grown each year with a hope of better and greater promises for the women in sports.

The intramural program for the girls between sorority and dormitory has been going strong this year due to the fact that Cynthia Mink, chairman, has the details worked out to a "T"

Here on campus this year, many a girl's athletic ability has been found and developed. Some of the outstanding athletes of the year are: soccer, Mac McWilliams; hockey, Del Peters; volleyball, JoAnne Young; bowling, Pat Temple; swimming, Jean Rigell; golf, Doris Partin; badminton, JoAnne Thorpe; basketball, Rose Alvarez.

If you want to see good team spirit, fair play, and above all good team work, you are invited by each member of each Odd-Even team to come to the tournament games and see the girls in the spotlight in the field of sports.

Filet Mignon

Special

At The

Seven Seas

Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

California COBBLERS

White $9.95

A born flirt but subtle . . . that's HOLLYWITCH. This male-conscious wedge sandal created by COBBLERS makes your every step hint of breathless adventure.

Turner's

Dine with us

We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

Do you feel tired and sluggish —try oneof our thick shakes for pep and energy in the

Amber House

"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Be Happy-

GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference— and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.- Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 36 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, March 7, 1952

Fraternity Block Flops Miserably— See Editor's Spotlight

Contributions Slow To Campus Chest Give Your $1 Now!

First Woman President Wins in UGA Primary

Summers Gets Overwhelming Vote; First to Win Presidency in Primary

Mary Ruth Summers, popular junior class senator, became the first woman president of the Florida State University Government association student body by an overwhelming vote in Tuesday's primaries.

The first candidate to reach the highest student government office in the primaries, Mary Ruth received 935 votes to complete outclass the two men candidates Ted Steinmeyer and Jere Stevens. Ted received 480 votes and Jere 348.

ONE THOUSAND, seven hundred sixty-three ballots were cast in the five polls. The roving jeep polls-book accounted for only 76 of the recorded votes.

Final run-off elections for the remaining eight offices will take place Tuesday. Similar polls will also be supervised by members of the Sophomore Council.

SEVEN OFFICES were filled in the primary balloting, while eight others were automatically filled due to lack of opponents.

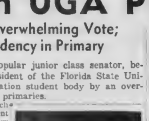
Candidates still in the race for Vice-President of Legislative Affairs are Hilton Caruthers and Ginnie Evans.

The Vice-President in Charge of Men's Affairs, John Lantz and Ann Dye are the remaining candidates.

ANOTHER CLOSELY contested race is between Tom Perkins and Sarah Wetherell who are running for UGA Treasurer.

Jay Mathews and Mrs. Jerry Thomas remain in the race for Pointe chairman.

Julie Gordon was elected over opponent Jo Nell Proctor for Vice-President in Charge of Women's Affairs.



UGA SECRETARY-ELECT is Ginnie Morris, and Chief Justice, Julie Tate.

Quirky winners of contested offices decided in the Tuesday election were Peggy Hunter, Alpha Xi chairman; Camino Cardone, Sandpiper chairman.

Also elected were Betty Holland president of University Recreation association. Bill Dunn, Flambeau editor-in-chief, and Seminole Signals editor.

Uncontested offices were automatically filled by Pat Folsom, FSA vice-president; Joan Guard, UGA vice-president, and Jimmie Tilmebaux business manager.

Nancy Wilson and Bill Shirah, business manager; Claudia Thomas, Tally-Ho editor, and Tom Sawaski, Tally-Ho business manager were also unopposed.

THE WINNER—Mary Ruth Summers, president elect for the University Government Association, is the first woman to be elected president of the student body. She won the highest office in the primaries.

Windsor Sings To Full Crowd

Lilly Windsor, in true Cinderella fashion, sang to a capacity crowd last night in the Music hall when she appeared as a special feature of the Artist Series program.

Pieces by Mozart, Schumann Strauss, Verdi, Debussy and Gershwin were among the lyric soprano's presentation last night.

THE STAR who has a dark-blonde wealth of hair and well-arched coiffure gave a very striking appearance. Her beautiful hair has won her many compliments and has been mistaken for a wig many times.

In a recent interview, the vivacious diva, confided that a; the conclusion of a concert not very long ago, two little girls came backstage with a strange request. They wanted to touch her hair to find out if it is wee "real."

BEFORE AN appearance, she told us, she always allows herself an hour for brushing, combing and arranging her hair.

Miss Windsor also devotes many hours to the care of her hands. beautifully kept hands add greatly to a woman's appearance and are as important as lovely clothes or a fascinating hair style" said the singer.

A MOST FREQUENT question asked the attractive Miss Windsor is "How do you manage your time during tours" "The answer is simply suits," says she. They are the most practical, the

(Continued on Page 4)

4-H Clubs to Hold Youth Conference At FSU This Week

An annual Youth Conference sponsored jointly by the Florida State University 4-H club, and the University of Florida 4-H and Agriculture clubs, begins today at 1 p.m.

The theme of the 1952 conference is Rural Youth Spotlights Education, Recreation and Service for about 100, including both university groups, guests and faculty speakers.

THE PROGRAM officially begins at 8 p.m. tonight, with an informal reception, in the main lounge of the Union building for Dr. Clyde Druggers, associate poultry husbandman, University of Florida. Dr. Margaret Sandels, dean of the FSU School of Home Economics, and an International Farm Youth Exchanger, each will speak briefly.

The delegates will meet all day Saturday in Opperman Hall. Dr. A. B. Martin, FSU vice-president, will address the group, as an introductory to the theme question.

AMONG EVENTS will be a talkfest on the theme, led by Dr. Mress Phifer of the speech department, a panel discussion featuring members of FHA, FFA, the FSU Home Economics club, University of Florida 4-H and Agriculture clubs, State Boys' and Girls' 4-H Councils, and the International FYE representative.

Dr. Wayne Reitz, Provost of Agriculture, of the University of Florida, will offer a summary and challenge to the groups decisions.

A picnic at Camp Flastacowo on a square dance, in the women's gym will end the day.

The delegates will meet again briefly on Sunday morning for morning worship and will then adjourn.

SHOE SHINE GALS—Snapping the shoe-shine rag for the campus charity chest drive are Peggy Joslen, Juna Hanson, Jean Morgan and Gloria Edelman at Delta Zeta sorority. Getting the shine is Bob Roulette.

Morrison Wins Scholastic Cup At Convocation

Senate, Judiciary And Senior Hall Discussed In Compulsory Convo

Marinel Morrison was presented the trophy for outstanding scholarship during her sophomore year by Myra Kight, Mortarboard president, at the first Women's Convocation Wednesday in the Music hall. Marinel had a 3.0 average.

The compulsory meeting was opened by Betty Rich, Vice-President in charge of Women's Affairs and chairman of the Women's Senate.

ENUMERATING the legislation of the Senate this past year she mentioned the spend-the-night-in-town bill recently put into effect, "Bermuda is now being considered so that this will not count as a full weekend, thus placing additional restrictions on the freshman women," she announced.

Also before the faculty reviewing board now is the proposal which freshmen be allowed to leave during the restricted weekends at the beginning of each period for special weekends.

OTHER ACTIVITIES of the Senate were the appointment of a fire marshall, revision of the honorary orientation committee, the organization of Sophomore Council, and the establishment of a freshman orientation committee made up of four junior counselors who will work with Dean of Women Lynn, assistant dean of women.

Mary Helen Speed has been appointed chairman pro tempore of the Senate during Betty Rich's absence for the week.

The "Pow Wow" test has been revised to include information found in each section of the girls handbook and has been renamed Knowledge of Rules.

PATTY MIMS, chairman of Women's Judiciary, gave a resume of the activities for the year, which included 38 cases. Reasons for the high rate of illegible absence was the most prevalent violation. Punishments ran from a reprimand to 7 weeks of full restrictions.

The judiciary is hampered by insufficient membership due to an amendment passed by the recently Governor's special session last year, according to Charlotte Mims Stone, a new

(Continued on Page 4)

Debate Object Is Next Year's Finance Plans

By BRUCE GALPHIN

The subject of debate in the University Senate last Tuesday was representation on the student - faculty committee planning finances for next year.

Senator Phil Springer, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, stated that students appointed by the Executive Council were going to meet with the faculty finance committee today to discuss next year's student appropriations, but that no Senators were permitted to attend.

"THIS IS JUST another example of the Executive Council's trying to usurp the powers of the Senate," the freshman remarked.

Vice-president in charge of men's affairs, Ted Steinmeyer, and Betty Rich, vice-president in charge of women's affairs, defended the arrangement by saying that the Senate would get a full report of the proceedings and that there was little room in the office of Dean J. Broward Culpepper where the meeting is to be held.

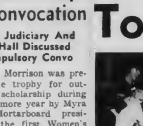
Senator Ignacio Bred vigorously defended Senate representation, however. He recalled that the Senate had previously passed a resolution to have Senators observe such meetings.

JERE SALTERS, vice-president in charge of Legislative Affairs said in view of this earlier resolution Senators Springer and Mary Helen Speed should attend.

NSA was another topic of discussion Tuesday. The Senate learned that the recently created hall had rescinded a previous decision to send an observer to the NSA convention next summer.

SECRETARY JO NELL Proctor, Ann Secretary, announced that it was decided there were insufficient funds to warrant sending a delegate to Austin, the administration was opposed to NSA.

Senator Springer argued that some of the best colleges in the country belong to NSA. He felt the money could be raised.



The controversy ended when Steinmeyer said he could get a plain official of NSA from Austin to speak any time the Senate desired and Springer requested him to do so.

IN OTHER business the Senate passed a regular program and passed a constitutional amendment to increase the number of representatives in the judicial court from six for each six to nine, excluding commerce members, by joint meetings.

A resolution was passed suggesting that the Executive Council reschedule Traffic Court challenge election to the time of class elections. No one qualified for that position in time for the regular Fall elections.

VARIOUS STUDENTS were approved by the Senate to fill va-

(Continued on Page 4)

A TUG OF WAR—Members of Kappa Alpha Thets and Pi Beta Phi struggle over the pond of rope that is given to the team winning the annual Powder Puff bowl. The football game is for the Campus Chest.

Campus Chest Plea Sent To Dorms, Frats, Faculty

Female Footballers Wind Up Practice

Light scrimmage, last minute skull sessions, cheerleader practices and choruses of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" highlighted this week's preparations for the Powder Bowl Game. Kick-off time is tomorrow at 2 p.m.

For the 11th consecutive year Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta will clash on the battle field as these two sororities vie for the trophy which symbolizes female supremacy on the gridiron.

THROUGHOUT the country Pi Beta Phi's engage in Powder Puff games. A few of their opponents at other universities are Delta Delta Delta at the University of South Carolina and the University of Georgia; Gamma Alpha Xi Delta at Stetson and Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Missouri.

Although the girls play touch football and must tag with two hands below the waist, the rules of regular football are followed as closely as possible. The players are penalized for clipping, offsides and unnecessary roughness. The field is slightly smaller in regulation but has standard markings. The score of the game is a replica of real football with referees, worried coaches, water boys and down to the eager thing strimmers.

THE SCORES and winners for the past four years are:

1948	18-0	Pi Phi
1949	18-0	Theta
1950	6-0	Pi Phi
1951	6-0	Pi Phi

Members of the FSU varsity football team coach the two sororities in the time-honored tradition of the final weeks before the game. Lending their services to the Pi Phi this year are Bob Schmelz, Dick Turk, Tommy Brown and Bob Whitmer, while the Theta coaches are Nelson Italiano, C M. Booth, and Walt Miller.

FOOTBALL PENTIVITIES each year include an annual pre-game party and pep rally and an open house after the game. The two sororities alternate as hostesses. The open house this year will be at the Pi Beta Phi house, Wednesday night. The Thetas entertained the Pi Phis at an informal get-together.

Everyone is invited to the Powder Puff Bowl game. Contributions will be accepted during halftime with the proceeds going to the Campus Chest.

Students Meet Biography Star

Miss Doris Dalton, stage star, who will play the lead in the forthcoming speech department production, "Biography," was met by a delegation of Florida State University students when she arrived in Tallahassee Wednesday afternoon.

Wearing a green hat as she stepped off the Silver Meteor were Will Pennell, UGA president; June Conyers, Sophomore class president, and Beatrice 'Skipper' Lambert, WJ, all undersigned Miss Dalton, in the role of Marion.

JACK STEARY, of WTAL, recorded an interview with the radio and state star. He asked Miss Dalton her impression of Florida. She said, "It's quite a change, after the winter weather I left in New York."

She added that she thought Florida a very attractive state and commented particularly on the rolling hills of Tallahassee which reminded her of those up to some southern grits, the actress said, "yes, but I've heard so much about your black-eyed peas, I just love 'em."

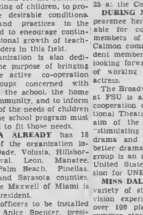
MISS DALTON rehearsed with the rest of the cast on Wednesday evening.

"Biography," written by S. N. Behrman has been under rehearsal for two weeks, Dr. George McCalmon, chairman of the drama area of the department of speech is directing the production.

The Behrman comedy will open March 14 to run through March 18 in the Conrad Library.

DURING MISS DALTON'S appearance here she will be available for conferences with the members of the cast. Dr. McCalmon announced. Student members of the cast are all looking forward to the opportunity of working with a professional actress.

The Broadway star's appearance at FSU is arranged through the cooperation of the American National Theatre and Academy. The aim of the organization is the "dissemination of interest in the drama and the development of better drama in the future". The group is an active member of the United States National Commission for UNESCO.



MISS DALTON has had a wide variety of stage, radio and television experience. She has done over 100 plays in such leading summer stock localities as Newport, Skowhegen, Rochester, Ann Arbor, and others.

Frat Holds Fish Fry

The International Business Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi will hold a fish fry at Lake Bradford March 14.

Transportation will be provided and students will meet in front of the Sweet Shop at 5:45 p.m.

School of Business majors are especially urged to attend

ODK RALLY—Shown above is a portion of the "last" turnout to the ODK sponsored political rally for the UGA primaries Monday night. The next rally will be held for class elections on April.

Hurlbert Estimates $500 Total Raised by Sororities, Dorms

Dormitory solicitations and an appeal to fraternities and faculty members begin today for the Campus Chest drive, Shirley Hurlbert, chairman announced yesterday. The "Are You Asleep" charity drive will end Monday.

Shirley estimated $500 had been raised by the money-raising projects of sororities and other organizations. "All of the organizations have not handed in their money, but I know that we have an estimated $400 balance, she chairman said

COMMITTEE MEMBERS will be going around from door to door in the dormitories today to ask the students to give.

The eye opening chart has been placed on the bulletin board of lower Westcott so that students might check the progress in the final days of the drive. The chart has listed that one eye will open for every $50. Original plans were for a $20 an eye chart.

AT THE WOMEN'S Convocation Wednesday night, Shirley asked students to give willingly and because they wanted to, and to have fun at the same time by cooperating with these projects being sponsored on the campus.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. the Kappa Alpha Thetas and Pi Beta Phis will compete in the annual Powder Puff football game. The two teams have been practicing for two weeks.

Proceed from the game on the East campus hockey field will be donated to the National Cancer Fund through the Campus Chest.

THE TWO TEAMS have been receiving instruction from Coach Nelson Italiano, C. M. Booth and Walt Miller for the Thetas and Bob Schmelz, Dick Turk, Tommy Brown and Bob Whitmer for the Pi Phis.

A street dance is being sponsored by the Campus Chest committee itself tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The Delta Zeta's are still shining shoes at 10 cents a shine but will not reveal their profit until the end of the week. The Joe Culliver contest is also still under way in the Seminole club lobby. The winner will be the one who receives the most penny votes.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA is holding a fudge sale and Zeta Tau Alpha is cleaning jewelry.

The Alpha Xi's have put into "this business" this week with their annual sale and have reported $150 for the benefit drive.

Alpha Omicron Pi made $21 on their carnival last Saturday night and Phi Mu and Chi Omega are also on their "Sunday" party last week.

SHIRLEY SAID that she thought the help had been excellent used through the "F" club box supper although she had not received an official report from them.

The Delta Delta Delta fashion show reported $50. They held their money project Tuesday afternoon using the refreshments from various sororities and fraternities which had been given them after the game. The two sororities alternate as hostesses.

The open house this year will be at the Pi Beta Phi house, Wednesday night. The Thetas entertained the Pi Phis at an informal get-together.

Everyone is invited to the Powder Puff Bowl game. Contributions will be accepted during halftime with the proceeds going to the Campus Chest.

Military Ball Is Saturday Night

Col. Barr to Crown New '52 ROTC Queen

The third annual military ball will be held Saturday night from 9 until 12 midnight in the Sewannee dining hall.

Highlighting the dance, which is sponsored by the Arnold Air society, will be the crowning of a queen by Col. B. S. Barr at 10. Col. Barr is professor of Air Science and Tactics at FSU.

MEMBERS OF the R. O. T. C. voted on candidates for queen Tuesday and Wednesday in the West campus R. O. T. C. building. The two runners-up to the queen will make up the queen's court. Since the names of the girls were posted, the selection was based primarily on a judgment of the pictures.

WTAL will broadcast from the Sewannee Room during the dances from 8 30 to 9 30.

COL. B. S. BARR and Lt. Col. C. D. Booth will talk on the overall program of the R. O. T. C. Col. Booth will talk on Code of Military Science and Tactics.

Preceding the ball will be a banquet in the Lafayette room. Major General Bryant L. Boatner from the Air Root Proving Ground at Eglin Field will address the R. O. T. C. students and also Jim Kirk will act as master of ceremonies. The banquet will take place from 6 until 7 p.m.

ACCORDING TO the publicity chairman, Bob Nevin, the dance will be open to the entire student body. Fraternity and unaffiliated groups were definitely banned and that no smoking would be allowed on the dance floor.

New Departments Will Be Featured

Many new departments will be featured on the first women's Career-Planning conference which will be held on campus next Tuesday through Thursday.

The three-day program will begin Tuesday night with a talk by A. J. L. Hume, industrial relations manager for the Fanner Manufacturing Co. The speech at 7 in the Opperman Music hall.

Miss Dorothy Bowling the conference is to bring information to all students at one time. Messages have been arranged during the three nights to allow students to attend talks in all related fields.

Faculty members are making arrangements for the clinics, but students will assist as program chairmen and as secretaries and recorders during the conference.

SO MANY CASES students will explain the occupational field being presented. Actual experiences of interns will provide information and outline opportunities in all phases of university study.

Many new fields will be presented in the program. Movies will be used in meetings and speakers from Tallahassee have been arranged for meetings on accounting, dentistry insurance, real estate, law, medical technology, medicine, religious work and secretarial work.

OPPORTUNITIES in sociology, food business, advertising and public relations, phsiotherapy, biological science and more will be included in the first night of the conference.

"A large number of students have cooperated to make this conference an outstanding one" stated Mrs. Margaret Blair, director of the overall program.

Career forums have been sponsored for many years on campus but this is the first time students have taken much initiative for planning the program and outlining speakers, Mrs. Blair added.

Trite Theory About Women Exploded in Huge Turnout

On the bright side of the University Government Association election primaries, the voting turnout was one of the best Florida state University has ever seen.

More students have cast ballots in the past, but enrollment was higher at the time. Percentage-wise the vote was encouraging.

The campaign itself was not the spirited battle of the past. The candidates, for the most part, seemed uninterested and were not willing to fight for the offices at stake.

In most instances, winners of the various offices were decided in Tuesday's primaries because of the small number of candidates running. This year's finals will indeed be an anti-climax.

This is the first year Florida State has chosen a woman and an independent for president of the student government. This year the campus co-eds came back into their own as Mary Ruth Simmons was elected head of the UGA by an overwhelming vote, completely over-running her two male opponents. She staged a lively campaign, the most spirited so far, showing her interest in the position. This young lady had plenty of experience in government to add to her personal qualifications and ambitions for the school, and should prove to be a satisfactory president.

At any rate, the old theory of the impossibility of a girl winning a high student office has been destroyed.

The biggest mistake of the campaign was scheduling the election on a Tuesday. This meant the Omicron Delta Kappa political rally had to be held on a Monday when fraternities and sororities had chapter meetings.

Ultimately the responsibility for this error must be placed with the elections committee for assigning Tuesday as election date. As long as the qualifying deadline was extended, it seems that the election day could also have been postponed one or two days.

There was not enough time allowed for campaigning considering the last minute extension of the qualifying dates.

In the future, and class elections are just around the corner, the date for election of candidate sought to be in the middle of the week. This would give time for the rally and an extention for campaigning.

Certain constitutional amendments have been scheduled for the UGA finals. The constitutional changes will improve the faculty reviewing committee at present.

Speedy review would greatly facilitate having the changes brought up for student vote in this election.

● WITCH HUNT !

Sometimes Congressmen get extremely ridiculous in their witch hunting.

Take for example a Congressman's proposal a few days ago that the Librarian of Congress compile a full and complete list of all "subversive matter" in the Library of Congress.

Not only is that suggestion senseless on the face of it, since going through nine million volumes is quite a physical chore, but the institution is dangerous because it is vague and supposedly flag-waving survey as he proposes would be a strange one to undertake in a nation where freedom of selection of what many things is basic to our way of life.

The books on those library shelves probably contain political views and opinions of all shades of colors. Of course, it would not be, since an American library should provide balanced material to suit all borrowers.

Marking some books as "subversive" would give the net effect of taking them out of circulation, since readers of those books would be liable to suspicion by anyone who cared to check the library's records. That would succeed in setting up a system like that practiced in dictatorships, in which people aren't allowed to discriminate for themselves.

Illinois Representative Verde's proposed bill also has a clause that would provide for copies of "subversive" book list to be made available to libraries all over the nation. In that fashion, the list could make marked men out of readers anywhere in the U. S.

Such a bill can hardly gain much support and the bill itself is of little concern. But the thinking processes that prompted the bill are worthy of some consideration. Fear of communism, a justifiable fear, has led a member of Congress to lose his sense of values and propose the most dastardly kind of thought control. The fight against communism has to be out in the open.

● TEACHERS REACT

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The suggestion that Arkansas try teaching its troops what to fight against instead of how to teach has brought a cry of pain from the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

A more appropriate response might have been a statement of willingness to see how the thing worked out. The Ford Foundation has offered Arkansas funds for the experiment. Under terms of the grant, Arkansas professors in other candidates four years of general education followed by a year's professional internship.

Is this "eighteenth century" stuff, as the teachers colleges angrily contend? Is it unbearably old-fashioned to suppose that a teacher might just possibly benefit by concentrating on content rather than pedagogical technique?

Far from being prima facie old bat, the idea has enough merit to warrant a trial. The teachers colleges ought to welcome it. If it proves a success, adoption of ideas in a healthy thing in teacher training are elsewhere.

There is good reason to suspect that emphasis on so-called professional courses in the teacher training curriculum has been overdone sometimes to the point where method, shorbs so much of the student's energy that he is left for learning the subjects to which the method will be applied. If this is not true, if the present system of teacher training is the best of all possible systems, then the Arkansas people have a little to fear from the Ford Foundation's idea.

● A FEW TIPS

The Campus Chest Drive is now well underway. Individual groups are working hard toward making the goal.

A street dance is being held by the Campus Chest Committee Saturday night. The annual box supper of the Women's "F" Club was also held this week, as well as various fraternity and sorority projects to collect money for the chest.

Many students, however, did not know about the different projects set up to raise funds. The individual groups handled their own publicity in their own way. In the future, it would be helpful if the Committee would draw up a schedule of the activities which had as their purposes, the raising of funds for the chest.

Besides "F" Club's box supper, most of the money raising projects were carried on in fraternities and sororities. Although independents are given a chance to participate in Greek parties, more fund raising projects should be organized within independent or non-Greek groups.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Greeks Initiate New Members

By MARCIA MORRIS
Society Editor

The Alpha Xi Deltas initiated eleven girls Thursday, February 28. The actives and alumnae breakfast was held at the Florida Hotel Sunday morning. New initiates were welcomed and the response was given by Bobby Reitema. A Sunday night supper was given at this week in honor of the pledges who did not make their grades.

After softball practice Sunday afternoon the Delta Delta Delta's enjoyed a supper at the house. The Tri Delta stazed a very successful initiation Sunday afternoon for the benefit of Campus Chest. A banquet honoring the new initiates was held Wednesday night at the Florida Hotel.

Officers of the Delta Zeta pledge class are Julie Finch, president; Diane Goff, secretary-treasurer; Rose Howard, chaplain; and Dot Pace, social chairman. Dr. Rogers will be guest speaker at a supper Wednesday, March 12. The Delta Zetas are making plans for their "Rose Weekend," March 28.

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the Phi Phis Wednesday night, after convocation, with a party at the Theta house. The entertainment included stunts by the pledges and Charleston contests between the members of both groups. New chapter officers of Thetas are Edna Oliver Holmes, president; Anita Bourland, vice-president; Ann Sheffield, secretary; Betty Cordell, corresponding secretary; Bette Snyder, treasurer; Jeanne Craig, rush chairman; and Beth Meison, social chairman. The Kappa Theta's were guests of ATO's at a party Thursday night.

Following initiation last Thursday, the Alpha Gam initiates were honored with a banquet at the Florida Hotel. Jane Turner was presented with the Outstanding Pledge Award by Mrs. Ruth Summers, the Scholarship Award. Tuesday morning, the Phi Mu's celebrated their 100th birthday with a Founders' Day ceremony and breakfast.

Pi Beta Phi's held their annual initiation banquet for the new members Monday night at the house. At this time Dot Wells was presented the bracelet for at P.S.U. on May 23 and 24.

being the Best Pledge and Phoebe Jackson was given the Scholarship Cup. Sunday afternoon after the Powder Bowl Game, the Pi Phis will entertain the Theta's with a traditional open house.

Sigma Kappa held initiation for eighteen pledges Saturday afternoon, with a banquet afterward in their Pearl Banquet at the Cherokee Hotel Saturday night.

Recently elected and installed officers of Beta Alpha are Betty Upchurch, president; Kinaman Britian, vice-president; Tommy Perkins, recording secretary; Bennie Barnwell, corresponding secretary; Doonie Hollis, historian, and T. V. Sanders, treasurer.

Kappa Sigma's annual Black and White Ball will be held tonight at the Tallahassee Country Club. Kappa Sig's Sweetheart will be crowned Queen of the Ball during the dance. Plans are being made for a conclave of all Kappa Sigma chapters in Georgia, Florida, and Alaoama to be held at P.S.U. on May 23 and 24.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

FRATERNITY BLOCK VOTE FLOPS FLATLY

BY ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

Fraternity blocks, in operation for the first time since PSU went co-educational five years ago, were withered during this recent UGA primaries.

Now if you ask some members of the fraternity system in question about their "block" no doubt they'll start talking in circles with mouth open. "Wha'mean . . . block vote?"

This state of blissful ignorance can be explained by the fact that only a few of them members in this manner.

Fraternity biz brothers (so far as the Omicron Delta Kappa political rally had to be held on a Monday when fraternities and sororities had chapter meetings.

Ultimately the responsibility for this error must be placed with the elections committee for assigning Tuesday as election date. As long as the qualifying deadline was extended, it seems that the election day could also have been postponed one or two days.

There was not enough time allowed for campaigning considering the last minute extension of the qualifying dates.

In the future, and class elections are just around the corner, the date for election of candidate sought to be in the middle of the week. This would give time for the rally and an extention for campaigning.

Certain constitutional amendments have been scheduled for the UGA finals. The constitutional changes will improve the faculty reviewing committee at present.

Speedy review would greatly facilitate having the changes brought up for student vote in this election.

BEHIND THE IVY

FOR THOSE WHO LOVE THEIR HELL WEEK

BY BOB TIPPINS
Expede Herculem!

Advocates, such as I, of greater student freedom cannot help but accept a point for the opposition Saturday.

Seems that some fraternity pledges were innocently playing a game of hide and go seek . . . seek in the cemetery near the campus, "Hi", a fraternity sentry had hidden a car, and to make sure" there and the pledges were recklessly, fiercely turning over tombstones angrily contend". Is it unbearably old-fashioned to suppose that a teacher might just possibly benefit by concentrating on content rather than pedagogical technique?

Mild shouts of "vandalism", "desecration", "blasphemy", "sacrilege" and others were heard, recorded by passers-by who didn't appreciate the spirit of the search. Apparently, the pledges were not to be so narrow-minded as to consider the grave as a place of lone sacred. An in this age of enlightenment.

Arguments were immediately advanced that persons so juvenile should be more severely disciplined, rather than given more freedom and responsibilities, "Make 'em grow up."

They failed to consider, however, that those same boys had been raised in the "spare the rod" era and, probably, in one or two extra-curricular organizations and were, therefore, entitled to a little playful recreation.

Also, it must be added in all fairness that the general mood was one of the tombstones and didn't disturb any of the vaults. Whether or not the clue was found is not known.

Unfortunate, unfavorable comment was registered by antagonistic students and townspeople. The pledges were told to keep their project are as yet unknown.

Some citizens have suggested that since we lay claim to the title of adults, we begin to conduct ourselves as such. That the unnecessary attention be given to the biblical verse, "when I was a child I thought as a child . . ." and realize that to be is to seem.

Perhaps the fraternity brotherhood of the administration isn't so unnecessary after all.

The word "apathy" was used frequently in describing the recent editorial page. But that best describes the student attitude toward the numerous educational and recreational activities offered outside the classroom.

For instance, the Seminole Flyer Club on campus offers an excellent opportunity for those few who are so often heard to say, "I'd like to fly, but I just can't afford it (or haven't the time)." The club has its own plane and licensed instructors. The group is endorsed by PSU students who are easier to welcome new members of both 'pardon the word' sexes.

Another prime example is the Flt. Sqd. of the Arnold Air Force ROTC Rifle Club. This group trains formation competent, well-trained men in rifles, cartridges and a newly organized drill team which for those ROTC students desiring to improve their aim or just "have fun" is ideal. Inter-collegiate matches are held with other members of national rowing in which members may enter and not participate, as they choose.

Perhaps the Flambeau can be of some assistance to Mary Ruth Summers who wasn't so obscure at that.

SEMINOLE SCENES

POLITICKING IN MOTHBALLS TILL APRIL

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

Politicking time is drawing to a close and the politicos can be glad to stuff it in among the constitutions, by-laws, and mothballs for a while.

This time, however, if the approved Student Government elections will need more than mothballs. Rather it could do with a good airing out and sunning. Of course, it all depends upon your point of view.

Many people were disgusted with the idea of a fraternity block vote, but it is still floating about the ballot boxes like a ghost. Others were horrified when approached with the idea save a flat refusal, so say "sources close to the source." What a kind of ticket voting. The block, it is said, didn't turn out to be too strong anyway.

Ah ha, if all this "it heard, he said, rumor has it, and allegedly" is correct, then I smell the beginnings of a party system. Opinion seems sharply divided as to whether such a set-up would be good at Florida State U.

They say"—bless the man who invented such phrases—that no frat blocks have been tried here before, with success in some quarters and with failure in others.

Such a party system is to come to pass here at FSU, it will have to be more than a one party system. It will have to be a "good, good." I mean any good to the students and the administrations different officials are concerned. There is no sense electing somebody just to be in office, when he has no particular party in regardless of their qualifications.

Also I would hate to see a campus completely dominated by the Greeks. I don't see how to devide to set up a party system, but the fraternities and sororities would be easily ready for it in the sense that they are already organized groups. It would be a much longer time, however, before the independents would become members of parties similar to other sororities and fraternities on the basis of platform and political ideology.

If we are to follow Gainesville's actions and elect a group of Conservatives instead of plain FSUers, then I hope the basis for the party system will be one of honesty and of a line of thinking not going toward the best possible in the way of betterment to our University.

The Social Standards Committee has set some new rules for dormitory dances. The women students were told at the General Assembly that they were persuading groups had to register with Dean Warren's office and that the name of the fraternity or dormitory to get out their applications. Also, no liquor, ear PLUGS, depending, of course, upon whom was going to do the mixing.

From now on, the girls will be asked to turn out the lights when the grooms-to-be start to display their musical talents, so, said the Social Standards Committee, "we won't put on a little show of our own in the case of a gal who has deprived some fellas of his jewelry and has been forced to place a candle in the window, so the fellows will know to direct their attention to direct their middle C's. Rumors that three hopeful females have been seen ought a box of waxed wicks just in case.

MUSIC LIBRARY

Records Open to Students

Approximately $2,500 worth of musical scores and records and a Capehart phonograph are now in the school of music in 1935 as a gift of the Anders Carnegie Foundation, Mrs. Ward Cup Saturday afternoon Ward, head librarian of the Music Reading Room.

Mrs. Ward, who is a graduate of FSCW announced that FSCW students will be privileged to get these valuable pieces of music and that in the spring of 1934 it will establish a record library. The University was eligible to get these gifts because of its membership in Institute, and ask for them.

DONE ASSIGN, the institute replied that there was a huge waiting list and that they would try to get around to Tallahassee's college for women. Dean Hawks of Columbia University, who was in Florida on his honeymoon, dropped off at FSCW. It was Florida on his honeymoon, dropped off at FSCW. It was through Dean Hawks' influence that the board of control of the Carnegie Institute, By October a letter was in the hands of President Conrad announcing that the gift was coming.

The Music reading room has, besides this huge library, over 4,000 phonograph records, approximately 125 long-playing discs. They are also fortunate to have the complete works of the "three Bs" of music, Bach, Beethoven and Brahms.

THE READING room has over 447 identification cards on record and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

There are over 2,000 scores of music and that is partly responsible for the name, "reading room." Many people, knowing that any person, music student or not, can check out records and scores, mistakingly call it a Music library, but as its main purpose is that of assisting the music student in seeing the music along with listening to it the name of reading room is given.

When asked about the most requested record by the students, Mrs. Ward replied, "Actually, I couldn't say. All students have their own likes and dislikes and many times the most requested record is part of a requirement in a course of study and not for personal enjoyment. I believe that the records of works of the classics has been well chosen for enjoyment as well as education."

Prof. Jordan Writes Article For Review

Author of an article in a recent issue of the Alabama Review is Professor Weymouth T. Jordan on the Florida State University history department.

Jordan's article was entitled "Agricultural Societies in Antebellum Alabama." The history professor's review of J. B. Frantz' "Gail Borden" was printed in the 1935 Mississippi Valley Historical Review.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Bill Dunn ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editors ..... Frances Cawthon, Babs Henry
Society Editor ..... Sandra Smith
Rewrite Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... Carol Sloan
Assistant Society Editor ..... June Morgan
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bob Simkins
..... Bill Frye

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Martin
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Calderoni, Fe Pittman

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-000, Ext. 4821 Second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor . . .

Takes the Cake

Dear Editor:

Of all the aunts the Flambeau has ever played on Smoke Signals the last episode of publishing a picture of our March cover girl, Mary Ruth Summers, takes the cake! Not only was it published since I told you off the cuff and specifically not to mention the fact that Mary Ruth had been selected by the editors, but it was bad and in poor taste all around.

I have talked to several of your editors, and they feel just as I do that it would be unfair to release the picture during the elections. The staff selected Mary Ruth several weeks ago, and they agreed at that time the issue would not be distributed until after the final elections.

Being a newspaper man you do have a professional ethics which you should regard even if you haven't a business look, stock, and barrel. However, you have foretoken numerous times that the editors are acting in the students of Florida State University. Mr. Griffin, I resent the fact that you didn't even lend an ear to your top editors in this matter of ruining Mary Ruth Summer's picture in such a timely sense.

Not only did you get the Smoke Signals staff in dutch with the faculty reading board, and also caused considerable embarrassment to Jere Salyers.

I kindly ask you to watch such matters in future issues . . . after all I, too, pay the student activity fee and am entitled to a voice in the student newspaper.

Sincerely,
JOEL SMITH,
Smoke Signals Editor
Editor's Note: Yes!!!!

Mistake

Dear Editor.

I wish to take this opportunity to correct a mistake which was made in the Flambeau. It was stated that I was in charge of contacting the committees in relation to participating in the Campus Chest Drive. Instead, I was in charge of contacting the various church groups.

I am sorry the mistake was made, and I hope that our Chest campaign is not hurt by this error.

Sincerely,
BEATRICE SMITH

Birth Control Advocate Says It Is Remedy to Famine

"The lack of birth control is an important cause of the famine and disease in the world today," stated A. J. Carlson, professor emeritus of physiology of the University of Chicago.

Speaking at Sigma Xi lecturer Wednesday night, Dr. Carlson said a comparison of the progress in medicine in the last 50 years has lengthened the life expectancy about 20 years, while some 20 or 30 years, but he pointed out that unless something is done about birth control, the result will be more starving people.

DR. CARLSON, who is a Frank P. Hixon Distinguished Service Professor has been a member of Sigma Xi since 1900, and a chemistry for 50 years.

The other alternatives to birth control, said the internationally famous physiologist, are less unpleasant on an average, he said.

HE CITED a national committee report on Puerto Rico which showed that 50 000 persons must emigrate each year to avoid starvation conditions.

As another example, he reported that in China, due to over-population beyond the capacity of production, 500 out of 1000 children die every year of starvation, while the number in this country is 50.

"IF WE BEFED like rabbits with modern medicine we'd die like rabbits," the Swedish born scientist stated, summing up his talk on Science vs Life.

We need to look as far ahead as we can, he advised, and Dr. Carlson, in order to plan for a future of brotherhood between men.

AT THE BEGINNING of his talk Dr. Carlson, who has published more than 200 papers in his field, reported on experimental work which showed that when rats were fed on bread, the other day they lived significantly longer than mice which had always wanted to eat such diet.

The next Sigma Xi lecture will be April 9 when Dr. Walter Orr Roberts, noted astronomer-meteorology, will talk on "From the Struggle Over an Idea."

McCarty Club Meets

There will be a meeting of the McCarty Club Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the Alumni auditorium. It was announced today by Will Pennell Plans will be made for the new McCarty community, while the number in this privately owned rally and address to the students.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Dreamtime 1962—or—Tuning in on the dreams of some of the "characters" . . .

". . . the Bowl is loaded, ladies and gentlemen . . . over a hundred thousand including show people, millionaires honorabouts, con men, bookies, and drivers—rich and poor—all here to pay tribute to a great entertainer . . . a man who's brought joy to millions, a man . . . but here he is. A tenth of a million people go crazy . . . the band is playing the theme song made known his face by Berle this best friend . . . he can't speak, he points upward and we jump in his direction—(yeah!) . . . Our crowd is spelling out over and over—D-R-I-E-S-K . . .

"In the tumult, as the Communist faction in the Senate are running wild painting sickles over portraits of American Revolutionary heroes, garroting page boys with Western leanings. . . . Walt a second, in the rear of the Senate a tall, spare, Lincolnesque figure commands silence and by mere force of will brings the orgy to an expectant hush. . . . It's Senator Phil Bernard of Florida. . . . Let's listen. . . .

"Good try, boys . . . but he is dead, insane, and finally can funeral ceremony. Post facto macro ex libus passed in 1791—which makes your action unconstitutional."

Seventy-six shots ring out as the thwarted communist Senators air-condition 76 lower left ventricals as per Red Square Order 999999.

"Senator Springar is being shown our doors on the shoulders of enthusiastic gallerytes.

"Democracy is saved. . . ."

More next issue.

McLaughlin's 299 Points Tops Seminole Cagers

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

TIMES HAVE CHANGED—If the Indians that were supposed to have roamed the practice field of the Seminole gridders centuries ago could take a look at the current proceedings they would probably roll over in their graves.

Indians still roam the premises all right but they're of a different tribe Don Veller variety.

The Doleful One in living up to his now well-established reputation is wasting no time in putting his Seminole gridders through the wringer on the west campus athletic field.

Those who believe in separating the men from the boys as soon possible put his charges through a long scrimmage the very first day and has called a scrimmage every day this week.

The Seminoles, under NCAA regulations, must pack 30 practices into a 30 day period regardless of weather conditions.

While it's still too early to speculate on the drills, if early performances mean anything, this separation process is going to be longer than ever, which should please Veller

Spring practice's haven't faced too well in recent years for lack candidates but the 55 or 60 gridders currently participating in the drills have brought smiles to the coaching staff the very first time.

Veller who is faced with the loss of key men such as Mike Sellers at fullback, Bob Whitmer and Bill Dreyer at ends and Bob Shmetis at guard is currently experimenting with several men at those positions in hope of finding capable replacements.

The Doctor, who will be facing such outfits as Georgia Tech, V.M.I. and North Carolina State for the first time next season, has shifted Sgt Randal King from fullback to a flank position. King who had to ride the bench behind Sellers and Dick Tork last year could provide some much needed help if he comes through as expected.

Veller is also toying with several shifts in the backfield that have seen some of the candidates used at every position. Noteworthy among these has been the work of Roy Thompson at the fullback slot.

The former Georgia Tech sophomore star has an unusually fast takeoff and if he can master the spinning plays could erase a big question mark at that position.

The Seminole head man has had Nelson Italiano working at halves as well as Bobby Fiveash and Dave Stinson. Stinson, a transfer from Michigan who was ineligible last season, has caught the eye of the staff with his brokenfield running and pass receiving as well, from the right half slot.

Sgt. Mac Huey has been used at both quarterback and tackle with some positions where he is equally at home. Joe Martinez, a second semester enrolee from Miami, has also looked good at the blocking back post.

Three spring drills, if they do nothing else, are a proving ground for the boys who might not otherwise get to show their stuff.

Sometimes in the fall when the coaches are concerned with next week's ball game they don't have the necessary time to spend with the unproved men and they are overlooked. Then too it's always hard to know what you're going to have come the fall.

With these spring drills, in many cases have been overdone as everything else, the 20 practices in 30 days seems to be the answer.

Hugh Adams, former star tackle and captain of the 1949 edition of the Seminoles, is due to depart far the Navy the latter part of this month.

Adams, who's been the coach and track mentor at Tallahassee's Leon High School, won Little All-American honors here in 1948, the first Seminole so un nation-wide recognition.

Adams, whose favorite pastime was applying the "quietus" to opposing linemen, has been a regular visitor to the spring drills.

Veteran forward Tom McLaughlin who wound up a brilliant four year career with the FSU cagers, led the Seminoles in scoring this past season with 299 points scored in 25 games.

McLaughlin who scored 179 points during the 1950-51 season averaged better than 11 points per tilt during the past campaign.

MCLAUGHLIN ALSO led in field goals scored with 119 and was second to Captain Bob Whitmer in free throws with 61.

Whitmer took runnerup honors to Mclaughlin in total points with 278 points. The Seminole leader, however, played in two less games than Mclaughlin because of injuries and had a better per game average of 12.0.

Whitmer bucketed the most free throws with 88 and had the best charity toss average.

ONLY THREE RECORDS were broken or tied by the Seminoles in this their worst season in history. The 12 games losing streak that began with the initial contest with Paris Island and ended with the 72-56 win over Tampa broke the 11 game losing streak set by the 1947 five.

The 20 losses suffered by the Seminoles this season broke the record set by the same 1947 crew that lost 11 games—all in a row

WHITMER TIED the mark for most free throws in a single game when he sipped in 17 charity tosses in a tilt this year. The old record was held by Bob Furlonde of the 1951 team who bucketed the same number against Georgia Teachers last year.

Two of the Seminoles five victories this year were against Tampa. Coach Bud Heckinger's charges dropped the Spartans in Tampa by a 72-65 margin and then unloaded a 79-60 win here, before losing to the Tampans 78-56 in the season finale.

Following Mclaughlin and Whitmer in the scoring department were Jerry Westhafer with 209, Lou Fischer, 178; Duane Gordon, 161; Jry Quinn, 106; Dick Bennett, 82; Ham Wernke, 55, and Bob Pence, 28.

NSA President Is To Visit Compus

The president of the National Student Association, William T. Dentzer, will visit Florida State University sometime between March 10 and 15, the NASB Chairman was informed today.

Dentzer, who has just returned from a tour of Latin-American Student Conference in Rio de Janeiro is visiting the southern state regions.

INTRAMURALS

By VIC RUSGAITIS

The Fraternity touch football league with only a little more than a week before the playoffs, find Theta Chi and Lambda Chi riding at the top with four wins apiece.

On February 19, Phi Delta Theta won over Sigma Nu. Pi Kappa Alpha took the game with Delta Tau Delta in an overtime period. Sigma Alpha Epsilon overran Sigma Chi. Theta Chi took the contest with Alpha Tau Omega. Kappa Alpha won over Phi Kappa Tau, and Lambda Chi walked over Kappa Sigma to win seven touchdowns to two for the losers.

In the games played on the 21st, Delta Tau Delta won over SPE. Big Nu over SAE. Sigma Chi won 7-0 from Pi Kappa Alpha. ATO 6-0 over Pi Kappa Phi. Lambda Chi won their second by outrunning Kappa Alpha 13-0, and Theta Chi also took their second win by beating PKT.

In the contests played on the 26th, Sigma Chi over SPE. Sigma Nu over Pi Kappa Alpha 14-0. Kappa Alpha over Kappa Sigma. Phi Delta Theta over SAE for their second victory, and Theta Chi won their third straight by taking the game from Lambda Chi.

In the games played last Thursday Sigma Chi won their third game by outscoring Delta Tau Delta 7-0, PDT also won their third by outscoring PKA 13-0. Sigma Nu took third by beating the PKT picked up their first victory by beating ATO. Theta Chi won their fourth straight by outscoring Kappa Sigma 5-0, and Lambda Chi Alpha also got their fourth straight by defeating Pi Kappa Phi 6-0.

DORMITORY TOUCH FOOTBALL

In the games played last Wednesday in the dorm league 304 and 3HA both lost by double forfeit, Newman Club and Senior Hall B also lost by double forfeit, USAF won by forfeit from 390, and 3SE won by forfeit from Magnolia A.

No Rally Planned For Election Finals

Because the Omicron Delta Kappa political rally will not be held for the small number of candidates in the UOA election finals, the Flambeau will permit candidates to run a short letter in Tuesday's issue.

All letters must be double spaced, typewritten and submitted before 12 noon Saturday.

Seminole Flyers To Meet Tuesday

Mr. O. C. Shuler, flying instructor, will speak at a special meeting of the Seminole Flying Club Tuesday night 7:30 at the Seminole Flying Service office at the airport.

"We are installing a new engine in our plane and putting it in first class shape" it was announced today by Blair Hennessey president.

Anyone interested in flying or learning to fly is urged to attend the meeting Tuesday. A special invite is extended to the women students, Blair said

"Flying with the club," Blair states, "costs only half as much as commercial "flying."

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

The New
Seminole Coffee Shop
"The Best 65c Dinner in Tallahassee"
11 A. M. TO 8 P. M. DAILY
MEAT, 3 VEGETABLES, DRINK, (Coffee or Tea)
HOT ROLLS
College Ave.
OPEN ALL NIGHT

Dine with us
in the
Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
Do you feel tired and English —try one of our thick shakes for pep and energy
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles

SPEAKING OF LEFT WING MOVEMENTS—HOW'S THIS?

Vincent Dilorenzo | Roger Bowman | Max Lanier | Dave Koslo | Monty Kennedy | Jacob Schmitt

THESE SIX SOUTHPAWS, shown warming up at the New York Giants' training camp at Phoenix, Ariz., (International) give the National league champions a one-monopoly on left-handed hurling.

Seminoles Have Rolled Up Impressive All-Time Mark

SENIOR FORWARD Tom McLaughlin led the Seminole cagers in the scoring column this year with 299 points. McLaughlin's four-year total zoomed to 892 points with his performance this year.

Since Florida State University has been coeducational, the Seminole football team has never lost twice to the same opponent.

During this same five year period, the Indians have compiled a record of 30 wins against nine defeats. In the four years that Coach Don Veller has been at the helm, the Seminoles have rolled up an amazing mark of 30 victories while losing only four.

THE STETSON University Hatters and the Troy Red Wave have been the most regular conibritors to the Florida State win column. Both teams defeated the Seminoles in 1947 when that first FSU team lost all their five starts, but neither have been able to score a victory over the Indians since then. FSU's record against both schools stands at 4-1.

Only three teams, Tennessee Tech, Jacksonville State and the University of Miami hold a victory edge over the Seminoles. In 1947, the only year they were on the schedule, while Miami defeated the Indians 33-13 in the first meeting between the two State schools.

TROY STATE who will not be on the 1952 schedule has contributed the most points to the Florida State scorebook with 112. The Red Wavs has also scored the most points against the Seminoles—56. Tampa has given up 105 points in four games while Stetson has contributed 97 in four. Each has scored 52 points against the Seminoles.

Florida State's all time won-lost record against all opponents is: against Stetson 4-1: Troy 4-1, Mississippi College 3-0; Tampa 3-1; Swanee 2-0; Millsaps 2-0, Wofford 2-0; and Randolph Macon, Howard, Newberry, Whiting Field, Delta State, Jacksonville N.A.S., and Bul Ross State all 1-0.

Erskine College, Cumberland and Livingston State have all broken even i hiwo games with the Seminoles, while Miami, Tennessee Tech, Jacksonville State have all won their only starts against Florida State.

Sports Day Is Set April 5

Florida Sports Day will be held on this campus for the first time since the college has become coeducational on April 5. Several colleges and universities throughout the South will be represented and a varied sports program will include archery, badminton, baseball, bowling, golf, swimming, tennis, ping pong, and softball.

Girls interested in participating in this sports program against other colleges are asked by Jo Anne Young to contact her in room 314 Reynolds or write to box 448. All girls are urged to enter as one does not have to have played in Odd-Even or intramurals to enter.

Patronize Our Advertisers

FSU Gridders Slate Scrimmage

Gymkana Show Gives Program At Leon High

The Florida State University Gymkana show directed by Dr. Hardy Price was scheduled to give two performances at Leon High School assembly programs this morning. The first program was presented to the Junior High assembly at 9:15 and the other was to be given before the Senior High program at 10:05.

Dick Gulling, Eddie Evans, Joe Oustc, Carmine Sferna and Jim Millward of the FSU varsity team plus Suzie Ball, Alice Thorpe, Carol Wentworth and Mary Louise Deal were FSU students participating in the show.

Members of the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots that performed were Nancy Lamb, Mary Cummins, Betsy Pichard, Jack Cartwell, Karol Ann Kurstetner, Evelyn Lane, Carol Lamb, Barbara Cummins, Dick Kurstetner, Jimmie Sue Williams and Barbara Beasley.

Events included in the program were the unicycle trampoline, low parallel bars, calisthenics, doubles and triple balancing, fast tumbling and trampolet.

Constitution Formed

A constitution was adopted by the Adapted Physical Education club at their last meeting Tuesday night.

The Florida State University gridders are scheduled to wind up their first full week of spring drills this afternoon with another long scrimmage on tap at the west campus practice field.

The Seminoles have been going full blast since last Monday when Coach Don Veller issued the initial call and promptly sent his large group of candidates through a long scrimmage and contact drill.

BESIDES THE scrimmaging, individual work, contact drills and fundamentals have occupied most of the gridders' time this week.

Coach Veller had all of his 18 returning lettermen on hand this week plus the holdovers from the 1951 squad transfers and newly enrolled second semester aspirants.

AFTER TODAY'S practice the Seminoles will have only 15 more actual days of practice in accordance with N. C. A. A. regulations which permit only 20 drill sessions in a 30-day period.

Veller has been busy most of the week in shifting players around and getting new men out at different positions

NOTABLE AMONG the switches have been the transfer of Tom Sebring from quarterback to center and Ronald King from fullback to an end position.

Between 55 and 60 players have been on hand for the sessions and several—Sebring, Roy Thompson and Harry Bringger have been alternating between the gridiron, Track and baseball field.

Sign up for Comfort
Get "Signs of the Times"
Jockey
SHORTS
Hara's a sure sign of comfort ... tha famous Jockey Shorts in gay, colorful Celanese rayon. Sirea! signs, rood signs, signs you sea every day ... AND nil tha famous masculine comfort Jockey shorts, too. Ramamber, world-known Jockey Underwear is made by Coopers. Follow tha signs for tops in comfort, priced at 1.50
Turner's

A wonderful case of "dual personality"
ARROW GABANARO
IT'S A SOAP SHIRT
IT'S A DATE SHIRT
GABANARO is amazingly comfortable either way, thanks to Arrow's revolutionary ARAFOLD collar.
Fine, washable rayon gabardine. Wide range of popular colors.
ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

Get into the swing of Spring
with ARROW
GABANARO
the all-American sports shirt with sensational new ARAFOLD collar
Gabanaro fits into your sports life ... your social life. The Arafold collar can be worn open, sports-style ... or closed, and worn with a tie. Miraculously comfortable either way. Washable rayon gabardine. Smart colors. Your exact collar size and sleeve length.
Mendelson's
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Religious Groups Observe Lent

By THEO SOMMERKAMP

Come dressed as a song title to take part in the party tonight at the Baptist Student House. The party, sponsored by the Training Union of the house, starts at 7:30.

Old clothes, however, is the price of admission to the square dance tonight at Westminster Fellowship House. The dance begins at 7:30 and June Tate is in charge.

THE OLD CLOTHES will go to the Presbyterian missions in Korea.

Weekend activities at Wesley Foundation House take over Saturday night. Methodist students are having their annual talent show, directed by Polly Lassiter.

At Rugg Hall, where Lenten season is under way, Susan Miller is chairman of a committee which will present a program Sunday night on Brazil.

THE PROGRAM will follow the regular Sunday night supper. The Protestant Episcopal Church named Brazil as the country for study during the current Lenten period.

Programs for Lutheran students will be outlined for the rest of the year when Gamma Delta officers meet tomorrow afternoon in Longmire building.

LENTEN SEASON is also under way at the Newman House Ruthie Habarkorn, president of Newman club, announced that Catholic mass is being held every morning at 7:15.

She also said that club members will have a scrub party at the house tomorrow afternoon. Then on Sunday night, Newman club men are honoring the girls at a party after the regular club business meeting. Bill Riordan is party chairman.

STUDENTS participating in the talent show at Wesley Foundation House include Mac Gautier, Julie Lewis, Judy Barber, Dale Johnson, Grace Miller, Dee Stevens.

Also included are Kitten Morrow, Marie Lou Harden, Jim Hutsong, Margaret Powers, Jo Donaldson, Lou Wise, June Simmons, Pat Kirby, Shirley Thaxley, Ruth Worrell and Delano Driver.

Morrison Wins

(Continued From Page 1)

bema taken to enlarge the system by one additional member from each class already on the Judiciary, she concluded.

PEGGY MOORE, recently elected Chairman of Judiciary, will assume for Patty Mims while she is interning.

The Honor Court has changed court procedure and established the court clerk as an active officer, according to Chairman Alice Jackson.

Sophomore council will tap 75 freshmen this spring for service work next year, announced Assistant Chairman Jean Weiherill. Selections are made on the basis of recommendations of dorm officers, resident counselors, and students' vote.

KATHY HAMBY, Women's Senior Hall chairman, advised juniors to apply for rooms there and secure special privileges next year. "All should specify Senior hall on their request blanks, not Landis," she emphasized.

Groups planning serenades must notify the Dean of Women's office ahead of time, is the new ruling of the Social Standards Committee, represented by Chairman Evelyn Faulkerson. She concluded by reviewing the rules concerning quiet and lights out during serenades.

Mollnow Is New Chairman

Marvin Mollnow, Florida State University sophomore, has been elected student section chairman of the next year's convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. It will be held in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Florida State University had the highest representation at the twentieth A.A.H.P.E.R. convention that was held in Atlanta, Georgia, with a total of twenty-six students.

Those that attended were: Alice Jackson, Dolue Templeton, Cynthia Mink, Anna Athanason, Sally Marinard.

Also Joan Guard, Ann Strickland, Becky Anderson, Sally Ellis, Betty Holland, Joan Wilson, Shirley Hitchenbach, Delilah Ashmore, Jane Kirk, Pat Vines, Del Peters, Marlyn Stuler, Jean Rigell, Nancy Asbury, Hopie Fuller, Betty Lou Whitten, Sandra Chance, Jack Phillips, Walter Grage, Bill Milleff, and Marvin Mollnow.

The Tarpon Club presented a demonstration of synchronized swimming when Miss Mary Frances Hall, physical education instructor, gave a lecture on how to build synchronized swimming

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE—Members of the Southern Conference 4-H planning committee discuss plans for the final discussion panel of the three-day meet. Left to right are Jean Flynn, Evelyn Henley, Bronna May Elkins and Jackie Dupont.

Movie List Includes West Campus Site

The next free movie, sponsored by the University Recreation association, will be "The Man Who Could Work Miracles."

Monday at 7:30 p.m. the movie will be shown at the West campus Student union: Tuesday, Men's Senior hall; Wednesday, South Cawthon, Thursday, Landis Recreation room, and Friday at 8 p.m. in Magnolia.

The movie is being shown in the Student union, says the URA, because there has been some criticism of all the showings being on the East campus.

A West campus showing will give the men and married students a chance to see "The Man Who Could Work Miracles" without making a trip to the other campus.

Summers And Tate Honored By Dormitory

Jennie Murphree honored Mary Ruth Summers and June Tate, who were so successful in the UGA elections, with a pajama party.

Next Wednesday, Gilchrist is holding a "Ring Tea" honoring the engaged girls of that dorm.

Electors for the freshmen dormitory officers will take place next week.

University Senate

(Continued From Page 1)

cancies created by interning UGA officers.

Barbara Thomas will take Mary Helen Speed's place in Senate while Senator Jean Flynn takes Speed's chairmanship of the absentee committee.

VIRGINIA LEE, Nancy Day, Willis Tyrrell, Don Buzzard, Margaret Erickson and Tommy Bowen will serve on Honor Court. Marie Parker will take over the position of president of the University Recreation Association.

Peggy Moore was approved to fill the vacancy created by Jim Bell's resignation.

Classified Ads

LOST—Brown Bulldog. If found please contact Norman Smith Phi Kappa Tau House.

ROOM FOR RENT—Twin beds. Private entrance. Across from college. 838 West Pensacola. Phone 2-1564

Garnet Key Feted With Two Parties

Members of Garnet Key women's service honorary were feted at an ice cream party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Rod K. Shaw. Hostesses for the event were Miss Florence Tyson and Mrs. Shaw, honorary members of Garnet Key.

Gold Key men's honorary will hold an informal party for Garnet Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the lounge of the Longmire building.

Mary Ruth Summers and Marianne Gillen were recently chosen president and treasurer pro tem respectively, of the organization. They will hold office during the internship of Alice Jackson and Eleanor Graves, present president and treasurer.

Members of Garnet Key are making plans for selection of new members and will tap later in the spring.

Sandspur Meeting

All staff and news crew members of Sandspur production are requested to attend a short meeting in the Flambeau office on Monday, March 10 at 4 p.m.

Beetle Bailey

MOVIE REVIEW

Widmark Stars in Film As Forest Fire Fighter

By DAVID DREIS

Richard Widmark appears in another of his successful documentary films for Twentieth Century Fox when he stars in "Red Skies of Montana," playing at the Florida theater today and tomorrow. Widmark has been in several other documentaries including "The Frogmen," about the under-water demolition squad of the Navy, and "Slattery's Hurricane," made in Miami, about the hurricane spotters.

This one's about the parachuting forest fire fighters. One of the hash points of the film is a puck-ass fight between Widmark and Jeffery Hunter with a blazing forest as the background.

Crooning Frank Sinatra teams up with laugh-maker Groucho Marx and beautiful Jane Russell in the RKO comedy, "Double Dynamite," at the Florida Sunday to Tuesday. The flicker, which is one of Sinatra's free-lancing films "the next one's "Meet Danny Wilson" for Universal) is the story of a bank teller who suddenly gets rich much to the surprise of Marx and Russell.

The plot, although thin, is enjoyable as Groucho proves that he's as good a comedian in solo as he is with his brothers.

MGM known for its lavish musicals which include, "American in Paris", "Royal Wedding" and "Show Boat," have come up with a picture that adds to their glory in "The Belle of New York," starring for the second time together, Fred Astaire and Vera-Ellen. Marjorie Main and Keenan Wynn are also in this picture, but the high spot of the musical is Alice Pearce who does her best to play the guardian angel of a Bowery Mission crusading group. Miss Pearce's last movie was "On the Town" in which she played a girl with an acute case of sniffles.

Miss Pearce gave up a leading role on Broadway's top musical show "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" to play this part. The picture plays turoush Tuesday at the State theater.

Sandspur Cast Picture

Sandspur cast members who would like a copy of the group picture taken after the final performance may contact Bob Griffin, Flambeau office, by Monday.

Free Tea Dance Held

Next Tuesday from 5 to 7 an informal tea dance will be held in the East campus gymnasium. The dance will be free and refreshments have been encouraged to "slacks or drag." Dolores Dolan, publicity chairman of the dance, has announced.

Windsor Sings

(Continued From Page 1)

easiest to pack with a minimum of wrinkles, and always appropriate.

During the day a ladies' dress serves any purpose well while in the evening, a dress suit and tie with an added touch of color is always correct and attractive anywhere.

SURPRISINGLY enough, Windsor receives more compliments for her suit than she does for her other ensembles, probably because each suit is so carefully chosen for the occasion.

Her interview was held in the marbled hall of the Washington Evening Star. Lilly Windsor, who talks at the table blue streak at her press conferences, and calls herself a chatterbox, has no pretentions about her phenomenal musical success.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
Cameron's Texaco Service Station
Formerly Meath Service Station
566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
Red Skies of Montana
With Richard Widmark and Constance Smith
STATE
Today Thru Tuesday
Bell of New York
With Fred Astaire Vera Allen
RITZ
Today and Saturday
Rough Riders of Durango
With Alan Rocky Lane
Elephant Stamped with Johnny Sheffield
DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
Valley of Fire
With Gene Autry
ighting Seabees
With John Wayne
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!
Patronize Our Advertisers

HOMER VERSIFIED:
"... and pines with thirst midst a sea of waves"
Homer: Odyssey
Homer wrote about ancient times—before Coke. Nowadays there's no need to pine with thirst when Coca-Cola is around the corner from anywhere.
DRINK Coca-Cola 5¢
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
© 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Florida Flambeau

Two Individuals Snag UGA Progress
See Editorial—

Campus Chest Drive Falls Short
See Page One—

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 37 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, March 11, 1952

Pi Phi's, Thetas Boost Campus Chest Campaign

Totals Not Available; Drive Ends, Sororities Collect Most Money

The Pi Beta Phi Indians and the Kappa Alpha Theta Wildcats battled out their fifth annual Powder Bowl football game Saturday to raise approximately $100 to boost the funds collected toward the Campus Chest goal of one dollar per student. The Pi Phi's won again 19 to 18.

Shirley Hulbert, chairman of the Campus Chest, has not yet announced the total of donations received from the drive, which was originally scheduled to end yesterday. The campaign, entitled "Are You Asleep?" included a "bye opening chart" in lower Westcott so that students could check the progress of the drive on the last stages. An eye was added for every additional $1.

THE TWO sororities, Pi Phi and Theta, also sold soda pop and ice cubes to augment what they got from the game donation. The Delta Gammas collected $102.74 in the Coliseum contest, which was won by Delta Zeta candidate Alice Sapp. Chi Omega Jean Zeal sold the most by 10 cent shoe shines and the Lambda Chis, $50 by selling apples.

Alpha Chi Omegas held a fudge sale and Zeta Tau Alpha cleaned up every 50 cents but Alpha Xi Delta reported a profit of $100 on their pencil sale. Alpha Omicron Pi gave $21 raised during a carnival. Phi Mu and Chi Omega combined made $15 on their "Sundae" party. The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity, from which they made approximately $50. A faculty auction by enthusiastic students was also made by the chest committee solicitors.

THE PROCEEDS from the Powder Bowl game will go to the National Foundation through the Campus Chest. The game was sponsored by the Pi Phi Indians, captained by Jerry Jones, and the Thetas by college queen Jean Wilson. Pi Phi Indians, captained by Jerry Jones, and the Thetas by college queen Jean Wilson. The goal while the audience resided in typical football fashion, with an appropriate team as presented for "unnecessary roughness" or "clipping."

The two teams had coaches from the Phi Delta Theta team, Jim Schmelz, Dick Tuck, Tommy Brown and Bob Whitmer saw the Pi Phi Indians coached by Jerry Jones in Italics, C M Booth and Bob Miller were coaches for the Alpha Chi Omega Thetas.

THE POWDER BOWL game includes cheerleaders, majorettes and halfbacks who had also worked their share of beauty contests. Serving as majorettes for Chi Pi Phi were 1951 Homecoming Queen Judy Bass, Sigma Chi Dena Queen and Smoke Signals Cover Girl Judy Ellis, and 1950 Homecoming Queen Ann Mullis.

Thetas were Sigma Chi Sweetheart Alice Merrill, Theta Queen Bobbie Luff, and Shirley Hairr, member of the Delta Tau Delta's queen court.

Career Confab Opens Tonight

What industry expects of the college-trained girl today will be outlined tonight at 7 p.m. by A. J. Lea Hume, industrial relations manager for Pan American Airways Latin American Division. Hume will speak in the Open man Music Hall.

The address will officially open the first extensive Florida State University "Career Planning Conference." In a three-day series of panels, students will be given help on doing what vocation in life they may choose.

PANELS FEATURING career opportunities are lengthy, following Hume's address are sociology, food business, advertising and public relations, journalism, hobbies, social sciences and music.

Wednesday night sessions will include panels in art, dentistry, humanities, medical technology, medicine, modern guages occupational therapy, recreation, science, social and teaching.

OCCUPATIONAL opportunities explained Thursday night will be in: biology, chemistry, geography and conservation, insurance and real estate library work, mathematics, personnel services, psychology, religious work, retailing and secretarial work.

An advisory committee composed of faculty members and students arranged the conference in cooperation with the FSU Vocational Guidance and Placement office.

Mrs. Margaret Blair of that department was in charge of the overall program.

MEETINGS HAVE been arranged during the three nights to allow students to attend talks in all related fields. Subjects to be discussed during the conference have been chosen according to those in which there are serious shortages of trained personnel.

Movies and recordings will be featured. Faculty members are making arrangements for the panels. Students will assist as presiding officers and act as secretaries during the conferences.

Hume, the keynote speaker, has spent 24 years in personnel work. He was named industrial relations manager of PAA in 1948, four years after he began working for company. Reared in the Texas border town of Earle Pass, Hume attended public schools there and later attended the United States Military Academy at West Point and the University of Texas.

Official Total On Registration Set at 5,264

An official report reveals a sum total of 5,264 students registered at Florida State University for the spring semester with 2,607 women and 2,657 men students.

Commenting upon the drop Vice-president A B Martin said it was customary to have a 1,000 loss the second semester.

LARLIER IN the semester, assistant registrar, H Hoyt Price estimated 5,100 students had registered during the first week of enrollment the semester. Price's prediction for a rise to 5,700 fell short however.

Last semester's enrollment reached 6,008 students.

The School of Arts and Sciences holds the highest number in its school with 1,671. Vice-president Martin said he thought this number included the students with double majors, also.

THE SCHOOL of Education reports 1,054 registered while the Graduate School has 709 students.

The Business School has 565 and the School of Home Economics has 221 registered. One-hundred and sixty are enrolled in the School of Social Welfare, 68 are enrolled in Journalism and 71 in Public Administration.

Fifty-three is the enrollment of the Law School with 41 in Library Training has the lowest with 45.

INCLUDED IN the total enrollment are 1,000 veterans. High School and special music students who had 451 and 82 students respectively.

The Bootstrap program is also included in the above figure. Approximately 300 were at the High School they were under.

The approximate number of new students enrolled at the first of Feb. was 250 students, this included the freshmen and transfer students.

Price had originally expected the loss would be much greater but in enough men to outnumber the women students.

Cooperation Shown In Carnival Work

"Tallahassee merchants, the faculty and the upperclassmen are receiving wonderful help in helping to make the forthcoming Carnival a success," said Mimi Patterson, vice-president of the freshman class.

So far the freshmen class has gotten everything from an iron to a rod and reel.

The carnival, to be held March 29, dates back to 1937, when the freshmen class took over the Senior Carnival. At that time all physical education, if there is enough space to accommodate everyone

Men May Get New Dormitory Built For Girls

Steel Shortage Slows Progress On 11 Story Proposed Men's Dorm

Tentative plans for the Florida State University Administration are that men will occupy the new eight-story women's dormitory next year to enable West campus boys to move east.

The Board of Control will have to approve this plan before it can go into effect, however, Vice-President A B Martin stated.

VICE-PRESIDENT Martin said that the Administration had formerly hoped that the 11-story men's dormitory would be ready for occupancy by next fall. The construction had gotten behind schedule however, and the administration has decided to move the boys into the new dormitory across the street from Landis Hall.

The men's 11 story building now has its basic steel construction up to the second floor, Inspector H. D. Mendenhall, resident engineer said.

A LACK of steel had previously waisted the construction but the University was released additional allocations soon after President Doak S. Campbell returned from Washington last summer where he received the steel grants.

The new dormitory, formerly just off Tennessee street is costing $1,436,000 and will house 572 male students when completed.

Secretary of the United States Department of Commerce Charles Sawyer, in conference here also assured students that steel allocations were available for all projects under way.

CHIEF ENGINEER Mendenhall has announced that he doesn't think the new Student Union on Call street will open before April and probably not before May 1. The building still lacks air conditioning which is necessary for completion.

The new Demonstration school will begin this summer, Dr. Martin said that it will accommodate 700 students, twice as many as the present Demonstration school has enrolled.

SEPARATE BUILDINGS will be provided for a gymnasium, cafeteria, workshop and home economics department. Dr. Lenore Boyce, associate professor of education and principal of the Demonstration school announced Dr. Boyce said that the new school will have no closed hallways as the present one does.

Fifteen to 17 pre teachers will be assigned to the new school with walls to separate wings for the elementary, primary and high school grades.

Square Dance Pro To Give Lessons

A square dance expert, Ed Durlacher, will be at Florida State University Tuesday and Friday this week to give free dancing and calling lessons.

Durlacher is a member of the Square Dance Associates in New York, will give lessons to Florida square recreation leaders and students in the Women's physical education building. Lessons will be given from 4.30 to 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. in room 103 of the gymnasium. All will participate, says Dr. Katherine W. Montgomery, dean of women's physical education, if there is

Second U. G. A. Primary Voting Scheduled Today

NEW ACE OFFICERS—Officers of the Florida Student Branch of ACE are shown being installed Saturday morning by Miss Mary Leeper, executive secretary of the state organization in Washington, D. C. Left to right, seated are Miss Lucille Maxwell, Jennie Lu Reale, Anice Spencer, and Miss Mary Leeper. Rear row, left to right, are Jennie Ciccarella and Mary Taylor.

ACE Student Branch Installed At Florida State University

The first Florida student branch of the Association for Childhood Education was set up at Florida State University this weekend with A. C. E. Executive Secretary Mary E. Leeper installing Anice Spenser as president.

Other officers installed were Jennie Lu Reale as vice-president, Mary Taylor, secretary and Jennie Ciccarella as treasurer.

The student branch is the bridge to the national ACE secretary sincerely stated to the group of state, local and student representatives present at her opening address Friday night.

Miss Leeper in speaking upon ACE's part in a program for children said there is a need for a "real" kind of education program over the entire country. Only recently Lee mentioned that a branch had been set up in Pusan, Korea. The International Child Program also holds six branches in Canada, others in Germany, Italy and Switzerland.

The informative speaker of her field said that A. C. E. is "becoming not just for teachers" education. We are coming to think of a teacher's job as a more broad field than in education.

In her address Friday night, Miss Leeper said that the organization had six areas on which it is working. Foremost on her list was the need for child study and more space. Some schools are now only "classroom days, one group for four days and then another group for four days.

The speaker said children need school experiences through publications and workshops. They need more and better teachers. "Teaching is a life of service," she stated.

Parents and teachers need to work as partners. She then humorously but sincerely added points to her list of people needed to help.

A neighborhood should offer enrichina experiences. She concluded the "Children's Museum" in Jacksonville as a good example of what can be done.

"Children," she concluded, are not a unit, but each one is another. We need good fellowers as well as leaders."

Interns To Begin 8-Week Program In 44 Counties

Two hundred forty-nine interns leave Friday to begin an eight-week internship program in the schools of Florida and Georgia.

As usual the large crop of interns shows an increase over the fall number. Last October, 185 students were enrolled in the internship program.

ACCORDING TO Professor R. L. Goulding, director of the program, there is an increase in the number of intern applications over last year's figure at this time. Two hundred seventy-eight students made application but 25 had to be refused for the state averages. Last year 255 interns went out at this time, but only nine were refused.

The extensive application each intern fills out includes an autobiographical sketch, picture, references and college grade averages. Each student may intern where he must be in his senior year and have completed basic education courses, and have taken the Junior English, ACE, Personality and Junior Courses.

STUDENTS PLANNING to intern next semester must file their applications in the Internship office as soon as possible. Previous deadline was Feb. 29.

This semester's interns have been placed in schools of 42 Florida and 2 Georgia counties. Leading counties are Dade, 33 Leon, 27 Duval, 19 Pinellas, 17, Broward, 14, and Orange, Polk and Escambia, 10.

Star of 'Biography' Is Famed Actress

Shirley Booth, star of the forthcoming FSU production "Biography," has had a wide range of experience in the field of theater.

"BIOGRAPHY," in which the Broadway star will have the leading feminine role, will be presented by the Florida State Players in co-operation with the Artist Series, March 14-15 in the Union Coliseum theater at 8:15 p.m.

Students will be admitted by ID card to the 2:3 matinee performance of "Biography" Saturday.

Miss Dalton first went to Broadway as the second lead in "The Curtain Rises" with Anne Arthur. This was in 1933 and '34, and since then, the leading lady has had a number of hits, "Only a Holiday," "Sweet Aloes," "The Fabulous Invalid" and "Dear Jane Lauchter," which starred Clifton Webb.

THE ACTRESS has just finished another production with Webb, a musical, "Seventeen." She has done over 100 plays in summer stock, and has had a three-year lead, again with Clifton Webb, in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." She also had a

(Continued on Page 2)

Faculty Trio to Give Program Friday Night

A program of chamber music will be presented by the Faculty Trio Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall. The program, which will be open to the public, marks the first appearance of the Trio on this year's Faculty Series.

The Trio consisting of Mary Esther Winslow, pianist; Robert Sedow violinist, and Owen Reeves, cellist, will perform Johannes Brahms' Trio in B Major, Opus 8 and Ernest Bloch's Three Nocturnettes, Opus 57. The Trio will be assisted with the Quintet by Eugene Crook, violist and Lee Crook, violinist

Warpath Club Meets

Nominations for next year's officers will take place at a meeting of the Warpath Club Thurs day at 7 p.m. in 407 Longmire Building.

Only One Amendment Passed By Faculty Review Committee

The second primary in the University Government Association elections will be held today to determine four offices in UGA and to vote on a constitutional amendment to increase the number of students on judiciary.

Five amendments passed by the Student Senate were placed before the Faculty Senate Committee on Student Affairs for final approval yesterday, but they passed on only one.

MOST STUDENT leaders were so sure the committee would pass the amendments that treasurers were generally considered "on the ballot."

The amendment which had been most controversial in student discussion had been the one abolishing the executive council and setting up a cabinet system. The measure was finally passed in a special open session of the student Senate with a unanimous vote.

In the student affairs committee meeting yesterday Alice Jackson, chairman of Honor Court and Patty Mims of Judiciary spoke out against the cabinet system and were partly responsible for Warren's approval.

SENIOR SENATOR Ignacio Sivad said he felt the two had done the students a great disservice. "They had every opportunity to state their views in student senate and Senate committee meetings," he observed.

The Student Affairs Committee consists of Dean of Women Kathryn Warren, as chairman, Dr. Florence Cole, Mildred Finnegan, Grace Fox, L. Richey, Dr. Mildred Martin, Dr. Joshua Reynolds of Student Welfare J. Broward Culpepper, Dr. Wesley Carter, Dr. Kelley Harris, as ex-officio and McBride, Dr. Joshua Reynolds and Owen Sellers.

ONLY FOUR UGA offices are being contested today, Milton Walters and Jimmy Evans are running for vice-president in charge of affairs. Glenn Lantz and Jim Dye are seeking the of-

(Continued on Page 3)

Life Photographer Takes Pictures Of 'Flying High'

Loomis Dean, nationally known New York photographer, is shooting scenes of the Florida State University Circus, "Flying High" this week.

Dean, who just came east from Hollywood and Texas said it was interesting to get Florida color with natural beauty for a change. He also said, solely commenting on the Circus girls but for all over campus.

A preview of the 1952 show was given Sunday as a part of the Annual Photographers Day. Dean's arrival was the first of the afternoon's leading events.

During the afternoon 160 circus performers went through their paces in aerial and ground acts in the newly erected tent for the benefit of the visiting photographers.

One of the outstanding acts was the team of Leli Pinkston, Pare Pinkston and Mabee which executed their tricks 24 feet in the air over a safety net.

Other featured acts were the "High Breakaway" a one-and-a-half somersault by Doris Kidwell to her catcher, Fred Darkow; and the "Slackwire" stunt by Miss Helen Arnold doing head stands as Jeti Munroe performed on the free revolving ladder, 30 feet in the air.

Approximately 50 of the circus troupe will tour the state this month. They will be in Bradenton March 14 at the "DeSoto Celebration" March 15 they will have a show for the Crescent Lion's Club Benefit and March 17 appear in Lake Wales.

VV's Elect Officers

New slate of officers for the Village Vamps, elected at the last meeting of the year, are Lorrie Brown, Alice Spencer, chief tea-tinner, Mary Ann Dorsey, chief keeper-of-the-dates; Joyce Whiddon, chief gold-digger; Beth Melton, chief keyhole-peeper; and Patsy Charlotte, projects chairman.

The VV's will serve as ushers for the speech department production, Biography" as part of their activities.

FSU Debators Will Play Host

An estimated 50 students from Florida State University and Florida and Georgia colleges are expected to register this Thursday for the Third Annual FSU Invitational Debate Tournament.

The tournament, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, will be divided into five divisions: drama, oratory, oral interpretation, extemporaneous speaking discussion and after-dinner speaking.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Greer Price, director of the tournament, the first four rounds of the two-round debate will be conducted on the question: "Resolved, that the federal government should establish a permanent system of wage and price controls." The final round a "problem" debate, will be held on the question: "How can we control the effects of inflation in the United States?"

The tournament will open Friday morning at 8:30 with a general assembly. This will be followed by the first four rounds in the debate division, two sections of the extemporaneous speaking discussion and the oratory preliminaries. The tournaments banquet will be held at 7 p.m. in the Lafayette Room.

SEVERAL TOURNAMENT events will be held before FSU closes Saturday morning. They include the oral interpretation preliminaries, the oratory finals at 9, and the extemporaneous speaking finals at 10.

The tournament will close with an award luncheon at noon Saturday at which time the oral interpretation will be held.

Besides the speeches before the FSU student, all sessions will be conducted at the Baptist Church by Florida, Georgia and Duval.

U of F and FSU Farm Youth Hear Dr. Martin Speak

The importance of agricultural industry and state development was stressed by Vice-President A. B. Martin at a youth week-end before farm youth representing every section of Florida.

In the newest example of the plan of agriculture and home economics in cooperation with the joint meeting of 4-H clubs and agriculture clubs of Florida State University and the University of Florida.

MARTIN, VICE-PRESIDENT also noted the connection of the nation's economic and scientific economy and said the agricultural industry as he reviewed the scientific development with the country's cold war efforts.

Dean Margaret Sandels of the School of Home Economics felt that home economics had proven its value as a profession.

DR. CLAUDE BOGGERS of the University of Florida expressed that he thought if more youth recognized the importance of farming as his business more of them would make farming their vocation. He noted that adequate training is necessary for farming successfully.

Former international farm youth exchange to Denmark, Miss Rhonwyn Lowry, said that the people could learn a lot from farmers of Denmark and told her experiences while living there. She had lived on three farms.

Among the speakers on Saturday was Dr. Gregg Phifer of the speech department who acted as moderator for a panel discussion on "How Can I Help? What Is My Job?"

President of the FSU 4-H Club is Brenna Mae Elding.

NEW DORMITORY OFFICERS—Magnolia, Cockrell, Van Brunt and Long Halls and the Lodge officers are front row, left to right: Robert Hudson, Donald Wilson, Thomas Pullis, Vernon Nelson, Jesse Ferrell, Avry Wangi second row: Floyd Sisley, Gordon Tyrrell, John Wycoff, Ray Commander, Harold Farmer, Frank Buchanan; third row: James Campbell, Taven Vangtal, Alan Pierce, John Roberts, John Carell, Wallace Dynes.

U.G.A. Constitution Revision Should Draw Huge Turnout

Today's election ballot will include from one to five UGA constitutional amendments, depending on whether the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs, headed by Dean Warren, approved the proposed amendments at their meeting last night. At the time of this writing, the Committee had not yet met.

The five proposed amendments recently passed by the student senate provide for: (1) student election of WFSU station manager; (2) impeachment of UGA officials; (3) voting privilege extended to graduate students, (4) the addition of three members to Judiciary, and (5) a cabinet system to replace that of the existing Executive Council. At this writing, the only one of the above five amendments approved by the Faculty Committee was the second one, the impeachment of UGA officials.

The amendment which is expected to receive the most opposition from the Faculty Committee is the cabinet system of student system. This amendment provides for a cabinet consisting of eight members appointed by the UGA president and approved by a majority of the senate. The president would have the power to remove these officials.

The eight cabinet members would be: an attorney general, secretary of elections, secretary of labor, secretary of finance, secretary of organizations, secretary of recreational affairs, forums chairman and chairman of honor committee.

With these amendments on the ballot, today's election should provoke a good turnout. If they get through the Faculty Committee and the student body, these amendments will bring about a big change in FSU's student government.

Candidates carried over from last week's UGA election are now in power, there are still several important offices to be filled and judging from campus talk, interest in the outcome of the finals today is remarkably good. A big turnout is urged.

With campaigning at an end, it is hoped that the posters plastered around the campus will do a quick disappearing act. Each candidate is asked to see that his posters are down and out of the way. Class elections are not far off so let's clear the decks for the new candidates.

● SENATE DUPED

Two individual students, working, obviously for their selfish and individual interests, have slapped the entire student senate, representatives of the student body, sharply in the face.

The two students appeared before the faculty committee on student affairs which was, at the time, reviewing the important constitutional amendments that should have gone on today's ballot.

Before that body the committee the amendments were tied up in useless discussion and were not passed in time to be added to the ballot.

One constitutional amendment in question was the proposal for a Cabinet system instead of the present executive council set up. The Senate had debated and rehashed the ideas for over a month and had held an opening meeting for all students at which time all disagreement could be expressed. The problems were worked out slowly and carefully.

The amendment then went to faculty reviewing committee. Most student leaders and senate members considered this a mere formality.

But the amendment has not been approved by the faculty reviewing committee and the student senate, the legal representativ of the majority, have been doublecrosed by two individuals.

The fact is that the proposal was passed unanimously by the Senate and approved by the executive council. Whether the arguments presented by these two individuals were sincere is not the question. They had an opportunity to present their viewpoint in open senate debate. They failed to do this. Now they have let the principals of student trust by trying to block one single clause in one amendment thereby causing all the amendments to be postponed.

The student senate should not turn the other cheek in this case!

● LOST CULTURE

Gone are the days when the students of Florida State University tried to adhere somewhat to Emily Post in their actions and manners.

The modern age, people say, leaves no time for so-called "culture," and yet at the same time it is doubted that there should be too much difference within a year or two.

Last year when Westcott auditorium was in use, a student did not go to a concert Artist Series attraction unless properly dressed. All those who sat in the orchestra went formal, and those in the balcony went very "dressed-up."

At the concert of opera singer Lilly Windsor, however, students came in everything from suits and date dresses down to skirts and sweaters and tee shirts. The only formals were those worn by ushers!

Is it so hard to get dressed for formal occasions? Have the rules of etiquette changed so in the last year . . . or is FSU just losing its "culture"?

F.S.U Fun and Functions

A CALENDAR OF EVENTS COMPILED AND DISTRIBUTED BY YOUR U.G.A.

Tuesday, March 11

U.G.A. Final elections—Be sure to vote.
11:00—American Studies Colloquium in Room 408.
Auditorium.
7:00—Keynote address of the Career Planning Conference in the Music Hall—Speaker, Dr. A. L. Nunne of Pan American World Airways. For other meetings, see printed schedule.
7:00-9:00—Tea dance in the East Campus gym
7:30—Mexican film "Enamorada" in Alumni Auditorium.

Wednesday, March 12

Career Planning Conference.
7:00—"Career Opportunities in Art"—Art Gallery.
8:00—Broward Hall Faculty Reception

Thursday, March 13

Career Planning Conference.
Graphic Vaudeville.
7:00—Meeting of the Dan McCarty for Governor Club in Alumni Auditorium—All interested are invited.

Friday, March 14

8:00 a.m to 8:30 p.m—Third Annual Invitational Debate Tournament—Baptist Church School

NOTICE: Any organization sponsoring an event which they wish to have published in Fun and Functions, notify Jim Lohmeyer, UGA Forums Chairman or Ruth Hoernle, UGA Secretary, Ext. 4881.

8:15—Faculty string ensemble—Music Hall.

Saturday, March 15

8:00 a.m. to 2.00 p.m.—Third Annual Invitational Debate Tournaments—History Bldg.
2:00—Fencing Club with Wesleyan College—Spectators welcome.
2:15—Artist Series student Matinee "Biography" with Doris Dalton in the Conrad Theatre Auditorium for ID card.
8:00—Southern Intercollegiate Gymnast Championship—East Campus gym.

Sunday, March 16

7:00—"Free Campus Movie—"The Man Who Could Work Miracles"—Auditorium. (Meet at Music Hall—Wednesday ·S Cawthon·, Thursday ·Landis· and 8:00 Friday ·Magnolia·, Saturday ·Admiral·)

Through March 22—Exhibit "Art Schools, U.S.A." in Art Gallery.
Monday through Friday—Plunge period in East Campus gym (1:30-5:30).
Monday through Friday—Bowling in East Campus Gym (3:30-4:45).
Every night—Ringpong in East Campus Gym (6:00-10:00).

Dear Editor . . .

Eight Points

Dear Friends:

I would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank those who have seen fit to send me into the finals in the race for vice-president of the UGA My thanks is both heartfelt and true.

Upon entering the final phase of this race, I would like to restate some of the points which I have based my campaign on this far.

1. The granting of a charter from the university to the student government thereby defining their powers, rights and privileges and granting them free relen wishin these bounds.

2. Making a complete investigation as to the possibility of remuneration for junior councilmors.

3. Arrange conferences to arrange meeting nights at campus organizations so as to avoid so many conflicts as possible.

4. To get the senate to either enact or repeal the rules and regulations which are tired to the senate, but have never been officially passed by the university governors.

5. To enact a definite and specific set of election laws.

6. To appoint a commission to work with the URA and the student government on handling the president's cabinet to arrange a festival weekend for aur-and-a-half. This may be something like a "Sadie Hawkins' Day."

7. To keep open and public voting records on each senator and publish these records periodically so that each class may see how their senator votes.

8. To publish periodic reports in the newspaper as to the progress on this platform.

Your vote and support in the finals next Tuesday would be sincerely appreciated

JIMMIE EVANS.
Candidate for UGA Vice-President.

Six Points

Fellow Students:

I am a candidate for the office of vice-president in charge of legislative affairs. Having served in the university senate this last year I believe I have the necessary experience to handle the job. I know the problems faced by the senate now.

If elected I will endeavor first of all to help create more interest in the student government and in the university senate. Then I want to see these things done.

1. To have a definite constitution to define the powers and jurisdiction of the senate.

2. To have the senators from each class invite each month different members of their class to attend senate meetings with them.

3. To have organization's council made up of the presidents to help plan student affairs.

4. To urge full athletic re-

A NOTE ABOUT FRATERNITY PRESSURE

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

A small select group of fraternity men on this campus, who are giving a grossly misconducted reflection of the majority of frat brothers, seem to have that high group-feeling of superiority.

This small group detests any thought of opposition or contradictory from their own.

Garland Scott, president of the Inter-Fraternory council, gave a threatening phone call to the editor Thursday afternoon. He stated serious consequences would result if the Flambeau published on printing the truth about fraternity blocks or fraternity hazing.

First the blocs were denied irrespective of the knowledge that individual fraternity members mentioned that the block existed, irrespective of the fact that sophomore council members use the bloc in elections.

The bloc has received such a vicious denial there must be some guilt implied with a blue denial.

Some members do not deny, but affirm that such is a blue fact.

existed but that it was not a closed group to serve fraternity interests alone. It was formed, rather, in the hope that it might be the smelens of a party political system encompassing all shades of opinion and interests in the FSU student body.

This seems to be the aim now. And there certain frat members want the bloc to function. They want the fact that one fraternity and members jumping mule on a trampoline one evening last quiet. They want the fact that certain fraternity members find great sport in operating a bulldozer in a private yard and other such secretive acts kept from the students. They don't like to see the facts printed when they are found telling the Dean of Women and visitors during religious emphasis week that fraternities and sororities are getting an increasingly wrong impression of the fraternity system in Florida State University.

If there is some something is done to check this ugly attitude the cancerous growth will spread and spread until the fraternity system that are building a clean and honest relationship with the university.

It seems to me some fraternities have a cynical chip on their shoulder. I realize this feeling of ethnocentrism is a strong influence on the men, but the question is asked: what is the supreme loyalty?

It must be understood that I'm not condemning the fraternity system or trying to jam any fraternity down the Greek throats. I'm just asking the fraternities live more closely to the ideals of their doctrine and take into consideration what impression they give with some of their activities mentioned above.

For one thing, the pressure upon the editors press must cease. The opinions expressed in columns and the editorial page are not the expressions of the paper and student editors should have the right to express their opinion, favorable or not.

Use it.

Stop exerting totalitarian-type pressure on the students' newspaper — by intimidation and threats.

THERE IS PLENTY TO DO . . . FIND IT!

By FRANCES CAWTHON

There are the continuous moans and groanings of the molars from the Florida State Hotel, Florida State University, and all because of the classical quote. "There just isn't anything to do."

It can justly be said that the Seminole doth do a nicely partying as the Red Tide or the Yellow Jackets. Our social calendar seems to be getting thinner as the years crawl by, but, as the thinning takes place does not put a halo around the heads of the people who sit in their rooms, staring at the four walls and ceiling and complain to their roommates, "There just isn't anything to do around here."

Perhaps we could be a line drawn between the person who complains about the lack of social activities once in a while and takes advantage of what does come along and the person who just complains. Fellow classmates are frequently seen sitting in the dormitory, then site and waits for something to happen and it's a schmoo. In about a week you find him wailing. This just isn't like it. Things don't just happen at all. Where's all the fun, the activity?

Running a close second with this bird is the fellow who, when he wants to study, has to pin you to the wall for about an hour and repeat 50 times the same thing that he thinks this college has gone to the dogs because there is absolutely nothing going on. Of course when you ask him if he has been out to the show last night, or plans to go to the Speech Department play tonight, he always says no. Occasionally he says he just won't be going. Maybe he'll go tonight, but mare often he has spent all his money complaining and hasn't any left with which to manufacture an acceptable excuse.

There are a multitude of things to around Florida State if anyone cares to look. There is Camp Flastacowo, where you can go horseback riding, swim, play tennis Societies such as Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi, and the Red Cross clamor for more of the intellectual. The campus also has facilities for golf, tennis, archery and other sports

Intramurals such as Sports Day, and Intramurals also offer active participation. For the spectator there are the swimming meets, tennis matches, Gymkana and Track meets to watch. The School of Music is always offering a series of talented musicians and concerts. Artist Series presents to the students a yearly program of good entertainment.

THIS COLUMNIST WANTS THE STATUS QUO

THIS COLUMNIST ADVOCATES THE REACTIONARY VOICE

Maybe I had better clarify some of the things I said last week about religion. Religion fulfills one of the basic needs of man, because man has to have faith in life in order to give his life meaning.

What, then, is religion? Religion isn't satisfied with merely living, getting food, and propagating.

On the other hand, it isn't an excessive thought, he isn't satisfied with it. He has answers to all of the questions he can think of.

If he can't have a purpose to his life he becomes frustrated because that relegates him to the status of a beast. He needs answers to all of the questions he becomes terrified, because that indicates that his thoughts are not so important after all.

F.S.U. and its professors took care of both of these self-contradictory needs because the irrational leaps from Friday—Bowling in East Campus Gym (3:30-4:45).

Every night—Ringpong in East Campus Gym (6:00-10:00).

purpose of the universe and the eternal mysteries. At this time it stressed the importance of these occasions and asked that quiet and reverence be maintained during every serenade. The conclusion felt that a lack of organization among the women students was the underlying cause of much unwholesome behavior during the serenades. In asking every fraternity to help in any way of any kind to notify the secretary in the Dean of Women's office the committee hoped to establish a set procedure which would make it possible for singing groups to organize within the dormitories and reply to the serenade. This is not a university rule or regulation, it is by no means a restriction to limit serenades, it is simply a request for the purpose of giving serenading a higher place on our campus.

Commitee Report I delivered in Convocation last week.

I sincerely hope that all concerned will consider the merits of this procedure before any article too harshly. The committee was formed with a definite need for change in the present system of serenading and tried earnestly to fulfill that need. Constructive criticism is the best interest of all concerned.

EVELYN WILKERSON,
Chairman Social Standards Committee.

SERENADING REQUEST

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter for the purpose of clarifying any misunderstandings that may have resulted from the (Social) Standards their shoulder. I realize this feeling

Fun and Functions

Tuesday, March 11

Career Planning Conference.

Wednesday, March 12

Career Planning Conference.

Thursday, March 13

Career Planning Conference.

Friday, March 14

Career Planning Conference.

Saturday, March 15

Career Planning Conference.

Sunday, March 16

Career Planning Conference.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babe Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associaten Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Carlisle
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Wilson
Assistant News Editor ..... June Mercier
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Schlaug
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Hall
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldironi; Fa Pittman, Steve Zaloga

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-386, Ext. 481 Published semi-weekly by the Alumni Betting The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University at Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

ACP ROUNDUP

WILL IRON CURTAIN SMILE?

Editors of the Wampus, humor is because someone got caught magazine at the University of Southern California, have added a little warmth to the cold war. They cabled the following message to the Moscow office of the Krokodil, only Soviet humor magazine:

"Our stock anti-Truman jokes running low. Hear you have inexhaustible supply. Our supply anti-Stalin jokes limitless. Suggest exchange and publication. Will run all your jokes provided jokes verbatim for all our anti-Stalin stories you use verbatim." Ship for Moscow has mats no reply.

PUBLIC SERVICE . . .

Methods of advertising used by college students are often very ingenious," says the Silver and Gold, University of Nevada. In fact, they usually take more thought and preparation than studying for the test would require.

The paper, in obvious irritation, lists some of the more unusual ones that have been used: can write vital information on their shirt cuffs. Shouts at passers-by to write it on their bare hands," says the Silver and Gold.

Continuing, one can hide information inside his watch crystal or in the top of his socks. Students with smart friends can sometimes persuade them to take an examination for them."

The Silver and Gold hastens to add, "We do not recommend the use of any of these methods. The only reason we know about them is because

Weather Training Offered AF Seniors

Graduating seniors to be commissioned in the United States Air Force are being offered a one-year weather training course with 42 semester hours credit. The course begins in September.

College graduates with one year of college physics and mathematics through integral calculus are encouraged to take advantage of the Air Weather Service program, according to the Office of Vocational Guidance Department in 203 Westcott.

McCarty Club Meets

A Dan McCarty for Governor Club meeting will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the large lounge of the Longmire building of the University.

This meeting will review progress of the campaign and schedule a speech from McCarty in the near future

Campus Character

By DAVID D-R-E-I-S

("Dreamtime 1952—or—Tuning in on the dreams of one of the "characters.")

* * *

It's a dark night out. A black truck comes to a screeching stop in front of a freshman's barracks. One man jumps out followed by the Alpha Kappa fraternity boys. Up the steps goes the leader. He stops at a door and then knocks.

"Who is it?" a voice from inside asks.

"The Schmidt Troopers" answers the tall one who immediately calls for his men to knock the door down.

"What do you want?" asks the boy who is almost blinded by the ray of a spotlight.

"You must come with us—sidewalk block 16 in front of Westcott. . . . We don't do things like that around here."

Falling to his knees, the man cries, "You . . . you're rockand-going to ruin good men that . . . it'll ruin me."

His back to the "wreaking," the leader and his men walk out knowing that another has felt the wrath of Stan (the Man) Schmidt, Commander of the Troop.

The next day, school is carried on as usual with huge signs saying:

SCHMIDT IS GOOD, SCHMIDT IS KIND, SCHMIDT IS JUST . . . and over the Rear of Westcott's clock, where everyone looks, there is a huge sign displaying the bespectacled one saying:

"BIG BROTHER IS WATCHING YOU"

That's OK, Stan, we say you're a no-good and can't write, but it always seems that we turn to your column first.)

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

After a delicious meal of mashed potatoes, english peas and a microscopic roast beef sliver the Rotary club of the small Tennessee Hamlet stood up and sang their theme song Pass the Dixie Lily Grits and the South Will Rise Again.

President Hoke Dalrymple stood up and tried to get order, "Boys, boys—please. . . . Save that singy one for later, Jim," he simpered with the official Rotarian conspiratial wink.

"Now . . . and so it's my privilege to present a local boy who made god—author of the best sellers, Hernia, An American Tragedy and How to Tell Your Mother from a Wolf . . . my friend Hal Lindsey Hatchney."

While backstage of a New York Theater a balding producer was screaming, "You can't carry a tennis racket, Carl—you're playing Hamlet."

At a Pensacola J.C. meeting a local merchant was saying, ". . . Dammit, Campbell, we know you played football—but must you wear that helmet here . . . "

Characters raving 'bout the Regents Military Ball blowing. A standout was the smooth saxing of old "Plaited Fifth" Fish and "Rubber Lips" Heckman. . . .

What's with ex-confirmed batch Buddy Vickers who has taken to hypnotizing young thing at the every silent Meeca . . .

Meet Rescheduled

Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity has rescheduled their fish fry to Friday night at 5:45 instead of Thursday as originally announced. Dr. Hamilton Holmes of Lake Bradford will be provided in front of the Sweet Shop at 5:45.

Do You Have a Problem Watch?

Bring it to Moon's they'll take it off your wrist
Trade in up to $20 on a New Watch

Special Trade-In Watch Sale

★ MEN'S WATCHES
- Self-wind!
- Water-proof!
- Shock resistant!
- Luminous dial!
- Sweep second hand!

★ FOR HER
A beautiful two diamond watch — white or yellow gold
Pay as little as $1.25 per week

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
Anywhere Your Family

Schmidt Featured In Friday Recital

Harry Schmidt, clarinetist, presented a recital in the Opperman Music hall Friday evening, assisted by John Boda, pianist, and Owen Sellers, cellist.

Prof. Schmidt, who joined the Florida State University faculty in 1949, studied at Ohio State University, where he received the Bachelor of Music Degree, and the New England Conservatory in Boston, Mass. He was a member of the festival orchestra for the Berkshire Music Festival in the summer of 1948.

A former member of the Columbus Ohio Philharmonic, Mr. Schmidt is at present first clarinetist with the State Symphony of Florida, in addition to being woodwind instructor at FSU. He has performed solo and chamber music with leading musicians, among them the famous Paginini String Quartet.

The program Friday evening consisted of three works for clarinet and piano played by Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Boda: Sonata (1939) by Hindemith, Sonatine by Honegger and Grand Duo in E flat by Weber. With Mr. Sellers assisting the three played Trio in B flo, Opus 11 by Beethoven.

OFF-CAMPUS WRECK—A car owned by Lynwood Egerton of Tallahassee, crashed into a City Transit bus Monday morning just outside the south gate. The remaining of the FSU buses this semester was partially because of the "dangerous" south gate drive, Don Farquharson, assistant to the business manager, has stated.

Biography

(Continued from Page 1)

second lead with Katherine Hepburn in "Jane Eyre."

The Broadway actress will be supported in her role of Marion Proude, an attractive female artist and somewhat of a Bohemian, by a cast of students from Florida State.

SKIPPER LAMBERT will be Miss Dalton's understudy, while Sill Upshaw will play Nolan. Jean Flynn is Minnie; Robert Stuart, Curt; David Love, Feydak; Kenneth Martin, Wilson; Hoyt Bowen, Orrin Kinnicut; and Anne Gyrnoire and Bert Hollander as Slade Kinnicut.

Marion, whom Mise Dalton will portray, plans at the age of 40 to write her autobiography. An old suiter, who plans to run for the U.S. Senate, comes to see her and much to his horror, finds she is going to expose him in her autobiography. He proposes to her, and she cannot decide whether to accept and give up her book, or go with the young publisher who is buying it.

ODK Dinner to Be Held at St. Marks

All Omicron Delta Kappa members are invited to a dinner meeting with their wives or dates this Friday at Shields Cafe, St. Marks.

Transportation will be provided, and members are asked to meet in the Longmire lounge at 6 p.m. Friday.

The regular business meeting will be held Wednesday night at 9 on the fourth floor, Longmire building.

Convention Begins Wednesday at 5 pm

Recreation executives from Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida will attend a three day conference of the Southeastern Recreation association beginning here tomorrow and running through Friday.

Registration will begin at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

PRESIDENT Doak S. Campbell will open the conference Thursday morning with an address "Recreation is Serious Business."

A panel discussion on the selection, training, placement and rating of recreation workers will be held Thursday morning with Paul Austin, superintendent of recreation, Columbus, Ga., presiding. Two additional panels will take place Thursday afternoon on "Effective Public Relations" and "Pet Program Ideas."

"FLYING HIGH," FSU's famous circus, under the direction of Coach Jack Hanes, will perform aerial feats before the conference delegates at 4:30 p.m.

Recreation in the defense program will be discussed Thursday night with Sherwood Gates, director of the Community Services, U. S. A. F., president. Panel members will include A. E. Casgrain, deputy chief of community services, U. S. Army; George Adams, Defense Recreation Service, N. R. A., and a representative from the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the U. S. Navy.

FRIDAY MORNING two panel discussions on "A Pattern for Community Cooperation" and "Community Recreation" will be conducted.

Ed Parker, Industrial Relations Department, Callaway Mills, La Grange, Ga., will act as the professor in a panel entitled, "Professor Bliz, My Problem is . . ." to be given Friday afternoon.

Additional exhibitions have been made by the FSU Orpheans and the Tarpon Club.

Closing the conference Saturday afternoon will be a dinner at Wakulla Springs Lodge near Tallahassee. Joseph Prendergast, executive director, National Recreation Association, will make the principal address during the dinner. Toastmaster will be "Mally" Mallison, superintendent of recreation in Jacksonville.

Second U.G.A.

(Continued from Page 1)

fice of vice-president in charge of men's affairs.

Tom Perkins and Jean Wetherell are running for treasurer of the UGA, and Jan Abrugast and Mrs. Jerry Thomas, the former Imogene Hair, for Forums chairman.

CARL EPPERMAN, chairman of the elections committee, announced that three or four precincts will be open today. There will be one in lower Westcott, in the Seminole dining hall, and weather permitting, on the east side of the Education building. If possible, there will also be a roving precinct, he said.

The Seminole precinct will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. All others will open at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

THE CABINET system amendment has been the subject of controversy almost from its inception. Beside; internal opposition in the Student Senate, the bill ran into trouble when Senior Class President Dick Bradley condemned the measure.

The amendment would abolish the existing executive council and replace it with a cabinet appointed by the UGA president. It was finally passed on its third reading in special session.

AN AMENDMENT "to provide for changing name and have all people who pay activity fee be able to vote" would extend the franchise in student elections to graduate students. Another provides that elected officers of the UGA may be impeached by a ⅔ vote of the Senate, or conviction by the Honor Court, on charges of malfeasance of office.

Students were also to have voted on whether they want the WFSU station manager to be elected. Stan Gould, present station manager, asked yesterday if he expected the faculty committee to pass the amendment, said, "We will be disappointed if the amendment is not on the ballot tomorrow."

Roy Flynn, director of radio, noted, "The value of the amendment is two-fold: One, it puts the campus station into student hands and is controlled directly by the students; and two, it makes the station manager a major position in the student government."

Classified Ads

LOST: Yellow Gold, crescent shaped pin, set in pearls. Finder, please notify Mrs. Weaver, Payroll Department.

LOST: Gold dinner ring, three diamonds. Somewhere on West Campus. If found please return to Norma Strickland, Box 4438, West Campus. Reward.

WOULD appreciate exchange of white coats picked up by mistake at Military Ball. June Perkins, 537 Gilchrist.

PEDAL PUSHERS

AT PUSH-OVER PRICES

REPEAT OF A SELL-OUT IN COTTON TWILL

- Wearable
- Washable
- Wonderful

In Navy • Yellow Red • Aqua and Blue Denim

$2.98

Sizes 10-18

MAYERON'S
College Corner at Adams

576 women from 224 colleges taking secretarial training at Gibbs

Special Course for College Women. Five-fifty personal (shorthand) service. Write College Dean for catalog.

KATHARINE GIBBS
BOSTON 16, 90 Marlborough St. NEW YORK 17, 230 Park Ave.
CHICAGO 11, 720 N. Michigan Ave. PROVIDENCE 6, R. I., 155 Angell St.

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Ben Franklin Printed:

"He that can take rest is greater than he that can take cities."
B. Franklin
Poor Richard's Almanac, 1733

There's a time to pause in every activity. When you make that pause refreshing with ice-cold Coca-Cola you can take what comes with ease.

5¢ DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
© 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Make a note of this— You Can

STOP WORRYING ABOUT CIGARETTE IRRITATION

because...

PHILIP MORRIS IS ENTIRELY FREE OF A SOURCE OF IRRITATION USED IN ALL OTHER LEADING CIGARETTES!

To YOU this means MORE SMOKING PLEASURE!

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Do you feel tired and slumbish —try some of our thick shakes for pep and energy

We Specialize In Hamburgers Home Made Pie Waffles

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

FANS STILL GO—When the basketball scandals first came to light over a year ago, the men "in the know," forecast nothing but doom and gloom for the nation's number one spectator sport.

While all the dirt hasn't been swept away yet, it looks as if the game is back on its feet again if it was ever off. When the scandals first broke, some of the larger metropolitan drawing cards such as West Virginia, Long Island and Kentucky declared they had performed for the last time in the cozy Yankee Stadium—Madison Square Garden.

While the absence of some of the name outfits was visibly hurt, the last were records at the Garden the fans are turning out in droves in the early part of the season for the current National Invitational Tournament now under way in New York.

16,422 were counted at the opening contest between Western Kentucky and Louisville—a sellout, and the largest streaut since the scandals broke. New York isn't the only place that the cage faithful turn out, however. Another sell-out crowd of 12,000 was on hand to see the finals of the Southern Conference tourney between North Carolina State and Duke which the Tarheels won for the sixth straight time.

Up in Madison, Wis., 12,000 fans jammed the University of Wisconsin field house to watch the home-town Badgers turn back Big Ten Champion Illinois.

Attendance at the Seminoles' home games was considerably down over the 1951 mark for the first few tilts but as the Indians' fortunes picked up, so did the crowds, and for the last three contests, near-capacity crowds were on hand.

When a team is experiencing a losing season, a drop at the box office can be expected and taking into consideration the Seminoles record, the attendance wasn't bad at all.

* * *

For the first time since it was originated four years ago, the Seminoles were left off the All-State cage team sponsored by the Florida Times-Union. However, the Seminoles received some consolation when scoring star Tom Maclauchlin was named to a second team berth. Two other FSU players, Capt. Bob Whitmer and Sophomore forward Jerry Westhafer received over three votes apiece to rate honorable mention.

Maclaughlin climaxes up the first team, Florida's Rick Casares, Miami's Cy Chadroff, Tampa's George Moniz, Jim Tavenière of Stetson and Frank Barker of Rollins, would make trouble for anyone as a unit.

The team averages six feet, two-and-a-half inches, has scored 1939 points in 106 games for a 18.3 average and is composed of only one senior, three juniors and one sophomore.

Maclaughlin incidentally was named in the first team in 1949 and has been in the running for a first team position every year since.

* * *

SHORT SHOTS—Jim Pavy, former FSU cager of the 1947-48 era, was the coach of the Malone team that won the state Class C high school basketball crown. Pavy is completing his second season in the helm of the Malone five. . . .

Larry Dickson, another ex-Seminole performer and captain of last year's tennis squad, was named to the all-star state AAU tournament team last weekend. Dickson played for the Tampa Air Conditioning club in his team was thawed out by Towers of Jacksonville in the semi-finals.

The Tampa Spartans, winners of the District 25 NAIB basketball crown, faced a real tough test last night when they went against Hamline in the opening round of the national tourney in Kansas City. The classy Hamline cagers, defending champions and considered the team to beat for this year's title, have rolled up an impressive record in the state AAU while Tampa owns a lackluster 9-13 record. But the Spartans, who went to the tourney finals two years ago, have played a tougher schedule and have a habit of catching fire in the post season tilts. . . . The Georgia Teachers College baseball team should put in a bid for the busiest team of the week or any week when they open their diamond slate. The Professors will play 11 games in 13 days, nine of which are in Florida

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
Today and Wednesday
Quebec
With John Barrymore Jr. and Corinne Calvet

Thursday thru Saturday
At Sword's Point
With Cornel Wilde and Maureen O'Hara

STATE
Today and Wednesday
The Belle of New York
With Fred Astaire and Vera Ellen

Thursday for a Week
Bend of The River
With James Stewart and Arthur Kennedy

RITZ
Today and Wednesday
Cyrano
With Jose Ferrer

Thursday thru Saturday
Hollywood Story
With Richard Conte and Wm Gene Autry

Beyond the Purple Hills

DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
Across the Wide Missouri
In Technicolor
With Clark Gable

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

INTRAMURALS

By VIC BUSGAITIS

The men's intramural touch football league moves into the final week of regular play yesterday with most of the attention being turned toward the fraternity loop. Delta Theta and Theta Chi stand at the top of the standings followed closely by Sigma Chi, while the USAF seven has already clinched the Dormitory league title.

In the fraternity league on Monday PKP beat PBT 12-0 in a previously cancelled game.

Tuesday saw a tie game between Kappa Alpha and Theta Chi, both teams having four first downs. Lambdo Chi Alpha won from ATO four first downs to two, PKP won over Kappa Sigma 6-0, SAE slid by PKA 6-0, Delta Tau Delta won over Sigma Nu, and Phi Delta Theta ran over SPE 18-8.

In the contests played on Wednesday, PBT won over Lambda Chi Alpha five first downs to three, PKP won under protest from Kappa Alpha, ATO slipped by Kappa Sigma 7-6, Sigma Chi ran over Sigma Nu 18-0, and Phi Delta Theta won their fifth straight to move into a first place tie with Theta Chi by clamming Delta Tau Delta 20-0.

Dormitory Team Yardage Standings
(Up to March 9 inc.)

Team	W	L	T
USAF	5	0	0
Newman Club	4	1	0
Med-A	3	2	0
Med-B	2	3	0
401	1	4	0
1941	0	5	0

Tabot by Norbert.

As usual no games were played in the dorm league last week. In the games scheduled last Monday the only winners were USAF winning forfeit from the Newman Club team, thereby placing them in first place in the dorm league.

The only other game won was taken by the battling seven who won 39t when the 39G team failed to appear.

In Wednesday's games, only one team appeared—the USAF team who won their fifth straight by forfeit. All the other scheduled games were lost by double forfeit.

STANDINGS

Team	W	L
Delta Theta	5	0
Theta Chi	5	0
Sigma Chi	4	1
L. A. E.	3	2
Lambda Chi	3	2
P. K. P.	3	2
Sigma Nu	2	3
Kappa Alpha	2	3
A. T. O.	1	3
P. B. T.	1	4
Delta Tau Delta	1	4
S. P. E.	0	5
Kappa Sigma	0	5

Women's Softball Now Underway

The women's intramural softball tournament began Monday March 10, with fourteen sororities being represented.

Those sororities that will play in the tournament will be Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Zeta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Mu, Sigma Kappa, Zeta Tau Alpha.

The tournament will last for about four weeks according to Cynthia Mink, chairman for the intramurals.

Seminoles "Beefy" At Tackle Slots

Coach Don Veller should have plenty of beef at the tackle positions in future years if you can judge by the weight of the boys who have indicated they will enter school here next Fall.

Heavyweight of the candidates so far, is 250-pound Dan Strickland of Stephnopo. Others who have revealed their intentions of attending Florida State next year are 240-pound George Boyer of Jacksonville, 235-pound Gene Arcamonie of Miami, 195-pound James Dean of Montgomery, Ala., 180-pound Ted Williams of Tallahassee and Eddie Johnson of Charleston, W. Va.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

For that Casual Well-Dressed Look...
STYLE-MART Sport Coats and Slacks
Here now! Style-Mart Sport Coats in a super selection of greys, blues and tans... each master-tailored to make you look your best. Also a fine selection of tropical slacks in colors to blend or contrast with your Style-Mart sport coats.
STYLE-MART Sport Coats
COATS FROM $22.50
SLACKS FROM $5.95

STUDENTS
JUST FOR YOU... A WEDNESDAY
FRIED CHICKEN SPECIAL
★ ½ Fried Chicken
★ Fr. Fr. Potatoes
★ Chef Salad
★ Drink ★ Dessert
For Only
$1.00
Remember, Wednesday Only— The NEW TALLAHASSEE CAFE Brings you this colossal "Student Daily" Special.
Bring your friends and have a party—You'll like the NEW TALLAHASSEE CAFE
119 S. Adams
Across from Baptist Church

Nic's Joggery
Next to Seven Seas

Golfers Open 1952 Slate This Thursday

Florida State University will open its collegiate fairway doors Thursday, March 13, when the Seminole golf team squares off against Jacksonville Navy at Jacksonville.

According to the schedule released by Athletic Director Howard G. Danford, the Florida State golfers will compete in eleven dual meets, one tri-angular meet, and at least two tournaments.

THE SEMINOLES, who won eight of their eleven matches for one of the best records in the South last year, face an even tougher schedule in 1952. Listed among their opponents this Spring are such fine teams as Georgia, Georgia Tech, Rollins, Citadel, and Alabama.

Coach Bob Marbison will have four returning lettermen around with which to build this year's Florida State squad—Sonny Tinney, Jimmy Jones, and Tommy Brown, all of Tallahassee, and Tom Combee of Quincy.

TINNEY, a monogram winner here in 1948, 1949 and 1950, returns to the squad after a year's layoff as does James, a 1950 letterman. Brown and Combee were members of last year's Indian squad.

Newcomers who have shown promise and are sure to see some action this season are junior Frank Hirt of Tallahassee and freshman Jude Dunfee of South Bend, Indiana, who was a medalist in the Indiana state high school tournament last season.

COACH HARRISON is building much of his hopes for another successful season on the play of Tinney, rated one of the finest young amateur golfers in the South today. While a member of Florida State teams, Tinney won the Florida Intercollegiate title in 1948 and the Dixie Conference crown in 1949 and 1950.

March 13—Jacksonville Navy at Jax.
March 14—Rollins College at Winter Park
March 17—Stetson University at DeLand
March 20-21—Florida intercollegiate at DeLand
March 24—Georgia Tech at Tallahassee
March 28-29—Georgia at Tallahassee
March 31—The Citadel at Tallahassee
April 3—Rollins College at Tallahassee
April 4—Stetson Univ. at Tallahassee
April 26-28—Jax Navy at Tallahassee
April 28—Mercer University at Macon, Ga
April 29—Georgia at Atlanta (triangular
April 30—Georgia Tech at Atlanta
(Georgia to be hosts at Athens, Ga.)
May 1, 2, 3—Southern Intercollegiate at Athens, Ga.

F.S.U. Teams Slate Action; Grid Drills in Second Week

Sports activity picks up here this week with the gymnastics, golf and volleyball teams all seeing action, while Spring football drills move in the second week and the baseball, track and tennis squads are stepping up their daily drills for the season opener.

Coach Hartley Price's national champion FSU gym team will defend its Southern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League title in the east campus gymnasium Saturday night while its eSeminole Golfers, coached by Bob Harbison journey to Jacksonville Thursday for a match with the Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Coach Ralph Matherly's baseball nine has two more weeks of practice before they meet Mercer College here next weekend and the FSU trackmen are working for the Florida Relays that get underway in Gainesville this Friday.

THE SEMINOLE GOLFERS moved into their second week of spring practice yesterday and in last week's drills mean anything, the footballers are in for another rough five weeks.

Commenting on the practice sessions, Coach Don Veller said, "So far this has been the best spring practice since I have been at Florida State University—our players are definitely showing more team spirit than they have at any other spring season at all here."

HOWEVER Doleful Don got back into character quickly and added, "We've just scratched the surface on the weeks we must go to face next year's schedule. Although the squad we have on hand for spring practice is working hard, it is more obvious than ever that we are going to draw heavily on Freshmen in the Fall for reserve strength, and maybe some first team positions."

All last week Veller put the Seminoles through long contact drills and staged hour-long scrimmages every afternoon.

ON FRIDAY the Indian mentor put his charges through a long offensive scrimmage, alternating his two top offensive elevens against the red-shirted defensive team.

On his first offensive team Veller had Co-captain Curt Campbell and Ted Morrill at ends, co-captain Vic Sczepanik and Charley Brown at tackles, Earl O'Neal and Charley Booth at guards and Steve Kalenich at center.

In the backfield Veller had Billy Mac Huey at quarterback, Bobby Fiveash at left half, Dave Simsen at right half and Nelson Italiano at fullback.

Al "Crazylegs" Woodham got away on two long scoring dashes while Harry Brinsger also slipped away on a long touchdown jaunt.

Helping Hand?

WITH his hand touching the crossbar, the Ken Buck Richards tries unsuccessfully to better Cornelius Warmerdam's world record pole vault of 15 feet 8½ inches during the Knights of Columbus meet in New York's Madison Square Garden. Earlier Bob did break the meet and Garden mark by scaring 15 feet 4 inches. (International)

Garnet Key Feted

Gold Key members will give a party for the members of Garnet Key tonight at 8:30 in the Longmire lounge.

The regular meeting will be held Wednesday at 5. Fourth floor, Longmire building

FSU Gymnasts Prepare For S.I.G.L. Meet

Bill Roetzheim, displaying his usual peerless form, notched first places out of a possible seven as he led the Seminole gymnasts through his difficult Olympic compulsory exercises Saturday morning in the East Campus Gymnasium.

"The Rocket," America's number one gymnast, conquered him in the calisthenics, parallel bars, horizontal bar, side horse and all around events.

Gene Abrahamson proved to be the dark horse of the meet by pulling a surprise upset as he topped the Seminoles top five by a round men to win the long horse event.

The sole remainine first place was claimed by Joe Reyes who won the still rings title. Joe is a definite threat to score in the event in the coming AAU nationals.

The exercises used in the meet were the compulsory routines that should be mastered at the comine AAU national meet to which the U. S. Olympic team will be chosen.

According to Coach Price, "FSU's defending champions have a long way to go before the National meet. With the exception of Roetzheim the squad must strengthen its compulsory routines."

In the meantime the varsity squad will defend its Southern Intercollegiate title Saturday night in the Women's Gym

Botany Class Tours Killearn Gardens

Students from the introductory botany classes were taken on a tour of Killearn Gardens last week by Dr. Samuel L. Meyer and Dr. Kenneth A. Wagner, both of the botany department.

The botany students studied the garden from the aspect of developing attractive landscaping.

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference— and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S. M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

Her Lucky shopping was complete And stored away the chute, "And now," she said, "I earned this treat, A carton for myself!"
Roncee Roisse
University of Oklahoma

Though cigarettes may look alike, There's really not the same; There's all the difference in the world And Lucky Strike's its name!
George W. Martin, Jr.
University of Virginia

I've started smoking Lucky Strike— They are undoubtedly The world's best-tasting cigarettes Just try one and you'll see!
Alan W. Koppee
Lehigh University

LUCKY STRIKE
"IT'S TOASTED"
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
"AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES"

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 38 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Friday, March 14, 1952

IN JAIL—For awhile, at least, a group of FSU students in Dr. Coyte Moore's class in Criminology and Penology spent two hours in the Federal Correctional Institution on the outskirts of Tallahassee. The FCI is under direction of Warden Shuttleworth, a nationally known authority in the field of penology and social work.

Four UGA Officers Elected; Two Amendments Passed

The four final University Government association officers and two amendments were passed in the second primary election last Tuesday.

Milton Chambers was selected vice-president in charge of legislative affairs; Jim Dye, vice-president in charge of men's affairs; Jean Wetherall, treasurer of the UGA; and Jan Arbogast, forums chairman.

ONE AMENDMENT passed adds six members to the Judicial court. At present there are six men and six women on the men's and women's courts, respectively, and the full twelve meet for the combined court.

The new amendment adds three members for each sex, two from each class. Each of the nine will sit on the separate courts, but when the court combines to hear a case involving both men and women, only juniors and seniors will have votes.

THE ABOVE COURT amendment was passed by a 738 to 122 margin.

The other amendment makes it possible for any elected officer of the UGA to be impeached by the Senate or University court for malfeasance of office.

The impeachment amendment passed quite a stir when it was announced a few months ago but it was passed by an overwhelming 816 to 42 vote.

NOW THERE IS an amendment about the bill. The Senate Constitution committee ruled that vote for the Flambeau went to press that the amendment was null and void because of certain ambiguities in its wording.

They will propose in the next Senate meeting that a clause in bill be passed and a new election be held for this amendment.

Some 899 students voted in the Tuesday election, as compared with the approximately 1800 who cast ballots in the first primary.

FSU Debaters Compete Today

Thirteen Florida State University students will compete against entries from Miami, Jacksonville, and the Mobile branch of the University of Alabama in the Third Annual FSU Invitational Debate Tournament being held here today and tomorrow at the Baptist Church school building.

FSU has entered two four-man debate units, according to Dr. James Pfifer, director of the debate. The first unit is composed of Arlene Amend and Katherine Strickland, affirmative team, and Leah LePlante and Peter Simkoff on the negative team.

THE SECOND FSU unit consists of Teresa Stein and William Guy Jr., affirmative and Wallace Dynes and Janice Arbogast, with John Harscopos, alternate.

The question being considered for debaters today is "Resolved: that the Federal government should adopt a permanent system of wage and price controls." Tomorrow, in the "problem solving" phase, the debaters will consider what can be done to solve the problem in the United States.

OTHER FSU ENTRANTS are Nolen Bordman, Tallahassee, in radio oratory; Jean Flynn, and Joe Nimbell, in discussion-extemporaneous speaking; prospective lawyers, Lonnie Carper, and Robert Hogan, in oral interpretation, and Polly Lassiter, or Janice Reed in after dinner speaking.

Students have been chosen to represent the University in extemporaneous speaking duels. They are Percy Brett Sutton, Joanne Jeffers, Helen Lawand Sara Margaret Davis.

Several FSU classes will watch the debates in session this morning. They include a public interpretation performance at 8, the oratory finals at 9, and the extemporaneous speaking duels at 10.

L'Apache Elects Next Year's Officers

L'Apache has elected the following officers for the coming year: Bob Stewart, Phi Kappa, president; Bob Stewart, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, vice-president; Harold Taylor, Delta Tau Delta, treasurer; and Joe Cross, Kappa Alpha, secretary.

Plans are being made for the initiation of this year's new taps.

OUTSTANDING IN ROTC—Paul Carey, a senior, receives congratulations from Col. E. S. Barr as the outstanding ROTC senior this semester. Carey, who is Pharmacy in public administration, is interning in the City Manager's office during the next three months.

Career Planning Conference Ends With Discussions

The career planning conference dealing with career opportunities for college students was climaxed Thursday night with discussions of various opportunities.

Anthropology, Geography, Cartography and conservation, insurance and real estate, library work, management nursing, physical sciences, psychology, religious work, retailing and secretarial work were among opportunities discussed.

AN ADVISORY committee composed of faculty members and students arranged the conference in cooperation with the FSU Vocational Guidance and Placement office. Mrs. Margaret Blair of that department was in charge of the overall program.

Students attending the sessions gathered valuable points of information regarding careers in several vocational fields.

The discussions were opportunities in the recreational field, W. C. Stuckenbrock said. Students that women were especially needed for work in that profession. Mr. Stuckenbrock is district director for the National Recreation Association in New York City. The recreation authority said Wednesday night that salaries and opportunities for recreation employees were steadily improving.

STUDENTS INTERESTED in the teaching profession received a well-rounded view of the occupation as Dr. Lewis Jones and Dr. Ralph Sagers in that field from three speakers on the teaching panel agreed that a good school teacher must like children and that the children must like the teacher. They added that a teacher must enjoy helping and guiding young people.

Other career opportunities were touched on in the fields of dentistry with Dr. Eugene Davis as the speaker; pharmacy, with Dr. Velma Keen; medical technology, Mr. William Macklin; medicine, Dr. Lewis Hammond; journalism, Mr. Edward Schlesinger; personnel work, Mrs. Ruth Cameron; secretarial work, Miss Ruth Cameron; and salesmanship, FSU faculty members.

Social Standards Book To Be Issued

The University Executive council after many months of work has passed approval of a new social standards booklet in its meeting last Tuesday.

Evelyn Raulerson, chairman of the University governing association Social Standards committee, presented members of the council with drafts of the proposed booklets.

SHE REMARKED that there would be color more illustrations and is larger format than in previous booklets. She also expressed the hope that the name could be changed from the present "Between Friends" to something more eye-catching.

The committee chairman explained that the booklet had been written down to the "student level" by making it the form of conversation between "Susie and Sammy Smartstep."

VARIOUS VISITORS and executive council members questioned the committee's duties to set up standards of right and wrong, and Raulerson came in for some friendly kidding, but eventually the Council approved.

Dick Bradley, president of the senior class, proposed definite steps for setting up a Hall of Fame on campus. He said the matter of Who's Who would still have to be dealt with by the student government and the student body.

Amendment Stalling Is Senate Topic

Senate Is 'Dissatisfied'; Jackson, Mims Oppose Amendments at Board

Reports and comments on Monday's stalling of proposed constitutional amendments by the faculty reviewing Board were top business on the agenda in the last Senate meeting.

President-elect Mary Ruth Summers made a complete report on the meeting, while Senators Ignacio Sved, Phil Sprunger and others added additional information and expressed the general dissatisfaction of student leaders that the measures were not passed.

SENATOR SUMMERS stated that by actual count she was disappointed that the students had not had a chance to vote on the amendments as set forth after were very important.

She and five other student senators attended the meeting to present the student body's views on the matter and left with the impression that the faculty-administration group did not understand.

The results of the meeting, however, were unsuccessful from the student point of view.

"STUDENTS PUT in hours and hours of their time on these projects," she stated, "only to have a short hour just 'yes' or 'no'."

Bill Jackson stated that the most controversial issue discussed was the proposal to set up an attorney-general under a cabinet system.

Besides various board members' opposition to the bill, Dr. Ralph Noon, University court chairman, and Patty Mims of the judicial court spoke out against the plan. Summers said she thought the two students should have spoken earlier, rather than confuse the issue at such a crucial time.

"PATTY AND ALICE were not representative of the whole court system," she stated. "They spoken to other court members who are in favor of the proposal."

Another point of dissention was the proposed secretary of labor. Dean of Student Welfare A. Brownell Culpepper thought that student working conditions a very ideal job and that the position might create friction.

Senator Sved echoed Summers' ides that the committee had died

Continued on Page 3

Ordering Due On Invitations From Interns

Interns planning to graduate in June should buy their announcement at the office there today before leaving on their internship program, Senior Class President, Dick Bradley stated emphatically yesterday:

It is imperative that the invitations be ordered from the University Book Store today to eliminate later mailing difficulties in the Book Store, Bradley noted. It would cause great confusion to Mr. Gordon Wheeler, manager of the store, he said.

THREE KINDS of announcements are being offered. Leather bound ones are 75 cents, Dutch bound ones, 25 cents and the regular announcements without any lining are 15 cents. The direct announcement are priced at 15 cents. These 15 cents announcements are like the ones the graduating class was offered.

Bradley also said that tassels may be bought at any time for 40 cents. The tassels will be selected according to the School to which the student is enrolled.

NAME CARDS may be ordered also for the invitations, the Senior president said.

Interns should pick up their invitations at the Book Store before they leave this weekend, Bradley said that he was unsure if the Senior Diploma fees do not have to be

Continued on Page 3

Traffic Court May Not Collect Fines According to Ervin

The University Government Traffic Court may not collect fines for traffic violations on campus according to a ruling by Attorney General Richard W. Ervin.

The ruling came after a request from President Doak S. Campbell that the Board of Control allow the University to collect fines from the students parking in restricted zones, Jess Salyers, Vice-president in charge of Legislative Affairs reported to Executive Counsel Tuesday.

"It may be," Ervin stated in a letter to the Board of Control, "that you can collect fines by voluntary payment from each student."

Vice-president Martin commenting on Ervin's ruling, stated that "the only legal body that can collect fines is the city courts but the student traffic court can make some cooperative agreement with the courts."

The school is authorized to "make rules and regulations" but only by disciplinary measures," said Martin.

Ervin has previously stated that "infractions of your lawful regulations by students, faculty and employes may be punished by other disciplinary measures."

The UGA traffic code has been in operation since last fall and the student university traffic violations with fines from 50 cents to $1.

Circle 'K' Elects Hamrick President

Circle K, an extension of high school Key Club, has elected Jim Hamrick its new president.

The charter for the chapter will be presented next Tuesday at 7:30 by Kiwanis International which sponsors the organization.

Other officers elected at the first regular meeting are Ted Beidemeyer, secretary; George McDaniel, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors, Merrill Moore, George Story, Jerry Jones and Ted Angelis.

Mr. Edward Steinmeyer, President of the Tallahassee Kiwanis Club, Mr. Kent Hall, member of the Tallahassee Kiwanis Club's Circle K committee, and Circle K Moore past president of Florida Key Club were visitors.

Play Opens Tomorrow With Free Admission

Students Will Be Admitted To Afternoon Performance

A matinee performance of "Biography" with free student admission will open at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow when Doris Dalton, Broadway star, brings professional acting to Florida State University. The show will open tonight at 8:15 for the general public with 75 cents admission.

Senate Passes Election Plan

A revised 10-point plan for summer election procedure was approved by Women's Senate Wednesday and will be presented at the next Faculty Reviewing Board for approval.

Mary Helen Speed, acting vice-president in charge of Women's Affairs, explained that the senate prepared the revision to offset the lack of attendance of last year's election. Mary Helen was elected to act as the Women Senate chairman during the internship of Chairman Betty Rich.

THE AMENDED in the revision was the statement that the chairman for summer elections preside over organizational meetings during the first few days of a semester. At this time, the chairman of judicial representative and a fire marshall will be elected.

Nominations will be made previous to this by members of the House Presidents' Council, entering vice-president of Women's Affairs and Judiciary chairman.

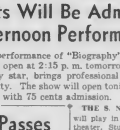
THE DUTY of this committee is to list at least two candidates for each office, investigate scholastic eligibility of the proposed candidates and notify them. The committee is also responsible for naming the dorm election chairman according to the revision.

The remaining plan has will be the same as last year.

Students may submit candidates' names to the vice-president after the list has been published in the Flambeau. No additional nominations may be made from the floor during the election.

SUMMER JUDICIARY, made up of the house president and representatives from each summer session dorm, will handle all cases involving women students not handled by house councils.

It was also announced that early next week the Panhellenic Sophomore council elections will be distributed by Senate members.



TO CLARIFY the scope and the meaning of the recently passed "Open Door Night Rule" Senate members changed the wording to read "A Friday-and or-Saturday night limit in every room at one week-end." By clarifying the wording of the rule, the Senate will release restrictions formerly placed on freshmen women who are limited as to the number of weekends per semester that they may leave campus.

Alleviation of former problems of confusion, Senators Lois Stroup and Pat Coy will work with Miss Elizabeth Lyon, assistant dean of women, to formulate new regulations for Pan Hellenic weekend guests.

THE S. N. BEHRMAN comedy will play in the Augusta Conrad theater. Student admission only requires the presentation of an ID card tomorrow.

The first four evening performances including tonight, tomorrow night, Monday and Tuesday will require admission charge. These performances are regular Community Series productions of the department of speech.

THE PLAY WILL continue March 19, 20, 21, 22, 24 and 25 under the sponsorship of the Artist Series at which time students will be admitted free again with their ID cards. A matinee performance will also be shown the 22.

Miss Doris Dalton

The 75 cents tickets may be secured from the department of speech and mail orders may be sent to the theater box office.

Telephone reservations may be made through extension 2051.

THE BOX OFFICE will be open from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. and on the nights of the performances. All seats for the play will be reserved.

The show opening tonight and tomorrow afternoon will feature students including Beatrice Lambert as understudy of Miss Dalton, and Robert Hogan, Jean Flynn as Minnie, David Lowe as Leonard, William Dunas Nolan and Kenneth Martin as Wilson. Also in the cast are Hoyt Brown as Orrin Kidder, Anne Gregoire and Bert Hollander as Max Kimmel.

MISS DALTON'S appearance was arranged through the cooperation of the American National Theater and Academy. The non-profit organization, chartered by the U. S. Congress in 1935 has for its primary aim the "Stimulation of interest in the drama and bringing to all Americans their heritage of the past, the best of the present day and the development of better drama in the future."

The actress has just finished a production "Seventeen" which was a musical. She had one over

Continued on Page 3

Campus Chest Collects $1000

Final Totals To Be Told At Executive Council

Over $1,000 has been collected for the Campus Charity Chest, but final totals are still not available, drive chairman Shirley Hurlbert informed yesterday.

The exact total turned in was recorded at a late hour, several dorms have failed to report their collections, and the student houses have not turned in their collection.

Last year's drive netted $1,200, but enrollment was higher at the time.

Considering divided interest because of UGA election week, Chairman Hurlbert termed the drive "successful" and reported that the majority of students responded favorably to the drive.

The slogan of the campaign was "Are You Asleep?" and featured such money raising stunts as pencil sales, two show shine stands, a two-day "football" game and an apple sale.

DAVE PINSON won the Gamma Chi Electric dummy contest for the drive. Guesses of the number of pennies in a jar totaled from $6 to $300. Dave guessed 2,345, only six away from the actual number of 2,339.

The proceeds from the Campus Chest will go to the World Student Service Fund, United Funds, Heart fund, Polio fund, and a general fund to be used for the committee.

Shirley stated that the exact totals and breakdown of those donating will be reported to the UGA executive council and will be read by Speed Hall Tribunal.

The goal of the drive was $1 per person or approximately $3,500 for the students on campus.

Meyers Is Winner Of First Prize In Talent Show

One hundred dollars worth of prizes were given away at the annual Amateur talent show Wednesday night with Jerry Meyers winner first prize.

Meyers, presented with a lighter, a sport shirt, perfume and a corsage, and a pair of hugger pants.

Second and third prizes were presented Bob Doherty, Tri Lamadro and Rose Smith and Jane Sheppard and Jimmy Harris respectively.

A WALLET, lingerie and a sport shirt made up the second prize and third place winners received a free haircut, a novel and a sport shirt. Judges were members of the local merchants.

Master of Ceremonies Jim Hallightted the show when Bob Dobry sang the lively "Dear Old Donegal" and an audience response carried to the familiar strains of Bob' "Dance Ballerina Dance" and "Softly".

TIL LOMASTRO and Rosa Smith combined piano and voice in the popular "Only You" and "It's You I Love". Original words and music to both pieces were penned by Til.

The competition for one hundred dollars in prizes was begun with a piano duo rendition of "Tiger Rag" by Jane Sheppard and Jimmy Harris. Next, comedian Dave Davis offered Cisco Houston of Sam Shilo Detective, a take-off on modern radio's detective stories.

THE LORELEI VOCAL was added to the show with Marian Matlaire's "Can't Help Lovin' That Man of Mine," accompanied by Mary Harris at the piano.

The audience response carried to New York for a brief moment by the Phi Tau Warters as they had a sing-along with Mitch Miller and were whisked back home again to the Florida State scene by a Negro spiritual, "Ezekiel's Wheel."

A circus fanfare brought Bobby Stanton and Pattie Payne sit a stage in an unusual and well-recognized acrobatic balancing act.

FEATURED attractions sprinkled throughout the show included a ballet dance performed by members of Cavaliers and Gold Dust.

GREEK GRADE AVERAGES

Sororities Get More A's Than Frats!

By BRUCE GALPHIN

A number of years ago, Nelson A. Crawford made a comparison of the scholastic standings of four groups: sorority and non-sorority women, fraternity and non-fraternity men in "Goddesses of Learning." American Mercury, Nov., 1931.

He came to the conclusion that in the typical college, sorority women had the highest averages, non-sorority women the next, then by non-fraternity men, with the fraternity brothers at the bottom of the heap.

A PERUSAL of last semester's grades for Florida State University students shows the trend is present but the same old order is changed.

Phi Mu's 1.718 average is compared to the 1.514 average of Kappa Alpha Theta and the 1.491 average of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Kappa Alpha's 1.681 average is followed by Kappa Delta's 1.631 average.

Alpha Xi Delta's 1.630 average is followed by Alpha Chi Omega's 1.542 average.

Zeta Tau Alpha's 1.523 average is followed by Chi Omega's 1.504 average.

Alpha Omicron Pi's 1.511 average is followed by Pi Beta Phi's 1.497 average.

Delta Delta Delta's 1.466 average is followed by Alpha Delta Pi's 1.461 average.

SORORITY AVERAGES
Sorority Women	1.572
Non-sorority women	1.404

Phi Mu Pledges 1.564
Actives 1.504
Alumnae 1.718
Kappa Alpha Pledges 1.514
Actives 1.681
Alumnae 1.491
Alpha Gamma Delta Pledges 1.681
Actives 1.631
Kappa Delta Pledges 1.531
Actives 1.630
Alumnae 1.542
Alpha Chi Omega Pledges 1.523
Actives 1.504
Alumnae 1.504
Zeta Tau Alpha Pledges 1.511
Actives 1.497
Alumnae 1.497
Pi Beta Phi Pledges 1.466
Actives 1.461
Alumnae 1.461
Alpha Delta Pi Pledges 1.425
Actives 1.404
Alumnae 1.404
Chi Omega Pledges 1.404
Actives 1.404
Alumnae 1.404

The FIGURES point to other trends. The higher the student's class standing the higher his average is likely to be.

Freshmen averaged a meager 0.948, with the men contributing 0.639 and the women 1.535.

SOPHOMORES FARED better the men's Fraternities

Sigma Chi	1.406
Pledges	1.104
Actives	1.148
Alumnae	1.376
Pi Kappa Phi	1.376
Pledges	1.298
Actives	1.290
Alumnae	0.774
Pi Kappa Alpha	1.089
Pledges	1.084
Actives	1.072
Alumnae	0.970
Phi Kappa Tau	1.067
Pledges	0.951
Actives	1.126
Alumnae	0.998
Sigma Nu	1.044
Pledges	0.966
Actives	1.219
Alumnae	0.921
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1.022
Pledges	0.918
Actives	1.112
Alumnae	0.964
Lambda Chi Alpha	1.009
Actives	0.941
Alumnae	1.076

AVERAGES
Fraternity men	1.005
Non-fraternity men	0.938

Phi Beta Chi 1.405
Theta Chi 1.405
Phi Delta Theta 1.405
Delta Tau Delta 1.405
Phi Kappa Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Kappa Sig Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Sigma Phi Epsilon Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Kappa Tau Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Sigma Tau Omega Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Delta Tau Delta Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Phi Delta Theta Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376
Lambda Chi Alpha Pledges 1.376
Actives 1.376
Alumnae 1.376

AVERAGES
Fraternities	1.376
Non-fraternity men	1.376

Chi led the masculine side of the Greek picture with 1.406 while Phi Delta Theta hit the skids with an 0.821. The overall fraternity average was 1.029.

The difference between the sororities and non-sororities women with 1.527 and non-fraternity men with a 1.322.

with an overall of 1.268, Juniors had a 1.498, while seniors boasted a 1.762. Graduate students were the only group to top a B average with a 2.202.

In each group women's averages were several points above

Continued on Page 3

How to Make Flambeau Pay Ads, Ads and More Ads

How to make a newspaper pay . . . one easy lesson!

This editorial has been written for quite some time. The staff has been tempted to run it in various issues during the year.

It is an editorial of regret. We regret we had to leave out some of the campus news because of the high percentage of advertising.

It is an editorial of thanks. Thanks to our business manager for running a high percentage of advertising so the newspaper will pay.

The student newspaper is "big-business." The total budget for next year will be way over $16,000, 2-3's of which must come from advertising.

The Flambeau made a ples for more student activity money to meet the rising costs. This request has been granted by the faculty-student budget committee but won't take affect until next year. By that time prices for newsprint and printing will probably increase again and there will be a struggle to keep the books in the black.

Many times articles are left out because of advertising.

Many times the amount of advertising is not quite enough for six pages and too much for four pages. Advertising, like buying, is not consistent and the ads may reap returns for the Flambeau one issue and lose money for the paper the next.

As student enrollment drops, the advertising rates must drop likewise. Merchants will not pay high rates for advertising to a small circulation. National advertising rates had to be dropped for this year for this same reason.

The two way stretch; dropped enrollment and decreasing ad rates and rising costs of printing may snap the thin financial string upon which the Flambeau is operating. If it does there will probably be two alternatives:

1. The Flambeau can drop back to a weekly. This was proposed the beginning of last year, but it insulted the very essence of newspaper work . . . getting the news while its fresh and interesting, while its NEWS.

2. Run the semi-weekly issues full of advertising. This would mean some issues would drop interesting and important student news.

Much prestige is gained by having a semi-weekly newspaper. The paper went semi-weekly only after much struggle and work on the part of past Flambeau staffs. The Flambeau is the only student paper in Florida which publishes semi-weekly. It is one of the few papers in the south that comes out more than once a week.

A move toward a weekly is not progress, but regression.

The only alternative, until costs go down, is to publish the Flambeau full of advertising.

● FOR GLORY?

The semester is not yet half over but already the members of UGA Senate have amassed a grand total of 55 unexcused absences. At the end of last year, the Flambeau printed an editorial on Senate attendance, revealing that there were 83 unexcused absences during the semester. It was hoped that this year's senators would be a little more conscientious about the faith which the student body had placed in them.

Comparing the records, it would seem that the present senators have fallen down on the job even more so than their predecessors of last year. At the rate they are going, they ought to reach 100 unexcused absences by the end of the school year, a disgraceful record.

Several of the present Senate members can be proud of their records. Boasting perfect attendance are Senators Sved, Speed, Summers, Ryals, Holloway and Springer. But the Watchbird is frowning on Bunnell, with five absences, and Steinmeyer, Kight, Drake, Landry, Turano, Kennedy and Whitehead with four each.

It is easy to see just who is and who isn't interested in the job. Should we assume that some people run for offices merely for the glory involved?

● WHA' HAPPENED?

The Campus Chest had a goal of $1 for each student campus . . . this is $3,500 or $5,200, or $4,000 according to whose registration figures you wish to use.

The final total collected will be just over $3,000.

Something went wrong!

BEHIND THE IVY

BEWARE OF GREEKS BEARING GIFTS...

By BOB TIPPINS

Vi et armis.

Threats, intimidation and violence seem to be the present college fad, replacing goldfish swallowing. That's true at FSU at any rate.

Editor Griffin has been feeling the wrath of Gamma Omicron Delta the past couple of weeks, with the intensity of said wrath increasing with the tick of the clock. We are now approaching the eleventh hour.

Organized and unorganized letter-them have assailed the Flambeau office en masse, through letters, representatives and in person. Last Tuesday night there was such a large number of frustrated spouse divers in the Griffin beatille it resembled a restaurateurs' convention in sweet Tarpon Springs.

Accusations and ultimatums were hurled like Spartan spears during this informal gathering. Clanking key chains and roaring voices vied for supremacy with the blasts from the Union Main building. Robert sweltered under the vast blasts of hot air, his strength fading. But them, reinforcements arrived and saved the day. The skirmish was ended, the battle begun.

After informing Griffin of the petition being circulated to remove him from office, the local Zeus offered him the alternative of getting off the fraternity kick or having the fraternities kick him off the Flambeau. Such a unified display of brotherhood and single-mindedness of purpose has some unequaled since the first Olympiad, the IFC picket of Westcott.

The mandate issued from the Acropolis behind Senior Hall intimates that Sir Robert is biased, prejudiced, incompetent, independent and, in general, a heel. These bland generalizations and accusations are supposed sufficient to expel our flame-haired editor from his sanctum sanctorum. But the question still remains as to the constitutionality of impeachment.

Main objections spring from the recent firing of Bill Dunn, criticism of juvenile activities attributed to certain members of certain fraternities, and the publication of an independent DOA presidential candidate's picture to the exclusion of the two frat contenders.

Griffin will probably explain these actions—some of them for the second time—to the satisfaction of most fraternity members, many of whom already emphasize that they have no qualms with him. Perhaps then the cause for vilification will cease to exist and the various groups will again go their own, separate ways.

I personally heartily endorse the active, concerted action taken by the revolutionaries in their attempted coup d'etat: It's the first positive unified action taken on the campus this school year. But I sincerely wish that they had backed a more righteous, more substantial issue. This effort will die, and it should die, and its potentialities will be overlooked, and future student cooperative projects will be late-coming.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Greeks Hold Initiations, Installation

By MARCIA MORRIS

Members of Alpha Delta Pi are celebrating their annual weekend beginning with a formal dance tonight at the country club. The theme will be "Rhapsody in Blue." A "Hillbilly Blues" theme will prevail Saturday night when ADPi's and their dates have dinner and a square dance at Camp Flastacowa.

New officers of the Alpha Xi Delta pledge class are Margie Vann, president; Janet Hamrick, vice president; Coralins Hughes, secretary; Della Albert, treasurer; Mary Lou Harrison, song chairman; Patty Blair, social chairman; and Pat Gosford, house and etiquette chairman. Sunday night the Alpha Xi's held a supper and platter party with the pin and new records added to the chapter's collection. Wednesday night, the Alpha Xi's will entertain the Sigma Nu's.

An informal supper Friday night will begin the weekend of Delta Gamma. Saturday night their "Anchor Cotillion" dance will be held at Wakulla, from 8:30 to 11:30. Delta Gam chapter officers for next year include Marty Hall, president; Beverly Edenfield, vice president; Claire Bailey, secretary; Carolyn Read, corresponding secretary; Jeanne Thompson, treasurer; Jackie Andre, social chairman; Sarah Howard, rush chairman; and Pat Pilson, house president. At the initiation banquet held March 8, Pat Pilson was selected rose pledge and Carolyn Moore won the scholarship cup.

Last week the Sigma Chi's held initiation for thirteen pledges. Following the ceremonies a banquet was given in their honor with J. Wayne Reitz, Provost of the University of Florida's Agricultural school and honorary alumnus of the Sigma Chi chapter here, acting as guest speaker. Recently pledging Sigma Chi were Ken Jarrett, Don Van Blar, Ray Eddy, and Marvin Haines.

The pledge class of Gamma Phi Beta has elected Susan Finley as their president. Other officers are Irene Mantasanos, vice-president; Ann Anderson, secretary; Peggy Treasurer; Dot Curtis, song leader. Chapter officer installation was held last Monday night. Ann Hayes, Clarice Jones, Helen Lawler, June Morgan, Ginger Pendleton and Yvonne Warren, new initiates as of last Saturday, were honored with a banquet the same night, given by the alumnae.

New officers of Delta Tau Delta are Bob Culliver, president; John Kinsaul, vice - president; Sam Blount, recording secretary; Ralph McWilliams, corresponding secretary; Charles Jones, sergeant-at-arms and John Kinsaul, pledge trainer. Ted Agrella received the award for the most outstanding pledge." Recently initiated are Ted Agrella, Jim Morrison, Sam Blount, Fred Griffin and Bill Adams.

A Silver Tea was given by the Kappa Delta's last Sunday night to help raise funds for Campus Chest. Thursday the girls were entertained by the Lambda Chi's with a Rowdy party. The results of recent chapter elections are as follows: Eleanor Cooper, president; Jenny Lou Resle, vice-president; Charlotte Hartwell, secretary; Shirley Lavander, treasurer; Eleanor Scott, rush chairman, and Jenny Carper, editor.

Sigma Phi Epsilon also held elections this week. Dallas Lloyd's president; David Stinson, vice-president; Leo Cruichfield, comptroller; David Hainlin, historian; Thomas Bower, secretary, Jack Gardner, guard; John Buckley, senior marshall; James Delafave, junior marshall, and William Reitter, I. F. C. representative. Sam are the newly elected omnicers.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Frencis Cawthon, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Ramsay
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Marino
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni, Fe Pittman, Steve Zalvio

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-289, Ext. 6621 second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla., the students of Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

No Change

Mr. Editor,

In reference to the article that was printed in last Tuesday's Flambeau, I would like to add a word for clarification.

The officers of WFSU, the campus station, are elected by the members of the Seminole Broadcasting Association. The SBA is a student organization. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in campus radio and its primary function is to operate the campus radio station.

It like all other campus organizations, has a faculty advisor. The students select their programming, write the shows, announce, engineer, direct, produce, and supervise. The station, unlike many campus stations in the country, has the opportunity of being managed by students.

If the new DOA amendment passes, there will be essentially no change in the operating policy of the station. The only change that will result is that the SBA instead of electing the manager, will nominate at least two persons for the position. These two names will appear on the DOA ballot each year for the entire body to decide between the two.

WFSU is a student operated station and I feel certain that everyone wants it to remain that way.

If there is ever any way that the station can be of service to you or your organization, please feel free to call upon us.

Respectfully yours,
Stan Gould, Manager WFSU

Dr. Robert Harris Scheduled For Talk

Dr. Robert Harris, chairman of the department of Government, Louisiana State University, will speak on "Free Speech, Loyalty and the Constitution," Monday night at 8:00 in the Longmire Auditorium.

Dr. Harris, former president of the Southern Political Science Association and for many years editor of the Journal of Politics is the author of numerous articles and books in the field of Constitutional Law and Jurisprudence.

He is being sponsored by the department of political science.

Dance Series Begins In Reynolds Hall

Another in the series of dances sponsored by women's dormitories recently will be given tomorrow by Reynolds Hall.

The dance will be held from 7 to 12 p.m. in the Reynolds Recreation room where ping pong and cards will also be available. Hostesses from all the other dorms will be present.

Especially invited are servicemen in Tallahassee for the weekend. However, all students are also urged to come FLASH!!

ALFORD'S MODERNIZED STORE IS READY

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

TO VISIT OUR MODERN ATTRACTIVE STORE

FRIDAY EVENING 6 to 9:30 P.M.

WE WILL RE-OPEN FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY, MARCH 15, AT 9 A.M.

Alford Brothers

212 South Monroe

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Take your hair is gone and so-o-one!" Sheedy's girl said. "I s-o-o-t give you a date, but your hair sure gives me a bl'y-faught!" But he-ehop!" he hurried. Said she, "Haven't you heard of Wildroot Cream-Oil? For well-groomed hair it can't be bleat! Non-alcoholic. Contains Lanolin. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test Relieves dryness. Removes loose dandruff. So Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now every gal wants to horn in on his case. Better milk 29¢ out of your roommates and hoist it to the success! drug or toilet goods counter. Buy Wildroot Cream-Oil. America's favorite hair tonic. And ask for it on your hair near time you goat to your favorite barber shop. Then no other goat can get your nanny!

* of 1135 Sr. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Do You Have a Problem Watch?

Bring it to Moon's they'll take it off your wrist Trade in up to $20 on a New Watch

Special Trade-In Watch Sale

★ MEN'S WATCHES
- Self-wind
- Water-proof*
- Shock resistant*
- Luminous dial†
- Sweep second hand†

★ FOR HER

A beautiful two diamond watch — white or yellow gold Pay as little as $1.25 per week

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
Authorized Bulova Dealer

Open All Day Wednesday

"Midriff Pumps"

- Navy Blue Calf
- Black Patent Leather
- Red Calf
- Brown and White
- Blue and White

13.95

How delicate and feminine—this midriff of little openings, lightly piped and scalloped. Prettiest new decor for the shoes you love to wear.

mademoiselle shoes

Ours Alone

MILLER'S Cootery

College Ave.

Religious Groups Attend Out-of-Town Conferences

LOUETTA RILEY

Two student groups are attending conferences out of town this weekend, while Lenten services are being continued by others.

Wesley Foundation members leave this afternoon by chartered bus to Camp O'Leno, near Lake City, for a Methodist Student Movement Conference. Dr. Ina C. Brown, professor of anthropology at Scarrett University and Dr. Heil Ballinger, executive secretary of the Methodist Student Movement, will be the main speakers on "The Family of God," the weekend theme.

THE GROUP will return for Fellowship at the Methodist Student house at 6:15 p.m. where Dr. Ballinger will continue to speak.

Deer Lake, in the Ocala National Forest, is the setting for the State Westminster Conference held by the Presbyterians this weekend. Theme for the weekend "The Christian Church in Advance "will be led by Dr. Malcolm McIver, student worker secretary at the University of Alabama, and Mr. David Curry, director of student work in the Southern Presbyterian Church.

MR. CURRY will also speak at the fellowship program Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the Westminster Fellowship hall.

The hanging of an oil painting "Christ on the Cross," by the late Artemis Skevakis, will take place Sunday at 6 p.m. at Rune hall in observance of the Lenten season.

Dr. Harold B. Hoag, rector, St. Andrews Church in Tampa, will speak on "Religion and Recreation" at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Rune hall.

THE NEW QUAKER group will meet at 9 Sunday morning at the home of Mr. John R. Christ, 332 Hull Drive.

A spaghetti supper will be held at the Newman house Sunday evening at 6 followed by a business meeting. Edna Faber is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Marjorie J. Hollingsworth, former state director of children's and young people's work for the Christian churches of Georgia, is now student secretary for the Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian organization.

NEW COMMITTEE chairmen for Hillel Foundation, Jewish student organization, have been announced by David Lieman, Hillel president. Helen Rosenblum is social chairman and Walter Shalsky, supper chairman.

Vacancies in the Baptist Student Union council, because of absence during internship, will be filled by Nancy Hall, secretary; Frances Brenneman, publicity; Theo Sommerkamp, promotional; Shirley Atwell, Y. W. A. president; Carla Cleare, librarian; and Winnie Pringle, enlistment vice-president.

During the coming week, all council positions of BSU will be filled by freshmen members as an opportunity for them to get acquainted with the various duties of the council.

Reasons Are Told Of Dunn Dismissal

In a statement to quelch rumors as to why Bill Dunn, next year's editor-elect, was dismissed from the position of managing editor, Editor Robert Griffin gave the following reasons:

Disregard for the deadlines as contracted with the printers, the Tallahassee Democrat, incurring overtime costs for the Flambeau.

"ABSOLUTE REFUSAL to write editorials and assigned features, one of the duties of the managing editor.

"Failure to fulfill the trust and confidence of the students who placed him in a paid position on the student newspaper by displaying a careless and dispirited attitude toward his job, and for his failure to spend a necessary minimum amount of time carrying out the duties of his position.

"ABJECT REFUSAL to resign an editorial position on Smoke Signals in order to defer more indispensable time correcting the above mentioned negligencies.

"Overburdening unremunerated senior staff members with work that was rightfully the responsibility of the paid managing editor.

The Flambeau Senior Staff, which must support all dismissals, has approved and is in agreement with the action taken on the basis of the above mentioned reasons alone.

Senior Staff members are Babs Henry, Hazel Morrison, Joan Etheridge, Frances Cashen, Bruce Dalphin and Editor Robert Griffin.

Amendment

(Continued from Page 1)

too casually with matters on which the students had spent so much time and effort.

FRESHMAN SENATOR Sprinter remarked. "First they say, 'If you don't like the arrangement, do something about it.' Then when we do something, they don't like it."

In other business Senator Springer reported that neither he nor any other member of the Senate Finance committee was allowed to attend the Student-Faculty Budget committee meeting last week. Senator Syed felt there was nothing dishonest going on in the meeting but that Dean Culpepper's actions were a disrespect to the Senate.

Dorm Doings

St. Patrick's Day Theme of Parties

Nanette McClain, chairman of the Gilchrist Hall dorm parties, stated that the first and second floors are sponsoring a Saint Patrick's Day pajama party for the dorm on March 18. Although it will be the day after Saint Patrick's Day, the talented first and second floor girls will be sure to do it justice with their fine program.

South Castleen Hall is holding a Saint Patrick's Day dance tonight from 8 to 12 p.m. in the patio. Refreshments will be served and everyone is invited to attend the informal dance.

'Biography'

(Continued from Page 1)

100 plays in summer stock and has had a three year lead again with Clifton Webb in "The Man Who Came to Dinner." She also had a second lead with Katherine Hepburn in "Jane Eyre."

THE STORY OF "Biography" centers around a 40 year old woman played by Miss Dalton who plans to write her autobiography at 40. An old sailor, who plans to run for the U. S. Senate, comes to see her, and much to his horror, finds she is going to expose him in her autobiography. He proposes to her, and she cannot decide whether to accept and give up her book or go with the young publisher who is buying it.

Directing the humorous story and play is Dr. George McCalmon, associate professor of speech at Florida State. Assistant director is Sara Margaret Davis, junior speech student. Stage manager is Kay Bardin, with Jean Flynn as assistant manager. Wynn Park is designed the set with costumes by Douglas Russell.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

YOU would never believe it . . . the most delicious food at such moderate prices at

HOLLAND'S Restaurant

With every special dinner 85c and up, we serve a large slice of our Home Baked Pie. Hot Dutch Apple and Chocolate Ice Box, our specialty.

Air Conditioned for Your Comfort

106 E. Pensacola St. Across from the Capitol

President Speaks At Opening Meet Of SR Conference

President Doak S. Campbell challenged Southeastern Recreation delegates to aid the welfare of the American people and the nation through real re-creative activities in an opening address yesterday morning.

The conference which continues throughout today will include in its program a three-panel discussion on community recreation.

CHAIRMAN PROFESSOR William J. Tait, FSU director of Recreation Curriculum, presided at the annual S. E. Recreation Conference Thursday morning. The invocation was given by Rev Clare Colton, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Tallahassee.

President Campbell stressed that recreation is a serious business and that the real purpose and meaning of recreation is "to re-create, to refresh, to renew." He added that in the need for proper recreation in American life, too many people think of it as organized play, ready-made and canned down.

THE TWO PANEL discussions held this morning are "A Pattern for Community Co-operation," conducted by Mrs. Cordelia B. Hunt, superintendent of recreation, Tampa, and "Co-ordinating Industrial and Community Recreation," conducted by George Kurtz, superintendent of recreation, Jackson, Mississippi. Ed Parker, Industrial Relations Dept., Callaway Mills, LaGrange, Georgia, will preside at the professor's panel held this afternoon, "Professor Bio. My Problem . . ."

FSU Gymkana and Tallahassee Tumbling Tots under the direction of Dr. Harley D. Price, professor of physical education, FSU, will perform for the conference delegates at 3 this afternoon.

EXTRA CURRICULAR activities for the visiting delegation include the Faculty String Ensemble in the Music hall tonight at 8; "Biography," a Community Play starring Doris Dalton, in Augusta Conradi's Theater tonight; and the Third Annual Intercollegiate Debate Tournament held throughout today and tomorrow.

The conference will close tomorrow afternoon with a dinner at Wakulla Springs Lodge. Joseph Prendergast, executive director, National Recreation Association, will give the principal address.

Panel Is Rescheduled

A panel on opportunities in accounting originally scheduled during the "Career Conference" program has been rescheduled for Tues., March 18 at 11 in the Longmire club room.

Mrs. Myran Willis state auditor and Mr. Mark Ahrano, vice-president of the Fla. Institute of Accounting, will address interested students.

William Eaton is student chairman and William D. Myers is student secretary of the panel.

Orders Due

(Continued from Page 1)

paid before the interns leave, he said, as originally announced. "This applies only to interns." he said.

SENIOR CLASS rings are also ready for selection by the students on the Jostens and Bradley has formerly said that this would be the last chance a class would be fortunate enough in getting such reduced prices for the class rings.

Senior officers are making plans for the final week of special class activities. The various people needed to carry out the week's program have not been selected, he said, but they have decided that newly elected senior class officers after April will help with the committee work to give them experience.

"WE ARE GOING to try to get parents to take part in as many things as possible this year too," the president said. "We are going to try to make this year's senior week and commencement exercises really mean something."

In conclusion Bradley mentioned that he had not yet found anyone to be responsible for mailing the Florida Flambeau to the interns while they are gone.

Newman Conflab To Be Held at FSU April 25, 26, 27

Plans are under way for the 20th annual Southeastern Province Convention of Newman Clubs to be held at Florida State University April 25, 26 and 27.

Marye Parker, Province president, stated that the FSU Newman Club will act as host.

THE PROVINCE president, who was elected at last year's convention in Miami Beach, also said that the convention program would be made known just as soon as it has reached completion.

The Southeastern Province is a Province branch of the National Newman Club Federation and is made up of the Newman Clubs in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and also Cuba and Puerto Rico. These clubs will send two official delegates and numerous other delegates to the annual convention.

ASSISTING MARGE are the following committee chairmen: publicity, Terry Sheppard; housing, Virginia DeCristafaro; registration, Marty Hall; recreation, James Wilkie; program, Mary Jo Battle; tour, Nelson Tallano and decorations, Marilyn Goble.

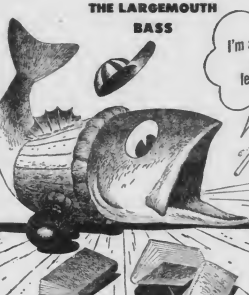
LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Meats Service Station

544 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-8619

RETAILING needs college-trained young people like YOU as FUTURE EXECUTIVES



Retail is a dynamic profession. It offers as many career possibilities as there are personal aptitudes: interesting positions in merchandising, advertising, fashion, management, personnel, or teaching. One-year graduate program leading to Master's degree combines practical instruction, market contacts, and supervised work experience—with pay—in top New York stores. Programs for Bachelor's degree candidates and non-degree students also.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF RETAILING
100 Washington Square New York 3, N. Y.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 35..

THE LARGEMOUTH BASS

Always a sucker for attractive bait, our aquatic brother went off the deep end and got caught on the quick-trick cigarette hook! But he wormed his way out when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness can't be tossed off reel lightly. Millions of smokers have found, too, there's only one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

FSU Nine to Open With Kenyon Monday

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

DIAMOND TIME—The Florida State baseball nine will embark on their toughest card in history Monday when they take the field against Kenyon College.

Which of was announced last fall, the Seminoles would open with Coach Glamber Odino nine many cause of that mean ole eligibility problem. Although this reporter does their heads in ignorance—which is the height of the outfit

But after a closer examination, we found out that the school is a private(ly owned institution and brother that could mean trouble since these schools usually have the green stuff to go with their athletic teams.

It's a rumor that the touring Kenyon team didn't come to Florida for the sake and ruin-ture and probably will give Coach Ralph Mather(s) charges an interesting afternoon

As the school was been growing so long in the Seminoles schedule. In 1948, the first Seminole team played 17 games, winning nine while losing eight. The following year, two more games were added and the Indians compiled by winning two more than the previous season. In 1950 the Seminoles hit their stride winning 19 of 20 while last year they won the same number while losing only six.

* * *

Injuries have been taking their toll at the Seminole spring grid drills. John Narlowicz, valuable defensive performer, is out for the remaining sessions because of his two bad knees.

Wednesday, Nelson Italiana was confined to the sidelines with an ankle injury and two promising freshmen — back George Carnes and end Joe Robison were missing with ankle and knee injuries.

Ace defensive end Jimmy Lee Taylor had his tonsils removed recently but should be available for the windup.

* * *

The decision of the Tallahassee city clubs to sponsor four of the Seminoles home games is another in a long series of good turns turned in by the Tallahassee businessmen.

Tallahassee Democrat Sports Editor Fred Pettijohn is heading an "operation baseball" project designed to feed the Indian grid-dope during the pre-school practice and Bob Lee Bachenman, an FSU graduate, is in charge of a drive to sell season football tickets.

The four games and their sponsors are, Nest Friday's tilt with Georgia — Rotary club; March 24, Georgia Tech—Civitan Club; April 5, University of Miami—Kiwanis Club, and May 9, Rollins—Lions Club.

Bud Manner was cropped the event George Washington the day Golf Tourney with a vaseline home games.

Sessions Gets Starting Nod For Opener

The Florida State University baseball team will open a rugged 24 game schedule here on centennial field Monday afternoon when they meet strong Kenyon College from Ohio. Game time is set for 2:30.

On Tuesday, the Seminoles again take on the Kenyon nine and the following weekend entertain the University of Georgia Bulldogs in tilts on Friday and Saturday.

COACH RALPH MATHERLY who is taking over the head coaching reins for the first time this season, has only six letterman on hand for the 1952 campaign but has come up with a promising list of newcomers from the 1951 squad.

Four of the lettermen are expected to start Monday's contest. They are veteran catcher Ronnie Melton, shortstop Bob Trowbridge, centerfielder Les Mullens, and Ed Sessions who is scheduled to start on the mound.

A fifth letterman, pitcher Ed Lockard will also be available for duty, while the sixth monogram man is Harry Skinner, is pegged in spring football drills.

Matherly will probably round out the starting lineup with Ken Smith at first base, Cooper Mills at second, Freshman Hain Wertzke at third base Wayne Benner in left field and another freshman, Ralph Bass in right field.

IN RESERVE Matherly will have Pete Wetz, Mercer Brown, Marvin Haynes pitchers; catchers Johnny Sheppard, infielders Bob Campbell and Pinky Nowling and outfielders Jimmy Sheppard and Bob Bill Fortner. Mac Sellers is nursing an ankle injury and is not expected to see action next week.

Matherly hopes to sojourn in all his pastime time possible before the opener with Kenyon. He is the Seminoles' work animal. Courtland field shortstop Mercer Brown's duties.

A night workout is also scheduled for next week before the Georgia game.

SUNDAY, the Indians were assigned a loan non-stand game that featured the Sunday of Matherly's career. In the second sacker bantered a homerun and three singles and also added a single while Smith collected two loop singles.

Sessions and Haynes handled the pitch-ne chores for one team apiece to FSU sloppers next week while Lockard and Brown worked Monday through Friday under the watchful eye of Shortstop Trowbridge and Sussee were behind the plate.

Volleyball Six In Tourney

Coach Bill Odrene's Seminole volleyball squad left this morning for Memphis, Tennessee, where they will defend their Mid-South championship Saturday.

The Indians were scheduled to hop off in Birmingham tonight, however, for practice matches with the Birmingham YMCA and the Stockton Pipe before going on to Memphis.

Other tournament entries include Whiting Field, the Florida A&M champions; Memphis, Nashville, Houston, Texas, Bacon House, Louisiana, Little Rock, Arkansas, and Terre Haute, Indiana.

Three freshmen and three veterans will start for the FSU six according to Odrene. Harry Gober, Ronald Murdock and Howard Gould are the first year men while James McFeiter, Jim Couch and Jim Clark are the veterans.

Duane Gordon, who joined the squad after playing with the basketball team is the lone reserve on the trip.

Girl's Softball Now Underway

The sorority intramural softball season got off to a fast start as Alpha Chi Omega defeated the Alpha Gamma Delta's 9-2. Temple Hawkins and Chuckey Hunter were the batterr for the Alpha Chi while Jones-Hall and Chapman caught for the Alpha Gams. Outstanding players were Nancy Jones who pitched an eight-hit game, striking out five and walking only four. Cumberland who hit a homer knocking in two runs.

Also on Monday in the first game Sigma Kappa beat the Alpha Xi Delta by a 13-7 count. Traxler and Garst were the Sigma Kappa battery and Chukey and Ashmore were the Alpha Xi battery. Outstanding of this game was a broken finger suffered by Traxler in a warm-up pitch. Another game on the schedule for the Lie Alpha Xi but the Sigma Kappa were a no-show.

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Alpha Chi Omega	1	0
Alpha Gamma Delta	1	1
Sigma Kappa	1	1
Alpha Xi Delta	1	1
Kappa Delta	0	1
Phi Mu	0	1
Zeta Tau Alpha	0	1
Alpha Omicron Pi	0	1
Delta Gamma	0	1
Gamma Phi Beta	0	1
Chi Omega	0	1
Pi Eta Delta Delta	0	1

'Ghost Goes West'

Coach Ralph Matherly has split the pitch-ne chores for one team apiece to FSU sloppers next week while Lockard and Brown worked Monday through Friday under the watchful eye of Shortstop Trowbridge and Sussee were behind the plate.

INTRAMURALS

By MIC RISGATTIS

Intramural bowling will get under way right after the playoffs in fraternity touch football. All entrys are due at the Intramural Office not later than today. All the tennis matches will be played at the East campus courts.

In the fraternity play-offs Delta Tau Delta defeated Phi Kappa Tau by a 6-0 score. Then Chi Lambda won the last game of the season defeating Alpha Sigma Phi 6-0. Then Chi Lambda won the last game of the season defeating Alpha Sigma Phi 6-0. Then Chi Lambda won the last game of the season defeating Alpha Sigma Phi 6-0.

In the dormitory league SOAP romped to win by forfeit by causing Phi Mu to default. Dorm 394 failed to appear. Dorm 396 won their third game by beating Dorm 394 at 8 four yards.

The other games were double forfeits. Magnolia A and 390 failed to appear and Senior Hall and Newman Club also failed to appear.

Classified Ads

FOR RENT—APARTMENT

KEN SMITH, hard hitting Seminole first sacker, will be in the starting lineup Monday when the FSU baseball team meets Kenyon College in the season opener.

THE FSU gridders are scheduled to wind up their second full week of spring football drills this afternoon at the West Campus practice field. The Seminoles are shown above going through another long scrimmage.

Gymnastics Team To Defend Title

The national champion Florida State gymnastics team will defend their Southeastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League crown here Saturday night in the east Campus gym starting at $ p.m.

Teams other than the FSU squad entered are Duke, Georgia and North Carolina. The Seminoles finished on the meet in 1951 defeating the University of Maryland who had held the title the year before.

Coach Hartley Price said yesterday that he planned to have his charges use the same routine that they will be required to use in the N. C. A. A. meet in Boulder Colorado next week.

Three of the FSU gymnasts will be defending championships they won last year. They are Jack Miles who will again seek the rings title, Carmine Renzo defending all-around and high bar champ and Joe Regna in the side horse.

At 7:30 the long horse event of the All-Around championship will be held and at 7:45 an exhibition of fact tumbling by the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots and the FSU Gymkana troupe will be given.

Those participating in the tumbling will be Mary Cummins, Brenda Pichard, Jack Carawell, Karol Ann Kunsmiller, Caro Lane, Evelyn Laing, Barbara Beasley, Jimmie Sue Williams, Carol Coppedge and Carol Edmanston.

Max Gumkana, Carolyn Haddin will preside at the trophies and medals to the winners.

Students To Fence With Wesleyans

Fencers from Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, have scheduled a few bouts tomorrow at 4 p.m. East campus gymnasium in cooperation with the Florida State fencing club.

Participating in the technique bouts will be Jean Beasley, Ann Cansdale, Cpt. Alice Eberstad, Conrad Filler and others. The affair is open to the public.

Five fencers from FSU attended a two-day event in Troy Alabama State Teacher's College, March 6 and 7 where they were given an opportunity to apply their new knowledge of fencing learn someone from another school.

Golfers Face Rollins Today

The Florida State University golf team opened its 1952 season yesterday afternoon in a meet with Jacksonville Naval Air Station. Today the Seminoles travel to Winter Park for a match with Rollins and close the weekend road trip against Stetson at De-Land on Saturday.

Coach Bob Harbison has four veteran campaigners that represent Florida State in these first three battles, and in the Florida Intercollegiate Tournament at De-Land March 20, 21, and 22.

Players making the trip are Sonny Tinney, Jimmy James, Tom Cumbie, and Tommy Brown, all returning lettermen.

Tinney, State Intercollegiate champion as a member of the 1949 team, Cumbie and James are returning to the Seminole lineup after a year 'layoff. Brown and Cumbie were members of the 1951 Florida State squad which won eight of its 11 matches.

Coach Harbison, who is also a member of the Florida Major football coaching staf will not be able to make the trip because of his mid-spring practice duties.

His chores will be taken over by Ed Williamson this week and for the tournament by Bill Odeneal both members of the Florida State athletic staff.

Sports Day Is Next Month

Coach Florida State's women athletes to hold two Outdoor women sports days, Softball, Archery, Tennis and other activities on April 5 in the Florida State Day program.

A meeting for all those girls interested in officiating and playing in this Sports Day was held Tuesday night at 8:00 in the Gymnasium building.

Those composing the basketball team for FSU will be Athanasion, captain; Portell, Gulrd; Hunsen, West; Hernson, Mickle; Lasman, Mc-Williams Al ares, Cobb, Hynes, Parrs.

Representing FSU in tennis will be Collingsworth, McCoy, Simms and Strickland and in golf the team will be Bales, Staley and Collins.

In oadmission now be Young Peoner Herdon, Moody, Lassiter Sturgis, Lupke Maynard, pasmore, Pope.

Failure to volleyball, Sallflin has been named as leader with Barrington, Ward, Lupke, Fullam, Moody, Parrott, Cobb, Elaine Rawlson as team mates.

Softball will also take place with Kenan leader Smith, Parrott, Bass, Tate. Also tennis out-of-doors in golf will be Gober Fallin and Ivey.

The softball team will play in the afternoon and golf, tennis Volley Ball in the morning. Center Medical Director Margaret Cuthbert, Mrs. Haynes, McGirl and McWilliams.

At the swimming pool will be Lupke, Starrard, Tate, Prentell, Guard, Batchelor, Hernson and FSU swimmers.

Down on the bowlrn alley the bowling team will be made up of Babe Parrish Bal-heller and Gerdy.

Florida State women have already had bowling games and good sportsmen hip to make this out of program worthwhile. Hunsen and Lupke will be in charge of landing in this Florida Sports Day of which hundred and fifty persons have already made

Patronize Our Advertisers

The Sweet Shop

Brings YOU Something NEW

The Complete Line of SHULTON COSMETICS for both Men and Women

. . . and now for a limited time only—this special offer

"Friendship Garden"

- "Liquid Petals" a lasting perfume
- "Flower Fresh" Toilet Water

Both for $1.50

. . . and for your convenience . . . the Sweet Shop will soon carry Revlon Cosmetics.

Make the Sweet Shop Your Cosmetic Headquarters

The Sweet Shop

Leave Your Films For Speedy Developing

Johansen's Suzy Strings

—Mus. Violet
—Mus. Wear
—Mus. Yellow

AAA set $9.95

5 to 9

Turner's

FRATERNITY ROW

Near Oak Campbell Stadium
DIAL 2-1635
Pick-up and Delivery Service
CLEANERS AND LAUNDERERS

Main Plant
1233 North Monroe
Dial 3-0467

AA CLEANERS
DISTINCTIVE DRY CLEANING

Downtown Store
221 S. Adams St.
Dial 3-0695

Our new Fraternity Row Cleaning Jeffers in Stadium gate, is ready to serve you. Just

FAIVER'S Tallahassee's Finest DRIVE-IN

SERVED HOT IN-A-BOX WITH ALL THE FIXINGS
SHRIMP LIVERS | DEVILED CRAB GIZZARDS
BAR-B-Q RIBS CHICKEN IN-A-BOX
SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN IN-A-BOX IN-A-BASKET
JUMBO HAMBURGERS | FOOT-LONG HOT DOGS
FREE MUSIC — DIAL 2-1860 — DELIVERY SERVICE SUNDAYS

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.

FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
At Swords Point'
In Technicolor
with CORNEL WILDE
MAUREEN O'HARA

STATE
Today Thru Thursday
'Bend of the River'
Color by Technicolor
with
JAMES STEWART
JULIA ADAMS

RITZ
Today and Saturday
'Hollywood Story'
with
RICHARD CONTE
HENRY HULL
also
'Beyond the Purple Hills'
With Gene Autry

DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
'Cavalry Scout'
with ROD CAMERON
also
'Pistol Harvest'
With Tim Holt

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

NSA Hits Communism at Student Level—Dentzer

...e the international fold the ...dential Student Association is ...ctive progress to combat ...mmunism.

...This was the opinion expressed ... Bill Dentzer, national press ...ter of the National Student As...ation, who spoke for an hour ... a half to a group of ...ents in the West lounge of ...mpus building last Friday.

...DENTZER CITED the work of ...NSA delegates who attended ...ch inter-American meeting, ...ndents held in Rio de Janeiro ...e February.

He said that in many nations, ... particularly South American ...countries the truth about Amer...ica is never heard and Communist ...youth organizations appeal to the ...desires and needs of these people.

...In Cuba, former puppet of Soviet ...ica over 90 per cent of the popu...lation is literate. They are given ...propaganda against the United ...States and many of them believe, ...for instance, that the U. S. start...ed the war in Korea.

...THE SPEAKER explained that ...much important work was done ...by the five delegates of which he ...was one. The delegates met with ...part of his informal address giv...ing his view of what he considered ...to be the biggest fallacies about ...NSA.

..."There are some people," he ...said, "who think you can't have ...NSA until the students improve ...their existing government. This is ...like trying to run a sixty hour ...factory because you know nothing ...about history. . . . That's why you ...have NSA, to strengthen student ...government."

...SPEAKING of the so-called ..."radical elements" in NSA, the ...speaker termed it none, unless ...one considers "anything left of ...Taft radical."

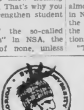
...The Communists, he said, had ...called them "agents of Wall Street ...and the State Department." Dentzer noted that NSA had the full ...confidence of the State Department and the FBI and that those ...organizations often called upon it.

...FURTHERMORE, he remarked, ...almost every elected official in NSA are Catholic. He felt that the organization could not hold the support of these denominational schools if it were "red."

..."The best way to fight Communism," he said, "is by being democratic. NSA is pro-decency and pro-humanitarian."

...Dentzer then presented the positive side of NSA. The organization, he said, was essentially a group of local student governments. It exerts considerable influence because of its size. He remarked that NSA had been influential in persuading the national Selective Service to adopt a college deferment plan.

...ANOTHER SERVICE of the National Student Association offers is connected with the National Student Bill of Rights. If the bill is considered to be violated by the president of the university, a majority of the student government or 15 per cent of the student body, NSA will make a full investigation and publish a report.



...NSA is increasingly active in the international field, and had the particular blessings of the State Department because of its good-will work in South America, the Far East, and elsewhere.

...FUNDS HAVE been granted to NSA to arrange some international sports events with Scuola Amerika, and Dentzer hoped they could be held in Florida. This was quite feasible, he remarked, because there was not enough organization in Florida.

..."This year and next year will see the largest growth of NSA in the South," he prophesized.

...Referring to Rollins chances of joining the national group, Dentzer concluded, "I think a few students and deans come to know the NSA . . . then there's no reason why you can't join.

Florida Flambeau

NSA Needed At Florida State Look Above

FSU Wins First Baseball Game

See Sports Page

VOL XXXVIII, No. 39 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, March 18, 1952

SecondPlaceWon By Debate Team

University of Miami Gets 95 Points To FSU's 65 in 3rd Tournament

Florida State University students placed in every event, but took second as a team in the Third Annual F. S. U. Invitational Debate Tournament, completed Saturday.

The University of Miami, cop...ed first in every division, ...ained the sweepstakes trophy ...ith 95 points to FSU's 65. The ...obile Branch of the University ...f Alabama collected 10 points, ...hile the University of Florida ...as completely blanked.

...FSU'S TWO debate teams took ...econd and third, respectively. ...The second were Arlene Amend, ...atherine Skogstrand, Leah La...lance, and Peter Kimhoff. Plac...ed third were Teresa Stein, Wil...on Guy Davis, Wallace Bryant, ...Janice Arbogast, and John ...Scoppa. The FSU's number 1 ...ebate team of Kenneth Carter ...and Ted Wood was one of four rated ...undefeated.

...In question debated was "Re...olved, that the federal govern...ment should establish permanent ...term of wage and price con...trol."

...In the final, "problem solv...ing round the team representing ...can we solve the problem ...of inflation in the United States?"

...INDIVIDUAL winners included ...Arbogast, second in after...noon speaking; Barbara Carroll, ...second in original oratory; ...Nate Nimkoff, third in extem...poraneous speaking; Robert ...Hawkins and Bennie Carper of FSU ...second and third respectively ...oral interpretation.

...A debate was under the direc...tion of Dr. Gordon Keller, assis...tant professor of speech. Man sec...were conducted at the Bap...tist Church Student building at ...Stone and Duval.

Pi Kappa Lambda Selects Fifteen New Members

Fifteen persons were sent invi...tations of membership last week ...by Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary ...fraternity, after the chap...annual election to member...

...Members elect are: Juniors: ...Ann Pierce, Jane Shepard, ...Harris and Daniel Bode, and ...s Marybelen Ellis. Graduate ...students are Betty Carroll, ...William Cramer, Mae Jean Gil...bert, William Mathias, James Mc...Vernon Raizin, Dana Wells, ...Warren D. Allen, Irvin ...Cooper, and Joseph Lord.

...JUNIORS of last year who were ...eligible to membership and will ...be initiated are Sara Ann Bell, ...Nancy Hill, Lorraine Not...ingham, Helen Bell and Virginia ...Hall.

...Pi Kappa Lambda is a society ...for honor students in the ...schools and departments in ...and universities over the ...nation.

...ITS PURPOSE is the further...ance of eminent achievement in ...performance, original composition ...and musical leadership. Worthy ...character is also a considera...tion in membership.

...Initiation ceremonies and ...banquet will be held at a later ...date at Wakulla Springs lodge. ...Officers of the chapter are Mrs. ...Ramona Beard, president; Zadie ...Vice-president; Herman ...Jr., secretary, and Carl ...Floyd, treasurer.

Gold Key Meeting

...A required meeting of all Gold ...members and pledges will be ...tomorrow at 5 on the fourth ...floor Longmire building.

...Committees on the Gold Key ...ball are requested to have their ...information up to date, State ...Social president, stated.

Faculty Review Fails to Pass Senate Bills

The faculty review board met again yesterday to consider various proposed student legislation, but failed to pass any of the measures.

Senator Jane Hall of Knowles Warren, dean of women, the committee heard several student leaders, made more or less stirring speeches, and then voted down two bills, but passed none.

DEAN WARREN, chairman of the committee, stated that the Flambeau had accused the group of stalling amendments last week. It was the students, she said, who occupied all the committee's time last week, and if nothing was accomplished in this second meeting, it would again be the student's fault.

For the next half hour or so committee members asked student leaders to clarify various points in the proposed cabinet system amendment.

RICHARD JACKSON, a member of the committee, stated that in the case of the provision creating an attorney general to investigate and prosecute violations of the laws of UGA. He said at present the Court is both investigating and trying cases.

All students then left the meeting, allowing the committee to act without interruption. According to Dean Warren the group then discussed further the cabinet system and a proposal to shorten the time for the University Senate to the UGA Senate for about 40 minutes more.

No action was taken, and/or the two bills back to Senate with recommendations was taken.

Carnival Workers Ask For Show Numbers

All those interested in the Freshman Carnival variety show and/or the Sadie Hawkins dance are asked to be awarded on Saturday night, March 29, are asked to meet Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Room 1. They will meet in Reynolds hall and recreation room with Charis Coulter, David Davis, co-chairmen of the enterta ...ment committee.

WELL, BOYS!—Secretary of State R. A. Gray gives, left to right, Jim Ball and Jerry Thomas some advice on politics. They both qualified to run for delegate from the Sixth District to the National Democratic Convention. Both are FSU public administration majors. Hat shown is J. V. Doyle, Jr., another FSU student that has qualified to run as delegate-at-large.

FSU Students Plan Political Campaign

Three Florida State University students, all majoring in public administration, have qualified to run for delegate to the National Democratic convention.

Jim Ball and Jerry Thomas are opposing each other in a five-way race in the sixth congressional district centered about Palm Beach.

J. V. DOYLE, Jr., has qualified with Secretary of State R. A. Gray as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the convention.

Doyle, who is from DeLand, is pledged to Senator Russell, a strong favorite for nomination among persons qualifying in Florida.

Thomas and Ball face more trouble than a number of opposing candidates would seem to indicate. Three persons in the sixth district, including the two FSU students, are unpledged, two are pledged to Senator Russell and one is pledged to Senator Kefauver of Tennessee.

THE ELECTION will be held May 27 in the regularly scheduled primary. A plurality is all the sole male winner will need.

Both Thomas and Ball have been active in student politics at FSU. Ball is at present president of Omicron Delta Kappa, president of Pi Alpha Sigma, public administration honorary, and past president of the Rifle club. He recently resigned as chairman of the Judiciary. He was a member of the Men's Glee club.

JERRY THOMAS is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership scholastic honorary, and is a member of the public administration honorary. He is vice-president of Pedal Key, campus service honorary, and is past chairman of Men's Judiciary. He was a member of the University senate and, while attending Palm Beach Jr. College, was president of the Men's government.

J. V. Doyle, is a graduate student in public administration.

It was announced in the Tampa Tribune Sunday that Russell and unpledged forces will be split, whereas Kefauver has just one backer running.

Dohnanyi Appears In Faculty Recital Next Friday Night

Ernst von Dohnanyi, internationally famous pianist and faculty member of the Florida State University School of Music, will appear in a recital in the Opperman Music hall Friday evening, March 21, at 8:15 p.m.

The program will be open to the public as part of the Faculty Recital series.

Dohnanyi will play two selections from Beethoven, Andante in F Major and Sonata in C Minor, Opus III. From Brahms he will play Three Rhapsodies. Strauss's Burlesque in D Minor will also be presented in the arrangement by Dohnanyi himself. He will also play two original scores, Burletta and Nocturne.

Dohnanyi has gained renown as a composer, conductor and pianist. He gave his first public recital at the age of nine, and when he was fifteen, his first composition was publicly performed in Vienna, with the young composer as soloist. In addition to his dual career as composer and pianist, he later became director of the Royal Academy of Music in Budapest and conductor of the Budapest Philharmonic orchestra, a post he held for thirty years.

Senior Hall Plans Annual Weekend

The men of Senior Hall will have their annual weekend, Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28. A dance will be held Friday followed by a party at the coast Saturday.

Governor of the dorm is Gene Kerchoffer; athletic chairman is Stan Schmidt; and social chairmen are Rick Esperdy and Jim Heitman. Floor representatives are Jim Joiner, Tom Ard, Roy Chapman, and Dave Collins. Reporter is Bill Bass.

Women students are welcome to visit Senior Hall between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Leadership Needed In Schools—Bailey

One hundred secondary school principals attended an annual county day meeting on Florida State University campus from March of 12-14.

In an address Friday Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas Bailey urged the principals to exert leadership which would result in school officials given the best educational opportunities.

MR. BAILEY also told the Florida School Principals that they, as principals, have a great opportunity in exerting educational leadership in their communities to improve their schools.

A challenge to secondary education was issued by Dr. Herman Frick head of the department of secondary education at FSU. In an address Thursday night in the Lafayette room.

DR. FRICK stated that the principals are now given an opportunity to identify their problems of civic relationships. This process will help the pupil in planning programs of action to solve these problems and help to make them responsible for their decisions.

Professor Prick concluded that a more effective high school could contribute to civic effi...ency and the results would no longer increase the holding power of the school.

In Thursday afternoon's session a symposium of common learning programs in the Florida high schools was presented by Jeff West, Donald Cates and Basil Moore. Discussions were then centered around the principals in the development of the common learnings program.

Former Dean To Be Honored In Dedication

President Campbell Will Offer Dedicatory Announcement at 8:15

The Opperman Music hall of Florida State University will officially be dedicated in honor of Dean Emeritus Ella Scoble Opperman with two programs of Operalogues tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited to attend both events.

The dedicatory announcement will be made tonight by President Doak S. Campbell. The dedication has recently been approved by the State Board of Control.

FOLLOWING THE dedication ceremony, tonight Carol Perrone Limscomb, who received the Fisk Lonzone tells the plot and background of the opera, along with anecdotes of the composer's services, while the principal musical numbers are sung as they occur in the opera.

APPEARING WITH Mrs. Lonzone as soloists tonight will be Dean Dixie James as Violetta, Prof. Walter James as Alfredo and Prof. Gaston Germont as Alfredo's father, Giorgio Germont.

Tomorrow night an operlogue of Giacomo Puccini's La Boheme will be presented. Cloude Rhea will sing the score for Rudolph, Helen Bell will sing the aria of Mimi, Adrian Ketcham, Marcel and Claire Kenyon, Muerta, Soloists for the two operalogues have been coached by Rita Sloan Barnes, head of the School of Music.

Dobry Is Winner

In correction of a statement announcing Fred Mevers first prize winner of the Cavalier Stunt night show, Mary Spencer, news editor, said today that Bob Dobry was first prize winner with Rosie Smith and Tui Lorenzo, who were second prize and Jane Shepard and Jimmy Harris winning third prize.

Former Dean To Be Honored In Dedication

President Campbell Will Offer Dedicatory Announcement at 8:15

The Opperman Music hall of Florida State University will officially be dedicated in honor of Dean Emeritus Ella Scoble Opperman with two programs of Operalogues tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited to attend both events.

The dedicatory announcement will be made tonight by President Doak S. Campbell. The dedication has recently been approved by the State Board of Control.

FOLLOWING THE dedication ceremony, tonight Carol Perrone Limscomb, who received the Fisk Lonzone tells the plot and background of the opera, along with anecdotes of the composer's services, while the principal musical numbers are sung as they occur in the opera.

APPEARING WITH Mrs. Lonzone as soloists tonight will be Dean Dixie James as Violetta, Prof. Walter James as Alfredo and Prof. Gaston Germont as Alfredo's father, Giorgio Germont.

Tomorrow night an operlogue of Giacomo Puccini's La Boheme will be presented. Cloude Rhea will sing the score for Rudolph, Helen Bell will sing the aria of Mimi, Adrian Ketcham, Marcel and Claire Kenyon, Muerta, Soloists for the two operalogues have been coached by Rita Sloan Barnes, head of the School of Music.

Dobry Is Winner

In correction of a statement announcing Fred Mevers first prize winner of the Cavalier Stunt night show, Mary Spencer, news editor, said today that Bob Dobry was first prize winner with Rosie Smith and Tui Lorenzo, who were second prize and Jane Shepard and Jimmy Harris winning third prize.

Students Admitted Free To 'Biography' Showing

Students Gain Admission on ID Cards To Show Starring Broadway Actress

"Biography" will continue tonight in the Augusta Conrad theater for the general public and opens tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. with free admission for students under the sponsorship of the Artist Series.

Students will be allowed admission upon the presentation of their identification cards March 19 through the 25. Seventy five cents admission is required today.

MISS DORIS DALTON, visiting professional actress of radio and screen, lends the three woman lead with Florida State student Beatrice Lambert acting as her understudy.

Jean Flynn develops a low guttural voice quality for her role as a German maid to the leading actress. Miss Dalton in her role as Miss Kurn, the flighty artist with a questionable past portrays a professional air in the Behrman comedy.

MISS DALTON as the 40 year old artist keeps the men in her life wonderin and wanting.

Cassenitzky Bob

Robert Grange as Curt the young bitter magazine publisher finally gives in to Miss Kurn's demands and the plot thickens as the leading lady attempts to write her story for the publication.

In between her romantic role with the young publisher, Marion Kurn is entertained by Max Fabian, the political candidate to contend with.

Bill Upshaw as Nolan, the political candidate and former lover of the desirable Marion Kurn is married and horrified to discover

Continued on Page 3

Art Seminar Opens April 16

Ringling Museum Is Site Of Five-Day Meeting

The fifth annual Art Seminar in conjunction with the Ringling Museum of Art at Sarasota is set for April 6 through April 10 at the Ringling Museum.

The department of art of Florida State University is sponsoring the seminar called "Art and Society — Four Great Periods of Western Civilization."

DR. EDWIN R. WALKER, dean of the FSU College of Arts and Sciences, will inaugurate the five days of intensive study with a lecture on "The Arts as an Expression of Their Time." Tilli will be the keynote address of the seminar.

Mr. A. Everett Austin, director of the Ringling Museum, will discuss "Rococo Interior Design" and some aspects of "Rococo Music" will be discussed by Dr. Ernst Dohnanyi.

OTHER FSU FACULTY members to participate in the Sarasota program are Dr. Hale Bradford, head of the department of anthropology and archaeology; Dr. Claude E. Fory, English department, Dr. James V. McDonough and Prof. Adolph Karl, both of the department of art.

In addition to the speakers, the OTHER FSU FACULTY members to participate in the Sarasota program are Dr. Hale Bradford, head of the department of anthropology and archaeology; Dr. Claude E. Fory, English department, Dr. James V. McDonough and Prof. Adolph Karl, both of the department of art.

A GROUP of FSU faculty members under the supervision of Dr. Roger A. Stevenson will present an eighteenth century play "The Mistress of the Sun" by Goldoni on Thursday.

While the Art Seminars are conducted annually for the benefit of those who major in the arts, the general public is invited to attend all functions of the seminar. Those who would like to attend should contact the art department office. Special rates for hotels and motor courts are available for FSU students.

Visiting lecturers will include Professor Millard Sheets, well known painter, architect and teacher and head of the department of art at Scripps College, Claremont, Calif.; Dr. Lester D. Longman, head of the department of art, State University of Iowa, and Mr. Grose Evans, Docent and Lecturer at the National Gallery of Art at Washington, D. C.

Band Festival Set for FSU

A parade through the Tallahassee business district and a mammoth marching exhibition in Doak S. Campbell Stadium will be the principal attraction of the Sixth District Band Festival held on the Florida State University campus March 27-29.

Twenty-three North Florida high school bands, from Perry to Pensacola, will participate in the festival, according to Bandmaster Oliver Hobbs, director at Leon high school, who is general chairman for the festival.

ABOUT 1500 young musicians, under their director and chaperones, will be in Tallahassee for the festival, plus several hundred parents, relatives and friends who will attend the marching exhibition on Friday evening, March 28.

The marching exhibition will drill and field formations by each of the 23 bands in turn, climaxed by a massed band formation which will put nearly 1000 musicians on the gridiron at once. Over one hundred baton twirlers will participate in the massive exercise bands, and form a massed group for the finale.

TICKETS FOR the marching exhibition will be sold at the gate. Mr. Hobbs has announced admission will be $1 for adults and $.50 for students. Children under seven will be admitted free.

Bands participating in the festival will be those from Blountstown, Bonifay, Havana, Wewahitchka, Malone, Chipley, Greenhead, Monticello, Marianna, Apalachicola and Chattahoochee, Quincy, Madison, Perry, Port St. Joe, Port Walton, Perry, Marianna, Chipley DeFuniak Springs, Crestview, Milton, Jay, Crestview and Milton. Leon High, host band for the festival, will also participate in the festival events.

'State Capers' Is IFC Weekend Name

"State Capers" has been chosen as the official name for the Florida State University Inter-Fraternity Council weekend, Floyd Poole, chairman, has announced.

Poole said the name of the affair was chosen because it was a campuswide affair and not just for fraternities.

The IFC weekend, which is scheduled for May 23, 24, will be open to all university students and has planned a campus-wide list of events, "State Capers" will be climaxed by a dance in the East dining hall.

Committee heads to run the weekend are Bill Reiter, afternoon concert, Jimmy Carter, publicity, and Gordon Jones, decorations.

The official name was chosen after a campus-wide contest in which 150 entries were submitted.

An announcement about the orchestra for the weekend will be released soon, chairman Poole stated.

Qualifying Date Set by Chairman

Qualification dates for the April first class Senate and Judiciary election has been set by Jim Ball, March 21 through May 27, Carl Epperson, elections chairman announced yesterday.

All candidates will hand in their qualifying papers in the University Government association office from 3 until 6 p. m. on the dates announced.

Qualification blanks may be picked up at Dean Broward J. Culpepper's office in the Student Welfare office in Westcott Epperson said.

Campaigning may not commence until the qualified blanks have been turned in, the chairman said.

McCarty Speaks Here Tomorrow

Dan McCarty, candidate for governor, will speak here tomorrow at 5:15 p.m.

He will make his address in the amphitheater and all students and faculty are invited by the FSU McCarty for Governor club. Interest has been aroused since McCarty will speak on Thursday afternoon, but due to his severely handicapped schedule resultine from the recent death of his mother, he will make only a brief stop-over in Tallahassee Wednesday. However, he assures to be present on Thursday as will be made downtown on Thursday as originally scheduled.

The FSU McCarty for Governor club will hold a meeting in the Longmire building tonight at 7 p.m. Carty supporters from all over Leon county are urged to be present. Plans will be made for future activities on the campus.

HOLDS FIRST MUSIC DEGREE—Carol Longino, who earned the first music degree in the FSU School of Music, will present an operalogue Tuesday and Wednesday evenings as part of the dedication of Opperman Music Hall.

National President Says NSA Feared by Communism

To the few students who heard Bill Dentzer, president of the National Student association, speak last Friday the meeting was an eye-opener.

Dentzer spoke informally for an hour and a half, energetically citing the advantage of NSA and emphatically refuting many of the charges heard against the organization on this campus and elsewhere.

The national president explained that essentially NSA is just a banding together of student governments. The group works through the local campus governments, always avoiding duplication of offices wherever possible.

The nations1 organization has the advantage over single governments of concerted strength, however, and Dentzer cited several examples of how NSA has influence with the federal government when representing the interests of some 300 member schools.

Another important advantage of NSA, Dentzer pointed out, is the National Student Bill of Rights, extending to students a service similar to that offered professors by the AAUP. If the Student Bill of Rights is violated, NSA will investigate and issue a full report upon the invitation of the president of the university, a majority of the student government or 15 percent of the student body.

Over and over again the national president emphasized the incresing international role of NSA in acting as good-will ambassador where the United States is much misunderstood.

As to charges of Communist dominance or even infiltration, Dentzer had an emphatic answer. He said there were Communists at the founding convention five years ago, but that being completely defeated they had withdrawn. He pointed to the large number of Catholic schools in NSA and to the complete confidence and encouragement of the State department and the FBI as proof of freedom from Communism.

Concerning the fear of some southern schools about NSA's platform of opposition to segregation, the national president explained that the platform was merely a majority opinion and in no way binding on the individual members schools.

All in all, NSA was presented as a sound and practical approach to strengthening student government at Florida State. There are, of course, many other considerations for FSU to make before acting admission.

Dentzer's talk made one thing painfully clear: FSU students know extremely little about the NSA. They have no idea of its policies and they are full of erroneous rumors about the group.

Florida State must stop hiding in the shadows. FSU must get ALL the factual information on NSA it can and seriously consider what the group can do.

● ANSWER NEEDED

There is some question now whether the two lonely constitutional amendments passed by the faculty review board and approved by student voters Tuesday are legitimate.

First of all, article 10, section three of the UGA constitution reads, "Statutes ... shall be published at least once in the Florida Flambeau." This is generally interpreted by student leaders to mean that the statute must be printed before the election, and while the Flambau has printed synopses, it has never reproduced them verbatim.

Neither is it clear whether an amendment is a statute.

Secondly, the synopses of the amendments which appeared on the ballots Tuesday have been attacked as extremely ambiguous.

Many of the points raised against the legality of the amendments may be trivial, or at best extremely technical. There are enough of them, though, to warrant attention. The various branches of student government should answer decisively the questions posed to prevent similar problems in the future.

● TREND IS CO-ED

Two outstanding universities in the South, Georgia Tech and Mississippi State College, are presently going through the pains this institution experienced not so long ago. They are trying to become co-educational.

The Technique, at Georgia Tech, stated that reasons for admitting women students have grown in recent years, while reasons for continuing to bar them from the regular student body have dwindled.

At present, petition is being circulated among the administrative officials, alumni, faculty and student body to sound out their attitude on the proposal.

At Mississippi State a front page editorial urged co-education because it would give the students a broader curriculum, the quality of instruction could be improved and it would save the taxpayers money.

Both universities are waiting on the approval of the governing board of the university.

Florida State has already made the step. (Yes!). However, in the second phase of transition from a women's college, and all the elements of restriction and conservatism the reaction seem to imply, let's not forget which way we are going.

Progress is being made to reach the goal of a great university. Don't let a few old ideas, carry overs from the days of PSCW, hold FSU back!

● LION'S MOUTH

Two more college newspapers have been singing the censorship blues recently. They are the Lobo, University of New Mexico, and the Diamondback, University of Maryland.

At the University of New Mexico the student council first tried to oust the editor, then demanded tht the paper print a student government column free of editing.

When the editor refused, the council fired five student members of the board of publications for "incompetence."

At the University of Maryland, the administration passed the following rule: "Student editors must submit to faculty advisers any matter that is questionable or debatable."

Restored a student group: "When the privilege of expressing minority views, be they right or wrong, is restricted, a fundamental American freedom is taken away."

Editor and Publisher, commenting on both these incidents declared, "The rash of crackdowns on student newspaper freedom will continue as long as the present tendency toward intolerance, and paralysis of freedom of thought and speech on college and university campuses.

Meantime, the college editor bears an ever-increasing resemblance to the man at the circus who sticks his head in the lion's mouth."

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

SEMINOLE SCENES

HOLLYWOOD SUPPLIES THE IMAGINATION

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

If you fall in love, brother, watch it! You might be walking a block up in the air as you go to your classes, instead of clomping along on terra firma like the rest of us poseurs.

Hollywood is trying to bust the old saying, "when you've seen one musical, you have seen them all." Musicals have never been termed realistic; they are romantic. But lately, they are just downright fantastic.

At a recent movie in Tallahassee, the two principal characters, Fred Astaire and Vera Ellen, spent part of their time walking around in the air because "they were in love." And they didn't even use clouds. Either. They were in love with the rest of the cast of supposed-to-be bloodied, intelligent mindreclams didn't seem to mind at all. The simple explanation of "we're in love" seemed to be enough to make the whole cast and several extras accept the idea of walking with the air molecules and smilingly sing them as the choruses while the two love-birds danced over the tree-tops and roofs. One person remarked, "Gee, it's too

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Gaines
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Ann Long
Assistant News Editor ..... Jane Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Simmons
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Long
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni; Fa Pittman, Steve Zatyko

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 5-491, Ext. 4821 published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.

The Florida Flambeau is represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

second Floor, Alumni Building

Dear Editor...

Clearifaction

Dear Editor,

The purpose of this letter is not to arouse further argument, by which nothing is gained, but to attempt to remedy the injustice done to the Flambeau's readers by a misrepresentation of fact in print.

The columnist in "Senate Duped" gives the impression that unfair methods were employed in opposing portions of the Cabinet Resolution. Actually, I was not fearful of the proposed Amendment about 4 weeks ago, while it was still in committee. We had met with the Senate Amendments Committee and with individuals on that committee and expressed our views, which incidentally are not ours alone but the views of many court members and students at large who have been active about it. Apparently these views were not too well received. We have not desired to make this session at which the Senate unanimously passed the Amendment had we know of this meeting we would gladly have discussed the matter with you and made you aware of the meeting of Executive Council in which the judicial branch has no vote) which approved the amendment.

Though a number of students in places of authority see a need for change in the philosophy of our court system, this feeling is based not on actual investigation of fact but on personal opinion and hearsay. A great many students are satisfied with our present form, which experience has proved to be more appropriate to our university community than the legalistic, complex system of the federal government toward which this amendment points. The faculty, which we admit, is not in the system itself but in advisory role, we are often too lazy and unconcerned to make it work. Unless some explanation is given to the students in voting will not realize the extent to which the Amendment will change our existing system. We felt it important that the faculty committee soon that there are other opinions than those held by the committee, and this instance has not accurately represented the students.

The Assembly Committee that the amendment should have passed the faculty committee merely as a formality is a false one. If that committee and the entire student body were accurately informed and information necessary for making intelligent decisions, perhaps our constitution would stop changing so often that no one knows what it says and would attain the stability and prestige it so desperately needs.

Sincerely,
Alice Jackson,
Patty Mims.

Crusading

Dear Editor:

Do you take the student body to be a group of idiots? In your editorial column dated March 11, 1952, you made several statements that no eighth-grader would swallow.

"The block has received such a vigorous denial there must be some guilt implied with the denial." If you were falsely accused of committing a crime you would naturally deny it vigorously. Would this vehement denial prove your guilt? We can see simply that a fraternity blot a a crime, but this far-fetched conclusion is necessary because of the absurdity of your argument.

If you have evidence of wrong-doing on the part of any organization, we definitely favor your bringing it to the attention of the students. However, we do not favor indimidation and threats any more than you do—either of fraternal organizations or by a faculty group. This might be mistaken for a demagogue 'e leader who uses the passions or prejudices of the populace for his own interests. an unprincipled popular orator or agitator."—Webster.

Andy Anderson,
Lorian Martines,
Jose Marti.

Reservations Now Open for Rooms

Women's room applications for next year will begin tomorrow with sororities making out reservations through the 21. Miss Edith McCollum director of women's residence said yesterday. A tentative dollar boost fee will be required.

Robert G Brewer, men's residence counselor, said that boys would make pre-reservations for rooms also on March 21 but the time will be announced later.

Incoming girl seniors will sign up March 24 through 28. Sophomores of 1952 and 1953 will make reservations March 30 through April 4.

Joint Recital Given By Gunnoe, McSwain

Patricia Gunnoe, soprano student of Rita Robertson, and Lee McSwain, pianist of the sister of Carlisle Floyd, presented a joint junior recital in the Opperman Music hall last night.

Miss Gunnoe sang selections from Handel, Schumann, Brahms, Bizet and Rachmaninov, and Miss McSwain played selections from Mozart and Liszt, as well as scores from other artists.

Campus Characters

BY STAN (BIG BROTHER) SCHMIDT

No more wearing of Bikini bathing suits and snowshoes to Formal Dances. Our old friends Suzie and Jimmy Seminole (ad nauseum) are back mouthing the usual drivel any Tibetan Wombat-Milker knows—and ignores.

Stuffed Shirt-itis is the worst disease known to man—and particularly obnoxious under a crew cut. . . .

* * *

Congrats to the weird one who dreamed up the Olson-Johnson touches to the Cavalier Talent Show. A guy in a black string tie and skating cross stage at odd moments; half wild characters walking out of the audience and a crusher —Cardone in a leopard skin cap.

* * *

Hope one of the High Command caught the turnout at the Tea Dance the other Eve. . . . What's one and one make again? Remarks of the week—

John McCorey's bland comment regarding the "suggestions" of the Social Standards committee. ". . . maybe I'm confused —but do you mean to achieve Christianity by making nudity?"

Nick Pappas after the Irish Tenoring of winner Bob Dobrey, ". . . hell with the Irish—I'm Greek."

George Carey . . . "She's got everything behind the pm—nothing behind the eyes"

Anonymous . . . "A teacher's job is to make pirfle plesuible —or at least pretentious."

* * *

ATO's erving Rollins transfer Don Harder "the business" and more. . . . Tom Owen (the burkskinned, anrylled one) only has eyes for the sweet one he's snowing at corner tables. . . .

FRATERNITY ROW

Near Doak Campbell Stadium
DIAL 2-1535
Pick-up and Delivery Service
CLEANERS AND LAUNDERERS

Main Plant
1233 North Monroe
Dial 3-0467

AA CLEANERS
DISTINCTIVE DRY CLEANING

Downtown Store
221 S. Adams St.
Dial 3-0695

Our new Fraternity Row Cleaners, Jefferson St., near the Campbell Stadium gate, is ready to serve you. Just pick up your phone, dial any of our numbers, and we will pick-up and deliver.

THE REACTIONARY VOICE

A STORY: CANDIDE, OR, THE SUCKER . . .

FRED MYERS

I didn't win the Cavalier Talent Show in spite of Andy's story—I was a judge, and try as I might, I was unable to figure a way to vote for myself without making it look extremely odd, since I didn't compete. "Gee, it's too a fine show, though, and everyone who missed it should try to see it next year.

Today I shall tell e fable.

Candide was one of nature's gifted, even though at eighteen to and knows that one person benefiting another is good to all. Candide benefit eventually to the two billion people of the earth. In other words, Candide was wise enough to realize his own unimportance in the scheme of things, to realise his own importance.

One day he went out, filled with the joy of youth and the love nights, he thanked to look into a nightclub and there was she, dressed in garish feathers, sodden with gin, with the usual two fellows and another woman. She had a pleasing enhance all of their evil-looking worth, less types. Candide rushed up to them.

"What do you mean, taking money from me by saying that you are sick when you wanted it for carousing and prostitution?" he said angrily, for in his wisdom he had divined her duplicity.

"Do you want anything, dearie?" She said, returning his smile politely.

Candide finally convinced her that he wanted only to help her, and the girl's story—a story as old as Lucky was Candide, in his zeal for benevolence, to have happened upon her, for she was oppressed by singularly cruel fortune. She had been sold for three weeks and was racked by a wasting disease that required constant and expensive reliance to keep alive. Candide, moved to block sorrow to and some of the wretched condition, was at the same time happy that here was someone upon whom he could lavish his benevolence, and he joyfully gave her the necessary provisions. similar help in the future, as long as it was needed.

She said nothing, but looked at her companions, and he jumped up and laid Candide flat with e blow. When policemen arrived they told him Candide was drunk and had molested them.

The police sarrsent found a sare sum of money on Candide for which there was no account.

Candide is now incarcerated for many years, but feels happy. He is studying philosophy, and learning about the Common Good.

The moral of this story is: In matters not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game. Or to paraphrase it, matters not whether you do Good or Evil, but whether you exhibit that what you are doing is Good.

Puppet Show Tryouts Scheduled Tonight

Tryouts for a "Jack and the Beanstalk" puppet show will be held tonight at 7 p. m. in 124 History building.

Students interested in acting, operating puppets or scenery and costume design, are invited to try out.

The speech department production is being directed by Audiction is being directed by Marilyn Nelson, assisted by Marilyn Nelson.

F.S.U. Fun and Functions

A Calendar of Events Compiled and Distributed by Your University Gov't. Assn.

Tuesday—March 18

3:00—Student Recital at the Music Hall.
2:30—BASEBALL—FSU vs. Kenyon College at Centennial Field.
4:00—Biological Sciences Seminar—308 History—"Sex and Endocrine Factors in the Relationships of Orthoptera in N. E. Florida"—Dr. James Fyriaut.
7.00—Cavalier-Continental Dancing Class at the "O" Club (EVERY TUES. & THURS.)
8:00—Opportunities in Accounting — Clubroom, Alumni Bldg.
8:15—Operalogue "La Traviata"—Carol Longeno —Music Hall.
Artist Series—"Biography" with Doris Dalton—March 18, 20, 21, 22 at 8:15 and March 22 at 2:15—in the Conradi Theatre.

Wednesday—March 19

8:15—Operalogue "La Boheme"—Carol Longone—Music Hall.

Thursday—March 20

4:00—Psychological Department Seminar — Dr. Ivan Steiner—"Attitude Analysis from Point of View of Reference Groups"—Alumni Bldg.
8.00—"The Modern Myth of the Orestela"—Miss Julie Storrs—Longmire Lounge.
5:00—Geography Club meeting—103 History Bldg.
7:00—Cavalier-Cotillion Dancing Class at the "O" Club.

Friday—March 21

7:45—Baseball—FSU vs. Mercer University—Centennial Field.
8:15—Piano Recital—Ernst von Dohnanyi—Music Hall.

Classics Dept. sponsors the Latin Forum—meeting of high school Latin students of Florida (also March 22).

Saturday—March 22

2.30—Baseball—Georgia University vs. FSU—Centennial Field.
9:00—Chi Omega Formation Ball—American Legion Home.

Monday—March 24

7:45—Baseball—FSU vs. Georgia Tech — Centennial Field.

FSU Regulars

Free Campus Movie—"The Ghost Goes West"—7:30 Tuesday (Senior Hall), Wednesday (South Cawthon), Thursday (Landis)—8:00 Friday (Magnolia), Saturday (Landis)—"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now"—Monday, 7:30, "O" Club.

Monday through Friday—Piano period in East Campus gym—7:30-8:30.

Monday through Friday—Bowling in East Campus gym—6:30-9:45.

Every night — Pingpong in East Campus gym—6:00-10:00.

Notice—Any organization sponsoring an event which they wish to have published in Fun and Functions please notify Ruth Hoernig, UGA Office (Ext. 4821) or Carolyn Gola (Box 438)

Classical Forum Theme Is a 'Live' Latin Language

Latin will become a "live" language on the campus of Florida State University when nearly 700 high school students convene for the annual Classical Association of Latin forum, March 21-22.

The meeting of the Association, which is connected with the Classical Association of the Middle West and South, will consist of competition for awards being given in oratory contests, skits, exhibition of posters, scrapbooks and translation contests.

REGISTRATION of the delegates will be held from 4 p. m. to 7:0 p. m. Friday, March 21. President Doak S. Campbell will speak at the high school students' first general assembly session on Saturday morning. The oration and poster contests, which will be judged by the speech and art departments will be followed by a luncheon program.

Saturday the skits will be given and the business meeting held after which the contest winners will be announced.

AFTER A luncheon, the students will be taken on a tour of the campus, the state capitol, supreme court building and other points of interest in Tallahassee.

President of the Latin forum, which is held its first annual meeting at FSU in 1948 is Raymond Hudson Jacksonville high school student. The Classics department, with Dr. Olivia N. Dorman as its head, will be host for the convention.

WFSU to Continue Baseball Broadcasts

WFSU, campus radio station, will continue to broadcast the Florida State University baseball games, station manager Stan Gould informed.

Jim Kirk will broadcast the FSU vs. Kenyon game this afternoon at 2:30 and the FSU vs. University of Georgia games Friday night at 7:45 and Saturday afternoon at 2:30 will also be broadcast.

Assisting Kirk with the programs are Ronnie Martin and Allen McCall.

Chemist to Speak At GSE Meeting

Dr. Vincent Stewart, from the State Chemist's office, will speak at a meeting of Gamma Sigma Epsilon, national chemistry honorary, tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Alumni building. He will speak to the chapter on the "Enforcement of State Food and Drug Laws."

The meeting will be open to guests, and all who are interested are invited to attend.

Tomorrow Night

Continued From Page 1

Marion's intentions of exposing his past in her autobiography.

ORRIN KENICOT, father of the fiance of Marion and his political advisor is also found in the writer artist. Hoyt Bowen played Kinnicot.

Slade, his daughter, played by Anne Gregoire and Bert Hollander, find the situation amusing and also the fact that Nolan, the dignified candidate from Tennessee could be capable of having such a past as Marion was willing to expose.

Other characters in the comedy are David Lowe as Feydak Kenneth Martin as Wilson, Lowe although not on the stage as much as some of the admirers presented a well characterized Russian accent while Ken Martin brought rollicking laughter from the audience in his first lines.

DIRECTING THE humorous story and play is Dr. George McCalmon, associate professor of speech. Assistant director is Sara Margaret Davis, junior speech student. Stage manager is Kay Hardin, with Jean Flynn as assistant manager. Wynn Park designed the set with costumes by Douglas Russell.

Tickets for the play have been selling as well or better than the general public as to the students, it has been revealed from the sale of tickets with the amount of sudenta present at Saturday's matinee. Another matinee performance will be held the 22.

THE BOX OFFICE will be open from 12 p. m. to 5 s. Elombi from 12 m. to 8 p. m. and on all nights of the performances. The 75 cents tickets for the general public may be secured from the department of speech and mail orders may be sent to the theater box office.

Telephone reservations may be made through extension 2051.

Play's Backstage Crew Has Important Role

Timing of lights, doorbells and sound effects reveal a world of well-ordered chaos backstage the current production of C. N. Behrman's "Biography."

Working backstage as stage manager is Kay Bardin, who must see that the curtain goes up and is pulled down at exactly the right second. Beatrice Lambert, assistant stage manager, has to ring phones and doorbells frequently throughout the production. Sound effects crew members listen for cue lines while at the same time property girls are rattling dishes for the next entrance of the maid.

DOROTHY WOMBELL, properties head, sees to it that each member of the cast has the correct hand props to carry on. She obtained furniture for the stage setting and larger props.

Alternate flight crew heads are Ann Gregoire and John Wyclif with each handling lights for six nights of the 12 night run. Also working on lights is Beatrice Lambert. She receives her signal from the house manager as to when the lights go off.

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN for the comedy is Freddy Myers graduate student. Myers' production job includes putting up posters, radio spots, newspaper articles and skits.

Since the show is an Artist Series feature and stars Doris Dalton, Broadway actress, he has an extraordinarily large task.

Mrs. Margaret Davis is acting as assistant director for Dr George McCalmon. She takes notes, coaches individual scenes and works with the state managers in coordinating the timing.

Julie Storm Speaks Thursday Evening

Miss Julie Storm will present a lecture entitled "The Modern Myth of the Orestaa" on Thursday evening, at 8 p.m. in the parlor of Broward hall.

This lecture is the third in a series on "The Influence of Classical Myths on the Arts," which is sponsored by the Eta chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical honorary.

Miss Storm is a graduate of Florida State University, and is now compeiling work on a master's degree in English. She is well-known for her participation in the dramas of the speech department.

Panel On Accounting To Be Held Tonight

counting will be held tonight at 8 in the Longmire club room.

Mr. Bryan Willis, state auditor and Mr. Mark Abrazo, vice-president of the Florida Institute of Accounting will address the students.

William Eaton is student chairman and William D. Myers is student secretary of the panel.

Adapted Club Meets

The Adapted Physical Education club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Women's Lounge of the East campus gymnasium while the first practice of the Skish club meets at 8 this afternoon. Members will meet in front of the gymnasium for the Skish club of Adapted Physical Education.

Pep Club to Elect

The Warpath club will meet tonight at 7 in 407 Longmire building for an election of officers. All organizations are urged to see that their delegates attend.

Classified Ads

EX-GI needs roommate in private home. Kitchen privileges. See Mrs. Steele, 205 N. Woodward.

Hawaii Pasitian Open For Grade Teacher

An exchange position for teaching the third grade is open in Hawaii for the school year of 1952-53, according to Glover E. Tully, director of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Requirements for the position are a degree, the candidate must be holding a position now, and must have two years of teaching experience.

Any person interested in such contact the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement in 303 Westcott.

Journalism Institute Planned at FSU

The first Florida State University School Press Institute will be held on campus June 15-22 for high school journalists, announced Dean Laurence Campbell of the School of Journalism.

The institute will be a combined two-week program of instruction and recreation for high school seniors. Specific courses will be offered during the institute including school publication reporting, editing, feature writing, management, newspaper workshop, and yearbook workshop.

Daily instructions will be provided by the institute in improving student publications. The program will also deal with the roles of the press, press photography radio-television and related topics.

In recreation, those attending the institute will have swimming parties, social activities, trips to scenic, historic, and cultural points of interest.

Cyclone Problem Reviewed Tonight

Dr. Erik Palmon, professor of meterology at the University of Helsinki and visiting professor of meterology at the University of Chicago, will preview the cyclone problem tonight centering around the Nov. 1950 storm.

The meterology seminar will be held in room 304 of Wescott building at 8 and is open to the general public.

Dr. Palmon is a pioneer in the three-dimensional analysis of the atmosphere. He is visiting FSU as a consultant on the research being conducted by the department of meterology on the weather of the Middle East. The research is being sponsored by the U. S. Air Force.

General Ed. Exams Set for Wednesday

Exemption examinations for several general education areas have been scheduled for March 19 and 20 from 4:30 until 6:30 p. m. in room 214 of the Educational building.

Recommendation blanks necessary for taking the examinations may be secured from the Test Service Bureau, room 210 of the Educational building. Students are required to have the recommendation of their dean, academic counselor or the area chairman.

Day Students Vote

Women day students who wish to vote on Sophomore Council members may cast a ballot Thursday or Friday in the Day student lounge in the Longmire building.

German Club Meets

The newly organized German club will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in room 123 History building for the election of officers. All students interested are asked to attend.

Patronize Our Advertisers

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
Last Times Today
'Crosswinds'
with John Payne and Rhonda Fleming
Wed. Thru Sat.
'I Want You'
with Dana Andrews and Dorothy McGuire

STATE
Today and Wed.
'end in the River'
Starts Thursday
'QUO VADIS'
With Robert Taylor and Deborah Kerr

RITZ
Today and Wed
'Mr. Imperium'
in Technicolor
With Lana Turner and Ezio Pinza
Thursday Thru Sat.
'I Was an American Spy'
With Ann Dvorak
also
'Utah Wagon Train'

DRIVE-IN
Today and Wed.
'Passage West'
With John Payne
Thursday thru Saturday
'he Raging Tide'
with Shelley Winters and Richard Conte
'Ay Pal Trigger'

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Filet Mignon Special At The Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

'OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

gleams as it cleans cleans as it gleams
the Wildroot
LIQUID CREAM SHAMPOO
More than just a liquid, more than just a cream ... new Wildroot Liquid Cream Shampoo is a combination of the best of both.
Even in the hardest water Wildroot Shampoo washes hair gleaming clean, manageable, curl-inviting without robbing hair of its natural oils.
Soapless Sudsy ... Lanolin Lovely!
THREE SIZES 25¢ 50¢ 98¢
P.S. To keep hair neat between shampoos use Lady Wildroot Cream Hair Dressing.

California COBBLERS
Open-faced sandal that's free to the breeze, soft as its glove-supple leather and fluff-light platform. Fits your play clothes wardrobe as well as it does your foot with its adjustable custom-fit toe-strap.
White AAA to B 4 to 10
OPEN SEASON $6.95
Turner's

This is NERO ... the pagan emperor, and Lygia, Christian slave girl in his golden house of women!
M-G-M's QUO VADIS
Technicolor
Mat: Til 2 P. M.—74c Evenings—99c
SHOWS THURSDAY THRU SATURDAY WILL BE AT 11:00-2:00-5:00-8:00
Schedule Changes Sunday
STARTS THURSDAY
STATE

CHESTERFIELD—LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES AT MARYLAND
Varsity Grill
We certify that Chesterfield is our largest selling cigarette by 2 to 1
SIGNED E. J. Zalesak PROPRIETOR
Chesterfield CIGARETTES
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
CHESTERFIELD
2 to 1
because CHESTERFIELDS are much MILDER and give you the ADDED PROTECTION of NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE*
*FROM THE REPORT OF A WELL-KNOWN RESEARCH ORGANIZATION

Yankees Headed Toward Fourth Straight Crown Until Proven Otherwise

(Editor's note: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow daily.)

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG—"Ol' Casey Stengel some will swear he does it with mirrors" is headed toward his fourth straight American League pennant and World Series triumph — at least until proven otherwise.

Casey is the same old paradin pitchin, resenting individual full of confidence, even though the old look of the champs continues to charge and even though all the big boy, Joe DiMaggio, no longer is with the club.

In fact Case will tell you he's half-sore because I lost a kidney stone during folklorers will tell you the Yanks are just as healthy as always in the quality and quantity of the replacements from the farms.

Whether the canny Casey can put 'em together into another winning ball club remains to be seen, but off his record he's as sure a bet as Citation in his prime.

"How can they say we're so much weaker?" Casey asks as he talks and walks—so you and away from you.

"I've got the same catching staff, I've got Raschi, Reynolds and Lopat, and two solid outfielders. You might say the pitching staff is a little uncertain now but I'll be ready when," Casey says.

"I've got a number of good-looking young ball players. A lot of criticism is thrown at me for how I handle 'em but who can say which is my best outfielder, or infielder or pitcher? I can't say myself until we see what they can do.

"I'm not concerned about fellows like Raschi, Reynolds, Lopat, Rizzuto and Berra and we may find one or two of these newcomers are also will make it. And I'm the first guy to hope they do.

"I'm playing Bauer in right and Woodling in left now. We've got several we're looking at in center, I can't give Mickey Mantle too much of a workout yet because he complained his right knee was sore. He wore a brace on it after that World Series injury."

* * *

Casey continued:

"Spec Shea looks in good shape Reliefer Bobby Hogue's in good shape Bob Kuzava is as fast as stone lightning ruzht now. In fact, even the park is in good shape."

There are those, of course, who point to the several Yankee problems in questioning the actual strength of the Bombers this year.

It is granted that the Yanks have one of the best pitching punches in all baseball in Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds and steady Eddy Lopat, and a hard-hitting and improving catcher in Yogi Berra.

Phil Rizzuto still rates as among the best at shortstop. Gene Woodling is a much underrated player and Hank Bauer has proven adequate. Mantle as a while-hang star last year and young Gil McDonald proved to be another sensation. the latest in a line of Yankee talent uncovered by the farm system and developed by Casey himself and that very capable coaching staff of Bill Dickey, Jim Turner and Frank Crosetti.

It's in the Yankee infield and DiMag's spot in center which may prove to be the big problems.

Besides Mantle the Yanks have Jackie Jensen, the California football star who did well at Kansas City after starting out with the Yanks last year. He is expected to give Mantle the biggest fight.

Then there is Bob Cerv, who hit .344 and smashed out eight home runs for Kansas City last year. And still another rookie hopeful, Archie Wilson, who had a big year at Buffalo where he hit .316 and also batted in 94 runners.

Who's-On-First is getting to be an old gag for the Yanks and they can confuse on this year although Joe Collins probably will win the job as a regular.

Others in the chick of it are Johnny Johnson, Irv Noren and Johnny Hopp. Fenton Mole is up from Beaumont. One of the camp surprises is Kal Segrist, a second sacker at Kansas City, who has been converted into a first baseman. Segrist hit .17 home runs last year and has surprised in camp.

Gil McDougald can play either second or third and Rizzuto is a feature at short. The Yanks, however, will lose the smooth-fielding second sacker, Jerry Coleman, who goes into the service, and Bobby Brown, who third baseman, also service-bound.

Jim Brideweser who hit .283 at San Francisco last year, is a likely candidate for second sacker, as back for reserve help. Among the newcomers may be ing an impression in the infield are Andy Carey, who did a remarkable job for Kansas City last season after coming off the St. Mary's campus, and Don Bollweg, who hit 303 for Kansas City.

The Yank roster is jammed with pitchers attempting to make good. And several of the newcomers are impressive enough to get Casey to talk about them.

Of especial mention is Tom Gorman, a New York City hopeful who won 12 and lost eight for Beaumont last season and turned in a string of 42 consecutive scoreless innings.

Still another surprise has been Al Cicotte, nephew of the famed Eddie Cicotte. This younaster has been in and out of the Army the last two years but was 15 games at Norfolk in 1950 and 17 in Army games last year. Of those 17 victories. 12 were shutouts.

Another mound hopeful is Ernie Nevel, with Kansas City last season. Still another is Harry Schaefer, southpaw, who turned in a fine 19-9 record at Beaumont.

Holdgers in addition to the olp three are Kunava, Tom Morgan, Joe Ostrowski, Stubby Overmore, Johnny Sain, and Shea.

The Yanks sign a flock of youngsters for the farm clubs. But the quality is nursed and not quantity Casey himself stayed looser at Lake Wales, where the Yanks conducted a school, to watch the progress of the boys he liked.

An example of what Yankee-farm can be is seen in the case of John Blanchard, an outfielder signed for a big bonus. Bi Dicker watched him in camp last year and suggested he try catching. With his dandy throwing arm and a new catcher's mitt Blanchard went to the plate and amazed camp observers here with his ability. They are saying he'll be ready when Berra calls it quits.

It's neat to be a Yankee, they say. And it's just plain, commonsense not to sell 'em short—either or without the old pros.

NEXT—BOSTON BRAVES

Seminoles Blast Kenyon 21-1 in Run Happy Opener

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

THE PEACH SPEAKS—The old Georgia Peach — Ty Cobb—whose explosive bat and fiery baserunning was the scourge of the American League for 24 long years, is swinging his mighty stick once more. But this time instead of enemy pitchers it's directed against modern day baseball.

According to Cobb whose article "They Don't Play Baseball Anymore" is appearing in the current issue of Life magazine, "the great American pastime" is crumbling at the foundations and tottering on the brink of disaster.

Cobb assails the top stars of today for their neglience in conditioning and attacks the home run as if it were one of the seven deadly sins.

In fact, the Georgia Peach says that only two players in the big time today—Stan Musial and Phil Rizzuto—could stand up against the old-timers. In Cobb's book even Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams would have never hit the top in the old days. "Boy, they must have really played ball back then."

Of DiMaggio and Williams Cobb says: "Some of the most publicized hitters of recent years—I'm thinking especially of Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio —have limned along on one cylinder. Playing the same way in the old days, they would have never hit the top." However he goes on and pays Joe what might be called a tribute when he says: "Joe DiMaggio was the other modern who made a name for himself without scratching the surface of his talents. Joe was perhaps the greatest natural ballplayer who ever lived. He had everything: speed, grace, ability, a good eye long and strong arm muscles."

Then the Peach, turning a little sour, flays DiMaggio for "Percentage. he was the outstanding example of how modern ballplayers neglect to train and keep themselves in condition," neglecting running and loafing between ses-sions. Summing up his lamentation on DiMag, Cobb has this to say "He will never know how of great a ballplayer he might have been—or how long he might have lasted—if he had taken care of himself. I think he could still be out there this summer, gobbling up those fly balls and hitting 350, and it's not been for all those long winters."

Cobb has about as much contempt for the home run as he does for the lack of conditioning. "The sole object, encouraged by the lively ball, and the shortened fences, is to make home runs. But even the home run, becoming commonplace has lost its worth."

Never much of a long ball hitter himself, Cobb was content to try for the singles and doubles and his all time batting average of .367, which is up his claims considerably. In his 24 year stint in the majors he hit only 118 home runs which was less than four per season.

In his thirteen active seasons with the Yankees DiMaggio banged out 362 homers and drove in 1,390 runs while Cobb put across 1901 in 24 years.

Then, Cobb goes on and takes a poke at today's baserunners, pitchers and catchers when he says, "Nobody in the major leagues today—not even Jackie Robinson, Sam Jethroe and Minnie Minosa—is a first class runner. The old time pitchers and catchers wouldn't have let them steal very often."

"Nor have today's pitchers and catchers ever learned how to stop a good baserunner. If one of the old timers could have come back today, at the full prime of his youth, he would run wild and steal over 100 bases a year." In other words, we is had it and might as well give up.

Cobb goes on in reminence of the old days when the players spent their off hours fighting and getting up each others uniforms, smashing bats and locking each other out of their hotel rooms.

At any rate Cobb shouldn't get too many pats on the back from the present day baseball men for his efforts at the typewriter and for the first time in his stormy career seems to be caught in a rundown between first and second.

* * *

The 1952 football campaign as far as Floridians are considered, should be one of the most interesting ever, if one can judge by the schedules lined up by some of the State teams.

Last Sunday the Stetson Hatters announced what is probably their most difficult card in history. Included on the Hatter slate for '52 is Florida of course plus Miami, Furman, Mississippi Southern and Tampa.

Stetson officials claim they are looking for one or two more tilts to complete the already announced nine game schedule. Ironically the Hatters are on both the Miami and Florida scendas while the Seminoles will have a date until 1953 to get back on the Miami card. As for Florida yeah well . . .

Meet Again Today at 2:30

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florida State University baseball team opened its 1952 season in impressive fashion here yesterday afternoon by bowling over the touring Kenyon College Lords 21-1 in a three-hour run happy massacre.

The same two teams are scheduled to meet again this afternoon on Conrad Field at 2:30. Coach Ralph Masterly said yesterday he would send big Ed Lockard against the Kenyon nine while the Lords will probably counter with Mike Pavelich.

VETERAN PITCHER Ed Sessions, first of the Seminoles three hurlers, literally "had" for the win, while Dick Williams of the Lords took the loss. Lefty Chuck Trowbridge went the route to the mound while richhander Marvin Haynes finished up.

The Indians had for a shutout was ruined in the sixth frame when third baseman Don Gabriele smashed a long drive into left field. Mike Hayden, Kenyon first baseman, came a while the Lords will probably counter with Mike Pavelich.

VETERAN PITCHER Ed Sessions, first of the Seminoles three hurlers, literally "had" for the win, while Dick Williams of the Lords took the loss. Lefty Chuck Trowbridge went the route to the mound while richhander Marvin Haynes finished up.

The Indians had for a shutout was ruined in the sixth frame when third baseman Don Gabriele smashed a long drive into left field. Mike Hayden, Kenyon first baseman, came a while the Lords will probably counter with Mike Pavelich.

VETERAN PITCHER Ed Sessions, first of the Seminoles three hurlers, literally "had" for the win, while Dick Williams of the Lords took the loss. Lefty Chuck Trowbridge went the route to the mound while richhander Marvin Haynes finished up.

The Indians had for a shutout was ruined in the sixth frame when third baseman Don Gabriele smashed a long drive into left field. Mike Hayden, Kenyon first baseman, came a while the Lords will probably counter with Mike Pavelich.

RONALD MELTON takes his turn at bat in the second inning of the six inch Kenyon yesterday afternoon. Melton collected three hits—two singles and a double.

Trowbridge followed up with another two-bagger, this time to left center, scoring Mullen. Mike Sellers drew a base on balls and Freshman infielder Ham Wernke pumped a long double over the center fielder's head sending Sellers and Trowbridge home with the second an dthird runs.

Another first year man, catcher Johnny Tolleyed up with another two-bagger to produce the Lords' only score of the day.

Yesterday's contest started off middle enough, with neither team threatening in the early stages although Kenyon nicked Sessions for two safeties in the first stanza.

The big inning for the Seminoles, of course, came in the second frame when they pushed across 11 runs on five walks and seven hits to ice the decision then and there.

THREE TESTED veterans — first sacker Ken Smith, left fielder Ronald Melton, and center fielder Les Mullen—avoided the heaviest sticks for the Seminoles as they collecting three base knocks apiece. Two of Mullen's hits were double while Melton also collected a two-bagger.

The Indians picked up another run in the third frame on a single by Mullen, a force grounder by Trowbridge and Melton's single.

Then in the fourth frame the Seminoles added four more tallies as Chuck Sanders led off with a ground out but second baseman Billy Mills doubled to center and Smith slared a pelt later into right field to score Mills. The Kenyon outfield bungled the relay and Smith came in with the second run of the inning before the ball could be retrieved.

MULLEN FLIED out to center, Trowbridge was hit by a pitched ball, but Melton smashed a double against the right field barrier —Trowbridge coming in with the third score. Then third sacker Ralph Blinn, who had two singles for the afternoon, lined a three-bagger into left field scoring Melton with the final run of the innins to subside the scoring of the inning.

The Seminoles wrapped up their run producing efforts for the day in the sixth frame when they poured across five more tallies.

Mullen led off with a rocking double to deep left field and

Volleyball Six Places Fourth In Mid-South

The Florida State University volleyball team placed fourth in the Mid-South Open Saturday, behind nationally ranked Beaumont, Terry Haute and Florida A&U champion Whiting Field.

The Seminoles, defending champions, posted a record of 10 wins and six losses as opposed to Houston's 16-0 record for the day.

The Tallahassee six opened up the day with 15-3 and 15-7 wins over Memphis Y, before losing 13-3 and 15-11 to the powerful Houston team.

The loc aclrew then took six straight games from Memphis Navy, Jacksonville Navy, and Little Rock A.A.F.

West Monroe, La., ended the Seminoles' win streak with a 17-15 victory. The FSU team jumped back to take West Monroe in the next game by an 11-9 margin.

The Seminoles then took on their rivals from Pensacola and the Whiting Field six clumped them by scores of 14-10 and 13-11.

In the final match of the night, the Seminoles defeated Terre Haute, winning 14-9 and losing 14-12.

The Seminoles placed two men on the eight-man All Mid-South team. Ronnie Hammock became named as spiker and Howard Gould as set-up.

The over-all season record for the volleyball team to date stands at 44 games won and 36 lost; with 18 matches won, 10 lost, and six tied.

Golfers Win Over Stetson And Rollins

Bouncing back from a setback at the hands of Jax Navy last Saturday, the FSU golfers ran over the Rollins Tars 11½-6½; and trimmed Stetson's Hatters 12-6 in wet rainy season record at 2-1.

At DeLand, the Indians were paced by Sonny Tiney and Jimmy James, who won 2½-½ and 3-0 respectively. Toh Brewn and Tom Cumbie both fumbled their matches to the Hatters by the same score— 2-1.

Tinney and James paired up to stomp a Stetson duo 3-0, and Brown and Cumbie swung to an identical 1½-1½ against their opposition.

Indians to Work Saturday

Coach Don Veller and his FSU gridders moved into their third week of Spring drills yesterday with another afternoon that was occupied with contact work and a long scrimmage.

Yesterday's practice was the tenth in the 20 drills to be held as alotted for spring sessions by the NCAA and marked the halfway mark for the Seminoles.

ACTUALLY the Indians will have six drill periods this week instead of the customary five as Veller said that he would make up last Monday's practice which was cancelled because of high winds, this Saturday.

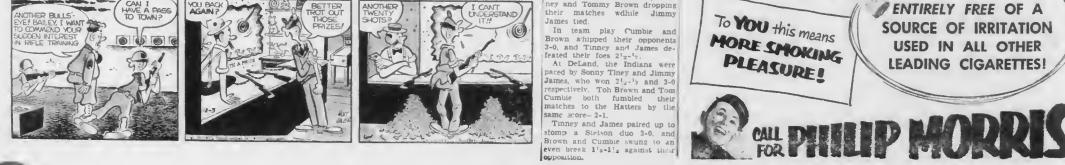
After last Friday's workout, Veller said, "We looked a little smoother than we did on Monday, but this has start."

Veller was still hesitant in picking out individuals for praise, but said that the use of the winds and we might as well have new candidates and last year's missed Tuesday and Wednesday for all that was accomplished.

VELLER was referring to the first two drills of the week in which the squad appeared sluggish and missing assignments and showing little of the spirit that had prevailed through the first week of practice.

"Our workouts Thursday and Friday were pleasing however" Veller added. "Perhaps the long weekend layoff which was extended by the rain, helped us a little smoothing to do with the bad start."

Veller was still hesitant in picking out individuals for praise, but said that the use of the winds and we might as well have new candidates and last year's reserves were "obviously promising."



WE NEED more linemen that promise to handle that schedule as well as Fall," moaned the Doubl Oni. "Anticipating optimistically to help we expect to receive four our Freshmen who was ear-school in September, perhaps we will be stronger than we are n 1951.

But we were not playing Geo sia Tech, Mississippi Southern North Carolina State, Miami and Furman last year. You have to look at it relatively to get the picture.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Make a note of this— You Can STOP WORRYING ABOUT CIGARETTE IRRITATION
because...
PHILIP MORRIS IS ENTIRELY FREE OF A SOURCE OF IRRITATION USED IN ALL OTHER LEADING CIGARETTES!
To YOU this means MORE SMOKING PLEASURE!
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Qualifying Date
For Class Elections
Today Through Thursday

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

Philosophy Professor Debates Pragmatism—
See Editorial

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 40 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Friday, March 21, 1952

'Biography' Runs Through Tuesday

Free Student Admission on ID Card In Behrman Comedy Starring Daltor

Behrman's comedy, "Biography," opens again tonight with free student admission at 8:15 p.m. in the Augusta Conradi theater. The play, which is sponsored by the Artist Series, will run through Tuesday night. Students must present their ID cards at the entrance.

The lead of Marion Froude, a 41-year-old artist, who has led a gay life and intends to tell the public about it in her autobiography, is taken by Miss Dora Denton, professional actress of stage and radio. The remainder of the cast is composed of Florida State students in the department of speech.

BEATRICE LAMBERT underscores Miss Dalton, and Jean Sharp has been cast as her German maid. Robert Strange portrays Max, the young magazine publisher and lover of Marion, while Phil Sudhow has the role of Nolan, political candidate for the U. S. Senate and Marion's old flame.

Orrin Kinnicut, Nolan's political advisor, is Hoyt Bowen. His secretary, Slade, is played by Anne Cossette and Bert Hollander alternately.

MARION SETS out with determination to write the chronicle of her life, and those she intends to include the Senate-aspiring Nolan. Knowing the people from whose name she plans to draw her own elections come up if he were elected in such a manner, Marion has his best to keep Marion from writing her autobiography. This reveals complications as well as the antics the triangle of Marion, Nolan and the artist Orrin.

Other characters in the play, to-be-ak, played by David Lowe, Jerry Wilson, Kenneth Martin, ident added humorous touches Director of the Behrman play is Dr. Gerald Ness, assistant professor of speech. Assistant director is Sara Margaret Davis. Stage speech coaching was assisted by Jean Flynn, is Mimi Wynn is the set, and Douglas Russ the costumes.

Frosh to Name King and Queen

Nomination of Royalty Scheduled in Westcott

Nominating for King and Queen of the Freshman Carnival will take place in Lower Westcott until 5 p.m. today. "Any freshman can nominate any other frosh," declared Mimi Patterson, Carnival director.

A King, a Queen, and four attending couples will be chosen in the final election. Their coronation will take place at the Carnival, a week from tomorrow tonight.

BESIDES she completely new King and Queen contest, next Saturday's affair has several outstanding attractions, according to Mimi. Expected to be most interested is the novel cake-baking contest, open to sororities, fraternities, dormitory units and faculty.

Other features are fortune telling, the cake walk, fishpond, penny-pitching ring throwing and "Ugly Man" contest. Their coronation will take place at the Carnival, a week from tomorrow night.

THE FAST EXPLAINED!—Starring in Biography, left to right, are: Bill Upshaw, as Nolan, Robert Strane, as Curt, and Miss Doris Dalton as Marion. The doors open tonight at 8:15. (Photo by L'Avant Studio).

Dedication Given Honoring Dean

HAZEL MORRISON
Flambeau News Editor

In a two night dedication of the Opperman Music Hall, Mrs. Carol Longone, holder of the first Florida State Bachelor of Music degree and student of Dean Ella Scoble Opperman, presented two operalogues this week.

Miss Opperman for whom the hall was named received recognition by President Doak S. Campbell in the first night performance of La Traviata. President Campbell said it was a spontaneous movement to name the hall after Miss Opperman.

MRS. LONGONE, originator of her operalogue also paid tribute to Dean Opperman who resigned in 1944. She not only was my wonderful teacher but a dear friend," Mrs. Longone said.

The humorous teacher of the operalogue said after her second performance, La Boheme, Wednesday night, that she had experienced to break down the wall in opera. An operalogue she thinks is one way of doing this. She said an operalogue was merely an illustrated music story of opera.

THE FORMER STUDENT who was in principal most of her time at Florida State University as a work, said that Giuseppe Verdi's La Traviata was considered immoral when it first came out and that she sometimes has difficulty now in explaining the story to her young pupils. The story was based on a true story of the "Lady of the Camellias," Giuseppe Verdi first heard it in Paris.

Mrs. Longone presented the operalogue on both nights in enjoyable illustration with gestures and personal comments concerning the two love stories.

SHE COMMENTED upon the "excellent talent" at FSU. She informed this writer that she liked one of the cast, Claude Rhea, so well that she was having him go with her to Geala for Farmer. (Mrs. Longone left for Ocala yesterday).

She noted that she had been lucky that she had been traveling through Florida on tour and was able to be here for the dedication of the Music hall.

STUDENTS EXACTING and aiming for operalogues received tremendous applause as well as Mrs. Longone. The music hall was filled to capacity Wednesday night.

Singing the parts in La Traviata Tuesday were Joan Daye James in the soprano part; Billy Joe Jones, Alfredo Germont in the tenor part, and Edsel Evans as Giorgio Germont, father of Alfredo, baritone. The three parts were played by faculty members.

ASSISTING Mrs. Longone in Giacomo Puccini's La Boheme were Claude Rhea as Rudolph the poet, tenor; Helen Bell as Mimi, soprano; Adrian Ketcham as Marcel, a painter, baritone; and Claire Kenyon, as Musetta in a soprano part. The second night performers were students.

After the performance Wednesday evening, Mrs. Longone

(Continued on Page 4)

More Salary Hikes Says Dan McCarty In Campus Speech

Dan McCarter, campaigning for Governor of Florida, spoke to a large audience in the music amphitheatre Wednesday afternoon pledged his support of higher salaries for teachers and stricter economy in state government.

Introduced as the "next governor of our state" by Will Pennell, president of the UGA, McCarty stated that he has never broken faith with the Florida citizens and cited his 1948 campaign for governor as one recommendation for the continued trust.

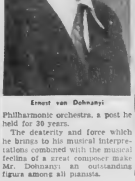
He stated he plans to "take checkers off old age pensions" but that work towards helping every citizen that needed help."

McCarty, who has been named as the leading political candidate for governor by political writers stated that he wants to put more money into advertising Florida to the people of the United States.

Dohnanyi Gives Recital Tonight in Music Hall

Ernst von Dohnanyi, famous pianist and faculty member of the Florida State University School of Music, will present a recital tonight at 8:15 in the Opperman Music Hall.

The program, open to the public as part of the Faculty Recital Series, brings to the state one of the greatest living musicians of the present day.



MR. DOHNANYI will open the program with Andante in F Major by Beethoven, following this with Sonata in C Minor, Opus III, also by Beethoven. Next, the musical features "Three Rhapsodies, B Minors, Opus 79, No. 1, G Minor, Opus 79, No. 2 and E Flat Major, Opus 119, No. 4 by Brahms.

Features of the program will be the famed composer's rendition of two of his own compositions, Burletta and Nocturne or "Lots on the Roof." The Dohnanyi touch has also been added in the presentation of Johann Strauss' Waltzes from "The Gypsy Baron" arranged by Mr. Dohnanyi himself.

UNIQUE IN being equally famed as composer, conductor and pianist, Maestro Dohnanyi has lived music all his life. At the age of nine he gave his first recital and when 15 presented his first composition to the public in his native Vienna.

In addition to his dual career, the composer and pianist, he later became director of the Royal Academy of Music in Budapest and conductor of the Budapest Philharmonic orchestra, a post he held for 30 years.

The dexterity and force which he brings to his musical interpretations combined with the musical facilia of a great composer make Mr. Dohnanyi an outstanding figure among all pianists.

Ernest von Dohnanyi

Student Invasion Marks Latin Forum On Campus Today

Nearly 700 high school students invade Florida State University today and tomorrow for the annual Junior Classical Association Latin forum.

The meeting of the association now is connected with the Classical Association of the Middle West and South with contests of competition for awards being given in the form of medals, certificates of posters, scrapbooks and translation contests.

PRESIDENT DOAK S. Campbell greet the students tomorrow morning in a public assembly. The oration and poster contests, which will be judged by the speech arts and drama staff, will be followed by a recreation program.

Tomorrow the skits will be given and a banquet will be held after which the contest winners will be announced.

LUNCHEON. The students will be taken on a tour of the campus, attend a mock trial in the state court building and other points of interest in Tallahassee. President of the Latin forum which held its first annual meeting at FSU in 1948 is Kenneth Pepham, Jacksonville high school student.

The Classics department, with Dr. Olivia N. Dorman as acting chief, will be host for the convention.

Circus to Appear In Buick Magazine

Florida State University's famed unit, "Flying High," is in the national spotlight again.

The complete story of the circus in two pages of action pictures appear in the April issue of Buick Magazine, published by the Motor Division of General Motors. The magazine sent to Buick owners throughout the country, has a large nationwide circulation.

Accompanying the picture story is an article which shows that at FSU in the case of "Flying High," circus stars are not born, but made through long hours of training under the supervision of Coach Jack Hamlin, circus director.

Senate to Decide on Bill For Cabinet Government

Dates Are Set For Qualifying In Elections

Epperson Schedules March 21 to March 27, Blanks Now Available

Qualification dates for the April 1 class, Senate and Judiciary election has been set for Friday, March 21, through March 27, Carl Epperson, elections chairman, has announced.

All candidates will hand in their qualifying blanks at the University Government association office from 8 until 5 p.m. on the dates announced.

QUALIFICATION blanks may be picked up at Dean Broward's or Culpepper's office in the Student Welfare office in Westcott Epperson said.

Campaigning may not commence until the qualifying blanks have been turned in, the chairman said.

The qualifications for class officers are president, 1.3 average, vice-president, 1.0 average, treasurer, parliamentarian, social chairman, three men senators and three women, 1.0 average.

A 1.0 AVERAGE is the requirement for the three senior men, three senior women, three junior men, three junior women, three sophomore men, and three sophomore women for the Judiciary Court. Also the two senior men, two senior women, two junior men and two junior women who will be elected to the University Court must have a 1.0 average. A 1.0 average is also required for the one junior man or woman, and one sophomore man or woman who will be elected Traffic Court members.

A series of class meetings have been planned. The junior, sophomore and freshman classes will be called together before the final qualifying date. At this time class officers of the respective class will tell the new class the duties, projects and responsibilities of the officers of their class.

JUNE CONYERS, sophomore class president will talk to the freshman class; Jim Barnes, junior class president will talk to the sophomore class, and Dick Bradley, senior class president, will address the junior class will talk with the junior class members.

The meetings will be held next Thursday. The actual time will be announced in Tuesday's Flambeau.

Montgomery Gets SRA's 1952 Award During Conference

Dr Katherine W. Montgomery, head of the Florida State department of physical education for women, was presented with the 1952 award for outstanding service to the profession of physical education and recreation last Friday night at the Southeastern District Conference in New Orleans.

The presentation of this award climaxed the three day district conference of nearly 150 recreation executives from five Southeastern states, held at Hotel Roosevelt Springs. Dr. Montgomery was further honored by a commendation from Joseph Prendergast, executive olrector of the National Recreation association in New York City.

A leader in the field of recreation for many years, Dr. Montgomery received her A.B. degree from Florida State College for Women in 1915. Later she joined the FSU teaching staff after having done graduate work at Columbia University and New York University. She was awarded her Doctor of Education degree.

Air Force Gives Info

Application information for a United States Air Force commission and meteorology training may now be obtained from the Chief of the Air Force Weather Service, Andrews Air Force Base, Washington 25, D. C.

College graduates with a year's credit of college mathematics and physics through integral calculus are eligible.

Birth of Spring Prompts Warning To Campus Males

Yesterday marked the first day of spring. Although no groundhogs are scurrying around the campus, the flambeau managing editor was inspired by a combination of leap year and the change in season.

The result:

De bouds is choupin'
De gouls is too
Tis leap year fellows
Your Waterloo.

86 Chosen As New JC's

Eighty-six women students were informed yesterday of their selection as junior counselors for 1952-53. Of these, nine will work with day students' welfare. Each will be with transfer women, while the rest will reside in freshman dormitories as counselors.

A number of applicants failed to familiarize the new freshmen with the University its ideals, policies, regulations and physical facilities. House meetings, however, were scheduled are held by junior counselors during first semester.

KARLI HOLT, the second semester freshman are elected to fill all positions except that of house president. Each counselor is assigned approximately 10 freshmen or transfers with whom she will work.

All new junior counselors are trained for their positions. The training course is held during counselors being March 31. Six two-hour meetings will be held during which specific instruction is given in the area of their new responsibility.

THE SIXTY-NINE junior women who will counsel freshmen are Juliet Anderson, Mary Beth Bassett, Esse June Barber, Barbara Brown, Barbara Burns, Jo Laurel Boggs, Dora Bondi, Margaret Bray, Carolyn Briles, Reta Lee Brown, Barbara Bustin, Jo Claire Cannon, Emma Po Cason, Mildred Cunningbergr, Dot Cromartie, Margaret Dame, Evelyn Frederickson, Betty Sue Fryer, Carol Gentry, Florine Glinn, Caroline Gola, Margaret G. Goodlett, Flora Harrison, Cla Hawes, Elizabeth Ann Hill, Barbara Ann Hinson, Sara Alice Howard, Margaret Johnson, Mary Frances Jones and Janet Kelley.

Also selected were Kathryn Kent, Juanita Kinsey, Sally Lanier, Ann Leinbach, Mary Louise Helen Lowder, Patricia McMillan, Natheita McWhetter, Margaret Nash, Virginia Norris, Mary Ann Nunn, Barbara Ann Hinson, Sara Alice Howard, Margaret Johnson, Mary Frances Jones and Janet Kelley.

Also selected were Kathryn Kent, Juanita Kinsey, Sally Lanier, Ann Leinbach, Mary Louise Helen Lowder, Patricia McMillan, Natheita McWhetter, Margaret Nash, Virginia Norris, Mary Ann Nunn, Barbara Ann Hinson, Sara Alice Howard, Margaret Johnson, Mary Frances Jones and Janet Kelley.

The nine women who will be day student counselors are Ann Babel, Phoebe Chandley, Linda Dunn, Florence Anabelle Kelsey, Alberta Large, Katherine Oliver, Bette Snyder, Mary Audrey Williams and Nancy C. Wood.

The eight transfer student counselors are Betty Jean Cedergren, Carol Enslin, Mary Fry, Roberta Hollander, Doris Johnson, Jeanne McClain, Helen Phillips and Betta Weeks.

Class in Relaxation To Begin Here Soon

A relaxation class will be directed by Dr. Frances Cate April 7 at 7:30 in the East Campus gymnasium.

The classes will be featured every Monday night for the purpose of teaching both men and women students and faculty members how to relax.

'A Few Weak Points' Found By Faculty Reviewing Board

The student Senate will act on the cabinet system bill in a called session this afternoon at 5:15, deciding whether to repass the bill as formerly approved by them, to accept some or all of the amendments made by the administration, or to throw the whole bill out.

Dean of Women Katherine Warren, Dr. Joshua Reynolds, professor of zoology, Wesley Harper, associate professor of commerce all members of the faculty review board, spoke to the Senate last Tuesday, outlining ways in which the body could make the cabinet system proposal acceptable to the review board.

THE SENATE voted for the special session in order to take some sort of action before the board meets again next Monday. The students hope to get the proposed constitutional amendment passed in time for the class elections on the first of April.

Dean Warren did most of the talking for the administration group. She began by saying the committee had "no real objections" to the principle of the cabinet, but they had found a "few weak points" they thought should be remedied.

NUMEROUS suggestions which formed were declaring the office of poor wording, and lack of definition but several would greatly change the character of the proposed law.

The idea of an attorney general, she said, the committee considered "not necessary and not wise." They did not think that the position but several would greatly change the character of the proposed law.

The idea of an attorney general, she said, the committee considered "not necessary and not wise." They did not think that the position of executive of Vocational Placement and Guidance" the dean of women remarked.

A barrage of student questions and points followed the dean's remarks. Senators objected, for instance, that student government officials had spent a good deal of time working on the measures, and that the objections should have been made earlier.

"IT'S TOO LATE," frankly said Senior Senator Ignacio Sved. "I think Dean Warren, Dean Culpepper and Dean Broward are the only committee members who have had an opportunity to be consulted on the university government.

A FURTHER business the council heard a report from Carl Epperson, chairman of the elections committee who explained the provisions made for qualifying for the various class offices.

It was emphasized that students will vote only in their respective class. Ruth Bellows, committee secretary to the UGA explained that a new ballot will be printed for each class.

Hall of Fame Is Approved

A campus Hall of Fame was approved yesterday in the Executive Council. The Hall of Fame, the work of Dick Bradley, senior class president, was passed almost without amendment.

The organization, as proposed by Bradley, will honor graduating seniors for outstanding participation and citizenship in campus activities" and will be selected by the administration and faculty.

THE 10 SENIORS selected will be presented certificates and each will base his picture hung on a simple frame somewhere on campus.

Candidates must have shown "outstanding leadership and or service in student organizations, publications, athletics, dramatics and speech arts and university functions. They must have at least a 1.3 scholastic average in this university.

SUGGESTIONS for membership will be made by Bob Kopp and Morton Blumberg, Sigma Kappa, Carney Ke, Gold Key, Mortar Board, Torch and Tally-Ho and the president of the student body.

The names submitted by these groups and people will be accepted by a committee appointed by the president of the student body and forwarded to an administrative committee composed of the vice-president as chairman, the deans and a designated dean of men and women and the dean of student welfare.

NAMES OF students mentioned the least number of times will be eliminated first and presumably the persons mentioned the most often will be those selected.

Bradley when reading the proposal for the first time last week, commented that setting up a Hall of Fame does not rid the university of the problems of Who's Who. The matter will still have to be thrashed out by the university committee.

IN OTHER business the council heard a report from Carl Epperson, chairman of the elections committee who explained the provisions made for qualifying for the various class offices.

It was emphasized that students will vote only in their respective class. Ruth Bellows, committee secretary to the UGA explained that a new ballot will be printed for each class.

Panel on Overseas Employment Set For Monday Night

A panel of overseas employment, sponsored by the Graduate club and the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, will be held Monday night for graduate students and others.

Members of the panel are Dr. Charles H. Brown, visiting professor in library science, Europa and the Orient; Dr. Lincoln D. Campbell, head of the department of modern languages, Latin America; Dr. A. L. Van Kaam, associate professor of political science, Netherlands, and Miss Marjorie Nutter, graduate student, North Africa.

The living and work conditions of foreign countries, the type of employment, salaried the possibilities for permanent and living overseas work, as well as the advantages and disadvantages of overseas work will be discussed.

Edward A. Black is president of the Graduate club.

David Wilson to Give Lecture Tuesday

Dr. David Wilson, visiting professor in library science, will lecture on Reading Problems in Reading Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Education auditorium. Dr. Wilson comes from Hendrix College, Conway, Arkansas.

Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Education Lecture Hall,

IF ELECTED I'LL . . . Paul Keagler, one of the five Kappa Sigma members who supported Goldwyning after ad mitting an early spring.

Pragmatist's View Assailed By U. of Chicago's Adler

Possibly the biggest single threat to present-day educators and present-day educational methods since Robert M. Hutchins and his "great books" plan has appeared in the form of Mortimer Adler, a Chicago philosophy professor.

American education, completely overwhelmed by John Dewey's pragmatic school, is "one of the largest rackets in this country," yielding students "chaotically informed and viciously indoctrinated with the local prejudices of professors and their textbooks," he says.

At times more interested in audacity than sagacity, Adler is not content with only one such large foe. He has attacked such notables as Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Bertrand Russell, and Charles Darwin, while he himself has been denounced as a charlatan, a sensation-seeker, a medieval reactionary, and a would-be agent of the Inquisition.

Basically, Adler's ideas boil down to this: he believes in right and wrong and challenges the pragmatists' picture of an intellectual universe where right and wrong swirl through time and space, always dependent on local interpretation and individual desires.

"Philosophy is everybody's business," he feels, and it is the purpose of the educational system to prepare people for everyday philosophy.

As Time magazine points out, Adler believes "most college graduates can neither read, write nor think properly. They are not being taught how to lead a good life (the aim of a liberal education), but merely how to make a good living."

Job training in colleges, he says, "is the training of slaves." "The more science we have the more we are in need of wisdom to prevent its misuse."

What would Adler do to combat this situation? Time lists three steps the philosopher-crusader considers necessary: "American college professors must commit academic hara-kari by giving up their specialized fields; they should be able to teach anything in the liberal arts.

"The scientific method should stick to science, and leave to philosophy the job of determining matters of right and wrong.

"All Americans should get the same kind of liberal education till they take their A. B. (from two to four years earlier than at present) and specialize later."

Many of Adler's criticisms are well made, and doubtless some of his plans for correcting them are sound, but there is reason to suspect he has come up with the right problems and the wrong answers.

In any case, Adler bears watching. As co-editor of Encyclopedia Britannica's Great Books series, he has already contributed greatly to Western education. He is now planning Summa Dialectica, an immense volume in which he hopes to summarize all of Western learning.

GUESTS COLUMN

FRATS UNDERTAKE AMBITIOUS PROGRAM

By GARLAND STOKES, President The Inter-Fraternity Council

Much has been said about fraternities and their activities. On occasion, fraternities have been praised for their constructive programs but more often, they have been criticized for their alleged activities. It appears that bad news is big news and good news is no news.

The fraternities at Florida State have undertkaen one of the most ambitious programs for this year that has ever been attempted on this campus and many other campuses. This program consists of the 100% contribution that fraternities made to the local Blood-for-Korea drive, the active support that many fraternities gave the recent Campus Chest Campaign, the creation of a Greek Week to carry out some worthwhile constructive project that will be beneficial to the community, and the University as well as sponsoring a campus-wide social week-end.

The Greek Week and week-end will take place later on in the semester. The week-end will be called "State Capers" and will feature a dance on Friday and Saturday nights thus eliminating the crowded, conjested conditions that have characterized dances on this campus heretofore. The "Capers" will also include an afternoon concert in Campbell Stadium by a nationally known band plus other entertainment. It is the desire of most fraternity men to make this week-end bigger than Spring Frolics at the University of Florida.

Plans are also underway to entertain as the guests of the fraternities for Circus Week-End approximately twenty-five high school seniors per fraternity. These seniors will be outstanding men from all over Florida who are prospective students for Florida State University. If sufficient arrangements can be made with the University administration, this project will continue to advance. It has been undertaken in an attempt to counter-balance the expected decrease in enrollment next year.

Political Parties

An alleged fraternity bloc was supposed to have existed in the last UGA elections. After an investigation of this matter it appears that the alleged bloc was not a fraternity bloc but a "you-scratch-my-back-and-I'll-scratch-yours" proposition between several candidates. It just so happened that some of these candidates were fraternity men and as it is the current trend to brand any activity that may have a bad connotation as a fraternity affair if a fraternity member is associated with it, the fraternities received the full responsibility for this occasion.

To my knowledge there has been only one attempt to start a political party on this campus and that was in the class elections of 1949. At that time a group of independent students organized the Seminole Party. All the Seminole Party candidates won in the primary elections but on the day of the general election, the FLAMBEAU came out with a front page blast at the party and all party candidates lost by a large majority. This killed the Seminole Party in its infant stages and no apparent attempts have been made to revive parties on this campus since then.

It might be a move in the right direction if parties were formed on this campus. Perhaps they could stimulate interest in student government and help promote a better school spirit. It is a certainty that they could not do any harm in this direction for none exists.

Should political parties be established, they should be careful not to represent some particular group I mean, specifically, that there should not be a fraternity party and an independent party. There should be both independents and Greeks in both parties. After all, we are all after the same goal—a better University and better conditions for the students. Well-organized parties could help us achieve that goal.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry .... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison .... News Editor
Associate Editor .... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor .... Tom Sands
Society Editor .... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor .... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor .... Judy Simkins
Flambeau Photographer .... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager .... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor .... Ann Harey
Assistants .... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni; Fa Pittman, Steve Zatyko

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-800, Ext. 4821 — Second Floor, Alumni Building

The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida

The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Religious Lectures Are Held By Bi-Y

A series of lectures on the Diety, the Bible and Immortality are being presented by the Bi-Y organization, during which professors from philosophy and psychology departments will be guest speakers. The meetings are from 7 to 8 p.m. every Thursday in room 401, Longmire building.

Thursday, March 27, Dr. R. D. Miller of the philosophy department will speak on "Does Education Oppose the Bible?" Last night Dr. E. H. Henderson, also of the philosophy department, spoke on "Can an Intelligent Person Believe in God?"

Dr. R. M. Dreger of the psychology department will speak on April 3. His topic will be "Can an Intelligent Person Believe in Immortality?"

Oak Ridge Scientist To Speak at Seminar

Dr. Seymour Bernstein, research scientist at Oak Ridge National Laboratory will speak on "Current Problems in Slow Neutron Physics" at 4:30 Thursday at the Florida State physics department seminar in room 124 of the Science building.

His visit sponsored through the travel lecture program of Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Research. Dr. Bernstein who has been engaged in atomic energy research at Oak Ridge since 1945 will hold a discussion period during his lecture, stated Dr. William Barrows, FSU chairman of the Physics seminar.

SEMINOLE SCENES

MARCEL AND MUSETTA IN A TIFF-SUPERB

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Tuesday and Wednesday nights there were held two of the most enjoyable musical programs this campus has had in a long time. Two "operalogues" were presented by Carol Longone, first graduate of the FSCW School of Music, in honor of Ella Scoble Opperman, after whom Opperman hall was named. Mrs. Longone narrated the operas of "La Traviata" and "La Boheme" while the principal arias were sung by voice majors and members of the music faculty.

As the cast had not yet memorized their scores, these were used. Of course there was no orchestra, but with Mrs. Longone, who can play one piano as if it were half a dozen violins and three French horns, who needed one? "La Boheme" was acted in parts with the background of a make-shift setting. Mrs. Longone's humorous comments on the story provided an air of informality which kept the audience in a chackle.

As "La Boheme" opened, Rudolph, the poet (Claude Rhea) and his friend Marcel, the painter (Adrian Ketcham), were in their Paris garrett freezing to death (They were starving, too. They hadn't heard of unemployment insurance back then). After a lengthy discussion of what had to be sacrificed to keep them warm, Rudolph decided to burn his manuscript (papers on job getting from the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement) So, saying posterity must bear the loss, he crumpled it up and placed it in the stove (a straight back chair

After singing a few bars, Marcel (who also was adept at moving stage properties) left his friend for some more bars (supposedly musical ones elsewhere). When Rodolph (who sported a mighty pretty pair of laud argyles) was left alone, there came a knock at the door. Some gal called Mimi (Helen Bell) needed a light (quote from Longone: "Not for her cigaret, either"). Rodolph gallantly provided her with a match for her candle, but evidently the two thought they could do more for good neighbor relations, and they fell in love.

As Mimi started to leave, she discovered her key was missing. About this time both their candles went out and on all fours they looked for it. Rudolph finally found the key, but he didn't tell Mimi (tsk, tsk . . .). They held hands

A little later the two went out on the town. Rudolph bought Mimi one of these all ribbon and flower bonnets (on sale, I suppose), proving the onsimilarity between a boyfriend and a husband (the latter of whom, I am told, always has hysteries either over the bill or the hat). They joined Marcel, who was at one of the local dives drinking strawberry colored stuff out of wine bottles, and drew up a couple of chairs (one of which was the stove). They were sitting there chewing the fat when up came Musetta (Claire Kenyon), a cute little thing who knew and took advantage of it. Now Musetta was Marcel's old gal, but the two didn't get along too well. He wanted her to stop flirting with every Count Tom, Lord Dick and Duke Harry. Of course since that was too much to ask, tiffs resulted.

Anyway, when Musetta came provocatively on the scene, Marcel had trouble restraining his anger. In fact he got so mad he started hitting the bottle of Kool-Aide heavily. (The two, of course, were in love all the time.) At the end of the scene, Musetta got back in the good graces of Marcel and the four enjoyed life.

Time passed and Musetta was out chasing the boys again. Mimi —I don't know what happened to her—they say she'd been seen out with a count (But I have my own opinions as she was the one sitting on the stove) For a while the guys were pretty sad.

All this time Mimi had been supporting the cough syrup companies, as she had TB and didn't have modern science. But Rudolph was still in love with her, cough and all, and the two finally got together for a duet. While they were sadly holding hands (and turning score pages) talking of her illness and their love, Marcel and Musetta were having a knock-down fight. (Quite a combo.)

Finally Mimi succumbed to fate and was in the garrett dying. (Though Rudolph was trying, she didn't want to hold hands, 'cause he covered up the score). Sadly she gave up the ghost and fell face down on page 43 while the others wept.

(The grand thing about the whole business is that the performers were so great, the humor of the conditions did not take away from the tragedy or beauty of plot or music. Superb job!)

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Florida State Greeks Hold Parties And Elect Next Year's Officers

By MARCIA MORRIS

Sigma Nu members recently held initiation for eleven men, folowed by a banquet at Garcia's. Gene Pipkin, of Tallahassee, was selected as most outstanding pledge. New pledges of Sigma Nu are Jim Hickey, Chicago, and Pat Morgan, Panama City. The chapter entertained the Kappa Alpha Theta's last Thursday night. Sigma Nu's have been guests recently at informal parties given by Alpha Xi Delta and Pi Beta Phi.

New officers of Theta Chi are Pete Bukay, president; Don Waters, vice president; Joe Long, secretary; Harold Cameron, treasurer; Bill Skipper, chaplain; Ira Sutton, historian; Jim McCauley, first guard; and Ken Cruger, second guard. Plans are being made now for the annual Dream Girl weekend, April 4, 5, 6, centering around the formal dance presentation of Theta Chi Dream Girl.

The Kappa Sigma's crowned Fay Miller queen of their Blue and White Ball during their annual weekend. Officers of the pledge class are Reid Donaldson, president; Bob Welch, vice-president; Jim Hardy, secretary; Ed Sheppard, treasurer; and Thone Beehler, project chairman. Malcolm McMullen is a recent pledge of Kappa Sigma. Murray Fadial is serving as the chapter's new social chairman, and Richard Fritz is the Grand Master of Ceremonies

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha celebrated their annual weekend March 14-16. Festivities began with a scavenger hunt and other entertainment for Zeta's and their dates at the house. Saturday, a hamburger fry was enjoyed after decorating for the Stardust Ball, which was held at the American Legion Hall. The new initiates were presented at the dance. A party at the coast topped off the weekend, Sunday.

Chi Omega's have also been busy with plans for their annual weekend beginning tonight, with a supper and square dance for members and their dates at Camp Flastacowo. Saturday night, dinner at the house will precede the Carnation Ball which will be held at the American Legion House. Sunday morning their dates will be guests for breakfast at the house. Awards were presented to Dot Johnson for the best scrapbook, and to Joan Mikesell as the best all around pledge, at the initiation banquet held Monday night at the Silver Slipper. Ann Crownover received the Scholarship cup for highest grade average.

Delta Zetas' candidate for the Joe College contest, Neil Sapp won the trophy, with $26.00 over and above any other contestant. The Delta Zeta weekend this year, beginning on March 28, marks a Golden Anniversary.

Alpha Gamma Delta held the first of its annual North-South softball games last Saturday. The chapter is divided geographically into teams, and the South beat the North 16 to 6 winning privilege of being guests at a picnic supper following the game. Last Wednesday, the Alpha Gams were guests of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and this Wednesday were hostesses to the SAE's.

Several of the Alpha Xi Delta's are planning a trip to Atlanta this weekend for their biennial province convention. Last Wednesday night the Alpha Xi's entertained the Phi Delta Theta's with a skit, refreshments, and dancing at the house.

Recently elected officers of the Phi Mu pledge class are Ann Spencer, president, Phyllis Jordan, vice president; Joyce Hoog, secretary; Ruth Ann Miles, treasurer; Barbara Summerfield, projects chairman. Joan Hough, scholarship chairman; Kay King, song chairman, and Barbara Rudin, social chairman. Monday night Miss Christene P'Schimer, faculty advisor, gave a talk on leadership for the fraternity education program.

Gamma Phi Beta chairmen for the coming year elected last Monday night are Ann Hays, song and activities chairman; Janet Rawls, Crescent correspondent; Helen Lawler, historian; Ann McCurdy, standards; June Morgan, publicity; Elaine Hannahs, scholarship; and Peggy Page, sergeant at arms.

Pi Beta Phi weekend began last Friday night with a buffet dinner and Musical Madhouse costume party. Saturday an all day party and picnic lunch were enjoyed at the coast. Saturday night the formal dance, preceded by dinner, was held in the new dining room of the house.

Elise Jenkins, Sigma Kappa Province president from Tennessee, visited the sorority over the weekend. Sigma Chi's were entertained by the Sigma Kappa's with an informal party this week.

Newly installed officers of Alpha Omicron Pi were announced with Peggy Moore as president, Rosie Smith, vice-president; Kitty Pittman, recording secretary, Kay Harding, corresponding secretary, and Peggy Tyler, treasurer.

Dear Editor . . . .

Dunn Replies

Dear Editor:

In regard to the statement of the reasons for my dismissal appearing in the March 14 issue of the Flambeau, I would like to make the following corrections, additions and comments.

First of all, you stated that I disregarded headlines, but as you well know the managing editor cannot see to it that the headlines are written and that the copy is taken to the printers until the news editor gets the copy in.

Next, I admit that I refused to write editorials, but you might have mentioned the reason behind my refusal. You ignored the opinions of senior staff with regard to editorials and dictated the editorial policy of the paper. This is contrary to the printed statement in the October 19 issue of the Flambeau which says that editorials reflect the opinion of senior staff.

Third, you stated that I displayed a careless and dispirited attitude toward my job and failed to spend a necessary minimum amount of time carrying out the duties of my position. That is really absurd since I placed my job as managing editor before everything else. This is amply evidenced by the number of cuts that I received in classes last semester because of Flambeau work.

Might your request for my resignation from Smoke Signals have been for another reason than the one you gave? Regardless, though, Smoke Signals staff only meets one night a week to work on the magazine and it interferred in no way with my Flambeau duties.

Also, I have never heard the unremunerated senior staff members complain that I was overburdening them with work that was rightfully the responsibility of the paid managing editor.

I am not disagreeing with your right or power to fire me. I only object to your misrepresentative statement of the conditions existing which you say caused my dismissal.

I would appreciate it if you would print this letter exactly as I have written it. Please don't change it as you did another letter not so long ago.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Dunn

Whole Truth

Dear Editor:

Watch out for those wild editorials! You stepped on senate's already blistered feet the other day, when you listed names and made cracks about the integrity of running for office. And some of your information was not complete or was distorted in a way which would not suffice to tell the student body the whole truth.

As chairman of the senate's absentee committee, I feel that I am qualified to make a few clarifying remarks

(1) You did not obtain your information from me.

(2) Some of the senators whom you listed as "perfect attendance" have not been senators nearly as long as those of us who began the year together.

(3) Doggone it, I had a perfect attendance record too, and did you list my name, No!

(4) Some of those whose names you listed as having several unexcused absences did not actually have that many as we of the committee had not caught up on our bookkeeping—namely Myra Kight I'd like to clear her name She has been a very conscientious senator.

Go ahead and blast if you must —but hit the right people and don't misrepresent your facts!

Sincerely,
Jean Flynn
Senior Senator.

Tom Bailey Club Elects Officers

Recently elected officers of the Tom D. Bailey club are Lewis Thomas, chairman Mary Ruth Summer, co-chairman, Joel Smith, chairman, steering committee, Mary Ann LuMree, recording secretary, James Brockett, corresponding secretary.

Thomas D. Bailey is Superintendent of Public Instruction of Florida and is now running for reelection.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 25, 7 p.m., fourth floor of Longmire building. A speaker from the state headquarters of Tom D. Bailey will speak at this meeting

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
It's MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
Today & Saturday
"I WANT YOU"
with DANA ANDREWS
DOROTHY McGUIRE and FARLEY GRANGER

STATE
NOW PLAYING
"Quo Vadis"
in Technicolor
with ROBERT TAYLOR
DEBORAH KERR

RITZ
Today & Saturday
ANN DVORAK in
"I Was an American Spy"
also
'Utah Wagon Train'
With Rex Allen
and Penny Edwards

DRIVE-IN
Today & Saturday
SHELLEY WINTERS and RICHARD CONTE
in the 'Raging Tide'
also
'My Pal Trigger'
with ROY ROGERS

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Indians Face Georgia Tonight; Swimmers in A. A. U.

British Universities Offer Summer Plan

Five of Britain's leading universities are offering classes to American graduate students in their first summer school program. Courses are being offered in Cambridge, London, Nottingham, Oxford and St. Andrews. Applications should be made to the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street. New York 19, N. Y.

The courses are intended chiefly for teachers, post-graduate students and are also open to undergraduate students in their junior year by arrangement with the student's own university, the courses can be credit-earning, and certificate to this effect will be given by the British university concerned. Courses will be made to order.

THE COST, including tuition, fees and residence, ranges from $650 to $750.00. A limited number of tourist passages from $160 to $180 each, have been assigned by the Cunard White Star Line for American students attending the classes.

A small number of free transatlantic passages will be provided for American students attending the summer schools in Britain during 1952 through a sum of money given for Anglo-American relations by an anonymous British donor. In addition, participating universities are offering a limited number of grants to cover part of the accommodation and tuition fees. Awards will be open to veterans and non-veterans alike.

COURSES ARE "Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama" to be held in the University of Birmingham, July 1-August 16 at Shakespeare's birthplace, Stratford-on-Avon. "Problems of Britain's Economic Recovery" held by the University of London, July 14-August 22; "Education in England, Its Growth, Character and Aims, and a Comparison with Other Systems," University of Nottingham, July 12-August 23; "Britain and the Modern World" with emphasis on foreign trade and economic policy and overseas trade, University of Oxford, July 5-August 16 and "Life, Literature and Politics in Contemporary Britain," University of St. Andrews, July 5-August 16.

Gymnastics Team Is Featured In 1952 Yearbook

Florida State University's national AAU and NCAA championship gymnastics team is heavily featured in the 1952 edition of the Gymnastics Yearbook.

The Yearbook has Bill Roetzheim, Florida State's national all-around, high bar and side horse champion on the cover along with other national champions. Additional pictures of Roetzheim to whet world several paragraphs are devoted to his individual accomplishments are included in the inside pages.

Another FSU gymnasta, national tumbling titles champion Jack Miles also featured in the Yearbook.

The 56-8 meet scored at the gym was the top performance of the 1951 national AAU meet.

Besides a picture of the FSU team the Yearbook also gives the records of Florida State athletes away with the AAU title and a article about coach Hartley Price.

Summer Camp Jobs Open to Students

Summer camp jobs may be obtained through Dr. Christine Foster of the student personnel division department of Mr. W. J. Hall, associate professor of men's physical education, on West campus.

Dr. Foster is available for consultation in the East campus gymnasium from 8 until 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Teaching Positions

Seventy-five teaching positions are open in DeKalb County, Georgia, Jim Cherry, DeKalb County school superintendent, has reported. Fifty elementary and 25 secondary teachers are needed, Cherry said.

Meet Bulldogs In First Of 2-Game Series

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florida State University baseball squad, fresh from their two-game sweep over Kenyon College, face probably their stiffest test of the season when they entertain the University of Georgia Bulldogs in the first of a two-game series tonight on Centennial Field. Game time is 7:30.

The Seminoles, who opened their touch 23-game schedule with a booming 21-1 win over Kenyon last Monday and followed up with a 11-2 victory on Tuesday, take on the Georgians again Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Florida State and Georgia met three times last year with the Indians coming out on top twice. The Bulldogs who opened their season last night boast the Secrest Bears are reported to have another strong squad this year, but the lineup is not available.

FSU coach Ralph Matherly, serving his second year as head coach, said yesterday that he planned to start Jerry Hatfield, righthander Ed Sessions to the mound tonight and nominated Ed Lockard to work Saturday's game test.

Sessions, starting his third year as a Seminole regular, hurled the first three innings of the opener with Kenyon before Matherly took the win, while Lockard pitched the first five frames of Tuesday's tilt.

Matherly said that he would probably start the same nine that started Monday's game with possibly two changes. Harold Hitting Horse Smith will move from left field to his old catcher's position, while Wayne Bertram, who caught the first two games because of an internship in Panama City, will be behind the plate. Milan Wernke or Pinky Nowtin will get the start at third.

The remainder of the batting order will be Jerry Mills, 2B; Kenny Smith 1B; Les Mullen, CF; Captain Bob Trowbridge, ss; Melvin C. Bennett, LF; and Wernke or Nowtin, 3B, and Sessions, pitcher.

Matherly said that he hadn't forced Tuesday's game with Kenyon to be called at the end of eight innings. The Seminoles might have duplicated their feat of Monday.

The reason for six full innings the small crowd of fans watched was a bad knee Kenyon hurler Joe Pavolich and the Indians' Ed Lockard hooked up in a clash duel for the first time in baseball history.

Lockard was taken out for a pinch hitter in the Seminoles' half of the fifth and John Witt took over from the pitch. Witt gave up single runs in the sixth and seventh canto, but the touchdown of the seventh the roof fell in on the visitors.

The Seminoles combined five singles, a Kenyon error and Bob Trowbridge's three-run double to tally seven times and put the contest on ice. Then in the eighth the FSU nine added two more runs for good measure.

Smith, Bennett, Trowbridge, Les Mullen, Witt and Ralph Blinn paced the Seminole attack with two-baggers. Smith and Blinn collectins doubles and Witt a two-bagger.

Excellent Crop of Rookies Should Help Boston Braves

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow daily.)

BRADENTON — Genial John Quinn, general manager of the Boston Braves, never was one to brag about his gardening skill but she seeds he planted in minor league ball parks the last few years are blossoming into full bloom this spring.

Young ball players, whom Quinn has been building up in the Braves' farm loop chain, have grown in stature and the crop this spring ranks with the best in the major leagues.

The youth movement has taken hold here at Bradenton and even Tommy Holmes, the Boston skipper beginning his first full season as the head man after two previous stints as a utility player, is so sanguine that he has brought no pennant in a walk and then went on to win the later-league series. It's the best crop any major league club has brought up in years, both quality and quantity.

IF ONLY a few of the newcomers come through the Braves will be a much better ball club than the 1951 crew which finished in fourth place, 20 games from the top.

For the Braves have a fine pitching staff, too, headed by a hurler who may succeed to no none in the National loop. In Warren Spahn, Vern Bickford and the Dutch rookie pair, Bill Sarni and Jim Beaniowers have a triple weapon to throw at any and all clubs.

Holmes will not talk for hours about his club and about the future, is optimistic about the 1952 season.

"We're adding speed, youth and powerful clouts to this nine," he said, "Our pitching is good, catching is all right, the outfield is set and we expect to get our infield set and ready by the time the ball rings.

"The spirit is wonderful. We have a lot of winning ball players here and my toughest job will be to cut down.

"We've got kids here who tell us they're going to make the ball club. And that's music to my ears. It's not a show of cockiness, but a real good spirit and a most competitive spirit. I'm not pushing any boy. This camp will bring with competition. The kids are really going to push the veterans."

Typing Champ Gives Demonstration Here Of Amazing Skill

George Hossfeld, ten times the world champion typist, gave a demonstration to a large audience of Florida State students studying secretarial science and business education and faculty this week.

Hossfeld's fingers literally flew at the rate of 150 words per minute as he demonstrated various techniques for fast and accurate typing.

He told the students that "partners make better typists in that reading" would expedite typing greatly. Two main points that he advocated were to type at a constant rate of speed and to keep the mind on the work.

Mr. Hossfeld was sponsored at FSU by the department of business education and the department science in the School Business, headed by Professor Donald J. Tate.

Exhibition to Open In FSU Museum

An exhibition on "Native Material Cultures of the Aniilles" will open in the University Museum in the Florida Union Tuesday, Lothar P. Wittenborg, museum curator announced.

The exhibition, which will run until June, will contain items on loan from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. and from Venezuela. It will also contain materials from the FSU collection of Panamanian articles.

Items on exhibition will include pottery, figurines, engraved shells and a few gold objects from Panama.

Tentative plans have been made for lectures concerning the objects on show.

Tankmen Have Full Weekend Of Activity

Coach Slim Stult's FSU swimmers are in for a full weekend of activity, participating in a dual meet with the University of Miami tomorrow and then defending their state AAU crown in Hollywood, Fla., Sunday.

Stults and his squad of 27 tankmen left here Wednesday for the trip south, and will be slightly favored in both meets. The Seminoes won over Miami here earlier in the season by a score of 48-38.

THE SEMINOLES will carry an overall record of 5 wins against a single loss and a tie into the Miami meet. The other victories were over Emory 47-37, Georgia Tech 54-30, Clemson 52-32, and Texas A & M 50-34, while the tie and loss came a: the hands of Georgia.

In the A. A. U. meet the Indians' main competition will probably come from Miami and the University of Florida. Other entries have been expected from Fort Lauderdale and Daytona Beach.

Coach Stults in hoping for a repeat win over Miami as well as in the AAU, is relying heavily on the performances of Dick Wells star freestyler, who seems to have regained his 1951 form after a slow start this year.

THE INDIANS are also expected to do well in the freestyle and Medley relay events. Stults indicated that he would probably enter several teams in the relay events, since the team would be at full strength.

The Seminoles will close their season early next month when they travel to Gainesville for the N. C. A. A. Nationals and to Storrs, Conn. for the National A. A. U.

CO-CAPTAIN Pete Dunn-Rankin will be one of the performers Coach Slim Stults will count as in the FSU AAU swimming meet this weekend.

Teams Selected For Odd-Evens' Spring Sports

The third sport season ODD-EVEN teams were chosen Friday, March 14, in basketball and golf. Badminton teams will play a letter and the names of the teams will be revealed Wednesday.

The ODD golf team will be composed of: Hink Cobb, leader; Ann Williams, Lis Von Wiener, Janyce Mars, Norma Bolton, Dottie Jimes, and Evers Gay.

The EVEN members 'of the golf team are: Jean Flynn, Varian Heinz, Rosie Brady, and Ann Lembeck.

The ODD basketball team will oppose the EVENS on April 1, 3, and 8 The ODD members are: Anna Gilmore, Mary Ann Mitchell, Young, Joan Webb, Betty Ann Mayes, Elaine Hutchinson, Mary Simpson, Sadie Pressnell, Wylene Marmore, Mac MacWilliams, Pri Cordeman, and Jeanne Hinton.

The 12 EVEN basketball members are: Pat Crum, leader, Lucy Hargraves, Rosie Alvarez, Margaret Erickson, Peggie Mickler, Pat Folsom, Polly Lassiter, Jeane Steward, Mary Ann Morgan, Mary McGill, Charlene Wood, and Mert Herndon.

The second week of the sorority intramural softball tournament got underway Monday, March 17, on the softball field. As the tournament now stands AXO and Gamma Phi Beta are tied for first place.

Three games were played yesterday but the scores were not available at press time Zeta Tau went against Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi met Chi Omega, and Gamma Phi Beta opposed Phi Mu.

The week's schedule will include games between Alpha Chi Omega-Alpha Delta Pi, Sigma Kappa-Kappa Delta, Delta Gamma-Alpha Delta Pi on Wednesday, March 18 On Wednesday, March 19, Zeta Tau will meet Alpha Gamma Delta, and Gamma Phi Beta will oppose Alpha Zi Delta. Tentatively scheduled for Friday games between Delta Delta Delta-Alpha Phi, Phi Mu-Alpha Delta, and Alpha Omicron Pi-Alpha I Delta.

Co-eds May Enter Beauty Contest

Co-eds between 17 and 21 may enter the annual Miss Paperwood contest of the Gibson Paperwood Company, F. H. Silver Lake April 6. The contest will begin at 3 p.m.

All girls interested in entertaining should register with the Gibson processor representative in the Monroe Street. Restriction may be made by mail. Box 711, or phone 2-0846 giving name, address and, if possible, a glossy photograph. As entries are to be limited to 30 girls and the closing date is April 1, the company urges all girls interested to apply now.

First place winner will be sponsored by R. H. Gibson in the Annual American Turpentine Farmers' Association contest in Valdosta on April 19. The winner at Valdosta will be Miss Gum Spirits of Turpentine, and her picture will be featured on the 1953 ATFA calendar.

The public is invited to attend the April 6 contest

Student Plans Cuban Missionary Work

Joanne Leroy, junior will be a student missionary worker in Cuba for six weeks this summer.

She recently received her appointment from the Florida Baptist convention, which is sponsoring work there.

Dr. Hess to Attend Boston Conference

Dr. Seymour L. Hess, Florida State University professor and sponsor of meteorology, will take part in a conference concerning large scale processes in the atmosphere, March 25-28 at Boston.

The conference, under the auspices of the United States Air Force Cambridge Research center will participate in the conference. Research that is now in progress will be discussed and modifications in the program for the extensional circulation of the atmosphere for the coming long range forecast problems.

Theater Dance Group Announces Officers

Newly elected officers of the Theater Dance group were announced with Joyce Cox, president.

Elected vice - president was Shirley Kinsler, and secretary-manager, Pat Hamlon. Other officers will be announced later, the new president said.

Joyce also noted that selections from the Jan. 18 performance would be presented again Sports Day, and as part of the group's Women's Club fashion show on April 24 and 25.

Women's Sports

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

At the close of the second week of competition between sororities & the intramural tournament in softball, Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi are tied for first place.

On Monday, March 17, Delta Delta Delta defeated Zeta Tau by an overwhelming score of 30-12. Gamma Phi Beta bowed to Phi Mu by a 18-7 score. Alpha Omicron Pi edged by Chi Omega by 11-10 and defeated them by a 30-1 score.

The rain on Tuesday kept six games idle. Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Sigma Kappa, Kappa Delta, Delta Gamma, Alpha Zi Delta. These games will be played off at the close of the second week of competition between sororities & the intramural tournament in softball. Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi are tied for first place.

On Monday, March 17, Delta Delta Delta defeated Zeta Tau by a score of 30-12. Gamma Phi Beta bowed to Phi Mu by a 18-7 score. Alpha Omicron Pi edged by Chi Omega by 11-10 and defeated them by a 30-1 score.

The rain on Tuesday kept six games idle. Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Sigma Kappa, Kappa Delta, Delta Gamma, Alpha Zi Delta. These games will be played off at the close of the second week of competition between sororities & the intramural tournament in softball. Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi are tied for first place.

On Monday, March 17, Delta Delta Delta defeated Zeta Tau by a large 18-2 score. In one of the most exciting games of the season Gamma Phi's in an extra two inning game by a close score of 11-10.

The final third season's ODD-EVEN team in badminton was chosen Tuesday with 24 girls making the squad.

The ODDS are composed of Joanne Thorpe, leader, Betty Ann Threshold, Annette Cullum, Boots Paris, Cynnie Brown, Kye Sharbird, Betty Lipske, Joanne Austin, Sally Maynard and Marie Staley.

The EVENS, led by Mary Ann Kemp are: Pat Martin, Pat Minns, Shirley Knight, Mary Ann Batchelier, Jo Powell, Carolyn Hunter, Hazel Bryant and Mary Agnes Hanso.

Tennis Squad Taking Shape For Opener

The F. S. U. varsity tennis squad completed its third full week of practice last Saturday in preparation for the March 28 opener with strong New Orleans.

According to head coach Donald Loucks, the various players are rounding into playing shape and some semblance of the ladder-ranking is being formed.

At present, Sophomore Jim Berry and Tom Cundy, the latter Kentucky State High School Champion of 1951 are battling for the top spot, while the remaining four places will probably go to Harris, Boda, Egan and Kennedy.

Commenting on the prospects, Coach Loucks said: "As was expected, there is little difference in the ability of our first six players. Each seems capable of beating the other on a given day.

"I believe that I could change the order completely and the winning or losing affect of the squad would not be materially changed. Certainly, this is desirable from one standpoint.

"It will be tough to select the starting five for our Loyola match. This match will consist of five singles and two doubles."

One addition has been made to the schedule. The Indians will meet the Orlando Air Force Base in Orlando on May 2 brinning to 15 the number of matches already scheduled. Other teams on the FSU schedule include Big Ten Champions—Michigan; Miami and the University of Indiana.

Anderson to Speak On Florida Indians

Dr. Robert Anderson of the department of anthropology and archaeology of Florida State University will speak before a luncheon meeting of the Women's club of Jacksonville next Wednesday noon.

Anderson, who teaches courses in American Indian Cultures at FSU, will talk on "The Indians of Florida, Past and Present." The lecture will be illustrated with slides depicting the research by the department on Florida prehistoric Indians.

Playoffs Continue In Frat League

In last week's pre-playoffs in the fraternity bowling league ICA won over Kappa Alpha 19-8, and in another playoff game played Monday PKP took the contest from Lambda Chi Alpha.

FRATERNITY VOLLEYBALL

Fraternity volleyball got into full swing Monday, SAE won from Kappa Sigma 15-12 and 15-8, and Sigma Nu took the series from Lambda Chi Alpha 15-2 and 15-13.

LOOK OUT JOE—Joe Kopas goes through his routine on the parallel bars preparing for the Indians' next meet this weekend. Joe will be a serious contestar for the all-around title.

FSU Golfers In State Tourney

Florida State University entered six men in the Florida Intercollegiate Golf Tournament being held at DeLand through Saturday.

Sonny Tinney, Jimmy James, Tom Cumbie, and Tommy Brown, all veterans, are competing for the team championship as wel as individually for the state crown.

Freshman Jude Dunfee and 1951 reserve Frank Ryan, spring only for the individual title.

WEDNESDAY the Indians tied the team entered Miami's Hurricane 11½-5½ over the College Arms course in DeLand. Sonny Tinney carded medalist honors with a 74, 3-0, while Jimmy James whipped Miami's Bobby Locke 2-1. Tom Cumbis slipped by Lafrancis 1½-½, and Tommy Brown and Jude Dunfee defeated their foes, Miles and Crawford, with identical scores 2-1. Jude Dunfee bowed to Miami's Wattis, 3-1.

Coach Bob Harbison, who was not able to make the trip because of his spring practice duties as assistant football coach, said that all of his players are at the top of their game and should give a good account of themselves in the state meet.

TIN TINNEY and James I believe we have two distinct threats for the individual title," Harbison said. "Tinney won the first annual Florida Intercollegiate in 1948 and is playing much better golf today than he was at that time. James proved he could play in the best of fields when he shot a two-under-par 70 on the DeLand course in a match against Stetson Saturday."

The Seminoles have met three opponents in dual matches so far this season, Jacksonville Naval Air Station 8½ to 9½ before defeating Rollins 11½ to 6½, and Stetson 12 to 6. Tinney, James, Cumbie, and Brown composed the Florida State team for these matches.

URA to Sponsor Golf Tournament

The University Recreation Association will sponsor a co-recreational golf tournament which will begin Monday, March 31.

Entries for the holes will be payed by the URA and golf clubs can be checked out from Mr. Henderson at the athletic round house behind the women's gymnasium.

Each couple, boy and girl, will play 18 holes of golf each week. The scores will be averaged together and the highest average announced.

Students interested should send the name and address of a couple to Joan Paris, Box 496, by Monday, March 24.

A square dance will be sponsored by the University Recreation Association Saturday night, March 22, in the East campus gymnasium from 7:30 to 10:30. Callers will be provided by the American Recreation Society. Admission will be free for stag or drag.

Deon Compbell Goes To Press Convention

Dr. Lawrence Campbell of the School of Journalism will discuss school press problems when Florida State assists the South Carolina Scholastic Press association convention in the program on April 4, in Spartanburg, S. C.

Professor William Ross Slaughter, FSU journalism faculty member will conduct a newspaper clinic for student editors.

Beetle Bailey

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Plays, Lectures, Parties Scheduled at Houses

BY LOUETTA RILEY

Religious activities throughout the week include parties, lectures and plays with the Baptist students taking part in a spring house cleaning project tomorrow.

Disciple Student Fellowship president, Ruth Nelson, has announced a party for the Christian student group to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Hollingsworth tomorrow evening. The group is to meet at 4:45 at South Cavitton hall.

TONIGHT the Canterbury club will entertain the cast of "Biography" at Russ hall immediately after the performance.

Following a "Dessert" Supper at Russ hall Sunday at 6, there will be a presentation of the new piano which is a gift from St. Ann's Circle of St. John's Church, Tallahassee. Mr. Thomas Wright, professor in the School of Music, will offer a program of piano selections.

CHAPLAIN JAMES ORTH, of the University of Florida, will lead a discussion on "Religion and Marriage" Wednesday night at 7:0 in Russ hall.

Dr. Warren D Allen, professor in the School of Music, will give a musical lecture at the Sunday School program at the Trinity Methodist Church.

THE WESLEY PLAYERS will present a drama on race and economic conditions entitled "Freedom" Sunday evening at the Methodist Student house. Students in the cast are Beverly Berry, Charline Weiman, Nancy Day, and Jim Barber.

Catholic students will attend a business meeting and social following a supper at 6 at the Newman house on Sunday evening.

BAPTIST STUDENTS will participate in a spring house cleaning project tomorrow at the Baptist Student house. In charge of the lunch and supper are Rose Howard and Sybil Snell. Barbara Kay Thomas is general chairman for the project.

Visitation plans will be made at the Sunday meetings for the revival to be held at the First Baptist Church starting March 30.

STANLEY TIPPIN will lead the program for the Lutheran group Sunday at 7 p. m. on the second floor of the Longmire building. Joan Van Dohlen is in charge of the social following.

The Student Organist Guild will be guests of the Westminster Fellowship at supper Sunday at 6:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian Church. The group will combine with the student choir for a presentation at the evening service.

Louise Ware, president of Westminster Fellowship, today announced an executive meeting Tuesday night at 8 at the Westminster house. The weekly vesper service will follow at 9.

Intern Head Says More Should Apply For 1st Semester

Dr. R. L. Goulding, head of the internship department, expresses doubts if satisfactory internship placements can be made for second semester interns next year unless more interns apply for first semester interning.

Approximately 450 applications for internship are expected for 1952-53. At the present, only 123 applications have been received for the first semester.

Prospective interns are urged to immediately change their internship time to first semester if at all possible, especially if they wish to be placed in a specified situation, Goulding said.

Dr. Goulding stressed the fact that it is not at all necessary to have completed all professional courses before interning. He further added that these courses would be more beneficial for the teacher to be" if he interned first.

This year, 440 applications for internship were received. The division between the two semesters was approximately 190 for first semester and 250 for second semester.

ET, TU, FRANCIS?—Making final arrangements for the annual Junior Classical Association Latin Forum for some 700 Florida High school students are: Standing, Frances Clark, seated, left to right, Jeanne McCartney, Edward Olchevsky, Shirley Drake and Charles Bienicker. The first session starts tonight in Longmire Auditorium.

Dr. Pearl Re-elected President of Council

Dr. Lester Pearl, associate professor of Social Work at Florida State University, has been re-elected as president of the southeastern regional council on family relations for next year.

A native of Sparta, Ohio, Dr. Pearl has served as vice-chairman of the national committee on teacher training for marriage education of the national council on family relations. He is also a high school dean of boys and former social work administrator.

Dr. John Crist and Professor Howard Busching of the School of Welfare also attended.

Recital to Be Given By Pianist Tuesday

Joanne Byrd, pianist of the studio of Ernst von Dohnanyi, will present a graduate recital in the Opperman music hall next Tuesday at 8.15 p.m.

Selections include Bach's Toccata in D Major, Beethoven's Sonata in A Flat Major Opus 110 and Chopin's Ballade in F Minor, Opus 25.

From Brahms, Miss Byrd will play Intermezzo in E Major, Opus 116, No. 4 and Intermezzo in C Major, Opus 76, No. 3.

The pianist will also play two pieces by her maestro, Dohnanyi. They are Variations on a Hungarian Folksong, Opus 29 and Capriccio in B Minor, Opus 2, No. 4

Tallahassee Gives Square Dance Tonight

A free square dance, with instruction for those who do not know how, will be given tonight at 8 p.m. at the Country club. The dance is being sponsored by the Tallahassee Recreation department under the direction of W. L. Prater, superintendent, and the Woman's club.

A featured event of the evening will be the judging of a loud shirt contest for the men. The quadrille type of dancing will be taught.

Opperman Honored

(Continued From Page 1)

the operalogue artist were, "I enjoyed it again tonight", "I don't like it a bit better tonight but it was just as good.' and "It was beautiful sounding."

This was the first time. Mrs. Longone had been to the University since it was FSU, Miss Opperman said.

ORIGINALLY from Florida, Mrs. Longone lived on College avenue when a student at Florida State College for Women. She lived in a house beside the present Pi Beta Phi house. Miss Opperman said.

Bryan hall and a large building called East hall were the only dormitories then. Music classes were conducted in Westcott.

At present, Mrs. Longone teaches in the Hotel Pierre in New York.

Next Free Movie Stars June Haver

"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," a musical starring Mark Stevens and June Haver, will be the next free movie sponsored by the University Recreation association.

The URA is also holding a square dance tomorrow night in the East campus gymnasium from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Callers will be furnished by the American Recreation society.

The movie, which depicts the life of songwriter Joe E. Howard will be shown Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Student Union at West campus: Tuesday at Men's Senior hall; Wednesday at Magnolia; Thursday at the Landis Recreation room and Saturday at 6 p.m. in the amphitheater.

Chemistry Students Offered Interviews

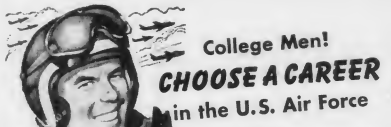
Senior or graduate students in chemistry interested in full time employment or students interested in summer employment may sign up for rinterviews with Mr. Richard C. Jenie, of the Monsanto Chemical company, Anniston, Ala., next week.

Mr. Jenie, who is associated with the development department of the phosphate division, will be in the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement, 203 Westcott, Monday afternoon, March 24, and Tuesday morning, March 25.

Openings at the Monsanto concern are for chemists, chemical engineers and mechanical and electrical engineers.

Training in First Aid Given Dem. Teachers

Teachers in the Demonstration School got special first aid training as part of the Red Cross civil defense program.



Miss Lois Massie, school physical education teacher, conducted the training sessions which included practical demonstrations.

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Meats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

College Men!

CHOOSE A CAREER in the U.S. Air Force

Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Opportunities for Collegians Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is a real man-size opportunity! You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or an Aircraft Observer in America's swiftly-expanding Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. However, seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can insure their future and serve their country best by applying for Aviation Cadet Training today. You receive the finest training and experience when you fly with the U. S. Air Force—experience that pays off in later years.

WHO MAY APPLY

AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and apply for two years only!

4. The Selective Service Act awards you a four-month deferment while awaiting class assignment.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting May 27, July 19, August 29 and October 2, 1952

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year, either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly, plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate and win your wings! Commissioned as a second lieutenant, you begin earning $5,000 a year. In addition, you receive $210 Subsistence allowance and a $50-a-day leave with pay.

WHERE To Get More Details

Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

U.S. AIR FORCE

Sacson

Charm Touch

Fins chambray with cape affect collar edged by hombre floral embroidery. Skirt has stitched down pleats. Brown, rosa, aqua, and grey. Sizes 12-20. 10.95

P. W. WILSON CO.

Delivery Time 2:00 Till 10:00

DRUG SUNDRIES KODAK SUPP STATIONERY

THE MECCA

NOW FEATURING DELIVERY SERVICE FOR ORDERS OVER 1.00

Dial — 2-4031 FOR THE BEST IN FOODS PASTRIES & DRINK

WE NOW PROUDLY PRESENT OUR CATERING SERVICE—PHONE FOR DETAILS, ETC.

Baked Ham with Lettuce & Tomatoes	.35
Tuna Fish	.30
Chicken Salad	.30
Grilled Ham & Cheese	.40
Egg Salad	.25
Hamburger	.25
Grilled Cheese	.25
Pimento Cheese	.25
Bar-B-Que Beef or Pork	.35
Bacon, Lettuce & Tomato	.35
Cheeseburger	.35

ALL DINNERS IN THE BOX ARE SERVED WITH FRENCH FRIES, PICKLES, LETTUCE & TOMATOES HOT ROLLS & BUTTER

½ Fried Spring Chicken	1.10
Whole Fry Jumbo Shrimp	1.00
1½ Fry Jumbo Shrimp	.75
Whole Fry Oysters (in season)	1.00
½ Fry Oysters	.75
Fried Chicken Livers	1.25
Fried Chicken Gizzards	1.00
Breaded Veal Cutlets	1.00
Sea Food Combination	1.25
Fried Fillet of Flounder	1.25
Breaded Pork Chops	1.00

UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF "WOODY" WILSON

WEEK END SPECIAL

LARGE COCA-COLA 5c

FUDGE RIPPLE SUNDAE 14c

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 36...THE OTTER

A usually mild-mannered and easy-going lad, he really made the fur fly when he realized the trickiness of most of the so-called cigarette mildness tests! He knew there was one honest test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers everywhere know, too — there's one true test!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Camel leads all other brands by billions

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 41 | PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA | Tuesday, March 25, 1952

WILL THEY BE FILLED? Shown above is the steel skeleton of this 11-story men's dormitory now under construction. The building will be completed in 1954 and will accommodate 372 new students. The editorial below discusses the building program and student enrollment.

Gloomy Enrollment Picture Not True of FSU—Campbell

(AN EDITORIAL)

A discussion of dropping student enrollment is almost like stepping on a college administrator's sorest carbuncle. But this campus add the possibility of over-optimism in the progress of the fifty-year plan and the subject becomes touchy to an extreme degree.

However, the two ideas are paramount in the minds of those who have the sincere welfare of Florida State University at heart. Because the discussion has received the plain spotlight recently, the Flambeau is compelled to run figures and comments on student enrollment, FSU's building program and all the related factors.

The first fact can be established. The physical plant of FSU is growing with amazing speed. The 50-year plan, which has a final goal of accommodations for 10,000 students in 1998 is ahead of schedule and we may have housing facilities for over 5,000 on campus in 1958, only 10 years after the plan was approved.

The new dorm across from Landis will be used to house 96 men students and will be completed by next fall. The construction on the new 11-story men's dorm which will house 572 students, will be completed by 1954. The fraternities, which take in the 8 new houses, will house over 500 students. The Lodge, Magnolia, Senior Hall, Van Brunt Lodge, Cockrell will house 409 men students in total. This makes a total of 1787 men students that may be housed by 1954.

The breakdown on available housing for women students is as follows: Jennie Murphree, 396; Reynolds, 254; Broward, 135; Gilchrist, 294; Landis, 367; North and South Cawthon, 245; Bryan, 135. This gives a total of 1785, not counting sororities which house an additional 403 women students.

This gives, not counting married student quarters, a total of 3975 students that can be housed on campus by 1954. The question is: Will we have that many? A great deal of the answer lies in the statistics seem to indicate that there will be a drastic drop in college enrollment in the next few years.

President of FSU, Doak S. Campbell is not gloomy about the nation-wide statistics. "Population trend is upward in Florida, and naturally the school enrollment will follow that course," says Dr. Campbell.

Florida has been cited by the department of census figures as one state trending towards an increased population. Will the increase be enough to ward off the slow decision rate and loss in GI enrollment? Dr. Campbell feels it will. He stated that he expects a leveling off of student enrollment for the next few years, but it will not hurt the fifty-year growth.

The reason that many housing projects have gained precedence over class room building is because the housing units can be self-liquidating but all money for classroom building must come from the state legislature, Dr. Campbell explained.

Bids for the Demonstration school will be let in the late

(Continued on Page 3)

NSA Approved In Vote at UF

BY JACK DETWEILER
Associate Editor, Alligator

Florida's student Executive Council reversed two of its previous decisions and voted 25-4 to join the National Student Association in time to send delegates to this year's NSA convention.

The reversal was apparently due to the fact that the decision by NSA President Bill Dentzer, who later went to FSU to make a bid for its membership.

WOODIE LILES, university student body president, was quoted by suggested that the NSA be made a campaign issue in the coming election, but this move will probably be dropped now due to the overwhelming nature of the vote.

* * *

The circuition of the Orange Peel, university humor magazine, was stopped by the Board of Student Publications last week when the Board discovered libelous implications in one of its articles.

ONLY ABOUT half of the issues were distributed before the Board's crack-down, and those that were distributed were in circulation immediately became collector's items.

* * *

Politics swung into high gear at the University this week and with it came the usual campaign skullduggery. One fraternity was almost persuaded to betray its political leaders and bolt into the opposition party.

THE LEADERS soon got wind of the move and whipped the leaders back into line in time for the nominating convention.

Another politician not his hands on some of that opposition party's campaign posters—before his opponent had actually been nominated. He distributed them around the campus with great psychological effect—that is until he was accused of stealing.

In a move for the independent vote, one party nominated three independents on its "big five" slate. When it found out that the other party had only chosen two independents, it quietly dropped one of its candidates and substi-

(Continued on Page 3)

37 Candidates Qualify to Run On Tues. Ballot

Thursday Is Deadline For Applications; Rally Scheduled For Thurs.

Thirty - seven candidates had qualified for the April 1 Class, Senate and Judiciary election up until 4 p.m. yesterday. Deadline for applications is Thursday.

Candidates in the Tuesday election will have a chance to air their campaign platforms at a University Government association - sponsored political rally Thursday. The rally is scheduled from 7 until 10 p. m. in the Music Auditorium.

TIME LIMIT will be determined by the number of candidates, according to Dick Bradley, senior class president, who will be in charge of the senior speakers at 7 p. m.

Junior candidates will speak at 8 when this year's President Jim Barnes is in charge.

June Conyers, sophomore president, will take care of sophomore speakers at 9 p. m.

Many key offices still remain uncontested.

In the senior class, John Lattner is running for president, Bill Sazon and Bill Hess, vice-president, and Ann Bryan, secretary. No candidates have qualified for treasurer.

THE SEATS for Men's Senate is vacant in the senior class, while Barbara Anne Peters and Marcia Watkins vie for a place in Women's Senate.

Elmer Rentroia has qualified as parliamentarian.

For Honor Court, James Kennedy Smith, John Buckley, and

(Continued on Page 3)

550 Students Attend Annual Latin Forum From High Schools

Approximately 550 students from high schools in Florida gathered at Florida State University Friday and Saturday for the annual meeting of the Junior Classical League of Florida.

William Mercer, 16-year-old Jacksonville student was elected president, and Bradenton was selected as the 1952 meeting place of the state meeting.

THE GROUP consisted of delegates from high schools in Tallahassee, Bradenton, Clearwater, Dayona Beach, Gainesville, Jacksonville, Lakeland, Miami, Ocala, Panama City, St. Petersburg and Winter Haven.

Dr. A. B. Martin, vice-president of FSU, in an official welcome to the group said that the study of Latin is basic and important in many of life's vocations. He commended the group on their large membership in Florida and the excellence of their annual program.

BEN HENDON, executive secretary of the Florida Education association, Dr. Edwin Walker, state, WRUF, head and chairman of the Sciences and Dr. J. Broward Culpepper, dean of Florida Welfare, speaking at the opening session.

(Continued on Page 3)

Senate Lacks A Quorum On Cabinet Amendment

Time May Fleet; Not Play's Pace; 'Biography' Hit

Despite a more than ample space of time in which to modify the initial impression of the speech department's production of S. N. Behrman's "Biography", the conclusion remains the same, "Biography" is a hit.

The show which opened a week ago under Artist Series sponsorship, opens at 8:15 tonight, for the fourth performance in the Augusta Conradi theater.

THIS SHOW could easily have been merely a vehicle for the charming Miss Dalton, and considering that "Biography" was to have been initially constructed as a vehicle show for the leading lady, it is quite wonderful that the show as a whole held water, for not only Doris Dalton, who lived up to her advance publicity composed only of superlatives, but also that the rest of the cast combined talents to produce a fast-moving entertaining production.

Miss Doris Dalton is an actress of ability. She has a pretty, physical charm and the technical skills of her craft are highly developed.

AS MARION FROUDE, Miss Dalton has created a sophisticational theater program toward the "Carol" has been highly successful, for Miss Doris Dalton is certainly "educational," for our students to watch and mark with, and she is decidedly "theater"!

Robert Strane as Richard Kurlander, the S. N. Behrman figure to learn, but has a dynamic raw material on which to base his learning. One is always aware of his sincere intensity and a basic control in his approach to the character.

WILLIAM UPSHAW as stormy and effective as Bunny Nolan, but it was felt, uni-dimensional in his role, such that he was not dimensionally written, relying of-ten on a stock of off-repeated gestures and stances.

David Lowe was a very convincing and completely leisurely Pres-dak, while Hoyt Bowen gave a genuinely comic performance, bar-ring a tendency to over-act the metabolism-conscious publisher.

Bruce Martin was overgrown as the movie idol and Ann Gregoire who alternates her part with Bert Schneider, is quite energetically pretty Slade Kinnicott, and Jean Flynn is adequate as Marion's Fran Pride.

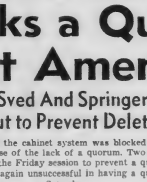
Wyn Park, speech department head, deserves a hand for his contribution to "Biography". Park has personalized, realistic representation of an artist's apartment.

The lighting effects or blame of every dramatic production always falls heavily on the director. In this instance heavy blessing on George McCalmon.

Merchants Plan To Lower Prices

Tallahassee merchants will lower their prices as much as 25 per cent on a "Student Appreciation Day" planned for May, announced Will Pennell, president of the Tallahassee Retail Merchants association.

Steven Smith, Freshman class president and in charge of the project for student discounts, and Pennell spoke before the Merchants association to find out the prospects for setting up a special student discount day.



Pennell said that if the "Student Appreciation Day" plan is successful, a full week would probably be given next year.

"Some merchants," Pennell stressed, "will be giving discounts all year round to the students of Florida State University although it is not feasible for all the merchants to do the same."

Pennell and Smith have been arranging conferences with the Tallahassee merchants for several weeks. The student discount service was based on the type used by the University of Miami although it is believed by Pennell that the one to be used in Tallahassee can be better.

Senators Sved And Springer Walks Out to Prevent Deletion

Senate action on the cabinet system was blocked twice last week-end because of the lack of a quorum. Two members walked out on the Friday session to prevent a quorum and the Senate was again unsuccessful in having a quorum Saturday.

WALKS OUT—Freshman Senator Phil Springer questions the motives of fellow senators on The Attorney General clause of the cabinet bill.

Senior Senator Ignacio Sved and Freshman Phil Springer, seeing the provision for an attorney general about to be deleted from the bill as originally passed, left the meeting Friday and ended its legal existence Under standing rules, 2 3-5 of the body must be present to constitute a quorum.

THE PROPOSED constitutional amendment, which sets up a cabinet system of executive government in place of the existing University Council, has been the center of much debate since it was originally introduced. Various sections, such as the provision for attorney general, had previously caused much controversy, but the Senate had passed the bill unanimously.

The Senators met in special session Friday to take action on the "suggestions" made by the faculty review board a week ago. The board had indicated it would not pass the bill until certain changes, such as abolishing the offices of attorney general and secretary of labor, were made.

THE LATTER part of the review committee of the senate made a majority report, taking each section of the bill separately, and suggesting changes as proposed by the administrative council.

When the section on the attorney general was reached, debate began almost immediately. The committee followed the advice of the review board and proposed dropping the attorney general from the cabinet.

Senator Bob Drake moved that the Senate reject the dropping, and the controversy began in earnest.

SPRINGER made a speech in which he said the reason the Senate was now considering dropping the attorney general was not that such a move was good for the Senate but because of pressure from above. "I can speak for some members when I say I am sick of tapo methods used by the court," he remarked.

June Tate, chief justice-elect, retorted, "It seems to me the court members know more about it than Mr. Springer," she said, and went on to plead for the status quo in the courts. She was of the opinion, she said, that the whole court was opposed to the idea.

SVED, HOWEVER, mentioned several past and present members who have spoken in favor of the proposal.

One objection which was raised to an attorney general was that he might be incompetent or malicious. Even though this is a feature of the office would of course depend on the nature of the person appointed but that anything that could be wrong with an attorney general could also be wrong with a court member.

J. BROWARD CULPEPPER, dean of student welfare, who has been sitting in on the session, said he thought the bill as originally passed would change the

(Continued on Page 3)

Debaters To Enter 7th Tournament For Florida State

Four Florida State University varsity debaters will represent the F.S.U. department of speech in the seventh annual All Southern Intercollegiate Debate Tournament March 28 and 29.

Teresa Stein, William C. Davis, Katherine Hunnicutt and Arlene Amend from F.S.U. will participate in the seven round debate at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Ga.

THE QUESTION will be, "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a permanent program of sage and price control. Amend and Skoestad will uphold the affirmative while Stein and Davis will debate the negative side of the national question.

All four of these debaters placed in the Third Annual Invitational tournament held at Florida State, March 1 and 15. Amend and Skoestad were half of the team that ranked second to the University of Miami, while Stein and Davis placed third.

HERBE Ellsworth, graduate assistant in the department of speech, will accompany the group and will be their official judge throughout the tournament.

This will be Florida State's third year of participation in the All Southern Debate Tournament. In 1950 Dal Aitchison and Paul Curtis and Amend and Skoestad were the winners in the first year of the tournament.

Edwards Is Speaker

Dr. W. T. Edwards, professor of curriculum and head of the department of elementary education, delivered the principal address for the elementary teachers section of the South Carolina Education Association in Columbia last week.

Frosh Royalty Selected Today

Freshmen To Choose From 39 Candidates

Freshman Carnival King and Queen will be selected from among 39 candidates today in the Lower Westcott voting precinct.

The couple elected, along with four attending couples, will reign over the annual Carnival Saturday night in the Women's East Campus gymnasium.

IN PREPARATION for the Saturday night carnival, David Dress and Mary Lee Brown of the entertainment committee have called a meeting tonight for talent tryouts The meeting will be held in the Longmire auditorium at 7.

Winners of the skits and talent contributions will be awarded prizes on either an individual or group basis.

TOMORROW night at 8 another meeting has been called by Milnl Patterson, chairman. The meeting to be held in the Longmire auditorium is for everybody connected "remotely or otherwise" with the Carnival Ball.

"We still need helpers," Mimi said. Freshman committees for chairs Reynolds hal ler see one of the committee heads

THE FEATURE of this year's Carnival include a novel cake-baking contest, open to women interfraternity, dormitory units, and faculty. Fortune telling, the cake walk, bingo, dancing, movies, fund - throwing, and dancing will be features.

The 20 girls nominated for queen in last Friday's primary elections were Jo Ann Hutto, Ann Yates, Pudnhi Helms, Lynn McNab, Carolyn Hadden, Mary Ann Council, De De Dupuis, Ann Adams, Jackie Price, Shirley Yeamans, Paige Neal, Dot Johnson, and Joan Brown. Also on today's ballot are Smokie Murphy, Virginia Khan, Sherilyn Bevis, Jean Christinger, Sue Ann Hayden, Carolyn Johnson, and Helen Hamm.

AMONG THE 19 boys on the

Continued on Page 3

Culture Test Slated For Thursday Week In Science Building

The General Culture examination for juniors will be given Thursday, April 3, from 7 until 11 a.m. in the Science Building.

The test is set up for guidance purposes for the student.

The individual receives information about his standing on the basis of national norms. All students will consult their counselors in examining the results of the examination.

Results of the tests are recorded in the Personnel Records Office where they are available to counselors and to the students.

Academic deans also get duplicates of the information.

Summaries will be sent to the General Education office for study and interpretation of the general the effectiveness of the General Education program. Also concerning the performance of students area by area is sent to the General Education office each semester concerned.

In addition the office of Vocational Guidance and Placement makes use of the tests. The tests are available for research purposes also.

Cavaliers, Cotillion Give Free Lessons

Free dancing lessons are being given each Tuesday and Thursday from 7 until 9 in the Westcott Student union.

Sponsored by the two university dancing groups, the Cavaliers and Cotillions, the lessons are offered to all students.

Slow and fast ballroom dancing, interfraternity and Latin rhythm, if requested, is being taught.

Directing a group of 40 instructors are Donna Asse, president of Cotillion and Dave Pinson, Cavalier chairman for the society.

Students of these dancing lessons sometimes acquire skill in dancing and occasionally the lessons that they are tapped in the annual election of the two Brown

Symphony Presents Its Silver Concert

The University Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Robert Secrest, will present "A Silver Anniversary Concert" Thursday night in Opperman Music hall at 7:30 p.m.

Featured number for the program will be Suite No. 1 for Orchestra, from Carmen, by Georges Bizet.

Other pieces include Chorale Prelude Fervent Is My Longing, by Bach; Finale from Symphony No. Opus 68, by Brahms; Chorale and Finale, from Die Meistersinger, by Richard Wagner.

Also on the program are Danse Macabre by Saint-Saens; Rhapsody Espana, by Chabrier.

The University Symphony is directing the sixth district of the Florida Bandmasters' association. This is the annual Festival here Florida State University this week.

Life Features Circus

American News Company reporter-interviewer reported yesterday that the April 3 issue of Life will feature the Florida State University circus. Further details were unavailable at press time.

Rabbits, Bicycles and Language Are Chief Interests of Canfield

BY HAZEL MORRISON

Rabbits, Bicycle riding and improvements in the modern language department are among the interests of Dr. Lincoln D. Canfield, head of the modern language department for the past six years.

Dr. Canfield spends 10 minutes feeding 100 New Zealand rabbits every morning before pedaling his bicycle to his department which has undergone several improvements since his arrival here from the University of Rochester in 1946.

WHEN THIS WRITER noised that the Dean of Men, Otis Mann, Bride also rides a bicycle to school, he laughingly commented. "But cheats because he has a motor on his."

Dr. Canfield became more serious when questioned on the improvements of his department.

The department now has more course offerings especially on the graduate level. "It has undertaken a much more extensive graduate program for those working for doctor's degree."

THE PERSONNEL is now 20 including student assistants the department head said. It isn't the number on a "Longfellow Atlas." And he says he enjoys panels and talks on his subject. At the time of the interview, he was working on an article for a magazine in Madrid Spain. He said it was purely human interest for he receives no payment for it.

IN REPLY to questions on campus affairs, Dr. Canfield earlier warily commented that the administration may have been too flexible when they made out the 50 year plan.

However, Dr. Canfield thinks that the war babies will increase enrollment in about 1956 and thereby increase the funds of the University.

He said that he did not think that the University as a whole had declined academically since FSU had gone co-ed. On the whole he thinks that students are more encouraged to interpret classroom information now rather than regurgitate the facts back to the teacher.

Fruit and kaatman Kodak.

Dr. Canfield's own personal life includes trips to Central America where he went on a "Longfellow Atlas." And he says he enjoys panels and talks on his subject. At the time of the interview, he was working on an article for a magazine in Madrid Spain. He said it was purely human interest for he receives no payment for it.

IN REPLY to questions on campus affairs, Dr. Canfield earlier warily commented that the administration may have been too flexible when they made out the 50 year plan.

However, Dr. Canfield thinks that the war babies will increase enrollment in about 1956 and thereby increase the funds of the University.

He said that he did not think that the University as a whole had declined academically since FSU had gone co-ed. On the whole he thinks that students are more encouraged to interpret classroom information now rather than regurgitate the facts back to the teacher.

THE NEXT C. . .ONOR? A group of FSU students compliment Dan McCarty, candidate for governor of Florida. He spoke to students and faculty last Wednesday. Candidates Alto Adams and Bailey Odham will speak next month.

U.F. Again Lights The Way

Florida State University has given a slow burn to its brother university at Gainesville for the last few years. They have noticed that FSU is not the FSCW on the hill, a place for a week-end.

However, when it comes to action in their student body, the Gainesville lads have this upper hand. Many times in the past year the students at Gainesville made the progressive steps and the student-body at FSU was content to parrot UF's actions.

The first example was the student activity raise. Those who had a knowledge on inflation and basic economics fought bitterly to have FSU increase their activity fee. The "wide-awakes" at Gainesville took the lead and has a student referendum about the problem. They voted unanimously to raise the fee.

The fee increase was repeated on this campus, but only after U of F had pointed the way.

The latest guidance offered by the University of Florida is concerning the question about whether or not to join the National Student Association, one of the main student forces fighting communism inside the U.S. and internationally.

The U of F voted 25 to 4 to join NSA. Their action is to be praised. They have added fuel to the fire of opinion that they are not the three steps ahead of Florida State University.

FSU will, as usual, parrot their very wise and commendable action, because in this case the parrot speaks sagacious words.

There will come a time perhaps when FSU will make the progressive steps, not only in student leadership but in student action.

It's the action that wins the game.

● FACULTY RATING

The subject of faculty rating by students has been propounded before in this university.

The value of this technique for faculty improvement has been mildly argued.

The evidence, as presented in the Bulletin of the American Asociation of University Professors, is that such ratings are growing in colleges and universities in the United States.

The process has not been proven unhelpful, but to the contrary, it should prove valuable to the individual professor. We need to establish a system at Florida State University.

Studies made in other universities show that students are quite serious in analyzing their instructors and courses. Many professors do use a form of faculty evaluation at FSU.

A proper procedure would place the responsibility for improvement with the individual instructor, on the basis of student opinion of him. No report would be made to his superiors or to the University administration, and no one else sees the tests.

The benefits? Foremost is increased teacher efficiency. The total weight of opinion directed generally shows up minor, correctible flaws, particularly to younger professors who are still groping for workable teaching tactics. Many new teachers have no idea how they are getting along with their classes. A suitable procedure would help erase that problem.

The Faculty Evaluation program is one of the more progressive tools which students are given to help improve their own education.

Let's start a systematic faculty appraisal at Florida State!

● COMMENDABLE

Slow, direct, and encouraging steps are being made in Florida to improve race relations.

The State Board of Control took commendable action in their last meeting. They voted unanimously to let three white track men run the Negro Invitational track meet conducted by Florida A. and M., the Negro college here in town.

Officials of the school explained to the Board of Control that when the Fort Benning track team showed up for the meet there were three white athletes on the squad. They asked the board what to do. The board said let them run.

Hollis Rinehart, a member of the board, said afterwards, "We should let them compete. It will be pointed to as another step in bettering race relations."

At almost the same time, the Florida International League, southernmost of all U. S. organized baseball loops, has quietly let down the color line.

Toward the South of the future!

F. S. U. Fun and Functions

A Calendar of Events compiled and distributed by your University Gov't. Assoc.

Tuesday, March 25

1:30—Golf—FSU vs. Georgia—Tallahassee Country Clubhouse

2:00—Student Recital—Music Hall.

4:00—Biological Sciences Seminar—Tea and lecture—Dr. Leland Shanor, Dept. of Botany, U. of Ill., Room 308 History.

8:15—Gordon Recital — Jeanne Byrd, pianist—Music Hall

Wednesday—March 27

All Day—Sixth District Band and Orchestra Festival Competition.

2:30—Baseball—FSU vs. Amherst — Centennial Field.

8:15—University Symphony Orchestra Concert—Rout. Sedore conductor, Music Hall.

Friday—March 28

All Day—Sixth District Band and Orchestra Festival Competition.

2:30—Baseball—FSU vs. Loyola—FSU West Campus.

3:00—Tennis—FSU vs Loyola—East Campus varsity courts.

7:30—Marching Exhibition — Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

8:00—Senior Hall Weekend—Dance at Longmire

Saturday—March 29

All Day—Sixth District Band and Orchestra Festival Competition.

1:30—Tennis—FSU vs Mercer—East Campus varsity courts.

2:00—Gymnastic Intrasquad Meet—East Campus gym.

7:30—Open house at Cawthon North—all students and visitors.

7:45—Baseball—FSU vs. Loyola—Centennial Field.

8:00—Freshman Carnival in the East Campus gym.

8:15—Piano Recital—Music Hall.

9:00—Delta Zeta Formal Dance—Woman's Club.

All Day—Senior Hall Weekend—Picnic at Lake Bradford

Monday—March 31

1:30—Golf—FSU vs. Citadel—Tallahassee Country Club

3:00—Tennis—FSU vs. Concordia—East Campus varsity courts.

7:00—WPSU to air time to anyone running for s class office

All Week

You can qualify for radio offices until 3:00 Thursday, March 27

WPSU is broadcasting all baseball games—Tune In.

Art Gallery—Museum Exhibit—"Art and Material Culture from the Antilles."

Thursday and Friday at 6:30 & 9:00 Saturday at 1:00 & 3:30 "Two Medieval Plays by the Speech Department—FSU Museum.

FSU Regulars

Free Campus Movie—"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now"—7:30 Tuesday (Senior Hall) Wednesday (Magnolia) Thursday (Landis) 8:00 Friday Amphitheater. On Monday at the "O" Club—"Four Feathers."

Monday through Friday—Plunge period in East Campus gym—7:30-8:45

Monday through Friday—Bowling at East Campus gym—8:30-11:45

Every Night—Pingpong in East Campus gym—6:00-12:00

One sip of this will bathe the drooping spirits in delight, beyond the bliss of dreams

Milton's Comus

Milton must have peered into a crystal ball to write these lines. How else could he have foretold the delicious, refreshing goodness of Coca-Cola?

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

© 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Gulpin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Tonda
Society Editor ..... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Smiley
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Hall
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Calcroni, Fa Pittman, Steve Zalyks

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-900, Ext. 481 ... entered Floeti, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

BEHIND THE IVY

STUDENT FREEDOM SLOWLY BEING LOST

By BOB TIPPINS

Once again we are assailed from every angle by proponents of mental circumcision.

Overlooking the ineffective efforts of the fraternities and other local organizations and groups to dictate the news and editorial policy of the Flambeau, attention is turned to the more effective State and national "thought" censorship efforts.

From the University of Maryland comes the report that all "controversial" material must be submitted to a faculty review committee. Likewise, the New Mexico student group successfully "dismissed" anti-conforming members of their Board of Publications. Even neighboring University of Florida students watched their intellectual freedom reluctantly resign under the allay of Dean Baker.

However, we, at Florida State, still retain the present distinction of boasting one of the few student papers left in the United States with relatively little censorship.

The vast majority of the exchange papers which reach this campus literally smack with loaded diction and slanted propaganda with the names of faculty advisory groups, faculty assistance groups, faculty directors, et al.

Censorship of ideas and thought, opinion and emotion can lead to nothing but intellectual stagnation, and from that to destruction. Progress is made only through the dissemination and consideration of original and divergent ideas.

Many, many conceptions should necessarily be discarded as worthless or dangerous. But individuals should be free to decide those questions, not have them decided for them. The responsibility to make decisive, proper, intelligent decisions necessitates educating people to the degree required to reach such conclusions. Failure to meet such self-educational standards is a failure of society. It will merely result in reaching the end of destruction more quickly.

College newspapers are being used as instruments of public relations. They are being used to influence solons to pass desired legislation. The duty of transcending facts and ostensible student opinion They are being used to shroud or completely conceal relevant issues and pertinent news.

Newspapers are being so completely and surreptitiously misused that their real, moral purpose is nearly unknown to the general public, and forgotten by all but a few idealistic newspapermen.

Some campus newspapers have broken away from any controlling yoke and becoming independent. Such papers as The Daily Texan of the University of Texas which supports itself through subscriptions and advertising can still print the news as it occurs and not as any particular group would prefer it had occurred.

The universities' students must decide between college papers which print the whole truth and give factual, complete information or propagandistic, partisan, controlled society sheets.

Editor's Note: A report in the Journalism Quarterly, Winter 1952 issue, states that the word is now being used by student newspapers, but that "the less used school newspapers (FSU is classed as medium-sized) have the least faculty supervision.)

SEMINOLE SCENES

UNITED STATES BEATS EUROPE IN ROYALTY

By FRANCES CAWTHON

For a country which supposedly believes in democracy, this land has more royalty than Europe has unemployed counts.

Just on the local side, we have a court of May, a court of Homecoming, a court for the Greek festivities, a court for fraternity, sweetheart of that week and a great big etcetera.

Then of course there is the court of every kind of bowl from the Orange Bowl to heaven knows what. Cotton Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Gras, Grapefruits and other festivals all over the nation and in their queens. Sometimes we get more democratic about it and call them "Miss" instead of princesses, as in the case of Miss Tallahassee, Miss North Dakota, Miss Alaska.

There are so many different types of queens and misses reigning around that it would probably take a good two years to compile the list. It would be an exciting project for some graduate student to write his thesis on the subject, "The Who, Wherefores and Early Beginnings of the Queen Craze in American Life" might at least give posterity some idea as to the kind of culture of society in the 1900's.

The life of royalty isn't what it used to be The good-looker who becomes a queen nowadays doesn't have to live the rest of her life on the strength of finding a look to fit it in a different proposition. Her ruling days are short and many times the most she gets out of her reign are a few little items like scholarships, trips to that now old city called New York and a few other assorted "extras" everyone knows canary yellow is the voice of this season.

This American type royalty doesn't have the homage of the people to keep it alive. It is breathless, parade-eyed mates who in the old days the popular term was "Lena Live the Queen." Oh, the tragedy of changing conditions. . .

Being a lesser one is another disadvantage, too. I sometimes wonder how Pearl Carr, very attractive lady, ever anybody take Miss with me there!) kid who has made a career of the beauty thing has time to keep up with it all. If that gal wins any more contests she's going to have to give up school and hire a filing staff to sniff over the fifty thousand decimal styles

Before I close with this topic, let me say all you Seminole Queens, between 17 and 21, are invited to become candidates for a "Miss Engagement" contest to be held here soon The winner will be chosen as she is so is further glory by competing for the national title of "Miss Cum Fgirls of Torpedoes." You girls are interested in reigning over either pulp or naval stores for 1952, get busy and write FSU.

Yes ma'am! This American royalty is some institution. . .

THIS MAN LIKES THE IRISH

By DAN ALTHOFF

I would like to make a few comments about some of the things I see around campus.

Where do all these medals come from that the girls wear? Many of them are the result of acts of arms others look like the medals of conquerors. Are they awarded to the Indians of the west that heroically betrayed their own people, or are they awarded for the dollar and I saw one last week that looked like it came from Cross, formerly the highest military decoration in Germany Question any of the girls and they will tell you they were awarded for the Olympics, swimming the channel, drinking a fifth of Old Crow whisky or some such thing These medals are usually worn with sweaters and skirts and detract from the center of attraction

I saw two chicks comparing finger ire on the steps of the History building last week and a few steps above another one was comparing notes on marital subject ment. Nearly all the girls that walked by had frat pins What is the significance of that? Where does an glen go to register?

From time to time I miss home sweet home over the Ohio. I miss it especially on St. Patricks day, which was last week, and as far as I can gather a celebration from start to finish. None of the Irish were of it fails on this day and everybody was green, Irish or not, and they even have new book beer in the taverns Across the pond all the taverns are closed because the proprietors are too boozed-up.

Things happen in Ohio that don't happen anywhere else On one occasion a fuzzy-cheeked state institution for the feeble minded addressed a house of representatives in Columbus on Ohio's potatoes One legislator got to his feet and reversed an answer which must have satisfied him considering the responses his colleagues made themselves. The mistake was never discovered until after he had been appreciated. How do you like them taters?

Another time a bandit held up a liquor store. After arming the till a swill, he ordered the clerk to give him a fifth of whisky The clerk sat a bottle on the counter and said, "That will be $4.04 Damned if that guy didn't shell out $4.04 and pay for that whisky, never realizing what he was doing.

Have you ever seen Cincinnati's dancing pig? I never have either, but I'll get on there and as soon as I go home I am going to look for him.

No, Frances, I still can't find anything to do However, I am going to make the most creative contribution to our imaginary Social Unit, and that is the use of TSPCKDJ. or, The Tallahassee Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Kissing and Dancing. I am president, vice president, and all the other officers. There are no dues, no obligations, no meetings, no responsibilities, no publication, and have to do is appreciate Dixieland music. Just send your application to the box number, and you will get such an extra crisp on our already overloaded social program but I think we can squeeze you in, you, Frances?

And every day will be Sunday by and by.

Pointing Director Speaks at Seminar

Dr. Andrew C. Ritchie director of painting and sculpture in the Museum of Modern Art in New York will open the fifth annual art seminar sponsored jointly by the Ringling museum and Florida State art department in Sarasota April 8-10.

Dr Ritchie has been awarded the Cross of the French Legion of Honor for his work in restoration of looted art objects and is the author of several books and articles concerning art. His topic at the meeting will be "Development of Twentieth Century Sculpture."

Gold, Garnet Key Meet

There will be a meetinr of all Gold and Garnet Key members and their wives at 8:30 p m. in the UGA room Attendance is required.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Girl friends of g brids-to-be really come into their own

Probably a woman's most natural function is dreaming up slight variations of the poison ring by which the male is put in cold storage.

The poison of the male is a squirmy one—what was behind peomised by moonlight must now be solemnly fulfilled in exactly half of day. He was an engineer, now a necessary prop to an all female production that runs only one performance

Then Sunday and tears abed—an unknown goodbye to youth, lark of consolence and the full sail of masculine pride

Remember when you first met the girl who was to communicate ideas? The object now is to obscure the few convictions you may stubbornly hold on to beneath a welter of weasel words.

Revalue there a man with soul so dead as to own up to being a "common man". . . . . .

Read and thrash

All apparently sweetness and light now with warring IPC Press Garland Stokes and Editor Roberto Griffin. . . .

Rose Nagy and Paul Kreppner last additions to the Goldfishers Of Good thing that wasn't a real fire over at Magnolia. Seems some of those characters are hard to wake

Proposed "All-American-Boy" club . . . Phil Davis—Bill Hennessey—Jim Heitman—Bob Doherty—Dean Cary—Dean McBride

Dixie "Old lechers" club . . . Hal Anthony—Buddy Vickers—Jim Silcox—Walt—No Date) Noone—Frank Amber Homer Vrenna —Ben Cross—Roser (I'm in love fala's Sellers and more . . . Who me?

Young Woman Chemist at FSU Works on Reaction Kinetics

Now working on her post doctoral degree at Florida State University is Dr Marilyn Alder, the only woman to receive a Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Utah

The woman chemist was also the youngest woman to receive that degree there.

DR. ALDER is at present working on reaction kinetics in the FSU labs. Before coming here she is well known in the department and on the campus.

The young chemist, who received her Ph.D. in June, 1951, although she was officially a doctor the previous November says that she will be in Florida until June at least and possibly longer. Dr. Alder was not recognized in her degree until June because the University of Utah holds graduation exercises only in June.

THE VIVACIOUS doctor has several varied interests. She enjoys winter sports, swimming and horseback riding she says Dr. Alder was also a feature writer on both her college newspaper, The Utah Chronicle, and Salt Lake City newspapers.

In college she was a member of Sigma Xi scientific fraternity; Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary, and Phi Kappa Phi, scholastic honorary.

The title of her doctor's dissertation was Part I, "Forced Vibrations of Polyar-ide Monolife," and Part II, "The Kinetics and Mechanism of Hydroxide Ion Catalyzed Ester Decomposition in Aqueous Solution."

Math Club Meets

The Mathematics club will hold their March meeting tomorrow at 7:30, 288 History building. Ralph McWilliams will discuss "Euler and the Seven Bridges."

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

FSU Statistics Say Cold, Flu Is the Most Common Ailment

Statistics released by Dr. Thomas J. Brooks, chief physician of the university show that admissions to the infirmary for colds and related ailments were highest in January.

Of the 344 students admitted to the infirmary in January, 218 were for colds and other related ailments.

IN FEBRUARY only 89 of the 302 students admitted were suffering from those ailments. Not only the number of admissions for cold, but also the total student admission to the infirmary reached its peak since Sept., 1951 in February. The next highest month was reached in Oct. when the total was 313.

These statistics should squelch the rumors that an epidemic of colds exists that could be compared with the one at the University of Florida as reported by the Florida Alligator in which said that 788 university students were treated for Virus-X in the month of February.

ACCORDING TO Dr Sanford E. Ayers, U. of F. Infirmary director "Virus-X" is a virus infection of the upper respiratory system which does not respond readily to the anti-biotic drugs and may lead to virus pneumonia if not checked in time

Symptoms of Virus-X are cold, sore throat, coughing, headache and aching joints, according to Dr Ayers

DR. AYERS ALSO reported a minor epidemic of mumps and measles for February at the U. of F. Three cases of thumps and 13 cases of measles were reported.

In a breakdown of infirmary cases prepared by Dr. Brooks' secretary, there have been no cases of chicken-pox treated in the infirmary during the period of July 1951 through Feb. 1952.

School of Education Sponsors 4 Lectures By Dr. T. V. Smith

Four T. V. Smith lectures are scheduled for April 1 and 2 under the sponsorship of the School of Education.

Dr. T. V. Smith is an authority on the Constitution of the United States and an internationally known editor, author, speaker, and speaker

THE FIRST lecture will be presented at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, April 1 at 2 p.m. on "Science and the Search for Truth." Dr. Clyde Liddell, professor of philosophy will preside.

The remaining three lectures will be "Politics and the Ideal of Goodness," "Art and the Ideal of Beauty," and "The Issue is Israel With Russia," Presiding at the remaining three talks will be Marsh Frith, professor of political science at 8 p.m. April 2; and Dr. Mode L. Rose, acting dean of the School of Education as the final session on April 2 at 8 p.m.

AT PRESENT Dr Smith a citizen of the International Journal of Ethics and author of "The Democratic Way of Life" and many other books and is to appear the chair of Poetry, Politics and Philosophy at the Maxwell Graduate School of Public Affairs, Syracuse University.

A native of Texas, he is a graduate of the University of Texas and holds a doctorate from the University of Chicago He is a former faculty member of Texas Christian University, the University of Texas, and the University of Chicago.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U.S.A.
FLORIDA
Today Only
'The Wide Blue Yonder'
With Wendell Corey and Vera Ralston
WEDS. thru SAT.
'The Las Vegas Story'
With Jane Russell and Victor Mature
STATE
NOW PLAYING
In Technicolor
'Quo Vadis'
with Robert Taylor and Deborah Kerr
THURS. thru SAT.
'The Cimerron Kid'
With Audie Murphy
RITZ
TODAY and WEDS.
Mickey Rooney and Sally Forrest
In
'The Strip'
THURSDAY thru SAT.
Pat O'Brien in 'Johnny One Eye'
Also
'Fort Savage Raiders'
DRIVE-IN
TODAY and WEDS.
'Starlift'
With Doris Day
THURS. thru SAT.
'Wagon Wheels'
with Randolph Scott
Also
'White Savage'
With Maria Montez
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Gershwin Program Set For April 7 For FSU Students

The music of George Geshwin will be featured in a "pop" concert April 7 by the State Symphony of Florida at 8:15 p. m. in the Leon High auditorium. It will be presented by a maximee for young listeners at 3:30 p.m.

Symphonic overtures, waltzes, rhapsodies and symphonies of the composer will be played. Thomas Wright, faculty member of the School of Music, will appear with the orchestra as piano soloist playing Concerto in F. Wright has appeared previously with the orchestra playing Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue.

Joan Daye James, soprano, and Herman Gunter, baritone, will be soloists in songs from Gershwin's 1st stage production, the folk-opera, Porgy and Bess. Their selections will be the lullaby "Summertime" sung by Mrs. James, "It Ain't Necessarily So" by Mr. Gunter, and the duet, "Bess, You is My Woman Now."

Director Karl Kortheimer has announced a special program for young listeners to be played for the matinee performance. Prokofiev's musical story, "Peter and the Wolf," will be presented with Roy Flynn, director of radio at FSU, as narrator.

Frosh Royalty

Continued From Page 1

ballot for king are George Carnes, Charlie Allen, Dan Hise, Allen Ashley, Bill Wagner, Billy Brown, David Drew, Teddy Morrill, Dave Kennedy, and Bob Berto.

The remaining names slated for king on the ballot are Joe Wheat, Don Anderson, Don Vincent, Brian Mahoney, Bob Clinton, Ed Shephard, Sonny Peacock, E. L. Allen, and Stan Orrick.

THE CARNIVAL dates back to 1937 when the Freshman Carnival replaced the Senior Carnival. At that time all four classes manned the affair and the proceeds were evenly divided.

Heading the committees in this year's event are Elaine Lewis, concessions; Mimi Patterson, cleanup; Ann Williams, invitation; Don van Hise, tickets, David Drew and Mary Lee Brown, entertainment; Charlie Allen, blanket, king and queen; Graeen Smith, booth building; Lillian Davis is in charge of refreshments. Martha Garrett and Helen Hamilton, publicity; Neil Evans and Peggy Schichart, prizes.

Linthicum Is Awarded Newcamb Fellowship

Miss Betty Linthicum, botany instructor, has been awarded the C. and Susan Newcombe Fellowship in plant physiology at the University of Michigan for the 1952-53 term.

Miss Linthicum, a B.S. graduate of FSCW, got her M. S. degree in Michigan. She has been a member of the FSU faculty since 1945. As a Newcombe Fellow she will do research on the physiology of fungi.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Just Received!
NEW Catalina
SWIM TRUNKS
In Brief, Semi-Brief, and Gym Trunk Styles
COTTON! LASTEX! AND NYLONS
From
2.95 to 4.95
Stay a Jump Ahead of the Season. Come in and get yours today while our stock is complete.
® Catalina
Turner's

Medieval Plays Shown In Experimental Series

The third Experimental Series production of the department of speech, A Program of Medieval Plays", will be presented in the Art Gallery of the University Museum Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dr. C. W. Edney, head of the department of speech, announced yesterday.

There will be two showings, 8:30 p.m. and 9 p. m., on both Thursday and Friday, and at 1 p. m., and 3:30 p. m. on Saturday, for a total of six performances. There is no charge for admission, but reservations must be made in advance by request at the theatre box office in the History building.

Starting Tuesday between 12 and 5 p. m., or by phoning extension 2081.

THE EXPERIMENTAL program offers two examples of medieval drama, the French realistic farce of "Pierre Patelin" and the English religious cycle play, variously called "Noah's Flood," or "The Chester Play of the Deluge." The two short plays, directed by Reuben Silver, graduate student in the department of speech, have been given a non-realistic style of treatment. The technical direction has been done by Wyn Park, the costumes by Douglas Russell, and the lighting by Charles Reimer, all members of the faculty of the Department of Speech.

Students appearing in the plays include James Hutchinson, Francis Warn, Jim Balsiave, John Carl Warnecke, Nancy Bezera, Ann Ray, Dot Welch, Sharon Lane, Mary Alice Newton, Ruth Ward, Joan Meador, Dick Healey, Franklin Adams, David Dreis and Lee Hudman.

THE AUTHOR of the "Noah" play, according to Silver, is anonymous, "but whoever he is, he has fashioned his playlet out of the twin strands of religious and secular entertainment of the Middle Ages." Medieval audiences near Chester, England, would congregate in the squares of the villages and watch the complete cycle of 25 Old and New Testament scenes. The "Noah" play is part of the Chester cycle.

"The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin," also anonymous, is an example of the French farces of Medieval times. It was first acted in the latter half of the 15th century by companies of actors who toured the provinces and whose staging method was similar to the style employed in the department's experimental production.

N.S.A. Approved

(Continued from Page 1)

tuted another, or more qualified fraternity man.

* * *

A NEW ERA is being heralded at the University as the first coed in the history of the University will look an important publication post Beverly Van Gelderen was chosen by the Board of Student Publications for managing editor of next year's Alligator.

Publications was the last bold-hold for complete male domination. Last summer a girl was elected secretary-treasurer of the student body to become the first girl holding a major post in student government.

* * *

Residents of Flavett III, one of the university's veteran housing villages, have been drawing quite a bit of campus-wide attention lately.

THE FLAVET is in a turmoil over a recent election. Its recently elected mayor and commissioners have been petitioned to hold a new election by a majority of the persons living in the village.

The dispute arose over an unusual Flavet law that provided for ballots consisting of slips of paper in the residents' mailboxes. Both husband and wife voted on the same ballot.

The original vote in this year's election produced a tie, a second check of the mailboxes produced 20 more ballots and a winner.

The villagers now feel that this procedure should be substituted with a more orthodox system of balloting.

Gloomy Enrollment Picture

(Continued from Page 1)

Spring and the old Dem School will give 22 classrooms for FSU use. The geology building, which is the next academic building on schedule will start sometime this summer. It will relieve pressure by making available classrooms below the cafeteria. The auditorium in back of Westcott will be rebuilt and will provide for 1,800 seats. Unavailable steel is the only hold up as the state legislature has appropriated money.

All these facts give a contradiction to the rumors that present 50-year building is economic folly. The progress has been criticized as over-optimistic. If there is not optimism there is not progress.

The program needs the hope of administration and students alike if it is to ride the plateau of static student enrollment. By 1959 the children born during the second World War will try for their bigher education. Florida State University must be ready!

Spend Your Spring Vacation In Sarasota, Florida
SPECIAL STUDENT RATES
Apartments accommodating 6 men or 6 women $2 00 per rate per person
$12 00 per week per person
Also barracks accommodations
$1 50 per night per person
$8.00 per week
Please make reservations at least one week in advance.
BRRACKS TOUR
Sarasota-Bradenton Airport
P. O. Box 2349
Sarasota, Florida

Naval Officers Will Interview Students

Men and women collee graduates and seniors expecting to graduate in June or August, will be able to have interviews with Naval officers Thursday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Westcott.

College seniors expecting to graduate in either June or August can enter their applications now and receive appointments until the time of graduation for active duty.

College graduates may obtain appointments in communications, personnel, administration, engineering, naval aviation, supply, ordnance, electronics, public relations and the Medical and Dental Corps.

550 Students

(Continued from Page 1)

sil stressed the value of the study of Latin and Liberal Arts.

Presentation of the awards at the Saturday afternoon session followed a series of Roman skits, ranging of exhibit and other events.

NEIL GUNSALUS, St. Petersburg third year Latin student, won first place in the oration contest, Gunsalus, a senior who plans to enter Emory in the Ministry, gave his speech on Roman religion, tracing its origin.

The exhibitions brought to FSU by the various high schools included all sorts of projects made by the students, from charts showing word derivations to elaborate structures showing bridge construction of the Romans. Other exhibits were dressed dolls, Roman houses , maps of Roman territory, soap carvings, battering rams, oil paintings, shields, chariots, and tablets.

REPRESENTATIVES from most of the schools were also on a radio program called, "Quiz Kids," during which they had to give Latin phrases and derivations of every day English words.

Joyce Hetrick of Panama City won the translation award; L. Hunter Greenwood, St. Petersburg, exhibits; Lee Moore, Clearwater, "Quiz Kids;" Dick Mason, Lakeland, skits, and Bill Miller, Jacksonville, panel discussion.

A social hour was held during the weekend for the students, as well as a tour of the University musuum, campus, capitol, and the Governor's mansion.

The group of students gave a vote of appreciation to the classics department, under the direction of Dr. Olivia N. Norman, acting head, for their hospitality.

Byrd Gives Recital In Opperman Hall

A graduate recital presenting works of Bach, Beethoven and Chopin is set for 8:15 tonight in the Opperman music hall.

Pianist Jo Anne Byrd of the studio of Ernest von Dohnanyi, will also play two pieces by her teacher. She will play Dohnanyi's Variations on a Hungarian Folk-song, Opus 29 and Capriccio in B Minor, Opus 2, No. 4.

Her opening number will be Toccata in D Major by Bach and will be followed by Sonata in A flat Major, Opus 110 by Beethoven.

Part II of the program includes Intermezzo in E Major, Opus 116, No. 4 and, Intermezzo in C Major, Opus 119, No. 3, both by Brahms. Chopin's Ballade in F Minor, Opus 52 will follow the two pieces by Brahms.

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

WEDNESDAY MORNING SPECIAL TERRIFIC
Our Imported, Fully Automatic LIGHTERS
AT 1.00 Each Gift Boxed
Fully Guaranteed For One Year
• Engine turned chrome on brass
• Some with tortoise shell enamelling
• A 5.00 value
Ours Alone
MILLER'S Cootery
College Ave.

Be Happy-GO LUCKY!
In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!
The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!
L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
If study hard for each exam, And all I get is C, But I get A1 on smokers' taste With L.S./M.F.T.
Barbara J. Mayer University of Wisconsin
The play was o'er, the curtain drawn, The cast went now at ease. Said people, stars and stagehands, too, "A Lucky, if you please!"
Stan Boor West Virginia University
When battleland rave and rant, I just sit back and gloat, For better-tasting Lucky Strike Will always get my vote!
Miles Klein New York University
LUCKY STRIKE
CIGARETTES
L.S./M.F.T.
PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

FSU Gymnasts Score 89½ Points to Win NCAA Title

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

OUTLOOK GOOD—If one can judge by the crowds that filled Centennial Field's ancient grandstand for last Friday night's tilt with the Georgia Bulldogs, then Coach Ralph Matherly and his Seminole diamond squad are in for a banner year at the gate as well as on the field.

The 1,362 heads that were officially counted fell only about 25 or so short of the top single game total pulled in last year by the Tallahassee C[illegible]zens of the now defun[illegible]t Florida-Alabama League

What makes it interesting is the fact that the Citizens averaged only about 500 fans to their so-called games last Summer, and since Tallahassee is without a professional outfit for the first time since 1946 the outlook from the Florida State angle is not too bad at the moment.

What makes [illegible] more interesting is that the local civic clubs have jumped on the bandwagon, and when these groups go after a project — parti[illegible]ularly when it deals with baseball—it's not done in a halfway manner.

The Tallahassee Rotary Club sponsored Friday's game and at least four more home contests are scheduled to be under the sponsorship of the various clubs

Another reason that should "pull 'em in" is the fact that several Tallahassee boys are on the FSU roste[illegible]

At any rate the fans, besides watching themselves quite a ball game, were treated to all the antics that go along with it right down to the usual argument with the little man in blue.

In the sixth inning Umpire Bob Dehaney ejected three Georgia players for protesting too vigorously a decision at home plate and when Bulldog Coach Jim Whatley joined in the melee, Dehaney gave him the bounce, too.

* * *

The in[illegible] that has [illegible] the Seminole footballers for the pa[illegible] two weeks m[illegible] be ca[illegible]. Before last Tuesday's t[illegible] with Ken[illegible] prom[illegible] Freshman [illegible] Marvin Haynes was [illegible] in the face by a w[illegible]ked line d[illegible] [illegible] pitching batting practice. Haynes who t[illegible]ned in an [illegible] pe[illegible]mance in his three-[illegible] [illegible] against Kenon Monday is expected to be lost at least three weeks and possibly longer

The track team is also hurting. The mile relay team that finished second to Alabama in the Southern Indoor games, was hard h[illegible]t when Dick Mize came down with a virus infection and Woody Parker went to the infirmary w[illegible]h a foot infection.

To complicate matters more, Freshman Dick Slade quite the squad, leaving on one man—Capt. John Poston—ready and w[illegible]ing. However, Mize is apparen[illegible]ly recovered and Parker is expected to be ready to go by the time the Florida Relays roll around.

* * *

Ty Cobb, c[illegible]rently batting .000 w[illegible]h most of the nation's baseball men and players because of his attacks on modern-day basebal[illegible] in his Life magazine series, is all wrong according to Clyde "Old Deerfoot" Milan, the Washington Senators' coach.

Milan says Cobb was all wrong in his criticism of the way modern ballplayers work and train, and added that the Peach although great as he was, made plenty of mistakes himself in the old days.

Milan recalls three games in particular in which Cobb stole a base with men already on them.

* * *

Johnny Lindell, [illegible]e former Yankee outfielder who wa[illegible] sh[illegible]led off to the minors after his sale to the Cardinals after the 1951 season [illegible] making a comeback as a pitcher

Lindell, who's toiling for the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League, worked three innings against a major league all-star team the other night and set the big leaguers down on one hit and no runs during his tenure.

In the second [illegible], Lind[illegible] was surprised to face an ol[illegible] f[illegible] retired Yankee Joe DiMag[illegible] who was appear[illegible] in a [illegible]hitting role for the al[illegible] club But DiMag[illegible] [illegible] and Linde[illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] easier

Big Welcome Planned For Price's Squad

The Florida State University gymnastics team rolled up 89½ points to nose out favored Southern California and the University of Illinois in the tenth annual N.C.A.A. gymnastic championships in Denver, Colo.

It was the second straight crown for Coach Hartley Price's squad. Although only two FSU performers took first places, the Seminoles fell back on their over-all team strength to win their second title.

Dick Gutting and Capt. Jack Sharp were responsible for the two firsts. Gutting took his trampoline specialty and Sharp copped the flying rings event.

Tallahassee civic leaders met last nigh[illegible] to lay plans for a welcome celebration for the champs, headed by Bob Lee Bannerman, president —of the newly formed Seminole C[illegible]b—an FSU booster group The plans were incomplete, however as the Flambeau went to press

Other individual winners included John Claybrook, Army, rope climb, Frank Bare, Illinois, side horse; Charles Simms, Southern Cal[illegible]a, horizontal bars; John Beckner Southern California, parallel bars; and Bob Sullivan Illinois, tumbling

Faulhaber Heads Newly Organized Electronics Unit

James H Faul[illegible]ber graduate assistant in the School of Education has been appointed commandin[illegible] officer of a newly organized Electronics Company 6-3 part of the Navy's Organized Reserves

The company to be headed by Faulhaber will hav an organization ceremony at 8 p m April 1 in the Naval Reserve building at Dale Mabry Field

Dr A. B Martin, vice-president of Florida State and former Navy commander will officially [illegible] FSU at the organization ceremony Dr Edwin R Hartz, of the School of Social Work and former Navy chaplain will serve as chaplain for the activation ceremony.

Commander Faulhaber said the new [illegible] one of the alternatives offered by the U S Navy where an NRO[illegible] [illegible] not available will offer FSU students and [illegible] men and women between the [illegible] of 17 and 27 an opportunity [illegible] the ROTC program as [illegible] reserve officer candidates.

He [illegible] FSU students enlisting [illegible] two Summer Navy Reserve training [illegible] of six weeks each would [illegible] students to become eligible for commission as ensigns in the U S Navy Reserve upon graduation [illegible]

Recreation Workers Given Short Course

Now [illegible] for [illegible] and professional [illegible] Mrs. Anne [illegible] recreation [illegible]

M[illegible] leader [illegible] on room [illegible] 9 a m t[illegible] [illegible] 9 p m [illegible]

The [illegible] Division [illegible] and [illegible] Tallahassee [illegible] departments are cooperating in offering the shor[illegible]

Classified Ads

[illegible]

N.C.A.A. CHAMPS—Pictured above are the members of the Florida State gymnastics team that successfully defended their championship in Boulder, Colorado last Saturday.

Seminoles Rained Out; Meet Amherst Thursday

After being rained out of last night's contest with Georgia Tech, the Florida State baseball team turns its attention toward a full weekend of activity that includes games with Amherst on Thursday and Loyola on Friday and Saturday.

LES MULLEN heads ofr first base after his single to left field in Saturday's game with Georgia. Mullen collected two hits in Friday's contest.

Thursday's tilt with the touring Amherst, Mass nine and Friday's game will bot[illegible] get underway at 2 30, while Saturday's contest, a nightmare affair is scheduled to get underway at 7 45

Friday afternoon's game will be played on the west campus diamond while the other two contests are scheduled for Centennial field

The Seminoles commi[illegible]ted six with Georgia over the weekend, ran their season record to 3-1 with their performances against the Bulldogs

Some loose play afield and the tight five hit pitching of Georgia Al Par[illegible] cost the Indian's Friday's tilt with the Bulldogs.

The Seminoles committee six erro[illegible] in the field and Parrish who seemed to get stronger as he went along spaced five hits over the nine inning route

Ed Sessions who received credit for the openin[illegible] win over Ke[illegible] went the en[illegible]e distance for the Seminoles, giving up 13 hits including two triples and a double.

HOWEVER, Sessions was effective in the [illegible] and struck out [illegible]

[illegible] Les Mullen wa[illegible] [illegible] at the plate for the Seminoles, collecting two [illegible] Ken Smith, Ronald Me[illegible] and Ralph B[illegible] the other hits [illegible] one [illegible]

[illegible] a [illegible] from the Seminoles [illegible] behind the [illegible] but Ed Lockard [illegible] Georgian 8-3 Saturday afternoon.

The Indians could get only six hits off two Georgia hurlers [illegible] put them to good use and [illegible] time. Three of the [illegible] were extra base knocks, doubles by Bob Trowbridge Ham [illegible] and Lockard.

IT LOOKED for awhile as the Bulldogs were out to duplicate their previous day's work when they jumped on Lockard [illegible]

Women's Sports

BY BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

As the ODD EVEN teams go into their final week of practice in basketball, golf and badminton, the girls are more conscious of the skills which they have learned and also of the team co-operation and good sportsmenship they have been taught by the leaders

The tournament itself will begin on April [illegible] The second game will follow on April 3 and if a third game is necessary it will be played on the 8th of April

* * *

The intramural softball tournament between sororities is still in progress and on Thursday March 20, Delta Delta Delta overpowered Alpha Delta Pi, 24-21 Phi Mu outlasted Kappa Delta by a close score of 6-4, and Alpha Omicron Pi whipped Alpha Xi Delta in a shut out game with a score 19-0

Alpha Omicron Pi is in first place with three wins and no losses while there is a six way tie for second place between Phi Mu Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta Alpha Xi Delta Alpha Gamma Delta, and Alpha Chi Omega who have each won two

* * *

Don't forget on April 17, at 7 30 in the women's gymnasium Dr Frances Cole will start a class in relaxation. This is for the benefit of the students and faculty

* * *

The time for the Florida Sports Day draws nearer and Florida State University will be hostess of over two hundred young women athletes The time for each special event has been worked out by JoAnne Young and the names of the Florida State University teams revealed

Give your support on April 5 by going to these events and cheering [illegible] Florida State [illegible] athletes

* * *

In the University [illegible] Association's golf [illegible] the names of the boy[illegible] should be sent as soon as possible to Joan Paris Box 498, so final details can be worke[illegible] o[illegible]

The URA will pay for the co[illegible] of the holes and equipment can be obtained for the round house in back of the women's gym

Club to Elect Officers

Ele[illegible] of [illegible] of the Warpath Club will be held tonight at 7 in the Longmire building, room 405 All membe[illegible] [illegible] expected to be present

Swimming Team Second in A.A.U.

Florida State University's swimming team splashed its way to a second place notch in the Florida State senior men's AAU meet at the Hollywood Beach Casino Sunday March 23. The Seminole poolmen were squeezed out by the University of Miami, 91 to 84 2/3, while the University of Florida finished a slow third with 46 1/3.

The Seminoles completely dominated the 100-yard free style, with Dunn-Rankin and Carter of FSU being in a three-way tie with Bennett of Florida while State's Weiss, Sutherland, and Jardine finished fourth, fifth, and sixth.

In the 200-yard backstroke FSU placed first and third, with Cooper and Burnett paving the way The 220-yard breaststroke found Indians Van Hise and Jardine in second and fourth spot

In a warm-up for Sunday's AAU duel, Florida State lost 52 to 32 on Saturday in the Pratt Veterans Hospital pool It was the first Seminole loss in state dual competition since 1949

This weekend March 27-29, FSU will enter the NCAA National meet at Princeton New Jersey.

[illegible]

WINS CROWN—Sonny Tinney won the state intercollegiate individual crown with a total of 279 for 72 holes.

FSU Golfers Face Georgia This Afternoon

[illegible]

Adams Club Meets

[illegible]

Fits to a "T"

You'll look smart, feel smart in this trim-tailored SKIPPER T-shirt! Its soft Interlock fabric is knit by Wilson Brothers from the finest cotton yarn. Washes easily...needs no ironing. Choose from a wide range of colors at . . . From $2.99

Nic's Toggery
Next to Seven Seas

Filet Mignon Special At The Seven Seas

Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

We're got a good line, too...

Arrow Sports Shirts

In the boldest colors and smartest styles —all with extra-comfortable ARAFOLD collar!

Solid colors? Patterns? Plaids? Sure, we've got 'em all! Clean, crisp-looking shirts with that amazing Arafold collar that looks great, feels comfortable, open or closed, with or without a tie.

Mendelson's

FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

You're way ahead of competition in an ARROW sports shirt!

Pick your favorite Arrow style, and you'll win comfort every time! And thanks to the wonderful new Arafold collar, any Arrow Sports Shirt looks fine, collar open or closed (with or without a tie!)

ARROW

SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

Frosh Vote Again
For Class Queen.
Read General Story.

Florida Flambeau

SEMINOLES

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 42 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, March 28, 1952

Want a Treat?
See Medieval Plays
Of Speech Department.

166 Students Run In Class Elections

Four Polls to Open Tuesday; Roving Jeep Is Again Planned

A total of 166 students will seek class, Senate and court positions in the tri-class elections next Tuesday.

At the 3 p.m. deadline yesterday 68 had qualified to run for the sophomore offices, 51 for junior and 47 for senior, according to Ruth Hoering, executive secretary of the University Government association.

CARL EPPERSON, elections chairman, announced that there would be at least four polls open Tuesday. Seminole Dining hall, Jennie Westcott, the east side of the Education building and a roving poll on a Jeep. Times will be announced in the Friday Flambeau.

The elections chairman said it was important that candidates should check their scholastic averages as the standards set up in the Pre-Vote taking special notice that "Fs" count as a minus one quality point.

STUDENTS WILL be vying for a total of six Senate seats in each class six class positions for each class and two honor court members from the junior and senior classes.

The University Government association sponsored a political rally in the Union auditorium last night for each class. Dick Bradshaw, Jim Barnes and June Conners presided over the meeting for freshmen and seniors respectively.

Were the following candidates: James Latimer and Bill Skipper for senior court justice; Sue Saxon, Bill Mesa and Bill Hall for junior court justice.

Candidates for secretary of the senior class are Bill Mitchell, Jack Hall and Bill Mc; Rebecca Brannan and Sally Sanders for junior class secretary; Jane Shepard, Edith Bryant, Tic Jones and Margaret Potter.

Candidates for senior Men's Senate are Jimmy Jones, Jimmie Allen, Hank Tolar, James Bill Davis and Bobby Hall. Junior Senate candidates are Jimmy Sparkman, Jack Sweeney and Terry Sparkman.

(Continued on Page 2)

Garnet, Gold Key Plan Campus Poll Combating Apathy

In a scant two hour meeting Wednesday night, the Garnet and Gold Key, campus service-scholastic honorary organizations, decided that could be used in Gold Key's campus-wide poll.

The poll, which has been started to find out exactly what students on the campus want from the university, will be used to combat the growing student apathy on campus. A number of forums of students will start sometime in April.

"STUDENT OPINION ... and students are not content to know the opinion of authority," declared Jim Barnes, chairman of the Gold Key group. "We want to tap this student opinion through questions on the phases of university life.

A similar poll was taken at the state conference of the university men last spring by the special committee under the chairmanship of Bill Hess, Gold Key alumnus. Dr. Ivan Lindsay, assistant professor of sociology, has assisted Bill with the sampling methods will be used and a personal information sheet of each person interviewed will be kept.

A SERIES of questions on the academic side of FSU have been decided on by Ted Steinmeyer and his committee.

Each area will be covered. Questions will be asked concerning administration rules, regulations, policies and attitudes, amount on subject matter of classwork, question, teacher rating, study conditions, counseling and social standards.

JIM KIRK, and Mr. James Peterson, assistant professor of political science, will determine an objective for questions on the extracurricular program at FSU. The questions will be broken down into three categories: academics, extracurricular activities, and recreational and cultural programs.

"We in Gold Key feel this project is basic to finding out what the problems are and what a constructive student apathy on campus," announced Dan Gould, president of Gold Key.

During the joint meeting Wednesday night, the members of Garnet Key added many suggestions for questions on the student poll.

Tabulated results will be reported in the Flambeau and Smoke Signals.

Bands Perform 7:30 Tonight

Nearly 1500 musicians and 100 baton twirlers will be featured in a marching exhibition by 24 high school bands tonight at 7:30 in Doak S. Campbell stadium.

Tickets for tonight's show will be sold at the stadium gate, with special admission prices for students. Students may get in on 50 cents while adults will have to pay one dollar.

THE TWO DAY Florida Sixth District Festival is being sponsored by Florida State University and the Florida Bandmasters association.

A parade of all the bands attending the festival will be held through Tallahassee at 4 p.m. today.

Tonight each band will devote from five to eight minutes demonstrating their most colorful and involved field formations for the judges, said Bandmaster Oliver Hobbs, of Leon high and general chairman of the festival events.

THIS WILL BE climaxed by several massed numbers including "Way Down Upon the Suwannee River" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

The individual band shows will be the equivalent of a half-time football show, plus the incorporation of certain basic field drills to fulfill the competition requirements.

The marching exhibition is only one feature of the two day festival. In addition to the parade held this afternoon, competition in concert playing and sight-reading by bands and solo ensemble playing by individuals and small groups in the Music building will be held today and tomorrow.

PROCEEDS OF the marching exhibition are going to be used to pay the expenses of the festival, Mr. Hobbs said. Any surplus will be divided and those participating.

All other events besides tonight's presentation will be open to the public free of charge.

Senior Hall Weekend Begins With Dance

Men's Senior hall weekend begins tonight with an informal dance in the Gold Longing room starting at 8:30 and lasting until 11:30.

A combo made up of members of The Regenia" will provide the music. The dance is limited to Senior hall residents and their dates only.

Tomorrow, Senior hall residents and their dates will go to Alligator Point for an all day picnic. They will leave from the front of Senior hall at 10 a.m. and return at 7 p.m. that night.

Lecture Series By T. V. Smith Starts Tuesday

National authority on the United States constitution, Dr. T. V. Smith, will begin his series of lectures at Florida State University next Tuesday. The meeting will be in the Science building, room 124.

The series of four lectures have been possible through the sponsorship of the School of Education and cooperation of the departments of English, philosophy, political science, and the School of Public Administration.

DR. SMITH'S first lecture of the series is at 3 p.m. Tuesday and will be on "Science and the Ideal of Truth," Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, Florida State professor of Philosophy, will preside and introduce the speaker.

"Politics and the Ideal of Goodness" is the topic of the speaker's second lecture Tuesday night at 8. Dr. Marian Irish, head of the department of political science, will preside.

PRESIDING AT the "Art and the Ideal of Beauty" talk Wednesday will be Dr. Ruth Rogers, Hobbs, of Leon high and general chairman of the festival events.

THIS WILL BE climaxed by several massed numbers including "Way Down Upon the Suwannee River" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

The individual band shows will be the equivalent of a half-time football show, plus the incorporation of certain basic field drills to fulfill the competition requirements.

The marching exhibition is only one feature of the two day festival. In addition to the parade held this afternoon, competition in concert playing and sight-reading by bands and solo ensemble playing by individuals and small groups in the Music building will be held today and tomorrow.

PROCEEDS OF the marching exhibition are going to be used to pay the expenses of the festival, Mr. Hobbs said. Any surplus will be divided and those participating.

All other events besides tonight's presentation will be open to the public free of charge.

Two Dramas Are Scheduled This Weekend

Speech Department Plans Medieval Plays Of England and France

Two examples of medieval drama are staged for tonight and tomorrow in the presentations of a French realistic farce, Pierre Patelin, and the English religious cycle play, Noah's Flood.

Tonight's showings are set for 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. and tomorrow's matinees at 1:30 and 3:30 will be held in the University Museum art gallery. Both plays are to be presented at each showing with a 15 minute break in between.

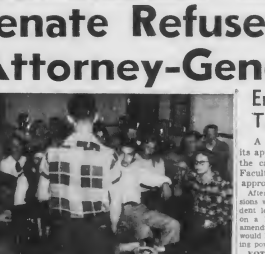
RESERVATIONS for the free show may be made through the History building theater box office.

THE Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Patelin revolves around a poor lawyer who is played by Dirk Hester.

Noah's Flood or The Chester Play of the Deluge is the Biblical story of Noah with a thread of fiction woven into it and develops a humorous quality as well as religious. Wyn Park, speech instructor, plays the part of God, and James Hutchinson, Noah.

OTHER CAST members of Pierre Patelin are Jean Mock-Angel Guillemette, the lawyer's wife; Franklin Adams, Guillaume Joceaulme the draper and successful merchant who has been cheated by his customers from the day he began selling; David Davis will be Tybald Lambkin, a shepherd, whose lot in life could have been better; and Lee Hildman plays the judge "whom no man dare judge."

The remaining cast in the "Noah" play are E. Francis Wyatt as Shem; Jim Delafave as Ham; John Howard as Japheth, Nancy Dickinson as Noah's wife, Betsy Silver Ann Ray as Shem's wife and Dot Welch as Ham's wife. Shawn Lane will be Japheth's wife and Ruth Way and Mary Alice Newton play the two gossips.



THE TWO PLAYS are being presented this weekend by the Guild of the Experimental Scenes in the speech department and are being directed by Reuben Silver, graduate student in the speech department. The technical directions has been done by Wyn Park, the costumes by Nancy Russell, and the lighting by Charles Reimer, all faculty members in the speech department.

The French and English productions are both anonymous, Silver said. "Although the "Noah" play is anonymous, "the graduate director commented, "whoever the author was, he fashioned his playlet out of twin strands of the ancient and secular entertainment of the Middle Ages."

MEDIEVAL AUDIENCES near Chester, England, would congregate in the squares of the village and watch the complete cycle of 25 Old and New Testament scenes.

The Pierre Patelin play was first acted in the latter half of the 15th century by companies of actors who toured the provinces and whose staging method was unlike to the style employed in the department's experimental production.

Senate Refuses To Kill Attorney-General Clause

A WATCHFUL SENATE—Joe Bunnell, senior senator, addresses the senate during the hot debate over the student attorney general clause of the cabinet bill. The senate was host to many visitors during the debate.

Entire Cabinet Bill Returned To Faculty Group by Senate

A crowded University Senate last Tuesday reaffirmed its approval of the controversial attorney-general clause of the cabinet system and sent the entire bill back to the Faculty Review board for its ultimate approval or disapproval.

After Friday and Saturday sessions without a quorum, the student legislature Tuesday reported on a 13 to 11 roll call vote an amendment to the bill which would have deleted the investigating power of the attorney-general.

VOTING AGAINST having the attorney-general Tuesday were Senators Pat Corry, Chalis Coulter, Joan Doiley, Ira Kuhl, Margaret Kraseman, Marjorie Mecastroth, Mary Helen Speed, Lee Stroup, Barbara Thomas, Joe Bunnell and Milton Carothers.

Voting for the attorney-general were Senators Bob Drake, Ronald Holloway, Dave Kennedy, Jim Landry, Bob Read, Phil Sprinner, Roy Staton, Ted Steinmeyer, Don Whitehead, Jean Flynn, Sonny Meyer, Pat Renick and Mary Ruth Summers.

Only two senators were absent Tuesday at the session were present.

AFTER THE BILL had been passed against deleting the office of the attorney-general as set up, a motion was made and passed for the reinstatement of Senator Ignacio Sived who resigned Friday and walked out of Senate with Speaker Springer to prevent a quorum. Then the senate quickly thought the full Senate should be voting on the matter. They felt that a decision to reject on the bill since nine members were already absent.

First to speak Tuesday was Senator Springer, crusader for the attorney-general's remaining. As set up originally. Still pleading his case, Springer emphatically

Continued on Page 5)

Air Force Eyes West Campus

Dale Mabry field, which Florida State University has leased since 1946, may be reactivated if pressure from city officials and the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce is carried into action.

Next year only married couples and a few departments will be on West campus, as it is called, but the Air Force can take the base back at any time.

VETERANS TO reactivate the base followed receipt of a letter from a prominent official in Washington who asked that his name not be used. He told Chamber of Commerce Manager Ralph Rosenberg and Dr. Reginald Tallahassee could get an air base and that was a one time scheduled for another city.

Rod K. Shaw, FSU business manager, stated that FSU's lease will be officially terminated in 1956. It was signed in 1946 for 10 years. A special clause in the contract provides that the Air Force can reactivate the base if it deems necessary.

CITY commissioners in session last Monday night voted unanimously to endorse the project and Davidson has already sent requests for action to Florida Senators George Smathers and Spessard Holland and Congressman Bob Sikes.

The city commission has made several attempts at reactivation of the base, including sending a large delegation to Washington.

Several years ago the cut-up break of the Korean war, government officials have transferred the facilities at Dale Mabry. At one time consideration was given to moving Turnpike HQ to the original air force here. Officials of that revered body changed their mind themselves as willing to come here but the project never materialized.

THE BASE, airways are not long enough for modern planes and it is practically impossible to lengthen the strips.

In particular FSU expect all university facilities to be moved from West campus before 1956 when the lease expires. All students except married couples, will be housed on East campus next fall.

Election Committee

The election committee will have a short meeting tonight at 6:30 in the Student Government office. All committee members must be present. Any student wishing to work on the election committee are invited to attend.

Lower Bus Rates Again Considered By Exec. Council

The possibility of lower city bus rates for students was taken up again this week when Charles Curtis, at the council meeting presidents Will Pennell, presented a request to the City Transit assistant manager, Wilbur Turner.

The request was a part of earlier action to lower the bus rates for students.

Curtis stated that he intends to carry on discussion with Turner and the district manager C. L. Carter. He will then appear before the Tallahassee City commission to present a formal plan next week.

The bus company manager suggested last fall that the bookstore sell a ticket worth 12 rides for $1 so that the students, sixty-six cents of the dollar would go to the bus company and four cents would go back to the bookstore for handling the transactions. Carter also said that it might be possible to sell student transportation cards for 20 rides at a cost of 1 60

The Executive Council rejected the proposal.

Plans are also being made to re-route the city bus through the campus and in front of the new fraternity houses and Senior hall. No action has been taken as yet.

'Four Feathers' Is Next Free Movie

"Four Feathers," a movie of courage and cowardice, will be shown next week free of charge by the Commuters Recreation association.

The movie will be shown on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the West campus Student union. Tuesday, it will be Senior hall; Wednesday, Magnolia; Thursday, Landis; Recreation room and Friday at 6 p.m. in Gilchrist.

Tonight's movie, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," will be held in South Cawthon in case of rain.

"Four Feathers," starring Ralph Richardson, C. Aubrey Smith and John Dupree, is the story of an Englishman who refuses to follow his regiment to India. The girl he loves gives him four white feathers symbolizing his cowardice. Vowing to surmount the insult, he suffers privation and imprisonment, but lives through climactic battles with the Dervishes to rescue his honor and bring back the respect of the woman he loves.

The love is set in the Sudan desert and the valley of the Nile.

Former Boy Scouts

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity will have a rush party Wednesday night at 7. All former Boy Scouts are eligible for membership, Bowen president of the service fraternity said.

Freshmen Carnival Includes Floorshow

The 1952 Freshman Carnival will open its fun-filled midway at 7:30 tomorrow night in the women's gymnasium. Featured will be 10 top sideshows, dancing and contests.

The floorshow, scheduled for 8 p.m., will include the announcement of winners in the cake-bake contest, the coronation of the 1952 Carnival King and Queen, plus the talent show.

WE'VE SCOURED the campus from end to end, proclaims Dave Dorr, co-chairman of the talent show committee, "and I think we've rounded together one of the greatest groups of talent you could hope for."

Listed among the stellar performers are Joan Meador, Jimmy

Because of mixup, the final election of Carnival King and Queen will be held over today. Freshmen may cast ballots for five hens and five girls from the slate of 19 candidates nominated a week ago. The Lower Westcott poll will remain open until 3 p.m. today, according to Mimi Patterson, Carnival director.

The top boy and top girl will be crowned king and queen during the floor show tomorrow night, and the next four couples will also be honored.

Rogers, Herb Holcomb, Deane Driver, Ronald Martin, Elsie Combs, Shirley Puckett, Don Teal and Betty Mullen. Deane, along with co-chairman Mary Lee Hall and Bobby Palermo, carnival director, will judge the applause given contestants and award prizes accordingly.

The 10 booths operating tomorrow will be palmistry, cake walk, pitch pennies, going pool ball bouncing, balloon bursting, fish pond, ring-the-duck's neck. Cokes, bottle bowling, ball throwing and pennies for cigarettes. Tickets for each booth cost 10 cents and will be purchased at the door to the gymnasium, according to Don Hite, booth chairman.

REFRESHMENTS to be sold at the Carnival film showing are soft drinks, candy, ice cream, hot dogs, coffee and doughnuts.

'Flying High' Gains Write-Up in Life Now on Newstand

The issue of Life magazine which appears on the newsstands this week will contain an illustrated story of Florida State University's circus, "Flying High."

Loomis Dean, a staff photographer from New York, spent several days on the campus making hundreds of pictures of circus activities and working closely with Cole Bros. and Ralph director of "Flying High." The pictures were sent to Life's studio in New York where they were processed and selections were made for the eight page color publication.

The current issue of Life features 12 pictures of the circus.

Those pictured in the current edition of Life will be sent advanced copies of the magazine.

The circus has been for several months in the making and for two months for their May 1-3 performance to be held at Doak S. Campbell stadium. "Flying High" has been featured in magazine articles, film shorts, newspapers, radio and television.

(Continued on Page 2)

COLLEGE POLL

US Students Learn To Earn

APC- The prospect of a good job is the reason most students go to college, according to results of the first Nationwide Poll of Student Opinion.

The "desire for more knowledge" is another frequently stated reason, but only a few attribute this motive to their studentia.

College students from all parts of the country were asked to pick either one or two reasons which came closest to their reasons for attending college.

FIFTY THREE per cent said they came to college to get a good job after college. 36 per cent for a desire for more knowledge, two per cent to find a mate. Three per cent said "I was the thing to do." four per cent, the parents wished it and two per cent listed none of these reasons.

Students were then asked: Which of these reasons do you feel is best for the majority of college students?

Only one said a good job after college, 11 per cent a "desire for more knowledge," five per cent "to find a mate," 14 per cent. It was the thing to do," eight per cent, the parents wished it and two per cent, none of these.

MANY students commented that their choice of professions such as law, education and medicine required them to go to college. Here are a few of the comments:

A junior from the Pacific coast: "I want to do something constructive, and in the field of education I can accomplish this."

A senior said in home economics: "Men want a job, women want a man."

A Junior: Went to college "to attain the goal of entering the medical profession, and to pursue this profession up to its high standards."

A SENIOR in international relations: "The main reason for me was the fruits of college social life".

A business sophomore: "To set up a home and a regular army career."

A senior said: "I don't study hard enough."

A junior: "I want to get married and a few degrees help."

A senior: "I don't know what I want to do anyway."

Four students answered: "I want to enjoy life, play football" and several more said was to stay out of the army.

* * *

IN THE SAME poll students were asked to rate the institution they have attended so far, in college.

The results found 17 percent rated excellent, 47 percent good, 23 per cent "very fair," two per cent "poor," and one per cent "no opinion."

The women appear slightly more satisfied with their education than the men. Seventeen per cent of the women say their education has been either excellent or good, as opposed to 70 per cent of the men.

A feeling which seems rather widespread among students is summed up in a card from a co-ed from a small school in the east: "In a sense to learn I guess I do, I don't study hard enough."

Religious Groups Have Growing Memberships

By THEO SOMMERKAMP

Student religious groups at Florida State University are responding to growing pains.

Of the 28 fields listed by students as religious preferences, nine have student work, and nearly every one of these indicates growing membership.

IN FACT, the memberships have grown almost too fast for the religious groups to keep pace. For the past year, several student religious houses have been in a period of expansion to catch up.

Like many other groups connected with the university, these student religious houses felt the pinch almost overnight, when Florida State College for Women became FSU and thousands of more students came here to study.

ROMAN CATHOLICS and protestants are characteristic of faiths here that have responded already to the growing pains. Until a year ago, these two faiths had student meetings in available parlors and classrooms on the campus.

Now, both have houses of their own, off campus, where they offer a week day ministry to their members.

Methodists already had a house here, but found it grossly inadequate to meet the enlarged membership. Their Foundation House as it is today is their answer to the problem.

EPISCOPALIANS will be the next to expand. Funds were allocated at the last meeting of the North Florida diocese to build a new chapel here. It will cost about $90,000.

Rugg hall: present meeting place for students of this faith, is crowded at services and meetings. Its chapel seats less than 100, yet nearly 150 Episcopal students are active and there are another 150 inactive.

BAPTISTS HAVE not indicated any immediate expansion. Seating only 125 in its chapel room, it too has standing room only. There are about 300 to 400 active members of the Baptist Student union.

Still meeting in available rooms, mostly in Lounsbury building, are Christian Science Organization and Gamma Delta, Lutheran student organization. Membership of these faiths number between 30 and 80.

HILLEL FOUNDATION, Jewish group, meets at Temple Israel. Its membership is about 100 on campus. So far, its facilities are adequate, but the Foundation was founded only last year.

Friends, or Quakers, is the newest faith to begin holding meetings. A joint student-townspeople meeting has just been initiated and the group will meet Sunday mornings at the home of Dr. John Crist, associate professor of social welfare.

THE DENOMINATIONS that have expanded physically show signs of spiritual expansion, too. Those still cramped for space say that short quarters impair their spiritual ministry.

Although numbers do furnish a key to growth, most student religious directors agree with Miriam Wilson, Westminster Fellowship director: "Numbers don't reflect the growth of religious groups," she says. "We try to reach students with a spiritual ministry that can't be measured in figures. It's a personal ministry."

Federal Official Instructs Students

John T. Moore, Chief of Accounting Installation and Control, U. S. department of commerce, is "guest teacher" at Florida State University this week instructing students in the Case Study of a Federal department, a public administration course which was initiated by Secretary Charles Sawyer.

In studying the Accounting Installation and Control Division, the students will consider accounting as a tool of management and the various systems that may be installed to provide necessary financial data.

The visiting lecturer was educated in accounting at Southwestern University and LaSalle Extension University. After 10 years in private industry in the conduct of his own business, he joined the Home Owners Loan corporation in 1933, serving in the following 10 years in the personnel, accounting and auditing divisions.

After serving in the armed forces in World War II, Mr. Moore joined the U. S. commerce department's Census bureau as administrative officer. In 1946 he became budget officer for the bureau. He served as a member of the committee of expert examiners for the Civil Service commission for the census bureau. He assumed his present post in Jan 1950.

Lecture Series

(Continued from Page 1)

be held Wednesday night at 8 when the internationally known educator will discuss "The Issue in Ideas with Russia." Dr. Mode D. Strone, acting dean of the School of Education, will preside.

THE AUTHOR, legislator and speaker is a native of Texas and graduate of the University of Texas. He holds a doctorate degree from the University of Texas and has served on the faculties of Texas Christian University, and Universities of Texas and Chicago. The lecturer has also served on the Illinois State Senate and in the 76th U. S. Congress.

Dr. Smith was in World Wars I and II. He was director of education, Allied Control Commission in Italy in 1944.

HE WAS DIRECTOR of democratization for selected German prisoners of war in 1945 and a member of the U. S. Educational Mission to Japan and Germany in 1946. He is editor of the International Journal of Ethics and author of the "Democratic Way of Life" and many other books.

Dr. Smith now occupies the chair of Poetry, Politics and Philosophy at the Maxwell Graduate School of Public Affairs at Syracuse University.

Naval Procurement Officers in Westcott

A team of Naval Officer Procurement officers are on the campus today to give interviews to any student interested in the Navy.

Interviews will be granted from 8:30 a. m. to 5 on the main floor of Westcott.

It will be possible for applicants to be completely processed for appointment leading to commissions in the Naval Reserve. Appointments are open in such specialized fields as communications personnel, administration, engineering, Naval aviation, supply or-dance, electronics, public relations, and the medical and dental corps.

BEST IN MUSIC—Florida State's modern music library is well equipped to serve all the students. The library of records totals many thousands of volumes.

PRIVILEGED GROUP

Women's Senior Hall

By JEAN FLYNN

Women's senior hall, one of the oldest and most respected groups on campus, has been in existence since 1938.

At that time the legislative committee under College Government association of Florida State College for Women, suggested that a group of selected senior women be given a chance to live together in a designated area and given more freedom and responsible liberties in minor matters.

THESE YOUNG women could act as hostesses to visiting college women and set standards in democratic, but dignified living. The members of senior hall were chosen by a group of eight students, who were all-going seniors, assisted by a non-voting faculty member.

They were picked according to comprehension and acceptance of responsibility, ability to use discrimination between personal preferences and group welfare and their desire and participation in extra-curricular activities.

PARENTS OF these seniors were contacted as to their willingness for their daughters to live in senior hall and permitted members of senior hall.

After 6 years College Council and Student Senate have each made membership available to all interested seniors, doing away with the selection of members. The group which at first numbered 35, jumped to 100 and then to 200, as more space was allocated.

THE FIRST SITE of senior hall was a portion of Gilchrist hall, however when Landis was completed, the second and third floors of the east section were rendered for senior hall members.

Among the privileges enjoyed through the years by members, are the optional convocation attendance, no restrictions on regular dining room hours, signing and driving cars of friends on special occasions. Some members shared these privileges and there arose a question as to whether the project should be continued, but so many benefits had resulted that the Council voted to continue.

SEVERAL YEARS, senior "hallers" were permitted to enter at any hour during the night, but later the members voted to rule that anyone should check in at midnight.

It was, and still is, the policy for senior hall to encourage such projects as sponsor. These have included W.S.S.F., keeping the campus clean, cleaning rooms during the servant shortage in the war years, preventing walking on grass and maintaining a high tone in dress and decorum.

THE ENTIRE EAST half of Landis is now technically called senior hall, but some sophomores and juniors live on the fourth and fifth floors. A room in the honor council, which provides for a different delegate from each floor attending each week, is still in operation.

Senior hall serenades at Christmas and other special occasions, holds a midnight "breakfast" after initiation, and considers itself a separate organization.

166 Students

(Continued from Page 1)

Stem are candidates for Women's Senate.

Running for publications are Betty Blanchard, editor of the Seminole; Paula S. Semeraro in the Flambeau; and Jean Flynn of the senior class.

Seeking a position on the Student Senate are Jean Bowden, Betty Brown, Thelma Brown, Jo Ann Bryan, Jeanne Cannon, Frankie Bethea Cox, Mary Sue Ellen Ails have qualified to run for women's representative.

Running for Senior Maids Judiciary are Ann Bell, Jeanne Bowden, Carol Hand, Jo Howard and Jane Hunter. Seeking a position on Women's Judiciary are Dot Bowden, Betty Bowers, Jo Ann Bryan, Betty Cheney, Jeanne Cannon, Frankie Bethea Cox, Mary Sue Ellen Ails have qualified to run for women's representative.

Running for junior secretary are Carolyn Gray, Betty Sue Jones, Peggy Lambert and Ann Sullivan. Wanting to run for sophomore secretary are Anne Crownover, Claire Kennon, Patty Caldwell and Barbara Wynn.

Those who are running for the four positions on Junior Maids Judiciary are Chloe Eastham, Toni Simmons, Charlie Hi-Hunter, Betty Ann Mathews, Kent Bayne.

Those who are running for Senate are Jack Cox, Jack Hall, Jack Hunter, Bill Stallings, Jackie Kessler, Miller, Randall, Joyce Whitley, Jeanne Beth Mellon and Angie Pinder.

Candidates who have been nominated are Mary Lou Bowden, Joan Bowden, Betty Brown, Jeanne Cannon, Betty Sparks, Jane Cannon and Sue Schick are running for social chairman.

Bill Norton is running for president of the junior class. Other contenders are Dolores Bates, Betty Ann Lain, Margaret Ann Nolin and Pat Walker will run for vice president. Join in the fun!

Those who are Maids Judiciary from the sophomore class are Jeanne Bowden, Mary Howard, Kingman, Betty Ann Lain, Margaret Ann Nolin and Jackson, Patty Martin, Ola Hayes, Betty Sparks, Jane Cannon and Betty Barker. Bill Norton is running for social as a opening on the court.

Steve Baker is running for the traffic court job.

Those who are sophomore president are Bill Norton, Jack Hall, Jack Hunter, Jackie Kessler, Sweeting for vice president, and Bill Stallings, Randall Morgan, JoAnne Setzer, Mike Roth, Joyce Whitley, Jeanne Beth Mellon, Elenor Smith and Bob Betts.

Those who are junior councilmores are Marion Allen, Dot Wells, Jane Maxwell and Jinnie Carns. Seeking the office of treasurer are Martha Scott, Fred Herndl, Mary Dougherty, Jane Hall, Jo Ann Bryan and Jean Williams.

In the 23 freshmen running for Sophomore Senate are Gene Lindsey, Wayne Terry, Jon Bishop, James Mc-Cullough, Jack Cox, Jack Hall, Jack Hunter, Bill Stallings among the men and Joyce Whitley, Jeanne Reynolds, Peggy Cooper, Joan Bowden, Betty Ann Sperry, Lou Stroup, Anne Freeman, Beverly Brown, Jo Ann Bryan, Betty L. Franks, Priscilla Holmes, Sandra Hall, Jeanne Cannon, Betty Sparks, Ann Mabe, Nancy Lee Lyon, Barbara Traxler, Chana Coulter and Jane McNeely among women.

Al Snider, Frances Holmes and Fred Herndl have qualified for the office of commissioner of traffic court. Betty Frazier, Judy Ash and Bobbie Jean Hartsfield have qualified for social chairman.

Eighteen freshmen are running for the six positions on the Judicial Court. They are Bill Stanich, Bob Finley, Ray Rogers and Ruth B. Wiener for men's judiciary and Rebecca Brown, Carolyn Gray, Betty Sue Jones, Peggy Lambert, Dorothy Lou Allen, Jo Howard, Patricia Flynn, Jean Lamb, Sandra Hartsfield and Sue Ellen Ails. Lou Mabry and Helen Hamilton for Women's Judiciary.

Red for traffic court is George Martin.

Business Students Study Machines

Florida State business administration students have learned the latest accounting techniques from a series of lectures and demonstrations of business machines and equipment, Dr. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business, announced recently.

The course was designed to show junior and senior business students and local business men the latest methods and systems being used in performing the accounting tasks, previously learned in the classroom.

Twenty-six of the latest model adding, bookkeeping, accounting and microfilming machines were used in the course. Dean Dame announced that the series is part of the FSU program to equip students with practical knowledge of business methods.

Senate Refuses

(Continued from Page 1)

read an article on the injustice of the junior court from last year's Flambeau.

SENATOR FLYNN was then given the floor. He thought the Senate should realize that the article was not representative of last year's court. Flynn then cited the article as having been written by Jack Cox, who he thought everyone knew was one of the most radical writers of last year's publication. Flynn said, however, that she was in favor of an attorney general.

Senator Mary Helen Speed commented that she did not think the students were adequately informed and that girls were not allowed to appear before the court.

SENATOR SPEED was asked if she had ever been to the court and forgotten. She pointed out, in general applause and short chorus were next in the order of the day.

Senator Speed said that she was not afraid to appear before the Court. It was pointed out that she was a junior and that freshmen would be the ones to be afraid. Senator Speed's final retort was "Give'em time, they'll learn."

SENATOR LANDRY vehemently objected to choice and that the Senate was saying in effort that they did not have any confidence in the intelligence of the President-Elect. Summers in appointing the court approved if they did not vote for the bill.

Senator Bunnell thought an attorney general would be the more politics into the campus government.

Senators Dave Kennedy and Milton Carothers were in open disagreement on the Presidential necks being for and Carothers against.

The action on the bill will come Monday when the Faculty Review board meets. The system, with only minor revisions will be represented again.

At the University of Texas a callous prankster dropped a live bass into a fraternity goldfish bowl. In true Darwinian form the goldfish disappeared.

Business Students Study Machines

Florida State business administration students have learned the latest accounting techniques from a series of lectures and demonstrations of business machines and equipment, Dr. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business, announced recently.

The course was designed to show junior and senior business students and local business men the latest methods and systems being used in performing the accounting tasks, previously learned in the classroom.

Twenty-six of the latest model adding, bookkeeping, accounting and microfilming machines were used in the course. Dean Dame announced that the series is part of the FSU program to equip students with practical knowledge of business methods.

Alpha Kappa Psi To Hear Pepper

Claude W. Pepper will be the principal speaker at the first semi-annual Alpha Kappa Psi service-to-the-school which will be held at 8 p. m. April 22, in the Music building auditorium.

Mr. Pepper is associated with law firms in Tallahassee, and Washington, D. C. He also served as United States Senator.

All students and faculty members of FSU are welcome to attend this service. Also a large number of prominent local citizens and businessmen will be invited.

A service-to-the-school program is sponsored twice a year by this professional business fraternity. Each semester the name of the principal speaker for the program will be inscribed on an honorary scroll.

Bill McDonald, vice-president of Alpha Kappa Psi, is supervising this first program. Other members of the committee are president, Tom Newberry, and Earl Jackson. Charles Howell will serve as faculty advisor.

The program will be conducted through the cooperation of Dr. J. Frank Dame, dean of the School of Business.

Concer Workers Are Needed

Any students wishing to work on committees for the Cancer drive to open April 1 are asked to contact Florence Schwartz, department of physical education for women.

Freshman Carnival

(Continued from Page 1)

ples, hot dogs and Coke-Aid food is being handled by the Rose Sandwich Company of Tallahassee, according to Lillian Aird, freshment chairman. All food will be served in the foyer and students are asked not to take Cokes and other refreshments into the gymnasium.

Energetic carnival workers will begin decorating the gymnasium at noon tomorrow so that it will look like a giant circus tent. "We still need a lot of strong-armed fellows to help us out," announced Mimi.

Prizes for this year's carnival have been donated by several Tallahassee merchants. Donating prizes to date have been: Morrison's, Shaw's, Yong Hardware, the Vogue, P. W. Wilson's, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Seville's Bat Shop, the Florida State, and Dyer-Sis theaters, Uptown Studios, Pike Studios, Chiles' McCrory's, Moon Jewelry, Ray Jewelry, Federal Bake Shop in Amber House, Mecca, Malone's Co-op, Wuwam, Seven Seas Navy Surplus, Cassidy's, Nellie Capital Loan and Bertha Cooke's.

Advertising a clown is the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, and supplying several clown costumes is Coach Haskins of the FSU Circus.

Direction of this year's Carnival has been by Mimi Patterson club vice-president. Committee heads include Elaine Lewis, concessions Ann Williams, invitation; Charlotte Hardy, king and queen; Jeanette Smith, booth-building; Martha Garrett and Helen Hamilton, publicity, and Nell Evans and Percy Schuchart, prizes.

FAIVER'S Tallahassee's Finest DRIVE-IN

SERVED HOT IN-A-BOX WITH ALL THE FIXINGS

SHRIMP LIVERS | DEVILED CRAB GIZZARDS

BAR-B-Q RIBS CHICKEN IN-A-BOX

SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN IN-A-BOX IN-A BASKET

JUMBO HAMBURGERS | FOOT-LONG HOT DOGS

FREE MUSIC — DIAL 2-1860 — DELIVERY SERVICE SUNDAYS

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY

Cameron's Texaco Service Station

Formerly Meats Service Station

566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Patronize Our Advertisers

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

"The voice of the turtle is heard throughout the land . . ." except in Tally where the old crooker is still shacked up. But at that, we've all Space-Cadets are hereby ordered to drop the books clean the bowels and take off like the proverbial bat to where the balmy ones blow . . .

Fact is each of us can be "one" everyone but ourselves.

You can describe every clown you stumble on—but try describing yourself sometime (minus ego and phony modesty, that is). And yet that's part of the insecurity that makes personality and the difference between sharpies and creeps . . .

Probably the bruhtest remark to come out of the Glamour center in years—from Quo Vadis: "Women shouldn't try to judge other women—they haven't the glands for it. . . ."

Speaking of yea specie—Senator Estes Kefauver Genn don't get statuettes next year for their terrif portrayals of Nero and Petronius the critics have their brains out to pasture. . . .

While in the Senate . . .

Senators Springer, Kennedy, and Landry led most of the men and four spunky gal Senators in sticking to their guns in the face of Administrative disapproval. Might lead to the respect a Student Senate should have . . .

Senator Milton Carothers pulled the low-blow of the day when commenting that young, enthusiastic Springer's "walk-out" was a publicity tactic. Does every Senate have to have a "namecaller? . . .

ALFORD'S presents the Campus Favorite

Jarman's Newest in WHITE BUCK

$11.95

Jarman SHOES FOR MEN

. . . and Red Rubber Soles for Smart Style and Extra Comfort

Frosty white buck upper leather, underscored by a soft, deep-yielding red rubber sole, gives you comfort spelled out in smart style. It's the national campus favorite. Come by today and discover for yourself the superb comfort of Jarman "friendliness of fit."

Alford Brothers

BETTER CLOTHES FOR MEN

THE MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A. FLORIDA

Today and Saturday

THE LAS VEGAS STORY

With JANE RUSSELL

Sunday Thru Tues.

"MAN IN THE SADDLE"

With Randolph Scott and Joan Leslie

STATE

HELD OVER THRU SATURDAY

QUO VADIS

Sunday and Monday "WHEN I GROW UP" with ROBERT PRESTON

RITZ

Today and Saturday

PAT O'BRIEN in "JOHNNY ONE EYE"

also "Savage Raiders"

Sunday and Monday

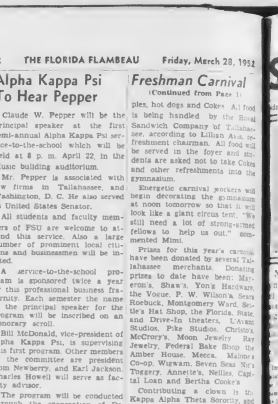
"CALLAWAY WENT THATAWAY"

With Howard Keel and Dorothy McGuire

DRIVE-IN

Today and Saturday

RANDOLPH SCOTT in "WAGON WHEELS"



also "WHITE SAVAGE" with MARIA MONTEZ

Sunday and Monday

"HOMETOWN STORY"

With Donald Crisp and Marjorie Reynolds.

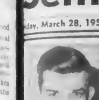
WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT. SEE A MOVIE NOW!

PAUL was having a stand-sich at the Dromedan-Bar when his roommate said: Sheedy, every t. ed sphinx your hair's ugly! Your camel's hair coat won't past the Forget-Nail Test! Therefore, if you ng get so get are dates. I humbly beseech you to try Wildroot Cream-Oil! Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dandruff. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. It's your hare s base friend!" Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he has—he's looks terrific! Better dessert water, pyramid your sausage up to 2/4 and dre-ss up dog or toilet goods counter for a horrie or rube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. America's biggest-selling hair tonic! Ask for it on your hair in the barber shop, too. You'll really be done yourself a favor!

* of 1176 Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test



Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

Seminoles Throttle Amherst 4 to 2 Behind Sanders

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

NOTHING NEW TO PRICE—When the Florida State Seminoits walked off with the N. C. A. A. title last week-end, it marked the second time in a row that the Seminoles have captured the crown, but to their coach—veteran Camp-ster Hartley Price—it was old stuff.

Price who calls every team he coaches his proudest, is supposed to be developing Olympic Gold-star Bill Roetheisen as well as several of the current stars of the Seminole team.

Already the Florida State combination was expected to finish up in NCAA by the dopsters, but few were competitive with Roetheisen, now a graduate.

But since Roetheisen along with Gene Babbitt will be eligible in the AAU it should be interesting to see how the gym-team fare with the two of these world beaters missing.

Age and injury dogsboo that a repeat performance around the Semi-circle camp ever since the days of Emile Anatole, apparently pounder looks due to may make out in regard to the Garnet-and-Gold gym team was supposed to have wound up like 20 in 30 days.

Of course reasons why the drills will be conducted next Tuesday, after permission of course by the Commissioner reason for cancelling the Garnet-Gold clash. Coach Price has an unpublished idea that Tallahassee the could field two good team-performance events, period. All-around minutes and climax, and last many of the candidates to be found.

While apparently disappointed at the graduation of several of his veterans, Veller however should have some consolation in the material to be served of last year's reserves and a few of the second-semester Freshmen.

Among the reserves that have drawn most of the attention are Al "Crazy legs" Woodham and big Ronald King. Woodham who transferred here from Auburn last Fall never quite lived up to the hoicies that accompanied him But he could be recruited for in part by the rash of injuries that plagued him most of last season. King like Woodham was bothered by injuries most of the 1951 season, and had to do most of his fullbacking behind Mike Sellers and Dick Hall.

Crazylegs with Nelson Italian-sidelined for most of the drills has had the left half slot all to himself since the first week and it looks as if he's found a home there if he can dodge by the fine openfield running he has turned in from said position.

With Turk back for another season and Hall facing graduation, Veller shifted King up to and and the solid 215 pounder looks due to may make Co-captain Curt Campbell a fine understudy there if he comes through.

If Veller is going to have to rely on Freshmen talent for some first string positions next Fall as he claims then newly enrolled Freshman Jon Meixner and Hall are two of the better. Although not too big Meixner is razermen shifty and rounds up for his lack of weight with plenty of foot power.

An aive rate star Darold Cox who probably shudders every time he thinks about the Tech game, Cox is a Starr from in four of his last eight games with Meixnon Muddspring Southern, Stetson, Wofford and Tampa slu probably spend many a sleepless nights between now and next September.

Take on Loyola This Afternoon

By TOMMY SANDS
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florida State University baseball team rolled up its fourth win of the young season here yesterday afternoon with a 4-2 victory over the Amherst (Mass.) Lords.

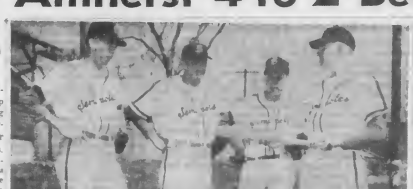
Coach Ralph Matherly's charges take on Loyola of New Orleans this afternoon at 2:30 on the West campus diamond and again tomorrow night on Centennial field—the latter affair starting at 7:45.

MATHERLY didn't name his starters for this afternoon's tilt or the game tomorrow night, but it will undoubtedly come from the trio of Ed Sessoms, Ed Lockard or John Witt.

Sessions received credit for the opening win over Kenyon, and Witt won the other game in a relief role while Lockard went the route in turning the Indians to an 8-3 win over Georgia last Saturday.

In yesterday's contest the Seminoles jumped on the visitor right six his pitching of Freshman Jerry Alexander. Chuck Shamp with eight safeties of their own to wrap up their fourth win of the campaign.

SANDERS, effective in the relief role that he's been thrown over the first seven frames his was a victim of some shoddy fielding in the seventh when two Seminole errors and a walk produced the other Amherst run.



The lanky southpaw, in his first starting assignment was stingy with his fastball and curve ball only three walks while striking out four.

Cooter Mills Ham Wernke and Ralph Blinn handed the majority of the stickwork for the Seminoles—each getting two hits. Ken Smith and Ronald Melton, Monmouth sophomore at the plate accounted for two runs batted in.

TIM TALLEY—Blinn, the Freshman outfielder turned in two nice catches in the second and then in the ninth backed up against the left field fence to spear Greer's long fly, ending the game.

It took only 2:23 to run off the fill, much faster than the other three games which averaged three hours apiece.

Box score:

SEMINOLE FLYCHASERS—Coach Ralph Matherly's outfielders appear to be discussing the team's chances against Loyola this afternoon. Left to right, they are Ralph Blinn, Mike Sellers, Les Mullen and Wayne Benner.

F. S. U. Gymnasts Surprised By Wednesday's Welcome

Florida State University's national champion-gymnastics team arrived home at the East campus gym Wednesday morning to a surprise welcome celebration.

The champs, victors in a meet that included a record 87 gymnasts from 24 institutions, landed amid a royal celebration in their honor sparked by the university band, President Doak S. Campbell, Vice President A B. Martin, Dr. Howard Culpepper, Mr. R. E. Shaw, Dr. Otis McBride, James Carr, Glover Tully, Charles Walker, John Newton Bush, Dr. Howard G. Danford, WTAL announcers Bob Delaney and Mc-Dunn of Dunn Motors reporter, the Tallahassee's "Seminole" Boosters Club.

FOR DR. HARTLEY Price's peerless crew captured the two-second consecutive NCAA crown and third national title including the previous national AAU title. The Seminoles are heavy favorites to add the NCAA team championship which will be held next month at Penn State College.

Following the Price's FSU conquest when Bill "the Rocket" Roetheisen accounted for all but three of the Seminole markers. Thus year's victory was a team accomplishment with eight men scoring.

DON HOLDER was the Seminoles' high scorer with 19 points while Dick Sullins was second with 16½ markers. The rest of the scoring went as follows: Captain Jack Bishop 15, Carmine Regina 14, Jack Miles 12, Joe Regina 11, Dick Ireland and Larry Weston each accounted for one tally.

First places were won by Jack Sharp on the flying rings and Dick Sullins on the trampoline.

Jack Miles copped second place in the lone horse event, Carmine Regina added a third on the high bar and fifth in the parallels. Don Holder placed a high fourth in the all-around while Joe Regina scored fourth on the side horse.

FOR THE GREAT Dr. Hartley Price it was his eighth national championship. Of the ten NCAA team championships that have been awarded, six have been won by Price's charges. As gymnastics coach at Illinois, Price guided the Illini to four consecutive nationals collegiate crowns in 1939-40-41-42. He added his fifth NCAA championship at FSU last year and number six came last week.

However, "Florida State is after the baker's dozen," Price lamented after his return to the joyous homecoming.

The squad, which Price calls the greatest that he has ever been affiliated with, will be guests of the Tallahassee Kiwanis Club at a banquet next Tuesday evening.

Swimmers In NCAA Meet

Swimming coach Bim Stulla and three members of the Seminole team sound left earlier this week for Princeton, N. J. and the NCAA meet which is scheduled to get underway today and run through Sunday.

Stulla will enter Co-captain Dick Wells and Freshman John Baruch in the 50-yard freestyle event and another Freshman, Dan Blackshear in the diving.

After competing in the meet this weekend, the Seminoles move on to New Haven, Conn. for the national A.A.U. meet.

Last week the Florida Slate squad dropped a dual meet to the university of Miami, and placed second in the State A A U. which was won by the Hurricanes.

Chemistry Grants Reach $87,600 For FSU Research

Chemistry research grants and contracts valued at a total of $87,600 are now in active progress at Florida State University, Dr. Pres. Doak S. Campbell.

Dr. Karl Dittmar, chemistry department head, said that several grants include $8,816 awarded by the Atomic Energy Commission to Dr. Ray Sheline, recently appointed associate professor of chemistry, for a study of the fluorine's theoretical study of the valence with particular emphasis on nuclear structure.

NEW RADIOACTIVITY will be sought and materials from the synchro-cyclatron at the University of California the betatron at the University of Chicago, and the Oak Ridge pile will be studied, Dr. Werner Herr, assistant professor of chemistry, has been given a $4,870 grant from the federal public health service to make a study of sulfur anslons in association with the research assistance of two graduate chemistry students, Lin Tsai and Stanley Tecker.

DR. EARL FRIEDEN and Harry Walworth, also in the chemistry department, have been awarded a grant from the public health service, too. Theirs is for a three-year study on "Condensation of Phenols to Polyenyl Ether Derivatives with Thyroxine-Like Activity." Miss Jean Eagle, graduate student, will assist in this by furnish information on the mechanism of synthesis of thyroxine and related compounds from simpler molecules both inside and outside the thyroid gland.

Services Planned On Placement Counseling

Placement counseling services are being held on Monday and Thursdays from 4 until 5 in room 115 of the East campus gymnasium.

Placement openings are in art music dramatics, speech, physics, education, recreation, nursing dietetics, nature specialists and program directors, Christine Pfeiffer professor in the physical education department, said.

Sportswriters Needed

Anyone interested in writing sports pieces may see Tommy Sands at the Flambeau office or call 2-3788 after 6 p. m.

Dean Warren Honors "B" Average Frosh With Reception

Approximately 60 freshmen women with a "B" average or better last semester were given an informal reception recently in the Longmire building by Miss Katherine Warren, dean of women, and Miss Elizabeth Lynn, assistant dean of women.

Dr. Marion Hay, of the School of Education and world traveler, spoke to the students about academic pursuits.

Miss Warren and Miss Lynn were assisted during the reception by Miss Martha Cobb, residence counselor in Bryan hall; Miss Murial Maxwell, Reynolds hall counselor, and Miss Orisnure P'Simer, Jeanne Murphree counselor.

The honor students were presented by Barbara Deidago, Jo Ann Hutto, Wylene Barmore, Marjeane Price, Lillian Avis and Dorothy Brown, all newly-elected vice-presidents of the freshmen dormitories.

Indian Netters To Open Today

The Florida State tennis team opens its rough 1952 schedule this afternoon when they take on Loyola of New Orleans on the new East campus courts at 3 o'clock.

A Saturday morning at 9:00, Coach Donald Loucks' squad will meet Mercer university, completing their weekend activities.

Loucks will have six lettermen from his 1951 squad that won the Dixie Conference title on hand this afternoon, but only three are slated for action today and tomorrow.

Jim Berry, Jack Egan, and Dan Boda are the lettermen scheduled to go against Loyola and Mercer, while the other three players, will be filled by Freshmen Tom Cundy, Joe Kennedy and Joe Hattis.

Loyola, Gulf Cross Conference champs, will feature player-coach Reggie Garcia, Ernest and Skipper Garcia, Tony Fernandes, and Bob Hanberg.

On the last day of this month the Seminoles will await against Concordia, and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week will find FSU net daubing its way through Georgia on a road trip that calls for matches with Mercer, Georgia, and Emory.

Later on in the season, the Indian tennis team will play nine games away from home — meeting Valdosta State, Florida Southeastern Prep, Lullan's six, Rollins, while home battles will feature Michigan, Indiana, Dayton, Miami, Valdosta State and Rollins.

Women's Sports

By BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

The final plans for the Florida Sports Day program to be held on FSU campus on April 5, are being finished for the eight colleges and universities that will attend.

Numerous sports are being offered and over 200 women athletes are expected to participate in the different sports. Women from Brevard, Florida Southern, Webber, Rollins, Universities of Miami, Tampa, Florida, and St. Petersburg Junior College will compete in the events.

First on April 5, will be basketball at 9 and the FSU team will be made up of S Presnell, C. Wess, M. Herndon D Mickler, M. McWilliams, P. Lasalter, R. Alvarez, Cobb, J. Hutson, B Haynes, P. Payne, J., Guard.

Also being played at 9 in the morning are golf and badminton singles. In golf, G. Loy, P. Comer, Martin will be featured while K. Starbird, and Sally Maynard, will make up the singles badminton team. In the doubles in badminton P. Lasalter, K. Starbird, B. Lipple, F. Fuller will play for FSU.

Single table tennis will begin at 10 and B. Cobb, Griffith, D. Lane, M. Staley, and F. Finson will make up the team. The table tennis doubles will feature M Staley and Carnes and they will play at 11 The bowling team will be composed of C. Geez, D. Bates, F. Brownlee, D. Reitlinger, and P. Fasson and will meet their opponents at 11 in the bowling alleys.

In volleyball a team is chosen to represent FSU are S. Kiis, C. West, P. Finson, J. Thorpe, J. Young, B. Lupp, B. Collinsworth, M. Erickson, F. Cobb, M. A. Batchler, J. Power and D. Parrin.

The softball acree shows H. Cabb, J. Huston, C. Geez, F. Poliver, B. Cobb, J. Finson, B. Haynes, F. Payne, J., Guard.

The bowling team will be composed of C. Geez, D. Bates, F. Brownlee, D. Reitlinger, and P. Fasson and will meet their opponents at 11 in the bowling alleys.

In volleyball a team is chosen to represent FSU are S. Kiis, C. West, P. Finson, J. Thorpe, J. Young, B. Lupp, B. Collinsworth, M. Erickson, F. Cobb, M. A. Batchler, J. Power and D. Parrin.

The softball acree shows H. Cabb, J. Huston, C. Geez, F. Poliver, B. Cobb, J. Finson, B. Haynes, F. Fuller, M. McWilliams, B. Haynes, J. McGill, P. Morgan and M. Revnolds.

In singles at 1:30 at the tennis courts B. Collinsworth, L. Smith, F. Brownlee and P. Fasson will make up the tennis team. Tennis doubles will be played at 11 and L. Smith and J. McGill will team to oppose the other schools. Bates and True will play archery for FSU at 1:30 on the Archery field.

At 2:30 in the pool swimmers for FSU will be B. Lipple, K. Starbird, S. Presnell, J. Guard, N. Trise and M. A. Batchelor.

CENTERPOISE POWER
Effortless speed and power response are achieved as engine is slipping power is distributed between new 105-hp. crankshaft.

LARGEST BRAKES
Big 11-inch brake drums apply more leverage for more stopping power. Brakes are smoother, safer, with less effort.

WIDEST COLOR CHOICE
26 rich new colors and two-tone combinations make Chevrolet's field New De Luxe interiors are color-matched.

BODY BY FISHER
Fisher Body sets the standard for styling, for craftsmanship for comfort. Under Low Cost Insurance is the only one

UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE
Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now even softer. Smoother New shock absorbers give even finer ride control.

WIDEST TREAD
Chevrolet measures 58¾ inches between centers of rear wheels a broader base to give you more stability, less sway

Only the New Chevrolet brings these fine features to the low-price field!

Lowest priced in its field!

6-WAY ENGINE LUBRICATION
Chevrolet's exclusive 6-way lubricating system supplies exactly the right kind and amount of lubrication to each moving part.

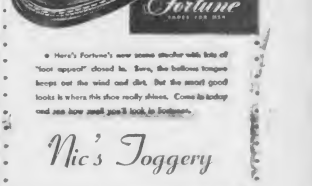
CAST IRON ALLOY PISTONS
The same material as the cylinder block, pistons expand and contract at same rate. This reduces wear, lowers oil consumption.

SAFETY PLATE GLASS ALL AROUND
Chevrolet alone in its field gives you safety plate glass in windshield and all windows, for a clearer, truer all-round view.

POWERGLIDE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION
Despite triple fewer parts—wear Smoother, more complicated immediate gears. Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost

MOST POWERFUL VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE
Teamed with Powerglide at the most powerful valve-in-head engine in its field and an outstanding performance in any field!

No other car in Chevrolet's field offers you a single one of these features. Yet you'll find many of them in America's most costly cars. Here's proof that you're value ahead with Chevrolet . . . again in 1952 the lowest-priced line in its field! Come in and look it over.



MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

CHEVROLET
The Only Fine Cars PRICED SO LOW!

SEE YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER FOR ALL YOUR AUTOMOTIVE NEEDS!
Conveniently listed under "Automobiles" in your local classified telephone directory

Patronize Our Advertisers

Spend Your Spring Vacation In Sarasota, Florida
SPECIAL STUDENT RATES
Apartments accommodating 6 men or 6 women $2.00 per rute per person
$12.00 per week per person
Also barracks accommodations
$1.50 per night per person
$8.00 per week
Please make reservations at least one week in advance
BRRACKS TOUR
Sarasota-Bradenton Airport
P. O. Box 2349
Sarasota, Florida

style hit FORTUNES NEW
bellows tongue
$10.95

Fortune
Our Fortune Is Your Fortune
• Here's Fortune's new jeans shorter with lots of "boot appeal" closed in. Sure, the bellows tongue keeps out the wind and dirt. But the smart good looks is where this shoe really shines. Come in today and see how much you'll look to fortune.
Nic's Toggery

Review Board Should Pass The Revised Cabinet Bill

When the faculty review board meets Monday to consider the somewhat revised cabinet system amendment, it will have to realize that a strong student voice has been heard on the matter.

The controversial sections of the bill have been through their ordeal of fire in the Senate. To the accompaniment of much debate and unusual student interest, the student legislature has passed such things as provision for an attorney general despite the unusual fire-quenchera of suggestions for "improvement" and subtle disapproval from above.

The Senate has corrected several technical loop-holes pointed out by the review board, but the body has reaffirmed its decision to have an attorney-general and a secretary of labor.

Senator Ignacio Syed and Phil Springer now seem justified in having walked out last week to prevent a quorum. Last Friday, with nine members absent, the Senate cast a straw vote which showed it ready to drop the attorney general; whereas on Tuesday, with almost perfect attendance, it voted to preserve the office.

Many of the students voted for an attorney general with the realization that they would be hurting the feelings of friends in the court system. These people deserve praise for putting convictions above personalities.

The value of a cabinet system over the present executive council is pretty generally conceded, even by the review board.

The proposed cabinet system is one of the most constructive changes to come out of Senate in a long time. It clears the lines of authority, and consequently concentrates responsibility. You cannot hold a president responsible for getting anything done unless he has the authority to do it. It also clears up the division of authority between the executive and legislative branches, following the pattern of the Federal government.

One argument was over the Attorney General clause in the Cabinet bill. This clause has been left in because the senators who introduced the bill felt this would be just one step into modernizing and correcting our antiquated judicial system.

The review board should not take the Senate's strong decision as an act of spite but rather as an expression of conviction. They cannot know any better than the students. Only time will tell the relative success of the system.

The point is that the students have said and said emphatically that they believe they are taking a wise and corrective step.

Their sincere efforts should not be thwarted.

Promise Ill Serve, And Vote

University Court

Dear Students:

I am a candidate for Junior Representative to the University Honor Court. As Vice President of one of the dormitories I have also served as Publicity Chairman for the University Honor Committee. Through these positions I have gained valuable experience which will help me to better represent you in Honor Court. I would of our student body ate your support in the Tuesday elections.

Sincerely yours,
Margaret Nash,
University Court.

Dear Students:

At this time the eyes of all those associated with our University are focused upon the work of our student government. Many remarks have been made about its inefficiency and, especially, about the inconsistencies in the judicial branch. There have been attempts on the set up of our student government in the last few years which have made it more responsible to students. Therefore it is our job to see that the machine we have created is strong, relying upon those students who are interested enough to make it run—effectively.

This past year I felt a responsibility to the student community by being a junior representative to University Court. I have become so interested in the affairs of University Honor Court that I feel I can be of more service. I think I can to make it run as efficiently as possible. As a representative to Court this year have made me aware of the needs for an effective court.

I want to take this opportunity to ask you to give me the chance to serve you, the students of FSU, again as your Senior Representative to University Court this coming year.

Yours sincerely,
Frankie Brownlee,
University Court

Senior Veep

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for Vice Pres. of the Senior Class to the readers of the Flambeau. If elected, I will carry out the duties of this office to the best of my ability. Your support, fellow seniors, will be much appreciated.

Sincerely,
Bill Hess,
Veep, Senior Class

Senior Secretary

Members of the Junior class:

It is again time for us to select those people to lead our class through our senior year at F.S.U.

During the past year I have served you as Junior Class Secretary. I have chosen to run again for the office of Secretary because I am best qualified to serve you in that capacity. It has been an honor to work with our class in the past year, and I sincerely hope I are the opportunity of again working with you.

Let me urge you to vote, however it may be, but do vote! I will appreciate your and all support you choose to give me.

Sincerely,
Barbara Brewton
Senior Secretary

Senior Secretary

Dear Juniors,

I am a candidate for the office of Secretary of the Senior class. I consider this an honorable position because it carries with it the responsibility of keeping accurate minutes of the Senior Class meetings. In this way of qualifications, I have become familiar with the regular duties of a secretary by holding several secretarial offices in high school and college.

I sincerely hope to have this opportunity to serve you as secretary of your class. Your support shall be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Jo Ann Grubb,
Senior Secretary.

Junior Vice-President

Dead Fellow Students:

My answer we going to be busy next year! It's traditional for the Junior Class to be the active service class in our college years. I'd like the chance to work with you as your vice-president. I realize the responsibilities of the job and I believe I can serve you.

Yours sincerely,
Polly Lewis,
Junior Vice-Pres.

Junior Secretary

Fellow Students:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Junior Class Secretary, I am also announcing my sincere wish to serve you in every way possible.

In the way of qualifications, I can only say that I am familiar with the regular duties of secretary since I have had past experience with this office.

I would appreciate your support in Tuesday's election, but shows all I urge you to weigh the qualifications of each candidate so that you will be satisfied with the officers who represent you.

Once again let me tell you that I will gladly serve you to the very best of my ability. I am not afraid of hard work.

Sincerely,
JEANIE CRAIG.
Junior Secretary.

Junior Secretary

This year I have served you as Social Chairman of the Sophomore Class, and I wish to continue serving you in ability. As Junior Class, In carrying out the duties of my office for 1951-52, I have provided entertainment for a class meeting, planned for the annual Sophomore Hop, and started plans for a Sophomore Class party to be held this semester.

If elected to secretary, I shall carry out to the best of my ability the duties of this office—keeping accurate minutes of all class, and assisting at meetings, carrying on official class correspondence, and assisting the other officers in their duties.

I should be glad of an opportunity to serve you again.

Sincerely yours,
BETTY SUE FRYER
Junior Secretary.

Junior Parliamentarian

Dear Editor.

Too many times the office of Vice President is unfilled—or worse being an easy job with a fine title and no duties at all. This should definitely not apply to the office of Vice President of the Senior Class of '53.

The Senior Class president has many duties and responsibilities which could and should be delegated to the Vice President. For as a junior president is well-organized class it is necessary to have a Vice-President who is gladly and conscientiously assume responsibilities delegated by the class president.

I will appreciate your vote and the chance to be an active Vice-President of our Senior Class of '53.

Sincerely
Sue Saxon,
Senior Vice-Pres

Dear Fellow Students:

Next Tuesday, April 1 is the day you elect your class officers. Each of you has the privilege to vote for the class of your choice officers; and it is up to you, through your vote, to make your government a fair and democratic one.

A candidate for Junior Class Parliamentarian, I promise, if elected, to serve my class and the University to the best of my ability. I will appreciate the support of all who will vote for me to this office, and will consider it an honor to serve my class.

REMEMBER—VOTE!

Fellow Classmates:

I am announcing my candidacy for the office of Parliamentarian of the Junior Class. If elected, I promise that I will perform my duties to the best of my ability.

I will appreciate any support you may give me.

Sincerely,
Jean L. Reisema,
Jr. Parliamentarian

Jr. Social Chairman

Dear Sophomore Class:

I am a candidate for your Junior Class Social Chairman. I believe that I have the responsibility and the work that this job entails.

In my opinion the Jr.-Sr. Prom and other social functions of the year are important parts of university life. If elected, I shall strive to plan a full of social activities that you desire.

Sincerely,
Jane McMillan,
Jr. Social Chairman

Junior Senator

Dear Students,

I am a candidate for the office of Junior Senator. I believe that as many varied activities on campus, and holding offices in them, I believe I will be able to represent you and the students in the Senate.

If elected I promise two things:

(1) I will not stand against changes, but before they are made I must first have the approval of the students.

(2) A non-controversial question is brought up for discussion I will not be prejudiced to any particular group, but I will consider the affect upon the students as a whole.

I sincerely hope to have the opportunity to serve you in this capacity. Your support shall be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely
JACKIE KEATON,
Junior Senator

Junior Senator

March 26 1952.

Dear Students,

It is my earnest desire to serve you, the individual students, through the student body and especially the junior class. My experience for the office of junior representative in the senate comes from high school District Congress work sponsored by the National Forensic League From which activity I feel capable to carry out the proper legislation that you the student desires.

If I am elected I will be in position to work for a stronger government with a more cooperative spirit to further our university to higher goals than it has already achieved in its 50 years with and not against next year's government association. With cooperation working behind firm beliefs and opinions, instead of indirect bickering, more and better legislation can be accomplished for the good of the school. I'll be on the job.

My confidence lies in you, the student.

Sincerely
Tom Simmons.
Junior Senator.

Fellow Students:

I am a candidate for Junior Representative to University Senate.

We fully realize that we are now FSU's no longer "little girls." Knowing this we anticipate changes, yes these changes have been slow in coming, but I believe they are towards our betterment as a growing, mature university. I am greatly interested in furthering them.

I sincerely hope to have the opportunity of serving you in this capacity, and if I am elected I promise to do my best in behalf of my ability. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
Beth Melson
Junior Senate

Soph. President

Fellow Students.

I take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the office of President of the Sophomore Class. I believe that I understand the duties and responsibilities of this office, and I will always push promises of things to come before the Sophomore Class. I feel that anyone who understands the duties of the office of President would feel as I do that all of these usual "promises" are left unfilled. I am a fourth member of our class that if they are fit be give me the "nod" in next Tuesday's primaries. I feel a person consider the job as a symbol of faith in the ability vested in him and the things I stand for, and acc accordingly.

I'd like for you to take an active part in these class elections and also to encourage each of your friends to do likewise.

Sincerely,
Charlie Curtin
Soph President

Soph. Vice-Pres.

Dear Freshmen:

I am a candidate for Vice-President of the Sophomore Class. Because I have held various Class offices in High School and I have a sincere interest in student government on this campus, I feel qualified for this position.

If elected to this office I shall do my best to fulfill the duties of this position, as well as cooperate with the other Sophomore Officers in a while working on the Sophomore Hop and any other Class Projects. I will appreciate your support and the opportunity to serve you as Vice-President.

Sincerely yours,
Eleanor Smith
Sophomore Vice President.

Soph. Secretary

Dear Fellow Freshman,

Once again I am a candidate for the office of Secretary of our class. This office is not a policy forming office—therefore I have no platforms or offer—except that a sincere promise to work my hardest and my best to make the class of 55 even better than this year. When elections come on Tuesday, your support would be greatly appreciated, and remember—Experience tells — vote for Wells.

Sincerely,
Del Wells
Soph Secretary

Soph. Treasurer

Dear Freshmen.

I am a candidate for TREASURER of the Sophomore Class of next year. I think you know that I was the Freshmen Class of '51-'52 has been one of the best, and I desire to see that it will continue to be on top.

I have enjoyed every minute of office, because I want to work for our class and help it to continue to excel. If I am elected to this office I will work my hardest on the job and do my best to fulfill all of my duties. In closing I would like to say that I will sincerely appreciate your support in every and every way.

Thank you.
Dot. Johnson
Soph. Treasurer.

Soph. Senator

Fellow Freshmen:

I am a candidate for the office of Sophomore Senator in Men's Affairs. Although I am not previously served in University Senate, I have never-the-less become fairly well acquainted with the problems that confront the Freshman and the student body. By having served as a member of the Student Government Association while attending high school, I feel that I possess the necessary qualifications to handle the duties of Senator.

If elected I shall strive to secure more campus enthusiasm toward the operation of our University Government and Senate. Because the issues presently before your Student Senate are able to change prior to the installation of your new senator next semester, I am not advocating a particular program or platform at this time, but rather I leave the establishment of a program up to YOU, the voters. If elected, I would be merely your representative, a spokesman for your Student Senate.

I would greatly cherish your support. Should you decide to support me, I would appreciate it.

Thank you.
Wayne Terry.

Fellow Freshmen:

While attending most of the Freshman meetings this year as a reporter for the Flambeau, I developed a keen desire to represent our class in student body next year. I know the experience gained as a reporter will be very helpful.

I am confident that if elected I will appreciate all the help you might give me in this election. This office naturally means a great deal to me, and I would do everything in my power to be the kind of Senator you would like.

I would like to urge all of you to vote, regardless of whom your choice may be—but please vote!

Sincerely,
Jean Mikesell
Soph Secretary

Soph. Senator

Fellow Freshmen:

As you know, next Tuesday is Class Election day a day when all of us should bet out and vote.

I am a candidate for Sophomore senator, and I am earnestly interested in serving our class in the capacity. I have several want to learn about our student government and classes and what the other students on campus are saying. If elected, I would appreciate your careful consideration and support when you go to the polls Tuesday.

SHIRLEY TRAXLER.
Sophomore Senator.

Soph. Senator

Members of the Freshman class of '54:

I am taking this opportunity and privilege to serve as your senator this year. I have closely watched the moral support you have given me in this work.

It is my sincere desire that we will see fit to let me serve again as your senator for the coming year in order that I may carry on the fight for broader student freedoms and great responsibility of student rights. Requesting your support in the coming election and assuring you my gratitude for your support in the past, I am

Sincerely,
Phil Springer
(Continued on Page 5

● TURN OUT

Election time is here again. Once more the pies is uttered—Get out and vote!

Yesterday was the deadline for qualifying. All whose names will appear on Tuesday's ballots have filed a statement of their intentions in the UGA office and have begun actively campaigning. The campus is once again hurried under an avalanche of posters, bearing new names, others proclaiming familiar campus politicians of long standing.

A three-hour long political rally was held last night in the amphitheater, giving the candidates a chance to air their views, and for voters a chance to meet the candidates and hear what they had to say. These rallies are invaluable aids toward securing an intelligent student vote. They could, of course, become much more valuable if more students would attend them.

The present campaign is a wide open, harum scarum contest, as class elections

● FISHING LAWS

Several Florida State University students have recently been arrested for violating Game and Fresh Water Fish laws. The officers of this district have been considerate of the students.

However, ignorance of the law is no excuse. Students should acquaint themselves with the provisions of the Game and Fresh Water Fish laws and to obtain fishing licenses.

Failure to do so will undoubtedly lead to arrest and prosecution. If you like the favorite north Florida, learn the fishing laws. It might save some trouble!

Former Student Is Appointed Director

Again a familiar figure on our her unique ease astonished audi- before she was 21. Her AB degree campus, is Bette Barnes, out- ences in performances of difficult was in religion and Spanish standing member of the 1936 class previous who is the newly appointed assist- SHE WAS president of this club, ant director of the Methodist and has the record of having been Foundation here. All four years here, elected to swim the duet in four Betty was active at the Wesley consecutive years. She was a sophoFoundation with resumed responsi- omore and junior counselor a sobilities from recreation chairman to a member of judiciary, honor president court, and earner key.

Many will remember her from With all these activities, Betty of fun in any circle of which she is numerous Tarpon shows where managed to set a double major in a par-

NOTHING PLEASES Betty more than to spend hours at the Foundation just sitting and talking to the people who drop in at the Foundation. Adding her own ingredients of wit make for barrels

WFSU Program Schedule

WFSU will broadcast all home baseball games played at Centennial Field. All candidates for class offices may speak Monday 5-7 and Tuesday, March 31, through 10 a.m. at the main studio for campaign time.

Friday, April 4

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
8:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Yawn Patrol
7:00	Seminole Hit Parade
8:00	Sunset Serenade
8:30	Serenade in Blue
9:00	World News
9:10	Our World Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Music by Request
10:00	Sweets in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

Monday, March 31

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
9:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Vocal Spotlight
7:30	News to You
7:30	Musical Scrapbook
8:00	Campus News
8:00	Records at Random
8:30	Curtain Call
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven
9:30	Words and Music
10:00	Late Data
10:05	News
11:00	Sounds in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

Thursday, April 3

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
8:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Bob Crosby Show
7:15	All-Time Favorites
7:30	Capital Spotlight
7:45	Campus News
8:00	FSU Talent Parade
8:15	Hits of Tomorrow
8:30	FSU's Professors Speak
8:45	4 Little Night Music
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Count Star
9:30	FSU Concert Hall
10:00	Late Data
10:05	News
11:00	Sounds in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

Friday, April 4

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
8:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Musical Souvenirs
8:00	Late Date
10:55	News
11:00	Sounds in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

Wednesday, April 7

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
8:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Sketches in Ivory
7:15	National Guard Show
7:30	An Evening With Music
7:55	Campus News
8:00	Ballgame at the News Desk
8:15	Melody Strollings of FSU's Bonnie Whyte
8:30	UGA Forum
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Mary Star Time
9:30	Raindrop Reverie
10:00	Late Date
10:55	News
11:00	Sounds in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

Thursday, April 3

7:00 a.m.	Yawn Patrol
8:00 a.m.	Off
5:00 p.m.	Sunset Serenade
7:00	Bob Crosby Show
7:15	All-Time Favorites
7:30	Capital Spotlight
7:45	Campus News
8:00	FSU Talent Parade
8:15	Hits of Tomorrow
8:30	FSU's Professors Speak
8:45	4 Little Night Music
9:00	World News
9:10	Our Heritage: Freedom
9:15	Count Star
9:30	FSU Concert Hall
10:00	Late Data
10:05	News
11:00	Sounds in the Night
12:00	Off the Air

SEMINOLE SCENES

FRAN AND DAN DEBATE DIXIELAND . . .

By FRANCES CAWTHON
Dear Danny Boy,

I was overjoyed that you should think of me when you spoke of membership into your society. Being the TriPEJU -Tallahassee Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Dixieland Jazz!

Since you are the president, vice-president, secretary, secretary of the archives, secretary, archivist, and official photograph recorder changer, however, I fear the administration might not look favorably upon our organization ruled by a dictatorship. But in this modern age and time, could lead to your expulsion from the University as well as my own, I fear.

Furthermore, I am embarrassed to have to tell you that I am one of those low, creeping things that run like mad for the radio knob every time Dixieland Jazz (called Jass" comes on. In fact, I have been known to turn over a society issa rendition of that you-name-it band. Then I'm off like a shot to get all kinds of people to make up the world, and my favorite latter must surely be the lonely one, where Another drawback is—and I hate to shock you—I don't have time. I have "squeezed" Dixieland in, but I still don't have the time.

I am really surprised that a healthy, strong boy like you, I suppose you are healthy and strong though I can't remember ever having the pleasure of your acquaintance—can find something to do in the evening. I've never known any man who could find enough activities to keep constructive. You could start a Russell for President club on campus. Oh, my son. I could think of a multitude of things you to do. I'll mimeograph you out a list someday if I ever do find an extra. You could even polish my medals 'cause I've got some, too.

In conclusion I should like to say that I am so deeply touched by your offer of membership that I am going to send my grandest cards of Dixieland clever that my great-grandmother brought over from the country. It is one of my most cherished possessions, and I know it will be one of yours, too.

Love Fran.

P. S. Best of luck in finding that pig . . . ?).

* * *

Are you tired, nervous, keyed up from your business of the modern world? Are you jumpy and frequently cross with your roommate?

Don't let this age of deadlines and hurry get you down. FSU has found the answer to all your problems. Starting April 1st Monday night the entire will be held a Relaxation Class open to students faculty and staff.

So come April 7, hurry up with that meal and rush on over to the gym in order to get in some good relaxation.

You can't win no matter how hard you try . . .)

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Ed tor

Managing Editor
News Editor
Sports Editor
Society Editor
Assistant News Editor
Assistant Society Editor
Flambeau Photographer

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager
Exchange Editor
Assistants

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-6-91, Ext. 481
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Tallahassee, Florida, under the act of March 3, 1879.
Printed by Florida Printing Co.

Favorite subject of coeds—

YOU in Manhattan Shirts

Nothing gets admiring glances on the campus faster than a handsome guy in a handsome shirt. To look your handsomest, try on a Manhattan® Vericool or a Manhattan® Burt.

The Manhattan Vericool! Warm-weather wonder with thousands of tiny windows letting every breeze, keeping you cool and collected.

The Manhattan Burt! Traditional college man's favorite. Lastexed, Oxford button-down with a natural "soft roll" to the collar.

Shirts, Sportshirts, Neckwear, Underwear, Pajamas, Beachwear, Handkerchiefs

Graduate Students Have Paintings In Art Exhibition

Paintings of two Florida State University graduate students in the art department, are now on exhibition at the Southeastern Arts association convention being held in Birmingham, Alabama.

Miss Artemis Skevakis and Guy Johnson were invited to include their paintings in the showing, which started March 26 and will last through tomorrow, by Miss Flora Waller, chairman of the Florida Art Teachers association. Miss Skevakis's painting is entitled "Sago" and Johnson's is "The Blue Table."

Miss Skevakis has also been informed that her silk screen, "Cypress Ereta," has been accepted for the exhibition in the Thirteenth Annual exhibition of the National Serigraph society in New York Acceptance by this group, according to the art department, is tantamount to an invitation to become a member of the society. Membership is strictly limited in number. "Cypress Ereta," a print produced from an silk screen stencils superimposed upon each other, has recently been on exhibition on the third floor of Westcott.

Louisiana Official Gives Talk at FSU

Dr. Robert Harris, chairman of the department of government at Louisiana, cited federal Supreme Court decision as affecting freedom of speech and press in his lecture recently.

The lecture is an annual one sponsored by the FSU political science department and is headed by Dr. Marian Irish.

Dr. Harris contended that some decisions made in recent years did not agree with those made earlier, and that the high court had been more liberal in decisions affecting federal laws than in those affecting state laws. He further stressed his argument by echoing criticism of federal loyalty investigations in his lecture, "Free Speech, Loyalty and the Constitution."

SUICIDE THEORY . . .

Dr. Victor Frankl, a professor at Vienna University, thinks there are less suicides during hard times. He believes human will-power toughens under pressure.

"In Sweden and Switzerland," he says, "both holding the lowest peace records in Europe, suicide rates have been for many years the highest on the entire continent."

SPRING CLEANING! Florida State University's gates get a spring paint job. The gates sported a bright shade of orange as a protective coat. The crooked letters in name plate were also straightened.

Religious Groups Have Revivals, Visiting Choir

By LOUETTA RILEY

A Baptist Spring revival, guest speakers, a visiting Lynchburg choir, and week-end parties highlight religious events this week.

Dr. Herman "Ted" Dietz will be the speaker at the spring revival starting Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Claude Rhea, University student will direct the music. Students will be special guests at the old-fashioned basket dinner at the church after services.

A BUS WILL leave Bryan hall at 7 a.m. Monday through Friday for the early services next week at the First Church. Coffee and doughnuts will be served before and after the services and students will return to the campus by bus for 6 a.m. classes.

Tonight, Lutheran students will come dressed "dog patch" style to a hayseed party given by Gamma Delta, Lutheran student organization. The party will be held in room 204 in the East campus gymnasium at 7:30.

NEWMAN CLUB, Catholic student organization, will have an "April Fool's" party at the Newman house Sunday night following the supper at 6. Carolyn Gola is chairman, while Sunny Livingston, Linda Gist, and Dea Clark are serving on the committee.

Disciple Student Fellowship, Christian student organization, announced today that the college choir from Lynchburg, Virginia is to sing at the Capital Christian Church Monday night at 6. A dinner will be held at the church before the program in honor of the choir.

MISS ANN HUNTER, Director of Education for the Diocese of Florida, will speak at the Canterbury club meeting at 6 p.m. in Rose hall Sunday. Her topic will be "Opportunities for Women's Work in the Church."

At the meeting at 7 Wednesday night, Rev. H. E. Waller from Bainbridge, Ga. will speak on "Religion and Work."

Installation service for the new officers of Wesley Foundation will be held Sunday evening at 6:15 at the Methodist student house. New officers are Nell Stanfil, president; Elizabeth Rose, vice-president; Betty Jo Jenkins, recording secretary; Betty Huie, corresponding secretary; Bob Brawley, treasurer.

Letters To Editor

(Continued from Page 4)

Judiciary

Dear Fellow Students:

I am running for Junior Representative to Women's Judiciary and it is my earnest desire to represent you. your true beliefs and ideals

If I am elected to this office, I shall endeavor to do everything possible to see that careful, thoughtful judgment is given every issue

I realize the seriousness of the problems confronting the judicial body and would like to represent you in seeing that each individual is given a fair, just, and impartial hearing.

From my experience in working with the Student Traffic Court I have gained valuable knowledge of our court system

If elected, I will remember always that I am a student, chosen by students to do a student's job.

Ola Hames,
Judiciary.

Members of the Student Body:

I am a candidate for Junior Representative to Women's Judiciary.

I realize that there are many problems confronting the Judicial Body. If you place me in this office, I will give my faithful and earnest support to try to solve some of their problems.

As your representative I will endeavor to see that every one brought before the court has a fair and just trial. Only after all evidence has been presented, will I make my decision.

I will appreciate any support which you can give me in this election.

Jackie Wenger,
Women's Judiciary

Classified Ads

LOST—One pair of blue-rimmed glasses in red case. If found, please return or get in touch with Audrey Keller, Landis Hall. Thanks.

COLLEGE WOMEN Step Forward... AS AN OFFICER IN THE WAC!

. . . and step up to a promising career . . . of stimulating work . . . excellent pay . . . great fun . . . travel! A career that will mean escape from humdrum, ordinary jobs!

To those of you who are about to graduate, or, who are planning to leave school with two years of college credits, think of what this opportunity means to you! Remember, more than as an Officer in the Women's Army Corps, you have equal pay, allowances, and benefits with men of similar rank in the U. S. Army . . . plus free medical and dental care!

And how wonderful and deeply satisfying to have the chance of earning a fine living while serving your country.

Don't Miss Your Opportunity!

Don't delay! Contact your nearest Recruiting Station or Army installation for further details . . . and for application.

OFFICER PROGRAMS:

1. Women college graduates, ages 21 to 27, may apply for appointments as 2nd Lieutenant in the Reserve and upon satisfactory completion of training may qualify for commission in the Regular Army.

2. Reserve commissions in grades of 2nd Lieutenant to Captain are granted to women with a college degree who fall within the age group of 21 to 38 with qualifying experience in teaching, business, recreation, personnel administration, advertising or other fields requiring leadership and supervision of personnel.

3. With a minimum of two years of college, women may enlist as WAC Officer Candidate Applicants.

Should you wish to WRITE for details, just fill out and mail this coupon—

ADJUTANT GENERAL, Dept. of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.
Attention: AGSN
I should like to receive more information about the opportunities of being an officer in the WAC

NAME.....
ADDRESS.....
CITY..... ZONE.... STATE....

WAC WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS

UNITED STATES ARMY

You've Carefree Days Ahead

Knit of California

Sportsmans

STUDENT OPINION POLL

Ike Favored Over Harry S. By Nation's College Students

(CP) Ike Eisenhower is a better than four to one favorite over Harry Truman for President among college students, according to the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion.

Robert Taft is also more popular than Truman, but about one-fourth of the college students haven't yet made up their minds about these two candidates.

STUDENTS FROM all sections of the country were asked: If Robert Taft and Harry Truman oppose each other in the 1952 presidential election, which one would you prefer to win? The answers:

Taft	46 per cent
Truman	29 per cent
No opinion	25 per cent

And for Eisenhower vs. Truman:

Eisenhower	71 per cent
Truman	16 per cent
No opinion	13 per cent

EVERY SECTION of the country is overwhelmingly in favor of Eisenhower, as opposed to Truman, but Taft vs. Truman results indicate certain sectional differences.

The midwest, for example, is strongest for Taft. A school in Indiana and another in Iowa are 75 per cent Taft supporters, 14 per cent Truman.

Students in Taft's home state of Ohio are, on the average, somewhat less in favor of him than students in other parts of the country.

TRUMAN IS strongest, not in the south, where the vote between him and Taft is about even, but, in the far west. The University of California, most Pro-Truman of all schools polled, stacks up this way:

Truman	43 per cent
Taft	21 per cent
No opinion	36 per cent.

Students still undecided are the most likely to comment. A junior coed in home economics says she doesn't favor Eisenhower because "he's a military man," but "I don't think we should put Truman in again."

A SOUTH DAKOTA sophomore wants Eisenhower, but will not vote on Taft vs. Truman. "I don't; agree with either of their policies," he says. And a freshman in liberal arts dismisses the Taft-Truman choice with. "Neither are worth a damn" but votes for Truman against Eisenhower.

A medical freshman would vote for Taft "merely because anybody would be better than Truman." Equally firm is a junior taking economics in Iowa, who says, "Never in my life would I vote for Taft." But I'z supports Eisenhower.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
103 S. Monroe

For A.B.'s who are S.C.

the Manhattan BURT
—White button-down oxford, soft roll to the collar. Popular as a holiday with the fellows and the gals.
$4.50

the Manhattan RANGE
—Fine white broadcloth, widespread collar. Slimgnet shirt on the quadrangles kbn year. Drop in and see our complete line of fine Manhattan made apparel.
$3.95

Style Conscious
Turner's
Doorway to Fashion

Bertha Cooke
206 W. College Ph. 2-8229

Gingham Suit

YOUR LOVE THAT LIVES IN A TUB!

The town and country costume you can depend on for a smart, cool appearance! Checked woven cotton gingham in black, brown or navy with white individualized with white shoe buttons, a rhinestone accent and linen collars and cuffs.
10 to 18. 19.95

Matching Gingham and Linen Hat, $6.95

ike clark dolles

QUIRKS AND COMMENTS . . .

Famous students at Iowa State Univ. University has one of those wise old sayings of Confucius concerning exams:

He who makes no noise in dorm before exam makes no noise to teacher after exam.

Most Thought Provoking Headline department: "Don't Sit 'N Mope For There's Hope—Take the Slope." From the Skidmore News. Skidmore College, N. Y.

Lundberg Appointed To Hold Institute

Dr. Donald E. Lundberg, head of the department of restaurant and hotel management, has been named an advisory member of the American Hotel Institute.

Dr. Lundberg has just returned from the planning conference in Chicago. Sponsored by the American Hotel Association, the Institute will develop and administer training courses for hotel employees from all levels, from hotel porter to president.

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME

Alpha Xi's Win Trophy For Best Scholarship

By MARCIA MORRIS

The Alpha Xi Delta's received the province scholarship trophy at the Spring province convention which was held last weekend. Last night they entertained the Pi Kappa Alpha's.

New members of Alpha Omicron Pi are Jo Fabian, Marilyn Goble, Virgie McClung, Winnie Pringle, Cathy Hamby, Sallie Grant, Faye Norman, Loretta Woods, Jane Wood, Gail Baker, Jan Eichenger, Betty Carlile, Joan Simms, Sue Collier, Jackie McGurran, and Ardrean Miller. Initiation was followed by a banquet in the house. Guest speaker was Mary Louise Holley, national treasurer of AOPi. Jan Eichenger received the Scholarship award while the Outstanding pledge was Faye Norman. Last night the Sigma Phi Epsilon's entertained the AOPi's with an informal party at the Sig Ep house.

At the Chi Omega Coronation Ball last Saturday night, Bonnie Brewton president, proclaimed George Cornelius their Owl Man of 1952. This is to become an annual event of the coming Chi Omega week-ends.

Delta Delta Delta held a supper party last Sunday night, the proceeds of which will go to the Tri Delta scholarship fund. They were entertained by the KA's last Tuesday with a dinner-dance Thursday night the Lambda Chi's were their guests.

The Duval Hotel was the scene of the Kappa Delta's initiation and pledge banquet Thursday night. Newly elected pledge officers are Joan Mynihan, president; Ray Miller, vice-president; Virginia Anderson, secretary and Joanne Cunningham, treasurer.

Pi Beta Phi held Pi Phi night last Monday with Dr. Holschuh as guest speaker. Mary Frances Pinkston was crowned Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at the University of Miami last week-end.

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the Phi Delt's last Wednesday evening. Anna Oliver was elected president of the chapter; Ardis Bourland, vice-president. Jeanne Parker was honored as the outstanding pledge and Joan Edwards as the pledge with the highest scholarship.

Lambda Chi Alpha entertained the A D Pi's last Monday night and the Sigma Kappa's Tuesday night. Four men were initiated during their formal Day, March 22. Those initiated were Jim Bishop, Ray Purcell, Phil Glaab and Jack Handley.

Gay Argo, Leo Fruivald and George Spurling were initiated by Sigma Phi Epsilon last Sunday. Recently pledged were Ernie La-Roche, Bill Connel, Hardy Howards, Erick Weber, Frank Kerr and Chuck Mohr.

Workshop Planned At FSU April 3-5

"Home Economics In Action," will be the theme of an annual workshop program of the Province IV College club section of the American Home Economics association April 3 through 6 at Florida State University.

The program has been designed for training college home economics students to become leaders and teachers in their field.

THE GROUP of 40 to 50 delegates from colleges in Alabama and Florida having home economics courses will represent nearly 2,000 home economics students.

In addition to hearing talks by some of the outstanding experts in their field the home economics students will also visit centers of activity on the FSU campus to see various home economics projects in action.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE Miss Rhon Lowry, Adel, Ga., home demonstration agent, who recently returned from Europe where she spent a year of study of family life as an exchange home economist. She will speak at a banquet Friday night, April 4 and describe family life in Europe.

Dr. Mildred I. Morgan, FSU professor of home and family life and a marriage counselor, will speak at the Friday morning session with Miss Marjorie Morrison, nutritionist of the Florida State Board of Health, as speaker during the Friday luncheon session.

President Doak S. Campbell, will officially welcome the group on behalf of the university at the opening session Friday. Registration is set for Thursday night in the Longmire building with a get acquainted period to follow.

Miss Dalton to Appear On CBS Radio Drama

Doris Dalton, the professional actress who appeared at Florida State University in "Biography" last week, will appear on "Grand Central Station", the Columbia Broadcasting System's Saturday afternoon drama at 1.

Miss Dalton, an accomplished radio actress as well as stage performer, has appeared on "The Romance of Helen Trent" and "King's Row" serial soap-operas. She has appeared on television several times in starring roles and has been in featured spots on "Theater Guild of the Air."

Sports Day Tickets For Lunch on Sale

Tickets for the Sports Day luncheon ,to be held in the women's gymnasium, will be on sale in the Seminole lobby beginning Monday, March 31, through Friday, April 4. Tickets are 93 cents.

The luncheon, as part of the Sports Day to which many of Florida's women athletes and physical education majors come each year, will be held on Saturday, April 5 from 12 to 1.30 p. m. Boxes of fried chicken will be served.

University Sponsors Third Job-Getting Seminar April 2-3

Graduating seniors and others wanting to know how prospective employers evaluate their interviews are invited to attend the third annual university job getting seminar April 2 and 3 in the Longmire auditorium.

The general theme of this year's seminar is "Employer-Employee Relations." Keynote speaker will be D. B. Dunlevy, industrial relations officer of Buckeye Cotton Oil Company with headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee. His topic is "Judging the Prospective Employee."

A HIGHLIGHT of the first night's program will be a panel on "First Year Graduates Speak Their Minds." Members of the panel are Florida State University graduates, Dolly Aiken, Leon High School; Roberta Alford, Industrial commission, Nell Foust, FSU library, and Huth Humphreys, Shaws, Inc.

Also on the panel are Ted Revell, Revell-Green Real Estate and Insurance Company; Montrell Sessions, FSU public relations; Earl Williams, Sherwin Williams company, all of Tallahassee.

AT THE SECOND and final night of the annual seminar another panel is scheduled. "Plans and Techniques for Selecting Employees from College Applicants."

Members of this panel, some of whom have come hundreds of miles are A. H. Barren, employment and placement manager; W. T. Grant, Company; New York; Mr. Dunlevy; George Hand, director, personnel service, American Red Cross, Atlanta; C. A. Lovell assistant director, Bell Telephone laboratories, New York.

ALSO ON the panel are William C. Stiegel, International Business Machines corporation, Tallahassee. Mr. Gerald Ryan, director administrative services, department of commerce, Washington, D. C., who will be on campus as a visiting professor in the School of Public Administration, has also been invited to appear on the panel.

Glover E. Tully, director of Vocational Guidance and Placement, said that much work has gone into making this year's seminar one of the best held on campus. Dr. A. B. Martin, vice-president, will preside the first night and Dr. William Hugh Stickler, associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences the second night.

Doodlebugs Are Now Out of Style, States Geologist

"Doodlebugs" are outdated.

Florida State geology students are learning that the old wives' tales of finding valuable minerals with homemade divining rods and forked sticks is farcical. These "doodlebugs" were in fairly widespread use in grandmother's time.

The scientific study is the only real way to locate nature's treasures of minerals.

DR. JAMES S. Cullison, head of the department of geology says he is not aware of any important discovery ever made through the use of "doodlebugs."

THE P. S. U. geologist suggests that we put these gadgets to a simple test. He points out that if a person with one of these medieval chants it can locate oil it is simple enough to conceal a quantity of oil in the ground and asked the "doodlebug" operator to find it.

WITH ALL their scientific knowledge and modern equipment geologists find that final proof of the presence of oil in an area must first be obtained by drilling a well.

The large oil producing companies try to keep their failures low through use of scientific methods. They have here staffs of scientifically trained men to avoid waste of money and materials in drilling of "dry holes."

DR. CULLISON says statistics show that between 10 and 15 per cent of wells drilled on a basis of geological and geophysical knowledge have produced oil. Only one to two per cent of the wells drilled without this knowledge are known to have been successful.

This leaves the fellow going about with a "doodlebug" look.ing for oil or other valuable minerals with a rating of exactly zero.

Playmakers Meet To Discuss Casting

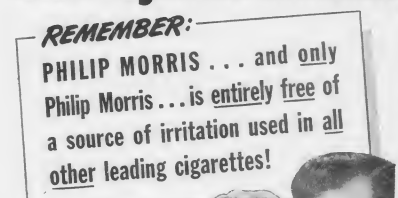
The casting and producing of the annual Tallahassee Playmakers show will be discussed April 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge of the Longmire building.

Faculty and staff members are asked to attend. Acting ability is not required for participation. Business and production committees will have to be set up.

The seventh annual production now under way promises a different staging this year. In former years, Westcott auditorium was the setting for the event.

Among past productions, the Playmakers presented such Broadway hits as "The Madwoman of Chaillot," "Arsenic and Old Lace"

Symphonic Band Presents Concert



The Florida State University Symphonic Band will present a concert Wednesday, April 2, at 8:15 p.m. in the Opperman Music Hall. Robert T. Braunagel will conduct.

The program consists of Prisbey and Fugue in G Minor by Bach, Die Fledermaus by Strauss, Meditation from "Thais" by Jules Massenet, the trio of the Three Trumpeters by Agostini and Hungarian Dance, No. 6 by Brahms.

The second portion of the selections includes Donald I. Moore's Marco Poco, Vincent Persichetti's Divertimento for Band, Op. 69, Howard R. Cable's Jingles All the Way; Nino Rota's The Legend of the Glass Mountain, and Percy Grainger's The Shawl Dance.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Holland's Restaurant
Extra Special
Fried Breast of Chicken on Toasted Bun, French Fried Potatoes, Lettuce and Tomatoes, Drink
DELICATED STEAK SPECIAL AND DRINK 1.00
WHOLE FRY JUMBO SHRIMP, SPECIAL 1.00
Hot Dutch Apple Pie with Ice Cream
A Real Treat . . . 20c
AIR-CONDITIONED FOR YOUR COMFORT
106 E. Pensacola St. Facing the Capital

STOP WORRYING about cigarette irritation
REMEMBER:
PHILIP MORRIS . . . and only Philip Morris . . . is entirely free of a source of irritation used in all other leading cigarettes!

START SMOKING FOR PLEASURE!
PHILIP MORRIS gives you MORE SMOKING PLEASURE than any other leading brand. Yet—YOU'LL BE GLAD TOMORROW, YOU SMOKED PHILIP MORRIS TODAY!

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Honeybugs® TERRY SCUFFS

3 TO 10 AA - B
1.99
★ White ★ Pink ★ Green ★ Light Blue
★ Gold ★ Multi Royal
MILLER'S Cootery

Rose Marie Reid SWIMSUITS
Follow the fun with these favorites . . . you saw them in CHARM and MADEMOISELLE . . . under the sun straw/sunbrord, with magic shirring that adjusts to your own height . . . under the flying fish/ sea scallop, with smooth feminine contour punctuated by buttons of pearl.

YOU SAW THEM IN CHARM AND MADEMOISELLE
Linden's MAIN FLOOR

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House
EVENING MEAL Chicken Fried Rice Beef Stew with Gravy Grilled Pork Chops Country Fried Steak
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Smoke Signals, Where Are You? See Editorial—

Florida Flambeau

Party, Party, But For All Students, See Lead Story

Vol. XXXVIII, No. 43 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, April 1, 1952

Political Party Rumors Rock FSU Campus

Polls Open Today In Class Election

Candidates Number 166 In Election; Four Precincts To Be Open To Voters

Four polls will open today as 166 candidates vie for class, Senate, and court offices in primary elections, Carl Pearson, elections chairman said yesterday.

Seminole dining hall will be open from 8 a.m. until 7p.m. the Lower Westcott precinct, the east side of the Education building and a roving poll group will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

THE NUMBER of candidates running is not a record of office seekers in that of election last year, when enrollment was 4,961 (11 candidates were voted on).

Considering the fact that the enrollment dropped to 5,264 students this semester, the percentage is approximately the same.

Students will be opposing for each of six Senate seats in each of the six class positions for each office and for the seven positions from the junior and senior class.

A MEETING of this year's candidates and senior classes met Monday night in Dodd hall auditorium to discuss rules governing the election.

Students running for office next year.

Court Chapers, president of the Sophomore class this year, said that UDA room was filled to capacity.

The political rallies that have been unsuccessful.

TUESDAY'S RACE. John Latimer, Bill Bowden and Bill Hall are on the coveted senior presidency.

Those for junior class president are Ray Staton and Pinky Nason for the sophomore presidency are Bob Canedo Curtis and Phoebe Jackson.

The remaining 158 offices are following: complete campaigning and platforms written and printed.

Job Seminar Is Wednesday

Buckeye Oil Company Official To Give Talk

The Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement will hold its annual "Job-Getting Seminar" at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday nights in the Longmire auditorium.

Glover E. Tully, director of the office, said this year's seminar, which is the third to be held for graduating seniors and other interested students, will be the most extensive so far. Dr. A. B. Martin, vice-president, will preside over Wednesday's meeting.

Students will be opposing for each of six Senate seats in each of the six class positions for each office and for the seven positions from the junior and senior class.

A MEETING of this year's candidates and senior classes met Monday night in Dodd hall auditorium to discuss rules governing the election.

Students running for office next year.

Court Chapers, president of the Sophomore class this year, said that UDA room was filled to capacity.

The political rallies that have been unsuccessful.

TUESDAY'S RACE. John Latimer, Bill Bowden and Bill Hall are on the coveted senior presidency.

Those for junior class president are Ray Staton and Pinky Nason for the sophomore presidency are Bob Canedo Curtis and Phoebe Jackson.

The remaining 158 offices are following: complete campaigning and platforms written and printed.

Summers Praises NSA Regional Meet Held In Atlanta

Student-elect of the University Student Association, Mack Summers, is highly favorable of the week-end National Student association meeting held in Atlanta.

The president-elect said she was much impressed with the whole program of the organization.

MARY RUTH said she was extremely impressed with the Interracial News Center which is operated through the efforts of Miss T. Kennedy, executive director.

The task of INC is to give "an accurate and complete picture of the American way of life. It is not content to let them accept our party-political theories. Rather they must have them understand through understanding antagonism with cooperation on an international level."

Another task of INC is to better acquaint the students of the United States with ideas, problems, and interests of students in other lands.

MARY RUTH participated on several discussion groups while attending the regional meeting. Among topics discussed were "Student Government and the Administration and Faculty," and "Student Government—Administration Techniques."

Florida State executive council member visited Benita's action with a representative from FSU of the national convention. Vice-president in charge of Men's Affairs Ted Stenmeyer, suggested private invite John Haley, president in charge of student government, for the nation to speak to the student convention. Senator Phil Shoemaker and Joe Sensale passed the motion.

KING AND QUEEN—Honored as king and queen of the annual freshman carnival are Donald Yonhise, being crowned by Mimi Patterson, carnival director, and Jo Ann Horne, being crowned by class sponsor Richard Mayne.

FroshCarnivalRuled By Van Hise, Hutto

Don Van Hise and Joanne Hutto were crowned King and Queen of the 1952 Freshman Carnival last Saturday night in the Women's gymnasium. Attendants, runners-up in the elections held last week, were "Puddin" Helms, Helen Hamilton, DeeDee Duguid, Ann Adams, Gracen Smith, Bob Breto, Dave Kennedy and George Carnes.

Ronald Martin, who recited the "Tell Tale Heart" by Poe, was declared winner of the variety show.

DAVID DRIES, emcee of the show, awarded Martin two free passes to the Florida Theatre. Receiving passes to the Florida theaters were Jim Rogers, as master of; Shirley Harner, acrobatic dancer; Eloise Combs, top-dancer; Joan Meador, Betsy Mullins, and Don Teal.

Announced winner of the sorority-organized cake-baking contest was Chi Omega, who submitted a creation shaped like the United States basket, complete with candy eggs.

THE CARNIVAL grossed approximately $230, according to first word from Mimi Patterson, Carnival director. The money netted will be used by the class treasury. Money was taken in at the 10 booths.

The carnival dates back to 1937 when the Freshman Carnival replaced the Beginners' Carnival. At that time all four classes managed the affair and the proceeds were evenly divided.

Heading the committees in this year's event was Elaine Lewis, concessions; Mimi Patterson, treasury; Ann Williams, invitations. Don Van Hise tickets; David Dreis and Mary Lee Brown, entertainment; Charlotte Hardy, King and Queen; Gracen Smith, booth building. Lilian Avis was in charge of refreshments. Martha Garrett and Helen Hamilton, publicity; and Neil Evans and Peggy Schuchart, prizes.

Women's Senate Adopts Resolution On Calling Hours

Women's Senate adopted a resolution Wednesday to change Saturday night coeds will be captured in Fiesta, while Joline Belcher performs in a Butterfly Innovation on the Hula Hoop.

By command performance, two new teams will be featured in last year's popular Rols Rols Act. New comers are Dale Blair, Roy Thompson, Anne Yates and Dorcy Slade.

Entertainment of the comedy variety is in the hands of "Flying Fish" Clowns Johnson and Jerry Fortune, Hal Leder, Gene Cornelius, Charlie Floyd, William Crook and Buck Slade.

Coach Haskin is assisted by Jim DeCosmo, in the production of the 1952 Circus.

Board Locks Quorum To Act On Cabinet

The Faculty Review Board, which was expected to take action on the cabinet system bill yesterday afternoon, did not meet for lack of a quorum, it was announced from the dean of women's office.

The board had previously returned the bill to the Senate for reconsideration of the attorneys-general and other clauses, but the Senate refused to act on the bill with the office of attorney-general left intact.

WSSF Calls Meeting

The World Student Service Fund committee will meet in room 211 of the Music building tomorrow at 3 p.m. Any students interested in WSSF are asked to attend.

Editor Griffin Assaulted By Charles Curtis

Skirmish Results When Griffin Refuses to Kill Lead Story on Parties

Charles Curtis assaulted Flambeau editor Bob Griffin Sunday afternoon after the editor refused to turn over notes on today's lead story.

Curtis, who is a candidate for the Sophomore class presidency, has been named as one of the political party organizers of the FSU party.

THE ASSAULT came after the editor phoned Curtis for additional information about the jeep that Curtis has volunteered to secure for UDA voting precinct.

When given the information that is printed in today's story, Curtis stated that the editor was "going to get it" if one word of the story was printed.

Editor Griffin replied that he would print the student news.

A FEW MINUTES later Curtis, and a friend, John Hunnicutt, knocked on the door of the editor's home town. Griffin asked them in, but Curtis stated that he wanted to carry on his conversation there.

Griffin stepped outside and Curtis demanded that the notes of the editor's conversation with sorority and fraternity presidents over the phone Sunday morning be turned over.

WHEN GRIFFIN refused to do so, Curtis grabbed his shirt and declared: "You had better bring the notes out."

A brief skirmish resulted.

Curtis apologized for causing any trouble to Griffin's mother who was sick in bed, but added the editor still had better not print his notes.

They are in today's lead story.

May 1-3 Are Set As Circus Dates For Spring Show

Florida State University's spangled lights and high wires come out of mothballs May 1, 2 and 3 with the presentation of the fifth edition of "Flying High," only collegiate circus in the United States.

The 1952 production will feature eight new acts and many outstanding thrilling effects.

INITIATED four years ago by Coach Jack Haskin, "Flying High" has made a meteoric rise from its humble beginning as a troupe of 40 students dressed in make-shift costumes working on a few scattered pieces of simple rigging.

The outdoor show is now produced in six rings with three stages and four high nets. The aerial acts require approximately 200 pieces of intricate rigging.

Two hundred-twenty students participate in the 40-act—two-hour show.

THE FLYING Decosmos; Le; Pinkston, Faye Williams, and Bonnie Fortune star in one of the outstanding acts. The three aerialists do a series of passovers, one and one-half forward somersaults, and lay-out gaynors to catcher, John Mabee.

High in the rigging Jeri Munroe and Helen Arnold perform their balancing act on the ends of a freely revolving ladder.

Partnay in White is created by 20 flowercents, consisting of girls in a cross-cross swing ladder ballet. Center of interest, "The Girl In The Moon," Mari Anne Fallgant, twirls by one ankle from an aerial crescent.

FOR CUBAN atmosphere, another group of coeds will be featured in Fiesta, while Joline Belcher performs in a Butterfly Innovation on the Hula Hoop.

By command performance, two new teams will be featured in last year's popular Rols Rols Act. New comers are Dale Blair, Roy Thompson, Anne Yates and Dorcy Slade.

Entertainment of the comedy variety is in the hands of "Flying Fish" Clowns Johnson and Jerry Fortune, Hal Leder, Gene Cornelius, Charlie Floyd, William Crook and Buck Slade.

Coach Haskin is assisted by Jim DeCosmo, in the production of the 1952 Circus.

Affirmative Team Wins Top Honors In Debate Tourney

Katherine Skogstad and Arlene Atwood, Florida State University affirmative team, won first place in the annual Al Southern Debate Tournament at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Ga., this weekend.

The two, who debated "Resolved That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Program of Wage and Price Control," were accompanied to Decatur by Hubert Edmonds, graduate assistant and one of the tournament judges who went through seven rounds of debate.

The first place win for FSU marks the second time in three years the University has competed in the annual tournament and has won top honors. The last time was of Dal Albritton and Paul Curtis were first place in the Agnes Scott tournament in 1950.

Representing the negative side of the question this year were William Davis and Teresa Stelle.

Supposed Leaders Deny Part In Affair

Loud rumblings of campus political party organizing shook the campus this past weekend resounding denial and affirmation and involving several social fraternities and sororities in the uproar.

James Dye, one time president of men's affairs was cited as the organizer of one party called the FSU -Pay Student Unity- campus political party.

IN RESPONSE to a rumor about a possible fraternity bloc supporting a slate of candidates for class court, and judiciary, offices, a Flambeau reporter approached Dye late Friday afternoon.

Dye stated "he knew nothing about it." He also refused to answer any questions about a possible political party.

"I can't answer the questions I don't know" Dye replied.

FURTHER CHECK, however, revealed that Dye had been holding meetings to start party organization.

Dye, who joined the UDA election committee last Tuesday, will use the jeep to be used for the roving precinct.

Carl Epperson, Dye's fraternity brother and election committee chairman, stated that the jeep has been obtained by Chesterfield Curtis, candidate for president of the sophomore class, and also rumored member of the PSU party.

CHAIRMAN EPPERSON stated that Dye had asked to join the election committee at last Tuesday's meeting. "Dye may pick up many ballots as he goes along and is free to drive the jeep where he pleases," Epperson remarked. "The election committee will not pay for the gasoline."

After denying the rumor Friday, Dye met with a Flambeau reporter Saturday morning at 11 to clarify any opinions. He stated that his fraternity had nothing to do with the party system on campus. He added that he believed Sigma Phi Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Kappa Sigma fraternities and Phi Mu and Alpha Omicron Pi sororities were organizing a party to promote their candidates. He said that his information was hersay.

DYE WAS at the fraternities and sororities mentioned said they didn't know what Dye was talking about. John Latimer, president of Kappa Sigma, stated that neither he nor his fraternity was associated with a so-called party on campus.

John Newland and Richard Jackson, and Charles Curtis accompanied Dye. They all stated emphatically that their fraternities were not a part of the rumored FSU party line.

A cohtradiction was presented by the president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, however. E. G. Horton stated that a meeting of a political nature was held in her home but that no party line was voted they were not interested.

"We aren't having anything to do with the organization and attended the meeting only out of curiosity."

DYE, NEWLAND, and Curtis confirmed the report that a meeting was held at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Dye stated that this was the only convenient house to hold the meetings.

Sirma Kappa sorority was asked by Dye to attend the meeting of the organization, but SK president, Anne Bachner, said that the group had decided nothing definite.

The third sorority mentioned was the Zeta Tau Alpha house. But Ann Gaskin ZTA president stated that some girls in her sorority had attended meetings at the KA fraternity house about two weeks ago and discussed political parties. However, the majority of her group refused to support the procedure used and had not joined.

"WE WERE INVITED to attend meetings several times." Betty Ann stated, "The first one was two weeks ago."

Dye stated Sunday that he did not "remember" the meetings at the Kappa Alpha Theta house or the first meeting held at the KA house.

"I don't know when the meetings were held" Dye said dramatically. He also stated that Epperson would have to decide where he drove the jeep and that anybody could protest his driving the jeep.

SEVERAL PERSONS not connected with the political movement have stated that with a proper

(Continued on Page 8)

Band Concert Is Scheduled Wed. Night

Classic and popular pieces will be featured in tomorrow night's first spring concert scheduled in the Opperman Music hall.

The Florida State University Symphonic Band under the direction of Robert H. Bruinsma, assistant professor of music, will begin at 8:15 and will be open to the public in addition to the students.

PROGRAM selections for tomorrow night include pieces by Bach, Strauss, Maseter, Brahms and a few light pieces by Howard Cable, Nino Rota, and Frank Skinner.

Prelude and Furue in G Minor by Bach will first on the evening's musical program. The Overture to "The Bat" by Johann Strauss places emphasis on percussions. Meditation from "Thais" by Massenet will then follow after which the Three Trampeters by Aldini and Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brahms will conclude the first part of the program.

A CONCERT march called March Slav by Tschaikowsky will introduce the lighter pieces of the second part of the program after the intermission.

Vincent Persichetti's Divertimento for Band and Howard Cable's rendition of Jingles All the Way will follow.

The Legend of Glass Mountain by Nino Rota and The Shawl Dance by Frank Skinner will conclude the listeners concerts.

TOMORROW'S program will be the Symphonic Band's first concert since January, when they gave a special program for the local meeting of the Southeastern Bandmasters Association.

Several concerts in the open air will be presented by the band during the Spring and Summer.

Stakes States IFC Not Behind Parties

Garland Stokes, president of IFC, stated Monday that the Inter-Fraternity Council of Florida State University was not officially or unofficially reconciled any political party as being represented by the fraternities on this campus.

"Any activity of this nature that a fraternity engages in should be judged as strictly as individual action of an individual fraternity and any praise or blame that is directly received by its action should be directed toward the individual organization that is directly involved," Stokes added.

EMPLOYMENT INTERVIEWS—This scene will be repeated many times with prospective employers and FSU students, about to graduate and seeking employment, while the employers are on the campus for the third annual Job-Getting Seminar next Wednesday and Thursday. Left to right are Hugh M. Mercer, Atlanta, at Price, Waterhouse & Company, an international accounting firm; Gracen E. Tally, FSU director of Vocational Guidance and Placement; and Davey Fussell, Bushnell, Florida, a senior, majoring in accounting.

Dr. T. V. Smith To Lecture At 3 Today

Four Lectures Planned On Various Subjects During This Week

Dr. T. V. Smith will open his series of four lectures this afternoon at 3 on the topic "Science and the Ideal of Truth" and will also speak tonight at 8 on "Politics and the Ideal of Goodness". The lectures are scheduled in the Science hall auditorium.

The national authority on the United States Constitution who holds the chair of poetry, politics and philosophy will cover these subjects in his lecture series.

THE FORMER legislator and present speaker and teacher has announced "Art and the Ideal of Beauty" for his Wednesday talk at 3 p.m.

The internationally known educator who was invited to Florida State under the sponsorship of the School of Religion, will give his final talk on "The Issue in Ideals With Russia."

Dr. SMITH was asked to appear this week through Dr. John A. Fernander in University Dr. Smith at a meeting at West Palm Beach recently. Upon learning that he was available, Fernander asked him to come to FSU.

Dr. Smith is on a leave of absence from the Maxwell Graduate School of Public Affairs, Syracuse University.

The author, legislator and speaker is a native Texas and graduate of the University of Texas. He holds a doctorate degree from the University of Texas and has served on the faculties of Texas Christian University, Stanford University of Texas and Chicago.

THE LEGISLATOR has also served on the Illinois State Senate and in the 76th U. S. Congress. Dr. Smith was in World Wars I and II. He was director of education, Allied Control Commission in Italy in 1944. In 1045, he directed the democratization for West Germany and that of war, and was a member of the U. S. delegation to Japan and Germany in 1946. He is editor of the International Journal of Ethics and author of the Democratic Way of Life.

THE VISITING LECTURER who arrived last night will be staying at the Cherokee Hotel. He is at Florida State to speak, speaker two years ago.

Presiding at the various lectures

(Continued on Page 8)

13 High Schools Win Superior Rank For Band Festival

Some 1500 members attended the Sixth District Band Festival held on the campus of FSU high school bands and numerous individuals ranked "superior."

Those that won the coveted top rating are eligible to attend the festival Amphitheatre in St. Petersburg later this spring.

FLORIDA STATE under the direction of Dr. Thomas Williams, director's association, was the center of activities for the meeting of the district band directors group of 20 da counties from Taylor and Jefferson west to Escambia.

Under the rules of the contest, bands must win superior ratings in district meets before being allowed to go on to the state festival. Another 20 bands which earned the top rank are high of Talahassee, Bay county high of Panama City and Pensacola high.

OTHER SCHOOLS which will go to the festival are Greensboro, Crestchanceton, Havana, Crestview Milton and Fort Walton.

County schools include Gadsden County, Wewahitchka, Chipley, Holmes of Bonifay and Walton of DeFuniak Springs.

FESTIVAL of some 59 soloists, ensembles, twirlers and student directors will be the highlight of events in the two-day festival.

Besides the various competitions the band parade through Tallahassee Friday afternoon, and presented a music concert in Doyle Conference Auditorium at 7:30 that night. Early band also directed by Jim Lee Jones, director of bands at Florida State university, will be featured in the festival.

About Political Parties . . .

The Flambeau is not opposed to political parties on campus.

One last editorial was written only three weeks ago (after the class elections) supporting any group of individuals who might be interested in starting a campus political party.

Only two things were asked: Don't let the party develop into a strictly fraternity or sorority affair, and be above the board in all actions.

Despite strong denials, several persons have tried to start a political party on campus. The first meeting was held two weeks ago at one of the fraternity houses. A number of persons were invited. The discussion that followed would have given the impression that all was honest and clean, and a decent party system might be the result.

However, as more meetings were held, tactics changed. The meetings were always called in secret. Several sorority members attending the meetings, perhaps out of curiosity, demanded that a platform be adopted at the binding party. Party organizers side-tracked the request. The sorority members got huffed, as any normal person might, and reported their impression of the meetings to their fellow sorority gals.

The end result seemed to indicate several individuals hopelessly trying to scrape together the remains of a pedestrian, fresh-man and seniors, what will be a worthwhile platform for their party.

2. Independents must be invited to join and attend meetings so that the party is representative of the campus opinion. The idea of any special bloc should be fought to the end.

One more thing might be mentioned. If a group has an honest interest in promoting student government, as parties should do, the facts have to be given to the students. That is what a campus newspaper is for.

Any tactics to suppress the right to print the news, and this political party blow-up is certainly news, can only bring the lowest of opinion on those who seek to suppress.

Students must be on their guard in the future.

1. The whole procedure must be open to the students. They must decide, as a combined group of Greeks, independents, fresh-man and seniors, what will be a worthwhile platform for their party.

● WHAT KIND?

Almost everyone, from the president to the lowliest freshman, would agree that the welfare of a university is bound up in the number of students enrolled.

More students can mean a sort of "combined purchasing power" when bidding for good instructors and bringing notable cultural events to the campus. A state university finds it much more bargaining power with the legislature; and the more students it can point, more students mean greater administrative economy per capita.

More students mean the more and varied types and interests indispensible to a liberal education.

Thus it would seem logical for a university to do what it can to encourage new enrollment.

Here care must be taken, though, that the means does not corrupt the end. It is good to call a university, but what kind?

The curriculum of the college can be debased, the courses made overly simple and the degree left a comparative trifle to obtain. This will attract enrollment, but what kind?

A host of deceptive, professional sounding courses can be installed, holding out a parchment useful to "practicality." That, too, will bring young men and women, but

The university can indulge in the "honest dishonesty" of professional public relations outlays, but experience makes one question whether this can even produce results. If it does, what kind of people does it bring?

On the other hand, the university can encourage activities and high scholarships to gain renown.

This university has brought students from all over the state for career days, band clinics, and conference and a Latin forum. Much good has been accomplished if, during their stays, these visitors heard reports that the plant, staff and atmosphere of FSU are of good quality.

For experience has taught one thing above all. Great universities live not by vaunted claims but by admiration passed on by word of mouth.

what kind?

Florida State's administration deserves much praise for the work it has done in encouraging students to enroll. It ought to be hoped that the good work is not undone by the fallacious sort of advertising A good scholastic and cultural atmosphere will maintain the confidence of students over the years to come.

● SMOKE SIGNALS?

Where is Smoke Signals?

Smoke Signals?

Yes, you know, the campus magazine. I remember showing one back in October, or was it January?

The magazine has not yet met the Tate of the University of Florida's Orange Peel, Gainesville's humor (?) magazine. The Smoke Signal is a fine publication of printing libelous articles because the thing never seems to come out.

The editor ran on a platform of six issues for the school year. This was believed a progressive step because the editor last year had only four issues. . . . one for each of the seasons.

The publication has observed no deadlines this year. It was originally planned for a publication. It has demanded work only when embarrassment threatened.

In the six issues for 9 months, each issue was to contain 32 pages. This would make a total of 96 pages for the school year. So far Smoke Signals has produced a 20-page issue and a 16 page issue or a total of 36 pages. School started in September. It is already April. It seems impossible that the Smoke Signals will make the shy 60 pages promised the students in April and May.

The editor-elect has promised to correct this glaring fault. Until then, the students should demand their money's worth in 60 additional pages of the "average magazine."

● KEEN ABILITY

Frosh Carnival, which entertained a large crowd last Saturday night, was highly successful.

The success lies partly upon the director of the overall project, frosh Vice-President Miss Pat Lowe. She has a keen sense of organizational ability and directed all the work with great efficiency.

She says to all who worked on the annual project: Thanks a million. We say to her: You did a grand job.

SEMINOLE SCENES

APRIL FOOL, YOU FIGURE IT OUT!

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

The calendar tells us that it is again the day of fools and fooling —the "haw, haw, I fooled you!" time of year.

There is no sure-tire method of keeping yourself from looking stupid today unless your crowd has outgrown their fourth childhood or yan spend the day in your room with the windows and radiator pipes securely locked. People will be pulling tricks on April 1 for years, and they're not going to stop just because they've been accused of an enlightened age.

There is no room for doubt to when and where April fools started. The day itself, of course, has been with us since I suppose the first papers started well after the day did.

One theory is that way back yonder in Indiana they used to have a fiscal year that ended March 31. I am not quite straight on who or what this Hull was, but anyway some politician and other people all around on useless errands. This idea is all right if you have no news, can only bring the lowest of opinion on those who seek to suppress.

Once upon a time way off in Italy there was a gal called Proserpina. Despite the way her name sounded (gads!), this kid was built to cover girl type—good figure, poise, charm and personality.

Since there were no magazines in those days, however, Proserpina was temporarily unemployed. She was only reading newspaper, the Daily Democratum, and they hadn't thought up the idea of using cheesecake cuts to increase circulation yet. Proserpina—that's short for the short—had been working as a model for a sculpturing concern. The long hours of standing on her feet were just too much. She had given them her two weeks notice and had quit.

While she was waiting around for another job to come her way, one day Proserpy went out to the Elysian Meadows just to look around and kill some time. She was sitting there, lining her lap with daffodils, when up walked Pluto.

Now Pluto was one of those guys with a bad reputation, a regular wolf. His hangout was an underground dive called Hell. He sure they had some hot times down there, but he only liked to come up once and a while to cool off.

Well, when this smoothie spied Proserpy he was immediately attracted. He invited her to come have a couple cups of nectar, but she said nothing doing and went right on pulling up daffodils. Pluto didn't give up so easily: he argued, pleaded, begged. But uh, uh. Proserpy knew her men and this was one fellow with which she wasn't going to get mixed up. She told him to go back to Hell (?), but he had other ideas.

He grabbed her, the cad, and away he went with the lovey world. Proserpy, who had some powerful connections, yelled and, but no one heard her. She was screaming so loudly, however, that the echo bounced off the walls and her mamma, Ceres, heard it.

Now Mamma Ceres wasn't about to let any two-bit character run away with her daughter so she started after them. Pluto and was she went She followed the echo for miles and miles until she gave up. Then she tried again for days and days, but she never found Proserpy. Everybody said that Pluto had taken to follow an echo and said she had gone on to Hell. Thus we have April Fools' Day!

(You figure it out.)

THE REACTIONARY VOICE

A FALLACY OF 'PRACTICAL' PHILOSOPHY

By FRED MYERS

Has everyone put in his $30 for a set of The Great Books?

The idea that the aim of education is now finally soon to approach a practical, down-to-earth level like Mortimer Adler, Robert Hutchins, and Stringfellow Barr have been preaching for years is one of the significant ideas of the western world.

Now for merely $300 and a few month of perhaps years of reading and a thorough study of the great liberal education and if you are Montesquieu you can become a well-read age. Not only will one thereby become a well-rounded intellectual but will also be qualified to teach anything except small, esoteric and hopelessly technical subjects such as paleography, gymnastics, parapsychology, sociology, journalism, modern biology or modern anything.

The point of such liberal education is that important ideas are there! Those ideas have been distilled, extended and sometimes supplanted by subsequent ideas. To become a philosopher by this method seems to me to be a little like trying to be a doctor by mail. The duty of a philosopher is to live and to add to our knowledge.

This definition is almost impossibly vague but to qualify it in any way is to limit the possibilities of anything that should be proven (even this statement needs a footnote) and there is no necessity to prove, merely to know) and a philosopher is a man who has greatly added to or spend years breaking down The Critique of Pure Reason only to find that it is a lot of meaningless pragmatism.

I merely intend to the prevalence of positivism in today's philosophy as an indication of the absurd heights of pragmatism.

Philosophy has never made the headlines of the Daily News. It probably never will, but it is through that positivism, with its rejection of all the metaphysical and applications positivists deal mainly with analysis of logical methods seems farther than ever away from 'life'.

The reason for this is that positivists do not, like the classical philosopher, spend their time "pondering" the world around, gaining the methods of obtaining knowledge in search of a way of knowing that will be free free from fallacy and assumption. I mean that they don't ponder because it is starting from the bottom and working up in stead of starting from the top and working around on clay feet.

The great philosopher by his own admission "the doctorate of Philosophy is in music appreciation" was not a philosopher by virtue of "making up his mind" on the basis of the best information ing for the Real for him; he knows what is Real—I guess. He made up his mind that there are the Great Ideas that have been thought of since the beginning of time and that the story of a bachelor adopting a lot of beautiful secretaries as Oliguchy.

I think this illustrates well the fallacy of 'practical' philosophy.

ACP ROUNDUP

LEGION PRESSES ECONOMICS BOOK BAN

At Phoenix college there has been a successful "anti-Red" attempt to ban the textbook "Economics" off the college bookshelves. The student newspaper Beacon Tracks fought the ban, which was pressed by the American Legion. Here are excerpts from the Beacon's editorial following the ban:

"The race is over and apparently we put our money on the wrong horse. The Legion and its 'people' has succeeded in driving the socialistic book 'Economics' out of the college curriculum.

"The American Legion is a great, powerful group in America can tradition and democracy, set up this and feel used most to its undemocratic means to peacefully the resolution How many members of the Legion had an opportunity to read the book"

Hereafter the college will have to have their opinions on balls, so to speak, in order not to offend the powerful group of the Legion, which seems to have picked the college as its particular target.

The American Legion has succeeded in banishing this book What or when will they hit next

APRIL FOOL

Many a student got up this morning to go to class on the that he has been the potted plant of the day. Most of someone else he found himself here four years ago with certain skilled and unskilled occupations hardly to pour in the academic lore.

All kinds of advantages are here, but he is not reached out to use them.

To everything about him he is apathetic, particularly to America's government is controlled by cliques anyway. These institutions are as interesting as others, and who wants to listen to a free lecture? Many students joined at least one organization, maybe a departmental club, but he never attends the meetings.

But the potted plant gets enthusiastic occasionally. He pledged to give a pint of blood the last time the bloodmobile was here, but when a noble cause with his effort he said. He forgot to keep the appointment.

The student part of the story comes after graduation Failing in the bigger trials of life the potted plant withers and dies. The leaves are wilting, and he throws away the shortcomings of his alma mater

• • •

The yearbook-creation has a defender at Otterbein college, Ohio. "Today's college student is a well-rounded individual," the lad son and a better type of student than he was when he was college days J Neely Boyer, chairman of the sociology department and director of the school of West Virginia.

Boyer adds. "Perhaps that's the reason professors expect more of their pupils."

• • •

Students at the University of Miami are being pressured to stop throwing cigarette Alma Mater and start singing it

Sonnenberg has set up the CEASE short for Committee for Eliminators of Alma Mater Humming. The club has no dues, how the motel was built to best conform to the site

Students who seldom speak in class should be hearing more from the professor thinks, according to a study at the University of Chicago.

The study also showed that most students actually have their minds on the lecture about two-thirds of the class period The other third of the time their minds wander.

Professors set three tips from their observations. The first is to keep classwork's don't be attracted, don't make the important points in the early lectures.

• • •

How much do students know? Students at the University of Oregon were given a general information test. Of the 1,000 freshmen, 9 could—The man who discovered calculus. Columbus. 2—Two feet, 10 inches. Correct. When several businesses combine

• • •

What impressed a Brazilian student about America was "not the power of production of America, not their capacity for work not the money not the military power, but the outstanding personality of American women."

• • •

From the CBS Blue Lantern: "Modern Mood: Middle Miffs Mozart Man".

From the Cincinnati News Record, University of Cin cinnati:

Many a student gets up this morning to go to class on the that he has been the potted plant of the day. Most of someone else he found himself here four years ago with certain skilled and unskilled occupations hardly to pour in the academic lore.

All kinds of advantages are here, but he is not reached out to use them.

To everything about him he is apathetic, particularly to America's government is controlled by cliques anyway. These institutions are as interesting as others, and who wants to listen to a free lecture? Many students joined at least one organization, maybe a departmental club, but he never attends the meetings.

But the potted plant gets enthusiastic occasionally. He pledged to give a pint of blood the last time the bloodmobile was here, but when a noble cause with his effort he said. He forgot to keep the appointment.

The student part of the story

F.S.U. Fun and Functions

A Calendar of Events compiled and distributed by your University Gov't. Assoc.

Tuesday—April 1

All Day—U.G.A. Elections—Don't forget to vote!
3:00—Student Recital—Music Hall.
Wednesday—April 2
7:30—Job-Getting Seminar — Longmire Bldg. — Mr. D. B. Dunlevy, Guest Speaker— Panel discussion by members of Class of '51.
8:15—Concert — University Symphony Band — Music Hall
Thursday—April 3
1:30—Golf—FSU vs. Rollins—Tallahassee Country Club.
4:00—Psychology Dept. Seminar—Longmire Bldg. —Panel Discussion on "The Meaning of Human Adjustment."
7:30—Job-Getting Seminar—2nd session—Longmire Bldg.
9:45—House Mothers—Women's Residences.
Friday—April 4
2:30—Baseball—FSU vs. Miami—Centennial Field.
9:30—Open House at Gilchrist Hall—After the movies).
Delta Tau Delta Formal Dance—Delta Tau Delta House
Saturday—April 5
2:00—Gymnastics Intrasquad meet—East Campus gym.
10:00—Golf—FSU vs. Mercer—Tallahassee Country Club.
2:45—Baseball—FSU vs. Miami—Centennial Field.
Theta Chi Formal Dance—American Legion Home

Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl Dance—Woodland Club
Monday—April 7
3:30—Matinee Concert—Dale Symphony of Florida—Leon High School—Karl Kuersteiner, Conductor
8.15—Evening Pops Concert—State Symphony of Florida—Leon High School—Karl Kuersteiner, Conductor — All Gershwin program.
7.30—Relaxation Class—East Campus Gym—Dr. Elizabeth Cowell, Director.
All Week
Museum Exhibit—Art and Material Culture from the Antilles
Art Exhibit—"Modern American Painting"—Through April 13
WFSU BROADCASTS ALL HOME BASEBALL GAMES
FSU Regulars
Free Campus Movie—"Four Feathers"—7:30 Tuesday (Student Hall), Wednesday (Auditorium), Thursday (Landis and 8:00 Friday (Gilchrist)
Monday 7:30 "O" Club—"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."
Monday through Friday—Plunge period in East Campus gym (7:30-8:30).
Monday through Friday—Bowling in East Campus gym (8:30-9:45).
Every night—Pingpong in East Campus gym (8:00-9:45).

• WFSU offers air time to all UGA Candidate • has no Presidential ambitions, there with 32 per cent.

Kefauver-Ike on Top Of ACP Student Vote

'ACP' Estes Kefauver is gaining favor as a Presidential candidate among college students, while Earl Warren's popularity has gone down.

This was indicated by results of the latest ACP National Poll of Student Opinion. Kefauver pared is shown a list of 10 candidates and asked to pick their first choice for President. The answers indicate that Dwight Eisenhower is an overwhelming favorite, and Ike has actually gained in strength during the past three months.

Here are the complete results:

Eisenhower ..... 42 percent
Taft ..... 15 percent
Kefauver ..... 13 percent
Warren ..... 12 percent
Stassen ..... 8 percent
Truman ..... 7 percent
Fred Vinson .... 2 percent
Walter Reuther .. 1 percent
Hubert Humphrey 5 percent
Richard Ryan .... 5 percent
Howard Ryan, former manager editor of the Minnesota Daily,

Thrown into the poll more or less as a "longer" he polled several votes than Humphrey and at one small college got as many as 50 votes.

Here's a rundown of key candidates' positions currently as compiled by the ACP from a similar poll taken in December.

Eisenhower—A six per cent rain.
Taft—A five per cent rain.
Kefauver—An eight per cent gain.

Warren—A five per cent loss.
Stassen—A two per cent loss
Truman—No change.

Eisenhower is the favorite at 19 of every 20 colleges, he is weakest in the Midwest, where Taft and Stassen are and has his best support in the South and East.

At the University of Connecticut he has polled 57 per cent of the vote. At the University of Texas he rolled up 53 per cent. But at Valparaiso university, Indiana, his vote is 23 per cent, a number equal to Stassen's Taft leads

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr —Ed tor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Martin, Mary
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Smiley
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Jean Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Jones
Assistants ..... Joy Hall, Laura Caldroni, Fe Pittman, Steve Zahiya

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-291 Ext. 481
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly during the State University, Tallahassee, Florida. The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Second Floor, Alumni Building

MOVIE REVIEW

Film Fare This Week Is Varied to Suit All

By DAVID DREIS

Randolph Scott, famous for his portrayal of cow-boys, who never carry guns "unless they have to," and repeats it again in "Man in The Saddle" (Paramount version) is playing its last time today. The film also stars Joan Leslie, Ellen Drew and Alexander Knox, a veteran in technicolor. Rating it on a scale of 1-10, it rates a 6. It's at the Florida.

One of Japan's biggest movie stars makes her bid for national fame as Shirley Yamaguchi and Dan Dailey in "The Forbidden Street" at the State today and tomorrow. Shirley Yamaguchi and Dan Dailey face the bitter enmity of "the hometown" as one of its heroes comes home married to a "foreigner". It's a pretty good story picture and has been heralded as "the sleeper of the year." It rates a rating of 8.

Crooner Bing Crosby and vivacious Jane Wyman team up with Alexis Smith, Ruth Hussey and James Barton in "Here Comes The Groom." Paramount's Frank Capra is release of "The Academy-Award winning song, "Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening" is the story of a bachelor adopting a lot of beautiful secretaries as Olliguchy.

I think this illustrates well the fallacy of 'practical' philosophy.

Pi Alpha Sigma Taps Pub. Ad. Students

Pi Alpha Sigma, Public Administration honorary, recently conferred membership on 11 students at a coffee held in the Longmire building.

President Jim Ball reviewed the history and principles of the organization and welcomed the new members. Dean Wilson K. Doxie complimented the new members on their attainments. Other members of the Public Administration faculty were present with the student members.

Membership in Pi Alpha Sigma is awarded to Claude Arnold, majoring in Public Administration and Political Science, who has a high scholastic attainment together with consideration of personality and character.

The students honored with membership are Antonia Amorin, Edward Black, Allie Chambers, James Conner, Ann Dillard, Ralph Hall, Claude Arnold, Lelson Lucio Pistero, Eugene Rabbitt, Paul Skelton, Lee Smith and Roberto Walsh.

Motel Course Due May For Visitors

The first tourist court management short course ever held in Florida will attract more than 100 of the state's motel operators, innkeepers and future operators to Florida State university next month for new pledges on Thursday, April 17 and Friday, April 18, Helen Howa, president.

Invitations are being sent out to attend these meetings. Attending three out of four and two of the three-day short course, according to Dr. Lumbers, will be a talk by Tom Bethune, Palm Beach, widely known builder of motels. He will show slides of a typical Bethune motel and explain how the motel was built to best conform to the site.

Wesley Players Call Four Pledge Meetings

Wesley Players, Methodist student organization, announced the program of four open meetings for new pledges on Thursday, April 3 and Thursday, April 10 at Helen Howa, president.

Invitations are being sent out to attend these meetings. Attending three out of four and two of the three-day short course, according to Dr. Lumbers, will be a talk by Tom Bethune, Palm Beach, widely known builder of motels. He will show slides of a typical Bethune motel and explain how the motel was built to best conform to the site.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Showing the serenity to a couple of visiting firemen from Harvard started some of the boys counting blessings. Judging from the eye whites they showed, the boys from Cambridge were duly impressed by State coeds.

Their description of the typical Smith-Radcliffe-Vassar miss is six feet tall, washing 72 pounds, clad in knee length sweater and "sensible" shoes with the snipper soles for mobility in climbing.

And of course she's never caught without her T E E shirt underneath. Also a must is the Harvard "H" sweater used to investigate strict adherence to the Harvard motto. . . .

• • •

No live lion ever caused the trouble that innocuous remark job on the SAE lawn is making these suds-soaked Spring nights. . . .

Word is Dave Donnelly ran produce the Lile mas which features the brawny one holding aloft the luscious Miss Dorothy little or no provocation. Who noticed him?

And another coed wends her way home to parental disapproval. . . .

Damn those sharp-eyed Foodies.

Senior Hall vultures normally out only after-dark spotting let degree burns from their wild weekend. . . .

• • •

Campus Scenes . . .

Chase Curtis and Editor Griffin throwing a few in a bird over alleged Frat. bloc deal. . . .

Johnny Karkkiros hitting muscle poses on the Amber walk. . . .

Jerry Chase patrolling the same beat . . .

Campus cuties doing nip-ups over a French Cadet at Frosh Carnival. . . .

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Alder Story Corrected

The statement that Dr. Marilyn Alder is working on a post-doctoral desiree at Florida State University is incorrect. Dr. Alder is doing post doctoral work on a reaction kinetics project at F.S.U. chemistry laboratories.

600 Are Expected To Attend FSU's Spanish Weekend

A "Spanish Week-end," sponsored by the department of modern languages, will bring an estimated 600 students to the campus next Friday and Saturday.

Dr. D. Lincoln Canfield, head of the modern languages department, said the purpose of the week-end is to create more interest and enthusiasm in the study of Spanish by Florida high school students.

SIGMA DELTA PI, Spanish honorary, and Los Picaros, local Spanish fraternity, will serve as reception hosts.

Miss Carmen Rivera, foreign language instructor, is to be general chairman of the faculty committee for the event. On the committee with Miss Rivera are Dr. Canfield, Dr. Margaret Campbell, Miss Marjorie Judy, all members of the department staff, and Mrs. Allen Bogra, Miss Bettysue Davidson and Miss Dolly Aiken.

DR. HERBERT LACAYO will head the registration held from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. Friday. At the opening session Saturday morning in Opperman Music hall, Vice-president A. B. Martin and J. Broward Culpepper, dean of student welfare, will participate in the welcome.

Activities for the convention include skits presented by the various participating schools, a Spanish movie, a coffee for visiting teachers, a luncheon and a banquet.

The week-end will conclude with a dance starting at 9 p. m. in Landis recreation room with the floor show.

FRESHMAN DORMITORY OFFICERS—New officers for Jennie Murphree are, left to right, (front row) Lillian Avis, Dorothy Browning, Joan Setzer. Standing are: Martha Scott, Mary Grace Shoemaker, Ann Williams, Phoebe Jackson, Boots Paris, and Elizabeth Varg, all elected as house council members.

Political Party

(Continued From Page 1)

test Dye's driving of the jeep or the election.

When Charles Curtis was called for information Sunday he stated that he dared the Flambeau to print the information it had collected, "Any person that has given you a statement is a liar," warned Curtis. He added that the Flambeau editor would "get it" if he printed the notes he had collected.

INDIVIDUAL CANDIDATES in fraternities rumored as running the embryo party have declared that they are not and will not be a member of the group.

Bill Skipper, a fraternity brother of Dye, stated that he would be elected on his own merits and did not need party backing.

Several fraternity presidents, whose groups were mentioned as members of the party, have stated that individual members attended he two meetings in the KA house and the KAT house, but their chapters had not voted to join.

Dr. T. V. Smith

(Continued From Page 1)

tures this week are members of the departments and Schools cooperating with the School of Education in bringing the speaker to FSU.

Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, professor of Philosophy, Dr. Marian Irish, head of the department of political science; Dr. Hudson Rogers, head of the English department; and Dr. Mode L. Stone head of the School of Education will preside

Alpha Kappa Psi Plan Initiation Of Ten Neofites

Eight Florida State University students and two prominent Tallahassee professional men will be initiated into membership of Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity, at a banquet and initiation ceremony Thursday night in the Duval Hotel Lafayette Room.

Bryan Willis, veteran state auditor, and Sam E. Teague Jr., local bank official, will be given honorary memberships into Alpha Kappa Psi. They will be honor guests and principal speakers at the banquet.

A certified public accountant for many years, Willis has been state auditor for the last 17 years, having made such outstanding record he was re-appointed under five successive governors. He is president of the Tallahassee CPA organization and has been active in numerous CPA groups on the local, state and national level for years. He has lectured in the FSU School of Public Administration to students annually studying state government operations.

As public relations director of the Capital City National Bank, Sam Teague has long been active in Tallahassee civic and professional affairs. He is first vice-president of the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce, secretary of the Unit Bankers Association and has served as chairman of the local Red Cross and Cancer Society organizations and co-chairman of the Tallahassee Community Fund.

FSU students members to be formally initiated into the fraternity include Henry I. Chambless, Ovid E. Ellison, Vincent L. Garcia, Robert Gardner, Jimmy Peironis, Ted Steinmeyer, Charles D. Jones, and Jim Silcox.

Faculty, student and alumni members of Alpha Kappa Psi have been invited to bring their wives and dates to the banquet. Dr. Wesley C. Harter, deputy counselor of the local chapter, entertained the chapter membership and rushees at a party in his new home last week.

200 Preps At FSU For Music Camp

Five weeks combining vacation fun with intensive training in musical study and performance will be offered during the Florida State University Summer Music Camp on the Tallahassee campus June 16 to July 18.

Director Karl Kuersteiner said that interest in the camp is more widespread than ever before Inquiries about the camp have been received from all over the Southeast, and a capacity enrollment is expected for the summer.

Enrollment in the FSU camp is limited to 200 high school musicians. Dr. Kuersteiner explained, in order that the high quality of the camp curriculum and the "personal touch" for which the FSU camp is noted may be maintained. The camp is now in its eleventh year. Last year's camp enrollment included students from states as far away as Ohio, New Mexico and California.

Original Scores Planned For Friday

Original compositions by Carlile Floyd, piano instructor in the School of Music, will be presented Friday at 8:15 p.m.

"Nocturne for Voice" will be included in the performances.

Text for the number was taken from Walt Whitman's "Out of the Cradle Endlessly Rocking". Walter James, assistant professor of voice will act as soloist while Mr. Floyd will be at the piano.

The "Theme and Variation for Two Pianos" will be played by the composer, Floyd will be assisted by Lew McSwain, junior student in the School of Music.

The second half of the program it will feature the music play "Sing Dusk" written by Floyd in 1949 The one ac music play was produced at Florida State University in the spring and summer of 1950. The play concerns the problems of the sharecroppers in the sand-hill section of the Carolinas.

The cast will be Joan Owen as Sue; David Lowe as Jess, her nephew; Paula Montgomery as Bodie, her niece, and Walter James as Michal Hatfield. The production has been staged by Prof. Nellie-Bond Dickenson of the physical education department.

Air Line Recruiter Here Tomorrow

A career in the sky will be explained tomorrow when a United Air Lines recruiter interviews potential airline stewardesses in the Office of Vocational Guidance.

Women students may make appointments for an interview in 203 Westcott.

At 4:15 p.m., Wednesday, United Airlines will show a special vocational movies in 203 Westcott.

Stewardess trainees attend American Airlines Stewardess Training School in Chicago. Upon graduation they receive $208 per month salary, with an annual increase up to $298 per month.

Tally-Ho Snapshots

Tally-Ho managing editor, Rebecca Brown, announced yesterday that more snapshots are needed and may be turned in to the information desk on the first floor of the Longmire building. Snapshots may be turned in any time this week, but are wanted just as soon as possible.

Botany Instructor Wins Fellowship

Miss Betty Linthicum, instructor in Botany at Florida State University, has been awarded the P. C. and Susan Eastman McWcombe Fellowship in plant physiology at the University of Michigan for the session of 1952-53.

Miss Linthicum received the B. S. degree at FSU in 1944, then Florida State College for Women, and the M.S. degree at the University of Michigan in 1945. She became a member of the FSU faculty in 1945. In 1948-49 she was a Research Assistant in plant physiology at the University of Michigan. As a Newcombe Fellow, she will continue her work toward the Ph.D. degree Her research is in the physiology of fungi.

Faculty Attends Annual Convention

A group of Florida State University faculty members, committee chairmen and former officers of the Southern Sociological society, headed by Dr. Coyle E. Moore, dean of the School of Social Welfare, attended the 15th annual society meeting in Atlanta this weekend.

Of those attending, Dr. Moore was past president of the society; Dr. William Leap, past vice-president and chairman of the committee on applied sociology and social work. John Criss and Prof. Gordon J. Aldridge also attended, with a paper, "Old Age Is a Social Problem" by Professor Aldridge being presented at the meeting.

SAE House Opening

The formal opening of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter house, honoring the house mother, Mrs. Raymond O. Molson, will be held in the house on Tennessee Street, Sunday evening from 4 to 6 p.m., April 6. Faculty and students are invited to attend.

pick a pretty COTTON to stand out wherever you go . . .

June Patton
YOUNG MISSES' DRESSES stand out

Soft chambray piped in white cord at the neckline and sparkling with a double row of navy rhinestone buttons, the lavish skirt accented with embroidered white scallops. Grey, Navy, Brown or Green chambray.
Sizes 10 to 18.

$12.95
Other June Patton Dresses from $8.95

Easter Outfits For Men and Women

P. W. Wilson Co.
—Since 1835—

Patronize Our Advertisers

DON'T BE CONTRARY
VOTE
For WAYNE TERRY
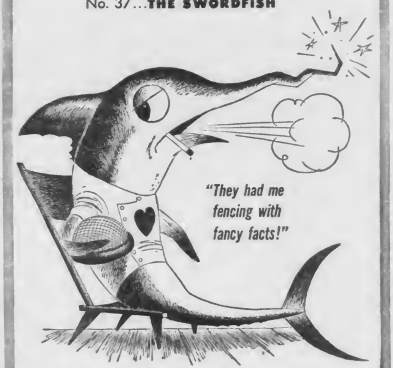
FOR YOUR
Sophomore SENATOR

Filet Mignon Special At The Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

Dine with us . . . in the . . . Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"
EVENING MEAL
Fried Chicken
Filet Beef Steak
Fried Oysters
We Specialize in Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles



Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

Remember Sophomores—
JACKIE KEATON
Can't Be Beaten
JUNIOR SENATOR

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience
Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests
No. 37...THE SWORDFISH

They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .
Camel leads all other brands by billions

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

BASEBALL TOMORROW—With an assist from the de[illegible] the Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves will square off in Centennial field tomorrow afternoon for Ta[illegible]h sse[illegible]s first glimpse of major league competition s[illegible] pre-war days.

[illegible] com[illegible] be rated as flag [illegible] camp for the [illegible] and were [illegible] in Jacksonville [illegible] afternoon.

The Phillies, the "Whiz Kids" of 1950 that turned out to be last year's "Fizz Kids" are picked for no better than fourth in the senior loop this season, while the Braves were only accorded a fifth place slot by the writers.

[illegible] Boston [illegible] have the best [illegible] deal to say [illegible] standings as well.

Both outfits are stacked with youth and age. Manager Eddie Sawyer, who laid down the law to his Windy City crew at the outset of the spring training, has fellows like fleetfooted Richie Ashburn who finished second to Stan Musial in the National League batting race with a .314 average, pitcher Robin Roberts who won 21 games and had a 2.98 earned run mark and outfielder Del Ennis a flop last year, but a sensation the year before.

[illegible] B[illegible] who [illegible] Warr[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] S[illegible] Gordon [illegible] W[illegible]

[illegible]

At any rate, tomorrow's tilt shapes up as a bonafide major league affair since the two clubs have whittled their rosters down to near playing size for the coming season.

• • •

The shutout win turned in by John Witt against Loyola last Friday was not the first whitewash job turned in by a Florida State hurler as was first believed, but it was the second.

Howard, "Howdy" Calhoun turned the trick back in 1948 in in the season opener against Mississippi College by blanking the Choctaws 6-0.

Calhoun, incidentally, st[illegible] holds the school strikeout record and later went on to pitch in the Florida State loop.

In that same Friday game third sacker Ham Wernke's long fly to left that sent Bob Trowbridge home with the winning run would have probably cleared Centennial Field's left field fence.

The drive carried somewhere around the 350 foot mark and the Loyola left fielder had to pedal his bike full speed to haul it it.

• •

The Seminole track team was the third Florida State athletic team to meet head-on with the University of Florida this year and Coach Ken Miller's cindermen came through in fine fashion by placing ahead of the Gators in three of the four events in which the two schools competed.

Captain John Poston was fourth in the 100-yard dash while the Florida entry failed to place. Joe Fraeassi copped third in the pole vault finishing ahead of two Florida men, while the Seminole sprint Medley team came in third, ahead of the Gator's.

The only event in which F[illegible] [illegible]ead of the Indians [illegible]n the hotly contested mile relay —the Gators finishing third to the Seminoles fourth.

In the first modern meeting of the two state supported institutions, of course, the fine Gator basketball team had to overcome the Seminoles halftime lead to pull the [illegible] out of the fire over at the Gator Bowl Tourney.

Then two weeks ago, in the State A.A.U. swimming meet FSU finished second with 84 points while the Gators came in a slow third with 46 points.

At any rate if n[illegible]e was proved, the Seminoles laid a solid claim to the fact that the two schools could compete on an even basis despite the Board of Control's reason, if any, for frowning on the meeting.

A FSU-Florida baseball tilt [illegible] be a "natural" but oh well [illegible]

Tennis Squad On Road Trip

Seminoles Break Even In Weekend Matches

This Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday Florida State University's tennis tribe will make a road trip through Georgia, tangling tennis tactics with the Mercer, Georgia, and Emory racquet teams.

Florida State Coach Don Loucks has not announced his definite squad for the trip, but sure to see action are frosh Tom Cundy, Dave Kennedy, and Joe Harris, and veterans Jim Berry, Jack Egan, and Dan Boda.

Recoiling from a defeat at the hands of Loyola in their opening match last Friday, the Seminoles struck down Mercer University's tennis squad 5-4 on Saturday to square their record at one-all.

The Florida State netters swept all five singles matches to blank Concordia 5-0 here yesterday afternoon. The doubles were rained out.

Walloped by Loyola 5-2 four days ago, the Indian net team grabbed five singles matches and one doubles contest in beating Mercer.

Tom Cundy, former Kentucky state high school champ, highlighted the FSU sweep of the singles by defeating Mercer's Keith Benning without the loss of a game.

It was a nice comeback for Cundy, whose defeat against Loyola proved the turning point of that match.

Ernie Johnson

Don Conley

All photos by [illegible] Peoples

Pete Whisenant (left) and Jack Daniels.

Ed Mathews

EXHIBITION TILT—These rookie members of the Boston Braves are all listed for action when Boston meets the Philadelphia Phillies in an exhibition tilt tomorrow afternoon on Centennial field. Game time is 2.30.

F.S.U. Gridders to Wind Up Spring Drills This Afternoon

The Florida State University gridders are scheduled to wind up their spring drills this afternoon with a game condition scrimmage in Campbell stadium.

Head Coach Don Veller who announced last week that the Seminoles wouldn't end the practices with a originally scheduled Garnet and Gold clash left over the weekend on a scouting tour and won't be on hand for the finale.

VELLER, obviously disappointed with the squad's performance said before leaving "we do not have enough boys who are capable of playing offensive and defensive ball to divide our squad for a game.

The Indians completed th[illegible] fourth week of practice [illegible] Friday afternoon with their 17th scrimmage [illegible] [illegible] had [illegible] day's [illegible] the 'worst yet" but pointed out that he was pleased with several of the 'experiments' that were tried out.

THE MOST notable switches in [illegible] were the shifting of Fullback Ronald King to offensive [illegible] end Ted M[illegible] to tackle, quarterback Tom Sebr[illegible] to [illegible] halfback Roy Thompson to left half, left halfback Al W[illegible] [illegible] half, and left [illegible] Bobby Fiveash to quarterback.

[illegible] however pointed out [illegible] squad was still weak in [illegible]emen.

SEVERAL of the newcomers to the squad that were singled out were quarterback Joe Martinez, fullback Stan Dobosz, end Bob Averi[illegible] and guard Leon Leonhardt.

Leonhardt, a backfield candidate at the start of the drills was shifted to a guard post recently and has shown such promise at the new position.

Before leaving, Veller named a starting offensive lineup for today's scrimmage that included Co-captain Curt Campbell at left end, Co-captain Vic Szczepanik or Morri[illegible] at left tackle, Bob Tully or Charley Booth, left guard; Steve Kalenich, center, Charlie Brown, right guard; Earl O'Neal, right tackle; King, right end; Fiveash, quarterback, Thompson, left half; Woodham, right half, and Dick Turk, fullback.

Dr. Lundberg Named Head of Department

The American Hotel institute has just named Dr Donald E Lundberg, head of the department of restaurant and hotel management at Florida State University as an advisory member to the institute.

Dr. Lundberg left to attend its planning conference at the Palm[illegible] House Chicago Monday through Wednesday, March 24-26.

Seminole Hurlers Are Big Surprise

BY TOMMY SANDS

If the performances turned in by Coach Ralph Matherly's mound staff last week is any indication of the wo[illegible] the Seminole coach will receive the rest of the season then the 15 remaining teams on the Indian schedule are headed for plenty of trouble.

Starting with the last two innings of the Amherst tilt on Thursday, and running through Saturday night's game with Loyola, the Indian hurlers had pitched 20 consecutive scoreless innings while allowing just eight hits.

[illegible]fty Chuck Sanders started the string of goose-eggs when he blanked Amherst the last two innings of the Thursday tilt, veteran John Witt continued the onslaught with a five hit shutout of Loyola Friday and big [illegible] Lockard threw a masterful [illegible] hitter against the Lords the following night.

THE DOUBLE WHITEWASH brought the Seminole's record [illegible] an impressive 6-1—the lone [illegible] coming at the hands of the University of Georgia.

While Matherly's hurlers [illegible] mowing the opposition down [illegible] hitters weren't exactly dormant. Second baseman Billy Campbell slammed a tremendous [illegible] three run homer that went [illegible] way to Centennial field's distant right field wall while Bob Trowbridge got a long double the [illegible] night.

The Seminoles remain idle [illegible] this weekend when they open [illegible] inside state circles and meet University of Miami here on Friday and Saturday.

THEN, the following week [illegible] Indians take the road for a [illegible] game invasion of South Florida that includes double games with Stetson and Tampa.

The Seminoles unques[illegible] hit their peak with the weekend victories. They only got fou[illegible] [illegible]ties off of Loyola hurler [illegible] Majoria, but they were p[illegible] good use.

Matherly's c[illegible] picked their lone tally in the sixth w[illegible] Trowbridge was hit by a p[illegible] ball, advanced to third on [illegible] error and a single and sco[illegible] Ham Wernke's long fly [illegible] left.

WITT SPACED his five h[illegible] evenly over the nine innin[illegible] and struck out seven while allowing only two walks.

It looked for five full inn[illegible] that Lockard might crash the [illegible] hit circle Saturday night but [illegible] bid for the pitcher's dream w[illegible] ruined in the sixth when Loyola's Bill Lamy and Pete Serpas ca[illegible] through with clean line [illegible]

Lockard took right up [illegible] seventh, however and h[illegible] less hall the remainder of [illegible] game.

LOYOLA	AB	R	H	FSU	AB	R	H
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

MERCER MATCH

[illegible]

LOYOLA MATCH

[illegible]

Golfers Slate Two Matches

The linksmen of Florida State University's golf team are scheduled to clash clubs with Rollins College here Thursday and with Mercer University here Saturday.

Yesterday the Seminoles slugged it out with the Citadel, which was supposedly to feature a duel to the death between FSU's Sonny Tinney and the Keydet's Billy Picard, two of the South's finest young golfers.

The Seminole golfers suffered a 21-6 setback at the hands of The Citadel at the Tallahassee Country Club yesterday afternoon. Jimmy James was low scorer for FSU with a 75.

Tinney, an FSU senior, recently won the Florida Intercollegiate title for the second time, making him the only golfer to accomplish that feat.

Other members of the Indian squad are Jimmy James, Tommy Brown, Tom Cumbie, Jude Dunfee, and Frank Hirt.

FSU Trackmen Cop 4 Places

The FSU trackmen placed in four events at the annual Florida Relays in Gainesville over the weekend.

The Florida State sprint medley team of Woody Parker, Dick Mize, Capt John Poston and Bill Wagoner placed third while the same quartet finished fourth in the mile relay.

Joe Fracessi was third in the pole vault and Poston placed fourth in the 100 yard dash.

Coach Ken Miller took only seven men to the Gainesville meet, but the whole squad is due to see action this weekend when they travel to Davidson, N. C., for a meet with Davidson College.

The following week the Seminoles entertain Loyola of the South in the first home meet and then take on Mercer here April 19.

Dorm Honors J. C.'s

LaVerne Jen[illegible] GILCHRIST HALL social chairman announced that next Wednesday a tea will be held honoring the Junior Counselors for next year from that dormitory. Thirty-nine of the Gilchrist girls have been selected, 31 for the Freshmen dorms and eight for transfer students. Miss Lynn has been asked to meet the new counselors.

SOPHOMORES!

Join The Flock And Vote For

SCHOCK

JR. CLASS SOCIAL CHAIRMAN

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 44 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Friday, April 4, 1952

ALWAYS A HELP—Members of the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, are shown above after the installation of new officers and completion of plans for the sale of tickets to the "Talent Show," April 16. Left to right are Ted Steinmeyer, sargeant-at-arms; Jimmie Evans, historian; Jay Ladd, recording secretary; James Sherr, vice president; Tommy Bowen, president; Bob McKenzie, vice president, and Ed Field, treasurer. Not shown in the picture is Willis Tyrrell, alumni secretary, and John Buckley, corresponding secretary.

Special Graduate Election Asked By Senator Sved

Sved Wants Election To Determine Their Views On UGA Participation

The Student Senate took action in its Tuesday meeting which may lead to graduate students participating in the Senator Sved's proposal that the constitutional committee be granted power to draft legislation providing for the graduate students in the next class election, and that a special election be held to ratify amendments passed by the Senate board up to the time of the election. The motion failed to get a second.

THE QUESTION of graduate taking part in student affairs has been in the air for some time. The main reason for the idea have been some mature, the graduate have something to add to the life of the student activities fee, they have a voice in determining the money is used.

Some who object to the plan feel graduate students have not the time nor the interest necessary for student government.

IF HELD, the election will be a referendum to determine the advisability of the graduates participating.

In business the Senate passed a letter from Andy Fuchs explaining why the senate could not take action proposal to let the students in the WPSU station. The letter said that the proposed amendment refers to control of the Seminole Broadcasting system, and that the radio does not even been approved by

Vice-president Jere Salyers reported that the reason the charter has not been approved is that the review board had read it, but that it had with recommendations.

Senator Phil Spangler presented a motion which was passed unanimously, to provide for a Senate investigation. A letter will be sent to the heads of the departments and organizations of each school, saying that the Senate has gone on record as approving faculty evaluation.

Holiday Library Hours Announced

Library hours for the spring will be announced by Assistant Librarian Florence Bethea today.

The library will be open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. April 10 and regular hours may be borrowed from 5:45 p.m. They will be due by 9:30 a.m. April 11 by 9:30 a.m.

Library hours Friday, April 11 are from 8:30 until 4:15 p.m. and on Saturday, April 12, by 9:30 a.m.

On April 12, Saturday, the library will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. with reserve books being out from 11 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. They are due Monday, April 14 by 9:30 a.m.

Easter Sunday, April 13, the library will be closed. It will reopen at 8:30 a.m. Monday, April 14 and remain open until 4:30 p.m. Reserve books may be borrowed from 3:30 until 4:15 p.m. They are due Tuesday, April 15, by 9:30 a.m.

Overdue charges will run as usual.

Entrance Hours Change Asked

A motion that women students should be allowed to enter the dormitories between 12 midnight and 6 a.m. following all weekends was the major point of discussion in Women's Senate meeting Wednesday. The motion was made by Mary Ruth Summers.

As the situation stands now, it is a social offense to enter the dormitories during this time unless after legal holidays. The motion was referred to a committee for further study.

A SECRETARY that weekend, taken by freshmen for University business not be counted toward their weekend quota was put forth by Pat Remick, who also reported on the Codifying committee.

Pat also said the committee believed that the method of voting for dormitory officers be changed to a secret ballot instead of a show of hands. The suggestion was sent to the committee. She also asked whether house counsel cases should be dismissed by the dormitory president. The topic was referred back to the committee until an up-to-date committee constitution could be secured.

SOPHOMORE COUNCIL had long have been reunited, reported Mary Ruth Summers, with the exception of the Seminole Hall unit, and that the charge has not even been approved as yet.

Vice-president Jere Salyers reported that the reason the charter has not been approved is that the review board had read it, but that it had with recommendations.

Senator Phil Spangler presented a motion which was passed unanimously, to provide for a Senate investigation. A letter will be sent to the heads of the departments and organizations of each school, saying that the Senate has gone on record as approving faculty evaluation.

Reynolds, Jennie And N. Cawthon Hold Dorm Doings

Ninth Cawthon had an April Fools' plantation party after the house meeting last night. Entertainment consisted of skits, including a take-off on "Cyrano de Bergerac," with Joyce Whidden as Cyrano.

Tonight, Reynolds Hall is holding a Square Dance in the Rec Room. Dancing, contests and refreshments will be offered. Jane Wells, social and social chairman, is in charge. Freshmen officers of the dormitory are Nancee Price and Wylene Barmore, vice-presidents and Elaine Lewis, Dorcey Arnold, Kay Haines, Lynn Long bottom and Kathy Hedges, floor chairmen.

An open house under the chairmanship of Jo Ann Setzer of Jennie Street Hall will be held in the Rec Room of Reynolds, Saturday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. The theme of Jennie are in charge of the party.

Convocation

There will be a compulsory convocation for all freshmen women next Tuesday at 5 in the, music amphitheater.

Mary Helen Speed, acting president in charge of women's legislative affairs, stated that all freshmen women must attend

Dunlevey Gives Seminar Talk

By LUCY NEWSOM

Mr. D. B. Dunlevy, industrial relations officer of the Buckeye Cotton Oil company of Memphis, Tenn., made the keynote address of the annual "Joh-Getting Seminar at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday night in the Longmire auditorium.

Mr. Dunlevey revealed that the two most important characteristics that an interviewer looks for in a prospective employee are "new ideas and "force of influence over other people."

HE FURTHER STATED, "You can't be successful unless you get satisfaction out of what you're doing."

"Your college investment is a selling and buying process to interviewers. But this investment is only secondary to individual investment," he said.

Commenting on company interviewers, he said that they would judge an individual on: leadership, industry, initiative and originality, specialization, knowledge, vocabulary, ability of expressing oneself, personal appearance, all the usual abstract characteristics such as integrity and of course intelligence."

FOLLOWING Mr. Dunlevey's address, Miss Wyatt Hall, counselor, Vocational Guidance and Placement, led a group of recent Florida State graduates, composed of three men and three women, in a panel discussion. Mrs. Blair asked the questions and answers were given from the audience as well as the panel members.

Personally based, the panel was quite successful and enjoyed by all. The questions asked were "What experience have you had that you would like to pass on to the people?, What courses do you wish you had had in college?, What mistakes did you make during your first year?"

THURSDAY NIGHT, the panel discussion was held on "Plans and Techniques for Selecting Employees from Civil Service Applicants." The members of the panel were A. H. Graham, of the VA, and Grant company employment and placement manager; Mr. Dunlevey, Atlanta, Georgia, Atlanta American Red Cross Personnel Service director; A. Lovell, New York, assistant director, switching apparatus, Bell Telephone laboratories; Frank Washington, director of administrative service, U. S. Department of Commerce, and William C. Stiefel, I. B. M. Corp.

Next Free Movie Stars Gary Cooper

"Mr. Deeds Go to Town" will be next week's free movie sponsored by Student Union Tuesday, Men's Senior Hall; Wednesday, Magnolia, and Friday at 8 p.m. in the amphitheater, or South Cawthon in case of rain. There will be no Thursday show due to the vacation.

The movie depicts a story of a small town poet who comes to New York after inheritine a fortune. He outwits all the fortune hunters who try to bamboozle him-self by a smart newspaperman.

Pianist Wright Will Be Soloist In Symphony

Gershwin Pieces Will Be Feature of Program Monday at Leon High

Thomas Wright, specialist in the Gershwin piano works, will be featured soloist with the State Symphony of Florida next Monday evening in Leon High auditorium at 8:15.

College students will be allowed admission for 50 cents in the Monday matinee at 1:30 p.m. Season tickets are to be used at both performances.

Wright, whose program drew an overflow crowd last spring, will play the Concerto in F, one of Gershwin's few compositions in symphonic form. Excerpts from the folk-opera Porgy and Bess are scheduled for the matinee and evening performances both. Jean Daye James, student, and Herman Gunier, assistant professor of voice, will sing the pieces.

"Bess, You is My Woman Now" is scheduled for the afternoon presentation while the lullaby, "Summertime," the carefree song, "I Got Plenty of Nuttin'," and the duet, "Bess You Is My Woman Now," are on the evening bill.

C. M. CARROLL and Warren D. Allen, musicians in the School of Music prior to the organization of his adult life, Gershwin was a famous composer. He was a composer to his brother Ira's lyrics and a long succession of Broadway hit shows culminating in Porgy and Bess.

Richard Wagner's Overture in "Tannhauser" and Johannes Brahms Finale from Symphony No. 1, Opus 68 are on both performances.

"Tannhauser" is usually paired with a lone contrast, the highly beloved of Wagner's early "romantic operas," the program notes reveal. The overture is a contrast between the forces of Good and Evil in drama and "Art and Religion" dramas but one. Redemption is the final outcome, but at the cost of the finding of the hero under Death, which is mercifully omitted in this overture.

BRAHMS' Finale has a dramatic build-up throughout the entire symphony of the Beethoven Ninth. The music instructors said that "Some silly commentators have called this the Tenth Symphony because of the (a-ti-di-la-te motive which appears in Beethoven's Choral Finale, but this is Brahms and Brahms alone."

"On the Beautiful Blue Danube" by Johann Strauss, Jr., will be featured also.

INCLUDED ONLY on the evening performance will be Georges Enescos Rumania Rhapsody No. 1, Opus 11. In the first of three works by Enesco of the same character in the same number.

Only included in the matinee performance will be Serge Prokofiev's Peter and the Wolf, Opus 67, a "Musical Tale for Children."

Huey Calls Blood Captains' First Meeting

The first meeting of blood captains for the Spring drive has been called for Tuesday at 5 in the Longmire auditorium, Mac Huey, new chairman announced.

A two-day drive has been scheduled April 29 and 30. Florida State University's quota for the second drive is 392 pints, 196 each day.

THE MEN'S "F" club will handle the saving drive. Omicron Delta Kappa sponsored the fall drive and broke a state record in number of pints collected. The two-day drive collected 376 pints last fall.

Each fraternity and sorority is asked to send one responsible person to Tuesday's meeting. Floor chairmen in women's dorms and men counselors are asked to represent the men and women dorms.

Huey, who is president of the men's "F" club, named Jim Couch manager of the refreshments committee and Bob Griffin in charge of publicity.

THE OMEGA SORORITY has volunteered to assist Huey with the drive.

The same procedure will follow the spring blood drive as was used in last fall's drive. All prospective donors must be over the fourth floor of the infirmary. Captains will distribute information and parent release blanks to the members of their group.

Huey, who is president of the men's "F" club, named Jim Couch manager of the refreshments committee and Bob Griffin in charge of publicity.

Approximately 600 Come To Spanish Weekend Meeting

Approximately 600 students from Florida State campus to participate in activities of a Spanish Weekend," sponsored by the department of modern languages.

Events of the convention included skits presented by the various participating schools a Spanish movie, a dance for conversation teachers, a luncheon, banquet and dance.

Alpha Delta Pi, Spanish honorary and Los Pizarro, local Spanish fraternity, served as reception hosts.

Vice-President A. B. Martin J. Broward Culpepper, dean of students welfare, officially welcomed the students to FSU's campus.

19 Offices Are Decided; Confusion Marks Primary

Five Candidates Disqualified Due to Averages Including Landslide Winner, Bill Skipper

Election Chairman Epperson Makes Statement Concerning Possible Report to Honor Court

Florida State University's normally hectic class elections, already complicated by angry charges of political blocs, were further snarled hy the disqualification because of grade averages of five candidates prominent in the Tuesday primaries.

Most prominent was the withdrawal of Bill Skipper, who would have been elected senior class president by a wide majority had he possessed the required 1.3 grade average. John Latiner, who polled 96 votes to Skipper's 230 will be the only candidate on next Tuesday's run-off ballot. He needs a majority of all votes cast, as required by the UGA constitution before a candidate can be elected. In an explanatory letter published in this issue Skipper says, "I cannot adequately express my gratitude to the members of the class for the great confidence which they placed in me Tuesday," and added that Latiner "will make a different President of the class of '53, and I will assist him in every way."

Another case was the disqualification of Charles Curtis, candidate for sophomore president, an admitted political fall guy whom Curtis wrote "13 prez, sem." on his campaign blank when filing with Ruth Hoernig, UGA secretary, but a check by the Elections committee revealed that Curtis had failed to make even a one-point average the minimum required of 1951, his last semester at FSU.

In a statement made to the Flambeau, Carl Epperson, head of the UGA Elections committee, said, "Because the Election Committee does not have a set policy in this respect, as to the grade influencing factors, we decided, by a 5-1 vote, not to send to Honor Court those individuals who qualified but didn't have their grade averages.

"However, the Election Committee has set a policy to be followed in future elections. The policy states in brief that all students qualifying for any office must go to the Registrar's office personally and check his or her grade point average. A sheet is then set up in the Pow Wow.

Morris Ax, a New York Civil Dr. Lester D. Lonsman, head of the department of art at the State University of Iowa; and Mr. Grose Evans, lectures and docent at the National Gallery of Arts in Washington, D. C. Each of these men will discuss topics in which he has done some special research.

SIX FACULTY members who will participate actively in the Sarasota program are Dr. Ralph Smith, head of the department

(Continued on Page 4)

Run-Offs Necessary In Most of Offices

A total of 19 class offices were decided in the Tuesday primaries with 17 other races put into run-offs for next Tuesday.

The only presidential race decided was in the junior class where Roy Station beat Pinky Nowlin, 261 votes to 96. The sophomore and senior races both remain placated by withdrawals, will be decided on Tuesday between Phoebe Jackson; and John Latiner, unopposed for senior presidency.

BOTH SETS of senators were decided for four years each. Bob Evans, 224; Bobby Drake, 197; and Jimmy Evans, 152, will represent the men, while Barbara Anne Thomas, 151; Anica Dimitrijevic, 141; and Terry Stein, 162, will represent the women.

June Kerstead beat Martha Hamilton, 162 to 157 to become next year's parliamentarian. Paul J. Scrapani, 182, but Raymond Krupo, 114, to become social chairman RUN-OFFS will be required for senior vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Of these, 165, Jane Wilson, 148, earned their right to a run-off. Barbara Rieves, 118, and Betty Sue Hodges, 117, remain on Tuesday's ballot for secretary, while Jane Sheppard, 63, puts average up against Jean Hall's second primary for the office of treasurer.

Both sets of senators were elected in the junior class. A contested party spirit was seen to Pat Remick, 254; Jackie Keaton, 138; and Judy Simmons, 134 in the women's race, while Colin English, 264; Jack Mitford, 161, and Charles McDaniel, 191, dominated the men's race.

ADAMS BOULEVARD, 114, and Gene Turano, 79, will contest each other because of the withdrawal of Polly Lambert as the junior vice-presidential contest.

Carolyn Lee and Betty Sue

(Continued on Page 4)

Floyd Will Present Piano Concert Fri. In Opperman Hall

Carlisle Floyd will be featured in a piano concert as part of a program of his original compositions Friday evening, in the Opperman Music hall. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. and will be open to the public.

A Nocturne for Voice," recently composed by Prof. Floyd, will represent his style in performance with Walter James, tenor, as soloist and Floyd at the piano. The text of work is taken from Walt Whitman's "Out of the Cradle Endlessly Rocking."

"Theme and Variations for Two Piano," composed in 1951, will be played by Floyd and Lee McSwain, junior piano student in the School of Music.

A music play, "Slow Dusk," will comprise the second half of the program. A play for use act, in which the actors sing their lines instead of speaking them. "Slow Dusk" first produced on the FSU campus in the spring and presented in New York. It has since been produced at Syracuse University, and at Columbia University and will be presented at the University of Southern California in the near future.

The cast for this evening's presentation will be Joan Cown as Bride; Jackie Lake as Jess; her sister Paula Montcorney as Sadie, her niece; and Walter James as Mitch the Hatchet man, who has been shaved by Prof Nellie-Pont Dobinson of the Women's Physical education Department.

Tryouts Are Held For Faculty Play

Tryouts for the ninth annual faculty play will be held at 4 p.m. Monday, April 7, in the Little Theater.

Those trying out will read from a script which will be announced later.

The play production was "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

Ideals By Which Our World May Live Presented By T. V. Smith in 4 Lectures

WHAT A PERSONALITY—After his final series of four lectures on "Ideals We Live By" presented by department of education, Dr. T. V. Smith answers questions to students. During his final lecture Wednesday night on Russia, the Science and Math was packed to capacity to hear the popular speaker.

For many days to live by in a modern university community, Dr. T. V. Smith in a series of four lectures last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. Smith began his lectures by remarking that Plato, Washington, director of administrative service, U. S. Department of Commerce, and William C. Stiefel, I. B. M. Corp.

"Education is the transformation of external discipline into internal discipline," Smith claimed.

Truth as an ideas, he said, is narrowly restricted to science; men's doings men deal with are neither true nor false. Therefore, Smith concluded, the equal to the ideals of goodness and beauty are equally admirable in different situations.

THE DISCIPLINE of doubt is necessary in science and Dr. Smith observed. "Truth is an achievement of proved hypothesis."

It is the fate and fortunes of educators, the lecturer stated, to advance skepticism in students. He attacked those who feared knowledge and lived in smug complaisance. Although he felt that the ideal of truth was the narrow province of science, he believed that there are times when truth is vitally needed, society should make allowances for the necessity of the search for truth.

SPEAKING on "Politics and the Ideal of Goodness," Smith observed the general opinion of politics that it is base and wrong.

Socrates, however, is said to have discovered that politics is the greatest moral instrument of the Greek philosopher believed that goodness is knowledge.

Politics is concerned with justice, but the concern for justice does not beset it. Men do not mean the same thing when they speak of justice.

"TAFT IS profoundly concerned with justice," said Smith, but his justice looks like charity to me."

Men are so devoted to principles and can't compromise, the lecturer observed, that somebody either gets killed or run over.

"It's the principle of the thing," on which people feel they cannot yield. They feel they cannot be decent without losing self-respect.

"WE'LL HAVE to face the facts," Smith stated, if we don't have equal interests but think we cannot live because of the principle of the thing, though going "midway" is democratic politics.

"The patient's going to die, but for two men who both think they have the right to 'you are'." That is the politician.

Continued in a conversation with Wednesday afternoon Dr. discussed the "ideal of beauty" expressed in art.

HE STATED this, beauty is an unrestricted ideal that needs discipline of imagination. This discipline is expressed in the five

(Continued on Page 4)

Now Who Will Draft a Code For FSU Student Elections?

The whole mess about special fraternity hloc (it can't be properly called this because the majority of fraternities didn't know what was going on) is probably over.

The slate of candidates the group had listed lost by the score. The few that did hreak the bonds of party restriction won out on sheer popularity and past experience.

Whether an Honor Court case is pending for those persons who may have violated the honor code in qualifying to run for office without the proper grade average has been settled.

Carl Epperson, election chairman, who has honorably handled the boiling pot of political trouble, stated that the individuals involved will not be sent to the Honor Court.

A letter in today's Flambeau clarifies one candidate's relationahip in the matter.

Epperson has stated, however, that in the future all students disqualified because of grades will have to appear before Honor Court.

One of the individuals disqualified has proven that he is not capahle of truth by the fact that his grade average had never been equal to the required grade level. This case should, by FSU honor system standards, be a case for the Honor Court.

Some of the persona involved just didn't know. Some candidates didn't even know what "the little ole Pow Wow" was. They had never read the constitution in the student handbook. Our representativea?

Two things have been proven in the campus-wide election. The spirit was keen and curiosity was pitched high during the voting and after the reaults were released. The spirit will continue over the finals it is hoped.

The second thing is that the party bloc failed so pitifully that the majority of students have just gotten a hig laugh at the whole affair.

It could have been serious, however, if the slate they selected had been swept into office without any impression made by the innocent, or is it ignorant, voter.

One more thing might be mentioned. The election committee has no set procedure to follow. Some definite elections laws should be written immediately so that the confusion and fuss of elections can be eliminated.

Credit should be given to Carl Epperson and his committee in the fine job they have done without election laws. They have been threatened with the work of running a new election. They have been bullied by some few individual office aeekers who seem to know the word. They have made their decisiona and they have been just.

But an election code must be written before this campus can expect a mature (?) election, party bloc or not.

● OUR POSITION

Settling, we hope, for all times the controversy between certain fraternity members and the Flambeau, we would like to clarify our position concerning the Curtis affair.

The Flambeau sincerely regrets the notoriety resulting from the necessity to mention personalities incurred in attempting to publiah the news, as we saw it, which would be of general interest to the student body.

We realize that Mr. Curtis was doubtless under severe mental strain resulting from the realization that he had erroneously and, no doubt, innocently miscounted his grade average. Further, because a matter which he and others had preferred to hide from general knowledge had preferred to hide from general knowledge had become known and would soon be opened to the puhlic.

We are deeply sorry that Mr. Curtis deemed it necessary to incur the time, effort and expense in order to present his version of an, at best, shameful occurrence. We fully agree with him that the proper organ of rebuttal should be the student paper, and regret he didn't submit his answer to us for puhlication under our "Letters to the Editor" column as we would have much desired printing it in the same issue as our report of the incident.

At the present, our policy remains unchanged. We still advocate the initiation of parties on the campus . . . open, aboveboard, constructive parties. Also, we shall continue to print in the Flambeau the news of the organization of such parties in the belief that they concern the students and are of interest to them.

We do not anticipate or desire further conflict with any indlvidual or groups of individuals, but that ahall not deter us from fulfilling our campaign promise to print the news for student consumption without withholding any part of same in the behalf of "special interest" groups. We are ashamed of our passive part in the Curtis affair and anticipating no further controversy over the matter are eager to let it drop.

● REGISTER

For the convenience of prospective new voters and the reinstatement of delinquent registrants for the May county, state and national elections, County Registration Supervisor Miss Hattie Coles has announced that her office is in the northwest wing of the County courthouse on South Monroe street.

She will keep her office open until midnight on the night of April 7, the final deadline for getting on the list of qualified voters. No one will be registered after that date to vote in the May 5 primary.

The task of going down to the courthouse for a few minutes is certainly a small one compared to the privilege of voting. Every eligible voter should make sure he is registered.

BEHIND THE IVY

WILL THIS GENERATION BE ANY BETTER

BY BOB TIPPINS

What are wa learning?

A great number of you who read this will soon be casualties of war . . . dead, because the vast majority of our fathers were inadequately equipped to administrate tha type of world they founded. It is now, in our formativa stages, that we should take atock of ourselves and attempt to discover the heritage we will leave our children. Will any children this generation may bequeath fare any better, or will their fate be a mere repetition of past generations?

A man will substitute his weapons when the ona he is using fails. When logic fails him in an intellectual argument he will use his fists, when a knife seems insufficient he will use a gun. It's high time we began equipping ourselves to better use tha not-so-deadly and disasterous tool of logic—that we began to think, to reason.

At most colleges in the nation, at this one, we have men training in ROTC units to follow a career of professional soldiering, the muscle America uses when its reasoning, its financial resources, its politicking and diplomacy fail. When this muscle isn't sufficiently atrong to conquer that of our adversary we recruit vitamins from the masses . . . and on, until all other resources are gone or forgotten, and, eventually, our muscle begins to eat muscle, and the body dies.

Students train to enter trades or professions so that they may later make money, realize a financial return on their investment of time. They neglect training themselvea to think, to think in world-wide scope, at least, leaving the management of their external affairs to the "politicians", then neglecting, through our idiotic, vain, subjective, neglected system of voting, to choose capable, competant, trained men to fill these positions. They are selected on the basis of their looks, their handshake, the advice of an uninformed friend, or the amount of advertisement space they purchase in the local paper. Membership in one of a particular set of churches is mandatory, therefore all hypocritical aspirants to power belong. A "sinless" life is a pre-requisite, consequently office-seekers attempt to cover their "sins", their opponents to uncover them. A preposterous, humiliating pampering of the adolescent voters is demanded, so vulgar politicians pamper. The more qualified men who abhor these concessions are, for tha most part, doomed to political oblivion.

Surely we, the present students of these universities, are nat the leaders of tomorrow. I sincerely pray there is a better qualified representation elsewhere. The writina on the walls of the university bathroom is only slightly more cultured than its counterpart in the most despicable af slums.

The new generation of scientists, like their predecessors, continue to produce their destructive-constructive scientific findinga with complete indifference and disregard to man's intellectual and psychological inability to comprehend and properly utilize them, and they blindly turn these over to man, disclaiming further responsibility . . . considering their duty completed in the finding—and with such a sickening backlog of precedents!

And colleges continue to mass-produce young money-makers without serious thought of properly equipping them intellectually or phychologically. The few, pitifully few, "radical", earnest conscientious educators who do attempt to feed and cultivate intellectually starved minds are censured, censored, and ignored until, aventually, the exhaustion of futility overcomes them, and they leave the profession or subscribe to the mores.

Restrictions on "freedom of thaught" now being gradually imposed npon Americans isn't so barrifying when one considers that most Americans don't think anyway. Millions af them, oddly enough, haven't even thought abont the restrictians of thought. And what matter if we can't openly express aur views, wban na one has any views to express. Wa are not being tauaht to use our imagination in free, constructive thought. We are not demanding to be so taught. We aren't trying to learn.

A solution, a panasea, I can't propose—only the suggestion that we begin to think, to look for a solution. Not one or a few of us, but everyone. Look inside ourselves, and outside. Objectively! Make a complete inventory. Then atock-up on the missing items, discard the useless ones, tradition, prejudices, and preconceived notions. Work with the unit and for the unit. Realize that our aystem of government will work if only, and only if we, all of us, but realize our individual and collective responsibilities. Wake-up and remember that we must save ourselves.

SEMINOLE SCENES

WHEN GASPARILLA HIT THE ROCKS . . .

By FRANCES CAWTHON

Anybody want to buy a boat?

A rather large one, painted red, black and white, is on sale now down in Tampa. It is equipped with sails, conventional portholes and even a flag.

The poor fellow wba used to cruise around in it, Don Jose Gasparilla, is temporarily out of a job. He only works once annually and in the meantime has a night watchman's post af haunting his buried treasnre sites to keep the aovernment from taking 88 percent of his loot.

I don't quite understand why this displaced pirate is selling his means of transportation. It will be most inconvenient if the crew has to swim Tampa Bay in order to capture the city Besides getting wet the buccaneers might have difficulty swimming while weighted down at the waist by their wives' paring knives and kitchen utensils. It would be more expedient to use motor boats, but that would kill all the romantic, colorful pageantry.

Of course, tha crew and its leader could revert back to the metbods used in the old days of the Tampa festival. Not long after the carnival was started, tha pirates took over the city on horseback. If they are going to do anything like that, thougb they can sack the whole idea for my money. Horses and pirates seem to go together just about as much a strawberry pie and sauerkraut. We miabt as well just go see a good Roy Rogers movie.

Gasparilla must surely be hitting the rocks I knew things wera bad all over, but I never thought the cost of living would become so great that he would be forced to get rid of his ship for some extra cash—especially with all that reportedly rich treasure he has stached away in our fine state.

On the other hand, maybe he is sellina it for a ship with all the latest equipment, possibly a war surplus. He probably tired of that one anyway, since he bas had it since 190-something. New ships are hard to capture these days as cannon balls aren't so very effectiva against bulwarks af steel plating.

Anyway, if any of you June graduates are looking for a business in which to get started—you might just try piracy. What with pricea so high nowadays, it wouldn't be too extreme an occupation. And just think: you can obtain a ship which has had years of experience . . .

• •

The campus seems to be undergoing its annoal Sprina bousecleanina. All the bushes are gettina hair cuts, now shrubs are beina planted and in general FSU is getting an overhanl job. I beard a rumor that three guys almost dicided to beat op some FSU maintenance men wba were giving the gates a base coat of arange. Seems as if they thonght they were U. of F. boys op to their usual tricks of painting FSU orange and blue.

"Platitude" in Christianity?

Mrs. L. C. Vass, Jr.

I would like to comment on a statement made in Stan Schmidt's "Campus Characters" in the February 29th issue of the Flambeau. "Intelligent faith . .

Some sigh for the paradise to come Ah, take the cash and let the credit go — Nor heed the rumble of a distant drum.

"Kinship with Khayam is supposedly a stage adolescents leave behind. Pardon me while I don my saddle shoes." "Maybe if they showed something but faith and platitudes . . ."

I challenge you on that sentence, Mr. Schmidt. As one of the speakers of IF Week on your campus I want to tell you a few things you do not know. We were not by nature, profession or habit "Theorists" who march up and down the land expounding "Faith and platitudes". Five of us were missionaries on furlough Our churches require us to spend one year out of every six trying to inform people like Mr. Schmidt what is going on outside the bounds of their own land. Just because you saw us dressed up for a few days does not mean that is all we do.

Is it a platitude to have a dozen little African babies brought to your doors several times a day for their bottles of formula babies orphaned because of the still current practices of witchcraft and ignorant mid-wifery? These babies have no claim on me as one in "kinship with Khayam". Mr. Schmidt is right in his statement that kinship with Khayam is a stage of adolescence. That is why Christianity in the United States is still wearing saddle shoea, kinship with Christ is maturity in its most stable creative form. Because of my kinship with Him those orphans have a claim on my powdered milk Karo syrup supply of baby bottles. Wake up, brother, to the fact that REAL FAITH DOES! What othera just talk about!

Is it a platitude to wear overalls every day but Sunday and SWEAT in tha African sun as you try to instill into school boys the principle of crop rotation, contour plowing, etc.? Is it a platitude to spend mnay hours a day directing classes in brick-making and brick-laying and in carpentry in a mission school. That is what missionaries do from misty dawn to radiant dusk. Brother, they serve with the sweat of their brows and callouses of their hands. Visit any Christian village in any mission field of the world where the essence of Christ's life and teachings have had time to permeate the social consciousness and Then say that the message of Christ is not relevant for the world today!

Is it a platitude to perform 498 major operations and 898 minor operations alone and unaided, the only doctor in a mission hospital, as my father did in a ten year period of time? Is it platitude to have discovered 10,530 new cases of African Sleeping Sickness, to have examined 61,584 patients for this disease, to have given 137,030 intravenous injections for the treatment o fit, as my father did in that same ten-year period? His reports on this disease are the basic text for its study in medical schools. Mr. Schmidt is possibly unaware of the contribution of medical missions to the knowledge and treatment of diseases of the world.

Is it a "platitude" to seek out the lepers and offer them home, food, loving care, and the possibility of someday being an "arrested case"? Is it a "platitude" to treat cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, hookworm, syphilis, yaws, tick fever, etc., indefinitely, not expecting in return one penny of fee . . . but using medical skill from the pure motive of Christ alone and not for personal gain?

A simple sincere faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour does change a man's heart. That is basic. It also washes his face and cuts his hair, puts a smile on his lips ,a light in his eyes and confidence into his step. It picks him up from the ground so that he sleeps on beds eats off tables that he has made himself. It increases the yield of his fields and puts more food on his table. It washes his clothes and gives him pride in his appearance. It picks his children from worms from their bodies and the itch from their skin. It bathes them and oils them and dresses them in clean little dresses that will be washed until they are threadbare. It brings family unity, marital harmony and spiritual community between husband and wife where age-old custom made the woman but the means to an end.

Lets face the fact brother! YOU'RE AFRAID OF CHRISTIANITY! You're afraid of its implications in your own life if you really take seriously all that it means. You're afraid of its implications in our world today if we really began to live the theories we only talked. I don't blame you. The meaning of the person of Jesus Christ for today is the same dynamite that it was in the first century. I've seen that person at work against the stark background of age-old cultures in Africa crumbling to dust today before the impact of swift industrialization. Each of us who spoke to yoo during "IF" Week has seen intelligent faith in action powered by Christ. Through Him we get the cash the credit too, and the parsdise to come as well. It's best that you heed that "rumble of a distant drum"!

PEEK AT THE GREEKS

Chapter Functions and Gay Parties Headline Past Week's Greek Scene

Phi Delta Theta's celebrated their Founders' Day, March 14, with a banquet which was followed by the presentation of the Phikela trophy to the best pledge, Bob Berto. Last Friday night they had a South Sea Island party. The Phi Delt's were entertained by the Theta's last Wednesday. That same day they lost to the Pi Kap's in an intermural football game. They are now making plens for Phi Delt weekend, April 18-19

New initiates of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are Sidney Haynes, Jerry Meyer, Tom Parker, Joe Wheat, Jack Bond, Bruce Donaldson, Joe Harris, Bill Stancik and George Martin.

Sigma Chi entertained the A D Pi's Wednesday night with a Water Front party. Moving picturea of the '51 and '52 Derbies were shown. Ken Jarrett was recently elected president of the pledge class.

Sigma Phi Epsilon held a party for the A O Pi's last Thursday. They were invited to a party at the Alpha Xi's house Wednesday

Theta Chi is having its annual Dream Girl Weekend. It will include a suppressed desire party, formal dance at the Legion Home and Sunday at the coast. Recent initiates include Ray McClelland, Doug Whiddon, Gene Meshew, Jim Dye, Fred Herold and Al Shuler.

The pledges of Alpha Xi Delta have planned a Mother-Daughter party for Saturday afternoon Last Monday night the mambers heard a talk by Pat Finney on the activities of the National Philanthropic Fund. They were urged to raise money for several schools in rural areas of Tennessee and Arkansas.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained the Phi Kappa Tau's at an informal party last Wednesday night. Pledges, Ann Anderson, Jane Wardlaw, Susan Finley, Irene Mantzanas, Joan Pearson, Charlote Nabors, Ann Pabers and Barbara Beares starred in a musical skit

TheKappa Delta's entertained the Theta Chi's at a Shipwreck party last night. An Easter egg hunt is being held for the Tallahassee Alumnae's children next Tuesday afternoon. The K D.'s are giving their support in working with the TB Mobile Unit.

Sigma Kappa was entertained by the ATO's at an informal party Thursday niaht.

The Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class of '51 beat the actives 22 to 8 in a softball game last Wednesday afternoon Sunday a large part of the chapter went to Bushnell to see the wedding of their sister, Barbara Caruthers, to Palmer Brooks of Dothan, Ala

Province IV Club Meeting Today

The Providence IV College section of the American Home Economics Association will hold its first meeting today at 9 a.m. in the Longmire auditorium.

Presiding will be Anne Lee Castleman, Province IV president, from the University of Miami. President Doak S. Campbell will extend a welcoming message to the convention delegates during the morning session.

Speaking on the theme of the workshop "Home Economics in Action" will be Dr. Mildred I. Morgan, professor in the home and family life department at FSU.

Main speaker at the luncheon today in the FSU Lafayette room will be Miss Marjorie Morrison, chief nutrition consultant, Florida State Board of Health. Her subject will be "The New for Young Home Economists in the American Home Economics Association."

Approximately 40 to 50 delegates from all colleges in Alabama and Florida having home economics courses will attend the conferences for this annual workshop program.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Editor

Babs Henry ... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ... News Editor
Associate Editor ... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Galphin
Sports Editor ... Tom Sands
Society Editor ... Marcia Morris
Assistant News Editor ... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ... Judy Simkins
Flambeau Photographer ... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ... Ann Harley
Assistants ... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni; Fa Pittman, Steve Zatyko

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-800, Ext. 631 second Floor, Alumni Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor . . .

Not A Part

Dear Mr. Editor:

Due to a misunderstanding, there seems to be some question as to whether or not the members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority are affiliated in any way with the fraternity voting bloc. We would like to clarify this aituation at once and hereby state that we are not associated in any way with the fraternity voting organization.

It has just been brought to our attention that the fraternity voting bloc has listed on its slate of candidatea for office several members of our sorority.

These members and the sorority as a whole would lika it understood by the student body that this was done without our approval and without the knowledge of the candidates.

These candidates are running independently on their own abilities and past records in school service.

Sincerely yours,
MEMBERS, KAPPA ALPHA THETA SORORITY.

Shipper's Reasons

Fellow Students

I cannot adequately express my gratitude to the members of my class for the great confidence which they placed in me Tuesday However, it seems that several other candidates and I made regrettable errors in the computation of quality points, and later discovered that we were technically unqualified to run.

Before entering the race I went to the Registrar's Office for a check of my average, but they handed me the permanent record and told me to work it out for myself. With the confusion of transposing quarter hours into semester hours and quarter quality points into semester quality points and evaluating a transcript from Florida Southern College, I arrived at an average which was suitable to qualify.

Other candidates made similar errors I have since discovered by the registrar's check that I missed the qualification mark by a narrow margin of 3/100th. Minor office candidates need a one point averaae to qualify while a higher mark is required for major positions. No bad marks marr my college academic record, just a lack of As and Bs last semester when I spent much time as Tally Ho Business Manager.

When I discovered my correct average, on Tuesday, I withdrew as a candidate for senior class president.

I understand that the Elections Committee is making arrangements with the Registrar to prevent similar recurrences.

The other candidate will make a diligent President for the Class of '53, and I will assist him in every possible way. Here's to a good year for John and the class.

Sincerely,
Bill Skipper.

Lunch Ticket Sale Still In Progress

Tickets are still on sale for the annual women's Sports Day luncheon to be held in the Women's gymnasium Saturday from 12 to 1:30 p.m. Boxes of fried chicken will be served.

Friday night from 8 to 10:30 p.m there will be a social held at Camp Flastacowo for all Sports Day participants. A bus will pick up the students in front of the Women's gymnasium at 7 15 p.m and will leave camp at 10:45 p.m

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Let's get serious . . .

We're carrying a good thing too far

The effort to eliminate graft, sponging and use of Government information for personal profit has developed into an incredible mish-mash of charges and counter-charges which can only weaken the faith of Joe Q American in his Government.

The situation has reached a state now where investigators themselves are being investigated (witness the questioning of newly appointed Special Investigator Morris about his law firm activities. Where this insensible binge will end nobody knows —but 8 to 5 there's a Committee investigating that too.

One of the worst effects of this investigative orgy is that fact that it allows loud-mouthed simpletons to sound off under the banner of 187% Americanism. Probably this breed of mealymouth has been substituting lung-power for brain-power since the dawn of time but he's got an audience now—and he's having a field day.

He specializes in hurling charges with often only the barest evidence. It doesn't matter whether he can prove the charges or not—anybody accused these days is guilty until proven innocent.

In many ways we have become Machiavelian, using something less than Democratic means to attain our end. Our end is worthwhile, is good, but is settina fire to the house the only way to rid yourself of lice in tha attic?

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
It's MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
Today and Saturday
"Here Comes the Groom" with BING CROSBY and JANE WYMAN

STATE
Today and Saturday
"The Cimarron Kid"
In Technicolor
with AUDIE MURPHY and YVETTE DUGAY

RITZ
Today and Saturday
"He's a Cockeyed Wonder"
with MICKEY ROONEY and TERRY MOORE
also
"King of the Bullwhip"
with LASH LaRUE and JACK HOLT

DRIVE-IN
Today and Saturday
"Captain Blood"
with Errol Flynn and Olivia deHavilland
also
with GENE AUTRY
"The Old West"

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

Seminoles Face Miami This Afternoon

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

SLAMMIN' SONNEY—Whether or not Florida State's Sonny Tinney wins the State amateur tourney now underway in Jacksonville, one thing's certain—his victory over the University of Florida's Dan Sikes in the second round Wednesday gave him undisputed rank as the State's number one collegiate golfer.

Tinney, the pair busting linkster from Tallahassee went against the major league pitchins star Russell yesterday in the second.

The youngest player in the field at 21, Tinney carries a mean putter and put it to good advantage in shooting a two-under par 70 for a one up win over Sikes who had a respectable 72.

The Seminole star won last year became the first competitor to win the state intercollegiate title twice in a row even bore the brunt of his expenses to Jacksonville.

The diamond faithful that filled nearly every nook and cranny of Perkins memorial field to view Wednesday's exhibition contest between Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phillies were treated to a thrilling ball-game—the home of unbelievable catch, the bone-setting play, and the brief but spirited baserunning.

The homer, of course, was supplied by the Phils' rookie third Clark in the second inning to advertise drive that dropped in front of the football press box in the left-center stands.

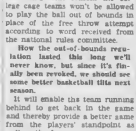
The Phillies' talented center-fielder Richie Ashburn, turned in a fielding gem of the afternoon in the fifth frame when he raced full in a long blast by Sam Jethroe that had extra-base written all over it.

Then in the eighth inning we witnessed one of the most unusual plays we have seen and likely be ever see. With two outs and Stan Lopata on third, and Ashburn on second, Willie Jones, the long ball hitting Phil third sacker, sent a routine grounder down to Ed Mathews, the Braves' rookie shortstop. Mathews however, decided to nail Ashburn who had lit out for third. It was then that we witnessed a perfect piece of baseball we had ever seen. Ashburn weaved, scooted and dodged between three Braves and then dodged hold of second but the unwitting Jones had gotten some ideas and was already on third.

George Crowe, taking no chances tagged out both of the Braves and the umpire was finished. While all this was going on Lopata had ambled on home practically unnoticed with Ashburn third and final run. It sure rais Ashburn displayed some of the baserunning that makes him one of the majors' most feared denizens of the new 10-foot baseballs, but Mathews could have solved it all had he tossed the ball over to first.

The Seminole baseballers are scheduled to get their second taste of professional competition in as many years here next Tuesday when they go against Allentown (Pa.) of the Class A eastern loop.

And if the Indians come anywhere as near as close to their smashing 16-6 victory over the Tallahassee Citizens last year, then there shouldn't be anything left to be desired.



However, since the Citizens were supposed to be of the Class D variety and the Allentown club is a Class A outfit, that's not likely to happen.

Anyhow, the tilt is noteworthy in the fact that it will give Florida State fans a chance to observe for themselves just how good the Seminoles are, besides watching some fine baseball.

Starting next season, the college cage teams won't be allowed to play the ball out of bounds in place of the free throw attempt according to word received from the national rules committee.

How the out-of-bounds regulation lasted this long we'll never know, but since it's finally been revoked, we should see some better basketball this next season.

It will enable the team running behind to get back in the game and thereby provide a better game from the fans' standpoint as well as the fans.

Sonney Tinney par buster delux

Patronize Our Advertisers

Indians Seek Seventh Win

The Florida State University baseball team will go after its seventh win of the young season when they face the University of Miami Hurricanes this afternoon on Centennial field starting at 2:30.

The two teams will meet again tomorrow night at 7:30.

Coach Ralph Matheny's charges have defeated Kenyon and Loyola twice, Amherst once, while splitting a pair with the University of Georgia.

MATHERLY NOMINATED veteran righthander Ed Sessions to hurl this afternoon with lefty Chuck Sanders coming back in tomorrow night's tilt.

Sessions, starting this third year as a front line pitcher has hooked seven in two Seminola this year, while Sanders has one win and no losses to his credit. Sessions received credit for the opening win over Kenyon, but took a shelling in his next start against Georgia.

SANDERS, who went the route against Amherst, has given up only 3 runs and nine hits in the 14 innings that he has worked.

The returns have been equal, coached by Eddie Dunn, has most of its regulars returning from the 1951 squad that won 12 and lost only seven.

Miami has its entire 1951 outfield back for another season, three-fourths of its infield plus a veteran catcher and receiver experienced pitchers.

DUNN is expected to counter Sessions and Sanders with the three vets—Leo Deardorff, and Leo Boyle—both right-handers and lefty Frank Hand. Deardorff and Boyle won five games between them last season while Hand, pitching mostly in relief, did not win or lose a decision.

Outfielder Charlie Smith was the leading hitter last year batting the returning regulars with a .346 average

The Hurricanes who have played exhibition games with professional teams training in the Miami area have played only six games thus far—losing twice to the Parris Island marines.

Symphonic Concert Called 'Intriguing'

By C. M. CARROLL

An intriguing blend of the familiar and the new in band music characterized the concert of the FSU Symphonic Band, presented in the Opperman Music Hall Wednesday evening. Under the baton of Robert T. Beausnagel, the Band demonstrated its versatility in a wide range of musical styles and moods.

Although several of the pieces ranked in the "familiar" class, their appearance as band numbers was new—at least to this reviewer. All of them sounded very much at home in the band timbres, aided, no doubt, by the routine performance accorded them by the band.

Jackson Scarborough, James Belote and Calvin Hasbrouck were the featured soloists of the evening performing "The Three Trumpeters" by Arnoulni. The music provided ample opportunity for the display of the trumpeter's stock in trade, fanfares and brilliant tonguing, and the trio of musicians rose to the occasion admirably.

It was in the "new" music of the program, and Vincent Persichetti's "Divertimento for Band," in particular, that the band produced some of its best work of the evening. Threading its way through violent cross-rhythms and strident melodies, the band produced music where Mr. Persichetti promised scarcity. A march, "Sky-Riders," was added as an encore to a well-programmed and well-played concert.

Fifth Conference On Nursing Held

The fifth semi-annual conference on Nursing Education being held in Tallahassee is going into its second and last day today.

The conference was sponsored by the Florida State Board of Nurse Registration and Nursing Education in co-operation with members of the FSU faculty. The purpose of the meeting is to help the schools of nursing in the state develop a common philosophy of guidance. Approximately 160 delegates, representing 16 Florida Schools of Nursing are attending the convention which was held in the state capitol.

Senior Hall Men Celebrate Weekend

Over 30 Senior hall residents and dates attended an all-day picnic at Wakulla Springs last Saturday. A combo of members of "The Regents" provided music for the dance held last Friday night in Longmire auditorium.

The weekend was the first of its kind held by the Men's Senior hall.

Movies are shown every Tuesday night at Senior hall at 7:30. New visiting hours for ladies will be announced soon according to Gene Kirchoffer, Senior hall president.

Edgerton
CHOPS FOR HF
Style 9174
VARSITY Last Unlined
Shoe

Edgerton Lace Lazees

The unlined softness and "cupped heel" construction of Edgerton Ghw Leather Lazees will give you luxurious comfort that lass longer. Priced attractively . . . why don't you try a pair?

NEW NEUTRAL "SAND-TAN" COLOR

Turner's

FSU Cindermen Slate Meet With Davidson Tomorrow

Coach Ken Miller's trackmen went on the road loss night with the destination Davidson College and the season's first full-length meet, a dual affair to take place tomorrow.

FRESHMAN RUNNER—Bill Wagoner, a freshman halfmiler is one of the outstanding runners on the Seminole track team. He will be favored in the half-mile event when FSU tangles with Davidson tomorrow.

Although a handful of Indian runners and field men have already competed in the Southern and Florida Relays, this is the baptism of fire for the '52 squad as a whole.

The Seminole spredatrax, who lost only to Duke in '51 while chalking up a 5-1 record, nevertheless anticipate no pushover in Saturday's contest.

Davidson gave FSU a terrific scare here last year, losing out by the margin of a single event, the climatic mile relay.

Captain John Forbes, who holds FSU's sprint records, and Woody Parker, quarter-mile flash, are State's big threats on a squad that boasts a number of individual stars but whose depth is questionable.

Freshmen Bill Wagoner, middle-distance runner, and Tampa's Carlos Fraundorfer, all-around competitor concentrating on the 440 and pole vault, are potential point-getters upon whom Miller is counting heavily.

The rest of the squad has to be forecast tentatively.

100 yard dash—Poston, Harvey Haverty, Fraundorfer.

220 yard dash—Poston, Parker, Dick Hurst.

440 yard dash—Parker, Mize, Peter Nimkoff.

880 run—Wagoner, Jack Koonce.

Mile run—Wagoner, Eddy Kneen.

Two mile run—Kucera, Kenneth Jarrett.

Mile relay—Undecided.

Low hurdles — Julian Hurst, Mann Mollnow, Haverty.

High hurdles—Hurst, Mollnow

Broad jump—Fraundorfer, Paul Sarapuru.

Broad jump — Fraundorfer, Grage

Pole vault—Joe Fracassi, Walter Grage.

Discus—Sebrina, Fraundorfer, Parker.

Javelin—Bill Whaley.

Shot put—Tom Sebring, Fraundorfer.

Golfers Face Mercer Bears Here Tomorrow

The growl of the Mercer Bear will echo around the fairways here tomorrow morning when Florida State University's Seminole golf team will attempt to set a bear trap for the Georgia boys.

Minus the calculated clubbing of Sonny Tinney, the FSU linksmen fought to stay on the right side of the won-lost ledger Thursday afternoon when they came face to face with the Rollins College Tars here.

Number one golfer Sonny Tinney missed the Rollins match as he was playing in the state amateur tournament at Jacksonville. Jimmy James, Tom Cumbie, Sammy Brown, Juds Dunfee, Frank Hurt and Gene Meshew made up the Seminole squad for Thursday's meet.

The Indians have met six opponents this spring, winning from Rollins, Stetson and Georgia Tech, losing to Georgia, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, and The Citadel. The team finished third in the Florida Intercollegiate tournament at DeLand as Sonny Tinney won individual honors.

FSU Netters Whip Mercer

Tom Babione, husky Senior from Fremont, Ohio, has been elected captain of the Florida State University tennis team.

Coach Don Loucks, in announcing results of the squad's election, praised Babione as a fine leader and one of the hardest working players on the Florida State team.

Babione has been a letterman on Florida State Dixie Conference championship teams the past two years. He will be used mostly in doubles play this season, according to Coach Loucks.

After whipping Mercer 6-3 on Wednesday, the Indian racquet men will meet the fine team of their three-game road trip yesterday when they matched strokes with the Georgia Bulldogs.

The Indian invaders this today at Emory University in Atlanta.

Next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday FSU will dig in for a three-day stand at home against a Yankee onslaught from Michigan, Ohio and Dayton.

The summaries:

Singles—Jim Berry, FSU, defeated Sellers, Parker 6-3, 6-3; Keith Benning, Mercer, defeated Tom Cundy, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4; Joe Harris, FSU, d e f e t e d Burt Schwartz, 6-3, 6-4; Dave Kennedy, FSU, defeated Charlie Rogers, 6-4, 6-3; Harris Findlay, Mercer, defeated Jack Egan, 3-6, 6-6, Dan Bola, FSU, defeated Tommy Knotts, 6-2, 6-1,

Doubles—Berry and Egan, FSU, defeated Parker and Benning 3-6, 6-1, Harris and Kennedy, FSU, defeated Rogers and Chaffin, 8-0, 6-3, 6-4, Schwartz and Knotts, Mercer, defeated Boda and Babione, 6-4 6-4

Women's Sports

The ODD basketball team swept the first tournament game from the EVENS by a 34-32 score in the women's gymnasium on Monday, March 31, as EVEN Captain Pat Crum scored 15 EVEN points, while ODD forward, scored 13 ODD points to be the high men on each team.

The EVENS started the ball at center and took an early 6-4 lead in the first quarter. Rose Alvarez made two baskets and teammate Charlotte West added another EVEN ringer for the six points.

The ODDS took the ball in the second quarter and their forwards had difficulties in finding the basket. ODDS scored only six more points while the EVENS ten more points to their score as Cru mmade four baskets and West one.

As the second half began the ODDS were behind by a 16-12 score. The ODDS began to connect as Bramlett scored seven points, Webb four, and Chapman two. The EVENS, being guarded by man-to-man method by the ODDS were able to score only four points in the third quarter and the ODDS went ahead to a 23-20 lead.

In the final quarter it was "nip and tuck" as the EVENS scored twelve points and the ODDS ten. Joan Webb, ODD forward made the winning basket on Sissy Chapman's pass to clinch the ODD victory a few seconds before the end of the game.

The ODD starting line-up looked like this: Athanason, Haynes and Payne forwards; Presnell, Gerdeman and Ouard, Guards. The EVENS were: Mickler, Lassiter and Erickson guards, West, Crum and Alvarez, forwards.

The women's athletic "F" Club elected new officers for the following year. Joan Webb was elected president; Anna Athanason, vice-president; June McGill, secretary; Pat Poston, recording secretary; Pat Marun, parliamentarian.

* * *

The ODD ten badminton team defeated the EVENS in the badminton tournament for a 7-0 score. The results were singles, Sally Maynord defeated Carolyn Henry; Marty Staley beat Shirly Knight; Janice Austin defeated Mary Ann Batchelor; Rye Starbird beat Mary Ann Siemon in straight sets and Cullum defeated Batchelor and Powell, Paris and Brown beat Siemon and Bryant; Lippke and Thorpe defeated Martin and Minna.

Oak Ridge Scientist To Speak April 7

Another Oak Ridge scientist will speak in a chemistry seminar at Florida State University Dr. John A. Swartout, acting director of the laboratory's Neutronics Reactor Project, will talk on "Research in Nuclear Chemistry" Monday, April 7, at 4:30 p.m.

Mary Louthan
FOR JUNIOR CLASS
PARLIAMENTARIAN

TENNIS COACH—Donald Loucks is back at the helm of the FSU tennis team after a one year layoff. Coach Loucks was granted a leave of absence last year to work on his doctorate degree.

Gerald Ryan Gives Final Talk Today

Gerald Ryan, director of Administrative Services, will leave today after giving his final lecture to students in Public Administration "Case Study of a Federal Department" class.

Ryan will conclude his lecture series on the administrative services in the U. S. Department, at 10 a. m. in room 13 of the Music building. According to Dr. Wilson K. Doyle, head of the Public Administration Department, anyone interested may attend.

Ryan is the seventh Department of Commerce official to appear before the School of Public Administration students. Ryan was awarded the Gold Medal for Meritorious Service by Secretary Sawyer on Feb. 15, 1951.

Chemistry Prof Cited For Oak Ridge Work

Dr. Raymond K. Sheline received recognition recently in the Oak Ridge Institute "News Letter" after completing five months of research work in the Chemistry Division at Oak Ridge. Dr. Sheline is an associate professor of Chemistry at Florida State.

Dr. Sheline has made progress in three research projects, the "News Letter" article stated.

"The FSU instructor discovered the isotope phosphorus, 33, while doing research at the Institute for Nuclear Studies of the University of Chicago.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
103 S. Monroe

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
Cameron's Texaco Service Station
Formerly Moats Service Station
566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Take your hat 'n goat and scr-r-am!" Sheedy's girl said. "I won't give you a date, but your hair sure grows into a fully-laugh." But-but-but-" he bawled. And she, "Haven't you herd of Wildroot Cream-Oil? For well-groomed hair it can't be bleat! No-n alcoholic Contains Lecithin Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Relieves dryness. Removes loose dandruff." So Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now every gal wants to horn in on his sone! Beter mak 75¢ out of your roommate and herd it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter. Buy Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. And ask for it on your hair next time you goat to your favorite barber shop. Then no other goat will get your sanny!

* of 1315 Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Buy Your Easter Cards Now

- TEE SHIRTS
- PLUSH ANIMALS
- SCHOOL SUPPLIES
- FILM DEVELOPING

"WE BUY USED BOOKS"

Malones Co-op Bookstore

Beetle Bailey

SWEET SHOP

701 W. Jefferson

Wesley Players to Present Play With Easter Theme This Sunday

By LOUETTA RILEY

The Methodist Wesley players lead the week's events in the religious houses this week while discussions, speakers, and a revival head other group schedules.

The Wesley Players of Wesley Foundation will present their annual Easter play, "He Is the Son of God" Sunday night at the Fellowship program beginning at 6:15. The cast includes Terry Stein, Hazel Bryant, Phoebe Jackson, Richard Hutton, Wally Dynes and Dave Pinson.

TONIGHT square-dancing and ping-pong are the entertainment for Methodist students at Wesley Foundation. Each person is to bring two eggs to prepare for the Easter egg hunt to be held at Lafayette Park tomorrow afternoon at 3.

The Quaker group, which has recently been organized on campus, is meeting every Sunday morning at 9 at the home of Dr. John Crist, 325 Hull Drive. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

CLARENCE McIntyre, Jo Roehrig and Paul Soraparu are in charge of the preparations for the Newman Club supper Sunday night at 8 at the Newman house.

"Skepticism" will be the topic for discussion of Gamma Delta Lutheran student organization, Sunday evening at 7 in the Lonemire building, second floor lounge.

Disciple Student Fellowship will have Mr. Richard H. Kremer for their guest speaker Sunday evening following "Dine-a-mite" at 5:30. His topic will be "Christianity and Marriage."

RECORDINGS of Bach's "St Matthews Passion" will be heard at Huge hall on Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 7. Following the musical program Chaplain Morley will close the Lenten series in a discussion on "Pain, Sickness, and Religion."

Dr. W. H. Rogers, professor of English, will present an Easter program at Westminster Fellowship Sunday evening at 8:30.

On Thursdays at 5, Dr. William Martin, minister of the Presbyterian Church, is leading the Theology Hour at the Westminster Fellowship house.

The Baptist Revival, which has been underway all this week at the First Baptist Church, will come to a close with services on Sunday.

Art Seminar Held

(Continued from Page 1)

Dr. Claude R. Flory, of the English department, Dr. James V. of anthropology and archaeology, McDonough and Adolph Karl, both of the department of art.

In addition to the speakers, the Faculty String Quartet composed of Robert Sedore, Les Baker, Eugene Crabb, and Owen F. Sellers will present a concert of Rococo and Romantic Music.

THE LAST NIGHT of the art program the speech department of FSU will present an eighteenth-century play, "The Mistress of the Inn" by Carlo Goldoni, in the newly installed Venetian theater. The play is under the supervision of Dr. George A. McCalmon.

From Sarasota many of the students who attend the seminar will go directly to their homes since April 16 marks the beginning of the spring vacation.

Professor Edwin R. Lewandowski, head of the department of art is in charge of general arrangements for the five day conference.

Run-Offs Necessary

(Continued from Page 1)

Fryer, 121, are still contesting secretary, while Ann Crownover, 130, and Petrea Campbell, 127, remain in the contest for treasurer.

June McMillan beat Sue Schock for social chairman, 254 to 97. Mary Louthan, 102, and Bette Snyder, 83, are paired for parliamentarian.

MORE FRESHMEN went to the polls and decided fewer offices than in any other class. Only race not going into run-offs is men's council where Wayne Terry, 294, Donnie Hollis, 242, and Gene Lawler, 226, won a combined majority over their four opponents.

Women's senate run-offs will be contested by Joan Dozier, 185; Lois Strupp, 173; Charis Coulter, 172; Shirley Traxler, 140; Wolene Barmore, 90; and Mary Ann Sperry, 78. These are the six leading candidates from a field of 16.

OPPOSING EACH OTHER for vice-president in the run-off will be JoAnn Hutto, 104; and JoAnne Setzer, 89, the leading candidates in a field of eight.

Joan Mikesell, 168, and Dot Wells, 154, eased past Joyce Carn and Marian Mattair for secretary. Bissy Smith, 100, and Dot Johnson, 145, remain in the race for treasurer from a field of six while Mary Grace Shoemaker, 228, and Judy Ash, with 288, oppose each other for social chairman and Frances Heims, 226 and Pro Pinson, 139, oppose each other for parliamentarian.

IN THE JUDICIAL system elections, only two races failed to be decided, Tommy Bowen, 617, Jim Smith, 364; John Buckley, 292, and John E. Shaeffer, 251, will contest the two positions as senior men's representatives to University Court in the Tuesday run-offs. Lillian Ayss, 581; Carolyn Johnson, 538; Sara Whitehead, 349; Patricia Polson, 286; Sue Humphrey, 290, and Dorothy Cooke, 391, will be on Tuesday's ballot to decide the three women's sophomore judiciary representatives.

In the other races, Ellen Avis and Frankie Brownlee were elected junior women's University Court representatives. Bob Wodrich and Richard Jackson and Nannette McLain were elected to junior representatives to University Court.

FOR JUDICIARY, Charles DeWit Jones James R. Chatham, and David Hamlin. Don Douglas, Joan Webb and Sallie Grant were elected senior representatives. Kinzman Britain and James Crowther were the only two junior Men's Judiciary representatives to be decided, since the third candidate, George Falver, was disqualified.

Bill Siancik, Bob Foley, and Ray Rogers were elected sophomore men's representatives.

Steve Bailey and George Martin were elected unopposed as junior and sophomore representatives to traffic court, respectively.

According to Carl Epperson, head of the publications committee, all students who turned in pictures for the class elections who are not in the finals may pick up their photographs at the UGA office in Lonemire between 3 and 5 p.m. Those pictures not picked up by Monday evening will be thrown away.

ISN'T SHE CUTE! Mexsalie Crespo, left, FSU student from Puerto Rico, displays her hand made Spanish dress to a group preparing for the annual Spanish Week-End today and tomorrow. Left to right are Dolly Aiken, Lawrence Davidson, Dr. Margaret Campbell and Mrs. Lois Boggs. Standing left to right are Dr. O. Lincoln Canfield, and Miss Carmen Rivera, FSU faculty member of the committee in charge. Registration begins this afternoon.

Business Meeting Held Tuesday

The newly formed club for recreation majors, the American Recreation Society, met Tuesday for a short business meeting and social hour.

The officers which have been elected are president, Ann Strickland; vice president, Tom Edwards; secretary, Joan Wilson; treasurer, Betty Whitmire, and program chairman, Delilah Ashmore.

Smith Lectures

(Continued from Page 1)

arts, which he classed as music, drama, painting, poetry and literature.

He added that every human being has the desire to express the sense of beauty and that during a war for instance, when conflict is great, many soldiers write poetry.

HUMOROUSLY, he told of a person that had required his car and at the time he had admired his ability to hear the engine and find the trouble.

The workman, during the conversation, replied that he was an artist.

"A MAN THAT WORKS with his hands, is a laborer; the workman side of it. A man that works with his hands and head is a craftsman," he continued, "But a man that works with his hands, head, and heart is an artist. I am an artist."

He condemned Russia's desire to reinment all that was not expressive of the Communist ideal of beauty. Beauty is expressed in many forms," Dr. Smith stated.

IN HIS FINAL lecture Dr. Smith spoke to an over-capacity crowd on "The Lure of Ideals with Russia.

Smith presented what he considered the major issue between the United States and Russia.

It is not, as some people say, the conflict between an idealistic nation and a materialistic nation; it is the conflict between two diversely idealistic states.

NOR CAN AMERICA base its argument with Russia on the matter of religion. Smith said, for to do so would be contrary to our constitution, which guarantees the freedom of or from religion.

Smith again pointed to the constitution in saying we cannot base our differences on economic policy. The constitution does not set down a dogma on economics, he noted, and so practically every community in the nation one can find all sorts of ownership, from completely private to completely group-owned.

THE REAL CONFLICT with Russia, Smith thought, is that Americans are allowed a free conscience, while Russians are dictated what they must believe in art, politics, science, economics and virtually everything.

Leave man the captain of his soul Smith pleaded.

Open House Is Held

Gilchrist hall will hold an informal open house tonight following the free movie "Four Feathers." The open house will begin at 8 in the dormitory parlor with refreshments and dancing on the evening's agenda.

Confusing Election

(Continued from Page 1)

ston, except class president, which requires a 1.3 average.

Curtis, who has denied the Election Committee permission to reveal the number of his votes polled an estimated 160 votes in the soph presidential race. Phoebe Jackson, 192, and Bob Canada, 139, will contest next Tuesday's run-off.

The other three disqualified candidates are Polly Lassiter, leader in the race for junior class vice-president, George Fryer, junior judiciary candidate, and Phil Springer, candidate for sophomore senator.

Lassiter, who stated her correct average on her qualification blank, polled 191 votes to 114 for Aida Bourland and 79 for Gene Tuano.

Fryer's disqualification leaves an incomplete slate for judiciary, since only three had qualified. Springer placed fifth in the sophomore senate race.

FSU Prof. Heads Biology Committee

Dr. Samuel L. Meyer, head of the botany department, is chairman of the research committee for the thirteenth annual meeting of the Association of Southeastern Biologists to be held at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Ga., April 18-19.

The department of bacteriology will be represented by Dr. Anna Pates; the department of botany by Dr. Ruth Breen, Dr. Herman Kurz, Miss Marly Livingston, Dr. Grace Madsen and Dr. Kenneth Wagner; and the department of zoology by Mr. William Harris, Jr.

The meeting will be a joint meeting of the Association with the Southeastern Section of the Botanical Society of America, the Southern Appalachian Botanical club, and the Biology Section of the Georgia Academy of Science.

Real Estate Talk Given

Mr. W. H. Poe, general counselor of the Florida Real Estate commission will speak on his field to students.

Tuesday, April 8, in the Lonemire auditorium at 1:30 p. m.

Poe is one of Florida's outstanding real estate authorities and his talk is of general interest

WEEK-END SPECIAL
Fresh Strawberry Shortcake with Whipped Cream
14c
Royal Hawaiian Sundae
22c
MECCA

"Easter Is for Men Too"

Check Your Needs for Easter Finery at Your Favorite Store
Alford's

- CAMPUS TOGS—Suits . . . Sportcoats . . . Slacks
- McGREGOR—Sportcoats . . . Slack . . . Shirts
- ARROW AND MANHATTAN—Shirts . . . Ties
- JARMAN AND FLORSHEIM—Shoes

Look Your Best — Feel Your Best at Easter and Through the Year With Quality Clothes From

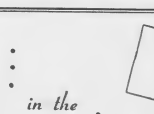
Alford Brothers
212 SOUTH MONROE ST.

Dear Diary:
if my hands
tremble, here's why

"Ha did it—yes, he proposed! My love for him grew even greater if possible; when he slipped the engagement ring on my finger. Such good taste —such a beautiful choice. I'm really in love!"

Note to "him"—Drop in, you'll like our special values.

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS
Anywhere Your Money Is Good



Just Right for the Coast
This Beautifully Styled
Swim Suit
With Straps or Without
• BLUE • MAIZE
• BLACK
$12.95

FRENCH SHOP

Patronize Our Advertisers

Dine with us
in the
Amber House
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

Objective tests—true, false and such—They really make me squirm. Just one thing's true—those Lucky Strikes Are fully packed and firm!

David A. Barron
University of Miami

Be Happy-
GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference— and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

To ease the stress of worldly cares
And worries caused by haste—
Just smoke a soothing Lucky Strike
That says 'em all in taste!

Peter C. Thompson
Dartmouth College

When out of favor in "men's eyes"
As good old Shakespeare writes,
Pull out some Luckies—you'll get friends
Before your match ignites!

Douglas Geymer
University of Portland

*L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
"AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES"

Florida Flambeau

VOL. XXXVII, No. 45 — PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA — Tuesday, April 8, 1952

Write-In Vote Declared Legal in Election Today

Ryals, Salyers Join Lattner In Race For President of Next Senior Class

BY GENE LAWLER

Write-in votes will be legal in the run-offs of the class ed judiciary elections being held today to decide 17 races left unsettled by the primaries last Tuesday.

Although write-ins are permitted for all offices, the one race in which a substantial number is expected is that of senior class president, which was thrown open by the withdrawal of Bill Skipper last week. John Lattner, who ran well behind Skipper in the primary, is the only candidate listed on today's ballot. Principal candidates for on write-in tickets however, are Bob Ryals and Jere Salyers.

WRITE-IN-BALLOTS were officially recognized by the Executive Council at a special meeting last night. The body approved a resolution introduced by Carl Iverson, election committee chairman. The resolution states that a write-in vote shall be legal and that any qualified candidate receiving over 50 per cent of the votes cast shall be declared elected.

The offices of vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the senior class are also being contested today. Blue Baker and Bill Cumbie oppose each other for vice president, while Skippers Brewton opposes Sally Kennedy and Jane Shepard opposes Lize Cooke for secretary and treasurer, respectively.

IN THE JUNIOR CLASS, Aida Bourland and Gene Turane are contesting the office of vice-president. Results of the scheduling action of Polly Lassiter, the leader in last week's primary.

Sherman Mullis and Betty Sue Fryer are on the ballot for secretary and treasurer, while Petrea Campbell remain in the contest for treasurer. Mary Lou Hanan and Bete Snyder are pitted for parliamentarian.

THE SOPHOMORE class office not being contested in today's election is that of Men's Senator. Jim Mowery and Jim Donnie Hollis, and Gene Lawler last week.

Bob Canada takes Charles Curtis's place on the run-off ballot for sophomore senator because of the latter's withdrawal for last week's primary. Canada opposes Jim Hamilton for senator in the primary.

Jo Ann Hurlo opposes JoAnne Selzer for vice-president.

JOAN MIKESELL and Don Shoemaker oppose Secretary and Treasurer Judy Smith is running against Don Johnson for treasurer. Mary Lou Shoemaker is running against Judy Ash for social chairman, while Barbara Hines opposes Poo Parson for parliamentarian.

Freshmen have a choice of six tickets in the run-off elections. Candidates for Women's Senate Candidates are Joan Dixon, Cis Scoggin, Chris Coulter, Shirley Traylor, Wylene Barmore and Mary Ann Spencer.

Only two Judicial System offices are in the run-off ballot. Bob Brown, Jim Smith, John Buckley, and John Shaeffer are running for Commissioner of Student University Court, while Lillian Avis, Carolyn Johnson, Sara Wyatt, head, Phebe Folsom, Sue Humphrys and Dorothy Cooke are running for Sophomore Judiciary

WSSF Group Meets

The next meeting of the World Student Service Fund committee is scheduled for April 17 in 211 Music building at 3 p.m. Organizations which have not sent representatives to the last meeting are asked to send a member to the April 17 session.

Local Vocalists Plan Concert For Tomorrow

Young vocalists in the Tallahassee schools will present a concert tomorrow night under the direction of Professor Lois Schnoor of the school of Music.

The second concert of its kind this year, the school performances will be given in the Opperman Music hall at 8:15 p.m.

THE STUDENTS have been rehearsing after school hours in the music building. The chorus was named by Miss Schnoor with the exception of Miss Carolyn Ocean, county supervisor of music, and Mrs. Mildred Wooten and Mrs. Ellen Hicks, music teacher in Kate Sullivan and Carolyn Howard schools.

Accompanist for the group is Roland Mullis, music graduate student. Mary Ann Bohlaver and Eunice Waschek, violinists, are appearing in tomorrow night's performance.

THE PROGRAM includes pieces by Romberg, Bach Mendelssohn, Handel, and has folk songs for the feminine voice in its repertoire.

America, the Beautiful," by Samuel Ward-Peter Dykema and Richard Rodgers's "Your Land and My Land" are the first selections tomorrow. "Come Let Us to the Bagpipes Sound" is Peasant Cantata" by J. S. Bach is slated.

PART TWO includes Felix Mendelssohn's "How Lovely Are the Messengers from "St. Paul" and Engelbert Humperdinck's "The Children's Prayer," and Geoge Frederick Handel's "Angels Ever Bright and Fair" and C. H. Hohmann's "Song of Praise".

Summer Is Icumen In", Rise up O Flame," "We Merry Minstrels Be Gaily" and "Sweet and Low" present a lighter note in the closing part. A Hungarian Folk Song and Richard Wagner's "Pilgrim's Chorus" will follow intermission.

THE FINAL PART presents two scenes with an English folk song, "On Dear, What Can the Matter Be" and "Greensleeves" also called "Shuckin" of the Corn." The American contribution is "Down-Le-Derry" both followed by a Czech folk song, "Softly Breathe the Night Wind." The last song, "Pieta," and Stephen Foster's "Gentle Annie" are from the classical and folk repertoire.

Mercer-McLeod's "The Cloudy Day" will be followed by a Hebrew folk song and, a Swiss folk song which are "Tumba Tumba" and "Frolicsome" respectively.

Local Stores Hold Contest To Find FSU Mr. Formal

Local stores are sponsoring a search for Mr. Formal on the Florida State University April 21, Miss prize will be a complete "After Six" Summer formal outfit.

Charles Mendelson's, Alford's, and P. W. Wilson, local concert stores, will sponsor contestants. Each member of the winning team also receives beer mugs emblazoned with the insignia from the makers of "After Six" formal wear.

THESE preliminary events are part of a national contest sponsored by the makers of "After Six." The winner will be eligible to take part in the national contest for the title of "Mr. Formal U. S. A."

Top prize in the big contest is a $500 Savings Bond, plus two trips to New York for all expenses paid during which he'll make a round of night clubs and parties, dress and escort queens of America's most glamorous beauties. He also has a chance at a screen test for a Hollywood movie studio.

APPLICATIONS for the contest will be made available at Florida's college organizations, fraternities, sororities and independent groups. Each group may enter a team of from 15 to 20 men from the Florida campus. Judging will take place at one of the four stores sponsoring the contest in Tallahassee. The teams will be on the new "After Six" dinner jacket and select their contestants for the final judging at 8 PM during the week of May 16.

For further information, organizations are asked to contact Jere Chaloner at the Flambeau office or call 2-1709

Graduates May Voice Opinion On Part in UGA

Four Questions Asked On Role Grads Want In Student Government

A preferential ballot for graduate students today will determine whether they desire a voice in their student government.

The graduates are to ask for their special ballots when they go to the two precincts, one in Lower Westcott and one in the Seminole Dinning Hall.

TODAY'S POLL will ask: "Do you pay the student activity fee?" "Do you feel that you should have a vote in University Government elections?" "Do you feel that you should be represented in the UGA Senate?" "Would you be willing to take an active role in UGA?"

The remaining two questions are if "If the answer to No. 1 or No. 2 or No 3 is 'Yes,' would you be willing to vote by the UGA resolutions? and then "Are there any other comments?"

STUDENT SENATE action last Tuesday brought about the possibility for the preferential ballot.

Senior Sen. Ignacio Sved moved that for consideration be given or granted power to present the question of participation to the graduate students in the fall class election The motion was passed along with the addition of a special election be held to ratify the amendments passed by the Faculty Review Board up to the time of the election.

THE MAIN ARGUMENTS for allowing the graduates to participate in student government have been that since they are more mature the graduates would have something to add to UGA and that as a graduate is a part of the activity fee, they should have a part in determining how the money is used.

Those objecting to the plan maintained that graduates have neither the time nor the interest necessary for student government activities.

The election will merely be a preferential to determine the advisability of allowing the graduates to participate in student government. It will not be further the graduates want to participate.

Representatives Are Asked to Attend Blood Drive Meet

One member from each sorority and fraternity and the counselors in the dorms are being asked to be asked to attend he first blood drive committee this afternoon at 5.

The meeting will be held in the conference room.

Mac Huey, chairman for the spring blood drive stated that the drive is scheduled April 30 to May 2 the quota for Florida State University is 392 pints. 196 pints each day.

The Men "F" club will sponsor the opening drive Friday, who is president of the men's "F" club, stated that the meeting would last only a short while, but that committee heads would be appointed.

The drive is under the direction of Huey stated, are to distribute information on the drive, assist in the scheduling and publicity and distribute parent release forms.

Faculty Review Board Vetoes Sections of Cabinet System Bill

NEW GOLD KEY MEMBERS—Stan Gould, president of Gold Key, congratulates new initiates into the men's service fraternity. Left to right, Bill Rea, Bill Skipper, Bryan Tuthill, Jim McCall, Wallace Dynes and Daniel Reda. Each completed a project of service to the University and Gold Key before being initiated.

Board Passes Amendment If Certain Parts Are Changed

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

The Faculty Review Board has definitely vetoed the attorney-general, the secretary of labor and various other sections of the cabinet aysten bill, Meeting last Friday at 2:30, the group passed the proposed constitutional amendment provided that certain sections are changed.

Specifically, the board voted to veto the section which would approve the constitutional amendment if the investigating powers of the attorney general were withdrawn. the whole provision for a secretary of labor were deleted, and cabinet officers were required to have a 1.3 scholastic average

ONE OR TWO other demands were made, but these are not expected to encounter serious student objections.

On the surface, the board's latest action seems the same as two weeks ago when it "vetoed the weak points" in the proposal and made suggestions to remedy the situation. Student leaders, however, realise that the latest decision is a flat refusal to allow certain provisions of the act.

LITTLE STUDENT reaction has yet been heard. The Student Judiciary Senate is meeting this afternoon to take action on the matter.

The cabinet system bill has been pending for a considerable estate for some months now. Essentially, it abolishes the existing executive council and substitutes cabinet officers appointed by the president of the University Government Association.

LITTLE OBJECTION has been voiced to the idea of the cabinet system but mainly to certain parts of the bill. The investigating powers of the attorney general have been the object of greatest debate, because they take investigation away from the office of the court system.

The Review Board also has objected to the provisions for a secretary of labor, The opinion, as expressed by Dean of Women Katherine Warren, was that the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement was doing an satisfactory job in handling student employment.

THE BILL CONSIDERABLE internal resistance the Senate passed the bill two weeks later with the measure sent to the Faculty Review Board, where it came out a couple of weeks later with certain "suggestions" to the student Senate

The board pointed out several technical loop-holes which the Senate corrected.

The review committee also said it disapproved the secretary of labor and the investigating powers of the attorney general, but it did not say whether it would kill the measures if re-presented to it. A SERIES of dramatics, including the "walkout" of Senator Ignacio Sved and Phil Spruner from the Senate chamber that full Senate could meet, the student Legislature reaffirmed support of the two debated offices.

The only student legislator to make comment was Bob Brown of Sanford, Spruner, the bill's most vigorous supporter.

"IT NOW APPEARS," said Spriner, "that in spite of the fact

(Continued on Page 3)

U of F Honor Court Resigns After Revision of Penalties

The University of Florida's 13 member student Honor Court resigned in a body Sunday night because of the administration reversed some of the penalties handed down in recent cheating investigations.

Evans Will Address Fifth Art Seminar Now In Sarasota

Grose Evans, of the National Gallery of Art staff in Washington, will be one of the main speakers during the Fifth annual Art Seminar at the Ringling Museum in Sarasota which a now in progress.

The seminar sponsored jointly by the Museum and the Florida State University department of art, opened Sunday, April 6, Dr. Edwin Walker, dean of the FSU College of Arts and Sciences, gave the opening address.

A total of 17 major events consisting of lectures, concerts and other presentations will be offered during the five day program, as well as social engagements in the Sarasota area.

MR. EVANS, a world traveler, lecturer and art authority, will speak to the seminar on "The Neo-Classic Interval in Europe and America," and "Romantic Reactions from the Classical Style." Evans is also the author of several articles based on research work which have been published in scholarly journals.

Other Florida State faculty members to address the seminar besides Dr. Walker, are Dr. Hale

(Continued on Page 3)

Honor Court Chancellor John Hardie, backed by his fellow court members, said that some of the sentences were modified by a faculty committee and others by University President J. Hillis Miller.

The resignation of the school's Court was dated to take effect May 1. A new Honor Court elected on May 7 will take office May 8.

In a long statement "to the students of the University of Florida" Tinkle, a fourth year student, and Honor Court Clerk Fred Jones said of the resignation:

"We take this action as a means of informing the students of the supervision over the activities of the student Honor Court by the University administration."

The statement said an "atmosphere of personal integrity and freedom, achieved through the individual and collective responsibility of all Florida students" does not exist where the penalties levied by the student court are modified and reversed, though guilt is conceded in practically every instance by the accused person and the administration where such penalties are reduced without regard to guilt to those similarly charged. The court does not appeal, though all were penalized in strict accordance with the system of their guilt by the Honor Court, where the schedule of penalties provided for in the student body constitution is completely disregarded on review, though the Honor Court has level with students where the university administration has disapproved of the supervisory of your Honor Court, though your student justices have been sincere in attempting to serve the conscience of the students we represent; where public statements made by the administration to the effect that the cultural heritage of student control of student activities would be preserved have been disregarded, though your Honor Court, proceeded on a good faith application in those statements."

The statement said "we have in no way lost our faith in the ability of the student body to uphold and preserve the Honor Code" and that "we believe ... students, like groups of men and women everywhere who seek and believe in the basic moral rule, of society, do not wish to have the efforts and efforts of your Honor Court replaced by a system of laxity and evasion that renders the results of student activity useless for the purpose for which the penalties are prescribed."

The statement said the resignations are made "in the hope that the students will be heard from who have experienced the everpowering values of an Honor Code will recognize the serious consequences of the issues involved, and the threat to the moral welfare of the present and future University of Florida students."

Several hours after the court's unanimous decision to resign Sunday night, notices of the resignations were posted on campus. The notices

(Continued on Page 3)

Weekend Ends With Awards

The annual "Spanish Week-end" was climaxed with the presentation of awards for the best declamations in Spanish Saturday night.

Winning first place in extemporaneous speaking was Dallas Gillard. Jacksonville. Second place went to Bill Slack of St. Petersburg. In the best prepared advance declamation Bill Trussell of Daytona Beach took first place while Katherine Panos, Jacksonville, won second place.

AWARDS FOR the elementary declamations went to Warren Long, Jacksonville and David Raymond, Daytona Beach.

Judges in the contest were Dr. D. Lincoln Canfield, head of the Florida State University modern language department. Dr. Bernett Lacayo, faculty member and Roger Bushell, department of speech.

THE VISITING students were guests of the Florida Theater management Saturday afternoon when a Spanish movie was shown. Thomas Wright of the School of Music entertained with several piano numbers, Saturday night. An informal dance followed in Landis Hall recreation room with a floor show given by the St. Petersburg High School.

DR. A. B. MARTIN, vice-president, and J. Broward Culpepper, dean of student welfare, both

(Continued on Page 3)

Art Exhibition In Museum Shows American Individualism Says Myers

BY FRED MYERS

The exhibition of modern American art at the University Museum which opened Tuesday night is a fair example of the progressive review of the subject; that is, original American works. There are many examples of surrealism, Cubism, Dadaism or any of the various other movements that have rocked Europe and been imitated in America.

But the spirit of realism in the show was surprising. There were many paintings of what painful detail, tending toward the stark and a little toward the grotesque manner. In fact, representation in the show is a rough indication of their importance in modern scene, then the writer is disappointed in state of modern art. Returning bluntly to the past is no way to solve the problems that art faces today.

Speaking of problems there were two specimens from the University Collection that were bad. One, called 'Farade', by Blume was a confusion of color and form, bold color and Marxian symbolism of that genre The main objection to this type of painting besides the lack of artistic by means of them is that to really appreciate them one needs a written explanation. And that goes against the art.

The best items in the show were Sounds in the Night" by Michael Goldman, "Black Rock" by Wilkins', by Dove, a rounded impressionistic painting by Kuhn, what painful detail, tending toward the stark and a little toward the grotesque manner. In fact, representation in the show is a rough indication of their importance in modern scene, then the writer is disappointed in state of modern art. Returning bluntly to the past is no way to solve the problems that art faces today

The Museum will be open Tuesdays through Fridays from 12:30 p.m. on Saturdays from 9 to 12:30. and Sundays from 2 to 5 There is also featured an exhibition of 'Native Malcrisi Culture of the Antilles.'

the Faulkner novel, and as an impressum of it is completely successful.

There was a Stuart Davis of course, a little reminiscent of Dufy, an unimpressive Marin, and a Jackson Pollock, which, to say the least, made an impression. Called the 'She Wolf,' it is a mass of swith, messy paint and garish colors. All that can be said is that it is arty.

Stashed away in a corner of the office of the Curator of the Museum, Mr. Lathan Wheatley was a painting by Kerfiol, entitled 'Nude.' It was a warm, simple nude in the style of Renoir. There is an agreement that nudes will not be exhibited at FSU, and so when they are sent down for an exhibit they have to be hidden

The Museum will be open Tuesdays through Fridays from 12:30 p.m. on Saturdays from 9 to 12:30. and Sundays from 2 to 5 There is also featured an exhibition of 'Native Malcrisi Culture of the Antilles.'

Board Passes Amendment If Certain Parts Are Changed

BY BRUCE GALPHIN

The Faculty Review Board has definitely vetoed the attorney-general, the secretary of labor and various other sections of the cabinet aysten bill, Meeting last Friday at 2:30, the group passed the proposed constitutional amendment provided that certain sections are changed.

Specifically, the board voted to veto the section which would approve the constitutional amendment if the investigating powers of the attorney general were withdrawn. the whole provision for a secretary of labor were deleted, and cabinet officers were required to have a 1.3 scholastic average

ONE OR TWO other demands were made, but these are not expected to encounter serious student objections.

On the surface, the board's latest action seems the same as two weeks ago when it "vetoed the weak points" in the proposal and made suggestions to remedy the situation. Student leaders, however, realise that the latest decision is a flat refusal to allow certain provisions of the act.

LITTLE STUDENT reaction has yet been heard. The Student Judiciary Senate is meeting this afternoon to take action on the matter.

The cabinet system bill has been pending for a considerable estate for some months now. Essentially, it abolishes the existing executive council and substitutes cabinet officers appointed by the president of the University Government Association.

LITTLE OBJECTION has been voiced to the idea of the cabinet system but mainly to certain parts of the bill. The investigating powers of the attorney general have been the object of greatest debate, because they take investigation away from the office of the court system.

The Review Board also has objected to the provisions for a secretary of labor, The opinion, as expressed by Dean of Women Katherine Warren, was that the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement was doing an satisfactory job in handling student employment.

THE BILL CONSIDERABLE internal resistance the Senate passed the bill two weeks later with the measure sent to the Faculty Review Board, where it came out a couple of weeks later with certain "suggestions" to the student Senate

The board pointed out several technical loop-holes which the Senate corrected.

The review committee also said it disapproved the secretary of labor and the investigating powers of the attorney general, but it did not say whether it would kill the measures if re-presented to it. A SERIES of dramatics, including the "walkout" of Senator Ignacio Sved and Phil Spruner from the Senate chamber that full Senate could meet, the student Legislature reaffirmed support of the two debated offices.

The only student legislator to make comment was Bob Brown of Sanford, Spriner, the bill's most vigorous supporter.

"IT NOW APPEARS," said Spriner, "that in spite of the fact

(Continued on Page 3)

Kefauver Edges Taft In College Polling

ACP- Estes Kefauver has a slight& edge over Robert Taft as Presidential choice among college students, according to results of the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion.

The Poll indicates that Kefauver has his best support from students in the South, and that Taft and Taft are about even in the East.

In the West neither candidate seems especially strong. with students in that section casting more "no opinion" votes than students anywhere else in the nation.

As a sensor from New Mexico for Western College puts it, 'Anybody over has vote three months ago and an orora herbinger majority for Warren. Here are the figures:

1. Taft	25 per cent
2. Taft	26 per cent
3. Truman	37 per cent
3. No opinion	18 per cent
1. Warren	62 per cent
2. Truman	22 per cent
3. No opinion	16 per cent
1. Kefauver	45 per cent
2. No opinion	17 per cent

"Taft, I think, is too radical in his views," is what pro-Kefauver freshman at Kansas City University says. And a sophomore coed at Mandelein College, Illinois declares, "Taft's isolation would ruin the country in two years."

As a poll taken before President Truman announced he would not run again, students were asked to name their choices on Truman vs. Taft and Truman vs. Warren.

Results show a slight plurality for Taft -but a sam for Truman over has vote three months ago and an ocora herbinger majority for

FSU Circus Set to Music

Composer Dedicates Song To 'Flying High'

The 1952 circus is being set to music in a new theme song, "Flying High".

Thomas Wright, School of Music faculty member, dedicated the new theme song to the circus students. The song has been published in sheet music form by the University with Peg Riar, FSU artist, designing the red and blue cover.

THE NEWLY adopted theme song tells the story of life behind the ringling in the days according in the costuming and lighting in addition to the usual breath taking air stunts.

Wright wrote both the words and the music in the modern arrangement which the University Singers recently recorded. Conducting the singers in the recording was Dr. Wiley Housewright, of the School of Music.

COPIES OF the song are also being sent to radio stations throughout the state.

Other compositions of Wright include the "FSU Fight Song" and the theme for the "Cavalier Waltz" for the FSU Cavaliers, national dance fraternity. Since then, the latter has been adopted nationally as the official song.

THE "INDIAN Fight Song' was also composed by Wright for Indiana University and the Butler Victory Song for Butler University.

While working with the Special Services of the Air Force in the World War, he composed music for "Forward March" an Army song now presented at many bases in the country.

AN OFFICIAL campaign song is expected Willkie was winner among 1,000 songs. It was composed in 1940 and today is displayed in the Library of Congress along with the other Presidential campaign songs of history. In 1949 Wright was composing for radio and television productions for several network shows.

Pop Concert Given By State Symphony As Season's Finale

An evening "pop" concert presented by a student program by young listeners was presented yesterday as the final concerts of the State Symphony of Florida's fourth season. The symphony is directed by Dr. Karl Krueger, dean of the Florida State School of Music.

The evening program featured the piano works of George Gershwin, played by Florida State faculty member Thomas Wright and accompanied by the symphony orchestra.

WRIGHT, who gave a Gershwin commemorative program in the spring, had an audience then which not only filled the Opperman Music hall, but overflowed into the lobby corridors and from a loud speaker.

Joan Daye James' music student, and Herman Gunter, of the music faculty, sang the duet of Bess, "Oh, Is My Woman Now." from Gershwin's folk-opera "Porgy and Bess." Other songs from the famous story are "Summertime" and "I Got Plenty of Nuthin'."

THE ORCHESTRA numbers of the concert were four Overtures to Wagner's opera "Tannhauser," the Finale to the First Symphony of Brahms, the Rumanian Rhapsody No. 1' by Enesco, and the "Blue Danube Waltz" by Johann Strause

Roy Flynn director of radio, narrated the duet of "Peter and the Wolf" during the Wallace program.

SITUATION FOR INTERESTING POLITICS

By JACK DETWEILER
Associate Editor
Florida Alligator

Last week's elections at the University of Florida resulted in one of those situations that have always made U. of F. politics interesting.

Terrell Sessums, Liberty Party candidate for president, Bob Fendig, won handily over his Statesman Party opponent, Bob Ed-wards. Edwards captured 26 to 28 polls on the Executive Council, however, and they will be able to force Sessums into a compromise program and cabinet.

The race for Chancellor of the Honor Court resulted in a tie with Bob Pat Patillo, Liberty, and T. A. Shell Swanee, receiving 1 925 votes. A controversy developed over the counting of absentee ballots and was decided in an open hearing scheduled after the deadline time for this column.

Most political observers believe that Shell will win if the absentee ballots are counted since most of them will come from the influentary.

Swanee Party Co-chairman Joe Gonzalez is the best word of mouth in the infirmary with the mumps, and it is reported that he rounded up a sizable infirmary block

Gonzalez, by the way, is the one who chose the spelling of "Swanee" for his party. He claims it is a compromise spelling between the most familiar: Swanee and Suwannee.

* * *

The controversial National Student Association question became somewhat of a political football during the election campaign. However, the sentiment appears to be in favor of defeating any move to join the association.

Two weeks ago the Executive Council voted 25-4, with both parties favorable to join NSA. Since then the Swanee Party has come out against NSA, and the Liberty Party has refused to take a stand on the question.

Liberty Party failed to attend last week's Executive Council meeting when the motion to join NSA was to come up for second reading. The meeting was cancelled because of lack of a quorum.

* * *

Progress on a proposed student radio station was hailed recently when a requisition for $15 worth of electrical cutting equipment failed to get the sanction of George Baughman, University business manager.

The radio station has been in the planning stage for nearly a year, but his progress has been blocked by a series of difficulties.

Failure of the administration to act on the requisition brought this statement from Student Body President Woody Liles:

"If the administration is against the radio station, then I don't see why they don't say so instead of trying to many excuses put on so many hours until they get to the point where they can proceed without administration assistance."

* * *

An editorial in last week's Florida Alligator cited widespread campus rumors and allegations that the administration was undermining Florida's Honor System.

The editorial referred to rumors that the Faculty Discipline Committee is overly impending or tightening sentences on many of the violators.

The editorial went on to urge that the administration abide by the decisions of the Honor Court concerning cheating. It said it would do all the time when widespread cheating was uncovered and published here.

UGA IS COMICAL, BUT NAUSEATING

By DAN ALTHOFF

There's a lot I could say round two, Frances, brave soul. I forgive you your crude tastes in music. I guess it takes a Yankee to appreciate the best in southern music. And your feminine aversion to more for me. You have to squeeze your cranial matter enough as it is to have something to write in the Flambeau. It's the shamrock that is cherished in the Emerald Isle, not clover. If you have gotten a clover you may keep it, but I would like to present you with my shillelagh, right where it would do the most good. As for my politics, I am supporting Norman Thomas for presidential nomination.

When you send me your list of activities, please don't include the UGA as one of them as you did in your article on the subject in the Flambeau.

We wants to hear lectures on recent deposits in the Gulf of Mexico, methods of advertising glass blowing, what ants do on a rainy day, how seaweed gets that way, the secret of manufacturing glowurtzel in American society, or "my favorite period in the history of Afghanistan." Topics such as these may be of interest to a few on campus, but to the majority it is deep freeze material.

The controversial National Student Association question became somewhat of a political football during the election campaign. However, the sentiment appears to be in favor of defeating any move to join the association.

Two weeks ago the Executive Council voted 25-4, with both parties favorable to join NSA. Since then the Swanee Party has come out against NSA, and the Liberty Party has refused to take a stand on the question.

Liberty Party failed to attend last week's Executive Council meeting when the motion to join NSA was to come up for second reading. The meeting was cancelled because of lack of a quorum.

* * *

Progress on a proposed student radio station was hailed recently when a requisition for $15 worth of electrical cutting equipment failed to get the sanction of George Baughman, University business manager.

The radio station has been in the planning stage for nearly a year, but his progress has been blocked by a series of difficulties.

Failure of the administration to act on the requisition brought this statement from Student Body President Woody Liles:

"If the administration is against the radio station, then I don't see why they don't say so instead of trying to many excuses put on so many hours until they get to the point where they can proceed without administration assistance."

* * *

An editorial in last week's Florida Alligator cited widespread campus rumors and allegations that the administration was undermining Florida's Honor System.

The editorial referred to rumors that the Faculty Discipline Committee is overly impending or tightening sentences on many of the violators.

The editorial went on to urge that the administration abide by the decisions of the Honor Court concerning cheating. It said it would do all the time when widespread cheating was uncovered and published here.

Tideland Oil Bill Strikes A Blow Against Education

Hidden behind the mask of state's rights, a Congressional group has sneaked through a bill which favors the special oil interests and strikes a body blow at the advancement of education in this country.

Under the leadership of Senator Spessard Holland of Florida a bill has been passed which in effect takes 40 billion dollars from education and turns it over to private oil companies.

The Holland bill came in the form of an amendment to the original bill introduced by Senator Lister Hill of Alabama, would have ended a long battle in a way which would have benefitted the whole nation.

The Hill bill would have released the money from the off-shore, or tidelands, oil regions for defense during the emergency but would eventually have returned the proceeds, estimated at 40 billion dollars, over to primary, secondary and higher education all over the country. The benefits to institutions of learning, used to dealing with relatively piddling appropriations, of such an enormous sum, are hard to calculate.

The Hill proposal was a noble gesture in more ways than just the manner in which it would have benefitted education. It would have settled the ,states' rights vs. federal government battle in a way that would have saved face for all.

The Supreme Court has ruled at least three times in the last few years that the off-shore land belongs to the United States as a whole, but states'-righters had objected so strenuously it was hard for them to compromise. The education bill was a means by which all sides could have stepped down off their high horses.

Furthermore, the country could have reaped the benefits of, without the stigma of, federal aid to education. The bill could have been considered merely a proportioning out of something that belonged to the states.

Now the Holland bill would turn over the land to three states, or to speak more accurately, to a few oil companies. The Senator from Florida was so desperate to get his bill through that he broke a tradition of some hundred years by allowing lobbyists to sit on the floor of the Senate to coach him.

The fact that the president will probably veto the bill and that there is not the necessary 2/3 majority to override his veto does not change the fact that such a bill is more as the Holland bill was made. A veto will not turn the money over to education nor stop the efforts of the big oil interests.

Perhaps the only saving grace is the hope that people, without the aid of the Hill proposal, will get enough education to vote more wisely in the future.

● "FIFTH FREEDOM"

L'l Abner, ideal of all red-blooded American boys is (sob!) married. Outright, tragically hitched. He lost his head by following the advice of his idol, the champion of lovelies' Fearless Frederick.

Al Capp, who will judge the Tally-Ho beauty contest, stated that he had married L'l Abner off because people were beginning to believe he was ridiculing the institution of marriage.

Capp was also alarmed by the flood of letters accusing him of disrespect for women in his satires on the faults of America.

A number of Americans have become alarmed that this factor also. Dr. T. V. Smith, of Chicago, pointed out that the primary conflict with Russia is that they try to regiment men's souls, that they are opposed to any imagination or creation that is not "communistic."

It has been condensed to the ides that if you kid America, as Capp did in his Senator Fogbound, Mr. Ham, etc., you are being un-American.

A precious ideal is surely being lost when we can't laugh at ourselves. Humor is a basic part of any democratic system of government. Likewise is acceptance of various trivials become humorous and have one heartwarming element in common, a good laugh.

The Communist totalitarian regime doesn't dare tolerate satirical jokes at its shortcomings, but our American Democracy has always grown stronger through criticism. And we have never been hurt through the exercise of what Capp calls our "Fifth Freedom": The Freedom to Laugh at Ourselves.

● ON THE HINGE

In the general election today FSU graduate students will have an opportunity to express their feelings concerning the part they would, like to take in the University Government Association. Before submitting a constitutional amendment to the student body regarding the matter, University Senate hopes to derive from this questionnaire the desires of the graduate students.

The following questions will appear on the graduate student poll: (1) Do you pay the student activity fee? (2) Do you feel that you should have a vote in University Government Association elections? (3) Do you feel you should be represented in the UGA Senate? (4) Would you be willing to take time to participate in UGA? If not, the answer to No. 1, 2 or 3 is "Yes", would you be willing to abide by the UGA regulations" (6) Any other comments?

The Senate recently approved a proposed amendment giving graduate students the vote. It contains none of the other points included in today's questionnaire. The results of the amendment or any other amendments concerning more privileges and responsibilities in student government for the graduates, hinges on the interest of the graduates themselves. If they have no desire to participate in UGA, there is no point in giving these privileges to them. The results of today's poll should indicate where they stand.

● BIAS HOAX

A newspaper can be accused of sensationalism, incompetence, maliciousness and a whole series of evils, but the thing for which it cannot logically be attacked is bias.

Lack of bias is first of all impossible and, secondly, questionably virtuous.

College students often are prone to speak in pseudo-worldly tones of the "scholastic impartiality" a newspaper should display. Such impartiality does not and cannot exist if anything is to be printed.

Man is largely a product of his environment. That is, when he speaks, writes or thinks, he is working with a limited quantity, his extent of knowledge. He may sincerely wish to be fair and believe he is impartial, but he cannot be. He is only acting on what he knows.

Only if a person knows nothing of a matter can he be completely impartial. Lack of bias can thus be equated to ignorance.

Furthermore, a good case can be made for saying that a paper should take a vigorous stand on important matters. If it is indifferent in the face of the vital issues of the day, then it is dead.

This argument does not imply license. A good paper seeks other goals, such as broadmindedness, honesty, and a rigorous search for the facts. Impartiality, however, is an illusion which amounts to nothing more than indifference and ignorance.

The students of the University of Florida must regret their President's weak and watered reply to the Honor Court's resignation.

Dear Editor

Ryals Runs

Dear Juniors,

I would like to announce that I am running on a Write-In ballot for Senior Class President.

I know that I can serve you well because I feel that I know your needs and desires. I have had experience in Student Government and I am actively participating as your Junior Senator. I will appreciate your support in today's election and promise that if elected, that I will serve you to the utmost of my capacity.

REMEMBER, WRITE-IN RYALS

Sincerely,
Bob Ryals.

Pledges Service

Fellow Students.

I am sorry that Bill Skipper, the man that the large majority of you wanted for your senior president, will be unable to serve you in that capacity next year due to the lack of just a few quality points.

Most of you know I have not actively participated in campus politics until this year However I have had experience in several organizations on campus and feel that I am well qualified for this important job. If hard work and integrity will make up for the lack of previous participation in student government, I am sure that I can serve you as your senior class president.

Thanking you for your support,
Sincerely,
John Latiner.

Write-In Ballot

Dear Juniors:

I am running for President of our Senior Class for the year 52-53. I am running on a write-in ballot and would appreciate your writing my name on the ballot for Senior Class President.

I have served you in the past as Freshman Class Treasurer, Sophomore Class Secretary and Junior Class Senator. I am now Vice President of UGA and feel that I have the experience and needed ability to make the class of '53 the best yet.

I would appreciate your writing the name JERRY SALYERS on the ballot in the coming election this coming Tuesday.

Thank You,
Jerry Salyers.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL
Robert Griffin, Jr.—Ed for

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Gassin
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Mintz
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Sansing
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS
Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Harley
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldrons, Fa Pittman, Steve Zalvka

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-6495, Ext. 4851
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York entered as second class matter at the post office at Tallahassee, Florida, under the act of March 3, 1879. Second Floor, Almnai Building

A O Pi's Entertain National President During Past Week

Alpha Pi chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi was hostess to their national president, Mrs. E. K. Talbot of New Orleans last week. Mrs. Talbot arrived Wednesday morning and then accompanied the local chapter to Daytona Beach to Gainesville on Saturday.

COLLEGE CHAPTERS represented were Florida Southern, Florida State, and the University of Florida in addition to Alumni members.

In her address, the national president told the state chapters the progress and then the future plans of the AOPi sorority.

Each collegiate chapter president gave a brief report of the years activities. President Peggy Hodges of Alpha Pi chapter spoke for the FSU chapter.

The organization's philanthropic work consists of support of the social service department of Pioneer Nursing Service in Kentucky, and contributions to the Friends Society. In addition, many colleges and alumnae groups actively participate in local charities.

FSU Library Hours Fixed For Holiday

Assistant Librarian Florence Bethes asked that the holiday library schedule be restated for the benefit of students remaining on campus over the week-end.

The library will be open from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., April 10 and no special charges will be levied from 5 until 5:45 p.m. They will be due Friday, April 11 by 9:30 a.m.

Library hours Friday, April 11 are from 8:30 until 4:15 p.m. and are due Saturday, April 12, by 9:30 a.m.

April 12, Saturday, the library will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. with reserva books checked out from 11 a.m. until 12:15 p.m. They are due Monday, April 14 by 9:30 a.m.

Easter Sunday, April 13, the library will be closed. It will reopen at 8:30 a.m. Monday, April 14 and remain open until 4:30 p.m. Reserve books may be borrowed from 3:30 until 4:15 p.m. They are due Tuesday, April 15, by 9:30 a.m.

Overdue charges will run as usual.

Campus Character

By STAN SCHMIDT

Big Town . . .

. . . But we can't run that. Chief—you know this town is run by Senator Joe McCurtis and his boys and you can't buck his "machine."

Steve Griffin of the Illustrated Flambeau threw down a shot of Aqua Velva and looked down at the teeming city—his city—and said simply:

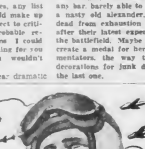
"The truth shall make us free."

Loreli Henry rushed into the office and threw her arms around her boss.

"Steve I just heard—you can't do it."

The young Editor looked at her a long time—she didn't understand. He said simply, "The truth shall make us free." His mind raced furiously as the elevator shot from the Olympian heights of the Longmire Building. He recoiled when the elevator operator, Earl Dawson, leaned over and whispered sarcastically, "Beware of the Ides of March."

McCurtis and his armed goons waited at the curb. McCurtis stood bravely with his mimeographer behind a cordon of armed Greeks.



"You cad," Griffin whispered hoarsely.

Tears stung McCurtis' cheeks as his faith in mankind crumbled at this vile assault.

He stumbled dazedly away muttering, "I shall not be goaded into fisticuffs by this monstrous and incredible misuse of the language."

Griffin said simply "The truth . . ."

Get This Postgraduate Course worth Thousands of Dollars!

New Aviation Cadet Program Offers Special Advantages To College Men Now Preparing for Military Service

Here is valuable postgraduate training that money can't buy! As an Aviation Cadet, you can receive instruction and training worth thousands of dollars—at the same time you are serving your country. You can choose—immediately—between being a Pilot or Air-craft Observer in America's mighty shining Air Force. The Air Force encourages candidates to stay in school and graduate. Seniors and students with two years or more of college who anticipate early entrance into military service can receive unmatched training in flying and leadership for the years ahead.

WHO MAY APPLY
AGE—Between 19 and 26½ years.
EDUCATION—At least two years of college.
MARITAL STATUS—Single.
PHYSICAL CONDITION—Good, especially eyes, ears, heart, and teeth.

HOW TO QUALIFY

1. Take transcript of college credits and copy of USAF certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station.

2. Appear for physical examination at your nearest Air Base at Government expense.

3. Accomplish Flying Aptitude Tests and obtain flat four years only!

4. The Selective Service sent to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting July 16, August 19, October 2, and November 18, 1952.

5. Immediate assignment to Aviation Cadet Training Classes starting July 16, August 19, October 2, and November 18, 1952.

6. Attend Aviation Cadet Training School for one year—either as Pilot or Aircraft Observer. Get $105 monthly plus food, housing, uniforms, and other benefits.

7. Graduate, win your wings. Commissioned Second Lieutenant, begin earning $5,000 a year! Or, if you wish, remain on active duty as Flying Officer at Air Base at Government expense.

WHERE To Get More Details
Visit your nearest U. S. Air Force Base or U. S. Army—U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station or write direct to Aviation Cadet, Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Washington 25, D. C.

U.S. AIR FORCE

OPEN ALL DAY
WEDNESDAY
For Your Shopping Convenience

Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Filet Mignon Special
At The
Seven Seas
Served All Day Tuesday Only $1.00

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

HOUSE AFIRE — If lefty Chuck Sanders—Matherly's second choice for tonight's tilt with Allentown is anywhere near as effective as his last four predecessors then the Sentinel batters as a safety precaution might well wrap their bats in asbestos.

For in the last four games starting with the Amherst tilt back on March 27, the Seminole pitching staff has given up only one run in the last 39 innings and whether that's all nothing to brush off—College or professional.

Sanders incidentally is the boy who started the row of goosegegs that he handed Amherst over the last three innings of that affair. Then, after the win over the Lions John Wells—who by the way is due for full duty tonight—was a five-hitter to blank Loyola 1-0. The next day Ed Lockard handcuffed the New Orleans nine with two hits for a 7-0 victory.

In the Saturday afternoon game on Miami, Ed Seasons gave up only three safeties to record his first win and Finally Lockard closed 'em all by coming back and whitewashing the Hurricanes in his masterful one-hitter.

And it all up—excluding Sanders' windup of the Amherst game—you have exactly 11 hits dished out in the last 36 innings.

Lockard, of course, has been the big gun. The veteran right-hander ran his string of scoreless innings to 25 with his thirteenth of the Hurricanes Saturday afternoon bash when he has given up only three hits in his last 18 innings at the ball.

Saturday's games incidentally were viewed by the baseball eyes of Syd Chandler, former New York Yankee pitching star and now a scout for the New Yorkers.

Chandler was supposed to have been on the trip here to watch Coach Lee Deardoff, but instead the Miami star was the victim in the afternoon defeat. Chandler reportedly hardly impressed Coach Lockard's performance.

While Matherly's mound corps is better than the Fourth of July at the moment, the rest of the team isn't even exactly coasting along. The men who produce the runs have come out 17 hits in the two games against the Miami nine who are committed only two errors—both of which came in the afternoon opener.

Tonight's contest won't be the first time that the Indians have tangled outside the college ranks to vie with a pro outfit. Last spring the Seminoles had a 16-6 pasting on the now-defunct Tallahassee Citizens of the Florida State League.

Harriers Open Home Season This Weekend

The FSU cinstermen, fresh from their weekend triumph over Davidson are stepping up workouts for their initial home appearance of the season here Saturday afternoon with Loyola of the South.

CARLOS FRAUNDORFER, lanky Freshman from Tampa led the Seminoles to their 72½ to 58½ win over Davidson last Saturday.

Fraundorfer scored 18 points in copping firsts in the high jump, broad jump and discus throw while placing second in the 100 yard dash behind Captain John Poston.

Poston took another first in the 220 and anchored the Indians' winning mile relay team to take second honors with 11¼ points.

OTHER FIRST places for FSU were secured in by Bill Wagner in the mile and half mile events, Bill Whaley in the javelin throw, Woody Parker in the 440, Joe Prescastl in the pole vault and Julie Hurst in the 120 yard low hurdles.

The summaries:

Shot Put—McNeely, Davidson, 2—Fraundorfer FSU, 3—Pierce, 43 ft. 8¾ inches.

Mile: 1—Wagner FSU, 2—T Sinclair, Davidson, 3—Hall, Davidson. Time: 4:41.7.

High Jump: 1—Fraundorfer FSU, 2—Sorsby, FSU, Tutt, Davidson, Parkinson, Davidson (tie for second), 5 ft. 10 in.

Javelin: 1—Whaley FSU, 2—Cox (Davidson), 3—Pickinson, Davidson, 164 ft. 10 in.

440 Dash: 1—Parker, FSU, 2—Shipley, Davidson, 3—Thompson, Davidson. Time 53.5.

100 Dash: 1—Poston, FSU, 2—Mitchner, Davidson, 3—Haggerty, FSU. Time 10.3

120 High Hurdles: 1—Hurst, FSU, 2—Smith, Davidson, 3—Mitchner, FSU. Time 16.1.

880-Yard Run: 1—Wagoner, FSU, 2—Henry, Davidson, 3—Sorsby, FSU. Time 2:03.1.

Discus: 1—Fraundorfer, FSU, 2—Pierce (Davidson), 3—Schrieg, FSU, 91 ft. 8 in.

220-Yard Dash: 1—Poston, FSU, 2—Mitchner, Davidson, 3—Davidson, Davidson. Time 22.3.

Pole Vault: 1—Prescastl, FSU, 2—Blackton, Davidson, 3—Cooper, FSU, 11 feet, 6 inches.

One Mile Relay: 1—Davidson, Davidson, 2—S. Stockton, Davidson, 3—Freeney, FSU. Time 3:34.

220-Yard Low Hurdles: 1—Hurst, Davidson; 2—Fickelson, Davidson, 3—Hurst, FSU. Time: 27.1.

Broad Jump: 1—Fraundorfer, FSU; 2—York, Davidson, 3—Poston, FSU. 20 ft. seconds; 21 ft. 2 in.

Two Mile Run: 1—Bailey, FSU, (Koonce Mahaney, Nimakoff, Preston). Time: 9:32.6

Seminoles Face Acid Test Tonight with Allentown

The Florida State University baseball nine gets its acid test tonight on Centennial field when they meet the Allentown Cardinals of the class B Inter-State League in an exhibition contest. Game time is 7:45.

DOUBLE SHUTOUT—Veteran righthander Ed Lockard is one of the big reasons why the Seminole baseballers are riding high these days. His shutout win over Miami was his second of the season.

Coach Ralph Matherly is expected to start lefthander Chuck Sanders (1-0) against the Cards and follow up with righthander John Witt (1-0).

Allentown manager Whitey Kurowski sent word that he would oppose Matherly's choice with F. D. R. Wieand and Jim Kirk—both rookie righthanders.

THE RAMPAGING Seminoles who rolled up their seventh and eighth wins of the season over the weekend by breezing past the University of Miami behind the sensational hurling of Ed Lockard and Ed Sessions have now clicked off six consecutive wins since their single loss to the Georgia Bulldogs March 21.

Lockard's 7-0 sensational one-hitter against the Hurricanes Saturday night was the big righthanders second straight whitewash job and the third in the last four games for the Tallahassean. Lockard and John Witt were responsible for he other two—both against Loyola.

Saturday's chilly weather didn't seem to bother the Seminoles up much as Matherly continued to get stellar support from his pitchers.

LOCKARD'S BID for a no-hitter was ruined in the third inning when Miami's Howie Schoen singled to left. The veteran righthander struck out the next and allowed only three walks in notching his third win of the season.

The Seminoles batched up Lockard's brilliant efforts with 10 safeties plus six Miami errors to account for their seven runs.

Leftfielder Wayne Benner paced the assault with three singles while catcher Ronald Melton chipped in with a pair of base knocks.

The Seminoles picked up two runs in the second, thanks to four Hurricane errors, two in the fourth, two in the fifth and added a single tallie in the eighth frame.

Although hampered by wild spells, Sessions had it in the clutch to hurl the Indians to their 3-1 win in the afternoon game.

SESSIONS, a lanky FSU junior, second decision of the campaign against a single defeat, gave up six free passes and struck out three.

Sessions had a shutout going until the eighth inning when Miami shortstop Joe Meracher parked one of the righthander offerings into the left field seats.

The Seminoles picked up two runs in the second on a leadoff double by Ralph Blinn, a single by Benner, an error, a wild pitch and Benner's theft of home.

Then in the fourth, Les Mullen blasted a long triple to center and scored on an infield out.

None of the Indian batters were able to hit twice and besides the blows by Blinn, Benner and Melton, the only other Seminoles to hit were Cooter Mills, Bob Trowbridge, Melton and Sessions.

Women's Sports

BY BARBARA COLLINSWORTH

Women's Sports Day came and went on the campus of FSU Saturday, April 5 as 200 women from nine colleges and universities were represented.

The 200 women were housed at Camp Flatacowo on Friday and Saturday nights with recreation presented in the form of square dancing and games.

The 200 women participated in golf, badminton, basketball, softball, bowling, tennis, ping-pong, swimming, and volleyball.

Colleges and universities that attended here were Berry, Florida Southern, Rollins, Webber, Stetson, U. of Miami, U of Fla., U. of Tampa, and St. Petersburg Junior College.

Highlight of the day was when Hope Fuller, Sandy Chance, Betty Lou Wharton, and Lou Shirie, members of Tarpon, performed. Also the modern dance performed as noon with Betty Anthony, Joyce Cox, and Pat Hopkins being featured.

* * *

The Even basketball team came back on Thursday to defeat the Odds by a score of 44-37 to tie the tournament games at one-all.

The Evens, under the leadership of Pat Crum, were in good form and were ringing the baskets. The Odds, playing a defensive game, were unable to connect as a team and were missing the basket.

The third and final game will be played today at 5 in the women's gymnasium on East Campus.

FSU Linksmen Due For Rest

After driving and putting their way through half of their little collegiate fairway schedule, Florida State University's golf team will relax for two weeks before running head-on into a links match against Stetson's Hatters on April 19.

The Seminole golfers squared off their season record at four wins and four losses last Saturday, defeating the Mercer Bears 19½ to 7½ at the Tallahassee Country Club course.

Jimmy James had the low medal score for the Indians with a two-over par 74 that chalked him up defeat Mercer ace Larry Moore 3-0.

Tom Cumbie was snowed by Mercer's Billy Brown 2½-½, while Tommy Brown tomahawked his mates for Compell Smith. With a 77, Jude Dunfee whipped Mercer's Bunny Hall, who had an 80, 3 to 0, and Bob Whitmer clubbed his opponent 2-1. Blue Birdsey of Mercer tripped FSU's Frank Hurt 2½-½.

Playing in the 100-yard dash in addition.

The Indian harriers who had made an excellent showing in the Florida Relays a week before also cracked three other track records in the weekend victory.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR SHEEBY was in the soup with a turtle named Myrtle. "I'm in a tortilny," he wailed, "what shell I do?" "Well, it's your messy hare that parts you from all the girls," his roommate said. "Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil!" Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's our turtle-necking all the time! So don't stick your neck out . . . get some terrapin money and hurry to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hare at your favorite barber shop. Then you'll really be in the swim.

* 8/4/1315.a. Harris Hill Rd., Williamsville, N.Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N.Y.

Indian Net Team To Play Michigan

Florida State University's touring tennis team will stick close to its home courts this week when they open a two-game stand this afternoon at 2:30 against a powerladen University of Michigan squad at the East campus varsity courts.

The Seminole racquet men will put their four-game winning streak on the line before what is reported to be one of the strongest squads ever to play on the Florida State campus. The Wolverines were runners-up in the Big Ten last year in tennis and are rated a title contender again this year.

The Florida State net team opened its season with a loss to Loyola University of New Orleans and since then has warshooped its way over Mercer twice, Jacksonville, Concordia Institute, and the University of Georgia. A match with Emory University in Atlanta last Friday was rained out.

The victory over Georgia was the Indians' first tennis triumph in history against a Southeastern Conference foe.

There have been two changes in the FSU tennis schedule for this week Indiana University, originally slated to face the Seminoles Wednesday afternoon, will be here Thursday instead. A duel with Dayton College Tuesday has been cancelled—.

On April 16 the tennis tacticians will hit t'se road once more, journeying to Valdosta State. The following day FSU netsters will hustle be ic into their home territory just in time to battle it out with the Tars of Rollins College.

FSU Gymnasts To Participate In Two Meets

Coach Hartley Price and five members of the national champion FSU gymnastics team left this morning for Hattiesburg, Miss. where they will compete in a triangular meet with Northeastern State College of Louisiana and host school Mississippi Southern.

Making the trip were Captain Jack Sharp, Jack Miles, Dick Gutting, Penny Walker, and Eddie Evans. Sharp and Miles are the national NCAA and AAU, champions respectively while Gutting is the NCAA trampoline champion. Tonight's meet will be Walker's first collegiate competition.

Coach Price will enter Sharp in the all-around, high bar, side horse, long horse and rope climb, Miles in the all-around, high bar, side horse, parallels, rings and long horse.

Gutting will be entered in his two specialties—tumbling and the trampoline, Walker in the parallels and rope climb and Evans in the tumbling and trampoline.

This Friday, four graduate gymnasts and a member of the current squad will travel to Chicago for the Central AAU meet. They are Bill Roetzheim, NCAA., AAU all-around champion and All-American all-round; Gene Rabbitt, three time national AAU, side horse champ; Bill Veritto, 1947 Central A.A.U. long horse winner and Jim McCuley.

Don Holder, who placed fourth in the lone member of the squad making the trip.

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Be Happy—GO LUCKY!

In a cigarette, toasted makes the difference—
and Luckies toasted better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy Luckies.

PRODUCT OF The American Tobacco Company
AMERICA'S LEADING MANUFACTURER OF CIGARETTES

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

Weekend Ends

(Continued from Page 1)

took part in the opening address to the group earlier.

Dr. Martin stressed the value of being able to speak and understand Spanish. Both of the members of the FSU administrative offices told students that Florida is located within a relatively short distance of Latin America and Spanish speaking populations.

Dr. and Mrs. Canfield entertained the visiting teachers of Spanish in their home in Tallahassee.

Never enough college women with Gibbs secretarial training to meet the demand

Special courses for College Women. Private secretarial training. Write College Dean for catalog

KATHARINE GIBBS

BOSTON, 90 Marlborough St. NEW YORK, 230 Park Ave. CHICAGO, 4 E. Ohio St. PROVIDENCE, 155 Angell St. PHILADELPHIA, 1 S. 15th St.

Evans Will

(Continued from Page 1)

G. Smith, head of the Department of Anthropology and Archaeology; Dr. Claude R. Flory, professor of English; Dr. James V. McDonough, professor of Art, and Mr. Adolph Karl, associate professor of art.

VISITING LECTURES will be made by Dr. Andrew C. Ritchie, director of painting and sculpture at the Museum of Modern Art, New York; and Dr. Lester D. Longman, head of the Department of Art at the State University of Iowa.

A concert of Rococo and Romantic music presented by the FSU Faculty String Quartet consisting of Messrs. Owen Sellers, Robert Sedore, James Nehes and Lester Baker, will be given tomorrow.

ON THE LAST night of the seminar, the Speech department will present an eighteenth century play, "The Mistress of the Inn" by Carlo Goldoni, in the newly installed Venetian theater.

Classified Ads

LOST: ATO fraternity pin. Virtue of soccer field. Reward. Contact Ralph Hagey. Alumni house.

Social Club to Hear CCC Guests Tomorrow

Guests from the Crippled Children's Commission will speak to the Social Work Club tomorrow night at 7:30. The address will be made on the second floor of the Longmire building.

Mrs. Jane Fleetwood and Bob Gates are the scheduled speakers.

Russell to Speak At Florida Capitol

Sen. Richard B Russell of Georgia, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will open his campaign in Florida with a speech from the Capitol steps at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Russell will be accompanied by U. S. Sens. Spessard L. Holland and Geotge Smathers and Rep. Bob Sikes.

Russell, a native of Windber, Ga., has held public office since he was elected county attorney in 1919. He has served in the Georgia House of Representatives, was Georgia's youngest governor in 1931, began serving in the Senate in 1932, and is at present chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee

Many FSU Showmen Help Talent Bowl Slated April 18

The Talent Bowl show organized for the support of the cancer drive will feature a colossal production with 1700 participants at the Doak S. Campbell stadium on April 18.

The Talent Bowl will feature the FSU 80 Piece Concert Band, the huge 400 voice Choral Group, the big Grand Opening Parade with the Talent Bowl Queen and Court, Al Brock and the Gospel Singers, State Future Farmers Championship String Group, the State Cabinet Barber Shop Quartette, the Florida A. & M. Concerts Band and the Championship Jitterbug Contest.

Then too the Talent Bowl will feature audience participation. From the grandstands the audience will judge the Jitter Bug winners through applause. There will be community singing featuring that ever popular number "Tallahassee." But the real demonstration of color comes from the FSU and Florida A. & M. R.O.T.C. groups as they march into the stadium. Marching bands will parade, with Leon High school's 80-piece band, Lincoln and Griffin High school with their big bands.

The Talent Bowl show will be primarily built around the FSU Gymkana this year. Five National Champions and one Olympic Champion will be featured.

Music Myth Lecture Set For Tomorrow

An illustrated program on "Classic Myths in Music" will be given tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Longmire building.

Miss Barbara Swartz and Howard Silberger will present this fourth in a series of lectures and programs. The Eta chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical honorary, is sponsoring the series called "The Influence of Classical Myths on the Arts."

U F F Honor Court

(Continued from Page 1)

were signed by Trimble Jones and nine other Honor Court members.

President Miller, in a statement after the resignations, said:

"In a limited number of cases, the best interests of the university, of the students involved in violations, and of the great majority of students in the university who are in no way involved, may best be served by a change in the penalties imposed . . .

"The President is of the opinion that all students convicted during the extraordinary sessions of the Honor Court should be rehabilitated on the campus of the university and that such rehabilitation should begin immediately.

"As a means of rehabilitating the students involved, and of giving them an opportunity to consider further the gravity of their offenses, while at the same time affording them a chance of establishing within themselves a strong will and deep sense of moral gravity, The president is appointing a special counseling committee to whom such students will be responsible and to whom they may look for guidance in academic, moral and ethical matters.

"This action in no way minimizes the grave words and blatant esteem with which I regard the Florida honor system, but above all I recognize my responsibility to save the young men and women involved in this unfortunate episode as far as possible within my power."

Dr. Miller's statement also said: "The president has no judicial voice in those cases handled by the Honor Court which have not been appealed to the faculty committee on discipline.

"He does have the responsibility of approving or disapproving the judicial decisions rendered by the committee on discipline with respect to cases coming before it on appeal.

"Furthermore he must deal with cases that come to him on appeal from the decisions of the disciplinary committee.

"It is the president's conviction that the Honor Court has performed its responsibility with respect to all violations of the Honor Code including the violations which occurred in the spring of 1951, courageously, fairly and judiciously. In like manner, the committee on discipline has been and is performing its duty.

"In the majority of cases there appears to be no reason for altering the decisions which have been made, and such decisions have been affirmed."

Schmidt Nomed Editor Of Summer Flambeau

Stan Schmidt, Flambeau columnist, has been appointed Summer editor of the Florida Flambeau, Bill Dunn, editor-elect, announced yesterday.

Schmidt will act as editor since Dunn will not be attending Summer school. The Summer editor will appoint his own staff, Dunn said.

Sigma Xi Lecture Features Bleaker

The Sigma Xi lecture Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Science Lecture hall will feature a discussion by Dr. Wouter Bleaker, visiting professor of meteorology, entitled, "Pronia, the Struggle Over An Idea."

Professor Bleaker is now on leave of absence as Extra ordinary professor of meteorology at the University of Utrecht in Holland and as director of the Division of General Forecasting and Aeronautical Meteorology of the Dutch Meteorological Service.

His term at Florida State University will be spent in academic and research work.

Bleaker was recently elected president of the Commission on Synoptic Meteorology of the World Meteorological Organization, a subsidiary of the United Nations.

Faculty Review

(Continued from Page 1)

that the representatives of the students have twice expressed their desire that the proposed amendment to provide for a cabinet system be enacted in the original form, the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs will allow no such thing. They have sent the amendment back to the Senate a second time, butchered even more this trip than the first.

"They emasculated the section which provides for an attorney general and made the cabinet posts more idea's than offices by setting the grade requirement so high that it is a beautiful goal to work toward, but like ideals, well nigh unattainable.

"The Senate did not give the students this eunuch legislation; this thing which you will vote on is a product of the faculty mill."

Graduate Club Picnic Planned Next Sunday

A Graduate Club picnic will be held April 13 at Camp Flastacowa.

The picnic for all graduate students will begin at 1 p.m. and will be climaxed with a supper at 5 p.m. Each family will bring their own box suppers. There will be free lollypops and a story-telling hour for the children, plus various kinds of entertainment for the adults.

The graduate students wish to extend an invitation to anyone left on campus during the Spring holidays.

Holiday Schedule Has Regular Hours

Camp Flastacowa will be open over the holidays with its regular hours.

The camp is open on all week days except Monday.

Tuesday through Friday, its schedule is from 3 p.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday's hours were 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. and on Sunday 1 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Mary Louthan
FOR JUNIOR CLASS
PARLIAMENTARIAN

Short-Stuff by A. L. WOLFSON

CHIC and SLEEK
COTTON TWILL SEPARATES
VAT DYED AND SANFORIZED

Smartly styled shorty short with snug fitting legs. Two large pockets, cuffed legs, zipper back.
Colors: Pastels, White, Purple, Navy, Brown, Red, Black.
Sizes 10-16 3.95

CUFFED BONED BRA
Can be worn strapless or halter style
Colors: Pastels, White, Purple, Brown, Red, Black.
Sizes 32-38 3.95

CAP: SIX QUARTER CROWN
Elastic back. Bonnet type visor
Colors to match Bra and Shorts 1.95

Coat to Match 5.95

Bertha Cooke

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
The MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
LAST TIMES TODAY
'My Favorite Spy'
With Bob Hope and Hedy Lamarr
WEDS. THRU SAT
'A Place In The Sun'
With Liz Taylor and Monty Clift

STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
'The Strange Door'
With Charles Laughton
WEDS. THRU THURS.
'Sailor Beware'
With Martin and Lewis

RITZ
TODAY AND WEDS.
'Anne Of The Indies'
In Technicolor
With Jean Peters

DRIVE-IN
TODAY AND WEDS.
'The Admiral Was A Lady'
With Wanda Hendrix
And Edmund O'Brien

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

STOP WORRYING about cigarette irritation

REMEMBER:
PHILIP MORRIS . . . and only Philip Morris . . . is entirely free of a source of irritation used in all other leading cigarettes!

START SMOKING FOR PLEASURE!
PHILIP MORRIS gives you MORE SMOKING PLEASURE than any other leading brand.
Yes—YOU'LL BE GLAD TOMORROW, YOU SMOKED PHILIP MORRIS TODAY!

You'll love "I LOVE LUCY" starring LUCILLE BALL and DESI ARNAZ
The new TV laugh riot over CBS

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

You supply the girl... we'll supply the Arrow white shirt!

Handsome shirt in the Easter Parade!

Arrow Ties 0.00 up Arrow Handkerchiefs 00c up

Look your best and feel your best—in your favorite Arrow Shirt and a new Arrow Tie! Only the finest "Sanforized" fabrics go into Arrow shirts, and that famous Mitoga cut assures trimness with no bunching to spoil the fit. Come in and make your selection now.

Mendelson's
FOR ARROW UNIVERSITY STYLES

Best company an Easter bonnet ever kept . . .

THE ARROW SHIRT!

Get ready for Easter with Arrow Shirts in white, solid colors, and patterns, and Arrow Ties.

ARROW
SHIRTS • TIES • SPORTS SHIRTS • UNDERWEAR • HANDKERCHIEFS

Florida Flambeau

PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 46

Friday, April 18, 1952

Senate Approves Amended Cabinet See Lead Story—

Students Are Asking Where Is Smoke Signals? See Editorial—

Majority Needed For Class Prexy

Senior Class Office Still Undecided; Other Positions Filled in Run-Offs

The office of president of next-year's senior class remains undetermined after last week's run-off election, in which John Latimer, the only candidate listed on the ballot, polled 90 votes to 68 write-ins for Bob Ryals 53 for Jere Salyers.

Latimer cannot be declared the winner, however, because of the ISGA constitutional provision which states, "A majority of all votes cast shall be necessary for election in all cases."

FACULTY COUNCIL must determine whether the problem arises under the heading of "a vacancy occurring after a duly held election," as the constitution phrases it, in which case the body is qualified to appoint a candidate to fill the vacancy.

The whole issue revolves was also confused when Bill Skipper, apparent landslide winner, was forced to withdraw in the primaries due to a deficiency in grade point average. Council then declared that write-in ballots would be acceptable for the run-off. Jere Salyers, Ryals and Salyers engaged the race.

OTHER OFFICERS, except for a one junior men's representative to Judiciary, were determined either in the primaries or run-offs of the class elections.

For next year's senior class, Sue Dixon will be vice-president, Barbara Bowden, secretary, Jane Shepard, treasurer, June Kirkpatrick, parliamentarian; Paul Z[illegible].

Bulletin:

Senior class president for next year will be elected at a meeting of the junior class, Tuesday, April 29, at 7 p.m., according to the ruling of the Executive Council at its meeting last night.

The resolution, introduced by Bobby Brandon, president of the junior class, further states that candidates nominated from the floor must present copies of their grades from the registrar's office to the presiding officer prior to making, at the time of nomination.

Student social chairman, Barbara Anne Thompson, announced that Bob Ryals, Jimmie Evans and Bonnie Dowdy would serve as co-chairmen of the Senior Splash, president; Archie Johnson, vice-president; Bobbie Frost, secretary; Mary Louthan, treasurer; Mary Ann McMillan, publicity chairman, Judy Simkins, Pat Herlick, and Janice Krause, social chairmen; Colin English, Judy McDaniel and Charlie Hall, decorations.

Co-chairmen of the senior class officers are: Ann Rhoads, president; Jo Anne Hoe, vice-president; Jean Bullock, secretary; Doc Johnson, treasurer; Patsy Hudson, Barbara Ann Thompson, Grace Shreve, social chairman; Joan Dodson, Lois Hrbek, and Chris Jones, women assistants. Gene Wayne Terry, and Don Shaw, men assistants.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES to the Student Council: Jimmy Bowen, Frankie Brownlee, Ellen Axis, Barbara Bobb, Dewitt Bowrich, Richard Jackson, Bob Lee, and Nanette McLain, juniors.

For representatives to Judiciary: Jerry DeWitt Jones James R. Graham, Joan Webb, and Sallie Wood, seniors; Kingman Brittain, James Crawford, Patty Mayo, Yvonne McCarthy, and Bob Werner, juniors; Bill Stanfield, Bob Potter, Ray Rogers, Carolyn Johnson, Dorothy Cooke and Sheila Avis, sophomores.

Steve Bailey and George Martin were elected juniors and sophomore representatives to Traffic respectively.

Cowthon Holds Spring Formal

Cowthon and South Cawthon will hold their annual Spring Formal Saturday night, it was announced today.

The formal will feature Jerry Collier and his orchestra. The dance being held on the parlor and on the patio, will be decorated as a garden scene with "Cowthon Terrace" as the theme.

A Mad Hatters party will be held in each of the dormitories Saturday dates will come adorned with originally created hats of their own design, at the time of the Mardi Gras festivity are in charge of the Dance committees.

Art Mooney Signed to Play At IFC Dance

Art Mooney, nationally known orchestra leader, will be featured with his 15 piece band at the annual Interfraternity dance May 23 and 24.

State Capers is the name that has been given the dance which should prove to be a second homecoming, said Floyd Foyle, dance chairman. For the first time the dance will be open to the student body under the sponsorship of IFC.

TWO NIGHTS, May 23 and 24, were decided upon in order to avoid a crowded dance floor. The same program will be conducted for both nights with not over 750 couples at any one night as compared to 1200 couples at the last homecoming dance.

A concert is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 24, featuring An Art Mooney show on the stadium. The concert will also be open to the student body. A beau contest will be held in conjunction with the concert. Invitational tryouts will be presented during the program, Chairman Foyle said.

TANK TICKETS will go on sale May 1 as a cost of $3 a couple. Students are urged to buy their tickets early since only a limited number will be sold.

Any organization desiring to enter a candidate in the beauty contest is asked to submit their contestant's name to Bob Woodrich for complete details.

PRECISION AND BALANCE—A member of the Gymkana troupe displays unusual skill and balance. This is one of the many acts that will be featured in tonight's 'Talent Bowl' for the Cancer Fund drive.

Warren To Crown Hutto Bowl Queen

Talent Bowl Queen Jo Ann Hutto will be crowned by Governor Fuller Warren tonight in the Doak S. Campbell stadium where 1200 participants will contribute their talent to the Leon county cancer drive. Miss Hutto was chosen recently crowned queen of the Florida State freshman carnival and was 1951 Tallahassee May queen.

A grand opening parade at 8:15 will open the program and her Talent Bowl court.

MEMBERS of the queen's court are the original May Court members Betty Ann Munroe Kathleen Veal, Pat Cummins, Nancy Joyce, Patsy Neal, Charo Coulter, Virginia Anderson, Pat Turnley, Mary Ellen Hunt, Ann Gee, Jane Sutton and Tootsie Snead. All but three of these girls are freshmen at FSU.

Governor Warren will act as master of ceremonies in tonight's show where it is expected that more than the $3,000 goal will be provided for the Leon County cancer fund. This is the first performance of this type to be presented here.

"WITH ALL the talents 1,200 people are bound to have, the Talent Bowl should be a very fine show. Certainly the American Cancer Society to which the proceeds go is a very worthy cause," stated John Buckley, student chairman. The entire performance is being directed by Arthur M. McCarty, chairman of the 1952 Leon County Cancer Fund.

To get an indication of the show it is necessary to make a donation to the cancer fund. Invitations are being distributed by the members of Alpha Phi Omega, Sophomore Council, Boy Scout Circle K and Delta Sigma Omega.

ALL DAY TODAY a booth will be open in the back of Westcott Century French Modern. In addition to possessing great merits of wit, gaiety and skilful construction, they served to establish a new type of Italian character in the box seat.

Students in the cast include Frederic Boudalia as the Marquis di Forlipopoli, who believes that nobility is more important than money; Jack Hamlin as Count Albafiorita, who has a lesser title but lots of money; George Cary, as the Cavalier di Ripafratta, a woman hater, also included are David Dries, as a faithful servant to the mistress; Robert Hampton, as the Cavalier's servant; Don Bennington, as the Cavalier's servant and Easter Daniels as the Mistress of the Inn who makes everyone staying at her inn fall in love with her.

The 18th century Italian comedy is directed by Frank Hamilton, assistant professor of speech, costumes are by Douglas Russell, the settings by Wynn Park, lighting by Charles Reitner, assistant director, Dirk Hesler.

Reservations may be obtained by calling at the theater box office between 12 and 5 p.m. starting Tuesday, April 22. Phone Reservations will be accepted at 2-2000 or Ext. 2031.

"Mistress" Comedy Is Given Premiere

Premiere of the next Florida State production, "Mistress of the Inn," was presented at the Jangling Art Museum in the Union last week when the cast and crew performed before the annual Art Seminar.

Showing at the Conrad theater April 25, 26, 27 and 28, the production was seen in an original 18th century drama brought over from Italy and given to the United States.

PICTURES of many of the authors of that century, including Goldoni, were painted above each of the box seats.

"Mistress of the Inn" was written in the 18th century as was the 120 comedies by Carlo Goldoni. Director Frank Hanson commended Goldoni's writings as being ahead as one of the greatest of the 18th century Italian dramatic writers.

GOLDONI'S comedie, ben a reputation for those of the 19th

Veteran Members Of Circus Troupe Are Given Awards

Coach Jack Haskin, presenter with four year and 31 two year circus awards recently to veteran members of his nationally known "Flying Tuh."

The awards feature a Seminole Indian chief on a gold key, inscribed with a maroon "circus" on the bottom. The four year awards have four red rubies on the Indian's headband.

AMONG the special features presented to the cast in 1952 "Flying High" show to be given May 1-3 will be the introduction of the newly adopted circus theme song, "Flying High," written by Thomas Wright of the School of Music. The flying return, casting Leo Pinkston, Faye Williams and Johnnie Fortune, is accredited as "The Flying Decosmos."

Students receiving four year awards were Bill Bass, Fred Darnow, Johnnie Fortune, Louis Groot, Doris Kinzell, Avis Munroe and Charlie Floyd.

TWO YEAR awards were given to Helen Arnold, Joline Bennett, Dale Blair, George Bowers, Billie Dirkson, Nancy Dunn-Rankin, Mary Anne Fallgatter, DeWitt Free, Patsy Gates, Elaine Geiser, Sally Geissen, Renie Hall, Sarah Howard.

Awards were also given Shirley Knight, John Maher, Connie Marple, Louise Messer, Robert Miller, Virginia Miller, Carol Pelham, Genevieve Pettit, Lyl Pinkston Betty Ann Roberts, Sis Simpson, Ann Spencer, Ellen Stratton, Ann Summers, Carol Trimmer Faye Williams Joan Wilson and Sally Kennedy

Senate Passes Cabinet Bill Revised By Faculty Board

Tuesday's Action Is Not Legal; Action Called 'Step Forward'

University Senate passed the cabinet system amendment as revised by the faculty review board. The Senate's action Tuesday was not actually a legal passage but the straw vote cast showed the body overwhelmingly in favor of accepting the proposal as soon as one more section is added.

The plea for passage now was opened by Senator Senator Marjorie Mecklenbeck. Describing the cabinet system amendment as a "step forward," she asked the Senate not to let a whole year's work go in vain just because the faculty review board would not allow all the original provisions.

HER ACTION was seconded by Senator Linnea Syed, a strong proponent of the bill who has worked hard to keep the bill intact. Syed said he could concede some points made by the review board, but that he strongly disapproved of their methods of killing parts of the amendment. He suggested that the Senate write a memorandum voicing its disapproval of the methods.

Senator Phil Spriner then requested to speak, and a groan went up from many students as Spriner's strong opposition to the Bob Ryals, chairman of the Senate Constitutional Revision committee announced that the proposed cabinet system amendment will now be presented to the Student Body for ratification on Wednesday.

Editor Smith told a Flambeau staff member that yesterday he had explained the measure to the faculty review board on Tuesday or Wednesday. He said he was confident that now in the hands of the printers, Buckley and Newman.

Smith

SMITH SAID that there is nothing in the Sandefur-Varnals contract saying that the printers have deadlines. It would appear that the printers have so many jobs to do that they just work on the FSU magazine when they want to.

A mix-up on the marking of some pictures also occurred, he said. The editor said that two weeks were wasted trying to get the pictures back and forth for the engravers.

WE ARE trying to train a new staff, Smith said, and in trying to train them, he noted that some understandable mistakes had been made by the new workers.

Editor Smith is also working on the new issue which is half way finished and will come out the first week in May. Fifty-two pictures of the 1952 circus will be featured.

The issue due next week will have 24 pages and features cartoons of the various sororities, one which has Mary Ruth Summers, U.G.A. president-elect, on its cover.

Senate Views Smoke Signals

Editor Joel Smith Invited To Explain Issue Delay

Joel Smith, editor of the Smoke Signals magazine, has been invited by the University Senate to attend the next session to explain why he has been unable to get the already overdue magazine out.

Freshman Senator Phil Spriner first announced that his finance committee would investigate as has what had become of the student activity funds being used for the publication if he were requested to do so by the Senate.

SENATOR Spriner said he thought the magazine would appear soon, and finally Senior Senator Jean Byrne proposed that Smith be invited to Senate to explain his difficulties.

Editor Smith told a review board meeting of the faculty publications committee Tuesday or Wednesday. He said he was confident that now in the hands of the printers, Buckley and Newman.

SMITH SAID that there is nothing in the Sandefur-Varnals contract saying that the printers have deadlines. It would appear that the printers have so many jobs to do that they just work on the FSU magazine when they want to.

A mix-up on the marking of some pictures also occurred, he said. The editor said that two weeks were wasted trying to get the pictures back and forth for the engravers.

WE ARE trying to train a new staff, Smith said, and in trying to train them, he noted that some understandable mistakes had been made by the new workers.

Editor Smith is also working on the new issue which is half way finished and will come out the first week in May. Fifty-two pictures of the 1952 circus will be featured.

The issue due next week will have 24 pages and features cartoons of the various sororities, one which has Mary Ruth Summers, U.G.A. president-elect, on its cover.

L'Apache Club Banned Here By Dr. McBride

Activities Considered Below FSU Standards By Dean of Men

L'Apache organization will no longer be permitted to exist, and students claiming membership after April 7 give evidence that they do not belong in this institution, Dean of Men Otis McBride announced.

Nor will the L'Apache uniform be permitted at University functions, Mr. McBride stated.

THE DEAN of men said that L'Apache seems that the organization is poorly organized, that meetings are rarely held, that it does not carry out the ideals of a service organization in that it has not even been having meetings and he has been rendering service.

"The persistent reports regarding drinking activities seem to be somewhat undeniable. Whether they be called part of the initiation or whether they are incidental accompanying factors, apparently they are evidently do drink to excess and do carry on activities unbecoming a gentlemen. He mentioned singing and noises in front of sorority and fraternity houses as two of the offenses.

JUDGING from the number of members who expect to wear the L'Apache uniform as a group at a special L'Apache function next year, in the past, one or two members have been showing up, causing confusion in that uniform As previously mentioned, the uniform has also been banned.

Nominations Due For FSU May Day King and Queen

Nominations for the Senior man and woman to reign as King and Queen over the annual May Day dance to be held Friday, April 25, will be due Monday at the Westcott. From these nominations the May Queen and King will be chosen in an election Monday.

A second voting will be held Wednesday, April 23, to determine from these ten senior nominees the King, Queen and their court. Every student may vote for the senior nominees

The annual dance, which has been rescheduled from April 26 to April 25, is sponsored by the Village Vagues. It will hold this year on the patio of the student union at West campus. Music will be furnished by George Beck and his orchestra from 9 to 12 p. m. Refreshments will be served

Free Movie Tonight In Amphitheater

"The Treasure of Sierra Madre" will be shown free of charge tonight at 8 p. m. in the amphitheater. In case it is too cold the movie will be held in the Reynold's Recreation room. "Moon and Sixpence" will be shown through the week of April 28th.

The first showing will be Monday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Student union at West campus. Tuesday it will be held in the Charles-Wilder classroom building. Friday, Senior Hall and Saturday at 8 p. m. in the amphitheater.

Junior, Senior Men File Gold Key Lists

All junior and senior men students are asked to submit a list of activities to Dean Kenny and men's service honorary, Skin Gould, president, stated yesterday.

Activity blanks may be obtained at the information desk in the Lonnaire building.

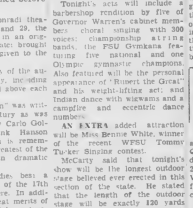
Deadline for all activity blanks is 5 p.m. Monday, Gould said. Gould also urged each and every student to submit an activity blank.

"We don't want to overlook anyone."

Unsatisfactories Out

Unsatisfactory slips should be out by noon today, Registrar Charles-Wilder announced yesterday. Slips for those who were unable to get in late and a delay has resulted in the mailing

ODK Convention Scheduled



Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership-scholastic honorary for men, will hold its Southeastern province convention at Florida State University May 2 and 3.

Over 50 ODK members including Fred B. Wenn, national vice-president, and representatives from 12 universities are expected to attend the two-day convention.

As an entertainment feature they will see the nationally famous FSU circus at the Friday night performance.

SOUTHEASTERN province meets every two years.

Committees appointed to work on the convention are Dick Bradley and Dr. Samuel Meyer, regis-

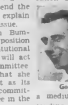
VISIT WEST POINT—Cadet Capt. Donald P. Linton, left, commanding officer of the Army Ordnance unit, and Cadet Lt. Daniel W. Miller, unit executive officer, are shown looking at orders to report to the Military Academy at West Point, New York, May 1 for a stay of several days at the academy to observe activities of the cadets there. They were selected on the basis of their leadership, scholastic standing and future potentialities as an Army Ordnance officer.

Warren Talks To Geologists At Convention

AASG Holds Confab For Four Days; Marks First Meet in Florida

Governor Fuller Warren addressed the nation's state geologists convening at Florida State University for a four day annual convention while Estes Kefauver, whom the governor has challenged to debate, visited the state capitol.

Warren, who gave the welcoming talk, stressed the unlimited geological possibilities in this state.



DR. HERMAN GUNTER, director of the Florida Geological Survey, the official host for the 44th annual meeting of the Association of American State Geologists, and Dr. Doak B. Campbell, University president, also joined the Governor in welcoming the visitors.

The AASG members from 23 states, who are holding their first meeting in Florida, visited the U. S. Geological Survey and the Florida Survey, which also are housed on the FSU campus. The group was also visited the FSU department of geology, headed by Dr. James Cullison. The department cooperates with the U. S. and state departments to obtain state

(Continued on Page 4)

WFSU Represented At Radio-TV Meet By Flynn, Gould

Stan Gould, station manager of WFSU, and Roy Flynn, director of radio, are representing Florida State University at the twenty-second institute for education by radio-television.

Gould

The conference is being held in Columbus, Ohio, and will end Saturday.

Delegates from all colleges and universities in which use radio and television as a medium of education are attending the three day meet.

Mr. Flynn, who is one of the directors of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, will be on a panel on radio and drama.

Both Gould and Flynn will be taken on a tour of Ohio State University broadcasting facilities by members of the department of education and the Federal Communications Commission.

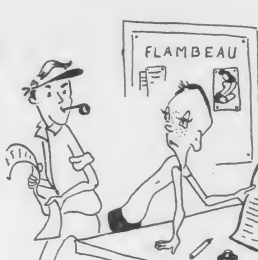
NSA Should Take Offensive To Rebute Malicious Slurs

The National Student Association, like other liberal organizations and individuals, suffers from being labeled communist by ignorant or malicious people. Here on this campus various opponents of the group grumble in voices barely above a whisper that NSA is "radical" or "red" but they have yet to come up with a single shred of conclusive evidence in support of their claims.

The time has come to buck the national trend of rather meek defense against such flagrant charges and take strong offensive position.

In international affairs NSA's active participation has been a cause of consternation among the more reactionary elements, but the organization's record in that field is one of which most Americans would be proud.

The National Student Association participates internationally in relief and reconstruction, the exchange of persons, the exchange of ideas and information, and international relationships. Through the World Student Service Fund, which Florida State University students help to support, it strives to improve material, educational and cultural conditions of students through the world. Through the NSA travel program, now a large and prospering concern, the student organization works toward the goal of exchange of ideas and persons.



Finally, NSA works toward the less tangible but vitally needed goal of person-to-person improvement of international goodfeeling. NSA visitors to foreign countries often report that people in other nations are almost totally ignorant of the American point of view, and that these student travelers have the chance to make really important contributions toward bettering understanding.

In all of its international work NSA has the blessings and encouragement of the United States State department. Neither the State department nor the Federal Bureau of Investigation nor the House Committee on Un-American Activities lists or ever has listed NSA as "subversive."

On domestic issues NSA has been criticised for its resolution favoring the breakdown of segregation in colleges. The resolution, of course, merely represents a majority opinion, and in no way binds any individual member school. Segregation is a real issue in the South, but NSA's resolution is no more communistic than is the majority of the United States for opposing the practice.

Thus the record shows vigorous democratic ideals rather than communistic. In the wave of hysteria now sweeping the country, anti-communistic actions are sometimes construed as "proof" of communism, in which the true communists are trying to cover up. This line of reasoning is, of course, ridiculous, because Joe McCarthy, Bob Taft or Will Pennell could be concluded by it to be communists of the first rank.

No, as FSU grows more interested in NSA, its opponents must give more reasonable arguments. If they know of other causes which State Student Body can join, let them speak. If they are going to continue clouding the issue with the red herring of communism, they should be ignored as immature.

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

CONTINUITY PROBLEM--A SOLUTION

BY ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

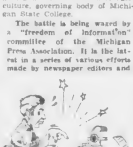
The problem of continuity in student government has long been a headache of student leaders and Faculty Advisor's alike.

The fact that students are on campus for four years or less and usually involved in particular activities for ever shorter periods creates extreme difficulty.

The turn-over of student participants and especially student leaders is very rapid.

Certain practical suggestions have been made at Florida State to meet this problem, one of which was initiated last spring by Morlar Sanders, student-faculty leadership-scholastic honorary.

This was, of course, the Leadership Training Conference. By working out before hand a program that involved both faculty advisers and student leaders, Mortar Board was able to conduct a really successful program and one that was enjoyed by everyone.



The second annual Leadership Training Conference is sponsored jointly this time by Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa, planned for May 17 and 18.

The co-chairman, Margie Mercante, and Bill Bradley, have asked each new and old officers to "reserve" this weekend. The program this spring promises to be even more helpful.

A recent survey, made by the Associated Press and printed in the New York Times, shows that censorship hides state college affairs from the public.

Currently a major battle is shaping up in Michigan to pierce the veil of secrecy surrounding the state board of regents, controlling the University of Michigan, and the state board of agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College.

The battle is being waged by a "freedom of information" committee of the Michigan Press Association. It is the latest in a series of various efforts made by newspaper editors and citizens in 18 states in the last 20 years.

The public's stake in higher education is tremendous. According to figures supplied by the U. S. Office of Education, the public owns 628 universities, liberal arts, teachers and agricultural colleges, junior colleges and other institutions of higher learning. The people have poured more than $2,833,-167,000 into developing buildings and grounds. They are appropriating over $466,113,000 annually to support them.

The fight for access to news of boards of higher education is not all black, however. In Arkansas informal press suggestions led to legislative action opening all meetings except for personal matters. In Florida the board of control, one operated in private in 1946 and an AP writer was sent to Gainesville to cover a meeting of the board. The policy has been generally one of the open door ever since.

In Illinois, a vigorous campaign by the Chicago Tribune led the attorney general to rule University of Illinois meetings must be open

Despite the investment, however, the AP study reveals that among the 18 states, Alabama, Arkansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Carolina and Texas specifically empower educational governing bodies to exclude the public from deliberations.

In Colorado, Montana, New Jersey and Wisconsin the state laws prohibit closed meetings. Within this basic law, but only for specific bodies.

An analysis of information from the chief state school officers of the 48 states and from AP bureaus shows that regardless of state law, in practice 26 state boards of higher education use meetings open, while in 14 they are closed. In five states where separate boards control individual institutions some hold closed meetings, others maintain the open door policy. The states of Connecticut, Oregon and Wyoming did not indicate any policy at all.

In some states, as reported by state officers, boards have never had to consider the question of holding open meetings. In Connecticut for example Fred Knowles, general manager and chief state board of education, says regents have never shown up to a cover meetings

SEMINOLE SCENES

DOWN IN THE DUSTY LIBRARY DEPTHS

BY FRANCES CAWTHON

It's a long, long stretch now to the rah-rah days of yesteryear are over and we're back to the Reserved Room and Trinkenbach Economics of Western Greenland," fifth edition.

It is mighty dark and musty down there, but we might as well get used to it. Under education has got its claws in us for another couple of months, and from the looks of the calendar, it ain't going to let us go either, not even for a breathing spell.

If you have taken an expedition down into the depths of the library lately, you will notice the galley slave expressions of those already have enough to put back into the swing of things. The place is filled with diligent, purposeful developing deep frowns from paragraphs of facts and figures.

Of course, not all of this week's Reserved Room accounts have fully adapted themselves to the comeback of studies set. There are the faces that forlornly eye all the newcomers as they come in the door, the type that will be dreamily staring at the peeling walls after some nauseating shoe has just passed by and interrupted their thoughts.

More things than humans are getting exfoliated nowadays. Does have always been commonplace in FSU classrooms, and I have a tendency to think they are counted in the enrollment too. This week, however, a rat with all the colors and pettiness the cat specials has ever had audited. Professor William Slaughter's Public Relations class. The cat, after giving one more the cold nose around to all his classmates and introduced himself. Later he took a desk and perched himself to be a lecture about good public relations, while alternately biting fleas who evidently didn't give a hang about good public relations. I doubt Tabby will get a degree, though, if he continues to fall asleep in all his classes.

While on the topic of animals, the unanimated ones around here seem to be the blunt for subversive actions.

Some thoughtful people — or bitter fingernails — have relieved the SPE elephants of their heads via Eraser-mania. Even a Cairosville frat lion was the victim of the anti-concrete animal party recently. But the latest salty outcomes the SAE lion.

Two co-eds thought they would like to burn him up and finally after trying about all the fuels available, they got a nice little fire going. Lea's frat brothers, however, didn't notice the predicament, so the girls went to a near-by filling station while their fire kept the gals talking on the phone. Whirling by the filling station while on their way to "trace that call," they noticed two suspicious looking characters went in to investigate, and sure enough: Fearless Fosdick could not have done better.

But the detectives were extremely disappointed in the prospect of doing anything drastic, they merely oldered by giving the two the latest in haircuts—the people! Did a neat job, too, except for a few 01 snips in places.

"Mr. Formal" Contest

The "Mr. Formal" contest gets under way Monday with the winner at Florida State University eligible to take part in the national contest for the title Mr. Formal U. S. A." Interested organizations may contact Lou Caldercol for information.

Senior Announcement

Deadline for graduation announcements is May 5, manager of the University bookstore J. Gordon Wheeler has announced.

Samples and prices are available in the bookstore.

Mr. Wheeler also said that May 10 is the deadline for all orders for caps and gowns

Graduate Student Gets Munich Award

The Richard Strauss Prize of the City Munich in Germany for the year 1952 was awarded to Christoph von Dohnanyi, a graduate student of FSU.

Christoph, the grandson of Ernst von Dohnonyi, professor of music at FSU, was the third person to receive the award. The prize carries a stipend of 1500 German Marks, sufficient to permit the student to pursue an additional year of study at Bavarian State Academy of Music in Munich. Pro mwhich Christoph has graduated.

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr.—Ed tor

Babs Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bruce Gurgins
Sports Editor ..... Tom Sands
Society Editor ..... Marcia Mayo
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Sports Editor ..... Judy Simkins
Flambeau Photographer ..... Bruce Strawbridge

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Robinson
Exchange Editor ..... Ann Hanks
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldroni; Fe Pittman, Steva Zarris

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 3-8h1, Ext. 353 Second Floor, Annex Annex Building
The Florida Flambeau is published semi-weekly by the students of Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Dear Editor...

APATHY "DISEASE"

Dear Editor,

An Open Letter to the Student Body

As a member of the UOA Senate this year, I take it upon myself to give you the facts about how our senate is wasting time is inefficient and generally not functioning.

I speak of the group as a whole. We are equally guilty of malfeasance.

We have let important decisions lag because we couldn't bear to spend extra time in meeting, we have not concentrated on your best interests, and we have generally been negligent about attending meetings.

Discipline our scream of "no faculty coercion," we have made it necessary for the faculty to delete and add provisions so proposed amendments.

RELIGIOUS NEWS

Baptists Hold 'Hobo Day'

By LOUETTA RILEY

Parties, picnics and special programs are scheduled in the religious house this week.

Baptist students will cut lawns, do their own chores and tomorrow in Tallahassee home as they participate in "Hobo Day." The happy event is being held here for Florida college students into mission fields. Janice May is in charge of the arrangements for the project.

TONIGHT the Baptist Student Union is having a party at the student house.

A picnic party is planned for Sunday afternoon at Bradley's Pond. Canterbury Club Committee members are Barbara Delgado, Mary Stuart Smith and Richard Yeager.

The Confirmation class will meet at 7 every Wednesday night at Hodge Hall.

TOMORROW at 10 Methodist students will meet at the Wesley Foundation and go to the ocean for overall clean-up. They will be able to go into morning will meet at Hodge Hall.

A program at Trinity Methodist church at 5:30 by men only will feature a "Fireside" reading entitled "Those Who Truly See Him."

BETTY SUE Freer and Charlie McDaniel will lead the special service at Methodist church Sunday night at Wesley Foundation. The program theme will be "The Bomb That Fell on America."

Bill Bloom, president of the State Westminster Fellowship, will be a delegate to the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship Conference in Miami this week.

Rosemary Prime and Louise Ware will present a program on "Summer Service Projects" Sunday at 6:15 at the Westminster house.

The Newman Club will meet tomorrow at the Newman House at 1 before going to Lake Bradford for a picnic.

St. Pete Groups Give FSU Concert

Two leading high school music groups in the state presented a concert Tuesday night under the auspices of the Florida State University School of Music. The two groups were the St. Petersburg chorus and orchestra.

The two groups were on tour and will take them to Alabama and Georgia.

Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and the Slumber Song from "Suite in D Minor" were among the solo numbers featured in the concert they were played by Dorothy Hicks and Joyce Elson, respectively.

The Laughing Song from "The Bat" by Johann Strauss was sung by Sandra Dalfino, soprano, and the "Italian Street Song" by Victor Herbert was presented by Ellen Snow, soprano.

Other solos were in the violin selections. "Cavatina" by Raff, played by Nancy Glassure, and the narrator's role in "The Song of America" by Roy Rubner, which was taken by Phil Rogers.

Directing the group was Donald P. Bennett, under whose direction the chorus and orchestra have been supported at the Musical festivals for the past five years.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Tally . . . 197.

He caught a cab across town The ride from Adams to Monroe was unbelievably swift. The huge sign fronting the State screamed. Appearing Nightly—Stan Kenton.

But some quick thinking — Schwoloth still featured celluloid collars.

Mr. Moon still told a bored-looking announcer about Tasmanian chuha and hard guys on motorcycles still rode up to Bennett's counter for their cokes (spiked with ammonia).

He Hoked was the tallest in town. Only yesterday a neurotic, overseased tree surgeon had thrown himself from the fourteen apartment and was rushed to the Hospital for treatment of a sprained ankle and bad stomach.

Hours later, as he stode up to Reynolds Hall, he was rudely shoved aside by a small blonde fellow who was giving out with some strange words and mumbling something about, "Smoke Signals—third issue. . . . .

"Susie Semmole, please."

"She's in 304—go right up."

"Hours later—They were ready for a night of reckless living at the exclusive Pavillion club, the small intimate Oasis—the luxurious Speedway

They surprised the Residence Counselor poring over her scratch sheet sipping from a bottle of Old Sting. She flicked ashes on the Persian rug and asked facetiously, "All night?"

"Yes Mam—a house party—as innocent as it could be."

The old gal winked lewdly and went back to her naps. . . .

PUFFIN' AWAY

Where is Smoke Signals?

The Flambeau asked this question last month because students were asking it. We will ask the question again this month. Will we have to ask the questions again next month?

Joel Smith editor of Smoke Signals dislikes to discuss the magazine.

He believes that a small group are the only curious ones on campus.

The Flambeau wishes to run this letter that was sent to us from one of the teeming mass that Smoke Signals claims to represent when it comes out (?).

Dear Editor Joel:

As an "average student, whom you claim to represent, I am wondering where you are hiding the magazine.

Every publication has printing difficulties but there is a limit to excuses. If you are not capable of editing the magazine, and the problems become too unsolvable, then quit and let somebody else do the job.

I am sending the letter to the Flambeau because, though I may not agree with the editorials all the time, they at least are fulfilling their purpose as a student newspaper by printing the student news on a schedule

If you are having trouble, I want you to print an editorial in your next issue explaining all your troubles and reasons for the unexcusable, I believe, delay.

I am paying money for the magazine. You promised us six issues at the beginning of your term of office. I have seen only two. You have exactly one and a half months to publish the remaining four issues, or I feel you have not given me my money's worth.

I hope you can give us some valid answers for your delay because Smoke Signals (on the lack of Smoke Signals) is the talk of my dorm and the campus

Sincerely,

A Student.

This is how one student feels.

FUN FOR FUNDS

The much publicized "Talent Bowl" will be held tonight at 8 p. m. in Campbell stadium. The cause is a worthy one, with all proceeds going to the Leon County Cancer Fund. A record-breaking attendance of over 20,000 is the hope and goal.

The Talent Bowl is being hailed as the greatest two-hour outdoor show ever produced in Leon County. Florida State University's Gymkana team will be featured in an hour long performance. A Gymkana course will be picked from a group of girls dressed in Olympic colors. Other FSU acts will appear in the show and a full, two hours of solid entertainment is a guarantee.

It is hoped that the students of FSU will turn out en mass for this performance. Tickets may be obtained from members of Sophomore Council, Alpha Phi Omega, and Gold Key.

Support this most worthy of causes.

MUSEUM NOTES

Did you know that the Indians on certain Caribbean Islands wore Stone collars weighing up to 15 pounds around their necks, on certain ceremonial occasions. One of these collars may be seen on display at the University Museum.

* * *

Artificially deformed heads were a mark of beauty among certain American Indians. Visit the University Museum and see the deformed head of a young Venezuelan Indian.

* * *

Did you know that the Indians of Panama developed an extraordinary to a high degree of proficiency. Visit the University Museum and see the intricate gold-alloy castings of pendents and other objects.

AN OBSERVATION—B. C.

...a pleasant companion reduces the length of a journey

Publishers Syrup

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TALLAHASSEE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1951, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Seminoles Open Series With Tampa This Afternoon

SANDS' SLANTS

By TOMMY SANDS

Subject: SLIP'S SHOWING—A couple of weeks ago your writer vented out a few facts concerning athletic contests in which Florida State squads had competed against the University of Florida teams and either finished ahead of their opponents or turned in close and creditable performances.

There was no sports Editor Hoke Sorsen on to say that we run a propaganda sheet over here, says that our remarks are arrogant, and as a parting shot takes a poke at the students when he says that our purpose is "in satisfying the students in Tally town who like to hear the merits of their athletes and the infallibility of their athletic leaders."

After reading the above piece three or four times I can be humble and honest opinion that Hoosh is all wet. In the first place there was no basis in our claims or facts that warranted a sensational piece of writing the other words a mountain has been made out of a mole hill.

You don't have to be an expert to realize that Florida State basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and golf teams are capable enough to warrant a place on the Florida schedule.

Football is another matter. You won't find many persons who would predict this Seminole wild-cat whip Woodruff's senior-studded crew if the two should meet tomorrow.

The point is though, that we here at Florida State despite all the fanagling and jockeying back and forth, don't believe that the Seminoles would run all over the Gators if the two ever met. What we want is for the two to try and build up a decent relationship in athletics and then let the fireworks start.

How I can be called prejudiced for trying to build up athletic relations between two state supported institutions I'll never know but it's coming and it's not too far off.

State supported schools in other states enjoy excellent relations why can't Florida and Florida State?

At any rate Hoogh, as the gentlemen said to the sweet young ter as she was stepping on the bus "Your slip's showing madam."

* * *

To get an accurate picture of the hurling Coach Ralph Matherly has been receiving from his mound corp, through first 11 tilts on the rugged 23 game card, take a look at a few of the statistics.

Excluding the games with Tampa in which they were held to a split, the Seminole hurlers have limited their sleven opponents to a pitiful .192 batting average while sporting a .264 themselves.

Big man among the chuckers, of course, has been the varsan righthander—Ed Lockard. Lock-

Expert Watch Repair
PAUL TURNER
JEWELER
102 S. Monroe

Indians Boost Season's Mark To Ten Wins

The Florida State University baseball team after breaking even on their four-game road trip last weekend, however rolled their sesame record to an impressive 10 wins against only three setbacks.

BESIDES the losses to Stetson and Tampa, the other defeat came at the hands of the strong University of Georgia nine.

Coach Ralph Matherly has named Freshman righthander Marvin Haynes to start on the mound for the Seminoles with ace Ed Lockard to follow up in tomorrow night's contests.

Tuesday's game will be Haynes first starting assignment of the season, after relieving in addition following an injury in batting practice A curve ball specialist, Haynes worked three innings in the initial game of the season against Amherst and saw relief duty in the exhibition tilt against the Class B Allentown Cardinals.

LOCKARD, top man on Matherly's hurling corp, has racked up four victories to his withnes a loss.

The big righthander has hurled two shutouts on a one hitter and a two hit job and at one stretch had pitched 20 consecutive innings and who has four wins to his credit without a defeat, has pitched 42 innings and given up only 13 runs on 22 hits. Eleven of those 13, however, crossed the plate in the tilt with Stetson last Friday.

The big Jacksonville boy tops the pitching staff in both the most innings and has given the most runs—25

In the slugging department captain and shortstop Bob Trowbridge has wielded the heaviest stick in runs batted in, two-baggers and extra base knocks, but had to take a back seat to versatile Les Mullen who is leading the team in batting with a blistering .381.

Trowbridge has scored the most runs—12, has six doubles, 11 runs batted in, and is tied for home run honors with Bob Trowbridge each having socked one four baggers.

Mullen has the most hits—16, most triples—2, and is tied with Bob Trowbridge in stolen bases with two.

First sacker Ken Smith of the course, leads in putouts with 72 while Trowbridge has the most assists—31 as dabs the more—FSU's error —7.

Toss however, committed most of his bobbles in the first few contests of the season in getting used to his unfamiliar post at short. A regular third sacker last season, Trowbridge moved over a notch when Matherly found himself without a shortstop at the outset of the current campaign.

Florida Flambeau Given ACP Rating

The Florida Flambeau has received a second class rating in the Associated Collegiate Press fall critical service

Missing a first class rating by 40 points, a second class rating is considered "good" while a first class is termed "excellent."

The classification of news editing and writing received the highest section rating while the lowest score was received on headlines, typography and makeup.

The newspaper was praised for the freshman issue, April 25, and criticized for "grey" makeup, weak inside page makeup, use of one column headlines and use of too many editorials.

The rating will be published in the ACP bulletin.

Superb Service
Keeps Your Car
In Tip-Top Shape
CALHOUN AMOCO
SERVICE STATION
131 N. Calhoun Phone 2-3084

SEMINOLE TENNIS SQUAD—Here are the members of the 1952 Florida State tennis squad that goes against Valdosta State in Valdosta, Ga., this afternoon. Coach Donald Loucks team will be looking for their fifth win of the season.

Gymnastics Team In Georgia A.A.U.

The national champion Florida State University gymnastics team in a warmup for the coming national AAU championships travels to Atlanta, Ga., today for the Georgia AAU meet Saturday night.

Tomorrow's meet will mark the fourth straight major championship meet that the Seminoles have participated in this year. Coach Hartley Price's squad who added their third national title in two years when they won the N.C.A.A. meet in Boulder, Colorado in March, were also easy victors in the Florida AAU meet and the Southeastern Intercollegiate meet.

COACH PRICE plans to follow the same procedure that he used in the Florida AAU meet when he divided his powerful squad into two teams.

Heading the Florida State entries are national all-around champion and Olympic team candidate Bill Roetzheim, three-time national side horse champion Gene Rabbitt Captain Jack Sharp, Dick Gutting and Don Holder.

ROETZHEIM and Rabbit, both graduate students, are ineligible for NCAA competition are eligible to participate in AAU competition.

Sharp is the national N.C.A.A. Prima rings and Olympic trials alternate NCAA trampoline champion while Holder finished fourth in the NCAA meet.

Other outstanding performers on the Florida State team that are expected to help pick up points include the Regna twins, Carmine and Joe, Jack Miles, national AAU flying rings champion, Larry Weston, Dick Ireland and Pat Sumerlin.

Men's Softball Now Underway

By JIM EADY

The 1952 Intramural softball season was ushered in yesterday at 5 as the fraternities took the field with seven games including the contest between last year's champ, ATO and PDT.

The softball race with a 13-game schedule, will play their games every week on Tuesday and Thursday and the dorm league, which isn't organized yet, will take the field on Mondays and Wednesdays

Next week's Fraternity League schedule

Apr 22, (Tues.)	Apr 24 (Thurs.)
LCA-SN	DTD-SAE
PKA-TC	PKT-KS
KA-SC	PKA-SPE
DTD-SPE	KA-TC
PDT-KS	PKP-LCA
PKP-SAE	PDT-SN

In the overall standings in the race for the Fraternity League championship ATO leads the pack with 416 points followed by PDT, 406 points and SN with 400 points.

With basketball, track bowling, touch football and volleyball completed, the standings so far read:

ATO	418 Pts.
PDT	406 Pts.
SN	400 Pts.
SAE	354 Pts.
SC	340 Pts.
KA	336 Pts.
PKP	318 Pts.
SPE	305 Pts.
LCA	298 Pts.
PKT	274 Pts.
PKA	240 Pts.
TC	239 Pts.
DTD	238 Pts.
KS	224 Pts.

PKT took the volleyball championship on a forfeit from TC in the finals last week

Women Cagers Wind Up Play

The same sad story has happened for the ODD basketball team. The EVENS defeated them by a 32-28 victory to win the final game y bs 36-24 score and the EVEN's proved themselves strongest as they came back to tie the sta score with a 44-25 victory.

The EVENS played good ball with Charlotte West scoring seven

Beetle Bailey SWEET SHOP 701 W. Jefferson

FSU Linksmen Face Stetson

After a two week's lay-off, the Florida State University golf team is slated to get back into action against the Stetson University Hatters here tomorrow morning. The match is scheduled to begin at 10 at the Tallahassee Country Club course.

The Florida State linksmen, with state intercollegiate champion Sonny Tinney in the number one slot, set off to a good start this spring by winning three out of their first four meets. The Seminoles then dropped three in a row while Tinney was competing in the State Amateur tournament. This puts the FSU fairways record at five won four lost.

Tinney will be ready to go against Stetson Saturday, as will teammates Captain Jack Cumble, Tommy Brown, Frank Hirt and Jude Dunfee.

A week from tomorrow the Indian clubbers will march across the greens to match strokes against the Gobs that tripped them in their season opener—Jacksonville Naval Air Station. Later in the season they also will compete in a three-way meet that includes Georgia and Ala.' ama, and on the first three days in May FSU journeys to Atlanta, Georgia, to swing in the Southern Intercollegiate.

Tennis Squad To Seek Fifth

Seeking their fifth victory with the season, Florida State University's tennis team is scheduled to face Valdosta State College in Valdosta, Georgia, this afternoon in its only start of the week

Another match originally slated for tomorrow with Rollins College has been postponed, according to Don Loucks, coach of Florida State.

The Garnet and Gold has won four out of seven racquet matches played this Spring. Dan Bock, with four victories in five starts, has the best mark among the Seminole netters. Bock, followed by Dave Kennedy and Jim Berry who have each won five, lost two starts.

Valdosta State College is a new opponent on the Seminoles' schedule—in fact, the Georgians are now on all of their opponents' slates this Spring because the tennis team is bringing VSC intercollegiate sport for the first time in the school's history.

Florida State Coach Don Loucks plans to send to use almost every player on the squad, in singles and doubles, against Valdosta State Jim Berry, Tom Cundy, Dave Kennedy, Joe Harris, Jack Sloan, and Dan Bock will probably handle the singles assignments. Captain Tom Baldwin, Bob Dobry, Dave Martin Paul Swiger, Don Wyly, and Dick Bradley will play doubles

On Friday, April 25, the tennis netmen will get a second crack at the Valdosta team. The following day, April 26, FSU is due to bump heads with Miami enteen of the points. The ODDS also were hot as Betty Ann Haynes sunk fourteen ODD points. The final game was "nip and tuck" all the way as the EVEN'S would take the lead only to have the ODD'S take it over. The EVENS in the last few seconds went ahead and retained fire points in front of the ODDS to win the basketball tournament.

FSU Cinder Team To Face Mercer

The Florida State track team will be favored to cop its second dual meet of the season here tomorrow afternoon when they face the Mercer Bears on the West campus track at 2:30.

The Seminoles brezed past Davidson in their opener 70 1 2 to 56 2 1 two weeks ago but dropped a one-sided decision to Loyola here last weekend.

Coach Ken Miller is expected to have his squad at near full strength for tomorrow's meet, after hurlers Jack Hurst and Harvey Haserty had to sit out last Saturday's meet with the New Orleans school.

Lack of depth was the deciding factor in the Seminoles loss to Lovola, however since the Seminoles reaped eight of the 14 first places but were unable to gain enough seconds and thirds.

Captain Jack Sanders gained revenge for his loss in the Florida relays by finishing ahead of the Loyola runners in the century dash and also added a first in the 220.

The Florida State squad and the Bears have met on the mutual opponent in Davidson who trimmed Mercer last week.

The Seminoles will run against the Bears twice last year—winning a 80 de'ision and a Mercer edition of the Bears in the Dixie Conference

Volleyball Six To Play Last Home Match

The FSU volleyball team will make its last home appearance of the season tomorrow night at 7:30 on the West Campus Gym, when they play the strong Atlanta YMCA.

In their final two weeks of practice for the National Collegiate, to be held in Columbus, Ohio at the end of the month, the Seminoles will face a heavy schedule of tune-up matches.

The Atlanta Y, raked among the top ball clubs in the south, will be out for revenge, having dropped two games to the local six in a tournament at Albany, Georgia. Atlanta lost 15-17 and 7-15 in those early games.

Coach Odeneal plans to start Howard Gould, Ronnie Hambrock Jim Clark, and Captain McPherrin in the spiking positions with Jim Coats and Harry Biber doing the setting

FAIVER'S
DRIVE-IN
Tallahassee's Largest and Finest
The World's Largest
HAMBURGER
The World's Largest FOOT LONG HOT DOG
DELIVERY SERVICE
SUNDAYS

COLLEGE WOMEN
Step Forward...
AS AN OFFICER IN THE WAC!

. . . and step up to a promising career . . . of stimulating work . . . excellent pay . . . great travel! A career that will mean escape from humdrum, ordinary jobs!

To those of you who are about to graduate, or, who are planning to leave school (with two years of college credits) —think of what this opportunity means to you! Remember, too, that as an Officer in the Women's Army Corps, you enjoy equal pay, allowances, and benefits with men of identical rank in the U. S. Army . . . plus free medical and dental care!

And how wonderful and deeply satisfying to have the chance of earning a fine living while serving your country.

Don't Miss Your Opportunity!

Don't delay! Contact your nearest Recruiting Station or Army installation for further details . . . and for application

OFFICER PROGRAMS:

1. Women college graduates, ages 21 to 27, may apply for appointments as 2nd Lieutenant in the Reserve and upon satisfactory completion of training may qualify for commission in the Regular Army.
2. Reserve commissions in grades of 2nd Lieutenant to Captain are granted to women with a college degree who fall within the age group of 21 to 39 with qualifying experience in teaching, business, recreation, personnel administration, advertising or other fields requiring leadership and supervision of personnel.
3. With a minimum of two years of college, women may enlist as WAC Officer Candidate Applicants

Should you wish to WRITE for details, just fill out and mail this coupon —

ADJUTANT GENERAL, Dept. of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.
Attention: AGSN
I would like to receive more information about the opportunities of being an officer in the WAC.
NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
CITY ZONE STATE

WAC
WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS
UNITED STATES ARMY

KA Weekend Begins With Parade; Will End With Rebellion Ball

BY MARCIA MORRIS

[illegible] Kappa Alpha weekend [illegible] underway [illegible] at 4 o'clock [illegible] downtown Tallahassee. The parade which [illegible] K A house [illegible] street [illegible] Bennett's [illegible] 7 30 the [illegible] Rebellion B[all] [illegible] at 8 p. m. in the Tallahassee Woman's Club.

Highlighting the ball will be the presentation of the Kappa Alpha Rose and her attendants, and the reading of the secession proclamation. The Regents will provide music for the dance, which is open to the entire FSU student body, and Jim K[ir]k will act as master of ceremonies. B[ill] Meeks is general chairman of the weekend and the committee chairmen are refreshments, K. D. Bl[ass]; decorations, Bob Wood[ward]; publicity, Tommy Sands; entertainment, [J]im Tayler; basement, Kingman Brittain, and transportation, Charles C[urtis].

O[ver] 300 [guests] attended the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house opening the Sunday before Easter, [including] President Doak S. Campbell and members of the FSU [faculty]. The formal opening was given in honor of SAE house [mother] M[rs.] R O H[illman].

[Th]is weekend the chapter [will be host to] [illegible] for the SAE province convention [illegible] representatives from G[eorgia], Florida and Alabama. A [illegible] will be J[oh]n O Moseley, National Executive Secretary of SAE.

Festivities will include a buffet [dinner] and dance at the house [Friday night], business meetings on Saturday and the banquet at [illegible] Saturday night followed by a dance at the house.

Phi Delta Theta's [illegible] recently for Joe Parker, Do[illegible] R[olan]d Be[nso]n, Robert Bert[illegible], Ralph Eagleton and Ralph McCanna. The Phi Delts will be celebrating their annual weekend with a dance at the Country Club this evening.

A Founder's day banquet highlighted Phi Kappa Tau activities of the past week. Guest speaker was Walter Keyes and several other alumni attended. The Phi Tau's were entertained recently by the Gamma Phi Beta's and their pledges honored the pledges of Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Gamma Delta sororities with a party.

Members of Alpha Chi Omega entertained their [illegible] alumna advisor with an informal coffee [party] before Easter and will [honor] [the] Tallahassee alumnae with an informal Coke party at the house on Saturday. New [officers] of Alpha Chi are Jo Stewart, president; Barbara Thomas, vice-president; Wynet[te] Maug[ha]n, corresponding secretary; Nancy Friend, recording secretary, and Joan Webb, treasurer.

The Chi Omega's celebrated their spring Eleusinian Saturday evening with a short ceremony, after which refreshments were served. As a part of their civic service program, members prepared numerous Easter Baskets which were given to the crippled children for Easter Day. Susan Ba[illegible] served as chairman of the committee. This weekend the Chi O's are planning a retreat at Camp Flastacowa. A program will be presented and there will be fun for all.

The Delta Tau Delta's crowned Betty Ann Gask[ins], Zeta Tau [illegible] Queen of their formal dance which was held before Easter vacation.

Beta Mu chapter of Gamma Phi Beta has been [invited] by the national council of the sorority to [illegible] in p[illegible] and stories about [illegible] at FSU. The project is a part of the sorority's [illegible] an [illegible] national [illegible] book. The Gamma Phi's entertained the Pi Kappa Phi's [illegible] informal party Wedne[sday] [illegible] Morgan was [illegible] [illegible] WFSU [illegible]

Pi Beta Phi's [illegible] e pre[illegible] Atlanta, Mrs. [illegible] weekend. A recept[ion] [illegible] will be held at the [illegible] Sunday afternoon at 4 [illegible] Pi Phi's were taken on a tour of the Modern Art exhibit by D[illegible] Holsc[illegible] as a part of the Pi Phi night program on Thursday.

Thursday night the Delta Gamma's were entertained by [the] P[i] Kappa Tau fraternity. Jeanne Thomson was chosen dream girl of Pi K A.

The Sigma Kappa's were [illegible] at an informal party [illegible] by the ATO['s] T[illegible] evening.

CLAUDE PEPPER. Former Senator Pepper will address the Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity next Tuesday in the Opperman Music Hall at 8 p.m. Secretary of State R. A. Gray will introduce the speaker

Second Blood Meet Pleases Chairman

Mac Hue[y], blood drive chairman for the men's "F" Club, stated that he was pleased with the turnout at the second blood drive meeting yesterday afternoon.

He also stated that groups that [illegible] representatives at the meeting be sure and attend the next meeting two weeks from T[uesday].

On[ly] six fraternities, two sororities and a couple of dorms were absent at the first meeting before the Easter holiday.

The two-day blood drive has been scheduled May 13 and 14 instead of April 29 and 30 as previously announced in the Flambeau. H[e] stated. The Jacksonville blood bank had [scheduled] [illegible] and FSU's drive will be postponed.

Alford B[illegible] [illegible] in Tallahassee [illegible] a trophy to the [group] donating the greatest [amount] of blood to the campus.

H[e] also said that captains are [illegible] of all donors in their [illegible] next meeting. A[illegible] scheduling will take place at the meeting.

D[elta] Z[eta] sorority along with [th]e Chi Omega sorority have [illegible] the arrangement [illegible] procurement.

P. E. Club To Meet

The [illegible] Physical Education club will meet Tuesday in the women's [illegible] of the East Campus [illegible] at 7 30 p m. P[illegible] meeting [illegible] election of [illegible] followed by [illegible] a [illegible]

Alpha Delta Meeting

N[illegible] Alpha Del[ta] [illegible] Kappa Delta Pi will [illegible] regular meeting [illegible] 7 30 [illegible] [illegible] the scope of work of UNESCO.

Warpath Members Attend Conference

[illegible] Southeast Pep conference in Lexington, Kentucky.

Newly elected [illegible] officers representatives of the band and cheerleaders are a[ttending] the convention. New officers are Florence Holm[es], president; B[illegible] Durn, vice-president; Pa[t] F[illegible], secretary; Mary Grace Shoemaker, treasurer, and J B Bac[h]man, publicity.

The campus club has [been] working on a card section. The [illegible] types of card sections will be discussed in Lexington and Florida State [is] expected to [adopt] the most suitable one for F S U.

Warren Talks

(Continued From Page 1)

[val]uable [illegible] practical field experience for the student's [illegible]

SESSIONS HELD by the geologists [illegible] de[illegible] on the definition [illegible] duties by [illegible] of other state departments, cooperation for re[illegible] public relations [illegible] and p[illegible] problems.

We[dnesday] FSU President Doak S. Campbell [told] the association members [illegible] being made [illegible] a new building [illegible] which will house the State Geological Survey and the FSU department of geology.

THE GROUP adopted as its aims and objectives: The advancement of science and practical [illegible] of geology in the United States, the improvement of the work of state geological surveys, [illegible] exchange of ideas [illegible] to [illegible] techniques and application to the needs of [illegible] the improvement of methods of dissemination [illegible] state geological [illegible] the public, [illegible] schools and [illegible] organizations and the accomplishment of coordination and correlation of work with federal and associated state agencies in similar or related fields.

School of Music, Dohnanyi Praised By Spanish Lyrs

Florida State University's School of Music and faculty member, Ernst von Dohnanyi, have gotten a lot of praise, but this time it's all in Spanish.

An article entitled "Notas sobre una escuela de musica en Florida" in the recent issue of "Lyrs", a Buenos Aires magazine devoted to music and the fine arts, praised Dohnanyi. The FSU faculty member is well-known in Argentina through his directorship of the School of Music of the National University of Tucuman. Dohnanyi held that post before coming to FSU in Nov., 1949.

The article contains illustrations of the music building, although, according to the writer, "not even pictures can adequate convey the superior facilities for musical study which the building provides."

Florida State President Doak S. Campbell is praised as an energetic pioneer of the cause of general education in the U S and Music Dean Karl Kuersteiner as a distinguished violinist and conductor of the State Symphony of Florida.

Women's Senate Elects Marshall

Emily Ingram was unanimously elected chief fire marshal at Women's Senate meeting Wednesday. Emily was selected from among three nominees.

Following the election by the senators, Mary Helen Speed, chairman pro-tem, gave a report on her talk with Dean of Women Katherine Warren concerning the regulations that girls may not enter the dormitories between 12 p m and 6 a m. It was suggested that the Senate check the bus and train stations to see if there were many buses and trains coming in between the hours of 12 p m and 1 a m and 5 a m and 6 a m.

Assistant Dean of Women Elizabeth Lynn, stated that a committee had sent a proposition to Pan-Hellenic that sororities find rooms on campus or make room in their houses for [visiting high] school seniors.

Pat Renick called for a Codifying committee meeting next Sunday at 10 p m.

Canfield Is Granted Leave Of Absence

Dr. D. Lincoln Canfield, head of the department of modern languages, has been granted a leave of absence by the State Board of Control from July 31, 1952 to June 30, 1953, President Doak Campbell announced.

Dr. Canfield, who has served at F. S. U. for seven years, will spend his absence as head of the Spanish department of Rochester University, N. Y.

Canfield came to F. S. U. from Rochester University.

TALLAHASSEE THEATRES
It's MOVIETIME IN FLORIDA, U. S. A.

FLORIDA
TODAY & SATURDAY
'Ten Tall Men'
with BURT LANCASTER and JODY LAWRENCE
color by Technicolor

STATE
NOW SHOWING
"SINGING IN THE RAIN" with GENE KELLY
DEBBIE REYNOLDS and DONALD O'CONNOR
Technicolor

RITZ
TODAY & SATURDAY
James Craig and Barbara Payton in "Drums of the Deep South"
also
"Riders of the Pony Express" with KEN CURTIS

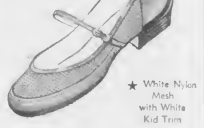
DRIVE-IN
TODAY & SATURDAY
Van Johnson and June Allyson in
'To Young to Kiss'
also
'Texas Lawmen'
with Johnny Mack Brown

WORLD'S FINEST ENTERTAINMENT.
SEE A MOVIE NOW!

The better your secretarial training, the better your business opportunity



Special Course for College Women [illegible]
KATHARINE GIBBS
[illegible]

Dear Diary:
if my hands tremble, here's why
"He did it—yes, he proposed! My love for him grew even greater, if possible, when he slipped the engagement ring on my finger. Such good taste—such a beautiful choice I'm really in love!"
Note to "him"—Drop in [and see] like our special values.

Moon's
REGISTERED JEWELERS

Dine with us in the Amber House
EVENING MEAL
Fried Chicken
[illegible] Oysters
[illegible] Pineapple
We Specialize In Hamburgers Home Made Pies Waffles
"FOR FOOD THAT'S FINE"

LET US SERVICE YOUR PRIDE AND JOY
Cameron's Texaco Service Station
Formerly Meats Service Station
566 W. TENNESSEE DIAL 3-0619

Cover Girl
dress flats by PRIMA
WHITE NYLON MESH
at only 8.95 pair

★ White Nylon Mesh with White Kid Trim
Sizes to 10 S.M.L. . . Widths
Prima's Cover Girls do it again!
Now! Cool white Nylon Dress flats to dress up your prettiest cotton frocks for down-to-earth comfort with Heavenly Style . . . You'll adore them as easy to clean as nylon hose.
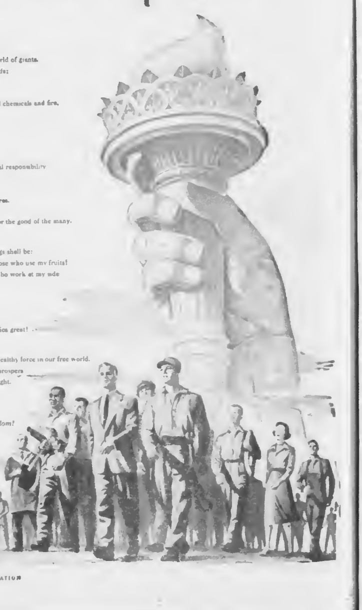
MILLER'S Bootery
College Ave.

I am Industry-1952



Ushered into a new world,
I had a bustling, brawling, bruising youth
I was a potential giant awakening in a world of giants.
People were hurt when I first stirred in life;
Then I grew and learned;
Then I matured and knew that
Though I work with water and metal and chemicals and fire,
I am more than these things.
I am the people's work!
I am the people's dream!
I am the people!

With maturity, I have grown, too, in social responsibility
To the people,
To America!
And even to those beyond our shores.
My efforts are not in selfish interest;
Rather, all my brain and brawn strives for the good of the many.
I am the American way!

Now, I have sworn that these things shall be:
I shall deliver ever-better products to those who use my fruits!
I shall offer equal opportunity to those who work at my side
Whatever their race!
Whatever their creed!
Whatever their color!
Whatever their national origin!
I shall forever do my part to keep America great! . .

And why?
Because only in this way can I remain a healthy force in our free world.
For when I am healthy, America prospers
And tyrants tremble before my might.

I am America's life-blood!
I am America's strength!
I am the bulwark of the World's freedom!

GENERAL CABLE CORPORATION

Students Vote Tomorrow On Cabinet Amendment
See Lead Story

Florida Flambeau

Journalism Majors Don't Support Paper
See Lead Editorial

VOL. XXXVIII, No. 47 PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA Tuesday, April 22, 1952

Italian Play Opens At FSU on Friday

Play First Performance In Sarasota In Original 18th Century Theater

The "Mistress of the Inn", by Carol Goldoni, will open the Augusta Conradi theater, Friday, April 25, for its first Florida state performance. The play will run until Sunday, April 29.

Tickets for students will be 44 cents and for faculty and others on all performances begin at 8:15 p.m.

THE PLAY was first premiered last week at Sarasota's Ringling Museum of Art in relation to the summer Art Seminar. It was performed in the Asolo theater, an 18th century theater brought over from Italy and set up piece by piece in this country museum.

Goldoni, the playwright, wrote plays performed inside many same theaters during the 18th century. On this same stage the Inn, known in Italian as La Locandiera, was performed.

THE CAST is directed by Frank Dixon, director of "Don't Take It With You," which was played on campus at the beginning of the year.

Doreen Siller, last seen as the leading lady in "Don't Take It With You," will play the role of the Count's daughter, while George Carey, also seen in the fall play, takes part of the "woman-hating" count. Dr. Reginald Charnley will join a transfer student who is a member of a one-act touring company, to make up the cast of the Marquis Di Forlipopoli.

LIBBY MAUCH, who had roles in "Door Door and "You Can't Take It With You" will play the part of the mistress, David Dreis-bach as the inn's waiter Fabrizio, and Ann Martin Pierre as the Worthy Master Pierre de Healer, the transfer student played Paterin, a director of the show from Tallahassee. Other part of the cast are Don Remington as the count, Tom Cain as Ripafratta, who has the role of a humorous servant to the count.

Jack Hastings is Wyn and costumes by Douglas Hall.

Florida State Co-ed Featured As Queen As Bowl Nets $6000

Annual Tarpon Bowl Florida State co-ed Jo Ann Hall was chosen as a queen for the rancy drive sponsored by the Leon County Chapter.

An approximate number of 10 - 000 persons saw Governor Warren crowning Miss Hutto and then the numerous ball dressed in honor of the queen.

FLORIDA STATE offered the most highlighting entertainment with performance of the five Olympic-time and national champions. The F.S.U. band

John Buckley, campus chairman has been appointed and money being held by ticket sellers be turned in to Miss Jane Adams at the Student Information desk. Tickets may also be turned in at Alpha Phi Omega meeting tomorrow at 7 p. m. in Longmire building.

also performed along with the Leon High School band. The Tarpon band, Lincoln, Griffin High and Lucy Addington.

Miss Bennie White, winner of the event Tommy Tucker Singing Queen was presented by W. F.

THE GOVERNOR'S cabinet featured a string quartet with Comptroller Richard Ervin, Treasurer J. M. Hall, Secretary of State R. A. Gray will introduce Larson, and Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo.

Congressman Robert P. Sikes of Crestview commented that the Tarpon Festival was a fine example of democracy in action.

The two and a half hour show has received a full house.

Persons who contributed a $1 or more to the fund will receive a family admission to the bowl show. The exact final reports are unknown, said Mr. McCann, chairman of the drive said.

ODK Members Meet

Omicron Delta Kappa members will meet tonight at 8 to discuss plans for the forthcoming convention which will be held May 2, 3, 4. All visiting and alumnate members are asked to attend.

Campus Sing Entries Due

Contest Is Scheduled For Mother's Day

All groups wishing to participate in the Campus Sing to be held Sunday, May 11, should have their entries in by Thursday, May 1, to Nancy Hall at 445, Alpha Omicron Pi house, or Steve Edwards, Kappa Sigma house, co-chairman of the Sing.

The minimum number of participants for each group is fifteen. Each group may sing four two songs and sororities and fraternities may have one fraternity song.

The Spring Campus Sing sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternities, will hold elimination of groups to sing in the finals Saturday, May 3. Only the top three groups in each division of men's and women's will be picked to sing on Sunday.

At the Saturday eliminations, representatives of each fraternity, sorority and dormitory entering is asked to be at the amphitheater by 1:30 p.m. to draw for the order of performance. The co-chairmen urged that the groups keep to the time limit of the Kindergarten as quickly and quietly as possible.

THE FINALS will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, May 11, which is also Mother's Day. "We are sorry we had to schedule it on Mother's Day," said Nancy Hall, co-chairman, "but it was the only open weekend we could find.

The Sing was originally scheduled for May 4, but that is both Circus weekend and the date for the Inter-Fraternity Ball, which many students attend. May 17 and 18 is the Leadership Conference here, and we didn't want to schedule it any later, as it would be too near exam week. Dr. Dorothy Ann Bishop of Tallahassee will be chairman of the Sing.

Mother's Day.

THE FINALS will be broadcast over WFSU. A trophy will be awarded the winner of the first place winners in the men's and women's

Continued on Page Four

Fraternity Sponsors Pepper In Non-Political Speech Tonight

Former Senator Claude Pepper will deliver a "non-political speech that will be of interest to all citizens and business men and women" in a fund-raising rally for Pat secretary, Fred P. Brinkman has announced. Pepper will speak in Music Hall auditorium.

Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity is sponsoring tonight's program in which Secretary of State R. A. Gray will introduce the former senator.

MR. PEPPER, who has lived in Tallahassee many years, is a lawyer by profession and is now affiliated with law firms in Tallahassee and Washington, D. C.

The nationally known senator was asked to speak here as a part of the programs sponsored by the business fraternity featuring nationally known figures executive or professional men acquainted with problems of business.

THE NAME of each speaker is to be inscribed upon an honorary scroll which will be permanently located in the office of the School of Business.

In addition to Pepper's principal address tonight, musical entertainment will be furnished by the University Singers and soloist Herman Schuler, assistant professor of voice.

BILL McDONALD, chairman of the Service-to-the-School-Program," is in charge of the arrangements. He will be assisted by Tom Newberry, president of the fraternity, Earl Jackson, Henry Chambless and Professor Charles Howell in insurance and real estate.

Following the speaking program a reception will be held in the Union building honoring Mr. Pepper.

INVITATIONS OUT—Six Inter-Fraternity Council members are shown mailing invitations to a number of outstanding Florida high school and college council guests at the FSU week-end May 2-4. Left to right are, Robert Tully, Alan Sundberry, Garland Stokes, president of IFC, Murray Fadul, Phillip Glash, and Ben Woodish.

High School Boys Invited to Circus

A large group of high school seniors from every section of Florida will be guests of the Florida State University Inter-Fraternity Council during the week-end of May 2-4.

H. Garland Stokes, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council composed of two representatives of each of the 14 fraternities, said the invitations to the FSU circus were timed to coincide with the annual showing of the FSU Circus, "Flying High."

ALL SENIORS accepting the Inter-Fraternity Council invitation will be special guests at the circus. They will also be furnished housing in the various fraternity houses, and will be given a list of points of interest of the FSU campus and Tallahassee, and also in week-end fraternity activities and shown other courtesies.

"We feel that by having some of Florida's outstanding high school seniors spend the week end on the FSU campus as our guests they will have the opportunity to observe the activity of a large state university such as the all-student circus and also see the university and Tallahassee life in its true prospective," Inter-Fraternity Council President Stokes said.

THE COUNCIL president said several members have been displaced with the response received in so far from the various high school senior class sponsors with regard to acceptance of the invitation.

Stokes also commended the 14 fraternities for their cooperation in the project. He said all of them are 100 percent behind the program to have the high school seniors visit FSU and are making special plans for their entertainment.

King And Queen Voting Scheduled For Wednesday

Nominations for a king and queen to reign over the annual May Day dance, Friday, April 25, were made last Friday and five men and five women candidates were selected from the list yesterday.

The top 10 senior nominees will be voted on again Wednesday in the Westcott wing of the Union and queen and court will be chosen. Everyone is eligible to vote.

VILLAGE VAMPS sponsor the May Day dance annually. This year it will be held on the patio of the West Campus Student Union building.

Music will be furnished by George Boldt and his orchestra from 9 to 12 midnight.

Candidates nominated Friday for queen were Marilyn Palli, Bobbie Pyle, Ann Herndon, Lucille Brookstroh, Ann Clayton, Suzanne Thomas, Joyce Smith, and Marianne Gillett. Also nominated were Eunice Barnes, Jean Peters and Jeanne Rogers. Ann Davidson, Rocke Roehling, and Jeri Monroe.

THE REMAINING candidates also nominated were Betty Ann Pierce, Mac Gautier, Del Peters, Pat Cole, Pat Caro, Helen Adams, Hazel Morrison, Sylvia Shingle

Continued on Page Four

Grades Required For Senior Class Prexy Nominations

Candidates nominated during next Thursday's election for president of the senior class must present certification of their grades from the registrar's office to the presiding officer of the meeting and at the time of their nomination.

This statement was released by Dick Bradley, present president of the senior class, who introduced the resolution to let the junior class elect their 1953 officers. The class will meet in the Longmire auditorium at 7 p. m. next Thursday.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL ruled that the junior class should elect their permanent officers because of the confusion that would result if the three candidates had gotten a majority.

John Latimer, the only candidate listed on the ballot, polled 90 votes to 68 write-ins for Bob Rex's 53 for Jere Salyers.

THE ISSUE over the election was first confused when landslide victory Bill Slappey was forced to withdraw in the primaries because of grade averages. Council then declared that write-in ballots would be accepted for the runoff.

The UGA constitutional provision states "A majority of all votes cast shall be necessary for election in all cases," therefore although Latimer had the most votes in the election he was not winner.

1,628 Students Have Received Unsatisfactories

A Decrease Is Shown In Individual Letters Accordingly to Caldwell

Individual entries of grade unsatisfactories show a decrease over last semester, Assistant Registrar Willis Caldwell announced yesterday. All but 15 per cent of the unsatisfactories have been distributed, he also noted.

A total of 2,935 individual course grades were recorded, as compared to 3,755 last semester. This does not mean the number of persons who received the unsatisfactories, the assistant registrar said. It is the number of courses in which unsatisfactories have been received.

THE NUMBER of students receiving unsatisfactories were 1,628 and last semester, 1,980.

The first grades went out to parents on Saturday. Most of the student duplicates went out yesterday.

Dr. Melvene Hardee coordinator of guidance, said yesterday that counselors were alerted to help the students who are receiving unsatisfactories.

THE COORDINATOR'S office will release a report about May 1 on the students' academic probation status. Dr. Hardee works primarily with probationary students.

This is because freshmen are not as well adjusted to academic life as upperclassmen, Caldwell said once. Mr. Caldwell commented. They are also the largest group.

Dr. Hardee has also arranged last semester 810 students received unsatisfactory warnings the first half of the semester.

THE COORDINATING office is about three years old.

Continued on Page Four

Si, Si Says Ruthie On Goodwill Tour Down Mexico Way

Ruthie Garst, son a Queen of Queens" will tour through Mexico, as Queen of the Orange Bowl, in Miami.

Ruthie is the more of a lonliest of honors won by the Secretarial Science major from Brownwood, Texas. Her laurels include being chosen as "Miss Campus Cutie" title from the "Miss Snake Signals" contest at the Fourth of July celebration in Daytona, and "Miss Sweetheart" title at Daytona's Labor Day celebration.

Garst

In competing for "Orange Bowl Queen," which has brought her this trip to Mexico, Ruthie was winner over 100 other contestants.

Her other prizes from the contests included a $100 wardrobe, at any state school of her choice, a complete wardrobe and free plane trips to Miami for the festivities.

Ruthie, a junior and member of Sigma Kappa sorority, will return to Tallahassee about May 1.

Junior Counselors Elect New Officers

Freshmen dormitory officers from next years Junior Counselors were elected Monday and Tuesday.

Officers of Jennie Misphree were Carolyn Gola, president, and Betty Ann Crowder, Ann Crowder, vice-presidents. Reynolds Annie Martin, secretary, and Jean Alvarado and Margaret Nash, vice-presidents, and Bryan Peavy president of the Warpath Dorm were and Mary Ann Ziegler, vice-presidents.

Junior Junior Counselors for the 1952-53 school year are going through a training program which lasts approximately six weeks. Jo Ann Hall is chairman of the Freshman Orientation Committee, which calls the meetings once a week, and which invites speakers who give the future Junior Counselors counseling advice and information about the University in general.

Key Members Called

Members of Gem Scroll, ... to attend a meeting ... at 3:00 ... Alumni building

Students Vote Wed. On Cabinet System

Gould Selected Student Radio Regional Head

Stan Gould, WFSU station manager, was elected director of the fifth national Student Radio Network for the eastern states, at the national institute for education for education by radio-television.

Ray Firmin, director of radio and faculty member, also attended the conference with Gould Firmin, who was reappointed to the executive board of directors of Inter-collegiate Broadcasting System, commented that after seeing how the other radio stations operate, he pointed out WFSU and Gould that the regional office will be here now.

GOULD'S directorship will include 10 of the leading universities over the Southeast. The University of Alabama held the regional directorships before FSU.

Gould said, however, the fifth district has not as this time. He considers this his prime job for the remainder of the year to form the district into a unit of graduates.

"We will program campus standard and student programs throughout the Southeast, the new director said.

THE DISTRICT will work on the legislation of the national Inter-collegiate Broadcasting System.

The national meeting is an annual affair. There were approximately 15 delegates from each represented at last week-end's meeting at Columbia, S. C.

Gould also said he thought WFSU showed up good and looked as good or better than the other student radio stations throughout the country.

Mr. Firmin was on a panel on college radio stations and, both he and Gould were taken on a tour of Ohio State University and met with members of the department of broadcasting and Radio Television and Communications Communication.

Future Teachers Nominate Officers

AL FLOYD will be elected will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Tally-Ho office of the Longmire Building in a meeting called after a brief business meeting.

The nominations and officers for next year will be made.

Pat Russell, president, said that the Tally-Ho office will be open for nominations to be made before the election. The election will be made by mail.

Ethics of Judaism Is Topic Of Visiting Rabbi Lefkowitz

"What do Jews Believe?" will be the first of a two-night lecture series presented by visiting Jewish Chautauqua speaker tonight in the Baptist Student house at 7 p.m.

At 9:30 tonight the Chautauqua lecturer Rabbi Sidney Lefkowitz, will speak on "A Bird's Eye View of Jewish History in the Midminster house.

THE RABBI from the Temple Israel in Jacksonville, will give an address tomorrow at the Student House on "The Ethics of Judaism."

Both lectures are also planning to have the Rabbi tomorrow at 1 and 2 p.m. Hobby buffet luncheons. Tonight's 9:30 program will hear him speak on "Jewish Contributions to Modern Thought" in room 321. The new Testament class in room 320 will hear an address on "Jewish Background of the New Testament."

THE CHAUTAUQUA speaker graduated in 1933. In 1939 he received his A.B degree from the University of Cincinnati as well as a Bachelor of Hebrew Letters degree from Hebrew Union College in 1939.

After being ordained in 1933, he continued with post-graduate studies at the University of Cincinnati, University of Richmond and the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond Va.

Rabbi Sidney M. Lefkowitz

Before entering the United States Army in 1942 as Chaplain.

HE WAS camp chaplain at Camp Livingston, La. and also served with the 5th division as assistant corps chaplain. He was with the Bronze Star and was authorized to wear the ETO ribbon while five battle stars. He was discharged in 1945 with the rank of major and at present is in the Reserve.

The Rabbi is a native of New York and attended preparatory and secondary public schools there.

His wife is also a native of New York and attended preparatory and secondary public schools there.

The couple have two children, Moulle, Ann.

Election on New UGA Revisions Held In Westcott, Seminole 9-5

The proposed amendment to create a cabinet form of executive government will go before the students tomorrow morning in a special election. Polls in lower Westcott and the Seminole dining hall will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

If passed the amendment would have to receive a simple majority of the votes cast in order to be ratified.

THE PROPOSAL to be voted on before the students was first presented to the Student Senate about almost a years work. At the university Senate Dec. 4, it was passed, the Senate had spent more orators and debated more than two hours on the proposal in the regular session of Florida State university.

Work began on the amendment last fall after many student leaders felt the Student Senate was not adequate to run the university.

To create an executive branch of UGA. They wanted to relieve the executive in order to make full powers were given to the duties and responsibilities clearly delegated.

BECAUSE of this work on the amendment was done by some constitutional revision committee of the student Senate. This work went over the old constitution, making changes where they considered the new plan to be better. The committee brought its plan, point by point before the Senate and took on a straw vote of approval or disapproval.

The fireworks began when constitutional committee proposed that the executive branch of the investigative powers, a function now carried out by the courts. A number Wayne Mixson, Jacksonville; Chief Justice Alex Jackson, Chief Justice Bert Zane Tyson, and Betty Mims, spoke against the proposal but other four members have supported it.

FINALLY THE amendment passed the Senate with the exception of general and other controversial sections. The next meeting of the Senate was set for Monday to review committee. The group made suggestions to Senate for improvements and the Senate vigorously returned most of the controversial sections.

The review board then definitely vetoed the investigating power of the executive branch and the proposal for a secretary of labor. The Senate last week decided the amendment was too important to kill because of the absurd points and the board decided to let it be amended by the review board.

Only 2 months will be necessary for approval of the amendment.

Circle 'K' Votes To Assist F Club In Blood Drive

Circle K, sponsored Kiwanis college club, voted last Thursday to assist the Florida Club in the Spring Blood drive.

Katherine Cannon, Blood chairman, was made at the meeting and a temporary committee was appointed to work with the Florida Club of honorary, a member from before the end of the semester.

All Circle K and Florida Club are asked to attend the next meeting which will be held at special The meeting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 in 303 Westcott.

Mac Hury, president chairman of the blood drive, announced surprised last week at the huge turnout of sorority and fraternity representatives at the several meetings. Other six Pints and two sororities above the 100 mark. The next meeting will be a and 7 in Thursday.

May 13 and 14 have been scheduled for the two-day drive and a flying club many students are urged to donate a to the campaign. Last year the largest percentage of blood to the remainder.

Delta Zeta sorority alone with Chi Omega sorority were 100 percent. Other sororities and fraternities with five but missing a few members are urged to complete the

Kuder Test Offered

The Kuder Preference ... will be ... and ... at 7:30 ... 204 Westcott ... Ad.

Many Complaints Are Issued Against Journalism School

The Flambeau, in commenting on the program and activities of the various departments and schools, often has been asked: "Why not look into your own back yard, meaning by reference, the FSU School of Journalism.

Hence, this presentation of comments and information that has been sorted over the year about the fledgling school.

The principal complaint, legitimate but not loudly voiced, is that students majoring in journalism should work on some phase of student publications during their four years at college.

In the Editor and Publisher International Year Book, published each year, the 1952 edition listed the FSU journalism school as having 49 professional and 36 pre-professional students, a total of 85 with journalism as a common interest.

Out of that number, however, a small percentage work on student publications, the extra-curricular expression of their life work.

The Dean of the School, Dr. Laurence Campbell, has stated that journalism majors are "encouraged" to work on publications, but a check reveals this is not the attitude of some of the professors in the department. The response to "reporter calls" adds another contradiction to his statement.

One student commented in one of her journalism classes that she was working on a student publication. The answer from her professor was "he would try to overlook that fact and not hold it in her disfavor."

There is a marked tendency to degrade the student publications by the journalism school, the very thing on campus they should be trying to improve.

One advertising instructor, given a letter requesting trysts for the advertising staff of the newspaper, tore the letter up in front of his entire class and passed a "cute" remark about student publications. The class chuckled and the request was quickly forgotten.

As it is presently set up, students who have never worked on a student publication, are graduating with a major in journalism. Will this give any reflection on the school when the "journalists" apply for a job and then fail miserably because they have learned only theory and have never seen their stories in print?

Staff members of Smoke Signals and Flambeau have asked journalism majors why they don't work on a publication. One favorite reply is they don't have the time.

They explain that they report from a work-book. (written by Dean) and don't have time to report actual happenings. Students in editing class say they are too busy making up a fanciful "Tallahassee Star" to work out an actual page make-up and secure photos.

Don't they realize that journalism is a different "academic" subject and proficiency comes mainly from practice, not preaching?

The Flambeau recently conducted a campaign for new reporters and business staff members. Posters were placed over the campus on which new recruits could sign up. Journalism majors Reynolds listed 8 hopefuls (none majoring in journalism), yet a poster on the official journalism bulletin board failed to draw one name.

Dean Campbell authorized an expensive campaign to publicize the school over the United States. Much money was spent on an information bulletin. It was sent to every high school in the U. S. How many replies were received?

The school of journalism should re-examine its program. The new publicity bulletin being mailed out now list 61 journalism courts, much like at FSU. The school has seven faculty members get anything done, but it would be hard to deny the cabinet system is a labor of love. The Senate has spent the better part of the school year on the amendment.

Basically the amendment would define the separation of powers of the three branches of government more specifically and allow UGA to function more efficiently.

Principally it abolishes the executive council and replaces it with a cabinet form of executive branch, with no objection to the executive council has been tweaked: it has been legislating although it is an executive department and when something goes wrong in the executive there is really no one on whom to lay the blame.

The proposed amendment centralizes legislative operations in the Senate and makes the president of UGA the definite boss of the executive branch, with all cabinet officers responsible to him or her.

The cabinet system amendment really is needed and a lot of effort has gone into it. All will have been in vain though, if the students do not go out and vote tomorrow

● THE BIG STEP

Students will have a chance tomorrow to vote on one of the most important changes proposed to the University Government association constitution since it was adopted in 1950.

Hailed by almost all student representatives as a big step forward, the cabinet system amendment will be up for student ratification tomorrow.

One of the most surprising things about the amendment is that it is praised by students of almost all points of view. Many, perhaps a majority, of student government leaders were disappointed and angered when certain sections were deleted by the faculty review board, but they realized the framework of the cabinet system was so important it ought to be adopted anyway.

The UGA Senate, particularly the constitutional review committee, deserves much praise for the countless hours of work and thought it put into the proposal. There has been criticism of late that the Senate is in the doldrums, that it cannot

EDITOR'S SPOTLIGHT

McCARTHY'S "SIDE" GIVEN IN NEW BOOK

By ROBERT GRIFFIN, JR.

The term "McCarthyism" has become part of the American language.

The question will be one of the most telling issues in the coming Presidential campaign. The senator from Wisconsin has brought the problem of America's internal security to a violent head, and his campaign support on the one hand and stinging opposition on the other

Whether Joe McCarthy repeated, completely and without immunity, his charges of Communist influence in high government place in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

He labels Secretary of State Dean Acheson "pro-Communist," and lays the responsibility for the naming to a high government official the "convicted traitor" Alger Hiss, to Acheson.

The article, which is a condensation of "McCarthy, the Wisconsin senator accuses Owen Lattimore, adviser of prime a Soviet espionage ring within the United Union propagandist and documents his charges with numerous instances of sworn testimony. Baltimore, long-time State Department advisor, of being Lattimore's own writings, and the close adherence of the ways of Lattimore to the Communist Party Line over a long period.

Whether Lattimore is fully white in all his views or his influences on the question. It is probably, the method taken by McCarthy that has drawn the strongest criticism during the last two years.

After McCarthy named, in a speech at Wheeling, West Virginia, of 205 known communists in the State Department, he presented figures of 57, then 81. He was accused of a "numbers game" and in turn he mocked the pressing "his side" of the information he presented.

In his book he compares himself to Abraham Lincoln, and quotes a remark made by Lincoln, "I do the very best I know how — the very best I can, and I mean to keep doing so until the end."

By association, McCarthy labels anybody Communist that criticizes his method of ousting Communists of the government.

In his no ohhe explains his reasoning for a "swear tactic" to rid the country of Communists.

I do not want to be insane for fear—but the tools will make good use of it, especially in the pro's studying abnormal psychology.

SEMINOLE SCENES

ROCKET PLANS SAVED—BY CLEAN SHAVE

By FRANCES CAWTHON

"The people of this land would do not realize what golden opportunities I have afforded them. I know, because I have been reading advertisements lately.

I have come to the conclusion that all men who shave with Gillette Blue Blades coming in the hands of Communists are dashing, handsome, curly-headed (or bald) and irresistible for fame. According to the ads it seems as though one out of every 10 Gillette Blue Blades is a dirty Communist agent. Each time one of these Reds attacks down the colonel she is ably carrying the Army's XA-43-2241 Super Atomic Rocket plans. But just as the nasty Red is about to escape with the briefcase, a voice comes from the washroom.

"You said." There he stands! The red-blooded American hero man who uses Gillette Blue Blades! Shaving with Gillette Blue Blades is a dirty Communist agent. Each time one of these Reds attacks down the colonel she is ably carrying the Army's XA-43-2241 Super Atomic Rocket plans. But just as the nasty Red is about to escape with the briefcase, a voice comes from the washroom.

"You said." There he stands! The red-blooded American hero man who uses Gillette Blue Blades! Shaving with Gillette Blue Blades—over the head with the colonel, the Army XXVY-424's Super Atomic Rocket plans back safely to the colonel, who never sees this but he gets a promotion if he is in the Army, or considers him as a leader if he is not. Who is just mad about that clean-shaven look.

Yeah. I am going to stand all day at the drug store counter and when the local crank stops up and buys a package of Gillette Blue Blades. I shall ask him out for a hamburger and if he has already eaten the colonel's daughter, maybe I'll at least get a job chronicling his adventures against anti-American factions.

I am grateful that certain guy is in Gainesville and you're up there, don't worry about his character. I have just found an ad that will solve all your problems. It will also help him to make love through letters, without even putting perfume on them. Or, if you write pen-pal-romance-other shumbers on request, I have found you a booklet telling you how to write your own script. You can make him rich and famous. I write more often than I propose to you, dat-ta-ta... Oh, but if you've accomplished the third one, you won't need to know the rest.

The most amazing offer I have seen lately runs something like this: "Do you need money for a new car, a new home, a new life that is idyllic? Your long search is over! Success awaits you at every hand. With only $2.25 prepaid you can learn the secrets of the ancient, mystic Mayan order."

You read on breathlessly as you are told how the "ancient, mystic Mayan order" secrets have been handed down from father to son for hundreds of years in the ash ruins of Central America. Ah Ha, Cee Whiz, and all that sort of rot. But now some slick New

Florida Flambeau

EDITORIAL

Robert Griffin, Jr. —Ed tor

Balis Henry ..... Managing Editor
Hazel Morrison ..... News Editor
Associate Editor ..... Francis Cawthon, Bio...
Society Editor ..... Tom...
Sports Editor ..... Marc Sch...
Assistant News Editor ..... June Morgan
Assistant Society Editor ..... Judy Spivey

BUSINESS

Joan Etheridge—Business Manager

National Ad Manager ..... Pat Ken...
Exchange Editor ..... A...
Assistants ..... Jo Hall, Louis Caldron, Fe Pittman, Steve Zal...

MEMBER

Associated Collegiate Press

Florida Intercollegiate Press Association

Telephone 2-809, Ext. 6821 second Floor, Allen B...
The Florida Flambeau is published semi weekly by the students of Flo... State University. Under by Tallahassee Florida.
The Florida Flambeau is represented nationally by the National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York

Directory Completed By Journalism School

Florida's high, schools publish 162 newspapers and 115 yearbooks, it revealed in the 1952 Florida School Press directory completed by Florida State University School of Journalism.

Dean Laurence R. Campbell, executive editor of the F S P A and head of the Journalism School, reports that there are 143 senior high school newspapers and 19 junior high school newspapers. Only one of the 13 yearbooks is a junior high school publication.

Campus Characters

By STAN SCHMIDT

Au Revoir to L'Apache. . .

L'Apache has been banished from Campus because sanitary, surpuse they drink.

Yes, yes dear readers, the truth will out.

This abysmal crew stands accused of the heinous crime of sinning and noisemaking in front of sorority houses and Westcott fountain while in their cups (code English meaning roughly "stewed.

Gad!

Probably the thinnest of reasons for the ban was the fact that in past Tally-Ho's a champagne glass and liquer bottle appeared, backgrounding their picture

These issues of the School annual hit the streets many moons ago. Did the statecoach just reach the hall??

The original memo was followed by a cutie from Dean Warren instructing her chicks to hereafter rate L'Apache's with untouchables.

The old guard doesn't give up easily.

It would seem elementary to expect at the transaction from ivory tower to cool State University a gradual liberalizing of rules about breathing and toothbrushing techniques up and down preferred.

And yet the awaited, tolerant concessions to 1952 see light-nowlere and everywhere, shades of those simple enough to assume a University should be fun for the students.

AIR CONDITIONED FLORIDA STARTS WEDNESDAY

SHOWING FOR FOUR DAYS ONLY!

FIRST TIME AT REGULAR PRICES!

Kiddies 14c

5 ACADEMY AWARDS!

It's the first picture ever to win 3 Academy Awards for acting!

BEST ACTRESS VIVIEN LEIGH

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS KIM HUNTER

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR KARL MALDEN

A story so exciting it inspired the most exciting performances of the year!

ALSO BEST ART DIRECTION AND BEST SET DECORATION (Black & W...

WARNER BROS. PRESENT

A Streetcar Named Desire

STARRING VIVIEN LEIGH AND MARLON BRANDO ELIA KAZAN

From the Play that Won the Pulitzer Prize and Critics' Circle Award

KIM HUNTER · KARL MALDEN SCREEN PLAY BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

DIRECTED BY ELIA KAZAN BASED UPON THE ORIGINAL PLAY A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE BY TENNESSEE WILLIAMS AS PRODUCED ON THE STAGE BY IRENE MAYER SELZNICK

PRODUCED BY CHARLES K. FELDMAN

Three Movies Rated As Superior, Excellent

By DAVID DREIS

Comments and ratings of the pictures now on the screens of theaters and ratings of leading periodicals. The rating scale: 10—Superior, 9—Excellent, 8—Good, 7—Better than Fair, 6—Fair, 5—Average, 4—Less Than Average, 3—Poor, 2—Very Poor, and 1—Through It; 1—Skip It.

Fingers Rating 8

James Mason scores successfully in a picture of a super-spy who bargains with the Nazis for military secrets. Mason, with the help of Cornell Borchers, is chased by British counterspy Michael Lennie and gets outwitted by Dennison Hare. Hard to top for true, it shows at the Florida for the last time today.

Singin' in the Rain Rating: 9

The roaring twenties and the silent films which signalled the end Gene Kelly a vehicle to put his dancing feet to Donald O'Connor and Debbie Reynolds in this technicolor musical a magnificent, tuneful spoof of the days of "American in Paris," at least it has a 15-minute dance sequence "American in Paris" spent 27 miles on its ballet Jean Hasen, Millard Mitchell, and Cyd Charisse are also supporting in the fine M-GM musicals which have some kind of story. Last day at Ritz.

Streetcar Named Desire Rating 10

Returning to Tallahassee at regular prices, "Streetcar" will

Fire In New Dorm Causes No Damage

No damage was reported from the small rug fire on the fifth floor of the new dormitory, on East Campus Friday night. The campus was alerted about 9 p m.

Firemen said that painters had left a pile of rags in one of the closed rooms and spontaneous combustion had set the rags afire.

